Little about me

I am a collegiate athlete who will always carry the passion for the game and want to teach as much as I can. Experiencing and competing at the college level has motivated me to help others compete at the college level as well. I have always loved pitching and found it to be my safe space, so to be able to share that with student-athletes helps me still get to feel the love of softball without being in the circle myself. I have grown and achieved what I have due to many coaches who believed in me and poured into me. I can only hope to give that to other athletes to help them grow and further their academic and athletic goals on and off the field.
