6	9" Antique Burmese Naga Tribe Men's Warrior Hat of Bamboo Cane, Orchid Fiber and Red Dye - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: 7 oz. Size: 9" - This Naga man's hat has a fine patina and clear age. It is of conical form and comprises a woven un-dyed cane base over which is fixed a mat of thin, red-dyed cane interspersed with the dried yellow skin of the orchid plant to create geometric patterns - Hats such as these were not part of the everyday dress of a Naga man. They were worn on festive occasions along with copious jewellery and other body decorations. The Naga people comprise a range of related tribes that inhabit the north-eastern India and north-western Burma. The form and relative lack of decoration of this hat suggests it is from the Kalyo-Kengyu Naga of western Burma. (Other groups wear similar hats but these can be embellished with dyed hair, tusks, and so on.) This hat is in fine condition with few obvious losses. Its age is obvious. 50	Stanley Bielecky Blue Series Painting of Mackinac Island Street Scene in Watercolor, Pencil & Ink - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: 9" X 12" watercolor paper, matted under glass in 14" x 16 1/2" brushed metal thin line frame, Mackinack Island summer street scene with horse and buggies, gift shop and bicyclist capturing the essence of the happy summer tourist life there - Stanley Bielecky (1903-1985) was a born artist, and was able to pursue his art studies by winning competitions and scholarships. He received his first formal training in the 1930s at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts with further courses at the Chicago Art Institute. Despite receiving several major art awards and exhibiting across the country, he struggled throughout his life to pursue his dream of painting. He worked as a commercial artist for several years before becoming an instructor in fine arts at Valparaiso University in 1941. In the summer of 1941 he was co-founder and director of the Mackinac Island Summer School of Art. He served from 1942 to 1945 in the Army in Europe. After the war, he re-assumed a position as instructor of fine arts at Valparaiso University until 1957 and began to summer on Mackinac Island. From the late forties into the seventies he painted thousands of water colors and oils of the Mackinac scene, when he was not tending bar at the Murray Hotel or driving a carriage to make ends meet. He died in 1985 leaving behind some of the most deft and spirited depictions of Mackinac painted in the twentieth century. Bielecky's favorite subjects were capturing the common man at work or play on Mackinac Island, his home state of Indiana, and his other favorite haunt, New Orleans. He could be categorized as an "American Scene Painter," with a nod to Thomas Hart Benton, another sketchpad observer of real people doing real things. Sometimes he worked in the broad-bottomed manner of Reginald Marsh, who caught the vitality of Coney Island in the 1930s. Bielecky approaches the crowds of Mackinac with similar impious dash. His compositions are deceptively simple, ranging from flat, near-cubist to flowing, three-dimensional elegance. Contemplate any of the "Blue Series" paintings for a lesson in how to multiply blue into blues. Stanley Bielecky was dapper, hardworking, an impeccable bartender at night, and a prolific painter by day. However, he did not part with his creations easily. Paintings could not be bought, only "acquired," and then solely by those who would view them with friendly eyes. Art, not commerce, was his master. Relentless dedication to his vocation resulted in a life's work of singular integrity—and exuberant beauty. That we enjoy these paintings today testifies to how thoroughly the artist's spirit animates them. (excerpts from the Mackinac State Historic Parks website)

Crafted from solid, chrome-plated cast brass for superior durability and shine, its design is modeled after traditional miner safety lamps with a wind screen and glass-encased flame to ensure safe, reliable, and wind-resistant operation, whether on your vessel or in your coastal retreat. Each lamp is individually numbered, adding to its unique charm and collectibility, and it promises approximately 30 hours of beautiful, clean burning with Weems & Plath lamp fuel. The Weems & Plath Chrome Yacht Lamp is more than just a light source; it's a statement of quality and a beautiful way to bring a touch of the sea into your life.

Powered by a precise Ronda Caliber Z60 Swiss Quartz movement, the timepiece includes functional sub-dials for 60-second and 30-minute registers, a day-of-the-week display, and a date window positioned between 4 and 5 o'clock. It is equipped with a scratch-resistant Flame Fusion crystal, luminous yellow gold-tone hands for enhanced visibility, and a 100-meter water resistance rating suitable for recreational swimming. The design is completed by a 36mm wide black silicone strap with a traditional tang clasp, maintaining the signature heavy-duty aesthetic of the Russian Diver 1959 collection. 1 - Un-Tested Diesel Only The Brave Model DZ4501 Wrist Watch is an oversized, 51mm Men's Mega Chief Chronograph watch that features a matte silver-tone stainless steel case and a matching metal bracelet with a deployment clasp. This bold timepiece is powered by a reliable quartz chronograph movement and includes a scratch-resistant mineral crystal face protecting a silver dial adorned with the "Only The Brave" tag and three functional sub-dials. Built for daily and active wear, it offers a water resistance of 10 ATM (100 meters), making it suitable for swimming and shallow diving. All 4 Watches One Money

See Photos For Condition, Working sold as is no warranty expressed or implied. Ser# 266??? Serial Number Analysis: A serial number in the 266,000 range corresponds specifically to the early 1940s. For comparison, serial number 269,000 is officially attributed to approximately 1943. VNX Import Code: The "VNX" stamp on the Valjoux 72 movement is a U.S. import code used by the distributor for Vacheron Constantin and LeCoultre. While this code remained in use through the 1950s and 60s, its presence on a movement with this low serial number confirms it was an early export to the American market. Movement: Caliber Valjoux 72, a manual-wind, column-wheel chronograph with 17 jewels and a 48-hour power reserve. It is the same base movement used in early Rolex Daytonas. Case: 35mm to 35.3mm diameter stainless steel with a screw-down back. VNX Stamp: The balance bridge is stamped with the "VNX" import code, identifying it as a Vacheron & Constantin-LeCoultre piece intended for the U.S. market. Dial: Silver and features a three-register layout (30-minute counter at 3 o'clock, 12-hour at 6 o'clock, and constant seconds at 9 o'clock). Features: Round chronograph pushers, an inner protective movement cover, and a blue tachymeter scale on the outer edge.

Rider design Bake-O-lite And Sterling Good Luck Ring. In 1927, George F. Rider designed a prominent "Good Luck" ring made of black Bakelite with silver inlays. The ring is notable for its intricate use of various traditional symbols of fortune and luck, including: Whirling Log: A geometric symbol common in 1920s designs before its later historical associations. Clover & Horseshoe: Classic western symbols for protection and success. Wishbone: A motif representing hope and granted wishes. The sides of the ring feature artistic depictions of Lady Luck's face outlined in silver. This specific George F. Rider design was used as a promotional ring for the radio show of famous 1920s jazz bandleader Paul Whiteman. The use of Bakelite combined with silver inlay was a hallmark of the 1920s Art Deco and promotional jewelry style. 1 - Size 7 US Marine Eagle Wings Sterling Silver Ring, 1 - Size 8 Sterling Silver US Army Engineers Ring. 1 - Sterling Silver US Army Lieutenant Colonel Shoulder Insignia Pin, 1 - Sterling Silver US WW2 Army Driver Mechanic Badge With Driver Qualification Award, 1 - Sterling Silver Expert Marksmanship Qualification Badge With 6 Awards ; Rifle, Pistol M, Pistol D, Sword, Rifle, And Machine Gun. 226	Rare French Needlepoint / Pettipoint Tapestry "Finding Moses" Ready To Hang Circa 1950 - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: 76" X 60" With Hanging Tabs. The central image features several figures in classical attire gathered by a body of water within a wooded landscape. In the background, there are architectural ruins, a common motif symbolizing the reflection on impermanence and beauty in decay. The female figures with the infant by the water in the tapestry likely represent the Pharaoh's daughter and her attendants, in the popular biblical narrative of the Finding of Moses. The woman in the most prominent, central position, embodies the princess. She is depicted as the one who notices the ark (basket) among the reeds and commands her servant to fetch it. The other women surrounding her, some kneeling and reaching towards the infant, are her maidens. They are performing the act of retrieving and opening the basket to discover the baby Moses. This composition emphasizes the dramatic moment of discovery. Artists creating these tapestries often used classical European settings and clothing rather than historically accurate Egyptian settings. The architectural ruins in the background serve as a common art motif. This has some flaws; A 5" long separation in the warp that could be sewn back together. See Photos

Richard F. Kropacek From Members No. Riverside Police Dept. 8-15- 76". Step back in time with this exquisite vintage Arnex pocket watch, a testament to classic Swiss craftsmanship. Encased in a beautiful gold-tone hunter case, the watch features intricate, ornate engravings across both the front and back covers. The exterior is a tactile and visual delight, adorned with deeply etched patterns. The front cover showcases a detailed pastoral scene, featuring cows in a charming farmhouse setting, creating a rich, narrative landscape across the metalwork. The reverse is finished with elegant, scrolled floral patterns, giving the entire piece a vintage, classic aesthetic. Open the protective cover to reveal a pristine white dial that captures the heart of country life. The face is a captivating tableau: a vibrant, multicolored farm scene is artfully depicted around the center. You'll see depictions of black and white cows, figures of farmers, and delicate floral garlands in blues and reds, all surrounding the central gold-tone hands. The time is clearly marked by bold, black Roman numerals, with a functional sub-seconds dial positioned neatly at the six o'clock mark. Inside this magnificent exterior lies a reliable, 17-jewel mechanical movement with Incabloc shock protection, a hallmark of dependable Swiss engineering. This manual-wind timepiece runs on traditional spring power, connecting you directly to the timeless ritual of watch ownership. This is more than just a watch; it's a portable piece of art that tells a story, perfect for a collector who appreciates both detailed design and mechanical integrity. 273	Vincent Capraro (1919- 2016) Oil On Board " Moonlite Shore" Abstract - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: Vincent Capraro, passed away on October 5, 2016 at the Veterans Home in Montrose, New York, aged 96 years, 11 months. He was a Piermont resident for 50 years, living and working as an artist with his wife Tatiana Onus, also an artist, who survives him at age 99. Mr. Capraro's works are familiar to many Rocklanders who have attended his exhibitions at The Hopper House in Nyack, The Art Student's League Vytlacil Campus, and the Blue Hill Art Center in Pearl River. Capraro sculpted the bust of Columbus that is on display at the New City courthouse. His evocative statue of a grieving fireman greets visitors to the Sparkill firehouse. Those works, and his many paintings which range from landscapes to portraiture and abstracts, show his classical training and technique derived from the old masters, in a modern application. Most Capraro works are mainly in private collections, but one magnum opus, an enormous oil called "Jews Of Vught," resides at a Holocaust Museum in Krakow, Poland. Stark drawings on a Holocaust theme were exhibited at the Knesset in Jerusalem in the 1990s. Those drawings and other dramatic large-scale apocalyptic oils were shown in Manhattan at the Yeshiva University Museum in 2005. Vincent Capraro was born in Italian Harlem in 1916 to immigrant parents, and grew up in farm-like Williamsbridge in the north-east Bronx of the 1920s and 30s. An accomplished CCNY athlete and USMC Captain in World War II, Capraro relocated to Rome with his wife Tatiana, where he spent most of the 1950s absorbing Renaissance influences. After returning to New York in the early 1960s, Capraro's early works caught the attention of American celebrity collectors including actors Vincent Price and Anthony Quinn, opera singer Robert Merrill, photographer Sam Shaw, TV producer Sandy Frank and architect Edward Durell Stone, who commissioned a mural that adorned his famed Manhattan townhouse. The Capraro's settled in Piermont shortly thereafter, where Vincent taught and worked at his home studio.

301	Circa 1890 Geo. Louterer M1860 US Officer Sword I.O.V. Presentation "W. Danielson" - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: 1 lb 13 oz. Size: 35" in scabbard, blade 28" see photos for condition. This presentation sword appears to be a commemorative or fraternal item from the late 19th century, belonging to a member of the Independent Order of Vikings (I.O.V.) Model 1860 (M1860): This model was originally the standard U.S. Staff and Field Officer sword. By the 1890s, it had transitioned from a battlefield weapon to a symbol of rank and authority often used for formal ceremonies or presentations. Manufacturer: Geo. Louterer Corporation, founded in Chicago, IL, in 1881, Organization (I.O.V.): The "I.O.V." likely refers to the Independent Order of Vikings, a Swedish-American fraternal benefit society established in Chicago in the late 19th century (approx. 1890). Presentation: Inscribed to "W. Danielson," likely a prominent member or officer of a local lodge in Illinois who was presented with the sword as a mark of rank or service. Sold As Found See Photos

And titled; "Park Scene" on liveauctioneers. Make Up Your Own Mind. 1 - 24" x 36" canvas in 32" x 44" frame "Parisian Street Scene" Signed "Balin" With Brass Tag On Frame. The artist known simply as Balin is famous for a specific type of charming, impressionistic Parisian oil painting. Interestingly, his full name and most personal details remain a mystery in the art world! He was a European painter creating these pieces, often depicting rainy street scenes using a cool palette knife technique for texture, which gives them that distinctive look. These paintings were pretty popular in the late 1960s and early 1970s and were sold in galleries, like the Robert Sills Gallery in California. There are other artists named Balin, but their styles are totally different, so you'll know you have one of these vintage pieces. People still love collecting his nostalgic scenes today. 349	Vintage Indo-Persian Heriz Wool Rug Runner - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: 120" x 41" (missing 2 nickel size nap spots, hard to notice with pattern) This carpet is a Heriz-style runner rug, characterized by a bold, angular geometric design that is typical of traditional Persian village weaving. The primary field color is a rich rust-red or brick red, which provides a vibrant backdrop for the contrasting motifs. The central design features a prominent, multi-pointed diamond medallion in a lighter color, likely ivory or cream, outlined with dark lines for crisp definition. The rug's patterns include stylized floral and leaf elements within the field and border, rendered in secondary colors such as deep navy blue, black, beige, and possibly hints of green or orange. This rectilinear, non-curvilinear drawing style sets Heriz rugs apart and contributes to their distinct, tribal aesthetic. The use of durable wool and natural dyes means the colors are robust and designed to age gracefully over time, adding to the rug's enduring appeal.

All not working sold as is no warranty expressed or implied, Including; 1 - Rare Great For Restoration 8 day Hebdomas Circa 1900, No Crystal, Pocket Watch. The Hebdomas watch is a historically significant Swiss timepiece known for its unique "exposed balance" design and an exceptionally long mainspring that allows it to run for a full week (eight days) on a single wind. The most iconic feature is the exposed balance wheel and regulator, visible through a cutout at the 6 o'clock position on the dial. Unlike standard watches, the Hebdomas uses a 1.2-meter long mainspring housed in a barrel that covers the entire back of the movement. Because of the exposed balance, the time-telling portion of the dial is shifted to the top half of the watch face. Decorative Dial features enamel dial with gold four leaf clover decorations and "8 Jours" (8 Days) branding. 1 - USA Waltham Traveler Clock with as is carry case. 457	1st Signed - 1st Edition Linda G. Barrett "Soul Collector" Novel, 8X10 Glossy Signed Photo & Souls - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - A first edition of Linda G. Barrett's Soul Collector (2025) is more than just a book—it is a haunting entry into the Southern Gothic tradition, perfect for fans of supernatural justice and atmospheric horror. A Century of Secrets in the Bayou "Justice never forgets, and in the Louisiana bayou, it never truly dies." Set against the sweltering backdrop of 1970s Louisiana, the story follows Breena, a young woman from a Gypsy family whose life is shattered by the deep-seated hatred of a powerful local man. Ancient Magick & Vengeance: Driven by a tragic injustice in 1850, Breena makes a dark pact with the spirit world. Under the guidance of an immortal mystic named Nipkin, she masters the art of twisting minds and reality to exact a vengeance that has simmered for over a century. The path of vengeance intersects with the present when Mary, an anthropologist, unknowingly enters a New Orleans voodoo shop and becomes entangled in Breena's web. Mary and her son must uncover the truth hidden in a remote bayou cabin to survive a plague of supernatural phenomena. This first signed edition from Seren Publishing Co., Inc. marks the debut novel of an award-winning author known for her "genre-bending" and emotionally raw storytelling. Why You Need This Edition Linda G. Barrett, a retired nurse who turned to writing later in life, has gained a following for her "fantastically crafted" and morally complex characters. Her debut novel explores the boundary between victim and vengeful force, making it a compelling read that keeps you guessing about where your loyalties should lie. This isn't just an instrument, it's a survivor, a vintage 1930s-era Melofonic mandolin that has earned every one of its "well loved" scars. Forget mass-produced perfection; this rare, character-filled piece from the golden age of American musical instrument manufacturing offers a unique sound and authentic vintage vibe that you simply won't find anywhere else. It has a rich patina and genuine play wear that tells a story. This instrument has lived a life of music-making, evident in its finish imperfections and minor dents, which only add to its authentic, period-retro appeal.

534	Collection Of Used Vintage Shimano Fishing Reel Every Boys Dream Classic Zebco 33 Reel - Click for Shipping Quote or Free Local Pick Up - Weight: Size: See Photos Including; OMG Every Boys Dream Classic Zebco 33 Reel, Behold the Zebco 33, the chrome-plated chariot of destiny that has turned more suburban nine-year-olds into "professional" anglers than any other device in human history. With the simple click of a thumb-button, you aren't just casting a worm; you are launching a high-stakes tactical missile into the murky depths of a neighborhood pond, confident that its bulletproof, all-metal housing will survive being dropped on a dock or dragged through a briar patch. It is the only piece of machinery on Earth that can be neglected in a damp garage for three decades and still emerge ready to battle a three-pound large mouth or, more likely, a very stubborn submerged shopping cart. Owning a Zebco 33 isn't just about fishing—it's about the raw, unbridled power of never having to learn how to untangle a baitcaster. 1 - Shimano Sahara SH3000FD (MISSING BAIL SEE PHOTO) is a high-quality fishing reel with a durable aluminum body, designed for smooth performance on the water. Made by the trusted brand Shimano, this reel is a reliable choice for anglers seeking a versatile and efficient fishing experience. The 3000 size makes it suitable for a variety of fishing applications. 2 - Shimano Spirex 4000FD Spinning Fishing Reel Quickfire II is a versatile fishing reel suitable for both freshwater and saltwater fishing. With a durable aluminum construction and four ball bearings, this vintage reel offers smooth performance. The Quickfire II feature ensures fast line retrieval, making it ideal for a variety of fish species such as bluefish, trout, bass, and more. 1 - Vintage Shimano Aero 2000 Quick fire II Spinning Reel is a highly sought-after fishing reel known for its durability and smooth performance. Made in Japan, this reel features 4 ball bearings for a reliable and efficient fishing experience. Designed specifically for freshwater fishing, it is capable of catching all freshwater fish species. As a vintage piece, it holds a special place in the hearts of fishing enthusiasts looking for a classic and high-quality spinning reel to add to their collection. 1 - Classic red ABU Ambassadeur No. 6000 casting reel manufactured by AB Urfabriken in Svängsta, Sweden, features include: Beveled red side plates, chrome crossbars, black spool withAll One Money
