INSPIRED BY THE OLD-WORLD TECHNIQUES OF SCOTTISH WHISKY DISTILLERS, DOC SWINSON'S ALTER EGO BOURBON IS FINISHED USING Oloroso Sherry, Pedro Ximénez Sherry, and Cognac Casks. These casks allow the delicate characteristics of past occupants to mingle and marry with the smooth yet bold aspects of Doc's straight bourbon. Each release is then meticulously blended and rested in ex cognac foeders prior to bottling.

OUR FINISHING AND BLENDING TECHNIQUE IMPARTS A DRY NUTTINESS, SUBTLE SWEETNESS AND AN EXTENDED FINISH TO AN ALREADY GREAT WHISKEY WHILE STILL ALLOWING THAT BOURBON TO SHINE.

DESCRIPTION

Pulling methods from these heritage blenders, Doc Swinson's head blender, Jesse Parker selected two bourbon mash-bills aged at least 5 years in American white oak and blended them together before finishing them in Cognac puncheons, Pedro Ximenez Sherry and Oloroso Sherry Butts curated to layer in and tease out delicate flavor profiles. Once deemed ready all three finishing cask types are blended together and further rested in large oak barrels called foeders before bottling. We believe this award-winning whiskey pays homage to the blender's heritage all while allowing the American bourbon to shine through.
