

Dear Skyline Families,

First of all, thank you for your patience. We want to express our deepest gratitude to every player who participated in this year's tryouts. We are truly humbled by the number of kids interested in our program. Your dedication, energy, and love for the game were evident, and we are truly inspired by the effort each of you put forth over those two days.

We know that tryouts can be both exciting and nerve wracking and we sincerely appreciate the determination and hard work shown by each and every one of you. Please also know that these roster decisions are never taken lightly. They are carefully and thoughtfully made after much discussion and consideration.

For those who were not selected

While you were not selected for a team this time, please know that the competition was tough, and your hard work and dedication did not go unnoticed. We hope you will continue building your skills and confidence.

We strongly encourage families to explore the Issaquah Parks & Recreation Basketball program which starts in October, which offers an excellent way to stay on the court, compete, and continue developing.
