

AUDITION SIDES

Jack Scott: Wow, that was... unbeliev-a-dable! And now, for something completely different in kinda the same old way, let's bring out Janey Fire and Norman, her phenomenal psycho sock puppet!

Troy: Look, I do the show only if the Wildcats do the show, too. Or do you just want to sit here and polish off what's left of Zeke's cookies?

Fulton: Children, sometimes the innocent employee must carry out completely unfair tasks if he, meaning me, wishes to continue paying his bills so he can continue living his tiny life.

Gabriella: What's the prize? Troy? Some dumb talent show award? Great, enjoy it. Me, I'm out of here. But you better step away from the mirror long enough to see the damage you leave behind you, before it's too late.

Sharpay: This is my territory, Ryan. I'm going to blow Gabriella off the stage and win Troy Bolton and the Star Dazzle Award, which I really don't care about anyway.
