219	Ezra F. Bowman & Co Set Of 6 Chasing Tools - set of 6 chasing or engraving cutters patented on June 3rd1890 by EFB of Lancaster, Pennsylvania and assigned to Ezra F. Bowman, also of Lancaster. The set of six gravers offered here includes six different style cutting bits with their original handles. Each tool includes its own elegantly-turned dark-stained hardwood handle with a flat on one side to prevent rolling off the work bench, along with its own decorative metal ferrule to retain the bit in the handle. four of handles have a brass insert with a series of steps or teeth against which the rearward end of the bit seats, providing for easy adjustment of overall length and a secure mounting that can be pressed against the workpiece with no risk of the bit slipping in the handle, the other 2 do not have this feature because they are dble ended cutters. The metal ferrules may be plated with silver or some other bright plating. They are stamped with an ornate leaf design and the lettering, "GUARANTEED / EZRA F. BOWMAN & CO. / LANCASTER, PA / PAT. MAR. 12, 1889. "The set is boxed in a rigid case with a substrate that feels like wood, trimmed in a faux snakeskin covering. The lower section of the box, or tray, is lined in a blue velveteen with a slot to hold each graver, and the lid is lined with silver-colored satin. The hinges and latch function perfectly. outside of box has some scuffing. They are of very high quality and in little-used or unused condition. see photos

Although the work was top notch, It was unable to compete in that field and only lasted a year. This bowl vase is an exquisite example of the blending of skill and design. Also known as Variegated Leaf and Vine, the light blue large open leaf and vining design on the light butterscotch ground glow from the strong orange gold iridescent luster of the interior. Durand, Quezal and other glassworks had their own versions of this treatment (Heart and Vine/ Leaf Vine, Clinging Hearts and Vine, etc), Imperial's Lily Pad had the largest, most interesting heart shaped leaf design in houses shipping available

329	2 Punu Okuyi Galen Hand Carved and Painted Masks - The Punu and Lumbo of the Gabonese Republic are matrilineal cultures. The female ancestors are venerated and the "first" female ancestor ("mukaukila") is honored through these Okuyi "white masks" of the mwiri male initiation society. Embodying the spirit of a deceased young maiden in the spirit realm, these masks are believed to harness the powers of female ancestors. They are worn and danced in communal rites such as funerals, youth initiations, and births. Okuyi masks are also worn by stilt performers (up to three meters high) from the mwiri society during ritual ceremonies to request spiritual intervention in the hunt for malicious sorcerers and witches. The masks capture the likeness of the most beautiful woman in the village. They are white face, have high ample hairstyles with full carved black braids, diamond scarification on forehead and temples of "natural" dimension face with ample crested headdress, also called in different regions ocuya, ukuyi, mokoi, ikwara, okokwe, mukudj, mukuyi and mbwanda - both show natural wear from use, minor worm wood and white kaolin loss to face -12" mask has crack in hair but sturdy construction, 8" has several old age cracks to rim of mask - in house shipping available

451	Phyllis Trager Hyman (1936-2011) Acrylic On Canvas 2004 "The Ravishing Of Pancha Garcia" - From The Estate Of Phyllis Trager Hyman 24" X 30" signed on verso -Phillis was a sophisticated outsider artist whose imagery - lyrical, whimsical, nightmarish, puzzling, and penetrating - reveals a life fulfilled by creativity .Daughter of eastern European Jewish immigrants, her work was shaped by the melting pot of NYC post-WWII, urban social realism and the mind-quest of the Beat Generation, as well as the vibrancy of modern art, contemporary literature and world music. Painfully shy, she was isolated by and struggled with the stigmas of disability from polio and paranoid schizophrenia, from which grew profound awareness of paradox. Despite her challenging reality, she was buoyed by an enormous intellect. She absorbed aesthetic influences in palette, brushwork and line from artists as diverse as Chagall, Arp, Leger, Hans Hofmann, Ben Shahn and illustrators Ronald Searle and Al Hirschfeld. Acutely aware of the enigma that was her mind, she teased the viewer with a personal iconography of letter and number shapes, phrases and visual puns. Faces (both human and creature) peer slyly from her canvases. Though her disorder prevented her from the social mingling necessary for notice in the art world, Phyllis worked with strictly professional materials (oils, acrylic, canvas, paper, watercolor, pencils and ink). Living her art, she found joy in life and left a legacy of art worth preserving. Her vibrant color owed to her Gulf-coast Floridian residency. Gifted with a wry sense of humor and a steely gentleness, she depicted compassion, sense of place, love of the wild, vulnerability, and freedom versus confinement in kaleidoscopic, stream-of-consciousness drawings and paintings. She was an avid follower of the art world and was registered with NARSAD Artworks, an outlet of what is now the Brain and Behavior Research Foundation. {in house shipping available}

496	Phyllis Trager Hyman (1936-2011) Oil On Canvas 2003 "Drawn Flowers On Colors" - From The Estate Of Phyllis Trager Hyman 30" X 24" signed on verso -Phillis was a sophisticated outsider artist whose imagery - lyrical, whimsical, nightmarish, puzzling, and penetrating - reveals a life fulfilled by creativity .Daughter of eastern European Jewish immigrants, her work was shaped by the melting pot of NYC post-WWII, urban social realism and the mind-quest of the Beat Generation, as well as the vibrancy of modern art, contemporary literature and world music. Painfully shy, she was isolated by and struggled with the stigmas of disability from polio and paranoid schizophrenia, from which grew profound awareness of paradox. Despite her challenging reality, she was buoyed by an enormous intellect. She absorbed aesthetic influences in palette, brushwork and line from artists as diverse as Chagall, Arp, Leger, Hans Hofmann, Ben Shahn and illustrators Ronald Searle and Al Hirschfeld. Acutely aware of the enigma that was her mind, she teased the viewer with a personal iconography of letter and number shapes, phrases and visual puns. Faces (both human and creature) peer slyly from her canvases. Though her disorder prevented her from the social mingling necessary for notice in the art world, Phyllis worked with strictly professional materials (oils, acrylic, canvas, paper, watercolor, pencils and ink). Living her art, she found joy in life and left a legacy of art worth preserving. Her vibrant color owed to her Gulf-coast Floridian residency. Gifted with a wry sense of humor and a steely gentleness, she depicted compassion, sense of place, love of the wild, vulnerability, and freedom versus confinement in kaleidoscopic, stream-of-consciousness drawings and paintings. She was an avid follower of the art world and was registered with NARSAD Artworks, an outlet of at is now the Brain and Behavior Research Foundation. {in house shipping available}
