11	RARE Press Button Knife Co. Walden NY 1892-1923 American Automatic Knife / Fork For One Arm Man - Sold and marked on blade by Artificial Limbs & Specialties New York, used condition patina on blade surface scratches on case, slight wobble to blade when open, fully closes and locks. The Press Button Knife Co was a division of the Walden Knife Company and are among the oldest and most collectible of all the American made switchblades. This was the most recognized model Press Button Made and most unusual, yet it was specifically designed for individuals with one arm to assist in feeding and was referred as the "One Armed Man". It measures 4 1/2" closed and featured polished aluminum handles. The 4" mirror polished curved blade features a three prong "fork" at the end and has an extremely sharp, razor edge. The Press Button Knife Co was originally set up as a special division of the Walden Knife Co and was directed by George Schrade who bought an interest in the company and manufactured 9 basic patterns of Press Buttons with three of these being sold by Sears Roebuck in their catalog at the turn of the century. Schrade continued to work for the Walden Knife Co until 1903 before breaking off and selling his interest and forming a company with his brothers (Schrade Cutlery Company)..Approx 1911 Walden became a subsidiary of the Simmons Hardware Co in St Louis with five models produced and marked Keen Kutter..In 1922 Simmons merged with the Winchester Arms Co and it was decided to close the Walden Knife Co in 1923 which ended the Press Button Knife Co. So in summary, any switchblade marked Press Button Knife Co is a worthy investment due to the early manufacture. {in house shipping available}

He was convicted in 1974 of charges of conspiracy in the murder of opponent Joseph A. Yablonski, his wife Margaret, and their daughter Charlotte, on New Year's Eve, December 31, 1969. After an appeal, his conviction and sentence were upheld at a second trial; he was sentenced to three life terms and died while still incarcerated. Yablonski had opposed Boyle for some time, arguing for more democratic representation among the locals, and had run against him in a bitter presidency election of the UMWA earlier in December, which Boyle won. Yablonski charged that fraud had been committed, asking for a Department of Labor investigation, and also filing five lawsuits against the union on specific related civil charges. On December 31, 1969, three killers shot Yablonski, his wife, Margaret, and his 25-year-old daughter, Charlotte, as they slept in the Yablonski home in Clarksville, Pennsylvania. The bodies were discovered on January 5, 1970, by Yablonski's eldest son, Kenneth. Boyle was found to have ordered Yablonski's death months earlier, on June 23, 1969, after a meeting with his opponent at UMWA headquarters had degenerated into a screaming match.[citation needed] In September 1969, UMWA executive council member Albert Pass received $20,000 from Boyle (who had embezzled the money from union funds) to hire assassins to kill Yablonski. Paul Gilly, an out-of-work house painter and son-in-law of a minor UMWA official, and two drifters, Aubran Martin and Claude Vealey, agreed to do the job. Pass arranged for the murder to be postponed until after the election, to avoid suspicion falling on Boyle. {in house shipping available}

"You wonder why I always dress in black Why you never see bright colors on my back And why does my appearance seem to have a somber tone Well, there's a reason for the things that I have on I wear the black for the poor and the beaten down Living in the hopeless, hungry side of town I wear it for the prisoner who has long paid for his crime But is there because he's a victim of the time I wear the black for those who've never read Or listened to the words that Jesus said About the road to happiness through love and charity Why, you'd think He's talking straight to you and me Well, we're doing mighty fine, I do suppose In our streak of lightning cars and fancy clothes But just so we're reminded of the ones who are held back Up front there ought to be a man in black I wear it for the sick and lonely old For the reckless ones whose bad trip left them cold I wear the black in mourning for the lives that could have been Each week we lose a hundred fine young men And I wear it for the thousands who have died Believing that the Lord was on their side I wear it for another hundred thousand who have died Believing that we all were on their side Well, there's things that never will be right I know And things need changing everywhere you go But 'til we start to make a move to make a few things right You'll never see me wear a suit of white Ah, I'd love to wear a rainbow every day And tell the world that everything's okay But I'll try to carry off a little darkness on my back 'Til things are brighter, I'm the Man In Black" {in house shipping available}

He is a founder of the National Graphic Artist Guild, also a member of the International Society of Marine Painters, The New York Society of Illustrators, The Tampa Bay Advertising Federation and many art associations. The New York Society of Illustrators selected one of his paintings for their touring exhibit "The Art and Culture of the American Labor Movement" In 1991, the U.S. Army commissioned him to do a commemorative Gulf War painting. the first limited edition print was given to General Norman Schwarzkopf and the original painting is now hanging in the Pentagon. He was also commissioned to paint the 150 year history of the Hillsborough County Bar Association in Florida. Rockford Publishers of New England selected his painting "Pemaquid Point, Maine" for their new release "A Gallery of Marine Art." Frank's art is registered with the John Paul Getty Trust Data Bank of Art and Artists. The Council of Fine Arts in Florida gave his painting "Back Home" the Best of Show Award in their 2000 annual exhibition. Following that award, The Friends of the Arts Foundation invited nine area art associations to compete in their Open Juried Exhibition and Frank Saso was awarded First Place. In 2001, Frank won five consecutive first place awards with five different paintings in Open Juried shows. At the Center of the Arts in Longboat Key, Florida his art was named "Best of Show" at their 2002 Face & Figure Exhibition. Recently, Frank Saso's art was commended by the U.S. Congress, the State Government of Ohio plus the Mayor and Chamber of Commerce in Euclid, Ohio. Honoring his painting on display in the Pentagon were Representatives Stephanie Tubbs and Senator George Voinovich. 338	Caroline C. Burnett Parisen Street Scene with Sacre Coeur - 24" X 36" oil on canvas, framed 29 1/4" X 41 1/4". Parisian street-scene painting signed Burnett and attributed to American-born artist Caroline Burnett (1877-1950) known for her Impressionist street scenes of Paris. Her painting style reflected the contemporary movement that was occurring in France during her time there. Caroline Burnett paintings also display hints of abstract influence, especially her figural paintings. This change of styles from time to time is not surprising, as Burnett's paintings were produced mainly for the tourist market. Artist Caroline Burnett was a member of the Societe de Beaux-Arts in Paris, where she exhibited her works in 1898. Using both light and shadow with skill and precision, she painted cityscapes showing each season in Paris. {in house shipping available}

413	1956-1964 Puma 6377 Stag Handle White Hunter Solingen Germany Bowie Knife & Original Puma Sheath - Used uncleaned condition. An exceptional and hard to find pre-date code Puma 6377 White Hunter Bowie hunting knife and original Puma leather sheath. Excellent candidate for mint restoration for those who have the skills. Everything is rock solid and tight as it should be. 99.9% full blade profile including full intact micro-serrations. These older pre-date code Puma White Hunters are becoming increasingly harder to find - in 1965 Puma implemented a 5 digit code system that was stamped on the aluminum guard. When deciphered at their website one can find month and year of manufacture. This knife has no stamped code on guard. Puma White Hunters absent this date code are c.1956-64 and much harder to find; demand is always high thereby making these an EXCELLENT investment choice as simple economics of supply and demand PLUS collector interest will ultimately lead to increased value. {in house shipping available}

574	Leigh Hyams (20th century) Portfolio Work At New College Fine Arts Institute In Sarasota, Florida, - 10 experimental mixed media 18"x24 works of watercolor, textured overlays, chalk, tempera and stencil work, 9 stencil experiments with form and shading on 28 1/2" x 23" thick paper plus 21 1/2" x 16" matted abstract, all done while involved in the Sarasota Arts Theme while at New College - Leigh Hyams (1926-2013) was an American painter and educator. She decided in the third grade that she was an artist and never wavered from that conviction. She studied art at Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha, earned a B.F.A. at University of Nebraska-Lincoln, and an M.F.A. at University of Guanajuato's Instituto Allende in San Miguel de Allende. She did post-graduate work at New College Fine Arts Institute in Sarasota, Florida, where she had the honor of being studio monitor for Philip Guston. Over the years, her painting subject matter ranged from European megaliths and Mayan temples, Brazilian rain forests and Yosemite waterfalls, to giant images of imaginary flowers, Mexican folk art, dogs, cows, and her family. Her work was distinguished by an edgy line quality and luminous color. Her drawings, paintings, and artist's books are in the permanent collections of the Achenbach Foundation in San Francisco's Legion of Honor Museum, San Jose Museum of Art, Oakland Museum of California Art, Des Moines Art Center, Joslyn Art Museum, Palácio Imperial in Curitiba in Brazil, and University of California at Irvine, as well as private collections in the United States, Europe, and Latin America. Her museum exhibitions included solo shows at the Paco Imperial Center for Contemporary Art in Rio de Janeiro and at El Museo de la Ciudad de Santiago Querétaro in Querétaro, Mexico. She was represented by Meridian Gallery in San Francisco. She was a Fulbright scholar, having received a Western European regional research grant for her series of paintings based on Megalithic sites, as well as the recipient of 10 painting fellowships, including Yaddo, MacDowell, American Academy in Rome, and George Rickey's Hand Hollow Foundation. She served as founding executive director of the Djerassi Resident Artists Program in Woodside, California. She worked as an adjunct professor of art at San Francisco State University, San Jose State University, John F. Kennedy University, California College of Arts and Crafts, and University of California at Berkeley. She taught art in mental institutions, Athabaskan Indian villages in Alaska, and at retreat centers in exotic locales, among them Esalen Institute in Big Sur, California, and La Serrania in Mallorca, Spain, for a devoted following of painters from around the globe. For many years, she also led international art tours for the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art. She published a book about her artistic journey titled How Painting Holds Me on The Earth: Writings of a Maverick Painter and Teacher and produced a half-hour video about her teaching philosophy titled Making Marks: On the Excitement and Importance of Making Art. She spent her last dozen years in Mexico, where she relished the colors, sunshine, and humane pace of life. {in house shipping available}
