3	Natural Wood African Bambara N'Tomo Secret Society Boys Initiation 3 Horned Mask & Stand - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: 6 lb 14 oz, Size: 27" tall natural wood three horned ceremonial mask with fine line face details and wooden display stand (29" when on stand) of the The Bambara (or Bamana) - a ceremonial wooden artifact from Mali, West Africa, worn by uncircumcised boys during initiation rites. In Bambara culture, masks with three or six vertical horns symbolize masculinity and are used to build resilience and teach virtues like silence and spiritual protection. N'Tomo masks typically feature an elongated face, a long nose, and a small, shut mouth. The small mouth symbolizes the virtue of contemplation and the need to think before speaking, while the nose represents the ability to detect good and bad qualities. These masks are used by the N'Tomo secret society, the first of six initiation cycles young males must complete before circumcision. During dances, the masks serve to protect the boys while they engage in tests of endurance.

5	André Harvey (1941-2018) "Red Fox" 1973 Patinated Bronze Sculpture, Limited Edition Cast 32/60 - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: See Photos. Rare, highly collectible limited-edition bronze sculpture titled "Red Fox" (1973) by renowned American realist sculptor André Harvey (1941–2018). This exceptionally detailed work is cast number 32 from a small edition of only 60, expertly captured using the traditional lost-wax casting method at the prestigious Tallix Foundry in Peekskill, New York. The patinated hot-cast bronze is permanently mounted to its original, custom-contoured polished hardwood base, which features full hand-inscribed provenance and the artist's personal studio inventory monogram on the underside. Displaying remarkably crisp texture through the fox's fur and an alert, life-like expression, this authenticated Mid-Atlantic sporting art masterpiece represents an outstanding opportunity for discerning wildlife art collectors.

6	Rare 1966 Fantastic Voyage 4x5 Studio Promo Color Transparencies Lot of 13 featuring Raquel Welch - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: 5 X 7 From The Estate Of Estate Of Bob/Robb Versandi Advertising Executive. These are in such wonderful condition i will not remove them from the protective sleeve to photograph them to preserve their condition. Step back into the golden age of 1960s sci-fi with this incredibly rare, vintage archive of thirteen original 4x5 color studio promotional transparency negatives from the 1966 Academy Award-winning masterpiece, Fantastic Voyage. Used by Twentieth Century Fox to generate high-resolution lobby cards, posters, and international press kits, this premium large-format collection offers stunning detail and clarity that dwarfs standard 35mm slides. The lot showcases breathtaking production stills of Harper Goff's iconic Proteus submarine navigating surreal anatomical blood vessels, intense crew action sequences, and the unforgettable antibody attack scene. Most notably, the collection features highly coveted, striking promotional portraits of Hollywood legend Raquel Welch in her career-defining role as Cora Peterson, complete with her signature ornate hairpiece. Preserved with official studio production stamps, archival reference numbers (such as FV- 1401), this 13-piece promotional lot is an absolute crown jewel for serious cinema collectors, vintage sci-fi archivists, or fans of premium mid-century Hollywood memorabilia.
7	Vintage 1970s CompuChron Gold LED Digital Watch - - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: Working sold as is no warranty expressed or implied, (Wear to red crystal) CompuChron LED digital watch from the mid-1970s, presenting a rare opportunity to own a fully functional piece of horological and computing history. 15	Antique 1920s Persian Keshan Rug - Large 11x16 Salmon Rose & Navy Blue Wool Oriental Carpet - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - This genuine antique Persian Keshan rug, hand-knotted in Iran during the 1920s and now over a century old, exemplifies the pinnacle of traditional city-workshop weaving. Spanning an impressive 10'7" x 16'5", the carpet features a finely woven, robust wool pile on a strong cotton foundation, with an authentic knot density of approximately 224 KPSI. Its sophisticated design showcases a beautifully abraded, salmon-rose central field decorated with an elegant, all-over pattern of scrolling botanical vines, floral sprays, and detailed palmettes. This warm, luminous core is framed by a deeply contrasting navy blue companion border adorned with coordinating historic motifs, all brought to life by wonderfully preserved natural dyes. Maintained in very good antique condition with gentle, even wear and strong structural integrity, this grand architectural-sized masterpiece brings timeless luxury, exceptional history, and refined elegance to any upscale interior
16	2012 Star Wars The Phantom Menace Episode I MTT Multi Troop Transport Playset with 20 Battledroids - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: 9 lb 12 oz, Size: This is a Star Wars Trade Federation MTT (Multi-Troop Transport) playset made by Hasbro, featuring a motorized deployment rack and 20 battle droids plus Obi-Wan Kenobi Battle Droids deploy into combat form a Trade Federation Multi Troop Transport (MTT) vehicle. At the Battle of Naboo, MTTs delivered wave after wave of Battle Droids to face the Gungan Army. First displayed in their showroom at the 2012 International Toy Fair, Hasbro's MTT (Multi Troop Transport) vehicle ended up being one of the coolest large vehicles they produced for the 3 3/4-inch action figure collection. This massive playset included many interactive play elements, electronic features including moving parts and sounds, and twenty-one packed action figures with weapon accessories! The MTT (Multi Troop Transport) was only released in the 2012 Movie Heroes / The Clone Wars and the chances of it being re-released are extremely slim. Transport is in unused condition and has not been removed from box, box is missing the top, some minor soiling from storage and top loss possible

Collection Of 3 Vintage Invicta Diver Watches - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: All Running sold as is no warranty expressed or implied Including 1 - Pre-owned Invicta Grand Diver Model No. 3044 automatic watch is fully functional, running smoothly, and keeps reliable time via its Japanese self-winding movement. The massive 47mm stainless steel case and matching metal bracelet exhibit typical wear from regular use, including faint hairline surface scratches and minor scuffs on the high-polish areas and clasp. The crystal over the black dial remains clear with excellent visibility to the magnified date window. Included in this complete setup, the oversized professional 300-meter diver watch, its original instruction manual, warranty booklet, extra sizing links in a protective pouch, and the rugged, impact-resistant green dive storage case. 1 - premium Invicta Men's Model 3266 "10 Collection" Diver Watch features a scratch-resistant sapphire crystal, an all-stainless-steel construction with a polished gold finish, and a classic red and black diving bezel. The timepiece is in excellent, slightly used condition with only typical, light cosmetic wear on the case and jubilee bracelet. It is running perfectly, freshly serviced with a brand new, long-life CR2016 lithium battery installed to ensure years of maintenance-free operation. This collectible timepiece comes as a complete set, including the original signature yellow Invicta presentation box, the official instruction manual booklet, and the manufacturer's product hangtag. 1 - Invicta Pro Diver (Model 8930A): This classic 40mm men's dive watch features a polished, yellow-gold-plated stainless steel case and bracelet, beautifully contrasted by a vibrant blue dial and a matching unidirectional rotating coin-edge bezel. Engineered for performance, it is powered by a reliable 24-jewel Japanese automatic movement (Seiko/TMI NH35A) visible through an exhibition case back, meaning it winds itself entirely through the natural kinetic movement of your wrist without ever needing a battery. Designed with a magnification window at the 3 o'clock position for easy date reading, it also features a screw-down crown and a heavy-duty build that delivers an impressive professional water resistance rating of 200 meters (660 feet).

Antique Chinese Export Silver Repoussé Covered Box Handcrafted by the Baohe Gold and Silversmith Shop (Baohe Jin Dian) featuring Official Fengtian Provincial Identity and Zu Wen High-Grade Fine Silver Purity Guarantee Mark, Late Qing Dynasty to Early Republic Period, Circa 1900–1928, The Hallmark reads vertically from top to bottom as (Fengtian Baohe Jin Dian Zu Wen). The first two characters identify the location as Fengtian (modern-day Shenyang in northeast China), a historic provincial name officially used before 1929, which helps date this piece to the late Qing Dynasty or early Republic period (circa 1900–1928). Baohe is the specific master silversmith workshop name, followed by Jin Dian ("Gold Shop"), indicating it was an elite manufacturer and retailer of high-end precious metalwork. The final two characters, Zu Wen, serve as the official purity guarantee certifying that the box is made from high-grade fine silver. The lid reads (Bao), which means treasure, wealth, or precious object.

Size: 19 1/4" X 34 1/4" This beautifully framed, hand-signed serigraph print features jazz legend Benny Golson's handwritten manuscript for his timeless 1957 composition, "I Remember Clifford" (dedicated to the memory of the great trumpeter Clifford Brown). This exclusive piece is print number 119 of a limited edition of 950 and comes meticulously double-matted and custom-framed alongside a classic black-and-white photograph of Golson playing his saxophone. Personally autographed by Golson in the bottom right corner, this rare collector's item is accompanied by its original official Certificate of Authenticity from Jazz Galleries International, complete with an embossed corporate seal, 471	Antique 1906 Tea Tray Co 32" Red Flower Horn W/ 8" Columbia Grafonola Tone Arm & Reproducer As Seen - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: 32" Tall 22 " This antique phonograph lot features a highly collectible 1906-patented 22-inch "Morning Glory" cylinder horn manufactured by The Tea Tray Company (TCT), showcasing its original maroon "Baked-On" enamel finish, gold panel striping, and intact maker's decal. Sold in "as-found" and "as-seen" condition, the sheet metal horn remains structurally intact with desirable, authentic surface wear, but it is paired with a mismatched Columbia Grafonola No. 6 disc reproducer and tone arm assembly. This associated Columbia component shows its age and a prominent structural hairline crack along its brittle pot-metal elbow. Because the horn is engineered for an early Edison-style cylinder record player and the tone arm belongs to a flat disc-playing system, the pieces are being sold for restoration projects or parts.

474	Richard Ralph Roehl, 'The $ecret Cream of Jeeezass!', Mixed-Media Box Sculpture, 2012 - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: WARNING: CONTENT NOTICE. This highly provocative, satire-laden mixed-media assemblage sculpture deals with mature and controversial themes, pairing a crucifix with sensitive imagery and anatomical elements. Please note that if you see yellow face memes, these are covering things we found offensive. Measuring 40" H x 21.5" W x 4.25" D, the work exemplifies Richard Ralph Roehl's fierce, anti-establishment mockery of commercial greed and religious systems. Titled on the reverse as "The $ecret Cream of Jeeezass!" and bearing his signature "R.R.R. Ar.t Ea.r.th" triangle insignia, the piece includes an explanatory label detailing the historical origin of the incorporated pre-1939 US Army 45th Infantry Division Native American symbol patch. Richard Ralph Roehl's 2012 assemblage, 'The $ecret Cream of Jeeezass!', stands as an uncompromising critique of the commodification of faith and the hypocrisy of the commercial art world. True to his legacy as a rebellious force in the Venice, California art scene and a permanent fixture in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art, Roehl utilizes subversion to challenge elite collectors. By pairing sacred religious iconography with a provocative jester's head, an explosive background, and a historical military patch—meticulously contextualized on the reverse as a repurposed pre-1939 US Army Native American good luck insignia—Roehl deliberately forces the viewer into a state of discomfort. The absurd, dollar-signed handwritten title on the back serves as the ultimate punchline to his artistic joke: a direct, laughing challenge to institutional pretense, questioning whether value lies in the sacredness of the craft or the arbitrary price tag dictated by society. BIO: Richard Ralph Roehl (1946–2021) was an anti-establishment sculptor and walking piece of performance art. Born in Milwaukee, he earned an MFA from UC Boulder in 1974 after studying Italian. He briefly taught art in Texas, mastering everything from woodwork to metal plating, before the rigid university system clashed with his eccentric spirit. In 1980, Roehl dove into the rebellious Venice, California art scene alongside Ed Moses and Bill Czappa, winning an NEA Fellowship in 1981. He fiercely despised the pretension and greed of the commercial art world. To mock it, he crashed gallery openings in heavy theatrical makeup under pseudonyms like "Vincent Van Go," ran a fake corporation called R.R.R. Enterprises, and stamped his pieces with a custom surfboard logo. He spent weeks crafting intricate kinetic sculptures out of clockwork and fine wood, only to paint absurd punchlines on them like "Dinner Is Served: 3 Million Dollars." It was a direct, laughing challenge to elite collectors: is art valuable because of the craft, or because of the price tag? He spent his final 23 years working quietly in Dunedin, Florida. Today, his lifetime mission to make the art world nervous is permanently preserved in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art

489	Rare Antique C. 1860-1880 U.S. Navy Officer's Heavy Blue Wool Boat Cloth Wrap Blanket - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: 3 lb 10 oz, Size: 70" X 71" This exceptional 19th-century American maritime artifact is a textbook example of a U.S. Navy Officer's Boat Cloth, dating from approximately 1860 to 1880. Measuring roughly 70" x 71", this oversized protective lap robe or outerwear wrap was designed for officers weathering elements in open captain's gigs. Reflecting period-specific manufacturing limitations, the cloth features a distinct two-panel construction where an 18-inch extension panel is seamlessly connected to a standard 54-inch textile bolt. This connection is joined by a tight, flat-laying, reinforced welt seam designed to eliminate bulk. The textile is fashioned from a premium, dense dark navy blue or black felted pilot cloth that features clean, raw-cut, unhemmed edges—a tailoring standard of the era made possible because the highly compact wool fibers naturally resist fraying or unravelling. The perimeter is accented by parallel rows of genuine metallic gold-toned herringbone flat lace (braid) showing an authentic, oxidized antique patina. Devoid of modern synthetic threads, heavy brass grommets, lead weights, or fabric ties that could mar polished ship woodwork, this beautifully preserved piece stands as a remarkably pristine, functional window into late 19th-century American naval uniform heritage.

Klein Provenance Books - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: 22-Volume 1946 Pearl Harbor Attack Joint Committee Investigation Hearings & Summary Report – Unique Luxury Leather-Bound Run with U.S. House of Representatives & Congressional Committee Provenance. Offered is an exceptionally rare, monumental piece of World War II legislative history: A 22-volume collection of the official 1946 United States Government Printing Office (GPO) publication of the Pearl Harbor Attack: Joint Hearings Before the Joint Committee on the Investigation of the Pearl Harbor Attack (79th Congress, S. Con. Res. 27). This extensive 22-book run contains the vital core of the congressional inquiry, capturing raw testimonies, top-secret diplomatic intercepts, and sensitive cryptographic evidence. Key highlights in this 22-volume lot include Part 15 (Exhibits 44–87), Part 21 (Exhibits 180–183 & Exhibits-Illustrations) featuring detailed tactical fold-out maps and radar diagrams, Part 38 (The Proceedings of the Hewitt Inquiry) into naval intelligence failures, Part 39 (Master Reports & Findings), and the ultimate Senate Document No. 244 (The Final Summary Report of the Joint Committee).Exceptional Provenance & Binding Details:Unlike standard cloth library editions, this 22-volume collection is bound in luxury dark leather with gilt-stamped spines, showcasing two distinct, highly desirable historical provenances:The Institutional House Set: The vast majority of these books feature matching pencil catalog sequence markings starting with "946" and "H. of R." on the title pages, proving they were sourced directly from the active reference library pool of the U.S. House of Representatives. Faint deaccession erasure shadows are visible on select pages.The Congressional Presentation Piece: Volume 15-16 stands out as a spectacular collector's artifact. It features unique red-and-white edge marbling (opposed to the blue-and-white marbling on the rest of the set) and is uniquely gilt-stamped at the base of the spine with the name Arthur G. Klein—the U.S. Representative from New York who served directly on the Pearl Harbor Investigative Committee. This volume was his personal presentation copy, seamlessly married into the institutional set by a past collector to fill this narrative run.Condition Report:All 22

	books are in overall excellent antiquarian condition. Bindings remain tight, square, and structurally sound. Spines display crisp gold lettering. Interior pages are clean and clear with light, expected age-toning. Complete photos of every individual title page highlighting the respective "946" or "97004" graphite registry codes are provided in the gallery for absolute transparency. This highly curated run brings together the most critical investigative stages, exhibits, and final assessments across 22 distinct volumes: The Joint Report (1946): The rare, definitive final unified report issued by the committee outlining the official conclusions. Senate Document No. 244: The ultimate Final Summary Report of the Joint Committee. Part 39: Master Reports & Findings. Part 38: The complete proceedings of the Hewitt Inquiry into naval intelligence failures. Parts 36–37: Official proceedings of the Hewitt Inquiry. Parts 34–35: Official proceedings of the Clarke and Clausen Investigations. Parts 32–33: Official proceedings of the Navy Court of Inquiry. Parts 30–31: Official proceedings of the Army Pearl Harbor Board. Parts 28–29: Official proceedings of the Army Pearl Harbor Board. Parts 25–27: Key crossover tracking the end of the Roberts Commission, the Hart Inquiry, and the initiation of the Army Board. Part 25: Final standalone proceedings of the Roberts Commission. Parts 22–24: The foundational investigative proceedings of the Roberts Commission. Part 21 (Exhibits 180–183 & Exhibits-Illustrations): Highly prized collector volume featuring detailed, complex tactical fold-out maps and radar diagrams. Parts 19–20: Joint Committee Exhibits. Parts 17–18: Joint Committee Exhibits. Parts 15–16: Joint Committee Exhibits (featuring Part 15 / Exhibits 44–87). Parts 13–14: Joint Committee Exhibits. 521	1987 Richard Ralph Roehl "Mr. Clean" Signed Mixed Media Assemblage Neo-Expressionist Art - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - 987 vintage mixed-media assemblage wall clock by the late anti-establishment sculptor and performance artist Richard Ralph Roehl (1946–2021). Titled "Mr. Clean" Series X, this exceptional Neo-Expressionist piece showcases Roehl's signature "RRR" monogram and stylized surf-shop looping logo, matching his permanently archived documentation in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art. Constructed during his iconic 1980s Southern California period, the front combines an authentic Citizen quartz clock movement with heavily textured canvas and custom aluminum trim. The reverse acts as a brilliant conceptual blueprint, dense with Basquiat-esque diagrams, mathematical formulas, and classic Latin philosophical mottos ("Nosce Te Ipsum" and "Et In Arcadia Ego"). A perfect acquisition for collectors of California Outsider art, folk art, and rebellious kinetic sculpture. BIO: Richard Ralph Roehl (1946–2021) was an anti-establishment sculptor and walking piece of performance art. Born in Milwaukee, he earned an MFA from UC Boulder in 1974 after studying Italian. He briefly taught art in Texas, mastering everything from woodwork to metal plating, before the rigid university system clashed with his eccentric spirit. In 1980, Roehl dove into the rebellious Venice, California art scene alongside Ed Moses and Bill Czapka, winning an NEA Fellowship in 1981. He fiercely despised the pretension and greed of the commercial art world. To mock it, he crashed gallery openings in heavy theatrical makeup under pseudonyms like "Vincent Van Go," ran a fake corporation called R.R.R. Enterprises, and stamped his pieces with a custom surfboard logo. He spent weeks crafting intricate kinetic sculptures out of clockwork and fine wood, only to paint absurd punchlines on them like "Dinner Is Served: 3 Million Dollars." It was a direct, laughing challenge to elite collectors: is art valuable because of the craft, or because of the price tag? He spent his final 23 years working quietly in Dunedin, Florida. Today, his lifetime mission to make the art world nervous is permanently preserved in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art.
522	7 Signed Jef Raasch African Theme Pottery Vessels - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: 29.5 lbs. - See photos for sizes, forms and condition. Capture the untamed beauty of the savanna with this rare, masterfully crafted 7-piece ceramic collection by renowned sculptor Jef Raasch. distinctive collection of custom pottery showcases Jef Raasch's unique focus on combining natural elements, plants, and wildlife into interactive three-dimensional realities. Each one-of-a-kind vessel is individually hand-built by the artist using white talc clay, which serves as a dimensional canvas for his meticulously detailed, hand-carved textures and vibrant acrylic paint finishes. Known for his deep concern over animal endangerment and the symbiosis of life, Raasch crowns these lidded jars with carefully molded safari wildlife—such as leopards, primates, elephants, and warthogs—paired with heavily textured, relief-carved environments sprawling across the bodies. Signed with his studio mark underneath, this expressive series bridges functional jar and vase forms with fine-art storytelling, making it highly distinct from mass-produced studio pottery.

Enterprises" Pop-Art Kinetic Assemblage "Gooseneck Lamp" Sculpture, 36" - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: This exceptional 36-inch kinetic assemblage sculpture "Gooseneck Not A Lamp" showcases the satirical brilliance of Venice Beach rebel Richard Ralph Roehl (1946–2021), whose anti-establishment career is permanently preserved in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art. Crafted under his mock-corporate moniker R.R.R. Enterprises, this rare 1980s piece seamlessly fuses mid-century space-age design with meticulous craftsmanship, utilizing a flexible chrome gooseneck arm, a polished metal tripod base, and a vibrant biomorphic body topped with a miniature gymnast figurine and colorful spheres. Embodying Roehl's signature defiance of commercial art pretension, this masterful California avant-garde sculpture serves as both an eye-catching visual statement and a significant historical artifact. BIO: Richard Ralph Roehl (1946–2021) was an anti-establishment sculptor and walking piece of performance art. Born in Milwaukee, he earned an MFA from UC Boulder in 1974 after studying Italian. 581	"R.R.R. Enterprises Biomorphic Duo" – Pair of Found-Object Kinetic Sculptures (34" & 48" Tall) - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: This exceptional two-piece lot showcases the satirical brilliance of Venice Beach rebel Richard Ralph Roehl (1946–2021), whose legendary anti-establishment career is permanently preserved in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art. Crafted under his mock-corporate moniker R.R.R. Enterprises, these rare assemblage sculptures seamlessly fuse mid-century space-age design with meticulous craftsmanship. The artworks utilize repurposed gooseneck lamps, polished wood, and kinetic metal elements. The taller 48-inch figure features an intricate, multi-layered wooden jaw mechanism studded with chrome spikes, set atop a flexible neck and a red enamel base. The companion 34-inch figure showcases a vibrant orange and red biomorphic body sprouting a dramatic fan of exploding wire rods, anchored by a detailed, cage-like wooden base. These sculptures perfectly embody Roehl's signature defiance of commercial art pretension, serving as both masterful kinetic designs and historical artifacts of the 1980s California avant-garde scene. BIO: Richard Ralph Roehl (1946–2021) was an anti-establishment sculptor and walking piece of performance art. Born in Milwaukee, he earned an MFA from UC Boulder in 1974 after studying Italian. He briefly taught art in Texas, mastering everything from woodwork to metal plating, before the rigid university system clashed with his eccentric spirit. In 1980, Roehl dove into the rebellious Venice, California art scene alongside Ed Moses and Bill Czapka, winning an NEA Fellowship in 1981. He fiercely despised the pretension and greed of the commercial art world. To mock it, he crashed gallery openings in heavy theatrical makeup under pseudonyms like "Vincent Van Go," ran a fake corporation called R.R.R. Enterprises, and stamped his pieces with a custom surfboard logo. He spent weeks crafting intricate kinetic sculptures out of clockwork and fine wood, only to paint absurd punchlines on them like "Dinner Is Served: 3 Million Dollars." It was a direct, laughing challenge to elite collectors: is art valuable because of the craft, or because of the price tag? He spent his final 23 years working quietly in Dunedin, Florida. Today, his lifetime mission to make the art world nervous is permanently preserved in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art.

629	Authentic Vintage Persian Bidjar Rug (3'2" x 5'7") — Arthur T. Gregorian Collection - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Vintage Persian Bidjar rug is a finely hand-knotted masterpiece sourced from the town of Bijar in Northwestern Iran, historically celebrated by collectors as the "Iron Rug of Persia" for its exceptionally dense, heavy, and durable structure. Woven in a classic tribal village style, the textile features a striking hexagonal central medallion framed by a traditional Herati (fish and flower) field motif. Its rich, time-honored color palette is dominated by a deep navy blue background and a vibrant madder red primary border, beautifully accented by soft ivory, powder blue, and golden-yellow highlights. Bearing an official registration tag from the historic Arthur T. Gregorian collection, this highly collectible piece measures exactly 3'2" x 5'7", making it a resilient and visually captivating accent piece perfect for traditional, transitional, or eclectic interior decor.
