Call to Confession Todd Ramsey

Unison Prayer of Confession

Merciful God, we admit that we want a way through that we can manage. When we are afraid, we take matters into our own hands. When we are tired, we go back to what is familiar, even when it is not free. We have doubted that you are for us. We have measured your love by how clear the path looks. We have asked you to stand at a distance while we try to become worthy of help.

Forgive us. Turn us again to the One who does not leave us alone in what we cannot survive. We bring you now the words we cannot say in public, and the sins we have not yet named—

Silent Confession

Assurance of Pardon
