Jack Thomas

School: Palisades

Thomas averaged 240 yards per game with 46 touchdowns and just five interceptions last season for Palisades. He also ran for 570 yards with 12 touchdowns.

He had a nice showing at the Elite 11 Regional in March. Thomas gets the ball out on time and is an anticipatory thrower who hits receivers in stride.

*"Prayers continue to go out to the Palisades community after being affected by the fires. I've been so impressed with how resilient @jack_thomas2026 has been through this difficult time. Rooting for Jack and the entire community 🙏

Fields has a quick release and the ball jumps out of his hand. He's a good improviser who can scramble

Seth Solorio

School: San Pedro

Solorio is a high-upside guy who threw five touchdowns with no interceptions last season after having to sit out half the season after transferring from St. John Bosco.

He's good at making quick reads and navigating pressure in the pocket. The release is quick and he has plus accuracy down the field. The arm strength could improve but he's young and likely put on some strength this offseason.

Diego Montes

School: Kennedy/Granada Hills

Montes completed 64 percent of his passes for 2508 yards with 24 touchdowns and six interceptions last season. He also ran for 1400 yards with 25 touchdowns.

He's a really good athlete who is dangerous in the zone/read game and has the field vision of a running back. Montes has some arm strength and is accurate down the field and has a longer release. His legs make defenses very cautious and he takes advantage by beating them over the top or beating them with his legs.

Liam Pasten

School: Eagle Rock

Pasten led the City Section in passing last season with 3602 yards with 36 touchdowns and ran for 9 touchdowns.

who is always a treat to run and he navigates pressure pretty well. He excels in the play action
