The Penn Brad Oil Museum Will Hold its Annual Yellow Dog Award Recognition Ceremony and Dinner on Saturday June 10 2017

Harvey L. Golubock, retired President of American Refining Group and Paul A. Phillips, retired co-owner of Phillips & Dart Oilfield Services are this year's honorees

Bradford, PA, May 26, 2017:

The Penn Brad Oil Museums will honor Harvey L. Golubock, retired President of American Refining Group and Paul A. Phillips, retired co-owner of Phillips and Dart Well Services at its Annual Yellow Dog Award Dinner on Saturday June 10, 2017 at six o'clock in the evening at the Pennhills Club in Bradford, PA.

The Yellow Dog Award was instituted to honor individuals for their outstanding leadership in the oil and gas industry and dedication to helping the Penn Brad Oil Museum preserve the history of the Bradford Oil Field and the unique culture that developed along with it.

Harvey L. Golubock, a long-time director of the Museum, with extensive community involvement, has had a long and distinguished career in the oil industry. As president of American Refining Group he was instrumental in rebuilding the Bradford Refinery business after its sale by Witco. He has given generously of his time and expertise to the Museum.

Paul A. Phillips, also a long-time director of the Museum, has had a lifetime career in the local oil industry, first with Pennzoil and later as active partner in Phillips and Dart Oilfield Service. He was also an independent oil producer. Paul has been very generous to the Museum with his time, resources and vast expertise, many times behind the scenes.

We are honored and proud to have both of these gentlemen associated with the Museum and look forward to future continuation of that involvement.

The evening's festivities will include sumptuous hors d'oeuvres, complimentary wine at dinner, live music, and a superb dinner prepared by the club's gourmet chef.

Last minute dinner reservations may be made by calling 814 362 - 1955.

Season Opening: Oil and Gas Memorabilia Auction - Success!

The Bradford Masonic Lodge was the setting for the March 25th season opening of the Penn Brad Oil Museum. Gathered for the Oil and Gas Memorabilia Auction were people from the area ready to place bids on their favorite items. Lloyd Burkhouse was our auctioneer with a guest appearance from Harvey Golubock. It was a very nice gathering and the refreshments provided by Isabelle Chaplin were outstanding. Over all the museum made over $7,000 on this opening fundraiser.

The Reclamation Supply Corporation

by Tom Miller

In a previous article I told about the rebirth of the Bradford Oil Field with pressurized waterflooding beginning in 1927. Waterflooding demanded large quantities of high quality water to be successful. Poor water quality could plug the tiny pore spaces in the fine grained sandstone formation. Especially on the higher elevations, finding sufficient quantity could be a problem.

One company engaged in waterflooding was Petroleum Reclamation Division of Case Pomeroy & Co., a principle owner of which was Chase Manhattan Bank. In 1929, the Reclamation Supply Corp. Division of Case Pomeroy was incorporated in New York to supply Petroleum Reclamation and others with water for flooding.

At first, test wells were drilled near Eldred, PA but the supply wasn't sufficient. They found what they were looking for in the Town of Allegany, NY. Large wells were developed on the Dugan and Garr farms on West River Rd. In 1929 a half-million dollars was expended. A 15 mile, 24 in. diameter pipeline connected by 3000-4000 Dresser couplings was constructed deep into the Bradford Oil Field to supply waterflood operators with the high-quality water. L.C. Williams, Sr. sold the couplings for Dresser and was hired by Reclamation as superintendent. The main line terminated in Gifford but by the end of 1947 there were 70 miles of pipeline and 5700 gallons of water per minute were being pumped. The main pump station was in a park-like setting with a picnic pavilion, fish pond and fountains. This was open to the public until it was abused. People would come from miles around to get drinking water. There was also a booster pump station constructed at the head of the Four Mile Valley in the Town of Allegany. High tension power lines on steel towers were erected from Olean by the company to supply power to the booster station. By 1949 a million dollars had been expended.

Sometime after 1947 the operation was sold to Felmont Oil Corp. who continued the water supply operation until 1963. In the mid 1970's the wells were reactivated to supply the Felmont-Agway fertilizer complex in Olean. Water was piped to the plant until it was closed in 1983. The wells are now idle

Recipe: Molasses Cake

From the Kitchen of: Derrick Delights

1/2 cup butter	1/2 tsp. ginger
1/2 cup molasses	1/2 cup sugar
1 beaten egg	1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 cup hot water with 1 tsp. soda dissolved in it

No oil man's lunch bucket ever opened to a better treat.

Alas, there is no oven temperature nor time provided.

We suggest 375° for 35 minutes.
