Peter Perisin

Pete's background includes residential construction, land development and the selling of real estate. That has been his primary scope for the last 20 years. He works with builders, develops vacant properties all while working with his clients to help them sell their homes or helps them buy the home of their dreams and that has always been what Pete enjoys doing. Pete is a long time Barrington resident, regularly volunteers throughout the area and has many contacts in the business community. He has a proven track record of successful transactions with many happy clients. Pete's unique perspective allows him to anticipate issues, find creative solutions to problems and always with the goal of his clients or the properties leading his ambition.
