      Welcome back! Today we are going to finish the different types of veset kavua. Last time we saw the veset ha'yom and the veset haflaga; today, we are going to see the veset yom ha'chodesh, veset dilug, & veset sirug:

Name of Veset Kavua	How To Calculate	Example	How Many Prior Periods Required To Calculate	How Many Onos Required To Be Poresh
Veset Yom Ha'Chodesh (וסת יום החודש)	The same Hebrew day in the next Hebrew calendar month	If she saw on ד טבת then ד שבט then ד אדר then she has a veset ha'chodesh on the 4th of each month.	3	1 ona. Or Zarooah: the ona itself and the ona beforehand
Veset Ha'dilug (וסת הדילוג)	Patterns; The next day in the Hebrew month according to the pattern	If she saw on א ניסן then ב אייר and on ג סיון then she establishes the veset ha'dilug	3[1]	1 ona. Or Zarooah: the ona itself and the ona beforehand
Veset Ha'sirug (וסת הסירוג)	Alternating Months	If she sees on י תשרי then on י כסלו then on י שבט she has established a veset sirugim for the 10th of every other month.	3	1 ona. Or Zarooah: the ona itself and the ona beforehand

[1] There is a machlokes: stam vs. yesh omrim about if the 4th period of 3rd period is the one which establishes the veset kavua. The Mechaber paskins to be machmir for the yesh omrim who hold that the 3rd period establishes the veset kavua.
