

Kathy Wonderlich Rookie of the Year Memorial Award

Kathy Clayton Wonderlich embodied what it meant to be a horsewoman. She was incredibly kind, loving, and hardworking. Kathy and her husband, Lyle Wonderlich, raised their three sons while simultaneously running Sterling Oaks Farm, their APHA breeding business. One of Kathy's favorite things was sharing her love of horses with everyone from her grandkids, nieces, and nephews to diligently cheering on SOF horses in their new homes. She knew the longevity of the APHA breed was dependent on amateurs and new exhibitors so strived to raise competitive, amateur-friendly, all-around show prospects with Lyle. Established by her niece, Naomi, in collaboration with IPHC and her sons, Brian, Jason, and John, we are thrilled to present the Kathy Wonderlich Rookie of the Year Memorial Award. We look forward to cheering on new APHA exhibitors with this recognition!

Qualifications:

- Exhibitors cannot have earned any world/reserve world titles in any equine association prior to the award year.
- Must be in their first or second year competing in APHA events.
- Exhibitors are not required to own the horse they compete on but must compete on the same horse for each qualifying event.
- Exhibitors are required to compete at the Spring Double Point (April) and the Summer Color Classic (August) to qualify.
- Exhibitors must be a current year Idaho Paint Horse Club member prior to accumulating points.
- Exhibitors are only able to receive this award one time.
