Ahead of the much-anticipated wedding, David and Victoria have been seen with their children Harper, ten, and Romeo, 19, on their £5 million superyacht, Seven, in the city with other family members, including Victoria's niece Libby Adams.

The former Manchester United player named his boat after his iconic shirt number he wore for six years while playing for Manchester United, while he also wore the number seven for international games for England.

Seven also has a special meaning for the David and Victoria as it is also the middle name of their daughter Harper.

Star-studded: Ahead of their lavish nuptials this weekend, the pair admitted they both have some last minute nerves - but are scared of different parts of the celeb-packed ceremony

The wedding is set to take place at the Peltz family's oceanfront house on Saturday and is expected to be attended by celebrity chef Gordon, actress Eva Longoria and former footballer Phil Neville.

Victoria's Spice Girls bandmate Melanie Brown – Mel B – has confirmed she is attending the ceremony, which has been described by friends as 'Miami society meets British celebrity'.

Brooklyn's godfather Sir Elton John will be absent due to the rescheduling of his Yellow Brick Road tour, but the aspiring chef's other godfather, Dave Gardner, will be there.

There have also been reports that American football legend Tom Brady will be among the guests, possibly with his wife, supermodel Gisele Bündchen, but speculation that the Duke and Duchess of Sussex could attend are wide of the mark.

Brooklyn's younger brothers, Romeo and Cruz, will be best men, while Harper will be a bridesmaid.

Nicola's maternal grandmother will be her maid of honour.

Ahead of their lavish nuptials this weekend, the pair admitted they both have some last minute nerves - but are scared of different parts of the celeb-packed ceremony.

After Nicola wrote down that she thought Brooklyn would be most scared of the first dance, he told her: 'I'm great at dancing, I'm not worried about that,' as he reveals his answer to be his wedding speech.

'I'm terrified about the first dance, I can't dance,' Nicola confessed, only for Brooklyn to pull a face and insist: 'I'm gonna kill that.'

- DAVE GARDNER
- TOM BRADY
- GISELE BÜNDCHEN
- BECKHAM FAMILY (VICTORIA, DAVID, ROMEO, CRUZ AND HARPER)

Invited: Guests including Gordon, Dave Gardner and Phil Neville are expected to attend the wedding

The loved-up couple matched answers on the question of what they're most looking forward to about the wedding, sweetly answering 'marrying you,' and both think 'sensitive' Brooklyn will be the most likely to cry on the big day.

Brooklyn's father David has no formal role at the wedding, but friends say he has been tasked with ensuring that all the Beckham men look their best.

Brooklyn is understood to have signed a prenuptial agreement with his heiress bride-to-be Nicola. The £380million fortune of Brooklyn's parents is dwarfed by the estimated £1.3billion wealth of Miss Peltz's financier father Nelson.

As wedding preparations are underway, Nicola recruited Leslie Fremar – a stylist who has worked with Hollywood A-listers Demi Moore and Charlize Theron – to help choose her dress.

The pair travelled to the headquarters of Valentino in Rome and Nicola has confirmed her gown has been designed by the fashion house's Pierpaolo Piccioli.

'Nicola trusts Leslie implicitly and, while her dress is being made by Valentino, Leslie is the person she has turned to help with how she will accessorise and how she will have her hair and make-up,' a source said.

Brooklyn and Miss Peltz met in 2017 and began dating two years later. Announcing their engagement on Instagram in July 2020, Brooklyn wrote: 'Two weeks ago I asked my soulmate to marry me and she said yes. I am the luckiest man in the world.'

His fiancée wrote: 'I can't wait to spend the rest of my life by your side. Your love is the most precious gift.'
