President's Message

By Jeff L. Bean

I once heard of a young new attorney who was flying from Los Angeles to New York. The attorney had recently graduated from a prestigious school at the top of his class and was to be employed at a large law firm in New York. The young man had accomplished much in his life, so far, and was anxious to tackle the world and to put his mark on it.

As the young attorney settled into his seat he noted that the passenger sitting next to him was an elderly man who appeared to be well dressed and successful. Assuming that the elderly gentleman was someone of financial means and of some importance the young attorney wanted to make a good impression and attempted to start up a conversation. The attorney introduced himself and the elderly man politely responded exchanging pleasantries.

The young attorney noted that the man was carrying an old and tattered book. "You know, we live in an age where we no longer need to carry books. All information that ever was can now be found by using these electronic devices. By using these devices we now have access to more information than all previous generations combined. And this generation will, if I dare say, be much more productive than all prior generations. There is no question that you could pose to me that I could not find the answer using these devices and the internet."

While the elderly gentleman expressed his doubts that all of life's questions could be answered using the technology of today, the young attorney was adamantly insistent. "I'll tell you what, let us make a wager. To demonstrate how superior today's technology is in finding answers to questions from that of more antiquated methods of learning, if I can pose a question that you cannot answer you must pay me $5. However, if you can pose a question that I cannot answer I will pay you $50." The elderly gentleman reluctantly agreed to the wager.

The attorney started the contest first and asked, "How many miles is it from the earth to the moon?" The elderly gentleman thought for a minute and then pulled out his wallet and handed the attorney a $5 bill.

The attorney thanked him and said, "Now it is your turn." The elderly gentleman asked, "What goes up a hill on four legs but comes down the hill on three?" The attorney commenced searching the internet, researching all known animals, insects, reptiles and other forms of life. The attorney then searched the definition of legs, identifying all things that have legs, and then eliminating them one by one as not fitting in the criteria of the question. Finally the attorney used his cellular telephone and texted his friends, asking for their assistance to solve the puzzle, but to no avail. During all this time the elderly gentleman sat quietly napping or reading his book. As the flight attendant announced their final approach to their destination the young exasperated attorney announced, "I give up. I cannot find the answer to your question." The attorney pulls out a $50 bill and hands it to his traveling companion. The elderly gentleman thanks him, takes the $50 puts it into his wallet and then returns to reading his book.

The young attorney beside himself with frustration and curiosity says, "So what goes up a hill on four legs and comes down a hill on three?" The elderly gentleman sits there for a brief moment, contemplates the question, then pulls out his wallet and hands the young attorney a $5 bill.

From this story I am reminded that we can all learn and gain from the experiences and wisdom of our elders. That our access to technology does not always provide us with the answers to the questions we look for in life. And so I want to encourage all of you to have one of those experiences that you cannot solely obtain from the internet, and to attend our Bench-Bar Dinner on Thursday, October 16, 2014. This year we are pleased to have Dr. Melba Beals, one of the first nine students integrated into an all-white high school in Little Rock, Arkansas in 1957 following the landmark United States Supreme Court case of Brown v. Board of Education, 347 U.S. 483. These students were initially prevented from entering the racially segregated school by the then Governor of Arkansas, and were allowed to attend only after the intervention of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Dr. Beals' recounting of her personal experience during this era will bring to each of us a greater appreciation of the civil rights we presently enjoy. We anticipate a great and thought provoking experience, one you will remember for some time. If you have not already obtained your tickets for this event please contact the SBCA Office. This is one event you don't want to miss.

LAWYER'S REFERRAL SERVICE

- Are you willing to support your local Bar Association?
- Are you looking for new clients?
- Are you willing to provide some pro bono time?

If you answer “YES” to the above, please consider serving on the LRS panel.
As an SCBA member, you only pay a $50 annual LRS panel fee!

Simple appointment process: LRS representative will schedule appointments with your office at your convenience with clients who have a matter in your area(s) of expertise. The client pays a $50.00 administrative fee to us over the phone, for a 30-minute consultation. Each month you will receive a statement from the LRS listing your appointments for that month. All you do is indicate the LRS clients who kept their appointments (and those that did not), and send the statement back to the LRS office.

If the client retains you, any further attorney's fees are entirely yours!

For more information, call the LRS at (209) 571-5729 or go to stanbar.org

Lenore Anne Maurice

September 9, 1945 to August 11, 2014

Lenore Anne Maurice died at the age of 68 at her home in Modesto, CA. She was born September 9th, 1945 in Buffalo, NY to the late Irene and Clarence Schieber. Passionate Public Defender, generous supporter of the arts and volunteer at the Gallo Center for the Arts, world traveler, dedicated Social Worker, and loyal friend, she gave to us all much more than we could have expected. She is survived by her husband, Eugen, and his children, Monica and Octav. Lenore will be dearly missed by her family, friends and colleagues.

Stephen Sidwell

September 9, 1946 - September 2, 2014

Stephen Mitchell Sidwell ~ The world had no idea it was about to get a little better when Stephen Mitchell Sidwell nearly dropped right out of his mom and into an outhouse in Idaho Falls, Idaho 68 years ago next week. At age 3 doctors told Steve that because of the polio virus he'd contracted, he'd never walk again. 17 surgeries and a couple years living in the hospital later, Steve answered them by waltzing out the door and getting behind the wheel of a Ford Fairlane. It turns out that despite his trove of tricks and Yankee ingenuity, he never did a tour in Vietnam, but he did marry the prettiest girl in all of Foster

City anyway, and he and Debbie planted themselves on the edge of Modesto in a perfect country home just past a walnut orchard where they lived for almost 25 years. If Steve helped you get out of a fix, chances are it was while he was practicing law as a smooth-talking attorney or with a good-natured wisecrack that brightened your day. Or if you happened to get a few extra dollar bills or a box of groceries on your porch at Christmastime when you were down to your last penny, that just might have been him too. He raised 5 kids, Stephen, Bethany, Adam, Jarom and Anne, who still are trying as hard as they can to be just like him. He has 10 grandchildren so far, with who knows how many more on the way. His wife Debbie, mom Mary Sidwell, brother Stan and sister Sonja are all going to miss him dearly. Steve was a darn good Mormon, spending many of his weeknights and all of his Sundays helping people in and out of the Church. No doubt he's having a grand time on the other side, but the world is a little sadder today at his passing.

FROM THE LAW LIBRARY

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING...

It's not often that we are given something of value for no cost without strings attached; your Law Library is an exception. Here, we still offer a full Westlaw subscription, access to all CEB titles, current forms and form books, Rutter Group and Thomson West publication access, and now we have partnered with LA Law Library to bring you access to Fastcase, HeinOnline, Infotrac (including Legaltrac), LLMC Digital, SmartRules, and Wolters Kluwer Law and Business (Corporate and Tax). There is no charge to use these services.

If you just can't get down to see our smiling faces, we can point you to our favorite free legal research websites.

1. Google Scholar – Case Law for all 52 States and all Federal Jurisdictions dating back to the early 1900s. Includes a Shepards'-like "Cited By" reference to citing cases. Search by title, citation or subject. www.scholar.google.com .
2. California Courts – Free Lexis database search for California cases and slip opinions. Includes Official Reports. www.courts.ca.gov/opinions.htm; Also offers free, fillable Judicial Council forms with instructions and self-help guides. www.courts.ca.gov/forms.htm .
3. Leg Info – Current California Statutes cross-referenced with a full legislative history (including the full amending legislation text) from 1993 to present. <http://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/codes.xhtml> . For Federal legislation try the Library of Congress search at www.loc.gov.
4. Cornell's Legal Information Institute– United States Code & Code of Federal Regulations, annotated and updated, searchable by section and subject. <http://www.law.cornell.edu>.
5. Get Human – O.k. it's not necessarily legal research but if you are tired of pounding your way through an automated phone-tree to get to a human being, try looking for a direct dial at www.gethuman.com .
6. StanLaw.Org – The most important site of course! Here you will find links to all of the above, free access to nolo-press publications and much much more. www.stanlaw.org.

Our Internet Legal Research Basics classes will be starting up in October, and will be offered at Library cost. If you have staff that would like to attend, give us a call at (209) 558-7759.

2014 Bench-Bar Dinner

In celebration of the 60th anniversary of BROWN V. BOARD OF EDUCATION, the Stanislaus County Bar Association invites you to a special evening with DR. MELBA BEALS

Ms. Beals is one of the nine students who integrated Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas in 1957. These nine students, who sought a better education at this flashpoint in the civil rights movement, are called "The Little Rock Nine." At age 15, Ms. Beals had acid thrown at her and a $10,000 price on her head made by the Ku Klux Klan. Come hear about this moment in history.
