Contest Details

Change begins with conversation and the voice of our youth is powerful. It is our hope to start the difficult conversations and to inspire action in the hearts of others through the voice of youth advocates, covering a topic that is personal and important to the winner.

The contest is open to all youth, in elementary, junior high or high school, located anywhere in the United States. Parental permission is required.

The Just Be Love Project is looking for true, short stories with a social advocacy theme that we can bring awareness to. We are less concerned about perfect grammar or a specific word count and more focused on content & theme.

Cost

$22 per entry, enter as many stories as desired.

The Prize

The winner will have their story made into a short form indie style film and will get the chance to have direct input into the creative process.

There will be a screening at the Just Be Love Youth Fest event in February 2020 and the winner will have the chance to be a Just Be Love youth ambassador.
