TEASE TEA PARTNERS WITH ROSARIO DAWSON TO REVITALIZE WOMEN DURING THE PANDEMIC

NEW YORK, NY -- Tease Tea is proud to announce its partnership with the actress, producer and activist, Rosario Dawson. She was recently on our television screens, playing the powerful role of Ahsoka Tano in Disney Plus's hit series, "The Mandalorian" and today she wants bring some of that power into kitchens across America.

Tease Tea and Dawson are collaborating to promote Tease Tea's limited-edition self-care bundle which includes a high-quality glass tea tumbler with a choice between three energy teas. This bundle will help revitalize the body, reduce your carbon footprint and support the empowerment of women-focused programs.

The COVID-19 Pandemic has been difficult, especially for the women that have had to put their dreams on hold. Statistics show that working mothers in states with stay-at-home orders and school closures were 68.8% more likely to take leave from their jobs.

"During the week I rotate between my children's rooms to help with their log-ins and passwords and all the other problems that come up," said Jessica Santos, mother of three.

With the hope that the country will re-open on the horizon, Tease Tea wants to give women the power to achieve their goals coming out of the pandemic.

“My mother worked in a women’s shelter when I was young,” says Dawson. “To see strangers helping other strangers inspired me and gave me the strength to continue serving my community. I hope with this campaign, I can give that strength to other women as well.”
