

ABA RESULTS OCTOBER 2026 NEWSLETTER

Parent Tip of the Month

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

All behavior serves a purpose. We engage in "behavior" when we WANT something.

Whether its tying your shoes, brushing your teeth, or picking your nose; there's a reason for everything.

Figuring out WHY a child engaged in a behavior is the most important step because it tells us how to respond.

If we want a behavior to happen more, we make sure the child gets what they want.

If we want the behavior to happen less, we make sure the child doesn't get what they want.

Next time your child cries ask yourself "What do they want?"
