WaterWORKS is a unique opportunity for high school students to learn more about the region's Blue Economy and what types of career opportunities it presents.

After a brief assembly that introduces students to what the Blue Economy is and how it is a part of their daily lives, students will visit a series of "islands" throughout the campus - each one focused on a specific Blue economic sector. Industry representatives (trade organizations and businesses) from each sector will be on hand to exhibit their field and engage with students. A brief plenary session will wrap up the day before heading back to school.
