The Elite 11 quarterback camp made its first stop of the offseason Sunday in Manhattan Beach, CA.

Several top quarterbacks from California, Arizona and others competed in various drills.

Prep Redzone was in attendance and got a good look at the crop of quarterbacks. The top performers of the day can be found here.

Here are some quick hits on other quarterbacks who stood out to me.

Daniel Mielke II

State: California School: Murrieta Valley

Mielke had great velocity on the short throws and the ball comes out of his hand great. He is mechanically smooth and was consistently sharp throughout the day.

Brandon Mann

State: Nevada School: Bishop Manogue
Club: Longhorns

Mann flashed a strong arm during a lot of the drills and was consistently throwing darts. He was hitting guys in stride during 1-on-1s and the arm strength stood out.

Treyvone Towns Jr.

State: California School: Oaks Christian

There was a solid group of class of 2028 players competing and Towns stood out in a talented field. It was my first time seeing him since a passing tournament last summer and he throws a better ball now. He can sling it without much effort and has a big frame.

It was my first time seeing Leinart in person in a long time and he has improved greatly. He has always been a good athlete but his arm strength has improved and he can spin it with anyone.

Khalil Abdul-Aziz

State: California School: Orange Vista

Abdul-Aziz has a tight release and smooth throwing motion. He threw well off-platform and when he was able to set his feet.

"🔥 Khalil Abdul Aziz: 6'3", 195 lbs Dual Threat QB at Orange Vista HS. 3,600+ yards last season. Big things ahead! 🏈 #2026@KhalilAbdulAz1z @OrangeVistaFB @premiumsportsla @247Sports @GregBiggins @adamgorney @ChadSimmons_ pic.twitter.com/OSTbRn5yRZ"

Corin Berry

State: California School: Charter Oak

Berry has great touch on his deep passes and the ball comes out his hand great. He moves well and was able to make all the throws during the drills.

Ryan Hopkins

State: California School: Culver City

Hopkins ran the fastest 40-yard dash in the testing portion of the day. He is big, had sharp footwork and had good ball placement throughout the day.

Kamden Lopati

State: Utah School: West

Lopati looks bigger than the size in which he is listed and had some bright spots on Sunday. He drops back into his spot quickly and had nice touch on deeper passes. Lopati threw pretty well off-platform and was accurate. He got a big offer from Oregon shortly after the event.

Luke Rubley

State: Colorado School: Regis Jesuit

Rubley won the accuracy challenge and was another class of 2028 standout. He is a lengthy guy with a lot of room to add to his frame.

Kael Snyder

State: Arizona School: Perry

Snyder threw one of the best balls of the day I saw during the drill portion and was solid in the 1-on-1 period.

Jack Thomas

School: Palisades

Sunday was my first time seeing Thomas and he was impressive during the 1-on-1 portion of the day. He was getting the ball out on time and hitting receivers in stride.

"Prayers continue to go out to the Palisades community after being affected by the fires. I've been so impressed with how resilient @jack_thomas2026 has been through this difficult time. Rooting for Jack and the entire community 🙏 pic.twitter.com/j4g54irC4t"
