A Message from the Board of Directors

The End of the Season is almost here!

We had another lovely reception for our "Interesting", 7th judged show of the season where everyone enjoyed the show, meeting people and talking with the artists while enjoying the refreshments.

We were grateful to have Ampy de la Cruz curate the show and John Capraro help her hang the art. A big thank you to all who provided lite bite appetizers and drinks to share. Your donations make a great reception possible! We also appreciate those who helped set up and clean up.

We bid a fond adieu to some of our "snowbirds" members who will be leaving us to go back north for the late spring and summer months. We look forward to seeing all of them in the fall.

Take-in for the last judged show of the season, "Skilled" is on Sunday, April 30th!

The gallery is open all year, so again we will be having exhibitions this summer. These are in the planning stages, so they will be announced. Typically the take-in for the summer show is on the same day as the pick-up from the last show... so that will not change. We want to keep our gallery full of art at all times!

IMPORTANT NOTICE

When wiring your pieces for the gallery show please remember :

The hardware to hold the wires should be placed 1/3 of the way down on each side of the piece. The wire when attached to the hardware on each side should be slack enough to be approximately two inches below the top of the piece when held up in the center. Test it out: Hang the piece on a wall. If the piece leans forward and/or the wire and picture hook shows, the piece is not wired correctly. Adjust it. Improperly wired pieces may be disqualified for show entry.

BEFORE you come to the gallery for take-in make sure your piece is wired correctly. That the ends of the wires are taped. That your piece is labeled with your name, title of work, media, price and phone number and that label is attached in the upper right hand corner on the back of the work.

NEW ACRYLIC PAINTING CLASS

INSTRUCTOR, LESLIE SMITH

Acrylic Appetizer !

Students will vote and select from a few, supplied reference photos. The group will choose one photo to be used by everyone. Everyone's painting will become their own and unique in how they choose to paint it and their own painting style. We will explore brush handling techniques, color/composition, theory, and the properties of light. Demos and mini-lecture will be interspersed into all classes. We will routinely compare our paintings, offering a final critique at the classes' end.

Leslie Smith is highly skilled painter of wild life, still life and portraiture. She has won many awards for her work.

"I prefer that everyone bring the acrylic paints that they usually use.* We will be comparing them. This class is merely an appetizer of techniques that can be used to create more sophisticated works with acrylics. We will spend a lot of time finding and unlearning "bad habits" that many of us learned or self-taught ourselves. There's no fancy mediums or materials - it's all in the planning and brush handling!"
