A Message from the Board of Directors

Dear Members,

The Lake Worth Art League announces “It’s A Time For Art! Our Artist’s Eye Gallery is temporarily closed, but we are trying to look at the bright side. We are calling all artists to use this time to create art.

Spend time with yourself! Tune into your inner creative. Suggestions: Rework a piece that you were dissatisfied with, try out a new medium, or make something new. Challenge yourself! Low on materials? Dig thru your art supplies and make a mixed media piece on any surface. The possibilities are endless. We all know that creating art takes us to a happy place. Go to that place and make happy, colorful, joyful, beautiful, uplifting art. Relieve your anxiety by listening to the news just once in the morning; not all day. Get off the couch and stay away from those extra trips to the fridge. Cabin fever? Try a plein air piece from the balcony or in your own backyard. A dose of fresh air and a commune with nature is healthy respite from the studio.

Artwork may stay in the gallery until further notice. If you must pick up your work, please sign it out at the gallery desk. We hope to see everyone again soon with all your new artwork! We are WE WILL KEEP YOU POSTED.

At this time we will be post phoning our Annual Meeting and Election of Board Members until further notice. If you wish to run for a position on the Board of Directors please e-mail the LWAL and ask for an application, fill it out and return it to us. Applicants should be full time residents and be able to attend monthly meetings.

Our March gallery show was filled with really great art. The very talented featured artist, Tom Mellilo whose edgy “art deco meets South Beach” very colorful works filled the alcove. Rickie Leiter of the therickiereport.com was

This show had 48 entries for judging created in the following mediums: Oil, Acrylic, Acrylic/Collage, Watercolor, Photography, Mixed Media, Pastel, Mixed Media Encaustic and House Paint. Thank you to all our talented artists who entered this show. Special thanks to Rickie Leiter, Judge, and to Dana Axel, Curator & the Take in and Hanging Committees.

OPEN STUDIO THURSDAYS

MJ Meyerhoefer, Dana Lois Axel and Dede DeHon taking part in open studio. Hey, where is George Taylor?

Thursday mornings offer a wonderful opportunity to come and work on your art, socialize, get some painting tips or constructive criticism from fellow members and have fun! Hope to see you there!

Rickie Leiter, Publisher of therickiereport.com, spoke to the crowd about the importance of framing selection and the condition of the frames when entering a competition.

a look at the elements

The artist must consider these aspects along with the principles of art (balance, emphasis, movement, proportion, rhythm, unity and variety) to organize the creation of the work, consciously or subconsciously, for an overall successful outcome. Take a look and see if you can spot these elements and how they have been handled by the artist!
