

Executive Producer / Host of Local TV Show Wins Three "Communicator Awards"

Winners of the 30th Annual Communicator Awards were recently announced by the Academy of Interactive and Visual Arts (AIVA). Three-time Telly Award Winner is among the recipients!

BriefingWire.com, 6/06/2024 - Dr. Mary M. Gillam, host of the local television show, "Leadership Table Talk" has been selected as a Winner in the 30th Annual Communicator Awards! The former Senior Executive with the Department of Defense at the Pentagon, retired Air Force Colonel, and entrepreneur was elated when the announcement was made.

When asked how she felt, Dr. Gillam responded, "Having won three Telly Awards for my show in 2020, I am so thankful to God for blessing me to continue to produce work that inspires, uplifts, and blesses others. With over 3000 entries worldwide, I feel extremely blessed."

The episode, "Developing Young Men of Character: Interview with Myles and Derrick Johnson" garnered three separate awards: Motivation - Excellence, Religion/Spirituality - Distinction, and Causes/Awareness - Distinction. "Without these young men being open, honest, and frank, this interview would have never happened. I am so grateful to the both of them" continued Dr. Gillam.
