

Natural Justice & Procedural Fairness

In Canada, the legal right to be treated fairly is known as Natural Justice or Procedural Fairness

Has Langford Breached the Principles of Natural Justice by renegeing on evidenced written assurances to residents of TriWay Manufactured Home Park?

Residents are appealing to various authorities to determine whether Langford Council's readings and passing of Bylaw 1885 without Public Hearing, ignoring written and verbal representations by Residents, and without discussion, is valid.

As it stands the Bylaw was carelessly drafted and, in any case, contains at least one glaring error that will require a subsequent Bylaw Amendment.