Report National Letter Writing Day

Organized by Department of English

Date: 7th December 2023

Venue: Ppt Hall

Programme Description

In this new era of high-end communication technology , letters have lost their importance and are considered an old tradition. New generation prefers social media platforms over letters as their medium of communication and expression . Thus, there occurs a necessity to evoke awareness about the tradition of letter writing and bring back the habit of writing letters among students. This lead the Department of English to organize a letter writing competition on the topic 'Undiserable Laws in India young learners. National Letter Writing Day is more than just a tradition; it's a bridge connecting the old art of letter writing with new methods of teaching and learning. It's a day to instill a love for writing and communication in our youngest learners. Ms.Sreechithra.C, Asst. Prof., Dept. of English, staff coordinator, guided the students. The students participated excitedly as they were exposed to some undesirable laws in our india.

A Skit on Fundamental Right

Date : 11th December 2023

Venue : Dwani – Audio Visual Hall

Programme Description

Students of Department of Economics presented a Skit on Fundamental rights as a part of International Human Rights day which is observed on 10th December 2023. Fundamental rights play a very significant role in the life of any citizen. The skit highlighted the six fundamental rights which are guaranteed by the Indian Constitution. The students got much knowledge about various articles related to our fundamental rights. This activity promoted a spirit of patriotism and nationalism among the students. It was a great experience to the students.
