

The Four Pillars of Parental Engagement

Enabling students to thrive

Focus on building long lasting and respectful partnerships between parents, students and your school.

Knowledge

Environment

Culture

Communication

Engagement

Clear Expectations

Parents, school team, and pupils know what is expected of them in the partnership.

Support

Parents know why, when, and how to support their child's learning.

Accessible Technology

Parents are able to use school technology, such as portals, apps, and tools.

Understand Progress

Parents know how to access and understand their child's progress.

Clear Contacts

Parents know whom to contact for help and when they can expect a response.

Welcome and Support

The school team creates a school environment that welcomes and supports parents.

Home Support

Parents understand what a home environment that supports learning looks like and are supported in creating this.

Online Access

School creates an online environment where parents find what they need easily.

Shared Experiences

Parents are encouraged to share their school experiences to support continuous improvement and learning.

Mutual Respect

School and parents respect time commitments.

Supportive Culture

School leaders build a planned school culture that supports parents, pupils, and the school.

Trusted Relationships

School supports the building of trusted relationships between the school team, parents, and pupils.

Understanding

The school team understands and respects parents' beliefs, culture, expectations, and parenting style.

Involvement

School supports parental involvement in initiatives and bodies.

Togetherness

The school involves pupils and parents together.

Simple Information

Parents receive simple and easy-to-access information that is clear and consistent.

Listening

School is focused on listening to parents and pupils.

Confident Communication

School team members are appropriately trained in communicating confidently with parents.

Support

School supports parents to communicate with their children.

Recognition

Parents are recognised and feel valued for their great work.

The Result:

A respectful partnership between parents, students and schools

- Parents know how, when and why to support their child's and valued for their role
- Students who feel supported and valued to be at their best
- A school team that is empowered and equipped to have positive parent relationships

Positively impacting student

- Behaviour
- Results
- Attendance

www.fit2communicate.com

Contact hello@fit2communicate.com for more information

Copyright Fit2Communicate 2025