Help Raise Funds for Local Food Pantry

GRANDRAPIDS- The Green Apple Pantry is hosting this year's Johnny "Green" Appleseed Ciderfest in order to raise money for local food pantry.

Beginning on October 11th of this year, Ciderfest will allow attendees to tour the Green Apple Pantry's facility and learn more about their cause. Each ticket costs $40 and includes admission to the festival, 2 beverage tickets, and appetizers available. Ciderfest will be held at Encounter Church in Kentwood and lasts from 6 PM to 8 PM.

Not only do the funds from ticket sales support The Pantry, but other opportunities to raise money will be available at the event including but not limited to an Apple item giveaway and a live auction. "We are pleased to bring you Ciderfest, a family-friendly event that showcases local food, cider and non-profit that does so much for the southern Grand Rapids community," said Director of Marketing Ben Risinger. "This new event will be a chance to learn more about hunger in West Michigan and meet friends who have directly benefited from our help."

Tickets must be purchased by October 4th and the amount available for purchase is limited.

The Green Apple Pantry is a community based ministry that works to nourish neighbors in need. Their goal is to provide for members of the community to help them in all ways- mind, body, and soul. The mission of the group is to provide healthy food options to those in need and better equip them for days ahead.
