

CHALK CASTLE

Queen Esther loved her family and friends and was able to help them because she trusted God. Even though she was afraid, she trusted God to help her do the right thing. She was so brave! Grab your sidewalk chalk and head outside with your preschooler to help them remember that they can trust God just like Queen Esther did.

Here's what to do:

- 1 Help your child draw a big castle in your driveway or on the sidewalk.
 - 2 Help them draw all of the members of a royal family who live in a castle (king, queen, prince, princess, etc.). Talk about each person as you draw them.
 - 3 When you mention the Queen, talk to your child about how brave Queen Esther was and how she trusted God to do the right thing.
 - 4 Talk about all of the different ways you can trust God to do the right thing too!
