

Role Description 5 - Bar & Kitchen Volunteers

One of the key selling features of our hall is the great bar and kitchen facilities. From live music events to private hire, the bar is extremely important to contribute to the success and happiness of the function.

We need volunteers to join us and have fun, whether pouring pints or mixing drinks, there's always a warm buzz as regulars and newcomers alike gather for events. Serving customers isn't just about handing over drinks—it's about being friendly, sharing a smile, and making everyone feel welcome. Collecting glasses after busy periods gives you a chance to chat to guests, check in on their evening, and keep the bar area tidy and inviting for the next round. The role offers plenty of opportunities to meet people from all walks of life, and there's a great satisfaction in knowing you're helping to make community gatherings enjoyable and safe.

We need a team of volunteers or to put it another way “a pool of resource” that we can circulate the dates and plan who is available to work at which event, gig or booking.

4. Beer kegs – We can show you how quick and simple it is to change empties to full ones
5. ALSO: as important, chat with guests and help create a welcoming, friendly atmosphere
