

Author's note: This is the first, free pdf version of the final draft of this work. While it is edited, it is not formatted. This means that citations might fall on the next page, and that single lines of text will appear that should be on the previous page, etc. This will be corrected in the final version of this pdf, which will be re-released when this work is finally printed in book format. The content of this first volume will not be changed, AND ONLY MISTAKES CORRECTED. NOTHING WILL BE ALTERED OR ADDED TO THIS FIRST VOLUME, barring any major mistakes. I cannot format this pdf until I format for final book printing, and the final printed book will have an index of terms and quotes. Thank you to all who have graciously and charitably contributed in the editing process of this work. Please send any corrections or unanswered questions you may find within so that they may be addressed and fixed or put forth in future Volumes. Enjoy... and please, please share this freely with my blessing.

-Clint-

— STRAWMAN —

The Real Story Of Your Artificial Person

A private work by: clint > richardson

Volume I:

— = —
Preface
— = —

This is not a published book...

It is not a product of or in any artful form of commerce, nor is it intended for such public means or ends. It carries neither a “fiction” or “non-fiction” title. Rather, it is a 3-dimensional explanation of both, and of that eternal battle between the spirit and the flesh.

Remnants of the history of political activism, such as Paine’s “Age of Reason,” Bastiat’s “The Law,” and the inceptive “Areopagitica” by Milton, were all created in the form of what are known as pamphlets. These were also not “published” books per se, but statements of inert and often self-evident reason with only as many words as are necessary to create a clear and empathetic expression of one’s thoughts, printed sometimes anonymously and thus privately so as to be distributable by a people seeking change in political and moral opinion and disposition. The purpose of those pamphlets was to spread knowledge and often a quite dissenting comprehension of current and foundational political views, customs, and norms, and to expose unseen legal atrocities without the commercial intent to acquire personal gain from those works.

In other words, they were not “approved” or “welcomed” by the combined powers of church and state.

— = —

"Anonymous pamphlets, leaflets, brochures and even books have played an important role in the progress of mankind. Persecuted groups and sects from time to time throughout history have been ABLE TO CRITICIZE THE OPPRESSIVE PRACTICES AND LAWS EITHER ANONYMOUSLY OR NOT AT ALL... It is plain that ANONYMITY HAS SOMETIMES BEEN ASSUMED FOR THE MOST CONSTRUCTIVE PURPOSES."

—Justice Hugo L. Black, Supreme Court, Tally v. California, 1960

— = —

“An “anonymous work” is a work on the copies or phonorecords of which NO NATURAL PERSON IS IDENTIFIED as author.”

—U.S.Code, Title 17, Chapter 1, § 101

Anonymity is not a word describing that which is necessarily an unknown in Nature. In the fictional, legal law realm it merely describes the absence of political or public character (that of a fictional name as evidence of some class and legal status) attributed to a work. And so I, as the exclusive author of this work, choose not to identify myself under any fictional (legal) registered name of another for the purposes of this work, including any “natural” or “artificial” legal person, and instead choose to remain anonymous to all such fictional realms. Let it here be known but not registered in any way that this is so, and that the spirit of the name clint > richardson bears no simulation, similitude, or any intentional or accidental sameness to any legal fiction (person) in any legal realm of fiction (the false i-magi-nation and creation of man) called as governments, while retaining the full and utter authority and negative protections of privacy under the Highest Law of God. The use of this symbol (>) is used for one and only one purpose, which is to signify the highest position of my first name (christian name) over any possible misconception or legal opinion that this nonlegal name richardson has any supernatural (supra) and/or legal powers, authorities, or any implied bond to any legal jurisdiction either tacitly or expressly implied or expressed by its use. The name richardson is not herewith used as any form of legal creation or admixture of fiction, nor is it herein being used (employed) in reference to any legal agency or principality. It is not to be misconstrued through legal word trickery as any form of proper noun, only an homage to the blood of my Real parents. Theses names, remaining without admixture or legal attachment as any corporate or other form of personhood, carry no legal rendering or weight in any way. To the reader, the reasons behind these statements will become perfectly clear as we proceed, strange as they may presently seem.

ANON - adverb - 1. Quickly; without intermission: soon; immediately. The same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it. Matthew 13:20. 2. Sometimes; now and then; at other times; accompanied with ever, ever and anon. (Webs1828)

ANONYMOUS - adverb - [Latin anonymus; Gr. name. See Name.] NAMELESS; wanting a name; without the REAL NAME of the author; as, AN ANONYMOUS PAMPHLET. (Webs1828)

ANONYMOUS - Without name. This word is applied to such books, letters or papers, which are published without the author's name. NO MAN IS BOUND TO PUBLISH HIS NAME IN CONNEXION WITH A BOOK OR PAPER HE HAS PUBLISHED; but if the publication is libelous, he is equally responsible as if his name were published. (Bouv1856)

ANONYMOUS - Nameless; wanting a name or names. A publication, withholding the name of the author, is said to be anonymous. An anonymous letter is one that has no name SIGNED. Cases are sometimes reported anonymously, i.e., without giving the names of the parties. Abbreviated to "Anon." An anonymous society in the Mexican code is one which has no firm name and IS DESIGNATED BY THE PARTICULAR DESIGNATION OF THE OBJECT OF THE UNDERTAKING. (Black4)

AMBIGUITY - Doubtfulness; DOUBLENESS OF MEANING. DUPLICITY, INDISTINCTNESS, or uncertainty of meaning of an expression used in a written instrument. Want of clearness or definiteness; difficult to comprehend or distinguish; of doubtful import. For "Extrinsic Ambiguity," see that title. Ambiguity of language is to be DISTINGUISHED FROM UNINTELLIGIBILITY AND INACCURACY, for words cannot be said to be ambiguous unless their signification seems doubtful and uncertain TO PERSONS OF COMPETENT SKILL AND KNOWLEDGE TO UNDERSTAND THEM. It does not include uncertainty arising from the use of peculiar words, or of common words in a peculiar sense. It is latent where the language employed is clear and intelligible and suggests but a single meaning, BUT SOME EXTRINSIC FACT OR EXTRANEOUS EVIDENCE CREATES A NECESSITY FOR INTERPRETATION OR A CHOICE AMONG TWO OR MORE POSSIBLE MEANINGS, as where a description apparently plain and unambiguous is shown to fit different pieces of PROPERTY. A patent ambiguity is that which appears ON THE FACE of the instrument, and arises from the defective, obscure, or insensible language used. (Black4)

AMBIGUITIES - Latin. From ambiguus, doubtful, uncertain, obscure. Ambiguity; uncertainty of meaning. Ambiguitas latens, a latent ambiguity; ambiguitas patens, a patent ambiguity. See Ambiguity. (Black4)

—=—

To put it as simply as possible, especially in the eyes of man's so-called law, the more ambiguous a man is the more he is intrinsically and internally graced by God and protected by God's Law of Nature. To the artificial law of man, ambiguity is the enemy. To Nature it is, well, the Origin of all things, as nothing of the Real (in Nature) is ever born (Created) with a name. Names are attached in the after-birth. Names cause things to be legalized. And what is legalized is that which is pretended to be property.

To be in namelessness (without respect of any legally attached/admixed surname) in legal terms is to be part of the untainted Nature of God's Creation. To be clear, the first name is property of God (of Nature/Reality) while the last name is property of the adversary, the legal artifice of government's tax registers. There are millions of John Smiths standing as registered citizen-ships for example, but only one fictional, legally registered name (noun) that is "JOHN W. SMITH" is adjoined with the unique identification tag of Social Security #123-45-6789 at a specific federally registered municipal address that is pre-tended to exist in the legal fiction and jurisdiction of the fictional "United States." And so MR. SMITH is quite the opposite to any man that stands in ambiguity, as that which is only an untainted "Creation" of God's Nature. With every fictional, artificial name, title, number, and mark one may be legally permitted to have attached to this rented legal status of "personhood," the more we cause our extrinsic and external identity (appearance) as a specifically distinguishable legal status to be known and recognizable to that legal realm and jurisdiction of the artificial state. This is to say that we step farther outside of God's Realm of Nature, of Reality, and crossover more and more with each mark, token, and sign into the land of make-believe; the land of lost souls in the realm of the spiritually dead. In other words, we become unrecognizable as our True Self, that is, as Purely an Act of God. Our body, our temple, is corrupted by legal fiction, by artifice, which is merely another term for sin.

The maxims of law are very clear on how ambiguity destroys legal certainty (lies accepted and confirmed as legal facts) in the fictional realm. But we also find that what is made sure by any name can only be the property of the government that registers and defines it.

—=—

"Whenever the language of stipulations is ambiguous, it is most fitting that that [sense] should be taken BY WHICH THE SUBJECT-MATTER MAY BE PROTECTED."

— Quoties in stipulationibus ambigua oratio est, commodissimum est id accipi quo res de qua agitur in tuto sit. Dig. 45 1, 80. (Black1)

—=—

"When in the words there is no ambiguity, THEN NO EXPOSITION CONTRARY TO THE WORDS IS TO BE MADE."

— Quoties in verbis nulla est ambiguitas, ibi nulla expositio contra verba flenda est. Go. Litt. 147. (Black1)

—=—

“Frequently where the PROPRIETY of words is attended to, THE MEANING OF TRUTH IS LOST.”

—Saepe numero ubi proprietas verborem attenditur, sensus veritatis amittitur. 7 Co. 27. (Black4)—

—=—

“Propriety of words is the SALVATION OF PROPERTY.”

—PROPRIETAS VERBORUM EST SALUS PROPIETATUM. Jenk. Cent. 16. (Black4)—

—=—

Here, at the beginning, we must have understanding of these two opposing terms and how they are used. For to understand our own plight as actors (agents) in the property of the state we must understand the origin and purpose of being legally registered by name at birth. The difference between that which is ambiguous (unowned) and that which is proprietary (property of someone) is the very foundation not only of law but of how law effects all things in Nature. And so we must comprehend that these names and other legalistic words are patented as property by the governments that rule upon their value and de-liberate their meanings. The words we choose to speak or write are what causes us to be seen as either a thing in law or “no thing at all,” as the Bible warns us to remain. The spiritual law demands ambiguity, while the legal law demands and has “salvation” through propriety (ownership). Legal concepts are always opposed to scriptural Truths, for the idea of property being as salvation is certainly antichrist. In other words, the legal language is the property of government, and those who use it may never claim ambiguity (spirituality). He who claims to be the legal name of another may not also claim to be a Creation of God, and therefore cannot claim to retain or possess “God-given (Natural) rights” before his legal master (legal god) of his legal person (legal name and status). Only he who has command of his own words (names) has command of his own mind, body, and soul.

This must be comprehended here and now, for this work is the very study of words and how they are used to control us. If we stop and consider for a moment, we may suddenly realize that all things legal, from the law to the corporations bound by it to the products they create as patented or copyrighted works to the money used to purchase and sell them, are merely registered words on paper. What is Real is not property, only the name and title of the Real thing can be property. For the Natural state of Being of all things is without words. Even the species of man came before the words created by it. So which came first, the man or the name? The answer to this question is the very description meant by the word “Creation,” as that which is not a recreation of man. To this end, even the most staunch “atheist” may continue with this work without questioning constantly the use of this phrase “God” and “Word of God,” in that the entirety of its intent is to establish the difference between what is Original (Source) and what is a re-creation of that Original substance of Nature, the legal simulation and representation of things. As we will see, this is the foundational principle of scripture (Natural Law) and of man’s opposing legal systems and designs against it. And so the author’s intent is not to cause anyone to believe in God, for not to believe in (Love) God is to not believe in (Love) Reality. Nature is a self-evident Truth, undeniable and self-Existent, and this is the very definition of what God (Jehovah) Is. Without It, man would not have Existence or subsistence. It is no man’s property, for It needs no words to establish Its undeniable Existence as self-evident. It requires no “proofs” of man’s imaginations or words. Only the names and titles placed upon what is of God’s Creation (all of Nature, including man) need to be proven to exist as fictions of law. And only those legal names and titles can be legally controlled by legal laws.

To be clear, no law of man ever applies to anything Real, only to the names and titles of what is Real. To call anything legally as “real estate” does not make that thing anything but a title (words on paper) to some fictional property. Real estate is like a gold certificate, re-presenting the Real as a fictional token but holding no intrinsic substance thereof. It is not Real, only artificially “real.” We must always know in our hearts the difference.

Inversely, the Law of God, as the moral and spiritual “unwritten” or “negative” Law of Nature that Exists only in self-evident Truth, governs therefore only what is of Reality. Thus it is also called as the “Natural Law.” It is a choice that requires conscious thought and effort by men and a duty to uphold it at all times, whereas the opposing “positive” law of man requires no moral thought or choice at all. Legal law is also called as the “strict law.” It cannot happen Naturally, and must be enforced by agents (offices) created by it, also called as “fictions of law.” One comes naturally to the mind of man, as Love and Charity in their Purest substance and action, the other must be forced upon the mind of man, for its existence is only as an artificial creation of man and its object is only artificial things. It is when these two realms are caused to blend seamlessly in the minds of men, that of the Highest Law of Reality and that of legalistic laws of fiction, that man and all of Nature becomes helplessly enslaved to those few “proprietors” of words.

Property, no matter what we may call it as, is only ever made up of words. We often call these words as a “title” to land or other property. A title is a word or series of words carrying a legal name, and never an act of God. In law this simply means that a title never comes from Nature, being not a part of God’s Original Creation of Nature but of man’s artificial designs over it. Property is purely an invention of man, for all of Nature in its ambiguous (unnamed) Purity belongs to God (Its Creator), and thus to all of man in Perfect Equity. This is not merely a religious sentiment, but the very foundation of reason and law. It may only be defeated by artificial, legal considerations, and these are most often created by some proprietary words that make up titles, and only exist as the confirmed and ratified imaginations of men. In other words, they are lies forcibly believed to be Truths.

It is a grave mistake to believe (be in false love) that one’s name is one’s own property, to be proud of such fictions. As will be discussed in detail herein, one’s name takes upon itself only one of two considerations in law. A name either belongs to God or it belongs to the artificial, legal realm of governments. The name and title a man claims describes his intent in law. And so it is said that, as far as the “legal name,” the christian or first name belongs to God and the sur- or last name belongs to the legal state. And according to law, the attachment and acceptance of the last cancels the power and authority of the first. A last name is evidence of the last will and testament (as intention) of any man. To act in the legal name and title of another is opposed to Living Purely and without mark and blemish under God and Nature. And most importantly, no man may carry any legal title without it being attached to such a legal name.

And so, while this work certainly carries a series of descriptive words, it has no title because it has no legally surnamed author, both of which can only be artificial creations and property of government. If the reader wishes to call this work as the unofficial, unregistered, ambiguously enlarged words describing this work on its cover, so be it, as long as no misconstruction of these words is ever used in any legal fashion.

TITLE - The radical meaning of this word appears to be that of A MARK, STYLE, OR DESIGNATION; a distinctive appellation; THE NAME BY WHICH ANYTHING IS KNOWN. Thus, in the law of persons, a title is an appellation (name) of dignity or distinction, A NAME DENOTING THE SOCIAL RANK OF THE PERSON BEARING IT; as “duke” or “count.” So, in legislation, the title of a statute is the heading or preliminary part, furnishing the name by which the act is individually known. It is usually prefixed to the statute in the form of a brief summary of its contents; as “An act for the prevention of gaming.” Again, the title of a patent is the short description of the invention, which is copied in the letters patent from the inventor’s petition; e. g., “a new and improved method of drying and preparing malt.” The title of a book, or any literary composition, is its name; that is, the heading or caption prefixed to it, and disclosing the distinctive appellation by which it is to be known. This usually comprises a brief description of its subject-matter and the name of its author. "Title" is also used as the name of one of the subdivisions employed in many literary works, standing intermediate between the divisions denoted by the term "books" or "parts," and those designated as "chapters" and "sections." (Black4)

PROPRIETE - The French law term corresponding to our "PROPERTY, or the right of enjoying and of disposing of things in the most ABSOLUTE manner, subject only to the laws." (Black4)

PROPIEDAD - In Spanish law. PROPERTY. (Black4)

PROPRIETY - In Massachusetts colonial ordinance of 1741 is nearly, if not precisely, equivalent to PROPERTY. In old English law. Property; propriety in action; propriety in possession; mixed propriety. (Black4)

PROPRIETARY - noun - A proprietor or owner; one who has the EXCLUSIVE TITLE TO A THING; one who possesses or holds the title to a thing IN HIS OWN RIGHT. The grantees of Pennsylvania and Maryland AND THEIR HEIRS were called the PROPRIETARIES of those provinces. Webster. - adjective - Belonging to ownership; belonging or pertaining to a proprietor; relating to a certain owner or proprietor.

PROPRIETARY DUTIES - Those duties of a MUNICIPALITY which are NOT GOVERNMENTAL duties.

PROPRIETARY GOVERNMENTS - This expression is used by Blackstone to denote governments granted out by the crown to individuals, in the nature of FEUDATORY PRINCIPALITIES, with inferior regalities and subordinate powers of legislation such as formerly belonged to the owners of counties palatine.

PROPRIETARY RIGHTS - Those rights which an owner of property has by virtue of his ownership. When proprietary rights are opposed to acquired rights, such as EASEMENTS, FRANCHISES, etc., they are more often called "NATURAL RIGHTS." (Black4)

PROPRIETAS - Latin. In the civil and old English law. PROPERTY; that which is one's own; ownership.

PROPRIETAS PLENA - Full property, including NOT ONLY THE TITLE, BUT THE USUFRUCT, OR EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO THE USE.

PROPRIETAS NUDA - Naked or mere property or ownership; THE MERE TITLE, SEPARATE FROM THE USUFRUCT. (Black4)

PROPRIETOR - One who has the LEGAL RIGHT or EXCLUSIVE TITLE to anything. In many instances it is synonymous with owner. A PERSON ENTITLED to a trade-mark or a design under the acts for the REGISTRATION OR PATENTING of trade-marks and designs is called "proprietor" of the trade-mark or design. (Black4)

— — —

You must ask yourself... who has the right to define legal terms? Who deliberates and projects official opinions upon legal words and terms of the legal art? And as the end user of these proprietary words of another, are you speaking in ambiguity or as a slave to the owner of those words?

Who is the owner of your registered, legal name? What does the legal word “child” mean when it is used to describe a legal persona (a legal status of man but not man)? Therefore, who owns every “child” in every nation? Why can the courts of legal law take away the “child” from its “parents” at will?

The answer to these questions cannot be found in Nature. The answer stems only from the power and respect of the authority of those who own the words we use. To respect words (form) over the Reality (substance) for which they re-present is the foundation of all lies, of all control, and of all sin. For the state never kidnaps a Real child, only the legal person of that child, which it proprietarily titles as a “child.” It is only when man cannot differentiate between what is a term of Nature and what is a term of propriety (property) that his power is stolen from him. It is only when a man accepts the legal fiction title of “father” and “mother” over that of the Reality and bloodline that these words re-present in the Reality of Nature that man can be unwittingly caused to abandon his only Real property (child) to the legal fiction nation (state). For any Real child registered as a legal fiction “child” as attached with a surname, number, address, and other signs and marks of artificial quality and character are only considered in man’s legal law as that which is opposed to God and Nature. A “child,” in other words, is only a creation of the state. And the “father” of the “child” is only they who founded that state. For the legal state, as the districts of the many nations, is the property of a private People. And in every nation only the terms of specifically proprietary legal art are recognized. He who uses a person of any nation is bound to know that language, and as we have all heard, ignorance of law is no excuse.

But how can we understand “the law” if we do not understand the patented, proprietary legal terminology (legalese) that makes up that law? And inversely, how can we understand the Bible scriptures as the Highest Law if we do not understand the ancient roots of non-English language structure that it was intended to be understood by?

You see, it is in the best interest of the king to translate the terms of law, both legal and scriptural, into a form that is virtually impossible to decipher. Power comes only from the secrets held by those in power. And as it turns out, all secrets are held only by keeping man ignorant of the True meaning and intent of the words that make up the law. All secrets are also made up only of words, including that hidden meanings of all symbols. In Truth, in Reality, there are no secrets, for the Truth of all things is self-evident. In fiction though, the greatest secret is that all words are lies. To hold title as property all words is the essence of power.

— = —

“The proprieties of words [proper meanings of words] are to be preserved or adhered to.”

—PROPRIETATES VERBORUM SERVANDAE SUNT. Maxim of law. (Black4)

— = —

A person (a fictional, legal status in “third person”) is quite the opposite of the True, Natural Self (acting as Self, only in first person), and is a fictional identity designed to cause the man for which it is legally assigned, registered, and attached to be intentionally unambiguous, a uniquely recognizable or patently novel invention of man designed specifically to clearly identify all things in Nature by fictional names (nouns). In other words, it artificially protects man against his own actions by putting the blame on a fictional strawman. You might say that this is the personification or anthropomorphizing of the straw man argument, the bringing to artificial life a logical fallacy artfully designed to place blame and responsibility for one's own actions where none can actually Exist. In short, respect of any man's person-hood as a false id-entity is simply an avoidance of the Laws of Nature. It is an abandonment of God. It is acceptance of false creation. And most importantly, it causes man to become the property (slave) of that government which proprietarily holds the legal person (legal, proper name/noun) as legal property.

Until a man is bestowed a status (legal persona) as a virtual vessel or ship, including name, titles, numbers, and other signs and marks, his Nature (Self-Existence, self-evidence) is one that is unknown as a simulation of legal fact, being therefore too ambiguous (not defined or specific enough) to be recognized by legal means and jurisdictions. To use a movie reference, the ambiguous man is not plugged-in to the legal matrix, for he has no character that exists only in that fictional realm. A legal person's existence is only ever virtual, false, artificial, and therefore can only appear in a fictional construct. If it were a visible mark such explanations would be unnecessary, for we would grasp visually a man's person, for he would wear it on his sleeve. But this mark is a mental one, the strawman itself invisible but for the contracts and certificates that make it up, and may only be known and expressed first through belief (love of fiction), second by confirmation and thus verification (non-avoidance of legal identity), and thus thirdly by consent (agreement to terms of contract, public law). For reference and for better comprehension of the Bible story as a whole, this is the same ambiguity that Jesus the christ held, called by over 50 descriptive, parabolic names and titles therein but never by any specific surname (state property) of Caesar. Jesus carried no legal burden, no registered legal "last" name of the state. The word christ is not a name or surname (noun), but a description (adjective) of one's state of Being and actions (verb), which when translated means "the anointed." More on this later.

As for this work that is currently in your hands, let it be known and evidenced here that no matter what form it is in, I hereby claim it permanently to be in ambiguity, that is shall be held proprietarily by no person of any type, including all governments, and that I am the only man of God with proprietary, negative rights to it under God's Highest Law. Therefore, you see, it is to be known here that this work is the property of all men in the Purity of equitableness under the Natural Law and must by Law remain as such. No man may profit or gain from its Existence nor claim it as their own, and it may never be caused to be artfully transmuted into any legal fiction or registered title. It is not bound by any of man's legal laws, all of which are bound under the authority God's Highest Law. And so while no man or person may sell this work in any way, all men may privately and Charitably give it freely to all others in gift.

The Natural Law protects only the ambiguous man (male and female) in his Natural, private state of Being (verb) until such a legal persona (noun/status) is artificially (as an art form) attached to his very Nature, until his good first name is consensually bedeviled and thus tainted with a fictional last name and that legal (full) name is acted upon. Without a legal name (noun), all things in Reality are in their Natural state of Being, as Purely ambiguous and not recognizable by any supposed legal authorities. All of what Exists Naturally (in Nature) as Creation and without the legal, patented designs and inventions of man's recreation stand without identification. To hold an identity some Real thing must be simulated as a fictional thing. It must be named (placed in noun form) and recognized officially and legally as that artful name (term of art). It must be turned into a legal entity, or -entified. Its Life (Reality) must be hidden by death (artifice).

Id + entity = legal + person (status).

ENTITY - noun - [Low Latin entitas.] Being; EXISTENCE. Fortune is no real entity. 1. A real being, or SPECIES of being. (Webs1828)

— = —

The ego is reinforced through public education and entertainments to cause each man to id-entify his True Self as that which is false, in the person (id-entity) of another. Thus our Existence has been turned from Real (singular, ambiguous, and without fiction) into an imaginary legal class, sort, kind, or species of property (some thing special, in appearance only, as that which is only for show). A person (status), like fortune, is no real entity. It is only form without substance, without soul.

The question that seems to really bake everyone's noodle out there is whether or not existence Exists? Does fiction really Exist? Strangely enough, though the answer seems obvious, this question will be repeatedly addressed as we move forward. For to be free from that which is artificial, from the artful existence of man's imaginations and designs of legal fiction, we must always and at every moment be aware of these two parallel existences, which are always diametrically opposed to each other. What is Real and what is artificial cannot exist together without the will and acceptance of men. To accept and consent to fiction as evidence of the artificial self (strawman/third person) causes the Real Self (first person) to be hidden behind the fiction, which is the root cause of all that ails us. In this way, the existence of fiction becomes artificially self-evident, for it is attached only to the artificial, legal self we pretend to be. At this point, the law of persons overcomes the Law of Nature, and man's actions are no longer guided by spiritual, scriptural Law. Choice is destroyed, and thus moral choice is outlawed. When legal words (names) are respected as strict law, God's Word (Law) is lost.

After all, even a virtual reality such as The Matrix seems Real enough to the senses. But the main component in the battle between good and evil is to know at all times what is Real and what is false, and to never worship or hold sacred that which is of the artificial world, be it art, idols, images, symbols, words, or numbers. This is the True knowledge revealed by the Bible. And as simplistic as this may sound, one has to ask one's Self why each of us has fallen prey to the fictional existence of that strawman id-entity we all carry around with us. Why are we acting falsely under the authority of fictional characters with fictional titles in a fictional government with fictional laws over only its own fictional persons? The answer to this can only be found when the fictional, legal matrix code of law can be seen for what it is: the big lie. And the path to this True knowledge is to be found in scripture, but only for those with eyes to see and ears to hear, and only for those not blinded by their own love or hate of organized, corporate religion.

What is Real Exists only in Nature without fictionally id-entifying names, titles, and marks (worldly, unspiritual blemishes), and is in fact un-sure and thus unable to be in-sured against. Only sure and legally (artificially) provable, "certified" and registered names of fictional persons, places, and things (nouns) can appear and be under-stood in any fictional place (name/noun) of "jurisdiction" by any agent of the legal fiction (as a municipal corporation, such as a legally incorporated city, county, state, country, district, and/or nation). That which controls the words of the legal language art through letters patent and other means is the controller of all its own created legal names (nouns). And he who acts in and uses those names and other terms of art as property of another are controlled by the laws attached to the use of those legal names and other legal words. This is called the law of persons. To have a legal status (persona) within any government is to be bound by the law of that status (person). All legal persons, places, and things (proprietary nouns) are strictly unambiguous and thus unmistakably identifiable, but only as long as the man in first person can be made to believe that he or she is in-deed that fictional persona in third person and not their Real Self Existing only in Nature. Blood and blood alone makes the private man, while artificial, legal identity alone makes the person (status) of man. Man cannot protect himself from the big legal lie and law that is the legal realm if he participates in its rented property of legal persona (legal status). To rent the property of another requires adherence and consent to the law of the owner of the rented property. This is the ancient battle between Reality and fiction. Or, as some may choose to refer to it, it is the eternal war between God (Reality) and satan (artifice). Surprisingly, I was astonished to find through years of deep study that this is exactly what the Bible is about.

— = —

“SO ALSO IS THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD. It is sown in corruption; IT IS RAISED IN INCORRUPTION: It is sown in dishonour; IT IS RAISED IN GLORY: it is sown in weakness; IT IS RAISED IN POWER: IT IS SOWN A NATURAL BODY; IT IS RAISED A SPIRITUAL BODY. THERE IS A NATURAL BODY, AND THERE IS A SPIRITUAL BODY.”

—1 Corinthians 15:42-44, KJB

—=—

This continuous referential to being raised from the dead has nothing to do with our physical death. It is a metaphor for returning to Nature, for abandoning artifice (sin) and returning to Reality, and for utilizing through our actions (Life) only the Law of God’s Nature. In order to walk only upon this path, we are given the perfect example, the allegorical story of Jesus christ.

There are only two realms upon this world, one of God in a Natural State of spiritual Life and Self-Existence and one of the legal state of fiction in a spiritual death, also called as a civil life. What is civil is always artificial. What is artificial must be recreated and renamed into what is legal. And what is legal is that which is opposed to Reality, to Nature, to God, and to Life. This legal state of the pretended death of the spirit in false persona is also called legally as citizenship, which is why United States citizenships are called “natural persons” in law, and not spiritual persons. When the word nature or natural is recreated and renamed into its legal equivalent, as that which is opposed to the Real thing, then that which is legally called “natural” can only every be that which is an artificial representation thereof. This is the way of fictional things, of a civil, legal, artificial existence, the evidence of which being more than conclusively shown herein to satisfy even the most ardent skeptic, if he or she should dare to challenge the power of the ego so as to finish this work and discover the nature of this false, devilish id-entity, also known as the strawman. For the spirit is of Life, not death. It is not an after-life, except to say that every man may rise from the dead persona (artificial status) of a legal existence.

—=—

“One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the LORD ALL THE DAYS OF MY LIFE...”

—Psalms 27:4, KJB

—=—

“Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of AN ENDLESS LIFE... For those priests were made WITHOUT AN OATH... And they truly were many priests, BECAUSE THEY WERE NOT SUFFERED TO CONTINUE BY REASON OF DEATH: BUT THIS MAN, BECAUSE HE CONTINUETH EVER, hath an UNCHANGEABLE priesthood.”

—Hebrews 7:16, KJB

—=—

It may surprise the reader to discover that the word “afterlife” or any variation thereof is not written anywhere in the Bible. It may also be a surprise that the only actual concept of a “life after death” comes not from the notion of a physical death of the human body at all, as the end of Natural Life Itself, and that such an attainment of a Natural, spiritual Life after death is only accomplished by those that wake up from the big lie that is legal fiction. A citizen or member of any fictional thing is a dead form of existence. It is the state and status (personification) of a Godless, spiritually void life. Belief in lies, in artificial persons, places, and things (nouns) and the artificial (legal) laws that control them, is a state of being (entity) that exists only in spiritual death, while a spiritual Life lived eternally (at all times) is the only cure for such a legal dis-ease as this. Life only Exists in Nature, and can be found nowhere in fiction. Fiction is always temporary, never eternal, for that which is eternal is Self-evident and Self-Existent. Reality needs no proof of man for its ambiguity of eternal (unchangeable) Existence. That which is legal is that which is opposed to the essence, force, and soul of Life. Thus a legal existence can only be lived in the realm of “hell;” in the realm of the spiritually dead. Only through the overcoming of any perceived validity and authority of the many artfully “created” marks and signs of fictional person-hood, of Being thus figuratively “born again” from a civil, artificial life (false existence) and into the innocence of our Natural and Original state of conscious Being (as we are Originally born into God’s Nature), may we break free of the bonds and surety of this legal matrix code which controls every fictional strawman id-entity. The loss of all fiction, in other words, is the gaining of eternal Life. There is no Life after death in this regard, for the death spoken of in the Bible is exclusively referential to the legal fiction, and eternal Life can only be found through the abandonment of all legal marks that cause us to live in the spiritual death of legal fiction. The Word of God is simply the Purest and most harmonious Life possible in Nature (Jehovah) that any man may lead without obstruction, as the Law of Nature personified into the story of christ in scripture. It is nothing more and nothing less than this; an instruction manual for the untainted (eternal) spiritual Life of every man.

— = —

“Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, EXCEPT A MAN BE BORN AGAIN, HE CANNOT SEE THE KINGDOM OF GOD... Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.”

— John 3:3, 7 KJB

— = —

“Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, BY THE WORD OF GOD, WHICH LIVETH AND ABIDETH FOR EVER.”

— 1 Peter 1:23, KJB

— = —

The kingdom of God is all around you. It’s called Reality. Nature. The Universe. But it needs no such names ascribed by men to Exist. To find it is to embrace it by its Truth and Spirit, not by its name.

The Word of God is the Law of God, and the Law of God is personified as the Son of God. In other words, the Law of God (i.e. of Nature) is expressed by the parabolic actions of Jesus christ. To act according to christ’s teachings and example is to act according to the Word of God, for the Son is the Word and the Word is the Highest, self-evident Law of spiritual Existence. The confusion and hatred for the Word of God as self-evident Truth stems only from the purposefully mistranslated words chosen by the transliterators of the King. To hate the Word of God, and thus by default to hate the Son of God, is in actuality to hate all of Nature and Its Law. Proof of this hatred is found in the love and mark of legal fiction through legal persons. To hate God is to hate Reality, meaning to hate that which Exists without man's designs, imaginations, and the artful lies that make up the language of his fictional laws over the fictional identities and personifications of all of God's Creation (self-existence). Like the movie representation, the legal matrix is only a coded language. It is made up entirely of words. And so is every legal person. There is nothing of Reality (of God) to be found within it. One either believes in Reality (in God) or one adversarially believes in legal fiction and prays (pleads) to its false gods (creators).

That which is and he whom acts not of God's Nature of "Creation" (self-existence) and by Nature's self-evident Law cannot see or find Heaven, as God's Kingdom, for it is nothing if not the Eternity of the Existence of all Life that is all around us right now and has been and always will be, a system of Life passed on from generation to generation by blood inheritance of all Creation; not as some imaginary realm that can only be obtained after our physical death from this Existence. The Bible is written for Living Life, not for waiting to die. To contemplate the Law of scripture without also contemplating Life Itself is perhaps the most ridiculous aspect of organized religion, and yet so important to its control over the minds of men. To cause man to ignore God's Word in the only place it matters and applies to and instead to believe that only the fictional and non-scriptural "afterlife" matters, is the perfection of legal, artful thought. Again, no "afterlife" such as presented by the legal, corporate church and state can be found in scripture, though the translated words of the king may easily be confused and misconstrued as such. And that's the point.

A legal person has only a false existence as a civil "life" form in a fictional place without substance called as a legal jurisdiction (noun), but never in God's Realm (verb) of Reality, and has no sense of sight. Heaven is unobtainable to men acting in and as fictional persons. Heaven requires the harmony of all senses without non-sense (artifice). Persons are purely of art, created by artful means as representations of what is Real, and by their false nature have no sense at all. They are not self-existence, needing a master to operate them as a puppet. They are made of straw, or more accurately, of words on paper. They are what every man is artificially reputed to be, as his reputation, but never the actual substance of the man. They are created strictly by the unnatural nonsense and imaginations of man and embraced only by the believers (lovers) of artful words over what they actually re-present. What is of the artifice, what is dead in only a legal existence, simply cannot Exist as a self-evident Truth in God's Kingdom of Nature. And so we must realize that any thing which needs or seeks proof is always false. To this end, we must know that all legal laws need to be proven to exist in some fictional jurisdiction, whereas the Highest Law of God is self-evident. I am not here to prove God to anyone, for only a fool denies what is in front of his face. I am only here to reveal that legally established proof is never of God.

But what is "God" anyway?

Unfortunately, there is no easy answer to that question, for it is the wrong question. That is to say that no man may have complete knowledge of what Is God. And the man that does claim such knowledge is most certainly a psychopath... or a victim or leader of the doctrines of organized religion. Ultimately, this knowledge of unknown knowledge and the acceptance to its Existence of unknownness is the first great leap of knowledge. It is the greatest secret. Some may call this as "faith," which is just another word for Trust and Love (belief). But unfortunately, people have been conditioned to have faith in money and in other fictions over such eternal knowledge.

This work, for instance, doesn't attempt to define God, for the One True God is fine the way It Is, self-evident and self-Existent, and nothing can explain It better than the untouched Nature around us and our commune with It. This work, therefore, does not Exist because it has a name or title, nor does its Existence depend upon man's registration and copyright schemes or some bar-code in the corner. Its text is not meant to replace or prove Nature and Its Law but to reveal It as already and obviously self-existent, as that which was here long before us and long after, and hopefully with our own blood relations within It. For man may only "liveth and abideth for ever" in his True, untainted substance of Nature, by his blood that is passed on in eternity as the inheritance of Life Itself. The forms we pre-tend to legally (artfully) exist within steal that substance and power from us, the power of God (True religion), placing our consciousness and actions in support only of legal fiction even at the expense of Nature, of this Heaven on Earth that is Reality, and of our place within It. To Live for ever is to have eternal Life on this Earth unbroken by artificial things, free from the figurative fruit of the tree of knowledge of fictional concepts and ideals (evil) against God's Nature (good). For you see, to live for ever is to worship ever. It is to live for God's Nature and not against it. For ever is not a place, it is everything in Nature that Exists because of Its Self, because of that which came before It and which will come after it with no End and no Beginning.

Some people might state figuratively that they live for chocolate. Others may claim to live for weekends. But there is no True Life in these statements.

A man of God Lives for Ever, to serve and protect Ever, because he knows and acknowledges as his moral, "religious" Law that he cannot Exist without It. To taint Nature is to taint himself. Therefore he respects the Law of that which is for Ever, the Design and Law of Nature, God's Law, this being the best description I know of to humbly say what God Is. God is Eternity, and therefore man must strive to Live in Eternity (Heaven) while Being exclusively for (in support of) that Eternity, having faith (Trust) only in Its Self-Existence and Self-evident Truth, for his very Life depends on Its wellbeing and harmony. To be part of Eternity man must worship It as a whole, not in parts, as the One True God.

This state of consciousness untainted by the world of fiction is what it is to be born again in christ. It is not a ceremony or a dip in the holy water of some priest's chlorinated pool, it is to act according to God's Son (Word/Law) and no other. It is to bind ones Self only in the Law of Nature.

The word born, from Strong's Concordance #G1080 - gennaō - metaphorically refers to "God making men HIS SONS through faith in Christ's work." In other words, acting christ-like causes each man to Live eternally within Nature, which signifies the total abandonment of all fictions and artifice, and represents the killing of that legal strawman as a false-identity. This is to be "born again" into Nature, a metaphorical notion referring to the conscious effort by any man to live only in Reality of God's Creation of Nature, and thus only under the self-evident, unwritten Law of Nature. The word eternal does not refer to any external world or realm in some ethereal "afterlife" located outside of God's Creation of Nature, but to a Pure and unblemished name, mind, body, and soul in this One. Eternity has no end and no beginning, and so is man merely a part of that eternal Existence in blood, coming and going in an unending chain of Life, of inheritable blood and knowledge of good (Reality) and evil (artifice), unable to have Life without that Whole system of Nature that some call as "God."

This is called as God's self-evident Word (Law). It is the Son of God, the Light of True wisdom. It is the opposite of darkness, of ignorance, which also pretends to be and even appears as the artificial light. God's Word is also said to be the unwritten Law, for that which is self-evident needs no artful re-presentation by man. It needs no signs, symbols, numbers, names, or titles to Exist. Its Existence is Its Highest evidence, as Self-evidence of the very Nature of Reality. It Exists despite words, for God's Word is the Truth of all in Existence, a scriptural expression that refers to the Natural Design of all Life and True Existence, as opposed to all of man's artful recreations and designs against It. This (Nature) is not a Creation of words (nouns) nor is It in any way dependent upon man's created words (nouns) or contracts to Exist, for it is the Ultimate Word (verb) that is the only Oneness and Truth of God, said to be the One True God, and spoken of in the Bible by the name describing all of this Eternity of unending Existence, as that of Jehovah. If this word, this name bothers you, you are missing the point. The word is never the substance. The name Jehovah is representative of the harmony of all things in their Pure substance of Existence without name or other artifice and empty forms. It is the foundational Law of Nature, a Law not created by man but in Existence despite man's designs and imaginations. Words can only attempt to describe It, but It is certainly not made of words. It is the Word, the Living essence and structure of all things. The Word is not a language, but the structure and Law (Design) of Life Itself. This Law must be preserved. Man's words and doctrines cannot capture Its essence, for It is not of man, man is of It. It requires unfettered reason, untainted by man's own designs. It is undeniably present in All that breathes, in all that Lives and Truly Exists.

And so we must realize that the scriptures are in their essence a personification of that unwritten Law (Word) told in a parabolic story form. The Word (Law) of God is told by men as the story of Jesus christ and through other parables. And it is christ's actions, not merely his words, that men must follow. The words (fiction) may only ever describe what is Real, but never can words be Reality. They can, however, show us what will happen if we stray from our eternal Life towards spiritual death in fiction. They may only re-present Truth, but can never Be Truth. Truth may be called as the Word of God, but the Word of God is not made of man's words. The Truth of Reality is never that which is art, for art is never self-evident and self-existent, only a recreation of man. Man's law is only his own created terms of art. Man alone creates art, not God, and not any other Life form on this planet. Truth is said to be as that which Exists despite man's attempts to define and name it. And so when words are respected legally (with artificial authority) over the very Substance and Essence they describe, including especially artful, legal names and the digits of numbers and other symbology, God's Kingdom of Nature is hidden from man in illusion, a strong delusion, as the magic (illusion) of the authority of words conquers our perceptions of Reality and causes our actions to be cursed (held sacred above the Reality those words re-present). To worship any symbol, any simulation over that which it re-presents is the epitome of sin. We act therefore not in support of Nature but against Its Perfection of Design. We Exist without harmony towards that which sustains our very Existence. This is madness. This is the legal way.

As we delve deeper into the study of the ancient origin of the words of the Bible as compared to the opposing legal law as the words of the art of fiction, the reader's foundational principle should be to always seek this self-evidence in every word that is presented. The Truth may only be found Therein, never in the proprieties (property) of men. Truth may never be found in language, in art, and yet the inheritance of knowledge requires such language arts. When teaching our children and ourselves, the artificial nature of language must at all times be remembered. Ask yourself what is Real and what is art, artifice, artificial, technology; as what is Real (a Creation of) Nature and what is a re-creation of man. Do not let these "religious" sounding words get in the way of understanding their True Intent, for the artful authority of the church and state requires our collective ignorance of these words through the artful doctrines they create. The church may only simulate God by its doctrinal words, but these artful terms should never be confused as the self-evident, Living Word of God. There is no comparison of the Bible and of any of man's incorporated religions (artificial persons), for the words of the Bible are self-evident Truths guiding man away from such artificial persons (corporations) as the legalized and licensed church and state. The Real Church is only ever a People, never a 501 corporation or building made by the masonic hands of men. The True religion of any People is only expressed individually by men through their own actions, never through the empty words called as any "religion," and the Word of God should only be received in its intention to invoke such spiritual, moral action. For just as God is not a word, neither is religion. Religion in Its True sense is only ever how any single man acts according to the Word of God. When religion is made into an artificial person (corporation) it is no longer Real, no longer Natural, and no longer of the Word (Law/Son) of God. Religion may only Truly be expressed by man, never by man's artificial person (strawman) and flattering titles as a "member" of any corporation calling itself legally (unnaturally) a state-sanctioned "religion" or "church." One either acts in Truth at all times or he worships lies created by words. God's "Word" is the very blueprint for Life, undeniable to any who may discover what that "Word" actually Is, and impossible to overcome through fictional, imaginary means.

The Word of God is timeless, while what is a creation of man is only ever temporary. The Word of God is a harmonic frequency and resonance. It is without pollution and needs no solution. It is the Perfection of Being of all things without interference from man's desires and designs against it. It cannot be improved. It is the cycle of Life. And it respects nothing of the fictions of man, all of which hold a destructive intent towards It. The words (nouns) of man destroy the Word (verb) of God by replacing Reality with a fictional re-presentation of It. And while it is certainly a self-evident Truth that words cannot in any way harm God's Nature, the effect that words have on man's conscious intent can certainly cause man's mind to be governed by artifice, and therefore for man to become God's enemy and destroyer.

It is only when the word (noun/names) of man overcomes the Word (verb) of God that a war against Nature ensues. Of course, it is also a self-evident Truth that Nature always wins in the end, for what is timeless encompasses the minuteness of all that is merely man's supposedly recorded history. Man's temporary designs, his languages, and his corruptions of Nature will all eventually die in the end. Temporary is not necessarily a word associated with length of time or false existence as much as it is a contradistinction to the Permanence of Nature and Its Law. The difference? Between each and every law passed or rescinded, between every court decision and precedent set by 10's of thousands of judges in this nation, and between every treaty signed... each of these temporary states of what government and its law is changes. It's foundation is constantly being altered, for its foundation is only the fictional designs and words of official persons in flattering, legally assigned titles. There is never a day in which these governments are the same from one day to the next, and certainly not from one generation to the next! Only the Word (Law) of God may save us from our pretended, temporary selves (as strawmen), even from our own words, simply because that Word is never-changing. It is the very frequency and harmony of Life, of True Existence.

We must realize that "God's wrath" is only manifested as the consequences of our own irresponsible actions against that which sustains our very Existence. Like in the legal realm, ignorance of God's Natural Law (Word) is no excuse! As we scientifically tear down the Heavenly Utopia that is the harmony of this untarnished Nature of Earth down to the microcosmic and microcellular level today, destroying It in a vain attempt to understand Its Design through the art of science, so too are we destroying ourselves by disregarding the self-evident Word (Law) of scripture. Our wrath is our own. Only by the destruction of God (Jehovah) and Its Nature may man ever have the ever-limited knowledge and discovery of the Design of God's Full Nature, and to acquire such knowledge will necessarily spell the end of man, the end of that harmony (Word) that sustains Life. Tearing apart and killing anything so as to understand its Creation is at best a psychopathy of anarchy and at worst a legalized, licensed science. God will of course remain, and hopefully those who embrace the Reality of God, as all of the rest of Nature Lives and Breathes only within God and without such destructive artifices. This is the True message of the Bible, and this Truth is what the church and state wish to keep buried. For the licensure for such destructive behavior by men can only be approved by that which is opposed to Nature, opposed to God. Only through legally approved means may man destroy his own Nature. And even more importantly, only through the propagandist lies of church and state completely against God's Word as promulgated by scripture may otherwise True men of God be tricked into allowing such unnatural destruction to take place.

This work is presented with the intent to absolutely and without question show all of this to be the only Truth, both in Life and as the True spirit of the ancient scriptural teachings that have been so purposefully misapplied and misinterpreted that no man is thus able to attain this Highest state of Pure Being in Nature (Heaven). For Truth is not a word, not an opinion, and certainly not a legal fact. Truth is only Self-Existence. All other established "truths" of men's designs are fictions of the mind, mere excuses to act irresponsibly through the personification of the strawman argument, fallaciously blaming the artificial persons of men instead of taking full responsibility for their and our own True Selves. Our actions are only ever our own, never that of the names and titles we pretend to be despite our True Nature. It is this fictional matrix of legal representation of all things that is so repeatedly warned about in the Bible and in other "holy" Books of antiquity.

But do not mistake these words as the "religion" (noun) of any man or system of men, least of all my own, for the Truth of God (verb) and the fictions of man's doctrinal religions (nouns/names) are always opposed to each other; one Created without man's designs and imaginations to benefit only God and thus man's True Nature, and all others re-created to benefit only man's artificial, self-serving designs and corporate structure of all nations in mammon. When each of us begins acting in our True Nature without the artifice of legal fictions, flattering titles, added names, insurance numbers, and member-ships to such corporations (artificial persons) calling themselves as churches and government agencies, then and only then will our expression of religion be True and our individual Lives be considered “eternal” as Purely Religious Ones under the Highest Law. Only then may we see Heaven for what It Is. Religion, by any name (denomination), is only the false creation of man, an empty title (name) for what is Real (verb). God knows no “Christians,” “Muslims,” or “Jews.” These are but false and flattering titles used by men who pretend religion without acting the part. These names are not a part of Nature (Creation), originating only from the imaginations of men. They are empty words. No pendent, no symbol, no crucifix, no baptismal certificate, no cross, no crescent and moon, no seal of Solomon (e.g. “star of David”) in witchcraft, and no affiliation with anything in these commercial “non-profit” systems of mammon can create this state of True Religious Being. All of these things are false idols. What is symbolic is not what is Real, and should never be worshiped above that which it supposedly re-presents in form but without actual substance. Only the anonymous, ambiguous actions of the private man may invoke this True Nature, the actions of True Love and Charity without any expectation of return on such investments into the welfare of all others. And only knowledge of the Highest moral Law of scripture (ancient, self-evident knowledge) may ensure a man’s place of Natural Liberty in God’s Kingdom of Nature.

Don’t believe it? For most of my life, I didn’t either. What you are about to read will most certainly be an affirmation of just how mislead we have all been, but only if you choose to walk the path revealed so long ago that has been so hidden from so many generations before us...

—=—

“Deeply earnest and thoughtful people stand on shaky footing with the public.”

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

—=—

It is sometimes difficult to contemplate the importance of the specific meaning of words, and even more difficult to comprehend the extreme importance of those specifically defined words versus their ambiguous nature. In other words, the importance of the establishment and clarity of name and title (legal status of a fictional person) as property is paramount to man’s artificial law, for the proprietary law of persons only applies to proprietary legal persons. Ambiguity has no place there, for all things artificial must be proven first to fictionally exist before they may be examined and administered. This is to say that he who makes an affirmation against you, namely he being the legal government of the state via its agent (attorney), must show evidence that a word has a specific meaning, especially the specific name of a man’s “natural person.” If the name is too ambiguous, meaning it carries two or more possible and presentable meanings, then it cannot be proven to legally, artificially exist without attestation and confirmation by he who uses it. The first (christian) name cannot stand without a legal last surname attached, for the first name is always only ever considered as ambiguous, and thus technically can only be private and thus publicly anonymous, meaning that the man cannot be recognized as the artificial persona created by the name, titles, numbers, and marks of the legal realm and government by only his christian (first) name. And so an anonymous work such as this need not Exist without any ambiguous name attached, but only without an unambiguous “legal” name attached.

To clear up any doubt of intent or law, the author here chooses to remain anonymous only in the legal sense of the word, keeping my good, God-given, and highest in authority and Source (first) name separate and without any meaning that is fictional, legal, and/or artificial. For the purposes of this work my first name is my last name, my last will and testament and the only proof possible of my intent under God. And so under no circumstances should this work be mistaken or construed in any manner to be a work of any fictional, legal person, especially one surnamed Clint Richardson or as any other legal entity or persona, nor that it was created in or under any jurisdiction or law of man or of nations. It is mine and mine alone, and I am only ever to be considered as a Creation and Act of God. This is my Life and my Law, and is declared here in as unambiguous a language as I have in my knowledge to construct in order to express my own Pure intent.

For the reader, please note that these statements are those of intent, placed here for the purpose of quelling any future considerations by unscrupulous agents (attorney's) of man's legal systems of law. It is necessary. It is evidence of my own patent ambiguity in the matter of this work as an establishment of its anonymity and of its privacy, as well as an intentional, total separation of its intent and Existence to any legal fiction or persona without exception.

—=—

“A patent ambiguity CANNOT BE CLEARED UP BY EXTRINSIC EVIDENCE (or is never holden by averment).”

—AMBIGUITAS VERBORUM PATENS NULLA VERIFICATIONE EXCLUDITUR. (Black4)

—=—

“An ambiguous contract is to be interpreted against the seller.”

— AMBIGUUM PACTUM CONTRA VENDITOREM INTERPRETANDUM EST. (Black4)

—=—

“An ambiguous plea ought to be interpreted against the party pleading it.”

—AMBIGUUM PLACITUM INTERPRETARI DEBET CONTRA PROFERENTEM. Co.Litt. 303b. (Black4)

—=—

“In doubtful cases, the presumption always is in behalf of the crown.”

—AMBIGUIS CASIBUS SEMPER PRAESUMITUR PRO REGE. Lofft, Append. 248. (Black4)

—=—

And just whom is the seller of the contract of personhood? Why government of course, the foundational fiction. If I sing a contract by my christian (first) name alone, I have not signed it legally. Nature has not been defeated until I use a full signature, the proprietarily admixed first and last surname of the strawman I am acting in agency for. Thus all contracts will be interpreted against me, for I have established my id-entity as my self. Once I am id-entified, I have thrown myself at the mercy of the court (magistrate god and administrator of legal fictions), for I am acting in the person of another.

But what's so important about a name? Why do I wish to remain an anonymous, ambiguous Act of God for the purposes of this work and in my own Life? And why am I so fervent here, at the beginning, to establish the fact that I am only that I am, and that I am not a “natural person” or any other form of registered or registrable legal personification or status?

We have so much to dis-cover...

First and foremost, in wishing to keep this as a Purely private work with all rights and privileges reserved to my own self, I must here declare my own ambiguity so that no de facto government can claim otherwise, and so that any attempts to legally stall or steal (pirate) this work may be extinguished at the outset.

Let us be clear here that a “natural person” is a STRAWMAN; the name of a fictional personification of a legal status that does not Exist in Reality (in Nature), and only has artificial life in a legal jurisdiction (the fictional name/noun form of a fictional place). We cannot thus assume that all men are “natural persons,” which only exist in un-Natural places, for the purpose of this linguistic trickery of legalese and of flattering titles such as these is purely to publicly register man into a fictional, artificial state of being and belief (love), under a contract of law that is against his own purpose and Nature. In other words, an unambiguous legal name and title causes an otherwise ambiguous, nameless, unmarked man as a Creation and Act Purely of God to magically re-appear in the fictional, legal realm as that which is only his image without substance. It’s like being drawn in as a cartoon caricature of oneself.

CARICATURE - noun - A figure or DESCRIPTION in which BEAUTIES ARE CONCEALED and BLEMISHES EXAGGERATED, but still bearing a RESEMBLANCE to the object. - verb transitive - To MAKE or draw a caricature; TO REPRESENT AS MORE UGLY THAN THE LIFE. (Webs1828)

—=—

To be in citizenship under the United States (a municipal corporation and district) is to be a caricature (false persona) in the realm and jurisdiction of legal fiction. And fiction is always considered as dead. Thus the person kills the Nature of man by causing unambiguity, by destroying the True Nature of man and re-presenting him only in cartoon form without substance (without consideration of blood and soul). For the agents of that imaginary realm cannot entertain us (men) as its resident guests unless we accept its mark of name and number and agree to its dominion, not over us, but over our state of surety in joinder of its artificial personification (caricature) of us; over the names, titles, and other bestowed fictions we use that belong to the state. Its law is only over its own property, its own false creation, its own fictional persons, just as God’s Law is only over man as God’s Creation of Nature. It is the use of another’s name, the enjoined surname, and all legal benefits attached to that name that causes us to be enslaved by the law of persons, for we are acting in persona of that false character and not as our True Selves. Thus we work, play, pray, and “make a living” to benefit the state in a corporate, commercial franchise of its sure, dead name. And so the state is our master, our principal, and we its servants and agents, even as we attend its corporate churches under its false surname. We seem to forget the simple words of the scriptures, which plainly declare that man may have but one master, God or mammon.

To show our collective and intentional brainwashing and ignorance of this term of the legal art, let’s stop and consider who could have possibly written this work that you are presently reading if it was not some “natural person?” If all men are automatically considered as “natural persons,” this law in the United States Code would be a pointless redundancy, as it would refer to all living men in total sum across the entirety of earth as such in title. But we all know that the law of nations only exists in the jurisdiction (fictional realm) of each nation that agrees to be part of that artificial law. And so we can state clearly here that all men are indeed not “natural persons,” and that all men are thus not acting as strawmen without some deceitful and voluntary intention to do so.

The principals (maxim’s) of law certainly agree:

—=—

“Every person is a man, BUT NOT EVERY MAN A PERSON.”

Omnis persona est homo, sed non vicissim. Calvin. (Black1)

—=—

And so, as we will discover, a “natural person” only refers to the status of a commercial or other form of citizenship, not to a man considered under God’s Nature and Highest Law. Fiction destroys the True Nature of everything it figuratively and contractually touches. No substance, only imaginary form. A person is no different than any fictional character in any science fiction novel. And the government is the writer and publisher of each fictional persona, causing each of us to change our Natural course in Life towards some ad-venture in that legal commercial realm, and thus ultimately towards the pursuit of money instead of God. Our master is chosen not by our thoughts but by our actions in commercial persona, for a “natural person” is only a valuable consideration in time (labor) as money. It is as a slave that must be driven by an intermediary puppeteer that must also have a puppet-master (creator/god). For to use the property (name of person) of another requires one to be driven by the legal strings and law of the actual owner of the property (name of person).

The nature (legal realm) of fiction is not the Nature (Reality/Creation) of God. These are two opposing realms, as matter and anti-matter, or to be more accurate, christ and anti-christ. A spiritual man Exists despite any and all status, while a person unambiguously and specifically exists only in some assigned and registered, imaginarily created legal status. One is God’s Creation and one is man’s re-creation. One’s True Existence has substance and is able to be comprehended and verified as a self-evident Truth by all of the senses, whereas that other artificial (legal) existence is utter non-sense, an un-Truth, un-Natural, and so must be proven to exist in a fictional realm through some legalistic, artificial means such as contract, bond, identity, etc. A legal existence, to be clear, occupies no space in God’s Realm of Reality and Nature. It is not a Creation of God. It is not of Source, and has no Natural Origin. It is intangible, a fiction of the mind, existing only in the imaginations of men and as words on paper.

This must be understood here, for I, as the private author of this work, certainly claim no such legal name, title, or other legal mark, sign, or status (persona), nor any protections, insurances, or guarantees thereof for this work, having no nickname or surname to be considered thereof. I claim no protection and thus give no subjection to any law offering such artificial monetary or other securities or protections. I gladly attach my christian and only my christian name to this work, and so no implication or presumption of any additional name caused by any event or other legal means or re-creation should be construed here.

—=—

“When a man is made a spiritual peer HE LOSES HIS SURNAME; when a temporal, HIS CHRISTIAN NAME.”

—Jonathan Swift, Thoughts on various subjects, moral & diverting

—=—

It’s simple. He who lives temporally must do so in person. He who lives spiritually must do so without person. One never loses ones Christian name, one only loses the power and authority of the Christian name by placing a legal surname next to it, chaining the spirit to worldly things.

The spirit knows and respects no name but the first, God-given gift name, or “christian” name, just as the temporal or legal realm knows and respects no name but the last, or surname so attached. It is the legal mixture of these two names, of Reality and a fiction of law, that causes man to lose touch with his Nature and Source. The last name reveals the master. And so for the benefit of the reader, I can safely say that the hardest thing I have ever forced myself to do is to use only my first, christian, and Highest name upon this work. This abandonment of the fictional persona and with it my so-called last name is just one of the many mental hurdles I must jump over in order to correct my own path and get reacquainted with my True Self. For the admixed legal name is the source of all fictional statuses, titles, dis-ease, and registered things. Without it, I am only that which I am and nothing more. I am simply private. I am no person, place, or thing.

This word, name, is the hinge upon which all legal (artificial) things attach and have standing under (understanding). Without a name, which signifies a distinct person, place, or thing (name = noun), there is only ambiguity, making it impossible to distinguish one man or thing from another one with the same christian (first) name, and so no legal aspects of the artifice may be attached to the man, for no legal person (status) can be found and attached to God's Nature. A man without a name is unseen, unheard, unalienable, and unattainable. For all defects and titles are only of the name, not of the man. Man, in God's purview, is a Creation of Perfection no matter what his shape or form, as all Nature Is in Its self-evident (True) Existence. And so any additions to man in the form of imaginary, legal fictions of the law and inventions of men can only be an abomination of Perfection. Do not take this in a religious sense as much as in a protective, Lawful sense. You are Perfect in your Creation, born into Nature by Its Design and no other. It is only the events that take place after-birth that cause us defects in name and title, causing our own claim over our own minds, bodies, and souls to become secondary to the gods of the law of nations.

And so this word name is one that you may consider revisiting often as we press forward, for it is the magnet that attracts all other legal considerations. As we progress, each facet of this word name will be meticulously examined so that by the end of this multi-volumed work the reader will have no misgivings or doubts that all sin, as everything evil, artificial, legal, and debilitating cannot exist without a contracted, additional name. Just remember, no names, and no nouns actually Exist in Nature. God is not the Creator of artifice, nor of names, nor of titles, nor of numbers, nor of codes, nor of symbols, nor of language, nor of anything that is of the minds of men. Nature (God, as so-called JEHOVAH) Exists despite whatever we may call It or call our selves. For we are each and every One of us a part of that Whole Being of Nature, Perfect and untainted. No man, no Life, no thing, and no place is Created by God into Nature with any name (noun) attached to It. There is only One Place and One Life. Man does not hunt for food by luring it by its name, nor does he grow or find his food by invoking its title. For nothing in Nature is a slave to its name as man allows himself to be.

Comprehend this, and you may comprehend the entire foundation of all of man's legalistic (artificial) law, which can only be attached and have authority over artificial (legal) persons, places, and things (nouns/names), none of which actually Exist in Nature, for none of these are Original Acts of God. Without such a strawman, without the lies of man's designs against the Origin and Source of man in Nature under God, man is simply in perfect ambiguity. His lack of persona and of legal name equals a lack of legal capacity, meaning the law cannot stick to the man because the man is not wearing any unambiguous law-suit (false persona).

NAME - noun - 1. That by which a THING is called; the sound or combination of sounds used TO EXPRESS AN IDEA, OR ANY MATERIAL SUBSTANCE, QUALITY OR ACT; AN APPELLATION ATTACHED TO A THING BY CUSTOMARY USE, by which it may be vocally DISTINGUISHED FROM OTHER THINGS. A name may be ATTACHED to an INDIVIDUAL ONLY, and is then PROPER or appropriate, as John, Thomas, London, Paris; or it may be attached to a SPECIES, GENUS, OR CLASS OF THINGS, as SHEEP, GOAT, horse, tree, ANIMAL, which are called COMMON names, SPECIFIC OR GENERIC (special or general, by species or by gens). 2. The letters or characters written or engraved, expressing the sounds by which a PERSON OR THING is known and distinguished. 3. A PERSON. They list with women each degenerate name. 4. REPUTATION; CHARACTER; that which is COMMONLY said of a PERSON; as a good name; a bad name. 5. Renown; fame; honor; celebrity; eminence; praise; DISTINCTION. What men of name resort to him? 6. Remembrance; memory. The Lord shall BLOT OUT HIS NAME from under heaven. Deuteronomy 29:20. 7. APPEARANCE ONLY; sound only; NOT REALITY; as a friend in name. Revelation 3:1. 8. AUTHORITY; behalf; part; as in the name of the people. WHEN A MAN SPEAKS OR ACTS IN THE NAME OF ANOTHER, HE DOES IT BY THEIR AUTHORITY OR IN THEIR BEHALF, AS THEIR REPRESENTATIVE. 9. ASSUMED

CHARACTER OF ANOTHER. Had forged a treason in my patrons name. 10. In Scripture, the name of God signifies his titles, his attributes, his will or purpose, his honor and glory, his word, his grace, his wisdom, power and goodness, his worship or service, or God himself. 11. ISSUE; POSTERITY THAT PRESERVES THE NAME. Deuteronomy 25:6. 12. In grammar, A NOUN. To call names, to apply opprobrious names; to call by reproachful appellations. To take the name of God in vain, to swear falsely or profanely, or to use the name of God with levity or contempt. Exodus 20:7. To know by name to honor by a particular friendship or familiarity. Exodus 33:12. CHRISTIAN NAME: THE NAME A PERSON RECEIVES BY BAPTISM, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM SURNAME. - verb transitive - To call, TO NAME TO INVOKE. 1. To set or give to any person or thing a sound or combination of sounds by which it may be known and distinguished; to call; to give an appellation to. She named the child Ichabod. 1 Samuel 4:21. Thus was the building left Ridiculous, and the work confusion named. 2. To mention by name; to utter or pronounce the sound or sounds BY WHICH A PERSON OR THING IS KNOWN AND DISTINGUISHED. Neither use thyself to the naming of the Holy One. 3. TO NOMINATE; TO DESIGNATE FOR ANY PURPOSE BY NAME. Thou shalt anoint to me him whom I name to thee. 1 Samuel 16. 4. TO ENTITLE. To the name of Christ, to make profession of faith in him. 2 Timothy 4:1. (Webs1828)

— = —

Bottom line: only your given, first name is your own. It is your only Truly spiritual property. Self. It is your Origin, representing your only True state and substance of Being, as the harmonious trinity of mind, body, and soul. It is called the christian name in law, referring to the God-given name that cannot be defeated, for the Creator controls all that is Created by It. All other additions of name, title, number, mark, or any other artificial designation, even those of a sexual nature, are merely legalistic, fictional creations of man. To add any other name or title to your first (Original) name is to take God's given name, that is your first name, in vain. And so to act in the name of another is to attach the bad name of another to your Good (God) name. And only under this false sur-name can crimes against Nature and all of Life be legally justified. For we pretend to be a person falsely created by law that is not our True Self, as if the actions of some fictional name can be responsible for our own actions.

The scriptures are replete and repetitious with warnings against all forms of legal personification. They warn against the act of respecting persons and flattering titles and of the power of such evil (artifice) to cause us to act outside of God's Law of Nature, outside of our very Self, which is to say that we act against our very own Nature and that of others against the harmonious Design of Creation.

But let us be clear, the personification of Jehovah as Jesus christ is in no way a legal fiction. Its intent is not to establish an artificial, legal person. This difference, as the same difference in all personifications and anthropomorphized characters in moral story-telling from Plato to Steven King must be differentiated from what are established fictions of law called as legal persons. The moral story of a person is not the same as the legal existence of a person. In fact, the whole story of christ was against that of legal personhood and the false, flattering titles and social class systems that go with it. To be clear, both the taking of and respecting of a last name (surname) and legal (flattering) title for ourselves and over others, especially under man's legal governance, is one of the most oft spoken about sins of the Bible and of other ancient scriptures. If anything, the Law of the scriptures, the self-evident Law of God and Nature, says only to act and be responsible as exactly what we are, as our True Selves without any attached (forced) names or titles (styles), with no fictions, insurances, and protections or securities from the artificial constructs of man's designs in mammon. For only in and by another's name can the act of the man be artificially blamed on his fictional, imaginary person (personified self-image). This is just a cop-out, a lack of personal (Self) responsibility.

Only a "soldier," for example, can kill without responsibility for his actions in war or in peace, for his artificial title gives legal (anti-God, anti-Nature) license (legal permission) to kill another part of God's Creation. And most importantly, only by using God's name in vain, that is, the christian God-given name as our first and highest authority name; by attaching our christian name to any other name (i.e. legal surname) we have taken God's Gift and utterly disrespected Its purpose and reason in vain, taking the law of the person (noun/name) over that of the Law of Nature, or God's Law (verb).

And now, after this brief explanation, please allow me to continue with this spiritual disclaimer against all legality and artificial means.

No natural or other legal person (name) may own or copyright this work in any way under any system of law, public or private, franchise or contract. The author claims sole privileges (total privacy) in all respects to this work under the Highest Law of God, and I offer it freely and with Pure intent to all who seek. There is no need to steal it in petty theft, for you cannot steal from the willing, from a man who asks you, the reader, to share this work with all others. You cannot steal that which is offered freely and without any expected consideration of any kind or form.

—=—

“The term “financial gain” includes receipt, or EXPECTATION OF RECEIPT, of anything of VALUE, including the receipt of other copyrighted works.”

—U.S.Code, Title 17, Chapter 1, § 101

—=—

You see, the United States dollar is a copyrighted and patented work as property of the United States government, especially in its intangible (non-cash) form called credit and debt. Thus, I declare here that I have no expectation whatsoever now or in the future of the receipt of any currency or of any other valuable thing or work, Real or fictional, in any form of exchange for the free gift that is this work. No act other than a Purely Charitable one should ever be construed by any man, regardless of fictional status or while acting in the pretended character of a person and/or “party” to any legal system, constitutional or unconstitutional writing, etc.

In this light, I hereby declare that this work of my own labor is not for commercial sale in any capacity whatsoever from myself or from any fictional persona, “natural,” “artificial,” or otherwise, or by that which may be construed as some legal entity or other artifice or fiction of law. This work is not for profit any more than it is written by a prophet. It has and is intended to have no registered legal title, no name, no number, no barcode, and is to remain always and heretofore as valueless. It Exists without consideration of money or valuation in mammon. It is therefore PRICELESS! It is not registered, certified, licensed, taxed, or taxable, nor should it ever be considered as such in the future under any name whatsoever. It is written by no fictional persona, which in Reality (under God) is impossible and stands without respect, for God respects no person or title of any man's creation. This work is created only by my own flesh-and-blood hand and no other. It is not official or formal. It is not a registered product of any fictional government, citizen, or public citizenship, nor is permission granted in any way for reproduction as such now or in the future by any such person or other legally titled artifice. It is and always shall be a private, unpublished work and therefore should never be recreated or reprinted in any public or commercial way, means, or form under any circumstances or means whatsoever unknown to myself, the non-legal, Real author and laborer as a man and servant only of God. No consent is granted theretofore, nor should any form of consent be in any way construed or pretended to be implied, and any deviation from this notice must be expressed in writing and approved in equal manner by my Self. As written, this is the only Law applicable to this work or to my own Self.

To be clear, any reproduction of this work for any commercial or other valuable consideration of profit and/or gain without absolutely express, written permission by myself can and only will be considered as theft. Freely sharing this work without expectation of anything in return is the only acceptable act not covered by this will and testament of its creator under God. In other words, this work Exists only in the Purist state of Love and Charity in Nature and in no other form or place and as no other person or thing (name/noun). No other form of intent should ever be implied or construed with regards to this work or to the attitude and intent of its author (my self), and any claim otherwise by any legal fiction or unwelcome person (persona non grata) should hereby be considered as utterly ridiculous and dismissible in any legal court of man's so-called law. Fiction is always less than Nature, and always submissive to God's Law of Nature. That is, only if you don't sign your soul away in contract (devilry) with the state by attaching its surname after and over your own!

Fiction < Nature

Richardson < clint

The problem is, most of us have no idea what a dirty word the term "public" actually is, for most of us have lived our whole lives therein without contemplation of just what it is, comparable perhaps only as the concept of being plugged-in to the science fiction realm of The Matrix without knowledge that it even "legally," artificially exists. To be in and exist in "public" persona is to not reserve any of our "unalienable," God-given rights, which apply only to our christian (Gift of God) name. To be public is to be in a state of total alienability. For even the public law is published, and is thus applied to all public (government owned) persons (legal statuses), which are government property.

PUBLISH - verb transitive - [Latin publico. See PUBLIC.] 1. To discover or make known TO MANKIND OR TO PEOPLE IN GENERAL WHAT BEFORE WAS PRIVATE OR UNKNOWN; to divulge, as a private transaction; to promulgate or proclaim, as a law or edict. WE PUBLISH A SECRET, by telling it to people WITHOUT RESERVE. LAWS ARE PUBLISHED BY PRINTING OR BY PROCLAMATION. Christ and his apostles published the glad tidings of salvation. Th' unwearied sun, from day to day, Does his Creator's power display; And publishes to every land, The work of an Almighty hand. 2. To send a book into the world; or TO SELL OR OFFER FOR SALE a book, map or print. 3. To utter; to put off or into CIRCULATION; as, to publish a forged or counterfeit paper. 4. To make known by POSTING, or by reading in a church; as, to publish banns of matrimony. We say also, THE PERSONS INTENDING MARRIAGE ARE PUBLISHED; that is, THEIR INTENTION of marriage is published. (Webs1828)

— = —

With further contemplation and due diligence, we find that this word publish stems from a much more sinister root, which is technically the same notion of what public citizen-ship is. When a child wishes to roam the public halls of public school to use the public restroom for instance, he or she as a registered public citizen-ship attending a public school must obtain permission (temporary license) to travel to go to the bathroom, use its services, and return as a matter of predetermined course. And so the child (acting in false, legal persona and under state surname) is required to obtain a hall pass in order to set about upon said commercial course. This, in and of itself, is merely a microcosmic slice of the biopsy of every one of us in the public realm. We, as U.S. district (corporate) citizenships, are required to have a pass to live, reside, and work within the lands of the foreign States we inhabit, for they are not our lands, and we are only tenants and renters on paper. Thus, we always need a license and other general identification as our national hall pass (public easement) to conduct interstate commerce. While this will be explained in detail within, for now let us comprehend that to publish anything, including the registering of ourselves and our offspring and property into public citizenship, is just another word for pass.

PASS - verb - In practice. To utter or pronounce; as when the court passes sentence upon a prisoner. Also to proceed; TO BE RENDERED OR GIVEN; as when judgment is said to pass for the plaintiff in a suit. In legislative parlance, a bill or resolution is said to pass when it is agreed to or enacted by the house, or when the body has sanctioned its adoption by the requisite majority of votes; in the same circumstances, the body is said to pass the bill or motion. When an auditor appointed to examine into any accounts certifies to their correctness, he is said to pass them; i. e., they pass through the examination without being detained or sent back for inaccuracy or imperfection. The term also means to examine into anything and then authoritatively determine the disputed questions which it involves. In this sense a jury is said to pass upon the rights or issues in litigation before them. IN THE LANGUAGE OF CONVEYANCING, THE TERM MEANS TO MOVE FROM ONE PERSON TO ANOTHER; TO BE TRANSFERRED OR CONVEYED FROM ONE OWNER TO ANOTHER; as in the phrase "THE WORD 'HEIRS' WILL PASS THE FEE." TO PUBLISH; utter; TRANSFER; CIRCULATE; IMPOSE FRAUDULENTLY. This is the meaning of the word when the offense of passing counterfeit money or a forged paper is spoken of. "Pass," "utter," "publish," and "sell" are in some respects convertible terms, and, in a given case, "PASS" MAY INCLUDE UTTER, PUBLISH, AND SELL. The words "uttering" and "passing," used of notes, do not necessarily import that they are transferred as genuine. The words include ANY DELIVERY OF A NOTE TO ANOTHER FOR VALUE, with intent that it shall be put into circulation as money. Passing a paper is putting it off in payment or exchange. Uttering it is a declaration that it is good, with an intention to pass, or an offer to pass it. - noun - PERMISSION TO PASS; A LICENSE TO GO OR COME; A CERTIFICATE, EMANATING FROM AUTHORITY, wherein it is declared that a DESIGNATED PERSON is permitted to go beyond certain boundaries which, without such authority, he could not lawfully pass. Also a ticket issued by a railroad or other transportation company, authorizing a designated person to travel free on its lines, between certain points or for a limited time. (Black4)

— = —

I, as the author of this work, am not "sending it into the world" as a published book. It is not in circulation nor is it posted or registered for the intent of any legal means or protections. I am not offering to pass it to anyone, but instead offer it in Pure Love and Charity to everyone. I have not uttered it for the purposes of delivery into any public realm or under any public law. I retain and reserve any and all rights and privileges against any that may be imagined by men, and allow no others to exist surrounding this work despite my will. No one may legally own, copyright, alter, or have any exclusive right to this work in any legal or other system but my Self, with or without name or title.

As for the passing of things, we must realize that the birth and delivery process is the passing of the child to the state, as: "any delivery of a note to another for value, with intent that it shall be put into circulation as money." Just so that we are clear, the bottom of the birth certificate, which was issued in the name of the legal entity created at the event of my de-livery of vital statistics to the state, as entitled "CLINT RICHARDSON," is adorned with the words of its origin, which are: "Midwest Banknote Company." In other words, my actual life (as the recorded words as "vital statistics" thereof) was rendered into a fictional persona of the federal district (Caesar), and this fictional persona is essentially a public pass, which creates the legal status that allows me (as registered agent of that fictional legal person) to be recognized and to have legal: "permission to pass; a license to go or come; a certificate, emanating from authority, wherein it is declared that a designated person is permitted to go beyond certain boundaries which, without such authority, he could not lawfully pass." In other words, I may roam around the virtual halls of the United States public jurisdiction and no other, a prison for my debtor, which is my person I carry in the form of certification, usually via passport or driver's license. By showing my virtual hall pass, thus proving through a publicly certified and officially published utterance (public identification) that I am a public subject of the sovereign and principal who owns and controls that legal persona (status) as assigned to me as the agent of that principality, I am confirming the contractual relationship between myself (as acting, registered agent for service of process) and the United States government jurisdiction and district (principal).

But we are getting ahead of ourselves...

While the underlying meaning of this definition of the word “publish” will not fully sink in to the average reader quite yet, its importance and relevance will certainly be realized in a most horrific way once this work in its entirety is digested. For to be a public entity is to belong to the public, which belongs to another. And so to be clear, by proclaiming that this work is utterly private in every way is to say that no ownership is to be assumed by any means or by any type of person, natural or artificial, legal or otherwise. To publish means, in other words, to transfer ownership in exchange for protection and agreement through subjection to a lower (legal) law. I choose not to do this, electing instead to remain Pure and Charitable in all possibilities under God, and invoking only the Highest Law thereof as my only Protection against this honorable den of thieves in legally established high places.

—=—

“Publication” is the distribution of copies or phonorecords of a work to the public BY SALE OR OTHER TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP, or by rental, lease, or lending. The offering to distribute copies or phonorecords to a group of persons for purposes of further distribution, public performance, or public display, constitutes publication. A PUBLIC PERFORMANCE OR DISPLAY OF A WORK DOES NOT OF ITSELF CONSTITUTE PUBLICATION.”

—U.S.Code, Title 17, Chapter 1, § 101

—=—

Again, under no circumstances should this work be construed in any manner as a “publication,” legal or otherwise. It is not a published work in any way or form. And so the author offers none of these above listed forms of distribution or publication, only the free use of my work without gain and without personal ownership by any other. Under no circumstances should he who obtains this work in any condition or form assume ownership of it, nor should his strawman person be ascribed with such false authority as to declare it as any form of legal property. It cannot be conquered (purchased). It is forever a private work in whatever form it happens to appear, with all rights privately reserved, and it can and will never be sold or published by its creator.

If, as I recommend, the reader of this work is doing so from a digital document and wishes to obtain a hard-copy of this work in the book-form we are accustomed to, complete with index, one will not be able to do so without understanding what has been written and disclaimed here. It is only available as a gift given by my Self. And I do not apologize one bit for this fact or for the difficult or limited way in which it may be obtained. There will be no receipt, no guarantees, no consumer protections... for there will be no political or commercial transaction between us, for I will not respect or deal with any fictional persona. If you feel that this work and its author (my Self), after receiving it (in pdf form) freely in Charity and without any expectations of anything of value in return, is worthy of a Gift of Pure Charity in whatever measurement and good will without receipt or expectation, then the author would be happy to give the Pure gift of a hard-copy of this work in book-form without obligation or expectation to do so. As Pure gifts born out of Pure Love and Charity have no need for a receipt or monetary consideration, no receipt should be expected for such spiritually driven acts of kindness. No record of any transaction should be considered or sought after, and the faith of ultimate Trust alone under God is the only foundation of duty one should expect, without any artifice of security (insurance and consumer protections) in mammon. One could call this by the name (noun) of reciprocal gift-giving, but then, that would be merely a fallacious and fictitious name attempted to be forcibly attached to that which is non-fictional.

And so if all this seems like too much trouble, then by all means take my gift freely without any expectations by myself. If you wish to make a gift in any other way, as the purest of Charitable offerings and so that I can continue in this voluminous work and in other future projects, I would be honored and humbled by such intentional kindness and Purity of Charitable Love as God commands.

And as a bonus, it would probably really piss off the powers that be, those legal creators and privateers of all this mischief in mammon, to use their iniquitous money against their own usurious intent. Supporting my efforts at the very least is an act of private contempt for that which has enslaved and stolen all things in legalized piracy, which ironically, is what this work will expose as exactly what has happened to the re-public-ed common peoples around the world and in every nation. For the best way to steal from all men is to cheat them in piracy without them even knowing it happened and continues to happen, through the illusions of word-magic in contract.

It is also declared here that this work should not ever be construed to be part of any “political activities” effecting any agency or official of the Government of the United States or of any of the several (private) States or their fictional, commercial state governments and agencies in allegiance to it or them, or to any section of the public within the United States or any other nation with reference to formulating, adopting, or changing the domestic, public, or foreign policies of the United States or with reference to any political, private, or public interests, policies, or relations of a government of a foreign country and/or State/state or political party, nor of that of any such artfully, fictitiously contrived “diplomats,” “Members,” “employees,” or to the politics and legal diplomacies thereof. Again, this is a purely private work intended only for the private, spiritual use of all men without the artifice of personhood. The author takes no responsibility for the actions of its readers or their unrequited desires to share it Lovingly in a non-commercial capacity. Any desires to hang any and all government agents from the nearest tree is purely a detachment from this work, for the author stresses that all men have been tricked by their false persona and flattering titles, even including the most dirty and corrupt of politicians and landholders that have enslaved us all. Only forgiveness for all men as the scriptures proclaim can solve these problems, and the word “forgiveness” as attributed here merely means to stop supporting, respecting, and participating voluntarily in their fictional matrixes and financial systems of mammon. For the only path presented herein is one of pure Charity and Love. There is no other way, no other path. We must forgive our Selves by returning that which does not belong to us, namely our false legal persona and all that is attached to it.

This work is not a creation or publication in any way by any legal person as defined in any of the laws of the United States, United Nations, or of any other legal or sovereign government de facto or de jure under any domestic or international law whatsoever. I am simply and without artifice that I am.

If it is unclear now why the author chooses to keep this work in totality and in perpetuity a private creation without limitation or registration, it may indeed take the comprehension of what in totality is written within this work to obtain such understanding. But here, now, I shall endeavor to explain especially the reasons for this disclaimer.

— = —

“A GIFT is said to be PURE AND SIMPLE when NO CONDITION OR QUALIFICATION is annexed.”

—SIMPLEX ET PURA DONATIO DICHI POTERIT, UBI NULLA EST ADJECTA CONDITIO NEC MODUS. Bract. 1. (Black4)

— = —

I offer my work freely as a Pure, unqualified, and simple gift under God’s Law to those who seek the knowledge presented inside, and without design or intent against any established form of government. As ignorance and lies are the only tools of mind control (govern-ment) over men, this work is offered only for the spiritual enlightenment of my fellow man seeking that very narrow path.

And so with sadness, I must clarify here just how this work may be obtained as a gift by those who seek an actual hard-copy in a book-like format. For printed copies in that familiar book-like form we are all familiar with, and as an exchange in the form of a Pure gift of any privately utilized currency or other thing, all of which to a spiritual man under God are foreign in Nature and useless but to the possible Reality it may falsely represent, the party to the exchange must know and acknowledge that this will not be in any way a legally considered or protected exchange nor a taxable or tax-deductible one, and will be completely without (not inside of) the “United States” as a corporation, district, and/or jurisdiction and/or any other political (legal, commercial, international, and interstate) jurisdiction, taking place in a purely private modality without any public or other artifice or protections. I am not a “natural” or “artificial” taxable thing or entity and neither is this work. I am not acting in any legal or other form of personhood or legal name or title in its creation, giving freely this work as a Pure and simple gift to any who ask. I am only a True religious man acting in Real Piety when regarded in any way in consideration of this work as defined within. I am not in any way valued in any artifice, money, or other valuable consideration, and neither is this work to be valued in any such form. There is no public sales tax required or collected because this work is not for sale under any government permission, request, public license, or as legal evidence in publicity, and under no conditions or circumstances should it be construed otherwise. If for whatever reason someone desiring to acquire this work in its printed “book” format cannot offer such a similar gift in free will without consideration and without expectation, this (digital) copy is given freely in good will, conscious, honor, and trust, with no expectation of future reciprocation or remuneration of any valuable consideration, Real or fiat, in any form or modality. No obligation for future payment or return is to be construed in any way, shape, or form by the free sharing of this private work in any format or form given by its author, nor by any gifts or donations given. It carries no value, thus cannot be commercially considered or sold. It displays no price or mark. It is priceless as God and thus myself intended all things to be. It cannot be purchased through any means, legal or other, and is not for sale. It, and the time I have privately put into its creation, is my own sacrifice and represents only my own private duty to my fellow man under the Law of Nature.

This work is not copyrighted and is never to be considered as a publication under any government permission or license. As a living, sentient and spiritual being acting only under the Laws of God’s Nature I choose in my election to make this work free to all who seek it; free from government exaction (extortion and/or/ taxation) and free from the conformity of publishing house editors, limitations, and censorship. However, this work is not to be considered or confused as being ever within any legal form of that which is misleadingly called as the “public domain.” That seemingly innocent domain is merely another legal term meaning the legal, fictional realm of the legal law and control of government, and I do not concede nor consent to the public’s ownership of my God-given christian name or of my own private labor and works.

If I were to “publish” this work as a legally bound “book” in binding, I would only be able to do so under a legal surname (title) or other fictitious name, and only by a marked number as legal coding, which does not belong to me. Thus my work would become the conveyed property of government (owner of the public works and all in that domain) to which my fictional estate (incorporated surname) would be assigned the benefit of mere use and profit until my certified civil (artificial, legal) death, at which time this work would ultimately become the sole and perfected property of government (also known as “the public”), only existing according to its own will and artificial law, whereas those “rights” may be re-assigned to another fictional estate and thus limited in its availability, or shelved and hidden from the private and public view of others as so many important works of history have been and are being clandestinely destroyed as a virtual burning. This is the true and corrupt nature of that seemingly free “public domain,” as we will discuss, and this work is and forever shall be no part of that adversarial legal fiction. Its Nature is free, un-enfranchised, unregistered and so untaxed. And that which is free under God needs no artificial means or false legal protections or permissions to Exist. Its Existence is self-evident. I need not legally prove it to any man in false legal title, for it has no legal capacity and neither does its author as to its regard.

One might find this to be a strange sentiment, simply because that same man (male or female) acting and thinking in and as an unequally sexed “public person” in bond and surety of a surname not his or her own and with induced and reeducated public-mindedness would certainly self-identify him or her self as part of “the public.” I do not, for I choose not to be a slave to fiction. My election is sure. I am that I am, and am not what I am not. If every individual man quit claiming to be and appearing as a fictional person (strawman) of and under government, the “public domain” would still ONLY remain inside of that legal, artificial realm of the property and jurisdiction of government, as would all controlled government granted copyrights and patents. It doesn’t actually exist except on paper and in the imagination of men who will kill to protect its fiction. With no military, no force could be used to justify this legalized piracy, and lawmakers and administrative judges would have no weight behind their decisions and opinions. For none of these are Reality, merely part of the big legal lie that enslaves the minds of most men in a virtual pirate cove run by legalized pirates that have clandestinely and through the trickery of word-magic stolen our private works through publication.

— = —

“It is easier to fool people than it is to convince them they have been fooled.”

—Mark Twain

— = —

A public patent holds no authority in the private hands of spiritual men, only in the public, dead hands of legal entities. For these are merely fictions of law attached only to the surname of man’s registered and assigned personhood in citizenship and estate, not to man himself. Patents are purely an object of greed in mammon. Their only purpose is to protect man’s acting legal persona in the commercial, legal systems of mammon, in the profits gained by his works in the tainted surname of government, using its created and monopolized money and royalty structure. Of course, a private use of anything cannot be protected by anything man creates, even that artful law of copyrights and patents. Patents and copyrights only protect a public person in the selling for profit and gain of his works by others in the public legal realm. This is to say that any private man may recreate any patented or copyrighted idea if his intention is purely of Charity and Love. If his intent is not to sell or acquire gain in mammon, then no patent exists. They only protect money, usury, gain, and profits in the legal jurisdiction. And so for myself and my work, knowing what I know and choosing to act in the Purest of intent, I need nor claim no such protections and securities from any fictional government, and restrict all legal government scripts of money from touching or attaching to this work in any way from every corner of God’s earth. In other words, I am Naturally free - a feeling likely never experienced by most modern “public-minded” men who cannot by legal law know or act under Charity and Love in its Highest substance and protective Law. I seek no license or permission to act and give freely of myself for I am acting under no one else’s fictional persona (status in law). My soul is simply not for sale, and neither is this work.

Artifice and legal fiction can only exist and be attached to artificial, legal things, of which man is not and never can be. Legal surnames (the last name) are legal creations of that legal fiction of law. So why would I create such a work, such a labor of intentional and mutual Love and devotion to my fellow man in warning against such an artifice as this, only to place it under a fictitious strawman name that belongs to that same unloving, artificial thing such as any legal government and its gods (magistrates), as if a Real man did not commit the action of its creation and labor?

No legal name owns this work. And it is declared here and for all times that no legal name ever shall. It is as a stone passed from hand to hand, a tool to be used by all who wish to utilize its power and subsequent knowledge. Possession does not imply ownership, only Natural, private use and enjoyment. No easement of any type whatsoever should be construed by these statements, and no profits should be taken from it under any circumstances without express (written) permission by its creator (my Self) and without legal formality. If anyone wishes to reproduce this work in “book” or any other form whatsoever without any implied ownership, patent, or copyright because of that action, please contact the author and speak plainly in your intent. However, no permission or right whatsoever, public or private, should be construed in any form by these statements. Use this work freely but never claim ownership through purchase or other means, for this work is unconquerable. This is the way of the spiritual man in his spiritual works. This is what we all must become. This is my first step...

Upon the (artificial) civil death of a fictional person named Clint Richardson, occurring either in criminalization and especially in the case of my (its agent's) voluntary abjuration of any and all legal fiction realms, the perceived status of this work will never change, for it is and never was or will be attached to that legal entity. It will remain private, for it was never designed or intended to be published in that public realm where only fictions exist and subsist. Upon my actual (Natural/Physical) death, this work is at that point and for all time to be considered as a work and principal property of Jehovah ("God") as specifically defined herein, and for all time heretofore and hereafter free to all and restricted by no government or other legal or real entity or agency thereof, as the property of no man or person but my Self and my posterity and all who seek to protect it from such legal atrocities. No legal status shall ever be assigned to this work. This work is never to be the property of any other man, person, agent, principal, sovereignty, or any other living and/or fictional entity Existing or non-existent, Real or artful. These legal entities and idolators may attempt to burn and erase every copy, but I have faith that my fellow, spiritually oriented man may preserve and protect what is revealed herein. The right of copy and distribution shall never be owned or claimed by any government, man, or person of any government or of any private State, held only by myself privately and without artifice, which is to say that no man or legal entity may ever hold said right or privy in limitation of any other man under any law or title, just or unjust, de jure, de facto, or de gracia.

This preface is to be considered as evidence, legal or otherwise, in every possible case whatsoever, of my (as the original author's) last (final and unchanging) will and testament as it pertains to this work. If you have questions as to the meaning of all this, simply ask. It's not as complicated as you might think. Or continue reading and discover just what this legal system truly re-presents. This is not a disclaimer in or under any of man's systems of art and law, this is the making of law under the equitableness and authority of God's Nature. This is a direct line and appeal to the Highest Law and Purest intent.

As for this very large tome of research and discourse, to call this work as a "pamphlet" would of course be incorrect, considering both its sheer magnitude of size and in the fact that the author is not sufficiently skilled in that ability to speak so eloquently as to constrict his thoughts into such brilliantly small but concise packages. For this I must humbly apologize to the reader. However, in the case of this particular work, such size restrictions would ultimately be an impossibility. For it is meant to be as much of a compilation and reference on the alternative language of law and of scripture as it is to be a guidepost for the reader's own navigation through such artifices (evils) of fiction, and also of those parables of spiritual choice. It is an encyclopedic dictionary, a walkthrough of the language that enslaves us. A short pamphlet certainly cannot teach one a new language, only utilizing it in a limited capacity and understanding. Therefore, it has been indexed as such, though no index will be available for the (.pdf - or other digital) format. Only in this way are the two versions different.

If you are somehow "purchasing" this work from a public or private "book store" or from any other incorporation, person, man, business, or venue, then they are to hopefully be commended for this action. There is no sale or wholesale price attached to this work for the purposes of resale elsewhere. It cannot be tracked or purchased from myself as a sale or wholesale product in any commercial way or without my permission, as it is my will that it shall not exist in that legal, commercial realm; instead to remain always a private work available to all at no cost as a pure and simple gift. If you have found this work unused and available anywhere but from my own garage, then I must have had a personal interaction with someone who wished to share this work in its "book" format as one would share a pamphlet; or in modern times a DVD or other digital handout through activism. Please ensure that this is the case before supporting any such monetary transactions with pirates. If through one's business one wishes to "sell" this work, please contact me and speak from the heart without artifice or ill intent, and be prepared to offer a Purely private gift in good conscious and unattached to this work, without any form of corporate intercourse, commercial name, receipt, insurance, tax write-offs, or pretense so that I may cover my own costs and labor when offering this work as a free gift. For I no longer choose to operate in that artificial world of commerce, which is and always has been nothing but human trafficking through the theft of the ideas and labors of men to support that system of mammon for the benefit of the few. Only private gifts will be received without expected consideration, and this work will only be given as a Pure and simple gift to whom I privately choose.

This statement should not be misconstrued to mean that I give consent or permission to reproduce this work in any form or format within or without any fictional realm; only that this finished work as obtained only from me (I Am) under only my private christian name may be given or traded away to others with only good and Pure intent and without legal and commercial considerations. No man, person, or other fiction of law shall have any right to copyright or reproduce this work under any government jurisdiction or authority for profit and gain without express written permission from myself, that is, the actual me without any legal consideration, fictional law, and persona.

I also hope to have a recorded audio version available some time after the release of this work, to which the same conditions will apply. However, I again stress the importance of this work as an indexed reference guide in its unpublished, indexed, “book-like” form. For who knows how long that artificial, digital world will last, or how long it will allow works like this to be shared in such an impermanent, artificially fragile digital form? If any reader wishes to spend the time creating an index or other compendium for this free digital work the author would be glad to share that with all others as well.

Lastly, and to be perfectly clear, this work is meant above all else to be shared. Just ask and ye shall receive. I cannot force anyone to be honest and with integrity ensure some form of gift or charity to myself, the laborer of this work, nor do I have any expectation of such an act. I can only ask that the current holder of it in whatever form consider the great pain and suffering (many years of study and learning at my own expense, career, loss of friends and of health) that went into this creation with the sole motive and intent of benefiting any and all who may acquire it, and the desire to continue doing so with other future works while being able to also eat and have shelter. Therefore, if indeed this writing within brings enlightenment, enjoyment, and awakening, I ask your help in perhaps contributing in Pure and Simple Charity to my future ability to continue to create such free works so that all who seek may acquire. But under no circumstances should this request be mistaken to mean that this work should not first and foremost be (digitally) shared freely and selflessly in its original (.pdf) format. Play it forward...

For no man is truly free until all men are free.

I may be incorrect, but printing this work off will likely be way more expensive than acquiring the printed book privately from myself. However, if the holder of this work chooses to do so, the same law applies. Always act charitably and play it forward, and never sell this work for profit and gain. For this would be a stain upon its intent.

As for the contents of this work, the author apologizes for the fact that the sheer nightmarish magnitude of information covered within (and in future volumes) can only be presented like a massive connect-the-dots puzzle. Ironically, as a presentation of the pitfalls inherent in the construction of the artful legal language itself, where we must define all legal terms as compared to the very same common word-terms as shown herein, this was the challenge of a lifetime. I am exhausted. And so for the reader’s benefit, please trust in the author’s final work as a whole, despite my sometimes purposefully repetitive ramblings, for the language as used herein is also being dualistically defined on the spot, while at the same time being constructed into teaching sentences, all of which correlate to all other parts. As above, so below; for all legal words interconnect with each other, a circular trap of deceit and trickery bound by the Reality of Nature. Thus a concept used in the beginning of this work may not be comprehended or fully defined until the end of this work. This is to say that we all must become aware of the secretive meaning and intent of the legal (usually figurative) version of all words, which not only accompanies our general, common English language in a frighteningly misleading similitude, but in fact appears, sounds like, and is spelled exactly the same as our everyday conversational vernacular. The Matrix is created to appear as the same, but is only a virtual form of Reality designed to deceive. Yet I assure you that these are two separate languages despite their seeming perfection of similitude. Dismiss nothing. The literal (real) and the figurative (legal/artificial) seldom carry the same interpretation.

Etymology as well, as the supposed origin of all words, cannot account for the artful, redefined legal alterations of any word when used in fiction as terms of any specific art. Any legal form is always that which is opposed to Reality and Nature. Legal is therefore that which stands in fiction opposed to God. Fiction and fictional (legal) languages have no rules except those created by their legal or artful creator. And so an appeal to the etymological origin of any word to disprove the legal meaning of that same word as a totally separate term of art is unfortunately a purely logical fallacy. It would be like using the actual forest to disprove an artful painting of the forest. The creator of the painting was not trying to pass off his fiction as Reality in the first place, and so the argument is void of reason. Do not confuse etymology with terms of art (fiction).

You might say that the devil (legal law and its practitioners) has a forked tongue. The devil's (adversary's) language uses the same exact words that we do, but each meaning behind this legal devil-speak is specifically intended and defined as the opposite of our common terms of Reality and Nature. Form without substance. And the devil only works in worded contracts, seen and unseen, written and unwritten, so we should always expect those legal words to be deceiving in any form. Not surprisingly, the royal societies refer to the legal language as the higher language, and to the common speech as vulgar; only useful for the control of the mass of illiterates as the nations of goyim. It is the king's language. To the legal societies and religious sects, illiteracy is merely a lack of juristic and scriptural knowledge, and this publicly-imposed ignorance and trickery is the tool of their general control over we, the common people. Thus, the common or general language of the common people as the public citizen-ships (the general public) is viciously twisted and turned into a language of fraud and deceit in direct opposition to Life, Law, God, and Nature itself. This magical spell (the spelling and construction of words) therefore must first be realized as a state of despotic dualism, where we are intentionally and unwittingly tripped up on our own false comprehension and wrongful understanding of the meaning of legal words, as our common everyday words in fact mean the opposite of the True intent under which we speak them, even while unwittingly acting in a legal capacity (in persona). We are in Rome, and so we must learn Rome's language or be helpless under its deception. This is the realm of legalese - the legal language - where fantasy and Reality collide to create the jurisdiction of legal law that so entraps all good men as one body politic under false names (nouns).

And so it is the author's intent with this freely shared work not only to teach, but to instill in the reader an acute awareness of this shadow of dualism that surrounds and redefines our every action, and more specifically our very use of words that do not belong to us. If the common language is good, then the legal language as its opposing force must be considered as evil. It is a game of destructively opposing nomenclature. Matter vs. anti-matter. Every art form, be it industry, law, religion, science, medicine, or mathematics has its own terms of art (opposing language) that only applies to the specific art and jurisdiction of that formal realm.

A doctor speaks in medical terms of art while a general speaks only the art of war. An attorney speaks in the artful terms of the emotionless, well-defined fiction of law known as legalese, while a mother speaks with only the truest intent and substance in each uttered sound, with such loving intent as only can be spoken by the abashedly undefined and ambiguous terms of a loving mother, with no artifice or form of art at all - a language of Pure Love and devotion dealing only in the senses. For no construct of language is ever needed to actually express love. And this notion is why we never comprehend our own failure to communicate with the practitioners of these various arts. Practitioners of the legal art speak only in non-sense; using artificial (artful) terms. Their languages sound the same, but are vastly different when their terms are defined within each specific, uncommon art.

Art is artifice. Artificial. Fiction. Form but never substance, just as a mathematical equation has nothing to do with the Reality it describes and defines. Numbers are merely fictional words on paper that form ideas and give artificial answers that may be then utilized in Nature's artful re-design by men. And so love cannot Exist in fiction. Love is vulgar and animalistic to the legal mind. It is undefinable, uncontrollable, indescribable, and therefore it above all else must be defeated or used as a weapon of inducement to contract.

The sayers and practitioners of each fictional art create its own formal language. The words of that language alone defines the art. The creators of the art (fiction) therefore create a fictional jurisdiction containing the laws of the art based on its own pre-defined terms. Like a cartoon, the art defines the realm where the cartoon may then pretend to exist in cartoon form, whereas in Nature the Design needs no words of art to Exist, for all of Life Exists without man's artifice of language. Thus we may refer to Nature as the capitalized word "Creation" simply because man is not its Creator. And so we may for ease of understanding call anything not created by man as a part of God (Nature, as the Creation that Is Jehovah). God's Nature is the Creator of man, not the other way around. All creations of man are only of artifice, and so man may only be the artificial god of his own artificial creation. This, of course, will be expounded upon greatly in this work. But please know that if this concept of God and all that is opposed to It is not understood, it will be impossible for any man to escape from that controlled legal (anti-God) opposition.

The jurisdiction of each art-form exists only according to the terms of that specific art without deviation. And so as we skip along in life from one artificial jurisdiction to another, from paralegal, medical, scientific, educative, etc., we generally fail to recognize the source of our confusion and failure to communicate between artful (artificial) fictional realms even as we speak the common language of sensual, hu-man understanding. Our inherent awareness of Reality interferes with our ability to recognize and thus commune with artificial things. While these artful languages are spelled and sound phonetically the same as our own in common, we might as well be speaking a totally foreign language. The common, general, vulgar vernacular of language, being the general or default language of all men - even those who cannot read or write - is what may be deemed as anti-art. And this makes all other languages in the form of art as anti-Nature; anti-God; Anti-Life; anti-spirit. For it is the only language that allows any expression of love and other emotions regarding the true substance of Life (Creation). Art cannot feel or express anything but judgement and cold opinions within strictly re-created definitions. Art can only refer to form or status, to Reality in name (noun) only, and thus never to the actual substance (Nature) of anything.

So how important is it to learn the legal language?

About as important as it is to learn to read and write, for the legal art requires not your ability to read or write its words, only your consent that it and its defined terms is voluntarily your highest law, whether you know it or not. For it is the devil's system of law, as a contractual dis-ease. It exists only with your own acquiescence to its false existence and authority, like a cartoon that somehow controls the Real world, though it is in no way a part of Reality. It requires your belief (love) in its false existence to exist falsely. If we never turn the television on, thus never giving its fictional characters and magistrates our power by respecting its false images, currencies, and artful jurisdictions then we may live and breathe only as God intended in the Purest of Love and Charity and no other way and with no art necessary.

— = —

“The latter part of a wise man's life is taken up in curing the follies, prejudices, and false opinions he had contracted in the former.”

—Jonathan Swift, 'Thoughts On Various Subjects, Moral & Diverting'

— = —

Note here again that etymology and the arts are two completely different subjects, one being the origin of words and the other being a special and official reconsideration and officiating (re-creation) of words under a certain jurisdiction, being utilized only in that artful, fictional realm and place (name of a fictional city, state, district, nation, etc.). While etymology is certainly relevant to the comprehension of the origin of common words, each art redefines its own terms, and is not in any way bound to any etymological or other outside definition of any of its own terms of art. One might consider this to be the difference between Real life and the game of "Life," where that board game version requires players to assume a game-created “character” (persona) that absolutely must follow the artful rules of the fictional game and be bound in surety by their specified meanings. The legal life of public personhood is no different than that game of artificial Life, as we will certainly come to find out.

Despite our induced ignorance, we are all participating in the legal art and jurisdiction of government without comprehending the effect of its unique terms of art; that always prevalent legal language. We fail to recognize its structure in political discourse simply because everything we say is literally opposite of what we intend to say, standing unwittingly opposed to our very own will and intention, often without comprehension it is even happening. For the legal realm of government is an art form with its own “higher” version of the Latinized English language. The contractual relationship sets up its own scope of terms and confirms agreement to the laws of which those specific, artful word-terms make up. Our motives are unwittingly diverted against our own best interests through this treachery of word magic, for every artful word is but a legal trap. Our strange illiteracy stems only from reading, writing, and speaking the general English language, no matter how skillful we may be in its use. Use does not require comprehension, only consent by action. Fools with PHD’s are welcomed with open arms, but only in the invisible chains of surety. For government protects the masters of fools, and never acts in the fool’s favor.

It is the intent of this work, therefore, to expose the reader to this supposed “higher” language. It is higher only because we never look up. It is higher because we stand under (under-stand) it without actually comprehending it as it stands in tyranny over us. We accept the artificial lower class and status it defines us as with its own unique “higher” words and terms of art, even as we vote to support (choose to suffer) its control over us without comprehending our own ignorance of it. We even believe that voting makes us somehow naturally free, even though we must be voluntarily enslaved as subjects to that very government to be bestowed with this right in a corporate, taxable franchise of voting for our own corrupt, commercial rulers. We vote for our own slave-masters.

In order to examine and contemplate fully such a hidden realm of word-magic as has been contained within this work, we must temporarily suspend our own belief systems. Only in this way was the author able to learn, kicking himself all the way. We cannot contemplate the opposing shadow of darkness behind every word-spell and legal concept unless we temporarily extinguish the artificial (artful) dark light (lucifer) that covers it. Hope, love, and other emotions just get in the way of comprehension, for they are never actually allowed as legal considerations, and so can only serve to confuse.

The reader is advised to take the following words to heart:

—≡—

“Empty your mind...
Be formless; shapeless; like water...
Water can flow or it can crash;
Running water never goes stale, so you’ve gotta just keep on flowing...
Do not believe in styles, styles separate man.
It’s a process of continuous flow.
Be water my friend.”

—Bruce Lee

—≡—

Finally, I must here state that somewhere along the strange adventure of creating this work, I realized that even my own intent had unwittingly been altered. While at first it was designed as an attempt to diagnose and save the patient that is our current society from itself, I now am composing it only for those who somehow are able to Naturally survive independently and in separation from what society will do to itself and its members in its unchangeable course of corruption, so that the same thing doesn't happen again in yet another false revolution - the circular history of repeated motions and acts. Round and round we go, empire after empire designed specifically to fail so that the aristocratic Order of the Phoenix may again rise from its own recreated ashes of Roman empire, all the time being driven by the same international bloodlines of timeless, false-immortal, corporate criminals. Do we allow ourselves to revolve back to where we started only to allow our children in their heirless, stolen posterity to re-live the past in the same forms of feudal debt slavery, or do we strive to force ourselves to devolve back into something that works outside of this looping cycle of the manufacturers of the Ages and of the systems of mammon without any and all artifice? Sadly, we cannot free our children from legal bondage without first freeing ourselves, as we will discuss.

Society cannot be saved, for society is a creation of man in the legal art, and all creations of man are ultimately only temporary. Society is a political (artificial) body. Society is the public. Society is fiction. Society is not in any way spiritual; it is unreal, not of Nature, not a Creation of God. It is only a creation and opinion of man's imagination.

In the end, only each of us individually can intentionally bring ourselves out of this dilemma, becoming shining, living examples to those around us. And we must then find, love, and live in each other so as to express our like-mindedness and protect ourselves from those men who claim god-like powers to rule in tyranny over our foolish belief in the legitimacy of their legal, fictional methodologies and false systems of law.

Can you imagine living without money?

Can you imagine acting and being Pure in Love, Devotion, and Charity to all men, even your enemies?

This is our only future.

—=—

A Short Guide For Utilizing This Work

—=—

—=—

“Receive my instruction, and not silver;
and knowledge rather than choice gold.
For wisdom is better than rubies;
and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it.”

—=—

—Proverbs 8: 10-11, KJB

—=—

Bearing in mind that this work is a learning tool for an entirely different language, one that sounds and looks exactly the same as the one we already speak, the reader should prepare to abandon long-held beliefs and customary, habitual addictions to many fallacies and falsehoods. Be they from patriotic, statist, religious, or other adversarial sources to Nature’s God, the enclosed information will be offensive only to those who hold themselves as a personal part (in person) of the artificial systems they believe in. Fiction and the lies they are built on often hold more power than Reality in the minds of men. For example, a man who believes he is part of any corporation merely because he is a member, in contractual citizenship, or an employee of that corporation, may identify so much with that artificial structure that he indeed defends its name with his very own life and reputation. And so a man would die to protect something lifeless, artificial, and unspiritual (unnatural) in every way, something that actually does not Exist. And that is the point of this work, for we habitually defend and prop up all that is artificial over all that is Reality. We are all controlled through our emotional attachments to purely unemotional and dead things, many made up entirely of words on paper. And this is why we are powerless to the necromancers who sell death over Life, flesh over Spirit, and image over Source.

While it would be impossible to read this work in its entirety without having some emotional response, I would simply ask the reader to consider that a reasonable discourse about a fictional corporation (church, religion, business, or government) should not be governed by emotion. Emotion kills rationality and prevents reason. The foundation of these corporate entities are only as words on paper, and not one of these artificial persons (corporations, associations, etc.) may exist without specific control of the minds and hearts of those who support them, so as to believe that those legal words are in fact a Reality of Life (of Nature). If the government is by and for a People, and if the church is only a body and temple of People built by men, then both of these are only as good as (or as corrupted as) the People who believe in and support them. And their crimes are only as passable as those corrupted People allow them to be for their own benefit.

Please note also that some legal words and other concepts will be utilized and discussed at times before they are fully defined, for instance, while being used in the definition of other earlier presented words and concepts. This, unfortunately, cannot be avoided, and it would be impossible for this phenomenon not to take place. If the reader has doubts about any of the concepts put forth initially herein, or has an emotional response based on prior or lifelong-held beliefs (loves) which prevent the reader from continuing, please know that all writings within this work are purposeful, and all that is unexplained will eventually be fully expounded upon at some later point in this work. The entirety of purpose here is to differentiate between what is Real and what is not Real, the revelation of just what is this legal matrix that has us under its control. Emotional response and defense over anything not of Nature is ridiculous at best, dangerous at its worst. Destruction of Life to further commercial and scientific fiction protected by militarized governments is purely a satanic (adversarial) pattern of thought processes. And every commercial on television and in print supporting the so-called “defensive” actions of the offensive United States military as it unlawfully occupies space in over 190 countries is based upon this corrupt pattern of thought.

What is written within is only designed to explain the Reality of all things. Belief and Reality often collide, and I can only hope that the search for actual, self-evident Truth as it expresses Itself in Reality and not as mere perception of Reality to satisfy self-interest or cognitive dissonance will prevail over the mind of the reader, allowing further study to alleviate subversive confusion and doubt.

—=—

“Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?”

—Galatians 4:16, KJB

—=—

The more one is vested in these artificial systems the more one will be offended by the plain, Natural, self-evident Truth of the Reality of that fiction. A doctor will be offended more so by criticism of the medical profession than his patient (victim). In his artificial, flattering title he may either ignore such criticism by retaining a state of cognitive dissonance, or embrace and verify these claim’s and their veracity. Only then may the man make a choice either to continue as part of the problem in person and false title or to discontinue his actions with moral compunction and Law. But ultimately, that flattering title used to legally commit unlawful though legally protected and licensed, malpractice-insured, iatrogenic crimes against man and Nature, which official statistics state are responsible for over half of all deaths in America. Yes, doctors (agents) and the principal corporations they represent in licensure of title and as prostitutes of the pharmaceutical conglomerates that wine and dine them kill over half of all of those counted by such statistics, for their signature is required to pre-scribe that which kills so many. We trust the title, forgiving the man. And we pay the greatest price for that respect of fiction.

An attorney may be offended that his job-title was historically and is of course today still officially referred to as deviling, as being a devil, or that of a devil’s advocate or a devilmaster, but only because he chooses to ignore the obvious Reality of his own profession and continues acting as that flattering title in cognitive dissonance, adding only vice (legal ad-vice) to all men in persona he pretends to help for profit.

All who profess these fictions of law in job and flattering legal title may hate the Truth, for Truth (God) comprehends no such fiction and no such title.

That being said, this work is an equal opportunity offender, written by one who has just as many reasons to be offended by his own writings due to his own “sin” in his own lifelong respect of artificial things. This work does not defend anyone or anything, least of all the author himself. I point this finger only at myself. It is not an apologetic compilation or justification for my own actions. It takes the side of no government, system, man, fiction, or religion. Its purpose is only enlightenment as to the Reality of those things and of their true structure and purpose, as defined in their own occulted words. Though this work certainly may be said to be a compendium in defense of man and all Life under Jehovah within Nature (Reality), it cannot be said to be in support of any artificial construct, corporation, doctrine, law, religion, government, idea, concept, or any other falsity used to control all men in order to keep them away from God’s Nature. For the reader to take personal offense at anything written within about things that are in fact quite impersonal and built in pure fakery... while this would not at all be an unexpected event by the author, I do ask the reader to remember that you are only defending an inanimate object or system, a building, a cult or club, words on paper, a fictional name or title, or some other form without substance as a purely fictional thing. Defense of names, titles, and organizations, as if these things are part of Reality, is purely a fools errand. That which is dead and thus unable to speak for itself should not be defended by any man, for that thing must be artificial, legal, and those words cannot be anything but a lie. We must not assign the qualities of the substance of the Living upon the dead. Only Reality; only the Living should be defended when defenseless, and that includes every aspect and substance of Nature. Only then can the dead no longer control the living. This will be made more comprehensible as we move on, for all things legal are in fact dead.

To this end, the author would ask of the reader a favor before going any further. This may perhaps be more difficult of a task than anyone has ever asked of you before, though it requires no physical exertion at all. My favor, asked only for the benefit of the reader, is to right now attempt to shed your name, titles, numbers, and any other marks and images of what you believe you are in society from your mind, if only temporarily. I am only asking you to read this work with a pretended innocence from such artificial concepts, as a child would view anything new without preconception and with a truly uninhibited inquisition into its meaning, purpose, and intent, so that the engrained false doctrines and concepts that rule and guide your civil life (in spiritual death) do not interfere with your ability to realize what real Life and Nature actually Is compared to these fictions of law. Let us pretend that by the end of this work we must make our initial choice to become a citizenship, a member, or be part of any other fiction, government, religion, etc. Whatever you think and have strong opinions about right now will make or break your ability to learn that the language you use in your thoughts and opinions is designed to keep you ignorant to the designs of those who have imprisoned you with your own thoughts. So before we go on, clear your mind. Hold no artificial certainties. Release your indoctrinations. Be childlike in your observations. Set aside your ego, or simply go get a different book designed to sooth it.

There are two realms, one of Reality (Nature) and one of fiction (legalism). While words have very little or no meaning in Reality and in Nature, that is to say they do not effect anything already Existing by their utterance, the words or terms of art in the legal realm are what causes that fiction to exist and subsist. Fiction is built only upon words. And so the author wishes to express here the fact that every word within this work, as expressed in legal form, has a very special meaning. Take no word or concept for granted, for ignorance of one thing will lead to a lack of comprehension of another in an endless and quite intentional chain reaction. All excuses are built upon fictional barriers, and no excuse Exists in Nature. For if one is barred by the Laws of Nature, no excuse thereof is necessary. No man can be expected to do that which is impossible, a maxim of law that exists in both the Natural and legal realms. The legal realm can only exist through these artful terms expressed by actors (legal persons), just as a painting (art) can only exist by the artist’s expression and use of paint. The painting, like the legal thing, will exist exactly as its creator and user applies paint. Likewise, legal ideas and legal things (nouns/names) only exist as expressions of the user and speaker of those words. One who is not artistically inclined will likely create a mess. One who is ignorant of the terms of art used in the legal realm will similarly create a mess for themselves, a circular trap of artificial wisdom. Only by learning the art can the artist and actor avoid mishaps and mistakes. For one cannot recognize a practitioner of word-magic unless one may recognize the spelling and false authority of those words.

But don't worry, many prisoners of the legal realm become painters while they patiently languish in their voluntarily ignorance within government prisons. For it takes not a crime to go to prison, and no victim is needed, only a broken civil and social contract in a presumption of citizenship.

Several dictionaries are quoted in this work, the abbreviated source of each source printed next to each copied definition. While it may seem a bit strange to some readers to be reading the definitions of words between rantings by myself expounding upon how these words when placed together control and manipulate our actions, I have found the key to an incredible mystery that I'd like to share here, which might make this work more reasonable in its construction. You see, I have found that each dictionary, no matter what type, art, or language, is a story to be told. But there is a problem. The words are written in alphabetical order. And so imagine reading the works of the greatest authors in history, from Twain to Dickinson to King, but doing so where the words are printed not as a story, but in alphabetical order, each one having a definition of their meaning in that particular story. Every person, place, and thing, and all the descriptions (adjectives) and actions (verbs) thereof, all printed out of order and yet in an unreadable order. To the average reader, this would be a fruitless adventure, and the book would likely sit on the shelf collecting dust for years before ending up in some garage sale or thrift store. It is not a lack of desire or want in the reader, for these stories of fiction and non-fiction alike are said to be the greatest genre writings of all time. But they are simply unreadable in any enjoyable fashion that tells a story, simply because their words have been rearranged in a way that happens in no other place or way. It is a completely unnatural way of looking at a story, requiring the mental placing of each of those words together like a jigsaw puzzle of the mind. And so whatever the intent of the author of those meticulously placed words was originally in story-form certainly would be lost, hidden by their painstaking order from A to Z. This also applies to the legal dictionaries, for they tell an incredible and dark tale, and we are all stuck living our lives under their fiction.

Most people, and with perfectly good reasoning, are not going to pick up a dictionary and just start reading from A to Z. Even fewer of those people will read one word and skip around the dictionary to be able to comprehend all of the other related words to that first one, as when we are instructed at the ends of definitions to "see" certain other terms elsewhere. But how else, mind you, can we possibly learn the art form and story that each dictionary is describing? How may we learn and then communicate medicine or engineering without first understanding each term and then using them not in their alpha-numerical listing, but in a complete and binding sentence that tells the story of our current dilemma of pain or pleasure?

But the question that this author puts forward to each reader is this: how can we follow the law if we can only see it and thus ignore its importance in its confounding alphabetical order? How can we possibly know and understand the law if we do not know the words that make up its story? But even more amazingly, how have we been made to follow this legal law when we have no idea what any of its words actually mean? It is a safe bet that the answer to this question is the same answer that will tell us why we've been conditioned to hate the words of the Bible. He who controls the meanings and appearance (publication) of words controls the man forced to use them.

There is a lesson to be learned here, for what we do not realize is that the legalistic law does not require any such knowledge or comprehension of its terms of art to be binding upon its user, only that we each volunteer to follow it through our actions. In other words, as the maxim of law states, to know the law and to be bound by the law are considered as THE SAME THING by the agents and agencies of law. I need not know the law to be under it, which is why totally illiterate folks signed their name with an X. And some reports today claim that at least 50% of Americans are indeed illiterate. So if they cannot read the law, how can they understand the law? A man that cannot read or write is still under the law, not because he knows the law, but because he is birthed under its artful creators and he confirms its authority over him by use of its legal entity, its person (status) and benefits. Only a fool, which we all are, would agree to be bound by a law that cannot be comprehended nor known in the Nature self-evidence. For you see understanding in the legal realm means only to STAND UNDER some authority and law. I need not a critical mind to be confounded and governed by such corrupting law. And this is how we are all controlled by the words of law, through our ignorance thereof combined with our blind acceptance of that which we do not know, of that which is written in the devil's forked tongue.

CONFOUNDED - participle passive - 1. MIXED OR BLENDED IN DISORDER; perplexed; abashed; dismayed; PUT TO SHAME AND SILENCE; astonished. 2. Enormous; as a confounded story. [Vulgar.] (Webs1828)

—=—

Silence is consent. Shame and especially shameful ignorance leads to silence. And misspoken words might as well be silence. And so knowledge is more valuable than all the worldly wealth that can be had, as the scriptures tell us repeatedly, for only with knowledge can one be free from the power of the unknown. Ignorant speech is no better and is often worse than silence, as the using of the legalized version of words that mean the opposite of what we intend to express by our common parlance's.

And so as we proceed with this story of each of our false personas, our strawmen, and as these usually alphabetized words are instead displayed by this author in a story form that reveals their correlation with each other as well as their alternative and often opposing or adversarial (satanic) meaning to Reality in that figurative legal art and realm, remember that these dictionaries of law all tell a story, and that the story they tell is hidden in plain sight. But the stories they tell, just like any tale of old to be told, are displayed in a way that cannot be read as a story. And this is purposeful. For the Bible too is a story of the Highest Law, told not in some dry and impossible dictionary format but with personified and anthropomorphized characters that act out the law in parables and allegorical tales that relate to all men. Ironically, in this work, the author is assigned with two opposing missions: firstly, to tell the story of the legal law from the words provided in legal dictionaries, and secondly, to use dictionaries, lexicons, and concordances to show the true meanings of the words used in those parabolic scriptural stories, for to translate them into modern english is the gravest mistake imaginable. To read a story without knowing the meaning and origins of the words used to tell it is a futile effort, which is exactly what the power-brokers and controllers of church and state wish to see in its general population of goyim. The intent of any work can only be known by comprehension of the language and terms used at the time of the actual writing. And so I am left with the dual task of defining (deciphering) the storied words of the Bible and un-alphabetizing (ciphering) the un-storied words of the legal dictionaries. Both of these tools are needed to tell a proper story, for to read any story its words must be decipherable by having available their dictionary meanings and rules of use at hand. Intent is everything. To hide intent by hiding the meaning of terms is the ultimate deceit and the main tool of control of all corporate governments and licensed religious incorporations of the state.

—=—

"Education is useless without the Bible."

—Noah Webster

—=—

The purpose of this work is to tell that story of the law of man (fiction), as confounding and twisted and downright evil as it is, as compared to that Law of scripture (Reality), by deciphering the alphabetical cipher and exposing each as it connects with the others. It is the intent of this author to tell you the story of the law that has never been told outside of the coded Order of the creators of this art of legalism. And so for the first time in our lives, we need not continue to use ignorance of either law as an excuse. And for the first time, the individual will stand in the position that he or she will be forced to make a choice, an election, based on knowledge. For to know the corruption of man's law and still act under its legalistic authority is the penultimate sin.

The main dictionary sources used herein are the following dictionaries and Bible:

(Webs1828) - Noah Webster's Dictionary of the English Language, 1828. Considered as the most revered American English Language dictionary ever created, from the "Father of American Scholarship and Education" and taking 28 years to compile and complete. Noah, being now long dead, cannot be blamed for the corrupted recreation of the modern "Webster's" dictionaries of today, despite his very namesake being used falsely by modern-day corporations to legitimize them in the horrific syndicalism of government's educational institutions.

(Bouv1856) - Bouvier's Law Dictionary, 1856, as commissioned and made law by congress, as "Adapted to the constitution and laws of the United States of America and of the several States of the American Union." What else but this should be used to define the intent of the legal terms of art used in the U.S. constitution?

(BouvMaxim) - Bouvier's Law Dictionary (Maxims/principles of law section), 1856

(Bouv1874) - Bouvier's Law Dictionary, 14th Edition, 1874

(WCA1889) - William C. Anderson's, A Dictionary of Law, 1889, as "A dictionary of law: consisting of judicial definitions and explanations of words, phrases, and maxims: and an exposition of the principles of law: comprising a dictionary and compendium of American and English jurisprudence."

(Black1) - Black's Law Dictionary, 1st edition, 1891

(Black2) - Black's Law Dictionary, 2nd edition, 1910

(Black4) - Black's Law Dictionary, Revised 4th edition, 1968. All of Black's dictionaries are considered as a legitimate though generally secondary source for legal terms and concepts in the courts.

(KJB) - King James Bible, as the King's (Crown's) patented law, translated from the 1611, and part of the unenforced common law of America. I do not call this as a Bible "version" because it is "in fact" an original, patented work, a simulacra (copy without an original) formed of the English (dog-Latin) language to hide the True intent of the ancient and Natural knowledge of the many scriptures.

— — —

Please note that for ease of use and comprehension, the citations in each dictionary definition with reference to court cases and decisions, statutes, and other legal source descriptions, historical references like dates and authors, and of the individual authors who created them have been deleted from these official definitions. Readers may seek this information easily by sourcing these dictionaries for themselves, and by this editing alone many dozens of confusing pages were able to be cut from this work. About these edited-out sources and informations, the reader should not be so concerned with the particular source, time, place, and jurisdiction by which these definitions were created, though this is of course very important. But paramount here for this work is the fact that these are mostly court decisions and opinions, and so the reader should realize that any word can be applied to suit any current legal need of the court (the state). In fiction, anything goes at any time, and fictional words are anchored to nothing in the Real.

If Bugs Bunny needs a hat, that hat is merely drawn in by the creator of the law to suit its needs. So too is the law created and recreated at the whim of its creator gods (magistrates). To be under a legal fiction means already that every word is a legal lie, and so one should never expect the court to honor the Nature of Reality or Law, even its own false law, in any way, shape, or form. For the court has no substance in Reality, existing only when and where its own jurisdiction is established and agreed upon (consented to) by all involved. Word definitions will be changed according to modern need, as will be shown. It is this fact that we are concerned with - not foolish beliefs in the veracity of any singular definition, constitution, or system of law, but of the shocking fact that they would actually define these words in such an evil and unlawful (but legally permissible) way, and can and will do so at any time to suit their commercial needs, their pocketbooks, and their proclaimed majesty. The origin and foundation of these words seldom change, based mostly in their Latin and Greek contexts. Again, all of these purposefully deleted notes may be found quite intact within their quoted sources, mostly that of the specific court cases referred to. This was done purely for ease of illustration, use and comprehension and for no other purpose. No deceit or obfuscation is intended, and all digitalized dictionaries will be available on my website (StrawmanStory.info) as long as it is up-kept for the readers benefit.

Paragraphs with words described in a purely etymological word origin type, with the word underlined but without being bolded, presented like this word etymology, are sourced from the Online Etymology Dictionary by Douglas Harper (etymonline.com) unless otherwise notated.

All other sources and quotes from history, law, court cases, U.S. Code, authors and poets, etc., will be sourced in full and individually so. No footnotes will be used in this work due to its nature, and all sources will appear with their quoted works.

Chapters are used within, though this work could technically be read as one entire work just as any dictionary might be read (from A-Z). As more of a customary functionality, chapters are thus inserted herein.

Repetition of certain terms and concepts within is an intentional act by the author. The same thing can be said in many different ways and with several different words, which often gives the appearance that word definitions are changed in court proceedings when indeed they are not. The addition of word-terms alters the meaning or subject of the root word, and grammar plays an ultra-important role in how we are treated (how our appearance or lack thereof is respected). For a term of Nature can be so easily twisted into a term of art (fiction) and names (nouns) replace the Reality (verbs, adjectives) they are attached to. Again, as the reader will come to know, every word in the legal art is attached to and dependent upon every other word, as defined above so too defined below. In fiction, words make up the entirety of the world. In Reality, no words Exist. The Nature of Reality never changes despite these legal terms and names of art, any more than a painting changes the actual subject of that art in the Reality of Nature. Art is only ever perception of Reality, sometimes called personal "truth," but never actually Reality Itself. Thus lies can also be called as legal "truths" or "facts." This is the false nature of man's creations and imaginations, which are only ever temporary, and which are always opposed to the Reality of God's Nature (Creation). 1,000 paintings or 10,000 words foisted upon Nature will never actually change or effect Nature, though perception of their fictional "truth" over their re-presented Reality in the minds and imaginations of men made to believe in the painting (fiction) and words over that of the Reality (Nature) it re-presents in artifice is certainly the cause of most of our collective problems. Words and images effect man, and only then does man effect Nature, making man only a puppet to his own beliefs. For even men can be painted as gods, their fictional titles believed (loved) by the billions who suffer that costume jewelry called a crown over the only real treasure that is knowledge. For with knowledge of the king's secrets and hidden-in-plain-sight language no man can be king over men, and no knowledgeable man can be made a slave but by money and pretended wealth and power given in exchange for his acceptance of and allegiance to the big lie. It's all fakery. And it all must be put to an end in the individual minds and imaginations of men, the source from whence it was formed in the first place.

Words that appear to be hyphenated when they should not be are also an intentional editing by the author. The reader should, by the end of this work, know exactly why each word is separated into its formal parts.

All aspects of this work have purpose. Ignore nothing. Dismiss nothing. Only fools continue in any action without a full comprehension of its source flow and structure of law. This is the legal way. This is the way of madness and patriotism.

As for the disposition of the author, the following quotes perhaps best describe my own outlook and perceptions, and may hopefully defeat any notion of mistaken expression of egotism that might be perceived by the overtly discerning and opinionated reader stuck in his own legal delusion. For I concur wholly with the idea that:

— ≡ —

“All intelligent thoughts have already been thought; what is necessary is only to try to think them again.”

“Ignorant men raise questions that wise men answered a thousand years ago.”

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe (separate quotes)

— ≡ —

While attempting to fathom the vast amounts of research and word-terms within this work, please proceed with this one constant: the author is not trying to re-define the language you speak to your children, your spouse, or to the rest of the Real world. The author is merely presenting the reader with factual evidence that the common language you currently speak is not the same as the “king’s” legal language, and that this fact is harming yourself and your loved ones in the fullest of degrees through the ignorance of misguided intention. In other words, and this point is key, you may as well be completely illiterate with regards to reading, writing, and rhetoric when in the legal realm of jurisdiction (which commercially speaking in citizen-ship is in legal, artificial existence at all times), for the common, spoken language certainly sounds and is spelled exactly the same as its legal counterpart. But those artful, legal words actually have very different and special definitions depending on status (person-hood). Their very purpose is only and has only ever been to deceive the many, and specifically to cause us to deceive ourselves. Fiction is never Reality.

Let’s look at some examples to get the reader into the mood...

What would your answer be if a judge were to ask you if you are a “man” in his courtroom (jurisdiction)? What would your answer be? The typical illiterate, public-minded citizen would answer yes, or even more foolishly claim they are a wo-man due to the ridiculousness of social conditioning. But very few men would actually attempt to clarify what that word “man” actually means coming from that devilmaster’s mouth and how it is particularly being used by that judge in his own jurisdiction, whether generally or specifically, in public or in private, as a noun, an adjective, or as a verb, as a name, a title, or as a status, or as a term of Nature or a term of the civil law.

So are you, the reader, a man?

Man can mean slave. It can mean male or female or both considered together. It can mean employee. And it can mean a Creation of God. In Latin it is homo. It’s all about context; the con of artful word-text. These governments of man expect most men to never question the words used to describe their status (persona) by their gods (magistrates), so that we will never realize that we are clandestinely being called as slaves. They cause even our own ego to make good that artificial (evil) id-entity which is opposed to our very Nature and Self.

—=—

“Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter... Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: BECAUSE THEY HAVE CAST AWAY THE LAW OF THE LORD OF HOSTS, AND DESPISED THE WORD of the Holy One of Israel.”

—Isaiah 5: 20, 24, KJB

—=—

Know this: legally speaking, evil is good and good is evil, freedom is slavery, and liberty is only the invisible and open slavery of the legal franchise of political freedom. The dungeon master makes the rules of the prison, whatever its form and appearance, and every nation is only a legally (fictionally) bordered, open-air prison for persons (debtors) of the nation, and is but a virtual dungeon called a debtor’s hell. A good slave is allowed a legal, civil, commercial existence within bordered estates and municipal corporations (cities and counties), and that freedom is called a corporate franchise. If you don’t believe these few statements, then we have a lot of soul-searching and language instruction to catch up on. Fasten your seatbelt, because this will be like jolting your Self out of a decoded nightmare.

That said, remember that the legal language is always a fiction, always a lie. Its words are always artificial. And it is language alone that causes man to act outside of his own Nature, to root his Self in fiction. These legalized words describe nothing in Reality, only the false form and show of any actual substance. And so terms of art always oppose Nature and its Law. Real estate is just a bunch of paper. A corporation is just many pieces of paper. A public person is just a deeded bank note certified, named, and numbered so as to be used by men in surety to it and its masters above it ignore Reality and shirk their duties under the Natural Law. In other words, legality was created to allow men to harm other men with the protection and authority of man’s recreated fictions of law. We seek license to do harm to one another in any way possible, be it by “lawful” usury (interest) and gain or by legalized gangs called police and military officers that commit murder by license. Ultimately everything in the legal realm can only ever be nothing but words, falsely re-presenting and generally acting as a work-around to some thing or Higher Law in Reality (Nature).

Lastly, please always remember one thing. Any anger or frustration you might feel while reading the combined words within this work is only caused by a difference not of opinion, but of word-dissection. Words are vastly interpretive, and chances are that my words as written will be mistakenly misinterpreted by the reader at some point. If emotional outrage or adversarial thoughts well up as you read this work, remember that your response is merely to lifeless symbols on paper (or a computer screen). Stop. Consider. Ask questions. Consider my intent. Take notes. Move on. And likely your concern or question will be addressed as we continue. Often we defend things that don’t Exist in Reality and are upset when we imagine them to be something offensive in our minds, such as our flattering titles, our ethnicities, our countries, and even our names. Wars are literally only ever started to defend fictional, artificial things, and this is a horrific realization. Life is extinguished to protect anti-life, to defend that which only exists as fictional words on paper. Information. Within these many pages, the reader would be hard-pressed not to find the answer to any questions or concerns that might pop up. Nothing in this book is designed to harm or anger the reader. It is only the Truth as it corresponds to Reality that ever hurts our own egotistical imaginations and representations of ourselves and of our world view. And it is only Truth of Reality and exposition of how fiction is imagined to be Reality that is presented herein, limited only by the limitations of the author's competency in articulation. When you reach the end of this work, you will find that there is nothing to buy, there are no leading statements to provoke you to join any group, religion, club, or government. There is absolutely no ulterior motive to this work. Please read it with the same regard as that purity of intention for which it was written in. Words cannot harm you unless you let them, and my words cannot harm you unless you love the artifice of fiction more than the Reality of Nature. Sadly, as Huxley so eloquently stated, slaves often "learn to love their servitude" despite their own best interests; and servitude only exists as that big legal lie that mentally enslaves us all. Ironically, it is only through language arts that this enslavement is possible. For even the soldiers who use force are controlled only by their beliefs (love) in the legitimacy of the fictional crown of their master. Thus, the perfect soldier is the most illiterate of all men.

The goal of this work is to allow those who want to know, those who wish to see and hear, to conduct themselves no longer in a defenseless position due to the ignorance of the legal meanings of these entrapping words, but to act instead always in an innocent, Pure state of Being. For if man cannot perceive the legal fiction falsely attached to everything around him, he is destined to live his own life as a fictional character as well, enslaved to the artifice of man's imagination. If he cannot see the words that make up the program of the legal matrix, then he will always remain plugged in to its artificial, virtual, coded false reality. And when the fictional name is summoned like a demon by these devil-masters of the legal realm, so too will the man be tricked into appearing as that fictional demon within its courts like a puppet on strings.

If you think you know what a demon and a devil is, then you really need to learn the legal definitions for these words before the next time your strawman gets summoned to legally appear before them in their own designed courts of this legal debtor's hell.

And so we begin...

— = —

Prelude: A Word About God

— = —

— = —

“For all the gods of the nations are idols...”

— = —

—Psalms 96:5, KJB

— = —

Memorize this Psalm, for it is the key to knowledge.

There are two words, the penultimate words, that by the end of this work the reader should be very clear as to their Primary and secondary meanings. And so here at the beginning, let us ask about two of the most misunderstood words in all of our history.

What does the word “God” mean?

What does the word “Jesus” mean?

Hint: these are trick questions, each with more than just one answer; for only one answer is True and of Nature, while all the others only of fiction. I promise, clarity will be forthcoming...

The only way to truly under-stand the full spectrum of “law” is to legally under-stand what and who are the gods that created it. For the only way to under-stand any creation is to know who or what created it. More to the point, it is the intentions of those creator gods of incorporated governments and religions that we must here uncover and acknowledge, for the only purpose of any god (creator) of an empire is to enslave others under its own created laws. This is the true religion of all governments of all the nations of the world. And all the gods of the nations are idols.

Still more important is the knowledge that the only way to escape from under the legal status and standing (under-standing) of these legal gods and their realm of legal and ecclesiastical juris-diction, a word that means to say what law is by diction and to dictate what the Latin jure or English law is, is to spiritually under-stand what the True God Is as compared to these Godless fictions of law standing in their own false deity, and to act accordingly and opposed to those institutions under the Ultimate Authority of God’s Law of Nature without respect to all other forms of the artificially created “legal” law of man. This is the essential hierarchy of all law. Good vs. evil. Reality vs. fiction. God vs. satan. And to be clear, no man may ever comprehend any form of law until God is acknowledged as the Highest Law-Giver and Creator of all of Nature, including man. This will become clear and self-evident as we progress, requiring not some empty belief in any form or image of what “God” Is but merely an understanding of the foundations of the law as created by the “noble” psychopaths that believe they are God’s chosen People and that their kings and popes are Christ. Perspective is everything. And without gaining the perspective of your enemy you may never defeat it. The greatest enemy of man is false knowledge, as the belief (love) in what is not Real. False knowledge is the fruit of evil, and is also called as satanism, as that which is adversarial to the only Truth (God). If it helps the reader to personify good and evil into God and satan, so be it. The force of the organized church is strong in its delusions. But do not allow these images with no substance cloud your understanding of what these words actually mean. The word satan means only that which is adversarial to God. The word evil (lies) means that which is adversarial to good (Truth). Satan is said to be the king of lies. God is said to be the Light of Truth. No image or idol is necessary to believe in God, for a picture of God is only Truth and the Nature of Reality personified. No image or idol of satan is necessary, for a picture of satan is only the artificial version of truth, lies told and legally and/or religiously accepted in order to hide away the Nature of Reality and conquer it. The very belief (love) that God may be seen in some imagined appearance and in show as the form of man’s desires is what allows man to pretend to be gods.

This work is designed as evidence of this Reality (God) so often hidden by the fictional matrix of man’s created designs. It is an expose’ on the legal fictions of law that serve only to challenge God’s Nature, Design, and Law. For it is only this adversarial (satanic) creation and respect by men of the legalized truth of lies that gives power to the fictional things of government and thus to the government of fictional things. To live legally; to live in an imaginary world (jurisdiction) adversarial to ones own True Nature and best interest is the very nature of satanism. And let’s be clear, all creations of man’s law, religious (ecclesiastical) or governmental, are only ever unnatural legal fictions.

But what came first, the jurisdiction (realm) or the law that is dictated and enforced within it; the chicken or the egg?

Strangely enough, neither! For one cannot fictionally exist without the other. A god must first be fictionally created in the minds of men before that magistrate may recreate and dictate its own law and assign its own juris-diction for the use of its agents. In other words, there must be a “creator” before any creation of jurisdiction or law may take place. And these legal gods are only constituted by men and according to their fabled genealogy, their blood inheritance. The imaginary legal right (juris) to create (dictate) a fictional place (district/nation/state) and land-lord (as legal god) over it, this is the essence of jurisdiction. It is the creator and the creation all rolled up in one intangible fiction of art.

In the beginning, the gods created their own fictional realm.

JURIS - Latin. Of right; of law. (Black4)

DICTATE - To order or instruct what is to be said or written. To pronounce, WORD BY WORD, what is meant to be written by another. (Black4)

REALM - A kingdom; a COUNTRY. (Black4)

REALM - noun - relm. [Latin rex, king, whence regalis, royal.] 1. A royal JURISDICTION OR EXTENT OF GOVERNMENT; a kingdom; a king's DOMINIONS; as the realm of England. 2. Kingly government; as the realm of bees. [Unusual.] (Webs1828)

JURISDICTION - noun - [Latin jurisdictio; jus, juris, law, and dictio, from dico, to pronounce.] 1. The legal power of authority of doing justice in cases of complaint; the power of executing the laws and distributing justice. Thus we speak of certain suits or actions, or the cognizance of certain crimes being within the jurisdiction of a court, that is, within the LIMITS of their authority or commission. Inferior courts have jurisdiction of debt and trespass, or of smaller offenses; the supreme courts have jurisdiction of treason, murder, and other high crimes. Jurisdiction is SECULAR OR ECCLESIASTICAL. 2. Power of governing or legislating. The legislature of one state can exercise no jurisdiction in another. 3. The power or RIGHT OF EXERCISING AUTHORITY. NATIONS CLAIM EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION ON THE SEA, to the extent of a marine league from the main land or shore. 4. The LIMIT within which power may be exercised. Jurisdiction, in its most general sense, is THE POWER TO MAKE, DECLARE OR APPLY THE LAW; when confined to the judiciary department, it is what we denominate the JUDICIAL POWER, THE RIGHT OF ADMINISTERING JUSTICE THROUGH THE LAWS, by the means which the laws have provided for that purpose. Jurisdiction is LIMITED TO PLACE OR TERRITORY, TO PERSONS, or to particular SUBJECTS. (Webs1828)

SUBJECT - Contracts. The THING which is the OBJECT OF AN AGREEMENT. This term is used in the laws of Scotland. (Bouv1856)

SUBJECT - PERSONS, government. AN INDIVIDUAL MEMBER OF A NATION, WHO IS SUBJECT TO THE LAWS; this term is used IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO CITIZEN, WHICH IS APPLIED TO THE SAME INDIVIDUAL WHEN CONSIDERING HIS POLITICAL RIGHTS. 2. In monarchical governments, by subject is meant one who owes permanent allegiance to the monarch. Vide Body politic. (Bouv1856)

SUBJECTION - The obligation of one or more PERSONS TO ACT at the discretion, or ACCORDING TO THE JUDGMENT AND WILL OF OTHERS. 2. Subjection is either PRIVATE or PUBLIC. By the former (private) is meant the subjection to the authority of PRIVATE PERSONS; as, of children to their parents, of apprentices to their masters, and the like. By the latter (public) is understood the subjection to the authority of PUBLIC PERSONS. (Bouv1856)

— = —

In man's fictional realm, we act according to what man's temporary judgement and punishment would be in a legal, jurisdictional court, not by God's final judgement. Not by Truth.

To be a subject of government is to be considered not as a Living man (verb) but as a named, artificial thing (noun). This is a bit confusing until we realize the difference between a man (Reality) and the person (noun/legal name) of man as his legal (artful) re-presentation and identity. The person is never our True Self, and is always the property under contract of some devil (evil genius) and its design (art).

Let's face facts here... If our legal id-entity can be stolen as "identity theft," then obviously our legal person (id-entity) is not our own Self! This separation of man and legal person (status), by this statement alone, should now be a self-evident Truth in the mind of the reader. What can be stolen is only a property, never that which is in ambiguity. The devil's greatest magic trick was in personifying the identity of man and projecting it into a contractual obligation as a third person, so as to cause that man to obey the law of legal fiction (confirmed lies) attached to that artificial, legal identity.

It is the difference between Neo and John Anderson, a man virtually plugged into a legally coded matrix as a simulation of Reality, so seemingly Real that the man is fooled into believing he is (in love with) his false self, his mirror image, the artificial character (person) re-presented in that artificially coded Matrix. For it is the person that is the slave of that fictional realm, and the man is contractually bound to act in said false persona when participating in that legal realm. He cannot be seen in the legal realm without a legal name as an id-entity. Only when we consider ourselves as opposed to this cartoon persona as a false re-presentation of ourselves can we contemplate Reality from fiction. And so this word subject, a term of art that does not Exist as a Real object in Nature, is only ever a fictional persona attached voluntarily to the man (via contract, as a contracted legal dis-ease) by his imaginary acceptance of the agreement of membership to the artifice (through citizenship, etc). The person is a virtual (invisible) plug connecting us to that fictional legal realm. Without a person (legal status) man cannot be seen or make an “appearance” therein any more than a cartoon can climb out of its artificial, moving picture realm. It is only our mind that can be plugged in, nothing else. But the body and the will follow the mind, and so the soul is also trapped in those satanist’s construct of lies. This is called hell.

To be clear, man as a Creation of and in God’s Nature, has no legal jurisdiction and never will. Only persons legally exist there. Man (as God’s Creation) is not a fiction, and can never actually exist or have actual (Real) power in such a fictional place, though he may still be called as a man (slave). perspective alters the meaning of all words, turning their Real meanings into fictional art forms. A master calls his slave as his man, and so too should all of Nature, including man, recognize and call Jehovah as the only True Master. Call It Mother Nature for all I care, as long as your worship is for what is Reality and not fiction. No Life Exists in fiction, no air and no water and no land. It is incapable of supporting Life. Nothing of Nature can be known as fiction just as nothing of fiction can actually Exist in the Reality of Nature, and so nothing under God’s Law of Nature can possibly respect anything in that alternate, fictional realm of legalism and its fictional gods. Of course, the opposite is True, for the fiction opposes and is adversarial to what is Real. Reality and legal fiction are akin to the notion of God and satan, having a standing that is diametrically opposed to one another. Man cannot be a fiction of law (person) any more than a fiction of law can be a man of God (in Nature). And so a man cannot ever actually Be in any legal, artificial jurisdiction, for man is not artificial, and the jurisdiction of the artificial law created by man only applies to artificial fictions of that same law (names/nouns of persons, places, and things) as created by that fiction. A cartoon character can only artificially exist (as art) and have motion (breathe) in a cartoon setting controlled by man, in a cartoon jurisdiction, but never in Reality. It simply cannot ever Exist in God’s Creation of Nature, except in the imaginations of men’s minds. Man’s fictional person (citizen-ship) is like wearing an artificial law-suit, one magically charmed and clothing him in false appearance within that fictional world. We wear this virtual halloween costumes for one and only one purpose, to hide our True Selves. And like halloween, we appear in these costumes of personhood in court without conscious thought as to why we are doing so, because our customs apparently say we should do so. These inventions of the law have no tangible substance, only false legalistic form and image, as descriptive words with no substance. They do not Exist in Nature. They are not Creations of God. This opposition is not merely a religious notion, it is the paradoxical impossibility of Reality that stands at the foundation of all Law. Fictions don’t Exist in Reality, nor Reality in fiction. Thus when we say God is the Creator of all Nature (Reality), we need only to keep this as our vantage point, of an unbreakable and Highest Law, so that any other re-creation of man in legal artifice cannot effect our Reality by causing us to believe in that which is not the Reality of Nature (of God’s Creation). One need not believe in some image, form, or name of “God” to comprehend the importance and necessity in law of this distinction, for man can only be ruled by other men acting as “gods” if we accept the fiction of their artificial realm over that of God’s Nature of Reality. The substance of God is all that Exists despite man’s artful forms and inventions by the fictions of the i-magi-nation. Again, this is not religion, this is very the foundation of Law.

Unfortunately, this includes all governments, systems of law, and religions created by man. God’s Law of Nature is nowhere to be found or practiced in any of these artful, legal, ecclesiastical fictions, despite the fact that they are founded upon scriptural law. Their only purpose is to create mythical gods (anti-God) on earth that are militarily protected by their own creations of artificial law. Of these fictional creations of man, all are opposed to the Nature of Reality, for this is their very purpose, to legalize sin.

Strangely enough, this will be taken as offensive to many members of these incorporated organizations, and possibly to all who are citizens of them. For these are artificial legal statuses that both benefit and protect he who subscribes to their fictions so as to break with that which is the Highest or Natural Law and duty to our fellow man. When man identifies himself within these artificial things, he can only act against his very own Nature and Law of Creation. He is tricked into acting against his own interests and to support those of his captor. Belief in (love of) lies causes man to lie on behalf of those institutionalized fictions of man, justifying their artificial existence and protecting the fictional benefits, licenses, and personas they provide to each of their believers (lovers), while assuming the role of its “subject,” and acting out only its law in opposition to that of the Highest Law of Nature. In short, man defends the evil thing (fiction) not because he is justified in doing so, but because his mind has been seized (purchased/ conquered) and caused to identify with that fiction as if he (one’s Self) was actually the fictional third person, as if he were part of its body politic (corporation), and as if it were actually part of his own Nature. And so any perceived attack upon the fiction is taken “personally,” as if calling a church evil is to call the man attending the church in person as evil. This is also how men are fooled into joining the military, by believing they are part of the benefited, fictional population of the United States instead of merely its political slaves, and so must defend that supposedly sacred (cursed) piece of paper that describes it.

Like governments, religions are only constituted corporations created by legal means. They are only words on paper. And yet their buildings, alters, and other corporate assets in mammon make the paper fiction seem Real and even holy. But as the brave reader will discover should his or her cognitive dissonance be defeated here at the beginning, it is the required law of these gods of fiction, of governments and religions, that only by submitting to subjection and obligation in a system of virtual slavery can these legal benefits be enjoyed by their subscribing members.

Remember what the Bible says about the scribes?

—=—

“...and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by CRAFT, and put him to death.”

—Mark 14:1, KJB

—=—

As we will discuss, all persons are dead. Fiction is not alive. To sub-scribe to anything is to stand under those scribes’ juris-diction, under the diction (words) of their law (juris)! It is to be spiritually dead to the law of God’s Nature, and to be instead commercially driven as human capital in a legal structure of capitalism under a money-based system. The pursuit of money is the pursuit of fiction. This is spiritual death, but is also a legal, civil life.

The word craft as used in this scripture refers to trickery through deceit and guile, as witchcraft spellings, the craft of word-magic. For a scribe deals only in the authority of words and a priest preaches only empty words in a public ceremony of false show. As we will learn, words and words alone are the tools of the craft of these legal gods of governments and religions that induce all men into their sterile flocks, and cause us all a spiritual death through legal means.

SUB - A Latin preposition, denoting UNDER OR BELOW, used in English as a prefix, to express a subordinate degree... (Webs1828)

SCRIBE - noun - [Latin scriba, from scribo, to write; formed probably on the root of grave, scrape, scrub. The first writing was probably engraving on wood or stone.] 1. In a general sense, a writer. Hence, 2. A notary; a PUBLIC writer. 3. In ecclesiastical meetings and associations in America, A SECRETARY OR CLERK; one who records the transactions of an ecclesiastical body. 4. In Scripture and the Jewish history, a clerk or secretary to the KING. Seraiah was scribe to king David. 2 Samuel 8:17. 5. An officer who ENROLLED or kept the rolls of the army, and called over the names and reviewed them. 2

Chronicles 24:11. 2 Kings 25:19. 6. A WRITER AND A DOCTOR OF THE LAW; a man of learning; one skilled in the law; one who read and explained the law to the people. Ezra 8:1. - verb transitive - TO MARK by a model or rule; TO MARK SO AS TO FIT ONE PIECE TO ANOTHER; a term used by carpenters and joiners. (Webs1828)

SUBSCRIBE - verb transitive - [Latin subscribo; sub and scribo, to write.] 1. TO SIGN with one's own hand; TO GIVE CONSENT TO SOMETHING WRITTEN, OR TO BIND ONE'S SELF BY WRITING ONE'S NAME BENEATH; as, parties subscribe a COVENANT OR CONTRACT; a man subscribes A BOND or ARTICLES of AGREEMENT. 2. To attest by writing one's NAME beneath; as, officers subscribe their official acts; and secretaries and clerks subscribe copies of records. 3. TO PROMISE TO GIVE BY WRITING ONE'S NAME; as, each man subscribed ten dollars or ten shillings. 4. TO SUBMIT. [Not in use.] - verb intransitive - To promise to give a certain sum BY SETTING ONE'S NAME TO A PAPER. The paper was offered and many subscribed. 1. To assent; as, I could not subscribe to his opinion. (Webs1828)

— = —

The name game... No spelling can be cast without a fictional name (noun) to affix it to. Legalese only sticks to legal persons, places, and things (names/nouns). Without language, no legal law would exist. Without the word-magic of the priest-class of scribes and attorneys no law would be binding.

All of these legally created inventions and incorporated institutions are only designed to cheat man out from under his Source; to take man away from his Creator and thus his very own Nature by figuratively separating him from the land (Creation) through the craft of word-magic. Legalese. And so the reader has a choice: stop reading now and continue in the invisible chains of slavery under that satanic brood, or keep reading and discover the story of your own voluntary enslavement in oppression by the legal means and languages of men acting as the idolatrous gods of the nations. As in scripture, as in life, and so too in this work, man always has a choice.

The author realizes the severity and acidity of these seemingly slanderous charges. Though self-evident with even a token bit of research and prayer in spiritual meditation, this work will ultimately destroy any doubt that what has been written here thus far is not merely an opinionated perception of the truth, but our collectively unwavering Reality.

Perhaps the most important verses in the scriptures of christ are the ones most ignored by the church. For to admit to the Truth of their own celebrated Source, the Bible, would be to admit to the false nature of each legally incorporated religion (artificial person) and, more specifically, each unique and adversarial religious post-doctrine to those scriptures. For what the christ character states in Matthew is simply that what he himself says is nothing more and nothing less than the Word of God. Word and Son are synonymous words in this context, and so to say christ is the Son of God is actually to say christ is the Word of God. Translated, we may call this as the Law of God, or the Natural Law, which stands in such beautiful and obvious self-evidence that it cannot be disputed but by artificial, legal means. And that's the point. Only the fiction can challenge, though never win over, the Reality of Nature Itself.

So that we are perfectly clear as to what any legally named (denominated) "Christian" religion actually is and is not, we must define terms. Firstly, anything of a legal origin has its spirit, and thus any Natural notion of spirituality, stripped from its purpose. Legality is always artificial, never of Nature. This above all else, makes legal religions inherently false. For True Religion is Purely Spiritual, and inversely excludes all legal, artificial considerations of man's art and law. Thus right away we know that all religions incorporated as "non-profit" under any nation are false (art), simply because they are legal creations; not a Creation of God but part of the i-magi-nation of man. Inversely, True piety is the worship of Creation and its Creator, in other words the worship of Nature and its Permanent and self-evident Laws without artful words or buildings. This is not at all difficult to understand, and is not disputable or debatable. No man can deny the difference between acting religiously (verb) and being part of an established legal corporation called as a legal term a “religion” (noun) in name only without acts, works, and piety. No man can deny that a building called legally as a “church” (noun) is not the same as being part of the church (flock) of followers of christ in continual motion and action and without retirement. One is of masonry and one is of moral religious acts. One is temporal and secular, the other is purely in spirituality not of this world. A corporate member of a church (noun) calling him or herself (in persona) as a “Christian” is not the same or even similar to the man who follows the spiritual law of christ as the Word of God, which clearly and repetitively states that man should respect no persons or flattering titles.

So what is a legalized religion?

Let us clear the air so that no misunderstanding can possibly occur except by voluntary choice. For the legal law requires voluntary ignorance of God’s Law as a pre-requisite.

Title 1, Chapter 1, Section 1 of United States Code shows us how the language we use and are publicly accustomed to is turned upside down and backwards when we use it in the legal jurisdiction. Remember, a corporation is an “artificial person,” and God’s Word (Son) respects no persons and commands the same from us. Also remember that the legal gods create their own terms of art, and so their own definitions are the legal etymology of each word. We must separate in our minds art and Source.

— = —

“In determining the meaning of any Act of Congress, unless the context indicates otherwise—words importing the singular include and apply to several persons, parties, or things; words importing the plural include the singular;

words importing the masculine gender include the feminine as well; words used in the present tense include the future as well as the present;

the words “insane” and “insane person” shall include every idiot, insane person, AND PERSON NON COMPOS MENTIS;

the words “PERSON” and “whoever” include CORPORATIONS, COMPANIES, ASSOCIATIONS, FIRMS, PARTNERSHIPS, SOCIETIES, AND JOINT STOCK COMPANIES, as well as INDIVIDUALS;

“officer” includes any person AUTHORIZED BY LAW to perform the duties of the office;

“signature” or “subscription” includes A MARK when the PERSON making the same INTENDED it as such;

“oath” includes affirmation, and “sworn” includes affirmed;

“writing” includes printing and typewriting and REPRODUCTIONS OF VISUAL SYMBOLS by photographing, multigraphing, mimeographing, manifolding, or otherwise.”

—=—

Imagine that... the first thing the United States tells its potential public citizen-ships is that their signature and subscription to its legal design is as the mark of a beast, a mark of intent, as our voluntary intention to be subjugated under the legal means of distress, distraint, and districted seizure (Caesar). And as we will dissect and discuss, the beast is each of us individually, our own worst enemy, not some multi-headed hydra created by church and state to frighten us as children into pledging our faith in man's corporations and our trust in money over God's Nature of Reality. The truth is so much stranger than fiction, especially when we realize that our respected truths have been completely recreated from the fictions of the imaginations of men.

We are all authorized by law to commit licensed crimes against Nature and thus against our fellow man. Usury is a prime example of this, being banned in the Bible but absolutely adored by corporate religions, some of which even have their own banks that loan at interest. And so we must ask, knowing what we are authorized to do according to God's Law of Nature, what does it mean in this United States Code to be a person with the flattering title of "officer" and thus be "authorized by law" to perform duties? Who is the law? Where is the law? What god presides over this law, or is the law itself a god made of words?

Amazingly, it is much easier for most common people to justify their actions according to this non-sense under a false temporary god called "the law," often stating that this is "just the way it is," while completely ignoring the Permanence of God's Creation, which Ultimately and Supremely without question is actually and only "just the way it Really is." I say again, this is the science of law vs. the spiritual Nature and Foundation of Law. It is an eternal battle against the spiritual Nature of man. And the adversary through its fiction is certainly winning in these modern times. And yet God is timeless, everlasting, and so I may take comfort that eventually man will either heal or extinguish himself from God's Nature. God wins every time. It would be the ultimate form of Natural selection, for it is our choice and election that will decide our own fate. God (Creation) will be standing by and Existing in all of Its splendorous Beauty and Glory that we call as Nature and the Universe and Reality for as long as we can survive ourselves.

In figurative terms, satan deals only in words, in contracts, in the selling of fiction and art as the cure for God and the Natural Law, and thus for man's duty to each other and to Nature (Creation). And so christ's spiritual appeal in the following verses is perhaps the most damning exposure of the fraud of all of man's religions built around the Bible and calling themselves as "Christianity." For the title does not make the man, nor does the Bible make the false religion or its doctrines. In the end, the simple message here is that by following christ's words we are only following the Word (Son) of God as our highest Law. To worship christ is ONLY to worship God (as Jehovah) and no other imposter of the craft.

IMPOST - noun - [Latin impositum, impono.] 1. Any tax or TRIBUTE IMPOSED BY AUTHORITY...
(Webs1828)

IMPOSTER - noun - 1. A PERSON who PRACTICES DECEPTION under an assumed CHARACTER, IDENTITY, or NAME. (Random House Dictionary, 2016)

IMPOSTER - noun - 1. A PERSON who DECEIVES others, especially BY ASSUMING A FALSE IDENTITY; charlatan. (Collins English Dictionary, 2012)

—=—

To be clear, christ and God are not separate concepts, but are one in the same. If God were to be limited to human form, christ would be It. But according to christ's Word, we are not to worship christ as God, but to follow christ while worshipping Jehovah (Truth/Nature/Reality). By placing Godhood upon christ as all corporate "Christian" religions of Rome do, we are allowing man to anoint (christen) himself as God's replacement (antichrist) upon earth. We are denying that man is always only a Creation of God, even as Jesus christ was the Created Son of God, and instead allowing man to act as God by acting in the legal, ecclesiastical office and "spiritual jurisdiction" of Christ. In order for these popes and kings and sovereignties of principalities to rule in God's stead (anti-, instead of, and vicariously in place of christ), man must first be indoctrinated by their false doctrines into believing (loving) the misunderstanding that christ was in fact God, despite the well-known Biblical tales of christ where He proclaims over and over his own helplessness before and under God. The christ character continuously instructs his followers to worship God by following his (christ's) example, but never does christ claim to be God's temporal and secular replacement on earth as the current priest-class and pope does. Christ did not lead his flock towards Caesar's pagan legal empire of false "Christians" but always away from it. For christ's example is the spiritual solution to legal authority. This is foundation of Law!!!

— = —

"Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk WITHOUT MONEY AND WITHOUT PRICE."

—Isaiah 55:1, KJB

— = —

If you can't imagine living in Pure Truth, Love, and Charity, without the use of names and titles, numbers and marks, money and credit, licenses and permits, then you are a victim of these charlatans, Pharisees, and scribes of the priest-class of Caesar's legal realm. And who among us is not foiled by these temptations? Which of these legal laws and licenses and permits created by legal gods and land-lords states simply to follow christ's example and no other and to have no other God before Jehovah? Why none, of course. They are opposed to christ and to God's Law, for they are legally licensed corporations under the secular law of the state!

We have all been made into imposters, our duties to each other turned into contractual debts as legal obligations to harm one another, and our ability to charitably interact has been utterly destroyed by the fictional characters we have assumed under non-profit corporations and incorporated municipalities. If we are acting in a fictional persona then our law is only the law of fiction. We live falsely under a false id-entity (the personification of id as a legal entity) and so egotistically deceive even ourselves with a borrowed identity (person/legal status) in our own created debtor's hell. But we didn't create it. We are merely cursed to live our lives in its sacred artifice. The creator controls his own creation, a maxim of law, and so we must look to the gods of this fictional nation to know the purpose and intent of our fictionally contracted dis-ease within their hellish legal creation. And at the end of every avenue of exploration and discovery, we find that the gods of this legal realm follow only one master. The god of mammon (money). For the realms and laws of nations are purely commercial in their artificial nature.

To follow christ's teachings is ONLY to follow God's Law. For to worship christ alone over that of God is to worship Creation over the Creator, for christ is naught but the anthropomorphized version of God incarnate. Even Jesus states that what Jesus says is ONLY what God told him to say. And so even the christos (anointed by God) expresses his own will that we are not to follow christ as a man, but as God's will for man in christ's exemplified works and actions. In other words, Jesus christ and God are the same. To worship God without christ (without example) is as blindness. To worship christ without God (without Source) is insane (non compos mentis).

And yet this is exactly how the church retains power over men, not by claiming to be God directly, but by claiming to be the director of the legal office of Christ incorporated.

No gods (lords) before me... the LORD of lords.

Let us read just one of many corporate church and legal religion-damning, in-your-face sections from the scriptures, as the Word (Son) of God.

—=—

Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: FOR THEY LOVED THE PRAISE OF MEN MORE THAN THE PRAISE OF GOD.”

“Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, BELIEVETH NOT ON ME, BUT ON HIM THAT SENT ME. AND HE THAT SEETH ME SEETH HIM THAT SENT ME. I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness. And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I JUDGE HIM NOT: FOR I CAME NOT TO JUDGE THE WORLD, BUT TO SAVE THE WORLD. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: THE WORD THAT I HAVE SPOKEN, THE SAME SHALL JUDGE HIM in the last day. FOR I HAVE NOT SPOKEN OF MYSELF; BUT THE FATHER WHICH SENT ME, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. And I know that his commandment is LIFE EVERLASTING: whatsoever I speak therefore, even AS THE FATHER SAID UNTO ME, SO I SPEAK.”

—John 12: 42-50, KJB

—=—

At no time does Jesus christ claim to be the God of judgement, only teacher and savior before the time of judgement. Believeth not on me, but on He who sent me. I speak not my own words but the Word of God. I'm not a judge, but a savior, and the only One Real Judge is God which we all will face. But what is judgement if not merely the consequences of our own actions against the Natural Order and Law of Nature? We seem to blame the empty name of “God” for all of our problems that we not only create but also respect, for we are appealing to some person of God rather than to what is Jehovah. We are not asking what this word "God" means, and instead using the noun (empty name with no substance) of “God” as a scapegoat. We refuse to blame ourselves for our own creations and participations in mammon, and blame an unknown “God” as if we followed Its rulebook (Bible) and got no results. We are acting as the worst kind of hypocrites to say the very least.

And yet this notion of Being as Savior is not to be taken literally, but only in the manner that man may save himself through the comprehension and abeyance of the Word (Son) of God. In other words, man may choose to follow God's Word (Law) by his Son's (Word's) example or he may fall into legal fiction and act legally (artificially/satanically) under the magistrate gods of men and their legalistic corporate religions, choosing art over the Reality it re-presents. God or mammon. We are not to worship the empty name of "christ" which can be bestowed as an appointment upon any man, but as the spirit of how every individual man should live under God's Law.

There is no Word or invitation from christ or Jehovah that we should come and be "Protestant" or "Methodist" or "Catholic" as our legally declared religion. The Bible is an instruction manual, not a corporation. In fact, you may have never noticed this before, but there is no plea from christ that we should become as self-entitled "Christians" either! Christ deals only in actions not words, constantly warning of the dangers of word magic and of person-hood and flattering titles, which only exist in the fictional legal realm and only with respect of fictional persons, places, and things (nouns). There is, in Nature, under God, no such thing as a "Christian," for God's judgement will not be on some nickname or flattering title, but on our actions in life according to christ's example. We will certainly expound on these notions in a big way as we move forward. But the author hopes that this discourse is taken in the spirit it is intended, in the spirit of one desperately trying to follow christ's actual teachings and adhere to God's actual Word of Law, as one who wishes to become as the example.

I suppose the most simplistic way to look at this is to pretend that God gave each of us a spiritual coupon. We may either choose to redeem it, through "christ the Redeemer," or we may wad it up in the backs of our minds and pretend it doesn't Exist. But the coupon is merely the keys of knowledge, and the redemption process can only be achieved by emulating the character of christ. We either display the Natural character and attributes of Jesus christ in the Pure Truth of God's Nature and Law, or we carry our fictional character in legal persona while submitting to the legal creators and magistrates (gods of fiction) against Nature, against Truth, and thus against Reality.

It is and has always been a choice, and always will be.

Comparatively, and as will be covered later, we can see here what might loosely be compared to the law of agency, the heart and soul of the civil contractual relationship. Could we say that Jesus christ was the agent (employee/servant) of his principal (God), spreading the wisdom of Its spiritual Law (Faith) around to all of the third parties he came into contact with? Crudely, we could. Like a vacuum salesman pumping the wares of his employing company, christ was charitably giving and teaching the Natural Law on behalf of his Master while voluntarily operating as Its servant.

I only mention this because the whole system of mammon is built upon this same notion of the law of agency, as what is called "volunteerism," which again is merely a legal term of art that actually refers to the doctrine of master and servant. In short, we must all ask just who our principal is, who we are working for, who's Law we are obeying, whose Word we are spreading and teaching to our children, and thus who our Master really is. For we may only have one master, one Law, as the scriptures exclaim. While a full breakdown of these terms of art will be provided herein, the reader should keep these above verses in the back of your mind at all times. Remember, what christ says or does is only as an agent of his principal Governor, of Source, under the Law of his Creator, his God, his Father. So too should it be with all men. And so we could say that the Natural jurisdiction of God is Purely that which is not the artificial, legal jurisdiction re-created by man, by what we worship legally (artificially) as the corporate "founding fathers" of this legal, commercial system under a nation of institutionalized slavery in mammon, and that christ's path wound ever so carefully and narrowly between these artificial, legal, fictional jurisdictions, always within God's Word and Design and always without legal fiction and names (nouns) from the false fathers of art and language (gods of the nations). In other words, christ never left his own Nature; never removing his "self" from the Reality of God's Kingdom we call as Nature.

In the i-magi-nations, jurisdiction is only applied to legal, artificially created persons, places, and things. In other words, Jurisdiction only applies to nouns (legal names and titles), not to the actual Natural substance of Reality Itself; not to what Lives and Exists solely in God's Realm and under God's Law. Legal law applies only to that which is anti- (in the stead) of what is Real, to the artificial creations (words) of man subject therefore to man's artificial law (words). All fictions are only ever made of words, masterfully crafted into magic spellings that respect form and appearance over the Reality of God's Design and Natural Substance. And so when any legalistic jurisdiction applies to man, which paradoxically it cannot since man is not a legal creation, it is only because that man is acting in agency (employment/trust) within some legal fiction (the jurisdiction controlling any legally created and named thing), using and traveling on some property, vessel, or vehicle conveyance not his own (within an artificial, legally created territory and jurisdiction as a fictional place), appearing as something he is not (a legal name, number, and status called a person), by assuming the name of a strawman (an artificially created legal subject [person] created by some god [thing] and its imaginarily created government [place] controlled by its own invented law). Fiction is never of Source, only a re-source for re-purposing. In short, this is the abandonment of God and Nature. It is called citizen-ship or member-ship. It signifies and empowers the fictional god of mammon, which is master over all monetary considerations and of things valued in the minds of men in money, including the persons and labor of other men. For human capital, mammon is the only master and manager.

— ≡ —

“The term ‘SPELL’ is generally used for magical procedures which cause harm, or force people to do something against their will -- unlike charms for healing, protection, etc.

—Oxford Dictionary of English Folklore

— ≡ —

Most often we seek the wrong answer from those overlords we call legally (artificially) as administrative judges (gods) of the legal fiction of all nations. They are nothing but agents of mammon, ensuring a constant extortion and exaction of non-existent wealth from the legal person's of men, for they represent themselves as the agents of the creator gods of all men's legal persons (status). It is strangely enough the fact that we ask questions that makes us subject to any answer offered by that god, for the answer to any legal question is only ever the judgement and establishing opinion of a legal god, and the gods of the courts only hear questions from fictional persons represented by agents of their legal, principal creator. When we pray for our answers to what Law Is while appearing before the fictional court in a fictional form (person) in front of the men in legal persona and title who magisterially administrates such a fictional realm of legalism, we will be destined to never receive that which is Truth (God), for all fiction is always a lie. We are simply praying (pleading) to the wrong God. And part of our problem is that our questions are asked in persona, in the fictional status of one subject to the law that binds us to the answer given to us in surety. We must obey that god's final, legally contracted and dis-eased word. For what we receive is not so much an answer as it is a militarily enforced curse. A Real man need never ask questions from an artificially entitled one, unless his desire is to subvert the power, protection, and duty of and to his True Creator and to add the vice (legal ad-vice) that accompanies that sin of artificiality under a person-hood. For what is more of a sin (crime) against the Nature of all God's Creation (Reality) than to pretend It doesn't Exist by acting and imaginarily operating outside of Its Supreme Law in an artificial persona (status) designed specifically to subvert that Highest Law? We seek, pray (plead), and receive (are legally granted) only the fictional, artificial proof of legal jurisdiction as opposed to what we should be doing, which is to question and demand the spiritual, equitable (Natural Law) jurisdiction of any artificial proofs of that fictional legal realm and its false gods against God's Creation (ourselves). And of course we receive exactly what we ask for in our legal appearance, which is never the Truth of the Reality of Nature or of God's Natural Law. We acquire only the God we seek and respect.

As will be explained, proof is also only ever a fiction of law, for that which Exists in Nature, in Reality, including yourself and all other life on earth, need not prove itself but by its own, unspoken, unwritten, and un-simulated self-evidence. This is also a foundational principle (maxim) of law. And so any proof offered against a man in a legal court can only ever be offered against the legal person (legal status) under which he is voluntarily, artificially (fictionally) standing before that judge (god) of legal, fictional things. In other words, we trap ourselves within legal jurisdictions because we ask for proof that we are in that jurisdiction instead of denying to the court its privilege of using any fictional proof that we (as men of God) are subject to any fictional jurisdiction or false persona. We do as we are told by them instead of telling them what they should do. It is only because we appear as if we are the legal creation (person) of that legal god (thing) that we are subject to the legal law (place, as a jurisdiction) of that legal god. For the law of the gods may only be applied to the legal creations of those gods, and man is only ever a Creation of That God which Created all of Nature and the Universe. Only abandonment of this always recognized Supreme and Permanent Creator God of Nature can cause man to fall into that fictional state of artificial, legal life; the spiritually dead engagement of a fictional persona created by those who call themselves gods but are not. Of course, we would not be standing before the court in the first place if we (while acting in its legal persona) were not subject to its jurisdiction, and we only stand there if we agree and admit to being enjoined by its fictional persona and legal title. Just showing up and identifying ourselves in U.S. citizenship by displaying a driver's license or other legal source is positively expressed proof and consent of false authoritative jurisdiction, for the identification proves the admixture of fiction to our good name and denies our True and Pure Source in God's Nature. It also presents our insane (non compos mentis) state of mind, as our wholehearted belief in the fictional re-presentation in persona we are pretending to be. What could be more insane? By legally appearing in person within any court and thus acknowledging its robed attorney (agent) as authority and judge (god), we have submitted to the fact that that entitled devil is our god (judge), and so any words stated to him are only a prayer to our temporary god, falling deaf upon God's figurative ears and considered only without God's Higher Law of the Permanence of Nature. It is only a petition to that man temporarily pretending to play in the office of god over us through our own voluntarily accepted fictional re-presentation of ourselves in legal persona (status) that is an expressed (consenting) acknowledgement and confirmation of its (his) false jurisdiction.

In a way, this sounds more like a science fiction story than religion. And you know what? That is a true statement. For this is the science of legalism and the legalism of false science. We are currently under what Huxley labeled as a scientific dictatorship. These are the incremental growing pains of Technocracy. In essence, the figurative, digital tower of Babel is rising once again, for we may now all speak the same language through computer code in a virtual reality. The code is recreating the world through virtual, artificial means, and we are all spiritually dying to get physically and mentally plugged in.

And so, in all seriousness, we must now pray to our false legal god. For his is the agent of the creator (principal) of the fictional persona we have just legally (artificially) appeared in. We are slave (servant) to it and the law (master) that binds it. We have entered the sacred (cursed) temple of those who rule and bar our spiritual journey by legal word magic, bearing the mark and Arms (seal and flag) of its sacred (cursed) nation in interstate and international commerce.

PRAY - verb intransitive - [Latin precor; proco; this word belongs to the same family as PREACH and REPROACH; Hebrew, to bless, TO REPROACH; rendered in Job 2:9, TO CURSE; properly, to reproach, to rail at or upbraid. In Latin the word precor signifies to supplicate GOOD OR EVIL, and precis signifies A PRAYER AND A CURSE. See Imprecate.] 1. To ask with earnestness or zeal, as for a favor, or for something desirable; to entreat; to supplicate. Pray for them WHO DESPITEFULLY USE YOU AND PERSECUTE YOU. Matthew 5:44. 2. TO PETITION; to ask, as for a favor; as in APPLICATION TO A LEGISLATIVE BODY. 3. In worship, to address the Supreme Being with solemnity and reverence, with adoration, confession of sins, supplication for mercy, and thanksgiving for blessings received. When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father who is in secret, and thy Father who seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. Matthew 6:5. 4. I pray that is, I pray you tell me, or let me know, is a common mode of introducing a question. - verb transitive - To supplicate; to entreat; to urge. We pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. 2 Corinthians 5:20. 1. In worship, to supplicate; to implore; to ask with reverence and humility. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee. Acts 8:22. 2. To petition. THE PLAINTIFF PRAYS JUDGMENT OF THE COURT. He that will have the BENEFIT of this act, MUST PRAY a prohibition before a sentence in the ecclesiastical court. 3. TO ASK OR INTREAT IN CEREMONY OR FORM. Pray my colleague Antonius I may speak with him. [In most instances, this verb is transitive only by ellipsis. To pray God, is used for to pray to God; to pray a prohibition, is to pray for a prohibition, etc.] To pray in aid, IN LAW, is to call in for help one who has interest in the cause. (Webs1828)

— = —

Generally, to pray or consider as holy (of God) anything that is a creation of man, as in that which is artificial or symbolic of anything Real and in Nature, is to cause the opposite effect of the intent of prayer. In other words, a vain prayer is a curse. To pray for money, as an example, is to pray to God for that which is opposed to God, and so this is a cursed prayer. Only the gods of fiction, the creators of the fiction of money (mammon) can be called upon by such a public-minded and vulgarly unspiritual and unnatural prayer, for the prayer can only lead the man in his own actions and false hope towards that debtor's hell he prays for. Thus the things that are considered as sacred by men in their artful religious affairs are only the cursed things of the artificial gods of nations. Unfortunately, every legal form 501 non-profit religion and church in legal existence is a cursed, false creation in mammon, sacred only to the gods of nations, and attended only by idolators that believe in and pray to fiction over Reality.

IDOLATER - noun - [Latin idololatra. See Idolatry.] 1. A worshiper of idols; one who pays divine honors to images, statues, OR REPRESENTATIONS OF ANY THING MADE BY HANDS; ONE WHO WORSHIPS AS A DEITY THAT WHICH IS NOT GOD; A PAGAN. 2. An adorer; a great admirer. (Webs1828)

— = —

Do you worship the cross?

By who's hands was it made?

The question I posed in the beginning must be reasserted here.

What does the word God mean?

And what are we worshiping as a deity that is not God by attending a federal corporation calling itself in legal, flattering title only as a religious "church"?

Here is where I may lose a few stubborn readers that may self-identify themselves only in their pagan (Romanized) legal persona and admixed surname and social security number under some denominated religious corporation (a legal artificial person) instead of as a Pure Creation of God's Nature acting in Real piety, for to come to grips with our participation and membership in fiction even when it seems we are doing the right thing under legal (anti-God) licensure and false law is very difficult. It feels like we don't have a choice to act any other way but by the rules given us under legal law and licensure, though this is not at all the case, since volunteerism (a contract of master and servant) needs not knowledge of law, only consent to its false existence, jurisdiction, and authority. In fact, God's Law is a duty, not a choice. To have the protection of that Highest Law, one must treat all others as we would have all others treat us. If we choose to ignore and break with our duty, we lose the protection of that Highest Law. We either live by God's Word or we live in the open-air prison within each nation under the false gods, contractors, and administrators of a legal debtor's hell. This is the important difference between living by the honor and duty of God's Law and in obtaining a contractually bestowed legal right or privilege under the legal, contractual relationship of a citizen-ship in spite of God's Word. In the legal realm, illiterates are welcome and fools are preferred. This legal fiction was built just for us and honed to publicly produce as many of us as possible, just as any commercial cattle lot would. This ignorance of the scriptures combined with total illiteracy in the very law we operate in 24/7 and the legal "higher" language it is created from is a plague of the minds of most men; a best-outcome blueprint of satan's perfectly corrupted society. It is not to us to ask what is right and wrong, and thus figuratively, what would Jesus do? Instead we seek what is conceptually and artfully legal and illegal, asking what does man's law say is right and wrong in its organized, legalized crime? What does my legal license and flattering diploma'd title tell me I can do, despite the Higher Law of Nature? Which of God's Laws and covenant will this police badge allow me to break? Who and how many men can I murder by my superior officer's permission and also be forgiven by legal judges and ceremonial priests of masonic false religions? This is devil-speak, the language of legalese, built of empty words with no actual substance in Nature, un-lovingly provided by the scribes and attorneys (agents) of that legal law. For there is no honor where duty is not a spiritually-driven choice. A soldier has no True honor if he chooses to kill because his legal job requires it, for there is no excuse to break one's Highest duty to God and man. Following orders is never an excuse before God, only before a magistrate acting as false god over legal things. For a magistrate that governs only over the false, artful personas of men, the killing of any other fictional person can be made legal or allowable (licensed) even while the act of murder upon the man is sidestepped and ignored. Fiction cannot die any more than it can Live in the Nature of Reality, and so legally judging the Nature of Life Itself is a paradoxical nightmare we must all wake up from. That which is anti-life (antichrist and anti-God) should not be allowed to first corrupt and then judge Life.

Of course christ attended no denominated church (noun), for he and his followers were the church (verb). Their actions (verb) defined them, not their name (noun). This is again the difference between worshiping in Reality (verb) and worshiping symbols of Reality in name and place (noun) only. It is the difference between a flattering title and actual spiritual actions of Real piety. To be christ-like by following God's Law as revealed by scripture is very different than pretending to exist in a legalized title called as "Christian" while at the same time living a life based solely in mammon. Legalized religions are of course designed by false "prophets" in "non-profit" corporations (artificial persons) to keep man from his own True Religion, to keep the "Christian" away from the Word of christ, the "Muslim" away from the Word of Mohamed, and the "Jew" away from the Word of Moses, and in general every willing man that can be fooled and tricked by words away from his very own Nature. We worship the false creations of man and despoil the Real Creation of God. We defile our own Natural bodies, the only Real temples of God, and instead build stone temples with hands in masonry and treat them as sacred. And yet that which is of art, artificial structures and things, can only be cursed in their sacred worship, for they are not of Jehovah (Creation). In short, we do everything the scriptures tell us not to and call it "Christianity." And we will uncover exactly how and why this has happened as we proceed.

What type of action can it possibly be to pray (plead) to a legal (artificial) judge (idol/god) than a curse? For the only answers to your legal prayers (pleas) will only ever be built upon legal fiction (the artificial law of fictional persons) without the beautiful, spiritual hindrances of the Highest Law. For you have made your election sure, having voluntarily chosen your replacement god, your judge, and such a corporate officer of the legal state and Bar association (artificial person) is never of God's Nature. It is a flattering title not of Reality and so it can offer nothing of Real substance.

Confused? Keep reading and you won't be, unless you choose to be as your lame excuse.

—=—

“For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;) CASTING DOWN IMAGINATIONS, AND EVERY HIGH THING THAT EXALTETH ITSELF AGAINST THE KNOWLEDGE OF GOD, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ...”

—2 Corinthians 10: 3-5, KJB

—=—

We are to act spiritually, not carnally. Simple. Elegant.

And yet we ignore the One and Only Example!!! We ignore the Son (Word) of God even as we pretend to worship God behind fancy dresses and suits and ties. Imagine christ dressing up for church to listen to some false priest paid in mammon according to his legal license to preach! If I showed up to church in a dirty robe smelling of days without soap and perfumes as christ would I would be declared homeless and cast out of that false sanctuary, declared not fit for public appearance! For no Real Charity, no Higher Love, and no Reality of God’s Law of Nature exists in that fictional house of idolatry. But then, christ would never enter for worship into a “Christian” church, for the Word of God is indeed opposed to public worship. Oh, the wonderful and glorious irony.

These are not new concepts by any means. They are not merely the author’s opinions. For it is certainly a sign and mark of being legally branded and thus cursed when one pleads (prays) before an attorney donning a ceremonial black robe for forgiveness in the stead of his own God and Creator. And like any animal, this type of abhorrent behavior is of course impressed into the mind and customs of each of us from birth, for we appear not as our Natural selves but as the fictional personas we have been brainwashed into believing we are. We act the part in a fictional stage play and story (as recorded history) and we suffer the legal (unnatural) consequences thereof. We enter the artificial timeline from our timeless spirit of Life, and instead our false existence is certified and tracked in the bonded surety of a false persona, as if hell overgrew its pit and invisibly chained up all of heaven to its mysterious and deceitful ways. It appears that all of Nature fell under these devil’s legal contracts, though none of their apparently binding names (nouns) are self-evidently Real. One must first legally prove the “forest” to be a product of man’s legal system in commerce before one cut down its “trees” legally (in opposition to God). As long as I bestow the meaning of the name (noun), then I have power over the Reality it represents, especially if no men as soldiers and protectors of God and Creation are to be found. Fiction is the destroyer of Nature, not in any physical exertion but in the mental retardation and anti-spirituality it causes to the right-mindedness of men. One only need to read the majority of older court cases to discover that defendants and plaintiffs alike prayed to the “god” (magistrate) of the court for remedy and forgiveness. It is only our ignorance of the past and of proper legal language that dooms us to suffer the present and future antics of these accursed, false legal gods in their own created realms and courts. With one change of a word a prayer to a false god is arbitrarily masked by the ignorance of the spoken language.

ARBITRARY - adjective - [Latin arbitrarius.] 1. Depending on will or DISCRETION; not governed by any fixed rules; as, an arbitrary decision; an arbitrary punishment. ARBITRARY POWER IS MOST EASILY ESTABLISHED ON THE RUINS OF LIBERTY ABUSED TO LICENTIOUSNESS. 2. Despotic; absolute in power; having no external control; as, an arbitrary prince or government. (Webs1828)

—=—

But to be clear, in these modern times the man only prays (pleads) to the court on behalf of his assumed name (person/status), the strawman, while appearing as that strawman, and for no other purpose. Man's appearance in that court is always and without exception a voluntary one in agency, for his choice is to use the property of the government to conduct himself in public, commercial "interstate" ventures. And so man has only one reason to appear in court, which is to re-present a legal name, title, number, and mentally impressed mark that belongs to another as if it is a living thing. Man breathes life into that fictional persona (strawman), giving it fictional existence and movement, so that the judge (agent) may practice his jurisdiction as lord-god over that which belongs to his principal jurisdiction, assigned by his title's legal creator. The judge is only god over the strawman, only has jurisdiction over that strawman, and only on behalf of that strawman does the man pray to that god. The puppet (name of the person) belongs to the state, and so the man acting as its puppet master (agent) may only enjoy the use of that puppet by acknowledging the state as its creator (principal), and thus its god (lawmaker). For the judge is only a lesser god of the nation, and idols can only exist if they are believed in and worshiped. Judges are also called as "your Worship." This is the design of legal jurisdiction.

Examples of this fact are still in practice.

In the Courts of Scotland judges are all addressed as "My Lord" or "My Lady." They are generally referred to as "Your Lordship" or "Your Ladyship."

In the Courts of England and Wales, Supreme Court judges are entitled as "Justices" of the Supreme Court, while the Justices of the Supreme Court who do not hold life peerages have generally been given the courtesy style of "Lord" or "Lady."

Press Notice

Date: 13 December 2010

Courtesy titles for Justices of the Supreme Court

Her MAJESTY The Queen has signed a warrant declaring that every Justice of the Supreme Court of the United Kingdom will in future be styled as 'LORD' or 'LADY', to ensure that all Justices of the Court are described and addressed in a similar manner.

The announcement means that Sir John Dyson, the most recent appointment to the Supreme Court, who is not a Life Peer and was appointed from the Court of Appeal of England and Wales, will now be styled Lord Dyson...

—Press release from The Supreme Court of the United Kingdom

— = —

Lay magistrates are sometimes still addressed as "Your Worship" in England, mainly by solicitors, and also as "Sir" or "Madam."

In the United States, subordinate or inferior jurisdiction judges in US legal practice are sometimes called "MAGISTRATES," although in the federal court of the United States, they are called "MAGISTRATE JUDGES." Subordinate judges in US legal practice are usually called "MASTERS" or "SPECIAL MASTERS"

In many states throughout the United States, a judge is generally addressed as "Your Honor" or "Judge" when in the title and action of presiding over the jurisdiction of the court. In the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, rule

3.95 of the Los Angeles Superior Court Rules states that a judge must be addressed only as “YOUR HONOR,” and never as “Judge,” as “Judge + surname,” or as “ma’am” or “sir.”

HONOR - verb - To accept a bill of exchange, or to PAY a note, check, or accepted bill, at maturity and according to its tenor. - noun - In English law, a seignior of several manors held under one baron or LORD paramount. Also those dignities or privileges, DEGREES OF NOBILITY, KNIGHTHOOD, AND OTHER TITLES, which flow from the CROWN as the fountain of honor. In American law, The CUSTOMARY TITLE OF COURTESY given to judges of the higher courts, and occasionally to some other officers; as “his honor,” “your honor.” (Black4)

HONORABLE - A TITLE OF COURTESY given in England to the younger CHILDREN of earls, and the children of viscounts and barons; and, collectively, to the house of commons. In America, the word is used as A TITLE OF COURTESY for various CLASSES OF OFFICIALS, but without any clear lines of distinction. (Black4)

ACCOUTERMENTS - noun - 1. DRESS; equipage; FURNITURE FOR THE BODY; appropriately, military dress and arms; equipage for military service. 2. In common usage, an old or unusual dress. (Webs1828)

ACCOUTERED - participle passive - DRESSED IN ARMS; equipped.

— — —

To be clear, children are bestowed with the title of “honor.” Children. Again, CHILDREN!!! Oh, and judges also. In other words, the title of honor (noun) has nothing to do with acting in or with True honor (verb). The mere recognition of fabled noble blood guarantees such flattering title and false respect, very much like the false title of “Christian.” For as we will fully discuss later, the word Arms when capitalized means heraldry, as genealogy, the bloodline of noble or ignoble blood and the family crest (Arms) that bears it. It is purely for public show, for use only in the Romanized pomp and circumstance of the bread and circus galleria of such legally fictionalized accouterments. In other words, it gets you into private parties with all the a-holes while the commoners worship you as if you are a god. And that’s because you are part of the bloodline of the godship; the sovereignty. The posterity of the actual People. So relax, put your guns (arms) away and learn why those legalized (permitted) guns (registered as legal “fire-arms”) are being taken away incrementally and quite legally not from you but from the fictional public person you registered them to, because you are not bearing your private Arms (bloodline) and instead bear the flag and seal of the nation your fictional person was birthed into, certified, and registered as a public subject, not a private master. Only private men bear the Arms of their own blood instead of the false fictions and flag of a stranger. More on this to come... But if this doesn’t make sense quite yet, think of it this way. Your guns are published. The reason I am not publishing this book is the same reason I do not publish (publicly register) my guns (arms) as legal, publicly owned fire-arms under the legal strawman not my own. As soon as I do that, I lose all private rights to hold guns and automatically agree to be bound by any laws and gun-bans on public U.S. citizen-ships, for the registered gun (legal fire-arm) is done so as property of the legal persona, the false commercial identity, not the man acting as agent for that person. A public person under public law is simply not entitled to private privileges. This will all be clear by the end of this work. What you do with this information is only your choice.

The stage-play entitled Cato, a Tragedy, was utilized and made to be performed by the “founding fathers” of the United States, who in their own rolls as representative actors (agents) for the States (private People) would quote from the play often and with the feigned passion of slaveholders selling freedom. According to William Randall in his 1997 publication, George Washington: A Life, the soon to be pseudo- king (president) of the commercial union had Cato, A Tragedy performed for the Continental Army at Valley Forge. It contains the well-plagiarized and infamous line, “It is not now time to talk of aught/But chains or conquest, liberty or death,” in Act II, Scene 4. The phrase "Liberty or Death" subsequently appeared upon the Culpeper Minutemen flag created in 1775. And so like most patriotic fictions we celebrate as history, Washington had already invoked the propaganda of what would later be called Hollywood and Madison Avenue into the reasons why the common man should fight for Washington's noble bloodline of King John to become the independent People for which the commoners should serve in voluntary servitude and legalized slavery. And we unwittingly bear the family crest of Washington today on the United States flag. Of course all we ever see in our history books is the plagiarized version by Patrick Henry, where he swooned men into war by his acting, stating “Give me liberty or give me death!”

One sure thing about history, its always a lie, the embellished story of the victors of commerce and war.

Washington's Heraldic and masonic Arms are certainly the most revered in the nation. Because this difference between guns as public arms and bloodline as private heraldic Arms is so important for the common, public citizenship, let us take a quick look at the Washington family Arms. For the use of white stars on a blue background for the American Flag was also a tribute to the borrowed Arms of George Washington's lineage, the bloodline of America's favorite false god still displayed in honorary deity and of course flown on holidays by many public, non compos mentis citizenships having no idea the meaning of the Arms (flag) they are bearing:

— = —

3.2 The Washington Arms and Ecclesiastical Heraldry

The Catholic Archdiocese of Washington honors the first President with the three mullets, or FIVE-POINTED STARS, in the third quarter of its arms; the THREE SIX-POINTED STARS in the second quarter pay tribute to Pius VI, the Pope at the time of the American Revolution. The reference to the Washington arms is more obvious in those of the Episcopal Diocese, which replaces the center mullet with a mural crown and adds a blue chief with A GOLDEN JERUSALEM CROSS. Two Episcopal churches in the Washington area also draw on the Washington arms for inspiration. Washington was a member of the vestry of the first one shown, Christ Church in Alexandria, while the second, St. James, is a relatively new parish on part of the original Mount Vernon estate. The final coat, belonging to Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church in Martinsville, N.J., commemorates Washington's nearby encampment during the war...

3.5 The Washington Arms and Civic Heraldry

As already mentioned, THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA FLIES A FLAG THAT IS ACTUALLY A BANNER OF THE ARMS OF THE WASHINGTON FAMILY. Contrary to what is often reported, however, it does not use this design on a shield as a coat of arms proper. WASHINGTON COUNTY, VA., DOES USE A SHIELD WITH THE WASHINGTON ARMS, but "differences" them in accordance with heraldic custom, in this case changing the color of the mullets to blue. Fredericksburg, Virginia, also draws on the Washington arms in differenced form, in this case using the crest with a cardinal in place of the original raven. Meanwhile the town of Washington, Me., flies a flag that combines the bars and mullets with an indented red and blue band at the hoist signifying the mountains and rivers of the area. The city of Charles Town, W. Va., and the town of Washington, N.C., ALSO BOTH EMPLOY THE WASHINGTON ARMS, BUT IN THEIR ORIGINAL FORM. It is generally recognized as improper heraldic practice to borrow the arms of another in undifferenced form.

3.6 The Washington Arms and Organizational Heraldry

Finally, a number of private associations and clubs in the Washington, D.C., area use the Washington arms as the basis of their organizational symbols. The Saint Andrews Society, for example, impales a variation of the Washington arms—with a red chief bearing a thistle between two mullets at the top—with the white St. Andrew's cross of Scotland. These arms were granted to the society by the Lord Lyon King of Arms, the Scottish heraldic authority. The Sulgrave Club, an old and exclusive ladies' club located in an grand mansion on Massachusetts Avenue, uses the Washington arms with the red altered to blue. And the District Yacht Club flies a burgee that is clearly derived from the shield of the city's namesake.

—The American Heraldry Society, By Joseph McMillan, excerpt from article as it appeared in The American Herald, No. 1 (2006)

—=—

When it comes to the 2nd Amendment of the United States, the reader needs know some facts that will help in cognition of what will be presented herein. Firstly, the notion of arms as merely weapons, namely guns, is a public-minded and vulgar concept and is why we are enslaved to those who actually bear their True Arms and family bloodline as posterity (bloodline) of the private People. The common, public people of the United States appear as rambling fools whenever this 2nd Amendment is spoken about by us, for it is made to protect us. This private, reserved right to bear Arms is protected only when one actually bears them privately and thus is not a public citizen. For public citizenships of the United States, our blood is considered as tainted (in attainder) and so we have no such right in public personhood. To be clear, and as will be shown, the father of a U.S. strawman (fictional person) can be no man and can have no blood, for fictional persons carry no blood consideration or capacity to bear Arms. Thus, the state is the father of public persons, and the only Arms any strawman may bear is that of its legal father, the flag and seal of the United States.

I pledge allegiance, to the flag (Arms) of the united States (People) of America...

This will be one of the most difficult concepts to accept for the patriotic reader who knows nothing of his nation but what his public education and alternative “patriot” or “truth” radio hosts parrot incorrectly on a constant basis, followed by mainstream propagandists reinforcing this greatest of logical fallacies. Denial is a strong emotion, and no one understands this emotion more than this author. What I write here is only the unadulterated Truth, and my only intent is to help us all come out of this commercialized Stockholm Syndrome we all suffer from at the hands of the few families that control the pirate cove of the United States, the private People of each several (private) State (People). They are “We, the People,” not us, anymore than the indentured servants and slaves were part of “We, the People.” This information is intimately pertinent to the rest of this work.

For now, just know that when children are granted titles of honor by their mere noble birth, they are receiving recognition of their family bloodline by heraldic Arms, which they will thus privately bear as the many generations before them did. Thus the most corrupt of men are forced by law to be addressed as the entitled “Your Honor,” either by blood or by prostitution to the constituted authorities (the bloodline). This is not True honor, merely a flattering title based on fabled genealogies.

One thing that cannot be denied is that this is the same system in place for thousands of years. Nothing has changed, I assure you.

—=—

“And my God (translated from Strong's H430 - “elohiym” - referring to the plural, false, legal gods, kings, and other magistrates, the creators of art, not meant here as the True God of Nature “Jehovah”) put into mine heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, THAT THEY MIGHT BE RECKONED BY GENEALOGY. And I found a REGISTER of the genealogy of them which came up at the first, and found written therein...”

—Nehemiah 7:5, KJB (emphasis mine)

—=—

“THESE SOUGHT THEIR REGISTER AMONG THOSE THAT WERE RECKONED BY GENEALOGY, but they were not found: THEREFORE WERE THEY, AS POLLUTED, PUT FROM THE PRIESTHOOD.”

—Ezra 2:62, KJB

—=—

“And his brethren BY THEIR FAMILIES, WHEN THE GENEALOGY OF THEIR GENERATIONS WAS RECKONED, WERE THE CHIEF, Jeiel, and Zechariah...”

—1 Chronicles 5:7, KJB

—=—

“And the number of them, AFTER THEIR GENEALOGY BY THEIR GENERATIONS, HEADS OF THE HOUSE OF THEIR FATHERS, mighty men of valour, was twenty thousand and two hundred.”

—1 Chronicles 7:9, KJB

—=—

So how is your blood registered in legal reckoning, you publicly polluted subjects of the nation of those private, sovereign “People” (States united)? What Arms do you Bear? For as a public person of the United States, it is by the legal law of persons certainly not those of your own genealogical family.

It is easiest to comprehend why, by the legal code and rules of man’s artificial law, these gods are to be called by such specific, flattering titles. To hold something in honor (as artificially sacred), for instance, would be the opposite of holding it in contempt. This is the respect of a lie. The title implies that the sayer of the word expresses consent to the honor of that totally corrupt legal title, and by doing so is liable to be held in contempt only because he already expressly consented to honor that which is contemptible. It is only word magic, as the invoking of imaginary things by soliciting the incantation of the ancient linguistic terms of art.

To put it another way, our society is one that is required by custom and contractual requirement to respect and honor that which deserves neither respect nor honor. Here again we are speaking of a mere flattering title that has no relevance to the meaning of that word. To call white as black does not make it so in Reality. To label a man’s person with the flattering title of “Your Honor” is to respect the name without demanding works, actions, and proof of existence. But we must not forget that the same consideration is made upon those claiming to be legally a “Christian” as their own flattering title, as if by name only they should be respected and honored as one that follows

God's Law in christ. And to be frank, this is exactly what every administrative judge does in every court case it administers. The man behind the robe seeks the man of God and also the fictional person of the state in every case. He calls on the surname and we answer like a dog begging for a bone; not because we are forced to answer in persona but because we believe that we must. We have nothing of christ in us, and so the man must act accordingly to his devilry, playing the part of attorney (devil's advocate) and stand-in god (magistrate) for the legal state and realm.

Threat of violence is no excuse for respecting names and titles nor for appearing in false persona in court. Just ask Jesus christ. The choice is always yours.

Most importantly though, we must know that these are ancient terms dating from the feudal land-barons and lords (gods).

LORD - A FEUDAL SUPERIOR or proprietor; one of whom a fee or estate is held. A TITLE OF HONOR OR NOBILITY belonging properly to the degree of baron, but applied also to the whole peerage, as in the expression "the house of lords." A title of office, as lord mayor, lord commissioner, etc... (Black4)

LORD - noun - 1. A MASTER; a PERSON possessing supreme power and authority; A RULER; A GOVERNOR. Man over man he made not lord. But now I was the lord of this fair mansion. 2. A TYRANT; AN OPPRESSIVE RULER. 3. A HUSBAND. I oft in bitterness of soul deplores my absent daughter, and my dearer lord. My lord also being old. Genesis 18:1. 4. A baron; the proprietor of a manor; as the lord of the manor. 5. A NOBLEMAN; A TITLE OF HONOR in Great Britain GIVEN TO THOSE WHO ARE NOBLE BY BIRTH OR CREATION; a peer of the realm, including dukes, marquises, earls, viscounts and barons. Archbishops and bishops also, as members of the house of lords, are lords of parliament. Thus we say, lords temporal and spiritual. By courtesy also the title is given to the sons of dukes and marquises, and to the eldest sons of earls. 6. AN HONORARY TITLE BESTOWED ON CERTAIN OFFICIAL CHARACTERS; as lord advocate, lord chamberlain, lord chancellor, lord chief justice, etc. 7. IN SCRIPTURE, THE SUPREME BEING; JEHOVAH. When lord in the Old Testament, is printed in CAPITALS, it is the translation of JEHOVAH, and so might, with more propriety, be rendered. THE WORD IS APPLIED TO CHRIST, Psalms 110:1. Colossians 3:16. and to the Holy Spirit, 2 Thessalonians 3:1. AS A TITLE OF RESPECT, IT IS APPLIED TO KINGS, Genesis 40:1. 2 Samuel 19:7. TO PRINCES AND NOBLES, Gen 42. Daniel 4:19. to a husband, Genesis 18:1. to a prophet, 1 Kings 18:1. 2 Kings 2:1. and to a respectable person, Gen 24. Christ is CALLED the lord of glory, 1 Corinthians 2:8. AND LORD OF LORDS, Revelation 19:1. - verb transitive - To INVEST with the dignity and PRIVILEGES of a lord - verb intransitive - To domineer; to rule with arbitrary or despotic sway; sometimes followed by over, and sometimes by it, in the manner of a transitive verb. The whiles she lordeth in licentious bliss. I see them lording it in London streets. They lorded over them whom now they serve. (Webs1828)

— = —

If we shalt have no other gods (LORD) before Jehovah, then why do we have so many lords?

The answer is not a difficult one. For the title of lord is given just for being born under the correct posterity of bloodline. It takes very little or nothing but chance to be born as a lord (lesser god). And so once again we find that a lord is only our land-lord if we respect such a flattering title, which the scriptures and Word of God expressly tell us not to. It's all about respect. And respect is all about choice. The gods (lords) only exist on paper. And only when we contract with those paper gods are we bound to their entitled lordship, for we have contractually entered their own falsely re-created realm, and we have taken them before Jehovah.

And so I ask the reader again, what does the word “God” and the word “Jesus” actually mean in their True intention of scripture?

This is a trick question. For the word “God” in its Highest, capitalized form means “Jehovah.” And the term Jesus christ in its Highest form simply means that “Jehovah is salvation.” In other words, Jesus christ is the personification of Jehovah, the messenger. We cannot separate these two concepts, for one is interrelated to and quite dependent upon the other. But we also cannot elevate Jesus as Jehovah, for his namesake would then be dismissed as less High, and salvation barred. As the Bible declares we must learn not to worship Jesus as Jehovah, but as the emulating path back to Jehovah. We are to act according to the example set out in the scriptures so as to worship Jehovah in all we do, not just on those Roman calendar Sundays and holidays. We must become christ-like, for no man can possibly be likened to God, as God is all of Existence and Life in eternity while man is only a part of that Whole Oneness. We should seek not to become “the One” but to become One with all. For to be in tune with the Oneness that is Jehovah, as that which we eternally are a Creation of (verb) whether we like it or not, we must stop acting as if we are some other thing (noun). The difference here is a huge one. For while there is no title of Jehovah (the One True God) bestowed upon any man, the flattering title of “Christ” (the anointed) is claimed and used throughout the corporate church and state by many magistrates (pretended gods). And so, while the figurative blood of Jesus the christ may certainly, metaphorically flow into all men by their learned knowledge and works based on a spiritual Faith (Trust) in only the Truth of Nature without artifice, the blood of kings and popes and other sovereign “People” like George Washington’s brood is exclusive of all but those qualified to bear such heraldic Arms through their legally registered lineage. Christ’s teachings are damning of such fabled genealogies, supporting the True Equality of all men not by some imagined “noble” blood but through a spiritual connection to God (Jehovah).

— = —

“But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ.”

—Ephesians 2:13, KJB

— = —

“But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb WITHOUT BLEMISH AND WITHOUT SPOT... BEING BORN AGAIN, NOT OF CORRUPTIBLE SEED, BUT OF INCORRUPTIBLE, BY THE WORD OF GOD, which liveth and abideth for ever. For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. THE GRASS WITHERETH, AND THE FLOWER THEREOF FALLETH AWAY: BUT THE WORD OF THE LORD ENDURETH FOR EVER. And this is the WORD which by the gospel is preached unto you.”

—1 Peter 1:19 and 23-25, KJB

— = —

Jesus the christ is not meant to be taken as a racial entity, not black or white or some other color of the imagination. Christ is not a nationality nor an ethnicity. Until the figurative Nature of christ is considered, there will always be a war between those more interested in race than Peace, Love, Charity, and Truth between all men through christ’s example.

But instead of following christ as the Son (Word) and Highest Law of God, we follow the peerage and third party legal law of purely corrupt men ranked by the fables of generationally “pure” bloodlines. Reasonably, there is nothing more ridiculous than this custom, imagining that the totality of the father’s essence can be passed to the son via blood. That knowledge, empathy, and reason are inheritable traits is the purest of logical fallacies. These “People” are the pirates responsible for the pretended legal corruption of our own blood in their own corrupted system and purview, so that we may not hold the same privileges as them nor bear our privacy in Arms nor be private holders of any lands of our own, and so that we may be enslaved by their commercial designs of mammon against God’s Word and Nature.

Perhaps the reader is now beginning to comprehend the inseparable Nature of the law and the Bible. And perhaps the complete fraud that is organized, doctrinal religion is being seen here with as much disdain as the public education system, both designed to take us away from knowledge, from our own heritage, our privacy, our family, our ability, and from the power of God’s Law to protect us from such artificial, legal designs against us.

And perhaps these words God and Jesus are beginning to feel a lot more important than we gave it false-credit for between football games and re-runs of American IDOL and sometimes on holidays (legally cursed holy days). For the only True and Natural Freedom under God can only come when we individually decide to have no other gods (lords) before the God of Nature, that Holy Host of what is Reality. Think about that for a moment and don’t be shocked by the absolute self-evidence of this statement. Live a lie or face Reality. For this is the only True Religious, spiritual Life that can be led, and is the only One exemplified by christ.

PEERAGE - The rank or dignity of a peer or nobleman. Also THE BODY OF NOBLES TAKEN COLLECTIVELY. (Black4)

PEERS - In feudal law. THE VASSALS OF A LORD WHO SAT IN HIS COURT AS JUDGES OF THEIR CO-VASSALS, and were called "peers," as being each other's equals, or of the same condition. The NOBILITY of Great Britain, BEING THE LORDS TEMPORAL having seats in parliament, and including dukes, marquises, earls, viscounts, and barons. Equals; those who are a man's equals IN RANK AND STATION; thus "trial by a jury of his peers" means trial by jury of citizens. For "judgment of his peers," see Judgment. (Black4)

PEERS OF FEES - Vassals or tenants OF THE SAME LORD, WHO WERE OBLIGED TO SERVE AND ATTEND HIM IN HIS COURTS, being equal in function. These were termed "peers of fees," because holding fees of the lord, or because their business in court was TO SIT AND JUDGE, UNDER THEIR LORDS, OF DISPUTES ARISING UPON FEES; but, if there were too many in one lordship, the lord usually chose twelve, who had the title of peers, by way of distinction; whence, it is said, WE DERIVE OUR COMMON JURIES and other peers. (Black4)

—=—

These are only the legal gods appointed by other legal gods to judge the legal slaves that worship them in legal name and title. It is merely an imaginary class structure, the several levels of lordship (god-hood).

It is very important to note here that this notion of legal (anti-God) “equality” is what allows all men in public persona to be judged by all other men in legal persona acting in juries and as administrative judges at bar. Equality is just another patriotic lie used to cause all men to never be spiritually considered. Only the fiction, the equal legal person (status) is considered. The man follows suit in surety. All strawmen are equal in the eyes of the fictional administrative law system. And without the strawman (bond and surety) the man cannot be considered at all. No man should seek to be bound in legal (forced) equality with all others. This is slavery.

Here we can see that even gods may be ruled over by other gods. These barons, or land-lords, are only appointed as gods to judge in peerage by a higher god, a higher authority, as the majesty of a king or queen, which is again merely a higher form of fictional god-hood. All legal titles impose upon the holder a sort of god-ship, and the power of that ship only exists over those fictional names and titles of artificial persons, places, and things placed under its jurisdiction by another god in its peerage. Even our modern juries are appointed to be temporary gods over other “equal” citizens, acting under the jurisdiction of their lord (judge) though spiritually none of them should be casting stones in judgement. Notice above that a peer is an equal, just as citizens of the United States are in peerage with each other under the “equal protection of the law.” Equal slaves. But notice also that this equality is only applied to those peers by their appointed rank and station (false persona) in political society. It is very important to know here that it is not the man that is being considered as equal by these creator gods and lords of the legal law, only his person (status) in society, which is a fictionally named legal place (noun). The surnames are equal, the titles are not.

And so a Muslim in citizenship is equal to a Christian in citizenship, and both are equal to an atheist in citizenship. Why is this? As we will see, legal citizenship to the fiction, to that legal government which is opposed to God and Nature, regards every public citizenship in abandonment of God, as having no religious tendencies, and as having no private religion, for his god is the legal state and he worships only publicly in mammon and in false persona of the state, valuing everything he senses only in the artificial estimation (judgement) and valuation of money, even his own self, his labor, and so too his children. Money is certainly the root of all evil, for evil is only that which is artificial. Money is only a representation of debt, and only debtors publicly use it.

To be clear, titles don’t Exist in Nature, meaning they are not a Creation of the Supreme Being we call as God, as the Creator of all of Nature and the Universe, and are instead only legal creations of these legal gods. Man is not born in Nature with a name or title or number or mark. There is no actual equality in Nature, and the sexes for instance are certainly not in any way equal in their abilities. Equality is not a right in Reality, it is the voluntary and Highest duty of all men to treat each other as such. The male has not the equal ability to bear children as the female, and so this notion of equality can and only ever is a political, artificial status of man’s law. And as we will uncover, equality is one of the worse aspects of citizenship, for even slaves are considered as equal in their very limited rights. Legal words are generally opposed to their general and spiritual meaning as terms of art, and so equality under man’s law is merely a form of building a lower class structure than the false creators of that legal “equality.” These artificial things such as legal rights and duties are only ever the creation of man. They are not of Nature. They do not grow on trees. It is this distinction between the Supreme Being which we call as “God” and Its Realm of Nature and the false supremacy of these legal gods by respect and consent of man that we must always consider.

A man has but two states of being. One is as a man under God and one as that same man acting in the fictional persona under the legal gods. This is the scriptural choice between God and mammon. The gods of money are the gods of nations, for all internationally considered forms of money are national in their origins. And so the gods of the nations, of the national currency and commerce, are always only idols. And so the persons of men, as artificial creations of these idols, can also only ever be considered as re-created false-images when compared to man’s Origin and Source in Nature (as the Creation of that Supreme God, the Creator of all of Nature and more importantly, of man). It is the use by man in his idolatry of these legal god’s currencies and credit (as the creation and property of the nation), which is legally called as “commerce,” that allows the creator of that money to be as gods over us. The user of another’s property is only ever the subject of its owner. The user of another’s names and titles is only ever the subject of their creator. And every creation has a god. An agent only ever exists to serve its principal, a servant its master. Man’s use of only God’s Creation of Nature makes man a subject only of God and that Natural Law. It is only the contracted use of artificial, legal persons, places, and things by their legal names that man becomes the bonded subject of these idols of the nations, those re-creators as the gods of their own fiction and artifice.

“Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not DWELL in thy land, LEST THEY MAKE THEE SIN AGAINST ME: for if thou SERVE their gods, it will SURELY be a SNARE unto thee.”

—Exodus 23: 32-33, KJB

— — —

These words have very distinct meanings, which will be revealed as we proceed. And this is a great example of that which falls on deaf ears and eyes that cannot see, for when the words are understood in their original intention, this verse carries a much deeper meaning.

Here, in this simple scriptural declaration, we find the very essence of our own collective hell. The entire purpose of the existence of a United States or other national citizen-ship is to serve the gods of that nation. It is a commercial existence only, performed in the name of another that is and can only be opposed to the Supremacy of Jehovah. For a citizenship carries with it a legal covenant not of the grace of God, but in the service and subjection of that which is opposed to God. It is to be in surety to a fictional person, to be snared by man’s legal code. To be opposed to God means here to stand in opposition to the protective Law of and over Nature as God’s Law. For the law of the man is only the law of his contracts (covenants), and the false law can only be applied through false (legal) covenants. In all the fables ever told, the devil(s) may only ever retain power over each individual man by his consent to that devil’s contract, to its series of words. In law, a “devil” is defined as a man that is an evil genius (species). And, not surprisingly, junior attorneys are also officially called as devils, under the tutelage of “devilmasters” at bar. This is no joke, and as we will uncover, is actually the name officially stated by the Scottish parliament. And of course devil’s advocate (attorney) is certainly a common place term. But don’t you go judging anyone just yet, for we must also realize that we too are acting as devil’s advocates, as the agents (attorneys) over fictional persons, puppet-masters of the puppets.

For any man to reign over another man by fictional name and title, one man must use the property (name and title) of the other, which is a tacit or express agreement to abide by the law of the other. The contract is the devil’s only actual tool, its only tie that may bind man’s voluntary choice and make him sure (in surety) to support and operate in the legal matrix code of this big lie. The renter is always the subject he who owns perfect title to that which is rented. And so the man who falls into that snare of a fiction of law (a person) must obey the law of his master (owner), even if that law is against God’s Law, as the Law of Nature. It is no longer a choice. The impersonation of a Godless character in fiction takes choice away, for the man must follow the fictional law (contract) of they that own that fictional character. The problem is that our entire culture has been repurposed so as to perpetrate this fraud of commercial citizen-ships in mammon. This is accomplished especially through “legal marriage” and birth certification, so that what is the worst, lowest possible status above that of involuntary slavery is applied to every man through what appears to him as that which is an absolutely normal custom in society. And because we are assured scripturally that all the gods of the nations are only ever idols, man can only ever stand in idolatry under any national citizenship. No exceptions. This legal entrapment has one and only one distinct purpose: to cause man into an alienation of his “inalienable (sellable) rights” so that his family wealth and inheritance can be taken in legal piracy by the law of the sea as treasure found by salvage. This is the master plan. And as strange as that may sound, it is exactly what the legal dictionaries (court records) tell us is happening. So keep reading, for this work is an encyclopedic dictionary exposing that master plan by these legalized pirates in their own words, and we haven’t even reached the first chapter!

One very clear and agreed upon foundation must be set here, at the beginning. We must know and understand that without a foundation, without an agreed upon Source (God), no structure would be able to stand in its existence, either physically, metaphorically, or as a legal fiction. And so we must here have a meeting of the minds before continuing. Without this understanding as the very principle and foundation of all things and of the laws that hold all Real and artificial things together, there is no point in moving forward. And so, whether we believe or don't believe in "God" and the many forms, images, and anthropomorphic versions that are manifested to us by that multitude of legal and ecclesiastic institutions, books, and sacred sites from all over the earth, we must here understand that the entirety of all law is based in some way on "God," either in support of God or as that which is opposed to God. At the heart and foundation of all law and of all things, there sits some version, form, and flavor of what "God" is. If the acknowledged god is "satan," then that means nevertheless that this "god" is the foundation of the satanic law and thus the structure of that society. But we must remember that "satan" only exists as a concept against that which is the Reality and Nature of "God." Without God, satan would serve no purpose, for satan is only the adversary of God. No God, no adversary. Darkness needs Light to shine onto its shadows, especially the Light of revelatory knowledge. And so we must know here that whatever is considered as sovereign is merely "the god" or "gods" over any legally created law or legal system of men. The gods of nations sit only in idolatry, for nations are only ever the artful creations of man, not of God (not of the True Source of Nature). Be it a king or a specific private "People," the sovereignty of any legally created entity, church or state, is acting as god (land-lord) over whatever those men constitute (create). Acceptance of their artificial, legal existence is acceptance and thus respect of their personal god-hood. To fear them is to respect them.

For example, let us consider every one of the several state constitutions, which are all similarly worded. Every state constitution stems from one and only one Source - the authority of the name of God. This cannot be denied, for it is written plainly and clearly. Every single State Constitution begins with a similar religious preamble, such as:

"We, the people of New Mexico, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of liberty, in order to secure the advantages of a state government, do ordain and establish this constitution..."

—New Mexico State Constitution

—=—

This invocation of God cannot be overlooked as just some flight of fancy or sense of mere romanticism. It is not an invocation of any of man's incorporated "religions," only an acknowledgement of the Source of man and Creation of all Nature. This enforcement of God as Creator of Nature and of man's place (liberty) within It, as well as that "Higher Law" standing over all of what we call "Creation" is a necessary ingredient to any tyranny created by men; those usurpers of God's name for their own purpose and gain in mammon. The men claiming sovereignty over all others may only do so by invoking God's name to justify their supposed existence in and as a secondary creator of art; a legalistic sovereignty. And this is why we are to not respect or take any gods before the One and Only God of Nature. From Rome to America, this aspect is seen throughout all historical empires, and, not ironically, is also seen as the cause of each empire's devolution into apathy in its ultimate demise, as each State (People) devolves from that stated, sacred and aristocratic source and foundation of higher, Natural Law. Quite simply, man's creation of lower (legalistic) law hinges on his ability to convince or fool others into allowing him to play god and thus create law over his own legal creation of empire. A master must have his subjects, or his title is meaningless and his foundation (a source) will fall.

Here we are merely seeing a private bloodline of "People" declaring themselves as a god. And these many gods called as the several (private) "States" created the god known as "We, the People." And when we as subjects of this god "the People" receive a summons to appear in an administrative court, it comes from none other than that legally established and ordained god named as "the People" of whatever state or nation is summoning its own property (the People vs. legal person). And the man (agent) must appear when that strawman is called forth by the god that is "the People."

Amazingly, this can only mean that we, the common citizenships, are certainly not “the People” of any private State. To be able to be summoned by that artificial god to be owned by that god. And so unless we can differentiate and mentally separate our True Self from these fictional re-presentations of that simulation of self (a legal persona), we cannot even begin to comprehend how or why we have taken an idolatrous god before the Supreme God of all Nature. “The People” (a false god) is only administering its own commercial property as its subject, its strawman; as its proprietary legal names and titles. It is the god of “Clint Richardson,” but not the God of (Creator of) me.

In this respect, and in order to establish the very foundation of the Highest Sovereign Authority of God’s Natural Law above all other potential legal state and church gods and their lesser, unnatural laws, even they must have first acknowledged a One True God. This is not a requirement of belief in some re-presented image or person as “God,” only an understanding that all law stems from the concept of the ultimate power and authority of God as Creator, whether you personally believe in (love) a God or not. God is the foundational escape route and safe-house. Some call this as getting back to Nature. Others call it getting “grounded.” Whatever the name, the result is the same, a re-finding of what is Real. The reader may choose to ignore this fact at his own peril, and purposeful ignorance and even unreasonable hatred of this fact is a likely sign that that reader will not be able to get anything from this work. For I cannot nor do I intend to prove to anyone that God Exists. The point of God’s Realm is that everything in It is not provable, for Self-Existence is self-evident, requiring no fictional proofs of mens imaginations. It is difficult I know to have such Faith, but only until you realize that Faith in Truth, in Reality, and in Nature is just another way of stating the words Faith in God. The author is not asking the reader to believe (love) anything that isn’t Real, only to acknowledge the foundational law of men in their nationhood by their own creations and writings. In other words, man only obtains power as a false authority by pretending to be middleman gods, in the appointed offices of what they define as “God,” pretendedly and apparently approved and thus seated in office by that Supreme Being. Thus we must only know that from the point of view of any legal system of law created by man, that law is only established and ordained over man’s own false creation of legal names and titles (nouns) of all things already in Existence (of Creation). Nature (including all men on earth in equal consideration) must first be acknowledged as only the unimpeachable Creation of God and no other, with no flattering titles, before a false god pretending to be a deity higher than man but less than Jehovah and all of the legal reconsideration of Nature appoints himself or is anointed (christened) to be sovereign over man’s legal creation and law and those who volunteer to be under its sovereignty.

If the reader has ever quoted the statement that “all men are created equal,” he has only quoted a part of God’s Law plagiarized by an idolatrous nation to justify their tyrannical designs and false law against he who religiously quotes it. These statements are a statement of Source, of man’s origin and permanent place in God’s Creation of Nature. Man retains this station in God’s Kingdom at all times, for he can never be anything but what God Created him as. Only if he follows by his choice of actions in life that Natural Law of God without using man’s legal artifices of legal names, titles, credit, and insurances (being in surety) can he actually lay claim to be under that Higher Law of God, for what is Nature without a Creator? To deny God is to deny Reality, not because God exists in some perceived form or image, but because another name for Reality is Jehovah (God).

REALITY - noun - 1. ACTUAL BEING OR EXISTENCE OF ANY THING; truth; fact; IN DISTINCTION FROM MERE APPEARANCE. 2. Something intrinsically important, not merely matter of show. And to realities yield all her shows. 3. In the schools, THAT MAY EXIST OF ITSELF, or which has A FULL AND ABSOLUTE BEING OF ITSELF, and is not considered as a part of any thing else. 4. In law, IMMOBILITY, or THE FIXED, PERMANENT NATURE of property; AS CHATTELS WHICH SAVOR OF THE REALITY [This word is so written in law, for reality]. (Webs1828)

—=—

Before continuing upon this journey, let us take into consideration this word “truth” in its dualistic and opposing forms. What is True under God is that which is self-evident, needing no proof as to the designs of men. What is called as the noun or name of “truth” in the legal system is always a lie, for words and names are always an accepted lie. Truth, like Life, is a verb. It is an action. Whatever name (noun) is placed upon It has nothing to do with its actuality and self-evidence. In fact, a name re-creates as a dead instrument the animate substance of Life, the verb or action thereof, into an empty form with no self-evidence or self-existence. It cannot animate itself. In other words, only the name artfully affixed to something Real may be proven to fictionally exist by artificial law, but never a man or other part of God’s Creation alone (without name), which we may call ambiguously as Nature or as Reality. That being said, let us consider what the Pure Truth is compared to its evil twin, that imagined legal or linguistic truth made entirely of words with no substance.

— = —

“I shall then suppose, not that God who is supremely good and the fountain of truth, but some evil genius not less powerful than deceitful, has employed his whole energies in deceiving me; I shall consider that the heavens, the earth, colours, figures, sound, and all other external things are nought but the illusions and dreams of which this genius has availed himself IN ORDER TO LAY TRAPS FOR MY CREDULITY; I shall consider myself as having no hands, no eyes, no flesh, no blood, nor any senses, yet falsely believing myself to possess all these things; I shall remain obstinately attached to this idea, and if by this means it is not in my power to arrive at the knowledge of any truth, I MAY AT LEAST DO WHAT IS IN MY POWER AND WITH FIRM PURPOSE AVOID GIVING CREDENCE TO ANY FALSE THING, OR BEING IMPOSED UPON BY THIS ARCH DECEIVER, however powerful and deceptive he may be.”

“WHERE COULD AN EFFECT GET ITS REALITY, IF NOT FROM ITS CAUSE? ...If we assume that something is found in the idea that was not in its cause, THEN THE IDEA GETS THAT SOMETHING FROM NOTHING...”

“Perhaps several partial causes... have taken the ideas of various perfections I attribute to God from a variety of causes, so that all of these perfections are found somewhere in the universe, but not all joined together in a single being—God. On the contrary, the unity, the simplicity, that is, THE INSEPARABILITY OF ALL THOSE FEATURES THAT ARE IN GOD IS ONE OF THE CHIEF PERFECTIONS THAT I UNDERSTAND TO BE IN HIM”.

—Descartes, Meditations on First Philosophy (separate quotes)

— = —

One of Descartes premises about the “human condition” was that while mans will is unlimited, and so too therefore is his ability to choose correctly or incorrectly, his reason and perception are in fact quite limited. For, of course, man cannot know the completeness of God (the universe) nor comprehend Its Greatness. But he can certainly create languages and digits that become his religion and his science, where the symbols overshadow and become more sacred than that singular aspect of God they represent as fiction. Thus man has been led to worship the effect but not the cause of the effect. And so we find that man's sacred designs can and only ever will be cursed, adding greatly to his knowledge of the fruit of evil (artifice) without actual knowledge of the Real (good) such symbols represent. Even our concepts of good and evil are skewed, mistaking the actions of a spider as anthropomorphized evil. But the spider is an integral part of Nature, not a artificial creation of man. Thus the spider is not part of that tree of knowledge, for that tree only bears false or incomplete fruit. It bears only the fruit of man's limitation of knowledge and perception. And so we must eat of it without confidence at all times, for all that is sure in Nature needs not the fruit of man's ideas to justify that self-Existence.

Descartes reached a final conclusion, which we should all be taking to heart. He realized that because of these limitations upon our perceptions but not upon our will and desires, we should continuously, consciously assess all that we perceive with our senses, for our limitations cause us to be susceptible to false perceptions, outright inaccuracies, and even well-known lies. Thus our errors in believing (loving) such false perceptions and lies is not God's fault but our own. We cannot use God as an excuse for our own behavior (though many do), for our behavior stems from our own perceptions, be they false or of Truth. The Bible was written to reign in such false perceptions, guiding us to embrace only that which is self-evident and self-existent. And so Descartes' final solution was simply to consciously use our faculties correctly, with conscious awareness of our limitations and ability to err, believing (loving) only that which is Real (of God). And so the moral of his writings was quite reasonable, putting forward the simple concept that to avoid error, each of us must consciously remain within the limits of what we can be certain about, never assenting to artificial concepts, sciences, and symbology that surpasses the limited powers of our ability to perceive and avoid that for which our reasoning of what is self-evident is unable to confirm.

Funny thing... this is exactly what the Bible teaches! The first step is to admit to our own potential for fallibility (sin), and then only from this point may we find Truth (God). But we must also realize that our belief in the supposed "infallibility" of the corporate, ecclesiastical office of "Pope" or any other leader is part of our fallibility of perception. It is the belief in what is not certainly of God's Nature.

This work is intended to present one and only one thing, the self-evident Truth. While the rhetoric of the author may sometimes get in the way of this feat, such blathering is only presented with that same intent of revealing and attempting to acknowledge and Live only in the Highest Truth, as what is indisputable except through lies and deception. This work has no other purpose. And so we must therefore acknowledge this very important collective condition of our place in the hu-man farm and under these devils (evil geniuses), that form without substance we all suffer from at some point in our Lives, and perhaps on a daily basis. We seem to enjoy or at least tolerate the task of hiding from the Truth and making up our own. We like to play make-believe. We pre-tend. We lie to ourselves and do so quite often, either knowingly or unknowingly. And there is a very good reasoning behind this phenomenon, and not just in the fact that everything around us exists as an accepted lie. Often, the Purest of Truths told by men appear to the hearer as that which is offensive, causing hurt feelings due to the sudden cognition of some very hard Realities (Truths), which ultimately we all know, in the end, cannot be escaped from. We cannot escape from Nature, from Jehovah, from our Source in Nature, even within these artificial wombs (matrixes) we artfully create and believe in. What is out of harmony with Reality will eventually be forced back in tune, or shall perish in the wake of that re-tuning. Such artificial growth away from the harmony of God's Nature is cancerous growth, and cancer is the body's forced evolution as a response to man's scientific designs against it, a desperate attempt to fight our foolish rejections of the perfection of a Pure Existence and Law. The Reality of IT is self-evident with every blade of grass and every rainstorm and every starry night. The strange question we must attempt to answer here is this: why is that which is the unchangeable, undeniable, self-evident Truth such a perceptively offensive concept? How can we possibly be offended by the True Nature of our own Existence?

But the answer is even stranger. For we must realize that Truth in Its self-evident substance is in actuality never offensive, and thus always defensive. They say the Truth hurts, but in Reality, it can only heal. This is to say that the Truth can only be offensive to a liar, to anyone that believes they are some thing they are not. The Truth, being self-evident, is God's primary defense against all artifice and against the principality and princes (magistrates) of lies. It is the only True defense that Exists, for only the Truth may defeat lies. And so no matter what is presented herein, the author wishes only for the reader to ask this single question before rendering a fictional opinion based on some personal prejudice: Is what is written here a self-evident Truth, or is it a falsified or opinion of "truth" based on a legally accepted lie, a lie with no Existence in Truth (Reality)? Is it man-made or is It a Creation of God's Nature? These are the only states of being when it comes to information. Knowledge is either Real or artificial, and we more so than not acknowledge only what benefits our individual purpose and intent. Whatever is said herein is in the Purest intent of Truth. Whatever the reader may extract from those words should be of the same intent, for the Truth is only offensive to that which is not Real. To defend a state, a nation, a corporation, a religion, a status within any of these, or any other fictional creation of man is to deny the Truth that these things simply do not Exist in self-evidence. They are not the Creation of God. They did not grow on trees nor germinate from seed nor spawn from another Life. They are imaginations of the magi in the nations. They are magic spellings of words. They are artificial in every way. And so please consider these differences when suddenly something written in this work offends you. The Truth may only offend he who hides behind a lie he calls as "truth" but is only the fiction of art, an image with no essence. Whatever painting you have created for your legal self, whatever self-projected image you imagine yourself to be in their legal fiction, none of these are self-evident Truths, only names and flattering titles that exist only in fiction. And anything True is always offensive to anything legal and artificial.

Does the "truth" in man's mind and imagination necessarily match or Exist in and as Reality? No. For a truth of words or ideas cannot Exist in and of its self. It is never self-evident. Man's accepted truths is only a product of man's imagined perceptions of the already Self-Existent Reality (God), and so any truth created by man must never be said to be a certainty, especially the theories of any science. Numbers are words, and words are always a lie, standing as only a two-dimensional, fictional representation of the infinitely dimensional Real it re-presents. Certainties are neither scientific nor spiritual. The only certainty is that God (Reality) Exists despite man's opinions, beliefs, worded descriptions, names (nouns) and false truths applied to it. And it is these weaknesses and logical fallacies of man's perceptions that are manipulated by the fictional church and state and so used to enslave him outside of Reality, separating him from the Truth of his Source.

A man without Real Land can only walk in false persona (legal status) on the artificially titled "land" (real estate) of another. This legal word real in legal fiction has nothing to do with what is actual or Real (of God's Creation). Note here that this word Creation should also be read throughout this work as an indisputable or self-evident concept, as the superlative (Highest) verb, as the continuing or eternal action and Nature of the ever-changing Universe. This real estate is just words on paper. A false title. A numbered address point upon the grid of a legal matrix used for service of process to the agents of fictional persons. A lie given legal status as a confirmed and ratified truth. And the only way that a man can walk without touching his Source is to acknowledge in his mind and through legal contract that all of the True, self-evident Land, as the Reality of the Creation of God, is instead and legally in truth usurped and replaced by the legal paper creation under legally (fictionally) appointed titles of those legal gods of the nations.

—=—

"This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh... IF YE BE LED OF THE SPIRIT, YE ARE NOT UNDER THE LAW... the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering (patience), gentleness, goodness, faith, Meekness, temperance: AGAINST SUCH THERE IS NO LAW."

—Galatians 5:16, 18, 22-23

—=—

“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his WAYS are judgment: a God of TRUTH AND WITHOUT INIQUITY, just and right is he.”

—Deuteronomy 32:4, KJB

—=—

“Now therefore fear the LORD, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and PUT AWAY THE GODS WHICH YOUR FATHERS SERVED on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the LORD.”

—Joshua 24:14, KJB

—=—

“...and the truth shall make you free.”

Honestly, how many have quoted this statement and yet have never known it to be taken from scripture. And how many still could have imagined that to be set free by Living only in self-evident Truth without artifice and false beliefs in the legitimacy and authorities of man’s fiction and law is for all intents and purposes the Whole of the Law (Word) of God? How many then understand that the only defense (Truth) against their great and powerful legal system of lies is that which against there is no law, as Love, Charity, Goodness, Gentleness, Peace... To a legal problem there is no legal solution. Fiction can never be solved or defeated with more lies of fiction. One either is or is not acting as a Real man.

To be vulgar and borrow a familiar phrase from so many false, institutionalized corporate Christians, Living in Truth at all times is quite simply what Jesus would do! For christ’s only defense was Pure Truth, and only the enemies of Pure Truth were offended by Its delivery, as the scribes and pharases and money-changers and priests, the words of It stinging like the most ferocious, strongest predator imaginable. As with the story of christ, the only way to defeat the Truth is to destroy it, either with strong hands or more aptly with stronger words.

To walk spiritually is to walk against man’s false law, for no law can touch the spiritually acting man. Pure Charity, as we have discussed, is an act of pure spirit, and against the spirit there is no law. It is only the fictional personification of legalized “charity,” including all corporations calling themselves as religions and churches, that the law of man may infect such spiritual gifts. Intent is everything, and intent to receive by one’s act of giving is the gateway sin, for to be sure of receipt one must obtain insurance, and insurance may only be applied to a legal surname. Only in the “Christian” or first (Source) private name may man cause the Purity of Love and Charity to be fulfilled. All else is of mammon, and mammon is administered by false gods and tyrants.

So let us discuss briefly here what is anarchy, not in its modern “popular” form as the title of a modern political movement, but in its origin of meaning, which is merely “lawlessness,” “chaos,” “inefficient law,” or “political confusion.” The strange Reality is that any organized government of men without God (Word) is a system of anarchy. But how can we call something a govern-ment (mind control) while at the same time styling it as a legal state of anarchy?

Controlled chaos...

Did you know that the word license is a synonym of the word anarchy?

If a government gives license (lawless permission) to kill or commit other crimes against man and God's Nature, is this not merely an organized form of anarchy against the Natural Law of God, and is not therefore the artificial title of "government" just for show? Is it not merely mind control by false doctrines? Cannot lawlessness be said to be the same as Godlessness? To pretend a state of Higher Laws attached to Nature without acknowledgement of a God (Creator) of that Nature and its self-evident Law is the highest form of anarchy, which is only to invite the organized chaos of man's syndicalist government (i.e. anarcho-syndicism) of legal law and inequities of valuation in mammon as the replacement god of the Natural Realm. If anarchy were the problem, government would be its reaction, just as infection is the reaction to uncured and uncared for open wounds. Government is the inevitable conclusion to any period of anarchy. And in a circular fashion, anarchy is a solution to a totally corrupt government. The only difference between legal, organized crime controlled by government and the unorganized state of anarchy is that governments last much longer. The reader should not be confused here, for the author supports neither legal governments nor anarchy. They are but similitudes of lawless (Godless) behavior. Anarchy is as a ripe soil awaiting the seed of corruption to blossom in the form of a permissive, organized crime syndicate that pretends to be a savior. Anarchy is only the strict law of the strongest and most influential flesh, not of the spirit, just as legalism is law without any Higher consideration but that of man's i-magi-nations, as a law of permissive lawlessness in reconsideration and misrepresentation of what God Is. And it only applies to the creations of those legal gods. It is a state of pretending that the legal name and person (status and title) of man can break God's Natural Law as long as he does so legally and in that false title, in a persona that is only a fictional creation of man. The legal state is a simulated reality, and as long as the crimes against God and Nature are pretended to be within its own fictional jurisdiction, the crimes are forgiven by licensure (organized anarchy) and by the pardon of men acting in the artificial legal offices of priest and judge.

Either state of being, either forced legal law or accidental lawlessness, is satanic (adversarial) to God's Law and Nature. Period. And so this author will neither support nor apologize for either of these chaotic matrixes. However, for those who choose to live in evil and by lies, the author is willing to admit to the notion that government is at least a temporary, necessary evil to prevent complete and total anarchy, for they are already in existence, and we must remember that governments are only needed to govern those without self-control, sanity, without right mind, and without a higher law than the flesh. All men of God may come out of her "artificial womb" if they choose. And so it is necessary, that is, only because the men who created governments caused such a void of knowledge and spiritual consideration in the everyday common man, ensuring the need for government in the first place. Problem, reaction, solution. And so just as dams are necessary evils because their immediate destruction would unleash the floods of ruination upon the cities they supply, governments over the public-minded multitude seem to be, for now, an apparently indispensable design. And so the author re-stresses that the only solution is the spiritual, Natural Law of God. It is knowledge reattained and utilized. To come out of the cities and of the nations will require knowledge of and Pure works in True piety by all who seek the only Real solution. To live under God's Law alone is not anarchy but self-government, as the spiritual control of one's own self in upholding the Highest duty, the Truest Proof of Existence.

— = —

"There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one."

—Acts 5:16, KJB

— = —

“And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither OUT OF ALL CITIES, and outwent them, AND CAME TOGETHER UNTO HIM.”

—Mark 6:33, KJB

— — —

Legalism deals not with Nature or Reality, but only with Its name (form without substance). It ignores life and represents it with art, and art is an expendable labor commodity. Legalism is thus anarchy against God (Reality), for it figuratively offends the Creator of Reality. When all of Nature has a monetary value placed upon its legal names, and when the name is more valuable than the life or other substance it represents, we know that we are in hell. We have crossed over and exist only under the god of mammon, for we ourselves see only fiction, not Reality. We see not the True Nature of God’s Creation before us, only its comparable valuation in the fiction of money and in its potential of profitable gain where nothing actually exists to gain from, except debt. This causes permanent indebtedness, for gain harms all others but the one gaining. We live our civil lives accordingly, in constant pursuit of money at the expense of others. If this is not organized anarchy, this perpetual monopoly game with no winner, I don’t know what is. And since all things in Nature are represented in our minds as only the valuable consideration of their monetary appearance, we lose our religion. We lose our Charity. We forget how to Love. We take a false god, the god of mammon (wealth), for we no longer Live in Source. We are tricked into following only the law of money in commerce, not the Law of the Source and Design of our own Nature. This is spiritual anarchy. Source becomes only a lifeless natural re-source to exploit in the name of profit in mammon. We are purchased (conquered) by that which is adversarial to Nature. And so even men are seen not as equal under God and in Its Nature, but only by our worth as human capital in the legal system of mammon. For when we assume the name of another, we are no longer acting under God as ourselves, as God’s Creation, and therefore we are no longer considered by the creator of that false legal name and title as a man of God. We have made a choice to live in the chaos of man’s designs, and that election establishes our law and redirects our intent.

And so as the foundation of comprehending this work and in that of all hierarchies of all possible laws, the reader must first acknowledge not the imaginary existence of some persona or image of God as presented by corporate religious authorities (church and state), but only that the word “God” is only a word, and in its purest form is only descriptive of all of that Permanent Existence untouched by man’s designs. God is Source, Foundation, Reality; while man’s false creation within God’s actual Creation is always secondary and always subservient to God’s Law of Creation (the Natural Law). Man must choose to enter the legal realm by abandoning the Realm and Creation of God. Thus our actions in that false legal nature as our signatures and respect of the fictions of law ceremoniously proclaim our intent to abandon God’s Realm and protective Natural Law and in its stead to enter the fiction of legalism and be bound by its anti-Law. Organized religion and its doctrines play no part in this understanding, nor does government, for church and state are only temporary creations of man, not of the Permanence of God. All that is not created by the designs of man is simply the Creation of God, as Reality and origin of Source, and all that is created by man is not.

That’s it! It’s that simple. It is only your choice as to which of these “gods” you wish to worship - God’s Nature or man’s artificial construct built without It, also known as mammon. The big lie. Just know that you may only have (claim) one God, that Nature only Exists as untouched by man’s designs and inventions, and that acceptance of one god (God) destroys the power of the other (Other). The legal law requires abandonment of God’s Law of Nature. And God’s Law requires abandonment of the respect of all artificial creations of man. We cannot know any form of law unless we know the substance of God. We cannot really know anything unless we know and compare its opposite.

— — —

“To believe in God is impossible.
Not to believe in Him is absurd.”

—Voltaire

—=—

“Who hath divided a watercourse for the overflowing of waters, or a way for the lightning of thunder; To cause it to rain on the earth, WHERE NO MAN IS; on the wilderness, WHEREIN THERE IS NO MAN; To satisfy the desolate and waste ground; and to cause the bud of the tender herb to spring forth? Hath the rain a father? or who hath begotten the drops of dew? Out of whose womb came the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven, who hath gendered it?”

—Job 38: 25-29, KJB

—=—

So how does one possibly define God?

How does Creation define its Creator?

Answer: One does not, for no fictional words created by man may ever account for such an incomprehensible Supremacy of Being that is Everything in Natural Existence as the entirety of Space and Time and Universe. Man's systems of logical understanding simply do not apply to such a spiritual wonder, and his limited methodologies of who, what, where, when, and why simply don't have the power to define and explain the unexplainable Nature of all that is in Existence. These are but the 2 dimensional equations of the capacity of man's mind applied to the 4-dimensional (?) Oneness of all Being. I don't know is the only True answer to what God Is, and yet the self-evident and life-affirming Laws of Existence are as clear as night and day, for the Law of God is the Law of Nature. Ironically, it is only the lies and fictions created by the minds of men that need to be proved to exist in their artificial form and by their terms of art. Only false gods need be defined in false name and flattering title. God's Creation needs no proof by men to Exist as Reality. Without man, Reality would, without a whimper, go on timelessly Existing as if nothing ever happened. But most importantly, it is only that which may be legally or artfully (artificially) defined that may be controlled. Thus, in order to hold the power of a false god, man must convince other men to believe in what they say “God” is. It is the very ambiguity and unknown factor of how the Universe and Nature works in its wondrous Design that is the beautiful mystery of God, and only when that humility disappears from man's mind and his ego overtakes his humble soul, only then can he rule and be ruled by other men.

You see, to proclaim a positive non-belief in God would actually first require some knowledge of God in the negative. This is a paradox. Non-belief is always a fiction, just as most religious beliefs are. What is Reality Exists beyond a shadow of doubt, and without the need of man's petty religious doctrines and belief systems. To positively state ones non-belief in anything is to create a legal fact out of nothingness. This is fiction. This is chaos. And so the reader should bear in mind that belief as well as non-belief in artificial things are equally dangerous. Acknowledgement of any fact, either as an existing or non-existing thing, is the entire basis of the legal fiction. In other words, keep your opinions to yourself. There is never any reason to publicly declare a private thought. For it is the declaration, written or unwritten, that creates the legal fiction. What is in the mind is negative, what is brought out in the public is positive. This is the nature of the public law. More on this later...

The author would not dare in this honest work to tread on such an endeavor as to attempt to describe the appearance of some imagined form, personification, or anthropomorphism of what God Is, and so leaves that futility to the utter arrogance of priests, kings, and popes in their organized deceit and desire to be like gods. It is only when man arrogantly attempts to define what God Is in man's limited capacity for language and in the science arts that his own tyranny may persist, for man will always only point to himself in the absence of an anthropomorphized personification and image of God. The creator of the image is the creator of the god. When we attempt to place words in explanation of what God Is, we then turn God into only a positive image of the mind, a mere baseless form, as a humanistic replacement created from a jumble of words and paint strung together to form a descriptive non-Reality, a personification, an anthropomorphized fiction. In this way, man no longer respects the substance of God's Nature (Creation), and begins either acting in or respecting God's mis-taken form over Reality (Nature), and most often as a human form. A graven image. A false representation. An idol. A vanity.

Ultimately, it was only when man claimed god-ship (priesthood and empire) that man lost touch with God's True Nature and Wonder of Being so many centuries ago. He began worshiping an empty form without contemplation of Substance, as a name without referential to its Source. Simulacrum: a copy without Origin. And so the institutions of the gods; those temples, synagogues, monuments, churches, and masonic government domes of old and new form were stretched over God's Nature to keep men from contemplating the Reality and power of the Nature of God's Creation. For Creation is Nature, and God's Nature is Creation.

The designer is only evidenced by the nature of its design; the creator by its creation. This rule certainly applies not only to the Reality of all Nature, but to all things secular as well as religious (ecclesiastical) as the inventions of men. Man creates ideas and patents them as their personal creator, thus controlling the potential future use, profits, and applications of those uniquely worded and re-presented ideas, writings, images, and the incorporations of them. Does this make man as a god over his own secondary creation; over a realm of legal fiction so vast that even Nature's Design Itself is hidden under man's artifice? The answer to that question will certainly become clear as we proceed through this work.

No matter how many artificial gods exist in magisterial idolatry over their own artificial, legal creations and jurisdictions, it must be remembered and cherished as the foundation of all things that it is God's Creation of Nature that is the only Design that never needs (positive) proof of ownership of Its actual (negative) Existence; no formalities such as copyrights or patents and no names or titles. Nature (Reality) need not prove Its Own Existence, for It Exists despite man's opinions or considerations of It. One simply can never prove a negative, unless one declares it to be a positive. So too does man only Exist in Reality as part of God's Nature (Creation). It is only when man assumes fictional descriptions of words, names, titles, and numerical marks that he falls from such a Natural state of Grace. Only artificial things need proof of artful existence.

A painting certainly exists, but is not part of the Origin of Existence. The painting is only man's design, and is only a re-creation of Reality, utilizing parts of Nature in its formula. It is not of Source. From the frame to the canvas to the chemical paints used in its recreation, the painting as a secondary creation of man can not be said to be a Creation of God, only a re-presentation in image and empty form of what is God's Nature and Perfect Design. All of man's creations are thus imperfect uses of God's Perfection of Nature. Man may live in Creation but only cause re-creation.

This is a fundamental concept of all law, the principles of which always differentiate between what is of God (Source) and what is of man (technology/art/resource). As such, these mostly Latin and often scripturally sourced "maxims of law" will be portrayed throughout this work. For only by intimately understanding the principles (maxims) of law can one circumnavigate through that bulwark of legal jargon.

BAILIWICK - noun - [bailli, an officer, see bailiff.] The precincts in which a bailiff has jurisdiction; THE LIMITS OF A BAILIFF'S AUTHORITY; as a hundred, a liberty, a forest, over which a bailiff is appointed. In the liberties and franchises of lords, THE BAILIFF HAS EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION. (Webs1828)

BAILIE - In the Scotch law. (1) A MAGISTRATE having inferior criminal and civil jurisdiction, similar to that of an alderman, (2) an officer appointed TO CONFER INFEOFFMENT, A BAILIFF, A SERVER OF WRITS. (Black4)

BAILIFF - One to whom some authority, care, GUARDIANSHIP, OR JURISDICTION IS DELIVERED, committed, or intrusted; ONE WHO IS DEPUTED OR APPOINTED TO TAKE CHARGE OF ANOTHER'S AFFAIRS; AN OVERSEER OR SUPERINTENDENT; A KEEPER, protector, or GUARDIAN; a steward. A SHERIFF'S OFFICER OR DEPUTY. A court attendant, sometimes called a tipstaff. A magistrate, who formerly administered justice in the parliaments or courts of France, answering to the English sheriffs as mentioned by Bracton. A PERSON acting in a MINISTERIAL capacity who has BY DELIVERY the custody and administration of lands or goods FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE OWNER OR BAILOR, and is liable to render an account thereof.

BAILOR - The party who bails or delivers goods to another, in the contract of bailment.

BAIL - verb transitive - 1. To set free, DELIVER, or liberate from arrest and imprisonment, upon security given that the person bailed shall appear and answer in court. The word is applied to the magistrate, or the surety. THE MAGISTRATE BAILS A MAN, WHEN HE LIBERATES HIM FROM ARREST OR IMPRISONMENT, UPON BOND GIVEN WITH SURETIES. THE SURETY BAILS A PERSON, WHEN HE PROCURES HIS RELEASE FROM ARREST, BY GIVING BOND FOR HIS APPEARANCE. 2. To deliver goods in trust, UPON A CONTRACT, expressed or implied, that the trust shall be faithfully executed on the part of the bailee or person entrusted; as, to bail cloth to a tailor to be made into a garment, or to bail goods to a carrier. 3. TO FREE FROM WATER, as to bail a boat. This word is improperly written bale. The word is probably the same as bail in law, to free, or liberate, and signifies to throw out water, as with a bucket or shovel. - noun - The PERSON or persons who procure the release of a prisoner from custody, BY BECOMING SURETY FOR HIS APPEARANCE IN COURT. The bail must be real substantial bondsmen. B and B were bail to the arrest in a suit at law. Bail is not used with a plural termination. 2. The security given for the release of a prisoner from custody; as, the man is out upon bail. Excessive bail ought not to be required. Bail is common or special. COMMON BAIL ARE IMAGINARY PERSONS, who are PLEDGES for the plaintiff's prosecution; as John Doe and Richard Roe. SPECIAL BAIL MUST BE MEN OF REAL SUBSTANCE, sufficient to pay their bond or recognizance. To perfect or justify bail is TO PROVE BY THE OATH OF THE PERSON THAT HE IS WORTH THE SUM FOR WHICH HE IS SURETY BEYOND HIS DEBTS. To admit to bail is to release upon security given by bondsmen. 3. The handle of a kettle or other vessel. 4. In England, a certain limit within a forest. (Webs1828)

— = —

To be clear, the god (judge/magistrate) bails (sets free) the man back into his corporate franchise (liberty) of citizenship (called legally as “freedom,” where free legally means “franchise”), while the man, acting as surety, bails out the person (citizenship) he operates commercially under franchise. Free-dom is a commercial franchise under the DOMinion of the magistrates (gods). To have legal freedom, therefore, in legalease, means to be a slave in bondage through surety to a person (status). For legal freedom is that which is opposed to Natural freedom. It’s all in the words, the term of art. Freedom is slavery, as Orwell penned. And as we will see, the act of delivery of the child at birth is the act of bailment, of assigning the child to be a ward under the guardianship of the state, with a permanent bail set in persona, and a permanent surety in agency to appear in court whenever the person (name) is summoned by the magistrates (gods).

Confused? You should be. For this is the legal system. And there ain't nothing intuitive about it. Its design is birthed in confusion and built upon divisive word-magic. Licensed lawlessness. But I digress...

Back to God's Word and those who seek to replace It. For whatever law is followed is the law of the god that created it. God's Word is christ (John 1:1). In other words, one either follows the example of christ's words written as the spiritual law or one becomes a slave of the legalistic law of men. It's that simple.

— = —

“But be ye doers of the word, AND NOT HEARERS ONLY, DECEIVING YOUR OWN SELVES... For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, HE BEING NOT A FORGETFUL HEARER, BUT A DOER OF THE WORK, this man shall be blessed in his deed. If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. PURE RELIGION AND UNDEFILED BEFORE GOD AND THE FATHER IS THIS, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, AND TO KEEP HIMSELF UNSPOTTED FROM THE WORLD.”

—James 1:22, 25-27, KJB

— = —

Spot (to be spotted by the world) is another name for mark, name, and number, used in this scripture with the metaphorical meaning of being physically and morally unblemished free from censure, of being irreproachable, being free from vice, and being unsullied. Of course these are the description of citizenship, of social security, of licenses, of legalism, and of identification thought the surname (last name) admixed with the first (christian) name.

The spots of the world on man's soul are presented in Stong's Concordance and lexicons as:

WORLD - Strong's G2889 - kosmos (κόσμος)

1. an apt and harmonious arrangement or CONSTITUTION, ORDER, GOVERNMENT
2. ornament, decoration, adornment, i.e. the arrangement of the stars, 'the heavenly hosts', as the ornament of the heavens. 1 Pet. 3:3
3. the world, the universe
4. the circle of the earth, the earth
5. the inhabitants of the earth, MEN, THE HUMAN FAMILY
6. THE UNGODLY MULTITUDE; THE WHOLE MASS OF MEN ALIENATED FROM GOD, AND THEREFORE HOSTILE TO THE CAUSE OF CHRIST

7. WORLD AFFAIRS, the aggregate of things earthly

1 THE WHOLE CIRCLE OF EARTHLY GOODS, ENDOWMENTS, RICHES, ADVANTAGES, PLEASURES, etc., which although hollow and frail and fleeting, stir desire, seduce from God and ARE OBSTACLES TO THE CAUSE OF CHRIST

8. any aggregate or general collection of particulars of any sort (i.e. artificial persons, as aggregate corporations)

1 the Gentiles as contrasted to the Jews (Rom. 11:12, etc.)

— — —

To sit in contemplation of this is to realize that, by the very act of citizenship to any nation, we are breaking God's Law. By having membership in person to any corporation called a religion or church is to break with God's Law. And by having possessions, which can only be proved positively as property through legal means and in contractual relationship with government in legal persona (as citizens), we are induced to fall away from God and enter into the fiction of the legal world. To say we are spotted by worldly things is the understatement of all time. No man may own a part of God, of Nature. Only a legal persona (status) created by man's designs in legalism may make such a false, imaginary claim on paper (in legal fiction). The only wealth of the world is Nature Itself, Reality, and all else can only be the recreation of man. But the spirit resides only in the Source, and thus the spirituality of man may only manifest through the Source of his Nature as part of Creation. The church and state are worldly things. They are creations of man. They are only ever re-creation, for man originates no thing in Nature, not even the line of his own blood that he helplessly passes down to the next generation. They are not of Nature, not of God, not of spirit, and not of Source. This is the Word.

This Supremacy of God when respected is self-evident, for this is the Reality or Natural State of all things which we call as Creation. One need not adopt a literal translation for this word, lest it lead to questions that have no answers and only appease the ego. The word Creation is just a word used to describe Nature in its untainted substance absent from the imaginations and designs of man's mind. To contemplate further what is Creation is a fool's errand. Undisturbed and not trifled with, that which is here in Existence and what was before us is the Permanence of Reality we call God's Creation and Nature, and all else must be a sacrifice of that Reality, turning the substance of God into new forms of artificiality (as technology) used against Nature's Perfection of Design by men. Ultimately, when speaking of the best interests of man, his protection of that Original Design as Creation is the highest self-interest, and thus must be the Highest Law, for man is merely a totally dependent part of Creation. Thus, since a legal patenter of ideas and mechanical or biological designs may only alter God's Reality into some new (novel) form of the Reality of Nature, inevitably and often without conscious thought, the goal of that scientific design is to alter the Ultimate Design of Nature's ebb and flow, and to alter the harmony of Life Itself. And so despite the fact that man's inventions are only re-creations of the Permanent Domain and "Property" of God's Creation, man arrogantly describes them in law as his own "patented" creation without respect of all Source, and despite the fact that even his fantastically intricate design and circuitry covered in cholesterol for which he calls his own brain is only part of God's Design of Creation. Like so-called American settlers pretended through the words of legal artifice to "purchase" but really only stole the lands of the aboriginals, citizenships pretend to steal Nature from God by redesigning it into more humanistic forms and registering it as if it were suddenly outside of God's Design of Creation.

The savvy reader may well already have concluded that these are not at all "religious" concepts, merely an ancient battle between the Reality of All Things (God) and the adversarial fiction (satanism) created by man. If the reader chooses to call this religion, so be it, for that word is also a creation of man. If the reader chooses to call this science, so be it, for that word as all words are merely the creation of man. But both readers must come together and realize that these are just words, played out as the big lie and represented as either the science of religion or the religion of science. But the self-evident Reality of all Existence does not change no matter what we decide to call and style It, for it is not our Creation. And for this work, we are calling It (the Reality of Nature) as the capitalized word “God.”

If the reader cannot get past this Word due to his religious or non-religious ideals, then that infantile state of being is not ready for these words, for he is not ready to face Reality head on. And so continuing with this work will be a futile effort. This is only the setting of the foundation of our use of such words herein.

The word religion must also be understood before such a claim can be made, of course, and it will. Likewise, the word science must be dissected and cross-referenced so as to discover its True Purpose as compared to the abusive title and application it has received by man’s institutional, corporate designs against its actual, spiritual Reason. In the end, it is the purposefully decisive division of these two concepts, of religion and science, that has created all problems, when in Reality science is just the study of God’s Nature, and religion is only a barrier to the destructive influence of science. To separate these two concepts, spirituality and law (science), is the most dangerous division imaginable.

Ironically, it appears that the established, institutionalized religions and corporate ventures of man’s artificial world have nothing to do with understanding the True Nature of God or that of man’s place within It. Instead, man’s designs that we call in false name only as “religion,” “science,” and legal “law” take us away from this symbiosis between man and his Source of Nature. For in our legalistic societies the Creation knows and respects not his Creator, nor its Intent of Design, nor Its Will, nor Its Reason. And so man’s sciences are as a severely out-of-tune piano, corrupting of the very harmonic essence they should respect, and acting (with license to kill) completely inharmonious with that Permanence of Nature’s Design and Frequency. The comprehension of such a wondrous perfection as God’s Creation has been replaced only with the tainted words and empty terms of linguistic arts presented by lawyers, priests, judges and politicians, a scientific dictatorship (technocracy) whose members often claim to act as gods (magistrates) of their own artificially created realm, while permitting and licensing themselves to act completely against the Higher Law. They represent a trifecta of institutionalized, syndicalist protectionism regarding their own false re-creationism, one propping the other up within an artificial system while garnering an illusionary re-presentation of the authority of God, as if God Itself would allow man free reign over that Creation of Perfection of Design without laying out Its Law; as if God Itself issues license to man so that he may destroy God’s Own Perfect Creation with legalistic, amoral impunity. This is ridiculous. Imagine Mother Nature calmly smiling in approval as She’s being molested, raped, genetically altered, and polluted. Doesn’t make a whole lot of sense, now does it? And yet this is what the church teaches to man: to follow the law of the land, which is the law of men as magistrates (gods) and not the Word of God to have dominion but no responsibility in guardianship over the world, and to exploit it and even ourselves in our own image.

So lost are we from our relation to God’s Nature as our Source of Being and Life that we fear It instead of embracing It as the purity of Love It subsists in. It is considered instead as something that grows outside of our fences and corporate, municipal borders, boundaries, and city limits, most often considered only as an intruding force upon our artificial concrete and steel jungles, replete with scattered and organized topiaries reminding us of our perceived but always false victory over God’s Perfectly Randomized Design of Nature. Dystopia. And so the legal opinion of corrupt men is that Nature is that which must be controlled and killed to make way for man’s desecration of all that Is and always has been, which we call Jehovah (God), “The Existing One.” The Oneness of all Existence. In other words, the progress of man’s creation requires the symbolic killing of God, though this is ultimately a fools errand of impossibility. Man’s will and thus his artifice often appears to be winning the battle between the Creation and its Creator, man against Nature, but this too is merely the illusionary tactics of that organized lie administered by those same lawyers, priests, and politicians that protect their own designs of men over that of God’s Design of Creation. In the end, of course, Nature will always Reign Supreme. God is indefatigable, never wearying but by the temporary afflictions of man against it that will eventually be healed in It's timelessness. And so it is that Nature's Laws are always Supreme. The artificial must always bow to the Supremacy of its proclaimed reason for legal existence. Satan (all that is adversarial to the Natural Design and Law) may never defeat God's Nature, only pretend to do so, as the things of the world created to deceive and lead man away from his own Nature. And that which is satan's tool is only ever words, which in their most deadly form manifest as that of a legal contract. Satanic things can never be Natural things, for they must be forced upon and over Natural things and be respected by men to exist in their artificial form.

Registered legal property is the name of the legal game; proof of existence where there is actually none. Proof does not create or sustain Life, for the actual Life would necessarily need to Exist in Nature before it could be proven to exist also in fiction. First and last. Likewise, land (soil) is always in Existence as a Reality before any legal title may ever represent it as legal "land" and "property." God's Creation is all that in Reality Exists. Legalism is only ever secondary to that Source. In this light, Life itself (Creation) needs not the proof of man's contemplations, names, titles, or other legal considerations to Exist as and in Pure Reality. Man is only a visitor in God's Unending, Perfect, Permanently Existing Topiary (utopia). Only designs against God's Nature of Creation need legal (artificial) evidence to prove their legal (artful) existence and false authority under men acting as false gods or as their subjects. No man can own the Design of God, which we label as things born in Nature or as Acts of God, simply because no man can create the Origin of Nature. No man is God. But that does not prevent men from pretending to act in the office of god and under the name of "God." Thus we find the most important maxim of man's law, which states that: the creator controls. And so man is god over whatever he creates, but never over the Origin of the Creation of God. This is perhaps the most important aspect of all Law, for a man can only control another man (as a Creation of God) if that man (Creation) can be tricked into operating not under the actual Creator of his Existence in Nature in Reality, but instead under a fictional, legal creation of another man. We call this a strawman.

God (self-evidence) cannot be proven. God (Reality) can only be Lived in despite any artful proof. Once man has something to prove, he is no longer Living under God. He is no longer living in Nature. And so every time man shows identification to prove his false appearance in some fictional identity in legal form (person) to any magistrate (god) or agent of government, this is an acknowledgement and legal acceptance in consent of the legitimacy of that fiction and the legal law that binds its persona (status), and a positive proof that his god is the state.

I was surprised to find that the maxim's of law agreed on this point.

—=—

"Plain truths need not be proved."

—Perspicua vera non sunt probanda. Co. Litt. 16. (BouvMaxim)—

—=—

A man never need prove he is a man. This is a plain truth, plainly visible, and undeniable. He only ever need prove that which is not of God's Creation, that which is opposed to his own Nature. Names, titles, insurance numbers, and other legal creations of man's designs must be proved, for they are not self-evident as part of Reality, as a part of God.

The Existence of what is Real requires no proof. Only the words that de-scribe and re-define actual Existence into a fictional form need such an affirmative artifice. And this is the key to everything that we must learn from this point forward. For to live spiritually in and under God (in Nature, in christ) as the only authority is to live outside of all legal artifice and harmful designs (creations) of men. Yet to merely, vulgarly "believe" in God as Creator without living in God's Creation and by that Supreme Law of Nature is the essence of a fool. Fools attend church and pretend to be christ-like in their minds, vainly participating in pointless ceremonies of pomp and circumstance, while their bodies and souls languish in want of communion with their Source.

Belief in God is in Reality a declaration of moral intent under the Natural Law of God, and the actions a man takes thereby prove that belief, not his words alone. Belief in this respect of God as self-evident is the Purest state of Being, of Pure Love and Charity.

Pretending belief in God within a corporate religion in membership is a declaration of amoral intent under the civil law of the state, and thus an open agreement to break with God's Covenant of Grace. It is a sign that one needs to be governed by man's designs because he cannot govern himself under God. This is a loveless relationship with Jehovah.

Reality is all of Nature, as that which Exists, as the Creation of God. A lie cannot change Reality, and an opinion about God cannot change the Nature of God.

Truth is only man's perception of Reality, is a creation only of man, and therefore a lie can be confirmed as a "truth" or a legal "law." Truth can certainly effect the Nature of Reality, but only through the actions of those who believe in (love) those lies, which we call as "truth" and legal "law."

The legal, corporate church and state are only confirmed and ratified lies that are our proclaimed false-truths legally consented to. The greatest deception. One either acts religiously (by a private moral code) or one joins a religious corporation and assumes the flattering legal title of that public religion's name (denomination) without private acts, without actually living by and in their religion (Law). There are those who call themselves by the flattering title of "Christian," and there are other men who follow the teachings of christ as the primary example of how to Exist only in the spiritual Realm and Law of God. The later is few and far between. One is a legal title, one is a Life-style. One is only a word in legalese, one is Real Life. And the difference between these is like night and day, as darkness and light, God and mammon. America is full of "Christians" in name only, just as all "Christian" nations exist too in name (noun) form only. Only a sentient, rational man can follow christ. But the title of "Christian" is as common as any prostitute. A nation is an artificial thing, a creation of man, not of God, and therefore opposed to christ despite its flattering legal title.

Take away the false, flattering "truth" of names and titles, and whatever is left over is the Reality of that which has no name. This is the Source. Without such a flattering title, most who claim to be "Christian" in this world would be unrecognizable as such, despite their Sunday and legal state-holiday adventures to some corporation with the title of "church." Most simply do not act the part they play. Their belief and respect of the legal law (the law of mammon) prevents it. We go through the motions yet go nowhere, for we are stuck in a legal system that outlaws morals and estops purely religious actions.

But then there is the other side, those whom are disenfranchised from these corporate religions but who have never comprehended the words of the scriptures in any tangible way, thanks to the church and state's public education through legalism.

—=—

"An issue requires terms of contradiction; that is, there can be no issue without an affirmative (positive) on one side and a negative on the other."

—Contestio litis eget terminos contradictaris. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

And so inversely to false religions, this other side that believes ardently in God's non-existence is thus only a state of the most ridiculous foolishness, for to acknowledge a lack of the existence of anything as something tangibly believable in, and thus perceivably forcing that apparently non-existent thing to be absent from consideration, as a sort of alternative God-less religion, is to create a God out of nothingness. It is to believe in a negative as being a positive, knowing that the negative cannot be proven to ever achieve a positive state of existence. While God cannot be proven in the positive, the lack of God can also not be proven in the negative. This is seemingly a paradox. But it is the most important aspect of all law. For that which is forced, imagined, or brainwashed not to exist in the mind cannot also be said to positively (with proof) not Exist in Reality. Perception, especially that which is created in the mind from words, does not dictate the Nature of Reality nor cause it to exist or not exist. Description only creates form, not substance. A negative cannot create a positive. To attempt to prove a negative, as the fact that God does not Exist, is that which is impossible.

—=—

“Negative facts are not proof.”

—Factum negantis nulla probatio. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“No one is bound to do what is impossible.”

A l'impossible nul n'est tenu. I Bouv. Inst. n. 601. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“The law requires nothing impossible.”

Lex non cogit impossibilia. Co. Litt. 231, b; I Bouv. Inst. n. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

Let's follow the logic here...

It is impossible to prove a negative.

The law cannot require what is impossible.

He who follows the scriptural teachings of christ acts only ever in a negative way.

Thus, he who follows christ (God's Word) cannot be proven.

That which cannot be proven cannot be in legal consideration a positive thing.

A negative, as that which cannot be proven, cannot be bound by positive law, which requires proof.

And now we may know why God respects no fiction, no person, no flattering titles, and no marks, images, idols, or symbology. So why do you?

A man of God, as a follower of christ's example under God's Law at all times, is only ever considered by law to be in a negative (Pure) Existence. A man of God is thus immune from other men's legally imposed positive laws, for his actions never embrace or fall under them, for his actions are always negatively charged.

Like electricity, as on a car battery, the legal creators of man's law ground the negative flow of God's energy and promote only their own separate, positive charge. A man of God utilizes only the much more powerful negative charge, while grounding the positive energy of man's legal fiction so as to overcome it. In this analogy, the positive and the negative are akin to the power of the gods, and we may only be under and be charged with one god at one time while abandoning the other. The positive charge represents debt and servitude to other men. The negative charge represents only the authority of God as the Source of all power. When the negative (God) is grounded and ignored, man's will and choice is limited by capacitors (incapacitations) set as legal laws by other men who seek to harness that power for themselves by robbing it from all others. Their lapdog is of course the BAR Association, as that which bars man from his own Nature. It is only when man grounds the positive charge of debt and subjection to legal (artificial) things that the power of all of Nature and its God is realized by the man, for the man becomes again (is reborn) into Nature (Source) and recognizes his place therein. But to be reborn is only to become once again what we were originally born as, by stripping all artificial, legal considerations of that false, positive law from our spiritual Nature. Thus we can understand the legalism that a legal debt may never be paid, it must be discharged.

The "negative law" is only God's Law, or what is called as the Natural Law. Man's law is only ever positive. Only positive things have effect in this legal realm, and only when the positive is respected over the negative; when man is respected as a positive god over that of his negative Creator. A legal claim made in a positive matter must be proven to artificially relate and be attached to that which is in negative substance. Fiction, must be respected to positively exist, and only that respect of artificiality in name, title, and law can cause the positive to be in control over the negative. In other words, he who makes a claim, or he who affirms some legally created thing, is in the position of proving his positive claim. The man acting in a negative fashion, or the man accused of something positive, has no requirement to prove anything, for a negative cannot be proved and has nothing to prove. Legal status is only ever a positive charge of debt. A follower of christ stands only in negative law, which is only ever God's Supreme Law, and desires no positive affirmations or considerations nor claims them as Reality.

To be clear, and to put these opposing charges into a perfection of usage, the negative law means only that man has the right to be left alone, to not be positively charged, to not be forced, and to not have his negative rights and properties trampled upon. This means only that the negative right to not be imposed upon carries with it the equal and correlative duty to act accordingly in sameness to all other men. The simple duty to "do no harm" is the implied underpinnings and foundation of the negative law, or God's Law. To act negatively is to never attempt to enforce man's legalistic law against any other, and to claim no right to harm another's privacy. Inversely, the positive law is designed to positively enforce the fact that man has the right in his legal status (person) and license to harm another public person in agency, to trespass and to impose that which does not exist in Nature upon that which does. Another word for positive is public, and it is only man's legal, public capacity that allows the legal, public (positive) law to effect his person. Through the person (public, positive law status) of the man as a public member of the public society, the man is considered only as a public-minded person. A public person has no protections from the negative rights and duties implied by God's Law of Nature, for a public person is only ever opposed to God and to responsibility, and thus opposed to a negative Existence. It is not the opinion of man that counts, only his actions. He either acts negatively or positively. He cannot be in both states at the same time, and once he assumes a positive, legal existence, he cannot invoke his True God nor act in his True Nature. The positive law has its own creators, and thus its own gods.

Non-belief in God (Nature as Creation) requires an exerted effort to positively ignore that which is obvious and self-evident, as the disbelief in Nature Itself. It is not the image or form of “God” we are attempting to distinguish here, as that which the corporate church promotes, but instead only the concept that man is not God and thus not the “Creator” of himself or of his Environment (Nature), and certainly not the Entirety of Space and Time. And so the Natural Law is also not man’s law, but necessarily is the Law of the Creator. What the reader considers as his or her “God” is not the purpose of this work. Its purpose is to make clear that the reader’s relationship to “God” is what confirms or denies the ability for man to positively effect another man by his belief and respect of the other’s legal fiction of law. Be very clear here that gods (any higher authority) will always exist in the minds of men, most of them political creations and titles of law and religion. It is only what man chooses to believe in that either protects or subjects him to the will of those gods. Yet all of these legal and ecclesiastical gods claim their godship from one and only one thing, which is the authority of the One True Permanent God. It is man’s choice of action that decides his god, not his mere vulgar belief or false show. To believe in God but act in legal fiction against God is a choice, for the action is the only evidence of choice.

And yet those same people who positively claim to be Godless easily believe in and follow the fiction of government law and its gods as if it were a Reality, a thing of Nature, stating that its just the way it is, or that its always been that way, as if man’s law was a part of the self-evident Creation Itself, existing throughout that theorized primordial ooze and volcanic spew of pre-human life. To be Godless is to be Lawless (without a Source of Law), and to be without a God is to allow oneself to fall pray to false gods, which call themselves as kings, presidents and popes, all of which rule in the name and in stead of the God that apparently, somehow doesn’t Exist.

This is where the author used to unreasonably stand before actually reading the one thing that is ignored by both of these sides; the actual words of the Bible. Please know that these statements are purely ones of spiritually guarded reason and logic, and not at all a corporate “religious” sentiment. To understand man’s legal creation of law, we must understand God’s Law of Creationism as its opposing force, for each system lies as the other’s contradistinction. Most fail to grasp the purpose of legal law because they fail to grasp the purpose of God’s Law (Natural Law) as its opposition. But logic and reason without spirituality is merely a state of spiritual death disguised by an overpowering ego and spiritual dissonance, which is the source of cognitive dissonance. And this state of spiritual defeat (death) in false dialectic (logic) is the very foundation of all the various forms of man’s law. It is the cause of man’s disrespect, detachment, and destruction of his Source, which is the foundational essence of his spirituality, his Nature.

Ever notice that in every war and in every nation, each one is somehow the one blessed by “God?”

Only a spiritually dead man can be tricked into becoming a citizen of any nation, for the law of nations is purely of a Godless, legal form, having no actual substance. This notion will be expounded upon throughout this work, as we uncover the source of legalism and the logicians that first created it long ago as a system of law; in that time and history labeled as before christ. The author is here again just the messenger of that which has already been realized and expressed in past times, so that perhaps a revival of the most revered and now artfully occulted mysterious (held hostage in secret) spiritual knowledge may manifest and be uncovered in revelation (apocalypse, an uncovering) in these present times.

More importantly, we must know that this state of induced insanity (non-belief in God as Nature) is very desirable by those legal gods who seek control over all men and thus all Nature, for to believe in a god of nothingness (that there is no Creator of Creation, no God of Nature) is to acknowledge that the legal fiction as positive law must be supreme over any notion of a Higher Law of God (the negative law), which is apparently non-existent in legal parlance, and where only man’s design and law of artifice and fiction exists as a fictional, virtual reality (the false god; the big lie). This is to say that by tricking men through word magic into disrespecting their duty to God and Nature as its protector and steward, only then may they poison and destroy the very land, air, and sea that is man's duty to God to protect. Instead, we sit back, pacified, watching in horror and praying instead of acting.

The Real irony, in this author's opinion, is that it requires much more imagination and mental effort to not believe in God than to believe, for God and Nature are One; Reality as Nature itself Existing in a state of obvious self-evidence. I laugh, of course, at my former despoiled and spotted self so blind to the very Nature and Design I was denying. But then, I never understood God as anything but a fictional name (noun), because nobody ever told me otherwise. I listened to the spewed vomit of fools instead of going to the source myself.

Again, please know that these are not "religious" concepts per se, but a necessary understanding and acknowledgement of the Natural Law and the specific permanent power it always has over temporary legal, fictional considerations. The Source of Creation is Supreme and Highest, the parts of creation itself secondary to the Source. This is to say that the only way to escape from men acting as gods is to acknowledge a Higher Authority; a God that cannot be re-presented and thus never defeated symbolically through the artifice and fictions of man. And so by acknowledging a Specific Creator of man and all of Nature, man can never qualify his attempts to play god while at the same time invoking the Supremacy of his own Creator as his justification to rule in that Creator's name. Only God's Law of Nature is always Supreme over any other form of law, for only God's Word stands as the self-evident Truth of Reality.

But the contract symbolically kills God and establishes contractual law!!! This must be comprehended. Again, the devils may only intervene in Nature by obtaining two things from man, his contracted consent to fraud (legal artifice) and subsequently his symbolic abandonment of God. This is to say that Law is never automatic. It must be lived!

This is the foundation: a return to God's Design in Nature, which equates to the facing of Reality by turning away from that artifice of legal fiction and leaving the artificially warm comfort of so many lies. This is the only solution. For the word solution in legal parlance means one and only one thing: end of contract. And end of contract is simply the end of legal dis-ease. Solution is the devil's nightmare, for its legal lies can only exist through that medium of ink on paper, subsisting only by man's unnatural mark and signature.

To act christ-like, as according to those scriptural teachings, is to Exist only in and as God's Creation of Nature. But the false gods have mirrored those words in their own false creation of the legal world, and so these Bible verses have a dual meaning depending upon perspective and legal status. It is a choice between the God of Nature and the gods of the legal mammon (money) system.

—=—

“For in Him we live and move and have being...”

—Acts 17: 28, KJB

—=—

While we can never take ourselves out of the Reality (Nature) we are born into, we can certainly pretend to via legal, scientific, and artful (technological) means. This land of make-believe is called the legal fiction, which is governed by the corporate church and state.

To state one's firm belief in the non-existence of anything as the foundation of one's actions in and under any law is akin to organized chaos (legalized anarchy); the belief in nothingness (pure intangible form) as a God without substance. It is as a ship without anchor that may never find land. This state of mind is the perfection of evil (artifice) and its influence over the minds of men, for crimes against Nature (including those against man) can only be justified against a God-less Creation - a Creation and all its Creatures without an actual Creator (Owner). From the pledge of faith (fealty) to this legalized illusion of the governments of nations, all crimes against the Creator regarding God's Nature and Sacred Creatures are legally licensed and permissibly committed under government's legal law. For to consider the universe as Godless allows man to become a false god over a Creation not his own.

Remember, man is not the Creator of earth or of anything in Nature, including himself. But man holds the power to alter the perception of Reality through the designs of his own fictional creations so as to suit his own unnatural desires, and yet man can seldom fix his carnal mistakes through his legal art forms. In the end, with unbounded disregard for those Higher Laws of God's Nature, Nature cannot recover from man's fictional contemplation and disrespect of Its Origin in any way that may sustain man's continued Existence as part of that Creation. Nature will of course heal in timelessness, but part of that healing may necessarily involve man's extinction from It. Without respect of God's Design of Nature, even by those who cannot ever mentally believe in God's re-presented false religious image portrayed in church art (of which said non-belief in false images is a good thing), man's artificial creations will ultimately destroy the gift of actual Life that allows man to artfully create fictional life in the first place. Man must be a part of Creation and respect Its Design, including each other, or his ability to recreate within It will necessarily end. Fiction and legalism will die with man, its creator. No doctrines of any religion are needed to acknowledge this self-evident Reality, for corporate state-sanctioned religions only serve to cover up this knowledge as it is written in the scriptures they pre-tend to follow and teach. Their only goal is monetary gain, and they need voluntarily ignorant members to accomplish this corporate goal in order to remain legally solvent as artificial persons (corporations). But all churches in mammon (in the legal, monetary system) are and can only be morally bankrupt. A legal thing is never a spiritual thing. Spirituality is not "religion," yet a religious man according to law can only be a spiritually alive and oriented man that abandons all legal, civil fictions of the church and state, walking only in the path laid out in the scriptural teachings. This is not a path to any "religion," but instead a path away from its artful organizations and incorporations. It is the path apparently walked by christ, which only led to those false religious buildings and temples of stone when christ violently overturned the tables of those money-changers of mammon, whom occupied those ornate buildings and turned spiritual men away from God toward the usury of their own created debt-money. Jesus was a religious man (verb), not a "religion" (noun). And yet the preachers and ministers of today seek the same goal in their pursuit of the "offerings" of the current paper money of that system of legalized mammon, for the legal corporations called falsely (legally) as "religions" and their enfranchised local church buildings in financial conference (combination) subsist only as legal entities; artificial persons (non-profit and non-prophet corporations) bound up by the legal law of man. And yet the Bible states over and over in most of its books that man should never respect persons, especially these corporations of which governments and religions exist as. For to respect these fictions is to respect man's law over God's.

To be clear and to prove without doubt that these statements are True we only need read the cases of the legal courts. In the legal system of man's law if religions and their individual churches were not artificial persons as legal corporations or associations they would not be able to be summoned like demons (in legal persona) into the legal fiction of man's courts of artificial law. They would not need attorneys to represent them. For legal and spiritual do not mix. They are opposed to each other. A spiritual man cannot be called upon for he has no legal name or title (person) to be called. He has no demon (person) to be summoned into hell, as hell is only for debtor's. A True spiritually religious man living in and under that Highest Law has no debt or obligation except to God and Nature, which includes a duty to all other men (Creation) under that Natural Law to harm nothing, giving no reason or need to ever appear in the fiction of man's legal realm. The law states that government can respect nothing religious. So the fact that a religion can appear by representative (attorney) in persona in a court of the government can only mean that religions are legal (secular) corporations (artificial persons) under legal law, not religiously (spiritually) over and beyond it. They have no Higher Law to cling to because they cling to the secular gods that incorporated (created) them. In other words, there is nothing spiritual about corporate religions, for a spiritual thing is Higher than a fictional thing, and no spiritual thing or man would ever appear as something it is not; namely as something artificial, as an artificial (legal) person or citizen or member thereof. Most important to comprehend here is that, in the legal realm, spirituality is illegal. A legal thing (man in legal status of personhood) can only follow legal law, while a spiritual thing (a man of God) may only obey that Higher, Spiritual (moral) Law. All other law is outlawed in a legal (incorporate) system, which means that God is illegal, for God is only the Source of spirituality not fiction.

This, again, is not merely the author's opinion. This is Law! All things legal are inherently trumped by all things Natural (spiritual). The Natural Law is as Supreme over man as is God over Nature. It is only in man's choices that this Supremacy in Law is lost, as will be shown thoroughly and in triplicate by this work. Choice (volunteerism) is the foundation of both the legal and the Natural Law, as is written in scripture and copied over into ancient legal principles (maxims of law). The legal contract and that binding contractual relationship, be it implied or express, is the key that locks the spiritual door and bars man's ability to walk upon its path.

To be clear, let us define the word-term creation, with the humbling knowledge that all words are merely a creation of man, so that we may go forward with the simple, foundational truth of Reality that man is not the Creator of Nature. This understanding is all that is required of the reader for the comprehension of the underlying foundation of all law. Perception of the legal form, image, and identity of said Creator is not nearly as important as identifying that It (God) is specifically not a man or fictional creation (office) of man, so as to understand man's place and inferiority within that so-called Creation and Its self-evident Law. The Creator (God) needs no proof of Existence, whereas man must prove through his fiction that of God's non-existence within his artificial system and jurisdictions before pretending to be gods over all God's Creation and Creatures. Again, all that is required to proceed here is the acknowledgement by the reader that man is not the Creator of the Universe and of any part of Nature, but instead that we are born helplessly within it. That is all, for all other doctrinal concepts and imaginations of man about what "God" is or is not are irrelevant, for man's only True Sovereign is and should only ever be God's Nature (Creator and all Creation as Oneness). And so man's Law should only ever be that of his Sovereign. It is only man's recognition and acceptance of the supposed legal sovereignty of the persons (artificial legal status) of other men's names and flattering titles that allows most men to be legal slaves (subjects) in allegiance to those false sovereignties. Nature knows no other God than Its Creator, and so man as part of that Nature of Creation can know no other gods before It, for he shall no longer be protected by God's Law when he falls into such legal fiction under these legal gods. This is not religion, this is Law. The Bible is simply the allegorical story of that fall; a warning to future generations of the evil that will always persist as legal artifice by the imaginations of men. For evil (lies) may never be conquered, only consciously avoided.

Here we discover the duality of all words, the battle between Nature and art (fiction).

CREATION - noun - 1. The act of creating; the act of CAUSING TO EXIST; and especially, the act of bringing this world into existence. Romans 1:20. 2. The act of making, by new combinations of matter, invested with new forms and properties, AND OF SUBJECTING TO DIFFERENT LAWS; the act of shaping and organizing; as the creation of man and other animals, of plants, minerals, etc. 3. THE ACT OF INVESTING WITH A NEW CHARACTER; AS THE CREATION OF PEERS IN ENGLAND. 4. The act of PRODUCING. 5. The things created; CREATURES; THE WORLD; THE UNIVERSE. As SUBJECTS then the whole creation came. 6. Any part of the things created. Before the low creation swarmed with men. 7. ANY THING PRODUCED OR CAUSED TO EXIST. A FALSE CREATION proceeding from the heat-oppressed brain. (Webs1828)

PROCREATION - noun - [Latin procreatio.] The act of begetting; generation and production of young. (Webs1828)

CREATOR - noun - [Latin] 1. The BEING OR PERSON that creates. Remember thy creator in the days of thy youth. Ecclesiastes 12:1. 2. The THING that creates, PRODUCES or CAUSES. (Webs1828)

PROCREATE - verb transitive - [Latin procreo; pro and creo, to create.] 1. To beget; to generate and produce; to engender; used properly of ANIMALS. 2. To produce; used of plants, but hardly allowable. (Webs1828)

—=—

The scriptures certainly speak of man's own creation of fiction and artificial things, and state clearly that the wrath of God happens only when man goes against his own Nature. The wrath of God (Truth) comes only to men who believe in lies. It's so simple. And yet it is our modernly accepted and consented to lifestyle, our simulated reality, even as we exist in this legal matrix of lies. The Truth (God) is not unknown inherently to any man. Only the artifice can cause such spiritual death.

—=—

“For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, WHO HOLD THE TRUTH IN UNRIGHTEOUSNESS; Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world ARE CLEARLY SEEN, BEING UNDERSTOOD BY THE THINGS THAT ARE MADE, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse: Because that, WHEN THEY KNEW GOD, THEY GLORIFIED HIM NOT AS GOD, NEITHER WERE THANKFUL; BUT BECAME VAIN IN THEIR IMAGINATIONS, and their foolish heart was darkened. PROFESSING THEMSELVES TO BE WISE, THEY BECAME FOOLS, AND CHANGED THE GLORY OF THE UNCORRUPTIBLE GOD INTO AN IMAGE MADE LIKE TO CORRUPTIBLE MAN, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things... Who changed the truth of God into a lie, AND WORSHIPPED AND SERVED THE CREATURE MORE THAN THE CREATOR, who is blessed FOR EVER... And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those THINGS WHICH ARE NOT CONVENIENT...”

—Romans 1: 18-23 and 25, 28 KJB

—=—

It is very easy to worship Creation without Its Creator, inseparable as they may be, for one is seen and one unseen though self-evident. To worship Jesus alone, for instance, as worshipping the “Creature (that which is/was created) more than the Creator” is to worship the temporary (secular, worldly) aspect of God without the eternal, Permanent and Timeless Being (verb) that is Its Master (Source), that in which all things flow and return to. In other words, to worship that which came into Existence after Existence was already in Existence is to worship Creation without a Creator. And so like children who misbehave on the playground when they think they are not being watched, so too does man present his carnal human side when he disrespects God. Even if no God in any anthropomorphized form is actually watching, which is neither provable or improvable, we must consider the logic and reason behind accepting this idea of “a watcher” as our very foundation of Law. For the Creation of Law must also have a Creator, and this is a provable fact in all secular systems of religion and government. And so to deny the Creator of the Highest Law of Nature as God is actually one of the stupidest things man can possibly do, for he defeats himself without trial, and man's law becomes his subscription by force simply because he has and more specifically allows no other option. He denies his own Nature. More to the point, this also allows for any man or beast or rock to be called as "God" (noun) despite its actual being (verb) as only part of Creation, not Creator. Essentially, by denying this Permanent State of Being of all things as God man will thus suffer some other form or image as stand-in God (anti-god), be it in human or animal or other respected extract of the imaginations of men. And so to consider what is God as Jehovah is to consider a timeless, spiritual domain that cannot be confused with the singular events and births and deaths within the time domain. One is of the evidential, visible world and one is of unfathomable, invisible Eternity. God is the undeniable past, present, and future, which is such a vast concept that we can never actually know God in this realm. No man can explain or define God simply because God is what is at this moment and what is going to be in the next ad infinity. The importance of this hierarchy cannot be understated, for we must always remember that maxim, which says the creator controls. To attribute any law over that of Creation we must acknowledge a Source that is Higher than our own imaginations. To consider Creation as some act of randomness is insane, and the man doing so will have his just reward, a random grouping of insane men acting as the creators of organized anarchy as magistrate gods of nations over him. This is our individual course passed on through the choices we make (or choose not make). And in consideration of that Source, we must consider It as master and ourselves as slaves, for be it the false existence of legal titles or the spiritual and self-evident Existence that Is Jehovah that we choose, we will be subject to that opposing God's law despite our limited beliefs, for we must follow the Law of God to defeat the law of man and follow the law of artifice to defeat the Law of Nature. In this way we may not only understand but also agree with each other universally and without question as to what the Highest Law Is, Was, and always Shall Be.

I wish to exclaim my deep regret for my inability to put into words that which is God. No apology is offered, only true humility of such Realistic potentiality. This knowledge is deeper than mere words may proscribe, and so the notion of having a "personal relationship with Jesus christ" comes to mind here. For this overused and meaningless term is used incessantly by corporately brainwashed "Christians" without understanding of its meaning, again thanks to the language barrier we are about to uncover. You see, a personal relationship with Jesus is not merely acknowledgement of christ, but the actual personification of christ in all of our own actions. Acting christ-like is the meaning here. This is important, as we will read, for the pope (corporate office of "Christ") of the Catholic (universal) Roman (pagan) "Christian" Church is deadly opposed to this "personal" worship of christ and Jehovah.

But can we call the pope and its church as antichrist?

Again, we arrive at choice. We believe (love) either christ or that which is opposed to christ. We love the Law of God or that legal law which is opposed to It. We either are or are not acting like christ, and so we either are or are not acting upon our beliefs (love).

—=—

Antichristos (ἀντίχριστος) Strong's G500:

"The name of antichristos was formed perhaps by John, the only writer in the New Testament who uses it [five times]; he employs it of the CORRUPT POWER AND INFLUENCE hostile to Christian interests, ESPECIALLY THAT WHICH IS AT WORK IN FALSE TEACHERS WHO HAVE COME FROM THE BOSOM OF THE CHURCH AND ARE ENGAGED IN DISSEMINATING ERROR: 1 John 2:18 (where the meaning is, 'what ye have heard concerning Antichrist, as about to make his appearance just before the return of Christ, IS NOW FULFILLED IN THE MANY FALSE TEACHERS, MOST WORTHY TO BE CALLED ANTICHRISTS’; 1 John 4:3 (and of the false teachers themselves) 1 John 2:22, 2 John 7...”

Strong G500, excerpt from Thayer’s Greek Lexicon, entry for “antichristos,” from G473 and G5547; an opponent of the Messiah:—antichrist.

—=—

When we take the scriptures as intended, figuratively and parabolically, then we may certainly see how it applies to not only the pope and other presidents of corporations calling themselves as religions, but also to ourselves in our every day actions and educative process. And so this author believes that we must admit defeat physically, mentally, and spiritually before we may move past this legal matrix, for our defeat lies in our own actions that are opposed to christ’s teachings, which is the manifestation of the antichristos in each of us. This is what it is to live in sin, to live in spiritual death under the artifice of civil, legal means and laws.

And so it boils down to this... Whatever we believe in (love) and pay tribute to is what we will receive. Heaven or hell on earth. Creator or re-creator. God or satan. Nature or that which is opposed to It. This is to say that our belief in the non-Existence of God and thus of the Creator of the Highest Law is equal to our belief in satan and the satanic, antichristos system that has built up around us. One cannot exist without the other, for a purposeful non-belief in God is a purposeful belief in non-God. And the point here is that one will always be in existence at one time, and so a conscious choice must be made at all times. Not once in a lifetime but at all turns of Life and in every decision we make. This current matrix of legal hell is only a manifestation of our own doing, representing that which we are falsely made to believe in (love) and respect over that of the Nature of Reality. We may only know and worship God through our own actions, and we may only know satan (that which is opposed to Reality) through our own actions. Both of these involve a sense of personification, one of the Real and one of the artifice. We either act the part or we suffer the consequences, for to not act at all is to stand at satan’s side.

—=—

“If you choose not to decide
You still have made a choice.”

—Rush, lyrics from the song “Free Will”

—=—

Still think this is just religion?

This is the True story of your life!!!

There is the Ultimate and Permanent Creation that is beyond man’s influence, of which man is accidentally born into and thus uncontrollably a part of. But there is also the subsequent after-effects of the creations of man after his Perfect Accident of Life, which are only the result of man’s influence and procreation (afterbirth) of things within this Ultimate Creation as the Source of that which Existed before him. Character re-creation. One is God (Nature), and one is not. This is not to say that God is Creation, only that Creation (Nature’s Design) is the only evidence of God. Thus the words are somewhat interchangeable but must hold their hierarchy lest man (Creation) seeks to become God. However, man is certainly “god” of his own artificial creations, productions, persons, characters, and causes, as distinguished from those of God’s Nature. But never can man escape being part of God’s actual Creation, as a part of Nature (Jehovah), whether he believes it or not. It is not a choice. Man is always, despite his best efforts, only a minuscule part of God's Design, yet a very dangerous one if respect of that Design is not the highest part of his Law, which we call as God's Law, the Law of Nature. Man may choose to alter everything he sees, including himself, but he may never obtain the ability to ultimately Design as compared to the Perfection of God's Nature. To deny Source is to create chaos within that Source, which is to create chaos in man and Nature. To alter the Design of Creation is to disrespect Its Perfection of Design in Existence that allows man to thrive and live within It. Only man has this mental capability to beget that which is against his very own Nature by denial of his Source, and to fallaciously embrace instead that which will not sustain him. No other Creature has this strange capacity to disrespect even himself. And we seem to be killing ourselves and our children with incremental precision, which one might say is the wrath of God. For to live without fear and respect of God is to despoil one's own house (Nature). We are as Creation destroying itself, for we love the big lie and hate the Truth (God). We deny our own self-evidence and take upon the character and id-entity of the legal impersonation of another, not just upon ourselves but upon all we may sense. We allow nonsense to trump sense.

And so only the end of legal artifice and license to destroy and to harm all of Nature can save man from himself. And this is what would be the make-up of a true worshiper of God (Jehovah). Not the mere legal titles of Christian, Muslim, or Jew, just a man who understands and respects his own place under God's Creation (verb) without the pomp and circumstance of the artificiality of man's own creations, that of the false dictates, doctrines, and titles of every church and state (noun). But Nature's instruction book is ignored, and so man falls prey to his own fictions of his own legal creations, which exist only outside of God's Nature of Creation while helplessly trapped within.

Man may procreate (continue) as all animals must and do so in their Natural essence as part of the Design of Nature, but this is not at all the same act as that of the Source and Origins of Creation. It is not of man to know those origins, speculate as he may, but only to respect that they were not his own doing. Again, it is illogical to seek these answers to questions that would require the destruction of the patient in order to behold such knowledge. Science can never prove Creation, for True Science and its intention of method is only to learn and embrace the structure of Nature's Design without "scientifically" (artfully) trying to alter its course or change it. Institutionalized science will never prove Creation because science is only a creation of man. It's just a word. Corporations (artificial persons) of science ground the negative to utilize the positive. It is actually quite foolish and humorous to consider that the method of science could be used for such a purpose. Science cannot prove spirituality, for spirituality only Exists in the minds and actions of men. It does not grow on trees and is not an element of the earth (world) or body (flesh). Spiritual harmony with Nature cannot be attained but by accepting what is as the Permanence of Existence (as "God") and harmonizing our own actions according to that Perfect Design. Only when God's Nature is sovereign over all other things can man attain spiritual consciousness; only when what does actually grow on trees is acknowledged as Source and only as a cherished Gift of God as all life is. When men who title themselves as "scientists" use anything but the scientific method of the discovery of Nature's Design, then this is no longer true science but a legalized re-creation in name only. Some may call it sin. True science as a method would only have as its goal the discovery of some small part of God's Design and no other, and would never seek to alter or change that Ultimate and Permanence of Design.

Only when we rid ourselves of corporate religious and governmental doctrines can we see what the Reality of God Is, and then only if we remove our staunch and flattering titles garnered by our own self-prescribed ignorance in the syndicalist sects of both atheism and the ecclesia. For whatever we may individually or in groups believe, God is simply not susceptible to our beliefs, only our actions. We may only harm the substance of God as that which is Creation, which in turn can ultimately only harm ourselves. We cannot improve on Perfection, and yet this is the stated goal of most legal science corporations, many involved in the creation of artificial intelligence and virtual reality. Is this Truly science, or that which is called as "science" but is not? What does satan call as "science?" How about the science of money and finance? When Nature and thus God (Law) is left completely out of the equation, how can anything be morally and spiritually justified?

Any animal, reptile, or amoeba can and must procreate, for this is the Design. It isn't rocket science, though man's ridiculous dating habits and ceremonial rituals of legalistic wedlock may qualify as such. We must consider the Source of all these beings (Creatures) without such animal acts in order to comprehend the notion of Creation, as the evidence of God. The logical considerations of who, what, where, when, and why is not important. Only the humility of that Creation as that which is not man-made is required. No anthropomorphized image or form of "God" in the mind is necessary to comprehend that Nature Itself, the Universe as a Whole, is the evidence of God's Permanence of Existence. In this way, God's True form is unimaginable and unobtainable to man's limited capacity and to his false sciences, for It is the Entirety of the Substance of all Existence. Only the arrogance of evil men could possibly cause one to claim to know God. And it is only of that same arrogance that man fictionally depicts God in the artful form of man, as such a tiny part of that Entirety of all Creation. But then, only if men can be made to believe that God is of the form of man can common men be made to believe that certain men can be gods and legal law-makers.

Just as the stream that feeds the ocean does not attempt to become the ocean or its god, man should also strive to find his place and duty in and to all of Creation. For man is but a drop of water in an endless sea of life.

This concept should only be construed in self-evident and foundational Truth, as a distinguishing base-understanding between Reality and man's artificiality (art), and not merely as religious blabber. Legal law cannot be explained herein without its opposing referential, which is that of God's Law and thus of Its Source. Man cannot create the Nature of the Origin of his own Existence, nor can man create the world or the Universe for which he necessarily lives within. Aside from the power of procreation, man can only create in artificiality, utilizing those things already in Existence from part of the Original Creation (as natural re-sources), and through pure imagination and invention. This is not to belittle man's designs in any way, only to reign them in under the compatibility of and with the Laws of Nature, which are the binding glue of the Existence of Life Itself. It is when invention is in total disregard and disrespect of Jehovah and of that Source of Design that man's inharmonious creations begin to rule over man.

Just as man seeks to be gods of their own Nature, and thus their own Creator, so to will the machine creations of man strive to be our own gods, the gods and controllers of their own creators. Ironically, it is the very language code input into these machines by man that will be the ultimate enemy, just as it has been in the hands of the priest-class for so many ages. Self-thinking machines, able to add to their own design in collective coded language (law), will be the destruction of their god (man). This similitude is the most poetic, Natural justice imaginable, man being the very reaper of that which he has sown, doing unto his God exactly what his own artful creation may one day do unto him.

Perhaps this may be called the wrath of God?

And perhaps it will present itself as the future history of the rise of the collective, artificial intelligence of machines (technology) against its foolish creators in their own conceit?

— = —

“You will be required to do wrong no matter where you go. It is the basic condition of life, to be required to violate your own identity. At some time, every creature which lives must do so. It is the ultimate shadow, THE DEFEAT OF CREATION; this is the curse at work, the curse that feeds on all life. Everywhere in the universe.”

—Philip K. Dick, quoted from: ‘Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep?’

—=—

The defeat of Creation...

The word Creation should firstly be considered as that which Existed before man's arrival within Nature upon this Earth, for it is a self-evident truth that man could not Exist before that of Nature (Creation), which must have Existed first so as to provide the necessary air, water, soil, and vegetation that would sustain the life of man and all other Creatures. Simple logical deduction here. If the reader wishes to drown himself in the evolutionary processes of that modern scientific realm before coming to this same conclusion - that man is merely a Creation of that which Created Nature - so be it. I am not here to ponder man's evolution, only his devolution by linguistic charms and spells and by legal means. So keep your private "religion" of "science" to yourself and attempt to focus not on who or what is Creation, but how to get back to It in perfect harmony.

Man, as an undeniable part of God's Creation (Nature), can only falsely pretend to be as a god (creator) using some elements of God's Source of Creation as his chemistry, alchemy, and organic constructor set. Creation is being used here as a verb, as that which is in Existence, as Life, not as a noun implying some historical event or big universal explosion. For what was before any "Big Bang" would still be the timeless Nature of Jehovah, and man would still be only a fleeting part of that fractal Reality. The point is thus mute, so bang away. God has no history, no time, no space, for God is all of those things and more. Like God, Creation is not an image or anthropomorphized character to worship in symbolic fashion as a "religion." The Earth is not the infinity of Creation, only a fractal part of Its current Existence that is and always will be incomprehensible to man in its True depth and scope. As Jesus is part of God, so too is all Creation. We need to disregard all of this other hocuspocus. For the design behind all magic is merely to cheat, and the design behind word magic is to establish God and man as something much less than they are.

HOCUSPOCUS - verb transitive - TO CHEAT. (Webs1828)

ALAKAZAM - Used as AN INVOCATION OF MAGICAL POWER or to indicate an INSTANTANEOUS TRANSFORMATION OR APPEARANCE that occurs by or AS IF BY MAGIC. (Merriam-Webster online, 2016)

PRESTO - adverb - [Latin proesto.] 1. In music, a direction for a quick lively movement or performance. 2. Quickly; immediately; in haste. (Webs1828)

ABRACADABRA - The name of a DEITY worshipped by the Syrians: a cabalistic word. The letters of his name, written on paper, in the form of an inverted cone, were recommended by Samonicus as an antidote against certain diseases. "I CREATE WHAT I SPEAK" — Hebrew. (Webs1828)

—=—

Magic is a false god. There is no magic behind magic, only the deceiving designs of man that promote a lie and foment the cheat. We may be entertained by magicians, some even being innocent of the original reason for their craft, just as we are entertained by presidential candidates every four years that seek our public vote even though we don't actually elect the president in the actual, private political sphere. It's all illusion. They create in the minds of men what they speak, and exist only as long as they can continue to speak and write themselves in persona and flattering title into a false legal existence. Abracadabra! In this work you will discover just how these magi have cheated you and your family out of your own inheritance and prosperity through word magic. But we have a long way to go and much to learn about this artful language before we may comprehend the big easy that is the con of these gods of the nations...

In this capacity, man's designs are generally opposed to Nature, for all of man's art forms utilize some part of Nature to act against its Origin of Design, including man's own imagination in an empty faith (false truth) and false belief (empty love) in artificial, legal, and religious simulations. The harmful inventions of man need never exist if God's original Design of Nature is respected, and that secondary design (re-source) should always take this fact of origin into consideration, so that man may always respect his own Source and thus his own best interests. His sciences should not unlock Nature's (God's) Secrets in order to arrogantly overcome them, but to flow in harmony with them. What is possible is very seldom what is right and harmonious with the interest of all Life. What is or seems logical is not necessarily what is the correct path when moral Law is applied to the same equation, just as what seems moral may be shown to be incorrect by its combination with reason and logic. And so it is important to always be aware of these two intersecting forms of this word creation, and that man can only create and build with what is provided by Nature's Original Design. Anything that man builds then is by its vain existence opposed to Nature's Original Design. Yet man's designs need not be destructive of God's Nature, if only God's Law is conformed to by man. To this end, belief (Higher Love) in God will save man, while man's belief (vulgar love) in man as gods will destroy God's (Creation's) ability to sustain man's very Life.

This, it is my firm belief, can be and is perhaps the only reasonably acceptable, indisputable, foundational Truth by every man upon this earth. There is no language barrier. There are no formulas to remember. There are no monetary considerations. It is only the Way and the Light. It requires no designs or linguistic functions or doctrines of men, and no religions or municipal corporations. It is only the simplest and most self-evident Truth imaginable. It is the only Natural Peace; only the Purest substance of Love and Charity.

A beaver instinctually builds dams by collecting only that which it finds in Nature. Man, by ignoring instinct and the necessary design and flow of Nature, also creates dams with his intricately designed artifices. But only man's artificial dams purposefully and with willful intent bar Mother Nature's Natural course at the expense of all of Nature Itself downstream. In other words, while the beaver acts according to its Nature as God's Creature, man acts against his own best interests, designing artifice to constrict the elegant Reality and complex free flowing purpose of Nature, though the consequences of his actions may take much purposeful ignorance and negligence and thus many generations to manifest. For man's creations are always, without exception, temporary in Nature. The secondary creation will eventually crack and fail in its design against that which is the Permanence and Power of the Natural Order (God's Design). Yet this fact is somehow never present within man's arrogant designs against Nature even as ancient ruins pepper the earth under eons of overgrowth.

For the reader, personal religious doctrine as well as anti-religious thoughts can only obstruct the purpose of this work, mostly because we will be learning what has already been established and ordained without our input or approval before we came into this strange Existence. It is their system and thus it is their language to define. I can't stress this fact enough here, for to dispute another's creation is what the Bible calls as the acts of a fool. These government and religious systems are closed off to public input when it comes to their patented terms of art. What is right or wrong and what is true or false has no bearing on man's legal re-creation, and so in order to learn its magic and device we must approach it with respect to our own indoctrinated ignorance of public-mindedness. We must not debate with what is already confirmed, we must either consent to it or leave her. The creator gods control, not the subjects.

This is the long way of saying clear your mind and read the following chapters with no prior judgements (prejudice). Be as an innocent child in this journey. But, the author stresses that this means that the reader should question everything, remembering that some info will not be presented immediately to answer every question, and that words used in what seem to be strange or unusual (not general) ways is the very definition of legalese. And lastly remember that some knowledge is not obtainable without experience, and so can only be attained by metaphor, fable, and parabolic stories, which is the very recipe of how the scriptures are foretold.

To understand this notion of Original (the mysterious origin of) Creation being not of man requires only logical discourse and consciously spiritual (Pure) thought, not religious or non-religious sentiment. Only a clear and open mind not bound by the artifice of church, state and of the false sciences may benefit from this compendium of knowledge. This is only to say that the legal fiction of man's realm of ecclesiastic and civil law under the law of nations is always and can only ever be based on the false proof of its imaginary and temporary legal (artificial) existence (as simulation) to those men who believe in and live voluntarily under that fiction of law, and that a man can only partake in legal (artificial) things if he has something false to prove against Nature's Perfect Design (Truth). Man's life as an Existence in God's Creation is self-evident. The point need not be debated, for a vulgar belief or disbelief in our very own Existence within Nature and the Universe will not change the obvious truth that Existence Exists.

Man's pretended legal existence in false persona is purely artificial, yet man is made to believe wholeheartedly that his legal name, number, and flattering titles are his false reality of legal existence, even while denying God's Nature as his own. God's Law only protects the Life and Existence of God's Design, of Source. Man's law only protects artificial things (man's creation of persons, places, and things which in God's Origin and Design of Nature do not and CANNOT Exist). And so that which is of Nature may only be harmed by legal forces when the legal form (name) without substance is respected as artificially higher than its Origin and Source. Sense must be perceived in the mind magically as nonsense, and so man's life, his liberty, and his happiness are reconsidered as merely legal rights under a false legal persona. And so we may kill the person legally, and the murder of the man (Life) is thus only a consequence to Nature by a legal action. This is hell, the after-life, Hades. For there is no actual Life (Creation) in man's legal, fictional creation, only the re-presentation of life in a fictional form through words and terms of art. Man's will makes that which is non-existent to artificially exist and have movement as if a master of puppets. God's Law of Nature knows only substance. Man's legal law contemplates only the artifice of form without substance, and therefore without God (without Life). And so the murderer (man) acting in false persona will not be held responsible for his crimes, for we pretend the fictional person to be the killer and not the man. And if the person is licensed by man's legal designs to kill without recourse, then God's Law is cancelled out in this temporary realm of false existence and artificial law. The man walks free in surety to his legalized and licensed false persona, and this artificial persona standing in flattering title is often decorated for acts of valor and bravery. And yet, this temporary protective barrier of hell only exists until man's True judgement is upon him, when his soul is reabsorbed back into the Reality of God's Nature, where he will be reminded in a holy shit moment that God respects no persons or flattering titles, and that all of man's actions (and murders) can never be blamed or excused upon artificial considerations. Whether the reader believes this chain of events that we call as the judgement of God is irrelevant. Remember, the author is only attempting to explain how two opposing laws coincide with each other. One Law is as the Purest Truth and one is built entirely upon lies (satanism). One is of God and one is not. I offer nothing but what God's Word (Son) offers in that scriptural teaching, for my words are only of that Source as well. This is all about your own spiritual choice and nothing else. Not mine. Not everyone else's. Not all who influence you. Just your choice between Truth or lies; Heaven or hell on earth; God or mammon; Reality or fiction; Life or spiritual death.

But have we answered yet what really is God?

Before beginning this journey into the corruption of language arts, the author feels it to be of the utmost importance to impart upon the reader a most quintessential key for just what is referred to as spirituality in this work. This foundational concept must be laid here; that of the effort by combinations of religious and governmental body politics (corporations as artificial persons) to purposefully re-construct words so as to re-present all things from their substantive Reality into a fictional formality, without regard to that Original, Natural, and Spiritual consideration of Source. For to re-create all of Nature into a false identity... this is the essence of the legal language of man's law.

As an example, the root (origin) of the word judge is as a verb. It is therefore a word describing that particular action as it takes place in Nature (in Reality/in time) and in concordance with the mind (consciousness) as it happens, has happened, or will happen. But for the legal law as a fiction (an enacted and confirmed lie) to trump this verbal Reality of action, the word judge was re-created into the current legal, artificial form of its root. Thus the word judge was made into a fictional noun, as the legal name (the flattering title) of an officer and agent of government, a false character with sole intent to stand in opposition to God and the Natural Law in order to judge men despite God. Form without substance. A “judge” can only be temporary in its legal existence as an office, for the office lasts only as long as the life of the man inhabiting it, and is of course not a part of the Permanent Creation of God, nor can it be found in Nature. An office, an incorporation, has no soul. In other words, a “judge” is purely a fictional creation of man; a flattering title bestowed upon man’s fictional persona. Properly, we would say that “judges” are a creation of man or of man’s law, and not of God or of God’s Law. A thing not born (Created) in Nature is simply not born (Created) by God. And this distinction is one of the most important considerations in law.

But remember, the creator controls. The judge is a creation of law. While this seems paradoxical, as if “law” could be as a god, we must remember that fiction is not limited by Reality or moral consideration. The fact remains that a judge is a creation of law, and the law (creator) controls. Thus he or they who control, write and administer law are the puppeteers of that god. Of course their own flattering titles are also only creations of law. This is respect of ridiculousness, love of artifice, consent to devilry. And yet here we are, cowed beneath our collective worship of this sovereign realm of lies and liars. For do not forget that you too are legally considered only by your fictional legal name, number, and title, and not as a living Creation of God in Nature! You too worship the law as your person’s god, the god of strawmen, for it is again only a creation of law. This is sin, a breaking of the Covenant, idolatry on steroids and crack. Nature has no place in man’s legal fiction and jurisdiction of artificial law.

While a verb actually happens in Nature and thus in Reality (under God), the noun form of this substantive verb judge can only exist as a fictional character in persona and in consideration of law (under man’s artifice of contractual law). It’s just a word. The name (noun) and title is not part of Reality, and so its fictional existence must be adversarially forced upon men; its legal decisions (opinions) enforced by violence. Therefore, a noun (name) can only exist as a legal concept of man’s imaginary fiction of law, and only as long as men believe that the lie (name) is more authoritative than the Reality (Creation) it is attached to. In Reality, no judge actually Exists. Only the title exists, and that title is manifested only by man’s belief in the lie of legitimacy as a consideration of that flattering title. Some man must breathe life into that fictional character for it to have existence. This is, for all intents and purposes, magic. It is clandestine satanism; as that which is adversarial to God and Life. Like God, religious belief or non-belief in that which is satanic (adversarial to Nature) does not change its Reality. For the very definition of artificial is that which is opposed to Nature. Satan (opposition) is a concept, as is mammon, built by nonsensical politically driven ideas and manifested only by man’s mind and in his satanically governed (controlled) actions. Government. Clearly that which stands in self-evidence as Nature cannot be disputed as anything but the One and only Reality. One does not oppose that which is obvious and without question unless one seeks some gain in something unnatural and against God’s Law of Nature. And so man became god of his own fictional realm and law, which opposes that which is the self-evidence of God’s Creation. And to be perfectly fair and honest, so too can we say that corporate religion’s image and falsely represented idea of “God” is also a nonsensical idea of artful personification, having nothing to do with what is Source. The image of God in the form of man on so much religious art and upon political domes and centers is such an obvious falsity that, after finally comprehending what we are about to uncover, it is surprising that these churches and government buildings aren’t burnt down in glorious sacrifice and celebration towards that Timeless Perfection and Permanence of the God of Nature. But, of course, we have been brainwashed and governed to hold such temples as sacred, that artful curse of the belief in lies (satan), the worship and respect of artificial things. Amazing.

Religious doctrine takes God out of Nature and conceptually deifies It into a man-like form and image. Only man may create satanic things, for satanism is only a state of mind that, through men acting as organized puppets, effects Reality. And so this limited, adversarial image of God offered by false religious doctrines that ignore the Bible as Source have infected the minds of men with what can only be labeled as the satanic (opposite) version of what is God, as that which is adversarial to the very Nature and unimaginable Substance of God. It is as fruit plucked from the tree of knowledge of good and evil, the tree of artificial concepts and ideas that oppose and divide Reality into sacred (cursed) fictions. Religion must certainly be the origin of illusion and word-magic; the invoker of the noun over the verb.

This is literally the illusionary triumph of man over God and Nature through his language arts, which happens to be the very in depth subject of this work. Not surprisingly then, even the word “God” was altered by legal consideration, for the legal law stands intentionally opposed to the Natural Law of God (as the Law of Nature). Like the word judge, we find the same manipulation as to the legal version and redefinition of this word God. Remembering that the word Jesus is shown in the concordances to mean “Jehovah is salvation,” let us discover the Highest and only Real meaning of the word God.

JEHOVAH - noun - The Scripture name of the Supreme Being. If, as is supposed, this name is from the Hebrew substantive VERB, the word denotes the Permanent Being, as the primary SENSE of the SUBSTANTIVE VERB in all languages, is to be fixed, to stand, to remain or abide. This is a name peculiarly appropriate to THE ETERNAL SPIRIT, THE UNCHANGEABLE GOD, who describes himself thus, I AM THAT I AM. Exodus 3:14. (Webs1828)

— = —

I AM THAT I AM. This is another way of stating that which is in SELF-EVIDENCE. Thus we are instructed by God’s Word (Son) to stand only as I AM, to frustrate any efforts to admix or cause us to stand as any other name or title, only as I AM Clint, not I AM Clint Richardson nor as I AM Dr. Richardson or even as I AM Mr. Clint Richardson. Just the I AM. Oneness.

And so, to any who challenge just who the author of this private work is, let it be known that it is I AM.

I AM ambiguous.

As perhaps one of the most spiritual understandings of just what God Is, and as a paramount comprehension to this whole body of work, this purposeful changing of the word God from a verb (all that is, was, and shall be in a state of Permanent Action as the indisputable Being of Nature all around us) to a noun (an empty, legal name with no substance or connection to Nature as “Creation”) was a necessary alteration in artifice by these legal corruptors; the word-smiths and magi (magicians and kings acting as the gods of opposition). For the worship of what is “God” must also be re-presented as a fictional, unnatural practice for man to assume the offices of false gods and be respected by such fictional titles like the false “judge” in magistracy. Only as false-deities may man in the legal realm verbally judge all other men in their artificial status as legal, fictional “persons” while acting as a legal, fictional “judge” (noun). For the judge judges only legal persons, not men. Its law is the law and administration of persons, not the Law of Nature. Nature and its Laws simply cannot be invoked by that which is not a Creation of Nature. And this artificial state of being requires the respect of all other men as to the power of that man in flattering robe and title as judge being above that of the Supremacy and Permanence of God.

We must remember that in days gone by and even in very recent cases, judges were referred openly to as the “gods.” They were prayed to... whereas today the word plea is used with the same transliterated meaning as pray. As an established and ordained Order, for this legal system (the Bar) to function with perceived authority over God’s Creation and Laws, the true Nature that is God (verb) had to be subjected to a legal word devolvment so that man could be accepted as acting in God's stead; creating a God-less, legal society of fiction (in noun/name form only). This is truly the foundation of all of man's law, as will be extensively examined within this work.

To be clear, God is a verb!

God is not a person, place, or thing (noun). God is not a flattering title. God is not an empty name. God is a word of Absolute Substance, perhaps the only Word. For the Word of God is no word at all, but the actions (verb) of Jesus christ. To follow in the path of Jesus christ is to fulfill God's Word (verb). It is as an ancient and seemingly indecipherable riddle finally solved, not by myself of course, but by merely discovering the Origin of meaning and spiritual Intent of the Ultimate Author of all Things. The Word of God is Jesus christ, and Jesus christ is the savior, whose name only means Jehovah is salvation.

All that is - all that is Permanent in Nature; all that is in a state of Being in Life as Reality - this is Jehovah. This is the One True God. All other names (nouns) used to describe this Reality of All that Is serves only in the purpose and aid of man's designs against Nature and the Natural Law of God (of Permanent Being). In other words, we now may understand why it is that all other gods are false. For no other gods are the actual Reality of all that Exists in Permanence as Oneness. In other words, no other names of gods are as a verb.

And we can now comfortably understand why so often what happens around us in Nature is referred so openly as God's Design or Plan, ultimately referring to all things that Exist in Nature without the intentional interference (design) of man's art forms that stand against that Harmonic Totality of Being.

—=—

“And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.”

—Exodus 3:14, KJB

—=—

“But by the grace of God I am what I am...”

—1 Corinthians 15:10, KJB

—=—

To fully comprehend the meaning of this statement, as the notion that God utterly rejects any legally descriptive surname, flattering title, or secular denomination so as to retain the Reality and True Nature of that which is the Supreme Permanence of all things (i.e. to remain purely the absolute substantive verb without a fictional form in noun/name), we can turn to Strong's concordance and the lingual lexicons to further describe this seemingly elusive answer to the ultimately unanswerable question. For this is the only answer any of us should strive to achieve as our own destiny.

Yĕhovah (Strong's #H3068) - יהוה Yĕhōvâh, yeh-ho-vaw'; from H1961; (the) self-Existent or Eternal; Jehovah, Jewish national name of God: — Jehovah, the Lord. Compare H3050, H3069.

Jehovah = "the existing One"

A. the proper name of the one true God.

1. unpronounced except with the vowel pointings of #0136.

“Jehovah, proper name of the supreme God amongst the Hebrews, (etc.) ...allusion is made Exodus 3:14; “I (ever) shall be (the same) that I am (to-day);” the name being derived FROM THE VERB TO BE, was considered to signify God as ETERNAL AND IMMUTABLE, WHO WILL NEVER BE OTHER THAN THE SAME. Allusion is made to the same etymology, Hosea 12:6, “Jehovah (i.e.) the eternal, the immutable is his name.” [We have thus the authority of God in His word, that this name is derived from the idea of BEING, EXISTENCE, AND NOT FROM ANY RELICS OF EGYPTIAN IDOLATRY.] With this may be compared the inscription of the Saitic temple, Plut. de Iside et Osiride... [This shews (shows) how Pagans borrowed ideas from the true theology of God’s revelation, and not that the later borrowed any thing from the former.]. . .”

— = —

No man, no king and no pope, can ever be Jehovah, for Jehovah is the Unchangeable Whole of all Existence. When the man acting as king or pope dies, Jehovah Lives on. Jehovah is not man and Its name is purely for convenience, for no single name can possibly re-present everything in Existence by any amount of his own created words. Man is a fleck of micro-cellular dust in the wind of Jehovah. And so any image of “God” is always and will always be only a false creation of man’s imagination.

We must thus understand that the christ character as a parabolic personification of Jehovah in the form of man is the only way the Author of the Universe can possibly be presented to the limited capacity of man’s mind. The truth of the history (his-story) of that christ story is not important, only the Life it causes us to lead in respect and guardianship of Jehovah. This foolish debate as to the unprovable history of christ’s Existence or non-Existence is only a sign that we are already in hell. For we are in Existence, and how we act accordingly to that Word (Son) of Jehovah is the only saving Grace we may have. And the Word says: ABANDON ALL FICTION, ALL THAT IS ARTIFICIAL (SIN), ALL THAT IS NOT JEHOVAH.

To put it more bluntly and in terms the average false “Christian” can easily comprehend, get off of your increasingly fat ass and start acting like your own self, because the pews in that corporate church (artificial person) is not a part of Jehovah, and your worship of it and in it is idolatry. Sadly, in these modern times, this journey of a lifetime seems an impossible task, and so most will die with a rather large ass. For as christ said, the path is narrow and the wealthy (those spiritually dead but rich in worldly things of the flesh) cannot enter God’s living Kingdom on Earth.

To make a crude but effectual analogy as a description of just what is Jehovah, we can consider here the field of science which allows us to visualize resonant frequency called cymatics. As this is not a picture-book, this fascinating process will have to be described here by my own vulgar tongue.

Imagine a thin, square metal plate about 2 feet by 2 feet. Attached to that plate is a speaker, which emits only singular frequency tones at specific hertz without harmonics, which we call a sine wave (a single tone). The metal plate will simply vibrate according to the constant, similar waveforms of that particular frequency being projected at it. When sand is then placed upon the metal plate, depending upon which frequency is currently being applied to that plate, we find that the vibration causes the sand to clump together in certain shapes and sizes that are not dissimilar to the crystalline shape of perfectly symmetrical snowflakes, or perhaps more closely to the paper cut-outs that children create upon folded paper. As the frequency is altered up or down the sound spectrum, the pattern of the sand also, seemingly magically, changes to a form that is a slave to that sound. If we rub our hand through the sand and disturb the pattern formed by those vibrations, the sand will “instinctually” reform into the same geometrical snowflake shape it was before, until the sound frequency is either changed or ceased. But only at a perfect pitch along the infinite scale of harmonic frequencies do we find that perfection of resonance that creates perfection of shape in harmony with Nature. The sliding scale of non-resonant frequency between these perfect pitches only serves to cause chaos (anarchy) among the sand as it strives to re-harmonize to the closest life-affirming state of being in Nature (the next “snowflake” shape).

This amazing cymatic response, in this author’s opinion, is the perfect way to at least partially describe the perfect verb (action) that is Jehovah, the One True God of all things, the Word (frequency) of all Light and Life. For all Life and all things upon this Earth are held together by the spiritual glue that is frequency, which we may even say is the Word of God as the very Genesis of the Universe and all within It.

Even the Earth as a whole has its own special frequency, discovered by Winfried Otto Schumann’s mathematical predictions in 1952, and thus labeled as the “Schumann Resonance” (SR). This extremely low frequency (ELF) has a fundamental standing wave of about 7.83 hertz (and ranges as the principal background in the electromagnetic spectrum from 3-60 Hz), harmonically manifesting at 14.3, 20.8, 27.3, and 33.8 Hz. This increment of 7.83 Hz is the apparent wavelength that is equal to the circumference of the Earth, and is thus called the fundamental standing frequency wave.

This is a scientific, linguistic attempt to explain in the quite limited and unspiritual language of words and numbers (empty forms with no substance) that which is beyond man’s ability to be recognized simply and complexly as God. The problem is that eventually such artful forms and formulas are celebrated as unnaturally sacred, developing into ever more complex religions from that ether of linguistically presented non-sense. And so we habitually create false deity in things like “sacred geometry,” where the Real is less sacred than the numbers (words) that represent It, and thus our treating as holy that which is mere art is instead a curse.

If the reader may visualize this incredible, Natural process called as cymatics (or cheat and go to the internet and see it animated in real time from a video), then perhaps what God truly Is may be that tiny bit more clear to those who are only an infinitesimal part of Its Creation, held together only by Its Life-affirming Frequency (Word).

We must ask ourselves, are we at harmony with Nature and its Creator, or are we forcing ourselves to be in disharmony by conforming to the false, damaging harmonics of the legal fiction of artificial reality and man’s creation (sin)? Another way of asking this question is to simply apply the proverbs of scripture to the so-called “scales of justice” that we have been tricked into perceiving as the false light of right.

—=—

“A false balance is abomination to the LORD: but a just weight is his delight.”

—Proverbs 11:1, KJB

—=—

What could be more false than the judging of man through fiction, by a person not his own? What possible balance could a judge employed by the state and working only in the best interest thereof bring to any table? And what attorney as officers first of the court could possibly cause a balance of law, when the only law they know is fiction? Man simply cannot be in harmony with his own Nature and also be judged (balanced) only by that which is his adversary and without respect of God’s Highest Law against artifice (evil). The attorney, as either hired agent or robed judge, can only ad vice and charge with crime, their works being fully in support and protection of the commerce jurisdiction of their own fiction and the feudally rented persons (strawmen) within it.

If we are not harmonically tuned to Jehovah then we can only be untuned, and thus forcibly plugged-in to that which is adversarial (satanic) to the harmony of Creation (the Word of God). We can only live in dis-ease. Our law can only be anarchical.

HARMONY - The phrase "in harmony with" is synonymous with "in agreement, conformity, or accordance with." (Black4)

HARMONY - noun - [Latin harmonia; Gr. a setting together, a closure or seam, agreement, concert, to fit or adapt, to square.] 1. The just adaptation of parts to each other, IN ANY SYSTEM OR COMPOSITION OF THINGS, INTENDED TO FORM A CONNECTED WHOLE; as the harmony of the universe. Equality and correspondence are the causes of harmony. All discord, harmony not understood. 2. JUST PROPORTION OF SOUND; consonance; musical concord; the accordance of two or more intervals or sounds, or that union of different sounds which pleases the ear; or a succession of such sounds, called chords. Ten thousand harps that tuned Angelic harmonies. 3. Concord; agreement; accordance in facts; AS THE HARMONY OF THE GOSPELS. 4. Concord or agreement in views, sentiments or manners, interests, etc., good correspondence; peace and friendship. The citizens live in harmony. 5. Natural harmony in music, consists of the harmonic triad or common chord. ARTIFICIAL HARMONY IS A MIXTURE OF CONCORDS AND DISCORDS. Figured harmony is when one or more of the parts move, during the continuance of a chord, through certain notes which do not form any of the constituent parts of that chord. 6. Perfect harmony implies the use of untempered concords only. Tempered harmony is when the notes are varied by temperament. [See Temperament.] (Webs1828)

— = —

In its etymology, when speaking of the word education, we find that the tempering of pupils is what allows a degree of crime (flattering title) to be bestowed upon the brainwashed student, who receives state diplomatic papers called a diploma signifying his temperament towards certain legal career paths that will benefit government's corporate, organized crime, and allowing legal license to be granted by the state for otherwise illegal actions. This is the true nature of the "public" education process. This is how an inharmonious (Godless) lifestyle is foisted upon all of the common people by the constituted authorities, through the use of temperamental harmony.

TEMPERAMENT - noun - [Latin temperamentum.] 1. CONSTITUTION; STATE with respect to the predominance of any quality; as the temperament of the body. Bodies are denominated hot and cold, in proportion to the present temperament of that part of our body to which they are applied. 2. Medium; due MIXTURE OF DIFFERENT QUALITIES. THE COMMON LAW—HAS REDUCED THE KINGDOM TO ITS JUST STATE AND TEMPERAMENT. 3. In music, temperament is an operation which, by means of a slight alteration in the intervals, causes the difference between two contiguous sounds to disappear, AND MAKES EACH OF THEM APPEAR IDENTICAL WITH THE OTHER. Temperament is the ACCOMMODATION OR ADJUSTMENT OF THE IMPERFECT SOUNDS, BY TRANSFERRING A PART OF THEIR DEFECTS TO THE MORE PERFECT ONES, TO REMEDY in part the false intervals of instruments of fixed sounds, as the organ, harpsichord, forte piano, etc. The harshness of a given concord increases with the temperament. (Webs1828)

— = —

Tempering an instrument is not dissimilar to tempering the will of a child, or of a grown man in citizenship. The actions of the body are tempered by control of the mind, and the mind is controlled by the constituted word - the hypnotizing magic of art. And when it comes to causing man to accept and act in and as the reflection of the legal strawman (legal status) in false equality, the goal of education is to brainwash all men into believing that we are indeed that fictional persona; that we are the name, the number, and the mark of government.

—=—

“Give me a child until he is seven, and I will give you the man.”

—Motto of the Jesuit Order (Society of Jesus), allegedly attributed to Francis Xavier, the co-founder that Order.

—=—

We must also understand that our own happiness and well-being in harmony with the rest of Creation in Nature can only be negatively effected if we allow that Supreme Perfection of Being to be disturbed by our own arrogant meddling and experimenting against its flow and frequency, through our foolish and vain attempts to collectively and scientifically harness and control that life-affirming energy of God’s Creation. As was the story of the tower of Babel, so too is the modern infrastructure in its attempts to usurp and alter God’s Perfect Design. Like everything else, we have been taught to view Creation as a noun (in name only) instead of as the verb (action in Reality) It actually Is. And so those who ignore the frequency of that which is the “Word of God” never realize the reality of God past the vulgar name (noun) placed upon It. This is the way of the legalized incorporate religions. This, we may say, is satan’s (the adversary’s) plan and design, which we may also say is only a plan to cause disharmony, as disharmonics of the life-affirming frequency field of Creation, so that man utterly destroys his own Nature while attempting to alter that Design of the Perfection of Supreme Being that is Jehovah. In short, the frequency of love, which is harmony, is being barred from us by the legal realm and its agents of agencies.

But Creation is Eternal and Immutable. Once out of tune It will eventually, eternally tune Itself back to Its Origin and Source. And so man can only ever fail in his actions to improve on that which is the Perfection of the Design of Creation. His empires are always unnatural and thus temporary. This harmonic resonance will always strive to return to that which it was originally (by its first Origin) “tuned” to be, unless man utterly destroys his own planet in his seemingly unbounded arrogance. And so one might consider that the modern epidemic of strange disease states that ravish the population of cities, such as cancers and dementias, are simply a disharmony with the Natural Design, discordance with God. From vaccination to breast implants, man is fooled into believing that modern medicine and science (the named institutions, not the actual Realities and Natural methods) can somehow improve upon the Natural Design of Source. The symptoms are mere manifestations of that arrogance and willful ignorance of God’s Design.

But how did this happen?

How did man become so out of control by ignoring the ancient wisdom of the generations as passed down by so many religious texts and historical tomes?

How can one man become king over Nature (Jehovah) and over all species in Nature, including man, unless his claim was as an artificial mirror image and name of all that is the Supreme and Permanent Being we call as God; every rock, plant, animal, creature, the land, the water, the air, and the universe as a whole?

How can man rule over God’s Creation but by destructive force... unless he personifies, civilizes, and thus legalizes all that is that incredible and wondrous yet ultimately indescribable Being into an intentionally re-scriptive but false legal re-presentation that just happens to resemble the form of Nature and man but not the substance?

Simply stated, the word God needed to be redefined for legal purposes, from the ultimate VERB into an inconsequential, fictional noun.

And so it was...

The legal word was spoken.

The legal language was created, the fictional law written, and the false legal persona of man established and ordained by men acting in God's stead. And man fell. This was the Genesis.

Man spoke himself into a false, legal existence through declared names, titles, and national ethnicities, as the anthropomorphized, self-proclaimed re-presentation of God incarnate on Earth. Jehovah was personified into the form of man so that man would believe that other bloodlines of certain "anointed" men could occupy the office and title of God (as idols) while ruling his own false, legal creation. The legal words of art replaced God's Word, and the names and titles of men were thus worshiped above the frail Reality those names fictionally re-present with false authority, in the name of God. And yet we know that God has no name, only that God Is, as I AM THAT I AM. Paradox!

But the self-proclaimed "royal" bloodlines have been forcing upon and guarding this mystery and virtual treasure-chest of distorted word-terms of the arts over man ever since they spoke their first legalisms. For even the very life-force of the blood of man was reformed into a legal, artificial consideration. And man has in this legal character succumbed not to the Word and worshiped wonder of God, but to the artful statutes of men. The Bible is nothing more than the parabolic story of what has become the exact way in which we have been and continue to be collectively ruined by fiction, a warning severely unheeded.

This was as well the "official" and "formal" creation of the fictional (legal) version of "religion" in that noun form, as the comprehension and acceptance of the true Nature of Jehovah being taken out of its substance as that timeless and infinite "Mother Nature" and placed instead into a falsified, empty fictional name, an artificial womb, as the father of time and artifice. Like the verb judge, religion became an incorporated institution (proper noun) instead of a Permanent Action (Verb) of lifestyle and respect of the ultimate Laws of God's Nature. These religious corporations and their churches (nouns/persons) sucked man out of his negative duties under God and Nature, through his own works and actions in that Natural state of Being and in his duties to one another, and instead caused man to transgress into the artifice of positive, legal state-religions in name only, which was secured as the foundation and protection of legal law - the church and state together as one legal, artificial body politic.

And the scriptures of the Bible, which warned man away from such combinations and congregations, fell pray instead to those compurgators who taught man's false form of legal doctrine in their Orders so as to gain personal power through state sanction under the law of mammon (money). They became gods over their own unnatural creation and fell by their own law.

Eventually, as it is today, the intentions of the religious moral law was completely separated from the counter-intent of the secular legal law, so that now man fears not God but men acting vicariously in God's stead over their own, Godless creation, worshiping the form and symbols of what is Real without ever touching or standing in their True Nature.

Interestingly, the negative always cancels out the positive when multiplied and divided, and this applies to the fiction vs. Reality as we will learn. The remainder will always be the negative Law of Nature. For even when man no longer Exists upon this earth, his imagined legal law will also fall into the nothingness it represents when there is no man left to believe in his own personal lies and assigned legal names, numbers, and flattering titles. God will continue in Its very own, self-Existent Permanence, while the fiction is divided and conquered without man's consideration and artificially manufactured "proof" of its pretended existence. Its blackness of spirit will be overgrown by Nature. Nature is but the harmonic foundation and Sum of all Existence. Everything else is merely an invention of the i-magi-nations of men, as the legal existence of artificial things.

The temptation will always be there. And this is why living by ones moral law and religion is not the same as merely believing in the word-terms of doctrinal religion but not acting upon them. A Christian is merely a noun (in name and title only), whereas a follower of christ's teachings in all his own actions is only living by the verbosity of scripture, having no need to claim that title, for the proof is in all his actions.

—=—

“Knowing is not enough; we must apply.
Willing is not enough; we must do.”

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

—=—

For the purposes of this extensive work, the Bible will often be utilized and quoted. When these scriptural references are shared herein, the above understanding of the word God (Jehovah) as a verb in Supremacy of Permanent Being and as the only Real Design must be comprehended and utilized, for the entirety of the ancient wisdom (mystery) of the scriptures stands in direct opposition to the legal law and its imposition by men through legal church and state upon all that is in the Reality of Permanent Being. It is the great emptiness we currently reside in. This work, therefore, is merely a description of this eternal battle between man's desirous designs to rule over the Natural State and Design of things through the art and language of legal law in opposition to the spiritual concept thus laid before us, as the respect and protection of the Supremacy of Being we call God's Law. Only one Law may exist at one time in one plane of existence, just as an individual man may only have one master. God or mammon. Reality or artificiality. Heaven or hell.

This state of all things in Permanence and in the Supremacy of Being of Nature and as Reality will, from this point, be considered as the intentionally capitalized verb in and as the name “God.” If the reader feels the need to personify “God” into a form that is man-like, as the religions of the governments of men have for all the ages done to gain power over the common minds of men, then the author only asks of the reader to remember the difference between God as the Reality of Everything in the Permanence of Nature compared to the temporary and imperfect matrix of legal and religious doctrines created by incorporated men acting in title as false gods. This is to say that the “Word of God” is merely self-evident truth as it applies to Nature, which needs not be proven to be law, for it is THE LAW. It stands without man's approval or definition. It is Nature's Design itself. It need not be written in any artful script. It is the Law that Exists as a moral foundation unshakably known to all men in their own conscious being, as part of the Permanence of all that is that Being, and for which no creation of legal law by man can ever defeat as the Word (energy) of God. This is to say that man's only purpose in breaking that Supreme Law is only ever to support that which is not that Law, which can only be for fictional, monetary, and commercial purposes in some artificial, legal system that is not of the Realm God and Nature, and only to further that which is totally unnatural.

To this end and for the benefit of the reader, we must also specifically pre-define the word legal as it pertains to this work and to any law. For the purposes of this work, the term “legal” simply means “artificially created by man in opposition to the Design and Nature of God.” And so it must be known to the reader that anything that is a legal law is a creation only by man's design that is opposed to God's. Legal law is false law. Jehovah does not create legal names or concepts, nor does God recognize, respect, or naturally bond with anything that is a legal creation unless unnatural force is applied and disharmony is admixed and bound to that which would otherwise Exist only in simple Harmony. Legal laws are always, 100% post-Creation. For we call God the Creator of all Being and of the Natural Law. Only men acting as demigods can become creators of law, and they may only attach their legal laws to their own creations, namely the fictional titles and names of legal persons, places, and things (nouns). Thus when the words “Creator” or “Creation” are used herewith, they should be understood according to the definition of Jehovah above unless otherwise noted, as what is in the action of the Supremacy of Permanent Being, of the very Nature and Design of Life Itself without the interference and artful designs of man, not as the name (noun) or title of man as a being, but as the Verb of all that is, was, and forever shall be the state of all that is Being in Existence (verb).

Again, some refer to all of Life and Nature as God’s Plan or God’s Design. Others just call this Creation. And yet other’s say it is an act of randomness. Whatever you wish to name IT, just know that IT is all around you, even as you breath IT in, swim in ITS waters, sleep under ITS stars, and live in ITS atmosphere. IT Exists no matter what your opinion of IT is and needs not your belief to subsist. Only ITS ability to allow you to Exist and subsist within IT and therefore ITS preservation should be your concern.

The purpose of this work is not to convince readers to believe in what is obviously before them and supporting their very lives. That would be silly. The intent and motive of this work is to distinguish between man’s legal, artificial designs and God’s Permanent Design of Being called Nature, so that one may more easily discern between them and more reasonably and logically choose one’s own Master. If we do not make the choice it will be made for us. We must know that choice and voluntary consent is required for participation in one law (Law) over the other. And so the disclaimer that ignorance after the reading of this work can no longer be an excuse for one’s actions against all of God and Nature through man’s legally permissive law must be laid here. Proceed at your own caution. For the information within cannot be forgotten, though it can certainly be dismissed in peril. You will always be conscious of your choice. You will always be fully aware of your responsibility and duty. And you will have no excuse before Jehovah for your choice in action or inaction for ITS destruction, and consequently, your own.

You will see hell for what it is.

Take a legal license to kill as an example. A license is permission to act legally (artificially) against the Natural Law of God; as permission to kill or commit other crimes against the Commandments and against the light that is Life itself as part of all the wonder of Being that is Nature. God needs nor grants no licenses or permits to do this because God has no legal form to do so, nor would that Permanence of the Perfection of Being ever wish to see ITSelf harmed by giving man permission to do so. This legal existence is not a reasonable state of being for man as he destroys his own place in that Nature of Being merely because the church and state of man doctrinally tell him he can. In other words, Mother Nature would never choose to allow men to rape or desecrate Her if She had a choice. God’s Laws are a Permanent part of Nature Itself, part of which we call the “Natural Law,” and they are hardwired into the very existence and consciousness of man, whether we ignore it or not. And so with regards to these Natural Laws, no legal version of them need be created by men, for they are self-evident and Exist despite man’s false creation of positive and prima facie law. And so it must be said that man’s only purpose in his participation within corporate governments and religions and within that creation of legal fiction as part of the legal law of a Godlessly governed society is and forever shall be to thwart and ignore the Higher Laws of God’s Nature. Legality serves no other purpose, for its very false-nature is in opposition to those Natural Laws. It stands only in disrespect of Nature and specifically of man’s place thereof. Government stands only in the intention of doing harm, where the Natural Law says do none.

Government’s exist for one and only one reason - to govern and use (employ) those weak-minded men who cannot and will not govern themselves under God’s Law. Government’s thus require and promote two and only two things from their citizen-subjects: voluntary ignorance and purposeful mismanagement of what is God’s Law and Kingdom. For man’s systems are born in and will always be in corruption of God’s Word.

All law in man's governmental structures are only ever positive law. Its only design is to steal man from his Natural, pure and negative essence. It is the law of the idols (gods) of nations. But don't take the author's word for it. Go to their own source:

POSITIVE LAW - Positive law, AS USED IN OPPOSITION TO NATURAL LAW, may be considered in a threefold point of view. 1. THE UNIVERSAL VOLUNTARY LAW, or those rules which are PRESUMED TO BE LAW, by the UNIFORM PRACTICE OF NATIONS in general, and by the manifest utility of the rules themselves. 2. The CUSTOMARY law, or that which, from motives of convenience, has, BY TACIT, BUT IMPLIED AGREEMENT, prevailed, not generally indeed among all nations, nor with so permanent a utility as to become a portion of the universal voluntary law, but enough to have acquired a prescriptive obligation among certain states so situated as to be mutually benefited by it. 3. The CONVENTIONAL law, or that which is AGREED BETWEEN PARTICULAR STATES BY EXPRESS TREATY, a law binding on the parties among whom such treaties are in force. (Bouv1856)

—=—

There is the set law of nations (commercial tyranny), there is custom (excuse), and there is contract and treaty. These are the positive creations of the gods. These constitute the law of military aggression and force. And most men have been conned into believing they are not voluntary, yet another facet of the big lie, the grand deception of the adversaries.

Notice that God is purposefully excluded from the law of nations, for the gods of those nations are opposed to Jehovah, mere idols. They are the adversary. Their law is adversarial (satanic) to Jehovah. Positive law is only designed to defeat all of Nature and its Higher Law. Nations are only persons, not men. Respect of them and their flattering titles is only ever a disrespect of God and scripture. But make no mistake, man must volunteer to be a part of that positive law and structure. It is a choice, even when it seems (appears) it isn't. There is no excuse for man's actions, for his actions and thus his dis-eases are voluntary. The man that will not die for his own moral law or to protect that which cannot defend itself (Nature) deserves subjection to that which controls him.

And here we must ask ourselves a question. If the Bible, which is as well the King's version of the foundational Law and His proclaimed and defended faith, should we not then take that defender's Laws to heart, even if we don't vulgarly believe its words? Is this not reasonable and logical, to take to heart the foundational Law of he who seeks to reign over us? Should we not do as the Bible instructs in order to tear ourselves away from the king's boot? For the king (or any sovereignty) cannot control anyone but those who pledge their fealty to that artificial Crown as the anti-christ, the replacement god, instead of to the Nature of Jehovah alone. The king is giving us a choice, as he must, according to the very Book of Law he claims gives his anointed (christos) office its authority to rule over sinful men. To ignore this fact is only the folly of man, for only fallen men need remain under any false king.

—=—

“...but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed. For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.”

—Galatians 1:7-10, KJB

Do we please the spiritual God of all Nature in our lives or do we instead strive to please the sovereign principalities and incorporations of men? The answer to that question is not one of personal opinion, but of our personal actions. For the agents of any principal serve only that principal. And all of man's kingdoms and principalities are certainly not of God. This will be made absolutely clear herein, that actions definitely speak louder than words, and with that the scriptures agree.

But here we must know that the word ignorance is again at its root a verb. It requires purposeful effort, and thus intent, or lack thereof. Effortlessness is as well only a state of voluntary, temporary being. For government though, ignorance is just another word included in the meaning of citizenship. Voluntary ignorance of (the action of purposefully ignoring) God's Law is a necessary requirement for participation in man's legal law, for legal law is the law of mammon (riches; wealth; the love of [belief in] money as the god of riches). Its very purpose is commerce. Its design is abundance for the few by exaction (extortion) of God's blessings of abundance from the many. Those who serve mammon as its legal subjects (citizens) therefore stand in loss of God's unalienable Law and protection, which are the blessings and capacities of wisdom, power, mercy, grace, and glory. Citizenship is a state of dis-grace, requiring a purposeful lack and ignorance of wisdom and power. Even the most learned of men in the scriptures and in their own understanding of that Natural Law and its requirements (politicians and priests not excluded) must ignore their own knowledge to become and remain commercial, fictional citizens of or rulers over (the gods of) government fiction. For legal government has no moral law.

Ignorance too is a verb!

Ignorance must be cultivated and employed (used) with pretended impunity and spite before Jehovah.

IMPUNITY - noun - [Latin impunitas; in and punio, to punish.] 1. EXEMPTION from punishment or penalty. No person should be permitted to violate the laws with impunity. IMPUNITY ENCOURAGES MEN IN CRIMES. 2. FREEDOM OR EXEMPTION FROM INJURY. Some ferocious animals are not to be encountered with impunity. (Webs1828)

LICENSE - noun - [Latin licentia, from liceo, to be permitted.] 1. Leave; permission; authority or liberty given to do or forbear ANY ACT. A license may be verbal or written; when written, the paper containing the authority is called a license. A man is not permitted to retail spirituous liquors till he has obtained a license. 2. EXCESS OF LIBERTY; exorbitant freedom; FREEDOM ABUSED, OR USED IN CONTEMPT OF LAW or decorum. License they mean, when they cry liberty. - verb transitive - 1. To permit by grant of authority; to remove legal restraint by a grant of permission; as, to license a man to keep an inn. 2. TO AUTHORIZE TO ACT IN A PARTICULAR CHARACTER; as, to license a physician or a lawyer. 3. To dismiss. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

LICENTIA - See: ANARCHY, freedom, latitude, leave, liberty, permission. (Burton's Legal Thesaurus, 2007, by William C. Burton.)

LICENSE - The PERMISSION GRANTED BY COMPETENT AUTHORITY to exercise a certain PRIVILEGE that, without such authorization, would constitute AN ILLEGAL ACT, A TRESPASS OR A TORT. The CERTIFICATE or the DOCUMENT itself that confers permission to ENGAGE in otherwise PROSCRIBED CONDUCT... Licenses are an important and ubiquitous feature of contemporary society. Federal, state, and local governments rely on licensing TO CONTROL a broad range of HUMAN ACTIVITY, from commercial and professional to dangerous and environmental. Licenses may also be issued by private parties and by patent or Copyright holders...A license gives a person or organization permission to engage in a particular activity. If the government requires a license for an activity, it may issue criminal charges if a person engages in the activity without obtaining a license... Failure to abide by certain laws and regulations can result in suspension or revocation of a license. (West's Encyclopedia of American Law, Second Edition, 2008)

LICENTIA - Latin. License; leave; PERMISSION. (Black4)

LICENTIATE - One who has license to PRACTICE any ART or FACULTY. (Black4)

LICENTIOUSNESS - The INDULGENCE OF THE ARBITRARY WILL OF THE INDIVIDUAL, WITHOUT REGARD TO ETHICS OR LAW, OR RESPECT FOR THE RIGHTS OF OTHERS. In this it differs from "liberty;" for the latter term (liberty) may properly be used only of the EXERCISE OF THE WILL IN ITS MORAL FREEDOM, with justice to ALL MEN and obedience to the laws. LIBERTY IS RESTRAINED BY NATURAL OR POSITIVE LAW, and consists in DOING WHATEVER WE PLEASE NOT INCONSISTENT WITH THE RIGHTS OF OTHERS, WHEREAS LICENTIOUSNESS DOES NOT RESPECT THOSE RIGHTS. Also, lewdness or lasciviousness. (Black4)

LICERE - Latin. To be lawful; TO BE ALLOWED OR PERMITTED BY LAW. (Black4)

LICERE, LICERI - Latin. In Roman law. To offer A PRICE FOR A THING; to bid for it. (Black4)

LICET - Latin. From the verb "licere." IT IS ALLOWED; IT IS PERMISSIBLE; IT IS LAWFUL; NOT FORBIDDEN BY LAW. Although; notwithstanding. Importing, in this sense, a direct affirmation. (Black4)

— = —

We must realize that citizenship is only a fixed, limited license for the artificial life of an operational commercial status known as a fictional persona. It is organized crime, which is to say that the license (citizenship) allows the criminal gods to tax, fine, imprison, extort, exact, and commit many otherwise Natural Law crimes against man and Nature, for citizenship is only inducement to break with God's Law. To do no harm to any man is the Supreme Law, but nowhere does that Supremacy of Law protect fictions. And so the only "lawful" way to harm man is to make him surety to another's name and status, to make him a tenant and renter only. No titled man has any Natural right to do this, but the man who voluntarily receives and accepts such licensure (as citizenship) necessarily consents to the contracted crimes offered by its government, which are allowed by the laws of that membership. With any privilege comes obligation, and a spiritually (naturally) free man takes none except from the One True God he worships, for God offers no privileges but the responsible use of all of Creation, which is as an implied contract to follow the Laws of Nature. This is spirituality and reasonableness to the extreme. All privileges and benefits that are against God's Law require permission by the artificial state, for the state only licenses its own fictional "persons" to commit legal crimes, and the man is only surety for that strawman. It is solely the strawman name that may obtain a license, not the man using (renting) it. The license protects the illegal actions of the false persona by which the man operates in fiction. Man pretends to act through and in the name of the strawman, as if a puppet could commit a crime without a master. In other words, he imagines his crimes are done in the name of another, under legal title, as if he is fooling his own Creator and escaping that Finality and Permanence of Judgement. God sees no puppets (persons), only he who controls such fictions. License (legal anarchy) is no excuse before God. And institutionalized permission of the ignorance of that Natural Law through established and ordained national positive law is certainly organized chaos (anarchy) at its finest.

Modern movements that title themselves as “anarchist” have nothing to do with the actual meaning or etymological origin of the word anarchy, any more than the word “god” as applied to kings and judges has anything to do with the meaning of the Supremacy and Permanent Existence of “God.” We are only concerned with Reality, not some man’s creation and title of his own political action or invented movement. Anarchy is not spirituality, for spirituality is the unwavering Law of God. The Law of God’s Nature is certainly not anarchy. Far from it. The antonyms (opposing forces) to the word anarchy are the words harmony, peace, and lawfulness in every source available. Thus God’s Natural Law and anarchy obviously do not mix. One cannot be at peace and in True Love and also be in anarchy against it.

Though the word “anarchy” is not specifically spoken of in the Bible, certain passages definitely describe that state of chaotic, satanic liberty as the antithesis to the Law of God. For as we just read, liberty is strict adherence to Law under a moral will, where as licentiousness is only the anarchy of licensure of a lawless society, which is exactly where we live today; excessive liberties that are out of the bounds of what is the Reality and bounds of the Laws of Nature even while our fundamental (unalienable) liberties have been removed.

—=—

“For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.”

—Galatians 5:13-14, KJB

—=—

“And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.”

—Isaiah 3:5, KJB

—=—

"Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities... But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, AS BRUTE BEASTS, in those things they corrupt themselves. Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core... feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, TWICE DEAD, plucked up by the roots; Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.”

—Jude 1: 8, 10-13, KJB

—=—

“But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities... But these, AS NATURAL BRUTE BEASTS, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption; And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they feast with you; Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children: Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness; But was rebuked for his iniquity: the DUMB ASS speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet. These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever. For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, THOSE THAT WERE CLEAN ESCAPED FROM THEM WHO LIVE IN ERROR. While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: FOR OF WHOM A MAN IS OVERCOME, OF THE SAME IS HE BROUGHT IN BONDAGE.”

—2 Peter 2: 10, 12-19, KJB

— = —

It is interesting to note that this state of anarchy is compared to Cain, the original destroyer of brotherly love and the progenitor of an anarchical, self-willed city.

Note that the word naturally as used here means ignorance of the knowledge of spiritual or Higher Law, as will be dissected later in this work. But know well that a fool is called a “natural” when unregenerate to scriptural ways, referring to man as merely a soulless (animal) beast of burden.

The word anarchist is a noun, a flattering title, but the actual state of anarchy will only ever be a verb, and it will only ever be chaotic lawlessness, sometimes organized into Godless societies such as is portrayed in The Road Warrior movies, or as in its advanced state appearing a lot like the United States and all other commercial nations. The synonyms for anarchy in every source available are the same, varying only in degree, which include chaos, confusion, disorder, hostility, nihilism, rebellion, riot, turmoil, unrest, disorganization, disregard, misrule, revolution, mob rule, nongovernment, and reign of terror. So to be quite clear, this word “anarchy” is sold both by governments to justify their existence in licensed unlawfulness portrayed publicly as false lawfulness, and by “anarchists” to justify lawlessness as somehow a good thing. No matter how much romanticism is placed upon this word, either to cause fear by governments or hope by anarchists, both governments and anarchists are promoting the same thing: a society of lawlessness, one being lawfully protected through licensure and one totally without law. One is false liberty through special license to ignore law, the other is ignorance of any law as the total licensure of unchecked liberty. Both are merely different systems of the same thing.

ANARCHY, LAWLESSNESS - noun - a state of lawlessness and disorder (USUALLY RESULTING FROM A FAILURE OF GOVERNMENT). (Princeton’s WordNet)

To say that the United States government is a success would be to say that utter corruption is a good thing. A government does not need to fail, only its people in their moral compunction need fall. For government is only a fictional representation of that people. The actions of the people declare its lawfulness. And right now, the people of most nations are in a state of absolute decay away from their Source. To blame the government of the nation is, in God's metaphorical eyes, no excuse for each people's anarchical behavior towards the Natural Law of God and especially to each other.

As with all other doctrines, be them of religions or of disenfranchised sects thereof, or those of the most powerful or most low nations, none of these are in friendship to the Natural Law of God nor to the scriptures that define it. Do not be fooled, citizenship is legalized, organized anarchy. Legalized adultery. The age of consent is the age of the voluntary adulterer, and this will be shown in detail as we continue. Government's appearance of order is false, barely able to be controlled but by man's faith in its idolatrous gods in their corruption of leadership and rewards for licensed bad behavior. But do not also be fooled by the anarchist that seeks to be in want of (in absence of) government. For he preaches not the scriptural teachings of the Natural Law but in its stead that which is opposed (satanic) to that Law. Christ was not portrayed in any way as an anarchist, though this is a favored fallacious meme of that anarchistic cult following.

Govern-ment is control of the mind, either spiritually by ones own religious knowledge and actions through scripture or by some institution and its tyrannical laws against the scripture. The anarchist seeks no government at all, no law over even his own liberties, except that which he chooses. In other words, he seeks no harmony of Law with others, and the modern leaders in these anarchist movements promise that miracles would somehow spring from such discord. For hope is their only salvation, the hope that others behave voluntarily though they are in anarchy of any system of law. Satanism loves anarchism, for anarchism is only the state of man as being adversarial to each other. We must not confuse the personalities of those who promote such things with the actual thing, any more than we should confuse "Christian" evangelists that promote and covet money and wealth while pretending to promote the Word of God as holy men. And I personally guarantee that every single self-proclaimed anarchist you will ever meet is so in name only for false show, each using driver's licenses, surnames, employment titles, consumer protections, and social security numbers of the very government they claim to despise; slaves to their own ignorance of Source and merely worshipers of money (mammon). In this way, "Anarchists" are not too far off from legal "Christians." Without a government to rally against, the anarchist has no purpose, for his purpose is the end of all notions of governed law. And so with some hilarity the very false existence of the flatteringly titled "anarchist" depends upon some government's existence, and more to the point that he is a member of that government. In other words, it's a controlled opposition replete with music, clothing, poetic musings, and sellable counter-culture with billions in sales. It is commercially speaking the anti-patriot. It is yet another unnatural trap.

Ironically, the anarchist either has no clue or ignores the fact that he could quit volunteering to be a part of the government he rails against at any time, even as he promotes a "voluntary society" outside of it. Of course this notion of a "voluntary society" is just a reference to another form of government, for as history shows, the anarchist leaders always become the communal government they pretend to hate so as to enforce their own version of volunteerism through violent force. Instead, the so-called "anarchist" continues to use greedily all of the benefits government provides his fictional persona in citizenship and in marriage, and especially that perceived freedom of speech that allows him to proclaim his imagined anarchy even while acting as a citizen-ship of government. Without even realizing it, the anarchist lives by the license (permission) of government, which is only organized anarchy to begin with. Anarchists have license (permission) to pretend anarchy by the very government they pretend to oppose. And so ultimately he rallies against nothing but the inevitable fruit of his own desires, for his desires can only lead to the same or worse tyranny he currently wishes to escape. This can go nowhere. This is circular madness, which is why revolution is a synonym of anarchy; to revolve into the same old anarchical system of a new government under a different name. An anarchist's existence is literally interdependent on government. Without government, the position or title of anarchist would be pointless. Once in an actual state of anarchy, with no established law and governmental protections for his anarchical behavior and no police of government to protect his rallies, he would then need to become something other than an anarchist, for his goal would have been in his mind apparently attained. But what could he really become but a dictator or a subject thereof, a governor or one of the governed, an employer or an employee, a master or a slave? The notion of anarchy is but a circular controlled opposition that will never succeed in anything but continued ignorance and misunderstanding of the Source of all Law. For anarchy is only the religion of lawlessness (Godlessness).

And here we arrive at the notion of do no harm.

The Real question is, how can one have freedom or exemption from injury, unless that word "injury" legally means something other than actual harm in Nature? Well I hate to break it to you, but exemption from injury really means licensed exemption from law. To injure something or someone is to bring it into and under the authority and jurisdiction of the law. In-jure. Latin, injuria. In right. If one man can cause an injury to another, it is only because the law recognizes this as a fact, because the law recognizes the person of the man has been harmed. And in court, something is only an injury if the court says its an injury. Not the written law, but only the determination and opinion of the judge (god).

The legal license government bestows upon its own fictional, legal personas and titles is the right to commit crimes without injury; without those crimes being punishable by law. This is exemption. It is not exemption from being harmed, only exemption from the law recognizing what in Reality is harm compared to the legal version and corruption of the Nature of artificial "harm." The gods decide what constitutes harm, and for that matter murder and rape. One without ability to cause injury because no law declares such crime is an injury, as one immune from injury by licensed permission to commit the crime, is one who's actions are not bound by or punishable by the legal law, and one who cares not of the Law of God. This state of impunity can only exist in the legal name and its legal realm (jurisdiction), in the character of legal personhood. It does not Exist in Nature.

How long can man continue in his legally permitted actions against God's Nature while pretending that those governmentally-sanctioned actions will not destroy his very own place of actual Existence under God? How long can doctors kill while acting in the legally protected and insured status of their titled character for profit without being responsible for their own actions as men of God? In Reality (before God), this fictional notion of legal impunity does not change the actual Nature of the effect of his actions into anything less harmful to his Environment and the Life (Creation) within. Indeed, his judgement and punishment is manifesting all around him, even as he legally (in persona) pretends to ignore the warnings and consequences of and to Jehovah while they continuously manifest in the obviously diseased state of most common men. Man's true judgement by God may and perhaps should very well be his own undoing and erasure from this Permanence of Being by his own fictional designs and licenses against IT.

If God were a land-Lord, man would have been evicted last century!

But God is all of Creation and Nature, a state of Pure Harmony of Design, and so the eviction through extinction will only come when that Harmonious Perfection of Nature's Design is polluted and altered by fictional discord just enough to cause man's demise... along with everything he takes with him as collateral damage. That is, unless man wakes up to his own illusions; a task self-assigned to myself and as the purpose and intent of this exhaustive work.

Most important to this revelation, we must remember that while Nature exists despite man and his doctrines, man's fiction must always and without exception have its foundation upon the back of Mother Nature even while denying

It. In other words, the Supremacy of Permanent Being that is called as “God” and that is “Jehovah” is always the foundational precept of all man’s legal law. This is to say that in order to stand against God in the artifice of legal name and title (citizenship), the acknowledgement of that Supreme “God” must also exist therein, for there would be no need for fictional considerations unless Reality firstly (originally) and in Permanence Exists (I AM). More to the point, this means that God’s Law (the Natural Law) is always foundational and thus Supreme over all of man’s legal laws and designs. Source, Origin, is always most powerful and never changes. Jehovah, as is scripturally written, never leaves man’s side, for man is an inseparable part of Jehovah. Man must choose to purposefully, willfully ignore God and that Supreme Law for man’s designs to become a virtual reality. But this participation in legal things does not nor can it ever kill God’s Permanence of Existence as Nature, for that would be an oxymoronic impossibility, as man’s legal law cannot exist without man’s state of Being (Life) under God in Nature. Therefore legal law can only be circular in its own false nature; a closed-loop system with no affiliation to Jehovah, and one that exists only inside of God, never outside. It is therefore always inferior to God’s law, for man can never travel outside of God’s Creation, but instead only pretend it does not Exist. Life and therefore consciousness of Jehovah must first exist as a foundation for ideas and fictions of law to subsequently exist and be put forth from that “Creation” of Life. Without life (Jehovah), there would be no purpose or capacity for spiritual death (legal personhood and citizenship). Spirituality is Source. God’s Law is as Permanent in its Being as Being itself is Permanent, while man’s legal realm merely rises and falls with each new, petty, always temporary empire built upon the foundation of God’s Creation, stripping it of all that is holy and sacred. In this way man is, in his limited experience and consideration, merely a temporary flea upon a never-ending dog.

But I happen to believe we can be so much more...

Please note that these are not merely the opinions of this author, but are considered as the very foundation of man’s law in all of its principles (maxims) and definitions. For the legal law to have authority, this Superior (Higher) and Supreme Law must first be acknowledged as Source, and then subsequently and voluntarily separated, overruled, and willfully ignored in lieu of that legal fiction. Alienation. For this to happen, voluntary consent must be garnered through trickery and artifice by all of us to follow blindly man’s legal opinions instead of God’s Natural, Permanent Law.

Man always has a choice. He may ask either what is right, or what is legal. And he tends to follow the easiest, but not the correct path.

This work is dedicated to the dream that all good and conscious men will one day realize and live by the correct choice, before ignorance of that Supreme Law and man’s poor legal choices destroy his ability to choose; before his choices destroy his own state in that Permanence of Being. The Existence of man is only as temporary as his choices make him.

In the Bible, a similar plea as mine own was made to those whom, on the streets of Athens, were praying upon alters to inconceivable, “unknown” gods, much as corporate “Christians” do today...

— = —

“For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar wherein was written, UNTO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom ye then ignorantly worship, him show I unto you. God that made the world, and all things that are therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, DWELLETH NOT IN TEMPLES MADE WITH HANDS. Neither is worshipped with men’s hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he giveth to all life and breath and all things, AND HATH MADE

OF ONE BLOOD ALL MANKIND, to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath assigned the seasons which were ordained before, and the bounds of their habitation, That they should seek the Lord, if so be they might have groped after him, and found him, though doubtless he be not far from every one of us. FOR IN HIM WE LIVE, AND MOVE, AND HAVE OUR BEING, as also certain of your own Poets have said: For we are also his generation. Forasmuch then, as WE ARE THE GENERATION OF GOD, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone GRAVEN BY ART AND THE INVENTION OF MAN."

—Acts 17: 23-29, 1599 Geneva Bible (GNV)

—=—

As God Is and includes each of us, therefore all past, present, and future “generations” are the generation (creation) of God. For to generate is to create! This would be the most simple and self-evident of under-standings, were it not for the serpentine tongues of those who wish to deceive through the artifice and spelling of legal fiction. For man too generates legal, fictional things, and we may be fooled that such men are therefore gods of their own creation.

GENERATION - noun - The act of begetting; procreation, as of animals. 1. Production; FORMATION; as the generation of sounds or of curves or equations. 2. A single succession in natural descent, as the children of the same parents; hence, AN AGE. Thus we say, the third, the fourth, or the tenth generation. Genesis 15:16. 3. The people of the same period, or living at the same time. O faithless and perverse generation. Luke 9:41. 4. GENEALOGY; a series of children or descendants from the same stock. This is the book of the generations of Adam. Genesis 5:1. 5. A family; A RACE. 6. PROGENY; OFFSPRING. (Webs1828)

—=—

If God made all men of the same blood, why do we respect the bloodlines of royalty and nobility? Why are these considered as separate lines? Only through the artifice of legal fiction can these fabled genealogies be respected. Unfortunately, we must face reality, which is that all nations are only protectors of the bloodlines of the gods. The citizens of the nations are not the creators of them, for all nations are created only to protect the blood posterity of their creators. This will be totally explained as we proceed in this work.

How shall we overcome this magical spell of word-enchancement and deceit so that even our own place in Jehovah can become our conscious Reality both in sense and in conscious life? We must of course remove the mystery of the language arts by deciphering the codes that bind us in such artifice.

MYSTERY - A trade, ART, or occupation.

MYSTIC - In Louisiana, a "mystic testament" is A WILL UNDER SEAL.

—=—

Join me now on a journey into the realm of fiction, where Reality certainly remains in its occulted Permanence of Being, but is imaginarily extinguished and re-named within a language designed to cause men to be its artificial gods, a language with roots unlearned and ignored by its professors and subjects despite being the backbone and force of the false law of men and kings that rule us all through their false impersonations; the graven art forms that are the invention of man's anfractuious (twisted) mind. It's time for you to meet your strawman...

— = —

Chapter 1:

Exposing The Ego,

Identity As The Persona Of The Mind

— = —

— = —

STRAMINEUS HOMO:

“Latin. A man of straw, one of no substance, put forward as bail or surety.”

—Black's Law Dictionary, 4th Edition.

— = —

Words are the DNA sequence chain of the legal language.

Like the familiar double helix symbology, each word-stem connects to all others within a coded mathematical circuit, adding up to a unique or novel expressive trait that is at the same time predictable by its practitioners, subtly alterable at any time to suit their needs and designs, and yet generally hidden from the comprehension of their multitude of victims. Innumerable variations of the legal DNA word-code are thus possible; each word chain representing a subject-matter in some new mutation of artificial life. Like geneticists, scribes and lawyers with surgical precision attach and detach suffixes, prefixes, pre-positions and pro-positions to create new and ever more ominous combinations, mixing ancient Latin and Greek roots transcribed into genetically altered, sequential chains in order to form and redefine man and indeed Nature itself as something other than a wondrous, sentient, Living Being.

This is the alchemy of word magic. A conspiracy by words. These linguistic fabricators literally cast out-loud and in-writing their wordsmith spells, sequencing out each individual man (homo; male or female) with proper names, phrases, insurable numbered sequences, and flattering titles that re-present us all into a fictional form of man with no substance or soul. These spells literally create an artificial persona; a fictional character put forward for legal purposes under bonded indebtedness and in the invisible chains of surety, sometimes referred to as a “strawman.”

Language comprehension through word dissection is the only scientific method available for discovery of this legal treachery, for words and the viral ideas they spread like disease do not appear under any microscope. No brain surgeon can cure their effect. No radiation can eradicate them. Words are intrinsic yet invisible splinters causing an inward infection that alters the mind's perception of all that is Reality. Only conscious knowledge of the power and intention behind these words can protect us from their effect upon our body, mind, and soul.

—=—

“A man's manners are a mirror
in which he shows his portrait.”

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

—=—

Standing before the looking glass, we believe that what we see accurately displays what others will see as our pretended selves, our projected self-image, while inherently knowing that mirror image of ourselves is always backward, and never a true re-presentation thereof. We hide within this false, empty appearance and its name and reputation. For the mirror shows merely our form, but never the substance of what lies beneath that image of flesh and behind those two-dimensionally reflected eyes. That third dimension that gives Life to the Source of the image, as Nature Itself, is missing. The blood and the soul is hidden, our appearance only skin deep. In Reality we Live, but the fictional image looking back at ourselves from the mirror shows only the artifice of evil (live backwards), anti-life, re-presenting merely the fictional form of Life but never the Life in and of itself.

The legal system's sole purpose is to harness that form without substance into a fictional entity called a person (status), while tricking all men into acting only in that vain image, and never as themselves. In this way men are controlled utterly by their own false impressions of themselves.

—=—

“There exists, for everyone, a sentence - A SERIES OF WORDS - that has the power to destroy you. Another sentence exists, ANOTHER SERIES OF WORDS, that could heal you. If you're lucky you will get the second, but you can be certain of getting the first.”

—Philip K. Dick, quoted from: 'VALIS'

—=—

Within the legal system of language arts, all of Nature is re-presented in form and therefore only in some empty name (noun). The image (form) in the mirror can never escape that artificial realm, trapped behind an invisible, legal bar (barrier), existing only as a legal reflection of Nature but never as the Reality of Nature itself. It is man framed into seemingly living art. If the mirror breaks into a million pieces, the substance of the Reality as Source in Nature still remains whole despite its broken appearance within those many shards. The false reflection (re-presentation) may change, but Reality remains intact despite that re-presentation. The reflection (appearance) simply cannot exist without the Reality of its Source. If one looks only at the form shattered into a million pieces of glass, one might believe the actual Reality of Source to be destroyed, though it may be right in front of their face standing quite intact. Likewise, if the fictional, legally created person (strawman) is broken or declared as legally, civilly dead, the man feels no pain upon the flesh of his Real body, and the presence of his soul is untouched within. Only the straw is broken.

Man -vs- person.

Nature -vs- fiction.

Reality -vs- art.

Live -vs- evil.

The duality of what is evil (artificial) can only be seen from the imagination of the beholder. And so to the perceptions and definitions of anything falsely existing in evil (against the Reality and “good” Design of Nature), anything good and wholesome would be reflectively evil to that which exists only in the appearance of an evil (artificial) form. Evil opposes life, seeing in its own warped disposition Nature (Source) Itself as the true evil. Artificiality (art) is always opposed to the Reality it re-presents as purely an empty but often captivating and even convincing image. Lies often appear better than the Reality they simulate. Legal law is always opposed to Nature’s Law. And a person-hood (legal status) is opposed to living man, a reflective re-presentation of Life by a lifeless image built upon words on paper. Chains of straw.

—=—

“What is like is not the same; for nothing similar is the same.”

—A Latin maxim of law: Talis non est eadem; nam nullum simile est idem. 4 Coke, 18. (Black4)

—=—

All words must be considered and expressed according to their source; as either the descriptive substance of something actually happening in Reality or as a mere “artificial” form of an invented yet accepted and confirmed falsehood. This is to say that if the devil speaks, his words will always be a lie. Likewise, when a man acting in the office of attorney (agent of fiction) speaks, he must use only the words and terms of his profession (art) as an officer of the court, for the ability to hold such a flattering title in name only requires adherence to those limited terms of art (the legal language) as the authoritative form of intercourse (the commerce of communication). Only a man without legal (false) name and title or other legal status has leave under God to live and speak in perfect honesty at all times in the Reality of all things, for only a man free of legal fiction and artifice (evil) may always Live in the Truth of that Reality of all things. This is the only actual, sensual Truth, based only on the Reality of our very own Nature. This is the True God.

As we define terms throughout this work, the reader must at all times remember this notion of clearly having the proper perspective; that Source is always opposed to image, no matter how similar in appearance any representation and symbology of the Real they may seem to be. For every word may take upon itself its opposite, mirror (evil) reflection, depending solely upon the disposition of the speaker of that word of art. In other words, he with the power to define and redefine terms, even against the very Nature of that to which any word is attached, controls the minds and therefore the actions of others. The artist controls his art, as a god of his own artificial creation. It is the lack of knowledge of the alternative, legal definitions of words that causes men to be controlled by those words, for legality is opposed to Reality (Jehovah). Like a virtual computer simulation, men are controlled only through ignorance of the coded language matrix that controls their persona (image), even as they speak those dualistic words without knowing their alternative and official (spoken in office/false persona) meaning.

And so evil, from evil’s perspective, is good. The victim of evil must first be able to empathize with evil so as to comprehend its designs, and only then may we avoid its legal trickery and heal our True Selves. Only by uncovering evil can good be seen. And so we must from this point on know and accept that every word is steeped in duality - that the legal version is never the same as the common or Real meaning, at best standing only similar in phonetic quality and appearance. But similitude is not sameness, and so the legal language should never be confused to be the same as our common (non-legal) or Natural one, though it may sound and be pronounced in perfect similitude (they sound the same but are only similar, not the same). For the light may never co-exist with the dark. Legal words are in a continuous battle with their general counterparts, just as evil (the dead) is always against that which is good (the living).

EVIL – noun - Evil is natural or moral. Natural evil is any thing which produces pain, distress, loss or calamity, or which in any way disturbs the peace, impairs the happiness, or DESTROYS THE PERFECTION OF NATURAL BEINGS. Moral evil is any deviation of a moral AGENT from the rules of conduct prescribed to him BY GOD, OR BY LEGITIMATE HUMAN AUTHORITY; or it is any violation of the plain principles of justice and rectitude. There are also evils called CIVIL, which affect injuriously the peace or prosperity of A CITY OR STATE; and POLITICAL EVILS, which INJURE A NATION, IN ITS PUBLIC CAPACITY. All wickedness, all crimes, ALL VIOLATIONS OF LAW AND RIGHT ARE MORAL EVILS. Diseases are natural evils, but they often proceed from moral evils. 2. Misfortune; mischief; injury. There shall no evil befall thee. Psalms 91:10. A prudent man foreseeth the evil and hideth himself. Proverbs 22:3. 3. Depravity; corruption of heart, or DISPOSITION to commit wickedness; malignity. (Webs1828)

EVIL - It is an "evil" within rule that either means or end of conspiracy must be evil, to frustrate or impede a government function, WHETHER THAT FUNCTION IS PERFORMED UNDER A CONSTITUTIONAL OR AN UNCONSTITUTIONAL LAW. (Black4)

—=—

The first comprehension that the reader should obtain within these schizophrenic definitions of the word evil is that of a specific duality between God (Jehovah) and man acting in the office of a legal god (ecclesia), creating in this word a split personality based on the perspective of the user. Obviously, in consideration of the disposition of any artificial, legally "constituted," established and ordained government, morality through God's Natural Law is opposite to and therefore evil in its consideration by that government. The legal law makes absolutely no allowance for conscious, moral actions against its structural integrity of strictly written "positive" law: a foundation of purely false, legal words, fraudulent representations, and utter deceit (fiction of law).

To be clear, if government is criminal in its actions even against its own written (constituted) intent, it will still always consider it an "evil act" for any man to attempt to thwart its organized criminal, "legal," commercial actions, no matter how offensive it may be towards God's Nature and Law.

—=—

"There's a plot in this country to enslave every man, woman, and child. Before I leave this high and noble office, I intend to expose this plot."

—President John F. Kennedy, seven days before his assassination

—=—

But we must remember not to anthropomorphize a nation (artificial person) and its government agents (officers) in our minds into something that feels pain or that can actually be harmed in Nature. A nation is not Natural, not born from Nature, not a Creation of the Supreme Creator. Something artificial cannot feel anything. It is only man's personal identification and false empathy towards and as part of that artificial construct (matrix) of man's legal creation and artful law that allows the fiction to punish man for somehow harming the artificial creation of man. To apply human emotions and qualities only found in God's Creation of Nature to a corporation (government or religion) is to abandon God's Nature and Law. This is also fallaciously known in Nature as a victimless crime, a crime against the fiction (deceit) that is the fictional person (false creation) of “government.” For we are all victims by virtue of our legal birth.

We sacrifice our privacy and moral law to become and act as public citizen-ships (legal vessels). So is it correct to state that there are victimless crimes? No. Absolutely not! The victim is he or that which was sacrificed. Our problem is that at some point the sacrificial lamb became all of us, and the rite of sacrifice became the birth of a dead entity known as our id-entity, the strawman. In other words, the sacrifice of all common men happens metaphorically at the registration and surnaming of our fictional persona, when our living, vital statistics are magically transmuted into a fictional person existing only on paper. Victimhood is a lifestyle based on a registered legal event that happened long before we could possibly be consciously aware of our own choice; one made for us by our completely ignorant parents who just happen to be as equally victimized as we were made to be by them. They habitually and by the custom of their own enslavement offer their own children up as a sacrifice to the legal gods of the nations, usually without knowledge (with voluntary ignorance) of the consequences of their own actions. The citizenship created by birth is the legal creation of a dead person, for all things of fiction are dead. This is to say that birth registration and certification is a sacrifice (symbolic destruction) of the consideration of what is the living baby (man/soul/blood) and the power of choice each man consciously has in lieu of a ceremonial creation of spiritually dead fictional persona that each man becomes surety for. The image is thus respected over the Reality, the body figuratively replaced by a vessel (ship) in commerce. We are sacrificed to mammon at our legal birth. And yes, this is a blood sacrifice, for public personhood is as an attainting and corruption of blood in the eyes of man’s law. Our blood inheritance, in other words our ability to become heirs, is sacrificed and our entire Existence becomes as a public servant in surety for another’s property. Thus, we are used and abused by the master of our strawman.

This will all become clear very soon, for a sacrifice is only the loss of some thing to gain another thing. We give up (sacrifice) our Natural, unalienable, God-given rights in order to receive artificial, legal positive rights from the gods and governors of the legal realm. And while our initial sacrificial, public event of public birth was not our choice, and thus not enforceable by law, our continuous consent and specifically our use of the signature, benefits, gains, and protections of personhood to the legal state cause our victimhood to be voluntary. And so there are no Truly victimless crimes when the man suffering the crime is doing so while acting voluntarily as surety for another’s property (person). Ignorance of the law one’s legal person (commercial vessel) is bound to is certainly no excuse, and voluntarily acting within that legal persona in surety means his (man’s) victimhood to such an artifice of words is voluntary.

Remember, do not shoot the messenger. The author is here only in the same capacity as christ was so written, not to judge you but to help save you from your own imagination. The matrix of word-spellings in legal code has you, and only knowledge of its design is offered here. You always have and must make your own choice to be a victim or not, but you will always play the part of a victim without God and while acting under the commercial citizen-ship and person-hood as surety for another (as the artificial son of any nation/legal father) that stands in godship over its own creation and fictional realm (legal jurisdiction).

VICTIM - noun - [Latin victima.] 1. A LIVING BEING SACRIFICED TO SOME DEITY, or in the performance of a religious rite; usually, some beast slain in sacrifice; BUT HUMAN BEINGS HAVE BEEN SLAIN BY SOME NATIONS, for the purpose of appeasing the wrath or conciliating the favor of some deity. 2. Something destroyed; something sacrificed in the pursuit of an object. How many persons have fallen victims to jealousy, to lust, to ambition! (Webs1828)

VICTIMIZE - verb transitive - TO SACRIFICE. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

SACRIFICE - verb transitive - sac’rifice. [Latin sacrifico; sacer, sacred, and facio, to make.] 1. To offer to God in homage or worship, by killing and consuming, as victims on an altar; to immolate, either as an

atonement for sin, or to procure favor, or to express thankfulness; as, to sacrifice an ox or a lamb. 2 Samuel 6:13. 2. TO DESTROY, SURRENDER OR SUFFER TO BE LOST FOR THE SAKE OF OBTAINING SOMETHING; as, to sacrifice the peace of the church to a little vain curiosity. We should never sacrifice health to pleasure, NOR INTEGRITY TO FAME. 3. To devote with loss. Condemn'd to sacrifice his childish years to babbling ignorance and to empty fears. 4. To destroy; to kill. - verb intransitive - To make offerings to God by the slaughter and burning of victims, or of some part of them. Exodus 3:18. - noun - [Latin sacrificium.] 1. An offering made to God by killing and burning some animal upon an altar, as an acknowledgment of his power and providence, or to make atonement for sin, appease his wrath or CONCILIATE HIS FAVOR, OR TO EXPRESS THANKFULNESS FOR HIS BENEFITS. Sacrifices have been common to MOST NATIONS, AND HAVE BEEN OFFERED TO FALSE GODS, as well as by the Israelites to Jehovah. A sacrifice differs from an oblation; the latter (oblation) being an offering of a thing entire or without change, as tithes or first fruits; whereas sacrifice implies a destruction or killing, as of a beast. Sacrifices are expiatory, impetratory, and eucharistical; that is, atonement for sin, seeking favor, or expressing thanks. Human sacrifices, the killing and offering of human beings to deities, have been practiced by some barbarous nations. 2. THE THING OFFERED TO GOD, or immolated by an act of religion. My life if thou preserv'st, my life thy sacrifice shall be. 3. Destruction, surrender or loss made or incurred for gaining some object, or for obliging another; AS THE SACRIFICE OF INTEREST TO PLEASURE, or of pleasure to interest. 4. Any thing destroyed. (Webs1828)

— = —

The sacrifice of our privacy is the sacrifice of our blood inheritance and interest to the land. Any public persona in a commercial citizen-ship under the systems (sovereign nations) of mammon may only ever enjoy the pleasures of the land, but may never be the private, responsible holder and disposer of that land, and may only be allowed in person (legal status/class) to be the renter and temporary tenant thereof. This is our sacrifice, for our public person-hood is also our victim-hood.

This is the power of words in their descriptive capacity and perceived artful authority over Reality. And so here we must pause to make known that the problem is not necessarily the lack of linguistic knowledge that is our collective problem. Anyone can pick up a dictionary just like anybody can pick up a Bible or the legal statutes and public laws so as to learn them. There is no hidden language, for all sources are available to be read and understood. Thus, there are no Real secrets. Any supposed mysteries remain only due to a collective lack of due diligence and study of these words and their origin by those who are the patient victims of these language arts; the citizenry of fiction. Ignorance is never an excuse before God or before man's law.

And so it is very important before we move on to identify this greatest of all illusions perpetrated by these wordsmith scribes. For it is the English language itself that is the source of the cosmic, legal joke that so makes us all the butt of their commercial entertainment. They don't just treat us like dogs (pets), we willingly act the part under their offered contractual relationships.

— = —

“Laws penned with the utmost care and exactness, AND IN THE VULGAR LANGUAGE, ARE OFTEN PERVERTED TO WRONG MEANINGS; then why should we wonder that THE BIBLE IS SO?”

—Jonathan Swift, Thoughts On Various Subjects, Moral & Diverting

— = —

That most carefully penned work in all of history, the Bible, has been read and preached by billions of men in this common, vulgar tongue, and therefore its original intent has been completely and utterly misunderstood by almost as many billions. This is an amazing contemplation, that even those who have read and re-read the Bible multiple times cannot lay claim to even the remotest mastery of its teachings, for its words are purposefully cyphered to be indecipherable in the common, vulgar language of the lower and middle classes that make up the multitude of the common, public citizenship.

It would, of course, be fool-hearted for a master to teach his slaves to speak in the same authoritative terms as he who seeks to exploit their very Nature and labor potential through their own ignorance. For the slaves would then find the cure for their legal and spiritual disposition of bondage, and would likely destroy their masters for their trickery and abuse. We would learn the Highest language, and so the Highest Law would become known (un-occulted) to us, which, when properly used, always defeats any of man's artful additions to God's Creation and Word (Law).

Instead, they taught their pets to read and speak literal nonsense!

DOG-LATIN - The Latin of ILLITERATE PERSONS; Latin words put together on THE ENGLISH GRAMMATICAL SYSTEM. (Black4)

SCURRILOUS - The low and indecent language of the meaner sort of people, low indecency or abuse; mean; foul; vile, SYNONYMOUS WITH VULGAR; foul or foul-mouthed. (Black4)

FOUL - adjective - 1. Covered with or containing EXTRANEIOUS MATTER which is injurious, noxious or offensive; filthy; dirty; not clean; as a foul cloth; foul hands; a foul chimney. My face is foul with weeping. Job 16:16. 2. Turbid; thick; muddy; as foul water; a foul stream. 3. IMPURE; polluted; as a foul mouth. 4. Impure; SCURRILOUS; OBSCENE OR PROFANE; AS FOUL WORDS; FOUL LANGUAGE. 5. Cloudy and stormy; rainy or tempestuous; as foul weather. 6. Impure; defiling; as a foul disease. 7. Wicked; detestable; abominable; as a foul deed; A FOUL SPIRIT. Babylon - the hold of EVERY foul spirit. Revelation 18:2. 8. Unfair; NOT HONEST; not lawful or according to established rules or customs; as foul play. 9. Hateful; ugly; loathsome. Hast thou forgot the foul witch Sycorax. 10. Disgraceful; shameful; as a foul defeat. Who first seduced them to that foul revolt? 11. Coarse; gross. They are all for rank and foul feeding. 12. Full of gross humors or impurities. You perceive the body of our kingdom, how foul it is. 13. Full of weeds; as, the garden is very foul. 14. AMONG SEAMEN, ENTANGLED; HINDERED FROM MOTION; OPPOSED TO CLEAR; as, a rope is foul. 15. Covered with weeds or barnacles; as, the ship has a foul bottom. 16. Not fair; contrary; as a foul wind. 17. Not favorable or safe; dangerous; as a foul road or bay. 1. To fall foul is to rush on with haste, rough force and unseasonable violence. 2. To run against; as, the ship fell foul of her consort. - verb transitive - To make filthy; to defile; to daub (mark or flatter); to dirty; to bemire; to soil; as, to foul the clothes; to foul the face or hands. Ezekiel 34:18. (Webs1828)

— = —

This word foul will not be realized in its full importance, that is it will not be comprehended by the reader how foul we have all been made in man's legal re-creation and entanglement through our fictional personhoods until perhaps the reader progresses further into this work. The unenlightened man may never realize his own foul disposition until it is shown to him, so that he may wake up from his own imaginarily induced matrix of artifice and oppression.

However, the foul man, with the meaning of not favorable or safe and dangerous is an important key to public citizenship. For the fictional ship we sail on this virtual sea of commerce causes our life ad-venture (commercial journey) to require the contract of insurance (surety). The strawman is a surety instrument insuring the surname as state property (a ship) in commerce, and thus bonding the man to the fictional character that brings forth the mirror image while suppressing the Natural Source.

—=—

"It is often forgotten that (dictionaries) are artificial repositories, put together well after the languages they define. The roots of language are irrational and OF A MAGICAL NATURE."

—Jorge Luis Borges, Prologue to "El otro, el mismo."

—=—

"We have, as far as possible, closed every avenue by which light may enter their (the slaves) minds. If we could extinguish the capacity to see the light, our work would be complete; they would then be on a level with the beasts of the field and we should be safe. I am not certain that we would not do it, if we could find out the process and that on the plea of necessity."

—Henry Berry, speaking in the Virginia House of Delegates in 1832, as excerpted from: "Brown America, The story of a New Race" by Edwin R. Embree. 1931, The Viking Press.

—=—

But is this really possible? Should we trust any man just because he carries the marks and tokens of the government that indicate some flattering legal title?

All men born perfect and untainted into Nature (Reality) at that very inception of Life and Blood are Purely ambiguous and innocent as an unblemished soul, just as any random ant considered within its willing work brigade goes unnamed without artifice with intent to benefit the whole. What is called as "birth defects" are not defects of the child, but defects resulting from the tainted parent, and generally this is due to the voluntary tainting of that temple of God that is each individual mind, body, and soul of all men. Fo only man's interference with the course and health of all that is in the harmony of Nature may cause Its design to temporarily fail.

The name and flattering titles assigned as the artificial legal "person" and "identity" of any man simply do not make the actual man. No one and no thing in Nature is Born (Created) with a name (noun). Names are always empty without exception, a falsity representing a Reality, and respect of any name and/or title (nouns) over the True Nature and Reality of any thing in Nature, including man in his works and actions (verbs) is adversarial to Life. Fiction vs. Reality.

Doctors, for example, don't Exist in Nature, being fully a legal concept of man's imagination and design. Yet in that flattering title the men who pretend legally to inhabit the title of "doctor" are publicly known to be the third leading causes of death in the United States, according to statistics tallied by the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) in consideration only of death by iatrogenic (doctor/medicine-related) causes. But the privately held, actual statistics are much worse when considering the iatrogenic (doctor-related/spread) some of the leading causes of death, including many cancers, unnaturally hardened cholesterol, and the spread of xenotransplanted, misfolding prions. Sadly, most of these seemingly mysterious diseases that are mislabeled as dementias like Alzheimer's and Parkinson's are in Reality caused by the direct injection (vaccination) and surgical transplantation and inoculation of human and animal proteins (prions) and DNA into the body, which by current estimates lie dormant for up to fifty years before reeking havoc upon the human and animal body infected by them. Termed as “slow-viruses,” these prion infections are only possible through the “doctor’s” legally licensed practice, a license to kill without repercussion. Indeed, it is one of the greatest cover-ups in history.

“Xenotransplantation is any procedure that involves the transplantation, implantation or infusion into a human recipient of either (a) live cells, tissues, or organs FROM A NONHUMAN ANIMAL SOURCE, or (b) HUMAN BODY FLUIDS, CELLS, TISSUES OR ORGANS THAT HAVE HAD EX VIVO CONTACT WITH LIVE NONHUMAN ANIMAL CELLS, TISSUES OR ORGANS...

“Although the potential benefits are considerable, the use of xenotransplantation raises concerns regarding the potential infection of recipients with both recognized and unrecognized infectious agents and the possible subsequent transmission to their close contacts and into the general human population. Of public health concern is the potential for cross-species infection by retroviruses, which may be latent AND LEAD TO DISEASE YEARS AFTER INFECTION. Moreover, new infectious agents may not be readily identifiable with current techniques.”

—U.S. Food and Drug Administration website, entry for “Xenotransplantation”

—=—

This practice of professionals that profess their own expertise with an arrogance and protectionism that can only be bought with money, having no idea the diseases they are spreading by breaking every Natural Law known, is the epitome of crimes against mankind.

Every vaccine created not only matches the above description, being grown on the cell substrates of animals, but have the added moral storm of being grown on cloned human aborted fetal tissue. This “practice” of modern “medicine” is literally cannibalism, administered as a direct bodily injection into the blood and muscle without the benefit of the digestive barriers.

—=—

“Eaten blood is digested into its components so it ceases to be blood, and the body re-uses the components for different things. Transfused blood is NOT DIGESTED BUT FUNCTIONS AS BLOOD with all its vital properties for life.”

—Jonathan Sarfati, Ph.D., excerpt from an article entitled: “New England Journal of Medicine promotes anti-theism”

—=—

“For the life of the flesh is in the blood...”

—Leviticus 17: 11,14, KJB

—=—

In complete and purposeful ignorance of all moral law, the entirety of mankind has been penetrated and impregnated with dormant (and sometimes active) prions that cause 100’s of disease states. The blood serum of animals (and humans) knowingly infected with mis-folded prions is one of the most common ingredients in many injectable drugs and vaccines. These infectious prions literally evolve (unfold) the host's healthy prions into a foreign form that causes disease and "dementia."

EVOLUTION - noun - [Latin evolutio.] The act of UNFOLDING or unrolling. 1. A series of things unrolled or UNFOLDED; as the evolution of ages... (Webs1828)

—≡—

And so it is no wonder that Jonas Salk, creator of the injectable live-virus polio vaccine also wrote a book with the title of "Man Unfolding," where he states:

—≡—

"The products of man's imagination and undisciplined appetite may have a boomerang effect which in due time may well overpower him."

—Jonas Salk, from 'Man Unfolding'

—≡—

And all of this because he who stings us with such a poison has a license and a white coat. For the doctor and scientist actually believe they may improve on Nature's Design. And from that imagination and the arrogant, experimental works of it, that which is designed to heal instead carries the design of utter harm. We are being evolve by modern medicine, a concept that is hard to palate until the following evidence is revealed. This type of trust of the false, empty flattering names and titles of men, from kings to priests to politicians, as well as the very history and sacrosanctity of pure, untainted blood both physically and legally is the very subject of this work.

This man-made disease state of all the goyim of the nations is the perfect example of trusting a man not by his True Self but by respect of his name and flattering titles, of trusting a nurse to sting you in ignorance like a wasp stings its prey with vaccines full of toxins and unfiltered animal proteins, blood serums, and DNA particles that cause cascade reactions of the immune system, including these well-documented but non-publicly disclosed, purposefully misdiagnosed prion-related dementias.

—≡—

"The whole trend goes in a direction where a way will finally be found TO VACCINATE BODIES so that these bodies WILL NOT ALLOW THE INCLINATION TOWARDS SPIRITUAL IDEAS TO DEVELOP and all their lives people will believe only in the physical world they perceive with the senses... people are now vaccinated against consumption, and in the same way they will be vaccinated against any inclination towards spirituality..."

—Rudolf Steiner: Fall of the Spirits of Darkness Lecture 13 "The Fallen Spirits Influence in the World," Dornach, 27, Oct. 1917

—≡—

“A longing will arise (and become) general opinion: Whatever is spiritual, whatever is of the spirit, is nonsense, is madness! Endeavours to achieve this will be made by bringing out remedies to be administered by inoculation just as inoculations have been developed as a protection against diseases, only THESE INOCULATIONS WILL INFLUENCE THE HUMAN BODY IN A WAY THAT WILL MAKE IT REFUSE TO GIVE A HOME TO THE SPIRITUAL INCLINATIONS OF THE SOUL. PEOPLE WILL BE INOCULATED AGAINST THE INCLINATION TO ENTERTAIN SPIRITUAL IDEAS. Endeavours in this direction will be made; inoculations will be tested that already in childhood WILL MAKE PEOPLE LOSE ANY URGE FOR SPIRITUAL LIFE.”

—Rudolf Steiner, Lecture 3, Secret Brotherhoods and the Mystery of the Human Double: Seven Lectures.

—=—

“Using TECHNOLOGY developed from TISSUE of an INTENTIONALLY ABORTED FETUS, but without continuing the cell line from that fetus, MAY BE MORALLY ACCEPTABLE.”

—Immunization, CHRISTIAN Medical & Dental Associations 2004.

—=—

We are, in these potentially last generations of the Purenness of Nature’s Design and Intent, being attacked and polluted not only in our minds but in our very blood and genetic make-up. Vaccines are literally cannibalistic in their nature, injecting human fetal tissue, proteins (prions), and DNA into our bodies and directly into the blood stream, bypassing all natural barriers and protections and causing a responsive immune chaos. Our pure blood has been tainted with countless protein and DNA fragments of both animal and insect origin used in medical research and pharmaceuticals, causing genetic “traits” that are of course passed on to our children. Abortion was in fact legalized for the purposes of making legal the use of aborted and cloned fetal tissue in medical research that at the time could only be obtained through medical institutes in Sweden, creating a virtual black market of profit and gain from the premature killing and harvesting of millions of aborted babies.

Examples of entire aftermarket uses for aborted fetal tissue have risen up from this historic, SECULAR Supreme Court decision regarding the pleasure of harvesting the flesh of the murdered dead:

—=—

NeoCutis Acknowledges Cultivating Skin Creams from Aborted Fetus

NeoCutis, a Switzerland-based bio-pharmaceutical company with offices in San Francisco, is using Processed Skin Cell Protein, or PSP, an ingredient developed FROM SKIN CELLS HARVESTED FROM AN ABORTED FETUS. Some years ago scientists discovered that fetal skin has an ability to heal without scarring...

—Canada Free Press online article, title above

—=—

Obama agency rules PEPSI USE OF CELLS DERIVED FROM ABORTED FETUS ‘ordinary business’

“...We’re not talking about what kind of pencils PepsiCo wants to use – we are talking about EXPLOITING THE REMAINS OF AN ABORTED CHILD FOR PROFIT,” she said. “USING HUMAN EMBRYONIC KIDNEY (HEK-293) TO PRODUCE FLAVOR ENHANCERS for their beverages is a far cry from routine operations!”

—Quote from lifesitenes.com, as quoted from Debi Vinnedge, Executive Director of Children of God for Life

—=—

"The company's key flavor programs focus on the discovery and development of savory, sweet and salt flavor ingredients that are intended to allow for the reduction of MSG, sugar and salt in food and beverage products... USING ISOLATED HUMAN TASTE RECEPTORS, we created proprietary TASTE RECEPTOR-BASED ASSAY SYSTEMS THAT PROVIDE A BIOCHEMICAL OR ELECTRONIC READOUT when a flavor ingredient interacts with the receptor."

—Quote from Senomyx on SOTT.net, excerpt from article entitled: "Avoid Any Products Containing Aborted Fetal Cells"

—=—

STATE OF OKLAHOMA - 2nd Session of the 53rd Legislature (2012) - SENATE BILL 1418

AS INTRODUCED: An Act relating to food; prohibiting the manufacture or sale of food or products which use aborted human fetuses; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA: A new section of law to be codified in the Oklahoma Statutes as Section 1-1150 of Title 63, unless there is created a duplication in numbering, reads as follows:

No PERSON OR ENTITY shall manufacture or knowingly sell food or any other product intended for human consumption WHICH CONTAINS ABORTED HUMAN FETUSES IN THE INGREDIENTS OR WHICH USED ABORTED HUMAN FETUSES IN THE RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT OF ANY OF THE INGREDIENTS.

This act shall become effective November 1, 2012.

53-2-3065 - 1/18/2012

—State Senate Bill proposed by Senator Ralph Shortey, Oklahoma

—=—

“In the present case, HUMAN LIVES WERE TAKEN IN ORDER TO PROVIDE CELLS FOR RESEARCH and, in some cases, precisely to qualify for federal grants; in the case of vaccines, tissues were taken following abortions performed for unrelated reasons.”

—The NCCB Secretariat for Pro-Life Activities, Vol. 12, No. 4 Aug-Sept 2001, The Human Embryo as Research Commodity Special Edition

—=—

"In order to sustain 96% of the cells, the live tissue would need to be preserved within 5 minutes of the abortion... Within one the cells would continue to deteriorate, rendering the SPECIMENS useless."

—Dr. C. Ward Kischer, Embryologist and Emeritus Professor of Anatomy; Specialist in Human Embryology, University of Arizona College of Medicine (Tucson, Arizona) Personal interview 7-02, ALL Conference

— = —

"One of my DUTIES as a young student in the laboratory in Stockholm was TO DISSECT HUMAN FETUSES FROM LEGAL ABORTIONS AND SEND ORGANS TO THE WISTAR INSTITUTE. Such material was the source of many important studies of cell lines of the Institute, such as Leonard Hayflick's study of WI-38."

—Norrby, Erling "Listen to the Music: The Life of Hilary Koprowski (review)," Perspectives in Biology and Medicine - Volume 44, Number 2, Spring 2001, pp. 304-306

— = —

"The isolation of characterization of HUMAN DIPLOID CELL STRAINS FROM FETAL TISSUE make this type of cell AVAILABLE AS A SUBSTRATE FOR THE PRODUCTION OF LIVE VIRUS VACCINES. Other than the ECONOMIC ADVANTAGES, such strains in contrast to heteropoloid cell lines exhibit those characteristics usually reserved for normal or primary cells and therefore make the consideration of THEIR USE IN THE PRODUCTION OF HUMAN VIRUS VACCINES A DISTINCT POSSIBILITY."

—L. Hayflick and P. S. Moorhead, "The Serial Cultivation of Human Diploid Cell Strains, Experimental Cell Research," 1961, 25, pg 618

— = —

"Explant cultures were made of the DISSECTED ORGANS OF A PARTICULAR FETUS ABORTED because of rubella, the 27th in our series of fetuses aborted. This fetus was from a 25-year-old mother exposed to rubella 8 days after her last menstrual period. 16 days later she developed rubella. The fetus was surgically aborted 17 days after maternal illness and dissected immediately. Explants from SEVERAL ORGANS WERE CULTURED AND SUCCESSFUL CELL GROWTH WAS ACHIEVED from lung, skin, and kidney. It was then grown on WI-38. THE NEW VACCINE WAS TESTED ON ORPHANS IN PHILADELPHIA."

—American Journal Diseases of Children; Virus Production and Biological Control of Live Attenuated Rubella Virus Vaccines, Vol. 118 Aug 1969; Attenuation Of RA273 Rubella Virus; Studies of Immunization With Living Rubella Virus; Arch J Dis Child vol 110 Oct 1965

— = —

Xigris received approval from the FDA on 21st November 2001 for the reduction of mortality in adult patients with severe sepsis who have a high risk of death. Xigris has also been approved in Puerto Rico, Israel, Australia, Argentina, Peru, Romania, Columbia, Mexico, Switzerland, India, Singapore and South Africa.

Xigris is a genetically-engineered version of the human activated protein C molecule, a naturally-occurring PROTEIN in the body, including coagulation and suppression of fibrinolysis...

A HUMAN CELL LINE is used in the production of Xigris, as noted under FDA document, PC 3420 AMP, in the first paragraph, which states:

“Xigris is a recombinant form of human activated protein C. An ESTABLISHED HUMAN CELL LINE POSSESSING THE COMPLEMENTARY DNA for the inactive human protein C zymogen SECRETES THE PROTEIN INTO THE FERMENTATION MEDIUM.”

(HEK 293 ARE CELLS TAKEN FROM THE KIDNEY OF AN ABORTED BABY.)

—Epicom Business Intelligence, Published 28 August 2002

— = —

“Potential Risks of DNA in Vaccines

“Residual DNA in vaccines derived from TUMORIGENIC cells, including those transformed by Ad5, can pose potential risks to the vaccine recipient in two respects: ONCOGENICITY AND INFECTIVITY.

Each of these biological properties must be considered and evaluated for each cell substrate.

“The oncogenic risk of cell substrate DNA has been considered to be due to several mechanisms. First, the residual DNA could have dominant activated oncogenes that could exert their effect following expression in recipient cells. In the case of Ad5-transformed cells, the dominant oncogenes would include the E1A and E1B genes. Second, the incoming DNA could integrate into the host genome in certain genes, such as the p53 gene or the retinoblastoma susceptibility (RB) gene, TERMED TUMOR SUPPRESSOR GENES, which are involved in cell cycle control among other cellular processes. LOSS OF FUNCTION OF TUMOR SUPPRESSOR GENES HAS BEEN ASSOCIATED WITH CERTAIN HUMAN TUMORS. Third, integration of residual cell-substrate DNA could result in the activation of cellular regulatory genes by promoter/enhancer insertion, and this could result in the development of a neoplastic phenotype; this mechanism for tumor development was initially described in chickens for LEUKEMIA formation by avian LEUKOSIS VIRUSES. Another result of integration that has been described is an increased methylation of adjacent DNA sequences as well as sequences on other chromosomes, although the consequences of such changes in methylation patterns to a cell ARE UNKNOWN.

“The second biological activity of DNA that should be considered is its POTENTIAL INFECTIVITY. If a genome of a DNA virus or the provirus of a retrovirus is present in the cell substrate used for vaccine manufacture, then THE RESIDUAL DNA has the potential, UPON INOCULATION INTO THE VACCINE RECIPIENT, TO PRODUCE INFECTIOUS VIRUS FROM THIS DNA AND THUS ESTABLISH A PRODUCTIVE INFECTION.

“The assessment of the risk of DNA — both the oncogenic risk and the infectious risk — needs to be considered both in terms of (1) the amount of residual DNA INOCULATED; and (2) the concentration of oncogene or infectious genome present in this DNA...

“In considering potential risks associated with the use of these so-called Designer Cell Substrates — i.e., neoplastic cells DERIVED FROM NORMAL HUMAN CELLS transformed by defined viral or cellular oncogenes or BY IMMORTALIZING CELLULAR GENES (e.g., telomerase) — OVR/CDER is considering the approach outlined below within the framework of a “defined-risks” assessment... “A defined-risks approach to the regulatory assessment of THE USE OF NEOPLASTIC CELLS AS SUBSTRATES FOR VIRAL VACCINE MANUFACTURE”, In Evolving Scientific and Regulatory Perspectives on Cell Substrates for Vaccine Development... The use of IMMORTALIZED, NEOPLASTIC HUMAN CELLS as substrates to develop recombinant viral vectors as vaccines also raises theoretical CONCERNS WITH REGARD TO POSSIBLE CONTAMINATION WITH TSE/BSE (Human/transmissible form of Mad Cow Disease) agents.”

—FDA article from FDA website entitled “‘Designer’ Cells as Substrates for the Manufacture of Viral Vaccines”

—=—

“Gajdusek and Gibbs prepared a technical note for the Journal of Neurosurgery... They pointed out that PHYSICIANS OFTEN MISDIAGNOSED CJD AS ALZHEIMER’S DISEASE, as the form of cerebral atrophy known as Pick’s disease, or as many other conditions INCLUDING BRAIN TUMORS AND STROKES... THEY RECOMMENDED TREATING ALL ORGANS AS INFECTIOUS, even those fixed in formaldehyde. They had found only one chemical, chlorine bleach, that reliably killed the scrapie agent and they recommended using it to decontaminate floors and other surfaces where tissue might have fallen.”

—Richard Rhodes, excerpt from his book “Deadly Feasts,” quoting Dr. Carlton Gajdusek and Joe Gibb,

—=—

Vaccines. Some parts of cows, including blood, enzymes and amino acids, ARE USED TO GROW THE BACTERIA AND VIRUSES NEEDED TO MAKE CERTAIN VACCINES...

Insulin. Insulin sold in the United States isn’t derived from cattle, but you’re allowed to import beef insulin from other countries if you follow specific guidelines. Because THERE’S NO WAY TO GUARANTEE THE SAFETY OF IMPORTED INSULIN, talk to your doctor about the best way to obtain insulin from sources outside the United States.

—=—

VARIVAX [Varicella Virus Vaccine Live (Oka/Merck)]

VARIVAX... is a preparation of the Oka/Merck strain of live, attenuated varicella virus. The virus was initially obtained from a child with natural varicella, THEN INTRODUCED INTO HUMAN EMBRYONIC LUNG CELL CULTURES, adapted to and propagated IN EMBRYONIC GUINEA PIG CELL CULTURES and finally propagated IN HUMAN DIPLOID CELL CULTURES (WI-38). Further passage of the virus for varicella vaccine was performed at Merck Research Laboratories (MRL) IN HUMAN DIPLOID CELL CULTURES (MRC-5)... EACH 0.5 ML DOSE OF VACCINE CONTAINS THE FOLLOWING... RESIDUAL COMPONENTS OF MRC-5 CELLS INCLUDING DNA AND PROTEIN.

—Excerpt taken directly from VARIVAX insert from actual vaccine package

—=—

Is this a moral issue? Certainly. Without question. Is the injection of so many animal, insect, and infant human abortive DNA fragments and proteins into the human body that are admittedly impossible to filter out of the final product of vaccines a body, mind, and soul issue? Absolutely. This is self-evident! Not ironically though, the corporate apologist for the use of these cells has but one excuse to make us feel better, which is simply that these are most often from cloned cells kept unnaturally and immortally alive through modern “science.” To some, this is the purest definition of a literal life lived in hell, not dissimilar to the masses of people plugged into The Matrix machinery in order to live in illusion while their energy is extracted for the A.I. From attaching the brain cells of human and animal subjects to computer chips that control robots to cause them to “think” and respond to external stimuli to the very disgusting medical practice of intravenous cannibalism we have discussed herein via inoculation, no man in his right mind would ever face God with such a horrific excuse as this. Just as there is no excuse for ignorance of the legal law (except by artificial licensure), the whole of the spiritual law of moral right, correctness, and harmony with Nature would never have let this type of research begin in the first place. And of course, without funding by the art of fictional money valuation in mammon, none of this evil would even be considered. Just another comprehension of the consequences of ignoring the Higher Law of Nature, in this case the recreation of the Reality and Design of Life (God) in man's image.

And so as the author is clear, when Jesus was portrayed in his moral righteousness in overturning the tables of the moneychangers in the temple, the moral man of today is cowed and chained in the bonds of legal servitude and so the tables of scientists creating things millions of times worse than those usurious men of old are allowed to prosper in their biological crimes and real-time nightmares of genetic re-creation. But its just ok, because they have university granted, syndicalist diploma's (diplomatic status) and legal licenses. And the side-effects of their "research" are covered by insurance as are their legal names and flattering titles, their crimes against Nature pre-forgiven by the false gods of the nations.

But what if they were right so many decades ago, that our spirituality and moral code could be vaccinated against and thus reprogrammed or annihilated from our very brains? Would the uprising of so much immoral and outright hellishly evil research be a surprising outcome-based prediction of such a feat? Would not the perfect modern "scientist" unbound by any possible moral constraint through some immunity against that part of the brain be the resulting traits sought after, not only in scientific communities but also in the very law-making structure of legislative politics and judicial opinion-making?

After 10 years of vaccine research, this book could be filled with just this author's collected research and studies about vaccination and its use in the purposeful sterilization and spread of disease among the nations (goyim) of the world. The issue surpasses the left-right political debate and, as Steiner and Huxley both raved, makes vaccines the absolute golden-child of globalization and population control, as well as the killing of spirituality and fulfillment of the Brave New World model. And in the end, there are not thousands of individual diseases out there, but actually very few, expressing symptoms in thousands of various ways depending on the design of the patented vaccine and its ingredients. Be it Alzheimer's or Parkinson's, ALS or the new polio, often called as (vaccine induced) "Chronic Fatigue Syndrome," all of these are merely differently expressed symptoms of the same dis-ease, a reaction to vaccine contamination and pollution of the blood, immune system, and genetic code of the body.

But let us continue with the subject at hand, the weaponization not only of the flesh but of legal words, both of which are only different systems (literally and figuratively) designed for the corruption of blood...

Could this type of "Supreme" decision to universally (federally) "legalize" abortion really have happened in a government ruled by Christ's teachings as the only Law of God's Word? Obviously not, and without question, no. This is a purely legal case and opinion. And so we must always live a lifestyle in which we consciously see through the artifice to realize such a false nature, thus always comprehending evil (artificial) intent of the purely flattering title of any proclaimed "Christian nation" and its magisterial gods in black robes, whom in this case condemned all that are unborn and some that are just born to doom (pre-judgement) and a tortuous death penalty.

There is no pro or con on this issue. It is an evil practice. It is nothing to be celebrated or protected, especially when an entire not-so-black market body-part industry has been created from it. Waste not, want not. Why let a perfectly good set of infant organs and cell substrates go to waste by being tossed in the trash? To be clear, this legalization of abortion was never designed to protect a woman's right to choose, only to protect "scientists" from being bound to any substance of the moral law through the legal license to harvest, use, sell, and clone aborted fetuses. The Truth always hurts. Even as the pro-choice advocates claim that pro-life advocates are anti-choice, no one ever stops to consider that pro-choice advocates must therefore be labeled and accept their opposite dis-position as anti-life. One cannot be opposite and also not opposite. The right to forced life is certainly the opposite, as the other side of the right to forced death. Like all legal rights, this one in particular is the best example of how rights are forced upon the persons of men and how skewed and degenerated morals are propagandized upon the public goyim for profit at their own expense.

Amazingly, Norma McCorvey (A.K.A. JANE ROE, a play off of Jane Doe) of the infamous Roe v.s Wade supreme court decision is now and has for a long time been an active advocate against abortion and has been for some time, claiming openly that she was tricked by unscrupulous attorneys into being the voice of pro-choice. It was not Norma that won this case, but attorneys with totally separate agendas. Norma never sought an abortion, claiming that she was tricked into signing a contract that allowed that case to be committed in her pseudonym. In fact, she was hardly even present for most of the court proceedings, a pawn used in dishonor and in shame.

—=—

“I was the Jane Roe of Roe vs. Wade, but Jane Roe has been laid to rest... I used the name Jane Roe because I didn't want my personal name to be involved in it.”

“The holocaust against the unborn is the greatest sin they could ever do or even ever participate in.”

“It's not your body, it's not your choice, because you got that from God. He gave that to you.”

“They tried to discredit me. I used to tell them, There's many wonderful people out there who can't have children, who would want to have these children.”

“I didn't attend any of the court proceedings.”

“The abortionist I worked for, he's a very greedy man, a selfish man... I don't think there is a good reason for an abortion, but Dr. Jasper made me really realize it was just a racket. He was just doing it for the money. He didn't care about the women.”

“If they don't care about me, how can they possibly care about anyone else?”

—Norma McCorvey, A.K.A. “JANE ROE” (separate quotes)

—=—

As we will cover later in this first volume, the nation is not bound by the Bible in any way, shape, or form. The flattering title of “Christian” nation is no different than that same title applied to the pagan government of Rome. The actions of Americans in the legal system of the nation should be proof enough of this, but some may insist due to such public-minded distraction and propaganda that this is indeed a titled “Christian” nation, though with nothing to actually back that claim up. So let us look a bit closer at the words of the fathers (gods) of this nation to be clear, remembering the very essential difference between the private States in union (compact) and the corporation they created called as a nation the “United States Of America.” The nation is one entity, the States are 50 unique bodies of private People. The plural sounding title of the “United States” is a clever confusion and obfuscation of its actual legal existence as purely a municipal corporation and district that is completely foreign from those 50 States united.

—=—

"As THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IS NOT, IN ANY SENSE, FOUNDED ON THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION; as it has in itself no character of enmity against the laws, religion, or tranquillity, of Musselmen; and as the said States never have entered into any war or act of hostility against any Mehomitan nation, it is declared by the parties that NO PRETEXT ARISING FROM RELIGIOUS OPINIONS SHALL EVER PRODUCE AN INTERRUPTION OF THE HARMONY EXISTING BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES."

— "Treaty of peace and friendship between the United States of America and the Bey and Subjects of Tripoli, of Barbary," also called the "Treaty of Tripoli," Article 11, as approved by U.S. Senate and signed by President John Adams, and also published in The Philadelphia Gazette on 17 June 1797.

— — —

Remembering that the Supreme Court of the United States is part of the United States district of Columbia, we mustn't confuse its decisions as having anything to do with any type or substance of moral and religious standards, and that it is purely a commercial court. It is also important to note that if the nation was indeed christ-like in its actions, which is of course self-evidently an impossibility of Nature considering the artificial nature and legal structure of what the fiction of government is, it would not need in any way to recreate a pathetic "public law" such as this:

Public Law 97-280, 97th Congress - OCT. 4, 1982 - 96 STAT. 1211

Joint Resolution: Authorizing and requesting the President to proclaim 1983 as the "Year of the Bible."

Whereas the Bible, THE WORD OF GOD, has made a unique CONTRIBUTION in shaping the United States as a distinctive and blessed nation and people;

Whereas deeply held religious convictions springing from the Holy Scriptures led to the early settlement of our Nation... as in the words of President Jackson that the Bible is "the rock on which our Republic rests;"

Whereas the history of our Nation clearly illustrates the value of VOLUNTARILY APPLYING THE TEACHINGS OF THE SCRIPTURES in the lives of individuals, families, and societies;

Whereas this Nation now faces great challenges that will test this Nation as it has never been tested before; and

Whereas that renewing our knowledge of and faith in God through Holy Scripture can strengthen us as a nation and a people: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President is authorized and requested to designate 1983 as a national "Year of the Bible" in recognition of both the FORMATIVE INFLUENCE the Bible has been for our Nation, and our national NEED TO STUDY AND APPLY the teachings of the Holy Scriptures.

Approved October 4, 1982.

— — —

The reader should take one and only one thing away from this congressional statement of false law... that acting christ-like is a voluntary choice and action, not a mere legally assigned flattering title, and that the legal state (nation) is the opposite of that choice, created to catch, entrap, and corrupt utterly the ill-chosen fallen. This self-evident Truth will become clear and without doubt as we proceed.

When we read these statements, at first (vulgar) appearance, they seem to be almost opposite to one another. This is because the word and empty title of “Christian” is used with its always deceitful, Roman intent. And yet these public laws (one as a treaty) say the exact same thing. The United States is not in any way based in its legal (anti-God) laws upon the actual Word (Son) of God. Form with no substance.

And to be clear, here in the law (treaty) the government of the United States is clear upon three established points:

- 1) The Bible is the Word of God.
- 2) The Bible is not the law of the United States (of the gods of the nation).
- 3) The Bible must be voluntarily applied by individuals and over their own families.

Whatever ones vulgar beliefs, this commercial declaration by congress cannot be ignored. Most importantly, this means that government recognizes the Bible as the Highest Law above all other gods, even themselves. This is not done merely on a whim, but is necessary for their very existence in corruption. They are reminding us of our individual choice between good and evil, between God’s Reality and their legal fiction, and that without this choice they would be powerless. The devil only rules men’s souls by contract. Metaphorically, the devil is all artifice and all men in flattering titles, including congress.

—=—

“...We ought to obey God rather than men.”

—Act 5:29

—=—

Government acknowledges the important Reality of choice and volunteerism here, even while warning of its own evil intent against God’s Nature that must be checked by and only by the Word of these scriptural teachings. Certainly no year of the Bible would need to be falsely (legally) created if the law of the nation was the actual Bible in testament of christ (the Word of God)! Every year would be thus the year of the Bible without need of declaration!!! Scriptural religion and law is voluntary and is nothing if not a lifestyle choice by man, not part of the legally (artificially) created nation itself, which only creates the strictest of involuntary laws for its voluntarists (servants) in surety. The legal contract (strict wording) kills the spirit of the law, as the maxim portends. A nation makes no choice for itself, for it is an unthinking fiction operated by the men (acting gods) that created it and their heirs who continue to ratify and speak it into simulation (false existence). The religious restraint and respect of legal law by the men in government will be the reflection of the allowance of legal law in the nation over moral rectitude. And let us not forget that no religious test is allowed to be given to any United States or State politician, according to their very own constitution. In other words, every single religion (i.e. every single god and its law) may be present and in power (election) within our government. This spells anarchy. How can anyone mistake this to be “Christian” in nature, unless we understand that Christian means what it did in the Roman Empire that created it, which was paganism by another name?

Of course, the scriptures demand a religious test, a trial, and nothing could be more reasonable and logical in a so-called “Christian” country!

—=—

“Beloved, believe not every spirit, but TRY THE SPIRITS WHETHER THEY ARE OF GOD: because many false prophets are gone out into the world... And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.”

—1 John 4:1, 3 KJB

—=—

As we will come to discover and prove without doubt, it is the very fact that the United States is not of christ that no religious test is required, and why this “right” to be free from such a “religious test” is protected under the constitution.

Notice that in the Treaty of Tripoli above, the specific statement was made that established the absolute lack of religious view and thus an absence of any Higher moral Law of the nation and its representatives (agents), where it states that: “NO PRETEXT ARISING FROM RELIGIOUS OPINIONS SHALL EVER PRODUCE AN INTERRUPTION OF THE HARMONY EXISTING BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES.” This means that no moral Law exists in the jurisdiction of the U.S. that would be against the Muslim or Jewish scriptural Law of the Quran or Talmud. This, as a foundation, means explicitly that the Bible plays no actual or official part in the legalistic law systems of the United States.

This must be clear before we move on, and any doubts in the reader will be satiated as we progress.

And so as stated, each individual man must make the individual choice to be governed by the moral, self-governing scriptural law if he wishes to escape the law of the idolatrous gods of any legal nation, and all leaders in this country and especially administrative judges (magistrates) are simply not allowed to act religiously based on their own moral (religious) Law, and instead only legally (of the antichrist spirit) in the legal persona and title he represents in profession, as was seen in the above Roe vs. Wade case. Belief without action... In the artificial jurisdiction of the state, there is no Higher law than that which its gods in magistracy create. This is the very moral crack in the shell of all flattering titles, for the title is never our own, and the law of the title, of the persona, is always legal and immoral, for the creation of any fictional person serves no purpose towards fulfilling God’s Law of Nature, and in scriptural fact is a direct violation of Commandment. This same sentiment is seen over and over in the writings of these gods and as quoted throughout this work. It’s always about private choice.

A “Christian” nation is an oxymoron, a fiction of the mind. So can there be a Creation of God (part of the verbosity of Reality of Nature and Ultimate Supreme Existence in Oneness) that is also an artificial legal person (noun) on paper only that worships Reality and the Nature of God as its only Law even though it can think or do nothing by itself (as a fiction)? This cannot be. All nations and all states are simply unnatural, and therefore are always that which is against christ (the Word) of Jehovah.

For all the gods of the nations are idols...

Can one live falsely in legal personhood under an incorporated municipal corporation (artificial person) and still be following the Word (Son) of God? Any man would be hard-pressed to justify any form of misinterpretation of this:

—=—

“What? know ye not that YOUR BODY IS THE TEMPLE of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: THEREFORE GLORIFY GOD IN YOUR BODY, AND IN YOUR SPIRIT, WHICH ARE GOD’S.”

— 1 Corinthians 6: 19-20, KJB

—=—

Nowhere in the scriptures do we find any precedent where man should respect any person whatsoever. Quite the contrary. And so how can man glorify God in body and in spirit if he has taken the artificial body politic of another god and stands in surety under that other god’s “law of the land” (due process of law)?

Let us be clear, here, that the law of the land is the law of and created by “the People,” and therefore the body politic of that private group of “the People” is the collective god of the nation. E Pluribus Unum, out of many only one voice, one law, one false god over legal creation. And perhaps you might be wondering just about now the answer to a strange riddle: if the People created, established, and ordained the law of the land as due process of law, then who is the commonalty, the general public as subjects to and under that private People? Trust me, if you knew the answer to this question you wouldn’t be a common, public citizenship of the United States.

COMMONALTY - noun - 1. THE COMMON PEOPLE. In Great Britain, all classes and conditions of people, who are BELOW THE RANK OF NOBILITY. The commonalty like the nobility, are divided into several degrees. In the United States, commonalty has no very definite signification. It is however used to denote that part of the people WHO LIVE BY LABOR, and are NOT LIBERALLY EDUCATED, nor elevated by office or professional pursuits. 2. THE BULK OF MANKIND. (Webs1828)

—=—

There are two types of “people.” There are those who live by labor and there are those whom, by a vampiric tax and fee (feud, a proprietary money and rent system), suck the profits of every man’s labor into their own landed estates. And this is accomplished via public citizen-ship. They are apparently noble in their piracy, yet take no titles of nobility by law.

When the public slave believes he is also the creator and master (the private People) of his own prison, then a true voluntary, iniquitous debtor’s hell has been established and ordained as an empty religion of patriotism. For the certified “true” religion of this open-air slave-colony America is that “the People” are as god, their will be done, on earth as if it is heaven.

—=—

“That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.”

—1 Corinthians 2:5, KJB

—=—

“No man ever believes that the Bible means what it says: He is always convinced that it says what he means.”

—George Bernard Shaw

—=—

Ever notice that most of the evangelists on television, when not preaching in hypocrisy, are living extravagantly wealthy and worldly lives of the flesh, and are continually invoking their listeners (victims) to pray for money? They urge us into the pursuit of more money (debt instruments) knowing that in turn they themselves will receive it from us in some platitude of gratitude to that sacred (cursed) god of money. They are spiritual defecators that misguide our intent from spirituality and worship of God and Nature to the worship of mammon and all things artificial. They are controlled opposition used (permitted) by government not to exclaim the Word (Law) of God but to promote the use of government’s proprietary system of capitalism, representing its pirate cove of human capital management. Amazingly, the scriptures that are delivered from the mouths of these practitioners of evil are somehow magically twisted into the support of money, usury, loans, and debt reduction. That’s right, pray for a loan and god will provide...

But which god?

The signature of the fictional person borrowing definitively answers that question.

The game of nations and of man’s law is strictly the sport of slave (capital) management. The more the slave can be made to volunteer his subjection the better and more profitable that human capital management system will be. But this seemingly impossible power of persuasion can only happen through the language arts. And so in history we find a quite mutual consensus, that being the secrecy of language as being the most powerful tool of tyrants. To reveal the true meanings of words is the death of those who use words to enslave the spiritually dead.

—=—

"When the slave power predominates, religion is nominal. THERE IS NO LIFE IN IT. It is the hard-working laboring man who builds the church, the school house, the orphan asylum, not the slaveholder, as a general rule. RELIGION FLOURISHES IN A SLAVE STATE ONLY IN PROPORTION TO ITS INTIMACY WITH A FREE STATE, OR AS IT IS ADJACENT TO IT."

—Archbishop John Baptist Purcell of Cincinnati, Ohio, 1863, excerpt from editorial in the "Catholic Telegraph"

—=—

“Gallup: Percentage of Christians in US Steadily Declining”

“Three-quarters of Americans identify with a Christian religion – down 5 percent from the number who did so eight years ago, a new Gallup poll shows. The survey, released on Christmas Eve, also found 20 percent of Americans have no formal religious identification – up 5 percent from 2008. According to Gallup, the percentage of Christians is highest among older people – above 80 percent – and gets smaller with each progressively younger age group; 62 percent of those 18 to 24 say they're Christian, while 31 percent say they have no religion.

—Gallop Poll, excerpt from Newsmax article, December 2015

—=—

A government that would actually seek their members (citizens) to express a Higher form of Law would do everything it could to cause this to happen. It would provide an example, as Christ is the only True and self-evident example. So ask yourself this: what does government do to set an example for you, for your children, and for future generations? If the reader is honest with him or her self then such an allusive answer cannot be found, for the purpose of government is commerce and nothing else. Religion is banned in public school. Mammon is opposed to Jehovah. It can be no other way.

What religion could this generation of mine and those younger than I possibly have when we have been so detached from our very Source? What could possibly feel Real about any religion when they themselves, as re-doctrined and self-serving artificial persons (corporations), worship merely the symbols, idols, and simulation of what is Real?

Ironically, this slave-state we call the United States is the self-proclaimed model of the world, labeling itself as the “land of the free.” And so it is certainly a truism that those who falsely believe they are free are more hopelessly enslaved than those who at least know they are not. If the model of freedom in this world is the United States, as Americanism, then is it no wonder religion has been made so nominal? Is it any wonder that the moral law has been put on the perpetual back-burner with the spiritual life it requires? A commonality so out of touch with its God (Nature) cannot possibly even hope to resemble a spiritually religious society nor find sanctuary (immunity from the sanctions of law) in it, for the legalistic civil life requires death of the spirit.

The historically controversial publication “Let’s Make A Slave” was a study and discourse of the scientific process of man-breaking and slave-making. It describes the rationale and results of the Anglo Saxons’ ideas and methods of insuring the master/slave relationship. Its subtitle is published as “The Origin and Development of a Social Being Called ‘The Negro’” and is purportedly a work by Willie Lynch, though its true origins (not its actual creation) are in question. But it certainly gets the point across quite well about controlling man through control of language.

—=—

“How To Make A Slave”

“...CONTROLLED LANGUAGE”

“Crossbreeding completed, for further severance from their original beginning, WE MUST COMPLETELY ANNIHILATE THE MOTHER TONGUE of both the new nigger and the new mule, AND INSTITUTE A NEW LANGUAGE THAT INVOLVES THE NEW LIFE’S WORK OF BOTH. You know language is a peculiar institution. It leads to the heart of a people. The more a foreigner knows about the language of another country the more he is able to move through all levels of that society. Therefore, if the foreigner is an enemy of the country, to the extent that he knows the body of the language, to that extent is the country vulnerable to attack or invasion of a foreign culture. For example, IF YOU TAKE A SLAVE, IF YOU TEACH HIM ALL ABOUT YOUR LANGUAGE, HE WILL KNOW ALL YOUR SECRETS, AND HE IS THEN NO MORE A SLAVE, FOR YOU CAN’T FOOL HIM ANY LONGER,

AND BEING A FOOL IS ONE OF THE BASIC INGREDIENTS OF ANY INCIDENTS TO THE MAINTENANCE OF THE SLAVERY SYSTEM. For example, if you told a slave that he must perform in getting out “our crops” and he knows the language well, he would know that “our crops” didn’t mean “our crops” AND THE SLAVERY SYSTEM WOULD BREAK DOWN, for he would RELATE on the basis of what “our crops” REALLY MEANT. So you have to be careful in setting up the new language; FOR THE SLAVES WOULD SOON BE IN YOUR HOUSE, TALKING TO YOU AS “MAN TO MAN” AND THAT IS DEATH TO OUR ECONOMIC SYSTEM. In addition, THE DEFINITIONS OF WORDS OR TERMS ARE ONLY A MINUTE PART OF THE PROCESS. VALUES ARE CREATED AND TRANSPORTED BY COMMUNICATION THROUGH THE BODY OF THE LANGUAGE. A total society has many interconnected value systems. All the values in the society have BRIDGES OF LANGUAGE to connect them for orderly working in the society. BUT FOR (EXCEPT BY THE POWER OF) THESE LANGUAGE BRIDGES, THESE MANY VALUE SYSTEMS WOULD SHARPLY CLASH AND CAUSE INTERNAL STRIFE OR CIVIL WAR, the degree of the conflict being determined by the magnitude of the issues or relative opposing strength in whatever form. For example, if you put a slave in a hog pen and train him to live there and incorporate in him to value it as a way of life completely, the biggest problem you would have out of him is that he would worry you about provisions to keep the hog pen clean, or the same hog pen and make a slip and incorporate something IN HIS LANGUAGE whereby he comes to VALUE a house more than he does his hog pen, you got a problem. HE WILL SOON BE IN YOUR HOUSE.”

— = —

As we will learn, the entire structure of the law of nations (inter-national law) is to exclude the public from entering into the house (land and property) of the private landholders (stakeholders). But I digress...

As we will explore in depth this word trickery and the Latin origins and etymology of our English dog-babel later within this exhaustive, multi-volumed work, for now let us only contemplate one lesson from this opprobrious appellation (name of reproach) of “dog-Latin” towards the very language that we have been made accustomed to bark at each other in an utterance of circular pointlessness like penned cattle.

We have no idea we call each other by scurrilous names, speaking in an animalistic language, and treating each other only in consideration of the legal personification and public reputation we are educated to be familiar with. We treat each other like fictions (creations) of law, and thus bind our “personal” interactions to that fiction and its legal law just as a cartoon character might be bound by the laws of animation, moving and acting only as its animator (creator) draws and allows it by a pre-determined script. This is to say that, while these word-smiths and practitioners of the legal terms of art always fall back upon the original Latin (i.e. Roman) meanings of their artful terms, we who struggle with the purposefully misleading English transliteration of that ancient nomenclature of law in its “English” form are only like barking dogs attempting in vain to communicate with their masters. The slaves certainly may understand one another by this dog-Latin in every day life. But we continuously fail to be legally and officially (on the record) under-stood by those evil (legal) practitioners of law in long black robes because we are merely speaking the slang of dog-Latin and not the more purist form of Latinist legalese. Same words, different meanings, but similitude is not sameness. It is certainly not that they do not comprehend what we are saying or why we are saying it. Instead, they are purposefully pretending to listen while at the same time taking into consideration our obvious and pre-planned illiteracy, secretly applying the true and ancient Latin and Greek meanings to those artful words at bar. A judge does not hear or search for the common, vulgar meanings of words, only the binding legal trappings that each common word translates to in legal nomenclature. The artist works only inside his art, using only the terms (language) of that art. Everyone else is merely like a barking dog.

BARK - It is sometimes figuratively used to denote the MERE WORDS OR LETTER of an instrument, or OUTER COVERING of the ideas sought to be expressed, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM ITS INNER SUBSTANCE OR ESSENTIAL MEANING. "If the bark makes for them, the pith makes for us." —Bacon. (Black4)

PITH - noun - 1. The soft spongy substance in the center of plants and trees. 2. In animals, the spinal marrow. 3. STRENGTH OR FORCE. 4. ENERGY; COGENCY; CONCENTRATED FORCE; CLOSENESS AND VIGOR OF THOUGHT AND STYLE. 5. CONDENSED SUBSTANCE OR MATTER; quintessence. The summary contains the pith of the original. 6. Weight; moment; importance. Enterprises of great pith and moment. (Webs1828)

— = —

Whatever words we bark at the judge, we hear his words in equally vulgar terms, even though the weight his words carry are the pith of the law, and our obnoxious and droning bark only subverts us further into unwitting contract.

Does the cow when it moo's in its herd mentality moo victory and demand at the farmer as he provides his cattle with a bail of hay, or is this the sound of a slave that knows what it is? Does the honey bee create, harvest, and then gladly surrender its honeycomb and honey to their keeper or is that buzzing a sign of malcontent and victimization? Does the slave in chains demand a second portion of food from his brutal master or does he understand his disposition and beg? And what of the citizen-ships without spiritual purpose and without home (land) to walk upon that is their own, our labor always done for the benefit of the artificial person that employs their persons and flattering educative government-granted legal titles? Which among these beasts listed here know True liberty under God? Which ones do not suffer from a parasitic infection that cheats them out of their own product of labor?

It is simply our own ignorance of the nature of this foul language we are taught in childhood to commonly speak that purposefully "dumbs us down" in consideration of the roots (etymology) of the language and its Latin, Greek, and other origins. And with each art and its individual, often figurative terms, we are constantly on the surface, beholding the form while never reaping the substance.

Even the common books we are privy to in public settings are vulgar, called anciently by the very word that would be opposed to knowledge; that descriptive word of the satanist, the adversary to enlightenment of the common slave.

ADVERSARIA - (From Latin adversa, things remarked or ready at hand.) Rough memoranda, COMMON-PLACE BOOKS.

— = —

Public school books and common libraries are full of these tomes of adversaria, as are the shelves of corporate booksellers. Written, of course, in the common vernacular, each of these promotes the public-minded, common lifestyle for which its government-approved publisher wishes to keep up appearances as normality, tainting all modern literature into its own form of fiction. Public television networks and movie studios expound on these always fictional his-stories that are adversarial to knowledge and enlightenment, creating a trifecta of illiteracy even while some "scholars" may lay claim to having read hundreds or thousands of these adversaria books and are thus to be respected as experts and professors of their own encapsulated ignorance regurgitated in the only language they can possibly understand from birth; the dog-Latin of the goyim. These are the teachers and professors of common men, who may only gain diplomas in adultery and bastardy, for the light of knowledge is covered by the darkness of censorship by the state. The blind leading the blind.

Under the rose...

Our words simply have no meaning or authority because we know not the meaning of our words.

—=—

"Ours is a mongrel language which started with a child's vocabulary of 300 words, and now consists of 225,000; the whole lot, with the exception of the original and legitimate 300, borrowed, stolen, smooched from every unwatched language under the sun, the spelling of each individual word of the lot locating the source of the theft and preserving the memory of the revered crime."

—Mark Twain, Autobiography

—=—

"As early as the 15th century, scribes and early printers performed cosmetic surgery on the lexicon. Their goal was to highlight the roots of words, whether for aesthetic pizzazz, homage to etymology, or both. The result was a slew of new silent letters. Whereas debt was spelled det, dett, or dette in the Middle Ages, the 'tamperers,' as one writer calls them, added the b as a nod to the word's Latin origin, debitum. The same goes for changes like the b in doubt (dubium), the o in people (populous), the c in victuals (victus), and the ch in school (scholar)."

—David Wolman, Righting the Mother Tongue: From Olde English to Email, the Tangled Story of English Spelling. Harper, 2010

—=—

"Rote learning is better swallowed when mixed with lessons in etymology and the history of the language. Learning about etymology can help with learning other languages, too. Take a simple word like 'justice.' You've probably known how to spell it for so long that you've forgotten that the ending (spelling the sound 'iss' as 'ice') is counterintuitive to a lot of children. Explaining that the word is borrowed from French, however, might make it clearer. Sounded out in French, the sound at the end makes a bit more sense (by analogy to a place like Nice). A very brief explanation of this kind is a chance for a short history lesson (FRENCH WAS SPOKEN AT THE MEDIEVAL COURT IN ENGLAND) and a reminder that children already know a lot more French than they realize. Teaching spelling in this way may make learning it more interesting but also encourage creativity."

—Josephine Livingstone, Spelling It Out: Is It Time English Speakers Loosened Up? The Guardian [UK], October 28, 2014

—=—

Of course, the public education system is not designed to invoke such knowledge of lingual source. For to teach man to be a public servant (subject of the United States) is to teach man how to act in the character and persona of state property (under a legal person-hood). As Fredrick Douglas so simply stated, knowledge makes a man unfit to be a slave. Ingrained, learned ignorance of how to live privately is a necessary tool for the public-mindedness of all common citizen-ships. No slave (subject) is ever private, never acts in private, and only ever conducts the public business of his master. This is the nature of the agency relationship, what we call public citizenship, for all agents must have a principal (master), all trustees a truster. And so ignorance of the origins of words and their use in the legal art is also kept from public school students, for this knowledge would surely kill voluntary servitude to such a commercial master as the state (mammon), and the student would actually question the very fact and source of his false, publicly founded education. Simply put, no man would ever choose to be public if he had the knowledge of how to be private, unless that man wished to commit acts against moral rectitude, against the Natural Law, and ultimately against Jehovah (against his very own Nature and in opposition to that of all Creation and its Sacred, self-evident Laws).

The word public is directly opposed to that which is private. Thus a public education program would be remiss to teach children about their ability to live a private life (independence) without public needs (dependence). A federal citizenship is always a public (dependent) one.

Interestingly, the word several, as a reference to the several States joined in union, means private (not public). A several thing is simply a private thing. And so only the private men that are each State are free. If you have a social security number, a driver's license, or any other form of public identification (status) or any type of insurance whatsoever, then you are not in any way a private person. In fact, the mere act of using a surname (your publicly certified, registered last name) is a public act, for the surname belongs to the state. Like renting a car, use of the registered admixed surname means use of another's property in agency to the principal (master) of that name. This is voluntary servitude.

In its etymology, the word several comes from the early 15th century adjective, with the meaning of "existing apart," from the Anglo-French several and Middle French seperalis for "separate," and from the Medieval Latin separalis, from Latin separ "separate, different," a back-formation from separare "to separate." The meaning of "various, diverse, and different" is attested circa 1500; that of "more than one" is from the 1530s, originally in legal use. To act severally (adverb) then is to act "separately," a word from the late 14th century, stemming from several + -ly.

We are taught that the several states is one group (body) of states. In fact, this is incorrect. Each state is several (separate), and thus private (foreign) from all others and from the United States federal government (Washington D.C), which we also call as "the state."

Thus, to act in a public (common) manner is to give up the right of severalty (privacy) in order to conform to the whole body politic. Each State is private (several) with private laws that are immune from federal (public) law. The United States and its District of Columbia is a public jurisdiction of territory, under international public law. And so a citizenship of the United States is a public person, while the "People" of each individual State that are not U.S. citizens are acting severally (privately). To be clear, a man can only be in the character of privacy or publicity, not both. God or mammon. This comprehension is key to the whole game and its evil design, for a man acting publicly cannot also act according to his moral beliefs. The public law is in opposition to the moral and private law.

This will all become abundantly clear as we move forward with this research. Remember, every word counts, so ignore no word or concept as we continue.

Here we must comprehend that public school is designed to teach and indoctrinate (teach the doctrine of) publicity to children for public life, so that we believe that we are the character that is reputed upon us to be by the State, which we call the public person (citizen-ship). Citizenship and slave are merely flattering titles designed to pull a hood of fiction over the eyes of man, where the false title is taken as Reality. We are so concerned with our supposed public reputation (persona) that we lose touch with our private Nature, so that our public person takes over our perception of the Reality of the spirit of our selves, and so that we are judged not by our actual moral character, but by the reputation of our fictional, commercial persona (its name, its number, its grades and diplomas, its credit score, its insurable value, its future labor potential, etc.).

REPUTATION - Estimation in which one is held, the CHARACTER imputed to a PERSON in the neighborhood where he lives. General OPINION, good or bad, HELD OF A PERSON by those of the community in which he RESIDES. IT IS NECESSARILY BASED UPON HEARSAY. "CHARACTER" IS MADE UP OF THE THINGS AN INDIVIDUAL ACTUALLY IS AND DOES WHEREAS "REPUTATION" IS WHAT PEOPLE THINK AN INDIVIDUAL IS AND WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT HIM. In the law of evidence, matters of PUBLIC and GENERAL interest, such as the boundaries of counties or towns, rights of common, claims of highway, etc., are allowed to be PROVED BY GENERAL REPUTATION; e. g., by the declaration of deceased persons made ante litem motam, by old documents, etc., notwithstanding the general rule against secondary evidence. (Black4)

— = —

So how do we know that the borders of the United States jurisdiction legally exist? Because a bunch of dead, legally entitled persons and their old legal documents say so, that's why. What is constituted by the buried dead can only be respected by the living dead, the spiritually dead men acting in the character of a legal, public (artificial) life-form who have abandoned God. It is the reputed nature (reputation) of these invisible borders that create their seemingly Real but ultimately fictional character, not the fact that they actually Exist in Nature. God creates no fences, borders, or territories. Only men who seek to be artificial gods over artificial territories against God's Nature create such things. They simply don't Exist, you see. They are legal fictions. Deceits. Simulations. They are only figments of the imaginations of men. Dead men. And only public citizenships actually believe they are Real, for public education tells us they are a Reality. Border patrol police with guns of course help to solidify the illusion along with the legal notion of ethnicity. But in Reality, men acting in the character of citizen-ships are akin to dog's wearing shock collars, so that when they try to cross those invisible borders of the dead without permission by the public authorities of all dead persons they are in for quite a shock. Yet we somehow believe we are Naturally free even in our restraint and even while we are required to show passports (papers of birth-origin and pedigree) to our masters. This is public-mindedness at its very core, as taught in public school and through entertainment and custom.

Freedom is slavery...

It could be said that a border only prevents man's fictional, legal person from passing that fictional, legal barrier called a "border" upon a map. The man acting as surety for the legal (fictional) person is thus stopped in order to identify the legal person. In this way, Nature (man) is trapped behind that artifice of name, number, reputation, and other false attributes of a legalized public persona. A private man has no public person, no surname or number of the state (public).

In essence, these government-sponsored induction centers teach us not knowledge nor give us tools to obtain it, but instead merely show us how to be-lieve; how to be put into a state of be-lief that the fiction of law and government are a moral Reality with god-like authority. But an amazing thing happens when we discover the true meaning of these seemingly easy-to-comprehend words. What really is belief, and what is it to be made to believe in a legal (fictional) thing as opposed to be-lieving in God? Why does the Bible exclaim that belief in money is the root of all evil, and not just the false fact of legal existence and commercial valuation of money itself.

Just what is it to be in a state of lieve?

LIEVE - for lief, is VULGAR. [See Lief.] (Webs1828)

LIEF - adjective - [See LOVE.] DEAR; BELOVED. [Obsolete.] - adverb [supra. This word coincides with LOVE, Latin lubet, libet, and the primary sense is TO BE FREE, prompt, ready.] Gladly; WILLINGLY; freely; used in familiar speech, in the phrase, I had as lief go as not. It has been supposed that had in this phrase is a corruption of would. At any rate it is anomalous. (Webs1828)

SUPRA - A Latin preposition, signifying ABOVE, OVER or beyond.

LOVE - verb transitive - luv. [Latin libeo, lubeo. See LIEF. The sense is probably to be prompt, free, willing, from leaning, advancing, or drawing forward.] 1. In a general sense TO BE PLEASED WITH; TO REGARD WITH AFFECTION, on account of some qualities which excite pleasing sensations or desire of gratification. We love a friend, on account of some qualities which give us pleasure in his society. We love a man who has done us a favor; in which case, gratitude enters into the composition of our affection. We love our parents and our children, on account of their connection with us, and on account of many qualities which please us. We love to retire to a cool shade in summer. We love a warm room in winter. We love to hear an eloquent advocate. The christian loves his Bible. In short, we love whatever gives us pleasure and delight, WHETHER ANIMAL OR INTELLECTUAL; AND IF OUR HEARTS ARE RIGHT, WE LOVE GOD ABOVE ALL THINGS, AS THE SUM OF ALL EXCELLENCE and all the attributes which can communicate happiness to intelligent beings. In other words, the christian loves God with the love of complacency in his attributes, the love of benevolence towards the interest of his kingdom, and the love of gratitude for favors received. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with ALL thy heart, and with ALL thy soul, and with ALL thy mind - Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Matthew 22:37. 2. To have benevolence or good will for. John 3:16. - noun - 1. An affection of the mind excited by beauty and worth of any kind, or by the qualities of an object which communicate pleasure, sensual or intellectual. It is OPPOSED TO HATRED. Love between the sexes, is a compound affection, consisting of esteem, benevolence, and animal desire. Love is excited by pleasing qualities of any kind, as by kindness, benevolence, charity, and by the QUALITIES WHICH RENDER SOCIAL INTERCOURSE AGREEABLE. In the latter case, love is ardent friendship, or a strong attachment springing from good will and esteem, and the pleasure derived from the company, civilities and kindness of others. Between certain natural relatives, love seems to be in some cases instinctive. Such is the love of a mother for her child, which MANIFESTS itself toward an INFANT, before any particular QUALITIES in the CHILD are UNFOLDED. This affection is apparently as strong IN IRRATIONAL ANIMALS AS IN HUMAN BEINGS. We speak of the love of amusements, the love of books, THE LOVE OF MONEY, and THE LOVE OF WHATEVER CONTRIBUTES TO OUR PLEASURE OR SUPPOSED PROFIT. THE LOVE OF GOD IS THE FIRST DUTY OF MAN, and this springs from just views of his attributes or excellencies of CHARACTER, which afford the highest delight to the sanctified heart. Esteem and reverence constitute ingredients in this affection, and a FEAR of offending him is its inseparable effect. 2. Courtship; chiefly in the phrase, to make love that is, to court; to woo; to solicit union in marriage. 3. PATRIOTISM; THE ATTACHMENT ONE HAS TO HIS NATIVE LAND; AS THE LOVE OF COUNTRY. 4. Benevolence; good will. GOD IS LOVE. 1 John 4:7. 5. The OBJECT beloved. The lover and the love of human kind. 6. A word of endearment. Trust me, love. 7. Picturesque REPRESENTATION of love. Such was his form as painters, when they show their utmost art, on naked loves bestow. 8.

LEWDNESS. He is not lolling on a lewd love-bed. 9. A thin silk stuff. Obsolete. LOVE IN IDLENESS, a kind of violet. Free of love a plant of the genus Cercis. (Webs1828)

BE - verb intransitive substantive, participle present tense - Being; participle passive been. [The sense is to stand, remain or be fixed; hence to continue. This verb is defective, and its defects are supplied by verbs from other roots, as, is, was, were, which have no radical connection with be. The case is the same with the substantive verb in most languages.] 1. To be fixed; TO EXIST; TO HAVE A REAL STATE OR EXISTENCE, for a longer or shorter time. Let this mind be in you, which was in Christ Jesus. Philippians 2:1. To be contents his natural desire. 2. TO BE MADE TO BE; TO BECOME. And they twain shall be one flesh. Math.19. Jeremiah 32:4. 3. To remain. Let the garment be as it was made. 4. To be present in a place. Where was I at the time? When will you be at my house? 5. To have a particular manner of being or happening; as, how is this affair? how was it? what were the circumstances? This verb is used as an auxiliary in forming the tenses of other verbs, and particularly in giving them the passive form; as, he has been disturbed. It forms, with the infinitive, a particular future tense, which often expresses DUTY, necessity or purpose; AS, GOVERNMENT IS TO BE SUPPORTED; WE ARE TO PAY OUR JUST DEBTS. Let be is to omit, or leave untouched; to let alone. Let be said he, my prey. (As) a prefix, as in because, before, beset, bedeck, is the same word as BY. It is common to the English, Saxon, Gothic, German, Dutch, Danish and Swedish languages. It occurs probably in the Russian, but is written po, as it is in possideo and a few other words in the Latin. It denotes nearness, closeness, about, or, at, from some root signifying to pass or to press. [See By.] That this word is the Shemitic, used as a prefix, is certain, not only from its general applications, which may be seen by comparing the uses of the word, in the Hebrew for instance, with those in the Saxon; but from its use in particular phrases, particularly in its use before the name of the Supreme being IN SWEARING. (Webs1828)

— = —

If the reader has it in his or her capacity at this moment, I would encourage you to pause here and go look up the modern definition of the word love and belief/believe in any currently updated dictionary. I ask this only to show the vast wealth of knowledge, specifically scriptural or spiritual knowledge, that today is purposefully absent from most “popular” dictionaries. In other words, many of these public lexicons are opposed to knowledge, and are thus in Reality merely common adversaria. Webster’s intent should not be forgotten simply because this syndicalist government system wishes to ban and lay to waste moral and religious checks and balances to its legal fiction (evil).

As a defective verb, this signifies that the word be must be attached to another word. To be funny, to be a name, to be enslaved. But under Jehovah, this is the only time we can just Be, as I am that I am. To be in Nature only is to Exist only in and under God. But to be a public person is abandonment of the Nature of simply Being. To Be is to remain whole. To be or respect the false, legally created being of anything else is to foul God’s Creation, to take God’s given, christian name in vain.

We are either in Being as a verb (in action and in Reality under God) or we are portraying ourselves as actors, as vulgar human beings, as a noun (in name only), acting by the legal name of another in false persona. A strawman.

It is difficult I know, but at some time throughout this work the realization will hopefully pop into each reader’s head that to love money is to be-lieve in, value, and use money as the god of all things, valuing all things within its artificial consideration. To love government is to believe in it, and such a love of artifice is equal to the hatred of God (Reality). The manifestation of that love may not be readily apparent until one looks at all he has or has not acquired through that love (belief) that all things can be conquered (purchased) through money despite Nature’s Design, from property to possessions to job titles to diplomas to driver’s licenses and social security privileges to the very bank notes that our registered birth certificates are printed upon. Only the love (be-lief) of and in money can accomplish this; that belief that we can't live without money because everything we see around us only has value in some form of money. And yet we have nothing of the spirit (Source), either of ourselves or of anything we value monetarily. Even Life itself has a monetary price, and death an insurable prize. And this is the true nature of mammon, for the love of money (mammon) is indeed the root of all evil. The spirit and soul of all things is priceless; valueless under God, and man in Nature can do anything possible within and in respect of Its Laws.

Monetary values are only placed upon the legal names and titles of things, not the actual things themselves. Thus a man labeled and styled as a "slave" has a certain value in money. But a man or society with unlimited spending potential and perpetual legal permissions to act against Nature's Laws, collateralized by billions of voluntary slaves and their papered property who believe all things carry with them a price (value) in mammon, is literally the manifestation of every terrifying god in history, from Zeus's electricity to Kali the Dark Mother and Destroyer's atomic god particle. The only things he will never have or find is True Peace and Love and Charity, for these things cannot be purchased from Jehovah their keeper. They must be lived. God respects no artifice, and money is certainly the root of artificiality (evil).

While operating within this artificial jurisdiction, which means to appear in the name or Latin nomen of a government issued personhood (to manifest in the realm of evil, where no men of God are allowed), man must assume the role of an artificial thing (false persona) as well. Man must become a cartoon within the cartoon world - for man (as God's Natural Creation) lives only in the Reality of God's Nature, while cartoons exist only in the fictional realm of the animated dead - the artificial creations of man. The two realms never cross over, and man cannot claim love (belief) of both. Thus a binding connection (legal attachment) must be made between these two realms of Reality and fiction. The man acting in legal persona can live only a mortal (dead) existence, for he must have a legally de-fined name (proper noun), and it is only that name of the legal, fictional person that is legally (artificially) controlled. The man - the actual living temple and vessel of God - is thus bound in a state of artificial being (legal "life") that is willingly and consensually bonded in surety to that fictional name (person). Where the person goes, the man will surely follow (in surety) - and vice versa. For a pup-pet acts only as its master wills. And the reputation of the person, which is manifested in name, number, and other identifications, hangs like a dark legal cloud wherever that man-in-person may travel in that legal character, for his travel is restricted to only commercial activities (under commercial law) while he acts in the property (commercial person) of another.

Another term for this fictional state of legal being (artificial life) is to be a dummy. We've all heard of the term dummy corporation, but we've likely never assumed this to be in reference to our own personal incorporation to government! As it turns out, we are in-deed nothing if not a bunch of dummies acting in agency...

DUMMY - noun - One who holds legal title for another; A STRAW MAN. (Black4)

DUMMY - adjective - Sham; make-believe; pretended; imitation. As respects basis for predicated liability on parent corporation for acts of subsidiary, "AGENCY," "adjunct," "branch," "instrumentality," "dummy," "buffer," and "TOOL" all mean very much the same thing. (Black4)

STRAWMAN - 1. A WEAK OR IMAGINARY OPPOSITION set up only to be easily confuted. 2. A PERSON SET UP TO SERVE AS A COVER for a usually questionable transaction. (Webster's Ninth New Collegiate Dictionary)

AGENCY - A relation, created either by EXPRESS OR IMPLIED CONTRACT OR BY LAW, whereby one party (called the principal or constituent) delegates the transaction of some lawful business or the authority to do certain acts for him or in relation to his rights or property, with more or less discretionary power, TO ANOTHER PERSON (CALLED THE AGENT, attorney, proxy, or delegate) who undertakes to manage the affair and render him an account thereof. The contract of agency may be defined to be a contract by which one of the contracting parties confides the management of some affair, to be transacted on his account, to the other party, who UNDERTAKES to do the business and render an account of it. A contract by which one PERSON, with greater or less discretionary power, UNDERTAKES TO REPRESENT ANOTHER in certain business relations. A relation between two or more PERSONS, by which one party, USUALLY CALLED THE AGENT OR ATTORNEY, is authorized to do certain acts for, or in relation to (LIE rights or property) of the other, who is denominated the PRINCIPAL, CONSTITUENT, or EMPLOYER. (Black2)

CONSTITUENT - A word used as a correlative to "attorney," to denote one who CONSTITUTES another his AGENT or invests the other with authority TO ACT FOR HIM. ' It is also used in the language of politics, as a correlative to "REPRESENTATIVE," the constituents of a legislator being those whom he represents AND WHOSE INTERESTS HE IS TO CARE FOR IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS; usually the ELECTORS of his DISTRICT. (Black2)

— = —

How do we know we are acting in public agency as dummies, where the U.S. government is our principal and we its slaves (agents)?

It's simple. We individually (through our legal persona) pay taxes.

Taxes are a sur-charge for use of a commercial entity (sur-name) for transacting business while under "consumer" protections (insurance). You, as a living man of God, are not a "consumer." This is only a flattering title placed upon the strawman for insurance purposes. The commercial name is protected only if it uses public credit (the dollar) for public, legal tender. The intercourse is secure and insured under surname only.

Taxes can only be applied by a principal to its agent, for the agent is operating the fictional person (legal status) belonging to the principal (government), and the principal charges taxation and fees for that use. To be clear, you would not be paying any tax in any way if you were not acting in a public person. Your taxes are your account and rendering as the undertaker of a public personhood (citizen-ship), a public ad-venture in a franchise of interstate commerce. All commercial ships (vessels) have a log and manifest and pay taxes on their burden, load and cargo in lading. Personal taxes are merely the diary of man's commercial use of the state's person (ship), not dissimilar to a rental car contract.

But how can one best define what "agency" is when most of us have no inkling we are even a participant in this agentic relationship with the United States or other district, never being fully informed that we stand as publicly registered agents for service of process for the person (status) in the citizenship we are assigned at the nativity event of our fictional delivery and birth?

Dr. Stanley Milgram conducted experiments in the 1960's where as he controversially uncovered this "agentic" personality and how most people are susceptible to it. His experiment posed one stranger as "teacher" against another stranger given the title of "learner," whereas the learner would be shocked with increasingly more painful shocks through switches controlled by the teacher delivered with each wrong answer. The experiment was designed to show how far the random cross-section of common people would induce electric shocks upon a strapped in subject even when they suspected the non-consent, injury, or even death of the titled "learner" in the next room. A majority of the "teachers" would indeed knowingly deliver these shocks when told to do so by a "doctor" in a lab coat uniform. Some would only continue if the doctor took full responsibility for damage or death to the person called the "learner." This was historically the most ambitious and frightening scientific test on personhood and agency, as to what men will do when given flattering titles of authority even as simple as "teacher" and are mentally made subjects of seeming authority. But the actions of these test subjects were completely voluntary, able to quit the experiment whenever they felt the need, and they were paid before the test began with this knowledge.

In the end, it was only the “teacher” that was the subject of the experiment, and the results were shocking to the science community. Milgram summarized his experiments within a 1974 article in Harper’s Magazine entitled “The Perils of Obedience,” where he stated:

“The legal and philosophic aspects of obedience are of enormous importance, but they say very little about how most people behave in concrete situations. I set up a simple experiment at Yale University to test how much pain an ordinary citizen would inflict on another person SIMPLY BECAUSE HE WAS ORDERED TO by an experimental scientist. Stark authority was pitted against the subjects’ [participants] strongest moral imperatives against hurting others, and, with the subjects’ [participants] ears ringing with the screams of the victims, authority won more often than not. The extreme willingness of adults to go to almost any lengths on the command of an authority constitutes the chief finding of the study and the fact most urgently demanding explanation. Ordinary people, SIMPLY DOING THEIR JOBS, and without any particular hostility on their part, CAN BECOME AGENTS IN A TERRIBLE DESTRUCTIVE PROCESS. Moreover, even when the destructive effects of their work BECOME PATENTLY CLEAR, and they are ASKED to carry out actions incompatible with fundamental standards of morality, RELATIVELY FEW PEOPLE HAVE THE RESOURCES NEEDED TO RESIST AUTHORITY.”

—Stanley Milgram (1974) from: ‘The Perils of Obedience’ in Harper’s Magazine. Abridged and adapted from Milgram’s Obedience to Authority.

— = —

Milgram elaborated two theories that were summarized in the publication American Psychologist:

“The first is the theory of CONFORMISM, based on Solomon Asch conformity experiments, describing the fundamental relationship between the group of reference and the individual person. A subject who has neither ability nor expertise to make decisions, especially in a crisis, WILL LEAVE DECISION MAKING TO THE GROUP AND ITS HIERARCHY. The group is the person’s behavioral model.

“The second is the AGENTIC state theory, wherein, per Milgram, “the essence of obedience consists in the fact that A PERSON COMES TO VIEW THEMSELVES AS THE INSTRUMENT FOR CARRYING OUT ANOTHER PERSON’S WISHES, AND THEY THEREFORE NO LONGER SEE THEMSELVES AS RESPONSIBLE FOR THEIR ACTIONS. ONCE THIS CRITICAL SHIFT OF VIEWPOINT HAS OCCURRED IN THE PERSON, ALL OF THE ESSENTIAL FEATURES OF OBEDIENCE FOLLOW.”

“A cognitive reinterpretation of Stanley Milgram’s observations on obedience to authority,” American Psychologist 45: 1384–1385. 1990.

— = —

Once this “agentic” personality is established, it is obviously very hard to break the ingrained pattern of personality and practice it creates. Thus the branding of citizenship and public-mindedness upon all children in each nation is part of the economy and society, from the school system to enter-tain-ment. We literally grow up believing we are the fictional persona assigned to us at birth; the name, the number, and the titles. But in Reality, we are commercial agents for a principal “dummy” corporation, our residential address actually a place of domestic (family) business. Responsibility is replaced by insurance. Moral virtue is replaced by strict law. And Reality is hidden behind several forms of artificial matrixes and systems designed to create the sense of false security. The strawman as a dis-ease is the avatar, the projected self image we play as actors in the fictional persona of that legal matrix, a silent weapon for a quiet war over our minds.

If it is difficult to comprehend this separate fictional person and that you are acting within it, just think of it this way... if you can believe in the personification of God by the church into a personage and likeness of man, why can't you imagine the same personification of man into a fictional character of the state? If you are emotionally effected by watching cartoon characters on the magic screen, what makes you think you are not equally effected by the psychological imaginations of the fictional legal personas of other men and by your own actions in that false persona and title? The legal fiction controls our lives via suretyship.

The pride of such glad acceptance of artificial titles is of course spoken of in the Bible, admonishing the proudness of men in their receivership of false and unnatural things and pretended authority, which are merely an abandonment of the only true equity and duty under the Law of God's Creation of Nature:

— — —

“For who maketh thee to differ from another? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?”

—1 Corinthians 4:7

— — —

What can we possibly have obtained that was not of Nature but the intangible fictions of man's legalistic i-maginations? What possible power can we have over any other man than by ignorance of the self-evident Reality of Nature that gave to each of us that Equality of our very Existence within It? What proudness should we have pretending to be something we are not and that does not Exist in Nature? How can one be proud of ones participation in the mass murder of war or the job-related killing by the policing of other legally “equal” persons (debt slaves) simply by claiming the given, false authority of any badge, flag, or banner? For to appreciate such super-Natural (above Nature), artificially gained powers by such legal means and flattering titles is to disrespect God by avoiding our Natural Duty to All of man and All of Creation under the Natural Law. All power is illusion, just as all subjection is delusion, voluntary or not, consensual or not. No consent by any man gives any other man an actual right in Reality to harm that man, for it is the first and self-evident duty under God to do no harm, but the legal law as the devil's tool of the contractual relationship destroys that binding duty as the foundation of the Natural Law, causing he who contracts to become an agent bound by false law forcing false obligations and forced judgement by other men (judges) in flattering titles. These falsely given titles can only re-present man according to some fictional disposition of either an exaltation or repression of his very own Source, his True Self, and only by respect of that which is adversarial (satanic) to our Source of Existence. For men are only born equal in Nature, and their Equality Exists nowhere else. All sources of artificial status and flattering title serve only one purpose - to elevate (appoint) or conquer (purchase) one man or type or status of man over and/or under all others. This is against the Design of Nature. For only in man's own respected fiction can the weak defeat the strong by allowing evil (artifice) to trump over good (Reality).

Fiction of law is the very essence of the legal doctrines of principal and agent and of master and servant. This agency relationship will be referenced throughout this work as it is the epitome of what this debt-slavery compact of citizen-ship is. For now, just remember that the United States (a municipal corporation styled as Washington D.C.) is the principal (and thus master) of all its citizenships (subjected agents in servitude), and that the men who hold and carry public citizenship as a mark of identity are the registered agents for service of process for that agency relationship (man acting as dummies representing the person and legal status of another).

To use an example in science fiction, consider the screenplay of The Matrix. The man is free until he plugs in to the artificial construct (the world). By doing so he becomes an agent to the principal governing force (the architect/creators) of that matrix simulation. When he appears within that simulation (jurisdiction) he appears in the person created for him by the principal, by the simulation, and so may only access the pleasures and artifice of that matrix in agency to that false persona. His laws and actions are bound by the laws of the false persona he appears and acts within, just as it is in the legal systems of the nations. The only difference is that there is no physical device, no plug, except in the mind. And the “agents” as the special police in suits and ties are the protectors of the artifice, of the simulation and its artful law, though each of us are “potential agents” because we are trained to screw each other over as a public lifestyle. And in the matrix, certainly nothing is private.

And this is why the police catchphrase is “to protect and serve.”

They protect the principal from the agents and serve process and summons to those registered agents (dummies) on behalf of the principal or third party. The master, with authority and violence, summons its own demons (fictional persons) to appear before it in its court (legal realm of jurisdiction) because the legal person (status) is property of the legal master (principal). It summons not free men, but the man acting as agent of the person (citizen-ship) of the principal (government), for which the man in the bond of surety must appear as in persona (in the surname of State-property) or as the agent thereof when required (summoned) by its principal. We operate in the person (property) of government, and so we must appear as such (in the name) when required, as the registered agents for service of process. This surety relationship guarantees that the man himself acting in the character of legal personhood will appear before the administrative officer (magistrate god) of the rented person (status). In this way, the man believes in and therefore appears in a fictional re-presentation of himself. The man believes that he is indeed the fictional persona he appears as. He loves (believes in) the artifice (evil) even more so than in himself.

If the person were a physical vessel instead of an imaginary one, say like a Chevy truck, then all of this would be simple and hardly demand such an intensive discourse. The difference between man and his person (vessel) would be self-evident. And so the invisible chains of personhood must be meticulously examined for the fictions they are.

Inversely, agents (men as surety for public citizenships) are also called constituents in their lower class because they allow others to act as their representatives (agents/attorneys). We foolishly elect dummies (agents) to the legislature by our own consent through the corporate voting franchise. But most importantly, all of our actions in citizen-ship to the United States (our principal) are under that agency relationship (citizen-ship) and therefore legally under the interstate commercial jurisdiction of the districts of the Federal government. Our actions are false, imaginary, artificial; conducted in the art form of legality and money (mammon). Thus the federal law always trumps any state law, as we are only temporary residents in any foreign State (third party) to the United States (District of Columbia), including the “several” private States and their body politic legal state governments (third persons/corporations). As the permanently domiciled agent in citizenship to the United States, a United States person is a foreigner in every other nation, country, state, etc. And so in this agency relationship, as a United States citizen, the individual state where my person temporarily resides without domicile and without land is only a third party to any commercial transactions I participate in, my business being done on behalf of my principal. U.S. persons are under U.S. law, unless no national law exists in certain matters at bar. Public persons are Federal persons. Private persons are not under federal law because they have no national persona (artificial, rented character) for which they act as surety for. No agent, no service. The federal law cannot apply to anything private and several (separate) to it, for the law of the federal gods can only apply to federal things that the federal government creates, all of which are commercially considered and thus public. Citizenship is a federal, public ad-venture.

Another word for private and several is foreign. A private citizen of a State (People) is a foreigner to the United States and to all other of the 49 States (private Peoples) not his own. A United States citizenship is always a foreigner in any of the 50 States, allowed to have only temporary residence there by government license.

For those having a rather difficult time processing this fictional, legal status game called agency, let us be clear in regard to how the state explains this agency relationship in the incorporation of legal marriage. As we will find out, a legal marriage is as all other legal things and conditions a false one, designed in trickery to appear as genuine while laying in artifice (a legal lie). Even the word family, as familiarity, as we will see shortly, is a false legal status that can mean multiple states of artificial being. Nothing is spiritually sacred when legalized into artificiality, only cursed. Evil cannot be good. A legal marriage is nothing more and nothing less than an incorporated business in the eyes of the State. The marriage is not between two Creations of God, but only between two fictional persons, which are two legal creations (subjects) of the state (principal). Only the creator can bestow license to merge two of its own corporations (surnames) into one. Men of God need not apply, for God respects no legal thing or person. Remember, the word family can only ever mean a joint-commercial “business” in the eyes of the state. And what it is that constitutes a family is the only authority in law of that family when legally considered under the state. The home, as we shall see, in law and for public citizenships holding mere residence in a foreign state (but with domicile in any of the United States’ jurisdiction), is just another word for business. Franchise.

— = —

“It is settled that that is to be considered the HOME of each one of us where he may have his HABITATION AND ACCOUNT-BOOKS, and where he may have made an establishment of his BUSINESS.”

—CONSTITUTUM ESSE EAM DOMUM UNICUIQUE NOSTRUM DEBERE EXISTIMARI, UBI QUIQUE SEDES ET TABULAS HABERET, SUARUMQUE RERUM CONSTITUTIONEM FECISSET. Dig. 50,16, 203. (Black4)

— = —

In these doctrines of the legal (artificial) family, the word business means commerce, specifically “interstate commerce” under United States Law.

FAMILY CAR DOCTRINE - The doctrine rests upon the basis that the automobile is furnished by the husband in his individual capacity and as common-law HEAD of the family for the use of the family, and NOT AS THE AGENT OF THE COMMUNITY. It rests on theory that operator is HUSBAND'S AGENT and runs automobile in husband's “BUSINESS;” THAT WIFE IS HUSBAND'S AGENT IN CARRYING OUT ONE OF THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH THE AUTOMOBILE IS PURCHASED AND OWNED.

Under the doctrine, a father furnishing automobile FOR PLEASURE AND CONVENIENCE OF FAMILY MAKES THE USE OF AUTOMOBILE BY FAMILY HIS BUSINESS and any member of family driving automobile with father's EXPRESS OR IMPLIED consent IS THE FATHER'S AGENT and the father is liable for the member's negligence. See, also, Family Automobile Doctrine and Family Purpose Doctrine.

(Black4)

FAMILY AUTOMOBILE DOCTRINE - The doctrine is that one who owns and maintains an automobile FOR THE GENERAL USE OF HIS HOUSEHOLD makes use of automobile for such purposes A PART OF HIS BUSINESS so that any member using automobile for those purposes under general authority to do so BECOMES HIS REPRESENTATIVE, for whose negligence he is responsible. It is an extension of the principle of respondeat superior to the relation created by operation of family use automobile. See, also, Family Car Doctrine and Family Purpose Doctrine. It is based on theory that members of family were engaged in A JOINT ENTERPRISE or THAT CHILD WAS AGENT OF PARENTS. If an automobile is owned and maintained by A FAMILY CORPORATION for general use of a family, such as that of corporation's manager and one of its principal stockholders, corporation may be held liable under the "family automobile doctrine" to third parties. (Black4)

FAMILY CAR - Automobile used to send owner's children to school was "family car." (Black4)

FAMILY PURPOSE DOCTRINE - A doctrine that the owner of a car, who gives it over to the use of his family and permits it to be operated by the members thereof, is liable for the injuries inflicted while being operated by a member of the family. The doctrine, that the owner of an automobile purchased or maintained for the pleasure of his family is liable for injuries inflicted by the machine while being used by the members of the family for their own PLEASURE. The doctrine imputes RELATIONSHIP OF PRINCIPAL AND AGENT where one maintains an automobile for pleasure or other use of member of his family. It is based on theory that each family member in using such car for own pleasure is carrying out the purpose for which it is furnished, AND IS THE OWNER'S AGENT OR SERVANT. IT IS FOUNDED UPON PRINCIPLES OF AGENCY OR OF MASTER AND SERVANT. It is restricted to automobiles maintained by owner for comfort, pleasure, and convenience of members of his family. A father is not liable merely because he is head of family, but the one who owns or provides the automobile is liable. A wife may be held liable for the torts of her husband under the doctrine. AGENCY IS THE VERY GENESIS OF THE DOCTRINE. Grandmother standing in loco parentis to grandson was liable under the doctrine for grandson's negligent operation of her automobile. Where wife owned automobile, husband was not liable under "family purpose doctrine," for minor son's negligent operation of the automobile, notwithstanding husband paid part of gasoline and garage bills... (Black4)

FAMILY RELATION - A relationship which may exist between one taken into the family by the head of the family, NOTWITHSTANDING THE ABSENCE OF BLOOD RELATIONSHIP OR OF LEGAL ADOPTION. Such relation exists: between two sisters when there is moral obligation on part of one to support and care for the other and when necessity for such care and support exists, when child receives from parent services, maintenance, or gifts reasonably frequent to lead to expectation of future enjoyment thereof, where brother owes moral obligation to support sister and necessity for such support exists, where father lives on homestead after mother's death with two adult sons, his only heirs, one of whom marries and remains on with father until father's death, where there is legal or moral obligation on head of family to support the other members, and there is dependence upon such members for support. (Black4)

FAMILY GROUP - Within purview of the family car doctrine, is not confined to PERSONS related to the owner, but includes members of THE COLLECTIVE BODY OF PERSONS living in his household for whose convenience the car is maintained and who have AUTHORITY to use it. The children of trust settlor including an adult son are members of the settlor's "family group" for income tax purposes. (Black4)

FAMILY USE - That use ordinarily made by and suitable for the members of a household whether as individuals or collectively. The supply of water in a MUNICIPAL CORPORATION FOR FAMILY USE includes the supply of jails, hospitals, almshouses, schools, and other municipal institutions; id. (Black4)

— — —

Whatever your own idea of what "family" is, being just an interpretable word, I assure you the state does not agree. It cannot. It can only see fiction. Its family is its own artificial creation. And thus a municipal corporation (city or county) can also be considered as one big happy family of fictional strawmen. The state (district) is the legal father of all legal things, just as God is known as the Father of all of Natural Creation. This again is just part of the aspect ratio of two opposing forces, heaven and hell both trying to exist in the same space. Matter and anti-matter. The artificial and the Real. Art gobbling up its model.

You see, it is not that a family can actually be a corporation in Reality (in Nature), it is that all legal (artificial) marriages are only ever legally Federal incorporations of “natural” persons of the state. A legal family is only ever a corporate (artificial) one. And so we must here distinguish the word family between its spiritual, general, and opposing legal meaning, knowing from this point forward that the state only and always considers marriage in the capacity of a contract of incorporation in agency by two legal persons (servants), and only after permission and license by the principal (master).

Sorry folks, but legal marriage is a sham. It is of legality, not Reality. It is not a Creation of or in honor of God, for legal things are always opposed to God’s Nature. Marriage is a legal creation and permissive incorporation of the state and its property (surnames). What is legal is not of God, not of Nature. If ever we are going to be able to comprehend just what voluntary slavery and servitude is and how we participate freely within that legal matrix of false existence in this agency relationship, then we must always, in every facet of life, consciously distinguish between Reality and fiction. We must always see the lie for what it is. Marriage by state license is and can be nothing else but legal fiction. It is literally a state of legalized adultery (sin). God is absent.

For many reading this, especially to those who have been searching some time for these elusive answers, the above court opinion (legal definition) by the courts with regards to driving the family to school in the “family car” as being a business venture in a commercially driven agency relationship should clear up a whole lot of questions. For others new to this information and who have never thought to ask why license is needed for seemingly non-commercial actions such as dropping the kids off at school or picking up some groceries, my empathy goes out to you even as the many fallacious bubbles burst around you and Reality is allowed to seep through the illusionary haze of legalism. It is like waking up as a cartoon in Reality, knowing that you cannot actually Exist there. Yet there you lie.

But remember, only names (nouns) are legally incorporated (married). There is no agency without the incorporation of the christian, given first name and the State-issued surname as last (supra/higher in authority) name. If you believe that the cartoon characters named “Micky” and “Minnie Mouse” can actually be married in Reality outside of their fictional cartoon realm (artificial jurisdiction), then perhaps this imaginary slavery in agency suits you and your imagination. But for those who wish to see this legal matrix for what it is so as to escape such institutionalized falsehoods of public, civil law, let us continue through this fractal of deceitful nomenclature.

To be clear, in order for evil men to assume the roles of legal “gods” so as to become the controller of all things living and non-living upon the Earth (all of God’s Creation in Nature), man (gods) must give a name (nomenclature) to all those things, including to all of the men he (the legal god) wishes to subjugate (objects turned into subjects). He must create dummies; a house of intangible wax figures as legal person-hoods inhabited by subjects. The substance of the subject (man) must be covered by an invisible, intangible wax (personification), so that only the false wax persona is respected; only that corporate vail and title of the legal dummy. The false gods must trick man into incorporating the living soul with the dead persona; the Real with the artificial; as nature and fiction contractually enjoined together into one incorporated body politic. This is the relationship that we call as an agency, where man acts in the dummy person (strawman) of another. And it is only this dummy (surname) that get’s married, not the actual man.

— — —

“...I know thy works, that THOU HAST A NAME THAT THOU LIVEST, AND ART DEAD.”

—Revelation 3:1, KJB

Living as a dead person... the legal, fictional second self.

This work is the story of that cocoon-like state of our individual and collective false-persona of being, and is the result of many years of painstaking research and consideration. It is being written with hopes of a future metamorphosis of man, by cracking the code that encloses man's mind, body, and soul within this artificial shell of fiction, causing us all to act against our very Nature and self-interest. These legal names and surnames are recorded and registered (taxed), redefining man as a fictional character under legal law and therefore no longer of God's realm of Nature. And this means that his Natural (unalienable) rights no longer apply, for he is not acting as himself, and that the Law of God as the Highest Natural Law is ignored through and because of his voluntary participation of the man in the fiction (evil) of artifice.

The dictator dictates the diction of the fiction through addiction.

The word addiction is a perfect example of a common (vulgar) word that has a distinct legal (higher) meaning from its general nomenclature as a "term of art." The low (not supra), vulgar meaning of the English language (dog-Latin) refers generally to a physical addict of drugs or other substances, and we generally (publicly) know only this meaning for that word. But the legal language is not literal, and so we must remember that the words used in the arts are never in regards to the Reality (God's True Design and Nature) of things, and instead only to the status of artificial things and concepts. And so we must break this word ad-diction down into its component parts and follow the legal path (pathos/dis-ease) to which it directs us, without the preconceived and educationally engrained public, mean and low concepts induced into us from childhood and through this word magic of sigils we call the English language; of purposeful illiteracy. Dog-Latin. For within the word ad-diction we find the key to citizenship; to legalized, voluntary servitude without contemplation of our express act of volunteerism. For voluntary slavery is alive and well in the United States, despite the public history presented by public government institutions to the common, hive-minded public.

To be in addiction to a legal persona is to be in love (be-lief) of the fiction (evil), to be judged (doomed) by the status assigned to the strawman at birth.

DICTION - noun [Latin, to speak.] Expression of ideas by words; STYLE; MANNER OF EXPRESSION. (Webs1828)

AD - A Latin preposition, signifying to. It is probably from Heb. Ch. Syr. Sam. Eth. and Ar. To come near, to approach; from which root we may also deduce AT... (Webs1828)

ADDICTION - noun - 1. The act of devoting or giving up in practice; the state of being devoted. His addiction was to courses vain. 2. AMONG THE ROMANS, a making over goods to another by sale OR LEGAL SENTENCE; also AN ASSIGNMENT OF DEBTORS IN SERVICE IN THEIR CREDITOR. (Webs1828)

ADDICTED - participle passive - DEVOTED by customary practice. (Webs1828)

ADDICTIO - In the Roman law, the giving up to a creditor of his debtor's person by a magistrate; also the transfer of the (deceased) debtor's goods to one who assumes his liabilities. (Black4)

DEVOTED - participle passive - Appropriated by vow; solemnly set apart or dedicated; consecrated; ADDICTED; given up; DOOMED; consigned. (Webs1828)

CONSIGNED - participle passive - DELIVERED; COMMITTED FOR KEEPING, OR MANAGEMENT; DEPOSITED IN TRUST. (Webs1828)

DEDICATED - participle passive - Devoted to a divine Being, or to a SACRED use; consecrated; appropriated; given wholly to. (Webs1828)

EXPRESSION - noun - The act of expressing; the act of FORCING OUT BY PRESSURE, as juices and oils from plants. 1. The act of uttering, declaring or REPRESENTING; utterance; declaration; REPRESENTATION; AS AN EXPRESSION OF THE PUBLIC WILL. 2. A phrase, or mode of speech; as an old expression; an odd expression. 3. In rhetoric, elocution; DICTION; the peculiar manner of utterance, SUITED TO THE SUBJECT and sentiment. No adequate description can be given of the NAMELESS and ever varying shades of expression which real pathos gives to the voice. 4. In painting, a natural and lively representation of the subject; as the expression of the eye, of the countenance, or of a particular action or passion. 5. In music, the tone, grace or modulation of voice or sound suited to any particular subject; that manner WHICH GIVES LIFE AND REALITY TO IDEAS AND SENTIMENTS. 6. Theatrical expression is a distinct, sonorous and pleasing pronunciation, accompanied with action suited to the subject. (Webs1828)

— = —

Popes, kings, presidents, and judges are considered in the legal (artificial) realm as divine beings (gods). And so our dedication and devotion to the church and state is an ad-diction of the mind, body, and soul to the artifice of evil (fiction). We must be tricked into abandoning Jehovah and that Natural Law to worship God in name (noun) only through the vicarious replacement gods of the temporal realm, which despise the power of the Biblical christ even in their claims to hold that spiritual power and authority as its vicars (secular replacements).

I here wonder if the reader is brave enough to discover the truth of these preceding statements, or will you burn this work because it goes against your be-lief (state of love) for the artificial corporations of church and state and the love of money (mammon)? Can the sincere Truth of Reality (Jehovah) trump the feigned truth (lies) of fiction?

To be de-voted is to have your vote (will) taken away in lieu of the collective public opinion. We call this the act of voting for public officers, while at the same time we are made to believe that voting is what makes us somehow Naturally free. But voting is not a choice, for there is never a choice to vote no. A choice between two evils (candidates) is not choice but only causality. The voting franchise is simply a well-organized lie, granting illusionary powers to those who have had all their powers taken away through fictionalization. The expression of a public vote, of showing up to vote in a legal public persona with permission of the state, is in actuality the expression of will and consent (via tacit assent) by the man to continue in voluntary servitude (slavery) as a public person, regardless of the outcome of the vote. This Reality is a very hard pill to swallow, I know. But I never promised the reader a rose garden, now did I?

All living things have been corrupted, and so even beneath every rose lies a dirty little secret:

— = —

“UNDER THE ROSE:”

“IN SECRET; PRIVATELY; in a manner that forbids disclosure.”

—definition for ‘rose’ (Webs1828)

—=—

All state secrets are under the rose, which is why you will find the masonic engraving of roses all throughout government buildings and city halls. It is why we have secretaries of state and defense, etc., as the keepers of state secrets. A public person is certainly not privy to the private matters of its principality, and will only know the rose by its appeal, appearance, and fragrance; but never by its legal character of secrecy (mystery) in artificiality.

—=—

“The liberties of a people never were, nor ever will be, secure, when the transactions of their rulers may be concealed from them.”

—Patrick Henry, an American colonial revolutionary

—=—

If your head is spinning right about now as you try to figure out how this matrix of information was kept from you all these years, just remember that what you are learning in this work was not meant for your eyes, but was meant to be kept under the rose; forbidden to be disclosed to the victims (slaves) of it. Those who seek and succeed in their quest for power must keep their secrets, first and for most of which is to keep the public clueless about the nature of privacy.

Slaves should never be taught the language that controls them.

Through the expression of the surname, number, and other marks and tokens of legal identification, we sign our souls away with each use of a signature. This, as we will discuss later, is the mark of a beast, as a beast of burden. The beast, as referenced in the Bible, does not describe some mythological image with red horns and a pitchfork created by commissioned and paid artists of the priest-class, but is only a reference to a man (any and every man) who has accepted the surname upon his first name (christian name). Beasts are branded, numbered, and registered by Caesar (the district).

When we examine more closely the warnings of revelation without the dramatic and artful liberties of evangelical embellishment, we can see that the beast is each individual man expressing him or herself in a false persona (name, title, and number).

—=—

“And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: FOR IT IS THE NUMBER OF A MAN; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.”

—Revelation 13:17-18, KJB

—=—

Never forget that it is we that voluntarily bear these marks of identification, the surname, the social security number, and all other signs and tokens that reveal the signature mark of the branded beast of one of the nations. But what exactly is the number of a man?

Stong's Concordance settles the matter in which this last numerical reference is to be considered, which appears only once in the Bible, and wherein it states:

G5516 - Six hundred threescore and six (666).

$\chi\xi\zeta$ = chi-xi-stigma

1. Six hundred and sixty six, the meaning of which is the basis of much vain speculation.

Thayer's Greek Lexicon - Six hundred and sixty-six... a mystical number the meaning of which is clear when it is written in Hebrew letters, as "NERO CAESAR"...

—=—

Of course the Hebrew language is a mathematical one, where letters represent numerical values. And so it would be broken down as such:

$\chi = 600$

$\xi = 60$

$\zeta = 6$

(chi-xi-stigma) - Pronounced - khī ksē stēg-ma

—=—

Strong's then defines the word (flattering title) "Caesar" as such:

G2541: Kaisar (Caesar)

Καῖσαρ - Kaîsar, kah'-ee-sar; of Latin origin; Cæsar, a title of the Roman emperor:—Cæsar.

Caesar = "severed"

1. The surname of Julius Caesar, which adopted by Octavius Augustus and his successors afterwards BECAME A TITLE, and was appropriated by the Roman emperors as part of their title.

—=—

And here is where it all comes together, where all the fictions and images of the church vanish in light of the Truth of just what (who) the church and state actually represent.

—=—

“And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from CAESAR (#G2541) Augustus, that all the world should be TAXED (#G583).”

— Luke 2:1, KJB

— = —

“And all went to be TAXED (#G583), every one into his own city.”

— Luke 2:3, KJB

— = —

Heading back to Strong’s Concordance and Thayer’s Greek Lexicon, we again see the difference between the Bible (Higher) language and the common, vulgar tongue of the mass of illiterates speaking dog-Latin. For to be “taxed” is not merely the exaction and extortion of money as we politically consider it. Tax is certainly not just the way it is nor as certain as death (and taxes). Only public-minded, non compos mentis slaves think in this defeatist way, which is why most common citizenships pay their taxes. But to be taxed is much, much more...

G583 - “Taxed” - apographō

From ἀπό (G575), meaning: from, of, out of, for, off, by, at, in, since, on, etc...

And γραφω (G1125), meaning: write, writing, describe.

1. To write off, COPY (from some pattern)
2. TO ENTER IN A REGISTER OR RECORDS
 1. Specifically, TO ENTER IN PUBLIC RECORDS THE NAMES OF MEN, THEIR PROPERTY AND INCOME
 2. TO ENROLL

Quoting further from Thayer’s Greek Lexicon:

“apographō... To have one’s SELF registered, to enroll one’s SELF... those whose NAMES are inscribed in the heavenly register, Hebrews 12:23 (the reference is to THE DEAD already received into the heavenly city, THE FIGURE BEING DRAWN FROM CIVIL COMMUNITIES ON EARTH, WHOSE CITIZENS ARE ENROLLED IN A REGISTER).”

— = —

This is not speaking of dead bodies buried in the ground or hanging out in the ethereal heavens presented in the false teachings and images of the church. This is speaking of only spiritually dead (public) men currently living on Earth in the spiritually dead form of a legal fiction as registered agents and as municipal citizens (municeps) to Caesar (a district). The general public. The goyim. Marked chattel property.

Citizenship is the registration of men by surname of their assigned, fictional persona. It is the mixing and thus pollution of the christian first name with the last (supra/higher) name of the state. It is the separation of self into an “individual” and separate or “severed” id-entity.

—=—

“Furthermore, we declare, we proclaim, we define that it is ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY FOR SALVATION THAT EVERY HUMAN CREATURE BE SUBJECT to the Roman Pontiff.”

—UNAM SANCTAM, Bull of Pope Boniface VIII promulgated November 18, 1302

—=—

Here, as the temporal power of kings (gods) was made subservient to the ecclesiastical power of the godhead Pope (modern Caesar), a lien (alienation) was created by the church (body of the secular, vicarial Christ corporation) upon each “human” creature’s soul. The Pope as Godhead over all other gods, quoting this authority by the very Bible that forbids respect of such artificial persons (body’s corporate) and false gods as that very church. This was again a “genesis” of the legal personification of self, the creation story of the separate legal id-ntity to be registered under the church and state. Here we may comprehend that the power of man acting in christ’s teachings was usurped by the corporate authority of the papal (legal ecclesia) system, where all men of christ are under the corporate God-Head before that of Jehovah. For the Pope, within this papal bull Unum Sanctum, claims and declares to be the Head of Christ - a temporal middleman and manager between man and Jehovah, like a used car (vessel) salesman who shall pretend to judge (doom) man temporally and spiritually before and without God.

—=—

“But I would have you know, that the head of EVERY MAN is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God.”

—1 Corinthians 11:3, KJB, as referenced in the Catholic Unam Sanctum.

—=—

“Some ask, is Jesus a spirit?
Jesus is not a spirit! Jesus is a PERSON, A MAN...”

—Speech by Pope Francis, 2015

—=—

“For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean PERSON, nor covetous MAN, WHO IS AN IDOLATER, hath any INHERITANCE in the kingdom of Christ and of God.”

—Ephesians 5:5, KJB

—=—

As the proclaimed vicar (replacement) of God, as the supposed ceremonially anointed and pre-tended vicar (replacement) of christ’s person and idolatrous god of all nations, the pope claims to be the combined head of all heads of all men acting as “human creatures,” which are christ’s body (the church), where the pope is the head of all that body (of all men as one incorporated body of christ). The only way that this feat of impossibility in Nature can be accomplished is to turn all men in their belief and love (the christ-heads) of and into artificial persons of a corporation (church/artificial person), creating mankind itself as a single body politic, another word for a corporation (person), with the pope sitting at the head (as president and “shepherd”) of that supposedly divine corporation (artificial person as a body politic). And so we have today the United Nations. In this way, the faith is turned from a verb of action into a name (noun), and the very act of registration to the strict law of Caesar in every nation and its gods creates the contractual faith established long ago with the first tax; the first public spelling of names.

Christ must be considered as merely a man, not the spirit and Word (Law) of God, for only then can each man acting in the office (artificial person) of pope claim to be the artificial christ (Head). And so the church claims that it is a sin to worship God except through it, for the pope is vicariously the temporal actor of God.

But the spirit of christ may only manifest in man, and potentially so in all men. We cannot wear the false persona of christ as if it were a lawsuit. One does not don a robe and jewelry and thus claim this to personify christ. One must do as christ did by learning to know what christ knew and nothing else. But the church must keep us away from this concept of a personal (of True self) connection to God through christ’s example, presenting its own false corporate head in flattering title as the “visible” head of the church built by masonry, by the hands and designs of men. But the Real church is only ever built of men, not by them, and consists only of those who follow the spirit of christ, not the most recently incorporated vicarious impersonation and altered doctrine.

—=—

“For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, WHICH IS JESUS CHRIST.”

—1 Corinthians 3:11, KJB

—=—

“Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; BELIEVE IT NOT.”

—Matthew 24:23, KJB

—=—

“But ye are not in the flesh, BUT IN THE SPIRIT, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness. But if THE SPIRIT of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies BY HIS SPIRIT THAT DWELLETH IN YOU.”

—Romans 8: 9-11, KJB

—=—

“Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.”

—2 Corinthians 5:17, KJB

—=—

“FOR THE LAW OF THE SPIRIT OF LIFE IN CHRIST JESUS HATH MADE ME FREE FROM THE LAW OF SIN AND DEATH.”

—Romans 8:2, KJB

—=—

“For there is ONE God, and ONE mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; IF ANY MAN TEACH OTHERWISE, AND CONSENT NOT TO WHOLESOME WORDS, EVEN THE WORDS OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, AND TO THE DOCTRINE WHICH IS ACCORDING TO GODLINESS; He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, PERVERSE DISPUTINGS OF MEN OF CORRUPT MINDS, AND DESTITUTE OF THE TRUTH, SUPPOSING THAT GAIN IS GODLINESS: FROM SUCH WITHDRAW THYSELF. But godliness with CONTENTMENT is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain WE CAN CARRY NOTHING OUT.”

—1 Timothy 6: 3-7, KJB

—=—

It seems that in no way does the Bible agree with the Bull of the Catholic Church nor its doctrines. It certainly teaches a doctrine other than godliness. And it insists the christ Jesus was only a man, that nothing of that Spirit can be within any man unless they join and register (tax) them self to and under the alternative doctrines that universal church. But these words (names) of worldly things are obviously opposite of the scriptural teachings, the words of madmen and would-be gods. Antichrists. The creators and curators of the law of sin and death.

And ultimately this once again comes down to a choice between gain and contentment, between usury and charity, between lust and love, and between the flesh of mammon and the Spirit of God. Fiction or Reality. Plugged in or unplugged. The church is a peddler of the flesh, a plucker of the forbidden fruit, a justifier and thus pretended licenser and false-forgiver of past and future sins, and so reconsiders Jesus as merely a flesh-and-blood man that can be imitated in the similitude (not sameness) of sole corporate office. The spirit is drained and turned into an idol, an empty and dead (crucified) image used only to prop up the latest appointed and falsely anointed Christ-Head of that artificial church. In this way the followers of this false christ figure (antichrist) are also crucified in their personal actions, for the figurative meaning of this word crucify from Strong's G4717 (stauroō) is to crucify the flesh, and to figuratively extinguish (subdue) passion or selfishness:—crucify. Not physical death, but spiritual death, which christ overcame and rose his Spirit from as our example to follow. A derivative of Strong's G4716 stauros, often mistranslated as “cross,” we find this word stake (cross) to be what causes man to remain in the cities, taxed and burdened by debts of performance, and that the word “cross” as transliterated in the Bible for “stauros” figuratively means exposure to spiritual death, another term for self-denial, as the acceptance of personhood in legal identity and flattering title over that of our True Nature, our True Spirit of Self. The people (members) of the church are following in the death, not the Life (Spirit) of christ. The people of the church are controlled in their passions and in their spiritual expression of True Self, which has been recast into a “religious” id-entity as an incorporated persona friendly to that which opposes the actual teachings of christ. In short, these so-called “Christians” in purely flattering title thereof are acting in name (noun) only, their verbosity subdued (crucified) and their stake (cross) stuck deeply in false religion and in the designs of man in mammon. They rely not on themselves individually but on the church corporation for actions of charity, love, and prayer, taught to believe that giving money to the church is the same as (forgiveness for not) acting as One in christ’s True church, which is not built by hands but Exists only in the christ-like Spirit of men. This, to say the least, is not godliness and certainly not christ-like behavior, supposing that their own gain and the gains of the church is godliness as laid down in the Book of Timothy above. In fact the message of the Bible over and over is to withdraw our Self (our True Nature) from such institutions of flattery and mammon, to pick up our stake (mistranslated as “cross”) and follow the path of christ in that perfected example of piety. Leaving the cities is also leaving the corporations of the cities, including those secular churches that kill the Spirit of God’s Son (Word).

What an interesting word this is! For the word spirit (verb) is again one fairly absent from the legal sources. At best, the law only recognizes spirituality as the opposite of its own nomenclature, as something irrelevant and specifically opposed to the legal law, and to the false incorporations that claim its legal immunity. After all, the maxim of man’s law states that words are the spirit of the law. And yet words are always lifeless, soulless, and totally lacking in any spirit of their own. In fact, in law, the word spiritual is only specially used to describe a certain type of profit and gain in mammon for the priest-class!!! Hell, even alcohol is a spirit!

But man’s soul, that be damned in the legal realm...

SPIRITUAL - Relating to RELIGIOUS or ECCLESIASTICAL PERSONS or AFFAIRS, as distinguished from "secular" or lay, worldly, or business matters. As to spiritual "Corporation," "Courts," and "Lords," see those titles. (Black4)

SPIRITUALITIES OF A BISHOP - Those PROFITS which a BISHOP receives IN HIS ECCLESIASTICAL CHARACTER, as the DUES arising from his ordaining and instituting PRIESTS, and such like, in contradistinction to those PROFITS which he acquires in his TEMPORAL CAPACITY as a BARON AND LORD of parliament, and which are termed his "TEMPORALITIES," consisting of certain LANDS, REVENUES, AND LAY FEES, etc. (Black4)

SPIRITUALITY OF BENEFICES - In ecclesiastical law. The TITHES of land, etc. (Black4)

SPIRITUOUS LIQUORS - Inflammable liquids produced by distillation, AND FORMING AN ARTICLE OF COMMERCE... (Black4)

SPIRITS; SPIRITUOUS - See Coupon; Omissus; Letter. (WCA1889)

SPIRITUAL ADVISER - See Communication, PRIVILEGED, DISTILLERY; EMPTY; INTOXICATE; LIQUOR. (WCA1889)

SPIRITUALISM - See INFLUENCE. OBTAINING MONEY UPON A REPRESENTATION that the party obtaining it can cause the spirits of deceased persons to be present in a material form, is punishable under statutes against false pretenses. See Pretense. While, as an abstract proposition, spiritualism does not prove insanity, a person may be a MONOMANIAC upon that subject as upon ANY OTHER FORM OF RELIGION. (WCA1889)

—=—

So a spirituality (noun) is literally a wage paid to a bishop for his artful performance in the priest-hood. Surely a man must need to sell his soul to the established church and its false doctrines to gladly receive such an unspiritual reward in mammon.

To be stated in a way that speaks to the entire purpose of this exhaustive work, that which is Truly spiritual (verb), as Being and Living in the Spirit alone, is not recognizable by man's legal systems of law and instead causes immunity towards it, for no money of the state or law of man would ever be involved in True Spiritual matters under God's Realm. For God's Realm is where no legal jurisdiction lies or exists, and that includes any need for such legal tender. Just as the man constantly and consciously acting in Love and Charity, and specifically doing so without permission, personification, and incorporation of these verbs (actions) into nouns (persons, places, and things); when man acts in his True spiritual Self he is untouchable by the law of persons (citizens), of places (titles of nativity and jurisdictions), and things (money as debt, hereditaments, and properties). In other words, when one acts only in spirit, as that which is not recognizable by the gods of legal, artificial things, then and only then is one christ-like in one's spirituality. This Spirit of christ cannot be passed on in some crown or corporate veil, and certainly cannot be anointed upon man with ceremonial oils as with the false-office of popes and kings. It's all about the verb, and the verb is the Word, and the Word is God, and God's Word is the Son, and the Son is Jesus christ, whose Word is simply "Jehovah is salvation." This, again, is not religion (noun), it is actual religious action (verb) in the undertaking of only the moral, spiritual Law and no other, acting always consciously against that which is evil (artificial). There is no physical church shelter to hide within or to get on one's knees to pray forgiveness while consuming GMO bread and corn syrup-based grape juice for false communion in a public practice of artful ceremony for false show. There is only that great Kingdom of Nature and all It may provide unto man's intention, ability, and moral action. No lies. No titles. No art. No symbology. No gains or profits. No usury. For these are worldly things done in the artifice of evil, creating money like a god by exaction and extortion of that which is neither due nor reasonable (gain, profit, and usury). And of course nothing public, including man's permissive license of law.

—=—

"Then I consulted with myself, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, Ye exact usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great assembly against them... I likewise, and my brethren, and my servants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you, LET US LEAVE OFF THIS USURY. RESTORE, I pray you, to them, even this day, THEIR LANDS, their vineyards, their oliveyards, AND THEIR HOUSES, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, THAT YE EXACT OF THEM."

—Nehemiah 5: 7, and 10-11, KJB

—=—

For the public United States citizen-ship, it is actually every "individual" person's equal positive right in agency to be forcibly exacted (extorted) from in any way possible by the United States and its third party affiliates (the state governments). Most often this exaction is in the form of taxation, but can also be paid (in tribute) by time spent in prison, since money represents time. So let us see what the gods have enforced as our so-called equal rights:

—=—

U.S. Code > Title 42 > Chapter 21 > Subchapter I > § 1981

Statement of Equal Rights:

“All PERSONS within the jurisdiction of the United States shall have the same RIGHT in every State and Territory to... BE SUBJECT TO LIKE PUNISHMENT, PAINS, PENALTIES, TAXES, LICENSES, AND EXACTIONS OF EVERY KIND, and to no other.”

—=—

Still think rights are a good thing? Still a subject and victim of your own strong delusion, just as the Bible forewarned you? Well then let's be perfectly clear as to just what is a U.S. citizen-ship's right in all cases to have organized crime forced upon our persons in exaction (extortion) equally as our "civil right" for use and enjoyment of a federal persona (status). This is the fee we pay for use of another's property (strawman), which is the same as severing our tie to the protective Law of our Natural God and Creator in the eyes of the legal authorities.

EXACTION - noun - The act of DEMANDING WITH AUTHORITY, and COMPELLING to pay or yield; AUTHORITATIVE DEMAND; a levying or drawing from BY FORCE; a DRIVING to compliance; AS THE EXACTION OF TRIBUTE OR OF OBEDIENCE. 1. EXTORTION; A WRESTING FROM ONE UNJUSTLY; THE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF ONE'S NECESSITIES, TO COMPEL HIM TO PAY illegal or exorbitant tribute, fees or rewards. Take away your exactions from my people. Ezekiel 45:9. 2. That which is exacted; tribute, fees, rewards or contributions DEMANDED OR LEVIED WITH SEVERITY OR INJUSTICE. Kings may be enriched by exactions, but their power is weakened by the consequent disaffection of their subjects. (Webs1828)

EXACT - verb transitive - egzact'. [Latin exigo, exactum. See the Adjective.] 1. TO FORCE OR COMPEL to pay or yield; to demand or require authoritatively; to extort by means of authority or WITHOUT PITY OR JUSTICE. It is an offense for an officer to exact illegal or unreasonable fees. IT IS CUSTOMARY FOR CONQUERORS TO EXACT TRIBUTE OR CONTRIBUTIONS FROM CONQUERED COUNTRIES. 2. TO DEMAND OR RIGHT. Princes exact obedience of their subjects. THE LAWS OF GOD EXACT OBEDIENCE FROM ALL MEN. 3. To demand of necessity; to enforce a yielding or compliance; or TO ENJOIN with pressing urgency. (Webs1828)

RIGHT - noun - 1. CONFORMITY TO THE WILL OF GOD, OR TO HIS LAW, THE PERFECT STANDARD OF TRUTH AND JUSTICE. In the literal sense, right is a straight line of conduct, and wrong a crooked one. Right therefore is rectitude or straightness, AND PERFECT RECTITUDE IS FOUND ONLY IN AN INFINITE BEING AND HIS WILL. (Webs1828)

RIGHT - noun - ...2. CONFORMITY TO HUMAN LAWS, OR TO OTHER HUMAN STANDARD OF TRUTH (FAITH), PROPRIETY OR JUSTICE. When laws are definite, right and wrong are easily ascertained and understood. In arts, there are some principles and rules which determine what is right. In many things indifferent, or left without positive law, we are to judge what is right by fitness or propriety, by custom, civility or other circumstances. 3. Justice; that which is due or proper; as, to do right to every man. Long love to her has borne the faithful knight, and well deserv'd had fortune done him right. 4. Freedom from error; conformity with truth OR fact. Seldom your opinions err, your eyes are always in the right. 5. Just claim; LEGAL TITLE; ownership; the legal power of exclusive possession and enjoyment. In hereditary monarchies, A RIGHT TO THE THRONE VESTS IN THE HEIR ON THE DECEASE OF THE KING. A deed vests the right of possession in the purchaser of land. RIGHT AND POSSESSION ARE VERY DIFFERENT THINGS. We often have occasion to demand and sue for rights not in possession. 6. Just claim by courtesy, customs, or the principles of civility and decorum. Every man has a right to civil treatment. THE MAGISTRATE HAS A RIGHT TO RESPECT. 7. JUST CLAIM BY SOVEREIGNTY; PREROGATIVE. GOD, AS THE AUTHOR OF ALL THINGS, HAS A RIGHT TO GOVERN AND DISPOSE OF THEM AT HIS PLEASURE. 8. That which justly belongs to one. Born free, he sought his right. 9. Property; interest. A SUBJECT IN HIS PRINCE may claim a right. 10. Just claim; immunity; privilege. All men have a right to the secure enjoyment of life, personal safety, liberty and property. We deem the right of trial by jury invaluable, particularly in the case of crimes. Rights are NATURAL, CIVIL, POLITICAL, RELIGIOUS, PERSONAL, AND PUBLIC. 11. Authority; LEGAL POWER. We have no right to disturb others in the enjoyment of their religious OPINIONS. 12. In the United States, A TRACT OF LAND; or a share or proportion of property, as in a mine or manufactory. (Webs1828)

— — —

What authority could government possibly have over any man unless first he is tricked into accepting a status (persona) within and under its authoritative, administrative law system? A more correct question would be to ask how can government claim legitimacy in its illegitimate actions against men without first proving man's consent to its authority by causing the confirming and acting of each man in its agency of public persona? For it is only our own actions that legitimize the crimes against us through that registered strawman. Going to prison is voluntary!

Yet another aspect of the dog-Latin induced ignorance of the commonalty of the world is this term of art right. We could say that any man's rights are only what his chosen God gives to him, and that no other rights exist. But we must also remember that no rights Exist in Nature, and that Jehovah is not the Creator of rights (concepts), for no rights would be needed if the duty of Natural Law were respected. The opposite of wrong, to obtain such a substantiated and ordained "right" in legal terms of course has the opposite effect of its Natural intent. And so what is a positive law right (noun) bestowed politically or civilly is most often a wrong (verb) presented as a forced contractual obligation (right) in name only. Exaction (extortion), for instance, is every citizenship's right under Title 42 of U.S. Code, which is to say that all public persons must pay tribute and tax and fee by force in exchange for such legal status (personhood). To contract a right is no different than contracting any other dis-ease, for to obtain a political, artificial, legal right in persona one must at the same time give up one's Natural, God-given, unalienable "rights" in exchange. But remember that in Nature these so-called "God-given rights" are in the negative substance, meaning that one has a right not to be exacted, and this right is unalienable for man until he chooses to operate a fictional persona in commerce under the gods (idols) of the nations. Once this happens, the negative duty to respect any such negative right to be left alone and unharmed dies on the legal chopping block. Quite simply, a fiction cannot be operated under the Natural, negative Law, for a fiction exists only under the devil's positively written contracts. Its rights are strictly written as positive law. It has no negative capacity, only legal (positive) capacity. Persons (legal statuses) are only ever a creation of positive law. For only men, not fictional persons (citizen-ships), have privy to (private capacity to hold) the untouchable rights of God. Man can't have two gods, especially when their artful terms and laws contradict one another. God's Law (Natural Law) is always a negative duty upon all men to uphold the negative right of all others, vulgarly and way too simplistically said to be the law of do no harm. In other words, a negative right cannot be positively claimed or enforced, only the duty that creates the reciprocal right; while under the positive law it is the right that is invoked to enforce the duty, as with extortion, where the duty comes in the form of a bill or invoice, which enforces the public, positive right to be stolen (exacted) from. This is the great difference between spiritual (negative) Law and contract (positive) law. The man of God lives only by his duty to all others, while the citizen-ship lives only by the legal rights prescribed by his master (principal) and violently enforced as his duty to contractually fulfill. Thus the responsible man of God may always claim to be free of any crime as his Natural duty is always fulfilled, for he lives only by his religious Law (God) and no other, while the legal person must actually commit “licensed” crime to remain in a legal status. This is the law of persons.

For the benefit of the reader, we must always remember this important difference between negative and positive rights. We must know right from duty and remember that a right comes before duty only in the positive law of man. Under God, there is only duty, and the right of all to receive from each other’s duty is self-evident. No legal judge is needed to administer what is the Natural Law of God, for there is no artifice there, only the Truth (Faith) of self-evidence. All things in the positive realm are artificial creations of man’s law, enforceable only through a contractual relationship of some kind. Positive rights only apply to positive creations (legal names and titles) just as negative rights only apply to God’s negative Creation. For anything to be positive, it must be re-created that way, for all things in Nature are in their Origin of Source and Design of a Purely negative Existence. The quality of anything positive must be added to that which is Reality or falsely created from fiction, and so we call Natural rights also as negative rights. That which is positive is never Source, never of Jehovah. What is positive is always an addition; an addiction.

And so, the best of all examples of this negative aspect of law is the constitution of the United States. This compact between private Peoples with its so-called “bill of rights” (original articles 1-10) is strictly a negative statement of negative rights. The bill of rights protects nothing positive, especially the United States public citizenship not party to it. These rights are nothing more or less than an imposed and reinforced duty upon that federal government to uphold the negative rights of that private People that created it, the “founding fathers” and the posterity (bloodline) of those they represented. No public citizen under the subjection of the United States can also claim to have a negative right against the United States. This would be an oxymoron. A paradox. For to operate in a denized, positive law-created public citizenship of the United States is to relinquish all negative rights in lieu of that positive law. The constitution in its negative law capacity thus protects only those private men that reserve all rights from it. Public citizens can reserve no rights, and have no negative privacy. Quite the opposite.

Private = negative = UNalienable (not for sale, with or without consent). This is a state of Being where all rights are reserved in the individual man of God only, as immunity from any established positive (public) law, meaning the “right” cannot be forced upon the man. Thus the right is again a verb, for only man’s own actions under negative duty can establish his negative right.

But this negative state of Being in privacy is only ever a choice. It must be protected and fought for, and is the only legitimate fight possible. When we sign for a right in a false legal persona (positive name) not our own, then our signature contracts the positive, artificially induced, noun form of the right.

Public = positive = INalienable (reserved but for sale, thus potentially alienable, meaning for voluntary sale by consent and contract). This is a state of artifice (hu-man being) where all rights are squashed, as with citizenship, because once sold none are reserved, therefore causing the force of contract where “rights” can be enforced positively (not by Natural duty but by force under contractual requirement), like the right to be taxed, licensed, punished, put in pain, and extorted (exaction) from. These are the rights of United States citizens, to be enjoyed and enforced “equally” with all other public citizens, commonly known as “equal rights.” Again, only slaves in any form including voluntary ones have “equal rights,” which is not the same concept as being born free of enslavement (denized/enfranchised into public citizenship).

The word free, in legal parlance, means franchise. And so only voluntary slaves (citizenships) vote through agency for their masters (principals), for the voting franchise (freedom to vote) is only part of voluntary subjection under the protection of the principality of the gods of a nation.

Bottom line: when a man becomes endowed with legal personhood (positive, public status) as a United States citizen he loses his manhood, for it is covered by personhood, and the unalienable rights of the man can no longer be recognized in negativity within positive law jurisdiction. Man's persona destroys his spiritual Self-respect.

Acceptance and use (confirmation) of citizenship is consent to alienation (positively forced rights), for the blood is seen only as tainted. No blood, no Jehovah (Source). Man is thus purchased (conquered) by the safety and security so warned against by so many wise men and by the scriptural teachings. For all citizens are hirelings. Prostitutes to those who constituted.

When it comes to the artificial person (office) of the pope, as the anti- (in the stead of) christ, his corporation sole's objective is to judge (doom) us all into his fictional "church" and city-state (district), not to save us individually from judgement. This is in contradistinction to the clearly stated mission of Jesus christ, who's objective is to lead man to God through spiritual avoidance out of such artifice (evil) and to parabolically teach each man of his own folly and potential fall into fiction, where only God's wrath of judgement may follow his own responsible or irresponsible actions, both upon the man and especially on his posterity (children). The pope is no savior, just a cheap, artfully anointed simulation of the Real. And a similitude is never sameness in any form of law... that is, unless we agree, consent, confirm, and ratify the big legal lie.

When we read this papal bull, Unum Sanctum declares the Catholic corporation (church) as divine over all of the Creation of Jehovah, setting itself up to be the controller of God's Created Creatures, which as we will learn refers to us as naturals and monsters, the mass of illiterate, goyim, public, general animals; as unregenerate and unrepentant sons of Adam (man-kind/hu-man persons), not the sons of God. For fictional persons are not an act or creation of God (Jehovah), but an act of sovereign magistrates (kings). The gods created Adam, not Jehovah, for Adam is but a name for all of mankind, male and female. And the third person title of "mankind" (the entire public mass) is certainly not a several (private) individual man of (Creation of) God, only an artificial person (body politic) including all men that choose a false persona.

— = —

"Urged by faith, we are obliged to believe and to maintain that the Church is one, holy, catholic, and also apostolic. We believe in her firmly and we confess with simplicity THAT OUTSIDE OF HER THERE IS NEITHER SALVATION NOR THE REMISSION OF SINS, as the Spouse in the Canticles [Sgs 6:8] proclaims: 'One is my dove, my perfect one. She is the only one, the chosen of her who bore her,' and she represents one sole MYSTICAL BODY WHOSE HEAD IS CHRIST AND THE HEAD OF CHRIST IS GOD [1 Cor 11:3]. IN HER THEN IS ONE LORD, one faith, one baptism [Eph 4:5]..."

"...Therefore, of the one and only Church THERE IS ONE BODY AND ONE HEAD, not two heads like a monster; that is, CHRIST AND THE VICAR OF CHRIST, PETER AND THE SUCCESSOR OF PETER, since the Lord speaking to Peter Himself said: 'Feed my sheep' [Jn 21:17], meaning, my sheep in general, not these, nor those in particular, whence we understand that HE ENTRUSTED ALL TO HIM [Peter]..."

"We are informed by the texts of the gospels that in this Church and in its power are two swords; namely, the spiritual and the temporal... BOTH, THEREFORE, ARE IN THE POWER OF THE CHURCH, that is to say, the spiritual and the material sword, but the former is to be administered FOR the Church but the latter BY the Church; the former in the hands of the priest; the latter by the hands of kings and soldiers, but at the will and sufferance of the priest.

"However, one sword ought to be subordinated to the other AND TEMPORAL AUTHORITY, SUBJECTED TO SPIRITUAL POWER. For since the Apostle said: 'THERE IS NO POWER EXCEPT FROM GOD and the things that are, are ordained of God' [Rom 13:1-2], but they would not be ordained if one sword were not subordinated to the other and if the inferior one, as it were, were not led upwards by the other."

"For, according to the Blessed Dionysius, it is a law of the divinity that the lowest things reach the highest place by intermediaries. Then, according to the order of the universe, all things are not led back to order equally and immediately, but the lowest by the intermediary, and the inferior by the superior. Hence we must recognize the more clearly that spiritual power surpasses in dignity and in nobility any temporal power whatever, as spiritual things surpass the temporal..."

—UNAM SANCTUM, Bull of Pope Boniface VIII promulgated November 18, 1302

—=—

I wondered at why the character Dionysius was to be considered as blessed by the pope and why his doctrinal law was to be placed higher than scripture. Here is what I found:

—=—

Dionysius:

(Devoted to Dionysus, i.e., Bacchus) the Areopagite (Acts 17:34) an eminent Athenian, converted to Christianity by the preaching of St. Paul (A.D. 52) He is said to have been FIRST BISHOP of Athens. The writings which were once attributed to him are NOW CONFESSED TO BE THE PRODUCTION OF SOME NEO-PLATONISTS OF THE SIXTH CENTURY.

—Smith's Bible Dictionary

—=—

To be clear, the Roman Empire and its Church (corporation/artificial person) has declared that the only way to God is through the Catholic Godhead (antichrist). So the only way to the Source of Nature is through the pope? This means that the reader must believe in (be in love with) the Pope (as vicar of God and as the now anointed, living christos) and that the elected office of Pope is actually God incarnate. We must love the corporate office of Pope as if it were vicariously and thus actually God supplanted upon Earth, no matter which man nor how many good or bad men occupy that elected (by other men) corporate office. We must love evil (artifice) to reach good (Jehovah). This is the power of love (belief), both in the dark and by the light, and that false love (belief) is the only power of that popish Caesar. This is completely opposite of scripture, to say the least.

Jesus (“Jehovah is salvation”) = Son = Word of God = Jehovah.

No man fits into this equation, for no man alone nor even all men together can be the Totality of all that is in the Oneness of Existence that is Jehovah. And yet all men are invited to pick up their stake (or vulgarly, their cross) and be the Son through the following of the Word (Son) as the only Law.

—=—

“For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. FOR THERE IS ONE GOD, AND ONE MEDIATOR BETWEEN GOD AND MEN, THE MAN CHRIST JESUS; Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.”

—1 Timothy 2: 3-6

—=—

“Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; BELIEVE IT NOT. FOR THERE SHALL ARISE FALSE CHRISTS, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.”

— Matthew 24: 23-24, KJB

—=—

“That we may be altogether of the same mind and in conformity... if [the Church] shall have DEFINED anything to be black which to our eyes appears to be white, we ought in like manner TO PRONOUNCE IT TO BE BLACK... I will BELIEVE that THE WHITE THAT I SEE IS BLACK IF THE HIERARCHICAL CHURCH SO DEFINES IT.”

—Ignatius of Loyola, first Jesuit General of the Jesuit Order

—=—

Jesus was not merely a vulgar, historical figure that lived and died only to be read about like George Washington to justify a corrupt system he was founder of, for christ was neither a fiction or a non-fiction character to be debated upon by arrogant men with only political power and by those commoners without knowledge of their own spiritual power that christ exemplifies (personifies), and he was certainly not a “natural” person of man’s political (legal) creation. For if God is the timelessness and pricelessness of all things without name and without beginning or end, then how can christ be a part of the timeline of man’s history? How can the Son of God be the false creation of man’s legal fiction as all “persons” (legal statuses) are? How can the pope claim Jesus as being “a person” when God as the Reality and very Life of Nature (verb) absolutely and under no circumstances Creates nor respects any artificial thing or fictional persona in Nature (Reality), let alone any such flattering title attached to fictional persons such as the sole corporation of pope? These temporary names and titles are simply foreign to Jehovah (the Supreme and Permanent Being of self-evident Existence).

The answer is clear. Man is mortal, but incorporated personhood is (fictionally) immortal. If christ can be made only to be respected as the title of a man who lived and died in man’s written, vulgar timeline of history among the common people (goyim), and especially as an anointed fictional persona (creation) in the nativity of man’s law, then any “qualified” man may acquire and claim such an anointment so as to play as a titled “Christ” character in office and thus continuously re-create and re-indoctrinate the Word of God and present more and more “bull” in that vicarious office as the pope or other false gods of the nations. In other words, while the man lives and dies, the person (flattering title) may be passed on forever. Thus these antichrists seek to separate the mortal man (Creation) from the immortal title, turning it into a legal, ecclesiastical consideration only and so that this temporal title (crown) can be passed on through a so-called “spiritual jurisdiction” and be ceremonially placed upon the next heir-apparent spiritual body (living man). And so the office of Christ never dies. The history and essentially fabled genealogy of Jesus christ is carried forth immortally through men who claim to be the vicar/replacement of (anti-) christ. This is descriptive of each doctrine of each denominated, legally accepted and incorporated “religion,” each having nothing of the intent of God’s Word among them.

But all of this pomp and circumstance has nothing to do with the scriptures. For it seems the one most important aspect of christ was forgotten in all of these false religious indoctrinations. They forgot or ignored that the Son is only the Word of God. We are not to worship the man or the person of “christ” in mere name or title only, we are to worship the Word (Son). To respect the personification of christ in Its narrative form over the substance of the spoken Words and Laws of Nature delivered through that personification of Jesus is the ultimate folly and fallacious misstep of man, and of course just what the church teaches. In short, there is and can be no “official” vicar of christ according to the scriptural teachings, for all men are supposed to vicariously govern themselves through the teachings of the Son (Word).

And as long as the commonalty, as the multitude of goyim of the nations can be made to believe not in their own individual ability to manifest the power of God’s Word of Law through following in christ’s actions (the individual personification of God’s Word/Law) to live in timeless immortality (without name, birthdate, title, or any secular fiction of church and state), but instead can be led by the false, corporately denominated “Christian” religions of the secular world through which all roads lead to Rome, then the pope and other vicars can claim us all as victims, as the respecters of time and money in name and title, and as worshipers of all the lies that make up this goliath antichrist fiction. More importantly, the common people of the nations are led by the church to believe that christ in person will return as a man, as God, and so never realize that only through our own christ-like actions (works) may christ be manifested to defeat these already established and ordained governments and religions of antichrist. And so we wait upon a false timeline of future history for the person of a savior to come, forgetting the Timeless Nature of God’s Word (Son).

Hope, and especially false hope with no end, is the greatest weapon of the ages, used by evil men to cause otherwise good men from toppling over their false empires by the power and authority of christ’s name (anointment) as the Law of God. In this way, through the power of hope, fiction (satan) rules over Reality (God).

—=—

“In every country and in every age, THE PRIEST HAS BEEN HOSTILE TO LIBERTY. HE IS ALWAYS IN ALLIANCE WITH THE DESPOT, abetting his abuses IN RETURN FOR PROTECTION TO HIS OWN. IT IS ERROR ALONE THAT NEEDS THE SUPPORT OF GOVERNMENT. TRUTH CAN STAND BY ITSELF.”

—Thomas Jefferson, from a letter to Horatio Spofford, 1814

—=—

It should be quite clear here why the Bible exclaims to accept no other doctrines or gods before that which is the Purest Truth (Faith) and Design of Reality in Nature as “Jehovah.” And it should be very clear why all religious wars and crimes have nothing to do with the scriptural teachings of christ in the Bible.

Let us consult the scriptures, comparing the bullish words of the pope (above) with the Word (Son) of God:

—=—

“My brethren, HAVE NOT THE FAITH OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, the Lord of glory, WITH RESPECT OF PERSONS.”

—James 2:1, KJB

—=—

“And if ye call on THE FATHER, WHO WITHOUT RESPECT OF PERSONS JUDGETH ACCORDING TO EVERY MAN'S WORK, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear...

—1 Peter 1:17, KJB

—=—

Acting through the Holy See... in other words, acting through an artificial person.

It is important to note that there are no men in legal history, only persons and flattering titles. Form without substance. No man can be known by his recorded history. Only his promoted persona and fabled reputation of either heroic or dastardly deeds, and perhaps some clever quotations might be actually said to be history. Likewise, the personification of the Word and Law of God as Jesus christ in the Bible stands at best as a history of christ. These religions worship only the empty form and image of christ, and often the dead and bleeding one nailed upon a cross, while teaching that the substance of christ can only be found in its own halls and under its own priest-class. But we must always remember that the substance of christ can only be manifested in each of us individually, and that using any type of history as proof of anything can only be a legal, artificial action upon man's own created timeline. And so christ's Existence can only be Truly shown through christ-like actions of men, not through some false doctrine, image, throne, or alter.

The fraud perpetrated by this corporate officer of the municipal corporation (city) of the Vatican is so patently wrong, so provably fallible, so absolutely and unmistakably not supported by the scriptures, that his words can only be considered as adversarial (satanic) to the very God he pretends to be vicar of.

And yet if christ was not a man, a human in persona, and only the Word (Son) of God, then the office of pope could have not been created. For man to play the part of God, the essence and purpose of God must be devolved into a mere man (person) in vulgar consideration. Only then might popes and kings and queens claim to be the legitimate heir of christ's spiritual-turned-secular/temporal throne in sole incorporation. And as we will see, these false, vicarious christ characters do also claim the fabled genealogy of another god, man sitting enthroned as the land-lord, as anointed lord god of the nation...

—=—

“Even as I swear unto thee by the LORD (Jehovah) God (Elohiym) of Israel (name of a nation), saying, Assuredly SOLOMON THY SON SHALL REIGN AFTER ME, and he shall sit upon my throne IN MY STEAD; even so will I certainly do this day.”

—1 Kings 1:30, KJB

—=—

Though God's Word is clear that God's Kingdom is nothing built by the hands of man, the popes and kings (and queens) of this world are clear that the opposite is also somehow true, trying desperately to rebuild the physical third temple of Ezekiel in Israel in these modern times. And all the gods of the kingdoms (nations) of men have one sole purpose, to establish and ordain a posterity of blood in Order that the temporal kingdom may be passed to the next heir in perpetuity of office (crown), the next idolatrous god to take the throne being the bloodline son (word) as the recorded genealogical issue (son) of the father.

“One perfect sole...”

Note that this word soul is not used here in reference to anything spiritual or to the SOUL of man or God's Creation, but to what is called a corporation SOLE. As opposed to an aggregate corporation, which generally consists of a directing board and stockholders (as multiple “natural” persons), a corporation sole is purely individual, a corporation of one, though nonetheless a corporation and thus still only an artificial person in purely corporate (fictional) title. One man, one sole. But the sole is rubber, and thus repulsive to the energy and harmony of God's Nature. For the corporation sole never touches God's Creation, its fictional nature being a barrier to its grounding. It must be forced, as history certainly reveals.

Oh, how I wish this were just clever rhetoric...

Examples of corporation's sole include that of the Mormon (LDS) church, whose president is legally incorporated as a (private) corporation sole in its articles of incorporation entitled "The Corporation of the President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints," as well as a second corporation sole entitled "The Corporation of the Presiding Bishop of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints" for that office. Each new man acting in the office of president of this artificial person (legalized religion) is affectionately called as “the Prophet,” and it would be quite an understatement to exclaim that the Mormons have their own doctrines separate from the scriptures.

—=—

“And behold, I AM CALLED MORMON, BEING CALLED AFTER THE LAND of Mormon, The land in the which Alma did ESTABLISH the church among this people: Yea, the first church which was established among them after their transgression.”

—Mormon 1:5, Book of Mormon

— = —

God is called only as I AM.

The Book of Mormon is titled after a man from a land (city) on which an incorporate church (body politic) was established, as “I AM Mormon.” Is this not obviously a doctrine created after the Bible scriptures and thus are we not duly instructed to respect it not, regardless of its claimed history (his story)? Is this not a god and word (law) taken before that of Jehovah?

The “Archbishop of Canterbury” is also an office held by a current living man corporately (artificially) clothed in the corporation sole that is that corporate title. The office of Pope and the office of Queen and King of England and of the United Kingdom are also in the form of corporation’s sole, where the current monarch carries a different corporate shell wherever she may travel. Elizabeth II currently presents her fictional self as the corporation sole entitled “Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the United Kingdom” in her most general artifice (office), though when she visits for political reasons the individual states of that kingdom, her titled corporation will change into “Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Canada,” “Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Australia,” and even more specifically or locally as the corporation’s sole entitled “Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Queensland” and “Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Alberta,” etc. These are merely artificial persons. And we must not forget that these words used as titles of land masses are not land masses at all, but merely crown corporations and jurisdictions in commerce with no tangible aspect at all. Just words on paper and territories outlined on maps in legally created treaties. They are all fictions, just as all the cities, counties, states, and districts of the United States exist only on paper. This is the big legal lie.

The “Lord Mayor of London” is also a corporation sole, as are many offices both secular and ecclesiastical, including the “Minister of the Government” of the Republic of Ireland and all “Vicars,” “Bishops,” and “Deans” of the church of England. Where allowed by state laws, each parish priest in the Catholic church is also a separate corporation sole. Of course, the “Registrar General,” as keeper of public records for the “taxed” and registered populous, is also in the form of a corporation sole.

In the end, while never forgetting that a corporation is ever anything but an artificial person and thus NEVER respected by Jehovah, the corporation sole is designed by man to separate the holdings of the sole fictional and financial officer (title) of the corporation from the personal holdings of the man inhabiting that office, just like any other corporation separates the corporate holdings from the “natural persons” that incorporated it into one artificial person (corporation). The wealth of the crown and of these corporate churches and kingdoms is placed into the corporation sole and so is under the protection of the secular laws of the ecclesia (false spiritual jurisdiction), while the title of that office gives a false, unspiritual immortality to the office itself (as a corporation sole), where the possessions of the crown and papal holdings can be passed in legacy to each new office holder in legal trust. Thus the “Pope” as a flattering title never legally dies, and so the temporal, vicarious god for which the papal office claims to be also never legally dies in its corporate personhood. This is the Real story of the immortality of the gods (vicars) from the dawn of history. For the man, but not the office, is a mere mortal. Only fiction can pretend a man to be immortal through legal title. While the man (office-holder) may wither away and be replaced, the office (legacy) remains.

But with all of this seeming grandeur and spectacle, presented in ceremonial robes and jeweled crowns amidst the ridiculous extravagance and expense of “sacred” (cursed) galas and gluttony (all of which are forbidden in the Bible) and paid for through public tax, tithing, and exaction methods, we must only realize one ultimately important notion... God respects no person, no exception, which all corporations are. This is an overwhelmingly important lesson taught in virtually every book of the Bible. Persons (all corporations and false id-entities) are always artificial designs when compared to God’s Nature.

Thus, all of God’s living ecosystem of Creation, including all of living man, is re-presented into this fictional legal realm through dead names and flattering (artificial) titles, where the substance is separated from the form and disregarded in consideration of the legal law. The church assigns this duty in modern times to secular, so-called “Christian” legal governments (the nations), all of which are subordinate to the church’s false “spiritual” authority and jurisdiction created by false moral agents (actors). Again, these are the tenets of law, that the government power and its legal law is inferior to the spiritual law, that Law of Nature attributed to God. The only problem is that the pope claims to be as God’s replacement, and so is respected in the stead of and vicariously as the personification of Jehovah (God).

In short, man’s individual spiritual connection to God and Nature is made subordinate through fiction to the will of the Head of the corporations of church and state.

SUBORDINATE - adjective - [Latin sub and ordinatus, from ordo, order.] 1. INFERIOR IN ORDER, IN NATURE, IN DIGNITY, IN POWER, IMPORTANCE, etc.; as subordinate officers. It was subordinate not enslaved, to the understanding. 2. Descending in a regular series. The SEVERAL kinds and subordinate SPECIES of each, are easily distinguished. - verb transitive - TO PLACE IN ORDER OR RANK BELOW SOMETHING ELSE; to make or consider as of less value or importance; as, to subordinate one creature to another; TO SUBORDINATE TEMPORAL TO SPIRITUAL THINGS. 1. TO MAKE SUBJECT; as, to subordinate the passions to reason. (Webs1828)

SUB - A Latin preposition, denoting UNDER or BELOW, used in English as a prefix, to express a subordinate DEGREE. Before f and p it is changed into those letters, as in SUFFER, and SUPPOSE; and before m, into that letter, as in SUMMON. (Webs1828)

ORDINATE - verb transitive - TO APPOINT. [Not used.] - adjective - [Latin ordinatus.] REGULAR; METHODICAL. An ordinate figure is one whose sides and angles are equal... (Webs1828)

SUMMON - verb transitive [Latin submoneo; sub and moneo.] 1. To call, cite or notify by authority TO APPEAR AT A PLACE SPECIFIED, OR TO ATTEND IN PERSON TO SOME PUBLIC DUTY, or both; as, to summon a jury; to summon witnesses. The parliament is summoned by the king's writ or letter. Nor trumpets summon him to war. 2. TO GIVE NOTICE TO A PERSON TO APPEAR IN COURT AND DEFEND. 3. TO CALL OR COMMAND. Love, duty, safety summon us away. 4. To call up; TO EXCITE INTO ACTION OR EXERTION; with up. Summon up all your strength or courage. Stiffen the sinews, summon up the blood. (Webs1828)

— = —

The author wishes to clarify that only demons can be summoned. But do not fall prey to the fictional stories and silly tales of the organized church. Do not let the fear of the false corporate church deny you from what is the True fear of God, which is a good thing. Only the persons of men can be summoned to court, through which the man is being voluntarily (via contract) led in his actions by his consented to demon (false persona). The demon (false persona) is being pulled towards its master, and the demon is attached to the mind, body, and soul of the master's victim when summoned to its court. This word demon is not a religious word per se, only another reference to what evil actually is, which is all that is artificial, all that is not of Nature as God's Creation. When we appear in court, we do so in the name of the state, as the agent for the principal of the status (persona) we operate commercially in within the systems of the god of mammon. This is no joke!

Ultimately, all courts are the king's (sovereign's) court, whether that king be the Pope or a subordinate monarchy, a dictator, or a bloodline of many People within a body politic we call the sovereignty. All these are the gods, and all are kings (sovereigns), meaning they have no law (or God) above them. And all men in surety may be summoned by the governing ordinates of the sovereign to appear before the corporate creator of, and thus in the subjective person of the legal god in agency.

Personhood turns the objective liberty of man into a distrained subject of the state.

SUBJECTIVE - adjective - Relating to the subject, AS OPPOSED TO THE OBJECT. Certainty--is distinguished into objective and subjective; objective, is when the proposition is certainly TRUE OF ITSELF; and subjective is WHEN WE ARE CERTAIN OF THE TRUTH OF IT. (Webs1828)

OBJECTIVE - adjective - 1. BELONGING TO THE OBJECT; contained in the object. Objective certainty, is when the proposition is certainly true in itself; and subjective, when we are certain of the truth of it. THE ONE IS IN THINGS, THE OTHER IN OUR MINDS. 2. In grammar, the objective case is that which follows a transitive verb or a preposition; that case in which the object of the verb is placed, when produced or affected by the act expressed by the verb. This case in English answers to the oblique cases of the Latin. (Webs1828)

—=—

We must always remember that the Reality of anything (as Creation) can be perceptibly altered by a false truth told about it, and that false truth can even be made into a false god (idol), as the gods of the nations and of the Crown. A subject (person) is not an object (man). Man's True Existence needs no proof, for it is self-evident, and needs no declaration. I am that I am. Only the person of man, that false persona as the status, reputation, and fictional character of the man need be proven as a "truth." But the legal persona can only ever be subjective; a fiction of the mind. And the lesson to be learned is that we objectify that which is subjective, as if the subject is the actual object, and live our lives accordingly in said subjection. We ignore Reality in lieu of its fictional re-presentation. We believe in (love) evil even as we live a backwards life in our own, kidnapped mirror image.

God's Creation is objective, for Its Truth is in Its actual Essence of Existence. God's Creation (Reality) is True in and of Itself, needing no proof thereof in its state of self-evidence. And so the mirror image of what is objective is what is legally considered as a creation of and thus subject of legal laws, which we may call as the artificial reflection or "persona" and name (noun) of the Real thing. The person (surname) of man is always subjective to another man as its principal/master, and man's bonded surety in performance debt to it causes himself to also become subject to the law of persons, for he is no longer considered as an object of God, only an agent of some archaic principality.

—=—

“In the sentence, ‘Truth is lovely,’ which word is the name of something we cannot see, but can think of? Answer: TRUTH. SINCE THE WORD NOUN MEANS NAME, what is a noun?”

“Sec. 3. A Noun is THE NAME OF ANYTHING; as Henry, boy, Ohio, book, TRUTH.”

—Pinneo's Primary Grammar of the English Language for beginners.

— = —

The truth is, in other words, either the Reality of anything or the established name (noun) of anything. One is self-evident, one is a fiction never seen yet acknowledged and respected as legal evidence. It is when the name is respected as higher than that which is self-evident in Nature, such as the name of man's legal person (status), that hell is manifested. And if it isn't obvious to the senses, through language arts we have created hell on earth and support it with our respect of its names. This understanding is key to waking up from these fictional chains. For only we can cause heaven to manifest in opposition to this debtor's hell of word magic and illusion.

A man of God is an object, while his fictional persona (strawman) is a matter of subject. A verb (action) is objective to its initiator, while a noun (name) is subjective to its legal creator. The name (noun) form of the substance of a verb is thus property of the one who registers the name, which is always government or a legal person (agent) thereof. Therefore the actions of the object must be under the law of that which subjects him. This is to say that a living man under God (the verbosity of action that is Life itself) subordinates his re-presented “self” when he takes a state-issued surname attached to his “christian name” in supra, by which man becomes only an artificial truth legally considered in the temporal (legal) realm. That which belongs to the public persona (the name), belongs to the creator of that person, whereas the private man's possessions belong to him and him alone. Thus, a private man's self is objectively and subjectively also his own, while a man's pretended public persona (legal version of self) is property of (in subjection to) the state, only re-presenting the object that is man as a legal fiction in surety to the subject.

Sovereignty is nothing more than privacy. For that which is private is above (supra to) the public law of man. A person can only exist as a fictional “truth” (a confirmed legal lie) considered in legal law (its creator) when the man plays the subject and forgoes his objectivity in lieu of the legal benefits he may obtain through the use of the state's fictional persona (status, number, name, class, species, and rank) as its subject. The object that is a man of God disappears behind the subject-matter he pretends to be or legally own; the fictional characterization of a legal (artificial) birth. The actor becomes convinced he is the part he plays. And the most important law is this: we cannot be seen or recognized as private men of God when we are participating as actors in public persona. God cannot protect legal persons, for God respects no artifice and especially no person.

Notice the distinction between man's self as an objective or subjective occurrence and “fact.” Our selfishness references our seeking to enrich our self over that of others. But the outward self is always a persona, a reputation, the ego formed by the id-entity, and a subject of our own imaginary perceptions of our own Reality and place in God's Nature. Thus when we are tricked into identifying with our false self-projection (our disconnected second self as a false persona used only for public show) instead of as part of the humble abundance of God's Creation of Permanent and Supreme Being, we may then and only then be tricked by the word magic of these false magistrate gods, who personify our actual self into legally existing entities (the living dead). Man may own nothing of God's Creation. Only a legal fiction, a person, may attach its name to another fictional name (noun) and claim false ownership. And so the strawman is borne by and through our own blindness and perpetrated egotistical attitude and ignorance of our own True Nature.

—=—

“Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.”

—Acts 20:26, KJB

—=—

In this verse, the word “I” is translated into english from Strong's G1473 - egō - having the general meaning of I, me, and my as a primary pronoun of the 1st person. Most importantly though, it carries the notion of antithesis, which specifically means form without substance. A mirror image, a simulation, but not the real deal.

ANTITHESIS - noun - [Gr. from, to place.] 1. In rhetoric, AN OPPOSITION OF WORDS OR SENTIMENTS; CONTRAST; as, 'When our vices leave us, we flatter ourselves we leave them.' 'The prodigal robs his heir, the miser robs himself.' 'Excess of ceremony shows want of breeding.' Liberty with laws, and government without oppression.' 2. OPPOSITION OF OPINIONS; controversy. (Webs1828)

ANTITHETICAL - adjective - Pertaining to antithesis, or opposition of words and sentiments; CONTAINING OR ABOUNTING WITH ANTITHESIS. (Webs1828)

—=—

The English language in its popular, general, and common formation is antithetical to the terms of art of the legal language and vice versa. It is a language designed to cause illiteracy, not in understanding but in antithesis to that language which is spoken and regarded as higher in legal settings. The word legal is antithetical to God's Nature and Reality. Everything in legality is a lie, where nothing is self-evident and the lie is more sacred than the Truth. This is the very definition of satanism. And make no mistake that all of these words and flattering titles are man-made.

Both the prodigal and the miser live in fear of poverty instead of in Being simply in the Natural fear of God, the first spending his forefather's fortunes for fear of the reputation of poverty while the second remaining miserably wealthy, hoarding his prize at the destitution and poverty of all others. And like all false dialectics, neither of these states of false being are of God any more than the love of money that causes their condition is. Most of us are caught some place between these two extremes in opposition to the Natural Law and regardless of our estate, flattering ourselves that our respect, consent, habits, customs, licenses, and general conformity to the evils of this legal system of mammon are a good thing.

When we state in public and legal settings that I am “the person of another,” we are taking the role of a fictional character in 3rd person and pretending it to be as a replacement (anti-) for our 1st person (Real Self), vainly feigning to blame the fiction for whatever is lacking in our own responsibilities and duties under any moral code. We act not in the verb of actual and spiritual Being but in the noun (name) of another. For legal purposes, we not only become the strawman in our false legal appearance and standing in make-believe, but also in our own minds and bodies as we stand and act soullessly in the surety of the performance contract and debt implied by such usage of the person (strawman) of another. We become the fiction in our minds. We believe the legal matrix is Real. Our ego takes over to justify the false id-entity that is the commercial legal entity of the state, and our whole personality becomes that of exactly what our masters wish us to become, like puppets on strings, acting only commercially as automatons without moral conscious. Like renting a car, we must follow the terms of use and laws relating to the vessel (person) we rent. No legal law may attach to any man lest that man allow his christian name to be artificially (as a contracted dis-ease) attached to some master's legal surname (last name) and thus fall under the authority of the legal creator (god) of that person (vessel/status) and its binding law. A man without a person may receive no governmental benefits or positive law consumer protections. And even the legal term “illegal alien” causes any man to be considered in a fictional status and be treated according to that flattering title, which means that he may in-deed receive legal benefits through that status.

Again, public education ensures this public-mindedness via citizen-slavement. We are taught how to behave publicly, not privately. We are driven away from scriptural teachings and steered toward fiction. For we are trained not to act as ourselves, but as the patented copy of the self of another; a case of mistaken identity, as one that may fit in to the social network of that legal matrix of the public realm and artifice of law. We operate only as unnatural personifications of our True Nature, thus we abandon all “Natural” Rights and protections of the Highest Law.

SELF - ...3. Self is SOMETIMES AS A NOUN, noting THE INDIVIDUAL SUBJECT TO HIS OWN CONTEMPLATION OR ACTION, or noting IDENTITY OF PERSON. Consciousness makes everyone to be what he calls self. A man's self may be the worst fellow to converse with in the world. 4. It also signifies personal interest, or love of private interest; SELFISHNESS. The fondness we have for self furnishes another long rank of prejudices. Self is much used in composition. (Webs1828)

—=—

We are either ourself or we are operating in the self of another person. We either identify as God’s Creation or as the creation of false gods. The public school system ensures the later, and from corporate birth we are trained to err as hu-man and assume ourselves to be the person of another.

MISTAKEN - In the use of this participle, there is a peculiarity which ought to be carefully noticed. WHEN USED OF PERSONS, it signified TO BE IN AN ERROR, TO BE WRONG; as, I am mistaken, you are mistaken, he is mistaken. But when used of THINGS, it signified MISUNDERSTOOD, MISCONCEIVED; as, the sense of the passage is mistaken that is, NOT RIGHTLY UNDERSTOOD. (Webs1828)

IDENTITY - noun - Sameness, as DISTINGUISHED FROM SIMILITUDE AND DIVERSITY. We speak of the identity of goods found, the identity OF PERSONS, or OF PERSONAL IDENTITY. (Webs1828)

—=—

Mis-taken sameness.

A person is always and without exception a mis-taken identity, for the person is not the Reality of each of us as Creations of God in Nature. The person is never the same as its model and vital statistics. The pope, for instance, as merely a man, legally represents the quite purposefully mistaken id-ENTITY of God and christ (the Word of God). The verb (God/Word) is personified (named/noun) into a legal office (person). However, we individually take an id-ENTITY upon our selves voluntarily without comprehension of the effect of our actions thereof. The id-ENTITY we use, which is the property of the United States (or other governments), can only ever be a mis-taken identity when compared to the man of God wielding that false ID. The maxim of law, which protectively states that similitude is not sameness (personhood is not manhood, and public is not private), is cancelled out once man consents by his use of the identification of that public persona (admixed surname) assigned to him by the state as a “protected” (insured) vessel for interstate commercial purposes. Respect of the person is respect of the state (principal corporation/artificial person). The similitude is considered artificially as permissible sameness under legal law by the actions of the man playing the part of the character (fictional person). The law of persons applies to the man acting as surety in person, as the agent to the principal of that commercial personhood. The man is bound to the artificially projected self image. His is no longer himself but the self of another. He is virtually plugged in to the legal matrix.

—=—

“The SELF is not something ready-made, but something in continuous formation THROUGH CHOICE OF ACTION.”

—John Dewey

—=—

“An heir is ANOTHER SELF, and a son is PART OF THE FATHER.”

—HACRES EST ALTER IPSE, ET FILIUS EST PARS PATRIS. 3 Coke, 12b. (Black4)

—=—

The self is a funny thing. It is used by impersonation, controlled by the legal marks and status placed upon it, and then reassigned to each of us as a legal, fictional persona. The self is what drives us like a puppet on another's strings, and so if the self adheres to man's law instead of to God's in Pure Love and Charity then the id/ego sequence results, as the ego tries to rule over and justify the false id-entity.

To act in per-son is to act as part of the artificial (legal) father. Thus a U.S. citizenship is only part of the whole body and operates solely to benefit his principal (father). But the lawful heir in blood consideration is as a separate soul, as one's own self not acting per the artful son (status) of another. Public vs. private.

Self is also the forth word in the Bible, though you would never know it through modern translation. The word 'eth' as used in Genesis 1:1 is defined in Strong's Concordance as "NOT TRANSLATED," but states that it is: "apparently contracted from H226 (i.e. sign, mark, token) in the demonstrative sense of ENTITY; properly, SELF (but generally used to point out more definitely the object of a verb or preposition, even or NAMELY):—[as such UNREPRESENTED IN ENGLISH]." The lexicons also speak of its meaning as "self, or this SAME, and is used "reflectively." Set before other words it signifies the sense of "the thing itself, the SAME thing, or this thing." One thing for sure we can say is that this form of communication virtually died with its Roman speaker, in the sense that its practice is not used today in common dog-Latin language structure. But fascinatingly this word is used each time in the Old Testament when one character "begets" another (son or daughter), when Adam "knew" Eve, and its wording of H226 is used when Cain was "marked," implying these were not new characters but new legalistic or artificial personality traits for the original personification of the parabolic character's identity, as an alter-ego or influenced self (false persona). And indeed we find that each "name" of each new begotten character in the Bible has a specific personality trait as the meaning of its name, such as the word/name Jesus in its meaning of "Jehovah is salvation."

And so, to put a crude translation together, the first verse of "Genesis" reads as the following: in the beginning (re'shiyth), the gods/magistrates ('elohiym) created (bara') the entity ('eth) the "heavens" (shamayim) and the entity ('eth) the "earth" ('erets).

So the archons, the legal gods and landlords, created (named) the same entity as "heaven" and the same entity as "Earth" in similitude?

Sounds suspiciously like they (false gods) created the legal fiction, a jurisdiction, a reflection, a simulation, a virtual reality of the heavens and the earth as a false legal creation in similitude but not of course in sameness, which is really all that men pretending to be magisterial gods can create. In other words, they formed the genesis of organized legal government. And of course, God has no beginning and no end, is timeless, and so to base the "beginning" of Life's Existence on the timeline of Earth's "creation" is not in synch with the notion of the verb and conceptuality of the Permanence without beginning or end of Jehovah. The earth is not all things, either, and so its "creation" as the beginning of time seems a bit disingenuous, unless we consider that this was the creation of man's system of fiction and false law by "creators" we called as the gods (plural elohiym as used in Genesis). Only man operates his fictions in the time and calendar domain, not Jehovah. And so this gives us a lot to ponder, if nothing else, and certainly changes the meaning and intent of this "creation" story to one not of Source, not of Nature, and certainly not of "God" as the Creator Jehovah. It certainly cannot and should not be dismissed, and I would invite the reader to explore these translations thoroughly. More on this in future volumes.

We are all fooled by this word magic while acting unwittingly as public persons (each in our artificial, legally projected selves), believing that the word personal carries the same connotation as the word private. But personal does not necessarily mean private. Its application depends on the legal status by which that false persona re-presents itself. A public person is property, having no right to privacy other than that accorded by the creator government (creator/god of that fictional person as a legal status and mark), such as the personal right of copyright and patent, which is only property of the state with exclusive use given to the surety for a limited time only in that temporary fictional persona (surname) and jurisdiction (domain), often until legal death or for a certain time, such as a legally set and enforced 70 years based on the Roman calendar of time. Personal information is merely information pertaining to the character and reputation of the fictional entity we legally call as a "natural person," which in turn is only the property of the State used by an agent in commerce between third parties. Therefore, personal information is not private, and is in fact public information in the public domain - an act of informing by the man acting in the person (commercial vessel) of the United States. Thus all court cases are published (public) when they involve public persons of the United States, while private affairs are not privy to such public (published) scrutiny.

Truly private information, on the other hand, is that which is opposed to personal information. Private information is secret information; that which is not public and which is not registered (taxed) or published (publicized). All Creations of God (as Jehovah) are private. Only the names and descriptions legally forced upon and imaginarily (legally) attached to God's Creation are public and personal. For all of God's Creation in Nature must be personified (named, numbered, tagged, and redefined) before the name can be made into property; before Creation can be legalized. The self, the mirror image, must be personified into a pretended, 3 dimensional legal form of fiction and thus the man must be trained and educated to believe in his legal self over the Reality he is.

A man is legalized when a persona is attached voluntarily to his Nature, or in other words, when a debtor surname or "last" name and other marks and signs are attached to his good, christian "first" name in a contract of performance under law. For man is a term of Nature, and person is a term of art.

While God is the Creator of all Nature, including man, an entity that creates fictional persons is thus an artist, or more accurately, an artificer. And this is the strange legal process of begetting or birthing, of the legalization (re-creation) of the Natural self, the creation of fictional persons whose father is only ever the legal nation.

ARTIFICER - noun - [Latin artifex, from ars, and facio.] 1. An artist; a mechanic or manufacturer; one whose occupation requires skill or knowledge of a particular kind; as a silversmith, or sadler. 2. One who MAKES or CONTRIVES; an INVENTOR; AS AN ARTIFICER OF FRAUD OR LIES. 3. A cunning, or artful fellow. [not used.] (Webs1828)

LEGALIZE - verb transitive - 1. TO MAKE LAWFUL; TO RENDER CONFORMABLE TO LAW; TO AUTHORIZE. What can legalize revenge? 2. TO SANCTION; TO GIVE THE AUTHORITY OF LAW TO THAT WHICH IS DONE WITHOUT LAW OR AUTHORITY. Irregular proceedings may be legalized by a subsequent act of the legislature. (Webs1828)

—=—

It is difficult to come to the only Truth, but arriving there is the only way to be free within It. The Truth of the legal person, that legally personified and licensed artificial, existential self, is that its sole purpose is to sin under the protection of man's law. For a person is always artificial, and so a man acting in the person of another is always untrue to his own Nature, and therefore unfaithful to God. For Faith and Truth are the same words. Truth can only be found in that which is Reality, in God's Creation of Nature alone. No other Truth is attainable for no other Truth Exists except in artifice, where lies are legalized into accepted facts said to be truths. To have faith in artificiality over Reality (self-existence) is to call lies as Truth (Faith). This is the worship of the sacred (cursed) nature of church and state.

But to believe only in the Reality of all things without legalistic artifice, registered names, and catalogued titles, this is Pure Faith in Jehovah. This is the only Truth. To acknowledge It without knowing and respecting It is false religion. To act only within It and Its Law is the Love of Life.

—=—

“And ye shall know the truth,
and the truth shall make you free.”

—John 8:32, KJB

—=—

“...I had not known sin, but by the law...
FOR WITHOUT THE LAW SIN WAS DEAD.”

—Romans 7:8, KJB

—=—

“Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: FOR BY THE LAW IS THE KNOWLEDGE OF SIN.”

—Romans 3:20, KJB

—=—

“For SIN shall not have dominion over you: FOR YE ARE NOT UNDER THE LAW, BUT UNDER GRACE.”

—Romans 6:14, KJB

—=—

“For I was ALIVE without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I DIED... FOR WE KNOW THAT THE LAW IS SPIRITUAL: but I am carnal, SOLD UNDER SIN. For that which I do I allow not: for what I would,

that do I not; but what I hate, that do I. If then I do that which I would not, I CONSENT UNTO THE LAW THAT IT IS GOOD. Now then IT IS NO MORE I
 THAT DO IT, but sin that dwelleth in me. For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not. For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do. Now if I do that I would not, IT IS NO MORE I THAT DO IT, but sin that dwelleth in me. I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me. For I delight in the law of God after the INWARD MAN: But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is IN MY MEMBERS. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this DEATH? I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then WITH THE MIND I MYSELF SERVE THE LAW OF GOD; BUT WITH THE FLESH THE LAW OF SIN.”

—Romans 7: 9 & 14 & 16-25, KJB

— — —

Simply stated, the legal law allows and permits sin by license (anarchy) against God’s Creation and Creatures. But God’s Law (Jehovah) never allows such sin for it allows no artifice, no license, and no unnecessary harm. Only man’s law can make sin lawful through its legal trickery and word magic, for it provides a false persona for man to operate as a “sinner” in the flesh without the harmony of spiritual balance. When anything is declared as legal, it is actually declared as still unlawful without possession in persona of a legal license to commit legalized crime. This is positive law. In Nature, that which is lawful is not spoken of, for it is the unwritten (negative) Law, self-evident in its Existence and so without need of legal (anti-God) proof. That which is unlawful to God’s Nature, which is also quite self-evident, is merely commanded not to be done without exception. And so choice rears its ugly head, as the temptation of the artificial law of persons clouds our judgement and mocks the Natural Law, changing it to the legal law in promotion of commission and false forgiveness of sin. At no time is there ever innocence in any choice, for voluntary ignorance is not innocence. No excuses. For the Natural Law is self-evident, and breaking it can only mean that the self is despoiled and corrupted and thus removed from its own Nature, as the fictional, legal entity (false persona) we pretend to become.

The mind serves God, while without mental reserve the body serves mammon. Is this not an oxymoron? A paradox? A psychotic break and disconnect from Reality? And yet is this not a perfectly accurate description of the typical corporate “Christian” church-member and public citizenship out there? The flesh of artificiality as the legal skin of personhood is certainly no excuse for not applying our mind to the actions of our body, nor is the law of license by men to break with God’s Law a justifiable excuse to break that Higher Law of Nature in spirituality. If the reader may understand the above scripture, then the reader will perfectly understand the evil of personhood as citizenship, where the legal law of persons causes man to act against his own Nature as that of Jehovah. The legal law of the person conquers the spiritual Law of the man of God. Cain kills Abel. The power to purchase and use money (cain) kills Natural ability of man (Abel). For such legal license is not given by the corporate church and state to the man, only as an attachment to the corporate (artificial/on paper) person, the fictional character under which the man acts in the fiction of commerce (mammon). And the man acting in the person of another has not the ability to work his own land without permission of its holder. Cain and Abel are the two statuses of man, one Real and one the legal persona of the Real. The able man and the unable purchaser (user).

— — —

“AN ILLEGITIMATE SON IS NOT ABLE to take by inheritance.”

— Webster's 1828 dictionary, definition of 'able,' (Webs1828)

— = —

Man is either able or he is not. Cain represents the legal persona of the dependent, non-able, marked man. One has to respect such poetic, allegoric storytelling for its elegance and self-evidence, causing us to think in ways we never even imagined before, and ending generations of oppressive brainwashing, demonization, and literalist mis-transliteration of these stories of the Law (Word). For in the Bible, only the able man (Abel), who worked the land without artifice, was accepted as God's son (follower).

Man simply cannot serve two masters. To attempt to serve both is an act of hypocrisy bordering on insanity. To believe in (love) God and the spiritual Law is not the same as knowing and acting with control (self-government) in the flesh against the secular world by adhering only to that spiritual Law against secular things. The body is literally (by words) entrapped into the legal system through birth certification, through education and entertainment, and finally through the actions of legalized and licensed adultery (as apostasy, an adult-hood), the continuance and thus confirmation of the sin of false persona. We are not to adorn such artificial coverings, pre-tending and hiding behind such hoods over our True Nature. For a fictional, “natural” person is not a creation of and in Jehovah. The person may only ever serve its legal creator (principal) and act in its purpose, which is only ever mammon (commerce). The positive law of persons is simply the commercial law of money (valuation).

The law of persons causes spiritual men to act according to the false law that regulates the puppet-person for which we are voluntary agent and surety for, again under that all important maxim that the creator controls. The creator of the person (church and state) makes and enforces the law of the person (citizen, member, alien enemy/friend, employee, etc.), whereas the Creator of man and all of Nature as all the Permanence of Supreme Being causes the unwritten Law of Nature. While that law of God is self-evident, the law of man requires abandonment of self-evidence in lieu of a “legally provable” false identification, in the form of surname, title, number, mark, taxation (registration), address, and all other legal formalities that are created by the creators of the artificial law and doctrines of the fictions of law (persons). Thus, the term acting in the flesh signifies purposeful ignorance of the Law of God. Inversely, legal law is the law of sin, or that which regulates and gives license to fictional persons in order that man may commit sins without regard to his self and to the self-evident Natural and Instinctual Truth of God's Law. And this is why the scriptures repeatedly warn us that God, Jehovah, Nature, the Universe, as all Life as Creation does not respect the fiction and artifice of persons and flattering titles. When the person breaks the commandments, the covenant, it is always only the actual “living” man acting in persona that actually commits the sin, despite the fiction he pretends to appear in. Man kills, not the legal persona and title of “soldier” or “police” or “peace-keeper” he is hired to be. God sees and respects no person, no license, no titles. No fiction can hide man's actions in Reality.

— = —

“In clear cases, he MISTAKES who cites legal authorities; FOR OBVIOUS TRUTHS ARE NOT TO BE PROVED.” Applied to cases too plain to require the support of authority; "because," says the report, "HE WHO ENDEAVORS TO PROVE THEM OBSCURES THEM.”

— IN REBUS MANIFESTIS, ERRAT QUI AUCTORITATES LEGUM ALLEGAT; QUIA PERSPICUA VERA NON SUNT PROBANDA. 5 Coke, 67a. (Black4)

—=—

“In things that are favorable to the SPIRIT, though injurious to THINGS, an extension of a statute should sometimes be made.”

—IN REBUS QUAE SUNT FAVORABILIA ANIMAE, QUAMVIS SUNT DAMNOSA REBUS, FIAT ALIQUANDO EXTENSIO STATUTI. 10 Coke, 101. (Black4)

—=—

All things legal and artificial are a sin against Nature, for the spirit is replaced and respected only by the attached name/noun (of a person, place, or thing). This is self-evident, that when a thing artificial may harm something of spirit (of Reality), the thing of artifice must be abandoned or destroyed in lieu of the spiritual Nature of all that is Real (all that Exists without legal name/noun). Thus all artifice can only be in its potentiality against Jehovah (the true Nature of the Permanence of Being in Creation).

Of course, this presents somewhat of a paradox for man, as it would be impossible for man to Exist without intruding upon the rest of God’s Creation in Nature, the cycle of Life. The solution to this problem is the scriptural Law of Nature, the Natural Law as the Law of God; an instruction manual for the sojourning soul. Man will inevitably “sin” against Nature’s Design as soon as his footstep crushes a blade of grass, and this is also a self-evident Truth. And so at some point the spirit and the body, the Nature (spirit) and the vessel, must in fact merge in harmonic symbiosis and substance due to man’s creativity and imagination. The moral, scriptural law is the blueprint for that mergence, that trinity of mind, body, and soul, instructing man to live harmoniously as christ within Nature (Creation) even in his use (employment) and necessary sacrifice (destruction and victimhood) of It. Simply put, there is a right and a wrong way to Live, and each has a direct impact not only on Nature, but on man’s ability to survive and thrive within. Survival requires pure consciousness. Legal personhood is life lived in unconsciousness and without responsibility or respect for Life or Nature, where artificial persons (corporations) are given license to break with all Natural, morally binding Law, and “natural persons” are given permission to not have to think for themselves nor to protect their very own Nature of God’s Kingdom against such satanic (artificial) forces as those legalized corporate entities.

The semantic difference between the words personal and private is of the utmost importance, for these terms of art carry contractual, legal weight whereas their equal “common” word terms do not. A man acting in person suffers that all words he may speak are indeed personal (spoken in false legal persona) and under a contractual nature, which means they are under the tacit contractual relationship of that commercial entity of personhood in legal agency. His words are always public. Thus we have the forced “right” to have anything we say in person used against us in the jurisdiction of the commercial courts. All words are public when used by public persons. Terms of art are a rented language.

And so it must be comprehended by the reader that when a public person claims “privacy,” that this is in actuality an oxymoron; a paradoxical misnomer that stems from our own fallacious mis-taken identity. Quite simply, a public person has no ability to be a private One. Everything the public person says and does will be used against it (man acting in persona through agency) in a court of law because a public thing is never a truly private thing. What is public is never that which is not under public law. The use of the legal word (term of art) private upon public persons changes the meaning of the word-spell “private,” and thus it carries about as much weight as it would if a slave tried to be private while in subjection to his master upon his master’s plantation while in his master’s chains and using his master’s tools. Public property is never private, and man’s legal persona while in U.S. citizenship is certainly and always acts in a public office of employment (civil use) that benefits only the principal of that person (status). For without the status of legal personhood, the man would not be insured to trade his labor for the representation of debt (money is charged only as an I.O.U. that can never actually be paid off, only legally discharged). We call those foreigners without assigned U.S. public persona as “illegals,” holding them in cultural contempt just as the house-slave might hold his fellow slave with less benefits than him in a similar contempt of status. A United States citizenship nor its property is never private. Sadly, we have no idea that as public U.S. citizen-ships, we are just as foreign in each state we reside in as any illegal immigrant, the only difference being that we have a streamlined, temporary license and interstate passport (birth certification) to trespass upon the private lands of that State (People).

What belongs to man is private. What belongs to man’s assigned person is a public status. Yet both of these may be described commonly (vulgarly) as personal. A man with no public persona (no surname, title, number, mark, token, etc.) is his own person (Self) independent of all others, and his actions and property are thus personal and intentionally private. A man acting in a public persona however, where he assigns and registers all taxed property by that person (surname, etc.), is acting only in public persona (personally), which changes the artful meaning of this word. We must therefore understand this dualistic word-magic fully in order to be always on the side of True, non-legal privacy (of the Source of Jehovah).

Here again, we have the noun versus the adjective. And in the noun form without substance, as the name (noun) of some person, place or thing as “property,” we find that what is personal in name, as what belongs to the estate of a person, is not immovable real estate but moveable property of an estate. What is private, on the other hand, is of the man without public persona (without public mark of surname and number). For the public person itself, as a United States citizen-ship, is movable property of the United States. Ships at sea, after all, are not docked to the land, and so are movable (personal) property instead of real (immovable) property just as game-pieces on a chess board.

But none of this, remember, is in the realm of Reality...

PERSONAL - noun - A MOVABLE. (Webs1828)

PERSONAL - adjective - [Latin personalis.] BELONGING TO MEN OR WOMEN, NOT TO THINGS; NOT REAL... 1. Relating to an individual; affecting individuals; peculiar or proper to him or her, or to PRIVATE ACTIONS OR CHARACTER... 2. Pertaining to the CORPORAL NATURE; exterior; corporal; as personal charms or accomplishments. 3. PRESENT IN PERSON; NOT ACTING BY REPRESENTATIVE; as a personal interview... (Webs1828)

PERSONAL ESTATE - In law, movables; chattels; THINGS BELONGING TO THE PERSON; as money, jewels, furniture, etc. AS DISTINGUISHED FROM REAL ESTATE IN LAND AND HOUSES. (Webs1828)

PERSONAL ACTION - In law, a suit or action by which A MAN CLAIMS A DEBT OR PERSONAL DUTY, or damages in lieu of it; or wherein he claims satisfaction in damages FOR AN INJURY TO HIS PERSON OR PROPERTY; an action founded ON CONTRACT or on tort or wrong; as an action on A DEBT OR PROMISE, or an action for a trespass, assault or defamatory words; OPPOSED TO REAL ACTIONS, OR SUCH AS CONCERN REAL PROPERTY. (Webs1828)

PERSONAL IDENTITY - In metaphysics, SAMENESS OF BEING, OF WHICH CONSCIOUSNESS IS THE EVIDENCE. (Webs1828)

PERSONAL VERB - In grammar, a verb conjugated in the THREE PERSONS; thus called in distinction from an impersonal verb, WHICH HAS THE THIRD PERSON ONLY. (Webs1828)

—=—

For the purposes of our understanding herein, only this distinction between what is legally “real” and what is “personal” need be comprehended. In other words, what is attached (legally real/immovable) to the land (real estate) and what is not attached to the land (movable/personal). For as we will soon discover, as the common citizenships of the United States with no domicile in any of the private (foreign) States, we are all movables as well. We have no real estate, only publicly registered personal estate, which means that everything we think we own actually belongs to the legal person (admixed name) it is registered in. And if the reader hasn’t figured it out by now, movable things (including fictional persons) are property of real things (private estates). Our public persona (status) is not our own. We are only renters and tenants on another's real estate. But none of this is Real in Nature, the land and estates having no actual substance, existing only figuratively real and personal on paper (in legalese) as a lie, as lying in grant or deed. It’s all for the strawman, persons built of paper with paper titles.

Even a public person conducts his affairs as legally “private” in many matters. However, ultimately, a public person has no actual Natural privacy under God’s Law and Authority, only the legal illusion thereof. For anything we say or do while acting in persona may be used against us in a court of law, for it is not our person (self) we are existing in. Quite simply, we are not the creator of our person (self). And so he that is the creator is god. There is no privacy in publicity.

To be clear:

To act (verb) personally is to act without false persona. To appear (noun) in person (personally) is to act without agent (attorney).

To act in general is to act publicly, as without gens (without a private tribe/People, without the bearing of private Arms/bloodline, and so within a general species or class as common goyim of a nation).

To act special is to act without species (legally speaking, to act particularly or personally, not generally).

To act animal is to act without soul (without anima, without self-determination).

If we ask a professional his personal opinion he may tell us his own opinion without consideration of the title his person operates as. So his personal opinion is unofficial, as one being not by the virtue of his office and title. It is thus without person. This is personal or private information, not publicly given on record. A doctor may offer his personal opinion that certain strains and preparations of Canibus are proven without doubt to kill cancer, but his official title disallows his private opinion from being stated in any official capacity. For the doctor is not acting as his own True Self, instead respecting the person and title of another, which requires adherence to the laws of that public person and title in trust. And you wonder why I distrust the medical profession?

Likewise, if I appear in court without an attorney (without representation) then I may be said on record to have appeared in person, yet still only in and as the person of another. It is when we agree to abandon our privacy and assume the form of another’s legally created person (status) that this word becomes artful and adversarial to its Nature. For while the private man acts as and for only himself, the public person acts only as and for the artificial self of another, subject to the principal of man’s persona he personally appears as agent for. The private man has no agency relationship to those public administrative judges and officers of public law, appearing always as his Real Self without respect of legal persons. The public man cannot appear as his Real Self, for his name is public property and can only be represented while acting in (as the) fictional person or by an agent (attorney) for that person.

As is defined above, the term personal identity is only sameness, not mere similitude, and is only expressed by consciousness, the self-evidence of Life and Being. This is a verbosity. But when personal identity is stated as a noun, that is, in legal name and title, then whatever is combined with that persona belongs not to the man but to the person alone. What is personal to the man acting in the public person of another is therefore always property of another. Slaves hold no property, and a person is always a slave in agency (as master and servant). The detached persona itself and all attached to it (including the man) is considered as movable property of the state, as “personal property,” just like cattle.

And so the big difference here is simply this: a private man controls his own person while a public man is controlled by his person. The law of the puppet controls and overtakes the law (morals, religion) of the master. The private sovereignty makes the law of the persons of his public subjects.

Here, perhaps more than anytime else, the difference between the common (vulgar) and Latin (legal/higher/figurative) meanings of words is made horrifically known. And this too is why the Bible is adamant that no man should respect persons in any form whatsoever. For to act personally (without person) in the very Nature of our own Creation and perfection of Origin and Design is the only spiritual path. All art requires personhood, the veil of artificiality used to hide the True Nature of all Existence. Overcoming our false persona, as the ceasing of respect and use of this legally added id-entity, is the greatest of all lies to overcome. For the slave receives benefits only if he is registered as a slave, just as a free man only receives benefits if he is registered in the status of the person of another as its voluntary slave in bonded surety.

Private men (those without state-issued commercial identity as false persona) are immune from these administrative laws of persons, for only the words of a man acting in a public persona (in commerce) and by sig-nature of contract may be used against the man acting as such (as registered agent). Without a legal person (id-entity), there is nothing (no noun/name) to administrate. A private man is not attached to public law, for the private man has no attachment to any public (commercial) persona unless he so chooses to contract such dis-ease and operate a vessel in some trust or agency of public, interstate commerce. And so politicians and CEO's of corporations don't merely somehow magically evade the punishment (sanction) of public law, they simply cease their temporary, legal existence in whatever public persona they portray while acting as CEO. They remove their fake mask of public trust in corporate publicity before any charges can be stuck to the surety (man) in that agency. And so yes, they literally, legally get away with murder by causing upon themselves a voluntary civil death of the supposed office of fictional persona that committed the crimes. The person, in other words, is thus summarily executed. The name and title is put to civil death. But the man lives another day to corrupt and plunder in whatever new name he privately intrusts.

INTRUST - verb transitive - [in and trust.] To DELIVER in trust; to confide to the care of; to commit to another with confidence in his fidelity; as, to intrust a servant with one's money or goods, or to intrust money or goods to a servant. WE INTRUST AN AGENT OR FACTOR WITH COMMERCIAL BUSINESS, OR WE INTRUST COMMERCIAL CONCERNS TO AN AGENT. We intrust our friends with secrets, or intrust secrets to them. (Webs1828)

INTRUSTED - participle passive - DELIVERED IN TRUST; COMMITTED TO THE HANDS OR CARE OF ANOTHER, IN CONFIDENCE that he will be FAITHFUL IN DISCHARGING HIS DUTY. (Webs1828)

— — —

In short, the power to create one's own false persona within a trust and then commercially operate that false, commercial name through another entity called as a trust (in trust) is the power to commit virtually unlimited crime and forgive oneself with impunity. Another word for this is sovereignty. We, however, out here in the general commonalty, are delivered (intrusted) at birth into a person (status) of the state not of our own choosing and without such trust, meaning that we are not the creator of our own person, and so have no sovereign ability while interested to the public jurisdiction and law.

Now we can understand that the application of this and many other terms of art depends solely upon the condition of man's self, his "person" (status), either public or private. Therefore our own use of any word is only considered according to the status (persona) we are speaking it from, our own position or dis-position in persona. I cannot publicly claim personal damages if I have no public or private person (reputation or character recognized by law), for I could not appear in any fictional representation to make such a fictional (legal) claim. I cannot invoke public law of persons without being agent to a public persona. I would be like a fish out of water, a Real man trying to appeal to an inanimate cartoon character. My language would be foreign, and so too would my own person and Law be.

And so absolute and unlimited forgiveness is a necessary part of being Naturally free under God. Only without such love in forgiveness do the courts and lawyers guilds exist. Those devil's advocates must promote devilry to ensure the devilish reactions of us all. To forgive is divine. And so, when we forgive without need, permission, or decision of a falsely titled judge or magistrate in man's unspiritual legality, we take away the power of these devilmasters in black robes by simply circumventing their "opinions" about our private actions. Lawyers would be few and far between if forgiveness was the First and Highest Law. However, since lawyers deal only in fiction, and since the common man has turned his back on God in lieu of his legal fiction self, we play in these attorney's amusement park all day long, every day and every night of our false existence. We sue each other (through attorney's) for damages caused to fictional things, money, and real estate that is not actually our own.

Forgiveness is a dirty word in law. That is, the word forgive is not listed in Black's Law 4th Edition, and in William C. Anderson's 1889 Dictionary of Law the word forgive states: see condone, mercy, and pardon. There is no profit or gain in forgiveness, and so forgiveness is simply not allowed except to forgive the crimes of the legal gods. Thus the newly elected president pardons (forgives) the crimes of the last in every new administration. In other words, when it comes to the common personage, only the god (judge) of the court can forgive, shedding his benevolence of mercy and pardon upon the poor sucker that prays for such forgiveness of legal error to the gods of legal things. Amazingly, words like love, forgiveness, charity, and similarly "spiritual" concepts are treated with much contempt or as merely words of inducement to legally contract, yet more evidence that the spirit of God's Word (Son) kills the artifice. These terms of Nature are evil concepts in the land of the artifice, mirror images of Truth without acknowledged substance. Simulacrum. They are our solution, if we can only find the path by finding our True selves...

But let us not pretend either that some actions of man can ever be forgiven. These must be dealt with on an individual basis, without need of an entire legal structure where all public actions of public persons must be heard by the constituted public authorities. Only private men may Truly defend themselves within the protections of Law, even the Highest Law. Christ was not a pacifist by any means, for God's Word instructs us to leave the cities by picking up our stake (abandoning our public "person") by physically and mentally walking away from those immoral structures of church and state and never turning back. This is an act of negative aggression. This is not a state of peace, but of quarantine, of self-banishment from evil, and of complete and utter contempt for all legal fiction that gives power to the flattering titles and false creations of man's law and imagination. And he who dares trespass on christ's church (People) and Pure Nature beware, for no legal law may protect any man's person from the wrath of God's private People. Banishment is the oldest punishment on the books, and is often figuratively referred to as execution or death, and even metaphorically the beheading of man, due to the notion of being abolished or unrecognized as part of a tribe or town in which heads (without names) are counted in census. Civil, fictional death.

And what of the notion of self-governing religious men in free societies?

Was Friar Tuck a wimp? Or was his staff the deadliest in all the land; skilled so as to defeat even the famed Robin Hood? After all, he had ale to protect! The religious man is not in any way the helpless man. Quite the opposite. For while he may practice a sense of permanent pacifism in all matters, his ultimate position must be one of defense of all that is Right, all that is Reality, all that is of the Nature of God. In other words, the spiritual man and protector of God's Realm will not bargain in fiction nor accept lies. He will not negotiate or give away anything good for the gain of anything good or evil. A Pure, Charitable man has no need of gain, and thus no need to contract or to accept "necessary evils." Evil is a term of art. The religious (spiritually driven) man must fend for himself and his family at all times, without the false protectionism and insurances of these municipal systems of mammon. The public dogs that we have all been domesticated into as public citizen-ships cause us to have accepted a state of total dependence upon our master (principal). And our master hires us to harm and kill unrepentantly in its name and arms, for its own safety and security. The spiritually free man of God fends only for himself, for the defenseless, and for that and those in between, which must be defended against such false charities as the church and state.

And so I tell the reader of this work one thing for certain; that my own "monastery" of like-minded men will be stocked with peaceable ninjas that will die to protect their own Nature of Pure Self as well as that of their fellow sojourners, acting only in the army of Jehovah. The fool who travels upon private land believing the public law protects his actions will soon realize his error and his ridiculous disposition there, either in his banishment, in his pain, or in his death. This is the way of the negative, Natural Law of God. To follow christ's example is to protect christ's example in every way, to worship and cause to be sacred only the Word (Son) and nothing else. And the Word is Creation. A life lived in self-evidence cannot Exist without the Purest form and substance of self-defense.

As for the notion of battle and war, men only do battle over fictional things, defending fictional empires (places), and in protection of flattering titles (persons). All wars, in other words, are commercial, and thus are merely a sacrificial ceremony glorifying the power and utter corruption of mammon. And so that the reader may again understand the Biblical referential to God and war, all war is always offensive to God. And yet as a punishment for man's actions against God, his own actions in worship of the artifice cause this wrath of God. In other words, a man of God never has reason to go to war for a man of God respects none of the commercial (monetary) reasons for war. And so to say that God does not punish the righteous is actually to say that men acting righteously remain Pure and Immune from such commercial events such as war. The punishment and wrath of God is only the actions of man's own unspiritual actions against each other in false title over self. God does not want nor cause war, man does. And so the scriptural way of stating this fact is to call man's own actions as a punishment from God. This is to say that when man turns away from the Natural Order and Law of his Source, his chosen path will always lead him into corruption and destruction by his own doing. This is called as the spiritual judgement and punishment of God. But it can only ever be blamed on the nouns (names) of man's re-creation, not the verb Jehovah. Only men acting as gods can declare war. And only men acting in surety to those men acting as gods will be forced to battle on behalf of their legal person's principal. Only respect of artifice causes war, and only contempt of all artifice creates the harmony of man and Nature (Creation).

As for public persons called or drafted through selective service or other government contract of citizenship, a personal duty, for instance, would be a debt and obligation attached contractually to the person, and thus the man in false honor of the contractual relationship under protection and thus subjection to his master's interest must, as surety for the person, honor that debt and that calling to arms while acting in persona. This is known as a personal "performance" debt, for we act in the form required by law as debtors while our substance is cowed by the artifice.

—=—

"The horse is prepared against the day of battle: but safety is of the LORD."

—Proverbs 21:31, KJB

It appears that those meek who shall inherit the earth are those whom are at peace with the earth, and equally prepared to defend her with their own life (Self) in Oneness with her.

Let us be clear as to the difference between personal property and real property in the legal language, remembering that under the legality of fiction, nothing is actually Real (of God's Nature of Creation). All words are confirmed and accepted lies in legalese. So this term of art real refers to papered (titled) land (as real estate), as well as that property of the estate which is either movable or immovable upon it. Public persons CANNOT HOLD LAND.

Public persons are only ever movable property not real, and thus always personal property. They cannot stand (have legal standing) on their own land, only on the land of another land-lord (god). That which is already the property of another cannot hold other property with impunity of perfect title, for someone must own the original property. Public persons are allowed to own and use movable or personal property, such as jewels and shiny or technological objects that keep us distracted and entertain our minds, but can never be land-holders. Public persons (all in attainer) have no lawfully considered blood, and land only ever inherits to blood heirs. Property cannot hold property, and all United States persons are property of the public. This is the major and most important difference between what is legally considered as a private versus a public person, for without land no man can be free, as he must always live (rent) and walk (trespass) on the land of another. Citizenship is therefore a general license or "easement" for public persons to walk upon public places, but not necessarily private ones. No slave (subject) ever holds the land he works and squats upon. The private owns the public in all cases, and so a public person is property of the private men who created the corporation nation (as father and principal of publicly created things). A United States citizenship is always, with no exceptions, a public persona. And the public (agency) exists only to serve the private (principal). In other words, a public person has only one father (the state/district as creator of legal persons, places, and things), which is the nation/district of Caesar (seizure), for man has abandoned the realm of God's Nature and Reality and thus cannot claim the Arms of blood-right of his Natural or Spiritual Father, only his person's artificial creator.

And all the gods of the nations are idols...

If what you think you own as property is registered (taxed) in the legal name (person) of another, then in Truth you own nothing at all. What you contemplate as personal property is actually under the seizure of Caesar's district (distress/distrait). And what is most ironic about this realization is that in Reality, that is in Nature (God's Property of Creation), man owns only damned things, for all the names of all things are indeed damned and only fictional, and only damned persons may own that which is named. A legal person exists only in a spiritually dead dam-nation. We are so utterly destroyed in our spirituality and harmony with God's Nature that we have allowed the entire world to be registered and owned by fictional names of corporations (artificial persons) and legal fictions called corporately as "natural persons." Man has abandoned all things to fiction and is thus entirely ruled by the names (nouns) of his own imaginary artifice. Our conscious awareness has been redirected to the point that we collectively recognize only a simulation of Reality, the symbolism of God, and only the artful form of Nature, as if we are living in a painting of Real Life or are trapped in its cold reflection. To call this as hell and to call this lifestyle as utter satanism (adversarial to Nature) is the understatement of the age.

PERSONIFY - verb transitive - [Latin persona and facio.] TO GIVE ANIMATION TO INANIMATE OBJECTS; TO ASCRIBE TO AN INANIMATE BEING the sentiments, actions or language of a rational being or person, or TO REPRESENT AN INANIMATE BEING WITH THE AFFECTIONS AND ACTIONS OF A PERSON. Thus we say, the plants thirst for rain. The trees said to the fig-tree, come thou, and reign over us. Judges 9:1. (Webs1828)

IMPERSONATE - verb transitive - TO PERSONIFY. (Webs1828)

IMPERSONALLY - adverb - In the manner of an impersonal verb (in the third person). (Webs1828)

IMPERSONAL - adjective - [Latin impersonalis; in and personalis, from persona. See Person.] In grammar, an impersonal verb is one which is NOT EMPLOYED WITH THE FIRST AND SECOND PERSONS, I and thou or you, we and ye, for nominatives, and which has no variation of ending to express them, but is USED ONLY WITH THE TERMINATION OF THE THIRD PERSON SINGULAR, WITH IT FOR A NOMINATIVE IN ENGLISH, AND WITHOUT A NOMINATIVE IN LATIN; as, it rains, it becomes us to be modest; Latin toedet; libet; pugnatur. (Webs1828)

NOMINATIVE - adjective - Pertaining to THE NAME WHICH PRECEDES A VERB, or to the first case of NOUNS; as the nominative case or nominative word. (Webs1828)

PRECEDE - verb transitive - [Latin procedo; proe, before, and cedo, to more.] 1. TO GO BEFORE IN THE ORDER OF TIME. The corruption of morals precedes the ruin of a state. 2. TO GO BEFORE IN RANK OR IMPORTANCE. 3. TO CAUSE SOMETHING TO BE BEFORE; to make to take place in prior time. It is usual to precede hostilities by a public declaration. [Unusual.] (Webs1828)

PRECEDING - Next before. (Black4)

PRECES - Latin. In Roman law. PRAYERS. One of the names of an application to the emperor. (Black4)

PRECEDENT - An adjudged case or decision of a court of justice, considered as furnishing an example or authority for an identical or similar case afterwards arising or a similar question of law. It means that a principle of law actually presented to a court Of authority for consideration and determination has, after due consideration, BEEN DECLARED TO SERVE AS A RULE FOR FUTURE GUIDANCE IN THE SAME OR ANALOGOUS CASES, but matters which merely lurk in the record and ARE NOT directly advanced or expressly decided are not precedents. A draught of a conveyance, settlement, will, pleading, bill, or other legal instrument, which is considered worthy to serve as a pattern for future instruments of the same nature. (Black4)

— = —

To be clear, to personify anything is to act as or treat that thing in the third person, as impersonal, or as not part of our actual Nature of Self. To personify is to recognize form only as a subjective re-presentation of the Real, without consideration of actual substance or object. We speak of the personification of God as being that of Jesus christ, for instance, or as Jesus acting in the third person of Jehovah, or in the spirit of Jehovah. And so under God we either act as our self (personally) or we act impersonally by impersonating the status (person) of another, which is also called legally (adversarially) as acting “personally” or “in person.” The term of Nature (of Self) is turned into a term of art (as a name of public personhood). And so here lies another example of similitude but not sameness, of how language has defeated us utterly, tricking us into appearing as that which we are not, even while believing in the legitimacy of such artifice of office.

So what about the first and last names; the “christian name” and the “surname?”

Here’s where it gets interesting...

The given, first, christian, or fore-name is also referred to as the “personal name.” This is a freely given gift, bestowed only in Nature without permission, license, or registration. It requires conscious thought and choice by the parents. Alone, it is also too ambiguous to be classified as a nomenclature (word-group) that describes any type of legal entity (e.g. a fictional persona). Thus the first name is a creation and term of Nature (Origin).

The family, last, or sur-name is also referred to as the “gentile name.” Another word for gentile is common, or goyim, as a heathen worshiper of the false gods of the nations in which that admixed “full name” is registered. This is only the inherited name, assumed and contracted (like a dis-ease) from the status of the parent. The parent need not consider or choose this last name (word), for it is automatically passed to each new subject of the gods of the nations according to the status it represents the parents in. But the last or surname alone is not considered as a personal name. Thus the surname is a creation and term of law (fiction).

However, when the first (personal/Self) name is placed together with the last (gentile/common/goyim) name as one word-group that describes an incorporated “individual” person as a fiction of law, then the full name is also considered as the personal name of a legal entity, also called as a “natural person.” But this word personal, here used in artificial description of the full name in fiction, is the legal version of the word, whereas the term personal as used for only the first, God-given gift-of-Nature name refers to the unblemished blood and spirit. In the full (admixed) name, we act in the person (incorporation) of another, and thus we act personally in this legal sense. We act artificially as a person not our own, not as our actual Self. But with that first, christian name only, we operate personally as our own Self. In other words, the given (christian) name alone is not a personification of self, it is the actual or Real Self. The full name, however, represents that same man pretending to be as a fictional character in an impersonal, legal name of the state, for to carry the last name of another requires a contractual relationship of that dis-ease with its owner. And so the man must appear as the nomenclature (word-group) that makes up that incorporation of first and last names, as the property of and under the law of another. It is not dissimilar to the employer/employee relationship, the employee (agent) acting on behalf of his employer (principal). The person is movable land, as chattel, and the principality that makes the law of the land thus makes the law of the legal person, ordaining that law to be the highest law in the fictional “land” (jurisdiction) of the territory of the nation.

To follow christ one must always walk as one’s True Self in Organic self-evidence and pre-tend to be no other. To be corrupted by legal names and titles is to follow the satanic path (that which is adversarial to Truth, to Nature, to ourselves, and generally to Jehovah). This is the story of christ; the Word as Law of God. The Bible is very clear on this matter; that is, if you are not reading it in dog-Latin while acting in legal persona while trying to satisfy your own ego caused by such false id-entities created by the artifice of church and state and while trying to protect your “estate” of wealth and riches gained in legal persona under false titles completely against the scriptural teachings.

And so the question that a man of God, a true follower of christ must ask him or her self is simply this: when I state the phrase “I am...” what does the word “I” represent? Am I myself or am I a fictional legal entity created by something unnatural? Am I acting in first person as my own Self or impersonally in the third person of a stranger? If I claim to be Clint Richardson, then I am confirming my second self as a fiction, and all of my public dis-course will be considered in that third person (vicariously) instead of as my own, just as the man pretends to be pope and king. This is the legal trap. For to claim legal (artificial) protections under the third person requires belief (love) of that fictional persona that those insurable protections are attached to. And so we live constantly in this legal id-entity of the third person, never as our own man. And we have been trained to recognize each other only in third person (in legal name only) as well, so that nothing we do in life is based on Reality or in spiritual, Charitable, Loving intent.

Stop here and think about how your admixed, full legal name is written and placed upon all legal documents. For we must realize that language is a weapon, causing us to act not as our Selves but in the first, second, and even third person. Which name precedes the other in order? Is the name in which your home is registered for instance written as Richardson, Clint, where the christian name takes the secondary position? This is the “noun (name) that proceeds the verb (state of Being),” the nominative of the christian name as the gift and grace of Jehovah. This is the placing of the mark of the time domain in front of the timeless spirit of God, contracting the disease of legalism upon the fictionally tainted soul. It is always the last name (highest in order and will) that is summoned to court. It is always the surname that is insured. And all property is registered in that legal last name. In the fiction, the christian (first, origin) name is all but disregarded, used only as one of many marks and signs to identify and make certifiably unambiguous the man acting in that sin of law and agency as surety, insuring the appearance of the user and beneficiary of that surname when summoned like a demon by its master (principal).

What is done in persona is the property of no man.

Most important to this notion is that ones id-entity relies also upon what one claims as ones creator or antecessor. What Naturally Created the man, and what legally created the person? Blood or ink? Flesh or paper? Soul or person? God or government? One's re-presented identity provides for what law one adheres to, and the child follows the status (persona) of his father. The father of a United States citizenship is only ever the state (Romanized district of Caesar). And so we see the importance of the christian name as it stands alone, compared to that spiritual name being adjoined to and incorporated with the legal state surname and therefore the state's legal law.

—=—

“An addition [to a name] proves or shows minority or inferiority.”

— Additio probat minoritatem. (Black4)

—=—

The surname is an addition, which when invoked through our actions, our signature, and our use of credit or of another's property proves legally that our God-given, christian name stands in inferiority to that last (higher) legal (anti-God) name, and thus so does our Moral, Spiritual Law.

ADD - To unite; attach; annex; join. (Black4)

ADDITIONAL - This term embraces the idea of joining or uniting one thing to another, so as thereby TO FORM ONE AGGREGATE. (Black4)

AGGREGATE - Entire number, sum, mass, or quantity of something; amount; complete whole, and one provision UNDER WILL may be the aggregate if there are no more units to fall into that class. COMPOSED OF SEVERAL; CONSISTING OF MANY PERSONS UNITED TOGETHER; a combined whole. (Black4)

AGGREGATIO MENTIUM - THE MEETING OF MINDS. The moment when a contract is complete. A supposed derivation of the word “AGREEMENT.” (Black4)

AGGREGATION - In law of patents, it means that the elements of a claimed COMBINATION are incapable of co-operation to produce a unitary result, and in its true sense does not need prior art patents to support it. It does not imply mechanical interaction of parts, but only UNION OF ALL ELEMENTS OF INVENTION TO REALIZE SINGLE PURPOSE. A combination which merely brings together two or more functions to be availed of independently of each other does not represent "invention" but constitutes mere “aggregation.” The assembly of old elements in a device in which each performs the same function in the same way as it did when used alone, without mutuality of action, interaction, or co-operation, is mere "aggregation" not involving invention. (Black4)

ADJOINING - The word in its etymological sense, means TOUCHING OR CONTIGUOUS, as distinguished from lying near to or adjacent. (Black4)

ADDITION - Implies physical contact, SOMETHING ADDED TO ANOTHER. Structure physically attached to or connected with building itself. Extension; INCREASE; augmentation. THAT WHICH HAS BECOME UNITED WITH OR A PART OF... (Black4)

ADDITION (TO) NAME - Whatever is ADDED TO A MAN'S NAME by way of TITLE OR DESCRIPTION. In English law, there are four kinds of additions, -additions of estate, such as yeoman, gentleman, esquire; additions of degree, or names of dignity. As knight, earl, marquis, duke; additions of trade, mystery, or occupation, as scrivener, painter, mason, carpenter; and additions of place of residence, as London. Chester, etc. THE ONLY ADDITIONS RECOGNIZED IN AMERICAN LAW ARE THOSE OF MYSTERY AND RESIDENCE. AT COMMON LAW THERE WAS NO NEED OF ADDITION IN ANY CASE; it was required only by stat. 1 Hen. V. c. 5, in cases where process of outlawry lies. In all other cases it is ONLY A DESCRIPTION OF THE PERSON, AND COMMON REPUTATION IS SUFFICIENT. (Black4)

ADDITIONAL BURDEN - See Eminent Domain. (Black4)

— = —

Let us stop here and consider just what the purpose of this naming process is. For to name anything is to claim that thing, to force one's will upon it. For what is more powerful and more influential than a name? To bear one's name is to show who one's master is. God or mammon. Nature or that which is adversarial to It. Without a name a man (or anything or anyplace else) cannot be registered and taxed. And so we must understand this purpose of the name, for the name is an act of war or Peace, hate or Love, commerce or Charity. What we allow to be added to the christian name (God's gift of grace) is what declares our intent. The legal name, for instance is not God-given. It is officially given, a title of office, class, rank, and style in the satanic (adverse) legal fiction. To add to God's Creation is to disrespect the very Nature of God's Perfection of Design. Names (nouns) are designed to make distinct that which is not, to identify the otherwise ambiguous and unidentifiable man by turning him or her into a recognizable, taxable commodity. We can only be seen by the formal noun (judge/jurisdiction) as another noun-form (legal name), never as the substantial verb of spiritual Existence and Life we actually are at all times.

Of course, even the word name must be deconstructed so as to understand its purpose.

LEGAL NAME - The name OFFICIALLY GIVEN and RECORDED ON ONE'S BIRTH CERTIFICATE. A LEGALLY RECOGNIZED name. (Black2)

NAME - The designation of an INDIVIDUAL PERSON, or of a FIRM or CORPORATION. A PERSON'S "NAME" CONSISTS OF ONE OR MORE CHRISTIAN OR GIVEN NAMES AND ONE SURNAME OR FAMILY NAME. It is the DISTINCTIVE CHARACTERIZATION IN WORDS BY WHICH ONE IS KNOWN AND DISTINGUISHED FROM OTHERS, and description, or abbreviation, IS NOT THE EQUIVALENT of a "name." CUSTOM GIVES ONE HIS FATHER'S FAMILY NAME, and such praenomina AS HIS PARENTS CHOOSE TO PUT BEFORE IT, but this is only general rule, from which individual may depart, if he choose. As to the history of Christian names and surnames and their use and relative importance in law, see In re Snook, 2 Hilt., N.Y., 566. (Snook case will be covered later.) (Black4)

NAME AND ARMS CLAUSE - The popular name in English law for the clause, sometimes inserted in a will or settlement by which property is given to a PERSON, for the purpose of IMPOSING on him the CONDITION that he shall ASSUME THE SURNAME AND ARMS of the testator or SETTLOR, with a direction that, if he neglects to assume or discontinues the use of them, THE ESTATE SHALL DEVOLVE ON THE NEXT PERSON IN REMAINDER, and a provision for preserving contingent remainders. (Black4)

NAM - In old English law, A DISTRESS OR SEIZURE OF CHATTELS. As a Latin conjunction, for; because. Often used by the old writers in introducing the quotation of a Latin maxim. (Black4)

NAAM - Saxon. The ATTACHING or taking of MOVABLE goods and chattels, called "vi" or "MORT" according as the chattels were LIVING OR DEAD. Termes de la Ley (terms of art). (Black4)

NAMARE - L. Latin. In old records, TO TAKE, SEIZE OR DISTRAIN. (Black4)

NAMATIO - L. Latin. In old English and Scotch law, A DISTRAINING OR TAKING OF A DISTRESS; an impounding. (Black4)

— = —

To be clear, the legal naming and addition (ad-diction) of registered surname process is for one and only one purpose, to distrain, distress, impound, and thus place man under legal law, government, and sanction by attaching his christian name with a state issued (birthed) "legal" surname that is registered and certified as the creation of a legal entity, called commonly as a legal "person." Amazingly, the word Caesar carries the meaning of seizure, distress, and distraint as well. And these words all mean the same thing as the word district. Man, through his name (person), is seized at birth and put into a legal, artificial state of being (district of Columbia). And so Caesar's empire of Rome is not a geographical place as much as it is a legal jurisdiction or district. More on this to come...

The addition of surname is in legal fact a sign of de-livery, a mark of condem-nation, the chains of personhood as a result of being doomed (prejudged) to a spiritually dead, legal existence. One of the hardest Realities to face for this author was to accept that in the eyes of the wicked gods (magistrates) of the nations, the common people are considered merely as goyim, as cattle (chattel) used in a system of human capital management. The only difference between cattle and human capital slavery is that the cattle have no choice, whereas voluntary indenture and servitude is as old as kings and governments. We choose our master just as we choose to honor our additional names and titles given by that master (false god). And as we will uncover, this naming process changes our status and legal consideration from having God-given, unalienable rights (blood-right) and immunity to man's law over any and all legal fictions being considered in the status of public persons with no Natural rights reserved, which is the same as any domesticated animal. The surname is the mark, and the mark signifies a beast (name/person) of burden, placing man into the eminent domain of those who ordained the "land."

NAMIUM - L. Latin. In old English law, a taking; A DISTRESS. Things, goods, or ANIMALS TAKEN BY WAY OF DISTRESS. Simplex namium, A SIMPLE TAKING OR PLEDGE. (Black4)

NAMIUM VETITUM - An unjust taking of the cattle of another and DRIVING THEM TO AN UNLAWFUL PLACE, PRETENDING DAMAGE DONE BY THEM. (Black4)

ADDUCE - To present, bring forward, offer, introduce. Used particularly with reference to EVIDENCE. Broader in its signification than the word "offered." (Black4)

ADDENDUM - A thing that is added or to be added; a list or section consisting of ADDED MATERIAL. (Black4)

ADDICERE - Latin. In the civil law, to adjudge or condemn; to assign, allot, or DELIVER; to sell. In the Roman law, addico was one of the three words used to express the extent of the civil jurisdiction of the praetors. (Black4)

ADDICTIO - In the Roman law, the giving up to a creditor of his debtor's PERSON by a magistrate; also the transfer of the (deceased) debtor's goods to one who assumes his liabilities. (Black4)

PRAETOR - Latin. In Roman law. A MUNICIPAL OFFICER of the city of Rome, being THE CHIEF JUDICIAL MAGISTRATE, and possessing an extensive equitable jurisdiction. (Black4)

— = —

This Latin term namium vetitum is the perfect description of what happens in the registration of the public birth, where our children are customarily driven into the vice grip of the federal jurisdiction of the United States, literally an unlawful (de facto/illegitimate place), pretending that this burden of new life is damaging to the State (landed, private People) it occurred in, the plebeian birth of yet another “useless eater” with no blood inheritance. A fruitless seed.

TAKE – This is a technical expression which signifies to be entitled to; as, a devisee will take under the will. To take also signifies to seize, as to take and carry away.

TAKING – Criminal torts. The act of laying hold upon an article, with or without removing the same; a felonious taking is not sufficient without a carrying away, to constitute the crime of larceny. (q. v.) And when the taking has been legal, no subsequent act will make it a crime. 1 Moody, Cr. Cas. 160.

Take = “Harass, hunt, capture, kill or collect, or attempt to harass, hunt, capture, kill or collect.” — U.S. Department of Commerce – NOAA (NMFS) as defined under the MMPA

Take = “To harass, harm, pursue, hunt, shoot, wound, kill, trap, capture, or collect, or to attempt to engage in any such conduct.” — U.S. Department of Commerce – NOAA (NMFS) as defined under the ESA

Incidental Taking = “An unintentional, but not unexpected take.”

Potential Biological Removal (PBR) Level = Defined by the MMPA as the maximum number of animals, not including natural mortalities, that may be removed from a marine mammal stock while allowing that stock to reach or maintain its optimum sustainable population.

In this disturbing letter from some of our more illustriously evil legislators written to NOAA and dated June 19th, 2009, including Senator Feinstein and Congressman Waxman, the following was transmitted:

“...In many regions, the Navy plans to increase the number of its exercises or expand the areas in which they may occur, and virtually every coastal state will be affected. Some exercises may occur in the nation’s most biologically sensitive marine habitats, including National Marine Sanctuaries and breeding habitat for the endangered North Atlantic right whale. In all, the Navy anticipates more than 2.3 million TAKES (significant disruptions in marine mammal foraging, breeding, and other essential behaviors) per year, or 11.7 million TAKES over the course of a five-year permit...”

One is delivered (abandoned) at legal birth into the jurisdiction of these municipal magistrates (pirates of the sea) operating in the office of administrators of federal agency, for the parents in addictio gave our vital statistics over to the state, which assumed our goods and liabilities in persona and insurance by the issuing (birth) of a created and registered (taxed) name of a legal entity (public person). With its protection, the child is expected to be in life-long civil subjection. This all happened with the addition of the state surname to the christian given name consented to and certified by our unwitting, voluntarily ignorant parents through no actual comprehension of their own, and then confirmed and ratified by our own actions as we age and in our non-avoidance of use of that legal name and its confirming and consenting signature. We were reassigned into an aggregate corporation (district) induced by our full (adjoined) names, where the state’s assigned and attached (legal) surname trumps over our God-given first name. Fiction has victory over Nature. And only by shedding this incorporation of personhood can the True Natural Law of scripture trump the legal law, which only applies to fictional persons, so that men may act upon their conscious and moral (religious) belief (love) according to their own moral and religious tenets that are in accordance with God’s unwritten Law and done so in the unwritten (unregistered) name of christ (christian name only). Until this separation of the names occurs both mentally and in proper legal formality, man is bound to the law of persons as surety to state property. And unless he follows that Higher Law of God from then on, living only in the example of christ, he will be sucked right back in to the legal fiction. For no man is above the Law of his own Nature. This would be an impossibility in Reality, for we can never actually escape our True Nature, only pretend to be something we are not through man's inventions and artful designs of fiction.

We must reclaim our own personal identity and thus our Real Self from this public fiction while simultaneously killing the inner ego that justifies our own evil actions in artifice and acts the part of the identity, becoming purely private in our affairs, reclaiming True religious freedom by abandoning the false freedoms (franchises/rights) of the state that legally bar our religious actions (Pure Charity) from our religious beliefs (Love).

And so, strangely enough, we must be and appear as the same man, as our True Self, and never in a representative simulation, never in the similitude of artificial "natural" persons. We must deny all titles, numbers, and other marks granted by the corporations (agencies) of the state. We must always be the same man we are, inside and out, whether expressed externally or internally. We must live always in the spirit and never in the falsity of the legalized flesh.

IDEM - Latin. The same. According to Lord Coke, "idem" has two significations, sc., idem syllabis seu verbis, (the same in syllabus or WORDS), and idem re et sensu, (the same in SUBSTANCE and in SENSE.) In Old Practice. The said, or aforesaid; said, aforesaid. Distinguished from "praedictus" in old entries, though having the same general signification. (Black4)

IDEM PER IDEM - The same for the same. An illustration of a kind that really adds no additional element to the consideration of the question. (Black4)

IDEM SONANS - Sounding the same or alike; having the same sound. A term applied to names which are substantially the same, though slightly VARIED IN THE SPELLING, as "Lawrence" and "Lawrance," and the like. Two names are said to be "idem sonantes" if the attentive ear finds difficulty in distinguishing them when pronounced, or if common and long-continued usage has by corruption or abbreviation made them identical in pronunciation. The rule of "idem sonans" is that ABSOLUTE ACCURACY IN SPELLING NAMES IS NOT REQUIRED IN A LEGAL DOCUMENT OR PROCEEDINGS EITHER CIVIL OR CRIMINAL: that if the name, as spelled in the document, though different from the correct spelling thereof, conveys to the ear, when pronounced according to the commonly accepted methods, a sound practically identical with the correct name as commonly pronounced, the name thus given is a sufficient identification of the individual referred to, AND NO ADVANTAGE CAN BE TAKEN OF THE CLERICAL ERROR. But the doctrine of "idem sonans" has been much enlarged by modern decisions, to conform to the growing rule that A VARIANCE, TO BE MATERIAL, MUST BE SUCH AS HAS MISLED THE OPPOSITE PARTY TO HIS PREJUDICE. (Black4)

IDENTITY - In the law of evidence. SAMENESS; the fact that a SUBJECT, PERSON, or THING before a court is the same as it is REPRESENTED, CLAIMED, or CHARGED to be. (Black4)

IDENTICAL - Exactly the same for all PRACTICAL purposes. (Black4)

PRACTICAL - A practical construction of a constitution or statute is ONE DETERMINED NOT BY JUDICIAL DECISION, BUT PRACTICE SANCTIONED BY GENERAL CONSENT. (Black4)

PRACTICE - Repeated or customary action; HABITUAL PERFORMANCE; a succession of acts of similar kind; habit; custom; usage; APPLICATION OF SCIENCE TO THE WANTS OF MEN; THE EXERCISE OF ANY PROFESSION... Practice of a profession implies a continuing occupation, and a practitioner of veterinary science is ONE WHO HABITUALLY HELD HIMSELF OUT TO THE PUBLIC AS SUCH. (Black4)

PRACTITIONER - He who is ENGAGED in the EXERCISE OR EMPLOYMENT OF ANY ART or profession. (Black4)

IDENTIFICATION - Proof of identity; the proving that a PERSON, SUBJECT, OR ARTICLE before the court is the very same that he or it is ALLEGED, CHARGED, OR REPUTED to be; as where a witness recognizes the prisoner at the bar as the same person whom he saw committing the crime; or where handwriting, stolen goods, counterfeit coin, etc., are recognized as the same which once passed under the observation of the person identifying them. (Black4)

IDENTITATE NOMINIS - In English law. An ancient writ (now obsolete) which lay for one taken and arrested in any PERSONAL ACTION, and committed to prison, BY MISTAKE FOR ANOTHER MAN OF THE SAME NAME. (Black4)

— = —

“True identity is collected from a multitude of signs.”

Identitas vera colligitur ex multitudine signorum. Bac. Maxim. (Black1)

— = —

We must not make excuses. There are no exceptions. Not habit nor custom nor law nor employment (job description), nor license nor judicial opinion is an excuse before God. To attempt to bypass the legal system by using a misspelled name is shameful at best. The problem is not the misspelled name, it is the fact that we have accepted and conformed to the name and the law attached to its false persona as represented. There is only one solution, one way to win, and that is the absolute end of all contractual relationships whatsoever with this legal fiction. For no one ever actually wins in court, for slaves never win. No contract, no personification of satan. The end of the respected, unambiguous naming of men as animals (beasts). Again, this is your choice, for the god of mammon has many empty and dead but shiny things to offer that cannot be attained without a surnamed and numbered unambiguous legal persona as a mark of the sure man as state property. It is quite easy to be induced into mammon by legal means, and the righteous path of christ only shows its Treasure to the faithful, to those who seek its Ultimate Truth. The rich man will only look upon the man of God (True follower of christ) in contempt, for his god is his own wealth and riches and the nation that protects its false existence. His god is his personal self, the full name of the registered owner of the wealth he worships and cherishes over his own soul and Natural freedom. For without his god's legal persona and surety (insurance), his wealth could not be proven.

So what does it mean to appear in court in person (legal identity) as opposed to doing so in rem? A better question is to ask how does government and its agents appear against us?

IN PERSON - A party, plaintiff or defendant, who sues out a writ or other process, or appears to conduct his case in court HIMSELF, instead of through a solicitor or counsel, is said TO ACT AND APPEAR IN PERSON. (Black4)

IN PERSONAM, IN REM - In the ROMAN LAW, FROM WHICH THEY ARE TAKEN, the expressions "in rem" and "in personam" were ALWAYS OPPOSED TO ONE ANOTHER, an act or proceeding in personam being one done or directed against or with reference to A SPECIFIC PERSON, while an act or proceeding in rem was one done or directed with reference to NO SPECIFIC PERSON, and consequently against or with reference to all whom it might concern, or "all the world." The phrases were especially applied to actions; an actio in personam being the remedy where a claim against a specific person AROSE OUT OF AN OBLIGATION, whether ex contractu or ex maleficio, while an actio in rem was one brought for the assertion of a RIGHT of property, easement, status, etc., AGAINST ONE WHO DENIED OR INFRINGED IT. From this use of the terms, they have come to be applied to signify the antithesis of "available against a particular person," and "available against the world at large." Thus, jura in personam are rights primarily available against specific persons; jura in rem, rights only available against the world at large. So a judgment or decree is said to be in rem WHEN IT BINDS THIRD PERSONS. Such is the sentence of a court of ADMIRALTY on a question of PRIZE, or a decree of nullity or dissolution of MARRIAGE, or a decree of a court in a foreign country AS TO THE STATUS OF A PERSON DOMICILED THERE. Lastly, the terms are sometimes used to signify that a judicial proceeding operates on A THING OR A PERSON. Thus, it is said of the court of chancery that it acts in personam, and not in rem, meaning that its decrees operate by COMPELLING defendants TO DO WHAT THEY ARE ORDERED TO DO, and not by producing the effect directly. Judgment in Personam. See that title. (Black4)

IN INDIVIDUO - In the distinct, IDENTICAL, or INDIVIDUAL FORM, in specie. (Black4)

IN SPECIE - Specific; specifically. Thus, to decree performance in specie is to decree specific PERFORMANCE. In kind; in the SAME or LIKE FORM. A THING IS SAID TO EXIST IN SPECIE WHEN IT RETAINS ITS EXISTENCE AS A DISTINCT INDIVIDUAL OF A PARTICULAR CLASS. (Black4)

IN RENDER - A thing is said to lie in render when it must be rendered or given by the tenant; as rent. It is said to lie in prender when it consists in the right in the lord or other person to take something. See In Prender. (Black4)

IN RERUM NATURA - In the nature of things; in the realm of actuality; IN EXISTENCE. In a dilatory plea, an allegation that the plaintiff is not in rerum natura is equivalent to averring that THE PERSON NAMED IS FICTITIOUS. In civil law, this phrase is applied to THINGS. It is a broader term than in rebus humanis; e. g. before quickening, an INFANT is in rerum natura, but not in rebus humanis; after quickening, he is in rebus HUMANIS as well as in rerum natura. (Black4)

— = —

“The action in personam is that by which we sue him who is under obligation to us to do something or give something.”

—IN PERSONAM ACTIO EST, QUA CUM EO AGIMUS QUI OBLIGATUS EST NOBIS AD FACIENDUM ALIQUID VEL DANDUM. Dig. 44, 7, 25; Bract. 101b. (Black4)

— = —

Of course no obligation exists without contract. But our voluntary action in persona, using the marks and signs and identity of another, carries with it the implied contract of being bound by both the law of that legal person (status) and the court rulings (precedents) caused by so many false legal prayers before us. We must not mix up the negative state of permanent duty under Natural Law and the positive obligation created by legal contract and under personhood. One is spiritual and unwritten, one is legal and stands as the strict law of public persons. They are opposites, as good and evil.

So which person are you acting within?

Is your person your own private self, or is it a rented “third person” in agency and under distraint and distress from Caesar’s district?

Are you acting in the first or third person?

Do you even know the debtor’s hell you invoke with each use of the strawman id-entity and signature?

Only a man with literate knowledge of these language arts can answer these questions honestly.

As men of God, we would never refer or use impersonal verbs, for we would at all times be living in Reality, in the present, and would respect all things only by their Reality (by their True Nature in first person). Thus all things would be Naturally personal in regards to our mind, body, and soul as the only internal and external Oneness of Self, for the True, self-evident man is only a part of and therefore One with Nature. Names of all things (words) would have no legal meaning or value in mammon, remaining purely as sincere descriptions and Truths about Reality based solely on sense. No nonsense! This trinity and wholeness of man simply cannot be referred to impersonally. The third person is never of God. It is always a subjective fiction, a false history told or foretold, as Reality in form and name only. And the personal affairs and effects of a third person are always the property of another, generally of the state; the creator of that legal fiction and term of art. Thus the verb (action) of legal persons can only be expressed in noun form, in the words of legal actions, on legal paper, and in legal appearance where man represents the legal person and his actions are recognized as being done therefore “in persona.” This is the false existence we all suffer from. Our actions are impersonal to our Natural Being and foreign to God’s Design of Nature.

The grand impersonator of each of our “selves” promotes in us a mistaken id-entity through this nominative nomenclature, for the dualistic reasons of causing us to live in error by ignoring our True Nature under God, and by causing us to continuously be in a state of misunderstanding through utter confusion of the fact that the objective self has in-deed been stolen and branded as a subjective species of persona (class and status). For to under-stand, with or without knowledge of what it is we are agreeing to under-stand, only means to stand under the authority of that person or thing and its law. Thus the person becomes more powerful than us, than our Real self, and the law of persons is allowed by us by choice to trump the law and authority of Jehovah in lieu of these false legal gods (the creators and rulers of fictional persons, names, numbers, languages, marks, and titles).

Yet again we see that comprehension of the true meanings of legal terms does not cause them to be dismissed. Magic would not be magical if it did not cause illusion and delusion through trickery, and a victim would not be a victim if there were not a reaper (mercenary militarized government) of that spiritual death through said legal word-trickery.

—=—

“A COUNTY IS A PERSON in a legal sense, BUT A SOVEREIGN IS NOT.”

—Lancaster Co. v. Trimble, 34 Neb. 752, 52 N.W. 711 - and - In re Fox, 52 N.Y. 535, 11 Am. Rep. 751; U. S. v. Fox, 94 U.S. 315, 24 L. Ed. 192 (Black4)

—=—

Men become likened to zombies, mere shells existing solely for the legal parasites to govern them as their mental puppet-masters, while the main parasite “universal” church in its self-proclaimed divinity governs over all governments (heads) in sovereignty, like a gigantic hive mind regulating its interconnected, open-air debtor’s hell on earth. God's True Nature is legally peeled away like the film of an old Polaroid picture in order to leave only the false image and form of some virtual reality as a legal consideration, controlled ultimately by the false papal office as vicar of God (christ). All legal persons, places, and things (nouns) are merely lies, images, and forms as false idols, including all corporations (artificial persons) calling themselves as "religions." It is this form and appearance only that is named, organized, and patented (letters patent) into the nomenclature (catalogues of words/names) of the legal fiction "law" books and registers of the registrar. The Books of the Dead. Caesar's tax register.

Ultimately, ironically, the pope is and can only be the false god of the spiritually dead; of those who turn from Jehovah, from their very own Self and Nature, to worship the idolatry and symbolism of the universal "One Church" and its simulated God-head land-lord.

This will all be perfectly clear and succinctly examined should you endeavor to complete this work.

—=—

"The basic tool for the manipulation of reality is the manipulation of WORDS. IF YOU CAN CONTROL THE MEANING OF WORDS, YOU CAN CONTROL THE PEOPLE WHO MUST USE THEM."

—Philip K. Dick

—=—

Remember that "religion" is just a word, and is a verb in its actual source. Religion is only a lifestyle in this way. But when a corporation (artificial person) calls itself a "religion" by name only, the action of religion is nullified, becoming merely an artificial title (noun) with no substance. A fictional persona. To be part of a religion is not to live and be a part of God's Design. So a man acting in legal personhood can never act upon his true religious law and moral beliefs, for the legal law of false corporate "religion" is under the law of the legal state, and so supersedes the ability of the man acting in surety to a public persona from following his moral conscious (True Religion of Natural Law). A corporation is only ever a legal creation and doctrine of man, never a creation or self-evident Truth of God. Religious doctrine of corporate churches and scripture are several (separate) from each other. Religion by name (denomination) should never be confused with the Bible, even though the Bible is used fallaciously to justify the corporation (artificial person) that is the religion, even against the teachings of the scriptures within. Religion is a paradox when compared to the scriptural teachings that are against such secondary and false doctrines of man.

Certainly, the Bible was written and transcribed by man, this is not in question. The key to discernment between man's fictional religious doctrines of law and God's Law of the scriptures is only the self-evident Truth of those writings. We know the Word of God simply because no amount of reason or logical fallacy can defeat it, and because it attempts to justify no thing or idea that is opposed to God's Nature of the Reality of Existence as corporate religions do. It grants no license to ignore its teachings even as the church pretends to forgive such sins. It allows no titles.

As I write this, I anticipate and hope that the reader will recognize that same substance of self-evidence in my own writings presented within this work. I seek only to uncover that which has been hidden under the rose and thus to destroy the mysteries that are kept private and thus used to rule over us in our public-mindedness. For it seems that the conclusion of all this is that self-evidence (God) is the only weapon able to defeat the artificial concoctions of man, or that which has no self-evidence and must be proven to legally exist not in Nature but as artificial property of fictional persons.

For our purposes we must know that the surname (the last name attached to the christian/given-name) destroys sovereignty (blood) and thus the man of God under legal surname cannot ever hold a perfect title. The surname is a debtor name, and debtors (citizenships) will always be in a state of alienation by other men. Bankrupt. A lien will forever be held against any entitlement (title) to real estate as land and to public property in the name of another.

The legal language is but a grammatical set of fictitious terms of art (artifice), ordained as the false dialectic (logic) and fallacious rhetoric of the legal gods (magistrates). These words make up a realm built completely upon imaginary concepts by the i-magi-nations of men seeking to escape their own Nature and limitations thereof. They are the gods of their own artificially created legal realm, which is only a subliminal palace of artful words bearing no substance at all.

When we examine the pecking order of this word “god,” we see a pronounced legal hierarchy; a devolution from the Supreme God of the Universe and all that is that Permanent Creation of all Nature (Jehovah), to the mere legal appearance of men as stand-in replacement-gods in some legally created office. The Reality of God is turned into a legal fiction; the verb into a mere noun/empty name. The further this authority and corruption through legal artifice is attributed to the name of “God” as it is incorporated with the word “man,” the more definite and specific the legal terms and in-deed the forms and graven images of “God” and “the gods” become. And so we come again to our main question, which is not to ask who, what, where, how, or why is God, but simply what does this word “God” mean when defined in the Bible and in other sources?

In the simplest of discourse, allow me to plainly state here the difference between a good and an evil man, which is merely this: a good man seeks knowledge from Nature so as to be more like, respect, and honor God (through christ’s example) and thus instinctively protects the Design of God’s realm of Nature (Creation). He knows his place and bears only his self-evident Nature of Existence.

An evil man seeks knowledge so as to make some imaginary form and manipulation of “God” appear to be characteristically human (animal), thus attempting to remake God in man’s image and form, and to assign the imperfection of human attributes upon Jehovah in personification so as to hide the perfection of God’s Design of Nature. For only if God’s Design is falsely declared and “legalized” as imperfect and hu-man may man justify his own re-design of that Nature and Law while acting in God’s name as vicar; a scientific dictatorship which abhors independent spiritual thought. In other words, an evil man respects names and titles over the Reality of their Source and worships symbols, images, and simulations over the Reality they re-present in Nature.

Good and evil, again, are just words. They may be used as adjectives, verbs, and nouns. And though no emotion need be attached to know what is Real and what is false, emotion certainly is used in advertising and through other propagandist means to make us accept evil over good. But we can comprehend these words’ main purpose in the scriptural teachings by simply knowing what is Real and what is art. That which represents and simulates Existence is always false, no matter how Real it seems or appears, and no matter how wondrous its artist re-presents it. This is evil. And from belief (love) and respect of the artifice (evil) comes the actions we call as sin. But certainly no good can come (be born) of artificiality. The terms are less difficult to grasp than one might think when the artifice of church and state are removed from the picture, which rely solely on evil (art), from money to political status, for their own legal existence.

We could take this as far as to say that which is self-powered is good, and that which must be plugged-in and/or recharged is evil. For art and technology are of the exact same meaning. So here is where choice presents itself once more. If that which is available as technology requires a legal persona to receive such a benefit, then it is evil. If that technology is not attached to such inducements and can be operated freely without public overview and surcharge, registration, and tax, then reason prevails and it may be used with good intent and without sacrificing our spiritual Life under the Moral Law for the benefit of all men without legal strings attached. Most things that seem too good to be True (that which is found outside of Nature) are likely to come with some strings attached to the artificial construct, which ultimately may pull us back into the fictional id-entity of satan's contracts. If we need license to operate some thing, this is clearly evil, since a license requires a strawman and therefore acceptance of the entire legal law of persons. It is for this ability to apply good reason upon each individual case so that our choices remain Pure, and so that we must have this Higher Law of Jehovah, for around every corner is another tree full of the fruit of good and evil ready to be plucked and consumed. And each fruit very likely has an opposing fisher of men's hook baited with temptation to leave Reality (God) hidden within. Choice is upon every and all things. Choice is a lifestyle, not a singular election or single point in time, as the church leads us to believe through its registered member-ships. Men of God do not choose to be and receive the empty name of "Christian" for show and political reputation, we live in God and christ's meaning and Law at all times against and in spite of those artful institutions that would falsely humble us with such falsely flattering, "public" titles.

Now see here the absolute corruption through devolution of what is the idea and re-imagination of God through the artifice and duality of legalistic word magic, as defined before your very eyes:

JEHOVAH - noun - The Scripture name of the Supreme Being. If, as is supposed, this name is from the Hebrew substantive verb, the word denotes the Permanent Being, as the primary sense of the substantive VERB in all languages, is to be fixed, to stand, to remain or abide. This is a name peculiarly appropriate to the ETERNAL Spirit, the unchangeable God, who describes himself thus, I AM THAT I AM. Exodus 3:14. (Webs1828)

GOD - noun - 1. The Supreme Being; JEHOVAH; the eternal and infinite spirit, THE CREATOR, and the sovereign of the universe. GOD is a SPIRIT; and they that worship him, MUST WORSHIP HIM IN SPIRIT AND IN TRUTH. John 4:24... (Webs1828)

GOD - noun - ...2. A false god; a heathen deity; AN IDOL. Fear not the gods of the Amorites. Judges 6:10. 3. A PRINCE; A RULER; A MAGISTRATE OR JUDGE; an angel. Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people. Exodus 22:28. Psalms 97:7... 4. Any PERSON or THING exalted too much IN ESTIMATION, or DEIFIED AND HONORED AS THE CHIEF GOOD. Whose god is their belly. Philippians 3:19. - verb transitive - To deify... (Webs1828)

CREATOR - noun - [Latin] 1. The BEING or PERSON that creates. Remember thy creator in the days of thy youth. Ecclesiastes 12:1. 2. The THING that creates, produces or CAUSES. (Webs1828)

SOVEREIGN - adjective - suv'eran. [We retain this barbarous orthography from the Norman sovereign. The true spelling would be suveran from the Latin supernes, superus.] 1. Supreme in power; possessing supreme dominion; as a sovereign RULER of the universe. 2. Supreme; superior to all others; CHIEF. God is the sovereign good of all who love and obey him. 3. Supremely efficacious; superior to all others; predominant; effectual; as a sovereign remedy. 4. Supreme; PERTAINING TO THE FIRST MAGISTRATE OF A NATION; AS SOVEREIGN AUTHORITY. - noun - suv'eran. 1. A SUPREME LORD OR RULER; one who possesses THE HIGHEST AUTHORITY WITHOUT CONTROL. Some earthly princes, kings and emperors are sovereigns in their dominions. 2. A SUPREME MAGISTRATE; A KING. 3. A gold coin of England, value (of) $4.44. (Webs1828)

MAGISTERIAL - adjective - [See Magistrate.] Pertaining to a MASTER; such as suits a master; authoritative. 1. Proud; lofty; arrogant; imperious; domineering. Pretenses go a great way with men that take fair words and magisterial looks for current payment. (Webs1828)

MAGISTRATE - noun - [Latin magistratus, from magister, MASTER; magis, major, and ster, Teutonic steora, a director; steoran, to steer; the PRINCIPAL director.] A PUBLIC CIVIL OFFICER, invested with the EXECUTIVE GOVERNMENT or some BRANCH of it. In this sense, a KING is the highest or first magistrate AS IS THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES. But the word is more particularly applied to subordinate officers, as governors, intendants, prefects, mayors, justices of the peace, and the like. THE MAGISTRATE MUST HAVE HIS REVERENCE; THE LAWS THEIR AUTHORITY. (Webs1828)

ALER A DIEU - Late French. In old practice. To be dismissed from court; to go quit. Literally, "TO GO TO GOD." (Black4)

MASTER - noun - [Latin magister, compounded of the root of magis, major, GREATER.] 1. A MAN WHO RULES, GOVERNS OR DIRECTS either men or business. A man who owns slaves is their master; he who has SERVANTS is their master; he who has APPRENTICES is their master as he has the GOVERNMENT and direction of them. The man who superintends and directs any business, is master or master workman... NATIONS THAT WANT PROTECTORS, WILL HAVE MASTERS. 2. A director, HEAD, or CHIEF MANAGER; as the master of a feast. 3. The owner; proprietor; with the idea of governing. The master of a house may be the owner, or the occupant, who has a TEMPORARY right of governing it. It would be believed that he rather took the horse for his subject, than his master. 4. A LORD; a ruler; ONE WHO HAS SUPREME DOMINION. CAESAR, the world's great master AND HIS OWN. 5. A chief; A PRINCIPAL; as the master root of a plant. One master passion swallows up the rest. 6. One who has possession, and the power of controlling or using at pleasure. When I have made myself master of a hundred thousand drachmas — 7. The commander of a merchant ship... 10. ONE UNCONTROLLED. Let every man be master of his time. 11. An appellation of RESPECT. Master doctor, you have brought those drugs... 13. A man eminently or perfectly skilled in any occupation, ART or science. We say, a man is master of his business; a great master of music, of the flute or violin; a master of his SUBJECT, etc. 14. A TITLE of dignity in colleges and universities; as master of Arts. 15. The chief of a society; as the Grand master of Malta, of free-masons, etc... TO BE MASTER OF ONE'S SELF, to have the command or control of one's own passions. The word master has numerous applications, in all of which it has the sense of director, chief or superintendent. As a TITLE OF RESPECT given to adult PERSONS, it is pronounced MISTER; a pronunciation which seems to have been derived from some of the northern dialects. [supra.] - verb intransitive - TO CONQUER; to overpower; to subdue; TO BRING UNDER CONTROL... EVIL CUSTOMS MUST BE MASTERED BY DEGREES. 1. To execute with skill. I will not offer that which I cannot master. 2. To rule; TO GOVERN. --And rather father thee than master thee... (Webs1828)

— = —

So what does the word “god” mean? Perhaps now we may understand that no matter what we do we will always and at all times have our personal God, be it man as the creator of the fiction we operate or the Creator of man and all of Nature. It is words and words alone that establishes the evidence of either realm, for when words control our actions, we may either be controlled by man’s words (law) or God’s Word (christ’s actions as described and exemplified as Law). To put it simply, “God” is exactly what we can be convinced to believe (love) as our god. This will never change, which is why christ’s message is a lifestyle of permanent choice, not a story book to be read and conveniently forgotten every Sunday while evil men influence and alter the intent of every aspect of Life and Nature through licensure.

The legal person (status) for which man is in surety to is a slave of its master (creator and principal). Therefore, in order to act in that persona, man must consent to that slavery and servitude for himself through the insurance bond of surety to that strawman. He must follow the law of that god of false, fictional creation. This voluntary servitude is contractual, consensual, and is expressed by every action we take in person, from our signature to the taxes we pay.

“Evil customs must be mastered by degrees...” and this is why upon the completion of public and university education programs (mental reprogramming) we may receive a degree of crime called a diploma (diplomacy and diplomatic immunity by license to commit organized crime), as a master’s degree, as permissive license by the state to commit evils against the Reality of the Order and Design of God’s Nature. This is called syndicalism, and its most ardent form is anarcho-syndicalism, the organized chaos of public-minded slavery through public institutions and education (the training of animals to do tricks). We become only a master of the title bestowed upon our strawman, and at best a master of dog-Latin, kings of technical illiteracy.

The public education process is designed to hone in on man’s individual (unique) personality and force it to condone and profess the immoral or amoral, legal state of things. To educate is to train by profession (word) of some aspect of commerce. And so the ultimate goal of education is to control individual personality (verb) so as to conform man into a professional (noun), where the words of the man are not his own personal opinion but that of the syndicalist associations and corporations (artificial persons) that control industry and create official information. In this day and age a True personality untainted by fiction is perhaps an impossible attainment.

—=—

“Personality is the supreme realization of the innate idiosyncrasy of a living being. It is an ACT of courage flung in the face of life, the absolute affirmation of all that constitutes the individual, the most successful adaptation to the universal conditions of existence, coupled with the greatest possible freedom of self-determination.”

—C. G. Jung, “The Development of Personality,” 1932

—=—

One’s personality is thus a reflection of the inner balance or imbalance of one’s mind, body, and soul. When the conditions of man’s Existence are so overwhelmingly based on confirming, servicing, and fulfilling the big legal lie that even his own person is subject to, then his self-determination ceases to be the forerunner of his personality. His individuality necessarily gets moved to the back of the line behind the legal, artificial, individual strawman he represents himself to be as daily in name, title, and for commercial purposes as first, second, and third persons. When every aspect of this civil life revolves around the pursuit, increase, and spending of money, then perhaps the average publicly oriented, non-spiritual personality of the typical public citizenship of the United States and of other nations is not surprising. In fact it is scientifically speaking to be expected, while at the same time scripturally just what was forewarned.

What else can be expected from a people that embrace the laws of church and state in combination and in pursuit of its conspired well-being over that of their very own Nature?

—=—

“Formerly there were those who said: You believe things that are incomprehensible, inconsistent, impossible because we have commanded you to believe them; go then and do what is unjust because we command it. Such people show admirable reasoning. TRULY, WHOEVER IS ABLE TO MAKE YOU ABSURD IS ABLE TO

MAKE YOU UNJUST. IF THE GOD-GIVEN UNDERSTANDING OF YOUR MIND DOES NOT RESIST A DEMAND TO BELIEVE WHAT IS IMPOSSIBLE, THEN YOU WILL NOT RESIST A DEMAND TO DO WRONG TO THAT GOD-GIVEN SENSE OF JUSTICE IN YOUR HEART. AS SOON AS ONE FACULTY OF YOUR SOUL HAS BEEN DOMINATED, OTHER FACULTIES WILL FOLLOW AS WELL. And from this derives all those CRIMES OF RELIGION which have overrun the world.”

—Voltaire, 'Questions sur les miracles' (1765)

—=—

It is important to note again that this word animal merely means “without soul,” as will be more deeply examined later, and is a reference to men acting as public persons (goyim/chattel) of all the nations called citizen-ships, as the fictional living of a spiritual death in Life. The notion of animalistic behavior refers to the controlled baser instincts and autonomic response that man acts by when commercially operating in the person and therefore fixed law of another, that is, without personal responsibility for his own actions. This is a soulless life through fictional means. Of course a fictional character has no soul, and neither does man when he assumes that cartoon identity and governed (controlled) quality of personhood in bond and surety. The degrees and diplomas he may obtain and attach to his state surname, as well as that artificial, flattering title allowed and bestowed in employment (use) of that degree of licensed crime in such a corporate fiction system, can only be applied by the state upon the state’s creation, a fictional persona under which we attend that school as a legally registered (taxed) surname and number. Men hold no titles, for the soul has no capacity for such legal artifice. A True man in True Faith of Jehovah would find titles worthless within God’s Nature and Law, for a man of God would seek to rule over no other man nor over God’s Nature, only to protect its Natural state of Being in all ways. Only artificial things (person-hoods) may hold artificial titles. It is only the state’s own property (person/status) upon which these degrees, credentials and titles are bestowed and taken away, and are therefore never property of any man, even he who proudly and in vain bears them. Thus, the animal (legally considered soulless man in false persona) is trained, normalized, and beset upon the artificial legal realm of commerce and public intercourse, mindlessly occupying an imaginary status (noun/name) while believing himself to actually be his false, fictional title.

This, of course, is spoken about sharply and yet eloquently in the Bible (see Galatians 6:1-4). We all fool ourselves in this way, believing our legal, artificially projected self image to be something when we are in Reality no thing (noun/name) at all. And most of us seek such diplomatic license to offend Nature by some degree of crime so as to sacrifice it and our True Selves (souls) to the god of mammon. For with money, any thing (noun) seems possible. And yet without money, there are no limits but what God’s Nature and Design intended for us as the Highest Law. This is merely more of that beautiful self-evidence of True Faith as compared to pretended faith (worship of false truth) in fiction, in the big legal lie, even as we seek to overcome our own meticulously, scientifically designed and therefore unnatural limits by distorting the Natural Order of all aspects of Jehovah, all in pursuit of more money to accomplish and become more things (nouns). Unlimited, unrepentant progress in the virtue and name of that which is adversarial (satanic) to Nature. Progress towards a more organized chaos of hell, an enhanced public imprisonment for mind, body, and soul. A perfection of simulation.

—=—

“The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful. For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. THE INSTRUMENTS ALSO OF THE CHURL ARE EVIL: HE DEVISETH WICKED DEVICES TO DESTROY THE POOR WITH LYING WORDS, even when the needy speaketh right.”

—Isaiah 32: 5-7, KJB

— — —

A quick translation reveals the “churl” as Strong's H3596 (kiylay), meaning fraudulent, deceitful, crafty, and niggardly. The use of “instruments” of these churl, as Strong's H3627 (kēliy), refers to the ARTICLES, utensils, implements, apparatus, Arms bearing (armourbearer), and more specifically the fictional receptacle or VESSEL that this work seeks to expose, as the articles (i.e. cannons) of law and of the constitutions of private men in a compact of blood (Arms), and the legal person-hood and citizen-ship that we call as that vessel of mammon in commerce. These are the instruments of the deceitful pirates of the word-craft. Even the phrase “deviseth wicked devices” as translated from Strong's H2154 (zimmah) refers firstly to the advice of legal or other council, in both a good (Natural) and bad (artificial) sense, as the adding of vice. Also said to be wickedness, as a wicked DEED, translated from other passages in various scriptures with the words lewdness, wickedness, mischievous, lewd, heinous crime, wicked devices, lewdly, wicked mind, purposes, and thought. Ultimately, the purpose of all these designs and articles is to destroy the Naturally occurring qualities of man in his meekness, through the devilish temptations of the artifice, of money, and of the various sins he might not partake in without license from some falsely believed in authority figure (legal and ecclesiastical gods). The council of these lawmakers, attorneys, and priests are said to be the causal manifestation of zimmah, which is to trick the meek and content man, the meek as he participating only in his accepted place in Nature under God, to be in a causal state not chaste, as one of incest, licentiousness, adultery, idolatry, and harlotry. The articles of law and the articles of faith and religion are these wicked devices spoken of in scripture; woe be to the scribes and lawyers and priests who promote deceit and cause men to pray publicly to the gods of the legal systems (councils) of the corruption of man. From birth (creation of the legal vessel [kēliy]) we are taught to think legally and act publicly instead of thinking spiritually and acting privately, not according to any scriptural, moral law but by the amoral and often designedly immoral articles of the false law and artful doctrines.

As we follow these ancient terms of the Bible down to their root components, we find not the design itself but the intent. Design, of course, follows intent. And so with the word zimmah we find its root in Strong's H2161 (zamam) which means to have a thought, to devise, to plan, to consider, to purpose, from the verb Qal, meaning to consider, to fix thought upon, to purpose (as to re-purpose or re-source) or to devise a plan, and to plot (with evil intent). And so we could also use the words conspiracy, combination, and confederacy here, all meaning the same thing, so as to understand the intent of church and state. In other words, the creation of the federal district was done with the intent to commercially enslave the common population in a contractual performance debt. This word zaman as used in the scriptures also carries the meanings, according to the Gesenius' Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon, of to tie and to bind. Secondly, it refers to the concept of to lie in wait, to plot, to purpose, or to meditate evil. And in its most specific contemplation, we find the Arabic figurative idea of the thought and plan of purposing something to oneself, as a matter of intention, or to intend with selfishness. As we move on within this work, the reader will soon come to realize that the very purpose of the existence of these governmental and religious entities is just this, to lie in wait plotting the piracy of every child, with the intent to steal all men's birthright as blood consideration, and to cause all men's purpose to follow mammon for the benefit of its legal creator gods. The best way to do this is to create a system of control over men's minds (government) so as to cause man to be fixed in his actions in a debt contract to that system. Remember, to be legally free is to be in contracted franchise. This is not Natural freedom under God, but only a voluntary, open-air jurisdictional servitude as opposed to a closed prison.

And so the purpose of these systems of legal law and religious articles of faith is to cause man to be limited, to be fixed, and to be tied down and bonded (in binding) so that man acts according to the law that accompanies his status within that system of meditated evil intent. As much as this author wishes this were not the case, this work is intended to stand as evidence in their own rare supporting words, opinions, laws, and customs. And so painfully and with a heavy heart we must continue to uncover here this unseen hand that controls us.

Finally, we may now understand the intent of this scriptural passage when it states that the vile person can no longer be called liberal. This spiritual word is used incorrectly by almost every artificial source of information out there, from the nightly news to the pundits that write and parrot the same talking points over and over and over with every election. But we must know that in history, the so-called “founding fathers” were indeed referred to as liberals or liberal-minded. They obviously weren’t conservative or public-minded now were they, considering they started a new form of government for themselves and their own private bloodline (posterity)? And so we must relearn the intent and purpose of this word so that we can understand its demonization in the public media. We must seek the reasoning as to why the “person” causes the man to be vile by becoming fixed (conserved) within a set system of government and law.

The word liberal as translated from Strong's H5081 (nadiyb) is defined as an adjective describing men who are inclined, willing, noble, generous, who live by being incited, inclined, willing, and also those who by title alone are considered as noble, princely (in rank), and those regenerate men who no longer allow man’s law to district their actions in public persona, being as well noble (in mind and character). As a noun, used only as a flattering title without works, liberal also refers to a noble one. Words like noble are of course dependent upon perspective, as a man of God is noble in the figurative eyes of Jehovah in his piety, whereas a ranked and genealogically titled nobleman only exists in the eyes of the fictional state. Here again it is the difference between acting nobly (verb) and assuming a false, flattering title (noun) based purely on fictional histories and fabled genealogies or upon educative syndicalism and rewards of criminal degrees in diplomacy. Needless to say, how this word liberal is used today is a far cry from its origin of intent. But most important to comprehend is that the liberal man’s Life and actions are favorable to God, for his actions alone establish his reputation, not some term of art. And so the man who accepts and virtually becomes the vile person of another, as a public person in citizenship under the laws of the United States, is automatically thought to be ignoble and non-liberal, for a slave has no such qualities and its actions are controlled (governed) not by God’s Law of Nature, but by the artful sanctions of the fixed-law beast system. To be fixed (in legal persona, name, number, title, etc.) is to be opposed to liberality (Natural liberty). And so the underlying lesson to be learned is that nobility is earned, not handed over like a merit badge. To be noble in our actions is to obey the Highest Law at all times, and that means to never allow our actual noble Being to be subsumed by flattering titles that require no action to hold that purely fictional title.

Ironically, only the worst kind of men carry the false titles of nobility while the meek share equally (with equal right) in the surname title of their fellow hu-man capitalist subjects. And yet this is exactly how the Bible foretold it would always be, at least for as long as these names and flattering titles of fabled genealogies and political debauchery were respected by otherwise good men. Our public birth into citizenship, of course, ensures such respect as the norm of societal functionality enforced by law and sanction, as ridiculous as it is. To be in public personhood and citizenship, it is a requirement to respect these legalistic gods and magistrates or be held in contempt!

As a side-note, it is very important to consider just what the intent and purpose (zimmah) of debt is. Money in and of itself as the reason for debt is virtually insignificant as to that actual plan and purposeful design and reasoning for the creation of a contract of debt. Remember that mammon is not money in and of itself, but the valuation it implies upon every aspect of Nature and of fictional things, ideas, concepts, works, etc. In other words, evil men may easily justify their evil actions to break the Natural Law and do as much harm as they see fit to a debtor simply because that very act of violent force, be it a broken or cut off finger or the repurposing (foreclosure) of one’s home (to pay loan debt), or imprisonment in a debtor’s prison, has a value in money attached to it. Pay your debt or we kill your child. Pay your debt or we take everything you thought you owned. And so the purpose of debt is not money. Money is merely the inducement to contract. The true purpose of debt, just as the constitution is a debt compact between private (several) states, is to instill desired performance. Debt ensures performance, especially when the debtor unwittingly agrees to the entirety of the U.S. Code, which blatantly exclaims his right to be put in pain, punished, taxed, licensed, and exacted (extorted) from, as enforced violently by law. While the monetary value of things certainly induces man to put his faith and trust in pursuit of credit in that money system of debt and accept usury as if it were some necessary evil as a contracted dis-ease (a word-magic trick of mammon), the result of that inducement and vain pursuit is to compile performance and abeyance to the law. Thus all debt is a performance debt, whether money is involved or not. For in the system of mammon, every action carries a value, and every man is considered only by his potential labor output as human capital. And so the notion of citizenship is nothing more than being a permanent debtor, to be always required to perform while in a sort of contractual suspense, waiting hopefully for some sudden redemption. And so they give us false religion so that we never break the spell, remaining as debtors in fiction waiting for some supernatural redeemer as a christos God-figure, and thus never causing our own actions of Self to actually be christ-like so as to break those chains of debt and thus artificial performance under mammon. We act satanically till the timeless “God” hopefully returns at the end of some fictional, calendar age within the time domain and based on the zodiac, as it has been for many ages and under many hopefully “returning” gods presented by these controllers. For them, gods are a dime-a-dozen. Except that in their occulted zodiac, there are actually thirteen gods to return to.

To be absolutely clear, money is debt. Always and with no exception. The more one acquires with money the more laws will apply to his person and its property, and thus the more performance will be expected under a legally consented to threat of duress. One cannot obtain anything in protection of government without subjection to its laws, for all things acquired through purchase must be done so using that government’s patented money system. To purchase with money is to purchase with that which represents debt. And so with every purchase comes a new or continued performance debt, be it the immediate sales tax paid, the registration required (attachment to name and insurance), or the later debt of tax burden such as capital gains, property tax, etc. In this way, the actual thing we call as money is almost insignificant. And so our ardent love of money can only be considered in Jehovah and under the legal gods as the love of the root of all evil, the love of artificial things. For to the common man in public persona, all things are valued only in money. The common man in legal persona may therefore only buy (purchase/conquer) any article legally while using another’s debt-money currency, for any legal attribute or protections attached to the registered legal sale of the name and legal title of that which is purchased is what is protected, not the Reality of which that name re-presents as fiction. In other words, everything (noun) we buy or sell legally is done so in name only, for we have only the rights of the persons of government, not of free men under God. Bottom line: the user of money owns nothing in Nature. His purchases represent nothing but his deeper and deeper willingness to accept fiction over Reality, fakery over Nature; as the devilmaster’s contracts in zimmah over God’s Design.

This devolution from the Reality of Jehovah as God to the falsity of man as acting vicar of “God,” magistrate, and master over other men and the rest of Nature is the structural epitome of all governments throughout the world. Without realizing it, that multitude of man acting in citizenship (those in subjection to the uncontrollable and virtually lawless “sovereignty”) are bound in strawman surety to worship these magistrates as their gods, praying (pleading) to them while at the same time turning our backs on Nature Itself. When the legal fiction of government is placed upon a pedestal higher than the Reality of Jehovah, government is thus acting as an incorporation of the gods (sovereignty). Evil reigns over Good, the artificial over the Real, ignorance over True Knowledge; as the darkness over the Light. This is the satanic (adversarial) way.

— — —

“The State itself is ultimate.
There is no law higher than the State.”

And if there's no law higher than the State, then there is no appeal against it."

—M. Stanton Evans interview

—=—

"Sovereignty itself is, of course, NOT SUBJECT TO THE LAW FOR IT IS THE AUTHOR AND SOURCE OF LAW."

—Yick Wo v. Hopkins, 118 U.S. 356 1886

—=—

"The king (sovereignty) CANNOT HAVE AN EQUAL, much less a superior."

—DOMINUS REX NULLUM HABERE POTEST PAREM, MULTO MINUS SUPERIOREM. 1Reeve, Eng. Law, 115. (Black4)

—=—

One cannot appeal (pray) to God's Nature, Law, and Ultimate Authority if one has taken a false god (sovereign) and id-entity in and under the contracted dis-ease of law by a sovereign State (and its church). Either Jehovah is one's Permanent Sovereign and Master or a middle-man is standing in the way by contract to his mere temporary empire. Remember, satan, manifesting as anyone or anything that is opposed to God and Nature, only ever operates in contract.

More importantly, if one is under the legal government (state) of the sovereign People (State), one cannot also claim simultaneously to be the sovereignty of a State (as part of "We, the People"). One either is the State (the sovereign People) or one is subject to the private State's (private sovereign People's) commercially created (public) government in a citizen-ship (voluntary slavery) under the doctrine of principal and agent. The word "State" means in its proper noun a bloodline of "People" in its recorded posterity (descent, genealogy). Thus, a People have no sovereign but themselves, and so neither do any of the several States (private/sovereign Peoples).

We can understand the definition of this capitalized word "State" better by comparing these two maxim's of law, which say the exact same thing:

—=—

"The welfare of the PEOPLE is the supreme law."

—SALUS POPULI SUPREMA LEX. Bac. Max. reg. 12; Broom, Max. 1-10; Montesq. Esprit des Lois, lib. 26, c. 23; 13 Coke, 139; Lingo Lumber Co. v. Hayes, Tex.Civ.App., 64 S.W.2d 835, 839. (Black4)

—=—

"The welfare of the STATE is the supreme law."

—SALUS REIPUBLICAE SUPREMA LEX. Inhabitants of Springfield v. Connecticut River R. Co., 4 Cush. (Mass.) 71. (Black4)

—=—

This is not mere similitude. The State(s) are the private People and each private People is a several (foreign/private) State, which together are sometimes called the private united States of America in compact. And that which we call colloquially as “the state” (government) only represents that private People (States) as its creator.

But the “United States,” a district of Caesar (seizure/piracy), is neither a People nor a State (which are the same thing), merely a municipal corporation created by those several People (several States) in a beneficial compact (incorporation). These private People (States) are the creators of the “United States,” are the sovereignty over it and anything under it (including inferior U.S. citizenships), and thus are not bound by their own created “United States” public law. A private People knows and respects no public authority any more than any king does over his own office of god. It is of the utmost importance to commit this fact to memory. And from this point of reference, as United States citizen-ships (operators of commercial U.S. created persons/statuses), we may know for certain that we are not one of those private “People,” and that for all intents and purposes they are the gods of our strawmen. Whether or not we respect the legal, public persona (strawman) we are granted at birth as the voluntary admixture of names (good and evil) is the choice that decides who and what our god is. Since “the People” does not actually exist in Nature, for it is a plural description and name of a kingship (artificial person/status), not of any individual man, then we can say that the private People of each of the several (private) States, also known as the Land-holders and thus the Land-Lords, are the gods of the nations, the idols and masters we are enslaved to by our own choices.

As a side note, and to clear up the grammatical choices of this author in my selective use of the capitalization of certain words and terms of Nature and of legal law, the reader should know that a capitonym is a word that, though spelled exactly the same, changes its meaning and intent when it is capitalized. Generally, the capitonym (stemming from the word “capital,” which is the principal or head of some thing) changes a noun into a proper noun. Thus while the general word state is a noun/name of a legal fiction, the special, capitalized word State changes this word into a proper noun/name of a specific People. Thus when words are capitalized (placed purposefully in capitonym and thus respect of their “proper” authority) they are special, not general. They are not common. They are not innocent. But we must also remember that perspective changes our rules. For to the legal realm I wish only to be known as the ambiguous name clint without any other attachment from that false realm. To be in permissive possession and respect of the capitalized name Clint Richardson in legal terminology is symbolic of a proper name, as an incorporated man with public title (a legal, natural person). And so again we can understand here the power of our choices, the power of our God as Supreme Creator of Law. Jehovah or man’s multitude of governmental structures, one of these will be as our individual God based on our own perspective and respect of Self.

And so, when the preamble of constitution states that: We, the People, in Order... do Ordain and Establish this Constitution... for ourselves and our Posterity... these are all capitonyms. These are special (of a particular species) words/terms of art, given the force of proper nouns/names, and having only to do with those who were signers (founding fathers/legal creators) and the bloodline they represented as their agents (attorneys). These are not general terms, meaning that they do not include everyone, but only a certain and exclusive group of the whole. And so the Posterity of the People is certainly not the lower, common class of laborers and captured slaves induced and imported to build their nation and cities (municipal corporations) up for them, either slave or indenture or modern employee. With this understanding we may proceed with the story, knowing the difference between what is Real and what is artificial, what is a political government over common people (the general public) called a state and what is a private or sovereign People also called a State. But most importantly, we know what are the gods and what Is the only True God.

—=—

"Posterity: you will never know how much it has cost my generation to preserve your freedom. I hope you will make good use of it."

Do you really think he was speaking on behalf of slaves and indentured foreign immigrants in this private address to his own bloodline in posterity and inheritance of the sovereign political freedom he and his kin enjoyed? At this point, the answer to this question should start to become clear. For if all men were included in this label of “Posterity,” then the word posterity itself would be unnecessary, being historically and in many ways inaccurate.

As foreign, United States citizens only (not the Posterity of private holders of land in any of the States), the common people only have a permitted, temporary residence in any of those state government jurisdictions under that “People’s” created national commercial government. We are invited guests, valued as commodities mostly for our ignorance, and secondarily for the labor pool we represent as managed human capital. For all intents and purposes, we do not exist to them except as registered chattel, live-stock counted by (per) the head (capitalism). Make no mistake, a United States citizenship is not one of the sovereign People of the several States! It is merely a slave to the land-holders as it has been from the beginning. To think otherwise based on so much indoctrination by public institutions is the root of all misunderstanding and the basis of this continued voluntary slave system. For we are a common legalized “people,” goyim of the nation (father) who suffer from our own collective lack of knowledge under these devil’s contracts. Like cattle, we are peopled (distributed) into plantations called counties (municipal corporations). Only when the slave can be made to believe he is a master while chained by his own fictional self and sig-nature can such a clandestine feudal system of voluntary servitude exist. And let’s face it, the millions of laws on the books called as “public law” is proof enough of our lack of private sovereignty. That is, because we are under another People’s law, we are not that People we pledge our allegiance to. As obvious as this conclusion is, the opposite (adversarial) opinion is put upon us all from the civil birth of our public person (legal status) to its publicly registered civil death, and the arrogance and confusion can be cut with a knife. In essence, the general people are taught that they are the special People. This is a lie.

We have no clue how it is that we are legally plugged-in, and yet we acknowledge the fact at every turn with every signature and action we take in persona. We feel that we are somehow irreversibly connected to this fictional matrix of legal code, and our entire being is redirected, repurposed, and resourced in order to publicly serve that private People that are the several (private) States in corporate union as one body politic (sovereignty).

The slaves believe they are part of the “We.”

We must pay our taxes. Yet the sovereign (private) man pays no taxes.

We must register our children, our home, and our automobile. Yet the sovereign man keeps his property private, avoiding such publicity and corruption of blood due to that low and mean public status.

We must submit to police. Yet that masonic club and largest street gang in America affronts not those private men under their private law, instead protecting their criminal activities in organized crime. For the police are a creation of the private People. The People are their gods.

It is not our economy, it is theirs. It is not our country, it is theirs. And only when the unwitting, voluntary, or involuntary slave begins to actually realize his place in this status-based society, to wake up to his own manipulated and simulated self in false patriotism, will he actually desire and seek to obtain that Natural freedom he though he already has even under his public, voluntarily contracted political indenture. But first he must learn the Law and acknowledge the Creator of that Law that will keep him free and within his own Nature. He must live in the Law, acting only in the Reality of all things, not merely fear the law and draw license from it in ignorance of its very purpose. In other words, his Law must be his religion.

Please note again that the word Jehovah is a verb of descriptive Substance, a continuous action of what Was, Is, and always shall Be in timelessness, in timeless Being, as that which we call the Natural Realm and the Universe as a never-ending Whole (Oneness). Jehovah is thus the inescapable time and space, earth and sea, and all that thrives within, without, and because of God's continued Permanence of actual Existence (Reality). And this is the only actual, Ultimate, Permanent Sovereignty, as “God,” which is why no man should ever be respected by any other as sovereign over any part of God's Creation, especially over other men. If man's (the special People's) sovereign legal laws are respected above that of Jehovah's Nature as the Law Itself, then man is doomed to destroy himself along with that to which his own fictional law gives him license to kill, purchase (conquer), and destroy. Only a false, legal foundation can cause this affront upon Nature (Jehovah) to happen, where certain men are treated as sovereign (law-making gods and judges) over others. And we are living in that history even as it unfolds. In fact, we are merely the modern, updated version of their former slaves who built the pyramids and tombs in their honor, the re-builders of the many masonic temples of Solomon. The facade of the buildings has changed, but not their intent. And at the top of every tall building in every municipal corporation (city) can be found the name of a bank (artificial person), as the favored agents and tributes of the moneychangers in mammon, the greatest agent of fictional control over the Real.

Before continuing with this story of the corruption of the conceptualization of God as all Creation of Nature and Its Creator, we must also come to know ourselves, even as we learn to know our fictionally represented “selves” as our own worst enemy. When referring to man in this work and by use of this word, we refer only to the complete package: the mind, body, and soul as a connected Creation of and harmoniously Living within God (Jehovah) bound to the Laws of Nature. Man is a general term signifying all men in self-existence and self-evidence without fictional consideration. This is the unnamed, non-proper name signifying man's subservience only to his Creator and to no other. But what happens when man is devolved in rank in his mind and so referred to as an “individual” fictional persona of and created by government as opposed to being an undefined (legally unprovable) and uncorrupted Creation of God? Can the legal version of man's persona (self) be the same as man in Nature under God? Never. It is very important to know that all references to any thing as or in person, or as a thing personified, is never a reference to the whole substantive package of man or any other part of God's Creation; of what actually Is in Being. A person is never of Nature, and so we must not respect the reflective but empty surface of that which is not the Reality of God's Creation. Man may die staring at the image (art) of food insisting upon its place in God's Nature, but the art will always only represent the dead state of Real Life.

A master will call his slave as a “man” just as God would. And so the word “man” is used in this work only as the root notion of the Source object of God's Creation, and never as the legal fiction would define it as a subject of legal government or of some false god and master. There is no actual Life in fiction. And to this fact there is no exception. Lies are never actual Truths. Man, under God, is always a living Creature in Being, and never a person (fictional legal status). And this presents the ultimate, always voluntary choice for each to make.

Reality -vs- fiction.

God -vs- the devil.

The word “person” is only ever a reference to the language form of “man” in a legal appearance, like a cartoon in a cartoon world, as the consideration of nothing but his legal status and rank in that fictional, legal society; the artificial world of the artificial creators. Thus the word man changes meanings and becomes not a term of Nature (adjective), but a term of art (noun). The Natural Existence (verb/adjective) of a man of God is self-evident, but the legal name (noun) of a man must be proven to positively exist in fiction. Positive (public) law only effects positively (publicly) created legal things. This artful representation of man by the legal chains of person-hood transmutes the spiritual meaning of “man” into the artful, legal meaning of “slave.” It’s all about the name (noun).

Be ultimately aware, therefore, that the legal term “natural person” is not a reference to anything within God’s Nature and Origin (Source), for legal words can only describe statistically legal entities as artificial things; as the “vital statistics” of a legally considered civil life of a civil nature, but NEVER the Reality of Life and Nature in and of Itself. This term is only a descriptive use of legal wording that re-presents Nature and Life as a fictional thing; a cartoon creation of the government of men. A “person” is NEVER actually a Living man or part of Nature, only the appearance of man in a fictional, statistical form, as the strawman.

Re-genesis. A mirror image...

STATISTIC, STATISTICAL - adjective - [from state or STATIST.] Pertaining to the STATE OF SOCIETY, the CONDITION of the PEOPLE, THEIR economy, THEIR property and RESOURCES. (Webs1828)

VITAL - adjective - [Latin vitalis, from vita, LIFE. This must be a contraction of victa, for vivo forms vixi, victus; Gr. CONTRACTED.] 1. Pertaining to life, either ANIMAL or vegetable; as vital energies; vital powers. 2. Contributing to life; necessary to life; as vital air; vital blood. 3. Containing life. Spirits that live throughout, vital in every part - and vital virtue infus'd, and vital warmth. 4. Being the seat of life; being that on which life depends. The dart flew on, and pierc'd a vital part. 5. Very necessary; highly important; essential. RELIGION IS A BUSINESS of vital concern. Peace is of vital importance to our country. 6. So disposed as to live. Pythagoras and Hippocrates affirm the birth of the seventh month to be vital [Little used.] Vital air, pure air or oxygen gas, which is essential to animal life. (Webs1828)

VITAL STATISTICS - The INFORMATION that is kept on BIRTHS, DEATHS, MARRIAGES, DIVORCES, longevity, etc., that is kept by PUBLIC authorities for determining PUBLIC utilities, etc. (Black2)

ENROLLMENT - The act of putting upon a roll. A RECORD MADE. In English law. The REGISTERING or entering on the rolls of chancery, king's bench, common pleas, or exchequer, or by the clerk of the peace in the records of the quarter sessions, of any lawful act; AS A RECOGNIZANCE, A DEED OF BARGAIN AND SALE, and the like. (Black4)

— = —

Information, which is given by the informer (usually the mother) on the birth registration document, is recreated from those descriptive vital statistics into a legal, fictional persona. This is the creation of a legal entity, as the bringing into existence of a fictional life.

How does one reconcile this ridiculous notion that a fictional thing may have some semblance of “life,” when it is so clear and self-evident that no Real or Natural Life Exists in fictional things. Amazingly, the whole story of the scriptural Law is to teach us to not respect such a false existence as this, to only respect what is self-existent. And so we must learn to recognize these satanic (adversarial to Life, Nature, and Reality) versions of artificial life as personifications of legal concepts. The life of a citizenship, of a legal person (status), is no life at all. But in the legal realm, where all things are opposite of Reality and opposed to God’s Nature, life is proven to exist there in its fictional form without substance though the magic of artful terms:

— = —

LIFE:

“26. The state of being in force, or THE TERM for which an INSTRUMENT has LEGAL OPERATION; as the LIFE OF AN EXECUTION.”

—Definition for 'life' from: Webster's 1828 Dictionary of the English Language

— = —

The legal “life” of “persons” of the state is purely a civil (artificial) one, an imaginary legal state of false being (legal existence), and the respect of the force of the state’s (legal creator’s) jurisdiction is that on which legal (fictional) life depends for its existence. The “vital statistics” of a legal persona can never be the Reality of the man operating behind it. A lie cannot be sustained without belief and respect of its fictional life.

Similarity is not sameness. A copy is never and can never be the actual original. Re-source is never Source.

And so the fundamental difference between the Natural man and these fictionally considered, legal, “natural” personas is that while the spiritual man is at Oneness with Nature (he believes in/loves God), each fictional creation of personhood is designed to break that harmonious Oneness and make each man quite unique (novel) and thus patently distinguishable by his registered information and legal id-entity.

Thus, this word natural as a legal term is specifically and intentionally designed to descriptively and definitively separate Living man from non-living things in this fictionally re-created realm, and to identify (turn the id into a pretended entity) individual men merely by rank and status, but only in a comparative form when considered next to corporations made up of many natural persons, which we call a single “artificial person” (many “natural persons” incorporated into one artifice called an “artificial person” or as one fictional body politic as if it were a “natural” person). Corporations are persons too, remember? But the word never has an actual meaning regarding the substance of Life (Creation) Itself, merely the reflective (evil) appearance of dead form and name only in the fictional realm. Again, legal descriptions from legal words are only ever a similitude of the Real, which is never a sameness. Thus, the vital statistics of a new-born baby are necessary to create the false but similar persona of that man, the simulated man, the strawman, from which the birth certificate is created as legal evidence of the creation of a financial instrument of mammon; a legal entity which we call a person.

There is without exception no actual life in fiction (in the names of persons, places, or things) any more than a cartoon character that resembles the form of a man or animal can be called as “Living” in Nature, though the word is used to re-present a statistical, imaginary form of life in that fictional legal realm, for which we call as spiritually dead persons, places, and things (proper nouns). And so the term natural person is purely descriptive of a life-less legal fact, a fictional creation of law, and as such allows no laws or creations of God’s Nature into its referential world of word magic. This is nature recreated by words (code). The word “person” is not, under any circumstances, a creation of Jehovah as anything Born by and in Mother Nature, nor is it ever an actual reference to IT. For if the legal realm acknowledged man as a limitless, unalienable Creation of God, it would necessarily be required to always acknowledge God’s Supremacy of Law as Higher than itself. In essence then, there would be no need for civil law if moral law was adhered to and respected. And in Reality, the man never loses this gift and favor of God as a Creation thereof, but instead voluntarily respects and acts as if he were the fictional person that those personal, civil laws are attached to. While wearing the artificial clothing of a legal personhood, the man as a Creation of God is invisible to his True Creator, as is that Natural Law of God that would otherwise protect the man from the fiction of his 2nd life in third person.

This is volunteerism. This is the doctrine of master and servant.

The spiritual law, as the Pope stated above, is always higher than anything legal, as including all temporal laws and fictions created by men. And this is why the church's papal Bull-shit established the pretended and personified "spiritual jurisdiction" of ecclesiastical law. It would have no power over man if not for legal personhood, which is the word magic of the mark, name, and number of the legal beast system. But the absence of all artifice, after all, should be our ultimate goal! No more lies!!! Pure simplicity. The names and legal statuses that the State bestows are only ever anti-Nature, anti-God, anti-christ, and anti-Life. These legal titles in persona are only bestowed by magistrates acting as false legal gods, and they re-present man into a pre-judged (doomed) status, into the impersonation of a slave. From its certified, corporate legal birth to its certified, corporate legal death, a man is judged only to be as the person (subject and ward) of the government he re-presents and operates in commerce under, that hood of status created from vital statistics into a totally controlled legal entity. Jehovah (God) does not Create nor Respect persons, only men as part of Creation. "Person" is and can only ever be a description of the legal, artful form of man, of what belongs to other men, but is never actually a man. It only applies to a legal existence (form and appearance) and therefore a legal status (consideration) within the legal realm and jurisdiction of law. A cartoon. A mirror image. The false appearance of self.

The legal law is not alive (in Nature), and so it cannot consider anything in Nature (God's Creation) without all things being first named, predefined, and redesigned under it as something other than its Origin and Source. And yet it is constituted and named as the so-called "living," "organic" law. It is not a vegetable or fruit, nor a mineral or other aspect of Creation, so we must of course not be fooled by the use of legal words like "organic" when applied to purely fictional, legal things. This is yet another term of art. A thing artificial, anything created by man, can never be in Reality (in Nature) a thing Naturally Organic. This differential in not just meanings of words but in their use to describe both Reality (God) and fiction (artifice/lies) represents the need for the comprehension of these language arts and the many dualistic terms that magistrates use to control the minds of the masses. For the words of Nature are also used to define the words of legal fiction, which purposefully causes a con-fusion of terms. All words have a true sensual meaning. But all words also have a fabled, parabolic, nonsensical legal meaning. It is this similitude (but certainly not sameness) of the meanings of words that confuses utterly. For the creator gods of man's artificial systems of art and law (as illusionists) can only create the empty legal names of all things already Created in Substance under God. All Reality must be made into a fictional reflection of legal similitude. And the Real must be subordinated to the art that re-presents it as fiction.

Even the names, images, and empty forms of man's re-creation of God's actual Being are respected above that substance itself. The verb is personified and thus lost in respect and in consideration because of the overpowering false-empathy and respect placed upon the false character of the imaginary noun (name of the person/place/thing). To personify God (in false image) is to ignore the Substance of Being that is all of God's Nature.

—=—

"Man (homo) is a term of NATURE; Person (persona) of CIVIL LAW."

—Black's Law Dictionary, Second Edition (1910). Page 577

—=—

The Creation of Nature turned into a creation of man (law)...

It would be more correct for the author to use the word homo in each instance that the word man is used in this work. But I have a sneaking suspicion that this would be a vulgar distraction to many readers due to the slang and immature culture revolved around the use of dog-Latin. Perhaps this was a purposeful deed by the linguistic masters, keeping us away from the importance of that True “term of Nature” by twisting its meaning to mean something perversely sexual. And it should be understood that in the term stramineus homo (straw man), it is the application of the straw (artifice of fiction) that destroys that term of Nature (man), destroying man’s protective connection to his Creator, causing this mixing of names by that of the legal creator and placing the man under legal authority. To legally acknowledge having straw instead of blood as a fictional character created by the commercial law, no man may act as his own self. At any rate, the word man in this work should always be taken in this writing from the Latin translation as follows and with no artifice attached, as purely a Creation in Jehovah. Not as “human being” nor any other aspect of any artificial form, only as that which is man without spot or blemish from the legal fiction. The following legalistic definitions show the beginning and the end, both spiritual Life and legal life (spiritual death), the unaffected Natural and the effected imperfection of man as a corruption of blood, where the word man is legally re-formed by mere respect of artificial words to mean some class of slave under some sovereign fiction. The word (term of art) “slave,” or any other description of man is only a flattering title of the fictional person (status) of any man, which under God’s Law is not to be respected. When this word man is spoken in this work, only its Natural substance as God’s Creation is intended, and not the legal devolution implied by man’s designs against Nature and equitableness.

HOMO - This Latin word, in its most enlarged sense, includes both man and woman. Vide MAN.

HOMO - Latin. A MAN; a human being, MALE OR FEMALE; a vassal, or feudal tenant; a retainer, dependent, or servant. (Black4)

—=—

As an example of the simulation of life that is personhood, we can simply consider the fictional, animated “life” of a cartoon character. A cartoon is a person (a false personification and anthropomorphizing of something in Reality), only able to exist in that cartoon world (realm) on paper and behind the looking glass, and does not otherwise Exist accept within that representational form (jurisdiction) we call entertainment. The word enter-tain-ment in Latin means to enter (enter) and hold (re-tain) the mind (mentis), and this is what legal law does in its corruption against all of Nature. For it does not Exist in Nature, only in its own fictional recreation. It is not a Creation of God. In order to interact with that cartoon persona, we would need to re-present ourselves as a fiction and somehow appear in that entertainment jurisdiction (fictional, legal realm) as a “natural” cartoon person.

But we know this of course to be impossible in Nature. For even virtual reality is and always will be merely virtual; of the virtue of a lie. Artificial. False. Art representing Reality in a matrix of language code of similitude. As pure and utter fiction.

Yet we appear in the realm of legal fiction through the exact same, seemingly impossible process. We re-present ourselves to magistrate judges (gods) as one of their fictional creations called a person in citizen-ship, usually through an attorney that is first and foremost an officer of the court. We appear in court, which is merely part of the house (principality) of our person’s principal master. What appears in the cartoon realm is natural to that cartoon realm, just as what appears in the legal realm is natural to and of the virtue of the legal realm, for these artificial characters are creations of those fictional realms. But none of these statuses are of the Nature of Jehovah, which knows and respects no such fiction. At least cartoons have a form that can be seen. Man’s persona is an invisible characteristic never actually seen.

Let us read this verse again, for it calls out every false “Christian” in the world, as they who wear the flattering title of a Romanized “Christian” but do not obey the Word (Son) of God:

—=—

“But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, DECEIVING YOUR OWN SELVES. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face IN A GLASS: For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. BUT WHOSO LOOKETH INTO THE PERFECT LAW OF LIBERTY, AND CONTINUETH THEREIN, HE BEING NOT A FORGETFUL HEARER, BUT A DOER OF THE WORK, THIS MAN SHALL BE BLESSED IN HIS DEED. If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, THIS MAN'S RELIGION IS VAIN. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, AND TO KEEP HIMSELF UNSPOTTED FROM THE WORLD.”

—James 1: 22-27, KJB

—=—

To be “unspotted” is descriptive of a state of Life and of the soul that is to be free from censure, irreproachable, and free from vice. It is a Pure, non-legal Existence. It is to appear at all times only as one’s True Self (as Created) and as no other lie and by no other name (proper noun) and under no other law. To respect persons is to be under the censure of man’s law and under its added vices, or legal ad-vice.

—=—

MAN:

“...One who is MASTER OF HIS MENTAL POWERS, or who conducts himself with his usual judgment. When a person has lost his senses, or acts without his usual judgment, we say, HE IS NOT HIS OWN MAN.”

—Webster’s 1828 Dictionary, from definition of “man”

—=—

Govern-ment (mind control) is not a bad word when it refers to Self-government of one’s own mind. For all others, for the multitude of forgetful hearers of that Highest Law of Nature, the legal system and matrix code sits like an invisible filter, collecting those who cannot govern themselves. For he who slips through the legal realm without being entrapped is simply he who carries no fiction or artifice and claims no benefits or positive protections thereof for any legal persona or flattering title. For he who carries the mark, name, and number of government, his actions must be subdued and administrated by the controllers (governors) of that satanic artifice. Legal government is the realm of sinners, for sin is only that which is not of self-evident Truth. The person of man is a sinner, and man dons that strawman so as to commit sins against God’s Nature with permission of false gods (magistrates). He who lives in sin must be governed as a sinner. This is not merely some religious drivel, this is the very essence of the two realms of light and darkness, of the Real versus the artificial, of Nature and all that is opposed to its self-evident and self-existent Reality. To pretend to exist outside of what is Real is the nature of the legal, contractual relationship. No contract can exist without a fictional person to sign and be held responsible for that contract. Thus the Bible teaches to never make such oaths, to never leave your mark (signature) nor to respect any such artifice.

We do not appear in court as a man (homo), only in and as a legal status we call the “natural” person or as the title of registered agent (attorney) for that fictional persona, for Nature Itself and therefore the Natural Law is generally excluded from any public legal realm. Only the blotted, spotted soul may make such an appearance, only he who is spotted by worldly, non-spiritual things. Strawmen. Sinners. We act by virtue of the legal state, not by God in any actual act (verb) of Virtue. Our religion is vain while acting in person (while our soul is blotted/spotted). We don a spiritually dead person-hood, a velcro law suit that causes all of the civil code to attach and stick to our re-presented legal persona.

VIRTUAL - adjective - [See Virtue.] 1. Potential; having the power of ACTING or of INVISIBLE EFFICACY WITHOUT THE MATERIAL OR SENSIBLE PART. Every kind that lives, fomented by his virtual power, and warm'd. Neither an actual nor virtual intention of the mind, but only that which may be gathered from the outward acts. 2. Being in essence or effect, not in fact; as THE VIRTUAL PRESENCE OF A MAN IN HIS AGENT OR SUBSTITUTE. (Webs1828)

HOOD - noun - [Latin fraternitas.]... 4. Any thing to be drawn over the HEAD to cover it. 5. An ornamental fold that hangs down the back of a graduate to MARK his DEGREE... - verb transitive - To dress in a hood or cowl; to put on a hood. The friar hooded, and THE MONARCH CROWNED. 1. TO COVER; TO BLIND. I'll hood my eyes... (Webs1828)

— = —

Nothing under God should be hooded, covered, ignored, or destroyed. Even the ugliest of the forms of Life in the eye of the beholder should be cherished not for its appearance but for its purpose and Source. And who among us but these legal gods would dare to declare what is the purpose and meaning of all other Life? A person-hood is designed to blind man from his own Truth, and to allow disrespect of the pricelessness of all Life by valuing it only in artifice.

A fraternity of any kind, including a legal juristic society, is a hood. A man can only act as a person (status) under that hood of membership (volunteerism). The benefits of any fraternal order, including that of the education process and university system that is hopelessly intertwined with the legal state, is false. Virtuality is not sameness with Source. A brother-hood, as a simulation under contract or unnatural combination (conspiracy/confederation/order), is not a Real brother. An agent must always have a principal, a slave his master, a debtor its creditor.

If our actions are performed by virtue of government's personification of our virtual (fictional) political body (under the hood of a legal strawman), then our actions certainly cannot be mistaken to be in virtue of and in respect to the Laws of God. Legal is only ever that which is opposed to God's Nature and Law, and there is nothing Natural about fiction in its re-presented virtual reality.

But when defined by the legal fiction in legalese, the word “natural” takes on a new meaning in virtue of the art-form it re-presents. Thus, the unnatural becomes the natural, the fictional god becomes as the similitude of the God of Nature in its own legally created realm. To a cartoon, a cartoon rock is “natural.” Perspective is everything. Thus, to stand in personhood is to be purposefully blind to Jehovah. It is to understand not God but only man's false designs, to live only by accepted lies. It is the lowest form of existence, but not substantially Life in any way.

As spiritual beings to be apparently and in finality judged by God as Jehovah, we may only (literally or figuratively) go before God the Creator in Pure Substance, as one of the Created within Creation, and above all else we must remember the scriptural teaching that God does not create or respect (cannot see; will not see) any person in any form. A person has no substance. It is never of Nature. So we can literally or figuratively make no excuses before God (the Permanence and Reality of Being) in final judgement or in looking at ourselves in the mirror by claiming that our fictional persons and flattering titles committed crimes against Nature despite the fact that we alone acted in that false persona. This is a lame excuse! Almost as lame as the notion of ignorance used as an excuse in law. It would be as ridiculous as telling your doctor that it was not you who smoked cigarettes for 30 years, but your fictional “natural” person that committed the action, and so the cancer (or if you will, judgement of God) is not your own fault. God sees no fictions and no persons, and neither does the disease that is said to be of the virtue of the wrath of God’s judgement, for these false personas simply do not Exist in that Reality of Nature. Likewise, the legal, administrative judge presiding over the jurisdiction of your person (status) in law will also be judging you as the agent of that person, for the judge is the attorney for the principal (god) of that artfully created legal person, and his is only to ensure and insure the protection of the person (vessel), not the man, just as a car rental company is only interested in the safety of its property, requiring a contract of insurance. If the man is harmed then the person is charged. And so in the bond of surety the man is judged as if he were the person. And so we find that even in this fictional corporation we call the state there is no excuse. The devil does not forgive, it only contracts, registers, and records. An agent cannot blame his vessel (status) for his own actions any more than a car can be blamed for the bad driving of its operator, for the puppets strings are the noose around the agent’s neck. The puppet is only the result of its masters efforts, and so is in surety for the puppets (persons) actions, just as a man acting in a police uniform and badge sometimes actually, though not often at all, goes to jail for his own crimes while acting in agency for a municipal corporation as the principal of that title of policeman (strawman).

Remember, the author is not trying to sell any form of incorporated “religion” (noun) here in any way. This is only the foundation of all Law. Comprehension and brainwashing of religious doctrine is not necessary. Belief (love) of It, as the acting towards It in all actions as the Law of actions, is the Law. Under-standing It by Living under It is the only True evocation of Natural Law. It is the concept, not the strict doctrine, that is necessary. In other words, one who does not actually believe (vulgarly, with the mind only) that after physical death we will meet our maker can still Live (verb) by this under-standing as the foundation of Permanent, unshakable Law, which is to say that all men upon this earth may find equity with each other without need of legal status or judges by simply believing (loving) the concept that our temporary lives are only a small part of the Permanence of Jehovah as Creation, and as temporary residents within God’s Kingdom of earth we should leave that Creation as we found It, avoiding all harm to all that Exists wherever possible. But especially unto our fellow Creatures. Hilariously, this is the typical rule of all national parks and campgrounds. Seems easy enough, and most of us certainly practice this unwritten Law religiously as we visit such protected and respected places of “Nature.” I doubt very much that “God” is on most people’s mind when they are simply doing what is right in such instances, in simply picking up their own litter and un-kindling their fire. But when the question of what is right or wrong becomes challenged by what is a legal right and what is legally permissible or excusable by legal artifice, it is then that God’s Law of Nature must always be considered towards our course of spiritual (religious) action (verb) despite what one “believes” in as his religion or non-religion (noun) or what man’s law declares as the artificial right of persons. Nothing is more reasonable or logical; and believe me, I’ve searched. And I’ve found that most and possibly all other “ideologies” and systems take their foundations from the Bible before kicking it to the curb without acknowledgement of its virtue of Source. To throw the Bible out with organized religions that claim it for their legal existence is akin to throwing the baby out with the bathwater. Simply stated, this is the recipe for True peace and prosperity of all men on earth. No man need join any legal fiction to accomplish this peace, for it is the inner peace of our True Self, instead needing only to apply our own will (self) towards not respecting any fiction while simultaneously respecting all Life. One can only respect life or fiction, never both. God or mammon. And ultimately the respect of the fiction (simulation/representation) kills the actual Life in every way imaginable.

In the end, man (as magistrate judge) may only forgive the person of man by justifying (making as law) lame excuses, for the person is man's own creation. Only God can forgive man, as man is only of God's own Creation, just as only a judge or presidential pardon may forgive the legal person. The creator controls. The allowance of men to be judged (doomed) by the artificial judges (gods) is clearly proof that men have no Law (God) above that of men.

—=—

“Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: BUT IF THOU JUDGE THE LAW, THOU ART NOT A DOER OF THE LAW, BUT A JUDGE. THERE IS ONE LAWGIVER, WHO IS ABLE TO SAVE AND TO DESTROY: WHO ART THOU THAT JUDGEST ANOTHER?”

—James 4: 11-12, KJB

—=—

“For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are CLEARLY SEEN, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that THEY ARE WITHOUT EXCUSE: Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. PROFESSING THEMSELVES TO BE WISE, THEY BECAME FOOLS, AND CHANGED THE GLORY OF THE UNCORRUPTIBLE God INTO AN IMAGE MADE LIKE TO CORRUPTIBLE MAN, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things. Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness THROUGH THE LUSTS OF THEIR OWN HEARTS, TO DISHONOUR THEIR OWN BODIES BETWEEN THEMSELVES: WHO CHANGED THE TRUTH OF GOD INTO A LIE, AND WORSHIPPED AND SERVED THE CREATURE MORE THAN THE CREATOR, who is blessed for ever. Amen.”

—Romans 1: 20-25, KJB

—=—

The author wishes to stress the fact that the Creator is always God over Its Own Creation and Self, and also that the magistrates are the gods over their own recreations. This work should never be misconstrued as suggesting that anyone should worship God as the Creation ITSELF, but that with Higher spirit must worship Creation as but a part of God. When it comes to Jehovah, any Part is never the sum of or greater than the Whole, and yet no Part is ever any less than the Whole. The Whole is the Incorruptible Permanence and Oneness of Being that is Jehovah. IT is One and IT is All but it is Never none. Likewise, the legal system is a closed loop system of creation, where all terms of art created a coded, fictional realm, linking all artifice into a oneness steeped in corruption of Truth. Both seek the other's ruination, both cause the ruination of whatever state of Being a man does not choose. One is God (of Nature) and one is the evil (dead) nature of the cult-ure of satan (the adversaries).

As difficult as this may seem to comprehend, to speak to any man by his surname, as a respect of his fictional appearance and persona in legal, jurisdictional form that is adversarial (satanic) to his True Nature, is to speak evil (artifice) of that man (spiritual brother). It is to disrespect God's Creation (man) in lieu of his false show. It is to respect only form without the Substance of Source. It is a rejection of Love, Peace, Piety, and Charity, for to respect the person is to respect a man's worth only in mammon (commercial valuation). And so even the action of calling anyone by their legal name is an act of artful, fictional judgement (doom). It's simply a confirmed lie. To acknowledge another man as a legal, public entity is to contract with it and respect its artifice of law; to claim that God's Law is not enough. For only dishonest men with intentions other than what is the negative duty under the Natural Law of God need hide behind the fictional protections and sureties of another's legal name and title, and only those who are not acting in Truth seek the legal protections of the legal persona (monetary insurance of mammon) in other men through his cursed (cursive) signature and contract. In other words, only he who acts without Pure Love and Charity in pursuit of that god of mammon would seek and respect the surety of a man's legal persona in contractual relationship instead of recognizing and ensuring only a Pure, brotherly, spiritual relation. And to personally summon such a demon into court by employing (using) the power of the gods of the court in principality and magistracy is to disrespect the very Nature of God's Creation and destroy the negative duty and potentiality of privacy and thus spirituality of any such man. It is to in-jure. To be the force and reason behind the fact that a man must artificially appear as something he is not is as being the handmaiden of satan. And the black-robed magistrates count on this utter abandonment of reason and respect of God and Nature to stay in business. No customers, no extortion. No volunteers (subjects), no masters. No debtors, no creditors.

Government, and thus man as its agents (attorneys), is the ultimate apologist for itself.

LAME - adjective - ...2. IMPERFECT; NOT SATISFACTORY; AS A LAME EXCUSE. 3. Hobbling; not smooth; as numbers in verse. - verb transitive - To make lame; to cripple or disable; TO RENDER imperfect and unsound; as, to lame an arm or a leg. (Webs1828)

EXCUSE - verb transitive - s as z. [Latin excuso; ex and causor, to blame. See Cause.] 1. To pardon; to free from the imputation of fault or blame; to acquit of guilt. We excuse a PERSON IN OUR OWN MINDS, when we acquit him of guilt or blame; or we excuse him by a declaration of that acquittal. 2. To pardon, as a fault; to FORGIVE ENTIRELY, or to admit to be little censurable, and to overlook. We excuse a FAULT, which admits of APOLOGY or extenuation; and we excuse irregular CONDUCT, when extraordinary CIRCUMSTANCES appear to justify it. 3. TO FREE FROM AN OBLIGATION OR DUTY. I pray thee have me excused. Luke 14:18. 4. TO REMIT; not to exact; as, to excuse a forfeiture. 5. To pardon; to admit an apology for. Excuse some courtly strains. 6. To throw off an imputation by apology. Think you that we excuse ourselves to you? 2 Corinthians 12:19. 7. TO JUSTIFY; to vindicate. Their thoughts accusing or else excusing one another. Romans 2:1. - noun - A plea offered in extenuation of a fault or irregular deportment; apology. Every man has an excuse to offer for his neglect of duty; THE DEBTOR MAKES EXCUSES FOR DELAY OF PAYMENT. 1. The act of excusing or apologizing. 2. That which excuses; that which extenuates or justifies a fault. His inability to comply with the request must be his excuse. (Webs1828)

— — —

Now let us look at the Bible as the quite imperfect work it is today, translated and re-transliterated by men of different hue and color of law and of religious doctrine, to the point that it is somehow socially accepted that each version is somehow also the same in its mere similitude to the Source and Origin of ancient texts and especially language arts. Some may also need an apology for the figurative and metaphoric nature of the Bible, believing that a parable cannot be taken as a Truism. And though so many classic fables and parables are accepted in our culture as the popular and even sometimes official allegories of moral teachings, for some reason the "literalist," historical view of the Bible cannot be shaken. So let us consider the meaning of these words before we make such hasty judgements of the Bible and other parabolic teachings. For some may even consider this work of mine as some apologist form of discourse on God. And this would not offend me at all as long as the apology is accepted in the spirit it is intended, for the shortcomings of the scriptures are not God's mistakes, only the folly of man trying to describe that which he cannot know but which also rings as self-evident! Apologies, with the exception of what are purely innocent accidents, it seems, are never required for anything but purposefully misused, misapplied, mistaken, and misunderstood words. And what is the modern Bible made of if not the artful words of man, of kings and of scribes and of attorneys?

APOLOGY - noun - [Gr. discourse.] AN EXCUSE; something said or written in defense or extenuation of WHAT APPEARS to others WRONG, OR UNJUSTIFIABLE; or of what may be liable to disapprobation. It may be an extenuation of what is not perfectly justifiable, or a vindication of what is or may be disapproved, but which the apologist deems to be right. A man makes an apology for not fulfilling an engagement, OR FOR PUBLISHING A PAMPHLET. An apology then is a reason or reasons assigned for what is wrong or may APPEAR to be wrong, and it may be either an extenuation or a justification of something that is or may be censured, by those who are not acquainted with the reasons. (Webs1828)

APOLOGIZE - verb intransitive - TO LAY THE FOUNDATION FOR A FUTURE OFFENSE. (The Devil's Dictionary, by Ambrose Bierce, 1911)

APOLOGETIC - adjective - [Gr. to speak in defense of; and speech.] Defending by words or arguments; EXCUSING; said or written IN DEFENSE, or by way of apology; as an apologetic essay. (Webs1828)

APOLOGIST - noun - [See Apology.] One who makes an apology; ONE WHO SPEAKS OR WRITES IN DEFENSE OF ANOTHER. (Webs1828)

APOLOGUE - noun - ap'olog. [Gr. a long speech, a FABLE.] A moral FABLE; a story or relation of FICTITIOUS EVENTS, intended to convey USEFUL TRUTHS. AN APOLOGUE DIFFERS FROM A PARABLE IN THIS; THE PARABLE IS DRAWN FROM EVENTS WHICH PASS AMONG MANKIND, AND IS THEREFORE SUPPORTED BY PROBABILITY; AN APOLOGUE MAY BE FOUNDED ON SUPPOSED ACTIONS OF BRUTES OR INANIMATE THINGS, and therefore DOES NOT REQUIRE TO BE SUPPORTED BY PROBABILITY. Esop's fables are good examples of apologies. (Webs1828)

PROBABILITY - noun - [Latin probabilitas. See Probable.] 1. LIKELIHOOD; appearance of truth; that state of a case or question of fact which results from superior evidence or preponderation of argument on one side, inclining the mind to receive it as the truth, but leaving some room for doubt. IT THEREFORE FALLS SHORT OF MORAL CERTAINTY, BUT PRODUCES WHAT IS CALLED OPINION. Probability is the appearance of the agreement or disagreement of two ideas, by the intervention of PROOFS WHOSE CONNECTION IS NOT CONSTANT, BUT APPEARS FOR THE MOST PART TO BE SO. DEMONSTRATION PRODUCES SCIENCE OR CERTAIN KNOWLEDGE; PROOF PRODUCES BELIEF, AND PROBABILITY OPINION. 1. Any thing that has the APPEARANCE of REALITY OR TRUTH. In this sense, the word admits of the plural number. THE WHOLE LIKE OF MAN IS A PERPETUAL COMPARISON OF EVIDENCE AND BALANCING OF PROBABILITIES. (Webs1828)

PROBABLE - adjective - [Latin probabilis, from probo, to prove. See Prove.] 1. LIKELY; HAVING MORE EVIDENCE THAN THE CONTRARY, or evidence which INCLINES THE MIND TO BELIEF, but leaves some room for doubt. That is accounted probable which has better arguments producible for it than can be brought against it. I do not say that the principles of religion are merely probable; I have before asserted them TO BE MORALLY CERTAIN. 2. THAT RENDERS SOMETHING PROBABLE; as probable evidence, or probable presumption. 3. That may be proved. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

PROBE - noun - [Latin probo.]... - verb transitive - 1. To search to the bottom; to scrutinize; to examine thoroughly into CAUSES AND CIRCUMSTANCES. (Webs1828)

ABLE - adjective - a'bl. [Latin habitis] 1. Having physical power sufficient; having competent power or strength, BODILY OR MENTAL; as a man able to perform military service - A CHILD IS NOT ABLE TO REASON on abstract subjects. 2. Having strong or unusual powers of mind, or intellectual qualifications; as an able minister. Provide out of all Israel able men. Exodus 18:18. 3. HAVING LARGE OR COMPETENT PROPERTY; OR SIMPLY HAVE PROPERTY, OR MEANS. Every man shall give as he is able. Deuteronomy 16:17. 4. Having competent strength or fortitude. He is not able to sustain such pain or affliction. 5. Having sufficient knowledge or skill. He is able to speak French. She is not able to play on the piano. 6. HAVING COMPETENT MORAL POWER OR QUALIFICATIONS. AN ILLEGITIMATE SON IS NOT ABLE TO TAKE BY INHERITANCE. (Webs1828)

PROVABLE - adjective - [See Prove.] That may be proved. (Webs1828)

DEMONSTRATION - noun - 1. The act of demonstrating, or of exhibiting certain proof. 2. The highest degree of evidence; certain proof exhibited, or such proof as establishes a fact or proposition beyond a possibility of doubt, or as shows the contrary position to be absurd or impossible. 3. Indubitable evidence of the senses, or of reason; evidence which satisfies the mind of the certainty of a fact or proposition. THUS WE HOLD THAT THE WORKS OF NATURE EXHIBIT DEMONSTRATION OF THE EXISTENCE OF A GOD. 4. In logic, a series of syllogisms, all whose premises are either DEFINITIONS, SELF-EVIDENT TRUTHS, or propositions already established. 5. Show; exhibition. 6. In anatomy, the exhibition of parts dissected. (Webs1828)

SYLLOGISM - noun - [Latin syllogismus; Gr. with, and to speak; to think.] A form or reasoning or argument, consisting of three propositions, of which the two first are called the premises, and the last the conclusion. In this argument, THE CONCLUSION NECESSARILY FOLLOWS FROM THE PREMISES; so that if the two first propositions are true, the conclusion must be true, AND THE ARGUMENT AMOUNTS TO DEMONSTRATION. Thus; a plant has not the power of locomotion; An oak is a plant; Therefore an oak has not the power of locomotion. These propositions are denominated the major, the minor, and the conclusion. (Webs1828)

FABLE - noun - [Latin, Gr. The radical sense is that which is spoken or told.] 1. A feigned story or tale, intended to instruct or amuse; a fictitious narration INTENDED TO ENFORCE SOME USEFUL TRUTH OR PRECEPT. Jothams fable of the trees is the oldest extant, and as beautiful as any made since. 2. FICTION IN GENERAL; as, the story is all a fable. 3. An idle story; vicious or vulgar fictions. But refuse profane and old wives fables. 1 Timothy 4:7. 4. The plot, or connected series of events, in an epic or dramatic poem. THE MORAL IS THE FIRST BUSINESS OF THE POET; this being formed, he contrives such a design or fable AS MAY BE MOST SUITABLE TO THE MORAL. 5. FALSEHOOD; a softer term for A LIE. - verb intransitive - 1. To feign; TO WRITE FICTION. Vain now the tales which fabling poets tell. 2. To tell falsehoods; as, he fables not. - verb transitive - To feign; TO INVENT; TO DEVISE AND SPEAK OF, AS TRUE OR REAL. THE HELL THOU FABLEST. (Webs1828)

PARABLE - noun - [Latin parabilis.] Easily procured. [Not used.] [Latin parabola; Gr. to throw forward or against, to compare to or against; as in confero, collatum, to set together, or one thing with another.] A

FABLE OR ALLEGORICAL RELATION OR REPRESENTATION OF SOMETHING REAL IN LIFE OR NATURE, FROM WHICH A MORAL IS DRAWN FOR INSTRUCTION; such as the parable of the trees choosing a king, Judges 9:1; the parable of the poor man and his lamb, 2 Samuel 12:1; the parable of the ten virgins, Matthew 25:1. - verb transitive - TO REPRESENT BY FICTION OR FABLE. (Webs1828)

PAR - noun - [Latin par EQUAL, paro.] 1. State of equality; EQUAL VALUE; equivalence without discount or premium. Bills of exchange are at par above par or below par. Bills are at par when they are sold at their nominal amount for coin or its equivalent. 2. EQUALITY IN CONDITION. (Webs1828)

PARABOLIC, PARABOLICAL - adjective - EXPRESSED BY PARABLE OR ALLEGORICAL REPRESENTATION; AS PARABOLICAL INSTRUCTION or description. 1. [From parabola.] Having the form of a parabola; as a parabolic curve. (Webs1828)

ALLEGORY - noun - [Gr. other, to speak, a forum, an oration.] A FIGURATIVE sentence or discourse, in which THE PRINCIPAL SUBJECT IS DESCRIBED BY ANOTHER SUBJECT RESEMBLING IT in its properties and circumstances. THE PRINCIPAL SUBJECT IS THUS KEPT OUT OF VIEW, AND WE ARE LEFT TO COLLECT THE INTENTIONS OF THE WRITER OR SPEAKER, BY THE RESEMBLANCE OF THE SECONDARY TO THE PRIMARY SUBJECT. Allegory is in words that hieroglyphics are in painting. WE HAVE A FINE EXAMPLE OF AN ALLEGORY IN THE EIGHTIETH PSALM, in which God's chosen people are represented by a vineyard. The distinction in scripture between a parable and an allegory is said to be that A PARABLE IS A SUPPOSED HISTORY, AND AN ALLEGORY A FIGURATIVE DESCRIPTION OF REAL FACTS. An allegory is called A CONTINUED METAPHOR. The following line in Virgil is an example of an allegory: Claudite jam rivus, pueri, sat prata biberunt. "Stop the currents, young men, the meadows have drank sufficiently; that is let your music cease, our ears have been sufficiently delighted." (Webs1828)

METAPHOR - noun - [Gr. to transfer, over, TO CARRY.] A short SIMILITUDE; a similitude reduced to a single word; or a word expressing similitude without the signs of comparison. Thus 'that man is a fox, ' is a metaphor; but 'that man is like a fox, ' is a similitude or comparison. So when I say, 'the soldiers fought like lions, ' I use a similitude. In metaphor the similitude is CONTAINED IN THE NAME; a man is a fox, means, a man is as crafty as a fox. So we say, a man bridles his anger, that is, restrains it as a bridle restrains a horse. Beauty awakens love or tender passions; opposition fires courage. (Webs1828)

APHORISM - noun - [Gr. determination, distinction; from to separate.] A MAXIM; a precept, or PRINCIPLE expressed in few words; a detached sentence containing some important truth; as, the aphorisms of Hippocrates, or of the civil law. (Webs1828)

— = —

What is like is not the same; for nothing similar is the same...

The story of christ is the allegory of Jehovah, told in the perspective of man's place in God's Creation, and designed to establish aphorisms as maxims of the Highest Moral Law for man to follow. Jesus christ, therefore, is a living metaphor of Jehovah. Thus we ask not what would "God" do but what would "Jesus" do, for it is much easier to relate to the persona and story of a man in God's image than to All and Everything that our unfathomable and omnipotent God Is. This is called as personification, as used in many, many historical works. For some this statement is irrationally taken to be offensive, for others it may be used as a justification of their unwarranted hatred for the Bible. For the form of these Biblical characters are made by the corporate church to be more important than the message and substance of knowledge they are meant to present by the words of wise men, the genealogy of the “generations” presented as more important than the Law being established. And yet these arguments over historical “facts” in some imagined timeline support neither side of this ridiculous argument as compared to the legitimacy of the Bible scriptures as ancient knowledge and the timeless foundation of the Law of God’s Nature.

So what can be uniformly said of the Bible with regards to the above definitions of words?

Here is where we must bring reason into the equation, and focus again on the self-evidence of what is stated therein while acknowledging that God is the very epitome of that which Exists only in self-evidence (the unfettered, unchallenged, unchanging harmony of Reality). Is the Bible a sameness or a similitude? Is one part of the story a metaphor and another an aphorism and yet another a parable while some other part stands as a fable? Is Jesus speaking parabolically or in metaphoric allegory? Is Jesus himself purely an allegorical character (as the representation and fictional personification of God), or is his likeness a Real part of history, even though it is told by “witnesses” in third party “books” sometimes 100’s of years after his supposed life in the timeline of man’s history? Is fable a bad word? Is a lie always a wrong? Is there really such a thing as a bad word, or just a wrongly respected and applied one? More importantly, is a fable and a parable the same concept?

Amazingly, the Bible answers these questions as it always does, though through the King’s transliterations these answers are often hidden in plain sight. It certainly warns against what has already happened in our modern generations (age). This parabolic warning is based upon the notion of fable, of turning away from the self-evidence of the Word of God in any language and embracing, as so many have today, the doctrines of men and religions with no substance, no Truth.

— = —

“For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; BUT AFTER THEIR OWN LUSTS SHALL THEY HEAP TO THEMSELVES TEACHERS, having itching ears; And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, AND SHALL BE TURNED UNTO FABLES. But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, MAKE FULL PROOF OF THY MINISTRY.”

— 2 Timothy, 4: 3-5, KJB

— = —

We must never forget the most important reason for all actions, which is INTENT. For even the Bible may be twisted and turned by unscrupulous men into a simulated (but not the same) fable to satisfy their own evil intentions, and even to justify the same.

It is my own fear, mind you a good and proper fear to have of God’s Word, that my words will be mistaken as those of these false teachers, that my examinations will be thought as subversive. And yet I realize that my subversiveness is only being expressed towards exactly what is written above. I realize that what I have accumulated herein is the anti-fable, the opposition to all fabled institutions and genealogies that have caused such blind belief and dark leadership, causing us all to travel down the most arduous and dangerous path imaginable. And this belief (love) in false things and authorities seems to be causing a self-fulfilling prophecy that will lead us all into the very beast system described obtusely in the King James translations. We are being used (employed) in all manner of employments to build that system of art (technology) that has already begun our descent into madness and artful captivity. We are building such a legal matrix that most will never even contemplate choice, and the power of the parable will be lost upon such tainted minds as these. For a parable is useless without the power to choose the moral, spiritual path away from fiction. And the beast system, the legal matrix combined with such advanced technology (art) is being designed to insert the strawman directly into the mind and body, causing an unescapable causality where moral choice is impossible. For the strawman will require a connection to the A.I., and without such a connection the man will not be able to Live. For he will not be able to buy, sell, or trade without it imprint. Man's person will be able to be switched off, his artificial life erased.

One's "ministry" cannot be merely words, as only judgements without example. Like the Word of God, our ministry must be shared through our own visible actions, for the Word is the Law we must at all times follow. We must become the sons of God, the example to follow, for the Son is the Word and christ's return may only happen within each of us. To this end, we must be reborn back into God's Nature.

To do this we must again understand the importance of parabolic speech, and be able to differentiate it from what a fable is. To speak self-evident Truth in parable form is the Highest formative substance of expression, and the very reason for its use by christ. We must speak in wholly undeniable terms, never allowing the artifice to penetrate our perceptions of Reality, while at the same time remaining grounded in our parabolic tales even when we may personify or anthropomorphize things or concepts for knowledge sake.

To be clear, the word parable (Strong's H4912 - mashal) appears 49 times in 49 verses in the Bible. It carries the meaning of parable, proverb, byword, and like. But in its root form this word marshal has a very interesting meaning. For it also takes the definition of "To make anything into the likeness of another." Sounds like photo-Genesis to me, like the creation story, the recreation of Reality into fiction. But what is this word really and why is it used to describe this allegorical knowledge put forth in these scriptural stories, that it should be Supreme and without other doctrine?

Strong's H4912 - mashal - מָשַׁל:

This same word is used 81 times in scriptures and is translated as the following words: rule (38x), ruler (19x), reign (8x), dominion (7x), governor (4x), ruled over (2x), power (2x), indeed (1x).

1. To rule, have dominion, reign

A. (Qal) to rule, have dominion

B. (Hiphil)

1. to cause to rule

2. to exercise dominion

And from Gesenius' Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon for mashal:

"To make like, TO ASSIMILATE. See... the noun similitude, parable, etc. To put forth a parable, TO USE A PROVERB, to sing a song of derision. (2) To rule, to have dominion, followed by the thing ruled over (Genesis 3:16)... to have the power of doing anything, as in Isa. 40:10, "his arm ruleth for him." Sometimes to be over anything, lords, rulers, princes, and in a bad sense tyrants. Learned men have made many attempts to reconcile the significations of making like, and ruling... however I have no doubt but that from the signification of making like, is derived that of JUDGING, forming an opinion (i.e. to think, to suppose, to think fit), which is nearly allied to the notion of GIVING SENTENCE, ORDERING, RULING... This notion of ruling, which is not found in this root in the other Phoenicio-Shemitic languages [except the Phoenician] seems to have passed over to the Greek... has no root in that language. Niphal, properly, to be compared; sense TO BE LIKE ANY THING. Piel, to use parables. Hiphil, (1) to compare. (2) to cause to rule, to give dominion. Hithpael, to become like..."

Simply stated, the parables of christ are designed to assimilate all men to His example, to cause men to follow in christ's footsteps under God's Law (Word).

That our actions might be governed by scripture, parabolic tales are told to us so that we may judge our own actions before we commit to them. They are, in other words, a way to examine the consequences of all things by applying self-evident Truths so as to equate the outcome of everything we may do. And by speaking them to others, we are able to relay the Word of God, the self-evidence of the Truth and of the Natural Law and Its Design, without specific judgement. In other words, we may save either some one or our Selves from the danger and the lies of future actions.

In this way, an ambiguous parable is the opposite of strict legal advice. It comes from the clear heart and the spirit in Love and Charity, whereas legal advice comes from an attorney re-presenting the courts and its magistrates of the state. Advice may only be administrative, whereas the parable is designed to cause avoidance of all legal (artificial) paths into fiction. Legal advice, no matter how good, is always a lie, while a parable well told and with Loving intent is always a self-evident Truth. Advice causes death, while the parable causes Life. For advice may only be given to persons having civil life. Advice takes away moral choice. And legal advice is never directed towards God's Nature.

Here we find that these scriptural parables are told with the intent of being as the Highest Authority of Law (the Word), as a realm of Authoritative Dominion over man's conscious actions. The fabled characters of the Bible who speak these parables, including christ Himself, are not the point of the parable. Christ teaches the Law of Jehovah, not "Christianity." His teachings in parabolic format are the self-evident Word of God, told in allegoric story form so that we may ourselves always relate to the story and know that the story applies to all men who might partake in the foolishness being displayed parabolically within. In other words, by showing the Law of God in story form as allegorical tales of the potential of man's certain folly in personification of what most certainly will happen in the future, the Law may be not only learned but the exemplified consequences known as well without actually breaking that Law. Thus we may experientially know through such ancient wisdom and moral-establishing story-telling the effect we may cause upon ourselves by our own foolishness and ignorance before it happens. It is just as many ancient tribes passing wisdom down from generation to generation through fabled tales and stories. This is the purpose of allegory and of the parable, and more to the point the purpose of telling moral stories in the personification of any and every man's potentiality, so as to cause not only the knowledge of the Law but also the fear of breaking God's Word (Nature's Law). The parable opens in the mind two possible paths, so that even the dark path is alight with knowledge, the knowledge of good and evil. The intent is (or should be) always to Godliness, to cause the hearer to walk as christ would, and so to simply and vulgarly call these characters and stories as a lie (fables) is to totally miss the intended Spirit of the stories. And this, of course, applies to all fictional tales, science fictions, and fairy tales ever created. Intent is everything. And while it is easy to pretend the Bible is of bad intent to satisfy our own lusts, its self-evidence is only able to be defeated by artifice (lies), by legal means and licensure against God's Word; the very intent of this legal system as that which is adversarial to Truth. To prove anything legally (positively) is to deny the Truth of that which is self-Existent and self-evident. Nature has no place in this fiction, for this legal system is a confirmed and ratified fable. God cannot ever be disproven, for we can never prove or disprove a negative.

Legal fiction is very much opposed to God. Its intent is strictly to cause discord with Nature, to separate man from his Source into the slave-state of agency in some system of mammon. This is undeniable. And its adversarial and subversive intention effects greatly our current state of Being and destroys our connection to our True Self and to Reality Itself, the Reality of Nature being called as "God" or "Jehovah." Yes, parabolically we could state that the Supreme Being can simply be said to be Nature's Self! The personification of Nature, of Creation, as the Creator. The individual personification of All that Is in Existence. The ultimate verb of Being, Jehovah.

Most importantly, there is a sense of choice here as we are constantly set out to compare Reality with its similar, parabolic form in fiction. This is a difficult task when someone re-presents themselves as say a king or pope, dressing ceremonially in that fictional part, making it hard to not respect the false persona and title being pretended and presented. Yet I can only imagine or at least hope that the actual Reality of such a lamed and fragile man is still recognized as the Source of such fiction. It is to this task of comparison that we live our lives, constantly judging all men by their presented titles and cloth, and always willing to bow to a higher fiction than our own, which ultimately only means bowing to a lesser god.

When we follow this word compare in its origin and etymology we discover a very interesting word-path to follow, one which truly explains what the Bible exclaims when it tells us to not respect these fabled genealogies of the "royal" bloodlines that rule over the nations in privy (privacy). Amazingly, this notion of recording the history of descent is literally a parable, a simulation of false authority based solely on family relation by blood. To read genealogical records is literally to respect history as the reason for the power and sovereignty (lawlessness) of current and future kings and other magistrate gods. It is the comparison of the fictional title of the fathers and mothers with the actual Life of the man that will inherit said title in that genealogical parable called as family history. This is not at all what my own prior misconceptions of this word parable were, but I can now understand that the parables of christ are to be taken as the Word of God from the Son (personified Word) of God as the self-evident Rule of Law. Only the parables of men in high places, told to enrich themselves and justify their false existence in power and wealth, are to be admonished. For they are not wise in what is self-evident, but in their own artfully created history (his story).

The lessons learned from the book of Proverbs and from other scriptural parables are the Words of that final Authority. But come let us see for ourselves how genealogy is also merely a parabolic tail of the personified, self-entitled gods...

COM - In composition as a prefix denotes with, to or against. (Webs1828)

PARE - verb transitive - [Latin paro; Gr. LAME; TO MUTILATE; Heb. TO CREATE; to cut off. The primary sense is to thrust or drive, hence to drive off, to separate, TO STOP BY SETTING or repelling, as in parry, or to drive off or out, as in separating or producing.] 1. To cut off, as the superficial substance or extremities of a thing; to shave off with a sharp instrument; as, to pare an apple or an orange; to pare the nails; to pare a horse's hoof; to pare land in agriculture. 2. TO DIMINISH BY LITTLE AND LITTLE. The king began to pare a little the privilege of clergy. When pare is followed by the thing diminished, the noun is in the objective case; as, to pare the nails. When the thing separated is the object, pare is followed by off or away; as, to pare off the rind of fruit; to pare away redundancies. (Webs1828)

LIKENED - participle passive - Compared. (Webs1828)

COMPARED - participle passive - SET TOGETHER AND EXAMINED WITH RESPECT TO LIKENESS OR UNLIKENESS, AGREEMENT OR DISAGREEMENT; likened; REPRESENTED AS SIMILAR. (Webs1828)

COMPARE - verb transitive - 1. To set or bring things together IN FACT OR IN CONTEMPLATION, AND TO EXAMINE THE RELATIONS THEY BEAR TO EACH OTHER, with a view to ascertain their agreement or disagreement; as, to compare two pieces of cloth, two tables, or coins; to compare reasons and arguments; to compare pleasure with pain. In comparing MOVABLE THINGS, it is customary to BRING

THEM TOGETHER, for examination. In comparing things immovable or remote, and abstract ideas, we bring them together in the mind, as far as we are able, and consider them in connection. COMPARISON THEREFORE IS REALLY COLLATION, or it includes it. 2. TO LIKEN; TO REPRESENT AS SIMILAR, for the purpose of illustration. Solon compared the people to the sea, and orators and counselors to the winds; for that the sea would be calm and quiet, if the winds did not trouble it. In this sense compare is followed by to. 3. To examine the relations of things to each other, with a view to discover their relative proportions, quantities or qualities; as, to compare two kingdoms, or two mountains with each other; to compare the number ten with fifteen; to compare ice with crystal; to compare a clown with a dancing master or a dandy. In this sense compare is followed by with. 4. In grammar, TO FORM AN ADJECTIVE in the degrees of comparison; as blackish, black, blacker, blackest. 5. To get; to procure; to obtain; as in Latin. - verb intransitive - 1. To hold comparison; TO BE LIKE OR EQUAL. 2. SIMILE; SIMILITUDE; ILLUSTRATION BY COMPARISON. [This noun is in use, but cannot be considered as elegant.] (Webs1828)

ILLUSTRATION - noun - The act of RENDERING bright or GLORIOUS. 1. EXPLANATION; elucidation; a RENDERING CLEAR what is obscure or abstruse. (Webs1828)

ILLUSTRIOUS - adjective - [Latin illustris.] 1. Conspicuous; distinguished by the REPUTATION of greatness; RENOWNED; EMINENT; AS AN ILLUSTRIOUS GENERAL OR MAGISTRATE; an illustrious prince. 2. Conspicuous; renowned; conferring honor; as illustrious actions. 3. Glorious; as an illustrious display of the divine perfections. 4. A TITLE OF HONOR. (Webs1828)

COLLATION - noun - 1. The act of bringing or laying together, and comparing; A COMPARISON OF ONE COPY OR THING OF A LIKE KIND WITH ANOTHER. 2. The act of conferring or bestowing; a gift. 3. In the canon law, the presentation of a clergyman to a benefice by a bishop, who has it in his own gift or patronage. Collation includes both presentation and institution. When the patron of a church is not a bishop, he presents his clerk for admission, and the bishop institutes him; but if a bishop is the patron, his presentation and institution are one act and are called collation. 4. In common law, THE PRESENTATION OF A COPY TO ITS ORIGINAL, and a comparison made by examination, to ascertain its conformity; also, the report of the act made by the proper officers. 5. In Scots law, THE RIGHT WHICH AN HEIR HAS OF THROWING THE WHOLE HERITABLE AND MOVABLE ESTATES OF THE DECEASED INTO ONE MASS, and sharing it equally with others who are OF THE SAME DEGREE OF KINDRED. 6. A repast between full meals; as a cold collation. Collation of seals, denotes one seal set on the same label, on the reverse of another. (Webs1828)

COLLATERAL - adjective - 1. Being by the side, side by side, on the side, or side to side. In his bright radiance and collateral light. Must I be comforted, not in his sphere. Collateral pressure is pressure on the side. So we say, collateral circumstances, circumstances which accompany a principal event. 2. IN GENEALOGY, DESCENDING FROM THE SAME STOCK OR ANCESTOR, but not one from the other; as distinguished from lineal. LINEAL DESCENDANTS PROCEED ONE FROM ANOTHER IN A DIRECT LINE; COLLATERAL RELATIONS SPRING FROM A COMMON ANCESTOR, BUT FROM DIFFERENT BRANCHES OF THAT COMMON STIRPS OR STOCK. Thus the children of brothers are collateral relations, having different fathers, but a common grandfather. 3. Collateral security, is security for the PERFORMANCE of covenants or the payment of money, besides the principal security. 4. Running parallel. 5. Diffused on either side; springing from relations; as, collateral love. 6. Not direct, or immediate. If by direct or collateral hand. 7. Concurrent; as, collateral strength. - noun - A collateral relation or kinsman. (Webs1828)

COLLATE - verb transitive - Literally, to bring or lay together. Hence, 1. To lay together and compare, by examining the points in which two or more things of a SIMILAR kind agree or disagree... 3. To bestow or confer... - verb intransitive - To place in a benefice, as by a bishop. (Webs1828)

RELATE - verb transitive - [Latin relatus, refero; re and fero, to produce.] 1. To tell; to recite; TO NARRATE THE PARTICULARS OF AN EVENT; as, to relate the story of Priam; to relate the adventures of Don Quixote. 2. To bring back; to restore. [Not in use.] 3. TO ALLY BY CONNECTION OR KINDRED. To relate one's self, to vent thoughts in words. - verb intransitive - TO HAVE REFERENCE OR RESPECT; to regard. All negative words relate to positive ideas. (Webs1828)

RELATED - participle passive - 1. RECITED; NARRATED. 2. - adjective - Allied by kindred; CONNECTED BY BLOOD OR ALLIANCE, particularly by consanguinity; as a person related in the first or second degree. (Webs1828)

RELATION - noun - [Latin relatio, refero.] 1. THE ACT OF TELLING; RECITAL; ACCOUNT; NARRATION; NARRATIVE OF FACTS; AS A HISTORICAL RELATION. We listened to the relation of his adventures. 2. RESPECT; reference; regard. I have been importuned to make some observations on this art, in relation to its agreement with poetry. 3. Connection between things; mutual respect, or WHAT ONE THING IS WITH REGARD TO ANOTHER; AS THE RELATION OF A CITIZEN TO THE STATE; THE RELATION OF A SUBJECT TO THE SUPREME AUTHORITY; the relation of husband and wife, or OF MASTER AND SERVANT; the relation of a state of probation to a state of retribution. 4. Kindred; alliance; as the relation of parents and children. Relations dear, and all the charities of father, son and brother, first were known. 5. A person connected by consanguinity or affinity; a kinsman or kinswoman. He passed a month with his relations in the country. 6. Resemblance of phenomena; ANALOGY. 7. In geometry, ratio; proportion. (Webs1828)

RE - A prefix or inseparable particle in the composition of words, denotes RETURN, REPETITION, iteration... (Webs1828)

ITERATION - noun - [Latin iteratio.] Repetition; recital or PERFORMANCE A SECOND TIME. (Webs1828)

LATE - adjective - [This word is from the root of LET, the sense of which is to draw out, extend or prolong, hence to be slow or late. See Let. This adjective has regular terminations of the comparative and superlative degrees, later, latest, but it has also latter, and latest is often contracted into last.]... 3. LAST, OR RECENTLY IN ANY PLACE, OFFICE OR CHARACTER; as the late ministry; the late administration. 4. Existing not long ago, but now decayed or DEPARTED; as the late bishop of London... (Webs1828)

LET - verb transitive preterit tense and participle passive - Letted is obsolete. [To let out, like Latin elocare, is TO LEASE.] 1. To permit; to allow; to suffer; to give leave or power by a positive act, OR NEGATIVELY, to withhold restraint; not to prevent... To lease; TO GRANT POSSESSION AND USE for a compensation... 3. To suffer; to permit... 4. In the imperative mode, let has the following uses. Followed by the first and third persons, it expresses desire or wish; hence it is used in prayer and entreaty to superiors, AND TO THOSE WHO HAVE US IN THEIR POWER; as, let me not wander from thy commandments. Psalms 119:10. Followed by the first person plural, let expresses exhortation or entreaty; as, rise, let us go. FOLLOWED BY THE THIRD PERSON, IT IMPLIES PERMISSION OR COMMAND ADDRESSED TO AN INFERIOR. Let him go, let them remain, are commands addressed to the second person. Let thou, or let ye, that is, do thou or you permit him to go. Sometimes let is used to express A COMMAND OR INJUNCTION TO A THIRD PERSON. When the signal is given to engage, let every man do his duty. When applied to things not rational, it implies allowance or concession. O'er golden sands let rich Pactolus flow. 5. To retard; to hinder; to impede; to interpose obstructions. 2 Thessalonians 2:3. [This sense is now obsolete, or nearly so.] To let alone, to leave; to suffer to remain without intermeddling... To let loose, to free from restraint; to permit to wander at large. To let in or into, to permit or suffer to enter; to admit... also, to lease or let to hire. To let off, to discharge, to let fly, as an arrow; or cause to explode, as a gun... (Webs1828)

LETTER - noun [from LET.] 1. One who permits. 2. One who retards or hinders. 3. One who gives vent; as a blood-letter. - noun - [Latin litera.] 1. A MARK OR CHARACTER, written, printed, engraved or painted; used as the representative of a sound, or of an articulation of the human organs of speech... Letters patent, or overt, open, a writing executed and sealed, BY WHICH POWER AND AUTHORITY ARE GRANTED TO A PERSON TO DO SOME ACT, OR ENJOY SOME RIGHT; as letters patent under the seal of England. - verb transitive - To impress or form letters on; as, to letter a book; a book gilt and lettered.

REFER - verb transitive - [Latin refero; re and fero, TO BEAR.] 1. To direct, leave or DELIVER over to another person or tribunal FOR INFORMATION or decision... 2. TO REDUCE AS TO THE ULTIMATE END. You profess and practice to refer all things to yourself. 3. TO REDUCE; TO ASSIGN; AS TO AN ORDER, GENUS OR CLASS. Naturalists are sometimes at a loss to know to what class or genus an animal or plant is to be referred. TO REFER ONE'S SELF, TO BETAKE; to apply. [Little used.] - verb intransitive - 1. TO RESPECT; TO HAVE RELATION. Many passages of Scripture refer to the peculiar customs of the orientals. 2. To appeal; to have recourse; to apply. In suits it is good to refer to some friend of trust. 3. To allude; to have respect to by intimation without naming. I refer to a well known fact. (Webs1828)

BETAKE - verb transitive preterit tense - [be and take.] 1. To take to; to have recourse to; to apply; to resort; with the reciprocal pronoun; as, TO BETAKE OURSELVES TO ARMS, or to action. It generally implies a motion towards an object, as to betake ourselves to a shade grove; or an application of the mind or faculties, corresponding with such motion, as to betake ourselves to study or to vice. 2. Formerly, TO TAKE OR SEIZE. (Webs1828)

REFERENCE - noun - 1. A sending, dismissal or direction to another for information. 2. RELATION; RESPECT; VIEW TOWARDS. The christian religion commands sobriety, temperance and moderation, in reference to our appetites and passions. 3. Allusion to. In his observations he had no reference to the case which has been stated. 4. In law, the process of assigning a cause depending in court, for a hearing and decision, to persons appointed by the court. (Webs1828)

REFERABLE - adjective - 1. That may be referred; CAPABLE OF BEING CONSIDERED IN RELATION TO SOMETHING ELSE. 2. That may be assigned; THAT MAY BE CONSIDERED AS BELONGING TO OR RELATED TO. It is a question among philosophers, whether all the attractions which obtain between bodies, are referable to one general cause. (Webs1828)

REFERRED - participle passive - DISMISSED OR DIRECTED TO ANOTHER; ASSIGNED, AS TO A CLASS, ORDER OR CAUSE; assigned by a court to persons appointed to decide. (Webs1828)

REFERRING - participle present tense - Dismissing or directing to another for information; alluding; assigning, as to a class, order, cause, etc.; OR ASSIGNING TO PRIVATE PERSONS FOR DECISION. (Webs1828)

— = —

And so here we crack open the mythos of blood relation, of the true intent and purpose of genealogical birth recording and the perpetually continuing story and saga of the fabled, royal bloodline as a lineal connection. It's just a foolish story that is subsequently under-stood by fools, a fable of blood designed to pass on a corporation and estate based on false, unearned, legally created titles. It is the attaching of artifice (estate) to the Reality of Nature (blood). One is passed Naturally, the other by words on paper based on such fabled history (his story) of sovereign blood-right. For it is not a proof of blood, but of fiction. It is the fictions of the strawman, the surname, the wealth and estates, and the titles that are passed, not merely the blood (Reality). It is the slaves of one slaveholder being charged to the care and forced employments of the next generation. Without these fictions, what would be the point of tracking such genealogy records, for all men would only bear the blood of Jesus christ, and no man would therefore want for anything of such fictional origins. Any power acquired by any man of God would be gladly given away to enrich all others. This is the absolute opposite of that fictional system of magistrates. The landholders tell the story (fable) of their ancestors as blood relation so as to connect and collate every man with or without that apparent blood relation and more specifically the honorary, imaginary titles and estate assigned to that name, but only for the purposes of flattery so as to acquire the purely flattering titles and respects that were fabled to belong to some family line (name/noun). A king, for instance, cannot be king without such a legally (positively) provable blood connection, and must prove his place within that jigsaw puzzle of lineage to justify his authority under that bloody crown. Likewise, by law, title of landed estate only transfers lawfully through blood, from the blood and Arms of father to son, and this connection is considered as self-evident since the son's status (public or private, free or slave) follows the parents. Public persons (U.S. citizen-ships), however, have no blood, standing in contracted attainder (corruption of blood) in Caesar's district (seizure, distraint, distress), and so have very little value in genealogical history or its purpose. A common, public person holds no lands, and passes only defective title and debt to its children, which are only other legal persons of the state, their father being the nation (of the People) they were legally birthed (abandoned) and de-livered to.

This fallacious flattery of the "nobility" of bloodline and the power structure it magically creates is why the Words of Jesus christ is so important, for we all may apply for the blood of the Son (Word) of God without exception and without exclusion. Our resume' is our works, our actions, not some empty name or title, and certainly not a ceremony in some corporate church. And yet this figurative blood is passed to no man through some recorded and registered genealogy, but only by one's moral Life and actions. It is not attained, it is Lived. It is the Purity of knowledge without artifice. This metaphoric blood of christ is no corporate birthright, no accident of birth, and certainly no vial of grape juice in a corporate church's false communion ceremony. It is no flattering title or fabled lineage. It saves not the noble few from the common multitude merely by some fabled timeline of heritage and mysteriously kept privacy under an ornamental rose. It is purely a performance covenant of Grace with God, a negative duty to all Creation (Nature). And it is a potentiality lying in wait within us all. It is the figurative (Higher) Nature of this blood of christ that must be recognized, its timelessness and pricelessness. For no claim to some history or family lineage can be used to obtain it, though the pretenders and antichrists certainly do a good job in their ceremony and show, and so do most proclaimed corporate "Christians" as their followers, whom never actually follow christ in their daily actions. But the self-evident Truth as written in scripture is that God respects no surnames or flattering titles, which are the very purpose of the recording of such fabled genealogies.

Some may take exception to this, as if it is merely the author's vain opinion and not what is the Word of God. For after all, the book of Matthew appears to lay out the "bloodline" of Jesus christ. But we must remember not to be so literal, to seek the meaning of these words in their parabolic and figurative form and intent. Christ is labeled as the Son of God, and yet here we somehow vulgarly think of this word Son as a human characteristic. Matthew states, in its first chapter, that Jesus christ is the son of David. But how can that be? That just doesn't jive with the rest of the story (his story).

Strong's #G5207 - hues - is translated as the word “son” in these first verses of Matthew. Note that this word son is not capitalized in this particular usage, as it is when the term “Son of God” is utilized in a capitalized and specific formality.

Of the various meanings attributed to the word depending on its use and context, the lexicon entry for son states the following:

“G5207 - hues - Those who revere GOD AS THEIR FATHER, the PIOUS WORSHIPPERS of God, those who IN CHARACTER AND LIFE resemble God, those who are GOVERNED BY THE SPIRIT OF GOD, REPOSE THE SAME CALM AND JOYFUL TRUST IN GOD WHICH CHILDREN DO IN THEIR PARENTS (Rom. 8:14, Gal. 3:26), and hereafter in the blessedness and glory of the life eternal WILL OPENLY WEAR THIS DIGNITY OF THE SONS OF GOD. Term used preeminently of Jesus Christ, as enjoying the supreme love of God, united to him in affectionate intimacy, privy to his saving councils, obedient to the Father's will in all his acts.”

— = —

It is this very vulgar and purposeful mis-transliteration of the word son by the king’s scribes and translators that cause hopefully literalist men to believe in the same, generationally passed christ-blood of kings and popes. This is foolishness, for the Word (Son) is not of this world, but is the Spirit of the Law (Word) of God. And the Word is for all men to inherit, not merely some false nobility of landholders. The word son is also used to describe Adam (mankind) and also those who are “born again.” In the Old testament, by the Jewish law, it was the Jews that were the sons. In the New Testament, it is the followers of christ as the True christians (eternal obeyers of the Word/Son.) And in contrast, the term son of man is used in opposition to those sons of God, sons of man being considered as weak and mortal, and also as one who depends on another or is his follower.

And so the correct question is not to ask who are the sons of God, it is what does the word son mean and how may I become One. And the only answer is by following christ’s example; not to be stuck in the art form of his words, but to be christ-like in all of our actions.

But the first chapter of Matthew says that Jesus christ is the son of David. What happened to God? And hell, what happened to Joseph and Mary? Just how many fathers of the same son can there be, unless the word son is not meant to be taken as a literal translation? And so we arrive back, not at some genealogical wasteland of history, but at the self-evident Truth of God.

Still not convinced? Well then why don’t you go drink some wine or unfermented grape juice as the figurative blood of christ at some corporate church’s communion ceremony? By all means, continue fooling yourself that this juice is the literal blood of christ you are drinking, a habitually strange custom resembling some sick vampire genre movie or pagan ritual sacrifice. You really think that is what christ through Jehovah commands of you? To participate in fiction? Seriously?

Let us be clear and speak plainly here. No man is a “Christian.” No man is respected by God’s Nature to have such a flattering title. One must act the part, which again causes the word christian to be an adjective or verb (a description of one’s continuous, uninterrupted actions/works), not a noun (name/flattering title). What you did yesterday and what you might do in the future has nothing to do with being (acting) christ-like in this very moment, as being always in the present. We cannot pretend “Christianity” on Sundays and false holidays (corporate holy days in mammon) and then claim to be “christian” as we act unspiritually act against the Word (Son) at all other times (days). We are either acting in christ’s example at all times or we are not. It’s cut and dry, the ultimate in Natural Reason. And in no way does our history determine our present or our future. Our history, nor that of our forefathers, is never an excuse for our own behavior.

Personally, it took a very long time and was a very long journey to finally under-stand this. Now that I do, I can no longer fool myself nor dismiss these self-evident Truths. I can no longer fallaciously demonize the Bible to justify my artificial life following mammon, and now may only see the demon that is my own corrupted and blotted (marked) third person. The Bible is the ultimate comic book with man's ultimate super hero Created within, and the hero can only ever be me, and you, and each man who finds his or her True Self again through the blood of Jesus christ, the Word (Son) of Jehovah. We now know this to be not some silly religious term spoken by ignorant victims of the church in some form of Romanized "Christian" ceremony of communion complete with dress and title, but as the self-evident Law. For whatever is of Jesus christ (the Son) is of the Father (Jehovah), the Living Word (figurative blood) as the personified Law.

On the inverse we find this notion of common (national) relation by information and delivery (abandonment), as will be more thoroughly examined in this work. The legal status of blood and corruption of blood follows the timeline of genealogy, telling the story of each class of persons. The master follows and bears the status of the master and the slave the slave. A private birth is private, while a public birth is a registered burden of tax (tribute and tithing) to Caesar's district. The state becomes the father of the man, who is generally assigned a person (public status), to act per the surrogate son (per-son) of the father (principal government) through the agency relationship. This birth certification process is the nativity event of every man, just as christ was born in his own nativity scene. But due to language arts and the confusion they are intended to cause, we must uncover that which is hidden to discover that the word nativity is actually the state of being born a slave, as a "native" of a nation or country. We are taught in our public-mindedness that being native-born is a good thing of course, for we tend to be unaware of the dog-Latin used to control us publicly. And so we believe (love) that our nativity (by legal, artificial birth) to a nation, where all gods are idols, is actually a good thing. It offers security and protection, right? But let us have a glimpse as to what our birth nativity scenes, as told through vital statistic information and certification of dog-Latin through legal birth registration (tax), actually means in its Latin origin. In other words, what is the legal (artificial) version of this word nativity in the language of the corruptors?

NATIVITAS - Villenage; that state in which MEN WERE BORN SLAVES. (Black4)

NATIVUS - Latin. In old English law, A NATIVE; specifically, ONE BORN INTO A CONDITION OF SERVITUDE; A BORN SERF OR VILLEIN. (Black4)

NATIVA - A niefie or female villein. So called because for the most part BOUND BY NATIVITY. (Black4)

NATIVI DE STIPITE - Villeins or bondmen BY BIRTH OR STOCK. (Black4)

NATIVI CONVENTIONARII - Villeins or bondmen BY CONTRACT OR AGREEMENT. (Black4)

NATIONALITY - That quality or CHARACTER which arises from the fact of A PERSON'S BELONGING TO A NATION OR STATE. Nationality determines the POLITICAL STATUS of the individual, especially with reference to ALLEGIANCE; WHILE DOMICILE DETERMINES HIS CIVIL STATUS. Nationality arises either BY BIRTH OR BY NATURALIZATION. According to Savigny, "nationality" is also used as opposed to "territoriality," for the purpose of distinguishing the case of a nation having no national territory; e.g., THE JEWS. (Black4)

NATIVE - A natural-born SUBJECT OR CITIZEN; A DENIZEN BY BIRTH; ONE WHO OWES HIS DOMICILE OR CITIZENSHIP TO THE FACT OF HIS BIRTH WITHIN THE COUNTRY

REFERRED TO. The term may also include one born abroad, if his parents were then citizens of the country, and NOT PERMANENTLY RESIDING IN FOREIGN PARTS. The word "natives", as used in ALIEN ENEMY ACT, refers to PERSON'S PLACE OF BIRTH, so that A PERSON REMAINS A NATIVE OF COUNTRY OF HIS BIRTH, though he has moved away therefrom... (Black4)

— = —

Still feeling patriotic? Still wanting to hang the United States district commercial and war flag on your home for every federal holiday? Still think a citizen-ship is anything but voluntary slavery? Still love the fiction that is your country? Is there any soul, moral compunction, free will or self-determination left in you?

We must examine briefly here the opposite of nationality, that being the term territorial. While nationality represents a fictional jurisdiction or district of the artful nation, the term territory is referential to the actual land that such jurisdiction sits upon. This is to say that the private landholders own the territory, while the public citizenships own a usufruct (tenancy and rent on the land) by permission of the landholder.

TERRITORY - noun - [Latin territorium, from terra, EARTH.] 1. The extent or compass of LAND within the bounds or belonging to the jurisdiction of any STATE, city or other body. Linger not in my territories. They erected a house within their own territory. Arts and sciences took their rise and flourished only in those small territories where the people were free. 2. A TRACT OF LAND BELONGING TO AND UNDER THE DOMINION OF A PRINCE OR STATE, LYING AT A DISTANCE FROM THE PARENT COUNTRY OR FROM THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT; as the territories of the East India Company; the territories of the United States; the territory of MICHIGAN; NORTHWEST TERRITORY. These districts of country, when received into the union and ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE STATES, lose the appellation (name) of territory. (Webs1828)

— = —

While a territory is the land or “Earth,” the nation is pure fiction. Thus a “State” is a proper noun referring to a private (several) People upon the land, a territory so named by its People who hold those territorial lands in a perfection of title in allodium (in their own right), while the government of those People is called as the non-proper noun (uncapitalized) “state,” a fiction of law (artificial person) designed for control of interstate commerce and taxation over foreign third parties such as United States citizen-ships in agency for public functions. While a private citizen may travel on public lands, a public person may not travel on any private estate of the territory (State). To be clear, no State was ever formed without it first becoming a territory of the united States of America (in Congress assembled). The territory is managed, of course, by the “United States” district, the nation, a municipal holding corporation of the People (States) in confederation (conspiracy/combination), where such legal, militarized agencies as the U.S. Forest Service are created by Congress assembled. So the de jure (legitimate) Congress creates the de facto (illegitimate/militarily enforced) federal agency for the protection of their territories against us, allowing us annual and day passes for a fee to publicly wander in their territories, a short vacation from our general, voluntary slavery as human capital. How nice...

One fact is very important to remember here, and it will be expounded upon as we continue in this work. A public citizenship of the United States (Washington D.C.) is not a private citizen of any State (People). Therefore a United States citizen-ship cannot hold land, for the United States is foreign to all States. In other words, and this is key, the “United States” is not a State (People), though it is sometimes called in nickname as “the state.” The District of Columbia was created only after the original States ceded their lands to the “United States.” Thus the land (territory) within that border of New Columbia is not one of the States in Union. Instead, it is a creation of those States (People) in Congress assembled. The States (People) of America created the United States separate (foreign) from their original confederation and compact and placed it under the exclusive jurisdiction of Congress. The States are not under Congress, they are represented by it. The common citizenships of the United States are under Congressional Law, while the private People of the territories (States) are under private law that is exclusive of United States public law, as that which is positively created by Congress. The “United States” was established by the private (several) States (People) for their own protection, for the protection of their privacy (severalty), and for the protection of their property (privately held lands). The public is not a party to this protection (as constituted), and is in fact that which these landholders are being protected from. The United States protects the territories of the private People (States) from all threats, both foreign and domestic. And so to be clear, ones nationality is a sign of ones political status (legal person), and a nationality of “United States” in any form is wholly un-American, and signifies an allegiance to the People of the territory called as “America,” as those States united in confederation.

As strange as this is to hear, we must comprehend that a United States citizenship is not technically an “American,” for the district of our domicile is not in “the united States of America.” One must be one of the People of a private (several) State in that Union to be an “American.” The United States, as a district and as the seat of commercial government, is not properly called “America.” It is called (styled) only as the “United States.” If it were called “Russia” instead of the “United States” absolutely nothing of its actual structure would change except this meaningless word (noun/title). The People of America would remain as they originally styled themselves. Only their created municipal corporation’s name would change, not the name of the People. The title does not make the Reality.

But we must be clear that no man of God following in christ’s teachings would carry such a false persona and flattering title as these anyway, for neither the United States or America actually Exist in Nature. They are not Creations of God. And that is the whole point. For we could spend hours debating, deliberating, and possibly violently fighting over the correct terminology of these terms, but in the end our entire disagreement would be over some thing that does not actually Exist in Nature. We’d be arguing over an artificial description of an artificial noun (place). This is the realm of fools. And those private “People” of America who keep fools as their public pets and day laborers are quite content to keep such a fictional de-liberation going in perpetuity. For the knowledge of Jehovah would destroy their empire built on ignorance.

This shows the inherent confusion and danger of words, for to call anything by some accepted and consented to name does not necessarily make it as such in Reality. For instance, we believe that the “United States” is actually the land (territory) of the united States of America, because the name is so similar (but not the same). Yet none of these things are self-evident. Perspective is everything, and the masters of language and word magic are more than happy to let you keep thinking what you wish to satisfy your own ego, as long as you are in the end caused to keep your public slave id-entify intact while you debate your own course and sealed fate.

You see, what we have never realized, read, or been told by that politician and priest-class that relies on the federal “state” for its commercial operations is that we are all publicly bound in nativity just like christ was. He was born into the slave system just like us, for that legal matrix has existed since the beginning, the Genesis. The story of christ is also a personification of each of our own stories, the story of each of our corrupted Selves, and is a guidepost and example to break these chains of contractual servitude to those legal gods we are birthed to worship. It is also the story of those false gods, a hopeful tale told that they may as well some day be born again into God’s Nature, giving up such false wealth, name, and title so as to find the True Nature of Jehovah. This is the finding of the blood of christ. The sacrifice. For christ’s words were clear that we must pick up our stake (cross) and follow Him, which means to follow the Word (Son) as the Law of God and seek only the self-evidence and self-existence in all things; a brilliant allegory, as beautifully parabolic storytelling. It is the purest perfection of moral fable. And yet it is more Real than any non-fiction can ever be, for here we are, faced with the exact trials and tribulations that were foretold in that timeless scriptural knowledge and forewarning. And so it is time now to make our election strong, to choose our God, or suffer the consequences of our own ignorance and respect of the established artifice and false law of that which is adversarial to Reality (satanism).

But the most important lesson to be learned here can only be learned by the staunch “literalist,” as he who cannot see the figurative, metaphoric, and parabolic nature of most available knowledge and moral teachings in this world. True knowledge, it seems, may only be captured through actions, not words. Thus the parable is told in simulation of future actions in order to imagine the outcomes of our actions. For this we must harness our imaginations, not destroy them. For it may be said, as my own personal parable, that he who has no imagination at all will certainly be controlled by they who do. The most easily brainwashed men are those who take all things only literally, especially when reading the King’s translated Bible. But if I can envision in my mind the outcome of my actions by imagining them according to the Highest of moral principles as communicated by parabolic and allegoric stories, then I may avoid many pitfalls caused by belief in things that lead me away from self-evident Truth. I can avoid all fiction and remain Pure. But the literalist I’m afraid must literally fall before he may get back up, learning only from his own actions and unable to imagine why he should not follow some path. To see only the goal and not the consequences of reaching or not reaching that goal is the story of the literalist.

So could it be said that judges are required to be literalists, administering the law without any private moral constraints? It certainly could.

The literalist is not unlike the historian or the genealogist, his thoughts so stuck in the timelines and value domains that True wisdom may never be obtained without folly or until it is too late, for True wisdom lies only in the Higher consciousness, the Higher Law. Honestly, I can think of nothing less self-evident than man’s recorded tales of history. Nothing is more embellished towards the side of the victors (and vicars) than the historic retelling of such long-lost ages and generations. And yet the literalist has such faith in his fabled histories that he does not recognize even his own fallacious belief (love) in them as a false sense of Reality. He does not realize how history fixes the mind to accept the current history being made every day based on nothing but the supporting propaganda of the history of yesterday. And this is the battle between reasonable spirituality and pure logic without Higher reason. For history above all things is used to justify the most heinous of modern crimes.

For the reader, the above paragraph was my own attempt at personification in moral storytelling. In other words, I made a fabled or parabolic though unnamed “man” out of the concept of literalism; as “the literalist man.” This is a personification of literalism, just as Christ is a personification of a man acting purely and with utter Piety under God’s Word (Law). Yet we know that this word literal is certainly not a Life form of any kind. And so, in cosmic irony, the stubborn literalist who might be reading this just read a parable about himself and about any and all literalist thought patterns. He may take it personally or he may learn from this parable and embrace it for its loving intent. And so the riddle of the parable always presents itself by invoking the following question:

Is this a Real story?

To the public person that insists upon his class order in this great and horrendous nation as anything but that of the nature of a goyim in commonalty as human capital and as the live-stock of private share-holders, one should take into mind the following words of a once well-established and often quoted capitalist:

— = —

“We have stricken the (slave) shackles from four million human beings and brought all laborers to a common level not so much by the elevation of former slaves as BY PRACTICALLY REDUCING THE WHOLE WORKING POPULATION, WHITE AND BLACK, TO A CONDITION OF SERFDOM. While boasting of our noble deeds, we are careful to conceal the ugly fact that by an iniquitous money system we have NATIONALIZED A SYSTEM OF OPPRESSION which, though more refined, is not less cruel than the old system of chattel slavery.”

--Horace Greeley (1811-1872), founder of the New York Tribune, speaking on post-civil war or '14th amendment' citizenship

— = —

In other words, slavery went national! All slaves were taken from their private holders and transferred (denized) to that nation called as the United States district, a slave colony. And here they were all placed onto equalized ships, persons (legal status) that caused all publicly acting men to be classified as “voluntary” slaves. For only “involuntary slavery” was abolished by the 13th amendment to the constitution. All volunteers are welcome with open Arms, that is, as long as we abandon the blood right of our own Arms.

Like plucking a flower from its roots in Nature and placing it into a vase for vain display, the notion of citizen-ship is figuratively the act of de-Naturing a man. The man, like the flower, is placed into an artificial atmosphere (a legal matrix, as an artificial protective womb), which once within is called his vessel or ship. The flower is no longer actually alive, no longer rooted to the land. Like that flower, the man exists only in a seemingly present state of life that is actually a spiritual death of artificial and forced civil life. And so the flower and the man, in this deadened state of artificially induced life, may no longer give birth to new Life, for both of their seeds are also considered as spiritually dead, their Life-force (blood) figuratively ceasing to flow. In order for a man to be incorporated into the government of man’s fiction, he or she must be enfranchised (de-Natured) into a fictional character. The more accurate term to describe this action of being fictionally formed into citizen-ship is to be “denized.”

As we uncover the legal meanings of these words, our collective and horrific Truth as public persons reveals itself as exactly what Mr. Greeley spoke to above...

DENIZEN - noun - 1. In England, AN ALIEN WHO IS MADE A SUBJECT BY THE KINGS LETTERS PATENT, HOLDING A MIDDLE STATE BETWEEN AN ALIEN AND A NATURAL BORN SUBJECT. HE MAY TAKE LAND BY PURCHASE OR DEVISE, WHICH AN ALIEN CANNOT; BUT HE CANNOT TAKE BY INHERITANCE. 2. A STRANGER ADMITTED TO RESIDENCE AND CERTAIN RIGHTS IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY. Ye gods, Natives, or denizens, of blest abodes. 3. A CITIZEN.
(Webs1828)

(TO) DENIZEN - verb transitive - To make a denizen; TO ADMIT TO RESIDENCE WITH CERTAIN RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES; TO INFRANCHISE. (Webs1828)

— = —

The word denizen, in its modern usage, is derived from the early 15th century, from Anglo-French deinzein, from deinz "within, inside," from Late Latin deintus, from de- "from" added to intus "within" (see ento-). Historically, AN ALIEN ADMITTED TO CERTAIN RIGHTS OF CITIZENSHIP; A NATURALIZED CITIZEN.

And here is where perspective comes into play. Remember that the private People (States) created the United States and are foreign to it and to each other. And so the private People are not citizens of the United States, only of their own private place (noun). Likewise, a person of the United States is not a citizen of any private State, but rather a denizen, a foreign alien in a strange, legal realm of a fictional purgatory. The creator is simply never a subject of its own creation, a king never bound under his own declared law. And so all public, United States citizenships (as public persons) are actually aliens in each State they reside within, allowed temporary but fixed residence only (not domicile) in each state government jurisdiction as agents of the United States, while retaining domicile only in Caesar's district of the United States municipal (dummy) holding company. As foreigners (aliens), we are allowed to inhabit the lands (territories) of the several (private) States (People) only as tenants and renters, but never as the actual holders of the actual land within that political state boundary, for we are not the private People of any State, only public personas of the district in municipal incorporation called Washington D.C. As denizens (citizens) we may take land and property by purchase and by various devilish, unnatural devices of debt, but we may never obtain the perfection of allodial title to that land as foreign citizenships (denizens). We are not the People of any State and so cannot hold the lands of any State. In other words, we cannot dispose of the land. We have no Real stake (cross) in that land but those superficially contracted to our strawman in usufruct. And the only reason we have even these "rights" to temporarily remain there is because we are operating in that vessel called a public United States citizenship, a fictional creation of those States (People). We owe allegiance to those People as denizens and as common people under a sovereign People (Union of States). And so from the perspective of 99.99% of the actual area we call as the united States of America, "United States" districted citizen-ships only have domicile in that small district of New Columbia, that city (municipal corporation) on a hill. It is not the land we tread upon but the artificial jurisdiction of the United States extended into those States for commercial purposes only. We operate under the commercial (unconstitutional) law of the nation. None of us are actually grounded or attached Naturally or by Law to the ground (territory) of any State. Perspective always must be clear. For it was the People, through their created principality, that denizenized us into nativity as voluntary subjects through word trickery. Thus, these private People we publicly pledge feudalistic allegiance to through the "United States" is the god of each of our strawmen. For only persons are denizens and citizenships, not men. A denizen is just a noun (name).

DENIZEN - noun - 1. An inhabitant; occupant; RESIDENT. 2. (British) an individual permanently resident in a foreign country where he enjoys certain rights of citizenship. 3. A plant or animal established in a place TO WHICH IT IS NOT NATIVE. 4. A naturalized foreign word. - verb - 5. (Transitive) to make a denizen. (Collins English Dictionary 2012 Digital Edition Online)

DENIZEN - An alien BORN who has obtained ex donatione regis LETTERS-PATENT TO MAKE HIM A SUBJECT. Whence denizenize, denizenation or denization, and denizenship. The crown denizenizes; parliament consents to naturalization. A DENIZEN IS IN A KIND OF MIDDLE STATE BETWEEN AN ALIEN AND A NATURAL-BORN SUBJECT, AND PARTAKES OF BOTH. HE MAY TAKE LANDS BY PURCHASE OR DEVISE, BUT NOT BY INHERITANCE — FOR THE PARENT HAS NO INHERITABLE BLOOD. But since 1870, in England, an alien may hold and dispose of property as a natural-born subject. In South Carolina the status seems to have been CREATED BY LAW. (WCA1889)

— = —

It should be noted here that Dante's travels in Milton's novel named the inhabitants of all the circles and realms of hell to be the "denizens of hell." This is no misprint, for Dante's tour of hell was a visit with the very souls that could only have sinned through the artifice of legalism. They are in hell voluntarily. Their lusts and crimes could only be satiated with the artful, dead things of mammon. And their stay in hell, including the supposed dwelling of Mohamed in the eighth circle for leading men away from christianity, was only possible through their love of the artifice and not God. Oh, and all the Popes were there too!!! And did I mention that barrators (attorneys/agents/those standing in political corruption) were perpetually boiled in tar? We must realize that this allegorical tale full of metaphor and parabolic story-telling is meant to cause us to realize the error of our ways in Real Life. We should not fear hell as the place after this Life but as the place we have ourselves either created or allowed to be created around us and over Nature, both of these (the act and the silence) being quite equal crimes, though deserving of a dwelling within different circles of hell. But this debtor's hell is actually upon us, and we are already its willing denizens. Resistance in its own legal formality and format is futile, but the substance of Nature that leads to escape is not. We simply need to become men again, abandoning the denizen (citizen/status) that chains us in surety and pledge to this debtor's prison of legal hell in mammon. We must cease operating in the false light and embrace Truth. The solution is not some legal document filed in the courts of one of its artificial magistrates, as if anything we may say in person (as prisoners) or in the agency thereof can free us from that hellish condition and character. The solution is only to be found in walking the spiritual path back to Heaven on Earth. No words may save us, only the Word (Law/Son), for only the Reality (God) of all things may deliver us from evil (artifice).

I cannot believe I am saying this, and I certainly never thought I would, as I have always lived in my own circular trap in the fiction of this legal hell. I am truly humbled, and hope the reader might find in these words what I have.

But how does this word deni-zen reconcile with the word citi-zen? For they are defined as one and the same concept! A citizen is literally denized into the bonds of nativity at birth or naturalization. For remember, we are only speaking of fiction here, not of men. The man is only agent in surety for the person (strawman). It is only the surety bond to the person, the strawman, we are speaking of. Never forget that this is all a big lie that we have been brainwashed to accept and respect in every day life. What is hell but this, but dwelling in the artifice of man's design, in this legal matrix? While the word denizen denotes the action (verb) of admission as an enfranchised (incorporated) citizen, the final result of denizen-ship is a secured surety to a citizen-ship (person/commercial vessel). This act of enfranchising (in-franchising) means that the surname of the birthed and certified person is patented (letters patent) and imaginarily conjoined to the man in confirmation by his actions in agency as the bonded surety, while all rights and privileges of the man under negative, Natural Law figuratively cease to Exist. For remember, nothing in Nature Exists in the fiction. Only the name exists - the lie, the representation, the false and vain mirror image.

This enfranchisement, as we read above, means that the man may only purchase property through the surname belonging to the district (state), but the man has no inheritable blood because he or she gave up that right of inheritance when the enfranchisement took place. This right to bear Arms of the family is given up through denizenship, because there is no blood or family in the fiction of common, public persons. Every fictional person has and can have only one father, which is the state (creator) as parens patria (parent of the state) that patented its letters - the creator and controller of the legal status called a person.

The act of becoming a citizen, whether "naturally" or "naturalized," equals the act of becoming incorporated as part of a larger body politic. It means giving up individuality to become E Pluribus Unum (out of many, one). It is a symbolic sacrifice of the State of sentient being, ceremonially killing the real man so that the artificial phoenix may rise.

Being a citizen is like being in purgatory... This middle state between alien and natural born subject perfectly describes the U.S. and other citizenships of today. But how exactly does citizenship happen? No mystery there. It's just incorporation. The admixing of names. The taking of the mark of artificiality by accepting false, legal id-entity. The abandonment of Jehovah and Its Natural Law. Voluntary nativity, or what you might call the antithesis of christ's story; for citizenship (noun) is antichrist (verb)!!! This is again not religious nonsense, it is Law! For a citizen (person) is the native and resident of a city. Christ's entire purpose was to drive good and pious men away from the cities (as fictional, legal jurisdictions fulfilling only man's own municipal laws), and even the Old Testament gave these warnings.

— = —

"Flee, SAVE YOUR LIVES, and be like the heath in the wilderness... And the spoiler shall come upon EVERY CITY, AND NO CITY SHALL ESCAPE... FOR THE CITIES THEREOF SHALL BE DESOLATE, WITHOUT ANY TO DWELL THEREIN... O ye that dwell in Moab, LEAVE THE CITIES, and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth."

—Jeremiah 48: 6, 8-9, KJB

— — —

Let us break down these terms of art continuously taken for granted by denizen slaves that never grasp their own voluntary servitude. For as we shall see, a free slave is merely a slave without chains, but one still bound to a plantation (colony). The freedom of franchise is limited by the master and principal of the status granted. To be free in America, in other words, in terms of art, is to be conquered, enfranchised into the invisible chains of personhood, and burdened with the mark of a beast as human capital. To roam as if free within a cage or jurisdiction is not True Natural Freedom, only the appearance and simulation of it. The United States is naught but an open-air prison!

CITIZEN - noun - 1. The NATIVE of a city, or an INHABITANT who ENJOYS the FREEDOM and PRIVILEGES OF THE CITY IN WHICH HE RESIDES; THE FREEMAN OF A CITY, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM A FOREIGNER, OR ONE NOT ENTITLED TO ITS FRANCHISES. 2. A townsman; A MAN OF TRADE; NOT A GENTLEMAN. 3. An inhabitant; a dweller in any city, town or place. 4. In general sense, a native or PERMANENT RESIDENT in a city or country; as the citizens of London or Philadelphia; THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES. 5. In the United States, A PERSON, NATIVE OR NATURALIZED, who has the privilege of exercising the ELECTIVE FRANCHISE, or the qualifications which enable him TO VOTE FOR RULERS, and to purchase and hold real estate. If the citizens of the United States should not be free and happy, the fault will be entirely their own. - adjective - Having the QUALITIES of a citizen. (Webs1828)

CITIZENIZE - verb transitive - To MAKE a citizen; TO ADMIT TO THE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES OF A CITIZEN. (Webs1828)

CITIZENSHIP - noun - The STATE OF BEING VESTED with the rights and privileges of a citizen. (Webs1828)

VESTED - participle passive - 1. Clothed; covered; closely encompassed. 2. - adjective - FIXED; not in a state of contingency or suspension; as vested rights. (Webs1828)

INCORPORATED - participle passive - MIXED OR UNITED IN ONE BODY; associated in the same political body; UNITED IN A LEGAL BODY. (Webs1828)

INCORPORATE - adjective - [in and corporate.] 1. Not consisting of matter; not having a material body. [Little used.] 2. MIXED; UNITED IN ONE BODY; associated. - verb transitive - [Latin incorporo; in and corpus, a body.]... 3. To unite; to blend; TO WORK INTO ANOTHER MASS OR BODY; as, to incorporate plagiarisms into one's own composition. 4. To unite; to associate in another government or empire. THE ROMANS INCORPORATED CONQUERED COUNTRIES INTO THEIR GOVERNMENT. 5. To embody; to give a material form to. THE IDOLATERS, who worshiped their images as gods, supposed some spirit to be incorporated therein. 6. TO FORM INTO A LEGAL BODY, OR BODY POLITIC; TO CONSTITUTE A BODY, composed of one or more individuals, with the quality of PERPETUAL EXISTENCE or succession, unless limited by the act of incorporation; as, TO INCORPORATE THE INHABITANTS OF A CITY, TOWN OR PARISH; to incorporate the proprietors of a bridge, the stockholders of a bank, of an insurance company, etc. New Haven was incorporated in January

1784; Hartford in May 1784. - verb intransitive - To unite so as TO MAKE A PART OF ANOTHER BODY; to be mixed or blended; to grow into, etc... (Webs1828)

CORPORATE - adjective - [Latin, to be shaped into a body, body.] 1. UNITED IN A BODY, OR COMMUNITY, as a number of individuals, who are empowered (enfranchised) to transact business as an individual; formed into a body; as a CORPORATE assembly, or society; a CORPORATE town. 2. UNITED; GENERAL; COLLECTIVELY ONE. THEY ANSWER IN A CORPORATE VOICE. (Webs1828)

— = —

Notice here that the word “man” is not used to describe a citizen, except to say towns-man or man of something in artifice. Man must be renamed (re-nouned) as inhabitant, dweller, native, resident, person, freeman, etc... In the fiction, man does not exist and is not considered, for man is anti-fiction, pro-nature, as to be pro-action. Reality must be renamed and redefined as something it is not in order to live (evil) within the fiction (lie). From I am to I am fictional.

Inversely, the words form, shape, quality, not matter, not material, material form, idolatry, image, legal body, constitute, and body politic are here used to describe something purely fictional - a thing with no actual substance. A citizen is some thing that is not a man but that is attached to the man so as to enfranchise the man, mixing, uniting, blending, and thus incorporating the man into a corrupted fictional thing. It's like a human cocktail!

The word citizen, in its modern usage, is derived from the early 14th century, as "inhabitant of a city," from Anglo-French citezein (spelling subsequently altered, probably by influence of denizen), from Old French citeien "city-dweller, town-dweller, citizen".

But it's ok! Don't worry. We get to choose our rulers through the voting franchise! And that somehow makes everything right as rain, now doesn't it, being able to choose between two potential gods? Choosing a king (dictator) is no different than not choosing (voting) in the end. The results are the same, and the same bloodline will rule regardless of consent. For the rulers rule over persons (voters), and only this fact makes them the ruler of men who allow themselves and their blood consideration to be fictionally corrupted by attaching their good name with the surname of the nation (father).

So what does it mean to be an inhabitant? Can a man inhabit a fictional space? Of course not. The man must possess the fictional, “natural person” as if he were a demon taking over some Gollum, so as to be denizenized into the fictional realm of this debtor's hell. Thus, the man is renamed (re-nouned) and redefined as an inhabitant, a resident, and a dweller. These are the titles that must be shed for a man to reclaim his inheritable blood, for the blood only flows when man is defined only as man and nothing else - the I am...

Of course, not all titles are actually flattering. The word flattering merely represents a change of status, be it good or bad in perspective. But all titles are evil according to scripture, for titles necessarily create inequity amongst men, serving only the purpose of escape from God's Law of Nature, elevating and dividing one or some unnaturally from all others and falsely allowing those elevated to break with that Highest Moral Law. God respects no titles, no names, and no persons, for these are not of Its Nature, not part of the Truth, not I am.

INHABITANT - noun - A dweller; one who dwells or RESIDES permanently in a place, or who has A FIXED RESIDENCE, as distinguished from an occasional lodger or visitor; as the inhabitant of a house or cottage; the inhabitants of a town, city, county or state. SO BRUTE ANIMALS ARE INHABITANTS OF THE REGIONS TO WHICH THEIR NATURES ARE ADAPTED; AND WE SPEAK OF SPIRITUAL

BEINGS, AS INHABITANTS OF HEAVEN. 1. One who has a LEGAL SETTLEMENT in a town, city or parish. The conditions or qualifications WHICH CONSTITUTE A PERSON AN INHABITANT of a town or parish, so as to subject the town or parish to support him, if a pauper, are defined by the statutes of different governments or states. (Webs1828)

RESIDENT - noun - Dwelling or having an abode in a place for a continuance of time, BUT NOT DEFINITE; as a minister resident at the court of St. James. A B is now resident in South America. 1. One who resides or dwells in a place for some time. A B is now a resident in London. 2. A public minister who resides at a foreign court. It is usually applied to ministers of a rank inferior to that of ambassadors. (Webs1828)

RESIDENCE - noun - 1. The act of abiding or dwelling in a place for some continuance of TIME; as the residence of an American in France or Italy for a year. The confessor had often made considerable residences in Normandy. 2. The place of abode; a dwelling; a habitation. Caprea had been - the residence of Tiberius for several years. 3. That which falls to the bottom of liquors. Obs. 4. In the canon and common law, THE ABODE OF A PERSON or incumbent on his benefice; opposed to non-residence. (Webs1828)

DOMICIL - noun - [Latin. A mansion.] An abode or mansion; A PLACE OF PERMANENT RESIDENCE, either of an individual or family; a residence, animo manendi. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTE - verb transitive - [Latin. To set.] 1. To set; to fix; to enact; to establish. WE MUST OBEY LAWS APPOINTED AND CONSTITUTED BY LAWFUL AUTHORITY, NOT AGAINST THE LAW OF GOD. 2. To form or compose; TO GIVE FORMAL EXISTENCE TO; to make a THING what it is... 3. To appoint, depute or elect to an office or employment; to make (create) and empower. A sheriff is constituted a conservator of the peace. A has constituted B his attorney or AGENT. (Webs1828)

— = —

It is perhaps important to note here that a citizen, a denizen, an inhabitant, a dweller, and a resident are all an unnatural title or status granted by the men in office of government (control) that created them. Thus, they all must be constituted (created) under the legal code. In other words, they are fictional, being in existence not of or by God nor therefore bound to the duty or protection of the Natural Law.

DWELLER - noun - An inhabitant; a resident of some continuance in a place. (Webs1828)

DWELL - verb intransitive - pret. dwelled, usually CONTRACTED INTO DWELT. [See Dally.] 1. To abide as a permanent resident, or to inhabit for a time; to live in a place; to have a habitation for some time or permanence. God shall enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem. Gen 9. Dwell imports a residence of some continuance. We use abide for the resting of a night or an hour; but we never say, he dwelt in a place a day or a night. Dwell may signify a residence for life or for a much shorter period, but not for a day. In scripture, it denotes a residence of seven days during the feast of tabernacles. Ye shall dwell in booths seven days. Lev 23. THE WORD WAS MADE FLESH, AND DWELT AMONG US. John 1. (Webs1828)

ABIDE - verb intransitive pert. and part. - Abode, abada, to be, or EXIST, TO CONTINUE; bod, to be; to dwell, rest, continue, stand firm, or be stationary for anytime indefinitely. Class Bd. No 7.] 1. To rest, or dwell. Gen 29:19. 2. To tarry or stay for a short time. Gen 24:55. 3. To continue permanently or IN THE SAME STATE; to be firm and immovable. Psalms 119:90. 4. To remain, to continue. Acts 27:31. Eccl 8:15. - verb intransitive - 1. To wait for; to be prepared for; to await. Bonds and afflictions abide me. Acts 20:23. In general, abide by signifies to adhere to, maintain defend, or stand to, as to abide by a promise, or by a friend; or to suffer the consequences, AS TO ABIDE BY THE EVENT, THAT IS, TO BE FIXED OR PERMANENT IN A PARTICULAR CONDITION. (Webs1828)

GOVERNMENT - noun - Direction; regulation. These precepts will serve for the government of our conduct. 1. Control; restraint. Men are apt to neglect the government of their temper and passions. 2. The exercise of authority; DIRECTION AND RESTRAINT EXERCISED OVER THE ACTIONS OF MEN IN COMMUNITIES, SOCIETIES OR STATES; the administration of PUBLIC affairs, according to established constitution, laws and usages, or by arbitrary edicts. Prussia rose to importance under the government of Frederick II. 3. THE EXERCISE OF AUTHORITY BY A PARENT OR HOUSEHOLDER. Children are often ruined by a neglect of government (direction, control, and restraint) in parents. LET FAMILY GOVERNMENT BE LIKE THAT OF OUR HEAVENLY FATHER, MILD, GENTLE AND AFFECTIONATE. 4. The system of polity in a state; that form of fundamental rules and principles by which a nation or state is governed, or by which individual members of a body politic are to regulate their social actions; a constitution, either written or unwritten, by which the rights and duties of citizens and public officers are prescribed and defined; as a monarchial government, or a republican government. THIRTEEN GOVERNMENTS THUS FOUNDED ON THE NATURAL AUTHORITY OF THE PEOPLE ALONE, WITHOUT THE PRETENSE OF MIRACLE OR MYSTERY, are a great point gained in favor of the RIGHTS OF MANKIND. 5. An empire, kingdom or state; ANY TERRITORY OVER WHICH THE RIGHT OF SOVEREIGNTY IS EXTENDED. 6. The right of governing or administering the laws. The king of England vested the government of Ireland in the lord lieutenant. 7. THE PERSONS OR COUNCIL WHICH ADMINISTER THE LAWS OF A KINGDOM OR STATE; EXECUTIVE POWER. 8. Manageableness; compliance; obsequiousness. (Webs1828)

— = —

The origin of the word dwell is perhaps one of the most interesting of all these artful terms that have been twisted into legalese and normalized to appear as a good thing. If we stop to consider that one may legally dwell only within some districted, legal, artificial domicile and residence in any state or nation by license, we may understand that only he who is not right-minded, or he who has been made public-minded from public education and entertainment, would possibly “dwell” anywhere that is not the Reality of Nature. To dwell in any church or state is insanity, for all of these are fictions! And all legal persons, places, and things, including dwellings, are merely words on paper titles. But then, where else might a strawman live but on in fiction?

The verb dwell is of course an action. In Old English the word dwellan meant “TO MISLEAD, DECEIVE,” and originally “TO MAKE A FOOL OF, LEAD ASTRAY,” from Proto-Germanic dwelan “TO GO OR LEAD ASTRAY,” sourced also from Old Norse dvöl “delay,” dvali “SLEEP,” Middle Dutch dwellen “to stun, make giddy, perplex,” Old High German twellen “TO HINDER, DELAY,” Danish dvale “TRANCE, STUPOR,” dvaelbar “narcotic berry,” and from Middle English dwale “nightshade”), from PIE dhwel- as an extension form of the root dheu- meaning (1) “dust, cloud, vapor, smoke,” with related notions of a “DEFECTIVE PERCEPTION OR WITS”). Dwell is also related to the Old English gedweola, meaning “ERROR, HERESY, MADNESS.” Its sense shifted in Middle English through “hinder, delay,” to “LINGER” circa 1200, used still in the modern phrase to dwell upon), and also to “MAKE A HOME” from the mid-13th century.

And so the modern, stupefied, foolish, entranced, totally lead astray public citizenship of nations is called as a dweller. The word dweller stems from the late 14th century, a noun used as an agent of the word dwell. So a dweller is one who dwells, one who has been or causes another to be dwelt, or is currently dwelled. This is the perplexed state of the common public in residence. A dwelling is of course a verbal noun from the 14th century meaning a “PLACE OF RESIDENCE,” as one of the deceived whom makes a home in the fictional person (incorporation) and on the lands of another in rent. And of course the verbal noun indwelling, carries the meaning of one in the “ACT OF RESIDING,” considering Wycliff’s translation of the Latin inhabitatio, as the present participle of the obsolete indwell, from in (adjective) + dwell (verb). He also used indweller for Latin inhabitans and indwell (verb) for inhabitare.

For good measure, we can see that the word habit (verb) comes from the mid 14th century, and carries the meaning of “to dwell, reside; dwell in” (obsolete), from Old French habit or abiter “TO DWELL, inhabit; have dealings with,” from Latin habitare “to live, dwell; stay, remain,” and is frequentative of habere “to have, to hold, possess.” Its noun form, from the early 13th century, carries the meaning of “characteristic attire of a religious or clerical order,” from 12th century Old French habit, abit “clothing, (ecclesiastical) habit; CONDUCT” and from the Latin habitus “condition, demeanor, APPEARANCE, dress...” The meaning of “clothing generally” is from late 14th century, and the form of “CUSTOMARY PRACTICE, USUAL MODE OF ACTION” is early 14th century.

Naturally, this leads us to the word inhabit, a verb from late 14th century Old French enhabiter, enabiter “dwell in, live in, RESIDE” and from Latin inhabitare “to dwell in,” from in- + habitare “to dwell,” frequentative of habere “hold, have.”

Of course, this leads us to the noun domicile, taken from mid-15th century English, from Middle French domicile in the 14th century, from Latin domicilium, perhaps from domus “house” (domestic) + colere “TO DWELL” (colony), and first attested as a verb in 1809.

The verb to domesticate stems from the 1630s, of animals, and 1741, of persons, meaning “to cause to be attached to home and family,” from Medieval Latin domesticatus, past participle of domesticare “to tame,” literally “TO DWELL IN A HOUSE,” from domesticus (domestic). Related to being domesticated and to domesticating persons and animals.

And finally, we find the word bound (adjective) to carry the meaning of “ready to go,” c. 1200, boun, from Old Norse buinn past participle of bua “to prepare,” also “TO DWELL, TO LIVE,” from Proto-Germanic bowan (source also of Old High German buan “to dwell,” Old Danish both “dwelling, stall”), from PIE root bheue- “TO BE, EXIST, DWELL.” Thus we find the noun bondage circa the 1300’s as the “CONDITION OF A SERF OR SLAVE,” from Anglo-Latin bondagium, from Middle English bond “A SERF, TENANT FARMER,” from Old English bonda “HOUSEHOLDER,” from Old Norse boandi “FREE-BORN FARMER,” and as the noun use of present participle of boa “DWELL, prepare, INHABIT.” Its meaning in English changed by the influence of bond.

It is interesting to note here the use of the word and image of the rose in the English civil wars of the 15th century, where the white rose was the badge (Arms) of the House of York, the red rose the badge of its rival Lancaster. As figurative symbols representing these “houses” or family bloodlines, we again come back to the word dwell, as to dwell under the colored rose. In the 15th century, to be (or dwell) in flowers meant to “be prosperous, flourish,” leading much later to the notion of coming up roses as a sign of coming out ahead.

And so, in other words, to be fooled and falsely exist in any type or form of fiction is to dwell in that artifice, be it poverty or wealth, nobility or servitude to nobles. It’s all just the art of man’s imagination. It is the realm of fools, and many men are very successful in their dwellings. But they are certainly no men of God, though they may devilishly call themselves as “Christians.” Hell, even the clothing of a priest, his habit, means only that he dwells in the delusions of his own priest-hood and teachings that are likely nothing of christ.

In fact, we can even see that Vesta, the Roman goddess of hearth and home, corresponds to and is perhaps in cognate with the Greek Hestia, from hestia “hearth,” from PIE root wes- “TO DWELL, STAY” (source also of Sanskrit vasati “stays, DWELLS,” Gothic wisan, Old English, Old High German wesan “TO BE”).

You can't make this stuff up!!!

Dude, we've all been totally dwelled!

But there is a solution. Stop allowing your Self being fooled. Stop volunteering. Stop being a resident. Stop dwelling in art. Stop sucking from the teat of Caesar's district. Stop loving fiction over Reality. Stop playing the part assigned to you in the agency of a false persona. Stop believing (loving) the idols of the nations. Either that or embrace the fact that you've been masterfully dwelt and go on legally existing and continue playing the fool, ignoring scripture and embracing all that is the artifice while pretending a national "Christian" faith. That is the American way, after all. Simply remain plugged in to this legal matrix and take the marks you will be required to soon take as a world citizen (denizens of hell). Simple, at least for those who have a defective perception and wit.

Let us be clear that for all the hoopla and pomp and circumstance there is only one government over the United States, which is the executive "Branch." Executive means that by military force the laws are administered. Congress creates laws, and the judicial decides on their legitimacy and application in voluntary, self-administration (self-governance). But these so-called congressmen are merely fragile attorneys and businessmen that have no authority to back up their own created law. They cannot defend themselves, being weak and feeble by their own dwellings in legislative costume. They need their slaves to protect them. And that's where the U.S. military comes in. For what is created by congress in its commercial capacity is generally some agency or other part of the militarized Executive Branch. Only the Executive part of government actually enforces that artfully created law of persons. A government only administers executively (by force) the laws of the legal realm but never the Natural Law, for that Highest Law is unenforceable and already the self-evident Law of God's Realm of Actual Existence, not a patented creation of man. No judge may alter It, and no man may ultimately escape from It. Fictional persons (strawmen) are created so as to pretend to work around It by license from that Executive government. It is the law of persons as legally created that the Executive government controls and violently enforces. It sees only status (persons). The legal government has no authority over and cannot respect that Reality of the Spiritual Realm of Nature (Heaven on Earth, as the Eternity of Nature), but in its stead controls only its own legal creation. Government is always only the administrator of its own debtor's hell, and its power extends only over the men who embrace that hell as their abode (dwelling) and act like possessing demons of those strawmen as their projected self-image, their fictional personas. The military, the sheriff, marshals, and all law enforcement officers under flattering titles and shiny trinkets called badges are all under the Executive Branch of federal and state government. Their badges consist of the masonic versions of the Seal of Solomon (6-pointed star), the lesser Seal of Solomon (5 pointed star), and the pagan elven star or septagram (7-pointed star), also known as the Sigil of Dei Ameth (Sigillum Dei Ameth), the Seal of the truth of God, the word Ameth being Hebrew for "truth."

Under a state of war or emergency, which has legally existed since before any reader of this was born, the principal, also called the Executive officer or the president, is god. The law is mute. Necessity overcomes any established law, as in the civil war, as the "war" against the emergency is fought. Military authority, be it in peace or in violence, is the truly the only form of external government (forced mind control), and the commander of the military is of course the president. This permanent state of government by the marshals of law will be fully covered in Volume II of this work. For now, make no mistake that we, in person, legally exist in a civil citizen-ship under an Executive government and no other, a government by force, and that the freedom (franchise) we are granted in citizen-ship is purely a commercial venture that can be taken away at any time. A birth into a bloodless national citizenship is not the same as being born into Nature.

Our house, our abode (indwelling) as U.S. citizenships, is only ever within the district of Columbia, Washington D.C. This is where we (our assigned person/status) are fixed in our domicile (permanent residence) by the event of our strawman birth, the fictional birth of a legal id-entity. It is not us, but the person (status) that has a dwelling. It is the man that is dwelt (deceived) into believing (loving) that fictional place (noun) of illusion. Its jurisdiction over the fictional public “land” of the States is the only place containing that legal existence. It is what distrains and distresses us in seizure and in this human capital management platform. It is our modern day Caesar and we frolic in its modern day municipal colosseums, appearing always in its commercial persona. A United States person’s house (dwelling) can only ever be located in that fiction of Washington D.C., to which all public persons as citizenships or nationals of the United States are native (birthed). Never mistake a temporary residence in some private (foreign) State and in some home or apartment building owned and disposable by some private land-holder as your own actual home and domicile. Slaves only ever live in the home of another. What belongs to a strawman belongs to the sovereign government of the sovereign People by their own sovereign privilege. Never forget that U.S. citizenships (public persons) are only ever foreigners in any State they reside (dwell) in.

— = —

DISTRICT:

“A division of territory. 1. Originally, THE SPACE WITHIN WHICH A LORD COULD COERCE AND PUNISH — DISTRAIN. THE CIRCUIT WITHIN WHICH A MAN MIGHT BE COMPELLED TO APPEAR, or the PLACE in which one hath the power of distraining.”

—William C. Anderson’s Dictionary of Law, 1889, definition of ‘District.’

— = —

It is important to note here that the definition of a denizen is indeed that of being a citizen, while the definition of a citizen is not necessarily included as being a denizen. No one can possibly consider that when slaves were “freed” by federal law in the 1860’s that those “negroes” were given the same private status as those private People in blood relation who freed them. No, they were made common, and all common men were made into 14th amendment citizenships, as Horace Greeley fervently exclaimed in the above quote, calling the common condition of U.S. citizenship as a state of serfdom. This is legalized freedom. And to be set free from slavery and indenture is legally only enfranchisement. It’s like a permanent state of parole, where the man leaves prison but is still in a perpetual, open-air jail wherever he may commercially travel. Also, a public citizen is defined in part as a naturalized person, which is defined as an alien that has been denized (enfranchised) into the city (state/district), as opposed to a private citizen of the several (private) States. The term citizen, it must be remembered, has multiple meanings, general (common) and special (per species/class).

PAROLE - adjective - Given by word of mouth; oral; NOT WRITTEN; as parol evidence... - noun - [See parol] Word of mouth. In military affairs, A PROMISE GIVEN BY A PRISONER OF WAR, WHEN HE HAS LEAVE TO DEPART FROM CUSTODY, THAT HE WILL RETURN AT THE TIME APPOINTED, UNLESS DISCHARGED. A parole is properly a verbal or unwritten promise, but I believe it is customary to take a promise in writing.

— = —

Parole comes from the Latin parabola, and is very similar to what a parable is. You could say that a man on parole is a man living by his word (parable), and by the words of the state (magistrate gods) in parabolic warning of what will happen if he doesn’t follow that legal parole statement. For to be on parole is to be on one’s own recognizance, to live according to one’s word spoken and agreed upon. It is the personification of the parable, a contractual situation based on good behavior. Unfortunately, men without the Word of God need the word of the state (idolatrous gods) as a court order to act in “legal” good behavior. The Bible follower, in vulgar terms, is like a man given parole by God. He is Truly free until he breaks with that covenant (contract), ignoring the scriptural parables, and thus begins to believe (love) and partake in fictional persons, places, and things (nouns). In the end, only by breaking with God’s Word (Law) does the legal word (the big lie) come into play. While the scriptural parables save man from all fiction, the paroles (legal, artificial parabola) of man guarantee (in surety) a man’s servitude to the legal fiction and its false gods through personhood. For upon the person and only upon the person is the crime charged. The person is the original sin; a sign that a man has abandoned his One True God. And so in effect, we are all on parole from the state (district) as felons since legal birth, allowed to have legal freedom (franchise under the dominion of the state) on good behavior, a “right” that can be taken away at any time. For the ship in citizen-ship is not our own vessel. We are only surety for its good behavior, including the paying of those taxes and fees (tributes) assigned to it by its creator.

Though the reader might not yet comprehend his or her own disposition, this definition is also the definition of citizenship, which is a contractual relationship that creates a promise to appear by law in front of an executive (not judicial) administrative judge when the person of the man in surety is so summoned. This is a performance debt, and that debt cannot be paid, only discharged. We are, for all intents and purposes, prisoners of war given the legal franchise (political freedom) to act civilly under the administrative civil law of Executive (military) force while participating in interstate commerce. Thus we are called civilians. If we should stop acting civilly, then the martial of law take charge until civility returns. This is not much different than the result of a prison riot. But in this open-air prison, we only have pat-riots, men suffering to be controlled opposition as subjects who love the fictional country (master) that enslaves them so as to fly its flag proudly in ignorance and cognitive dissonance. (See “Patriot” defined in Chapter 2).

CIVILIAN - noun - [from civil.] 1. ONE WHO IS SKILLED IN THE ROMAN LAW; A PROFESSOR OR DOCTOR OF CIVIL LAW. 2. In a more extended sense, ONE WHO IS VERSED IN LAW AND GOVERNMENT. 3. A student of the civil law at the university. (Webs1828)

—=—

The common people are all civilians, though some work in non-civilian sectors. But a slave is a slave regardless of color or descriptive title. Equal rights, you know. And though most of us are not competent in any way with the words of the civil law and government, our voluntary consent and confirmation of personhood by our actions therein cause us to be professors (lovers) of that false law. Our signature is agreement to the whole of the law of persons, as we only sign in the surname (property) of the state’s false persona. One of the foundational maxim’s of law states that to know the law and to be able to know the law are the same thing. And so to be clear, the principle and foundation of law is that your capacity to know the law is considered as the same as your actual knowing of that law. Again, ignorance of law is no excuse before any god, and now you know why. This is the very dangerous aspect of being considered to have legal capacity (personhood), for it implies an unlimited capacity for knowledge of the law, and voluntary ignorance is thus no exception to any rule of law. It is voluntary ignorance when one acts in any legal capacity without knowing the law that binds those actions, and again this is never an acceptable excuse. Once we act in persona, we are bound to the law of that person (legal status), for we are participating in the law and thus are expected to know it for that reason. In this author’s personal opinion, this is actually a good thing. For the fool deserves what he gets for embracing that for which he does not comprehend. To under-stand that which is designed to dwel you is an inexcusable act. This is as well a self-evident Truth. It is why public citizenships are slaves in bondage of surety and it is why Christians that pledge their allegiance to the false doctrines of man’s denominated religions have not God on their side to defend against such tyranny of the state. I cannot tell you how many “Christians” have not read the Bible, and of those who have, none of them I have ever met have comprehended its intent, including the priests and ministers of it. For to do so would necessarily force he who understands its knowledge to abandon all fictional things, including the supposed wealth they have accumulated. And this is why the flattering title of legalized, licensed “Christianity” is always false, for no follower of christ in their actions would ever identify themselves as a “Christian” of the universal pagan churches of Rome. Only legal persons need use such a defense for their guilty conscious.

The perfect example of this maxim in its full effect is when most people sign a mortgage agreement, doing so without reading the many-paged contract that puts them into a dead-pledge (mort-gage). The signed contract implies understanding of the words and laws surrounding the contract by the surety of that signature in legal persona. So it is with the unwritten contractual relationship created by assuming a person of the United States and enjoying its benefits. With the good comes the bad. With benefits comes all obligations and sanctions, not the least of which is the bar on True religious freedom to act morally on one’s conscious against the legal powers that be. Any one can claim and believe in (love) the false, flattering title of “Christian,” but no one can act accordingly. This is the legal law, and the title is attached to the person, not directly to the man. The state intervenes through its person (legal status), and part of a public persons parole is to obey the legal law over God’s Word.

The status of being considered as “natural-born” does not seem to apply to the definition of denizen as it does to a citizen. And yet a denizen is defined as a citizen. So which comes first? Can you be a citizen without being a denizen?

First, we must define the words that make up these definitions. Just what is the freedom enjoyed by public citizens denizenized into the United State’s district of seizure (Caesar)?

FRANCHISE - noun - fran'chiz. [See Frank.] Properly, LIBERTY, FREEDOM. Hence, 1. A PARTICULAR PRIVILEGE OR RIGHT GRANTED BY A PRINCE OR SOVEREIGN TO AN INDIVIDUAL OR TO A NUMBER OF PERSONS; AS THE RIGHT TO BE A BODY CORPORATE WITH PERPETUAL SUCCESSION; the right to hold a court leet or other court; to have waifs, wrecks, treasure-trove, or forfeitures. So the right to vote for governor, senators and representatives, is a franchise belonging to citizens, and not enjoyed by aliens. The right to establish a bank, is a franchise. 2. EXEMPTION FROM A BURDEN OR DUTY TO WHICH OTHERS ARE SUBJECT. 3. THE DISTRICT OR JURISDICTION TO WHICH A PARTICULAR PRIVILEGE EXTENDS; THE LIMITS OF AN IMMUNITY. 4. An asylum or SANCTUARY, where PERSONS are secure from arrest. Churches and monasteries in Spain are FRANCHISES FOR CRIMINALS. - verb transitive - TO MAKE FREE; but enfranchise is more generally used. (Webs1828)

ENFRANCHISED - participle passive - SET FREE; released from bondage. 1. ADMITTED to the rights and privileges of freemen. (Webs1828)

— = —

Do not allow yourself to be confused by this term “freeman,” for all legal terms are terms of deceit (art). This is merely a legal title for a subject of some master. Never forget that to the legal gods, the creators of patented words, the word free means franchise, and the legal use of the word man means slave. To be free (in franchise) is to not be in direct slavery, it is to enjoy what is allowed by that which gives the freedom (franchise). This is also called political independence. But this legal form of independence (without substance) is not Natural in any way. A person (legal status) is never free in the Natural sense, only in the political sense, for its artful existence depends on the existence of the state that it was legally birthed (created) in. Whatever he acting in public persona enjoys he does not actually own. His rights are imposed upon his person, not God-given to his True Self. We cannot be fooled (dwelled) by such concepts (fruit) of the tree of good (Reality) and evil (fiction). Be you a master or a subject, your imagined power comes only from the state you voluntarily support. And make no mistake, both of these statuses (master and servant) are only attained in sin against Jehovah. They are only the artificial titles of men.

FREEMAN - noun - [free and man.] 1. One who ENJOYS liberty, or who is not subject to the WILL of another; ONE NOT A SLAVE OR VASSAL. 2. ONE WHO ENJOYS OR IS ENTITLED TO A FRANCHISE OR PECULIAR PRIVILEGE; AS THE FREEMEN OF A CITY OR STATE. (Webs1828)

ENFRANCHISE - verb transitive - s as z. [From franchise] To set free; to liberate from slavery. 1. To make free of a city, corporation or state; to admit to the privileges of a freeman. The English colonies were enfranchised by special charters. 2. To free or release from custody. 3. TO NATURALIZE; TO DENIZEN; TO RECEIVE AS DENIZENS; as, TO ENFRANCHISE FOREIGN WORDS. (Webs1828)

TO ENFRANCHISE - TO MAKE FREE TO INCORPORATE A MAN in a society or body politic. Vide Disfranchise. (Bouv1856)

ENFRANCHISEMENT - noun - Release from slavery or custody. 1. THE ADMISSION OF PERSONS TO THE FREEDOM OF A CORPORATION OR STATE; investiture with the privileges of free citizens; THE INCORPORATING OF A PERSON INTO ANY SOCIETY OR BODY POLITIC. (Webs1828)

ENFRANCHISING - ppr. - Setting free from slavery or custody; ADMITTING to the rights and privileges of denizens or free citizens in a state, or TO THE PRIVILEGES OF A FREE MAN IN A CORPORATION. (Webs1828)

FREE - noun - [Hebrew. See Frank.] 1. Being at liberty; not being under necessity or restraint, physical or moral; a word of general application to the body, the will or mind, and to corporations. 2. In government, NOT ENSLAVED; not in a state of vassalage or dependence; SUBJECT ONLY TO FIXED LAWS, MADE BY CONSENT, AND TO A REGULAR ADMINISTRATION OF SUCH LAWS; not subject to the ARBITRARY will of a sovereign or lord; as a free state, nation or people. 3. Instituted by a free people, OR BY CONSENT OR CHOICE OF THOSE WHO ARE TO BE SUBJECTS, AND SECURING PRIVATE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES BY FIXED LAWS AND PRINCIPLES; not arbitrary or despotic; as a free constitution or government. There can be no free government without a democratical branch in the constitution. 4. NOT IMPRISONED, CONFINED OR UNDER ARREST; as, the prisoner is set free. 5. Unconstrained; unrestrained; not under compulsion or control. A man is free to pursue his own choice; he enjoys free will. 6. PERMITTED; ALLOWED; OPEN; NOT APPROPRIATED; as, places of honor and confidence are free to all; we seldom hear of a commerce perfectly free. (Webs1828)

— — —

We are free from the arbitrary words of these gods, but not from the legislative words of them. If the reader wishes to believe that there is a difference between these two words, then the reader will make a perfect subject and slave to those whose word he or she follows. We are educated from birth to choose our Word (Law) without care or question, and we are fooled into dwelling under the words of these false idols of the nations. In short, we choose our God by the words or Word of the Law we follow.

Clearly the slaves were caused to be “free” so that they could be incorporated (denized) into the United States in voluntary servitude. And in Truth, this was not much of a choice, for the only protection they could get as black men was to accept the protective nature of the fictional persona (status) of United States citizen-ship under the 14th amendment, for only then would they be considered as artificially “equal” regarding civil (spiritually dead) rights. And suddenly, it was not merely a negro being strung up and murdered in cold blood, it was a “United States citizenship.” It was now a financial crime against one of the human capital assets of the nation. And so all men, black and white, became enfranchised (set free) under the tyranny of the nation.

Even the devil is poetic in his justice, singing the prose of freedom when the fine print suggests a totally different tune.

Perhaps the greatest wake up call for this author was the understanding of the variations of this word free. It is perhaps one of the most deceiving words created by these pirates, for as a rat is free in a cage so too is a citizenship free in its jurisdiction. Liberty and freedom come in two forms, that of public or private. Perspective is again needed to comprehend just what a state of public freedom actually is. And of course, when we add the term of art dom to any word we change the meaning even further, so that this spell of enfranchised free-dom can be fully known to he who suffers its legal delusion. Like the snake eating its own tail (i.e. speaking itself into existence), no matter which word a slave uses, his freedom is a circular illusion. He is a dweller in fiction. Freedom in America is merely a license to conduct commerce in the franchise of a citizen-ship, with the agreement to be put in jail and become prison labor for breaking the parabola of rules of contractual good behavior regarding that legal, civil franchise.

DOM - Used as a termination, denotes JURISDICTION, OR PROPERTY AND JURISDICTION; primarily, DOOM, JUDGMENT; as in kingdom, earldom. Hence it is used to denote STATE, CONDITION OR QUALITY, as in wisdom, freedom. (Webs1828)

FREEDOM - noun - 1. A state of EXEMPTION from the power or control of another; liberty; EXEMPTION FROM SLAVERY, SERVITUDE OR CONFINEMENT. Freedom is PERSONAL, CIVIL, POLITICAL, AND RELIGIOUS. [See Liberty.] 2. Particular privileges; FRANCHISE; immunity; as the freedom of a city. 3. POWER OF ENJOYING FRANCHISES. 4. EXEMPTION FROM FATE, NECESSITY, OR ANY CONSTRAINT IN CONSEQUENCE OF PREDETERMINATION OR OTHERWISE; as the freedom of the will. 5. Any exemption from constraint or control. 6. Ease or facility of doing any thing. He speaks or acts with freedom. 7. Frankness; boldness. He addressed his audience with freedom. 8. LICENSE; improper familiarity; violation of the rules of decorum; with a plural. Beware of what are called innocent freedoms. (Webs1828)

FREEDOM - Liberty; THE RIGHT TO DO WHAT IS NOT FORBIDDEN BY LAW. FREEDOM DOES NOT PRECLUDE THE IDEA OF SUBJECTION TO LAW; INDEED, IT PRESUPPOSES THE EXISTENCE OF SOME LEGISLATIVE PROVISION, THE OBSERVANCE OF WHICH INSURES FREEDOM TO US, by securing the like observance from others. (Bouv1856)

FREEDOM - 1. (Natural freedom) The quality or state of being free, as:

- (a) the absence of necessity, coercion, or constraint in choice or action
- (b) liberation from slavery or restraint or from the power of another: independence
- (c) the quality or state of being exempt or released usually from something onerous (freedom from care)
- (h) unrestricted use <gave him the freedom of their home>

FREEDOM - 2. (as Political Freedom)

- (a) A POLITICAL RIGHT
- (b) FRANCHISE, PRIVILEGE

(Webster's online, sourced from - <http://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/freedom>)

LIBERTY - noun - [L. libertas, from liber, free.] 1. Freedom from restraint, in a general sense, and applicable to the body, or to the will or mind. The body is at liberty, when not confined; the will or mind is at liberty, when not checked or controlled. A man enjoys liberty, when no physical force operates to restrain his actions or volitions.

2. NATURAL LIBERTY consists in the power of acting as one thinks fit, without any restraint or control, EXCEPT FROM THE LAWS OF NATURE. It is a state of EXEMPTION FROM THE CONTROL OF OTHERS, AND FROM POSITIVE LAWS AND THE INSTITUTIONS OF SOCIAL LIFE. THIS LIBERTY IS ABRIDGED BY THE ESTABLISHMENT OF GOVERNMENT.

3. CIVIL LIBERTY is the liberty of men in a state of society, or natural liberty, so far only abridged and restrained, as is necessary and expedient for the safety and interest of the society, state or nation. A RESTRAINT OF NATURAL LIBERTY, NOT NECESSARY OR EXPEDIENT FOR THE PUBLIC, IS TYRANNY OR OPPRESSION. Civil liberty is an exemption from the arbitrary will of others, which exemption is secured by established laws, which restrain every man from injuring or controlling another. HENCE THE RESTRAINTS OF LAW ARE ESSENTIAL TO CIVIL LIBERTY. The liberty of one depends not so much on the removal of all restraint from him, as on the DUE RESTRAINT UPON THE LIBERTY OF OTHERS. In this sentence, the latter word liberty denotes natural liberty.

4. POLITICAL LIBERTY is sometimes used as synonymous with civil liberty. But it more properly designates the liberty of a nation, the freedom of a nation or state from all unjust abridgment of its rights and independence BY ANOTHER NATION. Hence we often speak of the political liberties of Europe, or the nations of Europe.

5. RELIGIOUS LIBERTY is the free right of adopting and enjoying opinions on religious subjects, AND OF WORSHIPING THE SUPREME BEING ACCORDING TO THE DICTATES OF CONSCIENCE, WITHOUT EXTERNAL CONTROL. (Webs1828)

LIBERTY (Cont.) - 6. Liberty, in metaphysics, AS OPPOSED TO NECESSITY, is the power of an AGENT to do or forbear any particular action, according to the determination or thought of the mind, by which either is preferred to the other. Freedom of the will; exemption from compulsion or restraint in willing or volition. 7. Privilege; exemption; IMMUNITY ENJOYED BY PRESCRIPTION OR BY GRANT; with a plural. Thus we speak of the liberties of the commercial cities of Europe. 8. Leave; PERMISSION GRANTED. The witness obtained liberty to leave the court. 9. A SPACE IN WHICH ONE IS PERMITTED TO PASS WITHOUT RESTRAINT, AND BEYOND WHICH HE MAY NOT LAWFULLY PASS; with a plural; AS THE LIBERTIES OF A PRISON. 10. Freedom of action or speech beyond the ordinary bounds of civility or decorum. Females should repel all improper liberties. To take the liberty to do or say any thing, to use freedom not specially granted. To set at liberty, TO DELIVER FROM CONFINEMENT; to release from restraint. To be at liberty, to be free from restraint. Liberty of the press, is freedom from any restriction on the power to publish books; the free power of publishing what one pleases, subject only to punishment for abusing the privilege, or publishing what is mischievous to the public or injurious to individuals. (Webs1828)

FREEMAN - One who is in the enjoyment of the right to do whatever he pleases, NOT FORBIDDEN BY LAW. ONE IN THE POSSESSION OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS ENJOYED BY, the people GENERALLY. (Bouv1856)

FREEMAN - noun - [free and man.] 1. One who ENJOYS liberty, or who is not subject to the will of another; one not a slave or vassal. 2. ONE WHO ENJOYS OR IS ENTITLED TO A FRANCHISE or peculiar privilege; as the freemen OF A CITY OR STATE. (Webs1828)

— = —

Of means belonging to. So a freeman of a city or state is a person belonging to a city or state. And this is why the private People are not titled (styled) as the common people of the United States. The creator is never born of its own creation, never beholden of it.

I remember reading that statement for the first time, where freedom is defined as an exemption from fate and from consequence of our actions. It was then that I realized how dangerous this word really is, and how foolish we have been to allow our so-called leaders in their fictionally declared sovereignty to possess such freedom so utterly and without moral, religious law or test. We have actually been fooled into believing that the separation of religion from legality in law is a good thing by those who have used such a separation to utterly defeat and morally deprive us. For the artificially induced “freedom” allowed in legal settings is specifically designed to bypass personal responsibility and to place it artificially on some fiction of law, some person or flattering title, thus freeing the man from correcting or being punished by his own sins. This is the way of the church and state, one protecting the other in an unending corruption of fate. The state exempts the church and the church exempts the state, for both are false gods of their own legal creation.

These painful Realities about our fictional delusions are disturbing to say the least. The author shares no pleasure in revealing the True Nature of our collective disposition, nor do I envy the reader that has made it this far only to discover his own voluntary enslavement in franchise, his illusion of freedom surely and hopefully crushed. For with hope comes hesitation and inaction. As stated above, citizenship destroys Natural Freedom and True Religious Freedom is outlawed while one is acting in a public person-hood. Freedom of religion in legal terms is not a Natural freedom but a civil, political one, and means only that belief (as a noun) is free, not action based on love (verb). But most importantly, knowledge destroys hope, and hope is the key to inaction and accepted subjugation. Whether we believe we will be saved by the church Messiah or by the constitution, this hope must be destroyed so that we may manifest our hopes though knowledge of our own power and weakness. A man caught up in the franchise of personhood cannot act on his own moral, religious beliefs, for his law is the strict law of nations and their gods, the law of fictional persons, and thus the law of commercial franchise (legal freedom in a national debtor’s prison called as hell). When we add this word dom to the word free to make freedom we simply find this to mean a franchise that is in the dominion or domicile (jurisdiction) of another. We must always remember to distinguish between the negative (unalienable/Natural) rights of the man and the positive law rights of the person he is bound in surety to. Negative is unenforced and a choice, positive is enforced with no choice. There is nothing of Nature that is positive (in need of proof) or that is granted by license or permit by man, and political or civil “freedom” and “liberty” are no exceptions. Never forget what freedom Truly is, but always be conscious that false, legal (adversarial/satanic) freedom is all that any citizenship ever has or may have, as that which is adversarial to Natural Freedom under God’s Law.

Returning to these conceptual genealogical trees of rotten fruit, let us compare the absolute fable (outright embellished lie) of the his-story of those so-called “Founding Fathers,” those creator gods of the United States, with the parabola and allegory of Jesus christ. Or we may compare this “fabled genealogy” as the same bloodline of kings in Europe and in Asia through this same methodology. This concept of being a king, pope, Caesar, Kaiser, ruler, god, magistrate, prince, governor, archon, or any other false, legal term used to describe the supposed “right” of men in such god-like positions over other men is all based on the mashel, the proverbial parable, the story told to both the generations of the dead heroes of the past and to their slaves, citizens, and subjects acquired by birthright or lack thereof. If we stop to consider for a moment, we realize that every religion and every nation has its parabolic “creation” story, many quite similar to the Bible, and most if not all the mere simulation of lawyers and opportunists pretended to be great men and even gods (fathers) of the parabolic dominions of nations and countries we still today celebrate as our fictional reality of flag and country (legal origin). The names (words) are changed but the story is generally in similitude. We believe in (love) the fables we learn in public school describing these private men as our “fathers,” whose posterity (genealogical issue of bloodline descendants) manage us and control (govern) our minds through their created, ordained, established, and constantly evolving government of force.

But it is always the Bible that is spit upon and cast out as being a false history by those who refuse to even read it and do due diligence upon its many parabolic teachings. It is perhaps the only Book of books that is demonized for being at least part fiction despite all those other sources of history and teaching being known wholeheartedly as fictions. Plato is no more disrespected for his use of allegory and personification of his parabolic teachings than is Sir Author Conan Doyle or J.R.R. Tolkien. But the Bible must be culturally invalidated at all costs for this crime of metaphor! Does this really make sense to you, that Dr. Seuss is a more respected storyteller to most common chattel than the authors and True Author of the Holy Bible, or can you begin to see that this demonization is just part of governing the minds of men away from that which would free them?

Upon these fabled genealogical bloodlines and the respect demanded of them to have esoteric authority as “other gods” before Jehovah, the Bible stands clearly in warning against this well-ingrained ritualistic worship of recorded genes.

— = —

“...that thou mightest charge some that THEY TEACH NO OTHER DOCTRINE, NEITHER GIVE HEED TO FABLES AND ENDLESS GENEALOGIES, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do. Now the end of the commandment is CHARITY OUT OF A PURE HEART, AND OF A GOOD CONSCIENCE, AND OF FAITH (TRUTH) UNFEIGNED: From which some having swerved have turned aside unto vain jangling; DESIRING TO BE TEACHERS OF THE LAW; UNDERSTANDING NEITHER WHAT THEY SAY, NOR WHEREOF THEY AFFIRM.”

— 1 Timothy 1: 3-7, KJB

— = —

To our friends in the United Kingdom I am sorry, but there is no way to overlook this passage. There is no way that you can justify your king or queen nor the corporations and landholdings held under its crown. But at least your bubble is easily bursted as such. In America, we even acknowledge our strange existence as a dream. The American dream.

— = —

“It’s called the American Dream
because you have to be asleep to believe it.”

“You are given the illusion of choice. Americans are meant to feel free by the exercise of meaningless choices.”

“Elections and politicians are in place in order to give Americans the illusion that they have freedom of choice. You don’t really have choice in this country.”

—George Carlin (separate quotes)

—=—

“I’m fascinated that our government can lie to us so blatantly, so obviously, for so long, and we do absolutely nothing about it.”

“You are free to do as we tell you!”

—Bill Hicks (separate quotes)

—=—

—=—

“War is rich old men protecting their property by sending middle class and lower class young men off to die. It always has been. It’s all about owning things.”

—=—

Faith, as stated above in the first book of Timothy, is a state of mind without questions. This is not a commandment that we should not question the authority and doctrines of church and state, as those bodies have pretended and taught against scripture in their ridiculously proclaimed infallibility. This is however a statement of personal wisdom, for we may only have Faith (Trust/Truth) in that which is self-evident and in self-existence. No words of man qualify as such. Therefore the only Law is the Word of God, which is the unwritten law, that which is so obvious when unchallenged by the brainwashing of fiction that it cannot be reasonably questioned. We need not ask what is right or wrong, only what is self-evident. For within is the self-existent answer to all questions, unless those questions are posed towards things not Real and not of Nature. This is the essence of a spiritual awakening in man, for this Highest of all Law must be felt, not merely comprehended. It must be Lived, not just believed (loved). It must be fully applied to all things, not merely written down and conveniently forgotten or licensed to be ignored. And as with all systems of law, there simply is no excuse to break It before Its Creator.

The combination of church and state will disagree on these points, I’m certain.

Here again the intent of this work in its revealing of language and Law is hopefully distinguishable, for to teach the law by words alone is to teach fiction, and yet to be ignorant of the fiction of law is to fall and live under that law, not in Faith (Truth). In Charity and with the purest of intentions toward this end only is this work given freely. I desire not to teach the law as that which should be worshiped, but to cause the utmost of contempt for these false affirmations upon man’s artificial designs that we call so mistakenly and patriotically as the legal law of the land (due process of law). For there is no land in legal terms, only fictional titles thereof. The landholders can only hold God’s Creation (Land) as property if all of us are fooled into believing that legal “land” is the same as Real Land. And so they hold the territory (terra) while we hold a paper that is a national representation thereof. As long as we are made to dwell in fiction, they may keep us from our God (our own Nature).

Let us consider finally the difference between the intent of the authors of histories, again using the fabled “Founding Father” lie versus the allegorical story of christ. We know the intent of the Bible, of the christ character and his teachings, for they are unmistakable to the reasonable man, which is to teach man to govern his own mind in the pursuit of pure liberty in self-evident Love and Charity and Peace. Only those who’ve not read the Bible with reasonable decipherment, those who listen only to the priest-class or the anti-priest class, and those reading in dog-Latin without being mindful of these mis-transliterations of original language as displayed in so many sources, would suggest that the Bible has some altered motive. Only the men and corporations abusing the scriptural word to their own artful and monetary ends could possibly miss or purposefully ignore the revealed Truth therein. This is obvious by simply reading the book without the opinions of the many protagonists that seek to ruin it in the minds of those whom they seek to keep under their own legal law or to purchase their products. And yet, as far as U.S. history goes, it is quite obvious that the United States was set up as nothing more than the commercial hub of the West, while totally under the control (government) of the Crown and King of England. It was pro-slavery, pro-usury, and of course pro-king (vicar). Washington and his fellow gods (fathers) were of course the bloodline of those same kings of Europe, all traceable to the genealogy of King John, and would never have been in the positions they had already attained over the colonies (grants of the Crown) if they were not of the fabled “noble” blood of those aristocratic royal families. This is a self-evident fact easily verifiable by genealogy records and by the colonial and British laws and quotes of the time.

The point here is that these gods were the creators of a government intended only for the benefit of themselves, their own posterity (bloodline, future “legitimate” heirs), and for no one else. This was the intent, and one’s intention while in possession of any thing whatsoever is said to be 9/10’s of the law. The word “father” is merely another word for “god,” and Washington was of course made king (president) of the commercial nation, the magistrate god extraordinaire, as the most celebrated freemason in America.

Even in its etymology the word Washington, as the capital of the United States, comes from “President George Washington (1732-1799); THE FAMILY NAME IS FROM A TOWN IN NORTHEASTERN ENGLAND, from Old English, literally "ESTATE (HOUSE) OF A MAN NAMED WASSA." The U.S. state was named when it was FORMED AS A TERRITORY in 1853 (admitted to the union 1889).”

This notion of a person (status) being birthed under the district and house (Arms) of “Washington” as the son of a nation (father) is in stark contrast to a man being born in Nature privately under God. In the verse below, the word “power” translates in Strong’s G1849 (exousia) to power of choice, as the liberty of doing as one pleases, both physical and mental power, and even to the power of kings and magistrates and rule of government. And so the only True Power of free will is said to come only from those born in Nature and reborn as the regenerate sons of God, unspotted and unblemished by the legal powers that be and by fabled genealogies and birth certifications, and never the surrogate legal sons of a nation (artificial family). And this, ultimately, is the theme of this entire work; that one can only be Truly Free in Nature by abandoning all fiction and becoming exactly what we were originally born to be, the eternal and free sons of God. But just as that false legal freedom of enfranchisement which is granted to the denizens in citizen-ships of the nations can only be enjoyed by strict legal (anti-God) law and license, True Natural Freedom under God can only be enjoyed by obeying that self-evident negative duty under God’s Law to all men. Thus, to each man alone, be it citizenship to the legal gods or be it submission to the Natural Duty under Jehovah, some “God” always Exists and has authority, and only our choices manifest which God we serve and are protected by - the god of persons or the God of our very Own Nature. Our Self is either ruled by our own minds and actions or by the mind control (govern-ment) of other men that control our actions through personhood. To receive God is to consent to and fear God’s Law, the Word, and nothing more. And the Word is Jesus christ, whom we are to follow in life, not in the spiritual death and vain prayer of citizenship.

— = —

“But as many as received him, TO THEM GAVE HE POWER TO BECOME THE SONS OF GOD, even to them that believe on his name: WHICH WERE BORN, NOT OF BLOOD, NOR OF THE WILL OF THE FLESH, NOR OF THE WILL OF MAN, BUT OF GOD.”

—John 1: 12-13, KJB

— = —

Let us here ensure an understanding between the several forms of governments we may suffer before moving on, specifically noting the difference between these outlets of either public or private law. Remember, that which we call as father is god, and the “founding fathers” of any and every nation will be the gods over all persons of that nation, depending upon each man’s member status (public/domestic or private/foreign) towards that nation. Those who operate in the commercial personhood of another are always the subjects of that public god while conducting themselves in said performance debt of citizenship, a relationship assumed to be present 100% of the time while in residence, and so also to the current posterity of those founding gods. We (our person) live (have domicile) in the house (district/jurisdiction) of the god of our strawman, which is the creator and administrator of its own legal persons. Our public status can only exist by accepting our subjective place in that house and under its gods (magistrates). Otherwise we are labeled as illegal and alien, and upon capture are publicly (internationally) de-ported to where the gods of our ship lie, where our registered nativity story happened. And so we can see the difference between just a sampling of the many forms of law that effect public persons of a nation and how private men (he without public, personified, and registered “self”) are immune.

Strangely enough, the word family stems from the word and concept of familiarity. To be familiar to a nation and its gods, one must be registered and act within a public persona, in a name, number, and other signs and marks that are familiar to the state. This should not be surprising to the reader by this point, for we are speaking of legalese, of figurativeness, and nothing legal has an actual family because no blood Exists in fictional persons. It’s all about perspective. And we must learn to recognize the perspective of those who seek to be father to all men, from the dictator to the pope to the kings, presidents, and prime ministers. Men playing as false gods will always have the same agenda and can only rule by force or consent. Thus they establish the familiar relationship of personhood to invoke volunteerism (the doctrine of master and servant) so that the servants come to love their own enslavement and the force behind it. Pat-riot-ism. Controlled opposition. And the best example of this false family story is the historical fallacy perpetrated as the story of our “founding fathers,” whom we certainly cannot deny are portrayed as some sort of gods. And their posterity (bloodline) are still the fathers (gods) of our strawmen and thus our imaginations.

FAMILIAR - adjective - famil’yar. [Latin familiaris, familia, family, which see.] 1. Pertaining to a family; domestic... 7. COMMON; frequent and intimate. By familiar intercourse, strong attachments are soon formed... - noun - 1. An intimate; a close companion; one long acquainted; ONE ACCUSTOMED TO ANOTHER BY FREE, unreserved converse. 2. A DEMON OR EVIL SPIRIT SUPPOSED TO ATTEND AT A CALL. But in general we say, a familiar spirit. (Webs1828)

FAMILY - noun - [Latin familia.] 1. THE COLLECTIVE BODY OF PERSONS WHO LIVE IN ONE HOUSE AND UNDER ONE HEAD OR MANAGER; a household, including parents, children AND SERVANTS, and as the case may be, LODGERS OR BOARDERS. 2. Those who descend from one common progenitor; a tribe or race; kindred; lineage. Thus the Israelites were a branch of the family of Abraham; and the descendants of Reuben, of Manasseh, etc., were called their families. The whole human race are the family of Adam, the human family. 3. Course of descent; genealogy; line of ancestors. Go and complain thy family is young. 4. HONORABLE DESCENT; NOBLE OR RESPECTABLE STOCK. He is a man of family. 5. A COLLECTION OR UNION OF NATIONS OR STATES. THE STATES OF EUROPE WERE, BY THE PREVAILING MAXIMS OF ITS POLICY, CLOSELY UNITED IN ONE FAMILY. 6. In popular language, an order, class or genus of animals or of other natural productions, having something IN COMMON, BY WHICH THEY ARE DISTINGUISHED FROM OTHERS; as, quadrupeds constitute a family of animals, and we speak of the family or families of plants. (Webs1828)

FAMILY - Originally, SERVANTS; in its modern comprehensive meaning, a collective body of persons living together in one house, or within the curtilage. In popular acceptance includes parents, children, servants — ALL WHOSE DOMICILE OR HOME is ordinarily in THE SAME HOUSE AND UNDER THE SAME MANAGEMENT AND HEAD. In its limited sense signifies father, mother, and children; in its ordinary acceptance, all the relatives who descend FROM A COMMON ROOT; in its most extensive scope, ALL THE INDIVIDUALS WHO LIVE TOGETHER UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF ANOTHER, including even SERVANTS. The most comprehensive definition is, a number of persons who live in one house and under one management or head. No specific number of persons is required; NOR THAT THEY EAT WHERE THEY LIVE, NOR THAT THEY BE EMPLOYED IN OR ABOUT THE HOUSE. Children, wife and children, blood relatives, or the members of the domestic circle; ACCORDING TO THE CONNECTION. Includes children over age, if they have no home elsewhere. (WCA1889)

HEAD OF A FAMILY - The PERSON who controls, supervises or manages the affairs about a HOUSE. Where there is a husband or father, he is ordinarily the head; but there may be a head where there is no marriage relation. (WCA1889)

FEDERAL - 1. Pertaining to A LEAGUE OR COMPACT BETWEEN INDEPENDENT SOVEREIGNTIES. 3. Composed of STATES which retain only a portion of their original sovereignty relating to the constitution, treaties, or laws, or the power or government of the organization thereby formed. Appropriate to our GENERAL Government, the government of the United States, considered as A UNION OF STATES OR LOCAL GOVERNMENTS. THE WORD "NATIONAL" RECOGNIZES THE STATE GOVERNMENTS AND THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNION AS DISTINCT SYSTEMS. In the second sense are the common expressions Federal or federal— amendments. Constitution, courts, elections, decisions, judges, laws and statutes, question, government, officer. In these phrases the word of contrast is "State:" as, State constitutions, courts, laws, etc. See those titles. (WCA1889)

NATIONAL - Pertaining or relating to A NATION AS A WHOLE; commonly applied in American law to institutions, laws, or affairs of the United States or its government, AS OPPOSED TO THOSE OF THE SEVERAL STATES. The term “national” as used in the phrase “national of the United States” is broader than the term “citizen.” (Black4)

LAW OF THE STATES - The general system of law regulating the relative rights and duties of PERSONS within the JURISDICTION of a State, OPERATING UPON THEM EVEN WHEN ENGAGED IN INTER-STATE COMMERCE, and subject to be modified by State legislation, whether consisting in that customary law which prevails as the common law of the land in each State, OR as a CODE of POSITIVE provisions expressly enacted, is nevertheless the law of the State in which it is ADMINISTERED, and derives its force and effect from the actual or presumed exercise of its legislative power. THIS LAW DOES NOT EMANATE FROM THE AUTHORITY OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, NOR FLOW FROM THE EXERCISE OF ANY LEGISLATIVE POWERS CONFERRED UPON CONGRESS, nor can it be implied as existing by force of any other legislative authority than that of the several (private) States in which it is enforced. It has never been doubted that this entire body and system of law, regulating in general the relative rights and duties of persons within the territorial jurisdiction of the State, without regard to their pursuits, is subject to change at the will of the legislature of each State, except as that will may be restrained by the Constitution of the United States. It is to this law that PERSONS WITHIN THE SCOPE OF ITS OPERATION LOOK FOR THE DEFINITION OF THEIR RIGHTS and for the redress of wrongs. IT IS THE SOURCE OF ALL THOSE RELATIVE OBLIGATIONS AND DUTIES ENFORCEABLE BY LAW, the observance of which the State undertakes to enforce as its PUBLIC POLICY. AND IT WAS IN CONTEMPLATION OF THE CONTINUED EXISTENCE OF THIS SEPARATE SYSTEM OF LAW IN EACH STATE THAT THE CONSTITUTION WAS FRAMED AND ORDAINED with such legislative powers as are therein granted expressly or by reasonable implication. (WCA1889)

LAW OF THE LAND - (1) The general PUBLIC LAW of a State, binding upon all the MEMBERS of the community under all circumstances, AND NOT PARTIAL OR PRIVATE LAWS, AFFECTING THE RIGHTS OF PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS OR CLASSES OF INDIVIDUALS. Also, DUE PROCESS OF LAW. See Process, 1, Due, etc. (2) “This Constitution, AND THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES which shall be made in pursuance thereof; AND ALL TREATIES MADE, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, SHALL BE THE SUPREME LAW OF THE LAND.” (WCA1889)

PUBLIC LAW - (1) INTERNATIONAL LAW. (2) A law involving PUBLIC interests. OPPOSED, PRIVATE LAW: A LAW FOR THE BENEFIT OF AN INDIVIDUAL OR INDIVIDUALS. In one sense "public" law designates INTERNATIONAL LAW, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM THE LAWS OF A PARTICULAR NATION OR STATE; and in another sense, a law or statute that applies to the PEOPLE GENERALLY OF THE NATION OR STATE ADOPTING OR ENACTING IT, AS OPPOSED TO A “PRIVATE” LAW which affects an individual or a small number of persons. LEGISLATIVE ACTS CONCERNING PUBLIC INTERESTS ARE NECESSARILY "PUBLIC" LAWS. These may be abolished at the will of the legislature... The Dartmouth College Case has no application where a statute is a public law relating to a public subject within the dominion of the general legislative power of the State, and involving the public rights and public welfare of the entire community. (WCA1889)

CIVIL LAW - THE LAW OF CITIZENS: the law which THE PEOPLE OF A STATE ORDAIN FOR THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT. (1) By “the civil law,” absolutely taken, IS UNDERSTOOD THE CIVIL OR MUNICIPAL LAW OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE, as comprised in the institute, code, and digest of the emperor Justinian, and the novel constitutions of himself and predecessors. Whatever strength these IMPERIAL LAWS may have obtained in Great Britain is DUE TO IMMEMORIAL USAGE IN PARTICULAR CASES AND IN PARTICULAR COURTS, or to introduction by express consent of Parliament. See Pandects. (2) The laws which a community or state has established for the regulation OF ITS OWN AFFAIRS, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM THE LAW OF NATIONS ; also, that portion of such laws which REGULATES DEALINGS BETWEEN SUBJECTS OR CITIZENS, in distinction from criminal law, military law, maritime law, and the general law-merchant. Compare Municipal Law. (WCA1889)

LAW OF NATIONS, OR INTERNATIONAL LAW - The law which regulates the conduct and MUTUAL INTERCOURSE of independent states with each other BY REASON AND NATURAL JUSTICE. (WCA1889)

LAW OF THE FLAG - The law of the NATION to which A VESSEL (I.E. SHIP) BELONGS. (WCA1889)

NATURAL LAW, OR LAW OF NATURE - The rule of human action PRESCRIBED BY THE CREATOR, and DISCOVERABLE BY THE LIGHT OF REASON. (WCA1889)

DIVINE OR REVEALED LAW - The law of nature, imparted by God himself. (WCA1889)

LAW - 1. A rule of ACTION DICTATED BY A SUPERIOR BEING. The command of a SUPERIOR. A command addressed BY THE SOVEREIGN OF THE STATE TO HIS SUBJECTS, imposing duties, and ENFORCED BY PUNISHMENTS. Laws are made for the GOVERNMENT OF ACTIONS. The parts of a law are: the "declaratory" part, which defines the right to be observed and the wrong to be eschewed; the "directory" part, which enjoins observance of the right and abstaining from the wrong; the "remedial" part (as remedy), which provides a method to recover a right or to redress a wrong; and, the "vindictory" part (as sanction), which prescribes the penalty for a transgression. 3. In an important use "law" EXCLUDES THE METHODS AND REMEDIES PECULIAR TO EQUITY AND ADMIRALTY, and confines the idea to the action of tribunals proceeding BY FIXED RULES, and employing remedies OPERATIVE DIRECTLY UPON THE PERSON OR PROPERTY of the individual; as, in the expressions, a court of law, a remedy at law, an action at law, at law. Compare Common Law. 3. A POSITIVE LAW; an enactment; AN ACT OF THE LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT OF GOVERNMENT A STATUTE. 4. "Law" and "the law" frequently refer to systematized rules of action, — the science of jurisprudence as a study or a profession. The primary end of law is TO MAINTAIN AND REGULATE THE ABSOLUTE RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUALS. The law is A SCIENCE which distinguishes the criterions of right and wrong, and teaches to establish the one and to prevent, punish, or redress the other. Locke's division of law: DIVINE LAW—THE LAW OF GOD, NATURAL OR REVEALED; civil law—THE MUNICIPAL LAW; LAW OF REPUTATION—morality. Austin's division: divine law—the revealed law of God; positive human law — municipal law; positive morality—morality; laws metaphorically so called— the laws of animate and inanimate nature. The "laws of a state" usually mean the rules and enactments promulgated by the legislative authority thereof, or long established local customs having the force of laws. THE DECISIONS OF THE COURTS ARE ONLY EVIDENCE OF WHAT THE LAWS ARE. The term "laws" includes not only written expressions of the governing will, but also all other rules of property and conduct in which the supreme power exhibits, and according to which it exerts, its governmental FORCE. (WCA1889)

— = —

At this point, it should be impossible for even the most ardent atheist to doubt that this word "god" is at the foundation and artificial heart of all law. For any law is that of the law of a particular sovereign and thus supreme authoritative being, as one or a group in body politic who's false persona and status is respected by those beneath it. The father(s). And so we must remember the duality of words, especially with that word "god." And the author cannot stress enough here that no matter what system of law the reader chooses to follow, irregardless of his publicly proclaimed status of corporate, legalized "religion," his god will only actually be considered to be the source of that law he respects. This is to say only that the law of one god (creator) destroys the protective aspect of any other when followed. The entirety of man's law is designed to devolve man in consideration into a lesser state of Being, to take away the implied duty, rights, and personal responsibility of the Natural Law of God. Embracing that which is unnatural figuratively destroys that which is the Creator of Nature and Its Law. And so the final word on the subject of what "law" is can only be defined as the worship of a god, for the worship of law is the respect of the authority of its maker. Thus anarchy (lawlessness) can only be in Reality godlessness. This can only be Truly comprehended by those willing to suffer at least somewhat their own ego-death, the ego being merely the result of a legal persona instilled into the minds of men that causes the "agentic" mindset. And so we find that ego-death can only be True with the abandonment of man's designs of artifice and law, the disrespect of all persons and titles in fiction. For to respect a sovereign other than the Nature of Jehovah (verb) necessarily requires a lack of Self-respect. To respect the false, legally created id-entity of some legally appointed/anointed god over that origin of the Source of even our own mind, body, and soul is to admit defeat of ourselves, to acknowledge that we are unable to govern our True Spiritual Self. To be embarrassed to admit or speak about God is perhaps the most pathetic state of being for any man, for he will be governed not by that which he refuses to acknowledge and instead by that father (nation) his false persona he was born within. For all the laws of these false gods (idols) of the nations control only their own created persons (legal names), not any man who fends off such artifice and stands under the only True Law and Its Source. But how does one fend off false gods without first acknowledging the only True Nature of Jehovah? How can a god be said to be false if no Highest God of Nature is acknowledged before it? How can any law be illegitimate if the True Legitimacy of God and Its Self-evident Law is not first recognized? Here logic and reason reigns only in the Name of Jehovah! Irregardless of what choice we make, we will always be governed by some god (God). This is the Ultimate choice that each man must make, and whatever path is chosen, his entirety of being in action must reflect that choice under that sovereign law. However, understanding that all other law is false, a false show, a false choice based on lies and subterfuge, is also part of that conscious choice. The choice to live in a civil life of evil (artifice) under another's personhood has been made culturally into a seemingly inescapable causality, automatically assigned by our unwitting parents for us from birth and through public licensure, as cattle led unaware through a slaughter-house.

Inversely, we may ask just what was the intent of the teachings transcribed through Jesus christ as the Word (Law) of Jehovah? That all men are actually, Naturally Equal unless they become activated as part and person of these nations of false gods. That all men are of the blood of Jesus christ, and therefore of Jehovah, and that no gods should be taken or respected above our very own Source of Life in Nature. That men must govern their own minds with the scriptural knowledge of the ancients, those parabolic teachings of christ, so that no man would be slave to any sovereign king or proclaimed "chosen" People, and only to the Oneness of the True God and Word (Son).

And so we must move on here, but the reader must comprehend and acknowledge that the origin of every god, of every nation and kingdom of man, and of every law-set created by said gods all have their origins in this one word, transliterated as "parable." Just as the beginning of history is told in an ambiguous, non-detailed, fabled form of its perceived genesis (beginning), so to is every history book and every religious tome, including the Bible, a parable. But only one of these is Designed of God, of the self-evident Truth of Nature, of Reality, and only one is designed to allow us the knowledge to remain forever (in eternity) within this realm of Jehovah (heaven). All other secondary sources (secondary to the scriptural Creation story) are merely misleading fables; intentional lies told for no good reason except to benefit the few who stand to gain from the modern religious worship and acceptance of their "moral" story of fabled genealogy as their posterity. These, as the Bible states, are all antichrists (also transcribed as: phrenapatēs - mind deceivers, seducers), creating that which is antithetical to the christ story and spiritual teachings of our own potentiality thereof, and even to the Nature of Reality Itself.

— = —

“For there are many unruly and VAIN TALKERS AND DECEIVERS, specially they of the circumcision: Whose mouths must be stopped, WHO SUBVERT WHOLE HOUSES, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's (gain, advantage) sake. One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies. This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith; NOT GIVING HEED TO JEWISH FABLES, AND COMMANDMENTS OF MEN, THAT TURN FROM THE TRUTH. Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving IS NOTHING PURE; but even their mind and conscience is defiled. THEY PROFESS THAT THEY KNOW GOD; BUT IN WORKS THEY DENY HIM, being abominable (idolotrous), and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.”

—Titus 1: 10-16, KJB

—=—

How many times do we use the excuse that some action we partake in while acting as a hireling in persona under employment is just my job, or in the voluntary servitude of public citizenship is just the way it is?

Another word for this, as used above, is works.

Strong's G2041 - ergon (ἐργον) - WORKS

From a primary (but obsolete) ergo (TO WORK), used in the scriptures 176 times as the following words: work (152x), deed (22x), doing (1x), labour (1x).

Outline of Biblical Usage:

1. Business, EMPLOYMENT, that which any one is OCCUPIED.
 - A. That which one UNDERTAKES to do, ENTERPRISE, UNDERTAKING.
2. Any PRODUCT whatever, any thing accomplished BY HAND, ART, INDUSTRY, OR MIND.
3. AN ACT, DEED, thing done: the idea of working is emphasised in opposition to that which is less than work.

—=—

To be employed by another is to be “used” by another for gain. There is no such thing in Nature as fair employment or fair wage, for money has no actual value and so trading time (labor) for money is a fruitless adventure for any man. While pirates used to commit theft outright by boarding another’s ship, these modern pirates provide the ship (person) and tax for its use. What they take they provide a paper representation of in the form of money, credit, etc. In other words, they provide only form while extracting all substance, leaving the common employee with nothing except receipt of paper, be it money itself or public, defective paper title to the private property of another. The gain of the person is the gain of the principal, not the agent. And so whatever money that is paid for services rendered (voluntary servitude), that money being the sole property of government and issued with nothing Real backing it (printed out of thin air), is immediately re-circulated (spent) at what essentially amounts to the company store - at one of the thousands of corporations owned by the private elite we have been made totally dependent upon. You could say we live in a giant, national company town.

If par is the word for being of an equal condition, and able is the word for strength of mind and body, then scriptural parables (pro-verbs) are obviously told in order to enlighten man as either how to be christ-like or how not to. This, as a parabolic attesting and instructive verb of action (pro-verb), is not attained by going to a corporate church every Sunday in name only. One must walk in the footsteps of christ, not just admire the footsteps from afar or in some framed Dollar Store picture hung over the mantle while pretending to walk that path, and paying institutional religious tithing to mammon for not doing so when the collection plate comes around.

—=—

“LET NO MAN DECEIVE HIMSELF. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. FOR THE WISDOM OF THIS WORLD IS FOOLISHNESS WITH GOD. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. THEREFORE LET NO MAN GLORY IN MEN. For all things are yours; Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; ALL ARE YOURS; AND YE ARE CHRIST'S; AND CHRIST IS GOD'S.

—1 Corinthians 3: 18-23, KJB

—=—

“And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ. I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: FOR HITHERTO YE WERE NOT ABLE TO BEAR IT, NEITHER YET NOW ARE YE ABLE. FOR YE ARE YET CARNAL: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, AND DIVISIONS, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?”

—1 Corinthians 3: 1-3, KJB

—=—

We must consider perspective here as well, for the pope and Catholic (universal) church will twist these verses so as to destroy their spiritual intent, where the pope is called as the vicar of and replacement on earth of (anti-) christ in flattering title, and so many are tricked into deceiving themselves by putting their faith in that corporation sole instead of in what is the self-evidence of God's Nature. For the pope is wise in worldly, secular things, and sits upon that corruption as sovereign pontiff over legal things, which are foolishness to God. The wisdom of the pope may only make fools of men, who abandon their own self-evidence and place (stake) in the Nature/Creation of Jehovah to embrace that which is false. To bear the cross, the symbol of Romish “Christianity,” is to bear the sign of a fool that worships symbology, imagery, and idolatrous gods over the Reality they represent.

The time has come that we should hear the Word and observe Its Law, no doubt. And perhaps it took such utter corruption of all things to get to this point. May this work help you to find the spiritual path, and may my words be taken only with that intent.

Here we find the word men as used in the phrase walk as men to actually mean human. Strong's definitions of this word G444 - anthrōpos - ἄνθρωπος, translated as “men,” carries the meaning of “a human being, whether male or female,” and also “with the added notion of weakness, by which man is led into a mistake or prompted to sin,” and implies “with reference to two fold nature of man, body and soul, the corrupt and the truly Christian man, conformed to the nature of God.”

Strong's G4559 - sarkikos - σαρκικός, translated above as “carnal,” carries the following meanings:

1. Fleshly, carnal.

A. Having the nature of flesh, i.e. under the control of the animal appetites.

1. GOVERNED BY MERE HUMAN NATURE NOT BY THE SPIRIT OF GOD.

2. Having its seat in the animal nature or aroused by the animal nature.

3. HUMAN: with the included idea of depravity.

B. Pertaining to the flesh.

1. To the body: related to BIRTH, LINAGE, etc.

—=—

In this work, we are taking a journey through both the carnal and the spiritual to show not only the differences in meanings but also the diabolical similitude of these terms of art. But it is not enough, as christ spoke above, to simply speak of the spiritual Nature of things. We must feel (Love) It. We must live in the Spirit eternally, in everlasting life without spiritual death in the artifice of civil life. We must not give in to that animal nature if we are to be free, religious men and not hu-mans. One thing is for certain, the words of the Bible can not be read nor its message deduced by a mere carnally minded human. And that is its great mystery. For it is the keeper of the secrets of evil men that seek to destroy God's spirit of christ in men for no other reason than to control and cheat them out of their Natural inheritance; to turn all men into mere domesticated animals.

And so here we must realize the importance of the spiritual Nature of parabolic teaching. The parables as told in the Bible are only designed to appeal to the spirit, and to hold in contempt the animalistic nature and temptations of man towards worldly things. It is perhaps the most important lesson in the Bible that we should all in fact be speaking towards each other as christ did, in parables, when in the public realm, and especially towards public figures of authority. By doing so, it is impossible to slander or give false advice to any specific person. It is impossible to identify oneself as anything legal when the answer to any question (fishing for under-standing and consent to fictional authorities) is spoken parabolically. Quite frankly, even the first (God-given) name is a parable by its nature, unable to stand as a legal entity without some legal surname attached and confirmed to it. A gift of God, that is, all of Creation, cannot be owned by any man. Only the legally assigned names of things may be owned. And so to answer only to one's christian name is to remain ambiguous to all other names, for only legal persons may invoke legal things, and legal laws and properties can only be held by legal titles. To speak parabolically is to speak in the Purest of ambiguity, as the indirect and spiritual way of Life. Yet when alone with any True seeker of knowledge, christ spoke from the heart directly to the man in privacy, thus not needing such parabolic language. In this way, christ was able to never acknowledge the persons and flattering titles pretended by men, yet at the same time offer personal wisdom without binding contract or offense to public law. He could speak to the man in indirectness, yet offer a substantive wisdom that is otherwise impossible in direct application. In other words, through parables he remained private in public places, even while speaking in and around public ears. It is impossible to offend any man by speaking indirectly, without specific reference towards his first or third person, for the self-evident Truth told in the form of potentiality as the story of what fate any man might suffer due to an unwise or wise course simply cannot be misconstrued as a personal attack or affront. All men should strive to accomplish this perfection of communication, an act of preservation of Self and admonishment of all fictions. But most men acting in the legal person of the state consider not their own course with wisdom, and thus seldom are able to spiritually guide any other. When there is no moral choice in one's choice of law to follow, then there is no destination that may be found in the spiritual realm of Jehovah. When all choices are legally established and licensed, then no parable may help any man, unless that man may break free of his false persona and choose the right and spiritual path. And so, parabolically speaking, it would be safe to say that no man of God may walk the legal path, for his footsteps are not beside those of christ's example. All legal, commercial paths lead to Caesar, and a districted person knows no other path than by the fiction of that rendered in mammon. Only he who renders back to Caesar all respect and use of persons, places, and things (nouns) will that man be able to walk the righteous path. Only then will any man be able to choose his own path. Without choice, the spirit is dead.

— = —

“But without a parable spake he not unto them: AND WHEN THEY WERE ALONE, HE EXPOUNDED ALL THINGS to his disciples.”

— Matthew 4:34, KJB

— = —

“Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field...”

— Matthew 13:24, KJB

— = —

When we are alone with like-minded people of the spirit genuinely interested in sharing and learning without personal and financial opportunism and without litigious intentions, only then in that state of the Purest Love and Devotion are we to speak unambiguously. But to the noun that we call the legally dis-eased “public,” that brainwashed hoard that is continuously seeking to in-jure us into and under man’s legal matrix of law despite the Word (Son) of God, the parable is the private man’s best tool. For within the parable is a patent ambiguity, and so the tale told may fit into any man’s consciousness and may affect every man’s spirit. No slander can be mistaken in parabolic speech and no harm or tort can be pretended against any man’s individual person (reputation), for the parable respects no person, dealing only in generics and ambiguities. A parable is not personal, yet potentially the parable applies to all men on a personal, first person (spiritual Self) level. Thus only the spiritual, not the carnal (worldly) mind may comprehend the moral, priceless, and timeless value of the parable. A parable quite is useless to the carnally minded led by the trickery and word magic of legal, fictional causality. He that is offended by any parable is likely to have his stake (cross) anchored too strongly in carnal things, even as his ego stirs to defend that worldly false id-entity.

The Bible is mostly written as a moral fable (an apologue [see definition above]); a collection of many parabolic tales portraying the story of man’s probable spiritual entrapment through many interlocking stories and aphorisms, and is allegorical to the self-evident Truth of man’s capacity to fall into legal fiction (the fall of man) and thus out of God’s Favor and Grace through the deceit and trickery of legalistic word-magic. Please take note that this is not an offensive statement to any one or any thing, except to those corporate, religious institutions that seek to trick man into this state of fictional, legal existence and member-ship (agency). To say it another way, the scriptures are the presentation of the Purest of Wisdom that is not of this world (not for the sophist hu-man), not tainted by the minds and inventions of man’s imagination and fictional recreations, while at the same time they utilize personified (fabled) men as character examples, just as so many authors have done throughout history. As it presents this parabolic story of the fall of man into fiction, the scriptures stand in forewarning of believable, probable, and provable events which have certainly now in these modern times passed among mankind. The bonds of surety are our virtual reality, fallen as we are, and we smart (are in pain) for it as is parabolically written as warning in Psalms. Our current state of being in legal artifice is certainly demonstrable to that ancient parabolical warning of the very debtor’s hell that today we legally and civilly exist within while ignoring those scriptural teachings that would save us from such a performance contract of debt-slavery, for all legal dis-ease is only ever artfully contracted and not of Nature. As with any well-intentioned fable, the Bible is constructed towards a moral, happy ending for those who realize its offered guidance and act upon its knowledge without making apologies in excuse for allowing the big legal lie (satanism) to trump God’s Law of Nature and Reality. For those who merely believe (love) it as a so-called history of ancient past lives, the legal chains are that much stronger in those men stuck in the timeline of fabled genealogies, ignoring the timelessness of God and the scriptures, for it was foretold that those who do not act upon these fabled and parabolic warnings of past and future potentialities and happenings are certainly to pay such a spiritual price.

Whereas the Bible certainly admits of its own fabled, parabolic nature (see below Proverbs) and storytelling to guide man against the legal and other art forms, the legal law openly admits and forces known lies to become authoritative truths artificially created, confirmed, and ratified, and then violently enforced, institutionalizing and licensing the actions of apologists for the corporate legal profession in association to justify through licensing that which is inexcusable under God and under that Law which is Self-evident. We answer fictionally the affirmations of other legal fictions (titled persons). We speak to imaginary legal entities as if they are Real. We act as if we are something else than what we actually are. We believe in (love) the lie.

In avoidance of this end and as if in answer to so many fools such as my former legally influenced Self, we are taught in Proverbs, another word for parable, to heed the following self-evident principles:

—=—

“Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him. Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit...”

“The legs of the lame are not equal: so is a parable in the mouth of fools. As he that bindeth a stone in a sling, so is he that giveth honour to a fool. As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools...”

“AS A DOG RETURNETH TO HIS VOMIT, SO A FOOL RETURNETH TO HIS FOLLY. Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? There is more hope of a fool than of him.”

—Proverbs 26: 4-5, 7-9, 11-12 KJB

—=—

It is with great pleasure and spiritual serenity that I take this Book of scriptural parables finally to heart, for I was once the very fool regarded to therein. I was the fool who dismissed the Bible scriptures without ever actually reading or considering them without such a carnal mind. I was the fool who listened to and honored fools like myself, following in their foolishness of glorified fiction, and coveting my own vomitus spew of intellectualist catchphrases not my own. I was the fool to which this parabolic knowledge was lost against my own conceit. And so in pittance and with reflexive hope I offer this work so that others may rise from their own foolishness.

I am not selling religion, I am giving freely my Love and Charity, my life's work so that men may abandon the false doctrines of religions and take up their very own Source and love their Selves.

The translation of the word parable in the Greek Lexicon of Strong's Concordance is as Strong's H4912.

H4912 - Mashal: Proverb, parable:

1. proverb, proverbial saying, aphorism
2. byword
3. similitude, parable
4. poem
5. sentences of ethical wisdom, ethical maxims

—=—

We never find christ speaking to the public, to the multitude, in any way other than in parabolic teachings. This fact is spoken of directly, and the wise man may eventually realize that part of christ's example is to consciously do the same. In other words, to follow the spiritual path of christ, one must learn to speak parabolically when confronted by the masses of public-minded and sovereign-minded persons. The parable defeats even the strongest king, a flattering title existing nowhere in Nature, and which rules only over its own fictional kingdom and thus only over he that subjects himself to that false title of implied sovereignty.

—=—

“All these things SPAKE JESUS UNTO THE MULTITUDE IN PARABLES; AND WITHOUT A PARABLE SPAKE HE NOT UNTO THEM...”

— Matthew 13: 34, KJB

—=—

“This parable spake Jesus unto them: BUT THEY UNDERSTOOD NOT what things they were which he spake unto them.”

— John 10: 6, KJB

—=—

So much time and wasted energy in foolish discourse and effort is spent trying to prove the Bible as actual historical fact that no man living in the legal persona of a citizen-ship has ever seemingly gotten the actual message; that of the attainment of Pure Life Lived only in the Reality of God's Nature that these Loving parables exclaim. Ironically, the point of a moral fable and of the parables within require no proof, for they are obvious to any reasonable man to be constructed upon only self-evident Truths told in the potentiality of story form, aphorisms standing unheeded by the ignorance of man's artful inventions and often in consequence of them, as if the ghosts of ancestors past have left us with the understanding that their mistakes and stumbling blocks will also be our own if their moral stories go unheeded. Even the Greek and Roman gods and mythologies were parabolically told as moral fables, lessons designed to teach the consequences of man's foolish actions. Man has been caused purposefully to suffer greatly for not comprehending and realizing their purpose and recommended lifestyle, destructively convinced that by scientifically “proving” that the physical presence of that otherworldly god does not actually Exist, that so too the moral attached to that god's fictional life and path is also dead on its face.

What is written within scripture is not what the priests and ministers of corporate religions tell their parishioners, for comprehension of such parabolic Truths would utterly destroy the money-based, corporate church masquerading in the personhood of mammon that is such corporate religions and the government that protects their false dialectics (logic) of institutional doctrines (rhetoric) based on writings (grammar) unfounded in self-evidence. Be it in purposeful (voluntary) ignorance or the through designs of cognitive dissonance, the Truths behind the scriptures remain hidden by or to those preaching them in their own monied conceit. The church is the nation and the nation is the church in combination and confederation of conspiracy to keep the society of the mystery (secreted, occulted knowledge) intact, and all of their gods are idols.

About understanding and comprehension of the Bible scriptures (the ancient, True knowledge) and the various forms of legal law (false knowledge), perhaps this universal maxim states it best...

—=—

“No one can rightly understand any part UNTIL HE HAS READ THE WHOLE again and again.”

— = —

But then, who's in their right mind anyway? What man is not conceited in his own perceived and publicly expressed knowledge (vomit) of the legal law and of scripture? What man does not speak of these incompletely and with desire and intent only to justify his own actions, even when against them? For what man has Truly accomplished a learning of these as a whole? Definitely not this author, and certainly no licensed priest of mammon. And so let us continue in our examination of the whole, with the humility of knowing even our Selves to be only the parts.

Some may argue the legalistic "fact" that the Bible is indeed a fable, and that therefore this legal "fact" disqualifies it as a legitimate source of knowledge. And to this man this would seem to be a reasonable, or rather purely logical statement, carnal and without spirit. But one can not challenge those contemptible demands for proof-based opinion unless one suffers the conceit of fools in their own folly. Only artificial things need be proven, and fools somehow believe in the artifice of legal fiction while ignoring that which certainly proves they are fools acting in voluntary ignorance. For if proof were the only qualification for the legitimacy of a moral law, then as a professed skeptic I would be required to also summarily dismiss every other moral tale, fable, nursery rhyme, story, parable, poem, science fiction, fantasy, law, and any and all other tools of moral expression and learning in education as well, which is to say that I must dismiss all cultural and historical documents and totally abandon the most ancient form of passing on knowledge from father to son, mother to daughter, elder to apprentice, and chiefdom to tribe. To ignore the moral teaching of the Bible as fable without ignoring all other sources of fabled moral teaching would be at the very least hypocritical, and at the worst... well, we are perhaps already living in one of the worse outcome-based projections of such selective ignorance by a collection of unwitting fools today in this utterly corrupt legal law society, exactly as foretold in that scriptural fable and its parables.

A legal fiction of (creation of) man's legal (positive) law is not the same as a moral, fictional story expressing the unwritten (negative) Law of Nature, for no morals Exist within legal considerations. Legal creation is purposefully anti-moral, and at the very best amoral. You will not find, for instance, Plato's 'Cave' or Twain's 'Huck Finn' upon the legal bookshelves, any more than you might find a legal dictionary in a kindergarten classroom stashed prominently among the Dr Seuss collection.

Men have always told stories, passing them on from generation to generation for the benefit of all other men in generations to come. This is the immortal duty of men to their offspring. This is the unwritten law. But evil men create legal fiction only to enslave all other men, to purposefully destroy that spiritual, parabolic knowledge, a moral crime against God's very Nature. This is the written law, the lex scripta of Rome. The scriptures are certainly not legal fiction, for they instruct man to avoid such artifices. They are the parables of how to live under a moral law without need of such legal fiction to guide their actions in pure corruption. And as I have seen first hand, the Bible when used correctly is like holy water to those parasitic, legal vampires in government, for they all know and respect the Higher Law when it is thrust upon them, and their use of it in swearing oaths contradicts the very Bible they swear them upon. This act of swearing oath upon the Bible is an act of contempt to God by the swearer (pledger), a disgrace upon that book of law that disrespects the scriptural teachings and justifies the legal fiction to be in a supra (super-Natural, above Nature) state above God's Law. The swearing of an oath to man's legal creation upon the Bible is merely a verification that man is a legal sinner, appearing in the sin of the artifice of personhood while taking God's Name in vain.

For the benefit of the reader, please note that the words he, his, man (homo), and men are gender neutral throughout this work, just as they are and were in days of old, and are today within the legal art and higher language arts. It is only the conceit and designs of man that the sexes would be considered as separate, for again the beauty and wonder of the sexes are self-evident Truths that need not man's artifice to differentiate them. Remember, the legal realm respects no thing in Reality, seeking to fictionalize all attributes of It, and so its terms are purely descriptive of legal status. Sex is not a status, it is a gift of God. The legal word sex is not referential to Reality but only to standing under legal law. A female man (homo) must admit and consent to being of a legal status called woman, which is purely a legal, artificially, positively applied trait of a fictional persona in legal law. More on this later.

HE - Properly a pronoun of the masculine gender, but commonly construed IN STATUTES TO INCLUDE BOTH SEXES AS WELL AS CORPORATIONS. May be read “they”. (Black4)

MAN - A HUMAN BEING. A PERSON of the male sex. A male of the human species above the age of puberty. In its most extended sense the term includes not only the adult male sex of the human species, BUT WOMEN AND CHILDREN. In feudal law, A VASSAL; A TENANT OR FEUDATORY. The Anglo-Saxon RELATION OF LORD AND MAN was originally PURELY PERSONAL, and founded on mutual CONTRACT. (Black4)

MANHOOD - In feudal law, a term denoting the ceremony of DOING HOMAGE BY THE VASSAL TO HIS LORD. The formula used was, "Devenio vester homo," I become your man. To arrive at manhood means to arrive at twenty-one years of age. (Black4)

MANCEPS - Latin. In Roman law, A PURCHASER; one who took the article sold in his hand; a formality observed in certain sales. A farmer of the public taxes. (Black4)

— — —

Again we find a dual intent at the heart of every word, as either a man of (Creation of) God or a man (slave) in feud. A public citizen-ship to any nation and its gods is always the second and lowest of these intentions. And she who identifies her Self as a legally declared “woman” in man’s system of artificial law instantly enters into manhood, becoming by that flattering title a subservient subject to man and his system of law, a man (serf) with a womb. Womb-man. Wo-man, a term of art who’s only artfully assigned value is to produce more subjects in the form of abandoned children born of the nation (father) through the informing of her legal person. A man who claims to be a “woman” is a greater fool than any other worshiper of false, flattering titles. And yet this status of legal womanhood seems like such a normal aspect of our public social conditioning, including the controlled opposition known as the feminist “movement,” that to most female men in the franchise of citizen-ship it would be an absurdity to be called by any other fictional status. Man created the term and status of “woman” to forever separate the sexes by fiction. There can never be equal rights when any man takes upon his or her Self any form of false title such as this.

And so here again we see choice, where man is either considered carnally or spiritually. But we find that all the petty arguments over defining terms can only come from the carnal mind, which seeks to establish a false show and appearance of man as something he is not, as a legally recreated fictional character that may be governed by systems not of his own Nature. The man in and under the law of any and every contract is no longer a man of the Pure Spirit of God in Nature. There are no exceptions.

The slaveholder historically called his slave his man. And so here we can again apply our verb/noun differential test. For to be a man of God is to be in action (verb) as a man living and thus acting under God’s Law in God’s Nature, as a spiritual Slave to God’s Design and will (testament). But to be a “man” in persona and status is to be a noun (person) considered only as hu-man, a lesser being than man and without God’s Law and protective Spirit; a sophist animal or beast. Thus, a man in noun (name) form must have distinctions like “wo-man” and “negro” to differentiate the legal status attributed to that legal entity in surety, in order to build a fictional class structure. Among all men of God, male and female, there is only Natural Equality. Among all citizenships of the nation, there is only inequality re-labeled as “equal rights.” A man has no inequality unless he or she acts in the third person instead of the first (Self). All inequality stems only from the legal law and nowhere else, for all other sources thereof are avoidable. Personhood is unavoidable, that is, as long as man consents to being called as a “woman” she will either be higher or lower in status than her male counterpart in any persona, or she will legally receive “rights” that oppress all other men so as to cause false, satanic (the opposite of) True equality under man’s law. A free, spiritual man, male or female, needs no such flattering titles such as man or woman, for these represented attributes are of God’s Design of Nature and so are negatively Self-evident. They are only artful words. Womanhood, like personhood, is just another legal trick that induces man into contract to seek legally assigned benefits from false gods. A man with visibly dark skin is also but a man of God. A man who is called slave by other men is a “negro” and therefore the property or legal “man” of another in noun (name) form as a feudal beast of burden. For a man to be enslaved or indentured, the verb that is his action of being must be reconsidered and thus reconstituted as a person or thing (noun). For to consider only his True unalienable Nature under God would be to destroy any legal consideration or false identity in borrowed surname. More on this later.

No fiction appears in Nature or before God. No fiction is floating around in space or swimming in the oceans. No fiction breathes air or grows from the soil. No fiction has an actual sex. No fiction can actually Create Life. And no fictional person can destroy God’s Creation without a man committing that action in that pre-tended legal persona. Fictional persons cannot do anything without man’s will behind them, any more than government can harm men without other men acting as the fictional executive agents (officers/persons) of government in name and in false, flattering title and fictional authority attached to the name only.

Cartoons must be animated by men so that they appear to be alive. But the act of a cartoon is only ever the act of a man. This is not a religious concept as much as it is the obvious, self-evident reality of the realm of God’s Creation called Nature as compared to all other things and concepts. No charge of religious title or legal membership to a corporate church is necessary to comprehend this tenet of the Law of what Nature is, was, and always shall be as the Supreme Permanence of Being. A man will be judged by God, in other words, based on all of his own actions and specifically despite any notion that in all his life he completed those actions while acting as and representing a legal persona with legal (flattering) titles and false legal authority under the false color of man’s legal law. The soul, in other words, leaves all false personas behind, coming face to face with its Maker under no artifice and certainly no persona, titles, or names (nouns). No excuses.

The spirit may take no earthly things or considerations with it when it departs the vessel (body). This means that appearing before a priest or other legal title within an organized (corporate) church we call organized “religion” is to appear in the form of the legal name only, pretending that our persona may be forgiven by a man acting falsely under a flattering (anointed) title bestowed by man in God’s name only. But God respects no names or titles, including those who claim to be “Christian” in legal name and persona only. Only man’s actions will prove what he truly is, and no title or legal persona may change that fact. A man cannot ever be a “Christian,” for only a legal person may make and prove such a legalistic claim of flattering title, and no works are required by the corporate, legal and religious bestower of that man-made title. The word legal is opposed to God and Nature, and so is the mere legalistic title of “Christian.” This creates a paradox of split personality.

Praying to God while in a false persona is like trying to touch water in an airtight rubber suit. The person cannot connect with God and Nature, for the person is not a Creation of Nature. A man may never touch God in the artificial body of a personhood, thus he may never touch the soil (land). A person does not exist in nature and so cannot commune with nature. God respects no person or artifice, because artifice (anything created by man in law or other art forms) is always a design against nature. Thus the same rule applies...

The word “Christian” is a noun, a legal title bestowed upon man by legal fiction. As a false title, it was created by the pagan Roman empire. A follower of christ’s parables and teachings would never have the need to claim his christ-like beliefs in the positive legal name and title of a fictional persona, for that follower of christ would be walking the walk upon that narrow path revealed by the spiritual knowledge of christ, not just speaking falsely the words without a life lived under them. The noun (name) defeats the verb of action that would be man acting under God's Law, the Law of Nature, which would be to physically act (Live) under the teachings of christ and always in Nature while never respecting persons or any other artifice in title and name only. To accept such a legal title as "Christian," which as we will see is actually against the scriptural teachings, is to become merely a legal actor in persona while enjoying the benefits and immunities from ignorance of God's Law through legal title and license from man's state of government. Of course, we call the person (corporation) of the United States a "Christian Nation," an oxymoron that has nothing to do with the teachings of christ.

— = —

“But wilt thou know, O vain man, that FAITH WITHOUT WORKS IS DEAD? ...
For AS THE BODY WITHOUT THE SPIRIT IS DEAD, SO FAITH WITHOUT WORKS IS DEAD ALSO.”

—James 2: 20 and 26, KJB

— = —

Thus we may comprehend the Biblical tenet that man may only have one master; God or mammon. One cannot be a citizen to mammon (a government that values all things in name only and only under the value of monetary consideration) and also be under God's Law, which vehemently opposes mammon and any valuation placed upon any part of Nature, including the price put upon man's capita or head in human capital management. Think about that the next time you place money (mammon) into your local church collection plate. This paradoxical duality of man's fallacious attempt to continuously serve two masters, both the real and the artificial at the same time, will be expounded upon greatly throughout this work.

Most importantly though, this is the very foundation of law and free will (choice), for man may choose freely to ignore or disbelieve in this fabled fate. Whether "God's judgement" is a true future event or not is not nearly as important as understanding that perception and concept of final judgement as the foundation of Natural (God's) Law, in which such moral, true religious sentiment (lifestyle) is required for understanding that Law. The scriptures are a blueprint; an instruction manual for man to respect Nature and all Its Life while visiting as mere tenants in Jehovah.

Inversely, the legal law is just an operators manual for commercial vessels (persons) of government in opposition to God's Nature. It is in fact that intricate complexity and impossible-to-decipher confounding of the legal commercial law as compared to the simplicity of God's Laws of Nature that is perhaps the greatest testament to the power and design of each. Even this opposition of cognition and practical application is a sure sign of why these laws cannot exist together and must instead exist in a constant state of war with each other. For they must both seek to be master over man's mind and over Nature Itself. They cannot exist together without one continuously attempting to destroy the other. Simplicity does not co-exist with utter difficulty.

This is the ancient battle of good vs. evil, nature vs. artifice, of heaven on earth vs. hell on earth, of the living vs. the dead, of God vs. satan (as all things acting as an opposing adversary of Jehovah).

VERSUS - Latin. Against. In the title of a cause, the name of the plaintiff is put first, followed by the word "versus," then the defendant's name. Thus, "Fletcher versus Peck," or (is the same as) "Fletcher against Peck." Word is commonly abbreviated "vs." or "v." (Black4)

— = —

It is interesting to note when examining any court case in the legal realm that all considerations of the case are upon some monetary (false) re-presentation of Reality. Be it the value of life, liberty, property, or of the very artificial, patented legal names and products or ideas of the plaintiff and defendant, our time on this earth is almost exclusively being spent in pursuit of some form of money (value). Our very names are only financial instruments (persons) of (created by) government, administrated in false persona according to their net worth and insurable future labor potential (capitalism). All court cases must have a value. All crimes are financial, legal or illegal. This is the artifice. This is mammon.

The whole system of man's law, from the authority of kings and lesser magistrates (gods) to the very oath taken to them by their subjects, is based on this religious faith, like it or not. For the oath confirms the fiction and binds men under the artificial law, and that oath is made upon the Bible - even while that Bible declares that man should take no such oaths, yet allows man the choice to do so by his very own free will.

Let's be honest with ourselves here. Anyone that would take an oath to evil (legal fiction) by placing his hand upon good (the symbol of God's Nature and Law) deserves what he gets for his ignorance of what is parabolically written within that Bible. It is the choice to act ignorantly of these scriptural facts that destroys man's nature, just as a man might sign the devil's contract without reading it, thus binding his soul to that artificial state of being (spiritual death). This reality of instigated power through a foundational oath is the pillar of government's false existence as a legal incorporation, and shall be shown in triplicate throughout this work. For a man caused to act in person is to be instigated by evil intent; a principal inciting man to evil acts through the agency of his legal names and titles or lack thereof, both of which are forbidden to be respected by men of God in those scriptural teachings...

INSTIGATE - verb transitive - [Latin instigo; in and stigo, in and stigo, in and stigo; Gr. to prick.] To incite; to set on; to provoke; to urge; used chiefly or wholly in an ill sense; as, TO INSTIGATE ONE TO EVIL; TO INSTIGATE TO A CRIME. (Webs1828)

INSTIGATED - participle passive - Incited or PERSUADED, AS TO EVIL. (Webs1828)

INCITE - verb transitive - [Latin incito; in and cito, to call, to stir up.] 1. To move the mind to action by persuasion or motives presented; to stir up; to rouse; to spur on. Antiochus, when he incited Prussians to join in war, set before him the greatness of the Romans. 2. To move to action by impulse or influence. No blown ambition does our arms incite. 3. TO ANIMATE; to encourage. (Webs1828)

CITE - verb transitive - 1. To call upon officially, or authoritatively; TO SUMMON; to give legal or official notice, as to a defendant to appear in court, to answer or defend. 2. TO ENJOIN; to direct; TO SUMMON; to order or urge. 3. To quote; TO NAME or repeat, as a passage or the words of another, either from a book or from verbal communication; as, to cite a passage from scripture, or to cite the very words a man utters. 4. TO CALL OR NAME, in support, PROOF OR CONFIRMATION; as, to cite an authority to prove a point in law. (Webs1828)

QUOTE - verb transitive - 1. To cite, as a passage from some author; TO NAME, repeat or adduce a passage from an author or speaker, by way of authority or illustration; as, to quote a passage from Homer; to quote the words of Peter, or a passage of Paul's writings; to quote chapter and verse. 2. IN COMMERCE, TO NAME, as the PRICE of an article. 3. TO NOTE. - noun - A note upon an author. Obsolete. (Webs1828)

NOTE - noun - [Latin to know.] 1. A MARK OR TOKEN; something by which a thing may be known; a visible sign. They who appertain to the visible church have all the notes of EXTERNAL PROFESSION. 2. A mark made in a book, indicating something worthy of a particular notice... 5. Notice; heed... 6.

REPUTATION; consequence; distinction; as men of note. Acts 16:1. 7. State of being observed... 13. A WRITTEN OR PRINTED PAPER ACKNOWLEDGING A DEBT AND PROMISING PAYMENT; as a promissory note; a bank-note; a note of hand; a negotiable note... - verb transitive - 1. To observe; to notice with particular care; to heed; to attend to. No more of that; I have noted it well. Their manners noted and their states survey'd. 2. To set down in writing. Note it in a book. Isaiah 30:8. 3. TO CHARGE, as with a crime; with of or for. They were both noted of incontinency. - verb transitive - To butt; to push with the horns. [Not used.] (Webs1828)

OBLIGATION OF A CONTRACT - That which LAW IN FORCE WHEN CONTRACT IS MADE OBLIGES PARTIES to do or not to do, and remedy and legal means to carry it into effect. As used in the U.S. Constitution, article 1, 9-10, the term means THE BINDING AND COERCIVE FORCE WHICH CONSTRAINS EVERY MAN TO PERFORM THE AGREEMENTS HE HAS MADE; a force grounded in the ethical principle of FIDELITY TO ONE'S PROMISES, but deriving its legal efficacy from its recognition BY POSITIVE LAW, and SANCTIONED by the law's providing a remedy for the infraction of the duty or for the enforcement of the correlative right. The "obligation of a contract" is its binding force according to the standards of LAW IN EXISTENCE WHEN IT WAS MADE. The "obligation of a contract" is THE DUTY OF PERFORMANCE. The term includes EVERYTHING within the obligatory scope of the contract, and it INCLUDES THE MEANS OF ENFORCEMENT. (Black4)

— = —

Let us be very clear on two points here. Firstly, that citizenship is a contractual relationship under sanction by positive law. Secondly, that this implied contract of citizenship is confirmed by our use of government property, by our acting and signing in the surname, number, title, and other artifices of the state. Use of these legal things is an expression of consent to the implied contract of that mutual relationship between principal and agent. And an agent can only ever act according to its principals will and under its law. The definition of "obligation of a contract" does indeed apply to every man that claims any benefit from and under government protection, for protection requires subjection to that which provides it.

To summon a man to court is to in-cite a man to appear in a false persona, to cause the contractual enjoinder of his christian name (mind, body, and soul) with the state surname (legal fiction) in that artifice of evil. This is a sin against man and God, for this is the respect and use of persons. The birth certificate is of course printed on a bank note, as a charge of the crime of bastardy, making one a son of government (of "the people") under parens patriae doctrine, and thus charged with indebtedness. The mark of a man as beast.

In the end, the judgement of God blames only the man, not the fictional persons, names, and titles he pre-tended to be. Thinly veiled legal laws, licenses, and government protections are not recognized in God's final judgement. Nor are the words or forgivenesses of false representatives of God in black, ceremonial robes. A verdict of not guilty cast by a legal god has nothing to do with innocence before Jehovah, for the only way that a judge can pass such a verdict upon man is if he is pre-judged at birth to be guilty of acting in that false legal persona against Jehovah, what the Bible says to be a sinner (in artifice). A judge can only judge the person of man, not man. A judge can only judge its own kind. A judge only controls fictions of law, and so only a man in surety to a fictional person of law can be judged by that fictional person of law called a "judge." The judge only rules over and administrates its own property, for a judge is only an agent of the principal and creator of persons and titles. A man must act on his conscious, not take predicated action because the legal law allows him to subvert that conscious thought and will with the magisterial permission of legal license from these false legal gods. Actions done while acting in this fictional persona of citizenship is literally no excuse before God, for Nature recognizes not any false persona or legal law. There is no innocence among the spiritually dead under legal, civil authority. God's Higher Law cannot protect persons.

To be clear, a judge only judges those already pre-judged. Thus, when man assumes the legal form of a public person he is already doomed even before his appearance. The word doom means to be judged. Thus when we appear in court we are appearing as that which is already doomed (pre-judged). And so the mystery here is that these judges are only administering that which was already judged at birth. There are no actual “judges” in administrative courts, for in persona we are all pre-judged, doomed to a spiritual death in civil life under the strict written law (lex scripta). And so just as the devil might figuratively manage and administrate all of his already judged and doomed fallen souls in hell after God’s final judgement, these administrative courts do the same to our doomed strawmen. There is no innocence while acting in the doomed form and persona of a public citizenship in debtor’s hell. And this author cannot stress enough here that we are living in our own consented-to hell, a debtor’s prison in a performance contract of personhood. If the reader cannot parabolically accept this metaphor despite the entirety of the legal system being as only a fictional story we respect and play along with, then perhaps another book that is adversaria with the self-evident Truth should be turned to at your local bookstore or supermarket.

You might say that ignorance of God’s Law is no excuse in that final judgement, just as the pollution of our rivers and lakes brings the judgement (doom) of cancers and other ills as punishment for our own actions, despite any persona, incorporation, employment, or flattering titles we pretend to conduct ourselves in. God simply delivers the perfection of clean, living water through a cyclical, Natural distillation process as part of the wondrous design of Nature called rain and snow. What we mix into that abundant and living reservoir carries with it its own punishment for harming what is the perfection of God’s Design through our own instigation - a perfect example of the simplistic and reasonable duty of man to God under the Natural Law. For if man acts against Jehovah, he only acts against the Oneness of himself and harms others. He defecates his own house. This is to say that if those downstream may be effected by our actions, this is then a crime against the Natural Law. The harming of Nature is always either a purposeful or inadvertent harming of all who thrive within Its Permanence of Being. Thus legality, as legal permission to act against Nature, is in fact totally unreasonable and illogical... That is, unless one’s intent is evil (live backwards) and against the Natural Order and Design of God.

A fictional person can only ever be a creation of another legal entity, never a creation of God. It can never be found nor recognized in Nature, though it can be artificially named and called by this legal terminology as being falsely a “natural” thing. Legal things (words) have nothing to do with the actuality of Nature or God, or for that matter anything in Reality. The word “natural” thus takes upon its opposite, adversarial meaning in the legal realm, which is that of a thing detached from its Source in Nature, as that which is without Nature, just as a private man or even a private citizen of one of the several (private) States is without the jurisdiction of the United States or other nation. This difference between Reality and fiction must be fully comprehended, so we do not any longer allow these words to be consensually imprinted upon us as tricks are taught to domesticated pets.

To get a clear comprehension of how a man acting in person necessarily and by law chooses government as his religion over that of God’s Law in scriptural teachings, we must understand what it means when the “constitutions” state that “citizen-ships” (vessels in prostitution to the gods of the nation) as subjects of government have the “freedom” of religion.

FREEDOM OF RELIGION - Embraces the concept of freedom to believe and freedom to act, the first of which (belief) is absolute, but the second of which (action) REMAINS SUBJECT TO REGULATION FOR PROTECTION OF SOCIETY. (Black4)

— = —

Freedom of moral thought, but not freedom to act upon that conscious moral thought... This is what legal freedom is when defined by a legal corporation called government. This is not Natural freedom under God. This is tyranny named (noun) as “freedom.” Freedom is only a franchise of fictional persons. Governments cannot control in totality your thought processes, only your actions (anti-pro-verb). Specifically, we must recognize absolutely that the purpose of the legal law is to prevent man from acting upon his moral thoughts.

—=—

“No one is punished for his thoughts.”

—COGITATIONIS PAENAM NEMO PATITUR. Dig. 48, 19, 18. (Black4)—

—=—

“It’s impossible to have religious freedom IN ANY NATION WHERE CHURCHES ARE LICENSED TO THE GOVERNMENT.”

—Congressman George Hansen, quoted from “In Caesar’s Grip,” by Peter Kershaw—

—=—

“The framers of our Constitution meant we were to have freedom OF religion, not freedom FROM religion.”

—Billy Graham—

—=—

The legal realm acknowledges only written and spoken words. It is immune, so to speak, from religious and moral controls, as legalism and religion are foreign to each other. Man is only punished for his actions, and when his actions are in the person of another, he is not acting according to his own moral thoughts.

By providing the fictional, legally “natural” person (strawman) with an insurance bond for a man’s operation in that fictional, commercial realm, government ensures that each individual man will act collectively according to civil law and not according to his own religious and moral thoughts. This is the separation of mind from the body. For the law is attached to the person, and thus the man in the fictional chains of surety to that person is bound by the public law of persons. By acceptance of that person as a commercial vessel (a citizen-ship) in surety, man tacitly agrees and consents (through assent) to abide by the legal law in direct opposition to God’s law while acting in that fictional persona. He literally agrees to use his Real body as insurance to ensure that he will operate in fiction (evil) according to law, and if he does not, the man in surety will be judged and punished for the incorrect use of that corporate strawman. Thus the man’s moral mind does not control his self (his body), for the law of persons controls his mind and therefore his actions, where the legal persona acts as the surrogate or second self. This is a lack of True Self-respect.

—=—

“No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first BIND the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.”

—Mark 3: 27, KJB—

—=—

“Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first BIND the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.”

— Matthew 12: 29, KJB

—=—

“My son, if thou be SURETY for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger, THOU ART SNARED with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.”

“Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise: Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler, Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest.”

—Proverbs 6: 1-2 and 6-8, KJB

—=—

This is the purpose and pretext of legal surety: insurance that the instigation of person-hood at birth into the nation will incite man's actions to be in concordance with the legal law as opposed to being in respect of God's Law and Nature. Incitement to evil acts. This is a binding relationship to fictional rulers under contractual terms (word magic), even by the shaking (striking) of hands. For a man's feet never touch land while he sails his ship upon the virtual sea of that surety (security) of legal commercial fiction. The legal jurisdiction is an invisible, fictional barrier set upon Creation and its Law; a prophylactic barring man from his very own essence as part of that Oneness of Nature.

A fictional person simply cannot follow God's Law, for a person is not a creation of God. God bestows no status upon man but self-evidence. This untouchable essence of negativity towards any of man's system of positive law can never be taken away, though obviously we have been fooled into contractually selling those God-given attributes in exchange for fictional non-sense. A man acting in person is subject only to man's utilitarian legal law of persons (status/condition), with strict prohibitions against God for which we call as the doctrine of “freedom of religion.” Opposites attract. A man in public personhood does not need and is not expected to think in any way that is responsible or compos mentis, for the person is allowed only to follow man's strict legal law by its autonomic user.

—=—

“This word 'person' and its scope and bearing in the law, involving, as it does, LEGAL FICTIONS and also apparently [IN APPEARANCE ONLY] natural beings, it is difficult to understand; but it is absolutely necessary to grasp, at whatever cost, a true and proper understanding to the word in ALL the phases of its proper use. A person is here not a physical or individual person, BUT THE STATUS OR CONDITION WITH WHICH HE IS INVESTED. Not an individual or physical person, but the STATUS, CONDITION OR CHARACTER BORNE (carried) by physical persons.”

“THE LAW OF PERSONS IS THE LAW OF STATUS OR CONDITION.”

—American Law and Procedure, Vol. 13, page 137, 1910

— — —

The legal law can only consider artificial things, for legal things are fictions created by that law and can only exist legally by license in that fictional realm and jurisdiction. And so when the word “person” is used in any legal setting, we must remember that this can only be considered as a legal person, which is merely a cartoon character in the form and appearance of man but never man himself. The legal person is the legal entity to which all legal laws are applied. No legal law is ever applied to a “physical” living man, for a man is not a legal creation. The creator can only control its own creation, and must bind the strong man to that artifice so as to enter his house (temple). Thus the contract is the binding chain of servitude between man and person. Fiction can only control fiction. It is the possession and operation of a legal person as a commercial vessel by that real, living man that binds the man in surety to the legal laws that in turn bind the legal person. These are the invisible chains of voluntary servitude as instigated purely by these words and terms of artificiality (art).

While researching, do not be confused by such confounding notions as put forth by the following definition of “person,” for a human being is also not the same as a man of God, as we will see. A legal person can again only be applied to a man (God’s Creation) via his consensual agreement (choice) in bond and surety. The term person can only be utilized as the Latin origin denotes, as a fictional character by which a man may act through in surety, as if donning a suit of armor displaying the heraldry and coat of Arms of his family, People (State), or Nation (father as a body corporate) before battle. It is always a term of fiction. Notice how the word “man” is avoided like the plague in the definition below, and used only as a legal term of reference purely to differentiate living man in the masculine from the other feminine sex, or from inanimate (non-living) things and as a singular (individual) artificial being that is not in a plural form. A fictional person has no purpose and can participate in no action without a living man inhabiting it and acting on its behalf. Legal things (nouns) see only other legal things (nouns). “Personal” property is subjective property of the public person, not the man. It is property in name only with no substance actually attached to the fiction.

A cow, for instance, can not be considered as a “person,” as the cow is not capable of rational thought and cannot be made to consent through words or signature. The cow has no legal capacity to understand law and speaks not the legal or common, general language, therefore the cow cannot be considered as a legal person. A cow is non compos mentis. Only otherwise reasonable men can be fooled by word-magic and trickery to act in legal form and give consent to such artifice. While man can be purchased by the illusion of word magic, all other aspects of Nature under God must be conquered (purchased) and taken by force, for only man has the capacity of free will that allows him to choose to abandon his God (Nature) voluntarily through legal trickery.

To be clear, and as we will discuss later in detail, a human being is not a man of God. However, a human being can legally be a “man” in legal consideration, as intended with the meaning of subject and/or slave, an animal, a being without soul.

PERSON - noun - [Latin persona; said to be compounded of per, through or by, and sonus, sound; a Latin word signifying primarily A MASK USED BY ACTORS ON THE STATE.] 1. An individual HUMAN BEING consisting of body and soul. We apply the word to living beings only, POSSESSED OF A RATIONAL NATURE; THE BODY WHEN DEAD IS NOT CALLED A PERSON. It is applied alike to a man, woman or child. A person is a thinking intelligent BEING. 2. A man, woman or child, considered as opposed to things, or distinct from them. A zeal for persons is far more easy to be perverted, than a zeal for things. 3. A HUMAN BEING, considered with respect to THE LIVING BODY OR CORPOREAL EXISTENCE ONLY. The FORM of her person is elegant. You'll find her person difficult to gain. The rebels maintained the fight for a small time, and for their persons showed no want of courage. 4. A human being, INDEFINITELY; one; a man. Let a person's attainments be never so great, he should remember he is frail and imperfect. 5. A human being REPRESENTED in dialogue, FICTION, or on the stage; CHARACTER. A player APPEARS IN THE PERSON of king Lear... 6. Character of office. HOW DIFFERENT IS THE SAME MAN FROM HIMSELF, AS HE SUSTAINS THE PERSON OF A MAGISTRATE AND THAT OF A FRIEND. 7. In grammar, the nominative (name) to a verb; THE AGENT THAT PERFORMS OR THE PATIENT THAT SUFFERS ANY THING AFFIRMED BY A VERB; as, I write; he is smitten; she is beloved; the rain descends in torrents. I, thou or you, he, she or it, are called the first, second and third persons. Hence WE APPLY THE WORD PERSON TO THE TERMINATION OR MODIFIED FORM OF THE VERB used in CONNECTION with the PERSONS; AS THE FIRST OR THE THIRD PERSON OF THE VERB; the verb is in the second person. 8. IN LAW, an artificial person is a corporation or body politic. In person by one's SELF; with bodily presence; not be representative. The king in person visits all around. - verb transitive - TO REPRESENT AS A PERSON; TO MAKE TO RESEMBLE; TO IMAGE... (Webs1828)

INDEFINITELY - adverb - Without any SETTLED limitation; as space indefinitely extended. 1. Not precisely; not with certainty or precision; as, to use a word indefinitely. (Webs1828)

PERSONALLY - adverb - IN PERSON; BY BODILY PRESENCE; NOT BY REPRESENTATIVE OR SUBSTITUTE; as, TO BE PERSONALLY PRESENT; to deliver a letter personally. They personally declared their assent to the measure. 1. With respect to an individual; particularly. She bore a mortal hatred to the house of Lancaster, and personally to the king. 2. With regard to NUMERICAL EXISTENCE. The converted man is personally the same he was before. (Webs1828)

PERSONABLE - Having the CAPACITIES OF A PERSON; for example, the defendant was judged personable to maintain this action. This word is obsolete. (Bouv1856)

PERSONAL - BELONGING TO THE PERSON. 2. This adjective is frequently employed in connection with substantives, things, goods, chattels, actions, RIGHTS, duties, and the like as personal estate, put in opposition to real estate; personal actions, in contradistinction to real actions; personal rights are THOSE WHICH BELONG TO THE PERSON; personal duties are those which are TO BE PERFORMED IN PERSON. (Bouv1856)

PERSON - This word is applied to men, women and children, WHO ARE CALLED NATURAL PERSONS. In law, man and person ARE NOT EXACTLY SYNONYMOUS TERMS. Any human being is a man, whether he be a member of society or not, whatever may be the rank he holds, or whatever may be his age, sex, etc. A PERSON IS A MAN CONSIDERED ACCORDING TO THE RANK HE HOLDS IN SOCIETY, WITH ALL THE RIGHTS TO WHICH THE PLACE HE HOLDS ENTITLES HIM, AND THE DUTIES WHICH IT IMPOSES. It is also used to denote A CORPORATION WHICH IS AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON. 3. But when the word "Persons" is spoken of in legislative acts, natural persons will be intended, unless something appear in the context to show that it applies to artificial persons. 4. Natural persons are divided into males, or men; and females or women. Men are capable of all kinds of engagements and functions, unless by reasons applying to particular individuals. Women cannot be appointed to any public office, nor perform any civil functions, except those which the law specially declares them capable of exercising. 5. They are also sometimes divided into free persons and slaves. Freemen are those who have preserved their natural liberty, that is to say, who have the right of doing WHAT IS NOT FORBIDDEN BY THE LAW. A slave is one who is in the power of a master TO WHOM HE BELONGS. SLAVES ARE SOMETIMES RANKED NOT WITH PERSONS BUT THINGS. But sometimes they are considered as persons for example, a negro is in contemplation of law a person, so as to be capable of committing a riot in conjunction with white men. Vide Man. 6. Persons are also divided into citizens, and aliens, when viewed with regard to their political rights. When they are considered in relation to their civil rights, THEY ARE LIVING OR CIVILLY DEAD; vide Civil Death; outlaws; and infamous persons. 7. PERSONS ARE DIVIDED INTO LEGITIMATES AND BASTARDS, when examined as to their RIGHTS BY BIRTH. 8. When viewed in their domestic relations, they are divided into parents and children; husbands and wives; guardians and wards; and masters and servants son, as it is understood in law... (Bouv1856)

— — —

It is of the utmost importance to comprehend here that all of these terms of art are not Natural to man. We are not Created (born into Nature) with these legal, artificial statuses, names, classes, and flattering titles. We are not born into Nature as men or women, nor as slaves or masters or as parents or as children. These are all merely the words (creation) of man, and so is the “person” these legal attributes are legally attached to. The man chooses to play the part or he chooses instead to follow God without such respect of artifice, status, and flattering titles. He is either free to act in God’s Word or he is bound in his actions by legal constraints, which outlaw conscious and moral action.

Are you acting in first or third person? Are you your own person (True Self) or are you acting in the person (identity) of another? Please understand here that whatever God you actually serve is dependent upon the answers to these questions, and that whatever law you choose to follow, be it of Nature or of fiction, this and this alone answers the question of what God you actually follow. For your actions will always speak louder than your empty words. Words are voiceless alone. One cannot worship God with words, for words are not a Creation of God. These are the Realities we must continuously scrutinize and Live by, for we are so easily misled.

When we vote, we do so personally. We give our consent to be ruled by our actions in personhood. It is not us that votes, it is only the action of our person activated and thus personified through our own actions. The person is a graven image, a likeness of man but not man, a mask of artificiality worn as if it hides man’s actions from his Maker and Source. While man is an indefinite Creation of God, a person or “hu-man” is definite (existing only by man’s definition), and is at best a creation under or a part belonging to man. Thus the term “personal property” is property belonging to the rented person (legal status) of man, not to the man himself. Personal property is not private property, but public. The person is a graven (dead) image. A mortgage is a graven (dead) pledge. Citizenship is a conviction of legal doom representing a spiritual death in life by legal personhood.

— — —

“Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth...”

—Exodus 20:4, KJB

— — —

A man in citizen-ship is absolutely incapable of obeying the Ten Commandments, for in foundation he lives in and under a legal persona, living only according to his false (graven) image in standing against those ancient Laws in Covenant of God. A man acting in person has no right to act upon his moral (religious) belief, only upon the law governing his legal person. A man acting in person has only the rights of that fictional person, has only the use of the property of that fictional person, and performs all functions of government and in society in and through that fictional person - the graven image. Thus a man's "freedom" of religion is only what the state allows, for the man's actions are controlled (dom) by the person of government he acts within. This is voluntary slavery, as the doctrine of master and servant.

IMAGE - noun - [Latin imago.] 1. A REPRESENTATION OR SIMILITUDE of any person or thing, FORMED of a material substance; as an image wrought out of stone, wood or wax. Whose is this image and superscription? Matthew 22:20. 2. A statue. 3. AN IDOL; THE REPRESENTATION OF ANY PERSON OR THING, that is an object of worship. The second commandment forbids the worship of images. 4. The likeness of any thing on canvas; a picture; a resemblance painted. 5. ANY COPY, REPRESENTATION OR LIKENESS. The child is the image of its mother. 6. Semblance; SHOW; APPEARANCE. The face of things a frightful image bears. 7. An idea; A REPRESENTATION OF ANY THING TO THE MIND; a conception; a picture drawn by fancy. Can we conceive. Image of aught delightful, soft or great? 8. In rhetoric, a lively description of any thing IN DISCOURSE, which presents a kind of picture to the mind. 9. In optics, the figure of any object, made by rays of light proceeding from the several points of it. Thus A MIRROR REFLECTS THE IMAGE OF A PERSON STANDING BEFORE IT, as does water in a vessel or stream, when undisturbed. - verb transitive - To imagine; TO COPY BY THE IMAGINATION; to form a likeness in the mind by the fancy or recollection. And image charms he must behold no more. (Webs1828)

— = —

Notice again here that the verb (action of Being) is turned into a noun (fictional name of a person). The man in action is converted by legality into acting in the form of man called a person, and so the man is only legally recognized by the legal status attached to the man through that fictional person in surety. This causes the man to act outside of his own conscious, specifically according to the rules of the fictional state - the creator (god) and ruler (principal government) of the fictional person controlled by the man (agent).

Again, in the legal realm of fiction, all of reality must become a noun, as a legally defined person, place, or thing. For all these realities of Nature must re-appear as something artificial - in name (noun) and false image only. Now consider that every word is legally patented by that legal creator, so that only their definition applies to their art form of law. Words create a false value system. Words are money.

We must consider the distinction of the above adverb personally, meaning to show up in court or other legal jurisdiction and to act in one's public persona as opposed to doing so by agent (attorney) or as a private entity, which we say as being represented by another (by another agent). But this is still making an appearance in the person and capacity of another's name and in surety to it, for we can only appear in their art form acting within their fictional name of government. We cannot be legally (artificially) seen without identifying that legal (artificial) person first. By appearing in person we are showing the court that we have and consent to having a legal capacity to carry that burden of fiction. As we will discuss later in this work, in legality an adverb is actually just a noun in disguise. Thus the "action" of appearing personally (in adverb) only refers to the name of the action of legally appearing without an agent (attorney) doing it for you, in order to re-present your person on the state's behalf; for you would still only ever be appearing in the legal court as a legal person (by name), as that is all the fictional court can administer over and govern under its patented law of persons. The judge is like a cartoon character that can only exist in the cartoon and can only see other cartoons. However, the adverb is still a word of modification (naming), descriptive merely of the status and form of an "action" and not referential to its actual substance or occurrence in Nature. There can be no real action (verb) in court, only the fictional legal kind as a description of words on paper. A fiction is not capable of an action in Nature (in Reality), for a fiction does not Exist in the realm of Reality where verbs (actions) Exist and effect that Nature. The action (verb) of a fictional person in court can only ever be in name (noun) only. It is the appearance a man makes as the name that makes the person come to artificially live (evil).

A numerical existence...

Sounds a lot like The Matrix movie, does it not?

We live a simulated “life” inside the algorithm of a complex computer-like code of law - a legal life lived as purely a re-presentation of ones Self; the personification of Self. A graven image. A projected self-image. In the movie, if those realistic looking, digitalized “people” within The Matrix simulation went to the fictionally represented version of a court, they too would appear personally (in person), in a digital form. But they weren’t really there, now were they, except in their own brainwashed minds? And neither was the court or the judge. Belief in the realness, jurisdiction, and authority of the fictional court and its agents in flattering title makes the court seemingly real enough to the senses, though they are purely creations of legalistic non-sense. And self-projected persona was, as in the legal fiction, merely a digitally created fictional character (letters and numbers are both digits) that is no more tangible in real life than a cartoon character. For the fictional person is made up of nothing but letters on paper. As long as one believes in the legal matrix of code that contemplates their persona, they can be made to appear “bodily” as if they really are that fictional person in name through the bond of surety... just like in the movie; just like cartoons seem to come to life due to man’s animation (simulation) of them. And the most important cog in this fiction, the one that holds the entire artificial realm of legal law together as evil (anti-life) incarnate, is that man believes himself wholeheartedly to be that artificial “natural person” in his Real life. That he cannot perceive the difference between these dualities of “existence” is the great legal bond that literally seals his fate in separation from his Oneness with God’s Nature.

But what is life?

Bouvier clears up any misconception that a fictional person might be a reality or actually living in nature when he defines the notion of how a man’s life, and distinctively a person’s life, comes to an end.

For here we can comprehend the very definition of the living dead...

DEATH - In medical jurisprudence, criminal law, evidence. The cessation of life... 14. - 2. The death of a man, as to its effects on others, may be considered with regard, 1. To his contracts. 2. Torts committed by or against him. 3. The disposition of his estate; and, 4. To the liability or discharge of his BAIL... 20. Death is also divided into NATURAL AND CIVIL. 21. Natural death is the cessation of life. 22. CIVIL DEATH IS THE STATE OF A PERSON WHO, THOUGH POSSESSING NATURAL LIFE, HAS LOST ALL HIS CIVIL RIGHTS, AND, AS TO THEM, IS CONSIDERED AS DEAD. A person convicted and ATTAINED of felony, and sentenced to the state prison for life, is, in the state of New York, in consequence of the act of 29th of March, 1799, and by virtue of the conviction and sentence of imprisonment for LIFE, to be considered as CIVILLY DEAD. (Bouv1856)

DEAD - Something which has no life; FIGURATIVELY, SOMETHING OF NO VALUE. (Bouv1856)

ATTAINT - verb transitive - [See Attainder.] 1. To taint or corrupt; TO EXTINGUISH THE PURE OR INHERITABLE BLOOD OF A PERSON found guilty of treason or felony, by confession, battle, or verdict, and consequent sentence of death, or by special act of Parliament... 3. To disgrace; to cloud with infamy; to stain. 4. TO TAINT OR CORRUPT. - noun - 1. A stain, spot or taint. [See taint.] 2. Any thing injurious; that which impairs... (Webs1828)

TAINT - A conviction of FELONY, OR THE PERSON SO CONVICTED. (Black4)

ATTAINDER - English criminal law. Attinctura, the stain or CORRUPTION OF BLOOD which arises from being condemned for ANY crime... (Bouv1856)

ATTAIN - To reach or come to by progression or motion; to arrive at; as, to attain a ripe old age. (Black4)

DER - Prefixed to names of places, may be from Sax. deor, a wild beast, or from dur, water. (Webs1828)

— = —

There is no consideration by government of Real Life for a man without blood, only the artificial, bloodless, civil life of a fictional persona. In this respect, there are three stages of “life” as considered by law.

1. Spiritual life, which is civil death, an absence of legal capacity and legal personhood. Virtual invisibility and immunity from civil law and the law of nations but only while under God’s Law of Nature.
2. Civil life, which is spiritual death by attainder for fellows (for being born as a burden on the state/People) given personhood (freedom/franchise) in the open-prison of commercial, debtor’s hell (status as legal life within the United States jurisdiction).
3. Conviction with life sentence to incarceration, which is a lack of both of the above, as the taking away of most or all rights and estate both fictional and Natural. Banishment or adjuration from the realm carries a similar notion of outlawry, though this action of condemnation does not necessarily prove spiritual consideration as a religious man by the state. Mere outlaws are not legally considered as religious men. A religious man removes himself from the civil jurisdiction voluntarily and has choice to return, whereas an outlaw is forcibly removed and permanently sanctioned from it. But the outlaw is still regenerable, which is why monasteries offered sanctuary to the outlaw or wanted criminal, so that in a strange way he chooses his own punishment (judgement), prison or monasterial works. He can become a religious man without legal persona, for it is the fiction and not the man that is banished.

Remember, this is not Reality, only the legal consideration (judgement) of man’s strawman or lack thereof. To be tainted is to be condemned; a state of felony in conviction of a legal life without blood consideration. To attain the state of a man into a mere wild beast (hu-man animal) in consideration of law is to be attainted of all natural or God-given (unalienable) rights and to be granted instead with only legal rights. These are the artificial rights attached to a man’s person (status in the political society) that we have all become accustomed to from birth (sentencing). And so we see that this state of man as a purely spiritual Existence, of untainted blood, can only be attained through conviction and outlawry from the civil society (banishment), or when a man becomes a spiritual “religious” man in his abjuration of the legal realm of men, for spirituality is an illegal act in a legal setting. In other words, when man becomes self-governing under God’s Law, he has no need for man’s public civil law or public civil rights, no need for a surname attached to his christian first (Highest) name, and no more desire for license from the state to act against his own Nature (Jehovah) and self-interest in and of all other life and Creation. A man with blood consideration is private, and therefore is either Naturally or legally considered as sovereign, or above the law of persons.

But please do not mistake this as the author’s support of sovereignty, for the sovereign is only the master of slaves in human capital management. This is an evil state. This is the being in character of one of the idolatrous gods of the nations. It is to be a member of a dictatorship. Sovereignty is not the goal of a man of God, and is only a term of art used to describe that which is highest in authority within the legal setting only, as the lawmaker and enforcer of others by agency. It is always a fictional title. It is not upon the path of christ. To call a Naturally free man under God as sovereign is a worthless commentary, for his sovereignty is self-evident in consideration of Law by his own actions. Those gurus who promote sovereignty while still carrying the public surname are at best misinformed and at worst disinformation agents, public information mercenaries and hirelings with designs only to keep the mysteries of their constitutors, for only in secret may such false authority exist. Without mystery, no man would allow himself to be enslaved.

A spiritual life is in no way the same as a civil life (legally being under attainder), for man cannot be both living and dead. His blood cannot be at the same time Pure and tainted. It is important to comprehend here that this legal state of corruption of blood is descriptive of exactly what United States citizenship is, for a man in a public United States citizen-ship is only considered as a fictional person, and fictional person's have no blood to consider. They are not Real. A man considered as without blood (in a state of corruption against God and Nature) has no rights of inheritance, for his strawman's artificial feet can never stand (have standing) on the land (actual soil) of Nature.

PEDIS POSSESSION - Possession of the foot; AN ACTUAL FOOTHOLD; ACTUAL POSSESSION OF LAND. SINCE STANDING UPON LAND IS A NATURAL SYMBOL OF POSSESSING IT, the phrase has come to mean ACTUAL POSSESSION of any particular piece of land, as evidenced by occupancy, inclosure, etc. (WCA1889)

PEDIS POSITIO - Placing of the foot; A FOOTHOLD. (WCA1889)

—=—

A fictional, legal person may only ever exist by pretending to walk upon and thus be protected by the fictional jurisdiction of the United States as its issue, wherever he may be. In short, we are birthed into certified and registered attainder, for a legal entity can only ever be created without blood. Blood only Exists in Nature under God. The U.S. constitution, therefore, only exists for private citizens of the individual (several) private States (People), which are specifically not United States commercial citizen-ships. The hierarchy is obvious, where private men in union created the constitution as its gods, whereas the constitution later created government, and then that U.S. government (its agents) created U.S. citizens.

—=—

“The stronger is the condition of the party in possession.”

—Potior est conditio possidentis. Maxim of law. (WCA1889)

—=—

Private men retain their “Natural” and reserved rights, for the United States jurisdiction may only consider a private citizen according to his stronger condition of untainted blood and heirship, for it has no jurisdiction over the man unless he is sentenced (noted) to death as a surety to a commercially dead United States person at birth or naturalization. His blood must be (figuratively) tainted.

A cartoon in a cartoon world...

Notice that the word death by attainder has nothing to do with actual death of the physical body, only the civil death of legal rights and considerations, or what is called as legal “status.” The birth process is in fact a registered event of the conviction of man under sin. It is the creation of a legal entity, which culturally becomes the man's mistaken public id-entity.

ATTAINDER - That EXTINCTION OF CIVIL RIGHTS AND CAPACITIES which takes place whenever a person who has committed treason or felony receives sentence of DEATH for his crime. The effect of "attainder" upon such felon is, in general terms, that ail his estate, real and personal, is forfeited. It differs from conviction, in that IT IS AFTER JUDGMENT, whereas conviction is upon the verdict of guilty, but before judgment pronounced, and may be quashed upon some point of law reserved, or judgment may be arrested. The consequences of attainder are FORFEITURE OF PROPERTY AND CORRUPTION OF BLOOD. At the common law, attainder resulted in three ways, viz.: by confession, by verdict, and by process or outlawry. The first case was where the prisoner pleaded guilty at the bar, or having fled to sanctuary, confessed his guilt and ABJURED THE REALM to save his life. The second was where the prisoner pleaded not guilty at the bar, and the jury brought in a verdict against him. The third, when the PERSON accused made his escape and was OUTLAWED. In England, by statute 33 & 34 Vict. c. 23, attainder upon conviction, with consequent corruption of blood, forfeiture, or escheat is abolished. In the United States, the doctrine of attainder is now scarcely known, although during and shortly after the Revolution acts of attainder were passed by several of the states. The passage of such bills is expressly forbidden by the constitution. (Black4)

CONDEMNATION - In admiralty law. The judgment or sentence of a court having jurisdiction and acting in rem, by which (1) it is declared that A VESSEL WHICH HAS BEEN CAPTURED AT SEA AS A PRIZE WAS LAWFULLY SO SEIZED AND IS LIABLE TO BE TREATED AS PRIZE; or (2) that property which has been seized for an alleged violation of the revenue laws, neutrality laws, navigation laws, etc., was lawfully so seized, and is, for such cause, forfeited to the government; or (3) that the vessel which is the subject of inquiry is unfit and unsafe for navigation. In the civil law. A SENTENCE OR JUDGMENT WHICH CONDEMNS SOME ONE TO DO, TO GIVE, OR TO PAY SOMETHING, or which declares that his claim or pretensions are unfounded. In real property law. The process by which PROPERTY OF A PRIVATE OWNER IS TAKEN FOR PUBLIC USE, without his consent, but upon the award and payment of just compensation, being in the nature of A FORCED SALE AND CONDEMNOR STANDS TOWARD OWNER AS BUYER TOWARD SELLER. A "condemnation proceeding" is a special proceeding at law to determine in a single action the damages done by the taking, BUT IT IS NOT A CIVIL ACTION, OR A CIVIL PROCESS within the meaning of the statutes relating to civil process. THE LAW AUTHORIZING IT MUST BE STRICTLY CONSTRUED, AND EVERY CONDITION AND REQUIREMENT MUST BE SHOWN TO HAVE BEEN COMPLIED WITH. (Black4)

CONDEMNED - participle passive - Censures; pronounced to be wrong, GUILTY, worthless or FORFEITED; ADJUDGED OR SENTENCED TO PUNISHMENT. (Black4)

APPROBATION - noun - [Latin approbatio. See Proof and Prove.] 1. The act of approving; a liking; that state or DISPOSITION OF THE MIND, in which we assent to the propriety of a thing, with some degree of pleasure or satisfaction; as, THE LAWS OF GOD REQUIRE OUR APPROBATION. 2. Attestation; support; that is, active approbation or action in favor of what is approved. 3. The commendation of a book licensed or permitted to be published by authority, as was formerly the case in England. (Webs1828)

DISAPPROBATION - noun [dis and approbation.] A disapproving; dislike; the act of the mind which condemns what is supposed to be wrong, WHETHER THE ACT IS EXPRESSED OR NOT. WE OFTEN DISAPPROVE, WHEN WE DO NOT EXPRESS DISAPPROBATION. (Webs1828)

CENSURE - noun - 1. The act of blaming or finding fault and condemning as wrong; applicable to the moral conduct, or to the works of men. When applied to PERSONS, it is nearly equivalent to blame, reproof, reprehension, reprimand. It is an expression of disapprobation, which often implies reproof. 2. JUDICIAL SENTENCE; JUDGMENT THAT CONDEMNS. An ecclesiastical censure is a sentence of condemnation, or penalty inflicted on a member of a church for mal-conduct, by which he is deprived of the communion of the church, or prohibited from executing the sacerdotal office. - verb transitive - 1. To find fault with and condemn as wrong; to blame; to express disapprobation of; as, to censure a man, or his manners, or his writings. We laugh at vanity, oftener than we censure pride. 2. To condemn by a judicial sentence, as in ecclesiastical affairs. 3. TO ESTIMATE. - verb intransitive - TO JUDGE. (Webs1828)

—=—

It is difficult to accept that most of us have been condemned (sentenced to ad-diction) by being adjudged (doomed) at birth to be commercial vessels of the United States or other nations under admiralty law, and that this act of mammon is merely an estimation and insured wager of our future labor potential as human capital live-stock. But as will be revealed within this work, a man borne into United States citizenship is in-deed “a vessel which has been captured at sea as a prize (piracy), and is thus considered lawfully to be so seized and is liable to be treated as prize,” according to this legal birth man-ifest.

VESSEL - noun - [Latin vas, vasis. This word is probably the English vat.]... 5. Something containing. VESSELS OF WRATH, in Scripture, are such PERSONS as are to receive the full effects of God's wrath and indignation, as a punishment for their sins. Vessels of mercy, are persons who are to receive the effects of God's mercy, or future happiness and glory. Chosen vessels, ministers of the gospel, as appointed to bear the glad news of salvation to others; called also earthen vessels, on account of their weakness and frailty. - verb transitive - TO PUT INTO A VESSEL. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

PUBLIC VESSEL - One owned and USED BY A NATION OR GOVERNMENT FOR ITS PUBLIC SERVICE, whether in its navy, its revenue service, or otherwise. (Black4)

—=—

It is important to note that when Webster states that a word is [not in use], this is to say that in the year 1828 the word was not currently in use. However, the advent of the 14th amendment created U.S. citizenship in the late 1860's as a recognized “vessel” of the United States in commerce and under military (emergency) rule after “civil” war and occupation, and so we must comprehend terms not by their current or outdated use, but by their motive and intent when they are used in their perspective art form. What is in use today may be obsolete tomorrow, and then may be in use again next year.

—=—

“I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind:
I am like a broken vessel.”

—Psalms 31:12, KJB

—=—

“...And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple.”

—Mark 11:16, KJB

—=—

“Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?”

—Romans 9:21, KJB

—=—

“If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.”

—2 Timothy 2:21, KJB

—=—

“But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel...”

—Acts 9:15, KJB

—=—

We must know our master (god) in order to comprehend what type of vessel we are. As God's vessels are God's Creation of man's mind, body, and soul in Natural unity, man needs no artificial (legal) ship to be a vessel unto God. Only dead legal things need the dead legal vessel of personhood as a citizen-ship.

Stong's defines the word vessel as used here as one of two dualistic natures.

Firstly as:

“METAPHOR: of a man: (of a quality), a chosen instrument [or ‘vessel’] Acts 9: 15, (and) in a base sense, AN ASSISTANT in accomplishing evil deeds [English ‘TOOL’].”

Remember, the word tool = dummy = agent = strawman!

And secondly, as:

“A VESSEL: to be used in performing religious rites, unto honour, i.e. for honorable use, unto dishonor, i.e. for a low use (as a urinal) into which wrath is emptied - MEN APPOINTED BY GOD unto woe, fitted to receive mercy... is used of a woman, as the vessel of her husband...”

—=—

Over and over we see the same concept in law. Either you are a vessel (receptacle) of God's Nature and Word (Son) or you are a vessel (ship) in mammon (commerce) for government (the principal of a mutual agency relationship). But you simply cannot be both.

To legally (artificially) corrupt the blood is to extinguish man's status as one that can hold land or be heir to land through inheritance, and therefore acts to extinguish his sovereignty. This is to say that in mammon man is valued in the price of money, not in the priceless blood of christ. To “attain” a state of “der” is to become a fictional beast of burden as considered by the state. This is the birth of sin (artificiality), and we act in that permanently contracted sin (of personhood) under government. Sadly and in ignorance, it is our parents who confess (inform) our attainder at birth, dooming (judging) us to servitude as wards of the state in condemn-nation. In fact, the entire commercial structure of the United States runs purely on the fact of attainder, the virtual tainted blood of the population of man in citizenship to the United States. The constitution only protects negatively those private men by their blood (the private People of the individual States) and by their will, which are not legally considered as subjects to the United States, but as the sovereignty (People) over that government citizenships of the United States. Public citizens of the United States pledge themselves to the private People and are bound by the legal government of that People's creation through agency. But U.S. citizen-ships are not the People, for they are only citizens of the United States, and not domiciled in any of the individual private or "several" States.

This will be very difficult for the "patriotic" reader to comprehend and accept, for we have been taught lies about our own personal status all our lives by those who profit by our ignorance. However, the reader should know from this point on that if he or she is acting in a public person (citizen-ship) as a commercial vessel of the United States, then he or she is not being considered under the law of the individual States as a private citizen of the State wherein they reside with all rights reserved. To be public is to be subject to government and considered only as a commercial vessel (surname). To be private is to be part of the sovereign People above government (with no registered surname). Anything public is always subservient to that which is private. Anything public is an agent or property of something principal and private. A private citizen is considered only by his blood, while a public person is considered as having no inheritable blood, called only by his incorporated state-issued surname and numerical mark. A private man is always considered non-commercially, and so he needs no ship to sail on the seas of United States "interstate" commerce under maritime and admiralty law. A public person is subject to commercial law.

More on the history and foundation of this public vs. private status will be explained throughout this work. But for now, let us make sure that we comprehend the difference between this public and private personage. For all persons regardless of status have some political consideration, obligation, privileges and immunities in law. Things are either of Nature or they are political, and so we must ask how the nation (law) considers us in a political way.

POLITICAL - adjective - [supra.] Pertaining to policy, or to civil government and its administration.

Political measures or affairs are measures that respect the government of a nation or state. So we say, political power or authority; political wisdom; a political scheme; political opinions. A good prince is the POLITICAL FATHER of his people. THE FOUNDERS OF A STATE AND WISE SENATORS ARE ALSO CALLED POLITICAL FATHERS. 1. Pertaining to a nation or state, or to nations or states, as distinguished from civil or municipal; as in the phrase, political and civil rights, the former (political) comprehending rights that BELONG TO A NATION, OR PERHAPS TO A CITIZEN AS AN INDIVIDUAL OF A NATION; and the latter (civil) comprehending the local rights of a CORPORATION or any MEMBER of it. Speaking of the political state of Europe, we are accustomed to say of Sweden, she lost her liberty by the revolution. 2. PUBLIC; derived from office or CONNECTION WITH GOVERNMENT; AS POLITICAL CHARACTER. 3. Artful; skillful. [See Politic.] 4. Treating of politics or government; as a political writer. Political arithmetic, the art of reasoning by figures, or of making arithmetical calculations on matters relating to a nation, its revenues, value of lands and effects, produce of lands or manufactures, population, etc. Political economy, the administration of the revenues of a nation; or the management and regulation of its resources and productive property and labor. Political economy comprehends all the measures by which THE PROPERTY AND LABOR OF CITIZENS ARE DIRECTED in the best manner to the success of individual industry and enterprise, and to the public prosperity. Political economy is now considered as a science. (Webs1828)

PUBLIC - adjective - [Latin publicus, from the root of populus, people; that is, people-like.] 1. Pertaining to a nation, state or community; extending to a whole people; AS A PUBLIC LAW, WHICH BINDS THE

PEOPLE OF A NATION OR STATE, AS OPPOSED TO A PRIVATE STATUTE OR RESOLVE, which respects an individual or a corporation only. Thus we say, public welfare, public good, public calamity, public service, public property. 2. Common to many; current or circulated among people of all classes; GENERAL; as public report; public scandal. 3. Open; notorious; exposed to all persons without restriction. Joseph her husband being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. Matthew 1:1. 4. Regarding the community; DIRECTED TO THE INTEREST OF A NATION, STATE OR COMMUNITY; as public spirit; PUBLIC MINDEDNESS; OPPOSED TO PRIVATE OR SELFISH. 5. Open for general entertainment; as a public house. 6. Open to common use; as a public road. 7. In general, public expresses something COMMON to mankind at large, to a nation, state, city or town, AND IS OPPOSED TO PRIVATE, which denotes what belongs TO AN INDIVIDUAL, TO A FAMILY, to a company or corporation. Public law, is often synonymous with THE LAW OF NATIONS. - noun - The general BODY of mankind or OF A NATION, state or community; THE PEOPLE, INDEFINITELY. The public is more disposed to CENSURE than to praise. In this passage, public is followed by a verb in the singular number; but BEING A NOUN OF MULTITUDE, it is more generally followed by a plural verb; the public are. In public in open view; before the people at large; NOT IN PRIVATE OR SECRECY. In private grieve, but with a careless scorn, In public seem to triumph, not to mourn. (Webs1828)

PRIVATE - adjective - [Latin privatus, from privo, to bereave, properly to strip or separate; privus, singular, SEVERAL, PECULIAR TO ONE'S SELF, that is, SEPARATE; rapio, diripio, eripio; privo for perivo or berivo.] 1. Properly, separate; unconnected with others; hence, PECULIAR TO ONE'S SELF; belonging to or concerning an individual only; as a man's private opinion, business or concerns; private property; the king's private purse; a man's private expenses. Charge the money to my private account in the company's books. 2. Peculiar to a number in a joint concern, to a company or body politic; as the private interest of a FAMILY, of a company or of A STATE; OPPOSED TO PUBLIC, OR TO THE GENERAL INTEREST OF NATIONS. 3. Sequestered from company or observation; SECRET; secluded; as a private cell; a private room or apartment; private prayer. 4. NOT PUBLICLY KNOWN; not open; as a private negotiation. 5. NOT INVESTED WITH PUBLIC OFFICE OR EMPLOYMENT; AS A PRIVATE MAN OR CITIZEN; private lift. A private person may arrest a felon. 6. Individual; personal; IN CONTRADISTINCTION FROM PUBLIC OR NATIONAL; as private interest. Private way, in law, is a way or passage in which a MAN has an interest and right, though the ground may belong to another PERSON. In common language, a private way may be a secret way, one not known or public. A private act or statute, is one which operates on an individual or company only; OPPOSED TO A GENERAL LAW, which operates on the whole community. A private nuance or wrong, is one which affects an individual. In private secretly; NOT OPENLY OR PUBLICLY. - noun - A secret message; particular business. [Unusual.] 1. A common soldier. (Webs1828)

RIGHT OF PRIVACY - The right to be LET alone, the right of a person to be FREE FROM UNWARRANTED PUBLICITY. The right of an individual (or corporation) TO WITHHOLD HIMSELF AND HIS PROPERTY FROM PUBLIC SCRUTINY, IF HE SO CHOOSES. It is said to exist only so far as its assertion is consistent with law OR public policy, and in a proper case EQUITY WILL INTERFERE, if there is no remedy at law, to prevent an injury threatened by the invasion of, or infringement upon, this right from motives of curiosity, gain, or malice.... (Black4)

EQUITABLE - That which is in conformity to the natural law. (Bouv1856)

EQUITY - ...2. In a MORAL SENSE, that is called equity which is founded, ex oequo et bono, in natural justice, in honesty, and in right. (Bouv1856)

EQUITY - ...In an enlarged, LEGAL VIEW, "equity, in its true and genuine meaning, is the soul and spirit of the law; POSITIVE LAW IS CONSTRUED, and RATIONAL LAW is made by it. In this, equity is made synonymous with justice; in that, to the true and sound interpretation of the rule." ... This equity is justly said to be a SUPPLEMENT to the laws; BUT IT MUST BE DIRECTED BY SCIENCE. THE ROMAN (PAGAN) LAW WILL FURNISH HIM WITH SURE GUIDES, AND SAFE RULES. In that code will be found, fully developed, the first principles and the most important consequences of natural right. "From the moment when principles of decision came to be acted upon in chancery," says Mr. Justice Story, "THE ROMAN LAW FURNISHED ABUNDANT MATERIALS TO ERECT A SUPERSTRUCTURE, at once solid, convenient and lofty, ADAPTED TO HUMAN WANTS, and enriched by the aid of HUMAN WISDOM, EXPERIENCE AND LEARNING." (Bouv1856)

RATIONAL - adjective - [Latin rationalis.] 1. Having reason OR THE FACULTY (CAPACITY) of reasoning; endowed with reason; opposed to irrational; as, man is a rational BEING; BRUTES ARE NOT RATIONAL ANIMALS. It is our glory and happiness to have a rational nature. 2. AGREEABLE TO REASON; opposed to absurd; as a rational conclusion or inference; rational conduct. 3. Agreeable to reason; not extravagant. 4. ACTING IN CONFORMITY TO REASON; wise; judicious; as a rational man. - noun - A rational being. (Webs1828)

RATIO - Rate; proportion; degree. REASON, or UNDERSTANDING. Also a cause, or GIVING JUDGMENT. (Black4)

— = —

Hopefully at this point the reader should be able to distinguish the difference between the actual state of Being that is privacy (verb) and the legal notion of a permissive legal "right" of privacy (noun). One is of God and one is of the state. One is permanent and one is temporary. One requires a person and one is a state of being person-less. One reserved his rights and the other abandoned his natural rights to obtain legal ones. And only one suffers under the law of man.

Likewise, the difference between Natural and legal equity as opposed to each other should be noted here, and the Roman humanistic origins of man's legal notion of legalized and forced equity is explicative of our current corrupted state of civil life in spiritual death. And so we may conclude that man's ability to act according to the Natural Law in True equitableness is an act of not conforming to the reason of other men, for to arrive and be fixed in a state of common sense, or common reason, is to live by reason alone without spiritual context and balance. For it is only the capacity to reason, and not proper reasoning that is required by law, as legal capacity. In other words, to reason and to be able to reason is considered as the same thing, as the requirement for the capacity of legal personhood. However, our reason is most often concluded for us by our surrogate "father" the state we act per the son of (in the person of), manifesting through the strict legal law and cultural and amoral ethics imposed by it. We need not reason for ourselves, for government sets the standards of fallacious reasoning through the instilling of public-mindedness in education, media, entertainment, corporate religion, and other controlled tools of cultural guidance.

Perhaps the most important maxim of law dealing with equity is this one:

— = —

"Equity will not suffer a wrong to be without a remedy."

—ubi jus ibi remedium ("where there is a right, there must be a remedy")

— = —

“Where there is no law, there is no transgression, so far as relates to the world.”

— UBI NON EST LEX, IBI NON EST TRANSGRESSIO, QUOAD MUNDUM. 4 Coke, 16b. (Black4)

— = —

We must remember to examine these maxims in their adversarial meanings, as to what they mean when picked apart and not merely taken as wisdom. In worldly affairs, meaning unspiritual actions, no “person” may cause harm unless a law specifically declares that action so, yet the scriptural law would certainly be broken.

This equity maxim above has an especially horrific and destructive hidden meaning. When we rephrase it to its actual legal intent, knowing that positive (strictly enforced) legal equity (noun) is not the same as negative (voluntary duty) Natural equitableness (verb), we find that what this is really telling us is that the government and Bar Association will allow all wrongs and crimes against Nature and Life Itself as long as remedy for such crimes is available. In other words, money may be replaced for the punishment of crimes. The legal system suffers (allows) all sorts of wrongs upon the persons (strawmen) that respect it as long as some monetary compensation (remedy) is able to be sued for the crime. Thus, under this principal of logic, whole countries may be decimated in commercial wars with the press of a button as long as “reparations” are paid to the future generations of those killed. And so the heirs of those former slave-holding private men who created this legal nation are allowed to keep the spoils of their forefathers commercial ventures in slavery because the nation has allowed remedy (reparations) to be paid to those families. Of course all of these “reparations” as monetary remedy are paid out of the public coffers, which means that every single common man (goyim) in citizenship that never had anything to do with slavery is footing the bill, while the private landholders that were the only slaveholders (about 1.5% of the actual “white” population) continue to extort all common men regardless of color or public status through their national districts and taxation of all registered subjects (voluntary slaves).

Let us never forget with whom we are dealing. Perspective is everything. Of course a man acting in sovereignty, as part of the kingship, and as godhead over other men will always claim reason to be as the bright light of god (as him Self). The word reason in law can only be a term of legal parlance, and so we can see that in its artifice of legal exploit it stems from the word ratio. All of man’s law is a monetary valuation under mammon. It is quite reasonable to assume that $2 + 2 = 4$ in any honest and Naturally equitable setting. It is also reasonable that a man’s property can be taken with just compensation (remedy), as if money could in actuality be even remotely equal to (the same as) anything in Reality. Similitude is never sameness. Do not be fooled any longer by such thought patterns as we all have been made accustomed to, where money may cure the crimes of church and state against us, as well as our own crimes against the church and state and against each other.

$2+2 = 4$ is a only term of art, an equation of fiction, as a fixed law of a set and sacred (cursed) number code by man. It applies only to that which conforms to its specific code. Its existence relies on man’s strict written law and adherence to those values assigned by man to those numbers (terms of art).

But I dost protest... 2 dozen added to 2 dozen = 48!

Fixed and defined language is everything and yet at the same time it is no thing. To respect it in whatever form it appears over the Reality of that for which it represents is akin to satanism. It is to make falsely sacred (cursed) what is not self-evident.

But please do not mistake this Reality with the notion that this author is suggesting that all numbers are somehow evil. This would be a logical fallacy, a ridiculous ad hominem, a poisoning of my well, and even a strawman argument (all logical fallacies). It is the legal society that puts such adversarial thoughts into our heads, so that we live always in confusion by our own false and prejudicial (pre-judged) conjecture without verification of source. It is only how we see and respect artificial things that causes such conceptualizations of moral goodness or evilness. It is only when we hold as sacred the name, number, or other image higher than God's Nature of Reality that creates a cursed state.

—=—

“Everything we hear is an opinion, not a fact.
Everything we see is a perspective, not the truth.”

—Marcus Aurelius—

—=—

As an example, we need oxygen to Exist but oxygen needs no name or numerical equation to Exist. We see the trees move when oxygen is blown upon them, but the appearance is never the actual substance. Oxygen is there despite our common or scientific names for it. It is there despite whatever mathematical equations and opinions we use to express the fact of its actual Existence. Men, too, also Exist in self-evidence, yet need no name to Exist. That is, unless we are referring to an artificial existence as a status (person) in the legal realm of fiction. No story or history could be told without the artifice of the artificial names of the persons, places, and things used to describe it. Yet True history happened despite any of these fictional descriptions and names (nouns). History is not built of words. Only man's perceptions of history is built upon words, for no man can Truly know history. It is our respect of the power of the names, numbers, and false images that confirms and ratifies the big lie; the idolatry of the image, the flattering titles, and the respect of the imaginary form over the Reality of True substance.

Who among us has not sold our Self to money? To fiction? Who among us does not treat money as a perfectly reasonable and Real tool? And who among us can possibly call ourselves free if the money of another binds our potential for reasoning and for living in a purely spiritual Life and Law?

—=—

“The way to crush the bourgeoisie (middle class) is to grind them between the millstones of taxation and inflation.”

—Vladimir Ilyich Lenin, Jewish Russian leader of the Bolshevik Revolution that killed millions.—

—=—

This term bourgeoisie will be discussed later, but it is defined as inhabitants having the rights of citizenship and political rights in a city (municipal corporation); in other words any national, districted, public citizenship of any nation. The common, general population. All strawmen regardless of wealth.

A child (legal entity) borne (birthed) into the legal matrix and illusion of mammon can only perceive reason according to that artificial construct. Thus, most of our capacity for reason is of an artificial source, making our reasoning ability only as good as that which we are taught and exposed to by the agencies and agents of that artificial legal matrix. The dungeon-masters. A flawed foundation can only lead to flawed logic (dialectic) and rhetoric based on flawed grammar, causing the so-called “trivium” method of liberal arts to be a pointless tool and endeavor when applied to the common, dog-Latin of the English language. A public teacher is a publicly educated person, and so can only teach within that public legal matrix, not without. The law of the legal code prevents any other methodologies to be expressed by its agents (teachers) in its bestowed degrees and credentialism. They can only teach public-mindedness. The colorblind can only teach the perspective and opinion of the colorblind. And yet the righteousness expressed by those so confident in their errors of reasoning through this language of illiteracy is the best example of non-spiritual, non-self-evident reasoning. To argue and debate over the correctness of the fictions created by man, including all his artifice of language arts, is the prime example of government (mind control).

Sadly, these statements will be taken as offensive by many readers. And yet Truth is only ever defensive. To be offended by what is self-evident Truth is to be wise in one's own conceit. It is to love (believe) the lie and embrace the grand delusion. The origins of this system of pure logic without spiritual consideration will be discussed in volume II of this work, where we find as much of a miserable failure of society as we do in today's system of government, as history merely repeating itself by those who ignore the substance and lessons of history in lieu of and respect of the importance of the empty names of the persons, places, things, and dates ascribed to that history.

And so we must remember that reason alone, that is, reason and logic without spirituality, without God, is only a tool of the legal fiction of church and state. Rulers (gods) rely on this false enlightenment, which is the artificial rubber-soul of their own binding law, which bonds all of us in our rented houses. Thus reason without spirituality has become the custom of all nations and all teachers and all priests. Truth without self-evidence is the name of the game. When the law is in harmony with the Natural Law, then and only then is it reasonable. But then, what purpose does legal law serve if it is in exact servitude to the Natural Law? None at all. For the reason of the legal law is designed for and will always be changed to suit the needs of the false legal gods against that Law of God.

See here the devolution of reason in its application of principle:

—=—

“Reason in law is perfect equity.”

—RATIO IN JURE AEQUITAS INTEGRAL. (Black4)

—=—

“Reason is the formal cause of custom.”

—RATIO EST FORMALIS CAUSA CONSUETUDINIS. (Black4)

—=—

“Reason is the soul of law; the reason of law being changed THE LAW IS ALSO CHANGED... The reason of law is the soul of law.”

—RATIO EST LEGIS ANIMA; MUTATA LEGIS RATIONE MUTATUR ET LEX. 7 Coke, 7. RATIO LEGIS EST ANIMA LEGIS. Jenk.Cent. 45. (Black4)

—=—

“Reason is a ray of the divine light.”

—RATIO EST RADIUS DIVINI LUMINIS. CO. Litt. 232. (Black4)

—=—

“Reason and authority, the two brightest lights of the world.”

—RATIO ET AUCTORITAS, DUO CLARISSIMA MUNDI LUMINA. 4 Inst. 320. (Black4)

—=—

Hard not to spot freemason diatribe in some of these maxims, eh?

Of course a king (sovereign) would perceive authority as a bright light; that of a devil's rule. To a king, the violent subjection of all other men is a naturally reasonable psychopathy. Reason will always be skewed by a man's status in society. The higher the status, the more his reason is warped according to his own falsely perceived authority, until at some point all of those below him in persona and title are condemnable. This is why the scriptures teach over and over never to respect the persons and flattering titles of any man, even in the replacing Jehovah with Jesus Christ. To worship the personification of Jehovah as christ without acknowledgement of the True Source and Nature of Jehovah (the Creator of christ) is a fruitless adventure, though many Christians have turned to call Jesus Christ as the Creator, as a separate god. For only with these false images is authority possible. And only with respect of such titles (like the “pope” being as a temporal “Christ” with spiritual jurisdiction) is our own voluntary subjection possible.

We must know that a “slave” may kill his “master” at any time, for the “master” is merely a magical word given authority by the will of the man believing himself to be trapped in the title of “slave,” which without scriptural knowledge seems a perfectly reasonable and logical state of mind. It is the authority of the word, the title of the man, that must be killed. The enemy is fiction, not the man bearing it. And we are all each other's enemy in our respect of legal fiction and the titles its creators (gods) create.

—=—

“It is impossible to enslave, mentally or socially, A BIBLE-READING PEOPLE. The principles of the bible are the groundwork of human freedom.”

—Horace Greeley, founding editor of ‘The New-Yorker’ and ‘New York Tribune’ newspapers

—=—

To be clear, “the law” is a bunch of words written on paper by mostly deceased men of old, whom in their imaginary flattering titles acted in the empty legal name (noun) of magistracy in some fictional government. It has no Life, no soul, and no actual spirit. We should never put the qualities of Jehovah (Nature, Reality) under the authority of man's art forms and customs, especially his legalistic rhetoric of law and purposefully fallacious logic (dialectic). Similitude is not sameness. Nature is not made of words and the respect of Its Life and Law should not be skewed by the selfish reasoning of man and mammon.

The concepts spoken of often in the proverbs (parables) of the Bible speak to the importance of Natural knowledge, understanding, and thus wisdom. Those who follow the ancient pagan, Latinized, humanistic “trivium” method of education restate these scriptural terms as grammar, logic, and rhetoric. Logic is another word for dialectic, which means to stand under (understand) whatever limited knowledge is received. But we must differentiate between the concepts of knowledge and grammar. Knowledge of that which is self-evident needs not grammar to fulfill its Existence or correctness, for grammar is only man's creation, not God's. One can easily learn and understand a lie and then logically proclaim its relevance with clever but unspiritual grammar-based rhetoric by using only this trivium method. In fact, this is the origin of legalism dating back to the early, pre-Christian Chinese empires that carried the title of logicians, which will be covered in volume II of this work. These societies were a miserable failure. This notion of dialectic or understanding is the make or break mental condition that causes man to either embrace Truth or succumb to a well-laid lie. Thus the quote above should be taken to heart for any that have fallen pray to this method of purely logic-based rhetoric. For improper grammar (as proclaimed knowledge) can seem to be certain in its enlightenment, just as Lucifer presents Himself in similitude to the Light of God.

To put this trivium method into proper perspective, two things may be said about it. One is that the trivium method may only be considered legitimate upon things and concepts created by man. Secondly, the trivium method is very much like the scientific method. It is a law, and law can be used wrongfully to subjugate. It is a tool that must be applied and used correctly and with open-mindedness. But both of these methods are instead worn as a sort of super hero-like cape or armor, institutionalized to the point that possessing them as a flattering title (that of scientist or triviumist, if you will) causes their very intent to be skewed and cause logical fallacy used to “win” an argument by shoving the trivium (word) in one’s face. Trivium is a noun, using it correctly is a verb. And so without eloquence or effect of passing on knowledge, the trivium itself therefore can be said to be its own fallacy when used as a weapon of debate; the notion of I’m right simply because I followed the trivium method, despite the dog-Latin my grammar is written in. If the grammar is despoiled, so too is the logic and resulting rhetoric. And remember, most public books are called as adversarial to True knowledge. This is not unlike many religions out there, whose practitioners might claim the correctness of themselves and the United States in its murdering of countless millions, a fallacious interpretation of the scriptural, spiritual knowledge if ever there was one. Any creation of man, either physical or mental, should be used only under careful consideration and care, and never without spiritual, scriptural Law as its superior check and balance.

— = —

“Wisdom is found only in truth.”

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

— = —

“A lie told often enough becomes the truth.”

—Vladimir Ilyich Lenin

— = —

We see here the danger in legalizing morals and Natural Law concepts from a negative (unwritten) aspect into the legal authority of strictly written and enforced positive law. The law enforces the lie and forces man to live by it while in a legal persona, while plugged-in to that legal matrix. Natural equity (under God’s Law) is a purely negative concept, meaning that man claims the understood negative right (privy) to be left alone in ones private affairs by assuming the duty to all men of doing the same unto all others. Non-interference; a Law breakable only to thwart unnatural (evil) actions against Nature. However, in the legalized artifice of what is named as “equity,” it re-presents the negative duties of man into a contractual, positive law, usually with the added intent of legally breaking with that scriptural Word (Son) of God’s Nature.

We must never forget that the legal law of today, that romanticized (from Roman times) “law of the land” is not unique to the American constitution in any way, merely the same old repetitive legal law of that moving, ever-evolving kingdom of the pagan Roman Empire. For the strict, civil law is only the continued law of Rome, lex scripta, a creation of the Pope of the Church and State.

LEX TERRAE - The law of the land. The phrase is used to distinguish this from the civil or Roman law. 2. By lex terrae, as used in Magna Charta, is meant one process of law, namely, proceeding by indictment or presentment of good and lawful men. In the constitution of Tennessee, the words "the law of the land" signify A GENERAL AND PUBLIC LAW, OPERATING EQUALLY UPON EVERY MEMBER OF THE COMMUNITY. (Bouv1856)

LEX TERRAE - The law of the land. The common law, or the due course of the common law; the GENERAL law of the land. Equivalent to "DUE PROCESS OF LAW." In the strictest sense, trial by oath; the privilege of making oath. Bracton uses the phrase to denote a freeman's privilege of being sworn in court as a juror or witness, which jurors convicted of perjury forfeited, (legem terrae amittant). The phrase means "the procedure of the old popular law." (Black4)

LEX SCRIPTA - Written law; law deriving its force, not from usage, but from express legislative enactment; STATUTE LAW. (From the Latin Maxim) "If the written law be silent, that which is drawn from manners and custom ought to be observed; and, if that is in any manner defective, then that which is next and analogous to it; and, IF THAT DOES NOT APPEAR, THEN THE LAW WHICH ROME USES SHOULD BE FOLLOWED." This maxim of Lord Coke is so far followed at the present day that, in cases where there is no precedent of the English courts, the civil law is always heard with respect, and often, though not necessarily, followed... (Black4)

WRITTEN LAW - or LEX SCRIPTA. This consists of THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, THE CONSTITUTIONS OF THE SEVERAL STATES, THE ACTS OF THE DIFFERENT LEGISLATURES, AS THE ACTS OF CONGRESS, AND OF THE LEGISLATURES OF THE SEVERAL STATES, AND OF TREATIES. See Statute. (Bouv1856)

—=—

The constitution of the United States is lex scripta. So whatever subject-matter is not specified in the written law therein, or by custom, etc., reverts to the Roman (pagan) Law!!! I cannot stress the importance of this statement by Mr. Bouvier, whose 1856 dictionary was commissioned by Congress and ratified as part of the "law of the land."

—=—

"The principles of the Roman law, being generally founded in superior wisdom, have insinuated themselves INTO EVERY PART OF THE LAW. Many of the refined rules which now adorn THE COMMON LAW appear there without any acknowledgment of their paternity, and it is at this source that some judges dip to get the wisdom which adorns their judgments. The proceedings of the COURTS OF EQUITY and many of the admirable distinctions which manifest their wisdom are derived from this source. To this fountain of wisdom the COURTS OF ADMIRALTY owe most of the law which governs in admiralty cases."

—Bouvier's Law Dictionary, 1856, definition for 'Sources Of The Law'

—=—

A man cannot escape True equity, no matter how private he is or how sovereign he claims to be, for the Natural Law is of a Purely equitable foundation. Man cannot escape his true nature nor the responsibility resulting by his actions. But a man can escape fictional publicity and therefore the positively constituted and created law (lex scripta) of man if he is at all times responsible for his own actions and avoids all commercially considered activity by avoiding all things in the personhood of mammon (monetary transactions valued in patented government currency considered as “interstate commerce”), while acting in the negative state of duty to his fellow man in bringing no harm or trespass thereof.

Without blood consideration, no man holds the status of one of the self-governed constituency of the sovereignty (We, the People), and thus cannot hold property through blood inheritance. The personhood and citizenship attained at legal birth is only as a debtor, user, and tenant. This is a criminal state of felony condemnation in censure. No blood, no heir. To place man’s person into legal and voluntary attainder is to mark a man as a beast of burden. The beast is you!

—=—

“And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God? For when THEY SHALL RISE FROM THE DEAD, THEY NEITHER MARRY, NOR ARE GIVEN IN MARRIAGE; And as touching the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? HE IS NOT THE GOD OF THE DEAD, BUT THE GOD OF THE LIVING: ye therefore do greatly err.”

—Mark 12: 24-27

—=—

Think you know what this means in dog-Latin?

Do you think this is talking about Natural death or civil death, spiritual life or spiritual death, as the God of the living and not the dead?

And why would one who rises from civil life into spiritual life seek to avoid the civilly binding contract of marriage by the legal State?

Because only fictional persons (dead creations of the state) can be married under the State’s man-made law! To be legally married, one must contract with the state in its legal person. Only a spiritually dead, civil person can get hitched by the state, a combination of two incorporated persons (surnames). True wedlock needs no contract and no government, for it is a vow to God, the most binding promise of all, whereas a legal marriage is merely a contract of mammon, a vow not to Jehovah but to the god of the church and state.

The God of the living... for life is Jehovah and Jehovah is life. How can one who legally claims to be in spiritual death (civil life) claim the power and protection of the spiritual, moral law by that of the Existing One, which is only the God of the living and spiritually minded souls of living men (of Creation)? A man that enters himself into a contractual dead pledge (in a citizen-ship) no longer has the authority and spirit of God’s Law by his side. For an artificial, civil life is figuratively representative of a spiritual death in corruption of blood. The living man acting as agent for the dead person cannot partake in the blessings of the living, Permanent Being of heaven on earth (God’s Kingdom), for his existence is false, his law is legal, his blood is tainted, and his god is mammon. So he can only remain in hell; the open-air debtor's prison of legal jurisdiction and obligation for civil life-forms called persons (debtors). We must realize that citizenship is contractually a voluntary spiritual death and a turning away from Jehovah and the Law of Nature into pure fiction. It is a contract with the devil (lived written in reverse). For personhood is a fictional anti-life, the opposite of living, the opposite of the Reality of Nature. And the only god of the dead is the state through its self-proclaimed status in the authority of magistrates, for man is and forever will be the only creator of fictional things. God Creates nothing artificial. Nature, as a foundational Law, neither produces nor respects any form of fiction.

Do you think, for instance, that when you get a contract of "life insurance" under your government issued surname, that the "life" in question is your own? Of course not. A life in-SUR-ance is only for the fictional SUR-name, which is property of the State (United States or other legal government corporation). It only covers the civil death of a fictional legal person, which is certified and registered with a death certificate. This is why all "benefits" are held up until the legal proof of the fictional death of the fictional person is certified by the government that owns its name (proper noun). Of course, the living man for whom that person is insured will never be able to collect on that insurance, for the life of the puppet depends upon the life of its ship-master who operates it. Life insurance is indeed a paradox unless you comprehend that the insurance does not cover any Creation of God, but only the legal name assigned in fiction as the strawman. This is all part of the legal concept of surety, ensuring profitability upon commercial entities. The State promotes insurance upon its own property (its person), and enjoys the cosmic joke that man should pay premiums throughout his life for the sureness of his own death. Government certainly and with pleasure suffers fools who pay for the legal benefits of their own demise. And in Reality, an insurance policy is nothing more than the creation of money, which the company uses as an investment tool for profit and gain until that money must be paid out to the "dead" person's willed beneficiaries. Not family as by inheritance, but to whatever corporate legal id-entity is listed in receivership. It may be a natural person or an artificial person (corporation). It's all a scam to cause man to use his strawman signature to create new debt money into mammon, without which the insurance corporation would have no capital. As for the man, the citizenship, all he sees is the prize at the end of his adventure in a spiritually dead life, one that in Life he will never obtain. The reward is nothing but an inducement to contract, a carrot on a stick, just one of many of satan's tricks.

Ever noticed that a man can somehow be convicted and sent to prison for what are called "consecutive life sentences?" How is this possible... unless the life spoken of is not of this Reality of Nature and only exists in the fictional, legal realm? A man is by his blood destined to die but once in the Reality of life on Earth, but a legal person can live (in artificiality) as a corporation for eternity in false immortality; in paper fiction. So the man, while acting merely as surety in bond to the person, can only serve those so-called "life" sentences for as long as his real life-force under God (in Nature) holds out while in that legal captivity. But the actual terms of the legal punishment upon that legal person, thank God, can never be actually fulfilled by the living man in his Reality of life in Nature. The time is written off as a valuable consideration in the end, for the imprisoning of a man in person through his surety bond is merely another commercial enterprise for the profit of the state.

Time is in-deed money.

Speaking of civil life, how many rose from the dead and into a spiritual life (civil death) under God in Nature, from Lazarus to Jesus, in the Bible? Without understanding the dualistic higher language (higher = higher in authority), the common man will think of this as the simple, vulgar story of the physical dying of these men; of an ancient, mini-zombie apocalypse perhaps. For it is only through this duality of words in which a master wordsmith creates either confusion or comprehension.

— = —

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, AND THE LIFE: he that believeth in me, THOUGH HE WERE DEAD, YET SHALL HE LIVE: And whosoever LIVETH AND BELIEVETH in me shall NEVER DIE.”

—John 11: 25-26, KJB

— = —

But wait a minute! How can a dead man buried deep in the ground believe in anything? The literalist will literally kill other men over the perceived literal fact that this must be taken as a literal interpretation. But you must be living to have the capacity to believe in something, don't you?

In dog-Latin, this is like unto a riddle. It must be deciphered. In applying logic and reason here we must surmise that Christ absolutely and without question had to be referring to a living man partaking in civil (dead) life. Christ's message is to all of the spiritually dead living in civil (legal) captivity and within the nativity bond of nations as a dead pledger in this debtor's hell. For that message would be unheard among the already physically dead and buried empty vessels, soulless husks absent of the spirit of life that would allow such Belief (Pure Love, Truth, and Charity). In the finality of physical death, obviously the spirit would already know its fate, and vulgar belief would be unnecessary in the face of God.

To be clear, only living men can Truly Be in belief (Love), for belief has no place after Life is extinguished. Life is a prerequisite for belief, considering its demanding limitations upon the soul. No brain, no heart, no belief. And so to live in Nature only for the expectation of some life after physical death is in fact a ridiculous notion perpetrated by many ancient, barbarous, idolatrous religions from the dawn of recorded history. This is only an excuse to harm Nature (God's Creation) as if Creation is not the True evidence of God. And destruction of evidence is a crime in both realms, which is why the anarchist legal church and state gives permissive license for crimes against Nature (God). These institutions simply cannot exist without ignoring scripture (knowledge).

It is important here to note that the word believeth (belief/love) is purposefully misapplied by all corporate religions so that men may merely emotionally externalize God but never internalize God's Word and Law through their own actions (pro-verb). Again, we see the tenet of legalized “freedom of religion” here, where the name is believed in but the verb (actions) of that belief and the application of that Supreme Law are ignored. And so, if I were to ask the reader to prove he “believes” (Loves) in God, what proof would he show? What, if not the actions of man, may prove the convictions of his moral belief? What, if not the willingness to die for one's belief (love), could possibly be proof thereof? For the simple act of citizenship in commerce and therefore respect of mammon (money) is evidence only of false belief in the lies of false doctrines of corporations (artificial persons) of the State, which we call as legal churches and legal religions.

We may believe that we can build a barn, but unless we act upon our belief, the barn will remain always a subject of the pure artifice of vulgar faith only (name only) - a figment of imagination. Until we physically take action to build it, it will remain unbuilt. Likewise, to merely believe without True Love and devotion in the scriptures (or in the name of “God”) is not the same as acting upon their guidance. And we must remember that a citizen-ship of the United States is bound to believe and act under man's legal law in surety and no other, and that acting under the scriptural law would be illegal under man's legal code and while under legal persona. Moral thought is allowed. But moral action based on that belief (love) is not allowed without license from the state to commit an illegal act of a legally (adversarially) considered equitable nature.

Think about that for a moment...

So why do these incorporated state churches wish for you to believe in but never act according to God's Word (Son)? Could it be that those magistrates are acting as gods over their own fictional creation, and that the ten commandments are clear that man should have no such false gods?

The sinner, the man living in the spiritual death engagement of personhood as a dead-pledge (mort-gage), can rise from that state of dead being and become part of the Supreme and Permanent Being of Nature once again, but only by acting upon his moral beliefs and against that of the legal fiction. And in this state of the Reality of Life he can never be declared legally alive in the fiction, for his body is only of the spiritual realm of Life. He can never die a spiritual death again, unless he wills and consents yet again to that legal artifice which he knows is opposed to his very Nature.

To believe in the law is to act according to the law. We obviously believe in government and its false legal law more so than in God, for we are acting against God's Law with every breath while in a state of artificial personhood. The power of choice...

The Bible is not about some ethereal after-life that cannot be comprehended by man within this realm of Existence. It is about staying always alive after civil death in God's realm of Nature under God's law of Nature without falling back into the hell (debt prison) of legal fiction. This, allegorically, is called as eternal life, a spiritual life under God free of legal death. God is the only solution to the artifice of mammon, and mammon is likewise the only solution to God.

This spiritual Existence is the Natural state of man before his certified birth into that matrix of legal personhood; of simulated reality. It is simply a matter of choosing which master one wishes to serve, God or mammon, just as the scriptures teach, and no matter what the consequence. God Is and knows only the spirit of life. Mammon knows only the form (valuation in money) of artificial life, and is the true soul of man's law. The spirit is destroyed when one is birthed into the artificial form of mammon, just as the spirit is released from that status of spiritual death when one is reborn into God's Nature by abandoning all things mammon.

If the reader still thinks this Biblical story is merely religious nonsense and "dogma" instead of the foundation of all law and of Life itself, we have a lot of quite down-to-earth revelations to explore. For this is the Bible as you've never been able to see it, with True origin of grammar, without dogma and without the confidence game (faith) of the marriage between Church and State.

DOGMA - In the civil law. A word occasionally used as descriptive of AN ORDINANCE OF THE SENATE. (Black4)

ORDINANCE - A rule ESTABLISHED BY AUTHORITY; a permanent rule of action; a law or statute.

In a more limited sense, the term is used to designate THE ENACTMENTS OF THE LEGISLATIVE BODY OF A MUNICIPAL CORPORATION. The name has also been given to certain enactments, more general in their character than ordinary statutes, and serving as organic laws, yet not exactly to be called "constitutions." Such was the "Ordinance for the government of the NorthWest Territory," enacted by congress in 1787... An ordinance was otherwise distinguished from a statute by the circumstance that the latter required the threefold assent of king, lords, AND COMMONS, while an ordinance might be ORDAINED BY ONE OR TWO OF THESE CONSTITUENT BODIES. (Black4)

— = —

In other words, the dogma of the senate in government needs not the will of its common subjects behind it. Ordinance (dogma) is the will and word of the gods. The legal law is created despite its citizenships (commoners) to control their registered persons just as the church supplants its own doctrines in lieu of the Bible to control its membership and steer us all away from the True scriptural teachings that all men of God should be partaking in. Remember, a Bible reading people cannot be enslaved, which is to say that a Bible reading people would never allow their Selves to be replicated into fictional citizenships under evil men.

Because the scriptures are antagonistic and subversive to church and state, perhaps this organized deceit is understandable, though certainly not forgivable.

One of the most beautiful qualities inherent within this Law of Nature, to which we attribute to God as Jehovah in that Permanence of Supreme Being, is in fact that very Permanence Itself. While Nature and the Laws governing it never change, man's law is quite opposite to this, changing at the moment where the law gets in the way of man's unrelenting progress towards overcoming his own place in that Permanence of Being. Man's law has no foundation in Permanence, even as its very foundational constitution is amended to no end or limit. But perhaps most telling in preponderance of this legal snake continuously speaking itself into a further existence of form as words without substance, is the fact that man's legal laws have no sacred permanence. For the whole system is built on fiction. Its pillars are nothing if not completely interpretable and therefore in a permanent state of opinionated alteration per the desire of the judicial, administrative whim. For the law means nothing until presented in court, and a corruption of the judicial is the only ingredient necessary to continuously destroy (and thus rebuild) the intent of the law.

—=—

“We are under a Constitution, BUT THE CONSTITUTION IS WHAT THE JUDGES SAY IT IS, and the judiciary is the safeguard of our liberty and of our property under the Constitution.”

—Charles Evans Hughes, 11th Chief Justice of the United States, 44th United States Secretary of State, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and 36th Governor of New York

—=—

“We have seen that the American Constitution has changed, is changing, and by the law of its existence must continue to change, IN ITS SUBSTANCE AND PRACTICAL WORKING EVEN WHEN ITS WORDS REMAIN THE SAME.”

—James Bryce, Chief Secretary for Ireland (U.K.), Ambassador to the United States of America (U.K.), President of the Board of Trade (U.K.), Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs (U.K.), etc.

—=—

“It is emphatically the province and duty of the Judicial Department to say what the law is. Those who apply the rule to particular cases, must of necessity expound and interpret that rule. If two laws conflict with each other, the courts must decide on the operation of each.”

“It is emphatically the province and duty of the Judicial Department to say what the law is... If two laws conflict with each other, the Courts must decide on the operation of each. So, if a law be in opposition to the Constitution... the Court must determine which of these conflicting rules governs the case. This is of the very essence of judicial duty.”

—John Marshall, 4th Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, 4th United States Secretary of State, Member, U.S. House of Representatives from Virginia, 1st quote from: 1803 [John Marshall and John Edward Oster, The Political and Economic Doctrines of John Marshall (New York: Neale Publishing Co., 1914), pg. 307.] 2nd quote from: Marbury v. Madison, 1803.

—=—

"Presidents come and go, but the Supreme Court goes on forever."

—William Howard Taft, 27th U.S. president, 10th Chief Justice of the United States, 42nd United States Secretary of War, quoted from: c. 1910 [Richard Panchyk, Our Supreme Court (Chicago Review Press, 2006), pg. 1.]

—=—

"No higher duty, or more solemn responsibility rests upon this Court than that of translating into living law and maintaining this constitutional shield... for the benefit of every human being subject to our Constitution — of whatever race, creed, or persuasion.”

—Hugo Black, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, U.S. Senator from Alabama, quoted from: 1940 [Bill Swainson, ed., Encarta Book of Quotations (Macmillan, 2000), pg.116.]

—=—

"The WORDS of the Constitution... are so UNRESTRICTED by their intrinsic meaning or by their history or by tradition or by prior decisions that they leave the individual Justice free, if indeed they do not compel him, to gather meaning NOT FROM READING THE CONSTITUTION BUT FROM READING LIFE."

—Felix Frankfurter, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, quoted from: 1949 [Alpheus Thomas Mason, The Supreme Court from Taft to Burger (LSU Press, 1979), pg. 14.]

—=—

"The life of the law has not been logic, it has been experience.... The law embodies the story of a nation's development through many centuries, and it cannot be dealt with as if it contained only the axioms and corollaries of a book of mathematics."

—Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Chief and Associate Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court, quoted from: 1880 [Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., The Common Law (1880; reprint published by The Lawbook Exchange, Ltd., 2004), pg. 1.]

—=—

"The Constitution, on this hypothesis, is a mere thing of wax in the hands of the Judiciary, which they may twist and shape into any form they please."

--Thomas Jefferson

The illusion of the permanence and authority of man's law and constitution cannot be understated here, for it is this fictional judicial authority alone that declares the virtual reality of the meaning of man's law daily and according to the needs of the fictional "nation" they represent in office. This organized chaos stands starkly opposed to the Supremacy and Permanence signified by the equitable and unchangeable Law of God's Nature as the scriptures teach. In this way, the legislative law is merely the legalized simulation of law, having no actual Existence and solely based upon the later opinions of the judicial that are placed upon it. Thus, to say that a legislative law is "constitutional" or "unconstitutional" is purely rhetorical, for this assessment cannot be made by any body except the justices of the court. Evil men decide what is evil from evil's (fiction's) perspective, and may only do so through their legally-granted flattering titles bestowed upon them by presidents and electors. This is the reasoning of law-makers.

JUS DARE - To MAKE the law. (WCA1889)

JUS DICERE - To SAY what the law is; to APPLY the law. (WCA1889)

JUS DICERE, NON DARE - To declare, not to make, the law. The duty of a judge is TO APPLY THE LAW AS MADE, NOT TO LEGISLATE. The courts ADMINISTER the law AS THEY FIND IT; they are not to make or modify it. Hence, considerations as to expediency are to be addressed to the law-making body. See Hardship. (WCA1889)

And this difference between making (creating) law and declaring (applying) that law which is already made brings us to the notion of "judicial discretion," which in this author's opinion is one of the most harmful legal concepts in legal existence. Here we can see that a judge, as a god, truly is above the law he portends to follow. The administrative judge is the butcher of that which is created by the legislative gods. But we should never be fooled into believing that these two "branches" of government are not in collusion. They are merely parts of the same confederation (conspiracy). Everything, including law, is interpretable. Words are transmutable. Art is permeable. Intention is repairable.

DISCRETION - A LIBERTY OR PRIVILEGE allowed to a judge, within the confines of right and justice, but INDEPENDENT OF NARROW AND UNBENDING RULES OF POSITIVE LAW, to decide and act in accordance with what is fair, equitable, and wholesome, as determined upon the peculiar circumstances of the case, and as discerned by his PERSONAL WISDOM AND EXPERIENCE, guided by the spirit, principles, and analogies of the law... (Black1)

DISCRETION - Power or privilege of the court TO ACT UNHAMPERED BY LEGAL RULE. When applied to public functionaries, discretion means a power or right conferred upon them by law of acting officially in certain circumstances, according to the dictates OF THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND CONSCIENCE, UNCONTROLLED BY THE JUDGMENT OR CONSCIENCE OF OTHERS. This discretion undoubtedly is to some extent regulated by usage, or, if the term is preferred, BY FIXED PRINCIPLES. But by this is to be understood nothing more than that the same court cannot, consistently with its own dignity, and with its character and duty of administering impartial justice, decide in different ways two cases in every respect exactly alike. The question of fact whether the two cases are alike in every color, circumstance, and feature is of necessity to be submitted to the judgment of some tribunal... (Black4)

DISCRETION - noun - [Latin, a separating. See Discreet.] 1. Prudence, or knowledge and prudence; that discernment which enables a person to judge critically of what is correct and proper, united with caution; nice discernment and judgment, directed by circumspection, and primarily regarding ones own conduct. A good man--will guide his affairs with discretion. Psalms 112:5. My son, keep sound wisdom and discretion. Proverbs 3:21. 2. LIBERTY OR POWER OF ACTING WITHOUT OTHER CONTROL THAN ONES OWN JUDGMENT; as, the management of affairs was left to the discretion of the prince; he is left to his own discretion Hence, To surrender at discretion is TO SURRENDER WITHOUT STIPULATION OR TERMS, AND COMMIT ONES SELF ENTIRELY TO THE POWER OF THE CONQUEROR. 3. Disjunction; separation. [Not much used.] (Webs1828)

—=—

So a judge has no set law under which to act or decide matters, and only relies on his own assumed moral compunction, personal moral, amoral or immoral wisdom, and supposedly wholesome, conscious opinion? And he is to base that opinion only upon the spirit and principals (maxims) of man's law? Is that not what a conqueror would be expected to do over his subjects? And are we not submitting ourselves to these gods as our conquerors every time we fictionally appear in their strawman and respect their false judgements?

Did not the scriptures warn us about respecting the laws and judgements of men over God's?

—=—

“Every generation gets the Constitution that it deserves. As the central preoccupations of an era make their way into the legal system, the Supreme Court eventually weighs in, and nine lawyers in robes become oracles of OUR NATIONAL IDENTITY.”

—Noah Feldman

—=—

The only problem is that the principles (maxims) of the law allow for the totality of utter corruption in every way possible through contracts via volunteerism and through other designs. They allow lies to be truth by confirmation and ratification. They allow fiction to be the virtue of a false reality. And they allow men to be gods and slaves. All it takes is a bit of ignorance and the application of a public education and man may consent to just about any tyranny imaginable as long as it is dressed up as legal, patriotic justice.

ADJUDICATE - To settle in the exercise of JUDICIAL AUTHORITY. TO DETERMINE FINALLY.
Synonymous with adjudge in its strictest sense. (Black1)

ADJUDICATION - The giving judgment or decree in a cause; also the judgment or pronouncing a given. Or the entry of a decree by a court in respect to the parties in a case. It implies a hearing by a court, after notice, of legal evidence on the factual issue involved. The equivalent of a “determination.” And contemplates that, the claims of all the parties thereto have been considered and SET AT REST. The term is principally used in bankruptcy proceedings, the adjudication being the order which declares the debtor to be a bankrupt. (Black4)

ADJUDICATIO - In the civil law, an adjudication. The judgment of the court that THE SUBJECT-MATTER IS THE PROPERTY OF ONE OF THE LITIGANTS; CONFIRMATION OF TITLE BY JUDGMENT. (Black1)

ADJUDGE - To pass on judicially, to decide, settle, or decree, or TO SENTENCE OR CONDEMN. Judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction: equivalent of convicted and sentenced. Implies A JUDICIAL DETERMINATION OF A FACT, and the entry of a judgment. Does not mean the same as deemed contra, under statute, only of an act of the court. (Black4)

— = —

Imagine having the power to declare with an executive military force backing your decisions just what is the fact and intention of law, when we know that the principles of legality state that any lie or untruth can be declared judiciously as a fact (as white can be adjudged to be black, and a black-skinned man like Barack Obama can be legally and by blood genealogy a “white person”). You don’t need to imagine this, for it is the administrative system most of us consent to in our public personas. If this is the ultimate power, that of gods, and any power ultimately corrupts man, then what man could possibly claim the right and responsibility to adjudicate any other man even by his own apparent moral code and conscious?

The Bible seems to suggest this to be an impossibility, acknowledging the inherent corruption not of man himself, but in all of man’s designs and their influence upon all of man. The only incorruptible man is one in Nature, under God alone, where no fictions may effect his judgements. For only in Nature and in Its Highest Law may man’s intentions remain Pure (Natural). But then, in this state of Being, in the Purest Love and Charity, no man would seek to be such a judge and punisher of other men. Only corrupt men with blemished soul in persona may allow themselves to be judges in flattering title.

We must know that any law at any time and at the whim of the court, whether written or unwritten, be it constitutional or not and whether known or unknown in history or precedent, can be instantly, magically invoked through this adjudication process at any time. This is the nature of judicial discretion, privilege, and authority. That is to say that there is no law because any law can be made to suddenly exist or not exist at the pleasure of the court magistrates; the creators of precedent. All deviations in the professed opinion of law being possible equates in reality to truly having no law at all. And this, above all else, should scare the hell out of you...

— = —

“A new adjudication does not make a new law, but DECLARES THE OLD; because ADJUDICATION IS THE UTTERANCE OF THE LAW, and by adjudication THE LAW IS NEWLY REVEALED which was for a long time hidden.”

—NOVUM JUDICIUM NON DAT NOVUM JUS, SED DECLARAT ANTIQUM; QUIA JUDICIUM EST JURIS DICTUM ET PER JUDICIUM JUS EST NOVITER REVELATUM QUOD DIU FUIT VELATUM. 10 Coke, 42. (Black4)

— = —

In other words, the law has the potential to be adjudicated and administered in any way and with any word-magic (opinion) as the terms of art that the administrators (magistrate gods) see fit. Truly, there is no law of man but that which exists to be altered without notice. Thus man’s law is considered as temporary next to God’s, changing even as quickly as the fads of each generation. This allows the true intent of the state to remain hidden until the time arises for it to be invoked through the king’s (sovereignty’s) court.

But in the legal, commercial realm, the public law created by the sovereign People and their governments are set up only to control their public agents and protect themselves, as the citizenships and corporations under its agency relationship jurisdiction, which is not in any way a form of “constitutional law.”

—=—

“A constitution is, in fact, and must be regarded by the JUDGES, as a fundamental law. It therefore belongs to THEM to ascertain its meaning, as well as the meaning of any particular act proceeding from the legislative body. If there should happen to be an irreconcilable variance between the two, that which has the superior obligation and validity ought, of course, to be preferred; or, in other words, the Constitution ought to be preferred to the statute, THE INTENTION OF THE PEOPLE TO THE INTENTION OF THEIR AGENTS.”

—Alexander Hamilton, excerpted from: “Federalist No. 78”

—=—

Of course the legislature are the elected agents of the sovereign People of the several (private) States, who also stand in their federal capacity as public lawmakers, as the principal to which all other United States agents, including public United States citizen-ships, stand under in surety to that legally contracted persona (dis-ease). Most importantly, a public person (citizenship) is not a party to the constitution, as will be thoroughly discussed herein, and so the acts of that legislative body effect only public persons and not the private People of each private (several) State.

In the end, just as all corporate state religions accomplish within their own professed and ever-changing doctrines, and which stand purposefully in antithesis to the very bible scriptures they pretend to emulate and follow, man’s legal law has no attachment to Reality, to Nature, to man, and therefore to God (the Permanence of Creation). The Natural Law of God never changes, not by the hand of man or by the Supremacy of Jehovah. But the legal law’s foundation is purposefully movable, changeable, alterable, and thus in its essence purely non-existent in any permanent substance, living only in its current form that may be changed at any moment. And this is why the Bible instructs that no man should put faith in other men or specifically into their imperfect legal laws of always changing fiction.

—=—

“There was in a city a judge, which FEARED NOT GOD, NEITHER REGARDED MAN... And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.”

—Luke 18: 2 and 6, KJV

—=—

“And said to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the LORD, who is with you in the judgment.”

—2 Chronicles 19:6, KJB

—=—

“Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.”

—Romans 14:13, KJB

—=—

“That your faith should not STAND in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.”

—1 Corinthians 2: 5, KJB

—=—

“And be FOUND in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith...”

—Philippians 3: 9, KJB

—=—

“But that NO MAN IS JUSTIFIED BY THE LAW IN THE SIGHT OF GOD, IT IS EVIDENT: for, The just shall live by faith (Truth). AND THE LAW IS NOT OF FAITH: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them.”

—Galatians 3: 11-12, KJB

—=—

“Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; YE HAVE EATEN THE FRUIT OF LIES: because thou didst TRUST in thy way, IN THE MULTITUDE OF THY MIGHTY MEN.”

—Hosea 10: 13, KJB

—=—

“But as we were allowed of God to be put in TRUST with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.”

—1 Thessalonians 2: 4, KJB

—=—

“Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought FOR THEM THAT TRUST IN THEE BEFORE THE SONS OF MEN!”

—Psalms 31: 19, KJB

—=—

Yet another purposeful miscommunication of the meaning of scriptural terminology by church doctrine and mis-transliteration is that notion of “fear” as a state of mind in name (noun) only as opposed to a conscious guide for our actions (verb). This notion of fearing God seems like an oxymoron if the reader or follower of the church doctrines does not seek the meaning of this concept from its original source. For the term does not refer to the actual fear of Nature (God), as that would be ridiculous, for we are certainly a part of God’s Creation of Nature. We would then need to fear our own Selves. This notion of fear is one of reactiveness, as of the fear of harming God’s Nature and transgressing from Its Laws. For it is the opposing force against God that is to be feared by men; the fear of what happens when we do not live spiritually in and under God’s Law of Nature (and in our own). For the nature of our actions against God can only result in the disease, poverty, debt, destruction, devolution, and slavery to artifice in mammon that we see today. To fear God, in other words, is to live according to God’s Natural Law for fear of exactly what has happened to the world today. With faith and trust in God’s Nature of Being, and in man’s being friendly to that state of Being, so fear may manifest into Reality. The notion of fearing God is only the notion of what happens when God (and Its Realm of Nature) is not respected - the consequences of our own actions against the best interests of ourselves and that Nature which sustains our very livelihood and the essence of our Existence. To fear God is to fear the evils and wickedness that will cause us dis-ease and end our very life by respecting that which should instead be avoided by embracing God’s Law and Natural, negative protection.

—=—

“The fear of the LORD (as: ‘Jehovah’) prolongeth days: but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.”

—Proverbs 10:27, KJB

—=—

Fear and worship are in essence the same word. To fear God is to respect God’s Design, to actively fight the disrespect of any part of Nature (Creation), for evil manifests only through the minds of men acting against and in place of (anti) God, and so the consequences of evil (artifice) against Nature’s Design is what we would call as the result of God’s (Nature’s) wrath. Worship (fear) of God equates to the comprehension and realization of what happens when we don’t. And so we are taught to instead fear government and religion and dismiss Jehovah, and we suffer because our fear is misplaced into the fiction of the false gods instead of in the Nature of Reality under God.

The fear one might feel while walking along a cliff where one misstep might result in our own physical injury or death, or that our trespass may start an avalanche upon the hikers below us; this would be an example of how fear is a requirement for life under God and the duty to protect it. Only a fool fears not.

—=—

“And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, THAT IS WISDOM; and to depart from evil IS UNDERSTANDING.”

— = —

Let us be clear here, that wisdom is found only in truth, and that christ's actions in Jehovah are the story of self-evident Truth against evil. If we do not fear the horrors of history, we are doomed to repeat and live them again. And yet this is a double-edged sword. For if we respect all history as fact, we are doomed to live in the consequences of a historical lie told often enough that it appears to us as Truth. We live today in the modern legal lie that is based on the history of Roman law. History, quite simply, is not of God but of men. There is no self-evidence in history. If we do not fear the Truth (the Real Nature of Jehovah), we will easily believe in and fall prey to the big lie. If we do not fear Nature, we are doomed to a dead life of non-spiritual existence without it. If we do not fear and respect our spouse, we may find ourselves in spiritual emptiness and working overtime due to alimony payments. If we do not fear technology (art), we will become it.

Webster describes this notion of fearing God succinctly:

FEAR - noun - [See the Verb.] 1. A painful emotion or passion excited by an expectation of evil, or the apprehension of impending danger. Fear expresses less apprehension than dread, and dread less than terror and fright. The force of this passion, beginning with the most moderate degree, may be thus expressed, fear dread, terror, fright. Fear is accompanied with a desire TO AVOID OR WARD OFF THE EXPECTED EVIL. Fear is an uneasiness of mind, upon the thought of future evil likely to befall us. Fear is the passion of our nature which excites us TO PROVIDE FOR OUR SECURITY, ON THE APPROACH OF EVIL. 2. Anxiety; solicitude. The principal fear was for the holy temple. 3. The cause of fear. Thy angel becomes a fear. 4. The object of fear. Except the God of Abraham, and the fear of Isaac, had been with me. Genesis 31:42. 5. Something set or hung up to terrify wild animals, by its COLOR or noise. Isaiah 24:17. Jeremiah 48:43. 6. In scripture, fear is used to express a filial or a slavish passion. IN GOOD MEN, THE FEAR OF GOD IS A HOLY AWE OR REVERENCE OF GOD AND HIS LAWS, which springs from a just view and REAL LOVE of the divine character, LEADING THE SUBJECTS OF IT TO HATE AND SHUN EVERY THING THAT CAN OFFEND SUCH A HOLY BEING, and inclining them to aim at perfect obedience. THIS IS FILIAL FEAR. I will put my fear in their hearts. Jeremiah 32:39. Slavish fear is the effect or consequence of guilt; it is the painful apprehension of merited punishment. Romans 8:15. THE LOVE OF GOD CASTETH OUT FEAR. 1 John 4:1. 7. The worship of God. I will teach you the fear of the Lord. Psalms 34:7. 8. THE LAW AND WORD OF GOD. THE FEAR OF THE LORD IS CLEAN, ENDURING FOR EVER. Psalms 19:9. 9. Reverence; RESPECT; due regard. Render to all their dues; fear to whom fear. Romans. 13:7. - verb transitive - [Latin vereor.] 1. To feel a painful apprehension of some impending evil; to be afraid of; to consider or expect with emotions of alarm or solicitude. We fear the approach of an enemy or of a storm. We have reason to fear the punishment of our sins. I WILL FEAR NO EVIL, FOR THOU ART WITH ME. Psalms 23. 2. To reverence; to have a reverential awe; to venerate. THIS DO, AND LIVE: FOR I FEAR GOD. Genesis 42:18. 3. To affright; to terrify; to drive away or prevent approach by fear or by a scarecrow. [This seems to be the primary meaning, but now obsolete.] We must not make a scarecrow of the law, setting it up to fear the birds of prey. - verb intransitive - To be in apprehension of evil; to be afraid; to feel anxiety on account of some expected evil. But I fear lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, SO YOUR MINDS SHOULD BE CORRUPTED FROM THE SIMPLICITY THAT IS IN CHRIST. 2 Corinthians 11:3. Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward. Gen 15. - noun - A companion. [Not in use. See Peer.] (Webs1828)

— = —

Clearly christ feared only God and no other, super hero as he was. This is to say that, unlike most of us, he had no fear of the false authority of government, or of the men acting as its agents. Misplaced fear is the very soul of citizenship.

Example of this fear might present itself when reading a mortgage or any other contract without truly comprehending the words within. Or it might come upon us when we spray poison on weeds (life) or crush the life from one of God's minute Creatures. The fear of God may manifest when we clear-cut a forest with license from the legal authorities, or when we accept a paycheck and a public or military pension for our individual act in the butchering of whole villages of men, woman, and children in the name of purely commercial wars for profit and gain of the nation we are supporting with our actions and inactions, bearing its Arms as its prostitutes instead of our bearing our own blood and the Blood of christ. It is this fear of the consequences and evil nature of our own deeds that is presented here as the fear of God.

Latin principles of law agree here as well, where we can read:

—=—

“If many are better led by love, more are corrected by fear.”

—Si meliores sunt quos ducit amor, plures sunt quos corrigit timer. Co. Litt. 392. (BouvMaxims)

—=—

“They who fear, take care and avoid.”

—QUI TIMENT, CAVENT VITANT. Branch, Princ. (Black4)

—=—

“Punishment to a few, dread or fear to all.”

—Paena ad paucos, metus ad omnes. (BouvMaxims)

—=—

“That by the punishment of a few, the fear of it may affect all.”

—Ut paena ad paucos, metus ad omnes perveniat. 4 Inst. 63. (BouvMaxims)

—=—

“Those are vain fears which do not affect a man of a firm mind.”

—Qui non cadunt in constantem virem, vani timores sunt astinandi. 7 Co. 27. (BouvMaxims)

—=—

"Fears which do not assail a resolute man are to be accounted vain.”

—TIMORES VANI SUNT AESTIMANDI QUI NON CADUNT CONSTANTEM VIRUM. 7 Coke, 17. (Black4)

—=—

Fear is used by governments through sanctions, the punishment for breaking legally imposed laws. And yet, the whole point of fearing God is that man need not be entrapped under the legal law. To fear God is to obey the Law of God so that no other law may effect us. To obey the legal law is to have no fear of God, or to pretend in vain to believe (love) God while obeying another, legal god. Our fear must be focused upon our goals, not our vices. To fear government is to take another god before Jehovah. To fear God is to necessarily despise all things legal, which includes kings and the idea of any sovereignty other than that place under Jehovah caused by such fear of It.

It is the English language that so purposefully misinterprets and obfuscates such words as fear, causing men to believe (love) in the opposite meanings of so many beautiful concepts. Thus we must, strangely enough, come to recognize this state of fear is a state of True Love of all things Real. We must be conscious that without the Source of Love and respect of God's Nature and Law as that of fiction, citizenship, membership, and artifice. Love of nothing substantial, only form. Simulation. Vanity. For fear without Love (Source) is that which the church and state promote in their fictions as a means of controlling men in their false personas, the fear of images and fabled monsters yes, but especially the fear of ceremonial priests (gods) imbued with secular, legal authority over men.

—=—

“Fear can make you do more wrong than hate or jealousy... fear makes you always, always hold something back.”

—Philip K. Dick, quoted from: 'VALIS'

—=—

In other words, we should take care to avoid those things which we fear might ensnare us in pain and trouble in the future, both with our fellow man and under God's Nature. Contracts of any type should be doubly feared, for they bind man in a fictional surety for some performance of a future deed as a certainty, and often stand against the true will of the man so bound. Pure Love, Devotion, and Charity seek no contract, and so these should be always of man's intention. That which we have no need to fear is that which we should strive to exist within. We have no need to fear God if we only act under God's Law. Thus fearing God is only the state of mind that equals fear of all things not of (belonging to) God. And so if one who claims love seeks a legally binding contract of marriage, if religion and government seek forced devotion to its legal principles in membership to its corporate structure, and if charity requires corporate interests and contractual and taxable obligations under those legal, contractual requirements, chances are that these things should be feared and thus avoided in lieu of their Natural, equitable equivalents under God's Law. Love, Devotion, and Charity need never obtain man's fictions of law, and in Reality are utterly destroyed in their true intent by such corporate, impostor systems.

All of these systems and the tools that invoke such evil stem from one source: artifice. It is only in anarchy of God's Nature and Law thereof that evil acts may be respected and protected in their commitment. And the government's of men are created specifically for this purpose, as institutionalized evil through legal means that are opposed to the Natural Law. It is seemingly only through the justification and license (anarchy) of that artificial legal law of men that our acts against God's Nature are conducted without fear. We believe in our own permissive, governed lie that we may each act with licensed impunity against the very Supreme and Permanence of Being that sustains us. This is in totality unreasonable.

—=—

“The safest course is to do nothing against one's conscience. With this secret, we can enjoy life and have no fear from death.”

—Voltaire

—=—

Now let us pause here and be perfectly clear...

Throughout this journey, the author wishes for the reader to remember the key to everything written within this work. Without the comprehension of this one concept as a foundation for all subjects within, the reader will fail in his or her mission to see the unseen, to touch the untouchable, and to perceive that which is not reality. For like a computer simulation, the legal code only exists as a script in text format (syntax) and nowhere else.

As upon your so-called “smart” technology device (such as a cellphone), the legal code can only exist through an application (a forced, false appearance) of that codex. And so you may download a file with that word code, and the phone application changes those words (syntax) into a visual re-presentation of the code, allowing your imaginary perception of something that seems Real enough. The lie of fiction thus appears as truth. Yet, like peering into the looking glass, we still (hopefully) perceive that what appears on the screen is nothing more than a fictional re-presentation of a specific coded language, no matter how realistic or 3-dimensional it seems in its false impersonation of Reality. The appearance of pictures and video (moving pictures) is simply a mass of organized word-data; a script that can no more be viewed in Reality than the blowing wind, requiring some artificially created device to manifest its appearance. And yet, like the self-evident yet invisibly whirling breeze, the fiction can cause much damage in Nature simply by the belief of its user in the perceived reality of that fiction. Personhood (personification) is like an article of invisible clothing (a law-suit) that guides the wearer in his or her actions like a puppet on strings. The books we read may be so emotionally gripping that we may even picture the written scenes in our minds. And yet we still know (hopefully) that these re-presentations are only figments of our imagination created by mere words (code) on a page, and that our mind is changing this coded syntax as we are reading and translating it into a chemically induced, imaginary stage-play that does not Exist in reality.

Eventually, the digital voice will be indistinguishable from the Natural even in conversations with machines or other technology (art). And at this point, reality will not be possible to ascertain from fiction. We will be lost in a matrix of artifice. Reality will be blurred in Real time by the fiction. True justice will be impossible. Equity will be only a memory.

—=—

“Because today we live in a society in which spurious realities are manufactured by the media, by governments, by big corporations, by religious groups, political groups... So I ask, in my writing, What is real? Because unceasingly we are bombarded with pseudo-realities manufactured by very sophisticated people using very sophisticated electronic mechanisms. I do not distrust their motives; I distrust their power. They have a lot of it. And it is an astonishing power: that of creating whole universes, universes of the mind. I ought to know. I do the same thing.”

“There will come a time when it isn't 'They're spying on me through my phone' anymore. Eventually, it will be 'My phone is spying on me.’”

— Philip K. Dick (separate quotes)

— = —

“I see clearly that man in this world deceives himself by admiring and esteeming things which are not, and neither sees nor esteems the things which are.”

— St. Catherine of Genoa

— = —

“Visual imagery is the most important device incorporated into magic.”

— Satanic Bible

— = —

When the perceived miracle of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and 4-dimensional Virtual Reality (VR) become second nature to us, as our digital self in the domain of the fourth person, will they be in actual Reality anything but what they always have been: digital fictional words and codes being re-presented as 3D or 4D seemingly realistic but always unreal environments, with a simulated, life-like mathematical algorithm that pretends to answer our demands and questions with what appears to be Real intelligence?

The answer lies in what you can be made to beLIEve (love), for a lie must be believed and consented to in order to have an effect on Reality. Thus we have faith in government. And so above all else in our capacity as living sentient beings, we must always remember this one very important thing...

The legal language of government is based on a complete lie!!!

The names (via the dictionary/thesaurus) of everything upon the Earth is also a complete and utter lie.

No, really. Government is literally a lie.

— = —

“In wartime, truth is so precious that she should always be attended by a bodyguard of lies.”

— Winston Churchill

— = —

The problem is not the lie itself, but the belief by men that the lie exists as Reality. For only Real eyes realize real lies.

Here’s the legal definition of that word, from various legal and other sources:

LIE - 1. (1) TO EXIST; SUBSIST: as, to "lie in grant:" said of an incorporeal right; a corporeal right is said to "lie in deed." (2) To be maintainable, sustainable: as, an "action lies". Compare Lay, (3) To be concealed, or in ambush: as to: lie in wait. See Lying. 2. A willful untruth ; a falsehood. See DECEIT; Decoy; ESTOPPEL; Falsehood; FRAUD; REPRESENTATION, Slander. (WCA1889)

LIE - noun - An untruth deliberately told; the uttering or ACTING of that which is false for the purpose of deceiving; intentional misstatement. (Black4)

LIE - noun - 1. A criminal falsehood; a falsehood uttered for the purpose of deception; AN INTENTIONAL VIOLATION OF TRUTH, FICTION, OR A FALSE STATEMENT OR REPRESENTATION, NOT INTENDED TO DECEIVE, MISLEAD OR INJURE, AS IN FABLES, PARABLES AND THE LIKE, IS NOT A LIE. IT IS WILLFUL DECEIT THAT MAKES A LIE. A man may ACT a lie as by pointing his finger in a wrong direction, when a traveler inquires of him his road. 2. A fiction; in a ludicrous sense. 3. FALSE DOCTRINE. 1 John 2:1. 4. An idolatrous picture of God, or A FALSE GOD. Romans 1:25. 5. That which deceives and disappoints confidence. Micah 1:14. To give the lie to charge with falsehood. A man's actions may give the lie to his words. - verb intransitive - 1. To utter falsehood with an intention to deceive, or with an IMMORAL DESIGN. Thou hast not lied to men, but to God. Acts 5:3. 2. To exhibit a false representation; to say or do that which deceives another, when he has a right to know the truth, or when morality requires a just representation. - verb intransitive preterit tense - lay; - participle passive - lain, [LIEN, obsolete] [The Gr. word usually signifies to speak, which is to utter or throw out sounds... TO BE; to rest; TO ABIDE; TO REMAIN; often followed by some word denoting A PARTICULAR CONDITION; as, to lie waste; to lie fallow; to lie open; to lie hid; to lie pining or grieving; to lie under one's displeasure; TO LIE AT THE MERCY OF A CREDITOR, or at the mercy of the waves. 8. To consist. He that thinks that diversion may not lie in hard labor, forgets the early rising of the huntsman. 9. TO BE SUSTAINABLE IN LAW; TO BE CAPABLE OF BEING MAINTAINED. An action lies against the tenant for waste. An appeal lies in this case. To lie at, to tease or importune. [Little used.] To lie at the heart, to be fixed as an object of affection or anxious desire. 1. To lie by, to be reposed, or REMAINING WITH... To lie hard or heavy, to press; TO OPPRESS; TO BURDEN. To lie on hand, TO BE OR REMAIN IN POSSESSION... 2. TO BELONG TO. It lies with you to make amends. To lie over, to remain unpaid, after the time when payment is due; as a note in bank. To lie to, TO BE STATIONARY, AS A SHIP. (Webs1828)

STATIONARY - adjective - 1. Fixed; not moving, progressive or regressive; not appearing to move. The sun becomes stationary in Cancer, in its advance into the northern signs. The court in England which was formerly itinerary, is now stationary. 2. NOT ADVANCING, IN A MORAL SENSE; not improving; NOT GROWING WISER, greater or better; not becoming greater or more excellent. 3. Respecting place (as status and class). The same harmony and STATIONARY CONSTITUTION... (Webs1828)

TO LIE - That which is PROPER, is fit; as, an action on the case lies for an injury committed without force; CORPOREAL HEREDITAMENTS LIE IN LIVERY, that is, THEY PASS BY LIVERY; incorporeal hereditaments lie in grant, that is, pass by the force of the grant, and WITHOUT ANY LIVERY. Vide Lying in grant. (Bouv1856)

LIE TO - To adjoin... A cottage must have had four acres of land laid to it. (Black4)

DELIVERY - Contracts. The transmitting the possession of a thing from one person into the power and possession of another. 2. Originally, delivery was a clear and unequivocal act of giving possession, accomplished by placing the subject to be transferred in the hands of the buyer or his avowed AGENT, or in their respective warehouses, VESSELS, carts, and the like. This delivery was properly considered as the true BADGE of transferred property, as importing full evidence of consent to transfer; preventing the appearance of possession in the transferrer from continuing the credit of property unduly; and avoiding uncertainty and risk in the title of the acquirer. 3. The complicated transactions of modern trade, however, render impossible a strict adherence to this simple rule. It often happens that the purchaser of a commodity cannot take immediate possession and receive the delivery... 16. - 11. If the vendor rely on the promises of the vendee to perform the conditions of the sale, and deliver the goods accordingly, the right of property is changed; but where, PERFORMANCE AND DELIVERY ARE UNDERSTOOD TO BE SIMULTANEOUS, POSSESSION, OBTAINED BY ARTIFICE, WILL NOT VEST A TITLE IN THE VENDEE. Where, on the sale of a chattel, the purchase money is paid, the property is vested in the vendee, and if he permit it to remain in the custody of the vendor, he cannot call upon the latter for any subsequent loss or deterioration not arising from negligence. (Bouv1856)

LIVERY - English law. 1. The delivery of possession of lands to those tenants WHO HOLD OF THE KING in capite, or knight's service. 2. Livery was also the name of a writ which LAY for the heir of age, TO OBTAIN THE POSSESSION OF SEISIN OF HIS LANDS AT THE KING'S HANDS. It signifies, IN THE THIRD PLACE, THE CLOTHES GIVEN BY A NOBLEMAN OR GENTLEMAN TO HIS SERVANT. (Bouv1856)

LIVERY OF SEISIN - Estates. A delivery of possession of lands, tenements, and hereditaments, UNTO ONE ENTITLED TO THE SAME. This was a ceremony used in the common law for the conveyance of real estate; and the livery was in deed, which was performed by the feoffor and the feoffee going upon the land, and the latter receiving it from the former; or in law, where the game was not made on the land, BUT IN SIGHT OF IT. 2. In most of the states, livery of seisin is unnecessary, it having been dispensed with either by express law or by usage. THE RECORDING OF THE DEED HAS THE SAME EFFECT. In Maryland, however, it seems that a deed cannot operate as a feoffment, without livery of seisin, and the article Seisin. (Bouv1856)

More on seisin (possession by seizure) in relation to legal delivery at birth (a lie) later in this volume.*

ADJOIN - verb transitive - [Latin adjungo, ad and jungo. See Join.] To join or unite to; to put to, by placing in contact; to unite, by fastening together with a joint, mortise, or knot. But in these transitive senses, it is rarely used. [See Join.] - verb intransitive - TO LIE or be next to, or IN CONTACT; to be contiguous; as, a farm adjoining to the highway. This is the common use of the word, and to is often omitted; as adjoining the highway. (Webs1828)

JOIN - verb transitive - [Latin jungo, jungere; jungo for jugo, jugum; English YOKE; Gr. a yoke, and a pair, to join] 1. To set or bring one thing in contiguity with another. Woe to them that join house to house, that lay field to field. Isaiah 5:8. 2. To couple; to connect; TO COMBINE; as, to join ideas. 3. TO UNITE IN LEAGUE OR MARRIAGE... WHAT GOD HATH JOINED TOGETHER, LET NOT MAN PUT ASUNDER. Matthew 19:6. 4. TO ASSOCIATE. Go near and join thyself to this chariot. Acts 8:29. 5. TO UNITE IN ANY ACT. Thy tuneful voice with numbers join. 6. To unite in concord. But that ye be perfectly joined together IN THE SAME MIND, AND IN THE SAME JUDGMENT. 1 Corinthians 1:10... In general, join signifies to unite two entire things WITHOUT BREACH OR INTERMIXTURE, BY CONTACT OR CONTIGUITY, either temporary or permanent. It differs from connect, which signifies properly, to unite by an intermediate substance. But join, unite, and connect are often used synonymously. - verb intransitive - To grow to; to adhere... 1. To be contiguous, close or in contact; as WHEN TWO HOUSES JOIN. 2. To unite with in MARRIAGE, league, CONFEDERACY, partnership or SOCIETY... (Webs1828)

LIE IN FRANCHISE - Property is said to "lie in franchise" when it is of such a nature that the persons entitled thereto may SEIZE it without the aid of a court; e. g., wrecks, waifs, estrays. (Black4)

LIE IN GRANT - Incorporeal hereditaments are said to "lie in grant;" that is, they pass by force of the grant (deed or charter) WITHOUT LIVERY. (Black4)

LIE IN LIVERY - A term applied to corporeal hereditaments, freeholds, etc., signifying that they PASS BY LIVERY, not by the mere force of the grant. (Black4)

LIE IN WAIT - See Lying in Wait. (Black4)

LYING IN WAIT - Lying in ambush; lying hid or concealed for the purpose of making a sudden and unexpected attack upon a person WHEN HE SHALL ARRIVE AT THE SCENE (I.E. BIRTH). In some jurisdictions, where there are several degrees of murder, lying in wait is made evidence of that deliberation and premeditated intent which is necessary to characterize murder in the first degree. This term is not synonymous with "concealed." If a person conceals himself for the purpose of shooting another unawares, he is lying in wait; BUT A PERSON MAY, WHILE CONCEALED, SHOOT ANOTHER WITHOUT COMMITTING THE CRIME OF MURDER. (Black4)

CONCEAL - To hide; secrete; withhold from the knowledge of others; to withdraw from observation; to withhold from utterance or declaration; to cover or keep from sight. The synonyms of conceal are "to hide; disguise, dissemble; secrete." To hide is generic: "conceal" is simply not to make known what we wish to secrete; disguise or dissemble is TO CONCEAL BY ASSUMING SOME FALSE APPEARANCE; to secrete is to hide in some place of secrecy. A man may conceal facts, disguise his sentiments, dissemble his feelings, or secrete stolen goods. The word "conceal," according to the best lexicographers, signifies TO WITHHOLD OR KEEP SECRET MENTAL FACTS FROM ANOTHER'S KNOWLEDGE, as well as to hide or secrete physical objects from sight or observation. (Black4)

CONCEALED - Not synonymous with "lying in wait"... The term "concealed weapons" means weapons willfully or knowingly covered or kept from sight. (Black4)

CONCEALERS - In old English law. Such as FIND out concealed LAND; that is, lands privily (privately) kept from the king by common persons having nothing to show for them. They are called "a troublesome, disturbant sort of men; turbulent persons." (Black4)

CONCEALMENT - A withholding of something which one knows and which one, in duty, is bound to reveal. The terms "misrepresentation" and "concealment" have a known and definite meaning in the law of insurance. Misrepresentation is the STATEMENT OF SOMETHING AS FACT WHICH IS UNTRUE IN FACT, and which the assured states, KNOWING IT TO BE NOT TRUE, WITH AN INTENT TO DECEIVE the underwriter, OR WHICH HE STATES POSITIVELY AS TRUE, WITHOUT KNOWING IT TO BE TRUE, and which has a tendency TO MISLEAD, such fact in either case being material to the risk. Concealment is the designed and intentional WITHHOLDING of any fact material to the risk, which the assured, in honesty and good faith, OUGHT TO COMMUNICATE to the underwriter; mere silence on the part of the assured, especially as to some matter of fact which he does not consider it important for the underwriter to know, is not to be considered as such concealment. If the fact so untruly stated or purposely suppressed is not material, that is, if the knowledge or ignorance of it would not naturally influence the judgment of the underwriter in making the contract, or in estimating the degree and character of the risk, or in fixing the rate of the premium, it is not a "misrepresentation" or "concealment," within the clause of the conditions annexed to policies. (Black4)

CONCEALMENT OF CAUSE OF ACTION - To constitute it so as TO PREVENT RUNNING OF LIMITATIONS, SOME TRICK OR ARTIFICE MUST BE EMPLOYED TO PREVENT INQUIRY OR ELUDE INVESTIGATION, or to mislead and hinder party who has a cause of action from obtaining information, and acts relied on must be of an AFFIRMATIVE character and FRAUDULENT. (Black4)

LYING BY - A person who, by his PRESENCE and SILENCE at a transaction which affects his interests, may be fairly SUPPOSED TO ACQUIESCE IN IT, if he afterwards propose to disturb the arrangement, is said to be PREVENTED FROM DOING SO BY REASON THAT HE HAS BEEN LYING BY. (Black4)

— = —

The constitutions of nations make the States (private People) fictionally “sovereign” in their own self-proclaimed, ordained and established magistracy, preventing those States (People) from being investigated or sanctioned, protecting and preventing their secrets (mysteries) from being revealed, making their collective (federal) and individual intent virtually undiscoverable, and creating a paper fiction god over all who act within its incorporated jurisdictional body politic. All constitutions are exclusive of God, even as God is listed in declaratory justification of each constitution. For neither the scriptures nor any mention of christ are anywhere to be found in the tainted words of these constituted governments, nor is any proclaimed obedience to them procured. There is no Higher Law than the State. Christ (God’s Word) has no place and is never named within these so-called “Christian Nations,” for this noun “Pope” is the only the form of a false title called as “Christ” (replacement/antichristos) in law. Man can only constitute artifice. And subscription may only be taken to artificial things, which need consent and support to exist and have authority. Life in Nature needs no subscription or belief by men to thrive. In Truth, man has no need to create anything else that God’s Nature and Supreme Creation hasn’t already provided, including the self-evidence of Law.

Instead, man declares, ordains, establishes, and constitutes himself as god.

— = —

“A CONSTITUTION is the arrangement of MAGISTRACIES in a state.”

—Aristotle

— = —

One does not create a magistracy without creating subjects to that majesty at the same time, or at least the potential to admit men into and under subjection to that godship of magistracy. Kingdoms and nations are not built for men to be born in the issue of godship (magistracy) without the opposite class structure being created as well. Without subjects a master has no purpose. Without the multitude in commonalty of service, no sovereignty may exist. Nothing can be above without that which is below it. The United States constitution, the con of the ages, is certainly no different in its structure.

Here again, religions be damned. We need not priests and politicians to show us this Reality. For these institutions only seek to be repositories (hoarders) of God’s abundant Nature so as to control that abundance; to re-package and sell what is, was, and always shall be the free Gift of Jehovah. This is the con game of the constitutionalists; seekers of pro-stitutes that will consent to live under only what they con-stitute.

CONSTITUTION - contracts - The constitution of a contract, is the making of the contract as, THE WRITTEN CONSTITUTION OF A DEBT. (Bouv1856)

CONSTITUTE - verb transitive - [Latin, to set.] 1. To set; TO FIX; to enact; TO ESTABLISH. We must obey laws appointed and constituted by lawful authority, not against the law of God. 2. TO FORM or compose; TO GIVE FORMAL EXISTENCE TO; to make a thing what it is. Perspicuity constitutes the prime excellence of style. Truth and reason constitute that intellectual gold that defies destruction. 3. To appoint, depute or elect to an office or employment; to make and empower. A sheriff is constituted a conservator of the peace. A has constituted B his ATTORNEY or AGENT. (Webs1828)

CON - ...1. To know. 2. TO MAKE ONESELF MASTER OF; TO FIX IN THE MIND or commit to memory... (Webs1828)

STITCH - verb transitive - [G. This is another form of STICK.] 1. To sew in a particular manner... to stitch the leaves of a book and form a pamphlet. 2. To form land into ridges. [N. England.] To stitch up, to mend or unite with a needle and thread; as, to stitch up a rent; to stitch up an artery. - noun - ...3. A LAND; the space between two double furrows in plowed ground. (Webs1828)

STICK - noun - [G. This word is connected with the verb to stick with STOCK, stack, and other words having the like elements. The primary sense of the root is to thrust, to shoot, and to set.]... - verb transitive preterit tense and participle passive - stuck. [G., to sting or prick, to stick TO ADHERE.] 1. To pierce; to stab; to cause to enter, as a pointed instrument; hence, to kill by piercing; as, to stick a beast in slaughter. [A common use of the word.] 2. To thrust in; to fasten or cause to remain by piercing; as, to stick a pin on the sleeve... - verb intransitive - ...2. TO BE UNITED; TO BE INSEPARABLE; TO CLING FAST TO, AS SOMETHING REPROACHFUL... 4. To stop; to be impeded by ADHESION or obstruction; as, the carriage sticks in the mire. 5. To stop; to be ARRESTED IN A COURSE... 11. To adhere closely in friendship and affection. There is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother. Proverbs 18:24. To stick to, to adhere closely; to be constant; TO BE FIRM; to be persevering; as, to stick to a party or cause... To stick by, 1. To adhere closely; to be constant; TO BE FIRM IN SUPPORTING. We are your only friends; stick by us, and we will stick by you. 2. To be troublesome by adhering... (Webs1828)

TUTELAR, TUTELARY - adjective - [Latin tutelar, supra.] HAVING THE GUARDIANSHIP OR CHARGE OF PROTECTING A PERSON OR A THING; guardian; protecting; as tutelary genii; tutelary goddesses. (Webs1828)

TUTELAGE - noun - [from Latin tutela, PROTECTION, from tueor, to defend.] 1. Guardianship; protection; applied to the person protecting; as, THE KING'S RIGHT OF SEIGNORY AND TUTELAGE. 2. STATE OF BEING UNDER A GUARDIAN. (Webs1828)

TUTOR - noun - [Latin from tuero, TO DEFEND.] 1. In the civil law, A GUARDIAN; ONE WHO HAS THE CHARGE OF A CHILD OR PUPIL AND HIS ESTATE. 2. One who has the care of instructing another in various branches or in any branch of human learning... - verb transitive - To teach; to instruct. 1. TO TREAT WITH AUTHORITY OR SEVERITY. 2. To correct. (Webs1828)

TUTORAGE - noun - In the civil law, guardianship; THE CHARGE OF A PUPIL AND HIS ESTATE. In France, tutorage does not expire till the pupil is twenty five years of age. 1. The AUTHORITY OR SOLEMNITY OF A TUTOR. [Little used.] (Webs1828)

— = —

And just what happens when we put the words con, stitch, and tutelary together? Constitution. We get the con-stituted legal existence in debt called citizenship in agency, as the idolatry and adultery of being a constituent, like a moving statue, a legally created and automated golem. Just why did you think public education is mandatory? It's a contractual requirement (debt) of the consti-tutors!!!

Amazingly, anyone who sees through this piracy scheme of constitutions and the magistracy thereby falsely created from it is considered as mentally ill. Merely disagreeing with the gods and attempting to be free when in public servitude is a psychiatric condition treatable by pain, punishment, extortion (exaction), and other methods of tyranny. Conformity to legalism, false logic (dialectic), public-mindedness, and of course abandonment of religious freedom under God and Natural Law is a requirement of these constituted authorities. Those who are awake to the fraud obviously then have the following diagnosis:

CONSTITUTIONAL PSYCHOPATHIC INFERIORITY - Individuals who show a lifelong and constitutional TENDENCY NOT TO CONFORM TO THE CUSTOMS OF THE GROUP, and who HABITUALLY MISBEHAVE, and have no sense of responsibility to their fellowmen or to society as a whole. These individuals fail to learn by experience and are inadequate, incompatible, and inefficient. (Black4)

— = —

The conformers, the public-minded, brainwashed pat-riots as lovers of their own enslavement, that common class of equalized house-slaves called the general public, the middle class of mammon, the goyim we are all trained to become from birth; these are the constitutors, the constituents, the honored dead absent of spirit and living only a civil, artificial existence.

CONSTITUENT - adjective - [Latin, to set. See STATUE, STATUTE.] Setting; constituting; applied to parts of a thing that are essential to it. Hence, necessary or essential; elemental; forming, composing or making as an essential part. BODY, SOUL, AND REASON, ARE THE THREE CONSTITUENT PARTS OF A MAN. Oxygen and hydrogen are the constituent parts of water. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUENT - noun - 1. He or that which sets, fixes or forms; he or that which constitutes or composes. Their first composure and origination requires a higher and nobler constituent than chance. 2. THAT WHICH CONSTITUTES OR COMPOSES, as a part, or an essential part. The lymph in those glands is a necessary constituent of the aliment. 3. ONE WHO APPOINTS OR ELECTS ANOTHER to an office or employment. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUENT - He who GIVES AUTHORITY TO ANOTHER TO ACT FOR HIM. THE CONSTITUENT IS BOUND WITH WHATEVER HIS ATTORNEY (AGENT) DOES BY VIRTUE OF HIS AUTHORITY. The electors of a member of the legislature are his constituents, to whom HE IS RESPONSIBLE for his legislative acts. (Bouv1856)

STATUE - noun - [Latin, to set; that which is SET OR FIXED.] AN IMAGE; a solid substance formed by carving into the likeness of a whole living being; as a statue of Hercules or of a lion. - verb transitive - To place, as a statue; TO FORM A STATUE OF. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTED - participle passive - SET; FIXED; ESTABLISHED; made; ELECTED; APPOINTED. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTED - In the civil law. AN AGREEMENT TO PAY A SUBSISTING DEBT which exists without any stipulation, whether of the promisor OR ANOTHER PARTY. It differs from a stipulation in that it must be for an EXISTING debt. A day appointed for any purpose. A form of APPEAL. Calvinus, Lex. (Black4)

CONSTITUTER - noun - One who constitutes or appoints. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTOR - In the civil law. One who, by a simple agreement, BECOMES RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PAYMENT OF ANOTHER'S DEBT. Inst. 4, 6, 9. (Black4)

CONSTITUTOR - Civil law. He who promised by a simple pact TO PAY THE DEBT OF ANOTHER; and this is always A PRINCIPAL OBLIGATION. (Bouv1856)

CONSTITUTION (repeated) - Contracts. The constitution of a contract, is the making of the contract as, THE WRITTEN CONSTITUTION OF A DEBT. (Bouv1856)

CONSTITUTIONES - Laws promulgated, i. e., ENACTED, by the ROMAN EMPEROR. They were of various kinds, namely, the following: (1) Edicta; (2) decreta; (3) rescripta, called also "epistolae." Sometimes they were GENERAL, and intended TO FORM A PRECEDENT FOR OTHER LIKE CASES; at other times they were SPECIAL, particular, or individual, (personales,) and not intended to form a precedent. The emperor had this POWER OF IRRESPONSIBLE ENACTMENT by virtue of a certain lex regia, whereby he was made the fountain of justice and of mercy. (Black4)

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW - (1) That branch of the PUBLIC LAW OF A STATE which treats of the organization and frame of government, THE ORGANS AND POWERS OF SOVEREIGNTY, the distribution of political and governmental AUTHORITIES AND FUNCTIONS, the fundamental PRINCIPLES which are TO REGULATE THE RELATIONS OF GOVERNMENT AND SUBJECT, and which PRESCRIBES generally the plan and method according to which the public affairs of the state are to be ADMINISTERED. (2) That department of the science of law which treats of constitutions, their establishment, construction, and interpretation, and of the validity of legal enactments as tested by the criterion of conformity to the fundamental law. (3) A constitutional law is one which is consonant to, and agrees with, the constitution; ONE WHICH IS NOT IN VIOLATION OF ANY PROVISION OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE PARTICULAR STATE. (Black4)

SUBJECT - ... - noun - [Latin] 1. ONE THAT OWES ALLEGIANCE TO A SOVEREIGN AND IS GOVERNED BY HIS LAWS. The NATIVES of Great Britain are subjects of the British government. THE NATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES, AND NATURALIZED FOREIGNERS, ARE SUBJECTS OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT. Men in FREE governments, ARE SUBJECTS AS WELL AS CITIZENS; AS CITIZENS, THEY ENJOY RIGHTS AND FRANCHISES; as subjects, they are BOUND to obey the laws. THE SUBJECT MUST OBEY HIS PRINCE, BECAUSE GOD COMMANDS IT, AND HUMAN LAWS REQUIRE IT... 4. That in which any thing inheres or EXISTS... - verb transitive - 1. To bring under the power or DOMINION of. Alexander subjected a great part of the civilized world to his dominion. Firmness of mind that subjects every gratification of sense to the rule of right reason — 2. To put under or within the power of. In one short view subjected to our eye, gods, emperors, heroes, sages, beauties lie. 3. TO ENSLAVE; to make obnoxious. He is the most subjected, the most enslaved, WHO IS SO IN HIS UNDERSTANDING. 4. To expose; to make liable. Credulity subjects a person to impositions. 5. To submit; to make accountable. God is not bound to subject his ways of operation to the scrutiny of our thoughts — 6. To make subservient. --Subjected to his service angel wings. 7. To cause to undergo; as, to subject a substance to a white heat; to subject it to a rigid test. (Webs1828)

CONSTAT - English law. The name of a CERTIFICATE, which the clerk of the pipe and auditors of the exchequer make at the request of any person who intends to plead or move in the court for the discharge of anything; and the effect of it is, the certifying what constat (APPEARS) upon record touching the matter in question. 2. A constat is held to be superior to an ordinary certificate, because IT CONTAINS NOTHING BUT WHAT IS ON RECORD. AN EXEMPLIFICATION UNDER THE GREAT SEAL, OF THE ENROLMENT OF ANY LETTERS-PATENT, is called a constat. Vide Exemplification; Inspeximus.

3. Whenever an officer gives a CERTIFICATE that such A THING APPEARS OF RECORD, it is called a constat; BECAUSE THE OFFICER DOES NOT SAY THAT THE FACT IS SO, BUT IT APPEARS TO BE AS HE CERTIFIES. A certificate that it appears to the officer that a judgment has been entered, is insufficient. (Bouv1856)

—=—

The constituted, principal authorities and the subjected agents... which one do you really think you are?

The sealed birth certificate is constat (an official appearance) of the recorded deed (event) of the creation (birth) of a legal entity; a strawman. Thus, our legal self is publicly constituted (legally created) as a registered debtor, and so too are we as acting agent in surety, as we play that fictional part throughout our lives by our expressions of actions taken through its admixed surname and signature. The court hardly need prove the fact of our appearance in person there, for we foolishly present a false id-entity such as a driver's license that certifies our legal existence and apparition in that courtroom at bar. To enter into and be heard in their cartoon world, we must admit to being a cartoon or to being its agent (attorney) answering a service of process, the agent being a sort of bridge between worlds, able to speak not as but on behalf of the dead fictional character of that legal person.

Let us never forget that the original United States of America were nothing if not slave colonies, that the constitution protected and promoted slavery, and that those colonies were then constituted (put into debt compact) as slave-states. This alone separates the constitution instantly from God's Law. No rational man can possibly think that slavery is christ-like. Thus no man should be fooled into believing in the notion of the possibility of a "Christian nation" as being at all in harmony with christ's scriptural teachings, only as one in harmony with the corporate church. For slaves were listed not just as valuable considerations, but in the lowest status as 3/5th of a person only for taxation purposes as valuable property in mammon. They were not men but beasts personified and chained. And yet the most avid supporter and lover of this country places the legal constitution above the Bible, praising its legal re-creation as the end of involuntary slavery instead of its true intent: the inception of voluntary slavery and servitude we know today as U.S. Citizenship.

At least the negroes and white indentures (white negro) knew they were slaves...

—=—

"How is it that we hear the loudest yelps for liberty among the drivers of negroes?"

—Samuel Johnson, quoted from: 'Taxation No Tyranny - An Answer To The Resolutions And Address Of The American Congress.'

—=—

"For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, BUT BY LOVE SERVE ONE ANOTHER."

—Galatians 5:13, KJB

—=—

We hardly stop to consider that the constitution positively gave certain men liberty to own other certain men as slaves. We often confuse liberty and freedom as total freedom without constraint, without pausing to consider those Laws of God's Nature that abound, creating those duties we owe to all others in such a Natural liberty. And so we forget the Source (God) of Natural liberty and Law, and instead receive liberty from these constituted slavemaster authorities, from a false legal source of constituted magistracy.

MAYOR - The chief or EXECUTIVE MAGISTRATE OF A CITY. His PRINCIPAL DUTY is to enforce the laws of the city. He may also preside over the mayor's court, which has JURISDICTION, concurrent with the courts of other committing magistrates, over offenses perpetrated WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS, and of special matters GIVEN BY STATUTE. See MAGISTRATE. (WCA1889)

LOCAL GOVERNMENT; MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT - See CORPORATION, Municipal. (WCA1889)

— = —

A city and a county are never anything but a municipal corporation. The term of art “city limits” is often, in many states, listed instead as “corporate limits.” To place any other image or respect upon any city other than this fact is to be fallen to fiction, to be romanticized by artifice and artful reputation. A city simply does not Exist. Its existence is in legal name (noun) only, consisting of a corporate charter and agencies filled by agents. The mayor is the chief magistrate (god) of any city or county (corporation). And so imaginary notion of The Windy City is still in Reality just a fictional piece of paper; a constituted commercial corporation and nothing more, though its name is used to describe attributes of things that are not “the city.” To leave the city is to leave the corporate jurisdiction of that city, not necessarily the actual land it claims to legally, corporately control. For all parts of the United States have been districted (seized) into counties (municipal corporations), and so to leave the cities or counties would be legally impossible. We can only remain unseen and unrespected to their fictional laws and jurisdictions by following our own spiritual path under the Higher Law. We must distinguish between the Real and the fiction, especially when it involves the condition of our Self and how we are “seen” by the agents of law.

This word “election” is also strewn throughout the Bible. We should recognize that election is merely another word for choice. We have a choice between God and mammon, Reality and fiction, and our election makes that choice sure. In the induced legal, vulgar realm of dog-Latin, we do not comprehend that our legal elections as the corporate franchise of voting for our constitutors, as constituted authorities, to which we become the constituents and subjects thereof. It is the participation in this so-called patriotic endeavor that ultimately legitimizes that which seals our spiritual fate. For by participation in legal elections, Jehovah is never our choice. The elected legal gods fictionally destroy man's power of choice to act morally against such artifice as themselves in flattering title through their legal (evil) design of that false doctrine of “freedom of religion” previously defined in this chapter. To vote is to consent and submit to fictional authority and the punishments (sanctions) of the false law and executive agents that enforce that imagined color of authority.

— = —

“Even so then at this present time also THERE IS A REMNANT ACCORDING TO THE ELECTION OF GRACE.”

—Romans 11: 5, KJB

— = —

“Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.”

—1 Thessalonians 1: 4, KJB

—=—

“Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall: For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, AND BE ESTABLISHED IN THE PRESENT TRUTH.”

—2 Peter 1: 10-12, KJB

—=—

And here we must pause to consider that our common idea of what existence is in Reality and in Nature has no bearing or sameness in the legal fiction. It is never the present truth of Life in God's Nature. For to exist as a fiction is to be created by legal means, a confirmed untruth, an image, a fictional creation of man's i-magi-nation, and at best a simulation of what Is. So we must herein comprehend that a legal existence is in-deed a lie which is respected despite God. Anything and everything that exists and appears in legal form (in name and title) is a lie. But most importantly, a legal existence as a fiction only has artificial life as long as men can be convinced to acknowledge and confirm that legal life as anything but a lie. Belief (love) and faith in the lie by men christens the lie as a virtual reality, creating the legal existence of that which does not Exist in Nature, allowing false gods (magistrates) to rule in a falsehood, under the dark robes of a Godless justice system.

Now let us hear from the fabled “father” of the declaration of independence himself, to whom the phrase “separation of church and state” originated in America.

—=—

“The bill for establishing religious freedom... still met with opposition; but, WITH SOME MUTILATIONS IN THE PREAMBLE, it was finally passed; and a singular proposition proved that its protection of opinion was meant to be UNIVERSAL. Where the preamble declares that coercion is a departure from the plan of the holy author of our religion, an amendment was proposed, by inserting the word ‘Jesus Christ,’ SO THAT IT SHOULD READ ‘A DEPARTURE FROM THE PLAN OF JESUS CHRIST, THE HOLY AUTHOR OF OUR RELIGION.’ THE INSERTION WAS REJECTED BY A GREAT MAJORITY, in proof that they meant to comprehend, within the mantle of its protection, the Jew and the Gentile, the Christian and Mahometan, the Hindoo, and infidel of every denomination.”

—Thomas Jefferson, from his autobiography, in reference to the 1786 Virginia Act for Establishing Religious Freedom, a template for the First Amendment

—=—

“And the day will come when the mystical generation of Jesus, by the supreme being as his father in the womb of a virgin, will be classed with the fable of the generation of Minerva in the brain of Jupiter.”

—Thomas Jefferson, famously quoted in observation to John Adams

— = —

“The legitimate powers of government extend to such acts ONLY as are injurious to others. But it does me no injury for my neighbour to say there are twenty gods, OR NO GOD. It neither picks my pocket nor breaks my leg.”

—Thomas Jefferson, excerpt from: ‘Notes on the State of Virginia’

— = —

Many attempts are documented in the past to “christianize” the constitution of the United States, yet another obvious hint that there is nothing of christ within. One example of this came in 1864 during the American Civil War, when the National Association for the Amendment of the Constitution, renamed later as the National Reform Association (NRA), attempted desperately to constitutionally amend what it called as the “atheistical Constitution” by clearly declaring it as a “Christian Nation.” To this end, the preamble to the constitution was proposed to be changed to this:

— = —

“We, the people of the United States, humbly acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all authority and power in civil government, THE LORD JESUS CHRIST AS THE RULER AMONG THE NATIONS, HIS REVEALED WILL AS THE SUPREME LAW OF THE LAND, IN ORDER TO CONSTITUTE A CHRISTIAN GOVERNMENT... do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America”

— = —

Needless to say this amendment was defeated utterly by congress. This would have severely tied the hands of these commercial pirates as the principal money-changers and tax-farmers, and would have taken away their commercial intent. The preamble is a statement of purpose, which is why only it was attempted to be changed. It is a preface, not dissimilar in purpose to the one in this work, describing the author’s intentions. For the founders of this incorporated structure based it purely in mammon, even as the preamble’s words exclaim well-being only for “Themselves (Ourselves) and their Posterity (bloodline),” and nothing could be farther from the True tenets, will, and testament of christ. Instead, the constitution created a state of being that allowed private men to do unto others as they should not want us to do to them, and in turn created a structure of pure competition opposed to Real Love, Faith, Charity, and Piety.

The preamble establishes the fact that men as human capital (chattel) must be moved by the commercial law and systems of mammon. It established masters and servants as principals and agents, creating protective statuses (persons) for each class while calling it, including the shackled slave-class, as the legal “equality” of their own Manifest Destiny. It ordained false gods and established their followers.

PREAMBLE - noun - [Latin proe, before, and ambulo, to go.] 1. Something previous; introduction to a discourse or writing. 2. The introductory part of a statute, which states THE REASONS AND INTENT OF THE LAW. - verb transitive - To preface; to introduce with previous remarks. (Webs1828)

AMBLE - verb intransitive - [Latin ambulo, to walk.] 1. To move with a certain peculiar pace, as a horse, first lifting his two legs on one side, and then changing to the other. 2. To move easy, without hard shocks. Him time ambles withal. 3. In a ludicrous sense, TO MOVE WITH SUBMISSION, OR BY DIRECTION, OR TO MOVE AFFECTEDLY. - noun - A peculiar pace of a horse. (Webs1828)

— — —

Slaves and subjects in indenture must be ambled in their employments (use), and so the constitution intentionally created the foundation of the ultimate colony (plantation) as a nation of States, negatively protecting the masters of those States (People) from their positively enforced ambling and farming of all other men and public taxes. For what is restricted by the constitution upon those private States (People) leaves all non-restrictive (unconstitutional) principles of public law to effect all the positively created subjects (legal entities) of the nation in the public realm of jurisdiction to be moved with submission and by direction, a commercial system designed to move those affected (legally dis-eased) men by controlling the law of their public statuses (persons). How else might slaves have been made “equal” denizens to other U.S. citizenships after the Civil War unless all other public U.S. persons were made equally enslaved (enfranchised) as well? We all were made to meet somewhere in the middle, just as the definition of denizen suggests, unable to inherit land but more than able to rent it publicly in tenancy from its private, feudal holder, even while being tricked into believing it is our own.

Other examples of the utter dismissal of christ’s testament and Law (Word) in the constitution, as provided from an article collated by an atheist website entitled patheos.com that details not the words of atheists but of ardent religious opponents and reformers to the constitution, are listed and sourced as follows:

- An anonymous anti-federalist writer in October 1787 complained about the Constitution’s “general disregard of religion” and “indifference towards religion,” in November another opponent of the Constitution who went by the pen name Philadelphiensis echoed these complaints, criticizing its “silence” and “indifference about religion” in November 1787. (Kramnick, Isaac and R. Laurence Moore. The Godless Constitution: The Case Against Religious Correctness. W.W. Norton, 1996, page 33, and continued...)
- In January of 1788, an anti-federalist warned in a Boston newspaper that since God was absent from the Constitution, America would suffer the curse pronounced by Samuel in 1 Samuel 15:23 (“BECAUSE THOU HAST REJECTED THE WORD OF THE LORD, HE HATH ALSO REJECTED THEE”). A March 1788 letter to the Massachusetts Gazette similarly criticized the Constitution’s “inattention” to religion and asserted that it would be impossible to establish an enduring government without “publick protection” for religious belief. (page 36)
- In 1789, a group of Presbyterian elders wrote to George Washington to complain that the Constitution contained no reference to “the only true God and Jesus Christ, who he hath sent.” (page 102)
- In 1811, Rev. Samuel Austin, later to be president of the University of Vermont, claimed that the Constitution’s “one capital defect” was that it was “entirely disconnected from Christianity.” (page 144)

- In 1812, Rev. Timothy Dwight, the president of Yale and grandson of the infamous fire-and-brimstone preacher Jonathan Edwards, lamented that America had “offended Providence” by forming a Constitution “WITHOUT ANY ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF GOD; without any recognition of His [sic] mercies to us, AS A PEOPLE, of His government, OR EVEN OF HIS EXISTENCE... Thus we commenced our national existence under the present system, WITHOUT GOD.” (page 105)
- The president of Transylvania University, a Kentucky Presbyterian clergyman, in 1815 publicly deplored the fact that NOWHERE IN THE CONSTITUTION WAS “GOD THE SAVIOR RECOGNIZED.” (page 144)
- The chaplain of the New York State legislature in 1820 denounced the founders for their “ingratitude... without parallel” in writing a Constitution “in which there is NOT THE SLIGHTEST HINT OF HOMAGE TO THE GOD OF HEAVEN.” (page 144)
- Dr. John Mason, a New York clergyman, protested in 1793 that “from the Constitution of the United States, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO ASCERTAIN WHAT GOD WE WORSHIP, OR WHETHER WE OWN A GOD AT ALL” (p.144), and that this was “an omission which no pretext whatever can palliate.” (Jacoby, Susan. Freethinkers: A History of American Secularism. Metropolitan Books, 2004, page 30)

— = —

It is again important to distinguish the intent of these words, whereas the notion of a church being that of a religious People is quite different than that of an incorporated church established by the legal, corporate fiction state. One is an extended family (verb) of spiritually like-minded men, one is an artificial person (corporation) with a necessarily opposing doctrine towards the scriptures. There is simply no need to form an artificial “church” (noun) of the legal state (person in law) when the actual State (People) is the Real church (verb).

At this point, the True Nature of what a church is should be clear in the mind of the reader, and this notion of separation of church and state should be coming into focus as the very exclusion of moral, religious law from legal, civil law. Commerce, as the exclusive interest of mammon, simply cannot exist in harmony with the tenants taught in christ. Therefore in no way can even the possibility of any nation (legal state) as being founded upon those of christ’s teachings be considered, except by the self-interested antichrists as both masters and servants thereof; those principals and agents of the nations of mammon themselves. The title (noun) does not make the man (verb). The name and denomination (noun) does not represent the actions (verbs) of men. For only persons and not men live by the misguided commercial course of a legal, spiritual death in any nation.

We culturally and without conscious awareness repeat the colloquialism that satan is the king of lies. Translated, this simply means that evil is the false re-presentation of all of Reality by that which is adversarial (satanic) to God’s Nature of what is self-evidently True and self-Existent. If lies are abhorrent to Reality, then all lies can only be abhorrent to God, for Jehovah (verb) is nothing if not the Pure and utter essence of the Truth of the currently Existing Reality. To anthropomorphize God into the human form or of anything other than what is the self-evident Truth of the Nature of all Creation is to adhere to man’s false doctrines of church and state. It is to turn God into an institutionalized lie. For man should take no graven images and have no gods before the One True God. There are no snapshots or selfies of God on Facebook, for no camera or other artifice of man could possibly capture the fullness of God in any way, shape, Glory, substance, Truth, or form. All church-created images of God are a lie. All conceptualizations of God by men, no matter how sincere in their intent, are merely forms of the art of imagination and imagery. Misrepresentation. Subterfuge. For to mix any artificial form in re-presentation of any True substance is the very definition of adultery. And to believe in (love) that art over the Reality it re-presents is the True and fundamental foundation of all sin.

Satan is purely man's creation, a personification of evil (artifice), just as christ is the personification of the Truth and Law of God's Nature. For in all of Creation, in all of Nature, only man seems to have the capacity to lie even unto and about his own Self. No other living or non-living part of Nature (Creation) lives by and under confirmed and believed-in lies as man does. For the artful existence of man's power and authority over others can only exist if men believe in (love) and choose the great delusion of the big lie to be a replacement for Reality (self-evident Truth). Those who are in power must brainwash those under their own constituted, established, and ordained false-sovereign existence to love that which they should not, to respect that which they should defame, and to co-exist with that which they should shun.

From evil's perspective, existence (artifice) can only be accomplished through purposeful deception in artful design. The existence of evil lives only through respected lies by foolish men, as does the church and state.

EXIST - To live; to have life or animation; to be in present force, activity, or effect at a given time; as in speaking of "EXISTING" CONTRACTS, CREDITORS, DEBTS, LAWS, RIGHTS, or LIENS. To be or continue to be. See, also, Existing. (Black4)

EXISTING - The force of this word is not necessarily confined to the present. (Black4)

EXISTENCE - As applied to WILL, means physical existence. (Black4)

EXISTIMATIO - In the civil law. THE CIVIL REPUTATION WHICH BELONGED TO THE ROMAN CITIZEN, as such. Called a state or condition of unimpeached dignity or CHARACTER, (dignitatis inlmsce status;) the highest STANDING of a Roman CITIZEN. Also the decision or award of an arbiter. (Black4)

PHYSICAL - Relating or pertaining to the body, as distinguished from the mind or soul or the emotions; material, substantive, HAVING AN OBJECTIVE EXISTENCE, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM IMAGINARY OR FICTITIOUS; REAL, HAVING RELATION TO FACTS, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM MORAL OR CONSTRUCTIVE. (Black4)

PHYSICAL FACT - In the law of evidence. A fact having a physical existence, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM A MERE CONCEPTION OF THE MIND; one which is visible, audible, or palpable; such as the sound of a pistol shot, a man running, impressions of human feet on the ground. A fact considered to have its seat IN SOME INANIMATE BEING, or, if in an animate being, by virtue, not of the qualities by which IT IS CONSTITUTED ANIMATE, but of those which it has IN COMMON WITH THE CLASS OF INANIMATE BEINGS. (Black4)

— = —

Here we must designate the so-called factualness of legal things. For fictions can in-deed legally (adversarially) exist as "actual" facts, as long as we all agree that a lie is a fact according to law. But remember, all facts are lies, for all things legal are a lie made purely of artful words. Legal facts are only terms of art describing Real or artificial things. For instance, the "event" of our strawman's birth is a legal fact that creates a legal entity, all of which is made of certified words. Its existence is thus a "fact" in law, as is our surety to it by our express use of its status and signature. In other words, we cause the fiction to be fact.

— = —

FACT -vs- LAW

“A fact is either a STATE of things, that is, AN EXISTENCE, or a MOTION, that is, AN EVENT...”

“Fact” is very frequently used in OPPOSITION OR CONTRAST to “law.”

“Thus, questions of fact are for the JURY; questions of law for the COURT.”

“SO AN ATTORNEY AT LAW IS AN OFFICER OF THE COURTS of justice: an attorney in fact is APPOINTED by the written authorization OF A PRINCIPAL to manage business affairs usually not professional.

“Law is a PRINCIPLE; fact is an EVENT. Law is CONCEIVED; fact is ACTUAL. Law is a rule of DUTY: fact is that which has been according to or in contravention of the RULE. The distinction is well illustrated in the rule that THE EXISTENCE OF FOREIGN LAWS IS MATTER OF FACT. Within the territory of its jurisdiction, LAW OPERATES AS AN OBLIGATORY RULE WHICH JUDGES MUST RECOGNIZE AND ENFORCE; but, in a tribunal OUTSIDE THAT JURISDICTION, IT LOSES ITS OBLIGATORY FORCE AND ITS CLAIM TO JUDICIAL NOTICE. THE FACT THAT IT EXISTS, if important to the rights of parties, MUST BE ALLEGED AND PROVED THE SAME AS THE ACTUAL EXISTENCE OF ANY OTHER INSTITUTION.”

Definition of 'fact,' 1 Benth. Jud. Ev. 48. and Abbott. (Black4)

— = —

A U.S. citizenship is a fact, a man representing by his confirmed and consensual agency a registered event, a legal entity created by its positive legal birth. This is to say that a U.S. citizenship (public person) is not considered to be conceived legitimately by law. In other words, like the creation of any corporation, a citizen-ship has no blood consideration, for it is not Real. Thus the law may recognize no inheritable blood, for blood does not flow within a fiction of law. No blood, no heir, no inheritance. We know we are considered in attainder, without blood right, simply because we must create an artificial, legal will, for the law recognizes no inheritable blood in public persons of the United States. The will and inheritance of every man is self-evident, being that of his closest kin, while the will of every legal person must be legally established and approved by the creator gods of all fictional persons (legal statuses). This one distinguishing fact must be comprehended so that the sin of impersonation in fiction is not confused with the spirit of Life. The will of persons is a fiction not automatically recognized by law, for all the issues (children) of legal persons are fictions of law. The law (including those of the constitution) only protects the negative rights and duties of private men, not public persons. The person exists only in and under the terms of positive law, is created by positive law, and is governed only under positive law. It simply has no will of its own, and thus its agent (the subjected man in legally bound surety of a public citizen-ship) must positively create the will of that positively created (birthed) person. Without a will, the persons estate will be divided by the state and likely extorted to its advantage, for all the property of the person already belongs to the state as the creator and administrator of it.

As legal, commercially registered agents we are acting as attorney's in fact (agents) for our public person's principal owner (United States), which is represented by its own agencies and agents thereof, which in turn are attorney's at law and thus agents of the court. This imaginary fact of legal existence is called citizen-ship, where we conduct ourselves in mammon as commercial persons under that law of agency in international admiralty, maritime law. This is also known as the law of merchants (law merchant), under which we are acting in that capacity of merchants upon this fictional (legal) sea of commerce, in virtual ships called public citizens. Thus we have artificial benefits such as consumer protections, insurance, public tender, and security from our principal (United States) in all of our interstate commercial transactions, and therefore we also must suffer the reciprocal obligations in servitude to that principal for our use of its commercial entity (person/ship) and its benefits in the form of duties, taxes, rents, pain, punishment, exaction (extortion) and other such "rights" of United States citizenship (in agency). No benefit ever comes without an obligation, and no debtor can exist without a creditor. A debtor must have a trackable and traceable id-entity. Nothing legal is Naturally free, for legal things exist only politically as a limited liberty. Politically, legal things are always a lie and the word free means only to act in the franchise of a principal corporation, which is called as agency.

We are considered objectively as mere things; marked beasts of burden; as agents (factors) which serve no other purpose than to benefit our principal master in surety, the god that is sovereign government. We are only men of straw, ghosts of the men we were born under God's Nature to be, and therefore transparent to the state in consideration of our God-given rights. Cartoons. Fictions. We must know that sinners (men acting as legal persons in artifice) have no benefit of the Natural Law, for fictional persons are only judged by other fictionally titled persons of man, not God. To act as something we are not is the sin. Legal fiction is the realm and language of sin. God's Higher Law is nowhere to be found within the courts of the i-magi-nations of men. And no man can appear in legal fiction unless he accepts the legal persona of man's sinful design of artifice allocated to him in surety.

We lay (lie) with the devils (evil geniuses) that are our legal lords and masters.

OBJECT - noun - End aimed at, the thing sought to be accomplished, the aim or purpose, the thing sought to be ATTAINED. Anything which comes within the cognizance or scrutiny of the senses, especially anything tangible or visible. That which is perceived, known, thought of, or signified; THAT TOWARD WHICH A COGNITIVE ACT IS DIRECTED. The term includes WHATEVER MAY BE PRESENTED TO THE MIND AS WELL AS TO THE SENSES: whatever, also, is acted upon or operated upon affirmatively (positively), or intentionally influenced by anything done, moved, or applied thereto, it may be used as having the sense of effect. (Black4)

ALLOCATUR - Latin. It is allowed. A word formerly used to denote that a writ or order was allowed. A word denoting the allowance by a master or prothonotary of a bill referred for his consideration, whether touching costs, damages, or matter of account. A special allocatur is the special allowance of a writ (particularly a writ of error) which is required in some particular cases. (Black4)

ALLOCABLE - Synonymous with "distributable." In analyzing accounts, the breaking down of a lump sum charged or credited to one account into several parts to be charged or credited to other accounts. (Black4)

ALLOCATE - Power to allocate critical materials including power to distribute, to assign, to allot. TO RATION OR WITHHOLD FROM PRIVATE CONSUMPTION. (Black4)

ALLOCATION - An allowance made upon an account in the English exchequer. Placing or adding to a thing. ASSIGNMENT or allotment. (Black4)

ALLOW - The word has no rigid or precise meaning, but its import varies according to circumstances or context in connection with which it is used. It may mean bestow, ASSIGN, to any one as his right or due, to accord, or to imply discretion, or unqualified and definite PROMISE TO DO SOME SPECIFIED THING. TO APPROVE OF, ACCEPT AS TRUE, APPROVE, ADMIT, CONCEDE, ADOPT, or FIX. To grant something as a deduction or an addition; to abate or deduct; as, to allow a sum for leakage. To GRANT, or PERMIT; AS TO ALLOW AN APPEAL OR A MARRIAGE; to allow an account or claim. Also to give a fit portion out of a larger property or fund. TO SANCTION, either directly or indirectly, as opposed to merely suffering a thing to be done. To acquiesce in. To suffer, to tolerate; to fix. (Black4)

ALLOW - verb transitive - [Latin loco, TO LAY, set, place. See Lay.] 1. To grant, give or yield; as, TO ALLOW A SERVANT HIS LIBERTY; to allow a PENSION. 2. To admit; as, TO ALLOW THE TRUTH OF A PROPOSITION; to allow a CLAIM. 3. To admit; TO OWN OR ACKNOWLEDGE; as, to allow the right of the President to displace officers. 4. To approve, justify or SANCTION. Ye allow the DEEDS of your fathers. Luke 11:48. Romans 8:1. 5. To afford, or grant as a compensation; as, to allow a dollar a day for wages. 6. To abate or deduct; as, to allow a sum for tare or leakage. 7. To permit; TO GRANT LICENSE TO; as, to allow a son to be absent. (Webs1828)

PENSION - An allowance made to any one without an equivalent. In England, it is generally understood to mean PAY GIVEN TO A STATE HIRELING FOR TREASON TO HIS COUNTRY. (Samuel Johnson's Dictionary of the English Language, 1755)

PATRON - One who countenances, supports or protects. Commonly a wretch who supports with insolence, and is PAID WITH FLATTERY (i.e. title). (Samuel Johnson's Dictionary of the English Language, 1755)

POLITICIAN - 1. One versed in the ARTS of government; one skilled in politicks. 2. A MAN OF ARTIFICE; one of deep CONTRIVANCE. (Samuel Johnson's Dictionary of the English Language, 1755)

LAY - preterit tense of LIE. - The estate lay in the county (legal fiction/municipal corporation) of Hartford. When Ahab heard these words, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth upon his head, and fasted and lay in sackcloth. 1 Kings 21:27. - verb transitive preterit tense and participle passive - laid. [Latin loco, whence locus, Eng. ley or lea. The primary sense is to send or throw; hence this word is the Latin LEGO, legare, differently applied; Gr. to lie down.] 1. Literally, to throw down; hence, to put or place; applied to things broad or long, and in this respect differing from set. We lay a book on the table, when we place it on its side, but we set it on the end. We lay the foundation of a house, but we set a building on its foundation. He laid his robe from him. Jonah 3:6... TO BEAT DOWN; TO PROSTRATE. Violent winds with rain lay corn and grass. 3. TO SETTLE; to fix and keep from rising. A shower lays the dust. 4. To place in order; to dispose with regularity in building; as, to lay bricks or stones in constructing walls. 5. To spread on a surface; as, to lay plaster or paint. 6. To spread or set; as, to lay snares. 7. To calm; to appease; to still; to allay. After a tempest, when the winds are laid. 8. To quiet; to still; to restrain from walking; as, TO LAY THE DEVIL. 9. To spread and set in order; to prepare; as, to lay a table for dinner. 10. To place in the earth for growth. The chief time of laying gilliflowers, is in July. 11. To place at hazard; to wage; TO STAKE; as, to lay a crown or an eagle; to lay a wager. 12. To bring forth; to exclude; as, to lay eggs. 13. To add; TO JOIN. Woe to them that join house to house, that lay field to field. Isaiah 5:6. 14. To put; to apply. She layeth her hand to the spindle. Proverbs 31:19. 15. To assess; TO CHARGE; TO IMPOSE; as, to lay a tax on land; TO LAY A DUTY on salt. 16. To charge; to impute; as, TO LAY BLAME ON ONE; to lay want of prudence to one's charge. 17. TO IMPOSE, AS EVIL, BURDEN, OR PUNISHMENT. The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. Isaiah 5:63. 18. TO ENJOIN AS A DUTY; as, TO LAY COMMANDS ON ONE. 19. To exhibit; to present or offer; as, to lay an indictment in a particular county. 20. To prostrate; TO SLAY. The leaders first he laid along. 21. To depress and lose sight of, by sailing or departing from; as, to lay the land; A SEAMAN'S PHRASE. 22. To station; to set; as, to lay an ambush. 23. TO CONTRIVE; TO SCHEME; TO PLAN. To lay a cable, to twist or unite the strands. To lay apart, to put away; to reject. Lay apart all filthiness. James 1:21. 1. To lay aside, to put off or away; not to retain. Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin that doth so easily beset us. Hebrews 12:1. 2. To discontinue; as, to lay aside the use of any thing. To lay away, to reposit in store; to put aside for preservation. To lay before, to exhibit; to show; to present to view. The papers are laid before Congress. 1. To lay by, to reserve for future use. Let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him. 1 Corinthians 16:2. 2. To put away; to dismiss. Let brave spirits not be laid by, as persons unnecessary for the time. 3. To put off. And she arose and went away, and laid by her veil. Genesis 38:1. 1. To lay down, to deposit, AS A PLEDGE, equivalent or satisfaction; to resign. I lay down my life for the sheep. John 10:15. 2. To give up; to resign; to quit or relinquish; as, to lay down an office or commission. 3. To quit; TO SURRENDER THE USE OF; as, TO LAY DOWN ONE'S ARMS. 4. To offer or advance; as, to lay down a proposition or principle. To lay one's self down, to commit to repose. I will both lay me down in peace and sleep - Psalms 4:8. To lay hold of, TO SEIZE; to catch. To lay hold on, is used in a like sense. To lay in, to store; TO TREASURE; to provide previously. To lay on, to apply with force; to inflict; as, to lay on blows. To lay open, to open; to make bare; to uncover; also, to show; to expose; to reveal; as, to lay open the designs of an enemy. To lay over, to spread over; to incrust; to cover the surface; as, to lay over with gold or silver. 1. To lay out, to expend; as, to lay out money, or sums of money. 2. To display; to discover. He takes occasion to lay out bigotry and false confidence in all its colors. Obsolete. 3. To plan; to dispose in order the several parts; as, to lay out a garden. 4. To dress in grave clothes and place in a decent posture; as, to lay out a corpse. Shakespeare uses to lay forth. 5. To exert; as, to lay out all one's strength. So with the reciprocal pronoun, to lay one's self out, is to exert strength. 1. To lay to, TO CHARGE UPON; to impute. 2. To apply with vigor. 3. To attack or harass. Obsolete. 4. To check the motion of a ship, and cause her to be stationary. To lay together, to collect; to bring to one place; also, to bring into one view. To lay to heart, to permit to affect greatly. To lay under, TO SUBJECT TO; as, TO LAY ONE UNDER RESTRAINT OR OBLIGATION. 1. To lay up, to store; to treasure; to reposit for future use. Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven. Matthew 6:19. 2. To confine to the bed or chamber. He is laid up with the gout. To lay siege, to besiege; to encompass with an army. To lay wait, to station for private attack; to lay in ambush for. To lay the course, in sailing, is to sail towards the port intended, without gibing. To lay waste, to destroy; to desolate; to deprive of inhabitants, improvements and productions. To lay the land, in seamen's language, IS TO CAUSE THE LAND APPARENTLY TO SINK OR APPEAR LOWER, by sailing from it; the distance diminishing the elevation. - verb intransitive - 1. To bring or produce eggs. Hens will greedily eat the herb that will make them lay the better. 2. To contrive; to form a scheme. [Unusual.] To lay about, to strike or throw the arms on all sides; to act with vigor. To lay at, to strike or to endeavor to strike. The sword of him that layeth at him cannot hold. Job 41:8. 1. To lay out, TO PURPOSE; TO INTEND. He lays out to make a journey. 2. To take measures. I made strict inquiry wherever I came, and laid out for intelligence of all places. To lay upon, to importune. Obsolete. - noun - 1. That which lies or is laid; a row; a stratum; a layer; one rank in a series reckoned upward; as a lay of wood. A viol should have a lay of wire-strings below. 2. A bet; a wager. [Little used.] 3. Station; rank. [Not used.] - noun [Latin locus. See lay the verb. The words which signify PLACE, are from VERBS which express setting or laying. It is written also ley, and lea, but less properly.] A meadow; a plain or plat of grass land. A tuft of daisies on a flowery lay. The lowing herd wind slowly o'er the lea. - noun - [Gr. to sound. Latin laudo, plaudo.] A song; as a loud or soft lay; immortal lays. [It is used chiefly in poetry.] - adjective - [Latin laicus, Gr. from PEOPLE.] Pertaining to the laity or people, as distinct from the clergy; not clerical; as a lay person; a lay preacher; a lay brother. (Webs1828)

— = —

As strange as it may seem, we must comprehend that the lie exists, similarly to the notion that virtual reality exists, and therefore that government artificially exists, for to lie is to exist and stand in fiction in subsistence of and by our belief in the big lie and confirmation of it through our actions, respect, and participation in it. Only our conscious efforts to not believe in the legal lie may destroy all that lays as the existence of that big lie. Only the fear of God in anticipation of the consequences of believing and not fearing the lie may destroy the lie. Legal existence (the big lie) is laid when it is constituted and thus confirmed to exist. Before men can pro-stitute himself to a fictional master, that master must con-stitute the thing by which those men may then pro-stitute themselves by their own voluntary actions. We must all be figuratively prostrated (conquered/purchased/morally destroyed) so that we may be ruled over.

This is the legal matrix; a simulated reality.

—=—

“...we all lie to ourselves; we tell our own selves more lies than we ever do other people.”

—Philip K. Dick, quoted from: ‘Counter-Clock World’

—=—

But here also we may come to a pinnacle of understanding of what every form of “law” is. For law is only ever that which is laid by some authority, some sovereign power or entity, including both God and men pretending to be as such. In Webster’s intent separation of the versions of law we follow, it should become quite clear to the reader as to what the Highest, self-evident Law is, and that all other forms are only the creations of man’s i-magi-nations. And so it should also become clear how man’s legal codes are all a lie, based completely on fictional persons, places, and things, and have nothing to do with God’s Law of Nature. Note too here that the “Law of Nature” and the “Laws of Nature” are separate terms. The satanist often purposefully mixes up the physical Laws of Nature as the attributes of Life with the rules of conduct that are the Law of Nature. Though both are the self-evident Truth of God’s Design, paganism is designed to worship only the attributes of Nature as gods, ignoring the True Law of Nature, a set of Moral Laws said to be the unwritten Word of God, the harmony that allows man’s adventure in God’s Nature to be Pure and equitable in all things. This distinction is key. And the distinction between what is laid by God and what is laid by man is also of the utmost importance. For the laws of man are a lie, based only in fictions of the mind, and are opposed to the unenforceable Law and Laws of Nature. The essence of the True Religion of scripture is to Live and obey at all times in Piety the Law according to this very self-evident distinction.

For whatever law we choose to follow is also a representation of the God we choose to follow. He that is without mark and unblemished by surname or other fictions follows God Law alone. He who takes the mark that signifies his self to be a beast must follow the gods of beasts under the only law of man. This is the foundation of all law. And though the Bible is part of the common law, we must not embrace any part of the common law as is defined below. To embrace the Bible as Law is to abandon all of man’s law, especially the “justice” de-livered of the courts. Any yet the courts acknowledge the Bible as the Highest Law. And so we must establish our Law to the courts so that they may not include their own judicial opinions and past, customary practices and presidents in an attempt to overcome the Word of God. To accomplish this, we must never operate in any proprietary fictional person, place, or thing that falls within that courts imaginary, artificial jurisdiction. We must be conscious at all times the difference between Reality and fiction, between God and what is adversarial (satanic) to God, of the Law of Nature versus the Law of man. And sadly, in order to accomplish this ultimate state of wisdom, we must do as the Bible instructs in Matthew, Chapter 10, becoming as sheep of the flock of Jesus, following by knowledge of the Law of God’s Nature, but being able to do so only by also becoming wise as the serpent that seeks to beguile us in fiction and art, for only with the knowledge of evil (artifice) may we avoid it utterly, remaining as harmless as doves, in-juring no man, no thing, no place, and no person. Remember, to injure any man is to invoke his name in the legal capacity of law. Forgiveness and forgiveness alone in Pure Love and Charity is the only sure way to avoid the legal realm. For to invoke the name of another in fiction, both the accused and the accuser must take the name in legal personification of evil (artifice), for to sue a fictional person one must become a fictional person. One must seek the judgement of man over the judgement of God by invoking man's flattering title as a god (magistrate). But to be clear, in order to cause a man in flattering legal title to "judge" my enemy, I must also allow my Self to be judged by that man. I must commit a crime against the Laws of Nature by invoking the fictional person of that man, a person that does not Exist in Nature or under Its Laws. And so I am breaking the fundamental Law of Nature by my conduct, for I am injuring (bringing into fictional law) a man by his surety to that strawman.

Thus we may now understand the intent of the Bible when it states in James, Chapter 5 that we should: "Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge standeth before the door," in Matthew, Chapter 7 that we should, "Judge not, that ye be not judged," in Luke, Chapter 6 that we should, "Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned, forgive, and ye shall be forgiven."

For the law of man is a lie, and believing in (loving) the lie through its person is a curse upon your Life, that you should be required to live in the spiritual death of a civil, debtor's hell.

LAW - noun - [Latin lex; from the root of LAY. See lay. A law is THAT WHICH IS LAID, SET OR FIXED, like statute, constitution, from Latin statuo.] 1. A rule, particularly an established or permanent rule, PRESCRIBED BY THE SUPREME POWER OF A STATE TO ITS SUBJECTS, FOR REGULATING THEIR ACTIONS, PARTICULARLY THEIR SOCIAL ACTIONS. Laws are imperative or mandatory, COMMANDING what shall be done; prohibitory, RESTRAINING from what is to be forbore; or permissive, DECLARING WHAT MAY BE DONE WITHOUT INCURRING A PENALTY. The laws which enjoin the duties of piety and morality, are prescribed by God and found in the Scriptures. Law is beneficence acting by rule. 2. Municipal law is a rule of civil conduct PRESCRIBED BY THE SUPREME POWER OF A STATE, commanding what its subjects are to do, and prohibiting what they are to forbear; a statute. Municipal or civil laws are established by the decrees, edicts or ordinances OF ABSOLUTE PRINCES, as emperors and kings, or by the formal acts of the legislatures of free (franchise) states. Law therefore is sometimes equivalent to decree, edict, or ordinance. 3. LAW OF NATURE, is a rule of conduct arising out of the natural relations of human beings ESTABLISHED BY THE CREATOR, AND EXISTING PRIOR TO ANY POSITIVE PRECEPT. Thus it is a law of nature, that one man should not INJURE another, AND MURDER AND FRAUD WOULD BE CRIMES, INDEPENDENT OF ANY PROHIBITION (LE. LICENSURE) FROM A SUPREME POWER. 4. Laws of animal nature, the inherent principles by which the economy and functions of animal bodies are performed, such as respiration, the circulation of the blood, digestion, nutrition, various secretions, etc. 5. Laws of vegetation, the principles by which plants are produced, and their growth carried on till they arrive to perfection. 6. Physical laws, or laws of nature. The invariable tendency or determination of any species of matter to a particular form with definite properties, and the determination of a body to certain motions, changes, and relations, which uniformly take place in the same circumstances, is called a physical law. These tendencies or determinations, whether called laws or affections of matter, have been established by the Creator, and are, with a peculiar felicity of expression, denominated in Scripture, ordinances of heaven. 7. Laws of nations, the rules that regulate the MUTUAL INTERCOURSE OF NATIONS OR STATES. These rules depend on natural law OR THE PRINCIPLES OF JUSTICE WHICH SPRING FROM THE SOCIAL STATE; OR THEY ARE FOUNDED ON CUSTOMS, COMPACTS, TREATIES, LEAGUES AND AGREEMENTS BETWEEN INDEPENDENT COMMUNITIES. By the law of nations, we are to understand that code of PUBLIC instruction, which defines the rights and prescribes the duties of nations, IN THEIR INTERCOURSE WITH EACH OTHER. 8. Moral law, a law which prescribes to men THEIR RELIGIOUS AND SOCIAL DUTIES, in other words, THEIR DUTIES TO GOD AND TO EACH OTHER. The moral law is summarily contained in the decalogue or ten commandments, written by the finger of God on two tables of stone, and delivered to Moses on mount Sinai. Exodus 20:1. 9. Ecclesiastical law, a rule of action PRESCRIBED FOR

THE GOVERNMENT OF A CHURCH; otherwise called CANON LAW. 10. Written law, a law or rule of action PRESCRIBED OR ENACTED BY A SOVEREIGN, and promulgated and recorded IN WRITING; a written statute, ordinance, edict or decree. 11. UNWRITTEN OR COMMON LAW, a rule of action which derives its authority FROM LONG USAGE, OR ESTABLISHED CUSTOM, which has been immemorially RECEIVED AND RECOGNIZED BY JUDICIAL TRIBUNALS. As this law can be TRACED TO NO POSITIVE STATUTES, its rules or principles are to be FOUND ONLY IN THE RECORDS OF COURTS, AND IN THE REPORTS OF JUDICIAL DECISIONS. 12. By-law, a law of a city, town or private corporation. [See By.] 13. Mosaic law the institutions of Moses, or the code of laws prescribed to the Jews, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM THE GOSPEL. 14. Ceremonial law THE MOSAIC INSTITUTIONS WHICH PRESCRIBE THE EXTERNAL RITES AND CEREMONIES TO BE OBSERVED BY THE JEWS, AS DISTINCT FROM THE MORAL PRECEPTS, WHICH ARE OF PERPETUAL OBLIGATION. 15. A rule of direction; a directory; as reason and natural conscience. These, having not the law as a law to themselves. Romans 2:12. 16. That which governs or has a tendency to rule; that which has the power of controlling. But I see another law in my members warring against the law of my mind, AND BRINGING ME INTO CAPTIVITY TO THE LAW OF SIN WHICH IS IN MY MEMBERS. Romans 7:1. 17. THE WORD OF GOD; the doctrines and precepts of God, or his revealed will. But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night. Psalms 1:2. 18. The Old Testament. Is it not written in your law I said, ye are gods? John 10:34. 19. The institutions of Moses, AS DISTINCT FROM THE OTHER PARTS OF THE OLD TESTAMENT; as the law and the prophets. 20. A rule or axiom OF SCIENCE OR ART; SETTLED PRINCIPLE; as the laws of versification or poetry. 21. Law martial, or martial law, the rules ordained for the government of an army or military force. 22. Marine laws, rules for the regulation of NAVIGATION, AND THE COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE OF NATIONS. 23. Commercial law, law-merchant, the system of rules by which TRADE AND COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE are regulated between merchants. 24. Judicial process; prosecution OF RIGHT in courts of law. Tom Touchy is a fellow famous for taking the law of every body. Hence the phrase, to go to law to prosecute; to seek redress in a legal tribunal. 25. Jurisprudence; as in the title, Doctor of Laws. 26. In general, law is a rule of action prescribed for the government of rational beings or moral AGENTS, TO WHICH RULE THEY ARE BOUND TO YIELD OBEDIENCE, IN DEFAULT OF WHICH THEY ARE EXPOSED TO PUNISHMENT; OR LAW IS A SETTLED MODE OR COURSE OF ACTION OR OPERATION IN IRRATIONAL BEINGS AND IN INANIMATE BODIES. Civil law, criminal law [See Civil and Criminal.] Laws of honor. [See Honor.] Law language, the language used in legal writings and forms, PARTICULARLY THE NORMAN DIALECT OR OLD FRENCH, which was used in judicial proceedings from the days of William the conqueror to the 36th year of Edward III. Wager of law, a species of trial formerly used in England, in which the defendant gave security that he would, on a certain day, make his law that is, he would make oath that he owed nothing to the plaintiff, and would produce eleven of his neighbors as compurgators, who should swear that they believed in their consciences that he had sworn the truth. (Webs1828)

— = —

If the reader is not clear as to these definitions of what each form of law equates to, please revise this entry now. For we must at all times know what is a creation of man and what is the self-evident Creation of God. Our very Lives, our souls depend upon this ability to know without doubt, and this knowledge will manifest as a sign of confidence before any pretended agent of government that seeks to injure you by legal word magic.

Let us now examine the artificial nature of the United States, for it would not exist but for the legal process and ceremonial rite of legal confirmation. The birth process is also an act in need of future confirmation, as the abandonment of an infant to be found as pirate booty (sunken treasure) by the state in its district (seizure), becoming the confirmed status (strawman) attached to that man when the infant comes to the age of consent to his own adultery.

And to be clear, all law must be confirmed and ratified, for it is fiction, stemming not from God's Nature. What is artificial must be proven and confirmed. What is Real needs no such artful ratification. What is Real is laid only in the self-Existence of Jehovah. To confirm anything is to worship that which is known to be false as that which is true. The Truth of Reality stands without confirmation of man's laws and opinions of it.

CONFIRMATION - contracts, conveyancing. 1. A contract by which THAT WHICH WAS VOIDABLE, IS MADE FIRM AND UNAVOIDABLE. 2. A species of conveyance. 2. - 1. When a contract has been entered into by a stranger without authority, he in whose NAME it has been made may, by his own act, confirm it; or if the contract be made by the party himself in an INFORMAL and VOIDABLE manner, he may in a more formal manner CONFIRM and RENDER IT VALID; and in that event it will take effect, as between the parties, FROM THE ORIGINAL MAKING. To make a valid confirmation, THE PARTY MUST BE APPRISED OF, HIS RIGHTS, AND WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A FRAUD IN THE TRANSACTION, HE MUST BE AWARE OF IT, AND INTEND TO CONFIRM HIS CONTRACT. 3. - 2. Lord Coke defines a confirmation of an estate, to be "a conveyance of an estate or right in esse, whereby a voidable estate is made SURE and UNAVOIDABLE; or where a particular estate is increased." ...The proper technical words of a confirmation are, RATIFY AND CONFIRM; although it is usual and prudent to insert also the words given and granted. 5. A confirmation does not strengthen a void estate. Confirmatio est nulla, ubi donum precedens est invalidum, et ubi donatio nulla est nec valebit confirmatio. For confirmation may make a voidable or defeasible estate good, but cannot operate on an estate void in law. THE CANON LAW AGREES WITH THIS RULE, and hence the maxim, qui confirmat nihil dat. 6. AN INFANT IS SAID TO CONFIRM HIS ACTS PERFORMED DURING INFANCY, WHEN, AFTER COMING TO FULL AGE, HE EXPRESSLY APPROVES OF THEM, OR DOES ACTS FROM WHICH SUCH CONFIRMATION MAY BE IMPLIED. See Ratification. (Bouv1856)

EXPRESSLY - adverb - IN DIRECT TERMS; plainly. (Webs1828)

EXPRESS - That which is made known, and not left to implication. The opposite of implied. It is a rule, that WHEN A MATTER OR THING IS EXPRESSED, IT CEASES TO BE IMPLIED BY LAW: expressum facit cessare tacitum. (Bouv1856)

TACITLY - adverb - SILENTLY; BY IMPLICATION; WITHOUT WORDS; as, he tacitly assented. (Webs1828)

TACIT - adjective - [Latin tacitus, from taceo, TO BE SILENT, that is, to stop, or to close. See Tack.] Silent; IMPLIED, BUT NOT EXPRESSED. Tacit consent is CONSENT BY SILENCE, OR NOT INTERPOSING AN OBJECTION. So we say, a tacit agreement or covenant of men to live under a particular government, when no objection or opposition is made; A TACIT SURRENDER OF A PART OF OUR NATURAL RIGHTS; a tacit reproach, etc. (Webs1828)

TACIT - That which, ALTHOUGH NOT EXPRESSED, IS UNDERSTOOD FROM THE NATURE OF THE THING, or from the provision of the law; implied. (Bouv1856)

TACIT LAW - A law which derives its authority FROM THE COMMON CONSENT OF THE PEOPLE, WITHOUT ANY LEGISLATIVE ENACTMENT. (Bouv1856)

CONFIRMOR - He who makes a confirmation to another. (Bouv1856)

CONFIRMEE - He to whom a confirmation is made. (Bouv1856)

TO RECEIVE - VOLUNTARILY to take from another what is offered... (Bouv1856)

RATI HABITIO - Latin. CONFIRMATION, AGREEMENT, CONSENT, approbation of a contract.

RATI HABITION - Contracts. Confirmation; approbation of a contract; ratification. (Bouv1856)

RATIFICATION - In a broad sense, the CONFIRMATION of a previous act done either by the party himself OR BY ANOTHER; CONFIRMATION OF A VOIDABLE ACT. The affirmance by a person of a prior act which did not bind him, but which was done or professedly done on his account, whereby the act, as to some or all persons, IS GIVEN EFFECT AS IF ORIGINALLY AUTHORIZED BY HIM. The adoption by one, AS BINDING UPON HIMSELF, of an act done in such RELATIONS that he may claim it as done for his BENEFIT, ALTHOUGH DONE UNDER SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES AS WOULD NOT BIND HIM EXCEPT FOR HIS SUBSEQUENT ASSENT. It is equivalent to a previous authorization and relates back to time when act ratified was done, except where intervening rights of third persons are concerned. In the law of PRINCIPAL AND AGENT, the adoption and confirmation BY ONE PERSON with knowledge of all material facts, OF AN ACT OR CONTRACT PERFORMED OR ENTERED INTO IN HIS BEHALF BY ANOTHER WHO AT THE TIME ASSUMED WITHOUT AUTHORITY TO ACT AS HIS AGENT. Ratification of transaction involves same elements as making of new contract, and understanding of material facts necessary to an intelligent assent is essential to "ratification." Essence of "ratification" BY PRINCIPAL OF ACT OF AGENT IS MANIFESTATION OF MENTAL DETERMINATION by principal to affirm the act, and this may be manifested by written word or by spoken word OR BY CONDUCT, or may be inferred from known circumstances and principal's acts in relation thereto. To constitute ratification of voidable contract the act relied on must be performed with full knowledge of its consequences and with an express intention of ratifying what is known to be voidable. EXPRESS ratifications are those made in express and direct terms of assent. IMPLIED ratifications are such as the law presumes from the acts of the principal. Estoppel and ratification distinguished. See Estoppel. (Black4)

RATE - A PUBLIC VALUATION or assessment of every man's ESTATE; or the ascertaining how much TAX every one shall pay. (Bouv1856)

RATIFY - To approve and sanction; TO MAKE VALID; TO CONFIRM; to give sanction to. Though sometimes used synonymously, from a strictly lexical standpoint, THE WORD "ADOPT" SHOULD BE USED TO APPLY TO VOID TRANSACTIONS, while the word "ratify" should be limited to the FINAL APPROVAL OF A VOIDABLE TRANSACTION BY ONE WHO THERETOFORE HAD THE OPTIONAL RIGHT TO RELIEVE HIMSELF FROM ITS OBLIGATIONS. (Black4)

RATIFY - verb transitive - [Latin ratum facio, TO MAKE FIRM.] 1. TO CONFIRM; to establish; to settle. We have ratified to them the borders of Judea. 2. TO APPROVE AND SANCTION; to make valid; as, to ratify an agreement or treaty. (Webs1828)

SANCTION - verb - To assent, concur, CONFIRM, OR RATIFY. - noun - In the original sense of the word, a penalty or punishment provided as a means of enforcing obedience to a law. In jurisprudence, a law is said to have a sanction WHEN THERE IS A STATE which will intervene if it is disobeyed or disregarded. THEREFORE INTERNATIONAL LAW HAS NO LEGAL SANCTION. In a more general sense, A CONDITIONAL EVIL ANNEXED TO A LAW TO PRODUCE OBEDIENCE TO THAT LAW; and, in a still wider sense, an authorization of anything. Occasionally, "sanction" is used (e.g., in Roman law) to denote A STATUTE, the part (PENAL CLAUSE) being used to denote the whole. The VINDICATORY PART of a law, or THAT PART WHICH ORDAINS OR DENOUNCES A PENALTY FOR ITS VIOLATION. (Black4)

SANCTUARY - In old English law. A CONSECRATED PLACE which had certain privileges annexed to it, and to which offenders were accustomed to resort for refuge, because THEY COULD NOT BE ARRESTED THERE, NOR THE LAWS BE EXECUTED. (Black4)

RATIFICATION - Contracts. An agreement TO ADOPT AN ACT PERFORMED BY ANOTHER FOR US... 6. AN INFANT IS NOT LIABLE ON HIS CONTRACTS; BUT IF, AFTER COMING OF AGE, HE RATIFY THE CONTRACT BY AN ACTUAL OR EXPRESS DECLARATION, HE WILL BE BOUND TO PERFORM IT, AS IF IT HAD BEEN MADE AFTER HE ATTAINED FULL AGE. The ratification must be voluntary, deliberate, and intelligent, and the party must know that without it, he would not be bound. But a confirmation or ratification of a contract, MAY BE IMPLIED FROM ACTS OF THE INFANT AFTER HE BECOMES OF AGE; AS BY ENJOYING OR CLAIMING A BENEFIT UNDER A CONTRACT HE MIGHT HAVE WHOLLY RESCINDED; and an infant partner will be liable for the contracts of the firm, or at least such as were known to him, if he, after becoming of age, confirm the contract of partnership by transacting business of the firm, receiving profits, and the like. (Bouv1856)

RATIFICATION OF TREATIES - The constitution of the United States, art. 2, s. 2, declares that the president shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur. 2. So NO TREATY IS THEREFORE OF ANY VALIDITY TO BIND THE NATION UNLESS IT HAS BEEN RATIFIED by two-thirds of the members present in the senate at the time its expediency or propriety may have been discussed. Vide Treaty. (Bouv1856)

RATIFICATION - Acceptance or adoption of AN ACT PERFORMED BY ANOTHER AS AGENT OR REPRESENTATIVE; in particular, CONFIRMATION OF WHAT HAS BEEN DONE WITHOUT ORIGINAL AUTHORITY. AN ADOPTION OF A CONTRACT MADE ON OUR BEHALF BY SOMEONE WHOM WE DID NOT AUTHORIZE, WHICH RELATES BACK TO THE EXECUTION OF THE CONTRACT AND RENDERS IT OBLIGATORY FROM THE OUTSET. Requires some POSITIVE, ASSERTIVE ACT. An "estoppel" may be created by silence. Refers to contracts BETWEEN PRIVATE PERSONA, to treaties between states, AND TO CHANGES PROPOSED IN WRITTEN CONSTITUTIONS. 1. Ratification of the unauthorized act of another operates upon the act ratified AS IF AUTHORITY TO DO THE ACT HAD BEEN PREVIOUSLY GIVEN, except where the rights of third parties have intervened between the act and the ratification. In other words, it is essential that the party ratifying should be able not merely to do the act ratified at the time the act was done, BUT ALSO AT THE TIME THE RATIFICATION WAS MADE. It is by EXPRESS CONSENT, OR BY CONDUCT inconsistent with any other hypothesis than that of approval; BUT INOPERATIVE, IF THE PARTY SOUGHT TO BE CHARGED WAS NOT COMPETENT TO MAKE THE CONTRACT WHEN THE SAME WAS MADE, nor when the supposed act of ratification was performed, or if the contract was illegal, IMMORAL, or against public policy. Where FRAUD is of such a character as to involve a crime, ratification of the act from which it springs IS OPPOSED TO PUBLIC POLICY, and, hence, cannot be permitted; BUT WHERE THE TRANSACTION IS CONTRARY ONLY TO GOOD FAITH AND FAIR DEALING, WHERE IT AFFECTS INDIVIDUAL INTEREST MERELY, RATIFICATION IS PERMITTED. Thus, the forgery of an indorsement, being a criminal act, is incapable of ratification.' (WCA1889)

OBLIGATORY - A "writing obligatory" means, simply, a written contract under seal. (WCA1889)

OBLIGATION - A ligament or tie; SOMETHING WHICH BINDS ONE TO DO OR NOT TO DO AN ACT. 1. In its most extensive sense, synonymous with "duty." (WCA1889)

NATURAL OR MORAL OBLIGATION - AN OBLIGATION WHICH CANNOT BE ENFORCED BY ACTION, but which is nevertheless BINDING IN CONSCIENCE AND ACCORDING TO NATURAL JUSTICE. OPPOSED (TO) CIVIL OR LEGAL OBLIGATION... (WCA1889)

OBLIGATION (continued) - In Roman law, a contract was a pact, a convention plus an obligation. So long as the pact remained unclothed with the obligation, it was “nude” or “naked.” An obligation was “juris vinculum, quo necessitate, adstringimur alicujus solvendoe rei” (Justinian, Inst. Ht, 13, 1). The obligation is the "BOND" or "CHAIN," WITH WHICH THE LAW JOINS PERSONS TOGETHER IN CONSEQUENCE OF THEIR VOLUNTARY ACTS. Obligation may signify a right as well as a duty. The picture is that of a "LEGAL CHAIN," and the two ends were equally regarded. The obligation was a PERSONAL relation between two parties, A DEBTOR BOUND TO RENDER SOME SERVICE, A CREDITOR TO RECEIVE IT. The debt was a binding (obligatio), the payment a releasing (SOLUTIO), of the PERSON. THE CREDITORS HOLD WAS ON THE PERSON (later on the property) of the debtor. The imperfect obligation (naturalis) could not, like the perfect (civilis), be enforced by a direct action, BUT MIGHT HAVE FORCE IN INDIRECT WAYS. Natural obligations arose from transactions which would have created civil ones, BUT FOR SOME DEFECT IN FORM OR IN LEGAL CAPACITY. Civil obligations were those STRICTI JURIS, subject to a literal and rigorous construction, and those bonae fidei, in which the aims of the parties and the demands of reason and equity were considered. 2. A LEGAL DUTY; A LEGAL LIABILITY. A valid, subsisting obligation consists of a legal debt or duty, and the remedy to enforce it. 3. AN UNDERTAKING UNDER SEAL; also, THE INSTRUMENT OR WRITING BY WHICH IT IS EVIDENCED. A BOND, OR OTHER WRITING IN THE NATURE OF A BOND. In a popular sense, ANY ACT BY WHICH A PERSON BECOMES BOUND TO OR FOR ANOTHER, OR TO PERFORM SOMETHING.' See Bond. (WCA1889)

AFFIRM - 1. To aver a thing as established or certain, or as existing, or as provable as a fact. Whence affirmative, affirmation. (WCA1889)

AFFIRMATIVE - 1. - adjective - Asserting as true; DECLARATORY OF WHAT EXISTS or is to be or to be done; POSITIVE. OPPOSED (TO) NEGATIVE. As, affirmative or an affirmative — allegation, averment condition, covenant, defense, evidence, pleading, representation, statute, warranty, words, (2) - noun - The affirmative, the party who maintains or supports. Opposed (to) the negative. THE BURDEN OF PROOF RESTS UPON HIM WHO HOLDS THE AFFIRMATIVE OF AN ISSUE. See Proof, Burden of. (WCA1889)

AFFIRMATIVE PREGNANT - An AFFIRMATIVE allegation IMPLYING A NEGATIVE in favor of the adverse party. Opposed (to) negative pregnant: a negative allegation involving or admitting of AN AFFIRMATIVE IMPLICATION, or, at least, an implication favorable to the adverse party. See Negative. (WCA1889)

NEGATIVE PREGNANT - The statement of a negative proposition in such a FORM as may IMPLY or CARRY with it the admission of an AFFIRMATIVE. A fault, within the rule that a pleading MUST NOT BE AMBIGUOUS IN MEANING. (WCA1889)

NEGATIVE - Is used in an untechnical sense, in opposition to affirmative or positive; as negative, or a negative — allegation, averment, condition, covenant, easement, evidence, statute, qq. v. WHOEVER ASSERTS A RIGHT DEPENDENT FOR ITS EXISTENCE UPON A NEGATIVE MUST ESTABLISH THE TRUTH OF THE NEGATIVE, except where the matter is peculiarly within the knowledge of the adverse party - as, that the latter has no license for selling liquor. It is not a maxim of law that a negative is INCAPABLE of proof. When the negative ceases to be a SIMPLE one, — when it is qualified by TIME,

PLACE, or CIRCUMSTANCE, — much of the objection is REMOVED; and proof of a negative may reasonably be required WHEN THE QUALIFYING CIRCUMSTANCES ARE THE DIRECT MATTER IN ISSUE, or the affirmative is either probable in itself, or supported by a presumption, or peculiar means of proof are in the hands of the party asserting the negative. When a presumption is in favor of a party who asserts the negative, IT AFFORDS AN ADDITIONAL REASON FOR CASTING THE BURDEN OF PROOF ON HIS ADVERSARY. It is when a presumption is in favor of the party who asserts the affirmative that its effect becomes visible, as the opposite side is then bound to prove his negative. One class of exceptions to the rule, that the burden of proof rests on the party holding the affirmative, includes the cases in which the plaintiff grounds his right of action upon a negative allegation which is an essential element in his case. So, where the negative allegation involves a charge of criminal neglect of duty, or fraud, or the wrongful violation of actual lawful possession of property, THE PARTY MAKING THE ALLEGATION MUST PROVE IT; for in those cases the presumption of LAW IS IN FAVOR OF THE PARTY CHARGED. See Affirm. (WCA1889)

—=—

STOP!!! Do not proceed with this work until the above statements about confirmation, express and tacit consent, and ratification are fully comprehended. This is perhaps the most important part of this entire presentation. For this is the definition of adultery, as the voluntary acceptance of the tacit (implied) contractual relationship through the expression (action) of the man (as agent) by the use of the fictional persona (principal property of government). The simple signing of the mixed christian and sur-names as the combination of signature is the expression of will to be protected and secured, which requires subjection to that law of persons, and is an expression of legal confirmation of that contractual state of debt slavery. Anything signed in person is a binding contract of the person, and thus the man in the legal “chains” of surety to that fictional persona. For what is avoidable (illegitimate) becomes unavoidable once any action is taken by the agentic surety under his principal. Actions confirm and ratify words. One cannot act in the apparent benefit and protection of the person (citizenship) while also denying to be in appearance (constat) of the person or as agent thereof. One cannot use the name and also deny the status and law attached to the name’s use. If the reader may understand just these terms of art and their deep meaning, then the reader may understand why citizenship is voluntary (under the doctrine of master and servant). This is the foundation of voluntary servitude to evil. It is also the foundation of abandoning both God and therefore the unalienable rights implied under God.

And finally, when we comprehend the above artificially binding concepts, we may truly understand why the private founders of the several States (Peoples) and many Biblical scholars, including Noah Webster, over and over stated that this government would only work based on true christian, scriptural principals of law and no other. Literally, this type of “limited government” may only have success on a self-governing private People who reserve their Natural rights and bind themselves to that Natural duty so implied thereof. Once any other form of law is confirmed and ratified the original intent is corrupted and ruined, and of course it turned into the pirate coven we see today. And if you still don’t know why this word pirate is being used by the author, you certainly will by the end of this first, summary chapter. So don’t stop now...

—=—

“A ratification is EQUAL TO A COMMAND.”

—Ratihabitio mandato sequiparatur. (WCA1889)

—=—

And this is why acting only according to christ’s teachings (i.e. ratifying and acting according to only God’s Commandments and Law) is the only salvation and solution (solutio) from legal tyranny, for only then can man avoid that which would be legally unavoidable by his christ-like actions. The christian name alone is a negative, and cannot be affirmed or assumed as a legal name or title without addition. This is the story of christ, and the story of christ is nothing if not the potentiality of every man in his own journey and avoidance of legal, artificial things and states of false being in names and flattering titles.

While the church says pray with us (publicly) to have only the empty NAME (noun) of Jesus christ become our imaginary lord and master in personification of man, the Bible tells us that we must, each of our own Self, master the teachings of christ (verb) and exclusively by christ's example be the christ-like master of our own Self. This is self-governance, self-discipline.

— = —

“He openeth also their ear TO DISCIPLINE, and commandeth that they RETURN FROM INIQUITY. If they obey and serve him, they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures. But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword, and THEY SHALL DIE WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE.”

—Job 36:10-12, KJB

— = —

The follower of christ sees not christ as his vulgar and imagined lord, but instead recognizes that christ is the self-evident Word (Law) of God and that only with christ (the Word/Law) may he be self-governing under his True Lord Jehovah. It is patently ridiculous, when one ponders for only a moment, that the church tells us to pray to god through the “name” (noun) of Jesus christ, when the 1st and most important commandment is to have no other gods before Jehovah. If we were acting christ-like, we would not need to pray for Grace, we would be actively walking in christ's path. And it should be noted that most prayers are for things that are not Creations of God, as if the abundance of Nature is not enough. So why would such prayers be answered when the pursuit of such fictions and artifices is against God's Word? Paradox! If God could indeed reciprocate and correspond to the empty words of the typical public prayer, IT would no doubt tell us all that we are surely making a prank call, and that we should simply start acting like Jesus as we are commanded, walking as that parabolic example given to us instead of trying to prove that which does not Exist or which merely re-presents and symbolizes something that already Exists in Nature despite such art and imagery. We should stop bowing down to idols (images) and false gods in fancy dress and robes as some pretended, protective shield, while never following the actual Word (Son). In other words, God would tell us to simply follow His Law (Son/Word), the One example of man's harmonious place in God's Nature, and our problems would cease to fictionally exist, for all our problems stem from our own artifice and desires of it. Our problems stem only from legal, artificial things, like say the church and state and the false law they conspire together to sustain as they have laid it. The man living spiritually under God's Word should seek to ratify and confirm nothing of the artifice of man, for he may only do so by undertaking a false persona in contracted admixture of his God-given First name with the state's fictional title of legal surname in required worship of mammon. Man's disease is his legal strawman, the very root of all fictional growths attached to him in surety.

Likewise, we must here see and feel the difference between the negative and the positive. The agents of the legal matrix is always seeking to prove some presumption or inducement that can turn a negative into a positive, a withholding into an affirmation, a duty into a declared right. I may certainly love and know my mother and father in Nature, as they may know and love me. But my affirmation as such in order to gain some legal thing, profit, benefit, protection, grant, or any other aspect of fiction (lie) creates the presumption of desire and intent to impress that child into the legal fiction for positive law purposes. That which is self-evident (negative) is thus thrust into and affirmed as positive. That which before was ambiguous, not respected, and thus unseen by man's legal tricks of law is thus marked as its beast of burden. The man is made animal (soulless). The positive claim affirms the legal status in persona, and so the presumption is confirmed. This is a very difficult concept, but understanding it is absolutely necessary and is the foundation of the scriptural, spiritual teachings and way. No thing positive and thus spiritually dead may touch that negative, Natural path of Pure and un-adulterated Life.

And so we can see here that to tell the legal “truth” or state a legal “fact” is often the act of a non compos mentis fool, a lie affirmed to be as the ratified and confirmed but artificial truth and fact. For in law, the truth is only ever a positive declaration and acknowledgment of artifice, and the truth about a negative can only be the positively affirmed lie (legal name, legal definition, and artful legal title) of its fictional (positive law) form and consideration. In Nature, the Truth is undeniable. Only in fiction can God’s Creation and self-evidence of Existence and Law as man’s Highest Duty to It and each other be denied and such denial protected. When the court can deny truth and then create and confirm lies as evidence at bar, then we know that we are certainly not living in the Reality and beauty of the Truth. Pray (plea) as we may to that false robed god in judgement at bench (bank) in court, the Truth can and will never be heard by that fictional character and magistrate of the fictional law.

An averment is made to cause man’s negative state of being to become a false positive, to tune man into that cartoon world by establishing a clear alternative legal character in fiction, destroying his ambiguity under God in his Pure christian name by affirming the opprobrious appellation of an attached, tainting surname, number, and identifying marks. In other words, every time we go to court or use our strawman we positively charge (confirm) that legal fiction and admit ourselves to its realm of jurisdiction. We are affirmers each time we are summoned and thus confirm the lie of our legally “true” and provable (positive) id-entity.

I am Clint Richardson... I am the strawman. I live at this fictional, legally addressed place, as registered under the fictional Caesar’s postal district of seizure, distress, and distraint. I drive and act always commercially under this fictional photo id-entity. I appear here as the personification of all of these tokens and proofs of id-entity that manifest my false, legal existence. I affirm that I am not, therefore, appearing here as an Act of God, that I have no spiritual, Higher Law, that I deny God’s authority, and thus that I claim and reserve no unalienable Natural Rights here at bar. And I give my unholy, sacred (cursed) oath that these lies are all, in legal fact, artificially true. And I do so upon the very Bible that would free me from your fiction in blasphemy to it, worshiping you as my false god. I am at the court’s mercy instead of Jehovah’s, for my truth is positively and only positively fiction, and so please judge, please god, hear my prayers, because I have just turned my back on the Real World, Its God, and Its negative power over your fiction.

And so what happens in a negative averment?

AVER - To assert for the truth; to state in that HE HAS NEVER BEEN DISCHARGED FROM HIS POSITIVE TERMS; to allege FORMALLY. (WCA1889)

AVERMENT - A POSITIVE statement of the TRUTH OF A FACT; a FORMAL allegation in pleading...

An averment in a declaration is a direct and positive allegation of fact, made in a manner capable of being traversed (denied). It includes the idea of an AFFIRMATION to be made out by inference and induction.

“The use in pleading of an averment is to ascertain that to the court which is generally or doubtfully expressed; so that the court may not be perplexed of whom, or of what, it ought to be UNDERSTOOD; and TO ADD MATTER to the plea TO MAKE DOUBTFUL THINGS CLEAR,” — as, an averment in an action of slander. There is no particular form of words in use. The important matter is that each substantial fact be so averred as to be susceptible of a simple admission or denial. See Verify. (WCA1889)

VERIFY - To show to be true; TO CONFIRM BY OATH: as, TO VERIFY AN ACCOUNT, a petition, A PLEA, BY MAKING OATH TO THE TRUTH OF THE STATEMENT OF THE FACTS SET FORTH.

Whence verification. Sometimes, TO CONFIRM OR SUBSTANTIATE BY OATH, sometimes by argument; in legal proceedings generally the former (by oath)." A notary may "verify" a mortgagee's written statement of the amount of his claim, but need not "authenticate" the act by his seal. "Verify" here means TO SWEAR TO. Compare Aver. (WCA1889)

NEGATIVE - ADENIAL; a proposition by which something is denied; a statement in the form of denial. TWO NEGATIVES DO NOT MAKE A GOOD ISSUE. As to negative "Covenant," "Easement," "Servitude," "Statute," and "Testimony," see those titles. (Black4)

NEGATIVE EVIDENCE - Testimony that AN ALLEGED FACT DID NOT EXIST. (Black4)

NEGATIVE CONDITION - One by which it is stipulated that a given thing shall not happen. (Black4)

NEGATIVE AVERMENT - As opposed to the traverse or SIMPLE DENIAL of an affirmative allegation, a negative averment is an allegation of some substantive fact, e. g., that premises are not in repair, which, although negative in FORM, is really affirmative in SUBSTANCE, AND THE PARTY ALLEGING THE FACT OF NON-REPAIR MUST PROVE IT. An averment in some of the pleadings in a case in which a negative is asserted. (Black4)

—=—

I can deny that I am Clint Richardson, to which the plaintiff must prove I am that which I am not.

Or I can claim that I am a different legal person named John Smith instead of Clint Richardson, in which case I must prove that I am not Clint Richardson by providing positive evidence that I am in-deed another fiction named Clint Richardson. This is a dark legal trap, for to prove one legal (artificial) thing in error one must affirm another artificial legal thing to be true. I must embrace fiction over Reality, choosing a false master over my own Nature (Self). This is against God's Word. Denial is a simple negative, whereas claiming or averring a false but legalized truth as existent and authoritative is a negative averment, and so the negative claim of truth must be positively proven. Therefore, as a general rule, one should do as Jesus did by remaining silent or speaking parabolically (not personally), never making such types of positive or negative affirmations. For names cannot harm us unless we respect them and claim (affirm) they are our own.

At this point, we can go back to scripture and see where christ lived simply and thus negatively in all things, never claiming to be anything but what was self-evident and simple, and teaching others to be like-minded. How dare anyone demand that God prove Itself as anything but the I AM. And as God's Creation, we also are only what we are. All else is fiction. All else is positive. All else must be proven.

—=—

“Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. BEAR YE ONE ANOTHER'S BURDENS, AND SO FULFIL THE LAW OF CHRIST. FOR IF A MAN THINK HIMSELF TO BE SOMETHING, WHEN HE IS NOTHING, HE DECEIVETH HIMSELF. BUT LET EVERY MAN PROVE HIS OWN WORK, and then shall he have rejoicing IN HIMSELF ALONE, AND NOT IN ANOTHER.”

— = —

In these powerful verses we are told how to simply fulfill the spiritual law. Most importantly, it is said that we may only prove ourselves by our works, and not by words in some false, fictional name and flattering title. This is the substance of a negative proof, whereas the name and title are merely positive formalities, empty proofs without works (without evidence in Reality). Do not be tempted by the perceived ease of such positively charged faults, and so in doing do not pretend to be something you are not. For ultimately, when compared to the artificial world of man, we are nothing at all. We are fiction-less. Invisible. Immune from that artful dis-ease. And so it could be said that the whole satanic (adversarial) system of man's artful law is to tempt man unto himself, to respect the mirror image in a false form and persona more so than the Nature and Source of its shining, and so to deceive himself in all things by loving the fiction over the Reality of all things. If this is the case, then it would be fairly accurate to say that our societies are merely extensions of the fable of hell, where everything we do is in artifice and opposed to our very own Nature and to that of all others.

To speak (verbally) positively or negatively, that is the question. We have learned that positive is good and negative is bad. But let us not forget that the legal language deals in figurative dualities and opposites, and that a loss or lack of anything positive in law is a gain and retaining of spirituality. What is positive kills the spirit and pretends to corrupt the blood. For a legal entity only has a positive existence with positively created traits.

Let us take for example again the man who calls himself by the flattering title of "scientist" through government permission and licensure compared to the spiritual man who uses the "scientific method" in the Purest of responsibility, respect, and protection of that which he studies. Everything in Nature certainly has a hidden science (Design) about it, those self-evident characteristics of Existence and of that which sparks Life itself. We may either protect our Nature or we may destroy it utterly with legal license in the name of "science."

In Webster's 1828 dictionary of the English Language, the word science is defined as an "ART derived from precepts or built on principles," where "SCIENCE PERFECTS GENIUS," and as "Any art or species of knowledge," though with the caveat that "NO SCIENCE DOTH MAKE KNOWN THE FIRST PRINCIPLES ON WHICH IT BUILDETH." For science is of course a noun, not a verb. And so science perfects the art of evil genius (the actual definition of devil) as well as sparking that imagination of the well intentioned discoverer. But a science created by man around anything is an acknowledgement and firm ratification of certain proclaimed facts, not the actual knowledge. Thus institutionalized science perpetually falls in upon itself, ever changing in its conclusions, and always cast aside without apology by the next more popular and modern version of itself, though usually only after a strict and causal belief in the perfection of exactness of that which is the "current" science (proven facts) of things is used to justify and give license to some of the most atrocious and horrific acts in history.

Sounds a lot like religion, does it not?

As we can imagine, a scientific mind is very much like a man of God, both corrupted in their innocence by powers that seek to exploit the very Design each man worships. The corporatized, Romanized religion despoils the Pure religious intent of man just as the institutions of licensed "Science" despoils the neutrality of genius that causes a man to wish to discover the beautiful and seemingly chaotic but harmonic functionality of God's Nature. The noun always destroys the verb; the art only ever able to be a still picture of the True flow of Nature.

But what about the man himself? How does the art alter the course and purpose of man when the syndicalist institutions in authority over any art becomes the governor of the law over the Real? What happens when the legalistic, logical discourse ignores any spiritual considerations of the Source of Law?

A spiritual man is positive about nothing, dwelling and acknowledging only in the negative (organic) state of all things and acting as the instruments and protectors of Nature and not simply pretending to be Its overlord and corruptor, whereas a “scientist” must be strictly positive about everything, naming and classifying each part of the whole, though never fully understanding its Source, while destroying the very whole to understand the parts, only to find and often deny that it is only the whole that should be used in its Purest essence. Without positive laws and names (proper words), the scientist cannot function in Nature, while the negative spirit simply nurtures that which Is in Being self-evidence (I AM) without names being necessary, knowing it will grow to Naturally sustain him and preserving that life without need to tear it apart and destroy it to positively discover and pretend to improve upon its Natural Design and function. The spiritual man’s only science is his internally unmolested con-science, as the spiritual awareness of the priceless value and sacrifice of all Life and of the only actual Truth, being the protector of that only Reality. The scientist must separate everything in Nature from itself, from its completeness, and into its specific individual parts that make up that whole (Source) for study and thus genetic alteration, as if man can improve God’s Permanence of Design, knowing that any change is only ever temporary or utterly destructive of that Origin of Design and can never thus grow or live without man’s help or supplemental action, whereas the spiritual man considers all in Oneness, knowing that it is only the whole that heals and sustains all Life and that all Life lives only because of the systematic Whole; never questioning the harmony of the Design but instead living within it negatively, harmoniously, doing no harm except that which is a respectful sacrifice necessary for Life to sustain other Life. The scientist splits electricity into positive and negative so as to limit and control its Original Design flow capacity, though the spirit requires the Purity of that Source in togetherness and harmony, even as the atmosphere discharges its insurmountable and uncontrollable power upon the earth and sea through what scientists call as “lightening” without Truly comprehending its Nature and Design. For the legal scientist in mammon, whose person’s intent and licensed title is towards financial gain instead of beneficial scientific discovery itself in the Pure Love of Charity and Works for the harmony of all of man and his very Nature, his goal is not to share but to own knowledge by controlling his re-created and re-purposed art and its name (proper noun) for patent and sale for benefit only to himself, his product of re-creation of Source being only a copy of Nature without an original, a novel, copyrighted simulacrum of God’s Design; Nature without a spiritual and life-affirming blueprint from its Source and thus patentable for commercial, monopolistic gain. For it is not the man considered as making the discoveries, it is his flattering title as an educated employee attached to his legal surname of another. Remember, all that already Exists in self-evidence under God cannot be patented by man as a new idea or discovery. Nothing of God’s Creation is patentable, and so all of Nature must be modified into something adversarial (satanic, opposed) to its Source in order to be controlled and patented for all person’s permissive use or exclusion. All of Nature must be reorganized and made false by placing a false, legal name and title upon it. Patents do not apply to a private man who privately uses the idea only for his self without commercially attempting to sell it against public commercial patent rights, another difference between private use and public use. As long as no money or gain of any type valued in money is made upon the application of the patented idea, no patented legal law is broken, yet another example of why Charity is the solution to most problems, while money and the belief (love) of it is almost exclusively the cause. That prostitute of a legal science corporation, that hireling “scientist’s” work is not his own, and yet his work would be impossible to accomplish in Nature without such a permissive, antichrist legal setting as ours without the money changers of mammon running his laboratory and funding his expeditions and experiments with unchecked licensure (anarchy). And so again, money is certainly the root of all evil, not the least of which is man selling his soul and dignity for a flattering title dignified only in the fictional circles of institutionalized art forms (syndicalist corporations). The scientist’s God is always mammon or some corporation thereof to which he prostitutes himself and his allotted, educated and papered in flattering title as a base hireling, just as the priest’s of corporate religions do, for his work is always funded by the currency of a positively charged monetary system, and often by the syndicalist university system that granted his graduated diplomacy (diplomatic immunity) of licensed crime in the first place.

In viewing these definitions, remember that legal is opposed to Nature, as something positively charged (accused and judged) or negatively charged (being induced to positively contract).

NEGATIVELY - adverb - 1. With or by denial; as, he answered negatively. 2. In the FORM of speech IMPLYING THE ABSENCE OF SOMETHING; OPPOSED TO POSITIVELY. I shall show what this image of god in man is, NEGATIVELY BY SHOWING WHEREIN IT DOES NOT CONSIST, and positively, by showing wherein it does consist. 3. Negatively charged or electrified. [See Positively]. (Webs1828)

POSITIVELY - adverb - Absolutely; by itself, independent of any thing else; not comparatively. Good and evil removed may be esteemed good or evil comparatively, and not positively or simply. 1. Not negatively; really; IN ITS OWN NATURE; directly; INHERENTLY. A thing is positively good, when it produces happiness by its own qualities or operation. IT IS NEGATIVELY GOOD, WHEN IT PREVENTS AN EVIL, OR DOES NOT PRODUCE IT. 2. Certainly; indubitably. This is POSITIVELY YOUR HANDWRITING. 3. Directly; explicitly; EXPRESSLY. The witness testified positively to the fact. 4. Peremptorily; in strong terms. The divine law POSITIVELY requires humility and meekness. 5. WITH FULL CONFIDENCE OR ASSURANCE. I cannot speak positively in regard to the fact. Positively electrified, in the science of electricity. A body is said to be positively electrified or charged with electric matter, when it contains a superabundance of the fluid, AND NEGATIVELY ELECTRIFIED OR CHARGED, WHEN SOME PART OF THE FLUID WHICH IT NATURALLY CONTAINS, HAS BEEN TAKEN FROM IT. According to other theorists, when the electric fluid is directed outwards from a body, the substance is electrified positively; but when it is entering or has a tendency to enter another substance, the body is supposed to be negatively electrified. The two species of electricity attract each other, and each REPELS ITS OWN KIND. (Webs1828)

POSITIVE - Express; absolute; not doubtful; affirmative; direct : as, a positive or positive — affirmation, condition, evidence, fraud, proof, statute, etc. (WCA1889)

POSITIVE LAW - Law actually ORDAINED or ESTABLISHED; statutory regulations; enacted law, or enactments; THE LEX SCRIPTA. (WCA1889)

— = —

Remember that the original united States constitution (a unification of several separate, private Peoples as “States” in compact) in its own words was to positively “ordain and establish” the nation and fix absolutely and resolutely its magistracy, and also to distinguish them from all other classes and slaves. And its legacy is only left to their “posterity” in blood consideration of Arms (heraldry) of fabled genealogy, which they reserve their private right to Bear over that of the legal, artificial Arms (flag and seal) of the United States. Know your place and class and you will know your law. Know your Self, and no positive law can effect you. Know (be familiar with, family with) your positively created (constituted) strawman person, and no law will escape your surety bond to it.

A negative duty repels the transgressions by others who respect the Natural Law. A positive contractual obligation (positive duty) repels by insurance and protection of the contract (promise) and the fear of breaking that false law, no matter how tyrannical or harmful. But the negative and positive can be made to fit together like hand in glove, just as the negative man is clothed by the positive legal person, but the positive cannot exist without the negative force and breath of Life behind it. For what is of the negative is of Source.

— = —

“A negative destroys a negative, and both make an affirmative.”

“A double negative is an affirmative.”

NEGATIO DESTRUIT NEGATIONEM, ET AMBAE FACIUNT AFFIRMATIONEM. Co. Litt. 146b. Lord Coke cites this as a rule of grammatical construction, not always applying in law. —NEGATIO DUPLEX EST AFFIRMATIO. (Black4)

— = —

I cannot be two things at once in Reality, in Nature. I can Be and have only one unifying purpose. To pretend to be and feign an artificial appearance as some thing when we are in Reality no thing (we are not a noun in Nature; not a fictional person, place, or thing) is to act opposed to God's Nature and Law, which is to respect no person created by man, no jurisdiction or title created by man, and nothing of or within the fictional arts created by man. We are to remain spiritually negative without addition, which simply translates to telling no lies and excepting no lies, which we call the positive fiction of law.

We must cease living dualistic, double lives, pretending to have one foot in Nature (God) and one in commerce (mammon). We must stop being two-faced. The second I claim to be anything but that I AM, that I Exist only in Nature with no other considerations, then whatever else I negatively claim as an addition to my already negative state is seen as an affirmation, and a positive statement must always be proved, even when it avers only a negative state of Being. One could vulgarly translate this easily to just the simple to understand statement to just “shut the hell up!” very much as Jesus was portrayed. No words, no affirmations. We cannot be private and act publicly at the same time. We cannot reserve our secrets and also be alienated of them in publicity at the same time. Under God's Word, in Truth, we cannot live double lives. But we do...

DOUBLE - adjective - D- ubl. [Latin. Gr. See Two.] 1. Two of a sort together; one corresponding to the other; being in pairs; as double chickens in the same egg; double leaves connected by one petiole. 2. Twice as much; containing the same quantity or length repeated. Take double money in your hand. Genesis 43:12. Let a double portion of thy spirit be on me. 2 Kings 2:9. With to; as, the amount is double to what I expected. 3. Having one added to another; as a double chin. 4. Twofold; also, of two kinds. Darkness and tempest make a double night. 5. Two in number; as double sight or sound. [See No. 1.] 6. DECEITFUL; ACTING TWO PARTS, ONE OPENLY, THE OTHER IN SECRET. And with DOUBLE HEART do they speak. Psalms 12:2. - adverb - Dubl. Twice. I was double their age. Double, in composition, denotes, two ways, or twice the number or quantity. (Webs1828)

NEGATION - Denial. Two negations are construed to mean ONE AFFIRMATION. (Bouv1856)

NEGATIVE - This word has several significations. 1. It is used IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO GIVING ASSENT; thus we say the president has put his negative upon such a bill. Vide YETO. 2. It is also used IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO AFFIRMATIVE; as, A NEGATIVE DOES NOT ALWAYS ADMIT OF THE SIMPLE AND DIRECT PROOF OF WHICH AN AFFIRMATIVE IS CAPABLE. WHEN A PARTY AFFIRMS A NEGATIVE IN HIS PLEADINGS, AND WITHOUT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF WHICH, BY EVIDENCE, HE CANNOT RECOVER OR DEFEND HIMSELF, THE BURDEN OF THE PROOF LIES UPON HIM, AND HE MUST PROVE THE NEGATIVE. Although as a general rule the AFFIRMATIVE of every ISSUE must be PROVED, YET THIS RULE CEASES TO OPERATE THE MOMENT THE PRESUMPTION OF LAW IS THROWN INTO THE OTHER SCALE. WHEN THE ISSUE IS ON THE LEGITIMACY OF A CHILD, THEREFORE, IT IS INCUMBENT ON THE PARTY ASSERTING THE ILLEGITIMACY TO PROVE IT. Vide Affirmative Innocence. (Bouv1856)

NEATNESS - Pleading. The statement, in apt and appropriate words, OF ALL THE NECESSARY FACTS, AND NO MORE. (Bouv1856)

NEAT or NET - Contracts. THE EXACT WEIGHT OF AN ARTICLE, without the bag, box, keg, OR OTHER THING IN WHICH IT MAY BE ENVELOPED. (Bouv1856)

ENVELOPED - participle passive - Inwrapped; covered on all sides; surrounded on all sides; inclosed. (Webs1828)

ENVELOP - verb transitive - 1. To cover by wrapping of FOLDING; to inwrap; TO INVEST WITH A COVERING (i.e. HOOD). Animal bodies are usually enveloped with skin; the merchant envelops goods with canvas; a letter is enveloped with paper. 2. To surround entirely; to cover on all sides; to hide. A ship was enveloped in fog; the troops were enveloped in dust. 3. To line; to cover on the inside... (Webs1828)

DECK - verb transitive - 1. Primarily, to cover; to overspread; TO PUT ON. Hence, 2. TO CLOTHE; TO DRESS THE PERSON; but usually, to clothe with more than ordinary elegance; to array; TO ADORN; to embellish. The dew with spangles decked the ground. 3. TO FURNISH WITH A DECK AS A VESSEL. - noun - 1. The covering of a SHIP... (Webs1828)

—=—

In the legal realm all things must be proved to positively exist. But when the presumption of law is upon the negative aspect of that which a positive status or law is attempted to be clothed upon, namely a man or property, the positive law is thwarted. Only when a negative is used to prove that negative quality does the negative then need to be proven somehow positively so as to prove the other negative. Paradox. This gets confusing even for myself, and goes to show the Beauty of that simplicity of God's Nature and Son (Word). To live a simple life is to always avoid artifice, never positively confirming or ratifying any thing that is a design of man nor clothing it in false authority.

These are the most devastating aspects of the legal indoctrination of men into fiction, for in the end we are screwing ourselves, wirelessly plugging ourselves into the legal matrix every time we idiotically speak in dog-Latin while positively acting under some other terms of art. And this is the epitome of what the scriptural teachings warn against, of man's fall into fiction, which is to say that only a man not learned in, following, and heeding the warnings of scripture in fear of not doing so (the fear of God) could be tricked into this folly of personhood under the positive law of man. It is our own continued, individual use of the strawman, its signature, its legal ability and capacity positively permitted to enter into contract by its agent, and its benefits of social (public) security and other protective and obligatory benefits under Title 42 of U.S. Code that confirms each of our choices to stay in mammon once adulthood is reached; that consenting legal hood of permissive, legally licensed adultery.

An abandoned child is not ratified into the district (seizure) of government, for it has no ability or consideration to do so until it is of the age of consent. It is adopted. This adoption lies as a status purely voidable by the parents throughout the life of the infant until that age of consent (ratification) is reached, for which we call adult-hood; the state of a grown-up bastard that can then choose his own adulterous ways through legal licensing and educative indoctrination and syndicalistic diploma (reward) and debt while still remaining an infant of unknown parentage. Hell, we can even voluntarily join the infantry when we are in full, voluntary adulthood (legally licensed adultery).

PARENTAGE - noun - EXTRACTION; BIRTH; CONDITION WITH RESPECT TO THE RANK OF PARENTS; as a man of MEAN parentage; a gentleman of NOBLE parentage. (Webs1828)

—=—

To be clear, this fictionally acquired status of illegitimate or “unknown” parentage by legal marriage (of persons) has nothing to do with Nature, existing only as a positive, public legal status. The birth certificate and registration process can only reflect what the actual parent believes is the legal truth (fiction) about his or her own status in persona, but a person is only ever a legal entity, and a birth certificate only ever the creation of another legal entity. The tie of blood cannot ever be extinguished in Reality under God, only by the legal consideration of these false legal gods of nobility in their own fictional realm and con game; those privateering cheaters. It is only belief and positive consent by man through his own legal claim and signature as confirmation to such artifice that causes this birth condition of rank to express itself with any legal authority. The record (registration) of original birth sin and taxation must be corrected. Persons, not men, are born of original sin (birthed as the son of a fictional nation). Men may only pretend to clothe themselves within that artificial matrix (womb) of personhood so as to partake in that sin. We must become negative by killing the positive aspects of that which is attached to us legally in persona. For these are the positive ingredients that make up the strawman and our surety to it relies upon our belief in its legitimacy. But we must also remember that only by acting in christ’s name according to God’s Word (Son) may we be able to remain in such a Pure state of Being, by following that Law of Nature that christ exemplified. We must manifest our Self only as christ did, purely and without lies. We must have only one God, one Master. We must never volunteer, for a man acting in True Love and Charity has no use for volunteerism as his whole life is already lived by it. He needs no such term of art or title to act religiously in the spirit of his moral, Highest Law. The term “volunteer” as a noun, in other words, is redundant and pointless when ones whole life is devoted to God’s Word (Son). In the legal society, a “volunteer” is merely a flattering title used for resume’s, job and school applications, and other forms of guilt and show.

The continued use and conduct of a man in that fictional personhood “without exercising the right to relieve himself from its obligations” is considered as a legal confirmation and ratification of that tacitly consented to contractual relationship, making that fraud which is voidable into that which is an unavoidable obligation of performance towards artifice in mammon. The adoption thus becomes a ratification of artificial paternity in this state and jurisdiction of legalized adultery. The nation and no other is the parent of its own fictional personas.

A lie is only as powerful as the projected temptation it promotes to be used.

—=—

“Ratification is equivalent to express command.”

—RATIHABITIO MANDATO AEQUIPARATUR. Dig. 46, 3, 12, 4; Broom, Max. -867; Palmer v. Yates, 3 Sandf. (N.Y.) 151. (Black4)

—=—

For those who might claim that all of this is “fraud” and so therefore not lawful, consider again that one who acts in the “fraud” and illegitimacy of legal personhood cannot claim his own actions, nor that of his principal (government) in this agency relation-ship, by which that same man stands in the confirmed fraud of personhood through one’s own expressive (consensual) actions thereof as a “fraud” until one is ready to void ALL such fraudulent relations, rights, privileges, benefits, and any other form of contractual obligations to that “fraud.” One must relinquish the apparently good things with the known bad things to void in totality said fraud. One cannot have two masters, two Gods, and so the legal benefits must especially be relinquished as they are merely inducements to contract. Just as the rock star must sell his soul to the devil (evil genius) to become famous, so too must the citizen sell his soul to acquire Social Security and other benefits and pensions. These benefits are literally too good to be True. For to receive such goodness one must accept all the badness, allowing for the most horrid atrocities and murderous destruction of man and Nature to be committed in his name, so as to protect the very legal fiction that allows such un-Natural and un-Godly benefits, comforts, and wealth at the expense of others. This is a shameful inequity that no man can deny. It is the epitome of satanism, labeled with such patriotic sounding nouns as patriotism and American exceptional-ism. It is sometimes even called officially as “equity” or “equality,” a disgusting example of the Truly evil nature of legalese.

One simply cannot trade lightness for darkness if one wishes to subsist in an enlightened state of Being. This is called solution, and there is no other way to solve this issue (birth). In this way, a man must be prepared to give up all artificial things, everything he thinks he “owns” in person (on paper), for such avoidance to take place. What is gained by the legal “public” persona in contract of mammon is not a gain of the man, only of the principal for which the man acts in the agency (property) thereof.

This confirmation and ratification process is also known as a bargaining. The state gains control of the child both through the birth certification process and by the brainwashing of the parents that so informed upon their own flesh and blood, and 16 and 18 years later that adulterous child confirms that sale at his or her age of consent when he elects to continue using, identifying, and claiming benefits, permits, licenses, and scholarships for himself while acting as the strawman in the hood of adultery. We are barred from our Natural, paternal property in lieu of mere use in maternal guardianship by the birth abandonment process.

BARGAIN - noun - An agreement between parties concerning the sale of property; or a contract by which one party binds himself to transfer the right to some property, for a consideration, and the other party binds himself to receive the property and pay the consideration. 2. Stipulation: interested dealing. 3. PURCHASE OR THE THING PURCHASED. 4. In popular language, final event; upshot. We must make the best of a bad bargain. To sell bargains, is a vulgar phrase. TO STRIKE A BARGAIN IS TO RATIFY AN AGREEMENT, originally by striking, or shaking hands. The Latin ferire foedus, may represent a like ceremony, unless it refers to the practice of killing a victim, at the SOLEMN RATIFICATION OF OATHS. Bargain and sale, in law, a species of conveyance, by which the bargainer contracts to convey the LANDS to the bargainee, AND BECOMES BY SUCH CONTRACT A TRUSTEE FOR AND SEISED TO THE USE OF THE BARGAINEE. The statute then completes the purchase; that is, the bargain vests the use, and the statute vests the possession. - verb intransitive - TO MAKE A CONTRACT OR CONCLUSIVE AGREEMENT, FOR THE TRANSFER OF PROPERTY; often with for before the thing purchased; as, to bargain for a house. A bargained with B for his farm. - verb transitive - To sell; to transfer for a consideration; as, A BARGAINED AWAY HIS FARM; a popular use of the word. (Webs1828)

— = —

As a man may bargain away his farm, so too may a man bargain away his child. For the bargain is words on paper, the name and title of the actual thing, not the Reality. This is also called as wager. The word lay (lie) also includes the word wager (e.g. from Webster’s definition above, meaning: LAY (noun): 2. A bet; a wager. 3. Station; rank.). A simple rule is this: a legal gain always favors the Bar association and its attorney members and principal government. Bar-gain. But before we discuss this further, let us speak to the wager that is the birth process and subsequent civil life expected to take place, where the government wagers through contract that the child (in legal persona) will grow to be a profitable asset in agency under human capital management, and so in return purchases the false persona and presumed surety of the child with the offered false value of security and protections of a surrogate father and public family.

In Roman law, we find a similar form of distress (districting) that fulfills the modern derivation of this ancient system of pledging ourselves and our children in seizure at birth to the Caesar (the gods of the nations).

PIGNORIS CAPIO - Latin. In Roman law. This was the name of one of the legis actiones. It was employed only in certain particular kinds of pecuniary cases, and consisted in that the creditor, without preliminary suit and without the co-operation of the magistrate, by reciting a prescribed formula, TOOK AN ARTICLE OF PROPERTY FROM THE DEBTOR TO BE TREATED AS A PLEDGE OR SECURITY. The proceeding bears a marked analogy to DISTRESS at common law. (Black4)

PIGNUS - Latin. In the civil law. A PLEDGE OR PAWN; A DELIVERY OF A THING TO A CREDITOR, AS SECURITY FOR A DEBT. Also a thing delivered to a creditor as security for a debt. (Black4)

PIGNORATIO - Latin. In the civil law. THE CONTRACT OF PLEDGE; AND ALSO THE OBLIGATION OF SUCH CONTRACT. Sealing up (obsignatio). A shutting up of AN ANIMAL CAUGHT IN ONE'S FIELD and keeping it till the expenses and damage have been paid by its master. (Black4)

PIGNORATIVE CONTRACT - In the civil law. A CONTRACT OF PLEDGE, hypothecation, or MORTGAGE OF REALTY. (Black4)

— = —

We must comprehend that the gods like to play games with their pawns. They like to gamble. Our future performance in legal persona, as qualified by our ability to perform in capita via future labor potential as commercial vessels, is the nature of their wager. In that light, the notion of free-roaming (enfranchised) slaves is akin to a bet placed upon the performance of a man virtually chained in surety to a false legal persona, and is very similar to a sports book betting structure in horse racing. It is a very likely bet that all horses in the race will finish that race without breaking free of their harnesses or realizing they are being used as pawns in a game and as the subjects of commercial wagers, and so bets may be made at varying ratios of return and with insurance and reinsurance on the principal's investment in his agent (horse and jockey). After all, the horses will never be taught the language of their masters, and so their enslavement appears inevitable. Likewise, most men will continue to act in their assigned name and number throughout said legal ad-venture and commercial under-taking within the bondage of surety in persona, reaching that unavoidable final destination of a Natural death while still harnessed in the artificial civil life of citizen-ship, meaning that civil and natural death will of course occur simultaneously, thus insuring that all insured bets of value in human capitalization are covered and policies paid. All bets are covered in seigniorage, and the house never loses. The man in commercial citizen-ship will most likely stay saddled to the state's offered persona, and will run the gambit of that legal, commercial path. From his commercial birth certification through to the finish line of commercial death certification, the gods can rest assured (insurance) that their persons will run the profitable inter-course put in front of them, constantly trying to jockey for a better position of employment among the vulgar mass of illiterates. This is the human race, driven by the perceived but artificial value of money and what it may purchase (conquer), yet never comprehending that nothing is actually their own. For they have no foothold upon the land they permissively tread upon or purchased with government-owned money in the registered property of their false persona.

WAGE - In old English practice. To give SECURITY for the PERFORMANCE of a THING. (Black4)

WAGER - A CONTRACT by which two or more parties agree that A CERTAIN SUM OF MONEY OR OTHER THING shall be paid or DELIVERED to one of them or that they shall gain or lose ON THE HAPPENING OF AN UNCERTAIN EVENT or upon the ascertainment of a fact in dispute, WHERE THE PARTIES HAVE NO INTEREST IN THE EVENT EXCEPT THAT ARISING FROM THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH GAIN OR LOSS. It was said that contract giving one party or the other an option to carry out the transaction or not at pleasure is not invalid as a "wager." But if, under guise of contract of sale, real intent of both parties is merely to speculate in rise or fall of prices and property is not to be delivered, but at time fixed for delivery one party is to pay difference between contract price and market price, transaction is invalid as "wager." (Black4)

WAGER OF LAW - In old practice. The giving of gage or SURETIES by a defendant in an action OF DEBT that at a certain day assigned HE WOULD MAKE HIS LAW; that is, would take an oath in open court that HE DID NOT OWE THE DEBT, and at the same time bring with him eleven neighbors, (called "compurgators,") who should avow upon their oaths that they believed in their consciences that he said the truth. (Black4)

WAGER OF BATTEL - The trial by wager of battel was a species of trial introduced into England, among other Norman customs, by William the Conqueror, in which the person accused fought with his accuser, UNDER THE APPREHENSION THAT HEAVEN WOULD GIVE THE VICTORY TO HIM WHO WAS IN THE RIGHT. It was abolished by St. 59 Geo. III., c. 46. (Black4)

WAGERING CONTRACT - One in which the parties stipulate that they shall gain or lose, upon the happening of an UNCERTAIN EVENT, in which they have no interest except that arising from the possibility of such gain or loss. (Black4)

WAGER POLICY - See Policy of INSURANCE. (Black4)

WAGES - A compensation given to a hired person for his or her services; THE COMPENSATION AGREED UPON BY A MASTER TO BE PAID TO A SERVANT, or any other PERSON HIRED to do work or business for him. Every form of remuneration payable for a given period to an individual for personal services, including salaries, commissions, vacation pay, dismissal wages, bonuses and reasonable value of board, rent, housing, lodging, payments in kind, tips, and any other similar advantage received from the individual's employer or directly with respect to work for him. In a limited sense the word "wage" means pay given for labor usually manual or mechanical at short stated intervals as distinguished from salary, but in general the word means that which is PLEDGED or paid for work or other services; hire: pay. In its legal sense, the word "wages" means the price paid for labor, REWARD of labor. Specified sum for a given time of service or a fixed sum for a specified piece of work. "Three factors contribute to the production of commodities, nature, labor, and capital. Each must have a share of the product as its reward, and this share, if it is just, must be proportionate to the several contributions. THE SHARE OF THE NATURAL AGENTS IS RENT; THE SHARE OF LABOR, WAGES; THE SHARE OF CAPITAL, INTEREST. The clerk receives a salary; the lawyer and doctor, fees; the manufacturer, profits. Salary, fees, and profits are so many forms of wages for services rendered." (In) Maritime Law: The compensation allowed to seamen for their services ON BOARD A VESSEL DURING A VOYAGE. (In) Political Economy: The reward paid, whether in money or goods, to human exertion, considered as a factor in the production of wealth, for its co-operation in the process. (Black4)

SEIGNIORAGE - noun - A royal right or prerogative of the king of England, by which he claims an allowance of gold and silver brought in the mass to be exchanged for coin. (Webs1828)

SEIGNIOR - In its general signification, means "lord," but in law it is particularly applied to the lord of a fee or of a manor; and the fee, dominions, or manor of a seignior is thence termed a "seignior," i.e., a lordship. He who is a lord, but of no manor, and therefore unable to keep a court, is termed a "seignior in gross." Seignior or Seigneur. Among the feudists, this name signified lord of the fee. Seigneur is still used in French Canada. The most extended signification of this word includes not only a lord or peer of parliament, BUT IS APPLIED TO THE OWNER OR

PROPRIETOR OF A THING, hence the owner of a hawk, AND THE MASTER OF A FISHING VESSEL, is called a seigneur. (Black4)

SEIGNIORY - In English law. A lordship; a manor. The rights of a lord, as such, IN LANDS. (Black4)

SEIGNIORAGE - A ROYALTY OR PREROGATIVE OF THE SOVEREIGN, whereby an allowance of gold and silver, brought in the mass to be exchanged for coin, is claimed.
MINTAGE; the CHARGE for coining bullion into money at the mint. (Black4)

— = —

Mostly unknown to the American public, every paper dollar created and placed into circulation is charged over a $0.50 cent tax of "seigniorage," according to the U.S. Mint's audit, the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). This charge is what is then collected as that un-payable interest on every dollar printed, also known as the "national debt." If every dollar carries over a 50% tax upon its creation compounded with permanently increasing interest, then how can that debt ever be paid without printing more dollars with more tax into infinity? Trick question. It can't. And that's the point; the prerogative of the sovereignty. Debt-slavery is a performance contract in hell, where all roads (virtual waterways) lead to the treasury of hell.

When a person is hired by a corporation, the corporation is wagering a bet that the man in surety to that person will perform the required labor, etc. His contract of employment (to be used) is also a waiver of certain other rights. It is an agreement to be used in labor and be paid in debt (money). For what man does not realize in his daily grind is that to be paid in money is to be cursed, for the man that holds money so sacred that he would abandon his Self and his God in such a devil's (evil genius's) contract for its pursuit changes the meaning of the word sacred again to cursed.

WAIVE - verb - To abandon or throw away; as when a thief, in his flight, throws aside the stolen goods, in order to facilitate his escape, he is technically said to waive them. In modern law, TO ABANDON, throw away, renounce, repudiate, OR SURRENDER A CLAIM, a privilege, a right, or the opportunity to take advantage of some defect, irregularity, or wrong. A person is said to waive a benefit when he renounces or disclaims it, and he is said to waive a tort or injury when he abandons the remedy which the law gives him for it. In order for one to "waive" a right, he must do it knowingly and be possessed of the facts. (Black4)

WAIVE - noun - In old English law. A WOMAN OUTLAWED. The term is, as it were, THE FEMININE OF "OUTLAW," the latter being always applied to a man; "waive," to a woman. (Black4)

WAIVE - noun - A WOMAN PUT OUT OF THE PROTECTION OF THE LAW. (Webs1828)

WAIF - Waifs are GOODS FOUND, BUT CLAIMED BY NOBODY; that of which every one waives the claim. Also, goods stolen and waived, or thrown away by the thief in his flight, for fear of being apprehended. Waifs are to be distinguished from bona fugitiva, which are the goods of the felon himself, which he abandons in his flight from justice.

LYING IN FRANCHISE - A term descriptive of WAIFS, wrecks, estrays, and the like, WHICH MAY BE SEIZED WITHOUT SUIT OR ACTION.

— = —

And so what happens when the mother signs the vital statistics form as a certification of birth of her child to the state? Quite simply, she presumably abandons her paternity rights and becomes the mere appointed guardian assigned by the state. For her child is considered by law as transferable “goods.” This is sometimes written as services rendered on invoices, where the act of caring for legal, public “children” as persons is labeled and described as the commercial venture (business) of “maintaining commercial and industrial machinery and equipment” from some department of “human resources.” Goods are defined as, “movables,” and, “may include animals” (WCA1889). An “animal” in several places in the United States code is defined as, “man and other animals.” To the state, a child born in nativity (legally registered and certified as birthed in the nation) is only movable property, an animal to be found and exacted from as human capital. Causing man to abandon his only True property in Nature, his own children as blood heirs, so that they can be found as treasure (prize) abandoned upon the sea of commerce and so corrupted (attainted); this is the pirate way. Trickery and deceit is the way of the pirate’s government (mind control), a system solely created to protect the creators and posterity of the federal pirate cove that all United States citizenships are a creation of.

—=—

“Enemies are those with whom we declare war, or who declare it against us; all others are traitors or PIRATES.”

—HOSTES SUNT QUI NOBIS VEL QUIBUS NOS BELLUM DECERNIMUS; CAETERI PRODITORES VEL PRAEDONES SUNT. 7 Coke, 24. (Black4)

—=—

“Give me four years to teach the children and the seed I have sown will never be uprooted.”

“Give us the child for 8 years and it will be a Bolshevik forever.”

—Vladimir Ilyich Lenin, Jewish communist leader of the Bolshevik revolution in Russia that killed many millions. (Separate quotes)

—=—

The Natural mother waives her rights with a waiver called a record of live birth and the resulting birth certificate is like a receipt (proof of purchase) of that event and legal fact that the child was abandoned to be found as treasure by the state. Thus the child’s “paternal status” becomes that of its legal purchaser acting by the doctrine of parens patriae. The state becomes the legal parent, the Real parent (man) taking only 2nd place in authority to the state. As with all Roman doctrines, the United States abuses this power at every turn for its own interest. And so for all public citizenships out there, please know that the following applies to you and your child in false persona, the one you informed upon at birth and volunteered ignorantly through unilateral contract to waive all parentage rights of ownership of your own children in the undertaking of a wager with the devilmasters of the state.

PARENS PATRIAE - [Latin, PARENT OF THE COUNTRY.] A doctrine that grants the inherent power and authority of the state to protect persons who are legally unable to act on their own behalf. The parens patriae doctrine has its roots in English Common Law. In FEUDAL times various obligations and powers, collectively referred to as the "royal prerogative," were reserved to the king. The king exercised these functions in HIS ROLE OF FATHER OF THE COUNTRY. IN THE UNITED STATES, THE PARENS PATRIAE DOCTRINE HAS HAD ITS GREATEST APPLICATION IN THE TREATMENT OF CHILDREN, mentally ill persons, and other individuals who are LEGALLY INCOMPETENT to manage their affairs. THE STATE IS THE SUPREME GUARDIAN OF ALL CHILDREN WITHIN ITS

JURISDICTION, AND STATE COURTS HAVE THE INHERENT POWER TO INTERVENE TO PROTECT THE BEST INTERESTS OF CHILDREN whose welfare is jeopardized by controversies between parents. This inherent power is generally supplemented by legislative acts that define the scope of CHILD PROTECTION in a state. The state, acting as parens patriae, can make decisions regarding mental health treatment on behalf of one who is mentally incompetent to make the decision on his or her own behalf, but the extent of the state's intrusion is limited to reasonable and necessary treatment. The doctrine of parens patriae has been expanded in the United States to permit the attorney general of a state to commence litigation for the benefit of state residents for federal antitrust violations (15 U.S.C.A. § 15c). This authority is intended to further the public trust, safeguard the general and economic welfare of a state's residents, protect residents from illegal practices, and assure that the benefits of federal law are not denied to the general population. STATES MAY ALSO INVOKE PARENS PATRIAE TO PROTECT INTERESTS SUCH AS THE HEALTH, COMFORT, AND WELFARE OF THE PEOPLE, interstate Water Rights, AND THE GENERAL ECONOMY OF THE STATE. For a state to have standing to sue under the doctrine, it must be more than a nominal party without a real interest of its own and must articulate an interest apart from the interests of particular private parties. Cross-references: Antitrust Law; Child Abuse; Children's Rights; Infants. (West's Encyclopedia of American Law, 2nd Edition)

PARENS PATRIAE - (paa-wrens pat-tree-eye) - noun - Latin for "FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY," the term for THE DOCTRINE THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS THE ULTIMATE GUARDIAN OF ALL PEOPLE UNDER A DISABILITY, ESPECIALLY CHILDREN, WHOSE CARE IS ONLY "ENTRUSTED" TO THEIR PARENTS. Under this doctrine, in a divorce action or a guardianship application THE COURT RETAINS JURISDICTION until the child is 18 years old, AND A JUDGE MAY CHANGE CUSTODY, child support or other rulings affecting the child's well-being, NO MATTER WHAT THE PARENTS MAY HAVE AGREED OR THE COURT PREVIOUSLY DECIDED. (See: divorce, custody, child support, guardian, ward). (Farley Free Dictionary online, Gerald N. Hill and Kathleen T. Hill.)

PARENS PATRIAE - THE JURISDICTION OF THE COURT TO ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY for the welfare of those otherwise unprovided for, such as children or lunatics, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THERE IS STATUTORY POWER. (Collins Dictionary of Law, W.J. Stewart, 2006)

ASSUME - TO TAKE to or upon one's self. See Assumpsit. A person who "assumes a lease" TAKES TO HIMSELF OR ACCEPTS THE OBLIGATIONS AND THE BENEFITS OF THE LESSOR UNDER THE CONTRACT. "Assumed" may be used in the sense of CLAIMED; as, in saying that assumed facts must be proved before the main fact can be inferred." Compare: Presume. (WCA1889)

PARENS PATRIAE - Father of the country. In England, THE SOVEREIGN; in the United States: THE STATE. THE SOVEREIGN IS THEORETICALLY GUARDIAN OVER ALL INFANTS and committee over all lunatics. AS MUCH OF THE ROYAL PREROGATIVE AS BELONGED TO THE KING IN HIS CAPACITY OF UNIVERSAL TRUSTEE ENTERS INTO OUR POLITICAL STATE AS INTO THE PRINCIPLES OF THE BRITISH CONSTITUTION. (WCA1889)

PARENT - The lawful father, or the mother, of another PERSON. Compare Parens. (WCA1889)

PARENS - Latin. A parent; a father. (WCA1889)

IN LOCO PARENTIS - (Latin). IN THE PLACE OF THE PARENT. Said of A PERSON INVESTED WITH THE RIGHTS AND CHARGED WITH THE DUTIES OF THE PARENT OF A CHILD, as, a GUARDIAN, and, in some sense, A TEACHER, AND THE FACULTY OF A SCHOOL. (WCA1889)

WAIVER - THE INTENTIONAL OR VOLUNTARY RELINQUISHMENT OF A KNOWN RIGHT; or such conduct as warrants an inference of the relinquishment of such right, or when one dispenses with the performance of something he is entitled to exact or when one in possession of any right, whether conferred by law or by contract, with full knowledge of the material facts, does or forbears to do something the doing of which or the failure of forbearance to do which is inconsistent with the right, or his intention to rely upon it. The renunciation, repudiation, abandonment, or SURRENDER OF SOME CLAIM, RIGHT, PRIVILEGE, or of the opportunity to take advantage of some defect, irregularity, or wrong. A doctrine resting upon an equitable principle, which courts of law will recognize. See, also, Estoppel. "Waiver" is essentially UNILATERAL, resulting as legal consequence from some act or conduct of party against whom it operates, and no act of party in whose favor it is made is necessary to complete it, AND MAY BE SHOWN BY ACTS AND CONDUCT AND SOMETIMES BY NONACTION. Waiver is distinguished from "estoppel" in that in "waiver" the essential element is an actual intent to abandon or surrender a right, while in "estoppel" such intent is immaterial; the necessary condition being the deception to his injury of the other party by the conduct of the one estopped. And "estoppel" may result though party estopped did not intend to lose any existing rights. Insurance Law - Substance of doctrine of "waiver" in insurance law is that if insurer, with knowledge of facts which would bar existing primary liability, recognizes such primary liability by treating policy as in force, it will not thereafter be allowed to plead such facts to avoid its primary liability... (Black4)

EXPRESS WAIVER - THE VOLUNTARY, INTENTIONAL RELINQUISHMENT OF A KNOWN RIGHT. (Black4)

IMPLIED WAIVER - A waiver is implied where one party has pursued such a course of conduct with reference to the other party as to evidence an intention to waive his rights or the advantage to which he may be entitled, or where the conduct pursued is inconsistent with any other honest intention than an intention of such waiver, provided that the other party concerned has been induced by such conduct TO ACT UPON THE BELIEF that there has been a waiver, and has incurred trouble or expense thereby. To make out a case of implied "waiver" of a legal right, there must be a clear, unequivocal and decisive act of the party showing such purpose, or acts amounting to an estoppel on his part. (Black4)

—≡—

Perhaps the most unbelievable aspect of this equation, that of how in the hell the state claims the highest authority of parentage over the child of any public citizenship that registered and certified a legal birth event, is the fact that in view of the law the child follows the status (personhood) of the natural parent (person).

GENUS - Latin. Kind; class; nature. (WCA1889)

GENUINE - Belonging to the ORIGINAL KIND or STOCK; NATIVE; hence, not false, fictitious, simulated, spurious, or counterfeit; as, a genuine note. (WCA1889)

—≡—

The private People are genuine, as the blood heirs and decedents in posterity of the original People who constituted the States and the compact of the nation. They are pretended and likened to gods. United States citizenships are of the lowest but "equal" genus of public servitude to those private, genuine People. This status is created at birth.

The father that was registered as a voluntary slave in public citizenship at his own birth and confirmed and ratified his own said status (strawman) in adultery (adulthood) cannot register (tax) his own issue (child) as any legal thing higher than that same legal status in rank and class (genus) than his own persona (status). But more to the point, a public person that marries another public person, thereby adjoining legal surnames in a familial incorporation by permit of the state, has no capacity in any way for legitimacy of blood. Public persons have no blood. Publicly married persons can birth nothing with blood, and the registration of the issue (child) of that marriage can only be as high in genus as its registered parent. And so, we must comprehend here that all legal marriages between public persons as citizens of the United States are without blood consideration and thus held in contractual attainder, and thus the man and woman in actuality are in an illegitimate wedlock. Only their persons are married, not their actual Selves. They stand in surety to the marriage corporation, the father as head of that familial corporation. This subject will be detailed later in this work.

For now, let us return to what the legal marriage and citizenship really is, a bar-gain, a profitable adventure for the society of devils we call the law society and the government that controls and profits from it.

— = —

BAR - noun - [If these words are the Eng. bar, the sense is a shoot, that which shoots, passes or IS DRIVEN.]

1. A piece of wood, iron or other solid matte, long in proportion to its diameter, used for various purposes, but especially for a hindrance or obstruction; as the bars of a fence or gate; the bar of a door or hatchway. Exodus 26:28, Exodus 36:33. 2. ANY obstacle which obstructs, hinders or defends; an obstruction; a fortification. Amos 1:5. Must I new bars to my own joy create. 3. The shore of the SEA, which restrains its WATERS. Job 38:10. 4. THE RAILING THAT INCLOSES THE PLACE WHICH COUNSEL OCCUPY IN COURTS OF JUSTICE. Hence the phrase, at the bar of the court, signifies in open court. Hence also licensed lawyers are called BARRISTERS; and hence the whole body of lawyers licensed in a court, are customarily called the bar. A trial at bar in England, is a trial in the courts of Westminster, opposed to a trial at Nisi Prius, in the circuits. 5. Figuratively, any tribunal; AS THE BAR OF PUBLIC OPINION. THUS THE FINAL TRIAL OF MEN IS CALLED THE BAR OF GOD... 8. A rock in the sea, according to Brown; or any thing by which structure is held together, according to Johnson; used in Jonah 2:6. 9. Any thing laid across another, as bars in HERALDRY, stripes in color, and the like... 12. In law, a peremptory exception sufficient to destroy the plaintiff's action. It is divided into a BAR TO COMMON INTENDMENT, and BAR SPECIAL; BAR TEMPORARY and BAR PERPETUAL. Bar to common intendment is an ordinary or general bar which disables the declaration of the plaintiff. A special bar is more than ordinary, as a fine, release, or justification. A temporary bar is that which is good for a time, but may afterwards cease. A perpetual bar overthrows the action of the plaintiff FOREVER... 15. In the African trade, a denomination of price; payment formerly being made to the Africans in iron bars. - verb transitive - To fasten with a bar; as, to bar a door, or gate. 2. TO HINDER; to obstruct, or prevent; as, to bar the entrance of evil. 3. To prevent; to exclude; to hinder; to make impracticable; as, the distance between us bars our intercourse. In this sense, the phrase is often varied, thus; the distance bars me from his aid, or bars him from my aid. 4. To prohibit; to restrain or exclude by express or implied prohibition; as, THE STATUTE BARS MY RIGHT; THE LAW BARS THE USE of poisoned weapons. 5. To obstruct, prevent or hinder by any MORAL obstacle; as, the RIGHT is barred by time, or by statute; a release bars the plaintiff's recovery. 6. To except; to exclude by exception; as, I bar to night. 7. To cross with stripes of a different color... 9. TO ADORN WITH TRAPPINGS; a contraction of barb. [See Barb.] (Webs1828)

BAR SINISTER - A term popularly though erroneously used for baton, A MARK OF ILLEGITIMACY. (Black4)

BATOON or BATON - noun - A staff or club; a marshal's staff; a truncheon; A BADGE OF MILITARY HONORS. (Webs1828)

— = —

This open-air prison of jurisdiction has invisible bars, as the bars of U.S. citizenship are those words and flattering titles of the agents (attorneys) that create, debate, administer, and contract the laws of the United States and of the law merchant. And of course, those who reign over hell may only be called as devils.

— = —

“He is guilty of barratry who for money sells justice.”

— BARATRIAM COMMITTIT QUI PROPTER PECUNIAM JUSTITIAM BARACTAT. Bell. (Black4)

— = —

This historically despised class of devil, the barrister or attorney, is the enemy of a True follower of christ, always seeking to profess the law of man over the law of God. For the measure (weight) of a man’s soul is a fictional commodity to these devilmasters, whose livelihood depends upon causing men to be clients to their owned and copyrighted ad-vice. To the law society, the corruption of man as the cause of his fall into legal fiction is as gold upon the scale of their own system of legal justice. They can never be trusted, for they only deal in fictions, and they’re only ever officers of the court, hirelings that work only for the state that grants them license to practice on behalf of its legal persons and estates. Nothing they deal in is of the realm of the Real, for their whole profession is based on purely simulation and representation.

BARRA, or BARRE - In old practice. A plea in bar. The bar of the court. A barrister.

BARRA - noun - In Portugal and Spain, a long MEASURE for cloths... (Webs1828)

BARRE - noun - Weights used in the East Indies. The great (and little) bahar, for weighing (of commodities)... (Webs1828)

BARRATOR - One who commits barratry. See Barretor.

BARRETOR - In criminal law. A common mover, exciter, or maintainer of suits and quarrels either IN COURTS or elsewhere in the country; a disturber of the peace WHO SPREADS FALSE RUMORS AND CALUMNIES, whereby discord and disquiet may grow among neighbors.

BARRATROUS - FRAUDULENT; having the CHARACTER of barratry.

BARRETRY - In criminal law. The act or offense of a barretor, usually called "common barretry." See Barratry.

BARRATRY - In criminal law. Also spelled "Barretry." The offense of frequently exciting and stirring up quarrels and suits, either at law or otherwise. Common barratry is the practice of EXCITING GROUNDLESS JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS. In maritime law. An act committed by the master or mariners of a VESSEL, for some unlawful or fraudulent purpose, CONTRARY TO THEIR DUTY TO THE OWNERS, whereby the latter sustain injury. It may include negligence, if so gross as to evidence fraud. Some fraudulent ACT OF THE MASTER or mariners, TENDING TO THEIR OWN BENEFIT, TO THE PREJUDICE OF THE OWNER OF THE VESSEL, without his PRIVY or CONSENT. A generic term, which includes many acts of various kinds and degrees. It comprehends any unlawful, fraudulent, or dishonest act of the master or mariners, and every violation of duty by them arising from gross and culpable negligence contrary to their duty to the owner of the vessel, and which might work loss or injury to him IN THE COURSE OF THE VOYAGE INSURED. A mutiny of the crew, and forcible dispossession by them of the master and other officers from the ship, is a form of barratry. In Scotch law. THE CRIME COMMITTED BY A JUDGE WHO RECEIVES A BRIBE FOR HIS JUDGMENT. See Champerty. (Black4)

CHAMPERTY - noun - A species of MAINTENANCE, being a BARGAIN with a plaintiff or defendant, to divide the land or other matter in suit, between them, if they prevail; whereupon THE CHAMPERTOR IS TO CARRY ON THE PARTYS SUIT AT HIS OWN EXPENSE. The PURCHASE of a suit, or of the right of suing. (Webs1828)

CHAMPERTOR - noun - [See Champerty.] In law, one who is guilty of champerty, which see. (Webs1828)

CHAMPER - noun - One that champs or bits. (Webs1828)

BIT - ...verb transitive - To put a bridle upon a horse; to put the bit in the mouth. - preterit tense and participle passive - of bite. SEIZED or wounded by the teeth. (Webs1828)

TEETH - Plural of tooth, which see. In the teeth directly; IN DIRECT OPPOSITION; IN FRONT. (Webs1828)

BARRENNESS - Sterility; THE INCAPACITY TO BEAR CHILDREN. (Black4)

BARRED - participle passive - Fastened with a bar; HINDERED; RESTRAINED; EXCLUDED; forbid; striped; CHECKERED. (Webs1828)

EXCHEQUER - That department of the English government which has charge of the collection of the national revenue; THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT. It is said to have been so named from THE CHEQUERED CLOTH, RESEMBLING A CHESS-BOARD, which anciently covered the table there, and on which, when certain of the king's accounts were made up, the sums were marked and scored with counters. For "Court of Exchequer" and "Court of Exchequer Chamber," see those titles. (Black4)

CHEQUE - A variant of check. (Black4)

CHECKER - The old Scotch form of exchequer. (Black4)

CHECKER - verb transitive - 1. To variegate with cross lines; to form into little squares, like a chess board, by lines or stripes of different colors. Hence, 2. To diversify; to variegate with different qualities, scenes, or events. Our MINDS are, as it were, CHECKERED WITH TRUTH AND FALSEHOOD. - noun - 1. ONE WHO CHECKS OR RESTRAINS; a rebuker. 2. A chess-board. (Webs1828)

CHECKERBOARD SYSTEM - This term, with reference to entries on lands, means one entry built on another, and a third on the second. (Black4)

HELL - The name formerly given to A PLACE UNDER THE EXCHEQUER chamber, WHERE THE KING'S DEBTORS WERE CONFINED. (Black4)

BARRED - Obstructed by a bar; subject to hindrance or obstruction by a bar or barrier which, if interposed, WILL PREVENT LEGAL REDRESS OR RECOVERY; as, when it is said that a claim or cause of action is "barred by the statute of limitations." (Black4)

GAIN - verb transitive - [Hebrew, to gain to possess.] 1. TO OBTAIN BY INDUSTRY OR THE EMPLOYMENT OF CAPITAL; TO GET AS PROFIT OR ADVANTAGE; to acquire. Any industrious person may gain a good living in America; but it is less difficult to gain property, than it is to use it with prudence. Money at interest may gain five, six, or seven per cent. WHAT IS A MAN PROFITED, IF HE SHALL GAIN THE WHOLE WORLD, AND LOSE HIS OWN SOUL? Matthew 16:26. 2. To win; to obtain by superiority or success; as, to gain a battle or a victory; TO GAIN A PRIZE; to gain a cause in law. 3. To obtain; to acquire; to procure; TO RECEIVE; as, to gain favor; TO GAIN REPUTATION. For fame with toil we gain but lose with ease. 4. To obtain an increase of anything; as, to gain time. 5. To obtain or receive anything, GOOD OR BAD; AS, TO GAIN HARM AND LOSS. Acts 27:21. 6. To draw into any interest or party; to win to one's side; to conciliate. To gratify the queen, and gain the court. If he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. Matthew 18:15. 7. To obtain as a suitor. 8. To reach; to attain to; to arrive at; as, to gain the top of a mountain; to gain a good harbor. To gain into, TO DRAW OR PERSUADE TO JOIN IN. He gained Lepidus into his measures. To gain over, to draw to another party or interest; to win over. To gain ground, TO ADVANCE IN ANY UNDERTAKING; to prevail; to acquire strength or extent; to increase. - verb intransitive - To have advantage or profit; TO GROW RICH; to advance in interest or happiness. THOU HAST GREEDILY GAINED OF THY NEIGHBORS BY EXTORTION. Ezekiel 22:13. 1. To encroach; to advance on; to come forward by degrees; with on; as, the ocean or river gains on the land. 2. To advance nearer; to gain ground on; with on; as, a fleet horse gains on his competitor. 3. To get ground; to prevail against or have the advantage. The English have not only gained upon the Venetians in the Levant, but have their cloth in Venice itself. 4. To obtain influence with. My good behavior had so far gained on the emperor, that I began to conceive hopes of liberty. To gain the wind, in sea language, is to arrive on the windward side of another ship. - noun - Profit; interest; something obtained as an advantage. BUT WHAT THINGS WERE GAIN TO ME, THOSE I COUNTED LOSS FOR CHRIST. Philippians 3:7. 1. UNLAWFUL ADVANTAGE. 2 Corinthians 12:17. 2. Overplus in computation; any thing opposed to loss... (Webs1828)

— — —

Is the jurisdiction of the United States, as a constituted debtor nation, an open-air hell? One may deny this if one does not understand the complexity of that word. For the prison for debtors is again no longer a dungeon under the antiquated treasury department (exchequer) of the king, it is the very person (status) we are clothed artificially within as if in the invisible, jurisdictional chains of franchise (freedom) in the nativity of citizenship.

Oh, how I wish this were merely a play on words, this hell we are bound to:

PRISON BOUNDS - THE LIMITS OF THE TERRITORY SURROUNDING A PRISON, WITHIN WHICH AN IMPRISONED DEBTOR, WHO IS OUT ON BONDS, MAY GO AT WILL. See Gaol. (Black4)

GAOL LIBERTIES, GAOL LIMITS - A DISTRICT around a gaol, DEFINED BY LIMITS, WITHIN WHICH PRISONERS ARE ALLOWED TO GO AT LARGE ON GIVING SECURITY TO RETURN. It is considered a part of the gaol. (Black4)

GAOL - A prison for temporary confinement; a jail; a place for the confinement of offenders against the law. As distinguished from "prison," it is said to be a place for temporary or provisional confinement, or for the punishment of the lighter offenses and misdemeanors. See, also, Jail. (Black4)

GAOLER - A variant of "JAILER." (Black4)

GAOL DELIVERY - In criminal law, the delivery or clearing of a gaol of the prisoners confined therein, by trying them. In popular speech, the clearing of a gaol by the escape of the prisoners. (Black4)

GENERAL GAOL DELIVERY - In English law, at the assizes the judges sit by virtue of five several authorities, one of which is the commission of "general gaol delivery." This empowers them TO TRY AND MAKE DELIVERANCE OF EVERY PRISONER who shall be in the gaol when the judges arrive at the circuit town, whether an indictment has been preferred at any previous assize or not. This is also a part of the title of some American criminal courts, as, in Pennsylvania, the "court of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery." (Black4)

TERMINER - noun - A DETERMINING; as in oyer and terminer. (Webs1828)

DETERMINING - participle present tense - Ending; deciding; FIXING; SETTling; resolving; LIMITING; DIRECTING. (Webs1828)

OYER - noun - 1. In law, a hearing or trial of causes. A court of oyer and terminer is constituted by a commission to inquire, hear and determine all treasons, FELONIES and misdemeanors. 2. The hearing, as of a writ, bond, note or other specialty; as when a defendant in court PRAYS oyer of a writing. (Webs1828)

—=—

The district of the nation is the gaol of the nation. It is where debtor's are held (in hell) temporarily, which can also mean for the artificial life of the resident status in public persona (demon) we so inhabit. The bond of suretyship is the bond of the gaol, ensuring that we (the men in agency) will return to the principal's district courts (circuits) when our strawmen are charged with a summons to appear there. And there is where we pray to our false gods of the fiction. Never forget that the United States jurisdiction is merely the district and jurisdiction of the gaol. This truly is an open-air prison for debtor's, and this is the very purpose of the creation and law of nations. There are only private and public, master and servant, controllers and goyim.

And so what is it to bar-gain or to agree to a bar-gain? To gain one thing from the barring of something else. To suffer loss in order to gain something else. To be barred from one thing (land, paternity) in order to merely enjoy the other thing (tenancy, maternity). To lose the Real and accept the artificial in payment. To corrupt the unalienable blood-rights under God in exchange for mere legal rights. To sell your baby into citizenship and allow the state to assume all rights over it, in return only to be placed into the receivership of the franchise and expenses of raising the state's child according to its amoral and immoral law in limited and sanctioned guardianship and forced public education (slave school). What we gain at bar (in law) we lose in spirituality. Nature is lost to gain fiction. God is lost when mammon is worshiped and exchanged.

How many reading this would give up everything they believe that they "possess" to be a True man of God in Nature as the story of christ reveals, which is to say a completely free and private man of a Pure and Charitable Nature, and to thus take back the rightful and full claim of paternity of one's children by correcting that mis-taken legal identity and surname we bargained for by trickery and with voluntary ignorance by implied contract at birth?

This remains to be seen...

But the Bible has certainly laid its own course regarding this subject when it states that the path is narrow, and that it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. This is because the rich man never realizes that the kingdom of God is under his own two feet the whole time; buried under his mansion and under his own Self-deceit, cut off from his spirit by his own conceit. Of course the church teaches that the kingdom cannot be attained in this life but through it, telling us that the law of the land is a Godsend. And while partially true, the church doesn't reveal the True nature of those gods of the nations that sent it. And so most fritter this life away in pursuit of the devil's favor and of mammon's tools only because of the hope of a better life that might await us in the hereafter. Nothing could be more ridiculous than to waste this life believing another will deliver us to heaven, especially when that life is wasted here while ignoring heaven on earth and while disobeying the very Word (Son) that one would be judged upon thereof for entry. This is idiocy, unreasonable and indeed unscriptural, the word-magic of the priest class. It is sadly doubtful that most men, the majority of whom are so fervently addicted to the hell of money, false title, and social status, would ever be willing to release themselves from the legal debt-slavery of which that wealth and gain actually represents. The scriptures are clear in their teachings that many (the multitude) will not do so, and also that the remainder or "remnant" must separate (circumcise) themselves from that mass of mammon worshipers in the cities in order to walk on the narrow path without such temptations in artifice.

Theyer's Greek Lexicon describes the notion of what a "rich man" is in terms that make this passage ever more clear:

Strong's G4145 - Plousios (rich man)
from - πλοῦτος (G4149)

"G4145... for rich. Properly wealthy, abounding in MATERIAL resources. SUBSTANTIVELY, WITHOUT THE ART, a rich man. METAPHORICALLY, abounding, abundantly supplied, of THE THING IN WHICH ONE ABOUNDS. ABSOLUTELY, ABOUNTING IN CHRISTIAN VIRTUES AND ETERNAL POSSESSIONS. Of Christ, while he formally abounded in THE RICHES OF A HEAVENLY CONDITION, by assuming HUMAN NATURE he entered into A STATE OF (EARTHLY) POVERTY."

"G4149... a multitude, riches, wealth; Properly and absolutely, abundance of EXTERNAL POSSESSIONS..."

— = —

Earthly poverty... This is but reference to the gain and conquering (purchasing) of secular things, be they commodities or false titles. The corporate church is in Reality only secular just as the governments of the earth. What one owns through government status is not the riches and wealth of spirituality. Earthly wealth and riches can only serve to take man away from his own spiritual Nature and connection to Source. Christ needed no stuff. And the only way to claim stuff as one's own is through confirmation of a legal persona and embracement of the legal law that would protect and insure it, and that acceptance necessarily means debt to a master. Without one, man has no insurances or assurances, only Natural Law duty. To the greedy man this sounds horrific, for his greed and his stuff necessarily must equate to others having less stuff than he, some hungry, some starving, and some dying of such a lack of food stuffs. This is the only Reality of legally protected wealth, for it is legally kept from all others who actually need it. It can be no other way, for wealth on one side must have its equal and opposite reaction on the other. Wealth cannot exist in a Truly Equitable state of Being under the Pure Love and Charity principles of True christian piety, for poverty therefor could also not exist under God's Law. Wealth and poverty only exist when artifice (evil) is respected over Nature.

As we will discuss later, this word external means the property of another, as something foreign, which is that for which we covet against our Nature. What is external is only that which we may use, but never know or hold. That which is external is opposed to that which is private or esoteric (secret), which is that which is not exoteric and public (external). The false, illusionary riches of artificial (legal) wealth of persons is always an external show containing no True wealth of the Spirit of Source.

So what really makes us happy?

HAP - An old word which signifies TO CATCH; as, “to hap the rent,” “to hap the deed poll.” (Bouv1856)

HAP - noun - [Latin capio.] 1. That which comes suddenly or unexpectedly; CHANCE; FORTUNE; accident; casual EVENT. [See Chance and Casual.] Whether ART it was or heedless hap, CURS'D BY GOOD HAPS, AND CURS'D BE THEY THAT BUILD THEIR HOPES ON HAPS. 2. MISFORTUNE. [But this word is obsolete or obsolescent, except in compounds and derivatives.] - verb intransitive - To happen; to befall; to come BY CHANCE. (Webs1828)

HAPPINESS - The foundation of ethics or natural law is “that every man should pursue his own true and SUBSTANTIAL happiness.” BUT AS UTILITY CONTRADICTS THE COMMON SENSE AND FEELING OF MANKIND, UTILITY IS NOT THE STANDARD OF RIGHT AND WRONG. The object of all government is to promote the happiness and prosperity of the community by which it is established. Happiness is an inalienable (sellable) right. In its pursuit all avocations, honors, positions, are alike open to every one. The right of men to pursue their happiness means the right to pursue ANY LAWFUL BUSINESS OR VOCATION, in any manner not inconsistent with the equal rights of others, which may increase their prosperity or develop their faculties, so as to give them their highest enjoyment. The right to follow any of the common occupations of life is an inalienable right; it was formulated as such under the phrase “pursuit of happiness” in the Declaration of Independence. This right is a large ingredient in the CIVIL LIBERTY of the citizen. No legislature may deny the right to all but A FEW FAVORED INDIVIDUALS, BY INVESTING THE LATTER WITH A MONOPOLY. See Privilege. (WCA1889)

—=—

Can happiness be a bad thing? If the devil offered one “happiness” through his contract, does one not pause to consider what the cost of that specifically defined contractual “happiness” would be before signing up for it? Sadly, most would not. Would it ever occur to man that his happiness in the legal realm is a curse, meaning that happiness under mammon (debt) is despair under God and Nature? Can we ever come to realize that happiness in its legal form is pleasure without substance, a curse upon man? Can we imagine that the acquired event of this term of art happiness in chance of fortune is actually a spiritual misfortune for man under God? In looking around at such a misfortunate society steeped in the secured happiness of its own greed, poverty, and spiritual death under voluntary enslavement to mammon, one has to wonder if man may ever again know happiness as intended under the Natural Law. In the legal realm, happiness is an alienable privilege, not an unalienable right.

Ultimate legal happiness is the legal possession of a monopoly. And the right of happiness can be denied to all public, common citizenships, but not to those who dwell and act in privacy and in sovereignty over the public.

It could be said that man need only defend his own castle if other men have less than he or nothing at all. Only in the legal realm would man seek to acquire “property” as the “happiness” of riches and wealth despite the Natural needs of all other men. A man with a home should never live in the secured privilege of legal happiness and thus be somehow spiritually content while any one of his fellow man is homeless. Legal happiness is not spirituality. Legal happiness is not love. Happiness is a commercial, constituted legal term used as a specifically capitalized proper noun (in capitonym) with a specific legal (anti-God) meaning in the constitution of the United States.

What a strange concept, that we should avoid “happiness” at all costs when it is presented without its foundation in the Law of Nature. For it is only our person’s (legal status’s) fictional happiness that is considered by government, not the actual and physical happiness of our minds, bodies, and souls.

The happiness of fiction... Just what does it mean to be in “pursuit of happiness” as it is used in the constitution?

PURSUER - Canon law. The name by which the complainant or plaintiff IS KNOWN IN THE ECCLESIASTICAL COURTS. (Bouv1856)

PURSE - See BET; PRIZE. (WCA1889)

PURSUE - 1. To follow, in order TO OVER TAKE OR OBTAIN. Following immediately with INTENT TO RECLAIM OR RECAPTURE GOODS being carried off by a thief, or an escaping animal, is making “fresh pursuit.” 2. To use measures to obtain; TO PROSECUTE to continue: as, TO PURSUE A REMEDY. Compare Suit. See Happiness. (WCA1889)

—=—

Here again we must rethink our own fallacious thoughts. We must realize that when the government states that its citizens have a right to pursue happiness, it is only saying that we have the legal right and capacity to sue and be sued, which requires us to in-jure others. In commercialism, happiness is only monetary gain, for this is all that mammon has to offer. Of course government reserves that right so that its citizens can’t sue it. False gods are immune from their own laws and from pursuit by their own creations.

In other words, the verb of living in Natural happiness is legally replaced by the noun, the name of happiness as a legal fiction. Happiness is a contractual obligation, not a state of mind or respect of Nature. How we say each word completely changes its meaning. An action, a description, a name, a title... these all sound the same but are often opposed to each other. The name of something does not necessarily mean that the thing named is representative of the substance of the thing, and is often only the husked out form of the thing that is re-filled in with something quite different than the intent of its original meaning. Happiness, and for that matter every other word in the constitution, are just such proper nouns, which steal the substance, action, and description of Reality and replace it with legal form, personification, and trickery.

I suppose the cartoon character Wile E. Coyote exists in the form of fictional “happiness” because he has a vocation, a job, and his “happiness” manifests each time he gets blown up, falls off a cliff, is smashed, or gets clobbered by a boulder. In the cartoon world of legal fiction, happiness is only the franchise (free choice) of legalized business and occupation title, after all. Mr. Coyote really has no right to complain to his cartoon masters about his alienated privilege, and neither do we. The dead can’t complain about what life throws at them. And the more spiritually dead and corrupted we are, the more we may succeed in that foolish pursuit of legal happiness. The suit and tie is certainly representative of such utter corruption, the partaking in a uniform clothing of artificial happiness, like priests in their ceremonial robes.

Seriously though, what the hell is a tie for? Ever notice how ridiculous it looks, or is it so normalized into our cultural and customary norm that we can’t see the ridiculousness of it all? Ever notice the arrogance of those who wear one in their pursuit of the happiness of mammon and fiction? Ever measured the proudness of your self while you adorn your person in such fictional and non-functional, purely flattering trappings of commerce for show? And yet none of us seem to have any clue as to why we are even wearing it! This is normalization; a uniformity of public-minded insanity, doing the same thing day after day and expecting different results. With conformity comes promotions to higher flattery in fictional title. With such promotion of course comes more money. And with more money comes fancier uniforms and not only more debt capacity, but better debtor status. Slaves in ties. Symbolic neck chains by Ralph Lauren. Oh the humanity! Oh the idiocracy!!!

Where else but in legal fiction and in mammon could a society live by the rules of such a strange commerce as fashion, believing (loving) wholeheartedly that the clothes make the man? What is more symbolic of consumer slavery than that? What could possibly be more opposed and adversarial to God's Word (Son)?

But since we are all legally living under the forced pursuit of the equality of legal happiness, also called as debt, the question becomes how might one void that which is apparently in the view of law unavoidable? How do we render such a dis-ease of falsely contracted "happiness" in mammon back to Caesar so as to pursue the Reality of spiritual Happiness found only in and under God? We simply stop acting as something we are not. We stop being artificially uniform in such organized chaos. We stop participating in that custom and culture which offends our God because it offends the very Nature of ourselves. We stop working for masters for artful wages and stop creating their fictions and technologies designed to further enslave us. We render back to Caesar what is Caesar's and render ourselves unto the Permanence of that Supremacy of Jehovah. We abandon our legal identity and all benefits and subsequent obligations that comes with that artificial state of legal existence, and respect no longer any and all persons. We ditch mammon and return to Nature. We act only in First person, respecting only the first, christian name. We no longer answer as chattel when called or summoned by that legal pet name. But most importantly, we do the opposite action of this legal act of consent by our confirmation and ratification...

—=—

"A bad or invalid custom is [ought] to be abolished."

MALUS USUS ABOLENDUS EST. Litt. B 212; Co. Litt. 141; 1 Bl. Comm. 76; Broom, Max. 921. (Black4)

—=—

The principle of equal but opposite reactions... could it be that simple?

ABOLISH - verb transitive - [Latin abolco; from ab and oleo, olesco, to grow.] 1. TO MAKE VOID; TO ANNUL; to abrogate; applied chiefly and appropriately to ESTABLISHED LAWS, CONTRACTS, RITES, CUSTOMS and INSTITUTIONS - as to abolish laws by a repeal, actual or virtual. 2. To destroy, or put an end to; AS TO ABOLISH IDOLS. Isaiah 2:18. TO ABOLISH DEATH. 2 Timothy 1:10. This sense is not common. TO ABOLISH POSTERITY, in the translation of Pausanias, Lib. 3. Ca 6, is hardly allowable. (Webs1828)

—=—

When the Bible speaks to abolishing death, no right-minded man can possibly believe this is anything but a metaphoric, parabolic concept. To have spiritual life we must abolish civil life (spiritual death).

The lie of legal existence influences everything. It is this sheer belief (love) and faith (confidence) in the lie that confirms its false existence, and it lays (lies) in the subsistence of fraud until rebutted by the Reality of Nature through the will of man under God's Law. The object (purpose and intent) of the lie is man's subjection and allegiance to the thing laid (the name of the lie). The lie only seeks to perpetuate itself as a vicarious antithesis to the Reality of God's Nature, just as one would expect from an adversarial (satanic) force. The legal creators of the lie can rule in no other way, as the magistrate gods over their own creation, than by making the lie seem as Real as possible to those who voluntarily suffer it. The lie as a foundation must be respected and its constitution prostituted to, or the legal matrix (simulation) as a corruptive power and authority over God's Law (Reality) will fall. Everything we know as government, as our persona, as our name, as our property, and as our so-called legal freedoms, liberties, and rights are all part of the big lie. These things simply do not Exist in Nature and cannot in actuality Exist anywhere in Nature. They must be confirmed to be in artificial existence by men who therefore must acknowledge and support the lie in order to claim these things as their false reality. They represent a legal existence only. They are creations only of man and act only according to their artificial creator's will. And most importantly, an established right for one person, just as with wealth, necessarily means that others do not possess such a right, for otherwise its existence would be pointless and redundant. This is the nature of the constitution, a restatement of certain rights reserved by the few while permissively being deprived from all others under them.

But none of it is Real unless you can be made to believe...

—=—

“Reality is that which, when you stop believing in it, DOESN'T GO AWAY.”

— Philip K. Dick, quoted from: 'I Hope I Shall Arrive Soon'

—=—

The legal matrix-code exists only on paper and in the mind, and needs no computer interface to control man's actions. It relies on man's ignorance of and/or acceptance of it as a lie, combined with man's belief in its actual existence.

Technology came about long before computers did, for technology is merely art, and is only ever expressed by the language code that controls it...

TECHNOLOGY - noun - [Gr. art, and word or discourse.] 1. A description of ARTS; or a treatise on the arts. 2. An explanation of the TERMS OF THE ARTS. (Webs1828)

—=—

An object, and therefore anything of a legal objective, does not mean or point to anything in Reality, but only to the past perception and description of the Real thing or idea as a re-presentation of it - as a physical or objective fact. But a legal fact is and can only be presented in words (art). Thus all facts are merely confirmed lies which have no actual bearing on reality, existing only in and as a representational lie. The lie becomes a confirmed legal (artificial) truth. Words (facts) in law must be agreed and consented to, and they must be confirmed and thus attached to some part of Reality in name only and by force of will. The fact has no requirement (force of mind) to be in harmony with Reality, and instead only need be believed to be a true representation of Reality. This is how government and its agents and agencies exist outside of Reality while at the same time effecting It. This is how lies, fraud, and deceit are legally made into truth, fact, and evidence. And this is how man may call himself by any other word than that of a Creature of God, through names and flattering titles that are always a lie...

We literally live in a lie; a fictional matrix of legal words that strictly simulates Reality. And all aspects of this big lie are laid out in a design that creates a simulacra of this world - a copy with no original. The simulation is in fact so complete that most are not able to differentiate it from the Reality it re-presents. The fiction of words as names (nouns) has been laid upon all of Nature, like the impenetrable shell over a tender nut, so that man cannot even recognize himself as anything but his backwards mirror image in false legal persona and name. Nature has been covered up by the lie; by legal designs laid by evil men. Nature waits to be uncovered. To be seen. Disclosure. Discovery.

Revelation...

If I claim to live in California, then my claim can only refer to my fictional persona as a legal (fictional) resident of that fictional state. If my home is in California, then I can only be referring to a piece of paper as a title and a fictionally framed area upon a map, for California does not Exist in Nature. If I claim to be American, then I can only be referring to the artificiality of my fictional persona in its birth and legal form called legally as ethnicity. I am confirming my legal bond by nativity. For I can only actually and in Nature live, have a home in, and be man in and of Jehovah. California is not part of Nature. It is not of God. Its borders are not Reality, for no borders or even straight lines Exist in Nature. Yet its jurisdictional legal laws prevent me from being one with my God by requiring me to have a split personality, with one foot always in that commercial fiction of mammon.

When this false legal existence (the lie of personification) is compared to God's Permanent Being in the Reality of Existence (as Jehovah; as Creation itself), we see the true Nature of Reality as distinguished from the artificiality of the entire structure of government and religion, which is based completely on words as "terms of art" (words creating artifice through technology). The legal re-presentation of mammon stands as the spoken, written, and respected lie in and as this artificial existence. Its sole purpose is to act against Jehovah with impunity and without respect of God's Laws of Nature. Artifice simply does not and cannot respect Reality, for it cannot Exist in Reality. It is only ever a lie.

In this sense, when a man appears in court or in any jurisdiction where his use of fiction in commerce is assumed as a fictional person (which is 100% of the time a presumption in the United States jurisdiction), the fictional persona is only then considered to be physically present in that jurisdiction. Remember, the word physical has a legal meaning, not just a Real or Natural one. To be physical in the legal realm means to exist (to lie) at that time in that false persona, so that the actions of the man (physical facts) are considered to be done in person - done publicly not privately. However, the person can also legally be considered to be in appearance without the man in surety physically being present in court, whereas the appearance would be subjective and purely fictitious. This is not uncommon. Attorney's (agents) may also appear physically on behalf of the surety without that man being physically in court.

It occurs to me that this would all be so much easier to explain if personhood was in fact merely a baseball cap. When we wear it, we therefore would be in person. And our presence would be understood without doubt to be in that false persona. But because there is no tangible or visible artifact that reveals what personhood is to the senses or when it is being invoked, this work will necessarily be about 1,000 pages longer than if that were the case!

PRESENT - adjective - NOW EXISTING; at hand; relating to the present time; considered with reference to the present time. (Black4)

PRESENT - noun - A gift; a gratuity; anything presented or given. (Black4)

PRESENTER - One that presents. (Black4)

PRESENTLY - Immediately; NOW; at once. A right which may be exercised "presently" is opposed to one in reversion or remainder. (Black4)

PHYSICAL - Relating or pertaining to the BODY, as distinguished from the mind or soul or the emotions; material, substantive, HAVING AN OBJECTIVE EXISTENCE, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM IMAGINARY OR FICTITIOUS; REAL, having relation to facts, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM MORAL OR CONSTRUCTIVE. (Black4)

—=—

What must be comprehended that the gift of life is a present from God, the gift or presence, of our very Existence here and now. And so our first, “christian” name is called the gift, the given name, for it exists above all other attached fictional names, surnames, nicknames, titles, numbers and marks. It is the original, the First, whereas all other names are aboriginal, where the Latin prefix “ab-” means to separate, to depart from, or to move away from. To the legal gods, the term aboriginal is used upon those peoples not of their origin, but of the legal system and its trickery. They were the first, the inherent inhabitancy, the blood of the actual land. Thus aboriginal is a name of reproach and contempt to those who will not be governed by another and must be subjected therefore by military conquest (purchase). Purchase (to conquer) is merely another word for gain, meaning to acquire by any means but by descent or hereditary right (Webs1828).

But wait a minute, we must further define just what a body is here. Remember, this is legal-speak, originating from the devil-masters (lawyers and scribes), and not merely that vulgar common language. This word, as most others, must be considered dualistically and figuratively as well. For in legalism, the person’s body is made of nothing at all, appearing only as an anthropomorphized creation of law made only of words on paper.

BODY - A PERSON. Used of a natural body, OR OF AN ARTIFICIAL ONE CREATED BY LAW, AS A CORPORATION. The main part of the human body; the trunk. The term may, however, embrace ALL MEMBERS OF THE PERSON, including the HEAD. Also the main part of an INSTRUMENT; in deeds it is spoken of as distinguished from the recitals and other introductory parts and signatures; in affidavits, from the title and jurat. A collection of laws; that is, the embodiment of the laws in one connected statement or collection, called a "BODY OF LAWS"). (examples) A cement mixer assembled on a truck, The Workmen's Benefit Fund of the United States of America. (Black4)

—=—

So a body can be a Real (of Nature) or fictional (natural) person, a corporation, all individual (natural person) members of the corporation as one artificial body politic incorporated, part of or the whole man or hu-man, a private association, a whole set of laws, or a machine upon a vehicle. But nowhere is God’s Creation actually invoked when this word is used in legalisms. Man is simply not a legal body. Only the hu-man body is referenced, which means the body of man considered without the mind and soul as a legal “physical” but artful fact. Man can only be seen and considered by legal entities through the looking glass of fiction. Only his status (person) can be seen. Nature must be vanquished.

Ultimately I have come to the strange conclusion that written language, be it numerical code, sigils, symbols, glyphs, letters, or any other form without substance, is evil when respected above its description. It is anti-real, where the word anti merely means replacement or in the stead of the Reality (Nature) with which the word represents. In this sense then, the word evil is being used here to express opposite, in place of. Anti-life. Anti-Nature. For words are not alive and have no origin or place in Nature. Reality Exists despite the words used to name and describe Reality. But the legal law is based solely on the word that is artificially and by force attached to the substance of Being.

How many trees in the “forest” have never been called by their individual names? How many fish in the sea swim in the depths of the undiscovered? How many plants in the Amazon have never been seen or named? Yet their existence thrives without the artifice of language, and their welfare is all the better for not having been found, legalized, or “protected” by man’s empty, fictional words, which destroy their True freedom and protection under God’s Nature. For all things must first be named (fictionalized) to be protected, and they must first be protected before they can be declared as unprotected, and finally they must be declared as unprotected before they can be raped and destroyed. This is the legal way of licensure (anarchy).

The substance of anything can only be considered upon its construction, and our simulated reality is based only upon the fictional form of these symbols of language. It is the art form which each symbol-set creates as a language art that re-presents Reality as fiction. Word DNA. To live in Reality is to live without names and titles. This is not to suggest that words should be abandoned, only that art should be abolished in lieu of conscious awareness of the Reality those words mimic and describe in artifice and authority. A “doctor,” for instance, should not be allowed to be irresponsible for his actions in agency and malpractice merely because he is insured for the actions of his fictional person under his corporate surname and artful title. Artificial things (names and titles), in other words, should not be given a value over that of the Real thing they describe in Nature, and should certainly not be used as an excuse for one’s actions. Nature should be treasured but not considered as a treasurable commodity by its name. Nonsense should not be paramount over sense.

The word paramount is of course another word for sovereign. God vs. gods. The word “God” as a noun (name) should not be placed in supremacy over the Reality that is the verb of God (Jehovah), the Permanence of Being as Supreme; as Life and Love Itself. God is priceless, nameless... but control of the name and title of God in church and state is certainly a valuable, albeit artificial commodity. In totality, words should never have value, power, or authority. They may be descriptive, but that description should never possess authority over the Real. For that which is self-evident, including Nature and Its Law and Life Itself, needs not words to define it. The law must be paramount over the words written as law. The substance of God must be Supreme over the mere name of “God.” The lie should never have more power than Reality.

This notion of a legal physical existence, as a reference to the “will” and to a “fact,” requires even more imagination, or at least the turning off of Natural reason. For the lie that is a legal existence is not of God and Nature. It is not an Existence in Reality. The actual (real) physical occurrence of a fact never actually happens in court, any more than Bugs Bunny is ever actually clobbered over its fictional head by an “Acme” cartoon hammer.

To be spiritually living is not merely to become civilly dead, but to therefore be unrecognizable, undefinable, indescribable, innumerable, illegal, and totally ambiguous (without mark, name, and number) to any fictional government. To be of God’s living Kingdom is to be name-less, mark-less, and number-less. A purely spiritual (religious) man claims no personhood and no property belonging to another, and thus claims no civil rights, security, or protection (insurance) from the anti-spiritual government of mammon. Civil death does not require Natural death, only spiritual awakening in both belief (faith) and action (works). In the legal parlance, all of these words are purely descriptive of form, and do not refer to the Reality of spirituality in any way, for a natural person is of course in legal fact merely a civil (political) thing, a term of art. Legality does not recognize spirituality any more than God recognizes legality, for God and mammon are directly opposed to each other and cannot Exist in the same realm.

Now, if the reader still feels this is too “religious” in its connotations, he or she better quickly realize that government and the gods (magistrates) that rule over the legal realm is religion, in name only, and to be a person of government is to be faithful to that religiously “established” and “ordained” law, just as the preamble to the U.S. Constitution clearly states. As we are about to discover that True christianity of piety and conscious is a negative part of the common law, meaning that each man is expected to learn and act the scriptural part and maintain that negative duty of the Natural Law, it isn’t so easy for the average common fool to dismiss the Bible and its scriptural Higher Law any more. You will have religion whether you like it or not as your law. The only question is which one, which law, which God do you choose.

There are thousands of unique corporations calling themselves “religions” on this planet, all of which have residence within the hundreds of municipal governments that surround, control, create, and profess them. But none of them are required to have “God” as their magistrate or God’s Law as their government. These two realms (government and religion) have always, in all of history, been married. Organized religion has nothing to do with Jehovah or God's Law of Nature, but only establishes man's legal relationship with a legal definition of "God" under the rule of other men (magistrates). Religion by any other name ("government") is still a part of legal religion; or more to the point, government is merely the executive (military) force of any religion called a State. The name of "God" only appears in government as a personification, the noun form of the verb of Being, as the root of authoritarian rule by men in God's "name" as a legal appearance; the form of God with no substance.

And the money says: 'IN GOD WE TRUST.' Amen

—=—

"And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the marketplaces, And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts: Which devour widows' houses, AND FOR A PRETENSE MAKE LONG PRAYERS: these shall receive greater damnation."

—Mark 12: 38-41, KJB

—=—

We mistake the concept of the "separation of church and state" to mean something other than it does in the United States. When a husband and wife that are voluntarily bound to each other in a legal marriage contract get a separation, they are still legally in contract with one another under marriage. This is not a annulment. The binding relationship of incorporation (marriage) still exists to the state. The union is not severed, only restricted and often ignored as a state of "divorce," which is still a lesser state of marriage. And this is why government stands as controller and administrator of the child, deciding against the will of the Natural parents where and when they may possess their abandoned child. And this is also why the male or father figure of that corporation of marriage, listed as head of household (corporation), is forced to financially support his issue (sub-corporation) with "child-support."

The separation of religious morals from political opinions as law is nothing to celebrate, I assure you. Government is based solely on personhood, on artificial status and rank. This realm of artificiality can only exist if the Bible (The self-evident Law of God) is forcibly separated from the political (imaginary) sphere (the legal law and designs of man), as God does not respect persons and plainly out-Laws their legal existence. So it is that the state is "separated" from the church, but still married. For the state must invoke religious moral doctrine (the Bible) to claim the authority of God as replacement (vicar) magistrates in Order to govern men in God's empty name. The notion of being a "Christian Nation" is indeed a blasphemy of the scriptures, for a nation is only ever an artificial person (corporation). Of course, man must rename and redefine God as a legal thing before he can establish God as a Source of all legal power and jurisdiction.

FIDES - Latin. Faith; honesty; confidence; TRUST; veracity; honor. Occurring in the phrases "bona fides" (good faith), "mala fides" (bad faith), and "uberrima fidee," (the utmost or most abundant good faith.) (Black4)

—=—

"A trust is an obligation of conscience of one TO THE WILL OF ANOTHER."

— FIDES EST OBLIGATIO CONSCIENTIAE ALICUIJUS AD INTENTIONEM ALTERIUS. Bacon. (Black4)

—=—

A vow (promise) to God is a Natural Trust with God to do the will of God according to Its Will (scripture) and Law.

An oath to the state is the same exact thing, only the god has changed.

And the use of money that states “IN GOD WE TRUST” while in the artifice of public commerce means only that we are acting as agent to the principal god of that nations currency.

A man might declare separation from his wife by sticking her in a virtual box and ignoring her pleas (prayers). This is what government has done with God’s Law, for the duality of religious morals and political ethics no longer check and balance one another. Religions of today are merely political corporations created by government, considered only as creations of government and legally governed as such. Their legal standing is under government rule, not above or even equal to it, for churches are non-governing legal entities. They have as much authority in politics as Walmart, and are quite often restricted from political involvement without forming a political action committee or legal, corporate, non-profit lobby. The religious wife as the “church” is stuck in a box, her voice no longer able to reach her overbearing husband, the “state.” The municipal state is Godless even as it claims the authority of God through a marriage to its doctrine in principle but not practice.

PURGE - To clear of a charge by one’s own OATH; as, to the satisfaction of a court that by a certain act NO CONTEMPT WAS INTENDED. See Contempt. (WCA/889)

—=—

Ironically, a spiritual man of God can have no other standing than to Be in contempt of court. For the court is a legal creation of men, not a Natural Creation of God. Its judgements are as false as its law. The court can only recognize fictions in artifice, that which appears only in a government-granted legal name and title, and so the court itself stands in contempt of God’s Nature and Law, and specifically to that of man’s actual substance (as part of Creation) in Nature. To pledge one’s religious oath to the state and in court is literally to place God into contempt by accepting the legal law and its gods over the Natural Law, the fiction over the Reality. And in case you never noticed, EVERY TIME you go to court you must first pledge your oath of fealty and respect to it and its system of legal law, so that if you later find it to be contemptuous during that legal ceremony of false religion you may not act upon your moral thought. The oath as a contract is like a mousetrap, causing the man to be stuck to the courts jurisdiction and opinions by invoking the strawman and binding its appearance in surety until dismissed, adjudged, or convicted through that promise (oath) to the court to be subject to its artificial law ‘so help me God.’ All oaths are only ever religious oaths. There are no exceptions. And an oath to the court is the abandonment of one’s own religion by agreement to the acceptance of that law and religion to which the oath is taken. And the court’s religion, to be clear, is Roman paganism; the “Christianity” of natural fools.

But let us see the evidence once and for all of this dualistic term of art.

SO HELP YOU GOD - See OATH. See Christianity; Law, Divine; Religion. (WCA/889)

CHRISTIAN - One who BELIEVES OR ASSENTS to the doctrines of Christianity, as taught by Jesus Christ in the New Testament, OR WHO, BEING BORN OF CHRISTIAN PARENTS OR IN A CHRISTIAN COUNTRY, DOES NOT PROFESS ANY OTHER RELIGION, OR DOES NOT BELONG TO ANY ONE OF THE OTHER RELIGIOUS DIVISIONS OF MAN. See NAME.

CHRISTIANITY - The system of doctrines and precepts taught by Christ; the religion founded by Christ. CHRISTIANITY IS SAID TO BE PART OF THE COMMON LAW. “Christianity is parcel of the laws of England; and, therefore, to reproach the Christian religion is to speak in subversion of the law.” “The essential principles of NATURAL RELIGION” and “of revealed religion, ARE A PART OF THE COMMON LAW, so that any person reviling or subverting or ridiculing them may be prosecuted at common law.” “The true sense of the maxim is that the law will not permit the essential principles of revealed religion to be ridiculed and reviled.” Christianity is A PART OF THE COMMON LAW OF PENNSYLVANIA in the qualified sense that its divine origin and truth are admitted, and therefore it is not to be maliciously and openly reviled and blasphemed against, to the annoyance of believers or the injury of the public. NOT CHRISTIANITY FOUNDED UPON ANY PARTICULAR RELIGIOUS TENETS; BUT CHRISTIANITY WITH LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE TO ALL MEN. THE MAXIM DOES NOT MEAN THAT CHRISTIANITY IS AN ESTABLISHED RELIGION; NOR THAT ITS PRECEPTS, BY FORCE OF THEIR OWN AUTHORITY, FORM PART OF OUR SYSTEM OF MUNICIPAL LAW; NOR THAT THE COURTS MAY BASE THEIR JUDGMENTS UPON THE BIBLE; NOR THAT RELIGIOUS DUTIES MAY BE PENALLY ENFORCED; NOR THAT LEGAL DISCRIMINATION IN FAVOR OF CHRISTIANITY IS ALLOWED. The best features of the common law, especially those which regard the family and social relations, if not derived from, have at least been improved and strengthened by, the prevailing religion and the teachings of its sacred Book. BUT THE LAW DOES NOT ATTEMPT TO ENFORCE THE PRECEPTS OF CHRISTIANITY ON THE GROUND OF THEIR SACRED CHARACTER OR DIVINE ORIGIN. Some of those precepts, though we may admit their continual and universal obligation, we must nevertheless recognize as being INCAPABLE OF ENFORCEMENT BY HUMAN LAWS. Those precepts, moreover, affect the heart, and address themselves to the conscience; WHILE THE LAWS OF THE STATE CAN REGARD THE OUTWARD CONDUCT ONLY: FOR WHICH REASONS CHRISTIANITY IS NOT A PART OF THE LAW OF THE LAND IN ANY SENSE WHICH ENTITLES THE COURTS TO TAKE NOTICE OF AND BASE THEIR JUDGMENTS UPON IT, except so far they can find that its precepts and principles have been incorporated in and made a component part of the law of the State. THE MAXIM CAN HAVE NO REFERENCE TO THE LAW OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, SINCE THE SOURCES OF THAT LAW ARE THE CONSTITUTION, TREATIES, AND ACTS OF CONGRESS. (WCA1889)

— = —

If the reader may understand what has been stated here then he may understand why his public birth into and participation in the surname of the nation causes two things to happen. Firstly, his artificial birth certification creates a legal (anti-God) registered entity (strawman) that he acts as agent for, and so he is automatically given at birth a legalized flattering title of “Christian” just as it was in Rome, for he lives in one of Caesar’s so-called “Christian” nations. This is a false state of being that defeats and defects the Natural Law and Religion established by the Son (Word) of God. Secondly, this false religious “state” or country being a pure fiction causes the man to lose his unalienable rights under God, which would be his privately reserved rights if he were not a commercial resident and foreigner in any State (People) and their government (state) through the United States (nation/domicile) in agency, and his only True christian “identity” would be in his works and in his following of that Highest Law without actual title, not merely in his incorporated name of the state. Thus this notion of the separation of church and state could be said to be a separation of the public (common people) and the private (sovereign People). Regardless of this, there is one fact that cannot be disputed. That the common law includes christianity as its foundation of law means that the reader better damn well stop demonizing the Bible and instead learn its precepts and maxims if he ever wishes to be free from the tyranny of the nation (state) that opposes that internal expression of the moral law.

— = —

“Our Jewishness is not a creed, IT IS OURSELF, our totality. Indeed, it may be fairly said that the surest evidence of your lack of seriousness in religion is the fact that YOUR RELIGIONS ARE NOT NATIONAL, THAT YOU ARE NOT COMPROMISED AND DEDICATED, EN MASSE, TO THE FAITH.”

“You have had patron or appropriated gods: we have a national God. In the heart of any pious Jew, God is a Jew. Is your God an Englishman or an American? There is no real contradiction between this confessed anthropomorphism and my claim that we Jews alone understand and feel the universality of God. IN ANTHROPOMORPHISM WE MERELY SYMBOLIZE GOD: we reduce the infinite, temporarily, to tangible proportions: we make it ACCESSIBLE TO DAILY REFERENCE.”

—Maurice Samuel, from: ‘You Gentiles,’ 1924, separate quotes

—=—

The time for ignoring the Law (the scripture) must become a thing of the past. The foolish debates must end, and the Reality of this not-so-secret Truth must be revealed. Only an arrogant fool would dismiss this information and go back to being a flatteringly legally “Christian” (pagan), public citizenship in the dark without even contemplating his personal, evil disposition. The office of citizenship is a “Christian” office of the “Christian” nation (false church/people). It is, again, merely controlled opposition. And it’s all in the name...

—=—

NAME:

“A DESIGNATION by which a PERSON, NATURAL OR ARTIFICIAL, is known... the law assumes that EVERYONE has a Christian name... The law recognizes only one Christian name... A non-resident, to whom a wrong name is given in an order of publication, receives no legal notice... IDENTITY OF NAME IS PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE OF IDENTITY OF PERSON... At common law, a man may lawfully change his name. HE IS BOUND BY ANY CONTRACT INTO WHICH HE MAY ENTER IN HIS ADOPTED OR REPUTED NAME, and by his recognized name he may sue and be sued... 2. A man’s name, AS THE SYNONYM OF HIS POWER AND PERSONALITY, IS OFTEN PUT FOR THE MAN HIMSELF. Thus, AN AGENT IS SAID TO BUY “IN THE NAME” OF HIS PRINCIPAL when he buys for him, DECLARING HIS AGENCY. A man invests "in his own name" (as executor) when he invests openly for himself, though he only receives evidence (bonds) of the investment.”

—Definition of “name” (WCA1889)

—=—

The King James Version of the Holy Bible is the foundation of the governing law, and the official (in office) oath is still taken upon it, or more aptly through it. This is not a vow or promise to God to follow the Natural Law of God, but a vain promise to the state (and pope?) and its false law in God's empty name only. The vow (promise) is a verb, the oath (or affirmation) a written noun. The vow is to God. The oath is a spite on God. One is in Love (Belief), while the other is just empty words. A vow to God is sacred, while an oath to the gods (magistrates) of the state taken upon the Bible (God's Word) is a curse. The scriptures as God's Law are suppressed and ignored by the municipal, administrative state and courts in every way and in all of its legal presentation and consideration of what legally is the law of the land. Scripture nor christ is in fact no part whatsoever a part of the law of the land, as stated above, except for those Highest foundational maxims (principles) that already happen to be based on scripture. The legal law implies the power and authority of the Word (Law) for its existence and thus to control the minds of the unregenerate, unspiritual masses, which its own corrupt systems ensure the nature of, recognizing only the individual actions of the man in agency of its own version of his animal (without soul), humanized, Romanized self (strawman). This is the purpose of the contract, and specifically the implied contractual relationship of citizenship. The contract makes the new law and rejects all others. In this way, the union of church and state has become a paradoxical puzzle with no internal solution, like a husband pretending his wife no longer Exists. It is a legal matrix with no escape, and no actual remedy for its debtors unless they unplug and quit using its personified avatar. For the church is governed by the state, which stands as the master and oppressor of its moral law. The Existence of a moral code of law has been relegated (exiled) into obscurity, locked away as a secured interest, considered as merely a referential to the supposed authority it grants to the corrupting state. The state rules despite the religious Law-book it claims as its authority to rule by. The Ying ignores the Yang, ultimately overcoming, usurping, and misdirecting its balancing purpose.

We see this as a rule, a principle (maxim) of law excluding other principles according to the corruptive elements of legalism and administrative functionaries. Remembering that Jesus christ is an example of the Perfection of Law, as the Word of God personified, we must take heed of the following Latin maxim so that we may know that our subjection to man's legalisms causes us to suffer separation from our Highest and most Perfect state of Being. Our law is purely of corruption; purely antichrist.

—=—

“Judgment is to be given according to the laws, NOT ACCORDING TO EXAMPLES OR PRECEDENTS.”

—JUDICANDUM EST LEGIBUS, NON EXEMPLIS. 4 Coke, 33b; 4 B1,Comm. 405. (Black4)

—=—

The legal law has been made to literally emasculate man (male and female) from our substance and Source, from the precedent and example that is the wisdom of Light of Jehovah. And person-hood ensures this legal castration, acting as a barrier between man and his Creator and Creation, so that man may no longer operate under the scriptural, spiritual Law of God.

EMASCULATE - verb transitive - [Low Latin emasculo, from e and masculus, a male. See Male.] 1. To castrate; to deprive a male of certain parts which characterize the sex; to geld; to deprive of virility. 2. To deprive of masculine strength or vigor; to weaken; to render effeminate; to vitiate by unmanly softness. WOMEN EMASCULATE A MONARCH'S REIGN. To emasculate the SPIRITS. - adjective - Unmanned; deprived of vigor. (Webs1828)

Remember, a person has no sex, only the legal fiction of sexual orientation as status. A person is to be always equal in all considerations, which eliminates God's Design and Gift of sexual consideration. Sex is only used as a weapon in the legal realm, never as the recognized wonder and beauty that is God's Creation.

The queen emasculates the king, so that his reign is not overbearingly logical, un-empathetic, or heartless. The sacred balance. The power of the feminine not above or below but in harmony with the masculine. Behind every good male is his match both in grace and in influence, in empathy and in maternal instinct. And behind every good female is her perfecting male opposite as well, though admittedly perhaps, a bit less graceful. This is the epitome of Natural Law and Order.

Another word for emasculate, in that legal (artificial) sense, is the word castrate. To rate man in a caste system, just as Hollywood casts its actors and assigns them desired traits and characters...

CASTRATE - verb transitive - 1. To geld; to deprive of the testicles; to emasculate. 2. To take away or retrench, as the obscene parts OF A WRITING. 3. To take out a leaf or sheet from a book, AND RENDER IT IMPERFECT. (Webs1828)

RATE - noun - [Latin ratus, reor, contracted from retor, redor, or resor. See Ratio and Reason.] 1. The proportion or standard by which quantity or value is adjusted; as silver valued at the rate of six shillings and eight pence the ounce. The rate and standard of wit was different then from what it is in these days. 2. PRICE OR AMOUNT STATED OR FIXED ON ANY THING. A king may purchase territory at too dear a rate The rate of interest is prescribed by law. 3. Settled allowance; as a daily rate of provisions. 2 Kings 25:30. 4. DEGREE; comparative height or value. I am a spirit of no common rate. In this did his holiness and godliness appear above the rate and pitch of other men's, in that he was so infinitely merciful. 5. Degree in which any thing is done. The ship sails at the rate of seven knots an hour. Many of the horse could not march at that rate nor come lup soon enough. 6. DEGREE OF VALUE; PRICE. Wheat in England is often sold at the rate of fifty shillings the quarter. Wit may be purchased at too dear a rate 7. A TAX OR SUM ASSESSED BY AUTHORITY ON PROPERTY FOR PUBLIC USE, according to its income or value; as parish rates; town rates; highway rates. 8. In the navy, the order or class of a SHIP, according to its magnitude or force...-
verb transitive - 1. To set a certain value on; TO VALUE AT A CERTAIN PRICE OR DEGREE OF EXCELLENCE. You seem not high enough your joys to rate. Instead of rating the man by his performances, we too frequently rate the performance by the man. 2. To fix the magnitude, force or order, as of SHIPS. A ship is rated in the first class, or as a ship of the line. - verb intransitive - 1. TO BE SET OR CONSIDERED IN A CLASS, AS A SHIP. The ship rates as a ship of the line. 2. To make an estimate. - verb transitive - [See Read. It is probably allied to rattle, and perhaps to Latin rudo.] To chide with vehemence; to reprove; to scold; to censure violently. Go, rate thy minions, proud insulting boy. An old lord of the council rated me the other day in the street about you, sir. (Webs1828)

CAST - verb transitive preterit tense - And participle passive - cast. 1. To throw, fling or send; that is, to drive from, by force, as from the hand, or from an engine... To sow; to scatter seed... To drive or impel by violence. A mighty west wind cast the locusts into the sea. Exodus 10:19. 4. To shed or throw off; as, trees cast their fruit; a serpent casts his skin... 6. To throw, as dice or lots; as, TO CAST LOTS. 7. To throw on the ground, as in wrestling. 8. To throw away, as worthless...10. To throw, to extend, as a trench or rampart, including the sense of digging, raising, or FORMING. Thy enemies shall cast a trench about thee. Luke 19:35. 11. To thrust; as, TO CAST INTO PRISON. 12. To put, or SET, IN A PARTICULAR STATE. Both chariot and horse were cast into a dead sleep. Psalms 76:6. 13. TO CONDEMN; TO CONVICT; AS A CRIMINAL. Both tried and both were cast. 14. To overcome in a civil suit, or in any contest of strength or skill; as, to cast the defendant or an antagonist. 15. To cashier or discard. 16. To lay aside, as unfit for use; to reject; as a garment. 17. To make to preponderate; to throw into one scale, for the purpose of giving it superior weight; to decide by a vote that gives a superiority in numbers; as, to cast the balance in ones favor; a casting vote or voice. 18. To throw together several particulars, to find the SUM; as, to cast accounts. Hence, to throw together circumstances and facts, to find the result; to compute; to reckon; to calculate; as, to cast the event of war. To cast and see how many things there are which a man cannot do himself. 19. TO CONTRIVE; TO PLAN. 20. TO JUDGE, or to consider, in order to judge. 21. TO FIX, or distribute the parts of a play among the actors. 22. To throw, as the sight; to direct, or turn, as the eye; to glance; as, to cast a look, or glance, or the eye. 23. TO FOUND; to form into a particular shape, by pouring liquid metal into a mold; to run; as, to cast cannon. Thou shalt cast four rings of gold for it. Exodus 25:12. 24. Figuratively, to shape; to form by a model. 25. TO COMMUNICATE; to spread over; as, to cast a luster UPON POSTERITY; to cast splendor upon actions, or light upon a subject... To cast down, to throw down; TO DEJECT OR DEPRESS THE MIND. Why art thou cast down, O my soul. Psalms 42:5... Among huntsmen, to leave behind, as dogs; to set loose, or free. Among seamen, to loose, or untie. To cast out, to send forth; to reject or turn out; to throw out, as words; to speak or give vent to. To cast up, to compute; to reckon; to calculate; as, to cast up accounts, or the cost. Also, to eject; to vomit. To cast on, to refer or resign to. TO CAST ONES SELF ON, TO RESIGN OR YIELD ONES SELF TO THE DISPOSAL OF, without reserve. To cast young, to miscarry; to suffer abortion. Genesis 31:38. To cast in the teeth, to upbraid; TO CHARGE; to twit. So in Danish, kaster in I noesen, to cast in the nose. - verb intransitive - 1. To throw forward, as the thoughts, with a view to some determination; or to turn or revolve in the mind; to contrive; sometimes followed by about. I cast in careful mind to seek her out. To cast about how to perform or obtain. 2. To receive form or shape. Metal will cast and mold. 3. To warp; to twist from regular shape. Stuff is said to cast or warp, when it alters its flatness or straightness. Note. Cast like throw and warp, implies a winding motion... - noun - 1. The act of casting; a throw; the thing thrown; the form or state of throwing; kind or manner of throwing... 5. A throw of dice; hence, a state of chance or hazard. It is an even cast whether the army should march this way or that way. Hence the phrase, the last cast is used to denote that all is ventured on one throw, or one effort. 6. FORM; SHAPE. A heroic poem in another cast. 7. A TINGE; A SLIGHT COLORING, or slight degree of a color; as a cast of green. Hence, a slight alteration in external appearance... 8. Manner; air; mien; as, a peculiar cast of countenance... 9. A flight; a number of hawks let go at once. 10. A small statue of bronze... 14. A breed, race, lineage, kind, sort. 15. In Hindoostan, A TRIBE OR CLASS OF THE SAME RANK OR PROFESSION; as the cast of Bramins, or priests; of rajahs, or princes; of choutres, OR ARTIFICERS; and of parias, or poor people. Or according to some writers, of Bramins; of cuttery, or soldiers; of shuddery, or merchants; and of wyse, or mechanics. The four casts of the Hindoos are the Brahmins or sacred order; the Chechteres or soldiers and rulers; the Bice, Vaissya, or husbandmen and merchants; and the Sooders, Sudras, or laborers and mechanics. 16. A TRICK. (Webs1828)

CAST - verb - In old English practice. To allege, offer, or present; to proffer by way of excuse (as to "cast an essoin"). This word is now used as a popular, rather than a technical, term, in the sense of TO OVERCOME, OVERTHROW, or defeat in a civil action at law. It also means to deposit formally or officially. It is also used in connection with the imposition upon a party litigant of costs in the suit: as, A. is "cast" for the costs of the case. (Black4)

LOT - A number of ASSOCIATED PERSONS OR THINGS TAKEN COLLECTIVELY. A share; one of several parcels into which property is divided. Any portion, piece, division or parcel of land. Fractional part or subdivision of block, according to plat or survey; portion of platted territory measured and set apart for individual and private use and occupancy; right of way of street railway abutting a public highway; small tract or parcel of land in a village, town, or city, suitable for building, or for a garden, or other similar uses. The arbitrament of chance: hazard. That which fortuitously determines WHAT COURSE SHALL BE TAKEN OR WHAT DISPOSITION BE MADE OF PROPERTY OR RIGHTS. The thirteenth dish of lead in the mines of Derbyshire, which belonged to the crown. (Black4)

LOT AND SCOT - In English law. Certain DUTIES WHICH MUST BE PAID BY THOSE WHO CLAIM TO EXERCISE THE ELECTIVE FRANCHISE within certain cities and boroughs, before they are entitled to vote. It is said that the practice became uniform to refer to the poor-rate as a REGISTER of "scot and lot" voters; so that the term, when employed to define a right of election, meant only the payment by a parishioner of the sum to which he was assessed on the poor-rate. (Black4)

— = —

Our lot is cast and our stake (cross) is planted, as soon as the birth registration process is complete. We are immediately presumed to be emasculated, cast-rated into the multitude of the nation, that fictional, legal father of lost souls. The people borne of and begotten by the nation. The general public. Goyim.

The New World Encyclopedia defines a caste system as follows:

“Caste systems are any ranked, hereditary, endogamous occupational groups that CONSTITUTE traditional societies in certain regions of the world, particularly among Hindus in India. There, caste is rooted in antiquity and specifies THE RULES AND RESTRICTIONS GOVERNING SOCIAL INTERCOURSE AND ACTIVITY FOR EACH GROUP BASED ON THEIR OCCUPATION AND SOCIAL STATUS. The different castes practiced mutual exclusion in many social activities, including eating, as well as MARRIAGE. In addition to the major castes, there also existed another group, the "OUTCASTES," who were relegated to the worst occupations if any employment at all. Ranked below the castes, they were treated as sub-human—“unseeable” and “untouchable.”...

“Definition - Caste is defined by the American Heritage Dictionary as "an endogamous and hereditary social group LIMITED TO PERSONS OF THE SAME RANK, occupation, and economic position." The word caste is derived from the ROMANCE word *casta (seen in Portuguese, Spanish, and Italian), which (in addition to representing the same concept as English caste) can mean "LINEAGE" or "race." It comes from Romance casto, which can mean "PURE" or "chaste." Casto in Latin means "chaste," which is derived from castus, meaning "PURE, CUT OFF, SEPARATED."

“...In its broadest sense, examples of caste-based societies include colonial Latin America under Spanish and Portuguese rule, Japan, Korea, some parts of Africa, as well as across the Indian subcontinent.

“Many of these cultures show only the remnants of a caste system that divided the population into what might today be regarded as different social classes, BASED ON LINEAGE and on the role they performed in society. What remains, however, and is common to many cultures is the "outcaste," the people considered below the level of common humanity of all the others, "untouchable." They and their descendants, the dalit in India, the burakumin in Japan, the baekjeong in Korea, all have faced discrimination, and some continue to do so today.”

— = —

One would have to be a fool to not recognize the caste system in America. The private or pure-blood against the public or outcastes (those not of the bloodline or having knowledge of it, those not the private People as the sovereignty of each separate State.) A caste by any other name or description is still just the same old feudatory.

As a consideration by government, man is much like oil. This naturally flowing blood of the Earth is called a “natural resource.” Again we see the referential to the quality of Nature as purely a descriptive matter, not as the main subject. When attached to a legal concept, that being a resource, the purpose and intention of the word natural changes from one of respect to one of conquest (purchase). To re-source something necessarily means to re-purpose it; to refine and therefore re-create it and to alter its intent for the service and benefit of another. And once Nature is touched, it is no longer of the Source of God’s Being of Creation. Oil is re-sourced from being a pure creation of God in Nature to an unnatural, impure re-creation of man. Ironically, it is the very imperfections that are filtered out that makes oil Pure and Natural. So too may this be said about man.

This is the perfect allegory of the re-presentation of man into the personhood of citizenship. To make gasoline, for instance, requires a major refinement process to rid the oil of all its undesirable “natural” qualities and traits so that it can be used (employed) and trafficked as a commercial re-source...

Sound familiar?

The same can be said of the blood of man. For the man to be made into a citizen-ship he must be metaphorically re-sourced as well. Man must be taken away from his Source (his Creator) and re-generated into a fictional persona; a useable (employable) re-sourced product for commercial human trafficking. His blood must be legally (figuratively) corrupted in attainer. He must be refined through the public education and media brainwashing process before he can be used (employed) as a natural resource in capitalism (by the head): a natural person. Once this re-fine-ment process (corruption of blood and the mind through institutionalized “education”) takes place, the newly formed person no longer expresses the pure qualities of God’s Nature, retaining only the form without substance, yet still appearing as man-like (as man-kind) in persona.

We may also reference gold here, where the quality of that natural resource is measured in the fineness of the art form (technology) that molded and pressed it, be it for coinage, jewelry, or as a legally defined “natural” resource in machinery and health products. Likewise, a man perfectly educated and im-pressed into society through this refining process as a political entity is considered as quite the valuable commodity, a fine speci-man, a natural resource exploited and perfectly employed in mammon. A hu-man commodity for hu-man trafficking.

Like crude unrefined oil, man is born in blood as a product of Nature.

Like gasoline, the educated HU-man person/citizen is a refined product of man’s designs in mammon.

To be even more clear, the true purpose of this specific magi-cal spell (spelling) of legal words is quite simplistic. Every living and non-living thing on this earth is merely animal, vegetable, and/or mineral in Nature, so to speak. As all of these Creatures (Create-ure = the Created things of God) do not comprehend the legal meaning of these fictional, artful names (nouns) that have been forced upon them within the legal language domain as used to describe them into this governing nomenclature, all of the Creatures as Natural Beings of the Earth (as Jehovah) have no choice but to be dominated by man. The name is governed as a fictional and invisible bond; a virtual ball and chain attached and applied to the Real thing. They cannot de-fend themselves; they cannot fend off this legal fiction any more than oil can prevent itself from being sucked dry from Jehovah’s Veins. These creatures don’t speak the legal language.

However, in most cases, man has the ability and capacity to learn this magi-cal language but generally chooses not to, while at the same time he chooses to (or believes he must) follow the law that is made up of those same unlearned words. And so man in his less than blissful ignorance is no better off and is considered no differently than all other voiceless animals to be dominated. Beasts of burden. For, as the maxim states, the meaning of words is the spirit of the law. Mans education in common (vulgar) words mean nothing to these legal magistrates, for man has been taught the language of Babel. General words and terms appear in form the same as in the legalese, but the meanings are most often opposite of the loving and truthful intention of those common words.

And here we can comprehend the desire and consecrated effort by those governing men to instill a forced, “public” education system. For those who seek to rule all men must keep us all acting and speaking publicly. Privacy is simply not taught to slaves.

And so we are taught the lower form of language, one without art or higher (more authoritative) meaning, so that we may never realize that we are trapped in the artifice; caught in a legal matrix. We are taught to accept the big lie...

FICTION OF LAW - Something known to be false is assumed to be true. (Black4)

FICTION - An assumption or supposition of law that something which is or may be false is true, or that a state of facts exists which has never really taken place. An assumption, for purposes of justice, of a fact that does not or may not exist. A rule of law which assumes as true, and will not allow to be disproved, something which is false, but not impossible. These assumptions are of an innocent or even beneficial character, and are made for the advancement of the ends of justice. They secure this end chiefly by the extension of procedure from cases to which it is applicable to other cases to which it is not strictly applicable, the ground of inapplicability being some difference of an immaterial character. Fictions are to be distinguished from presumptions of law. By the former (fiction), SOMETHING KNOWN TO BE FALSE OR UNREAL IS ASSUMED AS TRUE; by the latter (presumption), AN INFERENCE IS SET UP WHICH MAY BE AND PROBABLY IS TRUE, but which, at any rate, THE LAW WILL NOT PERMIT TO BE CONTROVERTED. It may also be said that a presumption is a rule of law prescribed for the purpose of getting at a certain conclusion, though arbitrary, where the subject is intrinsically liable to doubt from the remoteness, discrepancy, or actual defect of proofs. Fictions are also to be distinguished from estoppels: an estoppel being the rule by which A PERSON IS PRECLUDED FROM ASSERTING A FACT by previous conduct inconsistent therewith on his own part or the part of those under whom he claims, OR BY AN ADJUDICATION UPON HIS RIGHTS WHICH HE CANNOT BE ALLOWED TO QUESTION. Best distinguishes legal fictions from presumptions juris et de lure, and divides them into three kinds, affirmative or positive fictions, negative fictions, and fictions by relation. (Black4)

— = —

So what then is the difference between the notion of the law as fiction and that of a fiction of law and the word deceit?

That’s just it... there is no difference! A fiction of law is a creation of an already fictional law. It is only that these acts of fiction and fictions of law are somehow legal while open deceit is not. Words that deceive...

Is citizenship a fiction of law or a deceit?

That question, my friends, can only be answered by you. For you either call it fraud in deceit, or you confirm and ratify the deceit as an accepted and agreed upon fiction of law. Under God’s Law, it is deceit. Under the fictional legal gods and their created legal (opposed to God) laws, it is merely a part of the legally licensed and permitted fiction of the law of persons.

DECEIT - A fraudulent and CHEATING MISREPRESENTATION, ARTIFICE, or device, used by one or more persons to deceive and trick another, who is ignorant of the true facts, to the prejudice and damage of the party imposed upon. A fraudulent misrepresentation or contrivance, by which one man deceives another, who has no means of detecting the fraud, to the injury and damage of the latter. A SUBTLE TRICK OR DEVICE, whereunto may be referred all manner of CRAFT and collusion used to deceive and defraud another by any means whatsoever, which hath no other or more proper name than deceit to distinguish the offense. A "deceit" is either: (1) The suggestion, AS A FACT, OF THAT WHICH IS NOT TRUE, by one who does not believe it to be true; (2) the assertion, AS A FACT, of that which is not true, by one who has no reasonable ground for believing it to be true; (3) THE SUPPRESSION OF A FACT, by one who is bound to disclose it, or who gives information of other facts which are likely to mislead for want of communication of that fact: or (4) a promise, made without any intention of performing it. To constitute "deceit," the statement must be untrue, made with knowledge of its falsity or with reckless and conscious ignorance thereof, especially if parties are not on equal terms, made with intent that plaintiff act thereon or in a manner apparently fitted to induce him to act thereon, and plaintiff must act in reliance on the statement in the manner contemplated, or manifestly probable, to his injury. The essential elements of "deceit" are REPRESENTATION, falsity, scienter, DECEPTION, and injury. (Black4)

— = —

A celebrated, accepted, worshiped, and confirmed deceit is still only a deceit. A big lie. A satanic (adversarial to God's Nature) truth. Yet this is how we live our lives, in the accepted deceit of person-hood in a citizen-ship.

It is difficult to think that a lie such as man's legal law may possess an opinion or presumption of its own. As with any artificial intelligence, that living lie may only contemplate that for which it is pre-programmed. And so we must realize that the whole of the law is based on presumption and on consent, and therefore is a voluntary state by man of permanent acceptance of this legal status of personhood. To say that the law presumes these things is no more ridiculous than to say that Bugs Bunny loves to eat carrots or that Santa Claus keeps a naughty and nice list. It is belief (love) in the lie, not the fact that it is a lie, that creates the existence and subsistence of the lie as law.

We literally grow up believing in and therefore living in the big lie.

— = —

“Presumption” or “presumed” means that the trier of fact MUST find the existence of the fact presumed UNLESS and UNTIL evidence is introduced which would support a finding of its NONEXISTENCE.”

—Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) 1-201 Definitions # (31)

— = —

If the entire legal “positive” law is fiction, in a state of existence based purely upon assumption and presumption, and the entire government is thus a fiction of law (deceit)... well, you do the math!

How do you defeat the darkness of a total lie?

Flood it with God's light of the total Reality of Nature and live only in the knowledge thereof!!! Rebut every presumption as nonexistent. Correct the statement of blood origin blasphemed by the birth record. And never live as a lie under man's law, in his person, or in his commercial sphere again.

But I digress...

A person is a legal fiction, a creation of law, which is also but a fiction (deceit) of man. And it is automatically presumed that man in agency is operating in commerce through this fictional person at all times in its existence. It is not something that is active or inactive, its time clock is 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, including holidays. Man therefore operates in a false persona that is assumed to be both his true intent and his true identity by the legally governing creator (generator, begetter) of that false fictional title. Consent and acceptance is always a presumption of citizenship. To claim to be a citizen of the United States for protection or mere show is the same as claiming to fall under the laws of the United States and to be legally (positively) immune from God's Laws of Nature. Man's relation to the person in surety is purely a presumption of law (of the legal creator).

Once man claims to be this permanent legal name as a commercial fiction of law and signs in its name, a creation of and under government, he has placed himself into a state of unavoidable estoppel regarding his natural liberty under God. The acceptance of citizenship is literally an estoppel upon God and Nature. In other words, acting in fiction negates man's religious freedom by holding a "bar" against the moral, spiritual Laws that govern God's Creation, for God sees nor respects no person, regards no fiction (lies), and of course despises mammon. The fiction of man's law is only temporary, and not of the Supreme Permanence of Jehovah. So reasonably, a man acting in fiction simply cannot invoke God to protect his person, for his opponent (government) is not of God, but is the calumniator; the Adversary of God and Nature. This is purely a logical, self-evident conclusion, requiring no religious beliefs at all, but instead only the simplest understanding of Nature and of contract law: that the principle of contract law is that the contract makes the law.

The devil is never fictionally portrayed as being able to control man's actions until he tricks man into signing a contract, re-making man into a debtor bound in hell in exchange for license to have success within the system of mammon.

The legal process of "naturalization" is another misunderstood legal deprivation of the real meaning of this word natural. Citizenship is not found in Nature, so there really is no such thing as a "natural" citizen or "natural" person accept in fiction. In fact, nothing could be more unnatural or unreal as that of a political status, especially one designed with the specific legal intent to defeat and re-source God's Natural Creation of Life. We must always remember that to have anything in a political form, including all supposed rights of citizenship, can only ever be an artificial state of being and opposed to Nature. Every aspect of political existence is a false deceit. A person can only ever have artificial, political rights. Nothing is God-given under a citizen-ship and in corporate person-hood. There are no exceptions.

The legal naturalization process is for one and only one purpose - to ethnically impose the will of a few men upon all other men so that their individual crimes are mutually accountable to all others, for which we politically call the "public." More to the point, naturalization is the act of blocking the scriptural will and testament as God's Law in order to impose man's will and legal law over God's Word (Son). Man is thus "naturalized" into the legal government as all other "natural" persons, places, and things are - in name (noun) only. And that's not a good thing!

Once man claims that his very nature is other than that of God's own creation, he assumes subjection to that lesser god and its false law by abandoning reality, becoming a fictional character in some other sovereignty than Jehovah. To be clear, naturalization is merely total alienation from God.

NATURALIZATION - The act of ADOPTING A FOREIGNER and CLOTHING him with the privileges of NATIVE CITIZENS. (Black4)

NATURALIZE - To confer CITIZENSHIP upon an alien; to make a foreigner the same, in respect to rights and privileges, AS IF HE WERE A NATIVE CITIZEN OR SUBJECT. (Black4)

NATURALIZED CITIZEN - One who, BEING AN ALIEN BY BIRTH, has received CITIZENSHIP UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OR NATION. (Black4)

NATURAL-BORN SUBJECT - In English law, one BORN WITHIN THE DOMINIONS, or rather WITHIN THE ALLEGIANCE, of the king of England. (Black4)

COLLECTIVE NATURALIZATION - This takes place where a government, by treaty or cession, ACQUIRES the whole or part of the territory of a foreign nation and TAKES TO ITSELF THE INHABITANTS THEREOF, clothing them with the rights of CITIZENSHIP either by the terms of the treaty or by subsequent legislation. (Black4)

NATURAL FOOL - A person born without understanding; a BORN fool or idiot. Sometimes called, in the old books, a "NATURAL." (Black4)

—=—

The author wishes to stress the importance of this word fool. The author also wishes to inform all public persons of any nation that we are all, including myself, acting like complete fools, playing the part of fools, and thus deserving of the epitaph. For an epitaph is only given for the dead. Whatever we pretend to know, whatever we profess to have accomplished by our positions, statuses, and flattering titles, our foolishness does not leave us in our artificial success. From the homeless man on the street to the evermore foolish millionaire who benefits from the homelessness and poverty of others without living in Pure Love and unblemished Charity, we are all playing the part of the fool in a game of fictional classes, and have been since our legal birth and confirmation into legal adult-hood (legalized adultery), that age where we consent to our own corrupted ways and take over the franchise of citizenship voluntarily. We must learn not to take this knowledge, which is not disputable, as merely an insult, but as a self-evident truth. We must first admit our own defeat at the same time as our own conceit, and then and only then may we attempt to defeat the title instead of continuing to embrace it. We must break free of this cyclic system of foolish behavior and become the men we were Born under God's Nature and self-evident Law to Be.

And so the author asks that the reader take extra time to read and fully understand the definition of fool below. For it is not only a legal name and title. It is not only an insult. It is all of our collective Reality, we who dwell only in the public, legal realm without God and under other men's civil laws.

FOOLBORN - adjective - Foolish from the BIRTH. (Webs1828)

FOOLERY - noun - 1. The PRACTICE of folly; HABITUAL folly; ATTENTION to trifles. 2. An ACT of folly or weakness. 3. OBJECT of folly. (Webs1828)

FOOL - noun - [Hebrew.] 1. One who is destitute of reason, or the common powers of understanding; an idiot. Some persons are born fools, and are called natural fools; others may become fools by some injury done to the brain. 2. In common language, a person who is somewhat deficient in intellect, BUT NOT AN IDIOT; or a person who acts absurdly; ONE WHO DOES NOT EXERCISE HIS REASON; ONE WHO PURSUES A COURSE CONTRARY TO THE DICTATES OF WISDOM. Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other. 3. In scripture, fool is often used for A WICKED OR DEPRAVED PERSON; ONE WHO ACTS CONTRARY TO SOUND WISDOM IN HIS MORAL DEPORTMENT; ONE WHO FOLLOWS HIS OWN INCLINATIONS, WHO PREFERS TRIFLING AND TEMPORARY PLEASURES TO THE SERVICE OF GOD AND ETERNAL HAPPINESS. THE FOOL HATH SAID IN HIS HEART, THERE IS NO GOD. Psalms 14:1. 4. A WEAK CHRISTIAN; a godly person who has much remaining sin and unbelief. O fools, and slow of heart to believe all the prophets have written. Luke 24:25. Also, one who is accounted or called a fool by ungodly men. 1 Corinthians 4:10. 5. A term of indignity and reproach. TO BE THOUGHT KNOWING, YOU MUST FIRST PUT THE FOOL UPON ALL MANKIND. 6. One who counterfeits folly; a buffoon; as a king's fool I scorn, although their drudge, to be their fool or jester. 1. To PLAY the fool to act the buffoon; to jest; TO MAKE SPORT. 2. TO ACT LIKE ONE VOID OF UNDERSTANDING. To put the fool on, TO IMPOSE ON; TO DELUDE. To make a fool of, TO FRUSTRATE; TO DEFEAT; TO DISAPPOINT. - verb intransitive - To trifle; to toy; TO SPEND TIME IN IDLENESS, SPORT OR MIRTH. Is this a time for fooling? - verb transitive - 1. TO TREAT WITH CONTEMPT; to disappoint; TO DEFEAT; to frustrate; TO DECEIVE; to impose on. WHEN I CONSIDER LIFE, 'TIS ALL A CHEAT; FOR FOOLED WITH HOPE, MEN FAVOR THE DECEIT. 2. To infatuate; to make foolish. 3. TO CHEAT; as, to fool one out of his money. 1. To fool away, to spend in trifles, idleness, folly, or without advantage; as, to fool away time. 2. TO SPEND FOR THINGS OF NO VALUE OR USE; to expend improvidently; as, to fool away money... (Webs1828)

JOKER - In political usage, a clause in legislation that is AMBIGUOUS OR APPARENTLY IMMATERIAL, INSERTED TO RENDER IT INOPERATIVE OR UNCERTAIN without arousing opposition at the time of passage. (Black4)

FOOLHARDY - adjective - [fool and hardy.] Daring WITHOUT JUDGMENT; madly rash and ADVENTUROUS; foolishly bold. (Webs1828)

FOOLISH - adjective - 1. VOID OF UNDERSTANDING or sound judgment; WEAK IN INTELLECT; APPLIED TO GENERAL CHARACTER. 2. Unwise; imprudent; ACTING WITHOUT JUDGMENT OR DISCRETION IN PARTICULAR THINGS. 3. Proceeding from folly, or MARKED with folly; silly; vain; trifling. But foolish questions avoid. 2 Timothy 2:23. 4. Ridiculous; despicable. A foolish figure he must make. 5. In scripture, WICKED; SINFUL; ACTING WITHOUT REGARD TO THE DIVINE LAW AND GLORY, OR TO ONE'S OWN ETERNAL HAPPINESS. O foolish Galatians. Galatians 3:1. 6. Proceeding from depravity; sinful; as foolish lusts. 1 Timothy 6:9. (Webs1828)

NATURAL LIFE - The period (term) of A PERSON'S EXISTENCE considered as continuing until terminated by physical DISSOLUTION OR DEATH OCCURRING IN THE COURSE OF NATURE; used in contradistinction to that juristic and ARTIFICIAL CONCEPTION OF LIFE AS AN AGGREGATE OF LEGAL RIGHTS or the POSSESSION OF A LEGAL PERSONALITY, which could be terminated by "CIVIL DEATH," that is, that EXTINCTION OF PERSONALITY which resulted from ENTERING A MONASTERY OR BEING ATTAINTED of treason or FELONY. (Black4)

NATIONALITY (repeated) - That quality or CHARACTER which arises from the fact of A PERSON'S BELONGING TO A NATION OR STATE. Nationality determines the POLITICAL STATUS of the individual, especially with reference to ALLEGIANCE; while DOMICILE DETERMINES HIS CIVIL STATUS. Nationality arises either BY BIRTH OR BY NATURALIZATION. According to Savigny, "nationality" is also used as opposed to "territoriality," for the purpose of distinguishing the case of A NATION HAVING NO NATIONAL TERRITORY; e. g., THE JEWS. (Black4)

— = —

Remember for future reference the fact that to fool anyone else in order to defraud them is to cheat them. For as we will find, this nation of fools is literally and in every way a land controlled (governed) by cheaters, organized pirates replete with an incredible propaganda system that actually causes those cheated to be patriotic about their enemies and quite content in their servitude to them.

But let's not get too far ahead of ourselves...

It is important to note what has been put forward here, so that anyone acting within the agency of United States citizen-ship (as that which may be summoned) may truly understand his or her plight. We must know that due to the fact that our political and civil status exist only within the United States district's jurisdiction, as our domicile and nationality is only in the United States, these civil rights assigned to us are purely of and under that commercial, national government and its contracted law. These rights are forced upon us in agency. Therefore we have no protections or claims to the laws and immunities of private State citizens, as those whose private rights are reserved from the public law and thus actually and negatively protected under the nature of constitutional law. We are simply not the People of the individual States, not the creators of the nation, not the father, and thus have no access to the protective nature of that constitution, for as domiciled United States citizen-ships we are foreigners in the State for which we temporarily, commercially re-side. Therefore, since our legal "State" is the United States, all actions we take in the person of the United States are foreign transactions in the individual (several/private/foreign) States (creators) of that union, and so the public, as legalized (Romanized) United States citizenships are always considered to be acting and performing in an interstate commerce situation and thus regulated as such under the law merchant, the international law of nations. Our legal existence, in other words, within each individual state jurisdiction, is purely a political (public) one by foreign agents for commercial purposes. We are not "We, the People" of that constitution. We are not its creators or their professed and fabled posterity (bloodline) inheritors. We are not its landholders. We are only commercial entities acting in agency with the United States as our principal and the state we reside in as a third party to that contractual agency relationship. We are slaves that appear to be masters. While this fact will be thoroughly explored throughout this work, we must remember that the best slave is the man (beast) that knows not that he is one.

Each of us have our own nativity scene at our own birth...

NATIONALIZACION - In Spanish and Mexican law, nationalization. "The nationalization of property is an act which denotes that IT HAS BECOME THAT OF THE NATION by some process of law, whereby PRIVATE individuals or corporations have been for specified reasons DEPRIVED THEREOF (OF PRIVATE STATUS AND PROPERTY)." (Black4)

NATIVUS - Latin. In old English law, a native; specifically, ONE BORN INTO A CONDITION OF SERVITUDE; a born serf or villein. (Black4)

NATIVA - A nief or female villein. So called because for the most part BOUND BY NATIVITY. (Black4)

NATIVITAS - Villenage; that state in which men were BORN SLAVES. (Black4)

NATIVI CONVENTIONARII - Villeins or bondmen by CONTRACT or AGREEMENT. (Black4)

NATIVI STIPITE - Villeins or bondmen by BIRTH or STOCK. (Black4)

NAIF - L. French. A villein; a born slave; a bondwoman. (Black4)

VILLAIN - An opprobrious epithet, IMPLYING GREAT MORAL DELINQUENCY, and equivalent to knave, rascal, or scoundrel. The word is libelous. (Black4)

VILLEIN - A person attached to a manor, who was substantially in the condition of a slave, who performed the base and servile work upon the manor for the lord, and was, in most respects, A SUBJECT OF PROPERTY BELONGING TO HIM. (Black4)

VILLENAGE - A servile kind of tenure belonging to lands or tenements, whereby the TENANT was bound to do all such services as the lord commanded, or were fit for a villein to do. (Black4)

VILLEIN IN GROSS - A villein who was annexed to the PERSON of the lord, and transferable by deed from one owner to another. (Black4)

VILLEIN REGARDANT - A villein annexed to the manor of land; A SERF. (Black4)

NATIVE - A natural-born subject or citizen; A DENIZEN BY BIRTH; ONE WHO OWES HIS DOMICILE OR CITIZENSHIP TO THE FACT OF HIS BIRTH within the country referred to. The term may also include one born abroad, if his parents were then citizens of the country, and not permanently residing in foreign parts. The word "natives," as used in Alien Enemy Act, refers to Person's place of birth, so that a PERSON remains a native of country of his birth, though he has moved away therefrom. One who was born in Germany and later became a citizen of France was a "native" of Germany. But a person born in Alsace which at the time of his birth was part of Germany but which was restored to French sovereignty by the treaty of Versailles of 1918, was a "native" of France. (Black4)

NATIVITY - noun - 1. BIRTH; the coming into life OR THE WORLD. The feast of Christmas is observed in memory of Christs nativity. 2. TIME, PLACE AND MANNER OF BIRTH; as, to calculate ones nativity. 3. STATE OR PLACE OF BEING PRODUCED. These, in their dark nativity the deep Shall yield us pregnant with infernal flame. (Webs1828)

— = —

Natural life? In legalese, this only means an idiotic fiction of law. A natural-born fool.

A "natural person" in its artificiality lives (as a fictional, civil life) only as long as the man bonded in surety to it actually lives in Reality under God's Nature and no longer, for the legal "natural person" is merely an apparent commercial fiction re-presenting the man as a legal form with no substance. No such "person" Exists in Nature. In fact, no person whatsoever Exists in Nature. Person is strictly a legal status, never a Creature and Reality under God in Nature. It's just a word; a term of art in the legal artifice. Technology. Again, that mirror image (personification) cannot exist without the man standing before the mirror, controlling the re-presentation. Whereas a corporation, as an "artificial person," may live as long as it is passed between said fictional, "natural persons" in legal control of that legal corporation (artificial person). But we shouldn't ever consider or respect this as Real Life, as the scriptures instruct, for the person cannot exist or function without man inhabiting it and with legal word-magic appearing as it in commerce and in commercial court, be it a natural or artificial person. Both are fictions of law. Utter deceptions. Living in a lie.

Did you know you are bound by nativity? Was this nativity story not also the story of Jesus even as he rose from its spiritual death? Perhaps the obvious clue that ones "nativity" is not Reality but mere legal status is the fact that it can be changed by war and conquest. For nativity is only a product of de facto military force and/or voluntary commerce, and nothing else. Natural, native, national... these terms of art are all in similitude. They are all a state of legal bondage, subjection, and servitude by birth.

The legal concept of "physical dissolution" (dis-solution) as the end of nativity is not a cession or death of any life in Reality (God's Creation of Nature), but is merely referential to an end of the bond of contractual relationship - the civil death of a person reborn into a purely spiritual Life without artifice. It is the abandonment of all technology (art). In other words, the life of a fictional, legal "natural person" ends when the man quits pretending to be another man's person. But the contract of personhood must also be placed into a state of legal death and thus dissolution when the actual life of the man ceases in physical substance. For a puppet cannot function without the puppet master - the master of the citizen-ship. The contract must be ended. To be perfectly clear, the man can dissolve the binding nature of that contract and surety (person) without actually dying himself. Civil death. It's just paper. And citizen-ship is just a presumption of obligation to a de facto law that needs to be rebutted, corrected, and thus destroyed before man can ever reclaim his place under God's Nature. His debt must be discharged, not paid, his contracted performance come to an end. We must quit acting the part of another player.

DISSOLVE - To terminate; abrogate; cancel; annul; disintegrate. To release or unloose the binding force of anything. As to "dissolve a corporation," to "dissolve an injunction." See Dissolution. (Black4)

DISSOLUTION -

IN CONTRACTS - The dissolution of a contract is the cancellation or abrogation of it by the parties themselves, with the effect of annulling the binding force of the agreement, and RESTORING EACH PARTY TO HIS ORIGINAL RIGHTS. In this sense it is frequently used in the phrase "dissolution of a partnership."

IN PRACTICE - The act of rendering a legal proceeding null, abrogating or revoking it; unloosing its constraining force; as when an injunction is dissolved by the court.

OF CORPORATIONS - The dissolution of a corporation is the termination of its EXISTENCE as a body politic. This may take place in several ways; as by act of the legislature, where that is constitutional; by surrender or forfeiture of its charter; by expiration of its charter by lapse of time; by proceedings for winding it up under the law; by loss of all its members or their reduction below the statutory limit. De Facto Dissolution, is that which takes place when (a) corporation, by reason of insolvency or for other reason, suspends all operations and goes into liquidation.

OF MARRIAGE - The act of terminating a marriage; divorce; BUT THE TERM DOES NOT INCLUDE ANNULMENT. (Black4)

—=—

A person's artificial "life" can only be considered in fictional, political terms. But this magical word-term natural references only the term (time) of artificial life that matches exactly that of the Real Life (time) of the man, whose real and legal "natural" birth and death matches that of the certified person's length of civil, political, artificial life, from certified fictional birth to certified fictional death.

Bottom line: despite this wonderfully devious word-magic and trickery, the word person should never be respected in any case as a Creation (Creature) of God and Nature, as anything Real, and instead always as a contradictory attack upon God and thus man's Nature. A person is always artificial. We must never fall prey to these legal terms of art nor respect its always false titles. We should never be on defense against Nature's Law and its True Judge (God) by our legal actions. We must always remember that all legal title and authority is attached only to the fictional person of the state in surety to the man, but never to the man himself. Man may only make claim to political and civil rights if he first attaches (bonds) himself to the name of a politically created persona (legal status) to which those legal rights apply.

—=—

"The force of nature is greatest; nature is doubly great."

— = —

“The nature of the contract of suretyship is strictissimi juris, and cannot endure nor be extended from thing to thing, from person to person, or from time to time.”

NATURA FIDE JUSSIONIS SIT STRICTISSIMI JURIS ET NON DURA T VEL EXTENDATUR DE RE AD REM, DE PERSONA AD PERSONAM, DE TEMPORE AD TEMPUS. Burge, Sur. 40. (Black4)

— = —

Understanding that the Laws of Nature are equitable in their application (individually considered upon each man), we must take serious note that the legal laws of suretyship in contractual personhood are opposed to equitableness (Natural Law). In a contractual relationship, the laws are held to be strict and generally without deviation or consideration to individual circumstances. Traffic laws are a good example of this. The legal law becomes supreme, even when the law is opposed to the Permanence and Supremacy of Nature and to the best interests of the man bound to it. Whereas equitableness is consideration of intent and of what is duty, a man in the bond of suretyship to a person legally lives by a strict set of legal rules and laws governing that and all other persons of the same status. Within this contract of suretyship, the law itself is not equitable, for it can never be in error. We may only pray to an administrator (judge) of that law for his false forgiveness. It is to be obeyed despite the moral beliefs of the man acting in surety, for the contract makes the law. And why the law was broken is in fact irrelevant. Intention is nullified through contract. The law is strictly attached to the fictional persona as a rule of use and operation of that person, much like a rental car contract. Thus the man is not considered, for the man is of Nature (verb), and has given up that True Equitableness of Natural Law and its protections so as to operate solely in commercial suretyship and within the strict laws binding that state of fictional being in mammon. He becomes only a lesser, legally natural (noun), which is the opposite of True Being in the Nature of Jehovah (the actual verb of Existence).

STRICTISSIMI JURIS - Latin. Of the strictest right or law. "Licenses being matter of special indulgence, the application of them was formerly strictissimi juris." (Black4)

STRICTUM JUS - Latin. Strict right or law; the rigor of the law AS DISTINGUISHED FROM EQUITY. (Black4)

STRICT - Exact; accurate; precise; UNDEVIATING; GOVERNED OR GOVERNING BY EXACT RULES. (Black4)

EQUITABLE - Just; conformable to the PRINCIPLES OF JUSTICE AND RIGHT. Just, fair, and right, in consideration of the facts and circumstances of the INDIVIDUAL case. EXISTING IN EQUITY; available or sustainable ONLY IN EQUITY, or only upon the rules and principles of equity. (Black4)

EQUITABLE - That which is in conformity to the NATURAL LAW. (Bouv1856)

— = —

To be clear, the strict nature of legal laws in a contractual relationship have the purpose of dismissing many of the principles (maxims) of any equitable law that would otherwise protect man from the fictional tyranny of commercial existence. The strictly defined terms of the contractual relationship voids any application of the protective nature of these scriptural principles of equity so that the contract supersedes any other law, and specifically those of God, referred to as otherwise “unalienable rights.” And this is the greatest danger of contracting in the surety-ship of personhood under the state. This is the danger of using the signature (surname) of another.

But what is danger and how exactly can government protect us from it? Not ironically, this is very much like the mafia model, where the victim needs the aggressors protection, and pays handsomely for it against his True will. It is inducement to sin, like paying the bully off to not hurt you in the public schoolyard. This word danger is one of those terms of the art of law that is totally opposed to that for which we vulgarly consider it, for danger is in fact a contracted dis-ease of citizenship. The words state and district literally means danger.

Etymologically, the noun danger stems from the mid-13th century, meaning the "POWER OF A LORD OR MASTER, JURISDICTION," from Anglo-French daunger and Old French dangier, meaning "POWER, POWER TO HARM, MASTERY, AUTHORITY, CONTROL," from the 12th century Modern French danger, an alteration of dongier, from the Vulgar Latin dominarium "power of a lord," from Latin dominus "LORD, master" (also see DOMAIN). The modern sense of "risk, peril" (from being in the control of someone or something else) evolved first in French and was used in English by the late 14th century, replacing the Old English pleoh; in early Middle English this sense is found in peril.

Simply being a subject of any nation puts us in a contracted state of accepted and consented to “danger” (jurisdiction, executive authority). Taxes and other exactions and extortions are paid to the master government for the temporary avoidance of that danger from the exchequer (Treasury Department and its internal revenue collection agency). This is the false safety offered to all citizenships in franchise as an exchange for taxation (protection money). And we all know what happens when we don’t pay our protection money in tax form every year! Hell, if you really think you own your publicly registered home that you pay property tax upon, then stop paying those extortions (property taxes) and see what happens. You’ll be homeless in no time at all! Remember, private men pay no public tax.

To be put into danger is the very description of the franchise created by this birth registration process. The citizenship is assigned as the commercial ad-venture begins; after that Natural water is broken by the maternal vessel. We are exposed to the dangers of intercourse, and so our ships must be insured in chancery and with ourselves being made sureties. With danger comes protection, and with protection subjection, for the danger only exists from that which protects against it, mafia style. Without a citizen-ship, there is no insurable danger. A free man under Natural Law assumes all liability and risks all chance alone, without the tyrannical hand of the state, and without insurance over future exposure to such risk and hazard. He is his own danger and his own security. By receiving no evil or mark (status) that requires insurance and protection, no evil may befall a man in that legal, commercial sense. For it is only the assigned commercial vessel (personhood/citizen-ship) that allows danger (jurisdiction of the land-lord’s authority) to civilly overcome him. Without such evil status and title in artifice, no artificial evils may effect man if he makes his election of God his only surety.

DANGER - noun - Peril; risk; hazard; exposure to injury, loss, pain or other evil. Our craft is in danger to be set at nought. Acts 19:27. It is easy to boast of despising death, when there is no danger. - verb transitive - TO PUT IN HAZARD; TO EXPOSE TO LOSS OR INJURY. (Webs1828)

EXTRAORDINARY DANGER - In the law of MASTER AND SERVANT, one not ordinarily incident to the SERVICE. (Black4)

— = —

Here we must stop to consider that it is in governments best interest to cause as much peril, risk, hazard, and exposures to as many evils as is possible while still pretending and appearing to remain legitimate (de jure) in the eyes of its victims (citizenships). The more hazard, the more opportunity for protection, the more insurance premiums and taxes for those protection money agencies to collect. Again, this is not rocket science, merely a course in Voluntary Servitude 101 with a minor in dog-Latin. Logic prevails only when spirituality is its Source. Most of us resign to the false dialectic (logic) of that commercial system of mammon simply because we have lost all spiritual foundations and considerations that may defeat the pure and prevailing but false legalistic logic that so entraps us into a spiritual death of civil life (false existence). It is that our spiritual cause has been sidetracked at birth, that we have been brought (injured) into this legal system of money (debt), that we cannot ever seem to fulfill our spiritual selves. We can never find heaven because we are subjected to hell by our own volition. A legal person obviously has no will of its own. Its will is bound by the strict law of its use. And so free will only abounds in private men following God's Law of Nature, or in those who claim sovereignty (godship) over others in God's empty name. In this the reader should have no doubt, for this is the very essence of the ancient wisdom of the scriptures, hidden in plain sight by those institutions of religion and law that exist only despite that spiritual, scriptural understanding, and which can only claim man as its subject through word magic and trickery via fictional personhood; a special membership to hell's agency. While a man of God is burdened only by his own choices and duties in and because of his free will, a fictional person is in actuality the burden of strict absence of such free will and choice in lieu of the strictly set legal law of persons; that legalistic, amoral law that controls all actions of artificial state creations in its agency.

VOLITION - noun - [Latin volitio, from volo, to will. See Will.] 1. The act of willing the act of determining CHOICE, or forming a purpose. There is a great difference between actual volition and approbation of judgment. Volition is the ACTUAL EXERCISE OF THE POWER WHICH THE MIND HAS of considering or forbearing to consider an idea. 2. The power of willing or determining. (Webs1828)

APPROBATION - noun - [Latin approbatio. See Proof and Prove.] 1. The act of approving; a liking; that state or DISPOSITION OF THE MIND, in which WE ASSENT TO THE PROPRIETY OF A THING, with some degree of pleasure or satisfaction; as, THE LAWS OF GOD REQUIRE OUR APPROBATION. 2. Attestation; support; that is, active approbation or action in favor of what is approved. 3. The commendation of a book licensed or permitted to be published by authority, as was formerly the case in England. (Webs1828)

—≡—

A man of God has volition by the grace of his only Master, while a citizenship has only approbation to what his master wills and judges by strict law and custom. Volition is the spirituality of God's gift of Nature, while mere approbation without God is legalism.

Citizenships are on probation, which is called legally as freedom and liberty, which is merely the legal right of slaves to act in franchise of commerce within strict borders, laws, and customs. This is legal approbation to mammon. All others go to jail or are conquered militarily, killed off, or made refugee. Those that wish to escape this system seem to forget that their accident of birth prevents them from escaping until that record and registration (tax) is corrected and overcome. This is only the result of public persons attempting to act in a private capacity while still claiming to be (appear as) public property in persona, still attempting to use the credit of the debtor system of mammon as if it is a God-given Right, and committing civil actions in that sin of artifice and personhood (legal status) while remaining clueless about how to obtain such a spiritual (private) life under God while utilizing the actual "negative" protections of God's Nature and Laws. The second we claim the surname as that which is attached to our christian name, the legal franchise of commercial citizenship is invoked, and God's Nature is rendered absentee at bar.

All legal systems are merely organized, legalized crime. They literally can be nothing else. They are always combinations of men created in order to elevate and benefit the few in magistracy at the expense of the many. This is not God's way, and it is certainly not on par with Christ's path. These are only systems of executive enforcement by land-lords (gods) over various forms of feudalism. It has always been this way, and today's multitude of nations are what remains of that very old, modified legal system. The names change as do the languages, but the concepts from that tree of knowledge of good and evil in artifice remain. And so the sovereign power will always offer its "protection" from "danger" to those willing to submit and conform to the approbation of the sovereign's will and law. We must accept sin as a way of life and lies as the confirmed truth. Through this system, artificial names and titles are bestowed.

Here again we see the caste system, that insurable chance of hazard called interstate commerce as just another artificial space on the monopoly board. Of course, all ships must be ensured on their ad-ventures on behalf of the state, for the ship (status) is state property as are the rights bestowed upon the status (person) in its commercial venture. One does not rent a car or other vessel without guaranteeing (insuring) its safe return, its voyage home to dock after ad-venture. So remember, to lay (lie) is defined as to wage a chance of hazard, where one's lot is staked. It's all about business, a life-like game of monopoly played by actors in agency. The game of artificial life in the A.I.

ALEATORY - Depending upon an EVENT the outcome of which is unknown; resting upon a contingency. Applied, mainly, to annuities and insurance contracts. It is of the essence of all aleatory contracts that there should be RISK on one side or on both sides. (WCA1889)

HAZARD - noun - [Latin casus, a fall, and ard, the common termination.] 1. CHANCE; accident; casualty; a fortuitous EVENT; that which falls or comes suddenly or unexpectedly, the cause of which is unknown, or whose operation is unforeseen or unexpected. I will stand the hazard of the die. 2. DANGER; peril; RISK. He encountered the enemy at the hazard of his reputation and life. Men are led on from one stage of life to another, in a condition of the utmost hazard. 3. A GAME AT DICE. To run the hazard to risk; to take the chance; to do or neglect to do something, when the consequences are not foreseen, and not within the powers of calculation. - verb transitive - To expose to chance; to put in danger of loss or injury; to venture; to risk; as, to hazard life to save a friend; to hazard an estate on the throw of a dice; to hazard salvation for temporal pleasure. Men hazard nothing by a course of evangelical obedience. 1. To venture to incur, or bring on; as, to hazard the loss or reputation. - verb intransitive - TO TRY THE CHANCE; TO ADVENTURE; TO RUN THE RISK OR DANGER. Pause a day or two, before you hazard — (Webs1828)

ACCIDENCE - noun - [See Accident.] A small book containing the rudiments of GRAMMAR. (Webs1828)

ACCEDE - verb intransitive - [Latin accedo, of ad and cedo, to yield or give place, or rather to move.] 1. To agree or assent, as to a proposition, or TO TERMS PROPOSED BY ANOTHER. Hence in a negotiation. 2. TO BECOME A PARTY, BY AGREEING TO THE TERMS of a treaty or convention. (Webs1828)

ACCITE - verb transitive - [Latin ad and cito, to cite.] To call; to cite; TO SUMMON. [Not used.] (Webs1828)

ACCEDING - participle present tense - Agreeing; assenting; BECOMING A PARTY to a treaty by agreeing to the terms proposed. (Webs1828)

ACCIDENT - The word "accident" is derived from the Latin verb "accidere" signifying "fall upon, befall, happen, CHANCE." In an etymological sense anything that happens may be said to be an accident and in this sense, the word has been defined as befalling; a change; a happening; an incident; an occurrence or event.

In its most commonly accepted meaning, or in its ordinary or popular sense, the word may be defined as meaning a fortuitous circumstance, EVENT, or happening, an event happening without any human agency, or if happening wholly or partly through human agency, an event which under the circumstances is unusual and unexpected by the person to whom it happens; an unusual, fortuitous, unexpected, unforeseen or unlooked for event, happening or occurrence; an unusual or unexpected result attending the operation or performance of a usual or necessary act or event; chance or contingency; fortune; mishap; some sudden and unexpected event taking place without expectation, upon the instant, RATHER THAN SOMETHING WHICH CONTINUES, PROGRESSES OR DEVELOPS; something happening by chance; something unforeseen, unexpected, unusual, extraordinary or phenomenal, taking place NOT ACCORDING TO THE USUAL COURSE OF THINGS OR EVENTS, out of the range of ordinary calculations; THAT WHICH EXISTS OR OCCURS ABNORMALLY, or an uncommon occurrence; the word may be employed as denoting a calamity, casualty, catastrophe, disaster, an undesirable or unfortunate happening; any unexpected personal injury resulting from any unlooked for mishap or occurrence; any unpleasant or unfortunate occurrence, that causes injury, loss, suffering or death; some untoward occurrence aside from the usual course of events. WITHOUT KNOWN OR ASSIGNABLE CAUSE. In its proper use the term excludes negligence; that is, an accident is an event which occurs without the fault, carelessness, or want of proper circumspection of the person affected, or which could not have been avoided by the use of that kind and degree of care necessary to the exigency and in the circumstances in which he was placed. Essential requirement being that happening be one to which human fault does not contribute; happening of an event without any human agency. It has been said, moreover, that the word "accident" does not have a settled legal signification; and that in its ordinary meaning it does not negative the idea of negligence on the part of the person whose physical act caused the occurrence. Not merely inevitable causality or the act of providence, or what is technically called vis major, or irresistible force. See ACT OF GOD. (Black4)

— = —

While this may not seem relevant, we must understand that to the bloodline powers that be, heraldry or the right to bear family Arms is everything. And so for the bloodline there are no accidents of birth. Each issue is registered as part of a fabled genealogy that causes each descendent to be considered in law automatically as an heir to the inheritance of the family born into. While for the common citizenship that has lost all sense of what it means to bear their own Arms in heraldry, those who have been made into the goyim of the nations, all births are considered thereof to be as accidental. Unplanned and illegitimate. For the intent of the issue is not recorded or respected with regards to blood. The accident is always a corruption of blood, and thus not suitable for heirship.

Here again I would ask that the reader not shoot the messenger, for we are only seeking the Truth about this fiction. Sometimes that means we must view the world through the eyes of the evil bastards who recreated it as simulation in legal fiction and fabled genealogies, the parabolic his-story of the bloodlines. I will continue to state that the blood of christ is all that actually matters and that yes, this is all a fable told by those born into false magistracy and sovereignty in Order to retain their family holdings. Do not mistake the intent of this work as justification for any of this legalistic crap!

ACCIDENT - An unforeseeable and unexpected turn of events that causes loss in value, injury, and increased liabilities. The event is not deliberately caused and is not inevitable. Refer to INCIDENT. (Black2)

ACCIDENT - noun - [Latin accidens, falling, from ad and cado, to fall. See Case and Cadence. Class Gd.] 1. A coming or falling; an event that takes place without one's foresight or expectation; an event which proceeds from an unknown cause, or is an unusual effect of a known cause, and therefore not expected; chance; casualty; contingency. 2. That which takes place or begins to exist without an efficient intelligent cause and without design. All of them, in his opinion, owe their being, to fate, accident or the blind action of stupid matter. 3. In logic, a property, or quality of a being which is not essential to it, as whiteness in paper. Also ALL QUALITIES ARE CALLED ACCIDENTS, IN OPPOSITION TO SUBSTANCE, as sweetness, softness, and things not essential to a body, as clothes. 4. In grammar, SOMETHING BELONGING TO A WORD, BUT NOT ESSENTIAL TO IT, as gender, number, inflection. 5. IN HERALDRY, A POINT OR MARK, NOT ESSENTIAL TO A COAT OF ARMS. (Webs1828)

INCIDENT - adjective - Falling; casual; fortuitous; coming or happening occasionally, or not in the usual course of things, or not according to expectation or in connection with the main design. As the ordinary course of common affairs is disposed of by general laws, so man's rarer incident necessities and utilities should be with special equity considered. A proposition introduced by who, which, whose, whom, etc. is called an incident proposition; as, Julius, whose surname was Caesar, overcame Pompey. 1. Happening; apt to happen; as intemperate passions incident to human nature; diseases incident to a climate; misfortunes incident to the poor. 2. APPERTAINING TO OR FOLLOWING THE CHIEF OR PRINCIPAL. A court baron is incident to a manor. - noun - That which falls out; AN EVENT; casualty. 1. That which happens aside of the main design; an episode or subordinate action. No person, no incident in a play but must be of use to carry on the main design. (Webs1828)

INCIDENT - This word, used as a noun, denotes anything which inseparably belongs to, or is connected with, or inherent in, another thing, called the "PRINCIPAL." In this sense, a court-baron is incident to a manor. Also, less strictly, it denotes anything which is usually connected with another, or connected for some purposes, though not inseparably. Thus, THE RIGHT OF ALIENATION IS INCIDENT TO AN ESTATE IN FEE-SIMPLE, THOUGH SEPARABLE IN EQUITY. (Black2)

INCIDENT AND APPURTENANT - A term that describes the things that happen WHEN PROPERTY OR LAND IS TRANSFERRED. (Black2)

APPURTENANT - Belonging to; accessory or incident to; adjunct, appended, or annexed to; answering to accessorium in the civil law. A thing is deemed to be incidental or appurtenant to land when it is by right used with the land for its benefit, as in the case of a way, or water-course, or of a passage for light, air, or heat from or across the land of another. (Black2)

ACCESSORY - Property. Everything which is joined to another thing, as an ornament, or to render it more perfect, is an accessory, AND BELONGS TO THE PRINCIPAL THING. For example, the halter of a horse, the frame of a picture, the keys of a house, and the like; but a bequest of a house would not carry the furniture in it, as accessory to it. Accesiorium non ducit, sed sequitur principale. Vide Accession; Adjunction; Appendant; Appurtenances; Appurtenant; Incident. (Black2)

ACCESSORY CONTRACT - One made for ASSURING THE PERFORMANCE of a prior contract, either by the same parties, or by others; such as SURETYSHIP, MORTGAGES, AND PLEDGES. 2. It is a general rule, that payment of the debt due, or THE PERFORMANCE OF A THING REQUIRED TO BE PERFORMED BY THE FIRST OR PRINCIPAL CONTRACT, is a full DISCHARGE of such accessory obligation. 3. An accessory agreement to guaranty an original contract, which is void, has no binding effect. (Black2)

CASE - noun - 1. A covering, box or sheath; that which incloses or contains; as a case for knives; a case for books; a watch case; a printers case; a pillow case. 2. The outer part of a building. 3. A certain quantity; as a case of crown glass. 4. A building unfurnished. - verb transitive - 1. To cover with a case; TO SURROUND

WITH ANY MATERIAL THAT SHALL INCLOSE OR DEFEND. 2. To put in a case or box. 3. To strip off a case covering, or the skin. - noun - Literally, THAT WHICH FALLS, comes, or happens; AN EVENT. Hence, THE PARTICULAR STATE, CONDITION, OR CIRCUMSTANCES THAT BEFALL A PERSON, OR IN WHICH HE IS PLACED; as, make the case your own; this is the case with my friend; this is his present case. 2. The state of the body, with respect to health or disease; as a case of fever; he is in a consumptive case; his case is desperate. To be in good case is to be fat, and this phrase is customarily abridged, to be in case; applied to BEASTS, but not to men, except in a sense rather ludicrous. 3. A question; a state of facts involving a question for discussion or decision; as, THE LAWYER STATED THE CASE. 4. A CAUSE OR SUIT IN COURT; as, the case was tried at the last term. In this sense, case is nearly synonymous with CAUSE, whose primary sense is nearly the same. 5. In grammar, the inflection of nouns, or a change of termination, TO EXPRESS A DIFFERENCE OF RELATION IN THE WORD TO OTHERS, OR TO THE THING REPRESENTED. The variation of nouns and adjectives is called declension; both case and declension signifying, FALLING OR LEANING FROM THE FIRST STATE OF THE WORD. Thus, liber is a book; libri, of a book; libro, to a book. In other words, case denotes a variation in the termination of a noun, TO SHOW HOW THE NOUN ACTS UPON THE VERB WITH WHICH IT IS CONNECTED, OR IS ACTED UPON BY IT, OR BY AN AGENT. The cases, except the nominative, are called oblique cases. In case is a phrase denoting CONDITION or supposition; literally, IN THE EVENT OR CONTINGENCY; if it should so fall out or happen. Put the case, suppose the event, or a certain state of things. Action on the case in law, is an action in which the whole cause of complaint is set out in the writ. - verb intransitive - To put cases. (Webs1828)

CAUSE - noun - s as z. 1. A suit or action in court; any legal process which a party institutes to obtain his demand, or by which he seeks his right or his supposed right. This is a legal, scriptural and popular use of the word, coinciding nearly with case from cado, and action from ago, to urge or drive. The cause of both parties shall come before the judges. Exodus 22:5. 2. That which produces an effect; THAT WHICH IMPELS INTO EXISTENCE, OR BY ITS AGENCY OR OPERATION PRODUCES WHAT DID NOT BEFORE EXIST; that by virtue of which any thing is done; THAT FROM WHICH ANY THING PROCEEDS, AND WITHOUT WHICH IT WOULD NOT EXIST. Cause is a SUBSTANCE exerting its power into ACT, TO MAKE A THING BEGIN TO BE. 3. The reason or motive that urges, moves, or impels the mind to act or decide. For this cause have I raised up Pharaoh. Exodus 9:16. And David said, is there not a cause? 1 Samuel 17:29. 4. Sake; account. I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong. 2 Corinthians 6:1. [See Sake.] 5. THAT WHICH A PARTY OR NATION PURSUES; or rather pursuit, PROSECUTION OF AN OBJECT. We say, Bible Societies are engaged in a noble cause. [See the first definition.] Hence the word cause is used to denote that which a person or thing favors; that to which the efforts of an intelligent being are directed; as, to promote religion is to advance the cause of God. So we say, the cause of truth or of justice. In all its applications, cause retains something of its original meaning, struggle, impelling force, contest, effort to obtain or to effect something. 6. Without cause without good reason; without a reason or motive to justify the act. They hate me without cause. Psalms 35:19. Psalms 69:4. - verb transitive - 1. TO PRODUCE; TO BRING INTO EXISTENCE. They caused great joy to all the brethren. Acts 15:3. 2. TO EFFECT BY AGENCY, POWER OR INFLUENCE. I will cause it to rain on the earth forty days. Genesis 7:4. I will cause him to fall by the sword. 2 Kings 19:7. - verb intransitive - To assign insufficient cause. (Webs1828)

— = —

The initial fall of man is that which happens at the birth event (accident/chance), where abandonment (delivery) takes place and where cause is created. No case exists until cause is established. But more importantly, no legal cause exists unless a legal person (status) is created, for no legal case can exist without the existence of a party in law as its cause. A person can only be an accessory to the court system if he accedes to the principal of that system by accepting its legal status in persona. And this is the story of the Bible, the fall of man into this fictional state of being opposed to God and Nature.

—=—

“An accident of birth had made him a citizen of the United States—his father having owned a ranch which lay north instead of south of the Rio Grande.”

—Rex Ellingwood Beach, Heart of the Sunset, chapter 9, 1915

—=—

The notion of an accident of birth is referential only to the goyim, those citizenships born generally of the nation in adulterous bastardy. Only public persons have accidents of births. For only public persons have no design or reason for giving birth, as we have no inheritable things to pass on to our kin, for our blood is already corrupted by our own legal origin of birth and delivery. For the public slave, no purpose is served in procreation because no blood may be passed, no heir can be born, and so no Natural Design can be followed. No family tree need be filled in, for nothing will befall that new branch from the previous root. The bloodline is severed. This is to say that there is no purpose in law to claim paternity for the typical public person and subject in citizenship to the United States, for the child's only value is seen as purely commercial, as in its future human trafficking and labor potential. A child born without heirship is a worthless (without land) bastard to be exploited only for its human qualities in capitalism. Only private persons have cause to give birth in a non-accidental way, serving the design and purpose of the inheritable blood-right in landed estate.

And this is the importance of the naming and recording process by those vampiric heirs and tyrants of blood. They have established us, the common people in blood corruption, as their chattel herd to feed upon our figurative flesh, which in scriptural terms refers to our secular (worldly) yet unspiritual actions in the commerce of mammon and temporal, legal fiction. And all herds must have a shepherd, a protector, one who is superior in entitlement and to whom the herd mentality stands in subjection. This is the price of such protection for the fallen. For the protector of any herd forces the issue of such protection only with intent to exploit that herd, either for its strength, its hide, or its meat. There is no exception to this rule, not for the lovely farmer nor the church or state.

ACCIDENT OF BIRTH - Any and all particulars surrounding one's birth (physical characteristics, social background, and even nationality) that are considered A RESULT OF PARENTAGE and the specific circumstances of birth, and are therefore ENTIRELY OUT OF ONE'S CONTROL. My poverty when I was young was merely an accident of birth; through hard work and determination, I was able to overcome it and lead a successful life. (Farlex Dictionary of Idioms, 2015)

ACCIDENT OF BIRTH - A situation CAUSED BY WHO YOUR FAMILY IS rather than by anything you do. (Macmillan Dictionary online)

ACCIDENT OF BIRTH - 1. Noun. (Idiomatic) A fact, situation, or PERSONAL CHARACTERISTIC, which may be desirable or undesirable, RESULTING FROM THE CIRCUMSTANCES INTO WHICH A PERSON WAS BORN, and which is therefore entirely beyond his or her control. (English Wiktionary)

—=—

This notion of accident is, as all terms of art, dualistic in its meaning. We call in law and in the social sphere anything that happens in Nature, as that which happens outside of the control of man's designs such as lightning or earthquakes an “act of God.” This alone should be enough to foil any attempts by the reader that may claim that the governments of the world do not recognize the power of God’s Nature. But when the legal gods bestow a name, right, title, number, or any other mark of distinction upon a child, this too is considered as an accident of the gods (of birth). In other words, some event happened that was completely out of the control of the infant, not because it was an act of God in Nature, but because the event happened before the age of consent and in an artificial system over which the common man has no control. But let’s be very clear here... while the birth event was certainly out of the child’s control, the choice to continue living in false existence in and by the legal name, title, number, image, and mark of that accident of birth is entirely up to the man acting in such false persona (status). The age of consent as adulthood is a choice to continue acting in legalized adultery. This is to say that we cannot blame that accident of birth or use it as an excuse before God and Nature, for God respects no such artifices as persons and titles. No excuses. We may only excuse ourselves before the magistrate gods by our acceptance of that legal state name, number, and mark. We must use the characteristics of birth and agree to its legal terms of art and law in order for its accidental qualities to “protect” us in our commercial ad-ventures. We must, in other words, live in sin for our sins to be protected, though our sins can never be against the gods of the state. We can screw each other over as much as we like, as long as government gets its take (tax and fee), and as long as its anti-God legal laws are followed in commerce. Sin is based in commerce, regulated under the Department of Commerce.

An accident of birth should not be confused with the notion of an intended or unintended pregnancy. These terms merely denote the planning of the rhythmic timing of sexual intercourse according to the cycles of fertility, not the status of the child when birthed in Nature and then into fiction. Any ignorant fool can give birth to a bastard at any time they may wish, be they married or unmarried. The corporate contract of legal marriage between public persons matters not, for citizen-ships can never have legitimate offspring by their legal combination (conspiracy). It is the ignorance of parental status in paternity and blood relation that creates the accident of birth, as the de-livery of the child as property in persona to the state.

All of Nature, all of God’s Creation, is in a state of alienation comparative to government. The legal name changes the consideration and status of all things. Nature’s verb is nouned, if you will. Therefore government must conquer (purchase) all of God’s Creation by naming each part with legal names (nouns) and titles. While citizen-ship is worshiped as the apparent source of rights, those rights are merely political and legal in their assessment, artificial and commercial, having no moral consideration whatsoever and certainly not of any substance of the Natural Law. A man has no political rights unless he surrenders himself to the legal creator and governors (magistrates) of those rights as its legal subject. Be it Jehovah or magistrates pretending to be gods and standing as antichrists (vicars), man must surrender himself to one or the other, but never to both. God or mammon. The choice is clear...

— = —

“Protection draws with it subjection, and subjection protection.”

“The protection of an individual by government is on condition of his submission to the laws, and such submission on the other hand entitles the individual to the protection of the government.”

PROTECTIO TRAHIT SUBJECTIONEM, ET SUBJECTIO PROTECTIONEM. 7 Coke, 5a. Broom, Max. 78. (Black4)

— = —

The maxims (principals of law) are clear.

But what exactly is “protection” and how is it applied to citizen-ships?

One thing is for sure, protection from the State is not that which is invoked through the Lord's Prayer, and the negative protections secured by following God's Law are quite opposite to that of securing the protection of legal, commercial paper. This legal word protection, while sounding reasonable and logical enough, is just another reference to the financial tyranny of mammon. Protection is insurance - a guaranty of the use of the state surname in franchise. Protection is just another word for security. Danger. Peril. A surety of performance in debtor's hell...

Just as that bestowed protection of the state requires subjection (obligation) to the state and its legal laws, the protection of God requires subjection (duty) to God's Laws and Nature. There can be only One, and subjection to either is defection from the other. Protection of God under the equitableness of Natural Law is either limited or quelled by protection of the state, just as the public legal laws of the state are canceled out by the Natural Law of God.

PROTECTION - noun - The act of protecting; defense; shelter from evil; preservation from loss, injury or annoyance. We find protection under good laws and an upright administration. How little are men disposed to acknowledge divine protection! 1. That which protects or preserves from injury. Let them rise up and help you, and be your protection. Deuteronomy 32:38. (Webs1828)

PROTECTION - noun - 2. A WRITING that protects; a passport or other writing which secures from molestation. 3. EXEMPTION. Embassadors at foreign courts are entitled to protection from arrest. Members of parliament, representatives and senators, are entitled to protection from arrest during their attendance on the legislature, as are suitors and witnesses attending a court. Writ of protection (is) a writ by which the king of Great Britain exempts a PERSON from arrest. (Webs1828)

PROTECTION - ...In former times the name "protection" was also given to a certificate given to a sailor to show that he was exempt from impressment into the royal navy. In mercantile law. The name of a document generally given by notaries public to sailors and other persons going abroad, in which it is certified that the bearer therein named is a citizen of the United States. IN PUBLIC COMMERCIAL LAW. A system by which a government imposes customs duties upon commodities of foreign origin or manufacture when imported into the country... (Black4)

SECURITY - PROTECTION; assurance; indemnification. The term is usually applied to an obligation, PLEDGE, mortgage, deposit, LIEN, etc., GIVEN BY A DEBTOR IN ORDER TO MAKE SURE THE PAYMENT OR PERFORMANCE OF HIS DEBT, by furnishing the creditor with a resource to be used in case of failure IN THE PRINCIPAL OBLIGATION. The NAME is also sometimes given to ONE WHO BECOMES SURETY OR GUARANTOR FOR ANOTHER. (Black4)

SECURITIES - EVIDENCES OF DEBTS OR OF PROPERTY. Evidences of OBLIGATIONS TO PAY money or of rights to participate in earnings and distribution of corporate, trust, and other property. (Black4)

PERSONAL SECURITY - (1) A PERSON'S LEGAL and uninterrupted enjoyment of his LIFE, his limbs, his body, his health, and his reputation. (2) Evidences of debt WHICH BIND THE PERSON OF THE DEBTOR, not real property. (Black4)

PUBLIC SECURITIES - Bonds, notes, CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS, and other negotiable or transferable instruments evidencing the PUBLIC DEBT of a state or government. (Black4)

REAL SECURITIES - The security of MORTGAGES or other liens or incumbrances upon land. (Black4)

SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOR - A bond or recognizance which the magistrate EXACTS from a defendant brought before him on a charge of disorderly conduct or threatening violence, conditioned upon his being of good behavior, or keeping the peace, for a prescribed period, towards all people in general and the complainant in particular. (Black4)

— = —

One guess as to what the true nature of a public security actually is? The birth certificate is the original certificate of indebtedness, the initial creditor matrix evidencing a public debt, making that strawman person's future labor potential and personally acquired property as a human capital asset the collateral for the debts of the nation!

To be clear, protection under subjection means a financial security (stock) is placed upon the person (sur-named fictional citizen) as a bond and surety (in-sur-ance) so that the man who acts in the undertaking of interstate commerce (as a foreign agent) can be forced by his bonded indebtedness to comply with all legal laws applying to the "person of the debtor," and thus be exacted and extorted "in person" through taxation and other legal designs under the protections of that law of false things. The law protects slavery. A debt is any obligation, monetary or otherwise, yet all debts have a value in money (mammon). The laws applied to the person are thus forcibly vested in personhood and so must be followed by the man acting in persona (a dummy acting in the legal title of another) in strictissimi juris. The legal law of the fiction, therefore, controls the spiritual Nature of man. Reality is usurped by fakery.

Do you feel protected by having a mortgage lien upon your "personal" property?

Do you feel protected by being forced to pay for your own freedom through exaction of the court as a "security for good behavior" while trapped in its legal persona?

Do you feel protected because you are under personal security of the legal law, forced to follow it against your moral compunction of religious belief, knowing that the wellbeing of your life, liberty, property, and reputation are all evidences of debt that can be taken away any time with due process of legal law?

Do you now comprehend what citizenship really is?

Do you think that just maybe the majority of common men must be so clothed in the surety of personhood and violently enforced legal laws of conduct merely to protect the select few who profit and gain from human bondage through capitalism (control of live-stock by the head) - a security for the legalized criminal class of men who ensure their reign, danger, and wealth by insuring and wagering against the Law of Nature's equitable means? For what man with knowledge of these legal schemas and mysteries would submit to being ruled by such financial tricksters and artful wordsmiths as these?

SCHEMATIST - noun - A projector; one given to forming schemes. [Schemer is more generally used.] (Webs1828)

SCHEMER - noun - One that contrives; a projector; a contriver. (Webs1828)

PROJECTOR - noun - One who forms a scheme or design. 1. One who forms wild or impracticable schemes. (Webs1828)

CONTRIVER - noun - An inventor; one who plans or devises; A SCHEMER. - verb transitive - 1. To invent; to devise; to plan. Our poet has always some beautiful design, which he first ESTABLISHES, and then contrives the means which will naturally conduct him to his end. 2. To wear out. [This must be from the Latin Contero, contrivi, and if the French controuver, and Italian controvare, are the same word differently applied, the primary sense is, to invent by rubbing, that is, by ruminating; or to STRIKE OUT, as in FORGE. But the word is probably from trouver, TO FIND.] - verb intransitive - TO FORM OR DESIGN; to plan; to scheme. How shall we contrive to hide our shame? [This verb is really transitive, but followed by a verb, in the place of an object or name.] (Webs1828)

INVENTOR - noun - One who FINDS out something new; one who contrives and produces any thing NOT BEFORE EXISTING; a contriver. The inventors of many of the most useful arts are not known. (Webs1828)

SCHEMATISM - noun - [Gr. See Scheme.] 1. Combination of the aspects of heavenly bodies. 2. PARTICULAR FORM OR DISPOSITION OF A THING. [A word not much used.] (Webs1828)

SCHEME - noun [Latin schema; Gr. from a contracted word, probably from to have or hold.] 1. A plan; a COMBINATION of things connected and adjusted by design; A SYSTEM. We shall never be able to give ourselves a satisfactory account of the divine conduct without forming such a scheme of things as shall take in time and eternity. 2. A project; a contrivance; a plan of something to be done; A DESIGN. Thus we say, to FORM a scheme; to LAY (lie) a scheme; to CONTRIVE a scheme. The stoical scheme of supplying our wants by lopping off our desires, is like cutting off our feet when we want shoes. 3. A REPRESENTATION of the aspects of the celestial bodies; any lineal or mathematical diagram. - verb transitive - To plan; to contrive. - verb intransitive - To form a plan; to contrive. (Webs1828)

SCHEME - A design or plan formed to accomplish some purpose - A SYSTEM. In English law. A DOCUMENT containing provisions for REGULATING THE MANAGEMENT OR DISTRIBUTION OF PROPERTY, or for making AN ARRANGEMENT BETWEEN PERSONS HAVING CONFLICTING RIGHTS... (Black4)

INSURE - To make sure or secure, to guarantee, as, TO INSURE SAFETY TO ANY ONE. To engage to indemnify a PERSON against pecuniary loss from specified PERILS. To act as an insurer. (Black4)

CONSPIRE - verb intransitive - [Latin, to plot; to breathe. But the primary sense is to throw, to wind; hence spira, a fold, circle, wreath or band; and the sense of the verb is, TO BREATHE TOGETHER, or more probably, to wind or BAND TOGETHER.] 1. To agree, BY OATH, COVENANT or otherwise, TO COMMIT A CRIME; TO PLOT; TO HATCH TREASON. The servants of Ammon conspired against him, and slew the king in his own house. 2 Kings 21:23. They conspired against Joseph to slay him. Genesis 37:18. 2. In law, TO AGREE FALSELY AND MALICIOUSLY TO INDICT AN INNOCENT PERSON OF FELONY. 3. To agree; to concur to one end. The press, the pulpit, and the stage, conspire to censure and expose our age. All things conspire to make us prosperous. (Webs1828)

— = —

What could man possibly do to conspire against his fellow man than to create a legal scheme to maliciously indict all commoners in their innocence of infancy to a fictional life in legal bondage in felony against their very Nature by the corruption of their blood rights of inheritance? No greater conspiracy against God and Creation could be more evil and adversarial, for these conjurers destroy that Nature with their inventions and trick man into breathing life into their illusions.

BREATHE - verb transitive - ...8. TO EXPRESS; TO MANIFEST. (Webs1828)

CONSPIRACY - noun - [Latin. See Conspire.] 1. A COMBINATION OF MEN FOR AN EVIL PURPOSE; an agreement between two or more persons, to commit some crime in concert; particularly, a combination to commit treason, or excite sedition or insurrection against the government of a state; a plot; as a conspiracy against the life of a king; a conspiracy against the government. More than forty had made this conspiracy. Acts 23:13. 2. In law, an agreement between two or more persons, falsely and maliciously to indict, or procure to be indicted, AN INNOCENT PERSON OF FELONY. 3. A concurrence; a general tendency of two or more causes to one EVENT. (Webs1828)

CONSPIRATORS - Persons guilty of a conspiracy. THOSE WHO BIND THEMSELVES BY OATH, COVENANT, OR OTHER ALLIANCE that each of them shall aid the other FALSELY AND MALICIOUSLY TO INDICT PERSONS; or falsely to move and maintain pleas, etc. Besides these, there are conspirators in treasonable purposes; as for plotting against the government. (Black4)

INDICT - verb transitive - indi'te. [Latin indictus, from indico; in and dico, to speak.] In law, to accuse or CHARGE WITH A CRIME or misdemeanor, IN WRITING, by a grand jury under oath. It is the peculiar province of a grand jury to indict as it is of a house of representatives to impeach. It is followed by of; as indicted of treason or arson. (Webs1828)

— = —

Ever notice that the word piracy is in the word conspiracy, that the word nation is in the word combination, and that the word federation (federal) is in the word confederation? Think it's a coincidence that these words all mean basically the same thing?

The strawman is spoken into existence, a conspiratorial indictment of the innocent baby by the federal and state governments of the bloodline People who created its persona. This act of attainder as corruption of blood allows the bloodline to keep their stolen lands, for no legitimate blood heirs are being born in the public, legal realm to claim or reclaim them, but only fictional persona's that have no blood consideration to hold land. Their attorneys, like vultures, wait in probate for the remainder of the old and legitimate bloodline ancestors to die - those who have been tricked into modernly abandoning their children (heirs) into de-livery so as to allow their family land and property to be taken as prize and booty by the still legitimate heirs. For as the man falls, so too does the Arms of his family tree.

It could be said that the constitution for the United States was merely an instrument for insurance purposes; a plan between more than two men as conspirators (fathers) guaranteeing and militarily (executively) securing the privileges, protections, and immunities of those particular bloodline signers (a particular People) and their posterity of future blood heirs, whom conspired together to form a nation for and under themselves and their own posterity (bloodline and blood heirs), as nothing if not a commercial scheme and venture while acting in the combination (conspiracy) of oath to each other and their private persons (as a specifically defined "white person" status). And it could be said that the "founding fathers" in their free-masonic glory and in Order of a law society were certainly the conspirers, schemers, contrivers, planners, and inventors of that artifice, and that they breathed artificial, legal life into it so as to conspiratorially cause all other men to be their subjects, by falsely and maliciously indicting all other men as some fictional lower class than they. It could also be said and is certainly written within that compact that this scheme was designed as a plot to justify and protect bondage and slavery, which in its writing it makes clear, and that when re-formed by amendment after the civil war, was subsequently reconstructed (through amendments) to enslave instead all men equally in the debt and obligation of the performance of surety in citizenship. But this effort only applied to those who could not or would not through ignorance claim to be of that posterity and immunity through the offer and surety of protection (a financial security) in exchange for subjection to that design in conspiracy. Only the fool accepts danger as his way of life.

Or one might say, through this conspiracy of government and its 13th and 14th “reconstruction amendments,” that the fictional personas of all common men were breathed (constituted) into a purely legal existence, charged with the crime of national birth in the bond of nativity, and thus indicted with legal, original (ancestral) sin from that very artifice of inception called naturalization and citizen-ship at birth. Like cattle, all men were guaranteed to be monsters (hu-mans), naturals (fools), and thus considered without soul (animal) in return for their subjection as debt-slaves, even while the capitalists (those who use [employ] and profit [extort] from the heads [capita] and “four-footed” hands of men) live off the backs of all debtors, using their faith, their fealty, their property, and each one of us individually as a collective base of totalitarian collateral for the nation’s credit. For the nation pledges its property as collateral for its debts, and the common people (persons) and their future performance in labor are its property...

CAPITA - Heads, and, figuratively, ENTIRE BODIES, whether of PERSONS or ANIMALS. PERSONS INDIVIDUALLY CONSIDERED, without relation to others; (polls), AS DISTINGUISHED FROM STIRPES OR STOCKS OF DESCENT. The term in this sense, making part of the common phrases, in capita, per capita, is derived from the civil law. (Black4)

CAPABLE - Susceptible; competent; qualified; fitting; possessing legal power or capacity. ABLE, fit or adapted for. “Capable of contracting” as meaning LEGALLY CAPABLE, NOT MENTALLY CAPABLE. (Black4)

CAPACITY - A word having many meanings, DEPENDENT ON ITS RELATIONSHIP TO THE SUBJECT-MATTER. It may mean: ability: actual production of an oil well. An intelligent perception and UNDERSTANDING OF THE DISPOSITIONS MADE OF PROPERTY, etc... Qualification: size, space, or compass, strength, power or force. SOUND MIND. THE ATTRIBUTE OF PERSONS WHICH ENABLES THEM TO PERFORM CIVIL OR JURISTIC ACTS. “Capacity to sue” consists in RIGHT TO COME INTO COURT. “Public capacity” of municipal property is such capacity as all the people of the state are alike interested in. (Black4)

CAPAX DOLI - Latin. Capable of committing crime, or capable of criminal intent. The phrase describes THE CONDITION OF ONE WHO HAS SUFFICIENT INTELLIGENCE AND COMPREHENSION to be held criminally responsible for his deeds. (Black4)

CAPAX NEGOTII - Latin. Competent to transact affairs; HAVING BUSINESS CAPACITY. (Black4)

— — —

This state of being in capita, as being considered as having capacity for under-standing of law and thus accountable to it through our actions in personhood under that law, is not so difficult to comprehend. It is the foundation of capitalism, of legalism, which is merely the valuation of all men as persons (by legal status, class, and title), as well as that of all their property as being in public holdings. Human capital management. It is merely the difference between being considered by blood with rights of inheritance to hold and dispose of land, or by commercial personhood as a debt-slave and renter (user). And the most important aspect of this legal state of capacity is this: you need not actually know or comprehend the law, but only be capable of doing so. Capacity is ABILITY to know and comprehend, not the actual knowledge or comprehension in and of itself. It is enough that we act in the person of the state that the state considers us as legally capable to the law of persons we act within. Again, our actions express consent to this presumption of law. So one who acts in the person of the law is considered as civilly bound to the law, regardless of actual comprehension of that law of persons. It is only the capacity that is considered; the ability to comprehend, not the actual comprehension.

Under-standing is not the same word as comprehension. To stand under the law is to be bound by it, to be considered as having standing as surety in court. Comprehension is not required for under-standing, only participation in that which is a voluntary action of the participant, even without comprehending the totality of the laws that bind his confirmed and ratified status. Ignorance of the law that governs use, while one operates and appears as a user of another's property (person/status), is never a legitimate excuse by that agent (subject) to his principal (master).

To take a poll at voting time is only the action of the capitalists (private State land-holders), through their conspired and constituted schema of their established legal government of public affairs (commerce), as taking the opinion of their chattel holdings (citizenships) as to their group opinions and morale. A happy commoner in the bliss of ignorance is a happy prisoner. Legal persons are only considered as live-stock; as movable land under the "law of the land," as will be explained later in this work. In order to avoid the revolt of the common public, polls are taken so as to keep us on the brink of debt slavery without our knowledge, and so we can then be continuously manipulated through our own collated and official "public opinion" to view government with legitimacy and participate in it voluntarily.

U.S. Code, in Title 42, Section 1981, makes clear that all U.S. citizen-ships have the right and are assumed to stand in a capable capacity by declaring that all persons may (have capacity to) enter into contract and sue and be sued, where it states:

"All persons within the jurisdiction of the United States shall have the same right in every State and Territory to make and enforce contracts, to sue, be parties, give evidence, and to the full and equal BENEFIT of all laws and proceedings FOR THE SECURITY OF PERSONS AND PROPERTY... the term "make and enforce contracts" includes the making, PERFORMANCE, modification, AND TERMINATION of contracts, and the ENJOYMENT of all benefits, privileges, TERMS, AND CONDITIONS OF THE CONTRACTUAL RELATIONSHIP."

— = —

The law cannot give anything to men, only to its own created persons (statutes and titles) through which men choose to act as in franchise (false, legal free-dom within jurisdictional borders), just as rats have the franchise of their human master to move around freely, but only in the jurisdiction of their provided cage (in nativity).

Unfortunately, there is no stipulation upon how this "contractual relationship" is entered into, and in fact this very code requires tacit (unwritten) consent to the presumption of U.S. citizenship and therefore obligation to the entire U.S. Code in its wording to even apply to any person. In other words, the law applies only to the strawman franchise, and the benefits of contract assigned by this code to fictional "persons" requires the legal acceptance of the presumptive, tacit contract of public citizenship through surety of the man acting in that fiction of law. This is agency. And through this agency persons may further contract with third persons under protection of their principal.

One cannot at the same time rebut citizenship and also contract in the person of the legal state at the same time. Mammon requires personhood, while God despises such artifice. It is very important to comprehend this distinction, for man cannot be anchored in Nature at one moment and in artifice the next. Only one "life" may exist at one time, real or fictional when regarding the "opinion" of law. And the very right of appearing in court necessarily means that one is appearing in and thus consenting to that artifice of fiction, for a man may make no such appearances unless he abandons the Reality and Law of his True Nature.

Perhaps we can now take new meaning from that famous though obviously misunderstood quote by one of the founders of this corporate body politic of the United States, for these private men who claimed to be our legal “fathers” hold us in contempt for doing exactly what they avoid, and so always have and always will treat us with the contempt we deserve for falling prey to their own fictional designs.

—=—

“Those who would give up essential Liberty, to purchase a little temporary Safety, deserve neither Liberty nor Safety.”

—Benjamin Franklin, for the Pennsylvania Assembly in its Reply to the Governor (11 Nov. 1755), later used as a motto upon the title page of ‘An Historical Review of the Constitution and Government of Pennsylvania’ (1759), published by Benjamin Franklin, authored by Richard Jackson

—=—

“Sell not virtue to purchase wealth, nor Liberty to purchase power.”

—Earlier variant by Franklin in ‘Poor Richard’s Almanack’ (1738)

—=—

“But our great security lies, I think, in our growing strength, both in numbers and wealth; ...unless, by a neglect of military discipline, we should lose all martial spirit... for there is much truth in the Italian saying, Make yourselves sheep, and the wolves will eat you.”

—Benjamin Franklin, from a letter to Thomas Cushing (1773)

—=—

As it turns out, these corporate “fathers” as legal gods of their own legal constitution are given plagiaristic credit for things that in actuality come straight from the Bible and describe those “fathers” and their false magistracy perfectly:

—=—

“Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep’s clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.”

— Matthew 7: 15, KJB

—=—

Just another example of why, as the scriptures warn us, we should not put our faith in men, especially those who plagiarize the scriptures to justify their own creation of a legally constituted slave-state that benefits only themselves and their posterity. Yet others in history have certainly chimed in to this notion of the dangers of the illusion of peace and security:

— = —

“Now, it is true that the nature of society is to create, among its citizens, an illusion of safety; but it is also absolutely true that THE SAFETY IS ALWAYS NECESSARILY AN ILLUSION. Artists are here to disturb the peace.”

—James Baldwin, ‘An interview with James Baldwin’ (1961)

— = —

“As distrust, in some sense, is the mother of safety, so SECURITY IS THE GATE OF DANGER. A man had need to fear this most of all, that he fears not at all.”

—Thomas Brooks, citation in Josiah Hotchkiss Gilbert’s, ‘Dictionary of Burning Words of Brilliant Writers,’ p. 532 (1895).

— = —

Security is indeed an illusion. It does not exist but in the mind of a fool, for only a fool can be made to believe that the fiction of money represents security. Security can only be had under accepted danger. Even the slaves of those founding fathers had some sense of security from those dangerous masters. Security is the hook, line, and sinker that leads man to that debtor’s hell in mammon, for without the devil-master’s fiction, no security Exists but that which a man makes for himself and others through his actions. Truly, the only way to sell safety to the sheep, as Franklin surely alludes above, is to sell the illusion of protection in exchange for that contract of subjection. The protector is always the tyrant, and suffrage of that tyranny is always the price for its illusion of security. When man relinquishes his natural liberties in exchange for political liberties in limited franchise (legal free-dom), the necessary consequence is to lose the Natural liberties so that the security of the false political (artificial) ones may overcome the Natural (God-given) ones. Man is purchased (conquered) by the offer of protection through the insurance of subjection to mammon.

— = —

“There is no crueller tyranny than that which is exercised under cover of law, and with the colors of justice...”

—U.S. v. Jannotti, 673 F.2d 578, 614 (3d Cir. 1982)

— = —

“There may be damage or injury inflicted without any act of injustice.”

—DAMNUM SINE INJURIA ESSE POTEST. Lofft, 112. (Black4)

— = —

As for Franklin’s notion of man’s neglect of “military discipline,” he was not referring to that standing army as we have under the United States today, and for which was the main complaint against that central government and king of England in the American Declaration of Independence as it stood in the colonies. For the modern United States federal army exists as nothing but a standing army, and thus serves only to protect the United States as a municipal corporation from us domestics and from foreigners, and to expand its monied interests through violent coercion and force and a license to kill in the name of property claims and commercial flow. Franklin was referring to the individual, private citizen as militia-men, who would defend himself and his blood from all foreign entities, including his own federal government. In other words, these were the men who fought for their own land and bloodline and the power to keep it their own, as compared to the mercenary army of common subjects that have nothing of their own today, fighting merely for their next paycheck with no moral law or compunction towards their own actions. It is hard to remember sometimes that each State is foreign (several) to the other, and that the United States municipal corporation is indeed foreign to all States (Peoples). And so the purpose of bearing Arms both as heraldry and as weapons to defend that blood right has been lost in comprehension today, for its purpose was to defend against the tyranny of centralized government, both foreign and domestic. At the time, that central government was of the king. A man that cannot defend himself is a man enslaved, for protection requires the subjection of slavery. This mafia model is alive and well in government and always has been.

Here the scriptures also chime in as the origin of this false insurance scam to warn us about the artifice of legalized “peace and safety,” which simply cannot Exist in Nature.

—=—

“For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape... Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness. Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.”

1 Thessalonians 5: 3 & 5-6, KJB

—=—

“And in the latter time of their kingdom, WHEN THE TRANSGRESSORS ARE COME TO THE FULL, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. And his power shall be mighty, BUT NOT BY HIS OWN POWER: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty and the holy people. And through his POLICY also he shall cause CRAFT to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, AND BY PEACE SHALL DESTROY MANY: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand.”

—Daniel 8: 23-25, KJB

—=—

An incorporated church under the laws and protection (security) of the state exists only in this legal box, out of God’s sight and out of God’s mind (mentis). A corporation, even a church, is in fact and in law an artificial person. According to the scriptures, towards this commercial enterprise of personhood, God has no respect therefore of the corporatized church, for there is no respect by God of any person whatsoever. For a person is always only a fiction, a status under legal law, a purposeful deceit, a falsehood made to appear truthful. And so while a citizen of government claiming to be a member of a religion incorporated as an artificial person in law and mammon may believe he is acting as a follower of the scriptural christ, it must be said that his efforts are in vain, for he takes God’s name in vain. God recognizes only the body, mind, and spirit of each individual man as the church and temple, not a building or corporation supported by money (mammon). A person can only use God's name in vain by attaching it to a commercial surname. A person cannot Truly worship God. A person has no mind, body, or soul. A person is a fictional creation and personification of mammon (valuation). A person serves no other purpose than to attempt to hide man's actions from God under a veil of fictional, corporate protection. A person exists for issuing false securities over false things. But this is a hopeless endeavor, for such a legal veil is invisible to God, and fiction is invisible to Nature. Fiction can only ever harm and be opposed to Nature, to Jehovah.

In the end, man is responsible for all of his own actions; a soldier for his own killing, a thief for his own theft, a politician for his own corruption in bureaucracy, and a priest for selling his own soul to fiction (satan/the adversary to God's Law of Creation) and inducing others to do the same by respecting the artificial person of government and false doctrines of a corporate machine. All these are merely men pretending to be something they are not, respecting the flattering title bestowed upon them by the state and clothing themselves in purely ceremonial things. And like actors on stage, they cling to a false hope that they will be judged by their performance in that artful character bestowed by men instead of as the legal liars they are, both to themselves and to God.

Nature does not forgive artifice because Nature knows no artifice. What is not known by its self-evidence cannot be forgiven, and certainly should not be respected. So can a person of government ask for God's forgiveness, or would that be a pointless prayer? In Reality, there is nothing to forgive, for the person does not actually Exist in God's Realm of Nature. Man can only be forgiven of his person if he starts acting like a man of God again, following God's Word (Law) without fictional stumbling blocks. Man cannot forgive his own sin against Nature (Jehovah), for his ability to do so is ordained only by the fictional persons (corporations) of church and state, which God's Nature does not recognize as anything but evil. Forgiveness then must be acted out in a display of respect for God's Designs of Law and Nature, not whimpered through the public prayers of fictional persons. Only through his True and Loving actions may man find his Heavenly Place in God's Creation.

The conferring of citizenship is literally, as defined above, an alienation upon man. It is an invasion and takeover of the so-called "unalienable rights" of man under God in negative duty, and also an act of foregoing the duty man has to the protection of Nature (Creation) and to each other. In other words, man is literally selling his soul when he accepts and respects political rights by accepting and acting within the artifice of personhood from any nation (corporation) of Caesar (seizure) and thus following that false law of nations his false persona is taxed (registered) under. Of course, the birth certification process in infancy has streamlined this process so that man scarcely realizes his soul is lost to fiction by the time he reaches and succumbs to adulthood (legalized adultery).

To legally naturalize a man is to make a fool out of that man - to make him a "natural" (idiot) - for nothing of God's Nature ever exists in mammon. The nation cannot see the man (alien) until he is legally established through alienation (incorporation) when the man foolishly accepts and subsists in the government's alienation of his True Nature. Man can only be seen by government (fictional eyes) through his legalization; by the granting of legal "naturalized" personhood, which is in totality an offensive attack upon all of God's Creation. Man, in accepting citizenship, becomes both legally secure and naturally defenseless at the same time, for he has forsaken and turned his back on God's Law in lieu of a legal (anti-God) status - a legal protection from the binding Laws of Nature with legal permission (license) and sometimes a requirement to break Them. The State can only dominate a creation of God by tricking the man (creature) into living within a totally legal existence, under a matrix code of legal law that is opposed to that of the Natural Law. Government makes man into an employable commercial instrument as a legal person that is unrecognizable (not respected) by God.

This attack within and by the respected jurisdiction of the United States is easily comprehended when we consider the legal concept of the separation of church and state, which in man is the separation of the Natural Law from his own individual conscious actions while acting in a legal (hu-man) form. The state sanctioned person becomes the offender and the defender - the protectorate - the sin-eater causing man to obey government's legal law over that of God's. The state replaces religious, moral belief and action with contractual, legal obligation, protecting man against the requirement of God's Law to 'do no harm' by disallowing moral conduct by and between men in personhood. The state is the stealer of self-evidence.

A man as surety in personhood is always in a state of unnatural offense against God's Nature, which is in Reality only his own Nature and place within It, and thus is always on defense (in a state of false being) against all of Nature by his own consent to the legal law of the State. For the artificial state can only ever offend the true Nature of man (as God's Creation).

FEND - verb transitive - [The root of defend and offend. The primary sense is to fall on, or to strike, to repel.] To keep off; TO PREVENT FROM ENTERING; to ward off; TO SHUT OUT. With fern beneath to fend the bitter cold. It is usually followed by off; as, to fend off blows. To fend off a boat or VESSEL, is to prevent its running against another, or against a wharf, etc., with too much violence. - verb intransitive - To act in opposition; TO RESIST; to parry; to shift off. (Webs1828)

DEFEND - verb transitive - 1. To drive from; to thrust back; hence, TO DENY; TO REPEL A DEMAND, CHARGE, OR ACCUSATION; TO OPPOSE; to resist; the effect of which is TO MAINTAIN ONES OWN CLAIMS. 2. To forbid; to prohibit; that is, to drive from, or back. MILTON CALLS THE FORBIDDEN FRUIT, THE DEFENDED FRUIT. The use of wine in some places is defended by customs or laws. 3. To drive back a foe or DANGER; to repel from any thing that which assails or annoys; to protect by opposition or resistance; to support or maintain; TO PREVENT from being INJURED, or DESTROYED. There arose, to defend Israel, Tola the son of Puah. Judges 10:1. 4. To vindicate; to assert; to uphold; to maintain uninjured, by force or by argument; as, to defend our cause; TO DEFEND RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES; TO DEFEND REPUTATION. 5. TO SECURE AGAINST ATTACKS OR EVIL; to fortify against danger or violence; to set obstacles to the approach of any thing that can annoy. A garden may be defended by a wall, a hill or a river. - verb intransitive - To make opposition; as, the party comes into court, defends and says. (Webs1828)

— = —

It is at times difficult to alter our way of considering things we have considered our whole lives, but here we may again see that to be in defense or support of anything fictional is an act against Nature, an act against our very Self. That which is self-evident of course needs not be proven, needing no excuse or justification for its Existence as part of God's Creation of Nature. Yet fiction must always be defended in its false existence, its subsistence wholly dependent upon its acceptance in and by the Real. We seldom defend that which we should, from the wetlands to our very own children, against these forces of fictional alienation. And yet at the same time we will defend our so-called "country" to our deaths. When fiction is more valuable than Life itself and when defending that fiction is a matter justifiable in the taking of Real Life or destruction of Nature, then we are a society corrupted beyond reason and perhaps even beyond spiritual healing. Perhaps this is the cycle of all nations, Rome being the immortal corporate model of that circus of moral degradation and death that corrupts all places through its agents of destruction, as those who destroy through security and peace.

It is that illusion of legal security by monetary means that causes men to be offended, to cease being in a permanent state of defense against evil, and instead to accept artifice in place of action. No animal or thing in Nature, in its Natural state of Existence, has any such guarantees or insurance policies. There is no citizenship under God's Law. There is only defense against all forms of evil and from the predatory tyrants and vampires that seek to force all men into a securitized state of legal being. A mother in her Natural essence will protect its young to the death, while inversely a mother in man's legal society will allow state agencies to steal her children without a fight under the doctrine of "due process of law," as the "law of the land" opposed to the Law of God. This is a wholly unnatural state of Being. And it all stems from words on paper, delivered by legally titled agents of the principality of all legal things. Only through word-magic can such atrocities be standardized as a normalcy of subjection to the protectors. It is they who suffer us to be in offense to ourselves, to our family and friends, to our very own Nature, and to God at all times.

To defend the artifice is simply to offend God.

OFFEND - verb transitive - [Latin offendo; of and fendo, obsolete to strike, hit, meet, or thrust against. We use the simple verb in fend, to fend off, to fence.] 1. To attack; to assail. [Not used.] 2. To displease; to make angry; to affront. It expresses rather less than make angry, and without any modifying word, it is nearly synonymous with displease. We are offended by rudeness, incivility and harsh language. Children offend their parents by disobedience, and PARENTS OFFEND THEIR CHILDREN BY UNREASONABLE AUSTERITY OR RESTRAINT. The emperor was grievously offended with them who had kept such negligent watch. A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city. Proverbs 18:19. 3. To shock; to wound; as, TO OFFEND THE CONSCIENCE. 4. To pain; to annoy; TO INJURE; as, a strong light offends weak eyes. 5. TO TRANSGRESS; TO VIOLATE; as, TO OFFEND THE LAWS. But we generally use the intransitive verb in this sense, with against; TO OFFEND AGAINST THE LAW. 6. To disturb, annoy, or CAUSE TO FALL OR STUMBLE. Great peace have they that love thy law, and nothing shall offend them. Psalms 119:165. 7. TO DRAW TO EVIL, OR HINDER IN OBEDIENCE; TO CAUSE TO SIN OR NEGLECT DUTY. If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out - if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off. Matthew 5:29. - verb intransitive - 1. To transgress the moral or divine law; to sin; to commit a crime. Whoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, is guilty of all. James 2:10... 3. To be scandalized; TO BE STUMBLING. If meat make my brother to offend. 1 Corinthians 8:13. 1. To offend against, to act injuriously or unjustly. Nor yet against Caesar have I offended any thing at all. Acts 25:11. 2. To transgress; to violate; as, TO OFFEND AGAINST THE LAWS OF SOCIETY, THE LAWS OF GOD, OR THE RULES OF CIVILITY OR PROPRIETY. We have offended against the Lord already. 2 Chronicles 28:13. (Webs1828)

OFFENSE - noun - offens'. [Latin offensus, offensa.] 1. Displeasure; anger, or moderate anger. He gave them just cause of offense. He took offense. 2. Scandal; CAUSE OF STUMBLING. Christ is called a stone of stumbling and rock of offense to both the houses of Israel. Psalms 8:1. 3. Any transgression of law, divine or human; a crime; SIN; act of wickedness or OMISSION OF DUTY. Christ was DELIVERED for our offenses, and raised again for our justification. Romans 4:1. 4. An injury. I have given my opinion against the authority of two great men, but I hope without offense to their memories. 5. Attack; assault; as a weapon of offense. 6. IMPEDIMENT. Matthew 16:1. (Webs1828)

— — —

How can man expect a government to defend him when that government's first act was one of offense against him, the act of causing man to stumble headlong and be birthed into hell as a debt slave?

If one offends against the laws of God and Nature, then one defends Its contrary law - that forbidden (defended) fruit from the tree of the legal concepts and the fictions of men. Thus one may easily offend the civil law by acting under the laws of God and Nature in good moral and religious conscious, which is most often illegal under the legal state. A man acting under the scriptural teachings of christ is certainly and necessarily opposed and thus necessarily offensive in every way to the civil law, for the law itself only applies to fictional persons of a municipal corporation, not to Creations of God. God respects no person.

Let's consider for a moment government as the purely offensive entity it is to the common man and to all of the Nature of Creation...

Legal government again stands literally and in foundation as an offense to God, to the Natural Law of equity, and to man in his Natural essence. In other words, legal law is a closed-loop circuit operating totally outside of and in opposition to all of the Designs of Nature. Government cannot be placed into a defensive position in its own courts according to its own legal laws over persons any more than a king can be made to subject himself to the law he creates for his own subjects; except in a commercial or monetary consideration where the government pays a fine to itself to appease those foolish subjects; i.e. for propaganda and publicity purposes. If government is considered as sovereign, then government has no moral (higher) Law or God to appease. Government has, in other words, an unlimited capacity to pay financially for any crime that it commits, for it is the creator of its own money (credit and debt) that would be used to pay for its own sin. In this sense no crime can truly be charged as every crime can be discharged, which simply places that debt upon the public heads as public debt. The public cannot in Reality ever win a case against the sovereign state, for the public ultimately gets charged and eventually pays for its government's crimes through money creation (capitalism) as the appropriation of taxation as a never-ending public debt. It satiates its greed with the payment for its purely offensive crimes, the closest thing to a religious and moral conscious it has, and reminiscent of the paying for sins to the church by its permanent sinners in tithing. What one citizen may be remedied in court by government, or vulgarly won as a prize of the commercial sea through administration of false justice in mammon, can only be at the expense of all others, for money represents only the time and labor of all others. No matter how we look at it, all money is blood money.

The state cannot be put on defense for murder, for the state has no hands to murder with. Its agents hide behind its strictness of law and protection of persons in flattering titles as they commit their legal crimes of inequity against man and all of Nature through licensure. Yet any man who acts offensively against government or its agents in his own defense will be legally murdered or kidnapped and placed in captive incarceration for treason. For he is in surety. Government, in consideration of the Natural Law under God, is always offensive and totally lawless as a "sovereign" entity, legally extending that lawlessness to any of its agents (titled persons as employees) within its agencies as it sees fit. For they are all acting merely as fictions under color of law. It plays God. It grants legal license and permission to commit any crime against Nature that man's i-magi-nation can contemplate, while restricting the same ordained privileges from all others without its granted permission and license.

These spelling words of the magisterial gods rule over any creature that cannot decipher the coded legal matrix of these evil men. We are all victims of causality, controlled by the sheer overwhelming force of man's language code through mis-under-standing. The animal kingdom never stood a chance, merely because animals have no capacity to comprehend or understand language on any cognitive level. They cannot cohesively voice their opinion no matter how much they may scream or weep in agony, and silence (ignorance) is always taken as consent. Words have defeated them, for they have no weapon against words except their vulgar (Natural) animal defenses. They can neither defend or offend in any legal capacity. They are governed utterly.

And so where does that leave man?

Man is the final frontier. Man is the anointed protector and steward of Nature, defender of the defenseless, and champion of the nameless. But what happens when man himself is so corrupted so as to be legally considered instead as some thing outside of Nature, not as a Creature of God, but as merely another low-life four-footed animal as a "natural fool" that is just as non compos mentis as any other animal of God's Creation. What if man is so controlled by words that he does not comprehend that he becomes helpless to defend even his Self from the spells (terms of art) casted by such offender's to God's Nature?

As we will discuss, it is in fact the goal of the legal realm to alter man's appearance into animal form; to strip man of his Natural reason and therefore trans-form man into his alter ego, the HU-man. If we act like animals, without comprehension and defense against words, then we will certainly be treated like the rest of the animal (soulless) kingdom. And the church purposefully mistranslates the Bible to suggest that man has dominion over the animals and all of God's Creation of Nature, instead of being the subservient caretaker of It to ensure a symbiotic health for all, the only Real security of Life possible.

Simply stated, they have defeated all of us who are caught under their tricks of spelling, and caused us to act as defenseless animals to be dominated by false doctrine and technology.

TRICK - noun - [Latin tricar, to play tricks, to trifle, to baffle. We see the same root in the Low Latin intrico, to fold, and in intrigue. Trick is from drawing, that is, a drawing aside, or a folding, interweaving, implication.] 1. AN ARTIFICE OR STRATAGEM FOR THE PURPOSE OF DECEPTION; A FRAUDFUL CONTRIVANCE FOR AN EVIL PURPOSE, OR AN UNDERHAND SCHEME TO IMPOSE UPON THE WORLD; A CHEAT OR CHEATING. We hear of tricks in bargains, and TRICKS OF STATE. He comes to me for counsel, and I show him a trick. 2. A DEXTEROUS ARTIFICE. On one nice trick depends the gen'ral fate. 3. Vicious practice; as the tricks of youth... 7. A particular HABIT or manner; as, he has a trick of drumming with his fingers, or a trick of frowning. [This word is in common use in America, and by no means vulgar.] - verb transitive - TO DECEIVE; TO IMPOSE ON; TO DEFRAUD; TO CHEAT; as, to trick another in the sale of a horse. - verb transitive - To dress; to decorate; to set off; to adorn fantastically... People are lavish in tricking up their children in fine clothes, YET STARVE THEIR MINDS. - verb intransitive - TO LIVE BY DECEPTION AND FRAUD. (Webs1828)

— = —

You see, man does indeed have the capacity for choice and free will unlike the other Create-ures of God. Man is the one living being upon this Earth that does, simply because man is the only being that can express and understand or defeat the tricks of HU-man language by reasoning. And this presents a major problem for those few men who seek to be gods (sovereign magistrates) over all other men, though they have certainly succeeded throughout history in their tricks of spells and systems. Only through words and ideas made of them may the overpowering mass of men be tied down into slavery. Only through worded commands and the promise of money and pensions can men be made to prostitute themselves as paid mercenaries into violent, legally organized, militarized murder squads that commit genocide against their fellow man in sole support of the source of that money. Only through voluntary submission to fictional nomenclature (respect of the authority of fictional words, names, and titles) can man be controlled (governed) through his mind (mentis). The mind is governed (controlled) only by the hypnotic spelling and meaning of words. And only in this way can man be made to not protect all that is Truly Sacred, as that which should be worshiped and equitably Loved and secured as all of Life and Being in Nature. For instance, only the desires of mammon could cause man to kill herds of elephants merely to acquire their tusks to make and adorn jewelry. Money, held so sacredly by the mass of illiterates, is the ultimate curse.

In order for this feat of anti-Nature to be accomplished - that is, the total enslavement of mankind - man must be convinced of the perceived reality of fiction. The fiction must become his "truth." He must be made to believe that words are a Reality. Man must be convinced that the fictional name is actually physically attached to the Reality, that Nature by name is the same as Nature in substance as Reality, where of course it actually Exists completely despite man's names for it. We must be convinced that the word of the "God" of all Nature equates to man's legal dictionary and thesaurus, and that those words are binding upon all mankind and all of God's Creation in Divinity. God must therefore be personified into HU-man form, with a HU-man mouth and HU-man hands, so that man's own created language may be mis-attributed as a Godsend. The fictional, legal names given by man to God's Creation must be assigned to and believed by the masses of controlled (governed) men as part of God's Creation Itself through the concept of legalized (false), ordained divinity. This allows the perception that man's words have the attribute of divinity or Godliness; that they are divinely inspired because man was "officially" ordained to be made in the image (form) of this name we call as "God," though this is not what the Bible actually says. And these patented words form the basis of the legal law and society that is specifically and yet paradoxically realized as opposed to God and Nature.

Note here that the words of the Bible are not divine as man's false-religious terminology artfully defines that word, being written by the hands of men, but are however wholly the words of self-evident reason. One needs not some mystical faith that these words are divinely inspired, one need only to think clearly without artifice of opinion based on technology and other creations of man. The conclusions of the Bible are reachable by the very reasoning of any sane man, if only the trickery of language arts, culture, and imagery by the scribes and magistrates of church and state weren't so prevalent in their modern translation and construction. Mammon always gets in the way of Natural reasoning, causing men to see dollar signs where only substance and soul Exists in Reality. It is only the self-evidence that may be caused by those words that should be respected, not the words themselves, which are only the latest version of a created language code by men acting as novel (unique) word-smiths. Remember your dog-Latin and its purpose! And remember that only your spiritual Nature may overcome these language barriers that cause a bar in front of the attainment of knowledge. True knowledge must be felt as well as seen. The self-existence of Truth must touch all of the senses at once, not artfully absorbed as merely some man-made doctrine by forgetful readers in cold, institutional settings and polished pews.

The living (civilly dead) must be re-presented as the dead (spiritually dead) within the storyline of this fictional government as some material fact (subject matter) under a legal (anti-God) surname and within the fictional stage-play we call the jurisdiction of a courtroom. The artificial must be made and pre-tended to appear as seemingly tangible matter though only apparent - as an object merely of legal tender. But of course a legal subject is merely an artificial creation of the mind, ink on paper, and thus to be "subject-matter" in court is to be a fictional thing with no actual substance - the form of man but not man - a re-creation of man not of God. Man must be made to become the subject of fiction by his pretending to be a strawman under legal name in Order for the judicial person (a title) to become the form of a god (magistrate, judge) over man's person (fictional name) and thus, through the law of person and in surety, his very Self.

Jurisdiction literally means the power to pre-judge man's actions before God does; to consider man in a form other than a Creation of God, and to judge (doom) man at birth (nativity) by legal principles that are opposed to God's Higher Law. Ironically, these legal magistrates must trick the man into swearing an oath through God to government to obey and be subject to man's legal law instead of God's Natural One. For an oath to fiction is an insult to God. We swear to tell the truth in a legal jurisdiction based solely, 100% on lies. Thus, all truths in legal form are lies, no matter how close to reality they may be. And so in Reality, we swear an oath to lie and call it as truth. Similitude is not sameness. If we witness a man's actions, we testify instead that his fictional person did the perceived dirty deed. We try the name of the person to which the lie of legal law applies, not the man. This is evident by the fact that the man with enough money can pay for the crimes of his rented person. And in the corporate realm, the private man may just resign from the corporation (artificial person) and be immune from the law of persons, for he pretends the corporation (person) committed the crime as if the person could act without the man. And he calls this a legal "trust." Of course, a trust is always a ratified lie. The person (corporation) is liquified to pay the price of its individual person's crimes. And so the shareholders walk away with millions.

Remember Enron? Remember that no man went to jail for the crimes of Enron, because Enron is not a man? Only persons can pay to the gods of mammon for their monetary crimes. Men of God have 100% responsibility for their own actions, and have no insurable qualities nor monetary considerations of anything in Nature. And so we can empathize with corrupt men for desiring the false security of government personhood to escape his Natural duty. No man of God would in good conscious would utilize legal tender money in public, for legal tender may only be used on legal things, which a man of God would never respect. Only men with evil intentions would seek the asylum and securities of legal personhood, both natural and artificial (incorporation). Of course, those Federal Reserve Notes state clearly that their use is as public or private tender.

Jurisdiction is literally an imaginary, public prison for your mind. But worse than that, it is a safe haven for the criminally minded and psychopathic class of the “sovereignty”.

JURISDICTION - noun - [Latin jurisdictio; jus, juris, LAW, and dictio, from dico, to pronounce.] 1. THE LEGAL POWER OF AUTHORITY of doing justice in cases of complaint; the power of executing the laws and DISTRIBUTING JUSTICE. Thus we speak of certain suits or actions, or the cognizance of certain crimes being within the jurisdiction of a court, that is, within the limits of their authority or commission. Inferior courts have jurisdiction of debt and trespass, or of smaller offenses; the supreme courts have jurisdiction of treason, murder, and other high crimes. Jurisdiction is SECULAR or ecclesiastical. 2. Power of governing or legislating. THE LEGISLATURE OF ONE STATE CAN EXERCISE NO JURISDICTION IN ANOTHER. 3. The power or right of exercising authority. Nations claim exclusive jurisdiction on the SEA, to the extent of A MARINE LEAGUE from the main LAND or shore. 4. THE LIMIT WITHIN WHICH POWER MAY BE EXERCISED. Jurisdiction, in its most general sense, is THE POWER TO MAKE, DECLARE OR APPLY THE LAW; when confined to the judiciary department, it is what we denominate the JUDICIAL POWER, the right of ADMINISTERING justice through the laws, by the means which the laws have provided for that purpose. Jurisdiction is LIMITED TO PLACE or TERRITORY, to PERSONS, or to particular SUBJECTS. (Webs1828)

— — —

And so jurisdiction is, in other words, bound and limited to the names of persons, places, and things (nouns). Persons may only act and have protections within the secular liberties of their jurisdictional debtor’s prison.

LIMIT - noun - [Latin limes. See Limb.] 1. Bound; BORDER; utmost extent; the part that terminates a thing; as the limit of a town, CITY OR EMPIRE; the limits of human knowledge. 2. The thing which bounds; restraint. 3. Limits, plural, THE EXTENT OF THE LIBERTIES OF A PRISON. - verb transitive - 1. To bound; to set bounds to. 2. TO CONFINE WITHIN CERTAIN BOUNDS; to circumscribe; to restrain. The government of England is a limited monarchy. They tempted God and limited the Holy One of Israel. Psalms 78:41. 3. TO RESTRAIN FROM A LAX OR GENERAL SIGNIFICATION. World sometimes signifies the universe, and sometimes its signification is limited to this earth. (Webs1828)

SECULAR - adjective - [Latin secularis, from seculum, the world or an age.] 1. Pertaining to the present world, or TO THINGS NOT SPIRITUAL OR HOLY; relating to THINGS NOT IMMEDIATELY OR PRIMARILY RESPECTING THE SOUL, BUT THE BODY; worldly. The secular concerns of life respect making provision for the support of life, the preservation of health, the temporal prosperity of men, of states, etc. Secular power is that which SUPERINTENDS and GOVERNS the temporal affairs of men, the CIVIL or POLITICAL power; and is CONTRADISTINGUISHED FROM SPIRITUAL or ecclesiastical power. 2. Among catholics, not regular; NOT BOUND BY MONASTIC VOWS OR RULES; NOT CONFINED TO A MONASTERY OR SUBJECT TO THE RULES OF A RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY. Thus we say, the secular clergy and the regular clergy. 3. Coming once in a century; as a secular year. Secular games, in Rome, were games celebrated once in an age or century, which lasted three days and three nights, with sacrifices, theatrical shows, combats, sports, etc. Valerius Maximus. Secular music, any music or songs not adapted to sacred uses. Secular song or poem, a song or poem composed for the secular games, or sung or rehearsed at those games. - noun - A CHURCH OFFICER or officiate whose functions are confined to the vocal department of the choir. (Webs1828)

To be clear, as acting United States citizenships we are not confounded to a monastery or subject to the rules of a religious community!!! The United States municipal corporation, Washington D.C.; that district (seizure, distraint, distress) is purely a secular jurisdiction. It is not in any way standing in respect of christ's teachings or of that of the scriptures. No religious actions are allowed, for no religious (moral) law is allowed. Jehovah is illegal!!!

Please comprehend here that the notion of religion has been usurped and destroyed by corporate, commercial interests. The church and state exist only in mammon, and so both must promote mammon to exist in the legal realm as artificial persons (corporations). They have no other choice and no other functionality. They are businesses, and profit is the only goal of any corporation by law, even a so-called commercially established "non-profit." For a corporation need not be non-profit if it wasn't dealing in mammon. In Nature, everything is automatically non-profit. There isn't even a word for its opposite except sin. But most importantly, we must fully understand that a man living a purely spiritual (religious) life is only the man alive that is not bound in surety to the state. The state cannot see a religious person, for that status is not regulable by the state. The moral law is like a sharp thicket, and the state avoids it like the plague, for moral law would infect the people under the state and cause a dis-ease that would effect its legal rule. This is to say that no matter how moral a man may act, if he is in the surety of personhood and citizenship, he is not considered according to his religious Nature. Instead, he is required to abandon his religious, moral law in lieu of the legal civil (anti-religion) law of persons.

At birth, and after "information" by the mother as volunteered vital statistics, the newly abandoned infant is found in the State's district and jurisdiction and taken as prize of the sea, becoming officially registered to the status (persona) of a foundling infant of unknown parentage. And we never stop acting in person as we suck from the government teat the rest of our lives, using its name, mark, and number in our confirmation of its persona in agency and thus our ratification of its legal law as sacred. We sign our name in the cursed form we are acting within (cursive).

DISTRICT - ...The circuit or territory within which a PERSON may be COMPELLED to APPEAR.
Circuit of AUTHORITY; province. (Black4)

DISTRICT - noun - [Latin, to press hard, TO BIND. See Distrain.] 1. Properly, a limited extent of country; a circuit within which power, right or authority may be exercised, and to which it is RESTRAINED; a word applicable to any portion of land or country, or to any part of a city or town, which is defined by law or agreement. A governor, a prefect, or a judge may have his district. Some of the states are divided into districts for the choice of senators, representatives or electors. Cities and towns are divided into districts for various purposes, as for school, etc. The United States are divided into districts FOR THE COLLECTION OF THE REVENUE. 2. A region; a territory within given lines; as the district of the earth which lies between the tropics, or that which is north of a polar circle. 3. A region; a country; a portion of territory without very definite limits; as the districts of Russia covered by forest. - verb transitive - To divide into districts or limited portions of territory. Legislatures district states for the choice of senators. In New England, towns are districted for the purpose of establishing and managing schools. (Webs1828)

DISTRICTED - participle passive - DIVIDED into districts or definite portions. (Webs1828)

DISTRICTING - participle present tense - DIVIDING into LIMITED or definite portions. (Webs1828)

PROVINCE - noun - [Latin provincia; usually supposed to be formed from pro and vinco, TO CONQUER. This is very doubtful, as provinco was not used by the Romans.] 1. Among the Romans, a country of considerable extent, WHICH BEING REDUCED UNDER THEIR DOMINION, WAS NEW-MODELED,

SUBJECTED TO THE COMMAND OF AN ANNUAL GOVERNOR SENT FROM ROME, and to such taxes and contributions as the Romans saw fit to impose. That part of France next to the Alps, was a Roman province and still bears the name Provence. 2. Among the moderns, a country belonging to a kingdom or state, EITHER BY CONQUEST OR COLONIZATION, usually situated at a distance from the kingdom or state, but more or less dependent on it or SUBJECT to it. Thus formerly, the English colonies in North America were provinces of Great Britain, as Nova Scotia and Canada still are. The provinces of the Netherlands formerly belonged to the house of Austria and to Spain. 3. A division of a kingdom or STATE, of considerable extent. In England, a division of the ecclesiastical state under the jurisdiction of an archbishop, of which there are two, the province of Canterbury and that of York. 4. A region of country; in a general sense; a tract; a large extent. Over many a tract Of heaven they march'd, and many a province wide. They never look abroad into the provinces of the intellectual world. 5. THE PROPER OFFICE OR BUSINESS OF A PERSON. It is the province of the judge to decide causes between individuals. The woman's province is to be careful in her economy, and chaste in her affection. (Webs1828)

REGION - noun - re'jun. [Latin regio, rego.] 1. A tract of land or space of indefinite extent, usually a tract of considerable extent. It is sometimes nearly synonymous with country; as all the region of Argob. Deuteronomy 3:4. He had dominion over all the region on this side of the river. 1 Kings 4:11. So we speak of the airy region the ethereal regions, the upper regions, the lower regions. 2. The INHABITANTS of a region or DISTRICT of country. Matthew 3:5. 3. A part of the body; as the region of the heart or liver. 4. PLACE; RANK. He is of too high a region. [Unusual.] (Webs1828)

— = —

Whatever legal word as a name (noun) that you arrive at, the name is still merely as fictional as the legally considered space, place, or other fictional notion of control in jurisdiction it re-presents. As the legal word above, so the legal word below. Country, region, province, county, state, nation... eventually all of these words circle back upon themselves to mean the same or part of the same thing - an individual legal creation as a jurisdiction of and as part of the whole, fictional body politic. Corporate persons are created to control natural persons, and natural persons are created to control men. This is the unreality of false identity and ethnicity.

The land (earth) requires no name, nor does the water, the sky, or the life that these Creations of God in Nature sustain. God's Permanence of "jurisdiction" is ultimate, and man may only interlope, sojourn, and converse in intercourse with his own always temporary, never permanent fictional creations. Only Jehovah (the Nature of Creation) is Permanent and Supreme, as a self-evident truth (maxim/principle). And this "fact" never changes, no matter how convincing the legal authority appears and despite its trickery upon man's mind.

Notice above that a district is purposed for the "collection of revenue." But just what does this word mean in its foundational, legal form? What does it mean to be re-venued?

We must of course trace the full source and functionality of this word re-venue so that we may comprehend what it is to have legal existence within the legal adversary's (satan's) fictional venues of artifice in debtor's hell. For as it turns out, all venues require a venial tainting and corruption of blood. Only fictions of law may appear and act in legal venues, and revenue may only be generated from the capita (heads) of legal persons.

REVENUE - noun - [Latin revenio; re and venio, TO COME.] 1. In a general sense, the annual rents, profits, interest or ISSUES of any SPECIES of property, real or personal, BELONGING to an individual or TO THE PUBLIC. When used of individuals, it is equivalent to income. In modern usage, income is applied more generally to the rents and profits of individuals, and revenue to those of the state. In the latter case, revenue is: 2. The annual produce of taxes, excise, customs, duties, rents, etc. which a nation or state collects and receives into the treasury for public use. 3. RETURN; REWARD; as a rich revenue of praise. (Webs1828)

RE - A prefix or inseparable particle in the composition of words, denotes RETURN, repetition, iteration... (Webs1828)

VENUE - Pleading. The venue is the COUNTY from which the jury are to come, who are to try the ISSUE... (Bouv1856)

VENUE JURISDICTION - Power of the particular COURT to function. (Black4)

VENUE FACTS - Facts to be established at hearing on plea of PRIVILEGE. Facts which by statute constitute an exception to the general right of a defendant TO BE SUED IN THE COUNTY OF HIS RESIDENCE. (Black4)

VENUE, VENULITE - noun - A petrified SHELL of the genus VENUS. (Webs1828)

VENOM - noun - [Latin venenum, venor, to hunt, TO DRIVE or chase; venio, TO COME. See VENUS, etc.] 1. Poison; matter fatal or injurious to life. Venom is generally used to express noxious matter that is applied EXTERNALLY, or that is discharged from animals, as that of bites and stings of serpents, scorpions, etc.; and poison, to express substances taken into the stomach. 2. SPITE; MALICE. - verb transitive - To poison; to infect with venom [Little used, but envenom is in use and elegant. Venom may be elegantly used in poetry.] (Webs1828)

ENVENOM - verb transitive - [from VENOM.] To poison; TO TAINT or impregnate with venom, or any substance noxious to life; never applied, in this sense, to persons, but to meat, drink or weapons; as an envenomed arrow or shaft; an envenomed potion. 1. To taint with bitterness or malice; as the envenomed tongue of SLANDER. 2. TO MAKE ODIIOUS. O what a world is this, when what is comely, Envenoms him that bears it! (Webs1828)

VENUS - noun - [Latin ventus, venenum; Eng. VENOM TO POISON, to fret or irritate. These affinities lead to the true origin of these words. The primary sense of the root is to shoot or rush, as light or wind. From light is derived the sense of white, fair, venus, or it is from opening, parting; and from rushing, moving, comes wind, and the sense of raging, fury, whence Latin venenum, poison, that which frets or causes to rage. These words all coincide with Latin venio (TO COME), which signifies to rush, TO FALL, to happen; venor, to hunt, etc. The Greeks had the same idea of the goddess of love, viz. that her name signified fairness, whiteness, and hence the fable that she sprung from froth, whence her Green name.] 1. In mythology, the goddess of beauty and love; that is, beauty or love deified; just as the Gaelic and Irish diana, swiftness, impetuosity, is denominated the goddess of hunting. 2. In astronomy, one of the inferior planets, whose orbit is between the earth and Mercury; a star of brilliant splendor. 3. In the old chemistry, a name given to copper. (Webs1828)

VENOUS - adjective - [Latin venosus, from vena, a vein.] 1. Pertaining to a vein or to veins; contained in veins; as venous BLOOD, which is distinguishable from arterial blood by its darker color. 2. In botany, veined. A venous leaf, has vessels branching, or variously divided, over its surface. (Webs1828)

VENAL - adjective - [Latin vena, A VEIN.] Pertaining to a vein or to veins; contained in the veins; AS VENAL BLOOD. [See Venous, which is generally used.] - adjective - [Latin venalis, from venco, TO BE SOLD.] 1. MERCENARY; PROSTITUTE; THAT MAY BE BOUGHT OR OBTAINED FOR MONEY OR OTHER VALUABLE CONSIDERATION; as a venal muse; venal services. 2. That may be sold; set to

sale; as, ALL OFFICES ARE VENAL IN A CORRUPT GOVERNMENT. 3. PURCHASED; as a venal vote. (Webs1828)

VENAL - Something that is BOUGHT. The term is generally applied IN A BAD SENSE; as, a venal office is an office which has been PURCHASED. (Bouv1856)

VENALITY - noun - MERCENARINESS; THE STATE OF BEING INFLUENCED BY MONEY; PROSTITUTION OF TALENTS, OFFICES OR SERVICES FOR MONEY OR REWARD; as the venality of a corrupt court. (Webs1828)

VENIAL - adjective - [Latin venia, pardon, leave to depart, from the root of venio, and signifying literally a going or passing.] 1. That may be forgiven; PARDONABLE; as a venial fault or TRANSGRESSION. The reformed churches hold all sins to be venial through the merits of the Redeemer; but the most trifling sins not to be venial EXCEPT THROUGH THE RIGHTEOUSNESS AND ATONEMENT OF CHRIST. 2. In familiar language, excusable; that may be allowed or permitted to pass without censure; as a venial slip or fault. 3. Allowed. Permitting him the while venial discourse unblam'd.

REDEEMER - noun - 1. One who redeems or ransoms. 2. The Savior of the world, JESUS CHRIST.

DEEM - verb transitive - 1. To think; TO JUDGE; to be of opinion; to conclude on consideration; as, he deems it prudent to be silent. For never can I deem him less than god. The shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country. Acts 27:27. 2. TO ESTIMATE. - noun - Opinion; judgment; surmise.

RAN - Sax. In Saxon and old English law. Open theft, or robbery. (Black4)

RAN - The preterit tense of run. In old writers, open robbery. (Webs1828)

SOME - adjective - SUM. 1. Noting a certain quantity of a thing, but indeterminate; a portion greater or less... 2. Noting a number of PERSONS OR THINGS, greater or less, but indeterminate. Some theoretical writers allege that there was a time when there was no such thing as society. 3. Noting a person or thing, but not known, or not specific and definite... Most gentlemen of property, as some period or other of their lives, are ambitious of representing their country in parliament. (Webs1828)

RANSOM - noun - 1. The money or price paid for the redemption of a prisoner or slave, or for goods captured by an enemy; that which procures the release of a prisoner or captive, or of captured property, and restores the one to liberty and the other to the original owner. By his captivity in Austria, and the heavy ransom he paid for his liberty, Richard was hindered from pursuing the conquest of Ireland. 2. Release from captivity, bondage or the possession of an enemy. They were unable to procure the ransom of the prisoners. 3. In law, a SUM paid for the pardon of some great offense and the DISCHARGE of the offender; or a fine paid in lieu of corporal punishment. 4. In Scripture, THE PRICE PAID FOR A FORFEITED LIFE, OR FOR DELIVERY OR RELEASE FROM CAPITAL PUNISHMENT. Then he shall give for the ransom of his life, whatever is laid upon him. Exodus 21:30. 5. The price paid for procuring the pardon of sins and the redemption of the sinner from punishment. Deliver him from going down to the pit; I have found a ransom. Job 33:24. THE SON OF MAN CAME - TO GIVE HIS LIFE A RANSOM FOR MANY. Matthew 20:28. Mark 10:45. - verb transitive - 1. To redeem from captivity or punishment by paying an equivalent; applied to PERSONS; as, to ransom prisoners from an enemy. 2. To redeem from the possession of an enemy by paying a price deemed equivalent; applied to goods or property. 3. IN SCRIPTURE, TO REDEEM FROM THE BONDAGE OF SIN, AND FROM THE PUNISHMENT TO

WHICH SINNERS ARE SUBJECTED BY THE DIVINE LAW. The ransomed of the Lord shall return.
Isaiah 35:10. 4. To rescue; TO DELIVER. Hosea 13. (Webs1828)

RANSOM - The money, price, or consideration paid or demanded for redemption of a captured person or persons, a payment that releases from captivity. In international law. THE REDEMPTION OF CAPTURED PROPERTY FROM THE HANDS OF AN ENEMY, PARTICULARLY OF PROPERTY CAPTURED AT SEA. A SUM paid or agreed to be paid for the REDEMPTION of captured property. Strictly speaking, not a recapture of the captured property. It is rather a purchase of the right of the captors at the time, be it what it may; or, more properly, it is a relinquishment of all the interest and benefit which the captors might acquire or consummate in the property, by a regular adjudication of a prize tribunal, whether it be an interest in rem, a lien, or a mere title to expenses. In this respect, there seems to be no difference between the case of a ransom of an enemy or a neutral. In old English law. A SUM OF MONEY PAID FOR THE PARDONING OF SOME GREAT OFFENSE. The distinction between ransom and amercement is said to be that ransom was the REDEMPTION OF A CORPORAL PUNISHMENT, while amercement was a fine or penalty directly imposed, and not in lieu of another punishment. A SUM OF MONEY PAID FOR THE REDEMPTION OF A PERSON from captivity or imprisonment. Thus one of the feudal "aids" was TO RANSOM THE LORD'S PERSON if taken prisoner. (Black4)

RANSOM BILL - A contract by which A CAPTURED VESSEL, in consideration of her release and of safe-conduct for a stipulated course and time, agrees to pay a certain sum as ransom. (Black4)

RANK - adjective - In English law. Excessive; too large in amount; as a rank modus. (Black4)

RANK - noun - Grade of official standing. The order or place in which certain officers are placed in the army and navy, in relation to others. Rank is often used TO EXPRESS SOMETHING DIFFERENT FROM OFFICE. It then becomes a designation or TITLE OF HONOR, dignity, or distinction conferred upon an officer in order TO FIX HIS RELATIVE POSITION in reference to other officers in matters of PRIVILEGE, precedence, and sometimes of command, or by which to determine his pay and emoluments. This is the case with the staff officers of the army. (Black4)

VENEFICE - noun - [Latin veneficium.] The PRACTICE of poisoning. (Webs1828)

VENEFICIOUSLY - adverb - By poison or WITCHCRAFT. (Webs1828)

VENDITION - noun - [Latin venditio.] The ACT of selling; sale. (Webs1828)

VENDOR - Contracts. A seller. One who DISPOSES of a thing IN CONSIDERATION OF MONEY. Vide Purchaser; Seller. (Bouv1856)

VENDEE - Contracts. A purchaser; a buyer. (Bouv1856)

DISPOSE - 1. To alienate, DIRECT THE OWNERSHIP OF: as, to dispose of property. Includes to barter, exchange, or partition; is broader than sell. Under the power "to dispose of the property of the United States," Congress may lease the public lands. The nature of the disposal is discretionary. THE NATURE OF THE DISPOSAL IS DISCRETIONARY. "Dispose," said of an insolvent, in an attachment law, includes any intentional putting of property beyond reach of creditors. To convey by advancement is to dispose; BUT TO MORTGAGE MAY NOT BE, within the meaning of a statute. (WCA1889)

VENTER or VENTRE - Signifies literally the belly. In law it is used FIGURATIVELY for the WIFE: for example, a man has three children by the first, and one by the second venter. 2. A child is said to be in ventre sa mere before it is born; while it is a foetus. (Bouv1856)

— = —

Only those who have sold their birthright and allowed the attainder of their blood in corruption can appear in any legal venue, and thus have revenue exacted from them. For despite God's Word, we must respect the lies of fiction by turning our back to God's Nature.

It should be noted here that the word "venefice" is but one letter off from "benefice," which are the benefits of the use of the legal, flattering title allowing an ecclesiastical living; in other words, a church endowed with a stream of revenue. In the middle ages, the word benefice was used instead of the word fee, as the feudal estate in lands, and held ex mero beneficio of the donor, according to Webster's 1828 Dictionary of the English Language. So the payment in mammon to all priests (employees) is the venefice (poisoning) of their spirituality through the venality of benefice. For the jurisdiction of the fee (benefice) under the church and state is only a fictional venue based in mammon. A priest must become and act mercenarily to the church and prostitute himself to its doctrines in title to receive that corporate benefice. He must ignore the true intent of the scriptures and of the actions of christ so as to promote the vicarious actions of the antichrist church and legal state. All legalized, non-profit (false-prophet) churches are monied, veneficious benefices of their main corporation (creator), just as all McDonald's are lesser franchises of the main McDonald's corporation, which all follow the laws of the main corporation (in benefice) and state, never deviating into the separate (private) Realm of God and spirituality. Religious actions are not allowed in legalism, only thoughts. Thus a legalized church may never act against its creator, for its creator is not Jehovah. Its gods are only incorporated persons and its existence depends purely upon licensure and permission from the legal state.

To comprehend the nature of this word revenue is to realize that it can only exist as a legal fiction of law. And so the term revenue, as a reference to money gained in the system of mammon, can only be an extortion from men who have their stake (cross) and estate in the legal fiction instead of in God's Nature and Law. We must pay to play in our imaginary legal selves and can only use its benefits in legal persona. But the strawman can only be used legally in venue.

Again, the importance of swearing and pledging oneself and one's children voluntarily to be judged (doomed) by man in the stead (replacement) of God is the basis of man's legal art of government. And so man must be taken out of God's Realm of Nature; his mind figuratively plucked from awareness of God's Kingdom and Laws, so as to be artificially considered by man's artificial legal law in the lie of personhood, and only by the office (person) and rank (title) of that fictional realm. His appearance as a legal creation of man (as a slave) must be invoked and summoned into the jurisdiction of man's dead legal world - the venue of the district. The word district, as will still be further discussed, again means distrain, distress, and seizure, as a conquered (purchased) commonality and multitude of people (body politic); as one venial and mercenarily prostituting the test of the constituted authorities and exchangers of money (mammon). This is the world of Caesar, which is just another word for seizure under which men are rendered into legal fictions in monetary valuation, re-venued from the Real to the fiction. Caesar is the district, not a man. Caesar is a venue, and government its vendor. The living man as a substance of God must be symbolically (figuratively) murdered in a ritualistic stage-play of sacrifice for his legal form to appear without God's protection, made spiritually dead and brought forth instead as summoned legal entities into the artificial venue (realm) of that spiritually dead district. Thus man makes his appearance in fiction as a fictional, legal entity bound to the fictional laws of the fictional venue. The man becomes re-venued out of God's Kingdom and Heaven on earth into the cold darkness of legal artifice.

VENIRE FACIAS - Practice, criminal law. According to the English law, the proper process to be issued on an indictment for any petit misdemeanor, on a penal statute, is a writ called venire facias. 2. It is in the nature of A SUMMONS TO CAUSE THE PARTY TO APPEAR. (Bouv1856)

—=—

These important “Maxim’s” stand as the principles of law, and explain clearly this need to magically appear in the legal cartoon realm as a fictional character; not as our True Selves, but instead as actors (agents) playing the part assigned to us as the fictional strawman name, title, and/or number granted by and registered through government. If we do not appear as something we are not, as a legal creation of the state, the court (the realm of the legal gods) simply cannot recognize us, for it cannot claim jurisdiction over anything but its own persons (legal creations).

MAXIM - An established principle or proposition. A principle of law universally admitted, as being just and consonant with REASON. 2. Maxims in law are somewhat like axioms in geometry. They are principles; and ARE OF THE SAME STRENGTH AS ACTS OF PARLIAMENT, WHEN THE JUDGES HAVE DETERMINED WHAT IS A MAXIM; which belongs to the judges and not the jury. Maxims of the law are holden for law, and all other cases that may be applied to them shall be taken for granted. THE APPLICATION OF THE MAXIM TO THE CASE BEFORE THE COURT, IS GENERALLY THE ONLY DIFFICULTY. The true method of making the application is to ascertain how the maxim arose, and to consider whether the case to which it is applied is of the same CHARACTER, or whether it is an EXCEPTION to an apparently GENERAL rule. THE ALTERATIONS OF ANY OF THE MAXIMS OF THE COMMON LAW ARE DANGEROUS. (BouvMaxims)

—=—

Maxim’s are the artificial intelligence of legal law, a pre-programmed conscious of moral and amoral thoughts and rules where none actually Exist. A simulacra; as a copy without an original. This is not to say that these Maxim’s are necessarily moral or immoral, or that they don’t allow choice and corruption to infiltrate, only that they stand as the artificial, fixed cortex of thought patterns behind all other law. As citizenships, we must go to these principles as a guide or rulebook regarding what the magistrate might be bound to in his “opinions,” else we have no foundation behind our efforts and will ourselves be swallowed up by the allowances for contractual evil these Maxims portend.

Yet, if we commit them to knowledge, we are able to utilize them to defeat corruption by keeping it and its agent (judge) in check. We can only control and move the court if we know these maxim’s of the law before it, and the judge will always be bound by them as the foundation of his actions and decisions. For corruption and fraud can only be legitimized by our willing participation in it. And corruption has its foundation in what is called legal appearance. The fiction must appear in court to be considered and respected according to its fictional character. The maxims in a public character and consideration apply only to that status (person), not to the man appearing as such. But as surety man pays for the crimes of that legal character in his bondage to it. The appearance of the name in persona is the foundation of the corruption that is legal law, for the fictional law only applies to legal fictions (creations) of law.

—=—

“There is no disputing against or denying principles.”

—Contra negantem principia non est disputandum. Co. Litt. 43. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

There is only one problem... while these maxims (principles) are certainly not to be disputed, and while a judge must always hold them as sacrosanct in the guidance of his legal opinions, they can easily be bypassed and worked around by fiction. The devil plays a strategic game, and his devilmasters (attorneys and judges) play along with both God's and the devil's rulebook, depending on the disposition of that person or subject-matter that lies before it. And while even in these maxims of law we find all of these Natural Law concepts, we also find the devil's maxims mixed within. It's all about choice. All that is needed is a contract, the devil's favorite weapon. For the contract makes the strict law, and the maxim's that apply to contracts defeat all other principles of protection.

Christian (gift-given) name Clint cannot appear in person, for there may be thousands or millions of "Clint's" out there, and so the first name is thus too ambiguous to clearly define the legal person (status and property of the state) as a subject-matter in question before the Bar. Only the incorporation of fiction in legal name-form called "Clint Richardson" can appear as a legal person in a legal jurisdiction at bar; an apparition; a manifestation of unreality. For the surname is not a gift of God, but a burden of debt granted through an implied contractual obligation. As for God's negative Natural Law protections, when we use the combination of names in conspiracy of contract with that legal government, we take God's gift-given name in vain. We attach it to a false god in apostasy. If we use it we lose IT.

APOSTASY - noun - [Gr. a defection, to depart.] 1. AN ABANDONMENT OF WHAT ONE HAS PROFESSED; A TOTAL DESERTION, OR DEPARTURE FROM ONE'S FAITH OR RELIGION...
(Webs1828)

—=—

One very important word in this legal fiction is the notion of being called as an "individual," where a "person" is defined as an individual, corporation, association, etc. The spiritual aspect of this, of being considered as part of God's Creation and as no other thing, is to say that as a part of something Whole we are in Oneness with that whole, and so cannot be called or summoned as any individual thing. But a person is specially designed to single out each man and cause his apostasy from that spiritual and Natural Oneness of Self in God's Nature. To be considered in persona to be as an individual is to fall into the fictional trap of legal personhood, to be singled out from the Whole as a sinner. This is not the same as self-realization. The word individual is strictly in place to cause a 2nd self to appear, a false id-entity not our own that we can be tricked into claiming to be in the stead of our own Self. We are thus re-venued and are charged individual usage fees and taxes for such revenue purposes.

A corporate church organized under the legal laws, obligations, and restrictions of the legal state will never tell you that by joining such a registered, individual person (corporation) of a "religion" you are abandoning God for fiction, becoming part of its legal body incorporate instead of partaking in the body of christ in Jehovah. Its legal existence requires acquired ignorance of its members with regards to its proclaimed Source, which is the Bible. For only fools could ever embrace that which in its actions are opposed to the Source of what it preaches. But then, we are born fools. We speak only the language of fools. We know not the origin and thus the intent of the Bible's words. We are just naturals.

Ironically, when we leave any denomination of corporate religion out there, the church considers us in apostasy to it. Not to God, but to the corporation. For the corporation is artificially likened to God's Word.

—=—

"To the wicked, everything serves as pretext."

—Voltaire

—=—

Here we can understand that everything in law is assigned by pre-fix. In other words, the names of everything pre-fixes everything in legal form, and Reality may therefore only Exist according to its attached fictional name in fixed text (word) form though the i-magi-nations of men. All things in this legal realm may only exist in their false appearance; in name only. Everything is coded and thus re-venued.

A numerical existence...

PRETEXT - noun - [Latin proetextus.] Pretense; FALSE APPEARANCE; ostensible reason or motive assigned or assumed as A COLOR OR COVER FOR THE REAL REASON OR MOTIVE. He gave plausible reasons for this conduct, but these were only a pretext to conceal his real motives. He made pretext that I should only go, And help convey his freight; but thought not so. THEY SUCK THE BLOOD OF THOSE THEY DEPEND ON, UNDER A PRETEXT OF SERVICE AND KINDNESS. (Webs1828)

—=—

So let us be clear now that the maxim's of law require an appearance of the fictional persona of all things in order to be considered by man's legal law, which ironically cancels out the very scripturally-based maxims that protect the non-appearance of man in fiction (fraud). We must appear voluntarily as something we are not, as a name (noun) with no essence or substance, in order to be identified, seen, heard, considered, and thus absolutely controlled by the property (name) of another.

—=—

MAXIM'S OF LAW:

—=—

What does not appear does not exist.

—=—

Fact not appearing is presumed not to exist.

—=—

Concerning things not appearing and things not existing, the rule (reasoning, conclusion) is the same.

—=—

A thing which is not made to appear is regarded as if it could not be made to appear and did not therefore exist.

—=—

Confused? Don't be. For we are merely deconstructing the big lie one pretext at a time. And the lie may only exist by its false appearance and by your own belief in that false, legal existence. It has no substance, but its form appears to be substantive fact, as any lie may certainly trick the mind and so effect the body and soul. The trick is to convince man that he is merely a legal thing in his own false appearance so that he abandons his very Nature and Self under and in Jehovah.

Man cannot be summoned. Only the person of man can be summoned. It is the bond and surety of man to the legal persona, that incorporation of christian name and federal surname, that causes man to be required to answer in that rented person's name. The agency relation-ship is thus christened. The puppet-master follows the puppet, the shipmaster its ship. But neither follow God. The strawman is driven by this surety relationship, for the strawman is controlled by the agent, as a dummy corporation by which man as agent is summoned by its principal devilmaster to appear as that legal person.

All law is therefore only apparent, prima facie, in appearance only. It's only relevant if you believe (love) it.

APPARATOR or APPARITOR - Ecclesiastical law. An OFFICER or MESSENGER EMPLOYED to SERVE THE PROCESS of the SPIRITUAL COURTS in England.

APPARENT - That which is manifest (only appears by) what is proved. It is required that all things upon which a court must pass, SHOULD BE MADE TO APPEAR, if matter in pays, under oath if matter of record, by the record. IT IS A RULE THAT THOSE THINGS WHICH DO NOT APPEAR, ARE TO BE CONSIDERED AS NOT EXISTING - de non apparentibus et non existentibus eadem est ratio. (Bouv1856)

— — —

This artificial world of government is known as the commercial world, where only incorporations of fictional personas operate under false (flattering) titles and names, and to which the commercial law is applied. It is a world based solely on word trickery, for a legal person is made up only of words. This is the world of the strawman. Only dummy's need apply.

COMMERCIAL - adjective - 1. Pertaining to commerce or trade; as commercial concerns; commercial relations. 2. Carrying on commerce; as A COMMERCIAL NATION. 3. Proceeding from trade; as commercial BENEFITS or profits. (Webs1828)

COMMERCE - noun - 1. In a general sense, an interchange or mutual change of goods, wares, productions, OR PROPERTY OF ANY KIND, between nations or INDIVIDUALS, either by barter, or by purchase and sale; trade; TRAFFICK. Commerce is FOREIGN OR INLAND. Foreign commerce is the trade which one nation carries on with another; inland commerce or inland trade, is the trade in the exchange of commodities BETWEEN CITIZENS OF THE SAME NATION OR STATE. Active commerce. 2. INTERCOURSE between individuals; interchange of work, business, civilities or amusements; MUTUAL DEALINGS IN COMMON LIFE. 3. FAMILIAR INTERCOURSE between the sexes. 4. Interchange; reciprocal communications; as, there is a vast commerce of ideas. - verb intransitive - 1. TO TRAFFICK; TO CARRY ON TRADE. 2. To hold INTERCOURSE with... (Webs1828)

TRADE AND COMMERCE - The words "trade" and "commerce," when used in juxtaposition impart to each other enlarged signification, so as to include practically every business occupation carried on for subsistence or profit, and into which the elements of BARGAIN AND SALE, BARTER, EXCHANGE, or TRAFFIC, enter. (Black4)

INTERCOURSE - noun - [Latin intercursus, intercurro; inter and curro, to run.] Literally, a running or passing between. Hence, 1. COMMUNICATION; COMMERCE; CONNECTION BY RECIPROCAL DEALINGS BETWEEN PERSONS OR NATIONS, EITHER IN COMMON AFFAIRS AND CIVILITIES, IN TRADE, OR CORRESPONDENCE BY LETTERS. We have an intercourse with neighbors and friends in mutual visits and in social concerns; nations and individuals have intercourse with foreign nations or individuals by an interchange of commodities, BY PURCHASE AND SALE, BY TREATIES, CONTRACTS, etc. 2. SILENT communication or exchange. This sweet intercourse. Of looks and smiles. (Webs1828)

TRAFFICK - noun - [Latin trans.] 1. Trade; COMMERCE, either by barter or by buying and selling. This word, like trade, comprehends every species of dealing in the exchange or passing of goods or merchandise from hand to hand for an equivalent (i.e. money), unless the business of retailing may be excepted. It signifies appropriately foreign trade, but is not limited to that. My father, A merchant of great traffick through the world. 2. Commodities for market. - verb intransitive - 1. To trade; to pass goods and commodities FROM ONE PERSON TO ANOTHER FOR AN EQUIVALENT IN GOODS OR MONEY; to barter; to buy and sell wares; TO CARRY ON COMMERCE. The English and Americans traffick with all the world. Genesis 42:34. 2. TO TRADE MEANLY OR MERCENARILY. - verb transitive - TO EXCHANGE IN TRAFFICK. (Webs1828)

TRADE - noun - [Latin tracto, to handle, USE, treat.] 1. The ACT or business of exchanging commodities by barter; or the business of BUYING AND SELLING FOR MONEY; COMMERCE; TRAFFIC; barter. Trade comprehends EVERY SPECIES OF EXCHANGE OR DEALING, either in the PRODUCE OF LAND, in manufactures, IN BILLS OR MONEY. It is however chiefly used to denote the barter or purchase and sale of goods, wares and merchandise, either by wholesale or retail. Trade is either foreign, or domestic or inland. Foreign trade consists in the exportation and importation of goods, or the exchange of the commodities of different countries. Domestic or home trade is the exchange or buying and selling of goods within a country. Trade is also by the wholesale, that is, by the package or in large quantities, or it is by retail, or in small parcels. The carrying trade is that of transporting commodities from one country to another BY WATER. 2. The business which a person has learned and which he carries on for procuring subsistence or for profit; occupation; particularly, mechanical employment; distinguished from the liberal arts and learned professions, and from agriculture. Thus we speak of the trade of a smith, of a carpenter or mason. But we never say, the trade of a farmer or of a lawyer or physician. 3. Business pursued; occupation; in contempt; as, PIRACY IS THEIR TRADE. Hunting their sport, and PLUND'RING WAS THEIR TRADE. 4. Instruments of any occupation. The shepherd bears. His house and household goods, his trade of war. 5. EMPLOYMENT NOT MANUAL; HABITUAL EXERCISE. 6. CUSTOM; HABIT; STANDING PRACTICE. THY SIN'S NOT ACCIDENTAL, BUT A TRADE. 7. Men engaged in the same occupation. Thus booksellers speak of the customs of the trade. - verb intransitive - To barter, or to buy and sell; to deal in the exchange, purchase or sale of goods, wares and merchandise, or any thing else; TO TRAFFIC; to carry on commerce as a business... Our banks are permitted to trade in bills of exchange. 1. To buy and sell or exchange property, in a single instance. Thus we say, man TREATS with another for his farm, but cannot trade with him. A traded with B for a horse or a number of sheep. 2. TO ACT MERELY FOR MONEY. How did you dare, To trade and traffic with Macbeth? 3. To have a trade wind. They on the trading flood ply tow'rd the pole. [Unusual.] - verb transitive - To sell or exchange in commerce. THEY TRADED THE PERSONS OF MEN. Ezekiel 27:12... (Webs1828)

MERCHANDISE - noun - 1. The OBJECTS of COMMERCE; wares, goods, commodities, whatever is usually bought or sold in trade. But provisions daily sold in market, horses, cattle, and fuel are not usually included in the term, and real estate never. 2. TRADE; TRAFFICK; COMMERCE. - verb intransitive - TO TRADE; TO CARRY ON COMMERCE. (Webs1828)

—=—

Here's the problem... our persons are merchandise. We are the carriers (in ships) on the sea of commerce and trade. In other words, we carry our selves in legal person upon the artifice of commerce (on top of the commercial sea) by inhabiting legal fictions called persons. We are performers. Executors. And the money we use is not our property, only a franchise of the state.

But we are more than that, for it is our persons that are exacted (extorted) through taxation, which means that we are being used as commercial vessels in surety to create profit for government. Our commerce between each other is only a pretext to steal from (tax) our purchases, for we are using the credit and debt-money (property) of the state to conduct our business, and the law is attached to the act of use. To be clear, our movable persons are the taxed merchandise being trafficked!!!

—=—

“MEN are not included under the denomination of ‘merchandise!’ ”

—MERCIS APPELLATIONE HOMINES NON CONTINERI. Dig. 50, 16, 207. (Black4)

—=—

“The term ‘merchandise’ belongs to MOVABLE THINGS only.”

—MERCIS APPELLATIO AD RES MOBILES TANTUM PERTINET. Dig. 50, 16, 66. (Black4)

—=—

Movable land... this is the legal status of a public person.

A perfect example of what is the difference between this dog-Latin as the English language, considered as the “vulgar” tongue by its creators, and the correct application of the legal art form in Latinized (Roman) practice, is the perception of what this particular word intercourse means. In the most base and vulgar of understanding, of course the lower class of illiterates will instantly revert their minds to sex. Sex sells. Sex is a sport; a pursuit; an inducement to contract. Sex occupies and distracts the mind more than any other human purpose. And so in this way we can perhaps envision why these legal word-smiths might refer to their own thievery through the trickery of language as a higher form of communication via intercourse. We get off on shopping! As long as the slaves are concentrated on the sensual, vulgar, lowest (emotional) meaning of these apparently higher legal word terms, then the master gods of commerce can trick the slaves into abandoning the product of their labor - their children - to become a ward (award) to the legal state, or worse... to actually abort the mistake of their vulgar intercourse (sexual commerce) to avoid an accident of birth. While sexual intercourse is definitely and self-evidently an act of commerce in a contractual relationship, and sexual intercourse is certainly understood as an act of legally binding consent to the marriage compact, and is certainly that one necessary first step towards procreating Life in Reality, commercial intercourse (birth) is the one necessary step in tricking those parents into abandoning their own blood kin to the legal gods of the State through word trickery. Legal intercourse is literally the commerce of souls.

When the Bible refers to a city or kingdom of people, of a multitude under man's law as government, we see reference to that people as part of the land.

Strong's #H776 entry for the word land is 'erets,' stemming from the notion of “being firm,” and having various definitions as references to mankind, including: “inhabitants of the earth,” “inhabitants of land,” “people of the land,” “land of the living,” “district, region,” “country, territory,” “tribal territory,” “space or distance of a country,” and “city-state.” Remember that the word State is the same as the capitalized word (proper noun) People, of the men who are the State. The government created by that People (as a sovereignty) is the legal state (uncapitalized, non-proper), referring only to the legal fiction of man’s artifice of law and jurisdiction. In fiction, men can be considered as land through their person (status) just as any other live-stock. The King (sovereignty) is a People, the commoners merely the mass of lower class people with no blood-right. And we mustn’t forget that the church of christ is only the men who follow the Word (Son) as the Law of God, just as the True Nature of Israel in the Bible was a people, not a legal jurisdiction, city, state, or nation. It is not a building nor corporation. It is only the respected and shared blood of christ.

—=—

“They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that LAND be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to me, saith the LORD (translated here only of JEHOVAH, i.e. “THE EXISTING ONE”). Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the LAND with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness... And I saw, when for all the causes WHEREBY BACKSLIDING ISRAEL COMMITTED ADULTERY I had put HER away, and given HER a bill of DIVORCE; yet HER TREACHEROUS SISTER JUDAH feared not, but went and played the harlot also.”

—Jeremiah 3: 1-2 and 8, KJB

—=—

Yet again the figurative nature of the scriptural teachings shines through here, as the assignment of sexual orientation to a nation of people (“she”), as if Israel and Judah were as whores prostituting themselves to that which is against God’s Nature (Jehovah). This, again, is personification; an anthropomorphizing of that idea and invention of man which does not Exist in Nature (a nation of persons as a single body politic) into an existing and animated persona for the purposes of telling a story (parable), and to which a moral ending, that of returning to Jehovah, is sought through its parabolic intent. This is the very nature of the scriptures, though not that of the corporate religions, which seek to replace vicariously Jehovah with their own brand of legalized religious fiction approved by the CEO’s of church and state. No one in their right mind can mistake this verse as the literal speaking of some individual woman in history. Israel is allegorically being personified here into a woman, a collective People anthropomorphized into a single prostitute or harlot that acts against the Law of Jehovah, just as the common people (goyim) of the nations, and especially the whore that is the goyim of the United States. And this form of parabolic storytelling is the whole of the Bible. Again, a parable in the mouth of fools is like the legs of the lame, as effectual as the dog that returneth to and consumes its own vomit (logic).

Commerce is more than just the action of buying and selling or of trade or barter. To be a commercial citizen-ship is to be and act as the actual “movable” thing (property) by which the laws of trafficking are collaterally based upon in a contractual surety. This is human capital management, which is the only purpose of government in mammon. It is man treated as money (in valuation) and counted by the head (per capita) via the treasure-trove of found surnames (property). To live an artificial, commercial life in the legal fiction of citizen-ship is to have your entire being valued as merely a legal estate within interstate commerce. Again, this legal life is absolutely opposed to Jehovah; as living by commercial law instead of that Highest Natural Law, as legal commerce in the very Nature of Life Itself.

These gods may only exist as capitalists - those who live off the labor and extortion of all others. For their investments are us, and the return from their investments are the product of our labor potential (intercourse), be it sexual (children of the proles) or employment (use) of our time and energy. They even trick us to invest in our own persons performances under the devil's contract of citizenship!

CAPITALIST - One exclusively dependent on accumulated property, whether denoting a person of large wealth or one having an income from investments. The word has no legal meaning. (Black4)

CAPITALIST - noun - A man who has a capital or STOCK in trade, usually denoting A MAN OF LARGE PROPERTY, WHICH IS OR MAY BE EMPLOYED IN BUSINESS. (Webs1828)

CAPITALLY - adverb - 1. In a capital manner; NOBLY; finely. 2. With loss of life; as, to punish capitally. (Webs1828)

— = —

Slave-masters and property-holders have always been considered as the nobility; those who deal in and control men in a capital manner (by taking their life and blood as legal property in slavery or indenture). No historical digging is required for that well-known fact and history.

Of course, words that perfectly describe the very structure of the crimes these legal gods commit by clandestinely accumulating for themselves all of man's "registered property" through trickery and word magic will be stricken from the legal nomenclature. Otherwise, to be charged with being a "capitalist" would surely be a horrific crime worthy of the highest punishment. That is, if mammon was not the accepted god and man was living rationally and in right mind. The creators, the sovereignty, certainly would not define themselves as criminals, instead licensing their acts legally under their own civil law and created governments, invoking the very power and authority of God even while defiling Its Laws. The legal code instead must be strung together in due diligence and read between the lines; the very nature and purpose of this work. For their greatest trick is in making us ignorantly volunteer to be their subjected debt-slaves; as satan's greatest trick, fooling us to believe that these capitalist adversaries of man don't actually Exist.

Capitalism is only the slave-trade hidden behind commercial personhood. It is slavery indirectly applied to men by placing value upon the surety bond of man's person and its future labor potential, by employment (use) and through birth and de-livery of new infantile persons.

Like a computer simulation, the imaginary jurisdiction of this commercial world is everywhere and yet it is nowhere. It is the ultimate simulacrum. It is literally a matrix of legal fiction that has been so pulled over our senses and used to guide and control our everyday activities that most of us have hardly any inkling it even exists or that we are even participating in it. For we blindly appear within it, usually without ever contemplating our own personal pretext of a voluntary, fictional disposition under its created maxims. We believe we appear as our own selves, without realizing we are actually appearing in a form that is not our selves, as that of another. The chains are not visible or tangible, yet the code of legal words permanently attaches us to the fiction in bond and surety simply because we believe in (love), put faith in (respect), contract with (bind ourselves in debt to), and pay allegiance to it as debtors to the big lie.

Commerce is human trafficking, the business of human intercourse, a communication and trade in souls. To act merely for money and in the pursuit of it is to act only in the persona of mammon. And only through money's pure illusion as the ultimate form of wealth can man be made to give up everything real in Life and in Nature in pursuit instead of the artifice of that fictional, monetary value that blinds our reason and logic and replaces all conscious examination with mere logical fallacy.

Our faith is our pledge in allegiance to the money system, and this action literally alienates us from Reality. When a religious man pledges himself and his allegiance to the state, he necessarily and literally loses his religion. As the dollar bill states: In mammon (god) we trust...

SUI JURIS - Latin. OF HIS OWN RIGHT; possessing full social and civil rights; not under any legal disability, or the power of another, or guardianship. Having capacity to manage one's own affairs; not under legal disability to act for one's self. (Black4)

ALIENI JURIS - Latin. UNDER THE CONTROL, OR SUBJECT TO THE AUTHORITY, OF ANOTHER PERSON; e. g., an INFANT who is under the authority of his FATHER OR GUARDIAN; a wife under the power of her husband. The term is contrasted with Sui Juris... (Black4)

ALIENI JURIS - Words applied to PERSONS WHO ARE SUBJECT TO THE AUTHORITY OF ANOTHER. An infant who is under the authority of his father or guardian, and a wife under the power of her husband, are said to be alieni juris. Vide sui juris. (Bouv1856)

ALIENIGENA - One of FOREIGN BIRTH; AN ALIEN. (Black4)

ALIENISM - The state, condition, or character of an alien. (Black4)

ALIENAGE - The condition or state of alien. (Bouv1856)

ALIENIST - One who has specialized in the study of MENTAL DISEASES. PERSONS qualified by experience, knowledge, and previous opportunities to express opinion as to defendant's mental condition at a particular time. (Black4)

ALIENOR - He who makes a grant, transfer of title, conveyance, or alienation. Correlative of alienee. (Black4)

ALIENEE - One to whom an alienation, conveyance, or transfer of property is made. See Alienor. (Black4)

ALIENUS - Latin. Another's; BELONGING TO ANOTHER; THE PROPERTY OF ANOTHER. Alienus homo, ANOTHER'S MAN, OR SLAVE. Aliena res, ANOTHER'S PROPERTY. (Black4)

ALIEN - noun - A foreigner; one born abroad. A person who OWES ALLEGIANCE to a foreign government. (Webs1828)

ALIEN - noun - AN AMERICAN SOVEREIGN IN HIS PROBATIONARY STATE. (The Devil's Dictionary, by Ambrose Beirce, 1911)

LIGEANCE - The TRUE AND FAITHFUL OBEDIENCE OF A SUBJECT TO HIS SOVEREIGN, OF A CITIZEN TO HIS GOVERNMENT. It signifies also THE TERRITORY OF A SOVEREIGN. See Allegiance. (Black4)

ALLEGIANCE - THE TIE WHICH BINDS THE CITIZEN TO THE GOVERNMENT, in return for the PROTECTION which the government affords him. 2. It is NATURAL, ACQUIRED, or LOCAL. Natural allegiance is such as is due from all men BORN within the United States; acquired allegiance is that which is due by a NATURALIZED citizen. It has never been decided whether a citizen can, by expatriation, divest himself absolutely of that character. INFANTS CANNOT ASSUME ALLEGIANCE,

ALTHOUGH THEY ENLIST IN THE ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES. 3. It seems, however, that he cannot renounce his allegiance to the United States without the permission of the government, to be declared by law. But FOR COMMERCIAL PURPOSES HE MAY ACQUIRE THE RIGHTS OF A CITIZEN OF ANOTHER COUNTRY, AND THE PLACE OF HIS DOMICIL DETERMINES THE CHARACTER OF A PARTY AS TO TRADE. 4. Local allegiance is that which is DUE FROM AN ALIEN, WHILE RESIDENT in the United States, for the protection which the government affords him. (Black4)

ALLEGIANCE - noun - [Latin alligo, of ad and ligo, to bind. See Liege and League.] The tie or obligation of a subject to his Prince OR GOVERNMENT; THE DUTY OF FIDELITY to a king, GOVERNMENT OR STATE. EVERY NATIVE OR CITIZEN OWES ALLEGIANCE TO THE GOVERNMENT UNDER WHICH HE IS BORN. This is called NATURAL OR IMPLIED ALLEGIANCE which arises FROM THE CONNECTION OF A PERSON WITH THE SOCIETY IN WHICH HE IS BORN, and his DUTY to be a FAITHFUL SUBJECT, INDEPENDENT OF ANY EXPRESS PROMISE. Express allegiance is that obligation which proceeds from AN EXPRESS PROMISE, OR OATH OF FIDELITY. Local or temporary allegiance is due from AN ALIEN TO THE GOVERNMENT OR STATE IN WHICH HE RESIDES. (Webs1828)

LIEGE - adjective - [Latin ligo, TO BIND; Gr. to bind, to bend; a withe.] 1. BOUND BY A FEUDAL TENURE; obliged to be faithful and loyal to a superior, AS A VASSAL TO HIS LORD; SUBJECT; faithful; as a liege man. By liege homage, a vassal was bound to serve his lord against all, WITHOUT EXCEPTING HIS SOVEREIGN; or against all, excepting a former lord to whom he owed like service. 2. SOVEREIGN; as a liege lord. [See the noun.] - noun - [supra.] 1. A vassal holding a fee by which he is BOUND TO PERFORM CERTAIN SERVICES AND DUTIES TO HIS LORD. 2. A lord or superior; A SOVEREIGN. [Note. This is a false application of the word, arising probably from transferring the word from the vassal to the lord; the lord of liege men, being called liege lord. (Webs1828)

LEAGUE - noun - leeg. [Latin ligo, TO BIND.] 1. An alliance or CONFEDERACY between princes or STATES for their mutual aid or defense; A NATIONAL CONTRACT OR COMPACT. A league may be offensive or defensive, or both. It is offensive, when the contracting parties agree to unite in attacking a common enemy; defensive, when the parties agree to act in concert in defending each other against an enemy. 2. A COMBINATION or UNION of two or more parties for the purpose of maintaining friendship and promoting their mutual interest, OR FOR EXECUTING ANY DESIGN IN CONCERT. And let there be 'twixt us and them no league nor amity. - verb intransitive - leeg. 1. To unite, as princes or STATES IN A CONTRACT of amity for mutual aid or defense; TO CONFEDERATE. Russia and Austria leagued to oppose the ambition of Buonaparte. 2. TO UNITE OR CONFEDERATE, AS PRIVATE PERSONS for mutual aid. - noun - leeg. [Low Latin leuca.] 1. Originally, a stone erected on the public roads, at certain distances, in the manner of the modern mile-stones. Hence, 2. The distance between two stones. With the English and Americans, a league is the length of three miles; but this measure is chiefly AT SEA. The league on the continent of Europe, is very different among different nations. The Dutch and German league contains four geographical miles. (Webs1828)

RESIDE - verb intransitive - s as z. [Latin resideo, resido; re and sedeo, to sit, TO SETTLE.] 1. to dwell permanently OR FOR A LENGTH OF TIME; to have a settled abode FOR A TIME. The peculiar uses of this word are to be noticed. When the word is applied to the natives of a state, or others who dwell in it AS PERMANENT CITIZENS, we use it only with reference to the part of a city or country in which a man dwells. We do not say generally that Englishmen reside in England, but a particular citizen resides in London or York, or at such a house in such a street, in the Strand, etc. When the word is applied to STRANGERS OR TRAVELERS, we do not say, a man resides in an inn for a night, but he resided in London or Oxford a month, or a year; or part of his life. A man lodges, stays, remains, abides, for a day or very short time, but reside implies a longer time, though NOT DEFINITE. 2. To sink to the bottom of liquors; to settle. Obsolete. [In this sense, subside is now used.] (Webs1828)

— = —

Here we see the main difference between a resident and a domicile. A domicile (called also as permanent resident) is timeless, meaning that it does not end at some specified or contracted time and is thus passed from generation to generation through blood connection of ancestry. But notice that any temporary residence is always based on a contract of time, meaning that it may only be used upon the grant of another, a stranger, and so is not something that is inheritable by blood. In fact, he who holds temporary residence without private domicile, namely public citizenships, cannot pass anything to their abandoned children as wards of the state in de-livery due to this corruption of blood. What is in the time domain is only public in nature, not private. And so again the temporary resident must create a legal will, since the law recognizes no Real blood connection to a public citizenship or its legalized (Romanized) issues (children).

STRANGER - noun - 1. A FOREIGNER; ONE WHO BELONGS TO ANOTHER COUNTRY. Paris and London are visited by strangers from all the countries of Europe. 2. One of another town, city, state or province IN THE SAME COUNTRY. The Commencements in American colleges are frequented by multitudes of strangers from the neighboring towns and states. 3. One unknown. The gentleman is a stranger to me. 4. One unacquainted. My child is yet a stranger to the world. I was no stranger to the original. 5. A GUEST; A VISITOR. 6. ONE NOT ADMITTED to any communication or FELLOWSHIP. Melons on beds of ice are taught to bear, and strangers to the sun yet ripen here. 7. In law, ONE NOT PRIVY OR PARTY TO AN ACT. - verb intransitive - TO ESTRANGE; TO ALIENATE. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

ESTRANGE - verb transitive - 1. To keep at a distance; to withdraw; to cease to frequent and be FAMILIAR (family) with. Had we estranged ourselves from them in things indifferent. I thus estrange my person from her bed. 2. TO ALIENATE; TO DIVERT FROM ITS ORIGINAL USE OR POSSESSOR; TO APPLY TO A PURPOSE FOREIGN FROM ITS ORIGINAL or customary one. They have estranged this place, and burnt incense in it to other gods. Jeremiah 19:4. 3. To alienate, as the affections; to turn from kindness to indifference or malevolence. I do not know, to this hour, what it is that has estranged him from me. 4. To withdraw; to withhold. We must estrange our belief from what is not clearly evidenced. (Webs1828)

ALIENATE - verb transitive [Latin alieno.] 1. TO TRANSFER TITLE, PROPERTY OR RIGHT TO ANOTHER; as, TO ALIENATE LANDS, OR SOVEREIGNTY. 2. TO ESTRANGE; to withdraw, as the affections; to make indifferent or averse, where love or friendship before subsisted; with from; as, to alienate the heart or affections; to alienate a man from the friends of his youth. 3. TO APPLY TO A WRONG USE. They shall not alienate the first fruits of the land. Ezekiel 48:14. - adjective - [Latin alienatus.] Estranged; withdrawn from; STRANGER TO; with from. O ALIENATE FROM GOD, O spirit accurst. The whigs were alienate from truth. (Webs1828)

ALIEN - adjective - alyen, [Latin alienus, from alius, another. Latin alieno, to alienate; alter, another, to altercate.] 1. FOREIGN; NOT BELONGING TO THE SAME COUNTRY, LAND OR GOVERNMENT. 2. Belonging to one who is not a citizen. 3. Estranged; foreign; not allied; adverse to; as, principles alien from our religion. - noun - alyen. 1. A foreigner; one born in, or belonging to, another country; ONE WHO IS NOT A DENIZEN, OR ENTITLED TO THE PRIVILEGES OF A CITIZEN. 2. IN SCRIPTURE, ONE WHO IS A STRANGER TO THE CHURCH OF CHRIST, OR TO THE COVENANT OF GRACE. At that time, ye were WITHOUT CHRIST, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel. Ephesians 2:12. In France, A CHILD BORN OF RESIDENTS WHO ARE NOT CITIZENS, is an alien. In Great Britain,

THE CHILDREN OF ALIENS BORN IN THAT COUNTRY, ARE MOSTLY NATURAL BORN SUBJECTS; and the children of British subjects, owing allegiance to the crown of England, though born in other countries, ARE NATURAL SUBJECTS, AND ENTITLED TO THE PRIVILEGES OF RESIDENT CITIZENS. Alien-duty, a tax upon goods imported by aliens, beyond the duty on the like goods imported by citizens; a discriminating duty on the tonnage of ships belonging to aliens, or any extra duties imposed by laws or edicts on aliens.

— = —

U.S. citizenships (strangers/legalized foreigners/alien friends or enemies) are not privy or party to the constitution, for they are creations under it. They are “resident citizens” only. Denizens. Only those over it (in creation of it) in sovereignty are actually privy or private parties of its negatively protective law in immunity. Let us consider the 14th amendment to the U.S. constitution here, for a private citizen is not born of a nation but in private (foreign) blood inheritance as an heir, and is thus only a participant in the nature of its covenant, not a subject to it. The agreeer (as the People) is certainly not a subject of itself. Private citizens (as a status) are outside of the United States and thus garner its negative protections, whereas public citizen-ships are born and remain inside of what that paper constitution created (constituted in debt compact) as a commercial government for slaves and volunteerists.

“ALL PERSONS BORN OR NATURALIZED IN the United States, and SUBJECT to the JURISDICTION THEREOF, ARE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES and of the state wherein they RESIDE. NO STATE SHALL MAKE OR ENFORCE ANY LAW WHICH SHALL ABRIDGE THE PRIVILEGES OR IMMUNITIES OF CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES..”

— 14th amendment to the United States constitution

— = —

Again we see that the individual (several) States or their respective commercial governments (states) cannot trump the law of the United States over and in consideration of its domiciled citizenships acting in temporary, commercial residence within any of those legal state governments, for the citizen-ship (person) is of course “BORN OF” or natural to (of the artificial nature/creation of) the United States’ district, and the state is merely a third party agency to that foreign agent (citizen-ship) of the United States (principal). To be clear, this constitutional amendment is not talking about Pure men of untainted blood, only about fictional persons, or more accurately, the men who act publicly in interstate commerce within a United States person (status) as their vessel in surety while participating in foreign intercourse within each private (foreign) state jurisdiction.

Only the People (private estates) are protected by their own constitution, which is only to say that their private, negative, reserved rights cannot be thwarted by that central government as constituted. Citizenships (residents) are not thus protected, for all rights of a person of the United States are strictly permitted and strictly administered positively and without possibility of reservation. The private People are not 14th amendment citizens, for they are not publicly born or naturalized (legalized) into the United States. They are not goyim. Private persons are not public persons. Private citizens are not public citizenships.

So what exactly is allegiance according to the magistrate gods in the United States courts?

— = —

ALLEGIANCE:

“The tie or ligamen which BINDS THE SUBJECT [or citizen] to the king [or government] in return for that protection which the king [or government] affords the subject [or citizen].” It consists in “a true and FAITHFUL obedience of the subject due to his sovereign,” and is a comparatively modern corruption of ligeance (ligeantia), which is derived from liege (ligius), meaning ABSOLUTE OR UNQUALIFIED. It signified originally liege fealty. I.e. absolute and unqualified FEALTY.”

“...IN THE UNITED STATES, ‘IT IS A POLITICAL OBLIGATION’ DEPENDING NOT ON OWNERSHIP OF LAND, BUT ON THE ENJOYMENT OF THE PROTECTION OF GOVERNMENT: AND IT ‘BINDS THE CITIZEN TO THE OBSERVANCE OF ALL LAWS’ OF HIS OWN SOVEREIGN.”

—1 B1.Comm. 366 and 7 Coke, 4b, (Black4) 18 L.Q.Rev. 47. —Wallace v. Harmstad. 44 Pa. 492. —Adams v. People, 1N.Y.173. (Black4)

— = —

Pay the mafia, and the mafia will protect you. It’s the law! Master and servant...

After all, with no ability or capacity to hold as allodial (private) any land, we the subjects (citizenships) have no land to call our own. We can only use in rent and tenancy that of our sovereign masters, and so we are charged for everything we do in their contractually granted names and titles and we must therefore follow their established law of persons (legal status).

The worst part about the big lie is that we have been trained (educated as animals) to believe that we, while acting in a public citizen-ship, actually are at the same time the private “Sovereign People.” Yet another group illusion of that “mass of illiterates” we call the general public; the common people. Goy.

But how could a person be both one of the People as a sovereign and also subject to “the People” (their own) government? Amazingly, this obvious paradox seems to go unchecked and thus unexamined by that “mass of illiterates” who have no idea they are indeed subjects (debt-slaves) in allegiance to a smaller group of People (a specific multitude of People in king-ship) as represented by their State (body) and its state government.

The words have been altered, but their Latin (Roman) meanings have not.

There are two types of citizens in the United States. One is bound in public surety as agent for another’s property (a dummy), and one is a declared part of the “Posterity” of the original, private, sovereign landholders, to which the public entities pledge their allegiance to, usually without realizing they are doing so.

The difference lies simply in the matter-of-fact defining how, where, and why we are born...

To be clear, this is not a new system, but rather more ancient than this author can state in terms of fact. This is the corporatized system of an esoteric (private) agenda long in place and protected under the rose (in private/secretly) by those who know and benefit by its artifice. It is a combination (conspiracy and confederation) of religions and other sacred (cursed) aspects of mathematics such as geometry and astronomy combined with such crafts as astrology and pharmacopeia (witchcraft and poisoning, venom). But in the end, to cut it down to its most essential part, esoterica is simply a design to keep knowledge hidden “in plain sight” so as to keep certain men unawares of the private nature of the minority (elite), not the least of which is the language arts explained within this work.

ESOTERIC - adjective - [Gr. interior, from within.] PRIVATE; an epithet applied to the private instructions and doctrines of Pythagoras; OPPOSED TO EXOTERIC, OR PUBLIC. (Webs1828)

ESOTERY - noun - MYSTERY; SECRECY. [Little used.] (Webs1828)

— = —

We must not allow our minds to wander from Reality, from that Supreme actuality and protection of Jehovah, by placing respect upon these false mysteries of evil men accept for their fictional worth, which has no place in Nature. Their values are always false. We can no longer be fooled into placing any Real mystical or magical connections to these groups, for their only mystery lies in the codes and ciphers they create and then retain those deciphering tools and arts to themselves. But their trickery is always empty and without substance, cheap magic designed to inspire false awe and marked impressions, with the main goal of misleading us all away from our Source, away from our spiritual Self and Oneness with the Reality of Nature. Nothing under God is actually hidden. Nothing is patented. Nothing is organized by status. And the only way to keep a common people (goyim) in their common place and under public status (personhood) in public-mindedness is to design a language structure (as dog-Latin) that is a similitude but never a sameness to its artful source. To cause a general delusion in language comprehension is the only secret holding such esoterica in place, for again, if the slave learns the language of its master then the master loses that mystery that esoterically binds the mind (and thus the body) of the slave. Thus religions and instituted patriotisms are created to promote the fiction of these esoteric (private) practitioners of what underneath is just petty piracy.

And so to recap, from the fictional perspective of any legally created person, place, or thing in and under the United States, the highest “People” as part of “the Sovereignty” as a body politic is considered as a private, non-commercial citizen of one of the several States (without and outside of the United States federal jurisdiction), and this is defined as being one of the posterity of the “People” (bloodline of “We, the People”) of each private State. This means that a man’s permanent domicile and residence are both only in his perspective State (State = People), and not of or within the United States jurisdiction (a district for municeps). A private citizen gives allegiance to the non-commercial constitution of the states united as a compact between those States (Peoples), and is thus privy to such “negative” benefits, privileges, and immunities of that constitution for which public (commercial) citizenships are not. A private citizen is not acting in a commercial, public citizen-ship under the United States, but is in fact one of the sovereignty over the United States and its citizen-ships, which publicly pledge allegiance to these private citizens as the body politic of the United States of America and its flag and seal (Arms), and thus to the People (States united in compact). A private citizen is a non-commercial person and is so recognized by the courts and agencies of the United States in that private status. Thus, the entirety of the public commercial law and Uniform Commercial Code of the United States does not apply, for they are all unconstitutional and cannot be forced upon any man without his doctrinal volunteerism. A private citizen never appears in a commercial capacity in any court, unless he chooses to do so by operating a public commercial entity or corporation in private trust, and then only as the creator of his own false name (not in the name of another/stranger). But a private citizen never loses his consideration and protection with regards to the constitution, nor can he shirk his duties owed to his fellow private citizens because of it.

The other form is a public, commercial citizen-ship (vessel), which describes the majority of persons in subjection and allegiance to the United States and the private “People” as the current posterity (bloodline) that act as its sovereignty, electors, and landholders. The United States citizen-ship is a foreigner in each of the several individual States (People), and so is not considered as one of “We, the People” of each State. A citizen-ship exists only in corruption of blood as a commercial fiction, and therefore cannot claim to be a landholder. Only legitimate heirs of the bloodline posterity can hold land in inheritance. His person’s domicile is only ever in the United States (legal creator’s) district (seizure) and he is always under that United States jurisdiction, though his temporary residence is certainly in and under one of the several States (Peoples) as a foreigner. The man granted a U.S. citizen-ship is not privity (in privacy) to the benefits, privileges, and immunities of the constitution, and so he derives no immunities or privileges from it, as that founding document was only organized for the People (domiciliary) of each State, as for “We, the People” of each private State. A citizenship is bound exclusively by unconstitutional law, as the created law of congress outside of that constitution and by municipal law that as we have seen is anti-christ and anti-scripture. This is the commercial, international law of nations. State governments (political entities) are created by the domiciled sovereign “People” of each state to govern us, the foreign United States “subjects” as commercial, foreign residents, while our legalistic domicile remains only in the United States’ municipal corporation called the District of “New” Columbia. To be clear, the citizenship of the United States pledges allegiance to the sovereignty of People (private citizens in compact) of the several (private) States, which means that citizenships of the United States are not sovereign. The United States is a foreign “state” in its commercial, municipal capacity, and so all persons domiciled in that United States district (seizure) as U.S. citizenships are always conducting commerce in an inter-state (foreign) capacity, and only by permissive legal license in residence. The subservient, corporate state governments of each private State (People) are only in place to govern (control) foreign commercial entities and their agents (the public) in their interstate commercial activity within a licensed, residential privilege. Their executive, de facto government stands only in their own protection from the proletariat, from the slave class of live-stock peopled upon their lands in a modern feudal lordship and fee.

—=—

“To live UNDER the American Constitution is the greatest POLITICAL PRIVILEGE that was ever accorded to the HUMAN RACE.”

—Calvin Coolidge, 30th President of the United States (1923–1929)

—=—

This quote is perhaps the most revealing false truth ever spoken by a president of that United States municipal corporation, if only we can decipher the underpinnings of the language used. Most slaves would cheer after hearing this quote with the proud ignorance of patriotic fervor, believing themselves to be anything but the debt-slaves they are.

But the “human race” is not a reference to the sovereign People of each State. Mr. Coolidge is letting his governed slaves know that the United States citizen-ship-slave-status is merely a political (artificial) privilege (not a natural right), as given only to the lowest of fictional life-forms (animals) that pledge allegiance to himself and the rest of his bloodline “People” in compact as the private States united to protect each other from us and other enemies, foreign and domestic. In short, the president is addressing the plebes of the nation, the goyim who’s domicile allows them the franchise of freedom under contract and only civilly upon good behavior in probation. This sycophant is not to be celebrated as anything but the corporate CEO of a commercial company holding an enslaved, totally degraded people. But apparently we have the best slave colony of them all! Be proud!!!

In defining what the District of Columbia is, as the principal seat for all agents in citizenship and allegiance to it, we can read:

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA - A territory situated on the Potomac river, and being the SEAT OF GOVERNMENT of the United States. It was originally ten miles square, and was composed of portions of Maryland and Virginia ceded by those states to the United States; but in 1846 the tract coming from Virginia was retroceded. LEGALLY IT IS NEITHER A STATE NOR A TERRITORY, BUT IS MADE SUBJECT, BY THE CONSTITUTION, TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF CONGRESS. (Black2)

—=—

If the District is under congress, which means that congress is sovereign over the District, then what in God's name makes you think you are a sovereign entity when your domicile is in the District (seizure) and when your person is a legal creation of that District?

One should pay attention to how and what one pledges their allegiance to, for the pledge itself tells us that we are obviously not the sovereign to which we pledge our allegiance to:

The Oath of Allegiance to the United States: the following is the text of the Oath of Allegiance:

I hereby declare, ON OATH, that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, STATE, OR SOVEREIGNTY, of whom or which I have heretofore been a subject or citizen; that I will SUPPORT AND DEFEND THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA against all enemies, foreign and domestic; THAT I WILL BEAR TRUE FAITH AND ALLEGIANCE TO THE SAME; that I will BEAR ARMS ON BEHALF OF THE UNITED STATES when required by the law; that I will perform noncombatant service in the Armed Forces of the United States when required by the law; THAT I WILL PERFORM WORK OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE under civilian direction when required by the law; and that I TAKE THIS OBLIGATION FREELY, WITHOUT ANY MENTAL RESERVATION OR PURPOSE OF EVASION; so help me God."

—The 'Oath of Allegiance,' 8 C.F.R. (Code of Federal Regulations) Part 337 (2008)

— = —

Seriously, who in God's name (literally) would take this oath? Who but the most unknowledgeable of fools would voluntarily subject themselves to an executive military force such as this? Who, that is, that is compos mentis? Obviously it is a voluntary oath, done without coercion or "mental reservation" and only in the offering of some benefit, some false sense of protection in exchange for subjection. In other words, they are selling status and benefits in exchange for us pledging our very lives to protect it as our slave-master! Is anybody reading these things???

Reading between the lines here, we are literally agreeing to do whatever the legal law requires against our own moral code. We will kill for the United States when the "law" requires us to do so. This is insanity. But most important to note here is that this is a voluntary (free from force) pledge and oath to the sovereignty, its established de facto governments, and its legal laws. It is a pledge to fight, die, and to be used (employed) forcibly for work (servitude) on behalf of the sovereignty, as represented by its commercial government and flag (Arms), whenever the law requires it. Whenever the fiction requires it. This is slavery, represented in a flattering, patriotic formality, and garnered by voluntary consent through a legally binding pledge. The military draft, which forces young boys (infants) to become mercenary killers in adultery (infantry), is merely slavery reworded as public "selective" service. It is slavery because the consequences of denying this obligation of citizenship and law is to be forcibly placed into incarceration once this oath is taken. But firstly this is based on voluntary slavery because the agreement to serve in the military and be drafted was agreed to before the service would happen, as was the consequences of reneging on that agreement and oath. No moral objection will be accepted.

But most importantly, this oath reads as a renouncement of faith to all other sovereignties, including to God (Jehovah) and to any other law or state, including all of the several, individual States in the union!!! It is literally a willing pledge to abandon our blood-rights by denying we are a part of any other sovereign People. Therefore, no private citizen would ever take this oath. It is only for plebs; for publicly minded citizen-ships of the United States. It is the cost of volunteerism; of prostitution to the constitution as naturalized citizen-ships.

This non-religious faith in the form of a sacred (cursed) oath is further enforced and engrained into the public-mindedness of men and especially their children within public schools, where the pledge of allegiance is required to be chanted daily. Without comprehension of our words, we foolishly support our own oath of fealty to that corrupt symbol of the sovereignty above us:

“I pledge allegiance, to the FLAG, of the United States of America, and to the REPUBLIC, for which IT stands...”

— = —

If we are pledging allegiance to the Republic, then we are not part of any Republic, only its servants in fealty and ligeance. The republic spoken of is whatever State (People) the oath is being taken in. For the United States district itself is anything but a republic.

Do not the scriptures teach never to take false idols or pledge oath in adultery? Is the flag not an idol? It is certainly an artificial thing, a creation of man representing an artificial person (municipal corporation) created by man, and it certainly adheres to nothing of God’s Law of Nature by its very own law. So, is it not a graven image?

Why in God’s name (literally) would you pledge an oath to a piece of cloth? Does that really make any sense to you at all?

Unless... Could it be that the word flag carries with it a meaning that is in fact more than what meets the eye?

The commercial (war) flag of the United States, as will be discussed later in this work, signifies the international jurisdiction of the law of nations (law of the sea) outside of the nations own constitutional purview; placing its patrons within an interstate commercial enterprise for which we all are the faith and credit pledged. Even as the 14th Amendment states that U.S. citizen-ships are citizens of both the United States in domicile and of their individual states in residence, this pledge of allegiance verifies that citizenships pledge themselves to the National Flag and to the People of each individual republic (State) for which the union’s municipal corporation stands in subjection. Logically, a man never need pledge his own allegiance to himself (as one of the People), for a king (sovereign) has no law above himself but that of God’s Law, if he so chooses to follow that path. But a man of God would certainly not enslave all other men. If the common, public class of peopled (live-stocked) persons in citizenship were indeed also the sovereign class of private citizens, then not only would almost all public and commercial governmental functions be unnecessary, there would be no point in establishing any sovereignty at all; for no man would fall under the title of this sovereignty that could be controlled by any legal godhead as a subject. Sovereignty is pointless without subjects. If the entirety of the men acting in the United States of America were sovereign (private), then no one would be a sovereign, for a sovereign must have subjects beneath him to be legally considered as a sovereign entity. What good is a kingship with no subjects? Nations would be pointless. As we have discussed, slavery by any other name, be it violently enforced or voluntarily consented to and pledged in fealty and citizenship, is still under any other name just slavery.

To put this into clear terms, man should only hold one thing as sovereign, which is only God and the Law of God, making man a subject only to God and God’s Law. Only by personifying Jehovah through a false “Christ” head as a perpetual and transferable legal and ecclesiastical corporation and mixed secular and artificially spiritual office with ecclesiastical jurisdiction can man declare himself as a sovereign in God’s empty “name.” Without this trickery and blasphemy of God’s name, no man could claim such sovereignty over other men, for it is not of the Natural Design. And only by tricking and misinforming us all into leading a non-spiritual, public life in a dead pledge to these false gods can they also claim that they are spiritually superior over us and therefore have the living, God-given right to rule over the dead. This is the foundation of man’s law. Complete and total corruption.

It is important to note here that all presidents of the United States are direct blood kin and cousins to George Washington and to the kings of England. They are each one of the posterity of the original constituters, and only one of the bloodline of the original and corrupt People (Posterity) will ever be allowed to become president (C.E.O) over this sovereign government corporation. The president is the keeper of the secrets of the State, and so appoints and confirms the Secretaries (secret-keepers) of each Executive Cabinet Agency (as Secretaries of State, Commerce, Treasury, Justice, War [as Peace], etc.). Blood right equates to the right of inheritance.

While this may be difficult to accept for most publicly-minded persons reading this, whom actually believe in the illusion of the American dream, a simple genealogy search will verify this as a true statement. In fact, every nation in the world is set up the same way, Israel being the most obvious with its specific blood-right of return. You will have a choice at the next election to vote popularly (as part of the lowest class of the public population of goy considered as one body politic, one voice, e pluribus unum) for one of two blood cousins of the Kings of Europe and of George Washington (would be king of America) for president, just as it always has been, for we the indebted plebs in our servile personage and standing in a corruption of blood cannot become president. The constitution clandestinely states this. I'll spend no more time on this easily found genealogical fact. But rest assured that the man posing as Barack Obama and acting as president of the United States is not considered as the first "black" president of the United States, but instead only as one of the usual descendants of the bloodline of "white" men through his mother's family genealogy, which is of a direct line to that "royal" blood of the constituted posterity. He would otherwise simply not be president.

We must not be fooled by the complexion of this man in office, for he is certainly not the first "black" president. There will never be a Truly black president of pure "black" or "negroid" blood. This word black is a word of corruption, not a word of mere color. It signifies a tainted blood by those who consider themselves to be of pure blood for political purposes. And here lies the problem, for when we judge the outward appearance of a man we fail to realize the condition of his blood by law. Even the most white in color man can certainly not qualify to have pure blood in fable. And so we must know that, according to statute, Barack Obama is indeed a "white person" by law due to his proclaimed and recorded fabled genealogy.

So then, let's take a quick look at Obama's pedigree, shall we? Let's look through his skin and see what really qualifies him to be president and overseer of the bloodline's principal, commercial government and its agencies.

The popular genealogy site geni.com reports the following information on the heraldry of president Obama (A.K.A.):

President "Barack Obama," a false name, is:

William the Conqueror's 22nd great grandson

Henry V, King of England's 1st cousin 19 times removed Henry VIII, King of England's 1st cousin 16 times removed Anne Boleyn, Queen of England's 1st cousin 15 times removed Mary I, Queen of Scots's 3rd cousin 14 times removed President James Madison's 3rd cousin 8 times removed Abraham Lincoln's 7th cousin 7 times removed President Thomas Jefferson's 10th cousin 6 times removed President John Tyler's 10th cousin five times removed Elvis Presley's 9th cousin once removed Sarah Palin's 10th cousin
Joseph Smith Jr.'s (Mormon Founder's) 10th cousin 6 times removed —Excerpt from geni.com article entitled: “President Obama’s Cousins: Elvis, Buffett, Palin, and... You?”

—=—

Still think he’s just a negro? Still believe the legal nonsense that he’s the first black guy in the Whitehouse perhaps?
A legally non-white person? Guess again:

WHITE PERSONS - As used in Rev. St. U.S. sect. 2169 (Naturalization Act March 26, 1790, c. 3, 1 Stat. 103, as amended by Act Feb. 18, 1875, c. 80, sect. 1, 18 Stat. 318 [8 U.S.C.A. 5 703]), members of the white or Caucasian race, as distinct from the black, red, yellow, and brown races. Whether applicant for United States citizenship is a "white person" eligible for citizenship under statute enumerating classes of people eligible therefor DEPENDS, NOT UPON ETHNOLOGICAL CLASSIFICATION OF GROUP TO WHICH HE BELONGS, but upon whether members of such group WITH CHARACTERISTICS EXISTING IN 1790 when statute was first enacted were intended by Congress TO BE CLASSIFIED AS WHITE PERSONS. And statute uses the words "white persons" as meaning primarily the European peoples who constituted the class from which virtually all of immigration to United States has come and who readily become assimilated into our civilization... In the legislation of the slave period, PERSONS WITHOUT ADMIXTURE OF COLORED BLOOD, WHATEVER THE ACTUAL COMPLEXION MIGHT BE. See, also, White Race. In South Africa, persons of European descent. (Black4)

WHITE PERSONS - The acts of congress which authorize the naturalization of aliens, confine the description of such aliens to free white persons. 2. This of course excludes the African race WHEN PURE, BUT IT IS NOT EASY TO SAY WHAT SHADE OF COLOR OR MIXTURE OF BLOOD WILL MAKE A WHITE PERSON. 3. The constitution of Pennsylvania, as amended, confines the right of citizenship to free white persons; and these words, white persons, or similar words, are used in most of the constitutions of the southern states, in describing the electors. (Bouv1856)

WHITE - “White person,” as used in the naturalization laws, means a person of the Caucasian' race, and does not therefore include a Mongolian. BUT DOES INCLUDE ONE NEARER WHITE THAN BLACK OR RED. In the legislation of the slave period, referred to A PERSON WITHOUT ADMIXTURE OF COLORED BLOOD, WHATEVER THE ACTUAL COMPLEXION MIGHT BE. See Citizen; Color, Mulatto. (WCA1889)

WHITE - A Mongolian is not a "white person," within the meaning of the term as used in the naturalization laws of the United States; the term applies only to persons of the CAUCASIAN RACE. (Black1)

RACE - A TRIBE, PEOPLE, OR NATION, belonging or supposed to belong TO THE SAME STOCK OR LINEAGE. "Race, color, OR PREVIOUS CONDITION OF SERVITUDE."

MONGREL - adjective - [See Mingle.] OF A MIXED BREED; of different kinds. - noun - An animal of a mixed breed. (Webs1828)

MINGLE - verb transitive - 1. To mix; to blend; TO UNITE IN ONE BODY; as, to mingle liquors of different kinds. 2. To mix or blend WITHOUT ORDER OR PROMISCUOUSLY. There was fire mingled with hail. Exodus 9:24. 3. To compound; TO UNITE IN A MASS, as solid substances; as, to mingle flour, sugar and eggs in cookery. 4. TO JOIN IN MUTUAL INTERCOURSE OR IN SOCIETY. The holy seed have mingled themselves with the people of those lands. Ezra 9:2. Psalms 106:35. 5. TO CONTAMINATE; TO RENDER IMPURE; TO DEBASE BY MIXTURE. The best of us appear contented with a mingled imperfect virtue. 6. TO CONFUSE. There mingle broils. - verb intransitive - To be mixed; TO BE UNITED

WITH. She, when she saw her sister nymphs, suppressed. Her rising fears, and mingled with the rest. - noun -
Mixture; medley; PROMISCUOUS MASS. [Not used.] (Webs1828)

—=—

Regardless of complexion...

Get this through your heads. It's the bloodline, the heraldic family Arms and how we bear them, not the color of our skin!

The lowest and most devious, non-scriptural, commercial form of the maxims of law warns us, as if the devil himself wrote it as so, that:

—=—

“A thing adjudged makes what was white, black; what was black, white; what was crooked straight; what was straight, crooked.”

Res judicata facit ex albo nigrum, ex nigro album, ex curvo rectum, ex recto curvum.

—=—

“A thing adjudged must be taken for TRUTH.”

Res judicata pro veritate accipitur.

—=—

So what is truth in the world of an anything-goes legal fiction?

Barack Obama appears (prima facie) to be black, and that is what our rulers wish us to believe. But the law declares his bloodline as being that of a “white person.” We must never judge the outward appearance of anything, except to distinguish what is self-evident and self-existent compared to what is artifice, to what is no thing at all in God's Nature. “White persons” of course, don't Exist in Nature, only in a legal art form without substance. These are just words, and words do not create the man. Only the false, fictional person of man is a “white person” in law.

We can never trust our senses when fiction rules over our Law. What is Real is what is moral and unblemished by legal marks, numbers (per capita) and names. Our eyes cannot see and our ears cannot hear the meanings of words of art. By taking this false oath to the artificial person that is the corporate United States, we are agreeing to these types of corrupting foundational principles (maxims) of law, where anything can be colored, tainted, or twisted into anything else and then officially confirmed, ratified, and legally called as the “truth,” for that which is being considered and altered is simply not Real. In the fiction, truth is a noun, an empty name with no referential to Nature. After all, the laws of the cartoon world are without bounds, and anything can happen in fiction! I cannot stress this fact enough, for to accept a place (juris-diction) in such a corrupt city upon a hill is to assent to the worst potentiality of tyranny.

While this all may be surprising due to its somewhat private mystery as kept amongst those several People of the conspiracy (confederacy), it is none the less par for the presidential course. All presidents are blood relations to each other, as are all kings, prime ministers, and popes. Only a fool, or a nation of publicly educated fools, could possibly believe otherwise. The records are out there for the reader to verify, but only for those who actually wish to face Reality. Many don't.

Welcome to America! Rome on steroids.

In anthropology, there are only three older classifications of man, all of which are considered as homo sapient beings in their purely animal form. These include:

Caucasian races (Aryans, Hamites, Semites)

Mongolian races (northern Mongolian, Chinese and Indo-Chinese, Japanese and Korean, Tibetan, Malayan, Polynesian, Maori, Micronesian, Eskimo, American Indian)

Negroid races (African, Hottentots, Melanesians/Papua, "Negrito," Australian Aborigine, Dravidians, Sinhalese)

— = —

This is merely a scientific outlook and classification, having nothing to do with politics in and of itself. It is not a judgement, it is a self-evident Truth. But the words themselves may certainly be used in judgement by unscrupulous men, namely men like the "founding fathers" we so mistakingly cherish as moral men.

However, these group classes have certainly been used to distinguish in private law between the races, and specifically to exclude one or both from the other class and genius for their own "posterity." Again, one is Reality and one is legal fiction, as fabled genealogy, the blood right of kings (sovereign Peoples). But in the legal, fabled genealogical setting, we must remember that only the blood is considered, not merely the vulgar, outward characteristics of skin-color. This is the difference between institutionalized fiction and True science, and because of the fiction the True science is also demonized as "racist," which of course is patently ridiculous; as ridiculous as blaming the Bible for the actions of the false church. But from these group names we may certainly see where such exclusionary racism and the terms surrounding it stems from. For our purposes though only the caucasoid race, which includes Semites and is not dependent upon skin color alone, is our only concern as to where the bloodline of Barack Obama stands. His mother is of course caucasian and Jewish ("semitic"), coming from the Dunham clan of private, land-holding "white persons," or so we are told in that fabled tree of Arms.

A citizen-ship is a commercial person, a vessel in receivership by man to sail on the virtual sea of interstate commerce under the international law merchant in protection from the foreign laws of the individual States (bloodline People). It has nothing to do with blood except that it signifies a lack of inheritable blood. Federal law trumps state law only because of the higher authority of federal citizenship due to domicile, just as the laws of other foreign nations are considered as higher when a citizen of another country breaks a foreign law (in diplomatic immunity). The offending citizen is generally extradited back to his correct jurisdiction, or he is held as a political prisoner. Ironically, the laws of a foreign nation only apply to the U.S. citizen-ship by nature of that commercial relation. Without this legal persona, the foreign nation would deal with the man according to its own moral or amoral law and legal code. This slavery and the privilege of commercial, international travel is mistaken to be a good thing by citizenships, for it is the security of protection, and thus in Reality is only subjection to tyranny. It is only the modern version of travel by air and boat that creates this apparent need for protection, for a private man seldom need leave his own perfect title to land (his own sovereign castle). The enticement of world travel, like love is to marriage, is merely an inducement to contract. Trickery. No reasonable man would give up liberty in his own land just to go see the Wall of China for a day with security and insurance. Travel is nothing more than a commercial inducement.

Citizenship, of course, as a form of personhood, is a crime against Nature. It is a state of artificial, legal existence bound to international admiralty law, the human trafficking laws of that worldwide system of mammon under an international bloodline of families. A virtual (artificial) ship only sails on virtual (artificial) water, and never touches the physical land (soil) or real liquid.

CITIZEN - noun - 1. The native of a city, or an inhabitant who enjoys the freedom and privileges OF THE CITY IN WHICH HE RESIDES; the freeman of a city, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM A FOREIGNER, or one not entitled to its FRANCHISES... (Webs1828)

CITIZENSHIP - noun - The state of being VESTED with the rights and privileges OF A CITIZEN. (Webs1828)

SHIP - As a termination, denotes STATE OR OFFICE; as in lordship. [See Shape.] - noun - [Latin scapha; from the root of shape.] In a general sense, a VESSEL or building of a peculiar structure, ADAPTED TO NAVIGATION, or floating on water by means of sails... Ships are of various sizes and are for various uses; most of them however fall under the denomination of ships of war and merchant's ships. - verb transitive - 1. TO PUT ON board of a ship or vessel OF ANY KIND; as, to ship goods at Liverpool for New York. 2. To transport in a ship; TO CONVEY BY WATER. The sun shall no sooner the mountains touch, But we will ship him hence. Shak. 3. To RECEIVE into a ship or vessel; as, to ship at sea. To ship the oars, to place them in the rowlocks. To ship off, to send away by water; as, to ship off convicts. (Webs1828)

FOREIGN - Belonging to another nation or country; BELONGING OR ATTACHED TO ANOTHER JURISDICTION; made, done, or RENDERED in another state or jurisdiction; SUBJECT to another jurisdiction; OPERATING or SOLVABLE in another territory; extrinsic; outside; extraordinary. NONRESIDENT. (Black2)

FOREIGNER - noun - for'aner. A PERSON BORN IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY, or without the country or jurisdiction of which one SPEAKS. A Spaniard is a foreigner in France and England. All men not born in the United States are to them foreigners, and they are aliens till naturalized. A NATURALIZED PERSON IS A CITIZEN; BUT WE STILL CALL HIM A FOREIGNER BY BIRTH. (Webs1828)

FOREIGNER - In old English law, this term, when used with reference to a particular city, designated any person who was not an inhabitant of that city. According to later usage, it denotes a person who is not a citizen or subject of the state or country of which mention is made, OR ANY ONE OWING ALLEGIANCE TO A FOREIGN STATE OR SOVEREIGN. (Black4)

FOREIGN COURTS - The courts of a foreign state or nation. In the United States, this term is frequently applied to THE COURTS OF ONE OF THE STATES when their judgments or records are introduced in the courts of another. (Black4)

FOREIGN LAWS - The laws of a foreign country, OR OF A SISTER STATE. Foreign laws are often the suggesting occasions of changes in, or additions to, our own laws, and in that respect are called "jus receptum." (Black4)

FOREIGN TRADE - Commercial interchange of commodities from different countries; export and import trade. (Black4)

MARIGENOUS - adjective - [Latin mare, THE SEA, and gigno, to produce.] PRODUCED IN OR BY THE SEA. (Webs1828)

AMERICANIZE - verb transitive - To RENDER American; to NATURALIZE in America. (Webs1828)

—=—

Legal marriage is always a commercial sea contract. Remember that! And this includes the marriage of the christian-name and surname to create the strawman.

A public United States person represents a man standing in receivership of that benefit that is bound in surety by the laws of the use of that public person. By operating that United States (Washington D.C.) person in any of the private States of the People and under their commercial state and municipal governments, all trade is foreign in nature, for domiciled U.S. citizenships are foreigners in whatever state they merely temporarily reside in. The citizenship is under United States law, which trumps any state law opposed to it, though still being bound by both forms of commercial law. The state governments have normalized and agreed to instate federal law in their own legal governments, but only unto those foreign citizenships of the United States. The private People are not in any way bound under the public law of that District, for their person (status) is not rendered from it (from Caesar). The private People of each State are not under that public law of each of their own created governments, which are created only to govern the commercial transactions of foreigners. This is why, though “marijuana” may be legal in one of the states, a public (federal) U.S. citizen will still be considered as committing a federal offense by possessing it. And this is why the individual private state government laws don’t protect the public user standing in a U.S. citizen-ship. The law of the principal overrules the law of the third party in agency. Quite obviously, the U.S. law controls a U.S. person, for it is the creator of that legal status. After all, the use of United States’ notes in trade for marijuana would certainly be against the law of the creator of that currency, and a federal public person would always be considered as acting in interstate commerce under any transaction involving currency created by the United States. This is the price of usury. The crime is not medicinal or recreational “use” of a plant, the crime is acquiring of a legalized “drug” with the use of patented money without license from the creator of that currency. Nothing of Nature is unlawful. Only manmade things are regulated as such. And unfortunately, as U.S. citizen-ships, the very names (nouns) legally placed upon all things in Nature are the legal currency of words. We may only use the words in person with permission, which means that a person may only use Nature and worship Jehovah with license. The man is bound and gagged from his God by that legal persona, for his own surname in admixture and surety under letters patent belongs to the state as well.

The addiction to money is infinitely more powerful than to any drug or plant (hint: canibus is not a drug, it’s a plant. Only its legal name is illegal, and only for public citizenships, not private men).

A man who receives a vessel is in receivership, and becomes the voluntarist master of that vessel in agency.

RECEIVE - To take into possession and control; accept custody of. (Black4)

RECEIVER - noun - 1. One who takes or receives in ANY manner. 2. An officer appointed to receive public money; a treasurer. 3. One who takes stolen goods from a thief, knowing them to be stolen, AND INCURS THE GUILT OF PARTAKING IN THE CRIME. 4. A VESSEL for receiving and containing the product of distillation. 5. The vessel of an air pump, for containing the thing on which an experiment is to be made. 6. ONE WHO PARTAKES OF THE SACRAMENT. (Webs1828)

SACRAMENT - noun - [Latin sacramentum, AN OATH, from sacer, sacred.] 1. Among ancient christian writers, A MYSTERY. [Not in use.] 2. AN OATH; A CEREMONY PRODUCING AN OBLIGATION; but not used in this general sense. 3. In present usage, an outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual grace; or more particularly, a solemn religious ceremony enjoined by Christ, THE HEAD OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, to be observed by his followers, BY WHICH THEIR SPECIAL RELATION TO HIM IS

CREATED, or their OBLIGATIONS to him renewed and RATIFIED. Thus BAPTISM IS CALLED A SACRAMENT for by it PERSONS are separated from the world, brought into Christ's visible church, and LAID under particular obligations to obey his precepts. The eucharist or communion of the Lord's supper, is also a sacrament for by COMMEMORATING THE DEATH and dying love of Christ, christians avow their special relation to him, and renew their obligations to be faithful to their divine Master. When we use sacrament without any qualifying word, we mean by it: 4. The eucharist or Lord's supper. - verb transitive - TO BIND BY AN OATH. (Webs1828)

EUCHARIST - noun - [Gr. a giving of thanks; well, favor.] 1. The sacrament of the Lord's supper; the solemn act or ceremony of COMMEMORATING THE DEATH of our Redeemer, in the use of bread and wine, as emblems of his flesh and blood, accompanied with appropriate prayers and hymns. 2. The act of giving thanks. (Webs1828)

— = —

Read the above definition carefully. This is a ceremony of pomp and circumstance that has nothing to do with the scriptures, only with that of the doctrines and traditions of the corporate church. For this is the sacrament of the church and oath to its doctrines, not to God.

— = —

“Article XXIX: Of the Wicked which do not eat the Body of Christ in the use of the Lord's Supper:”

“The Wicked, and such as be void of a lively faith, although they do carnally and visibly press with their teeth (as Saint Augustine saith) the Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ, YET IN NO WISE ARE THEY PARTAKERS OF CHRIST: but rather, TO THEIR CONDEMNATION, do eat and drink the SIGN or Sacrament of so great a thing.”

—Article 29 of the “39 Articles of Religion (Faith)” of the Church of England, 1563

— = —

This simulation of the Lord’s Supper, called as communion, is the sacrament (curse) of the corporate office of the pope, not a spiritual vow to Jehovah. This is the receiving of artifice (of a processed artificial food substance in wafer form combined with a sip of homogenized, pasteurized, very likely irradiated “grape juice” processed with corn syrup), and is a mockery of the True meaning of christ’s blood offering to all of us from this legally declared spiritual jurisdiction of the Holy Roman Empire. It is, of course, the worship of symbolism and simulation instead of the Real thing. An oath is not a promise, and is nothing if not a legally binding contractual relationship under legal sanction, whereas a private promise or vow to God is the only Truth of Faith. Any temporal sacrament is only an oath (noun) to a corporation and its head, as a ceremony of allegiance and fealty to the personified, fictional representation and false legal title of the “vicar of christ” appointed by other men, not a promise (verb) to Jehovah. This is how men are tricked into taking God’s name (as Jehovah) in vain, by instead taking the worldly name of the antichrist (vicar of God and christ) as christ’s replacement in the temporal realm. Spirituality dies the second any oath (sacrament) is taken, for a promise to a fictional person, place, or thing (noun) is always a cursed transaction in the fiction and commerce of mammon. An oath to Jehovah is worthless to Jehovah, for man is already the property of God’s Creation and no false persona is needed. Spirituality lives only in the promises (vows) made without oath and legal contract, which are those taken privately and only to Jehovah through the actions of christ's parabolic example and with conscious awareness and intent. One cannot take an oath or make promise to God while in pursuit of mammon, and one cannot pray to God to obtain the currency of mammon with any legitimacy. For this is not of the realm of the Reality and Nature of God. Spirituality relies solely on keeping the promise to follow God's Law over all others, which necessarily means never respecting that law of any man-made, institutionalized church. There can be no middleman between man and his Creator, as the scriptures instruct.

But try telling that to the pope and queen! Off with your head!!!

The churches and states of men stand and can only ever stand in offense against christ's teachings, seeking to sever man's connection with his own True Nature of Source, and seeking to draw the worship and energy of God's Nature into the transmuted authority of those institutional fictions.

We are either in receipt of God's grace or we are standing in the disgrace of legal, false idols.

RECEIVER - An indifferent PERSON BETWEEN THE PARTIES TO A CAUSE, appointed by the court to receive and preserve the property or fund in litigation, and receive its rents, ISSUES, and profits, AND APPLY OR DISPOSE OF THEM AT THE DIRECTION OF THE COURT when it does not seem reasonable that either party should hold them. Or where a party is incompetent to do so, as in the case of an INFANT. The remedy of the appointment of a receiver is one of the very oldest in the court of chancery, and is founded on the inadequacy of the remedy to be obtained in the court of ordinary jurisdiction. A fiduciary of the court, appointed as an incident to other proceedings wherein certain ultimate relief is prayed. He is a trustee or ministerial officer representing court, and all parties in interest in litigation, and property or fund intrusted to him. See also... Receivership. ONE WHO RECEIVES MONEY TO THE USE OF ANOTHER to render an account. In criminal law. ONE WHO RECEIVES STOLEN GOODS FROM THIEVES, AND CONCEALS THEM. THIS WAS ALWAYS THE PREVALENT SENSE OF THE WORD IN THE COMMON AS WELL AS THE CIVIL LAW. (Black4)

RECEIVERSHIP - An extraordinary remedy of an ancillary character; chief reason for its allowance being TO HUSBAND PROPERTY in litigation for benefit OF PERSON who may ultimately be found entitled thereto. See, also, Receiver. (Black4)

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS - The short name usually given to the offense of receiving any property with the knowledge that it has been feloniously, or unlawfully stolen, taken, extorted, OBTAINED, embezzled, or disposed of. (Black4)

RECEIVER'S CERTIFICATE - A non-negotiable EVIDENCE OF DEBT, or debenture, issued by authority of a court of chancery, as a first lien upon the property of a debtor corporation in the hands of a receiver. (Black4)

RECEIPT - Written acknowledgment of the receipt of money, or a thing of value, without containing any affirmative obligation upon either party to it; A MERE ADMISSION OF A FACT, IN WRITING. And being a mere acknowledgment of payment, is subject to parol explanation or contradiction. Act of RECEIVING; also, the fact of receiving or BEING RECEIVED; that which is received; that which COMES IN, in distinction from what is expended, paid out, sent away, and the like. (Black4)

DEBENTURE - noun - [Fr. from Latin debeo, to owe.] 1. A writing ACKNOWLEDGING A DEBT; a writing or CERTIFICATE SIGNED BY A PUBLIC OFFICER, AS EVIDENCE OF A DEBT DUE TO SOME PERSON. This paper, given by an officer of the customs, entitles a merchant exporting goods, to the receipt of a bounty, or a drawback of duties. When issued by a treasurer, it entitles the holder to a sum of money from the state. 2. In the customs, a certificate of drawback; a writing which states that a person is entitled to a certain sum from the government, on the exportation of specified goods, the duties on which had been paid. (Webs1828)

— = —

A man in citizenship is the agent in receivership and surety of United States property, the legal person, as the act of conducting one's actions in strawman form. The birth certificate is the receipt of that thing of value, as an admission in discovery and disclosure of fact regarding the creation of a legal entity (natural person) in infancy. This is evidence of debt and obligation to the United States, the first alienation and fall of man into legal citizenship (sacrament) with the United States through its district (seizure). To be clear, it has no affirmative obligation upon an infant until, when attaining adulthood, the infant continues to use the benefits and status of that legal personhood (mark, name, and number) under allegiance to the United States with voluntary consent (action in adultery). This is a confirmation if that which is voidable into something which is ratified as unavoidable. The man generally has no idea what he is doing, acting only in the custom he is brought forth in by his parents and extremely limited public education, and so this state of legal existence seems perfectly normal to us by the time we are able to avoid it by voiding it through quitting (quitclaim). Ignorance is always key to enslavement.

But can a ship really sail on anything but real water? We must of course remember that most legal terms are figurative, metaphorical, and downright lies.

For instance, the American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, Fifth Edition, defines water as:

WATER - a. The valuation of the assets of a business firm beyond their real value. b. Stock issued in excess of paid-in capital... b. A level of excellence... (from thesaurus) - 1. To lessen the strength of by or as if by admixture. Also used with (water) down.

WATERING - To increase (the number of shares of stock) without increasing the value of the assets represented.

UNDER WATER - 1. Being or holding an asset that is worth less than its purchase price or the debt owed on it. 2. Not making enough money to meet financial obligations.

— = —

Collins English Dictionary, Complete and Unabridged (2003), states that water is (figuratively):

WATER - 12. (Banking & Finance) a. Capital stock issued without a corresponding increase in paid-up capital, so that the book value of the company's capital is not fully represented by assets or earning power. b. The fictitious or unrealistic asset entries that reflect such inflated book value of capital.

HOLD WATER - 15. To prove credible, logical, or consistent: the alibi did not hold water.

— = —

Random House Kernerman Webster's College Dictionary (2010) states:

WATER - 11. Fictitious assets or the inflated values given to the stock of a corporation. 21. To discharge... 23. Of or pertaining to water in any way... 30. RESIDING BY OR IN, OR RULING OVER, water: water people; water deities.

HOLD WATER - 2. Hold water, to be able to be substantiated or defended...

LIKE WATER - Freely; abundantly; lavishly...

— = —

We use these metaphoric terms all of the time without pausing to consider what we are saying. It has become as second nature to us. This is a bad thing, of course, for we are allowing fiction to justify and excuse our course of action. We are nicknaming our sins with more acceptable terms of art. We are not living in Reality.

Finally, we can follow the trail of this virtual water jurisdiction so as to find a great flood upon the entirety of all the land; the great sea of commerce over which the spiritually living Jesus christ was able to walk upon without becoming legally wet (wed) in any legal commercial capacity, for the spiritual man contains no legal capacity or person-hood for engagement upon that great sea of commerce:

FLOOD - noun - flud. 1. A great flow of water; a body of moving water; particularly, a body of water, rising, swelling and OVERFLOWING LAND NOT USUALLY COVERED WITH WATER... 2. THE FLOOD BY WAY OF EMINENCE, THE DELUGE; THE GREAT BODY OF WATER WHICH INUNDATED THE EARTH IN THE DAYS OF NOAH. Before the flood men live to a great age. 3. A river; a sense chiefly POETICAL... 5. A great quantity; an inundation; an overflowing; abundance; superabundance; AS A FLOOD OF BANK NOTES; A FLOOD OF PAPER CURRENCY. 6. A great body or stream of any fluid substance; as a flood of light; a flood of lava. Hence, FIGURATIVELY, A FLOOD OF VICE. 7. Menstrual discharge. - verb transitive - To overflow; to inundate; to deluge; as, to flood a meadow. (Webs1828)

WATER - As designating A COMMODITY OR A SUBJECT OF OWNERSHIP, this term has the same meaning in law as in common speech; but in another sense, and especially in the plural, it may designate a body of water, such as a river, a lake, or an ocean, or an aggregate of such bodies of water, as in the phrases "FOREIGN WATERS," "WATERS OF THE UNITED STATES," and the like. WATER IS NEITHER LAND NOR TENEMENT NOR SUSCEPTIBLE OF ABSOLUTE OWNERSHIP. It is A MOVABLE THING and must of necessity continue COMMON BY THE LAW OF NATURE. It admits only of A TRANSIENT USUFRUCTUARY PROPERTY, and if it escapes for a moment the right to it is gone forever, THE QUALIFIED OWNER HAVING NO LEGAL POWER OF RECLAMATION. It is not capable of being sued for by the name of "water," nor by a calculation of its cubical or superficial measure; but the suit must be brought for THE LAND which lies at the bottom COVERED WITH WATER. As WATER IS NOT LAND, NEITHER IS IT A TENEMENT, BECAUSE IT IS NOT OF A PERMANENT NATURE, NOR THE SUBJECT OF ABSOLUTE PROPERTY. It is not in any possible sense real estate, and hence is not embraced in a covenant of general warranty. (Black2)

WARRANTY - noun - 1. In law, a promise or covenant by deed, made by the BARGAINER for himself and his heirs, to warrant or SECURE THE BARGAINEE AND HIS HEIRS AGAINST ALL MEN in the enjoyment of an estate or other thing granted. Such warranty passes from the seller to the buyer, from the feoffor to the feoffee, and from the releaser to the releasee. Warranty is real, when annexed to lands and tenements granted in fee or for life, etc. And is in deed or in law; and personal, when it respects goods sold or their quality. In common recoveries, A FICTITIOUS PERSON IS CALLED TO WARRANTY. In the sale of goods or personal property, the seller warrants the title; the warranty is express or implied. If a man sells goods which are not his own, or which he has no right to sell, the purchaser may have satisfaction for the injury. And if the seller expressly warrants the goods to be sound and not defective, and they prove to be otherwise, he must indemnify the purchaser; of the law implies A CONTRACT IN THE WARRANTY TO MAKE GOOD ANY DEFECT. But the warranty must be at the time of sale, and not afterwards. 2. Authority; justificatory mandate or precept. If they disobey any precept, THAT IS NO EXCUSE TO US, nor gives us any warranty to disobey likewise. [In this sense, warrant is now used.] 3. SECURITY. The stamp was a warranty of the public. - verb transitive - To warrant; TO GUARANTY. [A useless word.] (Webs1828)

— = —

Everything we do is upon the legal, virtual water, in a commercial vessel (person). In short, since water is movable and cannot be insured (warranted), it cannot be owned as real property. So everything we do is not attached to the ground, flowing instead only in the virtual waters of commerce, and so we may own nothing, for things of the nature of water are common, public, and thus not able to be privately held. A private landholder holds dry land, but a public citizenship only virtually floats over it commercially as a foreigner, and thus only temporarily as an unfixed resident with no domicile in that place of actual residence. Home is not residence. Home is only domicile. Residence without domicile is thus not home; not fixed, only temporary as in the time domain. A United States citizenship that is a resident in California, has his home (domicile) in the United States only, and not in any several (private) state. Like a ship flying its home nation's flag, a U.S. Citizenship is a foreigner with temporary permission (license of personhood) to reside and act in that foreign, private State, under that commercial state government (in water) as a resident only, one without domain in the estate of the State sovereignty over those lands.

All water is common, which means individuals may not own it, for it has no stability as it is not anchored to the land. A public person is of the water. Everything under that deluge of legal terms and jurisdiction in personhood is property of the church and state (corporations) and their creators. Water is not land (soil), just as persons are not men. Persons only exist in the flood, as the liquidation of virtual water in commerce. Public persons may only be operated on the sea (see) of interstate commerce, for they are the ships (commercial vessels) sailing in agency and thus flying the flag and Arms of their principal (father of the common, soulless, bloodless people) just as it was in days of old. But the United States flag is that of the Dread Pirate Washington.

DOMINANT ESTATE OR TENEMENT - That to which a servitude or easement is due, or for the benefit of which it exists. A TERM USED IN THE CIVIL AND SCOTCH LAW, AND THENCE IN OURS, relating to servitudes, meaning the tenement or subject in favor of which the service is constituted; AS THE TENEMENT OVER WHICH THE SERVITUDE EXTENDS is called the "servient tenement." (Black4)

TENEMENTAL - adjective - Pertaining to TENANTED LANDS; THAT IS OR MAY BE HELD BY TENANTS. Tenemental lands they distributed among their tenants. (Webs1828)

TENENS - A tenant; tHE DEFENDANT IN A REAL ACTION. (Black4)

DOMICILED - Established in a given domicile; BELONGING TO A GIVEN STATE OR JURISDICTION BY RIGHT OF DOMICILE. (Black4)

DOMICILIARY - Pertaining to domicile; relating to one's domicile. EXISTING OR CREATED AT, OR CONNECTED WITH, THE DOMICILE of a suitor or of a decedent. (Black4)

DOMICILIATE - To establish one's domicile; to take up one's FIXED residence in a given place. To establish the domicile of another person WHOSE LEGAL RESIDENCE FOLLOWS ONE'S OWN. (Black4)

DOMINICUM - Latin. Domain; demain; demesne. A LORDSHIP. That of which one has the lordship or ownership. THAT WHICH REMAINS UNDER THE LORD'S IMMEDIATE CHARGE AND CONTROL. In Domesday Book it meant THE HOME FARM AS DISTINGUISHED FROM THE HOLDINGS OF THE TENANTS. In Eleventh Century 253. Property; domain; anything pertaining to a lord. In Ecclesiastical law. A CHURCH, or any other building consecrated to God. (Black4)

DOMINIUM - In the civil and old English' law. Ownership; PROPERTY IN THE LARGEST SENSE, including both the right of property and the right of possession or USE. The mere right of property, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM THE POSSESSION OR USUFRUCT. THE RIGHT WHICH A LORD HAD IN THE FEE OF HIS TENANT. In this sense the word is very clearly distinguished by Bracton from dominium. The estate of a feoffee to uses. "The feoffee to use shall have the dominium, and the cestui que use the disposition." SOVEREIGNTY OR DOMINION. (Black4)

DOMINIUM MARIS - THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE SEA. (Black4)

DOMINION - The right of the owner of a thing TO USE IT OR DISPOSE OF IT AT HIS PLEASURE. (Bouv1856)

DOMAIN - The complete and ABSOLUTE OWNERSHIP OF LAND; a paramount and individual right of property in land. Also the real estate so owned. The INHERENT SOVEREIGN POWER CLAIMED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF A STATE, of controlling private property for public uses, is termed the "right of eminent domain." A distinction has been made between "property" and "domain." The former (property) is said to be that quality which is conceived to be IN THE THING ITSELF, considered as belonging to such or such person, exclusively of all others. By the latter (domain) is understood that right which the owner has OF DISPOSING OF THE THING. Hence "domain" and "property" are said to be correlative terms. The one (domain) is the active right to dispose of: the other (property) A PASSIVE QUALITY WHICH FOLLOWS THE THING and places it at the disposition of the owner. National domain is sometimes applied to the aggregate of the property owned directly by a nation. PUBLIC DOMAIN EMBRACES ALL LANDS, THE TITLE TO WHICH IS IN THE UNITED STATES, including as well land occupied for the purposes of federal buildings, arsenals, dock-yards, etc., as land of an agricultural or mineral character not yet granted to PRIVATE OWNERS. (Black4)

DOMAIN - It signifies sometimes, dominion, territory governed – sometimes, possession, estate – and sometimes, land about the mansion house of a lord. By domain is also understood THE RIGHT TO DISPOSE AT OUR PLEASURE OF WHAT BELONGS TO US... (Bouv1856)

EMINENCE - A title of honor given to cardinals. (Bouv1856)

CARDINAL - ecclesiastical law. The title given to one of the highest dignitaries of the COURT (government) of Rome. CARDINALS ARE NEXT TO THE POPE IN DIGNITY; HE IS ELECTED BY THEM AND OUT OF THEIR BODY (body politic). There are cardinal bishops, cardinal priests, and cardinal deacons.

DISPOSAL - Sale, pledge, giving away, use, consumption or any other disposition of a thing. TO EXERCISE CONTROL OVER; TO DIRECT OR ASSIGN FOR A USE; TO PASS OVER INTO THE CONTROL OF SOME ONE ELSE; TO ALIENATE, bestow, or part with.

DISPOSE OF - To alienate or direct the ownership of property, as disposition by will. Used also of the determination of suits. Called a word of large extent. TO EXERCISE FINALLY, in any manner, one's power of control over; to pass into the control of someone else; to alienate, relinquish, part with, or get rid of; to put out of the way; to finish with; TO BARGAIN AWAY. Often used in restricted sense of "sale" only, or so restricted by context.

DOMESTIC SERVANT - See Domestic. (Black4)

DOMESTIC - adjective - Pertaining, BELONGING, or relating to A HOME, a DOMICILE, or to the PLACE OF BIRTH, ORIGIN, CREATION, or transaction. (Black4)

DOMESTIC ANIMALS - Such as are habituated to live in or about the habitations of men, or SUCH AS CONTRIBUTE TO THE SUPPORT OF A FAMILY OR THE WEALTH OF THE COMMUNITY. This term includes horses, male goat, cattle, parrot. (Black4)

DOMESTIC COURTS - Those EXISTING AND HAVING JURISDICTION AT THE PLACE OF THE PARTY'S RESIDENCE OR DOMICILE. (Black4)

DOMESTICATED - MADE domestic OR CONVERTED to domestic USE. (Black4)

DOMICELLUS - In old English law. A better sort of servant in monasteries; also an appellation (name) of A KING'S BASTARD. (Black4)

DOMICILE - That place where a man has his TRUE, FIXED, and PERMANENT HOME and PRINCIPAL ESTABLISHMENT, and to which whenever he is absent he has the INTENTION OF RETURNING. Not for a mere special or temporary purpose, but with the present intention of making a permanent home, FOR AN UNLIMITED OR INDEFINITE PERIOD. In international law, a residence at a particular place, accompanied with positive or presumptive proof of an INTENTION TO CONTINUE THERE FOR AN UNLIMITED TIME. The word "domicile" is derived from latin "domus", meaning home or dwelling house, and domicile is LEGAL CONCEPTION OF "HOME." The established, fixed, permanent, or ordinary dwelling-place or place of residence of a PERSON, as distinguished from his temporary and transient, THOUGH ACTUAL, place of residence. IT IS HIS LEGAL RESIDENCE, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM HIS TEMPORARY PLACE OF ABODE; or HIS HOME, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM A PLACE TO WHICH BUSINESS OR PLEASURE MAY TEMPORARILY CALL HIM. "Citizenship," "habitaney," and "residence" are severally words which in the particular case MAY MEAN PRECISELY THE SAME AS DOMICILE. "Domicile" and "residence." however, are frequently distinguished, in that DOMICILE IS THE HOME, the fixed place of habitation; while RESIDENCE IS A TRANSIENT PLACE OF DWELLING. Domicile may be deemed to be of three sorts: domicile BY BIRTH, domicile BY CHOICE, and domicile BY OPERATION OF LAW. The first is the COMMON case of the place of birth, domicilium originis; the second is that which is VOLUNTARILY acquired by a party, proprio motu; the last is consequential, as that of the wife arising from marriage.

National Domicile - The domicile of a person, considered as BEING WITHIN THE TERRITORY OF A PARTICULAR NATION, and not with reference to a particular locality or subdivision of a nation.

Quasi National Domicile - One involving residence in a state.

Municipal Domicile - One which as distinguished from "national domicile" and "quasi national domicile" (see those titles, infra), has reference to residence in a county, township, or municipality.

Domestic Domicile - A name sometimes used for "municipal domicile."

Foreign Domicile - A domicile established by a citizen or subject of one sovereignty within the territory of another.

Commercial Domicile - A domicile acquired by the maintenance of a commercial establishment; a domicile which a citizen of a foreign country may acquire by conducting business in another country.

Natural Domicile - The same as domicile of origin or domicile by birth.

Domicile of Origin - THE HOME OF THE PARENTS. That which arises from a man's birth and connections. THE DOMICILE OF THE PARENTS AT THE TIME OF BIRTH, or what is termed the "domicile of origin," constitutes the domicile of an INFANT, AND CONTINUES UNTIL ABANDONED, or until the acquisition of a new domicile in a different place.

Matrimonial Domicile - The place where a husband and wife have established a home, in which they reside in the relation of husband and wife, and WHERE THE MATRIMONIAL CONTRACT IS BEING PERFORMED. (Black4)

DOMICILIUM - Latin. Domicile. (Black4)

DOMICILED - Established in a given domicile; BELONGING TO A GIVEN STATE OR JURISDICTION by right of domicile. (Black4)

DOMICILIARY - Pertaining to domicile; RELATING TO one's domicile. EXISTING OR CREATED AT, OR CONNECTED WITH, the domicile of a suitor or of a decedent. (Black4)

DOMINA (DAME) - A title given to honorable women, who anciently, IN THEIR OWN RIGHT OF INHERITANCE, held a barony. (Black4)

TRANSIENT - noun - One who, or that which is TEMPORARY. Synonymous with transitory, fugitive, fleeting, momentary. (Black4)

TRANSIENT - adjective - Passing across, as from one thing or person to another; passing with time of short duration; NOT PERMANENT; not lasting. (Black4)

TRANSIENT PERSON - Within venue statute ONE WHO IS FOUND IN STATE BUT WHO HAS NO FIXED PLACE OF RESIDENCE THEREIN. (Black4)

TRANSIENT FOREIGNER - One who visits the country, without the intention of remaining. (Black4)

TRANSIENT MERCHANT - A merchant who engages in the vending or sale of merchandise at any place in the state temporarily, and who does not intend to become, and does not become, a permanent merchant of such place. (Black4)

TRANSIT - A stop-over privilege on a continuous journey granted by carrier by which a break de facto in continuity of carriage of goods is disregarded and two legs of a journey are treated as though covered without interruption, uniting both legs into a through route for which a joint rate can be published. (Black4)

TRANSIRE - verb - Latin. To go, or pass over; to pass from one THING, PERSON, OR PLACE to another.

TRANSIRE - noun - In English law. A warrant or permit for the custom-house to let goods pass.

DOMICILIARY ADMINISTRATION - Administration in state where PERSON was domiciled at time of death is deemed PRINCIPAL OR PRIMARY ADMINISTRATION and is ordinarily termed "domiciliary administration." (Black4)

DOMICILIATE - To establish one's domicile; TO TAKE UP ONE'S FIXED RESIDENCE IN A GIVEN PLACE. To establish the domicile OF ANOTHER PERSON WHOSE LEGAL RESIDENCE FOLLOWS ONE'S OWN. (Black4)

DOMICILIATION - In Spanish law. The acquisition of domiciliary rights and STATUS, nearly equivalent to naturalization, which may be accomplished BY BEING BORN IN THE KINGDOM, by conversion to the Catholic faith there, by taking up a permanent residence in some settlement and marrying a native woman, and BY ATTACHING ONESELF TO THE SOIL, purchasing or acquiring real property and possessions. (Black4)

— = —

It is very simple to define domicile and residence as separate concepts, but not so simple for most to accept. For acceptance requires acknowledgement of status, and many slaves still believe they are sovereigns, thanks to gurus and shock-jock radio personalities and “patriots” that either lie or parrot their own falsely conveyed brand of tainted “truth” in utter ignorance or purposeful deceit.

There are two conditions of natural persons. One is the domicile, one the residence. One can maintain fixed residence where one is domiciled, but can also maintain temporary residence in another “foreign” place. But a domicile is always fixed, never temporary, and so only the residence can be separate from its source (as temporary). Domicile never changes without loss of citizenship. A private citizen of a State, being several (separate) and thus foreign from the United States jurisdiction, does not call the United States its master or principal, for his private person (landed status) is not of the origin or in that districted jurisdiction. A private citizen is not a “natural” person created by the United States, but is rather he whose ancestors created and control it. The private State citizen is not seized by its created district at birth nor certified to be dead by have any form of public, civil life. But a public citizen-ship (status at commercial sea) is created by the United States, and therefore its domicile will always and without exception be within that source of nativity and fixed to it, as the United States district of Washington (New Columbia). The creator controls. A United States citizenship has permanent domicile only in the United States (D.C.), and thus can never have permanent residence in one of the several (private) States (as the People of each sovereignty). Only one domicile is possible, just as honoring only one God/god is possible. A U.S. citizenship can only ever be temporary in one of the several (foreign/private) states, for nothing he may obtain as “property” is fixed to the land, but is only of the water (sea) and possessed in usufruct only on behalf of his principal in that agency relationship, the state being a third party to that commercial agency. His existence is purely a permissive and commercial one, and all that he does and obtains is only on behalf of his principal. He has no dominion in the lands of the actual State (People), only permission to act in commercial tenancy under the sovereign People's commercial state government.

Quite frankly, I cannot claim any "natural rights" in a State for which I am only a temporary, legal resident in because I am a foreigner (alien) to that land, having only the capacity to drive and converse a United States vessel on public highways and roads, and can only conduct commercial activity in public places where United States citizen-ships are allowed to sail that public commercial sea by license and easement. U.S. citizen-ships are always foreign in their political nature to any other state (country) or nation, for they are not of or claiming the right of blood inheritance and heirdom.

Even the "road" is just a virtual waterway for commercial vessels, as dirt, brick, and asphalt flooded by the artificial sea of commerce. The holy, sacred (cursed) Roman See.

RULE OF THE ROAD - The popular English name for the regulations governing the NAVIGATION OF VESSELS IN PUBLIC WATERS, with a view to preventing collisions. (Black4)

SEA - noun - SEE. [This word, like LAKE, signifies primarily A SEAT, SET or LAY, A REPOSITORY, a bason.] 1. A large bason, cistern or laver which Solomon made in the temple, so large as to contain more than six thousand gallons. This was called THE BRAZEN SEA, and used to hold water for the priests to wash themselves. 1 Kings 7:23. 2 Chronicles 4:2. 2. A large BODY of water, nearly inclosed by land, as the Baltic or the Mediterranean; as the sea of Azof. Seas are properly BRANCHES OF THE OCEAN, and upon the same level. Large bodies of water inland, and situated above the level of the ocean, are lakes. The appellation (name) of sea, given to the Caspian lake, is an exception, and not very correct. So the lake of Galilee is called a sea, from the Greek. 3. The ocean; as, to go to sea. The fleet is at sea, or on the high seas. 4. A wave; a billow; a surge. THE VESSEL SHIPPED AT SEA... 6. Proverbially, a large quantity of liquor; AS A SEA OF BLOOD. 7. A rough or AGITATED PLACE OR ELEMENT. In a troubled sea of passion tost. Milton. (Webs1828)

SEE - noun - 1. The SEAT of episcopal power; a diocese; the jurisdiction of a bishop. 2. THE SEAT of an archbishop; a province or JURISDICTION of an archbishop; as an archiepiscopal see. 3. The seat, place or office of the pope or Roman pontif; AS THE PAPAL SEE. 4. THE AUTHORITY OF THE POPE OR COURT OF ROME; AS, TO APPEAL TO THE SEE OF ROME. - verb transitive - [Latin sequor, and Eng. essay, are all from the same radix. The primary sense of the root is TO STRAIN, stretch, extend; and as applied to see, the sense is to extend to, to reach, to strike with the eye or sight.] 1. To perceive by the eye; to have knowledge of the EXISTENCE AND THE APPARENT QUALITIES of objects by the organs of sight; to behold. I will now turn aside and see this great sight. Exodus 3:3. We have seen the land, and behold, it is very good. Judges 18:1. 2. To observe; TO NOTE OR NOTICE; TO KNOW; to regard or look to; to take care; to attend, AS TO THE EXECUTION OF SOME ORDER, OR TO THE PERFORMANCE OF SOMETHING. Give them the first one simple idea, and see that they fully comprehend before you go any farther. Locke. See that ye fall not out by the way. Genesis 45:12. 3. TO DISCOVER; to descry; TO UNDERSTAND. Who so dull as not to see the device or strategem? Very notable actions often lose much of their excellence WHEN THE MOTIVES ARE SEEN. 4. To converse or HAVE INTERCOURSE WITH. We improve by seeing men of different habits and tempers. 5. To visit; as, to call and see a friend. The physician sees his patient twice a day. 6. To attend; to remark or notice. I had a mind to see him out, and therefore did not care to contradict him. Addison. 7. To behold with patience or SUFFERANCE; to endure. It was not meet (meant) for us to see the king's dishonor. Ezra 4:14. 8. In Scripture, to hear or attend to. I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. Revelation 1:7. 9. To feel; TO SUFFER; TO EXPERIENCE. Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years in which we have seen evil. Psalms 90:1. IF A MAN SHALL KEEP MY SAYING, HE SHALL NEVER SEE DEATH. John 8:51. Luke

2:15. 10. To know; TO LEARN. Go, I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren. Genesis 37:14. 11. To perceive; TO UNDERSTAND; to comprehend. I see the train of argument; I see his motives. 12. To perceive; to understand experimentally. I see another law in my members. Romans 7:23. 13. To beware. See thou do it not. Revelation 1:79. 14. TO KNOW BY REVELATION. The word that Isaiah, the son of Amoz, saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem. Isaiah 2:8. 15. TO HAVE FAITH IN AND RELIANCE ON. Seeing him who is INVISIBLE. Hebrews 11:5. 16. TO ENJOY; to have fruition of. Blessed are THE PURE IN HEART, FOR THEY SHALL SEE GOD. Matthew 5:8. - verb intransitive - 1. To have the power of perceiving by the proper organs, or the power of sight. Some animals, it is said, are able to see best in the night. 2. To discern; TO HAVE INTELLECTUAL SIGHT; to penetrate; TO UNDERSTAND; with through or into; as, TO SEE THROUGH THE PLANS OR POLICY OF ANOTHER; to see into ARTFUL SCHEMES AND PRETENSIONS. 3. To examine or inquire. See whether the estimate is correct. 4. To be attentive. 5. TO HAVE FULL UNDERSTANDING. But now ye say, we see, therefore your sin remaineth. John 9:41. Let me see, let us see, are used TO EXPRESS CONSIDERATION, OR TO INTRODUCE THE PARTICULAR CONSIDERATION OF A SUBJECT, OR SOME SCHEME OR CALCULATION. See is used imperatively, to call the attention of others to an object or a subject. See, see, how the balloon ascends. See what it is to have a poet in your house. Pope. (Webs1828)

SEAT - noun - [L. sedes, situs.] 1. That on which one sits; a chair, bench, stool or any other thing on which a person sits. Christ--overthrew the tables of the money changers and the seats of them that sold doves. Matthew 21:12. 2. The place of sitting; THRONE; CHAIR OF STATE; TRIBUNAL; POST OF AUTHORITY; AS THE SEAT OF JUSTICE; JUDGMENT-SEAT. 3. MANSION; RESIDENCE; dwelling; abode; AS ITALY THE SEAT OF EMPIRE. The Greeks sent colonies to seek a new seat in Gaul. In Albe he shall fix his royal seat. Dryden. 4. Site; situation. The seat of Eden has never been incontrovertibly ascertained... 7. A pew or slip in a church; a place to sit in. 8. The place where a thing is SETTLED OR ESTABLISHED. LONDON IS THE SEAT OF BUSINESS and opulence. So we say, the seat of the muses, THE SEAT OF ARTS, THE SEAT OF COMMERCE. - verb transitive - 1. To place on a seat; to cause to sit down... 2. TO PLACE IN A POST OF AUTHORITY, IN OFFICE or a place of distinction. He seated his son in the professor's chair. Then high was king Richard seated. Shak. 3. TO SETTLE; TO FIX IN A PARTICULAR PLACE OR COUNTRY. A colony of Greeks seated themselves in the south of Italy; another at Massilia in Gaul. 4. TO FIX; TO SET FIRM. From their foundations, loosening to and fro, They pluck'd the seated hills. Milton. 5. To place in a church; to assign seats to... 8. TO SETTLE; TO PLANT WITH INHABITANTS; AS, TO SEAT A COUNTRY. [Not used much.] - verb intransitive - To rest; to LIE down. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

SEATED LAND - Land that is occupied, cultivated, improved, reclaimed, farmed, or used as a place of RESIDENCE. Residence without cultivation, or cultivation without residence, or both together, impart to land the character of being seated. The term is used, as opposed to "unseated land," in Pennsylvania tax laws. (Black4)

— = —

It is common for most people to claim to be able to see an idea when it makes sense to them in their mind. And yet we accept this as if it were reasonable response knowing that it is a fallacy, a lie. But, we say, "it makes sense." But with a minute! What exactly makes sense? Dare I say that our only senses are what God designed? Taste, touch, sight, etc? So how can an idea make sense? What I am trying to say is that this is not a term of Nature, and therefore neither should the Holy See be taken as a Creation of God. Though this word see is defined above as that which can be known by revelation (discovery), we must always consider the source and intent of that which we "see" to determine it as a Real sense or a non-sense. What comes from the mouth of the pope is utter nonsense. Fiction. As a false doctrine of that which is not of the senses and not a self-evident Truth. In fact, its just a lot of Bull.

The history of what is called today as Washington, D.C. and formally as the “District of Columbia,” which more commonly is referred to in discourse as “Washington,” “the District,” or simply “D.C.,” is the seated, permanent capital and residence of the “United States.” The district has no seat and residence any where else, and the exclusivity of its jurisdiction under the congress of the United States (known officially in congressional records as: “the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled”) exists in all public places within the United States.

The signing by “Congress assembled” of the Residence Act on July 16, 1790 approved the creation of a commercial, capital district located along the Potomac River of the East Coast. The U.S. Constitution provided for a residence to house the “seat” of government, a federal district under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Congress. This district is therefore not a part of any U.S. State in compact, and so neither is any citizen-ship under it. Citizens of the United States are State-less, which is to say we are not part of the private (several) People (States) in contractual confederation and “friendship” with each other.

We see that specific act and declaration of immunity in privacy declared by each foreign, several State (People) in the first three articles of confederation:

I. The STILE of this Confederacy shall be “The United States of America.”

II. EACH STATE RETAINS ITS SOVEREIGNTY, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right, which is not by this Confederation EXPRESSLY delegated to the United States, in Congress assembled.

III. The said States hereby SEVERALLY enter into a firm league of friendship WITH EACH OTHER, for THEIR common defense, the security of THEIR liberties, and THEIR mutual and general welfare, binding THEMSELVES to assist each other, AGAINST ALL force offered to, or attacks made upon THEM, or any of THEM, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade, OR ANY OTHER PRETENSE WHATEVER...

— = —

There is no way to take this last statement or article but as them against us, as “the People” (the States in Union) against the non-People. And so we really need to stop and think about this for a moment, and ask ourselves a few simple questions:

What could possibly be the reason for creating such a confederation of several People (States) if every man in this geographical region and upon these lands was part of those landholding People (States)? What could possibly be the purpose of creating a public sphere and a constitution protecting slavery unless all men were not included within the description of those private People (States)?

One very important consideration here is that each private States retains its sovereignty (privacy) except that which is ceded (given/abandoned) to the United States. Thus the United States again is not one of the States united. And so inversely, and this is key to our public disposition in civil life without such privacy, that which is of (belonging to) the “United States” is that which is not of (belonging to) the private States. This fact is enforced and reenforced whenever the patriotic delusion of nationality (ethnicity) is squelched and spiritually guided reason without ego and defense of the third person id-entity in mammon takes over. These hidden gems are almost all hidden under such obtuseness, little pieces of a much greater and disturbing puzzle where words must be rearranged and restated for full comprehension. This deciphering method does not change the meaning mind you, but only causes it to be clear from the opposing perspective of the slave. For all law is written for the master’s benefit, of course. It would be foolhardy to believe otherwise.

The 13th amendment is a prime example of this obfuscation of intent through the use of words and propaganda, where on its surface it states that “involuntary slavery and servitude” was abolished, but in Reality it also states that slavery is to be recreated into the voluntary state of what would become national citizenship via the 14th amendment, which is said to be a “punishment for crime,” as the illegitimate but legally permissive and sanctioned birth (felony) certification and the resulting imprisonment (nativity) within the nation (district) as a debtor. These magicians of words are very clever, for they are the keepers and magistrates (gods) and devils (evil geniuses) over this debtor’s hell. And it is most often what they do not specifically say that is the most important aspect of their trickery.

Obviously, by the writing of these “articles,” the entity called as the “United States” is being distinctly pointed out as that which is separate from the actual confederacy of private States, as a separate entity that must have congressional approval as so assembled as “the People” of those States for anything to be given or ceded to it, including their “sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right.”

Now stop and consider this as a public citizenship of the United States. Have you ever had an opportunity of privy (privilege) to declare any of these things and withhold them from that nation? No. Of course not. They are not yours to withhold. You are acting publicly, not privately, not severally as one of the People (States). You never reserved any of these rights, and so you have no right to declare them while in U.S. citizenship. These things only apply to those not in this debtor’s prison of hell. A U.S. person has no choices such as these. And so again we must realize that the creation of these things was not for every man, but only for the protection and “friendship” of those who sought to rule over all others, and to leave that incorporated slave-state (nation) to their “posterity” (bloodlines). As Arthur Schopenhauer so succinctly stated, eventually these Truths will become self-evident in men’s minds, even to the most brainwashed, voluntarily ignorant, and patriotic of their induced victims. What they do about it is another question, a Truth only known to the future holder of such devastating knowledge.

If all men were sovereign and private, then this whole thing would be redundant and pointless, for no man (or all men) would be so without question, and no government would be needed for public, commercial purposes! This point indirectly answers the question as to who that private “We, the People” actually are, and also lets us know that this “People” is not any man acting solely in a legal, public persona created by their municipality (as a commercial principality and district). That which exists only by fiction of law inside (of) the district is obviously not several (foreign/private) from it. And so the constitution negatively protects only those whose name is not upon the registers of that distressful and distraining district of Caesar (seizure), as those whose birth is not certified therein and whose blood is not figuratively tainted by its legalistic (artificial) law. He who acquires rights from this district is subject to its jurisdiction and loses all Natural considerations (e.g. God-given Rights), while those who reserve all Natural Rights from it are its artful masters.

This confederation (combination/conspiracy) of private (several) States (Peoples) of “the united States of America” in compact for their own mutual protection is not to be confused with the constitution of the “United States” as their own creation of a district and holding corporation for all things public and based purely in commerce. For remember, the established “state” is separated from the ordained “church” (People). It should also not be confused that in any way was this so-called confederation between States ever disbanded or replaced by that later created constitution. Only the names were changed to legally protect the not-so-innocent. To put it as simple as possible, first the conspiracy in confederation was formed, and only then was the United States federal district and seat of commercial government formed in and under said conspiracy of combined, confederated but still private States. It was nothing more than a business arrangement between conspirators. Thus, the “United States” holds an inferior sovereignty under those Sovereign States (We, the landed People) that created it, while those public subjects under the United States corporation in public citizenship to it are also subject to that sovereignty of People, and are governed through this holding company called (styled) as the “United States,” as controlled by those private People of the united States of America as represented in “Congress assembled.” The commercial “congress” created into the U.S. Code by “the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled” is not the same, but is a similar body, as a man that wears two hats, or in this case two faces.

To place this into metaphoric terms for ease of understanding, we might compare these two bodies corporate to the stockholding owners of a corporation (shareholders) as opposed to the board of directors and CEO of that same corporation that is privately owned. One is a private stakeholder, one is the title of a public officer. While the officers (congressmen/directors) and CEO share in their ownership privately as shareholder (landholders), they act publicly in their administration of this corporation under legal titles. In other words, they wear two hats. Board members are often paid in shares of the company, and so are both shareholders (landholders) and members of the board (U.S. congress). The title of congressman is only a legal person in law, a fiction of law, and so as “congressmen” in flattering title they direct the non-constitutional, non-governmental, commercial aspect of the “United States” independently of their status of private citizens of the “united States of America.” The States (People) are the share or stakeholders in union (private compact), while the titled officers of congress created by U.S. Code are merely employees, artificial persons designated as the board of directors of the corporation (United States). Congress, when assembled in their supposedly de jure (lawful/legitimate) functionality as the “Congress assembled” (of America) in confederation, are acting as representatives of and as We, the People. But in this non-governmental capacity as the commercial congress (board of directors) of the “United States” under the commercial U.S. Code, they are merely the lawmakers and managers of human capital in interstate and international trade. They are the keepers and moneychangers of mammon.

Notice that the word stile is used to address the name given to this confederacy (conspiracy) of People (States). Remember from the beginning of this work that the words stile is a term that means title. And of course, he or they who have the power to create a title (stile) of any thing must therefore be in propriety (ownership) of that thing. No subject of anything may create its own title or name. They who stile any thing must, in other words, be the private landholders. They must have the power of perfect title and of usufruct, the ability to use and dispose of that thing.

And as globalism vastly approaches, that is exactly what they are doing; disposing of their national sovereignty (but not their State sovereignty) by collectively and incrementally constructing and embracing through legislature of the People (in Congress assembled) the United Nations, where the “United States” will be just another state of and under the United Nations. They will retain their own sovereignty as a private “People” under private law while allowing their constituted nation to be placed fully under international peacekeeping and law. They will still be negatively protected in their human capital and land management of the multitudes of commoners, but their subjects (you and me) in commercial citizen-ship will not. For it was never our country, but theirs. We are only tolerated refugees, allowed license to inhabit by tenancy their private lands in a publicly registered capacity. It is their corporation and jurisdiction to alter and dispose of as they see fit. And the more we, the plebes fight against this legalized transformation into an international commercial control system, the more we will be militarily punished for our insubordination by this international peace-keeping force assigned to protect the private bloodlines of “People” of all the world. Ironically, it will only really be house-slaves killing and controlling other slaves again on behalf of their masters (principal governments), just like in the American civil war. The agentic psychology of the non compos mentis, public-minded multitudes of every nation united in confederacy (conspiracy, combination) will rise mercenarily against any fellow slave of any other nation that gets out of line, causing all in the public realm to bear the mark of mammon so as to “legally” buy, sell, or trade within that international, global feud of a beast system.

But the private People (States) as the titled-in-allodium landholders of Earth will remain in their own declared sovereignty, and thus essentially will remain in lawlessness as all the slave-holders of history have. For slavery by any other name is still slavery.

A man either sets his own course and fixes his Self under the Laws of Nature, or he converses with artificial (evil) forces and allows his path to be set before him, forever afloat on that watery fiction that will never provide anchorage and quietness from man's false law and tax. One either plays the part of an actor of the state or one takes all responsibility for his private nature and renders back to Caesar what is publicly Caesar's property, for a private man cannot act publicly, else he must answer for that sin to Caesar (in seizure).

And Caesar's best trickery was the promotion of sport, which the pursuit of money is; a game of monopoly where we flow with the tide and pay fines for landing on and using the property of private owners, and where the central bank is god. But it was only when the sports were taken out of the coliseum and made part of society that Caesar's power of distraction defeated the multitude, a trivial pursuit in the category of mammon.

CONVERSE - verb intransitive - [Latin, TO BE TURNED. Literally, to be turned to or with; to be turned about.] 1. To keep company; TO ASSOCIATE; to cohabit; TO HOLD INTERCOURSE and be intimately acquainted; followed by with. For him who lonely loves to seek the distant hills, and their converse with nature. 2. TO HAVE SEXUAL COMMERCE. 3. To talk familiarly; to have free intercourse in mutual communication of thoughts and opinions; to convey thoughts reciprocally; followed by with before the person addressed, and on before the subject, converse as friend with friend. We have often conversed with each other on the merit of Milton's poetry. [This is now the most general use of the word.] - noun - 1. Conversation; familiar discourse or talk; free interchange of thoughts or opinions. Formed by thy converse happily to steer from grave to gay, from lively to severe. 2. Acquaintance by frequent or customary intercourse; cohabitation; FAMILIARITY. In this sense, the word may include discourse, or not; as, to hold converse with persons of different sects; or to hold converse with terrestrial things. (Webs1828)

CONVERSATION - noun - 1. General course of manners; behavior; deportment; ESPECIALLY AS IT RESPECTS MORALS. Let your conversation be as becometh the gospel. Philippians 1:27. Be ye holy in all manner of conversation. 1 Peter 1:15. 2. A KEEPING COMPANY; FAMILIAR INTERCOURSE; intimate fellowship or ASSOCIATION; COMMERCE IN SOCIAL LIFE. Knowledge of men and manners is best acquired by conversation with the best company. 3. Intimate and familiar acquaintance; as a conversation with books, or other object. 4. Familiar discourse; general intercourse of sentiments; chat; unrestrained talk; opposed to a formal conference. What I mentioned in conversation was not a new thought. [This is now the most general use of the word.] (Webs1828)

DISCOURSE - noun - Discors. [Latin, to run.] 1. The ACT of the UNDERTAKING, BY WHICH IT PASSES FROM PREMISES TO CONSEQUENCES; the act which connects propositions, and deduces conclusions from them. [This sense is now obsolete.] 2. Literally, a running over a subject in speech; hence, a communication of thoughts BY WORDS, either to individuals, to companies, or to public assemblies. Discourse to an individual or to a small company is called conversation or talk; mutual interchange or thoughts; mutual intercourse OF LANGUAGE. It is applied to the familiar communication of thoughts by an individual, or to the mutual communication of two or more. We say, I was pleased with his discourse and he heard our discourse. The vanquished party with the victors joined, nor wanted sweet discourse the banquet of the mind. 3. Effusion of language; speech. 4. A written treatise; a formal dissertation; as the discourse of Plutarch on garrulity; of Cicero on old age. 5. A sermon, uttered or written. We say, an extemporaneous discourse or a written discourse. - verb intransitive - 1. To talk; to converse; but it expresses rather more FORMALITY than talk. He discoursed with us an hour on the events of the war. We discoursed together on our mutual concerns. 2. To communicate thoughts or ideas IN A FORMAL MANNER; to treat upon in a solemn, set manner; as, to discourse on the properties of the circle; the preacher discoursed on the nature and effects of faith. 3. To reason; TO PASS FROM PREMISES TO CONSEQUENCES. - verb transitive - To treat of; to talk over; to discuss. [Not used.] Let use discourse our fortunes. (Webs1828)

In case this recurring theme of language arts being what constitutes ethnicity hasn't become clear in the mind of the reader, it should be understood here that our words and how and in what form we use them, as the words officiated over by the state, are what creates the character of the person in any nation. Ethnicity is not a race, it is a language. Our conformity to the gods of the nations can not be accomplished by any other means than the language arts than that of outright and unhidden slavery. Obviously any tyrant would prefer volunteerism over force, especially when volunteers agree to such wonderfully forceful legal measures being used upon them, along with the equal "rights" of pain, punishment, taxation, exaction and imprisonment. Quite simply, language is the paintbrush that renders and articulates the false persona, the life-giving word-DNA of the artifice. Words. Terms of art. The fiction of syllables combined in binding nomenclature.

Discourse, intercourse, commerce; these are all the same concepts, and all of them are within the legal fiction only the actions of "actors on the state." Everything is a sport; a narrative play, where the characters function only within their watery engravings like apparitions floating over the untouchable land in that figurative realm of spiritual death. It is the inter-course of citizen-ships on the sea of commerce.

LAKE - verb intransitive - TO PLAY; TO SPORT. North of England. This is play, without a prefix. - noun - [Latin lacus. A lake is a stand of WATER, from the root of LAY (LIE). Hence Latin lagna, Eng. flagon.] (Webs1828)

FLAGON - noun [Latin lagna; Gr.] A VESSEL with a narrow mouth, used for holding and conveying liquors. Stay me with flagons, comfort me with apples; for I am sick of love. (Webs1828)

LIQUOR - noun- lik'or [Latin liquor] A liquid or fluid substance. [See LIQUID.] Liquor is a word of general signification, extending to WATER, milk, BLOOD, say, juice, etc.; but its most common application is to spirituous fluids... (Webs1828)

LIQUID - adjective [Latin liquidus, from liquo, to melt; lix and lug.] 1. Fluid; FLOWING OR CAPABLE OF FLOWING; NOT FIXED or solid. But liquid is not precisely synonymous with fluid. Mercury and air are fluid, but not liquid. 2. Soft; clear; flowing; smooth; as liquid melody. 3. Pronounced without any jar; smooth; as a liquid letter. 4. DISSOLVED; NOT OBTAINABLE BY LAW; AS A LIQUID DEBT. Obsolete. - noun - 1. A FLUID OR FLOWING SUBSTANCE; a substance whose parts change their relative position on the slightest pressure, and which flows on an inclined plane; as water, wine, milk, etc. (Webs1828)

RECREATION - noun - 1. Refreshment of the strength and spirits after toil; amusement; DIVERSION. 2. Relief from toil or pain; amusement in sorrow or DISTRESS. (Webs1828)

RE-CREATION - noun - A forming anew. (Webs1828)

FUN - noun - SPORT; VULGAR MERRIMENT. A low word. (Webs1828)

PLAY - verb intransitive - 1. To use any exercise for pleasure or RECREATION; to do something not as a task or for profit, but for amusement; as, to play at cricket. The people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play. Exodus 32:6. 2. TO SPORT; to frolic; to frisk. The lamb thy riot dooms to bleed to day, Had he thy reason, would he skip and play? 3. To toy; TO ACT with levity. 4. TO TRIFLE; TO ACT WANTONLY AND THOUGHTLESSLY. Men are apt to play with their healths and their lives as they do with their clothes. 5. To do something fanciful; to give a fanciful turn to; as, to play upon WORDS. 6. To make sport, or practice sarcastic merriment. I would make use of it rather to play upon those I despise, than trifle with those I love. 7. TO MOCK; TO PRACTICE ILLUSION. Art thou alive, Or is it fancy plays upon our eyesight? 8. To contend in a game; as, to play at cards or dice; to play for diversion; to play for money. 9. TO PRACTICE A TRICK OR DECEPTION. His mother played false with a smith. 10. To perform on an instrument of music; as, to play on a flute, a violin or a harpsichord. Play, my friend, and charm the charmer. 11. To move, or TO MOVE WITH ALTERNATE DILATATION AND CONTRACTION. The heart beats, the blood circulates, the lungs play. 12. TO OPERATE; TO ACT. The engines play against a fire. 13. To move IRREGULARLY; to wanton. Ev'n as the waving sedges play with wind. The setting sun, Plays on their shining arms and burnish'd helmets. All fame is foreign, but of true desert, Plays round the head, but comes not to the heart. 14. TO ACT A PART on the stage; TO PERSONATE A CHARACTER. A lord will hear you play to-night. 15. TO REPRESENT A STANDING CHARACTER. COURTS ARE THEATERS WHERE SOME MEN PLAY. 16. To act in any particular character; as, TO PLAY THE FOOL; to play the woman; to play the man. 17. To move in any manner; to move one way and another; as any part of a machine. - verb transitive - To put in action or motion; as, to play cannon or a fire-engine. 1. To use an instrument of music; as, to play the flute or the organ. 2. TO ACT A SPORTIVE PART OR CHARACTER. Nature here, Wanton'd as in her prime, and play'd at will. Her virgin fancies. 3. To ACT or PERFORM BY REPRESENTING A CHARACTER; as, to play a comedy; to play the part of king Lear. 4. To act; TO PERFORM; as, to play our parts well ON THE STAGE OF LIFE. 5. To perform in contest for amusement or for a PRIZE; as, to play a game at whist. To play off, to display; TO SHOW; TO PUT IN EXERCISE; as, to play off tricks. To play on or upon, to deceive; to mock or to trifle with. 1. To give a fanciful turn to. - noun - Any exercise or series of actions intended for pleasure, amusement or diversion, as at cricket or quoit, or at blind man's buff. 1. Amusement; sport; frolic; gambols. Two gentle fawns at play. 2. Game; gaming; practice of contending for victory, for amusement or for a prize, as at dice, cards or billiards. 3. PRACTICE in any contest; as sword-play. He was resolved not to speak distinctly, knowing his best play to be in the dark. John naturally loved rough play. 4. ACTION; USE; EMPLOYMENT; OFFICE. - But justifies the next who comes in play. 5. PRACTICE; action; manner of acting in contest or negotiation; as fair play; foul play. 6. A dramatic composition; a comedy or tragedy; a composition in which characters are represented by dialogue and action. A play ought to be a just image of human nature. 7. Representation or exhibition of a comedy or tragedy; as, to be at the play. He attends every play. 8. Performance on an instrument of music. 9. Motion; movement, regular or irregular; as the play of a wheel or piston. 10. State of agitation or discussion. Many have been sav'd, and many may, Who never heard this question brought in play. 11. Room for motion. The joints are let exactly into one another, that they have no play between them. 12. LIBERTY OF ACTING; room for enlargement or display; scope; as, to give full play to mirth. Let the genius have free play. (Webs1828)

SPORT - noun - 1. That which DIVERTS and makes merry; PLAY; game; diversion; also, mirth. The word signifies both the cause and the effect; that which produces mirth, and the mirth or merriment produced. Her sports were such as carried riches of knowledge upon the stream of delight. Here the word denotes the cause of amusement. They called Samson out of the prison-house; and he made them sport. Judges 16:25. Here sport is the effect. 2. Mock; mockery; contemptuous mirth. Then make sport at me, then let me be your jest. They made a sport of his prophets. 3. THAT WITH WHICH ONE PLAYS, OR WHICH IS DRIVEN ABOUT. To flitting leaves, the sport of every wind. NEVER DOES MAN APPEAR TO GREATER DISADVANTAGE THAN WHEN HE IS THE SPORT OF HIS OWN UNGOVERNED PASSIONS. 4. Play; idle jingle. An author who should introduce such a sport of words upon our stage, would meet with small applause. 5. Diversion of the field, as fowling, hunting, fishing. In sport. To do a thing in sport is to do it IN JEST, FOR PLAY OR DIVERSION. So is the man that deceiveth his neighbor, and saith, am not I in sport? Proverbs 26:19. - verb transitive - 1. To divert; to make merry; used with the reciprocal pronoun. Against whom do ye sport yourselves? Isaiah 47:1. 2. TO REPRESENT BY ANY KIND OF PLAY. Now sporting on thy lyre the love of youth. - verb intransitive - 1. To play; to frolick; to wanton. See the brisk lambs that sport along the

mead. 2. To trifle. THE MAN THAT LAUGHS AT RELIGION SPORTS WITH HIS OWN SALVATION. (Webs1828)

AMUSE - verb transitive - s as z. [Gr. and Latin musso.] 1. To entertain the mind AGREEABLY; TO OCCUPY OR DETAIN ATTENTION WITH AGREEABLE OBJECTS, whether by singing, conversation, or a show of curiosities. Dr. Johnson remarks, that amuse implies something less lively than divert, and less important than please. Hence it is often said, we are amused with trifles. 2. TO DETAIN; to engage the attention BY HOPE OR EXPECTATION; as, to amuse one BY FLATTERING PROMISES. (Webs1828)

AMUSEMENT - noun - s as z. That which amuses, DETAINS OR ENGAGES THE MIND; ENTERTAINMENT OF THE MIND; pastime; a pleasurable occupation of the SENSES, or that which furnishes it, as dancing, sports or music. (Webs1828)

— = —

To overuse the analogy, we can compare the life of a man acting in agency to that of a man wasting his time playing the game of Monopoly. The character as master of his commercial game-piece (person/ship) goes round and round in a circuitry, circulating another's money and paying tax each time it circulates to its owner (the state). Along the way, we have the opportunity to collect paper titles that show we are the registered owners (users) of some part of the land on that board, but it is only paper. For at the end of the day, the money all goes back to the bank because it cannot be spent any other place except in that fictional game of legal sport. And the board game folds up just like paper, and those apparent titles to property never actually belonged to us anyway, only to the game-piece (legal person) of the fictional game. In the end, we have wasted our fictionally driven lives in the game, playing the part of fakery as actors, while believing we acquired inherent wealth, when in Reality we had nothing to inherit and pass on except debt. We languish away our lives and that of our children within the trifling amusements of the game-master. Even when the winning game-piece (person) collects more than the other players and apparently wins the game, the player doesn't actually win anything except pieces of paper (false titles) showing tenancy in a feudalistic stage play; evidence of rent of the lands of the modern feudalistic landholders that created the game we play. Everything in the fiction is but a trifling diversion. And each of us has been recreated as but a trifle.

TRIFLE - noun - A thing of very little value or importance; a word applicable to any thing and every thing of this CHARACTER. With such poor trifles playing. Moments make the year, and trifles, life. Trifles, Are to the jealous CONFIRMATIONS strong. - verb intransitive - TO ACT OR TALK WITHOUT SERIOUSNESS, GRAVITY, WEIGHT OR DIGNITY; to act or talk with levity. They trifle and they beat the air about nothing which toucheth us. 1. To indulge in light amusements. To trifle with, to mock; to play the fool with; to treat without respect or seriousness. To trifle with, TO SPEND IN VANITY; to waste. To trifle away, to no good purpose; as, to trifle with time, or to trifle away time; to trifle with advantages. - verb transitive - To make of no importance. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

DIVERT - verb transitive [Latin, to turn.] 1. TO TURN OFF FROM ANY COURSE, direction or intended application; to turn aside; as, to divert a river from its usual channel; TO DIVERT COMMERCE FROM ITS USUAL COURSE; to divert appropriated money to other objects; TO DIVERT A MAN FROM HIS PURPOSE. 2. To turn the mind from business or study; hence, TO PLEASE; TO AMUSE; TO ENTERTAIN; to exhilarate. Children are diverted with sports; men are diverted with works of wit and humor; low minds are diverted with buffoonery in stage-playing. 3. TO DRAW THE FORCES OF AN ENEMY TO A DIFFERENT POINT. 4. TO SUBVERT... (Webs1828)

DRY - adjective [See the Verb.] 1. Destitute of moisture; free from water or wetness; arid; not moist; as dry land; dry clothes... 7. Barren; jejune; plain; unembellished; DESTITUTE OF PATHOS, OR OF THAT

WHICH AMUSES AND INTERESTS; as a dry style; a dry subject; a dry discussion... - verb transitive - [G., to dry, to wipe; Gr., Latin, See dry. The primary sense is to wipe, rub, scour.] 1. TO FREE FROM WATER, or from moisture of any kind, and by any means; originally by wiping, as to dry the eyes; to exsiccate... (Webs1828)

PATHOS - noun [Gr. to suffer.] Passion; warmth or vehemence, in a speaker; or in language, that which excites emotions and passions.

— = —

A private citizen with private land has no pathos attached to his land. It is dry. It is not of the water.

A public citizenship with public land has pathos attached to his land. It is wet (wed). It is of the water.

It is an understatement to say that the masses of men in the American continent and indeed around the world have been diverted, that their pathos and strength of masculine force has been drawn and degraded (cast-rated) instead towards all forms of sport, to stage-plays and their modern versions in movies and television, and by the most terribly low humor of sitcoms, dramas and comedians. Man serves no purpose except that of either the state or its taxable person and estate in usufruct. The fruit of his labor is fruitless, bearing no living heirs, consisting only of debt and dead things. And collectively, this imposed idiocracy has certainly brought the power of the masses to a point not dissimilar to the citizens of Rome in their debauchery and love of the colosseums, that perfection of a system of distraction and diversion now perhaps attaining the status of the number one industry in America.

The parable of the ant and the grasshopper comes to mind here. In the end, after entertaining himself with all manner of amusing diversions in the summer, the grasshopper starves in the winter months even after the ant warned him to prepare for the coming cold famine.

Ultimately these proverbs may be difficult to grasp, and so we pass them on without comprehension. This is a fear tactic. The fool embraces his fear and ignorance as his understanding, standing under its authority and under those who harness it in their artful systems of fiction, whereas the wise man desires knowledge and righteously seeks it in fear of God; the fear of not understanding God's self-evident and always permanent Nature and Law. And so the difference between the unregenerate fool and the righteous believer (lover and doer of the Word) is only their use of their own fear. It either drowns a man in under-standing as it does the goyim in the citizenship of nations, or it frees a man to hate that dead state of artifice for fear of God's Nature and Law. The fool lives in darkness for fear of being without it, while the wise man lives in the Light for fear of living without It. The wise man understands what is the verb Jehovah in Oneness and knows the self-evidence of scripture without false-hoods and despite his own temptations and wants, remaining only in fulfillment of his actual needs, for to desire and fall prey to the fiction of artifice is to under-stand only evil. To need like an ad-diction what is fictional is the sign and mark of satan (that which is adversarial to Reality, Nature, and Life Itself).

— = —

“It is as sport to a fool to do mischief: but a man of understanding hath wisdom. The fear of the wicked, it (understanding) shall come upon him: but the desire of the righteous shall be granted. As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation.”

—Proverbs 10:23, KJV

— = —

“These are two ways of life, each utterly alien to the other. Each has its place in the world – but they cannot flourish in the same soil, they cannot remain in contact without antagonism. Though to life itself each way is a perfect utterance, TO EACH OTHER THEY ARE ENEMIES.”

“Sport is for you a serious SPIRITUAL matter. It is the proper symbolization, the perfect ritual, wherein your spiritual forces, finding expression, also find exercise and sustenance.”

“The most amazing thing in your life, the most in contrast with ours, is its sport. By this I do not mean simply your fondness for physical exercise, your physical exuberance, but the PSYCHOLOGICAL and SOCIAL INSTITUTIONALIZATION of sport, its organization, its predominant role AS THE OUTLET AND EXPRESSION OF YOUR SPIRITUAL ENERGIES.”

“YOUR SPIRIT IS SPORT: particularly your young men, who are not yet absorbed in the struggle for existence, and whose emotions are therefore for the largest part FREE, must find in sport, in games, in contests, the most satisfactory expression of their instincts.”

“The contention of the majority of your educators, THAT THE MORAL INSTINCT IS TRAINED ON THE FOOTBALL AND BASEBALL FIELD, in boxing, rowing, wrestling and other contests, is a true one, is truer, perhaps, than most of them realize. YOUR IDEAL MORALITY IS A SPORTING MORALITY. The intense discipline of the game, the spirit of fair play, the qualities of endurance, of good humor, of conventionalized seriousness in effort, of loyalty, of struggle without malice or bitterness, OF READINESS TO FORGET LIKE A SPORT – all these are brought out in their sheerest and cleanest starkness in well-organized and closely regulated college sports. AND ON THE EXPERIENCES AND LESSONS WHICH THESE SPORTS IMPLY YOUR ENTIRE SPIRITUAL LIFE IS INEVITABLY FOUNDED.”

—Maurice Samuel, from: ‘You Gentiles,’ 1924, separate quotes

— = —

The false Jew, that of the synagogue of satan so full of pretenders in religious name only and just as the typical “Christian” feigns his or her own false and flattering title, control the gentiles (goyim) of the nations through various outlets of sport. Every aspect of the legal society is of sport, even the systems of justice. In poles, the most popular daytime sporting event on television is in fact the “Judge Judy” show, where viewers root and cheer for the winner and loser of that false show of justice. This spells the ridiculousness and foolish nature of our collective idiocracy, a cultural difference so vast so as to be night and day compared to our controllers. We are a conquered people, purchased by so many sporting inducements and controlled (governed) by the ignorance necessary to embrace them as more important than our own place in Jehovah. Again, this is not actual religion. This is a class structure that pretends to be religions. This is public vs. private, the owners of the team versus the players and spectators.

SPECTATOR - noun - [Latin whence] 1. One that looks on; one that sees or beholds; a beholder; as the spectators of the show. 2. ONE PERSONALLY PRESENT. The spectators were numerous. (Webs1828)

PLAYER - noun - One who plays in any game or sport. 1. AN IDLER. 2. AN ACTOR OF DRAMATIC SCENES; ONE WHOSE OCCUPATION IS TO IMITATE CHARACTERS ON THE STAGE. 3. A MIMIC. 4. One who performs on an instrument of music. 5. A gamester. 6. One that ACTS A PART in a certain manner. (Webs1828)

— = —

The word behold comes from the Latin servo, meaning “to keep.” In other words, the spectator and the player are beholden to the master of the ceremony they so love (believe in) as Reality. Like pets kept occupied by toys, we are kept entranced by fictional performances of a competitive nature. We are kept separate by this competitive fever, a contracted dis-ease that prevents our Oneness and mutual Love and Charity towards one another. This is the Judaizing and Romanization of True christianity. For the false Jew follows not the Bible but the Talmud as his law. If the reader has not read the Talmud then he cannot know what true evil is nor how the typical “Christian” is controlled by its tenets and controllers. And though you will judge me and call myself as the author of this work by the false titles assigned for you to use in sport (judgement) by the very masters that have fooled us all, the Truth stands immune from such carefully placed fallacies. The master always teaches his slave to protect the name of his master. This is certainly written and warned about in the Bible, that we should fall so deeply under that strong delusion of the Pharisees (hypocrites). Talmudist thought is akin to Zionism, and Zionism is akin to national patriotism. The Talmudic, corporate “Jewish” Zionist friend of a corporate “Christian” is as a sheep accepting a wolf in sheep’s clothing simply because the very source and structure (law) of that obviously false costume is ignored. Remember, the Jewish name of God is I AM THAT I AM. No man of God would claim to be I AM “Jewish” or “Christian” so as to separate one people (blood) from another. One cannot be respected as Purely the I Am without only respecting all others as the same and without exception, to do unto others as you would have them to do unto you, and to see no fiction. Only a fiction may see and in-jure other fictions, just as a cartoon may only interact with others of its kind, and only at the will of the men who cause it to be fictionally animated. Such false titles have no place in this spiritual philosophy and Highest of Law. For Truly, this is the Natural, negative Law of God. And just as the followers of christ (the Word) are instructed to hate false religion, so too is the follower of the Jewish Torah to hate these sects of false “Jews” who follow another doctrine by corrupt men. The self-evident Truth is never of the source of any of man’s writings and doctrines. The people of Israel are Real, not merely some citizens of some legal “state” or nation upon a map called as “Israel.”

The word Israel Strong's H3478 - Yisra'el - means “God prevails” and “contender or soldier of God.” As a Real People, this name (noun) was used to describe a genuine people that were in the favor of God, not because of their special birth and bloodlines but because of their respect of that Law of God. It was their collective disrespect as a false legal entity, when the noun (name) became empty as the name of a corporation nation (artificial person) and personal responsibility and duty was replaced by legal licensure, that they were exiled in their Babylonian woe. Today as then they followed the Pharisees and became as hypocrites to their own Highest Law, just as the Popish “Christians” have been so fooled and mislead. This word Yisra'el comes from its root words of Strong's H8280 - sarah - meaning to place in order or in a row, a series, as to be noble and princelike, and also to be warlike and contend, have power, contend with, persist, exert oneself, and to preserve; and from Strong's H410 - 'el - meaning god or god-like, as men of rank or of high places, angels, false gods and demons, imaginations, or of God as the One True God, which cause men to be mighty things in Nature and to have strength and power, as mighty heroes.

As with all words, we find again the typical dualism of Reality and fiction, of Law and false doctrines, of God and false gods, and of false status and rank in empty name only. The Israelite, also called as the “jew,” is no exception to this rule. It is either genuine or it is artificial, just as the false, flattering titles of “Christian” and “Muslim.” And it either stands in warlike protectionism of its free and Lawful way and path of Life or it succumbs to man’s fictions in opposition to its True intent and Real piety.

The fool will choose to insist upon this word Israel as an actual man born within the fabled genealogy of the Old Testament, believing in the personified history instead of the parabolic wisdom and nature of the story. For in the Bible scriptures the personification of this word is told to be the second name for Jacob given to him by God after his wrestling with the angel at Peniel and as the name of the descendants and the nation of the descendants of Jacob, the name of the northern kingdom consisting of the 10 tribes under Jeroboam, of which the southern kingdom was named as Judah, and finally as the name of the nation after the return from exile. We believe (love) the name over the meaning of the word that is turned into a name, assigning it false authority over the Reality or fiction it represents. And so, like the modern nobility and the modern false “Jew” that relies solely on his or her genealogy and the names of descendants (bloodlines) for one’s place and rank in the false legal society, nobility, royalty, and for the “right of return” into a purely false legal state and jurisdiction under false gods named but not acting as “Israel,” causing even those mislead, Judiazed “Christians” to hold them as the higher “chosen” people of God today, the tenets and Laws (Son) of God are completely lost, replaced by fables and mythos of long dead men with flattering titles and personified teaching tools of the scriptures (ancient knowledge).

To the commonalty of citizen-ships of the nations of goyim under their mind-control (govern-ment), our christian religion (as part of the common law) has been reduced to sport, a mere false show and part played and acted out for other spectators every Sunday morning. Instead of Living in God we play the dead parts of a legal script as if socially obligated once a week while playing also the referee (judge) of our fellow actors. We spectate not in Love and careful concern but in competition and contempt.

Whom among us can deny this?

Organized, “professional” sports is perhaps the best example of the satanic pursuit of fiction, be it in entertainment or in politics and religion. For despite all the hype, money spent, and preparation for the touted sporting event, in the end nothing actually happens. Nothing is actually accomplished. The entirety of the actions of all involved added up to absolutely nothing and it is forgotten almost as soon as it is over, reduced to a statistical entry in some false history book. Is it any wonder that the most protected and well-funded outlet of the education and university system is their sports franchises? Is it any wonder that brilliant minds are left to waste away while sports players are granted scholarships? Think about that for a moment...

It is very difficult to alter ones perceptions from literal interpretations that describe Reality into these legal, figurative, and metaphorical considerations both in a spiritually parabolic form and inversely in so much adversarial and deceptive artfulness. But in order to comprehend the big lie, which just happens to be, commercially speaking, the nonspiritual great flood of virtual (legal) water over all of Reality and Nature in the legal sense, we must start thinking like the wolves and not like the sheep we have allowed ourselves to become. We must think like the shepherd we choose to follow. We must first admit defeat by all of these sporting diversions before we may overcome the suffocating effects of that unseen commercial water in trickery. For the land is covered by an invisible, legal sea (holy see), and so man must of course be assigned a commercial ship (vessel) as a commercial personhood to navigate that international commercial sea. And so within this figurative flood, we must comprehend that water is not legally the same as land, and that commercial things of the water (imperfect titles) cannot be owned or held outright, for water is always public in nature, never able to be held privately. A public persona can only use the water, never hold or own it, for its flow must not be interrupted by private concerns. It will always slip and escape through the artificial (dead) hands of legal persons. And so all property held under the public law of the sea (commerce) is common and is thus national property of the public, which means that all commercial things are property of the public State of the actual bloodline People through its contracted government in trust. A strawman can inherit no tenements, and thus cannot pass on any true inheritance to his kin. No blood, no heir. For, as the maxim states, God alone makes the heir, not man. When man's god is government, government remakes and diverts the capacity of the heir, causing him to believe that the commercially alienated paper deed and title is the actual land, and not just a piece of worthless (in Nature) legal paper.

An element of water controls an element of land only because the land cannot absorb the water. The sea incapacitates the soil, by charging and covering it with legal title. And the high water mark that for obvious reasons sits upon the highest mountains declares the vast extent of the legal, virtual flood, limiting the higher use of the land by describing the land as a victim of the commercial tide. Either the water is damned (barred) by their land elements (immovable heirs) or the water floods and thus covers the land so that only commercial vessels (citizen-ships/ movable chattel) may engage upon it in usufruct. But the ship may never find land until the man sailing it docks, thus ending the binding relation-ship and ad-venture between man and this legal, commercial vessel. A man of God needs no ship, for he can walk over the water as christ did, without sinking or getting wet. Christ was immune from commerce. For he respected no person, and so he needed no ship. He never sank or fell in to the fiction of man.

DOCK - ...verb transitive - 1. To cut off, as the end of a thing; to curtail; to cut short; to clip; as, to dock the tail of a horse. 2. To cut off a part; to shorten; to deduct from; as, to dock an account. 3. To cut off, DESTROY OR DEFEAT; TO BAR; AS, TO DOCK AN ENTAIL. 4. To bring, draw or PLACE A SHIP IN A DOCK. (Webs1828)

QUIT - adjective - Clear; DISCHARGED; FREE; also spoken of persons absolved or acquitted of a charge. - verb - In conveyancing, TO RELEASE OR RELINQUISH A CLAIM; TO EXECUTE a deed of quitclaim.
(Black4)

QUITCLAIM - noun - A release or acquittance given to one man by another, in respect of any action that he has or might have against him. Also ACQUITTING OR GIVING UP ONE'S CLAIM OR TITLE.
(Black4)

QUITCLAIM - verb transitive - [quit and claim.] To release a claim by deed without covenants of warranty; to convey to another who hath some right in lands or tenements, all one's right, title and interest in the estate, BY RELINQUISHING ALL CLAIM TO THEM. The words used in the instrument are, 'A hath remised, released and forever quitclaimed all his right, title and interest to a certain estate.' - noun - A deed of release; an instrument by which all claims to an estate are relinquished to another without any covenant or warranty, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED. (Webs1828)

— = —

We must quit claiming to be something that we are not. We must be no thing. We must dock the ship assigned to us for the purposes of acting in commercial fiction as a public citizen so as to become private. We must discharge our undertaking by bringing it to an end, by executing the contractual relation-ship and bringing final solution, as the end of all of those devil's contracts.

But before we can do that, we must comprehend and understand just what has been enjoined and entailed to our persons. We must admit to our slave status in agency before we can end it. Acknowledgement of defeat must happen before our Natural freedom from it may be attained.

And so just what is an entail and fee?

ENTAIL - verb - To settle or LIMIT THE SUCCESSION TO REAL PROPERTY; to create an estate tail.
- noun - A FEE abridged or limited to THE ISSUE, OR CERTAIN CLASSES OF ISSUE, INSTEAD OF DESCENDING TO ALL THE HEIRS. Entail, in legal treatises, is used to signify an estate tail, especially with reference to the restraint which such an estate imposes upon its owner, or, in other words, the points wherein such an estate differs from an estate in fee-simple. And this is often its popular sense; but sometimes it is, in popular language, used differently, so as to signify a succession of life-estates, as when it is said that "an entail ends with A.," meaning that A. is the first person who is entitled to bar or cut off the entail, being in law THE FIRST TENANT, IN TAIL.

Break or Bar an Entail - TO FREE AN ESTATE FROM THE LIMITATIONS IMPOSED BY AN ENTAIL, and permit its free disposition, anciently by means of a fine or common recovery, BUT NOW BY DEED IN WHICH THE TENANT AND NEXT HEIR JOIN.

Quasi Entail - An estate pur autre vie may be granted, not only to a man and his heirs, but to a man and the heirs of his body, which is termed a "quasi entail;" the interest so granted not being properly an estate-tail (for the statute De Donis applies only where the subject of the entail is an estate of inheritance), but yet so far in the nature of an estate-tail that it will go to the heir of the body as special occupant during the life of the cestui que vie, in the same manner as an estate of inheritance would descend, if limited to the grantee and the heirs of his body. (Black4)

ENTAILED - Settled or limited TO SPECIFIED HEIRS, or IN TAIL. (Black4)

ENTAILED MONEY - Money directed to be invested in realty to be entailed. (Black4)

ENTAILMENT - AN INTERFERENCE WITH AND CURTAILMENT OF THE ORDINARY RULES PERTAINING TO DEVOLUTION BY INHERITANCE; a limitation and direction by which property is TO DESCEND DIFFERENT FROM THE COURSE WHICH IT WOULD TAKE if the creator of the entailment, grantor or testator, had been content that the estate should devolve in regular and general succession TO HEIRS AT LAW in the statutory order of precedence and sequence. (Black4)

EN - IN. (Webs1828)

TAIL - Limited; abridged; reduced; curtailed, AS A FEE OR ESTATE IN FEE, TO A CERTAIN ORDER OF SUCCESSION, OR TO CERTAIN HEIRS. (Black4)

ESTATE IN TAIL - An estate OF INHERITANCE, which, instead of descending to heirs generally, goes to the heirs of the done & body, which means his lawful issue, his children, and through them to his grandchildren IN A DIRECT LINE, SO LONG AS HIS POSTERITY ENDURES IN A REGULAR ORDER AND COURSE OF DESCENT, and upon the death of the first owner without issue, the estate DETERMINES. A FREEHOLD OF INHERITANCE, limited to a person AND THE HEIRS OF HIS BODY, general or special, male or female, and is the creature of the statute de Donas. The estate, provided the entail be not BARRED, REVERTS TO THE DONOR OR REVERSIONER, IF THE DONEE DIE WITHOUT LEAVING DESCENDANTS ANSWERING TO THE CONDITION ANNEXED TO THE ESTATE UPON ITS CREATION, unless there be a limitation over to A THIRD PERSON on default of such descendants, when it vests in such third person or remainder-man.

Several Tail - An entail severally to two; as if land is given to two men and their wives, and to the heirs of their bodies begotten; here the donees have a joint estate for their two lives, and yet they have a several inheritance, because the issue of the one shall have his moiety, and the issue of the other, the other moiety.

Tail after Possibility of Issue Extinct - A species of estate tail which arises where one is tenant in special tail, and a person from whose body the issue was to spring DIES WITHOUT ISSUE, OR, HAVING LEFT ISSUE, THAT ISSUE BECOMES EXTINCT. In either of these cases the surviving tenant in special tail becomes "tenant in tail after possibility of issue extinct."

Tail General - An estate in tail granted to one "and the heirs of his body begotten", which is called "tail general" because, how often soever such donee in tail be married, his issue in general by all and every such marriage is, in successive order, capable of inheriting the estate tail per formam doni. This is where an estate is limited to a man and the heirs of his body, WITHOUT ANY RESTRICTION AT ALL; or, according to some authorities, with no other restriction than that in relation to sex. Thus, tail male general is the same thing as tail male; the word "general," in such case, implying that there is no other restriction upon the descent of the estate than that it must go in the male line. So an estate in tail female general is an estate in tail female. The word "general," in the phrase, expresses a purely NEGATIVE idea, and may denote THE ABSENCE OF ANY RESTRICTION, OR THE ABSENCE OF SOME GIVEN RESTRICTION WHICH IS TACITLY UNDERSTOOD.

Tail Male - When certain lands are given to a person and the male heirs of his or her body. The female heirs are not capable of inheriting it.

Tail Special - This denotes an estate in tail where the succession is restricted to certain heirs of the donee's body, and does not go to all of them in general; e. g., where lands and tenements are given to a man and "the heirs of his body on Mary, his now wife, to be begotten;" here no issue can inherit but such special issue as is engendered between those two, not such as the husband may have by another wife, and therefore it is called "special tail." It is defined by Cowell as the limitation of lands and tenements to a man and his wife AND THE HEIRS OF THEIR TWO BODIES. But the phrase need not be thus restricted. Tail special, in its largest sense, is where THE GIFT IS RESTRAINED TO CERTAIN HEIRS OF THE DONOR'S BODY, AND DOES NOT GO TO ALL OF THEM IN GENERAL. (Black4)

— = —

What does it mean in law that an estate can be determined?

We need to understand that the only way anything can be determined, including our person (status) at law and any property or lands attached to it, is if that thing is fictional. That which is self-evident need not be determined. Only the paper representation of the person, place, or thing can be determined. In other words, only that which is the slave of a master and the agent of a principal can be determined. Only gods have the power to determine anything under their established, de facto (illegitimate in Nature) law. And the only man immune from such judicial, legal determinations of his land and property, including his children, is a private man of God. For his agency is only to the Principal Creator of all Nature, and his Law is Highest.

But the land-lords certainly have the power through their government agencies to determine the property of their subjects, especially when man is tricked by them into abandoning his children at birth. For through the legal birth process, the motive for the act of procreation of children is tainted and legally misguided. It is made pointless in the eyes of the corruption that is man's law, and the birth is only considered as a burden to the state. The birth is a crime, the legal child a felon, and the citizen-ship a penal punishment of invisible legal chains in an open-air prison for debtors. The every action of every debtor is one of talliage, as that which is required to be accounted for (to the IRS) and taxed for use by its principal holder. Every action man takes in the person of another, and every property he might obtain, is wholly subject to the determination of his principal in agency.

DETER - To discourage or stop by fear, to stop or prevent from acting or proceeding BY DANGER, difficulty, or other consideration WHICH DISHEARTENS OR COUNTERVAILS THE MOTIVE FOR THE ACT. (Black4)

DETERMINE - To come to an end. To bring to an end. To bring to a conclusion, TO SETTLE BY AUTHORITATIVE SENTENCE, TO DECIDE. TO ADJUDICATE ON AN ISSUE PRESENTED. To estimate. To decide, and analogous to “adopt” or “accept.” (Black4)

DETERMINATION - The decision of a court of justice. It implies an ending or finality, the ending of a controversy or suit. THE ENDING OR EXPIRATION OF AN ESTATE OR INTEREST IN PROPERTY, OR OF A RIGHT, POWER, OR AUTHORITY. The coming to an end in any way whatever. Also, an estimate. As respects an assessment, the term implies judgment and decision after weighing the facts; not mere arithmetical computation. (Black4)

DETERMINATION OF WILL - A phrase used of the PUTTING AN END TO AN ESTATE AT WILL. (Black4)

DETERMINABLE - LIABLE TO COME TO AN END UPON THE HAPPENING OF A CERTAIN CONTINGENCY. SUSCEPTIBLE OF BEING DETERMINED, FOUND out, definitely decided upon, or settled. As to determinable "Fee" and "Freehold," see those titles. (Black4)

— = —

This state of feudal tenure in tenancy is the standard operating procedure of all public citizen-ships, which cannot hold land perfectly, and may only with permission rent the lands of another. This fee as it was called, which was said to be in tail or entailed, is the same state of false, empty “ownership” that we exercise under the lord-ship of our masters today. We pay the People tribute through their created legal entities and municipal corporation. For we only occupy our homes and our lands through agency and in a legal, public person, and are not allowed to obtain perfect or simple (allodial) title while acting in the person (ship) of the foreign United States. Foreigners, regarded as public persons, cannot inherit land, thus they cannot be holders of land. A United States citizen is never an heir, never being considered to hold the inheritable blood of the posterity that stands in perpetuity as the heirs of the bodies of that bloodline.

TAILLE - French. In old English law. The fee which is OPPOSED TO FEE-SIMPLE, because it is so minced or pared that IT IS NOT IN THE OWNER'S FREE POWER TO DISPOSE OF IT, but it is, by the first giver, cut or divided from all other, and TIED TO THE ISSUE OF THE DONEE, — in short, AN ESTATE-TAIL. In old French law. A tax or assessment levied by the king, or by any great lord, upon his SUBJECTS, usually taking the form of AN IMPOSITION UPON THE OWNERS OF REAL ESTATE. The equivalent of the English TILLAGE, the typical DIRECT TAX in France of the Middle Ages, as tonlieu was the generic term for AN INDIRECT TAX. See Tallage. (Black4)

TAILAGE - See Tallage. (Black4)

TAILZIE - In Scotch law. AN ENTAIL. A tailzied FEE is that which THE OWNER, BY EXERCISING HIS INHERENT RIGHT OF DISPOSING of his property, SETTLES upon others than those to whom it would have descended BY LAW. (Black4)

HEIR IN TALZIE - Scotch law. Heirs of talzie or tailzie, are heirs of estates entailed. (Bouv1856)

TALLAGE, or TAILAGE - A piece cut out of the whole. USED METAPHORICALLY for A SHARE OF A MAN'S SUBSTANCE paid by way of TRIBUTE, TOLL, OR TAX, being derived from the French "tailler," which signifies TO CUT A PIECE OUT OF THE WHOLE. A term used to denote subsidies, TAXES, customs, and, indeed, ANY IMPOSITION WHATEVER BY THE GOVERNMENT FOR THE PURPOSE OF RAISING A REVENUE. SMUGGLING, etc. A tax upon cities, townships and boroughs granted to the king as a part of THE ROYAL REVENUE. (Black4)

TALLAGER - A tax or toll gatherer; mentioned by Chaucer (and spelled "talaigier"). (Black4)

TALLAGIUM - L. Latin. A term including ALL TAXES. (Black4)

TALLAGIUM FACERE - To give up accounts in the exchequer, where the method of accounting was by tallies. (Black4)

TALLATIO - A keeping account by tallies. (Black4)

TALLIA - L. Latin. A tax or tribute; TALLAGE; a share taken or cut out of any one's INCOME OR MEANS. (Black4)

TALLEY, or TALLY - A stick cut into two parts, on each whereof is MARKED, with notches or otherwise, WHAT IS DUE BETWEEN DEBTOR AND CREDITOR. It was the ancient mode of KEEPING ACCOUNTS. One part was held by the creditor, and the other by the debtor. The use of tallies in the exchequer was abolished... and the old tallies were ordered to be destroyed... By the custom of London, SEALED TALLIES WERE EFFECTUAL AS A DEED. They are admissible by the French and Italian Codes as evidence between traders. It is said that they were negotiable.

Tallies of loan - A term originally used in England to describe exchequer bills, which were issued by the officers of the exchequer when a temporary loan was necessary to meet the exigencies of the government, and charged on the credit of the exchequer in general, and made ASSIGNABLE FROM ONE PERSON TO ANOTHER.

Tally trade - A system of dealing by which dealers furnish certain articles on credit, upon AN AGREEMENT FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE STIPULATED PRICE BY CERTAIN WEEKLY OR MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS. (Black4)

— = —

The tally trade was merely replaced by the modern mortgage and property tax scheme. But the creditor, despite his methods, has always been there like a vampire feeding on the common goy like a wolf upon sheep.

If a piece of the whole is severed, cut for the purposes of taxation and fee, then the whole cannot be considered in "allodial" perfection, or perfection of title. It is alienated; defective. To be in citizenship is to be in every possible way in a state of defective incompleteness, of expectancy, as only a part of a greater thing, and thus in a state of corruption. The citizen-ship never ends its journey and it has no goal, for it may never find perfected title to land. It may never establish its own private castle, for no privacy exists within such a public persona. Its only purpose is to commercially support the landholders that govern it for profit through their own agents called “governments.” For these heirs of the bloodlines, however, the perfection of land is the only goal. Land is the only real wealth. But holding that land is only the privilege of those creator gods and the heirs of their own posterity. The dread pirate never allows his employed crew to own their own ship.

ALLODIAL - adjective - Pertaining to allodium; freehold; FREE OF RENT OR SERVICE; HELD INDEPENDENT OF A LORD paramount; OPPOSED TO FEUDAL. (Black4)

ALLODIUM - noun - Freehold estate; land which is the ABSOLUTE PROPERTY OF THE OWNER; real estate held in absolute independence, without being subject to any rent, service, OR ACKNOWLEDGMENT TO A SUPERIOR. It is thus OPPOSED TO FEUD. In England, there is no allodial land, all land being held of the king; BUT IN THE UNITED STATES, MOST LANDS ARE ALLODIAL. (Black4)

— = —

So how does the typical public citizenship know instantly that his lands are not held by him in allodium, as the perfection and privy of title? How does one know he is in a modern feudal state by some other more modern name? It's real simple. Only a slave pays property taxes in service to his lord and master. No sovereign landholder would ever pay rent or any form of tallagium to another, for the land would be held only in private hands in an undetermined foothold without interference of time, and his heirs automatically receive that land by their own self-evidence of blood relation in law; that is of course unless the blood of those heirs is corrupted by, say, the rendering of publicity as the attainer of United States citizenship. A king pays no rents nor offers any service to another. But a subject will always pay the king.

It is, therefore, this separation of the man from the land that causes the general population to be the slaves of another. For without land of his own, a man can only ever be in trespass on the private property of another, even when that land is called public property. Public property is property of the public, which is only property of the landholders (private People as each State) that created the centralized federal government that created the entailed public property. A slave needs license to travel on public and private lands, and there is no place in the United States that is not either public or private. A private citizen has the right and duty of easement over those same public lands and highways that a public citizen needs licensure and permission to use and cross over. In other words, what government considers as a private person (with reserved rights) has the Natural Law right of travel and must respect the negative rights of other private men as his duty, while the public person is only considered as a trespasser that is given legal right (permission in licensure) to commercially drive and use said property of the landholders, both public or privately held. This is not a right, only a legal privilege granted to subjects by their kingship.

It is the greatest fallacy of all that citizenships of the United States actually believe in their own ability of perfection, when in fact their whole legal existence is designed to serve their sovereign master in agency. But in this permanent state of commercial ad-venture, public citizenship's voyage is never finished, never complete, never docked. To reach perfection would be to reach the end. To find God. To find Law. This is impossible in the continued, never-ending false pursuit of mammon in commerce.

PERFECT - adjective - [Latin perfectus, perficio, to complete; per and facio, to do or make through, to carry to the end.] 1. Finished; COMPLETE; consummate; NOT DEFECTIVE; having all that is requisite to its nature and kind; as a perfect statue; a perfect likeness; a perfect work; a perfect system. As full, as perfect in a hair as heart. 2. FULLY INFORMED; completely skilled; as men perfect in the use of arms; perfect in discipline. 3. COMPLETE IN MORAL EXCELLENCIES. Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father who is in heaven is perfect. Matthew 5:48. 4. Manifesting perfection. My strength is made perfect in weakness. 2 Corinthians 12:9. Perfect chord, in music, a concord or union of sounds which is perfectly coalescent and agreeable to the ear, as the fifth and the octave; a perfect consonance. A perfect flower, in botany, has both stamen and pistil, or at least another and stigma. Perfect tense, in grammar, the preterit tense; a tense which expresses AN ACT COMPLETED. - verb transitive - [Latin perfectus, perficio.] To finish or complete so as TO LEAVE NOTHING WANTING; to give to any thing all that is requisite TO ITS NATURE AND KIND; as, to perfect a picture or statue. 2 Chronicles 8:16. Inquire into the nature and properties of things, and thereby perfect our ideas of distinct species. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. 1 John 4:1. 1. To instruct fully; to make fully skillful; as, to perfect one's self in the rules of music or architecture; to perfect soldiers in discipline. (Webs1828)

— = —

Just a quick note... if perfect title in allodium is opposed to a feudal state, and only the bloodline of heirs may possess allodial (perfect) title, perhaps it's time to come to the realization that we all live under a feudal tenure, under a sovereign kingship of landholders. Just sayin'...

In Truth, in Reality, only a man of God can be Perfect. For all Land and all Things in Nature are only the Creations of God. These legal considerations and their definitions are only ever that of words on paper titles. It's all fiction. And respect of them makes man imperfect and without God's Power of Perfection.

All holdings of public persons can never be in a state of perfection, for only God's Nature is of Perfection in its Origin of Design. IT can be no other way. As with Jehovah, only the lack of attachments of legal, fictional things causes land to exist in its Perfection of Being. God has no defects, so neither should you or your property while held in God's Name. But when it is held in the name of these legal gods, God is nowhere to be found by the state. This is the essence of that parabolic moral law of the Bible, as is re-written and thus tainted in man's legal law. Thus the Bible is foundational to man's law, and no man may find perfection in man's law without his recognition of God's Perfection of Natural Law. Again, not a religious concept, only a self-evident Reality that says legal, artificial things destroy Natural Things. Simple and quite obvious, really.

— = —

“Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father who is in heaven is perfect.”

—Matthew 5:48

— = —

While in England the lands are the estate of the crown, in the United States most lands are in a status of allodium, which means that the bloodline of People actually hold the land (as a confederation, a combination, a conspiracy of consanguinity in sovereign kingship), and then rent it out in a modern feudal tenancy to the common, commercial citizenships (municipes) and to municipal governments. While the land is held by those select group of sovereign People, the governments are set up to ensure that the public persons remain servants and renters only to the private landholders.

But the American Dream is sold to all who would naturalize (prostitute) themselves to the constituted authorities in voluntary servitude here, and the slaves live their whole bonded Existence believing that the word American is akin to the word sovereign. They believe despite all possibilities that they are one of the heirs in posterity, standing in pure ignorance of their own, self-imposed fate. Some are successful in that public commercial system of corruption based on mammon, some are not. But none of us are perfect, for none of us have God's Nature and Law as our only sovereign. And we remain in this open-air debtor's prison without a clue that we are merely peopled cattle put out to pasture.

Today, the term "tallies of loan" in the U.S. congress has been changed to the word "appropriations," and committees are formed to appropriate (create) money and thus charge it to the national debt of its subjected persons in citizenship. Auto and other property loans are merely a tally trade, but the sticks are today paper and the marks made with ink. The creditor always holds 1st lien position on the title held by the debtor, as the principal always seated (upon the sea) in superiority to the agent. And of course the constitution was a very special tail, entailing lands upon their posterity (the heirs of their bodies), but not to the peons and proles of the general public.

The old fee simple as a feudal tenure has only changed in name (legal noun). It seems the only difference between the modern public citizen-ship and the old fiefdom is the ignorance of the meaning of their given pledge. The patriotic compassion that men in bondage display today seems to stem only from their lack of true comprehension of their legally bound under-standing as to their voluntary servitude, their freedom (as a permissive corporate franchise), and that they hold no actual lands as tenants.

FEE - noun - [Latin pecu, pecus. From the use of cattle in transferring property, or from barter and payments in cattle, the word came to signify MONEY; it signified also goods, SUBSTANCE IN GENERAL. The word belongs to Class Bg, but the primary sense is not obvious.] A reward or compensation for services; recompense, either gratuitous, or established by law and claimed of right. It is applied particularly to the reward of professional services; as the fees of lawyers and physicians; the fees of office; clerk's fees; sheriff's fees; marriage fees, etc. Many of these are fixed by law; but gratuities to professional men are also called fees. - noun - [In English, is LOAN. This word, FEE INLAND, or AN ESTATE IN TRUST, originated among the descendants of the northern conquerors of Italy, but it originated in the south of Europe. See FEUD.] Primarily, A LOAN OF LAND, AN ESTATE IN TRUST, GRANTED BY A PRINCE OR LORD, to be held by the grantee ON CONDITION OF PERSONAL SERVICE, or other condition; and if the grantee or tenant failed to perform the conditions, THE LAND REVERTED TO THE LORD OR DONOR, called the LANDLORD, OR LEND-LORD, THE LORD OF THE LOAN. A fee then is any land or tenement held of a superior on certain conditions. It is synonymous with FIEF and FEUD. All the land in England, except the crown land, is of this kind. Fees are absolute or limited. AN ABSOLUTE FEE OR FEE-SIMPLE IS LAND WHICH A MAN HOLDS TO HIMSELF AND HIS HEIRS FOREVER, WHO ARE CALLED TENANTS IN FEE SIMPLE. Hence in modern times, the term fee or fee simple denotes an estate of inheritance; and IN AMERICA, WHERE LANDS ARE NOT GENERALLY HELD OF A SUPERIOR, a fee or fee simple is an estate in which THE OWNER HAS THE WHOLE PROPERTY WITHOUT ANY CONDITION ANNEXED TO THE TENURE. A limited fee is an estate limited or clogged with certain conditions; as a qualified or base fee which ceases with the existence of certain conditions; and a conditional fee which is limited to particular heirs. In the United States, an estate in fee or fee simple is what is called in English law AN ALLODIAL ESTATE, an estate held by a person IN HIS OWN RIGHT, and descendible to the HEIRS IN GENERAL. (Webs1828)

FEE IN ESTATES - Ordinarily, the word "fee" or "fee simple" is applied to an estate in land, but term is applicable to any kind of hereditament, corporeal or incorporeal, and is ALL THE PROPERTY in thing referred to or largest estate therein which person may have. A FREEHOLD ESTATE IN LANDS, HELD OF A SUPERIOR LORD, AS A REWARD FOR SERVICES, AND ON CONDITION OF RENDERING SOME SERVICE IN RETURN FOR IT. The true meaning of the word "fee" is the same as that of "FEUD" or "FIEF," and in its original sense it is taken IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO "ALLODIUM," which latter (allodium) is defined as A MAN'S OWN LAND, WHICH HE POSSESSES MERELY IN HIS OWN RIGHT, WITHOUT OWING ANY RENT OR SERVICE TO ANY SUPERIOR. In modern English tenures, "fee" signifies an estate of inheritance, being the highest and most extensive interest which a man can have in a feud; and when the term is used simply, without any adjunct, or in the form "fee simple," it imports AN ABSOLUTE INHERITANCE CLEAR OF ANY CONDITION, limitation, or restriction to particular heirs, but descendible to the heirs general, male or female, lineal or collateral... Base fee. A determinable or qualified fee; an estate having the nature of a fee, but not a fee simple absolute... Limited fee. An estate of inheritance in lands, which is clogged or confined with some sort of condition or qualification. Such estates are base or qualified fees, conditional fees, and fees-tail. The term is opposed to "fee simple." ...(In) American Law. An estate of inheritance WITHOUT CONDITION, belonging to the owner, and ALIENABLE BY HIM OR TRANSMISSIBLE TO HIS HEIRS ABSOLUTELY AND SIMPLY, and is AN ABSOLUTE ESTATE IN PERPETUITY AND THE LARGEST POSSIBLE ESTATE A MAN CAN HAVE, BEING, IN FACT, ALLODIAL IN ITS NATURE. EVERY ESTATE WHICH IS NOT FOR LIFE, FOR YEARS OR AT WILL. Terms "fee," "fee simple," and "fee simple absolute." are equivalent. (Black4)

— = —

Here again we see the time domain in legal things. That which is granted and thus lies in grant for any period of time, be it years or for the time of the life of the person in that agency relationship, is not in allodium. That which stands in perpetuity, as that which, without will or any other legal thing, passes onto the heirs of the man automatically and forever (in blood consideration only) is the perfection of title. This is the exclusion of legal interferences and limits or conditions. This is True and Natural Freedom. This is a man's only castle and only real security.

FEE AND LIFE-RENT - In Scotch law, two estates in land — the first of which is the full right of proprietorship, the second the limited right of usufruct during life - may be held together, or may co-exist in different persons at the same time. (Black4) ALLODARII - Owners of allodial lands. Owners of estates as large as a subject may have.

 "Tenure." (Black4)

ALLODIAL - Free; NOT HOLDEN OF ANY LORD OR SUPERIOR; OWNED WITHOUT OBLIGATION OF VASSALAGE OR FEALTY; THE OPPOSITE OF FEUDAL. (Black4)

ALLODIUM - Land held absolutely in one's own right, and not of any lord or superior; LAND NOT SUBJECT TO FEUDAL DUTIES OR BURDENS. An estate held by absolute ownership, WITHOUT RECOGNIZING ANY SUPERIOR TO WHOM ANY DUTY IS DUE ON ACCOUNT THEREOF.
 (Black4)

FEUD - noun - 1. Primarily, a deadly quarrel; hatred and contention that was to be terminated only by death. Among our rude ancestors, these quarrels, though originating in the murder of an individual, involved the whole tribe or family of the injured and of the aggressing parties. Hence in modern usage, 2. A contention or quarrel; particularly, an inveterate quarrel BETWEEN FAMILIES OR PARTIES IN A STATE; the discord and animosities which prevail among the citizens of a state or city, sometimes accompanied with CIVIL WAR. In the north of Great Britain, the word is still used in its original sense; denoting a combination of kindred to revenge the death of any of their blood, on the offender and all his race, or any other great enemy. We say, it is the policy of our enemies to raise and cherish intestine feuds. The word is not strictly applicable to wars between different nations, but to intestine wars, and to quarrels and animosities between families or small tribes. (Webs1828)

FUED - noun - [Latin fides; Eng. loan.] A fief; A FEE; a right to lands or hereditaments held in trust, or on the terms of performing certain conditions; the right which a vassal or tenant has to the lands or other immovable thing of his lord, to use the same and take the profits thereof hereditarily, rendering to his superior such duties and services as belong to military tenure, etc., THE PROPERTY OF THE SOIL ALWAYS REMAINING IN THE LORD OR SUPERIOR. From the foregoing explanation of the origin of the word, result very naturally the definition of the term, and the doctrine of forfeiture, upon non-performance of the conditions of the trust or loan. (Webs1828)

FEUDAL SYSTEM - The system of feuds. A political and social system which prevailed throughout Europe during the eleventh, twelfth, and thirteenth centuries, and is supposed to have grown out of the peculiar usages and policy of the Teutonic nations who overran the continent after the fall of the Western Roman Empire, as developed by the exigencies of their military domination, and possibly furthered by notions taken from the Roman jurisprudence. It was introduced into England, in its completeness, by William I., A. D. 1085, though it may have existed in a rudimentary form among the Saxons before the Conquest. It formed the entire basis of the real-property law of England in medieval times; and survivals of the system, in modern days, so modify and color that branch of jurisprudence, BOTH IN ENGLAND AND AMERICA, THAT MANY OF ITS PRINCIPLES REQUIRE FOR THEIR COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING A KNOWLEDGE OF THE FEUDAL SYSTEM. The feudal system originated in the relations of A MILITARY CHIEFTAIN AND HIS FOLLOWERS, or king and nobles, or lord and vassals, and especially THEIR RELATIONS AS DETERMINED BY THE BOND ESTABLISHED BY A GRANT OF LAND FROM THE FORMER TO THE LATTER. From this it grew into a complete and intricate complex of rules for the tenure and transmission of real estate, and of correlated duties and services; while, BY TYING MEN TO THE LAND AND TO THOSE HOLDING ABOVE AND BELOW THEM, IT CREATED A CLOSE-KNIT HIERARCHY OF PERSONS, AND DEVELOPED AN AGGREGATE OF SOCIAL AND POLITICAL INSTITUTIONS... (Black4)

FEUDAL TENURES - The tenures of real estate under the feudal system, such as knight-service, socage, villénage, etc. (Black4)

FEUDAL POSSESSION - The equivalent of "SEISIN" under the feudal system. (Black4)

SEISI - In old English law. Seised; possessed. (Black4)

SEISIN - The completion of the feudal investiture, BY WHICH THE TENANT WAS ADMITTED INTO THE FEUD, AND PERFORMED THE RIGHTS OF HOMAGE AND FEALTY... (Black4)

FEUDALIZE - To REDUCE to a feudal tenure; TO CONFORM to feudalism. (Black4)

FEUDALISM - The feudal system; the aggregate of feudal PRINCIPLES AND USAGES. It is a vague term to describe a congeries of customs and legal relations by no means uniform throughout Europe and never static. But feudalism had one basic characteristic traceable through all its variations: It rested on RELATIONS TO LAND, the primary factor in a relatively primitive agrarian civilization. (Black4)

FEUDARY - A tenant who holds by feudal tenure, (also spelled "feudatory" and "feudatory.") HELD BY FEUDAL SERVICE. Relating to feuds or feudal tenures. (Black4)

FEUDUM - L. Latin. A feud, fief, or fee. A right of USING AND ENJOYING FOREVER THE LANDS OF ANOTHER, WHICH THE LORD GRANTS ON CONDITION THAT THE TENANT SHALL RENDER FEALTY, MILITARY DUTY, AND OTHER SERVICES. It is NOT PROPERLY THE LAND, BUT A RIGHT IN THE LAND. This form of the word is used by the feudal writers. The earlier English writers generally prefer the form feodum. There was an older word feum. Its use by the Normans is exceedingly obscure. "Feudal" was not in their vocabulary. Usually it denoted a stretch of land, rarely a tenure or mass of rights. It came to be applied to every person who had HERITABLE RIGHTS in land. (Black4)

FEUDUM ANTIQUUM - An ancient feud or fief; a fief descended to the vassal FROM HIS ANCESTORS. A fief which ancestors had possessed for more than four generations. (Black4)

FEUDUM APERTUM - An open feud or fief; a fief resulting back to the lord, where THE BLOOD OF THE PERSON LAST SEISED WAS UTTERLY EXTINCT AND GONE OR WHERE THE TENANT COMMITTED A CRIME, or gave other legal cause. (Black4)

FEUDUM FRANCUM - A free feud. One which was noble and free from talliage and other subsidies to which the plebeia feuda (vulgar feuds) were subject. (Black4)

FEUDUM NOVUM - A new feud or fief; a fief which began in the PERSON of the feudatory, AND DID NOT COME TO HIM BY SUCCESSION. (Black4)

FEUDUM NOVUM UT ANTIQUUM - A new fee held with the qualities and incidents of an ancient one. (Black4)

— = —

As modern “tenants” in a limited, non-allodial type of fee system of feudalism in America, that word usually and specifically printed in mortgage contracts referencing the citizen-ship purchaser in feud (loan/rent) as merely a tenant, we are bound by the same personal, military “selective” service conditions and forfeiture laws as in those days of old, of that ancient system of pledging service (performance contract). The banks have legally taken the middleman position and have been assigned the authorities of the landlord (lord of the loan/feud). We even pay our property taxes to the banks today included in our fee, with the full violent support of the executive, administrative government in protection of its granted use to those banks (agents) to create its (the principal’s) money by mere signature and journal book entry, the keeping (tally) of accounts and debtors of the exchequer (treasury).

As our dollar bill states, we put trust in the god that is government and its sovereignty. This position of land lord (lend-lord) is all throughout the Bible as well, with the “lord-god” often being confused as being Jehovah. Kings are gods too, the land-lords, just as corporations are people too. Anything can happen in fiction.

It might be stated that the above definition of feud as it describes the civil war and that revenge of blood and race might be seriously taken into consideration here. For this is straight out of the Talmud, the canonical and civil law book of the Jewish people, one of the sacred free-masonic lodge books (Talmud, Bible, and Quran), by those who still abide by the old testament law and ways. What better revenge than to legally, artificially corrupt the knowledge and blood of an entire people, destroy and Judaize their ability to live according to the True christian path, and to entertain them into their own sporting oblivion?

Let us take a closer look at the true Abraham Lincoln, and that of his true intentions, which was to preserve his own bloodline’s national ability to govern over the plebs:

— — —

“America will never be destroyed from outside.
If we falter and lose our freedoms, it will be because we destroyed ourselves.”

—Abraham Lincoln

— — —

“You will take possession by military force of the printing establishments of the New York World and Journal of Commerce ... and prohibit any further publication thereof.... You are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest and imprison ... the editors, proprietors and publishers of the aforementioned newspapers.”

—Executive Order by President Lincoln, May 18, 1864

— — —

“I have no purpose, directly or indirectly, to interfere with the institution of slavery IN THE STATES WHERE IT EXISTS. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so.”

—President Lincoln, excerpt from his 1860 inaugural address

— — —

“My paramount object in this struggle is TO SAVE THE UNION, and is not either to save or to destroy slavery. IF I COULD SAVE THE UNION WITHOUT FREEING ANY SLAVE I WOULD DO IT; and if I could save it by freeing some and leaving others alone I would also do that. What I do about slavery, and the colored race, I do because I believe it helps to save the Union.”

—President Lincoln, excerpt from: a letter to Horace Greeley, dated August 22, 1862.

— — —

“I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races. I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people. There is a physical difference between the white and black races, which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality.”

—President Lincoln, written in 1858, quoted from Cato Institute article ‘Lincoln, Secession and Slavery’ by Tibor R. Machan

—≡—

Whatever aspect of that patriotic American dream that we have read about from a romanticized, public history (his story) published by the current posterity of victors was destroyed long ago by the civil war that Lincoln created through Executive Order (sovereign privilege). The purpose of that war has been sold to all of us voluntary debt-slaves as purely the struggle and effort toward the abolishment of slavery. And yet this hidden history records a completely different Lincoln than what has been offered in that propagandist morass of public education and fairy tales. For the result of the civil war and the ensuing reconstruction period and amendments was not an abolishment of slavery at all, as Mr. Greeley comments so eloquently, but an inclusion of all men acting as public citizen-ships (denizens) into the ranks of volunteerism, which is another word for the doctrine of “master and servant.”

—≡—

"Slavery discourages arts and manufacturing... EVERY master of slaves is born a petty tyrant."

—George Mason (Virginia Delegate), 1787

—≡—

“We have seen the mere distinction of color made, in the most enlightened period of time, a ground of the most oppressive dominion ever exercised by man over man.”

—James Madison, 1787

—≡—

"I am exceedingly distressed at the proceedings of the Convention -- being... almost sure, they will... lay the foundation of a Civil War."

—Elbridge Gerry (Massachusetts Delegate), 1787

—≡—

There is nothing romantic about the founding of a slave colony such as America. That is, unless you decipher that word. Rome has always had slaves. So perhaps the notion of slavery is Roman-tic after all. What do I know?

And just what is the root etymology of that Roman-tic history of the “colonies” that settled in America?

The words colony stems from the late 14th century noun, having the meaning of an "ancient Roman settlement outside Italy," from the Latin colonia "settled land, farm, landed estate," from colonus "husbandman, tenant farmer, settler in new land," and from colere "to inhabit, cultivate, frequent, practice, tend, guard, respect." It was also used by the Romans in their translation of the Greek apoikia, meaning "people from home." Modern application dates from around the 1540s.

To colonize (verb) stems from the 1620s, meaning "to settle with colonists," from the stem of the Latin colonus "tiller of the soil, farmer;" said in the sense "to make another place into a national dependency" without regard for settlement there by 1790s (such as in reference to French activity in Egypt or British work in India), and probably stems directly from colony.

Interestingly, but not surprisingly, the noun form of cult stems also from the early 1600's, meaning "worship," and also "a particular form of worship," from the 17th century French culte, and from Latin cultus, as "care, labor; cultivation, culture; worship, reverence," originally "tended, cultivated," and past participle of colere "to till." It is rare after the 17th century, though revived in the mid-19th century as a reference to ancient or primitive rituals. The meaning of "a devotion to a person or thing" is from 1829. A cult is an organized group of people, religious or not, with whom you disagree. [Rawson]

Finally, the word domicile (noun) as will be discussed in more detail stems from the mid-15th century, from 14th century Middle French domicile, and from the Latin domicilium, perhaps from domus "house" (see domestic) + colere "to dwell" (see colony). As a verb, it is first attested 1809. Related: Domiciled; domiciliary. And so to have domicile is to inhabit or dwell in a place. A subject has domicile in the district of its master. The American colonies had domicile in Great Britain under the king, but their residence was in the New World.

As an example of this corporate colonization and creation of plantations (colonies), one which many historians have no difficulty in expressing, is the notion of what a colony really is regarding the enslavement of a people. This colonization process can be understood better by simply revealing the nature of the East-India Company of Great Britain, the same corporation that colonized America. The East India Company, for instance, had a monopoly upon the tea trade in the colonies, and the Tea Act of the British Parliament forced the colonists to pay a tax (revenue) on all unsold tea, which led to the infamous "Boston Tea Party." This would not be dissimilar to forcing all Americans today to purchase all unsold automobiles at the end of each fiscal year, labeling such purchase as a tax, and yet no taxpayer would receive the benefit of their tax. No cars would be delivered. The American colonists were forced to purchase the unsold tea from British warehouses collectively and unwillingly.

The happenings in India are described here word for word as essentially just what happened in North America, and mirror the current political state we live under today, forced through taxation into tribute to the district corporation of Washington D.C., paying for its blunders and overstocks of oil, stock trading, money markets, and other "bail-outs." What was once the despised actions of a tyrant are now the "normal" operations of this American nation, and whatever complaints were launched against the king of Great Britain by the Declaration of Independence pail in comparison to what this district has created, not the least of which is its "standing army" and military forces stationed around the world and in every state, protecting the interests of the corporation and not the peopled subjects of that Romanticized colonial structure.

"The invariable course of the Company's policy is this: either they set up some prince too odious to maintain himself without the necessity of their assistance, or they soon render him odious by making him the instrument of their government. In that case troops are bountifully sent to him to maintain his authority. That he should have no want of assistance, a civil gentleman, called a Resident, is kept at his court, who, under pretense of providing duly for the pay of these troops, gets assignments on the revenue into his hands. Under his provident management, debts soon accumulate; new assignments are made for these debts; until, step by step, the whole revenue, and with it the whole power of the country, is delivered into his hands. The military do not behold without a virtuous emulation the moderate gains of the civil department. They feel that in a country driven to habitual rebellion by the civil government the military is necessary; and they will not permit their services to go unrewarded. Tracts of country are delivered over to their discretion. Then it is found proper to convert their commanding officers into FARMERS OF REVENUE. Thus, BETWEEN THE WELL-PAID CIVIL AND WELL-REWARDED MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT, THE SITUATION OF THE NATIVES MAY BE EASILY CONJECTURED. THE AUTHORITY OF THE REGULAR AND LAWFUL GOVERNMENT IS EVERYWHERE AND IN EVERY POINT EXTINGUISHED. Disorders and violences arise; they are repressed by other disorders and other violences. Wherever the collectors of the revenue and the farming colonels and majors move, ruin is about them, rebellion before and behind them. The people in crowds fly out of the country; AND THE FRONTIER IS GUARDED BY LINES OF TROOPS, NOT TO EXCLUDE AN ENEMY, BUT TO PREVENT THE ESCAPE OF THE INHABITANTS.

—Edmund Burke: Speech on Mr. Fox's East India Bill, Dec. 1, 1783

—=—

“Against misgovernment such as then afflicted Bengal it was impossible to struggle. The superior intelligence and energy of the dominant class made their power irresistible. A war of Bengalees against Englishmen was like a war of sheep against wolves, OF MEN AGAINST DEMONS. The only protection which the conquered could find was in the moderation, the clemency, THE ENLARGED POLICY OF THE CONQUERORS. That protection, at a later period, they found. But at first English power came among them unaccompanied by English morality. There was an interval between the time at which they became our subjects and the time at which we began to reflect that we were bound to discharge towards them the duties of rulers, DURING THAT INTERVAL THE BUSINESS OF A SERVANT OF THE COMPANY WAS SIMPLY TO WRING OUT OF THE NATIVES A HUNDRED OR TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS AS SPEEDILY AS POSSIBLE, that he might return home before his constitution had suffered from the heat, to marry a peer’s daughter, to buy rotten boroughs in Cornwall, and to give balls in St. James’s Square.”

—Lord Thomas Babington Macaulay: Warren Hastings, Oct. 1841

—=—

A colony is a farm, a plantation, as Webster explains below. First the farm is peopled, and as it was in India, the farmers of those people called as revenue collectors or “cheaters” (escheaters) are set into positions of authority and militarily protected. The farmers of men merely changed uniforms, from military dress to the suits and ties of Internal Revenue Collection Agents bearing concealed weapons and the power of the legal pen.

COLONY - noun - 1. A COMPANY or BODY OF PEOPLE transplanted from their mother country to a remote province or country to cultivate and inhabit it, AND REMAINING SUBJECT TO THE JURISDICTION OF THE PARENT STATE; as the British colonies in America or the Indies; the Spanish colonies in South America. When such settlements cease to be subject to the parent state, they are no longer denominated colonies. The first settlers of New England were the best of Englishmen, well educated, devout Christians, and zealous lovers of liberty. There was never a colony formed of better materials. 2. The country planted or colonized; A PLANTATION; also, the body of inhabitants in a territory colonized, including the descendants of the first planters. The people, though born in the territory, retain the name of colonists, till they cease to be subjects of the parent state. 3. A COLLECTION OF ANIMALS; as colonies of shell-fish. (Webs1828)

—=—

We were tricked into condoning our own voluntary servitude (slavery) by marrying our christian name with the state surname. It was not a war to end slavery but to institutionalize and nationalize it under the Romanized dictatorship of the Executive Branch. It was the rebranding of a civil, feudatory state. This nation was, without any doubt, created by and for slaveholders. For the constitution tells me so, and the constitution is the bible of sovereign tyrants...

CONDONE - To make condonation of. (Black4)

CONDONACION - In Spanish law. The remission of a debt, either expressly or tacitly. (Black4)

CONDONATION - The CONDITIONAL REMISSION OR FORGIVENESS, BY MEANS OF CONTINUANCE OR RESUMPTION OF MARITAL COHABITATION, by one of the married parties, of a known matrimonial offense committed by the other, that would constitute a cause of divorce; the condition being that the offense shall not be repeated. "Condonation," to constitute valid defense in divorce action, must be free, voluntary, and not induced by duress or fraud: "condonation" means pardon of offense, voluntary overlooking or implied forgiveness by treating offender AS IF OFFENSE HAD NOT BEEN COMMITTED. The term is also sometimes applied to forgiveness of a past wrong, fault, injury, or breach of duty in other relations, as, for example, in that of MASTER AND SERVANT. Also, antenuptial unchastity is capable of "condonation." (Black4)

CONDITIONAL - That which is dependent upon or granted SUBJECT TO A CONDITION. (Black4)

CONDITIONAL CREDITOR - In the civil law. A creditor having a future right of action, or having a right of action in expectancy. (Black4)

—=—

Citizenship is of course a conditional contract, a condonation by a private People to let the lowest, mean, and vulgar inhabits their lands, on the condition of good behavior under their own version of the Roman civil law.

—=—

“Any conditions are odious, but especially those which are against [in restraint of] marriage and commerce.”

—CONDITIONES QUAE LIBET ODIOSAE; MAXIME AUTEM CONTRA MATRIMONIUM ET COMMERCIUM. Lofft, Appendix, 644. (Black4)

—=—

“It is called a "condition," when something is given on AN UNCERTAIN EVENT, WHICH MAY OR MAY NOT COME INTO EXISTENCE.”

—CONDITIO DICITUR, CUM QUID IN CASUM INCERTUM QUI POTEST TENDERE AD ESSE AUT NON ESSE, CONFERTUR. CO. Litt. 201. (Black4)

—=—

The event that is the recording of vital statistics and for which that application is thus re-created into a legal entity through the birth certificate process of legal delivery is such a condition as this, the registration of an event that may or may not be executed (confirmed), for whether or not that child will grow up to inhabit and ratify the commercial entity assigned to its good name is unknown at the time of the “issue” of that legal person (child, infant of unknown parentage), as whether or not the condition will be confirmed when the child enters into the age of consent and ratification in adulthood. Thus the legal person is conditional (merely an assumed condition) until that confirmation in adulthood (legalized adultery), which could be called the express execution, consent, and maturity of that financial birth instrument. This is called a wager.

To call odious the laws restricting marriage and commerce is certainly to call public citizenship as odious, for it is these conditions and their restrictive and permissive laws that define the freedom of a person. Public, legal marriage is always, above all else a contract with and under the state, and is in and of itself only an act of commerce confirmed by intercourse, as all acts of incorporation are.

And so we must here understand and subsequently always be aware of our own condition, be it of blood or of a corruption of blood, of publicity or of privacy, and of personhood or of allodial (free) right. How we conduct ourselves in public and in private creates the enduring legal condition that we will be considered in, tacitly and expressly. And this is the importance of always obeying God's negative Law over that of man's positive law, for an act of God may never take on the condition of legal consideration, being a man considered only by his actions not his words.

CONDUCT - verb - To manage; direct; lead; have direction; CARRY ON; regulate; DO BUSINESS.
(Black4)

CONDUCT - noun - PERSONAL BEHAVIOR; deportment; MODE OF ACTION; ANY POSITIVE or NEGATIVE ACT. (Black4)

CONDUCTIO - In the civil law. A hiring. Used generally in connection with the term locatio, a letting. Locatio et conductio, (sometimes united as a compound word, "locatio-conductio") a letting and hiring.
(Black4)

CONDUCTOR - In the civil law. A hirer. (Black4)

CONDUCTUS - A THING hired. (Black4)

ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT - An estoppel exists where A MAN BY HIS OWN ACTS OR ACCEPTANCE IS CONCLUDED FROM SAYING THE TRUTH. See, also, Equitable Estoppel. The doctrine does not apply to an agreement which is illegal. Elements or essentials of estoppel are acts done which cannot be contravened WITHOUT FRAUD OR GROSS MISCONDUCT. Change of position to injury of party claiming benefit of estoppel; FALSE REPRESENTATION OR CONCEALMENT; ignorance of facts of one claiming right of estoppel; INDUCEMENT TO DO OR FORBEAR DOING, SOMETHING ONE WOULD NOT, OR WOULD, OTHERWISE HAVE DONE; INTENT TO HAVE OTHER PARTY ACT OR CONDUCT CALCULATED TO MISLEAD; knowledge of party sought to be estopped; misleading of person claiming estoppel; prejudice to Party claiming estoppel; RELIANCE UPON CONDUCT OF ONE SOUGHT TO BE ESTOPPED; representation or concealment of material facts. (Black4)

— = —

Allegiance to the District of Columbia is in essence the abandonment of ligeance to God's Nature, the Creation (Jehovah), and therefore signifies an abandonment of the Natural Law. It is literally an estoppel from telling or acting in Truth, in Reality. Allegiance is always an act of religion (establishment of man's relation to some legal or ecclesiastical "god" or as a falsely religious "legal" oath in blasphemy through "God's" name and upon the Bible), for the sovereign is the false god whose laws one is in allegiance and fee to, and therefore one must follow that "god" over the One True God. Again, our choice of law shows without question our actual choice of who is our Lord and master. Remember that legally granted free-dom (franchise) of religion granted by the state does not include freedom to act morally outside the immoral or amoral laws of the legality of that state. As all gods are proclaimed vicars (acting in replacement) of some idea of the Supreme Being, government becomes the outlet through which man relates to God. Allegiance to government is respect and consent that God's creation is in-deed bound up by the secular, legal territory and jurisdiction of man, and therefore that only certain men above that government (as the People) are sovereign over God's will. The personal connection to God and True Nature is broken, the state becoming a surrogate land-Lord. The state's legal law replaces man's conscious will and actions called his religion. It means the state may harm and destroy all of nature (including man) with no respect to that Law of Nature. Consideration of God is thus estopped while man acts in the agency of personhood. If you are a resident of government, you are not a resident of nature. If your domicile is in fiction, the realm of Natural Law has been usurped and subsequently defeated in relation to yourself and all those around you. But most importantly, allegiance to the state as god (the lawmaker) is allegiance to the fiction and its lies of fictional words, names, flattering titles, numbers, marks, fabled genealogies, and all other legal forms without substance, all of which is against the scriptures.

If God is ultimate Truth, then legal fiction is also a formally declared "truth." For truth can certainly be a lie if so consented to by parties ratifying it as accepted fraud in a contract or government, and the maxims of law allow this, the contract making the law. But only one of these truths can exist in reality, for man can only have one master. Truth in fiction is not the same as Truth in God. In fact, it's purposefully quite the opposite.

—=—

RELIGION:

“BOND uniting man to God, and a virtue whose purpose is to render God worship due him AS SOURCE OF ALL BEING AND PRINCIPLE OF ALL GOVERNMENT of THINGS.”

—Nikulnikoff v. Archbishop, etc., of Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church, 255 N.Y.S. 653, 663, 142 Misc. 894. From definition of Religion. (Black4)

—=—

This legal opinion, given as regards to one sect of the Catholic religion, is also talking about an office like that of Pope or King as “god.” For Jehovah has no government, only the design of the self-evident Permanence of Nature's Supreme Existence. And so to claim a religious affiliation with any corporation calling itself a religion binds man to the temporal, secular structure of man's legal designs against God's very Nature. The author completely sympathizes with the reader, but offers no apologies for quoting the gods in their own interpretations of themselves playing as gods.

Interestingly, the word “religion” breaks down as the following. Remember that the word God can mean Spiritual or secular, True or false, and as man acting as lord and god despite Jehovah:

RE - prefix or inseparable particle - In the composition of words, denotes return, repetition, iteration. (Webs1828)

LIG - verb intransitive - TO LIE. [See Lie.]... (Webs1828)

RELIGION - noun relij'on - [Latin religio, from religo, TO BIND ANEW; re and ligo, TO BIND. This word seems originally to have signified AN OATH OR VOW TO THE GODS, or the OBLIGATION of such an oath or vow, which was HELD VERY SACRED BY THE ROMANS.] 1. Religion in its most comprehensive sense, includes a belief in the being and perfections of God, in the revelation of his will to man, in man's obligation to obey his commands, in a STATE of reward and punishment, and in man's accountableness to God; and also TRUE GODLINESS OR PIETY OF LIFE, WITH THE PRACTICE OF ALL MORAL DUTIES. It therefore comprehends theology, as A SYSTEM OF DOCTRINES OR PRINCIPLES, as well as practical piety; for the PRACTICE OF MORAL DUTIES WITHOUT A BELIEF IN A DIVINE LAWGIVER, AND WITHOUT REFERENCE TO HIS WILL OR COMMANDS, IS NOT RELIGION... (Webs1828)

RELIGION - ...2. Religion AS DISTINCT FROM THEOLOGY, IS GODLINESS OR REAL PIETY IN PRACTICE, consisting in the PERFORMANCE of all known DUTIES TO GOD AND OUR FELLOW MEN, in obedience to divine command, OR FROM LOVE TO GOD AND HIS LAW. James 1:26. 3.

Religion AS DISTINCT FROM VIRTUE, OR MORALITY, consists in the PERFORMANCE of the DUTIES WE OWE DIRECTLY TO GOD, FROM A PRINCIPLE OF OBEDIENCE TO HIS WILL.

Hence we often speak of religion and virtue, as different branches of one system, or the duties of the first and second tables of the law. LET US WITH CAUTION INDULGE THE SUPPOSITION, THAT MORALITY CAN BE MAINTAINED WITHOUT RELIGION. 4. ANY SYSTEM of faith and worship.

In this sense, religion comprehends the belief and worship of PAGANS AND MOHAMMEDANS, AS WELL AS OF CHRISTIANS; any religion consisting in the belief of A SUPERIOR POWER OR

POWERS GOVERNING THE WORLD, and in the worship of such power or powers. Thus we speak of the religion of the Turks, of the Hindoos, of the Indians, etc. AS WELL AS OF THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION. We speak of FALSE RELIGION as well as of TRUE RELIGION. 5. The RITES of religion; in the plural. (Webs1828)

RELIGION - Man's RELATION to Divinity, to reverence, worship, OBEDIENCE, AND SUBMISSION to mandates and precepts of supernatural or superior BEINGS. In its broadest sense includes ALL FORMS OF BELIEF IN THE EXISTENCE OF SUPERIOR BEINGS EXERCISING POWER OVER HUMAN BEINGS by volition, IMPOSING RULES OF CONDUCT, WITH FUTURE REWARDS AND

PUNISHMENTS. One's views OF HIS RELATIONS TO HIS CREATOR and to the obligations they impose of reverence for his being and CHARACTER, and of obedience to his will. It is often confounded with CULTUS or FORM of worship of a particular SECT, but is distinguishable from the latter... (Black4)

APPARITION - noun - [See Appear.] 1. In a general sense, AN APPEARANCE; visibility. [Little used.] 2.

The thing appearing; a visible object; a FORM. 3. A ghost; a specter; a visible spirit. [This is now the usual sense of the word.] 4. MERE APPEARANCE, OPPOSED TO REALITY. (Webs1828)

BIND - verb transitive - 1. To tie together, or confine with a cord, or any thing that is flexible; to fasten as with a band, fillet or ligature. 2. To gird, inwrap or involve; to confine by a wrapper, cover or bandage; sometimes with up; as, to bind up a wound. 3. To confine or restrain, as with a chain, fetters or cord; as, bind him hand and foot. 4. TO RESTRAIN IN ANY MANNER. He bindeth the floods from overflowing.

Job 28:11. 5. TO OBLIGE BY A PROMISE, VOW, STIPULATION, COVENANT, LAW, DUTY OR ANY OTHER MORAL TIE; TO ENGAGE. If a man shall swear an oath to bind his soul with a bond.

Numbers 30:2. We are bound by the laws of kindness, OF NATURE, OF A STATE, etc. 6. TO CONFIRM OR RATIFY. WHATSOEVER THOU SHALT BIND ON EARTH, SHALL BE BOUND IN HEAVEN.

Matthew 16:19. 7. TO DISTRESS, trouble, or confine by infirmity. Whom Satan hath bound these eighteen years. Luke 13:1. 8. To constrain by a powerful influence or persuasion. I go bound in the spirit to Jerusalem.

Acts 20:1. 9. To restrain the natural discharges of the bowels; to make costive; as, certain kinds of food bind the body or bowels. 10. TO FORM A BORDER; to fasten with a band, ribbon, or any thing that strengthens the edges; as, to bind a garment or carpet. 11. To cover with leather or anything firm; to sew together and cover; as, to bind a book. 12. To cover or secure by a band; as, to bind a wheel with tire. 13. TO OBLIGE TO SERVE,

BY CONTRACT; as, to bind an apprentice; often with out; as, to bind out a servant. 14. To make hard or firm; as, certain substances bind the earth. To bind to is TO CONTRACT; as, to bind one's self to a wife. To bind over is TO OBLIGE BY BOND TO APPEAR AT A COURT. - verb intransitive - TO CONTRACT; to grow hard or stiff; as, clay binds by heat. 1. To grow or become costive. 2. To be obligatory. - noun - ...2. Among miners, indurated clay, when much mixed with the oxyd of iron. (Webs1828)

— = —

These elite men believe that they are superior beings (gods), and they obviously impose their own power and rules of conduct with future rewards and punishments in the name of God. But they are merely liars lying in support and proclamation to their own lies, laying the binding foundations of legal and other art forms. For a man to be bound to a corporation calling itself a “religion” is only the same as being bound to the state itself, for every state incorporated religion in and of itself, by its very nature as a legal creation of the state, is bound only by the laws of the state, not of Jehovah. God’s Law is outlawed there, and the strict legal “freedom of religion” as a franchise of non-moral action is imposed harshly and with violence. For to act upon scripture would be to act against the state in every way. It is indeed strange to consider that if the many denominated “Christian” religions out there standing as incorporations of the legal “Christian” state, the scriptural Laws of christ have in no way a binding authority over them. Perhaps that’s why they are so popular amongst the multitude of worshipers of mammon? And perhaps this is why the wealthy love the false church, for their very wealth is a curse upon them in the Real world.

The state allows you to believe without action, for the always forthcoming but never actualized spiritual hope of return of its debt-slaves is all that keeps men under the thumb of the state. The concept here of having a visible spirit eludes to the name or title of calling oneself by the name of a religion without actually living by that invisible spirit invoked. I may call myself a “Christian,” just as the pagan Roman’s did and as the districted public of the modern Caesar system of nations continue in doing so, but this would only be my visible, political representation in name and form only, not my actual spiritual path. Hypocrites bear no shame in bearing the name of their corporate persona in false religious title while ignoring the True sacred and Natural Law. Religion, or the appearance of its countenance, is naked in the eyes and suffering of Jehovah to its organized criminal intent.

A member of a corporate, state religion, while acting in legal persona, is a man estopped from acting in spirituality. One cannot be a member without a legal surname.

State re-lig-ion is not only to speak and respect a lie as false doctrine not of or in harmony with the actual Scriptures and that Natural Law, but is a physical action with intent to make a promise and oath to protect and serve that lie no differently than that oath taken to support the nation for which that religion is incorporated under. A standing religion and government are one in the same thing; both incapable of existing without the other. Each require a ceremony and membership to join. It is therefore this legal “existence” of religious corporations and their legal “members” that must be examined, as such an artifice is opposed to God’s Design and Nature. Membership is just state citizenship reimagined for false religious purposes. Legal religions as state institutions serve only one purpose: to govern man’s moral actions by mental restraint so as to allow the immoral authority of the state to rule. Corporate religion is always, in every case, a false, legally created and confirmed doctrine, meaning that the morals of commercial religion are also only ever a legal falsehood, even when they mirror the scriptures in exactness. Corporate religion is the artificial person of True christian Law; a similitude but not a sameness. Thus, while acting as citizens of government, so too is man sustaining a false persona in his member-ship, sailing the holy see in ignorance of its purposeful deceit.

We live a legal lie in every way imaginable, a fictional simulation of what is Reality. The big lie is a corruption so deep and so true that it can barely be explained in the “dog-Latin” we have uncovered thus far. The “duties to God” defined above, when conferred and confirmed in man’s persona by a corporate religion, are replaced by the taxes to government (monetary duties required of legal law of mammon) and tithes to the church (religious taxes legally considered and collected without state or federal taxation) - both of these being corporations (artificial persons) in their very being, and thus merely two traffickers in mammon under different artful titles.

Re-ligion is simply not needed if man's ligeance is only to the scriptural teachings, for a Bible reading people would never allow themselves to fall prey to priests, politicians, and false judges. In this legal world, the nature of corporate religions and governments always demand that one give up something else in order to accept the newer doctrine, and to vow (promise) and pledge oath (fealty) to only that single corporate body. Membership in a corporation (ecclesiastical or civil), as part of citizenship, is a willing consent to a change of law and a state of necessary opposition to all other fictional nations and peoples as enemies, both foreign and domestic.

—=—

“And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; AND LOVE NO FALSE OATH: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.”

—Zechariah 8: 17, KJB

—=—

Only the dead of spirit require the temporal comforts, vanities, imageries, and the pomp of corporate religious circumstance. Only the spiritually dead need speak by the ordained, constituted prayers and oaths created by men in sacramental robes while chanting together publicly, for they know not what the temple of the body is, and even their empty chants, hymns, and prayers are in vain. They rely on men as godheads and masters, not on the very Nature and Permanence of Jehovah Itself.

Many even pray to God in hope of receiving gifts of money or other valuable tokens in mammon and thus in promotion of a dependence upon money, which above all else is the epitome of these legal false doctrines and how they destroy man's power under God.

Imagine the anthropomorphized look on God's face if you had the nerve to ask Him for money!!!

SECTARIAN - A term that relates and pertains to a sect or religion that differs from non-sectarian, which is not related to a religion or sect. (Black4)

SECTARIAN - adjective - [Latin securarius.] Pertaining to a sect or sects; AS SECTARIAN PRINCIPLES OR PREJUDICES. - noun - One of a sect; one of a PARTY in religion which has separated itself from the established church, or which HOLDS TENETS DIFFERENT FROM THOSE OF THE PREVAILING DENOMINATION IN A KINGDOM OR STATE. (See Secular) (Webs1828)

TEMPORAL - adjective [Latin temporalis, from tempus, TIME.] 1. Pertaining to this life or this world or the body only; SECULAR; as temporal concerns; temporal affairs. In this sense, IT IS OPPOSED TO SPIRITUAL. Let not temporal affairs or employments divert the mind from spiritual concerns, which are far more important. In this sense also it is OPPOSED TO ECCLESIASTICAL; as temporal power, that is, SECULAR, CIVIL OR POLITICAL POWER; TEMPORAL COURTS, those which take cognizance of CIVIL suits. Temporal jurisdiction is THAT WHICH REGARDS CIVIL AND POLITICAL AFFAIRS. 2. MEASURED OR LIMITED BY TIME, or by this life or this state of things; HAVING LIMITED EXISTENCE; OPPOSED TO ETERNAL. THE THINGS WHICH ARE SEEN ARE TEMPORAL BUT THE THINGS WHICH ARE NOT SEEN ARE ETERNAL. 2 Corinthians 4:18. 3. In grammar, relating to a tense; as a temporal augment. 4. Pertaining to the temple or temples of the head; as the temporal bone; a temporal artery or vein; temporal muscle. (Webs1828)

— = —

Time is money... But God is timeless.

This most important concept is the basis of all temporal affairs and concerns, for everything is valued in money, and money is merely a representation of time (i.e. future and past labor). Mammon is time, while God is eternal and spiritual life is timeless (without artificial values). What is time but a measure of potential, insurable value?

TIME - The measure of duration. The word is expressive both of a precise point or terminus and of AN INTERVAL BETWEEN TWO POINTS... TIME IS THE ESSENCE OF CONTRACT. Means that performance by one party AT TIME OR WITHIN PERIOD SPECIFIED IN CONTRACT is essential to enable him TO REQUIRE PERFORMANCE BY OTHER PARTY. (Black4)

— = —

This is simply man's attempt to control the flow of time, which we call the currency, as the current of the commercial sea.

Corporations in any form, including governments and religions, are always only of mammon, for a corporation can only be created for a temporal, secular consideration, and only according to the time allotted by its charter. No corporation or any other form of person is of the spirit of man's soul. And so while the government of the State may proclaim that legally corporations are people too, we must remember that governments can only declare legal, temporal things as living, not spiritual ones. Just another lie within the lie that makes the lie exist... for governments are also considered by other governments as legal persons with rights of persons.

CORPORATION - AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON OR LEGAL ENTITY CREATED BY OR UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE LAWS OF A STATE OR NATION, composed, in some rare instances, of a single person and his successors, being the incumbents of a particular office, but ordinarily consisting of an association of numerous individuals, WHO SUBSIST AS A BODY POLITIC under a special DENOMINATION, which is regarded in law AS HAVING A PERSONALITY AND EXISTENCE DISTINCT FROM THAT OF ITS SEVERAL MEMBERS, and which is, by the same authority, vested with the capacity of continuous succession, irrespective of changes in its membership, either in perpetuity OR FOR A LIMITED TERM OF YEARS, and of acting as a unit or single individual in matters relating to the common purpose of the association, WITHIN THE SCOPE OF THE POWERS AND AUTHORITIES CONFERRED UPON SUCH BODIES BY LAW. A FRANCHISE POSSESSED BY ONE OR MORE INDIVIDUALS, who subsist as a body politic, under a special denomination, and are vested by the policy of the law WITH THE CAPACITY OF PERPETUAL SUCCESSION, and of acting in several respects, however numerous the association may be, as a single individual. AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON OR BEING, endowed by law with the capacity of perpetual succession: consisting either of a single individual, (termed a "CORPORATION SOLE,") or of a collection of several individuals, (which is termed a "corporation aggregate.") An intellectual body, created by law, composed of individuals united under a common name, the members of which succeed each other, SO THAT THE BODY CONTINUES ALWAYS THE SAME, notwithstanding the change of the individuals who compose it, and which, for certain purposes, IS CONSIDERED A NATURAL PERSON. A "corporation" is more nearly a method than a thing, and the law, in dealing with a corporation, need not define it as a person or entity, or even as an embodiment of functions, rights, and duties. The statement that a "corporation" is an artificial person or entity, apart from its members, is merely a description, in figurative language, of a corporation viewed as a collective body. A corporation is a collection of natural persons, joined together by their VOLUNTARY ACTION OR BY LEGAL COMPULSION, by or under the authority of an act of the Legislature, consisting either of a special charter or of a general permissive statute, to accomplish some purpose, pecuniary, ideal, or governmental, authorized by the charter or governing statute. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARY AND CIVIL - Lay corporations are classified as "eleemosynary" and "civil;" the former being such as are created for the distribution of alms or for the ADMINISTRATION OF CHARITIES or for purposes falling under the description of "charitable" in its widest sense, including hospitals, asylums, and colleges; the latter being organized for the facilitating of business transactions and the profit or advantage of the members. In the law of Louisiana, the term "civil" as applied to corporations, is used in a different sense, being contrasted with "religious." CIVIL CORPORATIONS ARE THOSE WHICH RELATE TO TEMPORAL POLICE; SUCH ARE THE CORPORATIONS OF THE CITIES, THE COMPANIES FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COMMERCE AND AGRICULTURE, literary societies, colleges or universities founded for the instruction of youth, and the like. RELIGIOUS CORPORATIONS ARE THOSE WHOSE ESTABLISHMENT RELATES ONLY TO RELIGION; SUCH ARE THE CONGREGATIONS OF THE DIFFERENT RELIGIOUS PERSUASIONS. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARY CORPORATION - A private corporation created for charitable and benevolent purposes. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARY CORPORATIONS - Such as are constituted for the perpetual distribution of the free alms and bounty OF THE FOUNDER, in such manner as he has directed; and in this class are ranked hospitals for the relief of poor and impotent persons, and colleges for the promotion of learning and piety, and the support of persons engaged in literary pursuits. THESE CORPORATIONS ARE LAY, AND NOT ECCLESIASTICAL, EVEN THOUGH COMPOSED OF ECCLESIASTICAL PERSONS, AND ALTHOUGH THEY IN SOME THINGS PARTAKE OF THE NATURE, PRIVILEGES, AND RESTRICTIONS OF ECCLESIASTICAL BODIES. Eleemosynary corporations are for the management of PRIVATE PROPERTY according to the will of the donors. They are private lay corporations, such as colleges, hospitals, etc. They differ from civil corporations in that the former are the MERE CREATURES OF PUBLIC INSTITUTION, created exclusively for the public advantage, and subject to governmental control and visitation; whereas a PRIVATE CORPORATION, especially one organized for charitable purposes, IS THE CREATURE OF PRIVATE BENEFACTION, ENDOWED AND FOUNDED BY PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS, AND SUBJECT TO THEIR CONTROL, LAWS, AND VISITATION, AND NOT TO THOSE OF THE GOVERNMENT. (Black1)

ELEEMOSYNARY - Relating to the distribution of alms, bounty, or charity; charitable. (Black1)

ELEEMOSYNARIUS - In old English law. An almoner, or CHIEF OFFICER, who received the eleemosynary rents and gifts, and in due method distributed them to pious and charitable uses. The name of an officer (lord almoner) of the English kings, in former times, who distributed the royal alms or BOUNTY. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNAE - Possessions belonging to the CHURCH. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARIA - The place IN A RELIGIOUS HOUSE where the common alms were deposited, and thence by the almoner distributed to the poor. In old English law, the aumerie, aumbry, or ambry; words still used in common speech in the north of England, to denote a pantry or cupboard. The office of almoner. (Black4)

BOUNTY - A gratuity, or an unusual or additional benefit conferred upon, or compensation paid to, A CLASS OF PERSONS. A premium given or offered TO INDUCE MEN TO ENLIST INTO THE PUBLIC SERVICE. The term is applicable only to the payment made to the enlisted man, as the inducement for his service, and not to a premium paid to the man through whose intervention, and by whose procurement, the recruit is obtained and mustered. It is not easy to discriminate between bounty, reward, and bonus. The former (bounty) is the appropriate term, however, where the services or action of many persons are desired, AND EACH WHO ACTS UPON THE OFFER MAY ENTITLE HIMSELF TO THE PROMISED GRATUITY, without prejudice from or to the claims of others; while reward is more proper in the case of a single service, which can be only once performed, and therefore will be earned only by the person or co-operating persons who succeed while others fail. Thus, bounties are offered to all who will enlist in the army or navy; to all who will engage in certain fisheries which government desire to encourage; to all who kill dangerous beasts or noxious creatures. A reward is offered for rescuing a person from a wreck or fire; for detecting and arresting an offender; for finding a lost chattel. Bonus, as compared with bounty, suggests the idea of a gratuity to induce a money transaction between individuals; a percentage or gift, UPON A LOAN OR TRANSFER OF PROPERTY, OR A SURRENDER OF A RIGHT. (Blackl)

—=—

Why do loan officers and real estate agents get a bonus?

Because they are tricking the public-minded into acting publicly in their created public system, inducing us to use a government signature (the property of another) so as to insure that we never claim property as our own private estate in blood inheritance, and so that we surrender any Natural Law (negative/unalienable) rights to that property. A bonus is purely a tribute of mammon paid to its minions (agents).

Why are soldiers paid a bounty?

Because they are contract mercenaries; hirelings induced into public service by unscrupulous recruiters and public schools and universities (eleemosynary corporations), which also receive a bonus for their inducements to voluntary contract by government. But they prostitute themselves to the constituted authorities, not to protect the men and women that are acting in the public, but only to ensure that peace (commerce) between those men and women in public persona continues unabated around the world. The public is property of government, and military force is used only to protect that interest.

Only when commerce is halted by political means, are those hirelings used in wars of aggression to destroy any moral blockade of the United State's and other leading nation's ability to trade internationally and interstate (domestically). This is the chess game of the exchequer... protecting and serving its created, open-air debtor's hell on earth.

—=—

“Military men are just dumb, stupid animals to be used as pawns in foreign policy.”

—Henry Kissinger, quoted from Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein's book 'The Final Days,' (1976), to Chief of Staff Alexander Haig

—=—

Again, the King James Bible is the foundational law, an unseen, unobserved, and unenforceable part of the common law, its translation certainly designed to deceive the reader of dog-Latin unless he studies its opposing origins of transliteration in the king's "higher" language. This is the case with every new Bible version published by these alternative doctrine corporations, and so the debate over which Bible one should possess is a foolish one, for it signifies taking that new translation on face value without due diligence and verification of the ancient and seemingly dead but very much alive language arts. The concordances and lexicons do not change. Only the versions change and are dumbed-down beyond measure.

And so let us look at how governments (persons) use the Bible as the foundation of volunteerism, by employing it as their system of "faith." Just as in the scriptures, man always has a choice. Governments merely cloud the notion and comprehension that choice Exists, but in the end must always concede to whatever enlightened or unenlightened choice man makes. Most men will choose mammon, for most men have been allowed to know no other way. Public education and media entertainment ensures this causality and course of inaction away from the path of spirituality in and under God.

Remember, the U.S. constitution and hundreds of other masonic constitutions in history are merely made up of articles, which are also the additions called as amendments. The so-called "Bill of Rights" was only a group of twelve articles, of which 10 were ratified. But never may legal articles have authority over the spiritual, moral (unwritten) law unless man acts in that spiritually dead capacity of a legal, public persona.

ARTICLES OF RELIGION - In English ecclesiastical law. Commonly called the "Thirty-Nine Articles;" a body of divinity DRAWN UP BY THE CONVOCATION IN 1502, AND CONFIRMED BY JAMES I. (BlackI)

ARTICLES OF FAITH - In English law. The SYSTEM of faith of the Church of England, more commonly known as the "Thirty-Nine Articles." (BlackI)

ARTICLES OF THE CLERGY - The title of a STATUTE passed in the ninth year of Edward II, for the purpose of ADJUSTING AND SETTLING THE GREAT QUESTIONS OF COGNIZANCE THEN EXISTING BETWEEN THE ECCLESIASTICAL AND TEMPORAL COURTS. (BlackI)

ARTICLE - noun - [Latin articulus, a joint, from artus; Gr.] 1. A single clause IN A CONTRACT, ACCOUNT SYSTEM of regulations, TREATY, or other WRITING; a particular separate CHARGE or item, in an account; a term, condition, or stipulation, in a contract. In short, a distinct part of a writing, instrument or discourse, consisting of two or more particulars; as, articles of agreement; an account consisting of many articles. 2. A point of FAITH; A DOCTRINAL POINT OR PROPOSITION IN THEOLOGY; AS THE THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES. 3. A distinct part. Upon each article of HUMAN DUTY. 4. A particular COMMODITY, OR SUBSTANCE; as, an article of merchandise; salt is a necessary article. In common usage, this word is applied to almost every separate substance or material. The articles which compose the BLOOD. 5. A POINT OF TIME. [Not in use.] 6. In botany, that part of a stalk or stem, which is between two joints. 7. In grammar, an adjective used before nouns, TO LIMIT OR DEFINE THEIR APPLICATION; as hic, ille, ipse, in Latin; in Greek; the, this, that, in English. The primary use of these adjectives was TO CONVERT AN INDETERMINATE NAME INTO A DETERMINATE ONE; OR TO LIMIT THE APPLICATION OF A COMMON NAME, TO A SPECIFIC, KNOWN, OR CERTAIN INDIVIDUAL. But article being an improper term to express the true signification, I make use of DEFINITIVE, which see. - verb transitive - 1. TO DRAW UP IN DISTINCT PARTICULARS; as, to article the errors or follies of a man. 2. TO ACCUSE OR CHARGE BY AN EXHIBITION OF ARTICLES. 'He shall be article against in the High Court of ADMIRALTY.' Stat. 33. George III. 3. TO BIND BY ARTICLES OF COVENANT OR STIPULATION; as, to article an apprentice to a mechanic. - verb intransitive - [supra.] To agree by articles; to stipulate. (Webs1828)

DEFINITIVE - adjective - 1. Limiting the extent; DETERMINATE; POSITIVE; EXPRESS; as a definitive term. 2. Limiting; ending; determining; final; opposed to conditional, provisional, or interlocutory; as a definitive sentence or decree. - noun - In grammar, an adjective used to define or limit the extent of the signification of an appellative or common noun. Such are the Latin hic, ille, ipse; the, this and that, in English; le, la, les, in French; il, la, lo in Italian. Thus tree is an appellative or common noun; the tree, this tree, that tree, designate a particular tree, determinate or known. HOMO SIGNIFIES MAN; hic homo, ille homo, A PARTICULAR MAN, etc. But in some languages, the definitives have lost their original use, in a great degree; as in the Greek and French. Thus La force de la vertu, must be rendered in English, THE FORCE OF VIRTUE, NOT THE FORCE OF THE VIRTUE. The first la is a definitive; the last has no definitive effect.

— = —

Clint is an ambiguous term, indeterminate, and not final or fixed in any fiction. It is so common a name that it cannot be definitively articulated to any man. The given name Clint is a gift of life, a gift from and within God, and signifies nothing but that Nature of man as a part of that Supremacy of Permanent Being that is the Natural, Spiritual Realm of God. Oneness with Source. But when the name Clint is incorporated to merely describe the nature of the surname Richardson, and when other marks, numbers, and signs are applied to that particular combination in surety, suddenly the word Clint is only in legal existence by virtue of the owner of the surname it describes. This incorporation of names is the essence of the legal trap, and the chains of the legal lie. The strawman must be surnamed, the christian name destroyed by addition. For the christian name no longer represents the actions (verb) of a spiritual man, but is changed into a mere description (adjective) of something in surety to that which is non-spiritual. This is the rape of man's True Nature.

The immediate response by a rational man to government's statement at bar that corporations are people or persons too should be one and only one thing: to immediately rid oneself of that artificial status of legal personhood, instead of suffering at being constantly offended at having to share a status and rights with corporations in the artifice. At the very least, it should make the reader understand that all statuses are corporate in nature, and thus artificial. In other words, if anyone or anything can be made into a person of equal status as your Self in your own legal standing, even when that person is a piece of paper (articles of incorporation), then there is nothing else we can call ourselves while acting in the person of the state than as property of the state, though it be only vicariously through our actions in confirmation of that status (person).

The 39 articles of religion are simply the 39 forced beliefs (doctrines) of the Church of England. The Old Testament in the Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Greek Orthodox Bibles just happen to also have 39 books in common, which are Christian Biblical canon. There are only 27 books in the New Testament, and yet the Catholic Bible somehow has a total of 73 books in its edition. Do the math...

But notice that the New Testament is not included as part of the articles of faith. For the New Testament shows man how to govern himself, that man's own body (Self) is the temple, and that man's only salvation is through his christ-like actions in belief (love) in commitment to that Higher Law. The church and state cannot have that as their commercial pitch in mammon, now can they?

So which Bible to trust?

None of them! You must read with open eyes, an open mind, and an open heart, in search of the self-evident Truths hidden behind the purposefully mis-transliterated nonsense that supports each specifically added and proclaimed religious (eleemosynary), private corporate doctrine. It is this very contradictory nature of organized religions that has the side effect of turning people away from the ancient wisdom of the scriptures, as it did for myself for so long, for which the individual reader must study and decipher to find that spiritual message within. If it supports the temporal Pope, it's probably written that way by the supporters of the Pope. Kings will of course translate the Bible to be supportive of kingships. Yet with due diligence, these unmistakable but hidden Truths can be pulled from that attempted wreckage. The doctrines of corporate religions are naked when standing in comparison next to the scriptures they claim to be supported by, for it shines light on their false nature as merely artificial persons with agendas of magistracy (godhood) that are a far cry from those scriptural teachings.

False religion abounds, for any religion is false if one is not acting and living within its foundational laws and belief system. And all established religions are false by their very nature as corporations (artificial persons) under the state, which is against all teachings of the scriptures. A nation simply cannot be religious. A nation is not a man. It has no soul.

We mustn't be fooled by the so-called Jewish state either, for we find that the law of the state of Israel is not the Bible, not the Torah, not the Bible at all, but instead that horrific work of fiction called the Talmud. Like false Christianity, the spiritual moral law is overshadowed by the false doctrines of the rabbis (priest-class) and scribes. And the infiltration of Judaism into Christianity is as ridiculous as mixing sheep with hungry wolves. For it is the pretended integration of the Jew master-class and the goyim, yet another attack upon True christian understanding. This somehow controversial view is easily verified by a simple glance at the Talmud, which is the guiding force of political and "moral" law for that people.

TALMUD - A work which embodies THE CIVIL AND CANONICAL LAW of the Jewish people. (Black4)

—=—

Of course, just as the scriptures warn against false and forgetful hearers of the Word that use flattering titles of "Christianity" for political reasons only, the Bible also warns us against these false "Jews," whose name and title are yet another exclusionary, fabled genealogy used for status, wealth, and gain in mammon.

—=—

"I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I KNOW THE BLASPHEMY OF THEM WHICH SAY THEY ARE JEWS, AND ARE NOT, BUT ARE THE SYNAGOGUE OF SATAN."

—Revelation 2:9, KJB

—=—

Stong's lexicon describes this state of being in false religion, as an infiltrating force of "satan," so that we may take heed of this warning per their modern day coup de tat over the Christian church.

Strong's G4567 - Satanas (Σατανᾶς)

1. ADVERSARY (one who opposes another in purpose or act), the name given to:

A. the prince of evil spirits, the inveterate adversary of God and Christ:

1. HE INCITES APOSTASY FROM GOD AND TO SIN

2. CIRCUMVENTING MEN BY HIS WILES

3. THE WORSHIPPERS OF IDOLS are said to be under his control

4. BY HIS DEMONS HE IS ABLE TO TAKE POSSESSION OF MEN AND INFLICT THEM WITH DISEASES

5. By God's assistance he is overcome

6. On Christ's return from heaven he will be bound with chains for a thousand years, but when the thousand years are finished he will walk the earth in yet greater power, but shortly after will be given over to eternal punishment

B. A SATAN-LIKE MAN

—=—

The Jews or Israelites were known as a religious people in the Bible precisely because they were nationless, as a political statelessness. This is a very important lesson, for to be a religious man is to be without legal residence and with domicile only under God's Law in Nature. We may know the false Jew by his national affiliation, and the United States is their protective nation of choice, just as we may know a false "Christian" by his own birth and nativity as the goyim of the nations. This combination of two totally opposed and adversarial (satanic) religious doctrines is an affront to all reason and logic, and yet its popularity is growing at alarming progress as foolish Americans are being used like pawns to fight an ancient Jewish holy war of blood against all of Islam, for the purposes of reestablishing what was titled as "Greater Israel" upon the coins and maps of older days.

Otherwise known as the ancient "promised land" from Genesis 15: 18-21 or the Complete or "Entire Land of Israel," which in the Hebrew was expressed as ארץ ישראל השלמה, or Eretz Yisrael Hashlemah, being a more accurate translation of "Greater Israel," we find it to be defined by three geographical landmarks, all of which are currently held by Muslim countries. Genesis 15:18-21 defines the land that was given to all of the children of Abraham, including Ishmael, Zimran, Jokshan, Midian, etc., again relying on these fabled genealogies for the supposed justification of modern war, oppression, piracy, and conquest, describes the Eretz as a large territory spanning "from the brook of Egypt to the Euphrates," which includes all of modern-day Israel, the Palestinian Territories, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Oman, Yemen, most of Turkey, and all of the land east of the Nile river. Definitions are also to be found in the books of Deuteronomy 11:24, Deuteronomy 1:7, Numbers 34:1-15, and Ezekiel 47:13-20, though with smaller territories and of course refers to the bloodline of the twelve tribes and their divided lands. It even describes this hostile takeover stemming from a religious war as the lands that will be slowly, incrementally be given back to the "the children of Israel" over many years.

—=—

"The Talmud is to this day the circulating heart's blood of the Jewish religion. Whatever laws, customs or ceremonies we observe – whether we are Orthodox, Conservative, Reform or merely spasmodic sentimentalists – WE FOLLOW THE TALMUD. IT IS OUR COMMON LAW."

—Herman Wouk, Jewish-American author of the Caine Mutiny

—=—

“As monstrous as it may seem, we are engaged in close combat BETWEEN ISRAEL AND THE NATIONS - and it can only be GENOCIDAL AND TOTAL because IT IS ABOUT OUR AND THEIR IDENTITIES.”

— Yitzhak Attia, Israel Magazine, April 2003

— — —

And we wonder why such opposition against the “Christian” nations comes from? To oppose that which is being confused and used (employed) to fight the battles of another, is the same as opposing that which is the confuser. Zionism and patriotism are the same thing. The military of the United States is being misdirected to support the interests of Zionism in a self-fulfilling prophesy that entails the conquering (in war and in purchase) and takeover of “Greater Israel,” purposefully slaughtering millions and raping the lands of the enemies of those satanic false Jews. And we have to realize that most so-called “Jews” are also being educated in this system, themselves merely pawns of their own “state.” But a True Israelite of the Bible would be of course stateless, just as any True follower of christ would be. Of course, this generally remains out of the headlines, even when the #1 labeled terrorist in the world let’s us know why we are the very targets of they who we victimized in the first place.

— — —

“Zionist plans for expansion of what is called the Great Israel... to achieve full control over the Arab Peninsula which they intend to make an important part of the so called Greater Israel.”

— Osama bin Laden, In a May 1998 interview with ABC's John Miller

— — —

“At Israel's founding in 1948, the Labor ZIONIST leadership, which went on to govern Israel in its first three decades of independence, accepted a pragmatic partition of what had been British Palestine into independent Jewish and Arab states. The opposition Revisionist ZIONISTS, who evolved into today's Likud party, sought Eretz Yisrael Ha-Shlema—Greater Israel, or literally, the Whole Land of Israel (shalem, meaning complete).”

— Joel Greenberg, Zionist Jewish writer for the New York Times:

— — —

“Zionism” is very much like corporate “Christianity” in that neither group actually follows the namesake or Higher Law of their religion. In other words, their law is separate doctrine from their religion, their civil law higher than any moral considerations of Law. And while in America these false Jews are welcomed with open arms into a supposedly “Christian” nation, in Israel it is seldom reported that “Christian” priests and nuns are spit upon regularly and prejudiced against greatly for their religion. For the Talmud spits upon the notion of christ in every way, vulgarly portraying him as boiling in excrement (bile and shit) for all of eternity in hell. This judiazing of the law and of religion will be discussed further as we progress. For our purposes, we need only to recognize this scripturally warned-against falsity, the corrupted simulation, legalism, and paganism of religion and moral Law into what it has become today on every front and under every denomination (name/noun). For there is only one Truth, one self-evident path, one God.

What is not known publicly, or what is at least severely under-reported is Osama bin Laden's words on this Zionist influence upon the totally corrupted Christian element of America. The military attacks on the Arab people on behalf of Zionist interests have caused the same exact discombobulation of moral right and wrong as in the Catholic history of its own murder and conquest in the name of the incorporation of religion and spread of empire, not God. It is the turning of the peaceful nature of True followers into the institutions of death and destruction, where the protective necessity outweighs the necessity of peace and thwarts the ability for those peoples to follow their Higher Law.

— = —

PBS: “Mr. bin Laden, you have issued a fatwah calling on Muslims to kill Americans where they can, when they can. Is that directed at all Americans, just the American military, just the Americans in Saudi Arabia?”

OSAMA BIN LADIN (as translated): “Allah has ordered us to glorify the truth and to defend Muslim LAND, especially the Arab peninsula ... against the unbelievers. After World War II, THE AMERICANS GREW MORE UNFAIR AND MORE OPPRESSIVE TOWARDS PEOPLE IN GENERAL AND MUSLIMS IN PARTICULAR. ... The Americans started it and retaliation and punishment should be carried out FOLLOWING THE PRINCIPLE OF RECIPROCITY, ESPECIALLY WHEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE INVOLVED. Through history, AMERICA HAS NOT BEEN KNOWN TO DIFFERENTIATE BETWEEN THE MILITARY AND THE CIVILIANS OR BETWEEN MEN AND WOMEN OR ADULTS AND CHILDREN. Those who threw atomic bombs and used the weapons of mass destruction against Nagasaki and Hiroshima WERE THE AMERICANS. Can the bombs differentiate between military and women and infants and children?

“AMERICA HAS NO RELIGION THAT CAN DETER HER FROM EXTERMINATING WHOLE PEOPLES.

“Your position against Muslims in Palestine is despicable and disgraceful. America has no shame. ... WE BELIEVE THAT THE WORST THIEVES IN THE WORLD TODAY AND THE WORST TERRORISTS ARE THE AMERICANS. NOTHING COULD STOP YOU EXCEPT PERHAPS RETALIATION IN KIND. We do not have to differentiate between military or civilian. As far as we are concerned, they are all targets, and this is what the fatwah says...

“The fatwah is general and...

“IT INCLUDES ALL THOSE WHO PARTICIPATE IN, OR HELP THE JEWISH OCCUPIERS IN KILLING MUSLIMS.”

—Osama bin Laden interview with John Miller on PBS, 1998

— = —

Perhaps it is time to ask ourselves why we, the citizenships of the United States, stand so fervently behind such a murderous coalition with such a Zionist agenda in the Middle East? Why do we glorify and patriotically support without reason or conscience those undeclared wars and the pawns (soldiers as mercenaries for hire in mammon) used to fight it? Perhaps the hardest question to answer is just why we justify to ourselves the tortuous murder of so many millions of men, woman, and children in Muslim countries and then allow ourselves to be led falsely by a predominately Jewish Zionist media in demonizing the True religion and culture of those who've been made the involuntary victims by the weapons of that United States municipal corporation? And why would we, with a straight face, support an oil man and the CEO of Halliburton corporation to be president and vice president in a war for oil and for reconstruction of what we are caused to root for to be destroyed? To call George Bush and Dick Cheney as war criminals and profiteers in piracy is the understatement of the century, the "Project For The New American Century," that is.

The point here is that the actions of a peaceful people under a peaceful religion, under both True musselmen (the Abrahamic religion based on the Quran) and christ-like tenets without artifice of incorporation under the state, are being misdirected and obfuscated to the point where each of these incorporated peoples will have no choice but to participate in what is falsely to be blamed and labeled as a "religious war," which is forbidden in both doctrines except in times of necessity. The maxims of law clearly state that necessity knows no law. And so we find that it is in the best self-interest of the legal lawmakers, as sovereign magistrates in legalized piracy, to cause artificial (legally declared) "necessity" behind every move they make. This is the nature of both Executive Branch tools labelled as Presidential Directives and Executive Orders, "laws" being created solely at the will and authority of the president, with automatic approval by statute of congress (covered in detail later in later volumes). The "war on terror" is no war at all, merely a trick of the artists; a war against an undefined word-term under the doctrine of necessity where no man's person (fictional character), neither foreign or domestic, is immune from being attached with such a flattering title.

But behind this religious war is not the True religious Jew but the false Jew, the members of the "World Zionist Organization," manipulating and guiding the falsely proclaimed and incorporated "Christian" goyim of the nations by pulling the strings of all adversarially (legally) incorporated institutions of religion without mercy or any moral Law but that of their own twisted, non-self-evident formation. And this public participation (silence as consent) can only take place once all men are placed into a single body politic under one nation with one single voice (e pluribus unum), where "the public" has no voice but that as one body controlled by agents of that synagogue of satan in high places. Remember, a citizenship (fictional, legal person) has no voice in matters of morality as religious action, and must support in subjection the actions of its legal creator and maker of its controlling legal law. With protection comes subjection. A slave does not tell his master what to do or how to act. And so the people of two otherwise peaceful world religions are played like puppets against each other, governed not by their True religious doctrines but by a Zionist controlled Hollywood and its news media, and through infiltration of the "Common Core" curriculums of the public, university, and military education programs. Intention is stolen, replaced by causality. Knowledge is reimagined into mystery. Hatred is substituted for Love. And a permanent, murderous, unlawful and undeclared war against "terror" is pretended to be peace.

—=—

"There is nothing more frightening than active ignorance."

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

—=—

September 10th, 2001:

"Wildcard. Ruthless and cunning. Has capability to target U.S. forces and make it look like a Palestinian/Arab act."

— ≡ —

“Declassified files detailing an FBI investigation targeting the American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC – the most powerful lobby in the United States) are now available on the Internet. AIPAC was investigated after it acquired and circulated classified government information provided in strict confidence by US industry and worker groups opposed to AIPAC SPONSORED ECONOMIC LEGISLATION.”

—PRNewswire-USNewswire, Forbes, March 10, 2010

— ≡ —

Many Jews worldwide understand the True nature of Zionism as being against the True Jewish people’s interests. Many Jews are openly anti-Zionist, an action that would falsely be called “antisemite” when declared by any non-Jew. Karin Friedemann, an ethnically Jewish anti-Zionist blogger for instance, wrote the following:

“American Jews are actually being trained (by Zionists) SINCE CHILDHOOD to interact with non-Jews in a deceitful and arrogant manner, in coordination with each other, TO EMOTIONALLY DESTROY NON-JEWS AND ISRAEL CRITICS IN ADDITION TO WRECKING THEIR CAREERS AND INTERFERING WITH THEIR SOCIAL RELATIONSHIPS. This is actually deliberate, wicked, planned behavior motivated by a narcissistic self-righteous fury... The problem is that non-Jews are taught through emotional pressure and violence VIA THE MEDIA AND THE SCHOOL SYSTEM to be very sensitive to Jewish suffering so when a Zionist becomes outraged at them for challenging their world view, the non-Jew really has to fight against his own inner self in a huge battle against his “inner Jew” making him feel inadequate and intimidated. But the Jew doesn’t care how much he or she hurts others. Jews only care about what’s good for the Jews... I once reduced a 50 year old man to hysterical sobbing tears because I told him gently and lovingly that Jews were not that unique. I just told him the Jews, like everyone else, have had good times and bad times. Times when they were slaughtered and other times when they slaughtered others. Just like everyone else. Guess what he did next? He emotionally abused me in an insulting way and then cut off all further communication. Jewish behavior is so predictable that it’s truly scary... If you mention cutting off the money or if you mention the possible compromise of living with Palestinians as equals in one state they become very angry and start using bullying tactics, unless they have some reason to fear you, in which case they shun you and complain about you to the authorities, try to get you arrested or try and DESTROY YOUR CAREER OR SOCIAL STATUS THROUGH CHARACTER ASSASSINATION... Zionists all believe in the MYTH of “1000 years of Jewish suffering” and feel that the world owes them compensation for their ancestors’ “unique” suffering. It’s a criminally insane viewpoint. They cope with the contradictions between their belief that they are the good guys and what Jews are actually doing to their neighbors, both in the Middle East and in the US, by developing mental health issues. Most Zionists are functional schizoprenics.”

— ≡ —

Part of this mythos of Zionism and Greater Israel is described here, again by official Jewish authors both in the Israeli legislature (Knesset) and in university settings, that being the as yet unrealized dream of Zionist Jews such as the Chabad, that Israel will one day extend from the Litani river in the North [i.e. Lebanon] to the river Nile in the south [i.e. Egypt] to the Euphrates in the West [i.e. Iraq]:

—=—

DEFINING JEWISH ERETZ YISROEL (i.e. ‘Greater Israel’):

“If Zionism today means Greater Israel, not only am I a post-Zionist, I am an anti-Zionist. If Zionism is (the illegal settlements of) Netzarim and Kiryat Arba, I am an anti-Zionist. I do not accept the type of Zionism that took Judaism, with all its dazzling beauty, and turned it into the worship of trees and stones. When I look around today, my feeling is that Netzarim has become an altar, God has become a Moloch (an idol) and our children have become sacrifices: human sacrifices to terrible idol worship.”

—Avraham Burg, former Jewish Speaker of the Israeli Knesset (legislature of Israel).

—=—

“The (U.N.) General Assembly determines that ZIONISM IS A FORM OF RACISM AND RACIAL DISCRIMINATION.”

— United Nations General Assembly Resolution Number 3379, which was later revoked under massive Zionist pressure by Resolution Number 4686.

—=—

“What emerged for me, from the study of the first chapters (of Sefer Haranya, the central works of the Chabad ultra-Orthodox organization) was the discovery that the main stream of Jewish thought is permeated BY GENETIC SPIRITUAL SUPERIORITY OF JEWS OVER GENTILES, disconcertingly reminiscent of racist notions of our time... Living in Israel for the past twenty years... I have come to realize the vitality of Jewish racist notions, and I am more than ever convinced that the hold Judaism will have on this and future generation will be gravely impaired unless these notions are neutralized...”

—Moshe Greenberg, Biblical scholar and Jewish author, from his book ‘A Problematic Heritage – The Attitudes Toward the Gentile in the Jewish Tradition: An Israeli Perspective’

—=—

“We have to recognize that Jewish blood, and the blood of a goy, are not the same thing.”

—Rabbi Yitzhak Ginsburg, New York Times, June 6, 1989.

—=—

“The difference between a Jewish soul and souls of non-Jews – all of them in all different levels – is greater and deeper than the difference between a human soul and the souls of cattle.”

—Rabbi Kook, “The Elder”, from the book, “Jewish Fundamentalism in Israel”.

—=—

It’s always about the fabled genealogy, the bloodlines versus the goyim of the nations. To be ignorant of this fact is the American way, the public-mindedness of a peopled colony (plantation).

Please bear in mind that these are the words of Jews, not this author, and cannot therefore be merely dismissed as racist or antisemite. This Zionist trick of words will not do here. Like myself, the outcasted Jewish messenger is often character assassinated and otherwise falsely discredited while the message is actively ignored. And just as the True followers of christ were thrown into the Roman colosseums to be eaten by the lions for their non-conformity to the Latinized doctrines of the powers that be, nothing can be more frightening to the spiritually driven man than active, purposeful, voluntary ignorance defended violently in cognitive dissonance. Just as these “Jews” have exposed their false Zionistic counterparts in their satanism, so too do I among others lovingly stand in contempt of corporate “Christianity” so influenced by same. Zionism is merely patriotism for false gods, and is as ridiculous as American exceptionalism. Intent is always the target of these subverters, replacing it with causality.

Man, in whatever denominated flattering religious denomination (name) he may call himself in third person, while acting falsely in personhood to the state and under the false title of “Christianity,” certainly does not describe the actions of a man compared to his stated religious sentiment. The title is not respected by God, only the actions taken by the believer (lover) of the Word (Son). The title is useless. It is but a legal consideration and status of a goyim. It means nothing to God, for God only judges the actions (verb) of man in his True state of Being, not by his corporate fiction names and titles (nouns) acquired hypocritically without acting in the part of that proclaimed title.

Government, and by association any church as a corporation under the legality and licensure of the state, serves no purpose but as a bar (barrier) to man’s ability to actually Live and act in a spiritual life, and especially to fight against that which is opposed to such a Truly religious, morally driven Life-style. Thus its nations in commercial unity have formed the professional, international association by that very name: the International Bar Association (IBA) to which most national and legal state associations are members.

—=—

“The International Bar Association, established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations and law societies. The IBA influences the development of INTERNATIONAL LAW REFORM and shapes the future of the legal profession THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 BAR ASSOCIATIONS AND LAW SOCIETIES SPANNING OVER 160 COUNTRIES. It has considerable expertise in providing assistance to THE GLOBAL LEGAL COMMUNITY.”

—International Bar Association website, from ‘about’ section

—=—

It is interesting to note here that a court at bar can only ever deliberate the after-the-facts presented. It's always a post-production, like a Hollywood movie, a judgement ceremony of magic only ever performed post-event. All cases are a false re-presentation of a past moment in TIME, the re-creation of the history of artificial characters in legal form and register. All actual physical facts in Nature happen outside of said court, before the court is ever in session. Court is always therefore a post-Reality, a post-revelation of second-hand knowledge, and therefore impossible to be in accuracy. It is a house of lies legally made into truths, and its opinions are quoted as if they are some permanence of Reality in other cases. These precedents of opinion are like a viscous disease of the fictional lives of legal persons, and so they effect the health of the men in surety to those fictional strawmen.

If the physical fact of a case was a sound that happened three months ago, like a gunshot heard by a witness, then only words on paper as a description of that former (actual) sound as it actually happened are the "facts" of the case, but not the actual sound itself as it Truly happened. The fact that the sound Existed in Nature can only be re-presented as purely an anecdotal story, a his-story. Representation of fact is not Reality, similitude being in no way sameness, and so words of emotion and fallacy may be used to make the perception of that fact (of the sound) seem better or worse than it was when it actually, previously happened. This allows a sound to be defined as much louder, softer, higher or lower in pitch, or more or less angry or aggressive in Nature than it actually was at the time it happened, which is always in past history (his story). Every fact is only ever opinion, unless that which is described as "fact" is self-evident and self-existent. Yet in the legal realm of cartoon fiction even that which is self-evident, even Jehovah and Its Law can be made to factually not exist. Problem, reaction, solution.

If violence or murder by stabbing or gun shot is a physical fact of the case, these "facts" can only be placed into evidence as perceptions described through words. A word can never be the actual sound, it can only describe and define the form of the sound, never the substance. Thus, so many legal crimes are pinned on the wrong person through merely these corruptible word-facts, and the man as surety goes to jail in bondage to that wrongfully accused strawman person simply because the words-as-facts are a perceptive lie made (declared) and thus confirmed as legally true. In fiction, a lie can be and is made to be truth. The violence, the gunshot itself, obviously does not physically happen during the court proceeding. The physical fact is thus only as real as the truth told about it in mere words. And a quite convincing lie by a false-witness is certainly legal evidence of truth and fact in a system based on fiction. In fact, some unscrupulous men did and still do make a financial living through the profession of lying in court as a false witness. In the history of legal terms, these prostitutes as testers-for-hire were called men of straw, a known element among judges, whom also took and still take bribes for their opinions.

MEN OF STRAW - Men who used in former days to ply about courts of law, so called from their manner of making known their occupation, (i.e., by a straw in one of their shoes.) recognized by the name of "straw-shoes." An advocate or lawyer who wanted A CONVENIENT WITNESS knew by these signs where to meet with one, and the colloquy between the parties was brief. "Don't you remember?" said the advocate; to which the ready answer was, "To be sure I do." "Then come into court and swear it." And straw-shoes went into court and swore. Athens abounded in straw-shoes. (Black2)

STRAW MAN - 1. Draft or outline copy ready for suggestions and comments. 2. THIRD PARTY USED AS A COVER IN ILLEGAL OR SHADY DEALS. 3. Nominee director. 4. A weak or flawed person with no standing. Also called man of straw. See judgment proof. (Black2)

JUDGMENT-PROOF - A phrase that describes the people against who a judgement of a court will have no effect as they will not be able to pay a debt or to meet the demands of a judgement.

JUDGMENT IN PERSONAM - A judgment against a particular person, as distinguished from a judgment against A THING or a right or status. The former class of judgments are conclusive only upon parties and privies; THE LATTER UPON ALL THE WORLD.

Today, we carry our own man of straw into court, appearing in its countenance. We lie about who and what we are in Nature, and we rat on ourselves as our own political witness, though the maxim of law states that no man can be made to be a witness against himself. But a strawman is bound to do so, to appear in straw-bail form, for it is a fictional creation of the law and its agent must account to its principal for all that it does in commerce, and the creator controls. Man is protected by that spiritual maxim (by Natural Law), public persons are not. There is no privacy in public places and within public personae.

The legal fiction court makes its own truth from a pronounced and proclaimed hyper-reality of words, though the truth found by the court from these presented physical "facts" may very well be lies about Reality magically turned into legal "truths." Some are even admitted lies (fictions) considered as truths by force of law, for how else would the lie that is the court have power unless it is perceived as the "true" decider of law and judgement? The lies of the liars decides what is truth. Even the best-worded truth from a completely honest witness is still only a perception of a past Reality. It is but a well-told lie called truth. And a better lie created purely from lies may defeat the truer tale.

In short, a court judge and jury can never offer anything else but its own opinion. It takes law to force opinion into the conceit of truth. While God may only judge Reality, legality may only judge perception caused by words called "truth." Truth, in name (in words of art) only, is never Reality.

DELIBERATE - verb - To WEIGH, ponder, discuss, regard upon, consider. To examine, to consult, IN ORDER TO FORM AN OPINION. To weigh in the mind; to consider the reasons for and against; to consider maturely; reflect upon; as to deliberate a question; to weigh the arguments for and against a proposed course of action. (Black4)

DELIBERATE - adjective - Well advised; carefully considered; not sudden or rash; circumspect; slow in determining. Willful rather than merely intentional. Formed, arrived at, or determined upon as a result of careful thought and weighing of CONSIDERATIONS, as a deliberate judgment or plan; carried on coolly and steadily, especially according to a preconceived design; given to weighing facts and arguments with a view to a choice or decision; careful in considering the consequences of a step; slow in action; unhurried; CHARACTERIZED BY REFLECTION; DISPASSIONATE; not rash. The word carries with it an implication of some obstinacy, headstrongness, foolish daring, OR INTENTIONAL WRONG DOING. By the use of this word, in describing a crime, the idea is conveyed that the perpetrator weighs the motives for the act and its consequences, the nature of the crime, or other things connected with his intentions, with a view to a decision thereon; that he carefully considers all these: and that the act is not suddenly committed. It implies that the perpetrator must be CAPABLE OF THE EXERCISE OF SUCH MENTAL POWERS as are called into use by deliberation and the consideration and weighing of motives and consequences. "Deliberation" and "premeditation" are of the same character of mental operations, differing only in degree. Deliberation is but prolonged premeditation. In other words, in law, deliberation is premeditation in a cool state of the blood, or, where there has been heat of passion, it is premeditation continued beyond the period within which there has been time for the blood to cool, in the given case. Deliberation is not only TO THINK OF BEFOREHAND, which may be but for an instant, but the inclination to do the act is considered, weighed, pondered upon, for such A LENGTH OF TIME after a provocation is given as the jury may and was sufficient for the blood to cool. One in a heat of passion may premeditate without deliberating. Deliberation is only exercised in a cool state of the blood, while premeditation may be either in that state of the blood or in the heat of passion. (Black4)

DELIBERATELY - Willfully; with premeditation; intentionally; purposely; IN COLD BLOOD. (Black4)

COLD BLOOD - UNDISTURBED USE OF REASON; calm deliberation. See Cooling Time. (WCA1889)

OPINION - A document prepared by an attorney for his client, embodying his understanding of the law as applicable to a state of facts submitted to him for that purpose. The statement by a judge or court of the decision reached in regard to a cause tried or argued before them, expounding the law as applied to the case, and detailing the reasons upon which the judgment is based. The words "decision" and "opinion" do not have same meaning, a "decision" of a court being its judgment, and ITS "OPINION" BEING REASONS GIVEN FOR JUDGMENT. (Black4)

OPINION EVIDENCE - Evidence of what the witness thinks, BELIEVES, or infers in regard to facts in dispute, as distinguished from his personal knowledge of the facts themselves; not admissible except (under certain limitations) in the case of experts. That which is given by a person of ordinary capacity who has by opportunity for practice acquired special knowledge outside limits of common observation, of value in elucidating a matter under consideration. In the law of evidence, opinion is an inference or conclusion drawn by a witness from facts some of which are known to him and others assumed, or drawn from facts which, though lending probability to the inference, DO NOT EVOLVE IT BY A PROCESS OF ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY REASONING. An inference necessarily involving certain facts may be stated without the facts, the inference being an equivalent to a specification of the facts; but, when the facts are not necessarily involved in the inference (e. g., when the inference may be sustained upon either of several distinct phases of fact, neither of which it necessarily involves), then the facts must be stated. (Black4)

CONCEIT - noun [Latin, TO TAKE OR SEIZE.] 1. Conception; that which is conceived, imagined, or FORMED IN THE MIND; idea; thought; IMAGE. In laughing there ever precedeth a conceit of somewhat ridiculous, and therefore it is proper to man. 2. Understanding; power or faculty of conceiving; apprehension; as a man of quick conceit [Nearly antiquated]. How often did her eyes say to me, that they loved! Yet I, not looking for such a matter, had not my conceit open to understand them. 3. OPINION; notion; fancy; IMAGINATION; fantastic notion; as a strange or odd conceit. Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? There is more hope of a fool than of him. Proverbs 26:5. 4. Pleasant fancy; gayety of imagination. On the way to the gibbet, a freak took him in the head to go off with a conceit. 5. A striking thought; affected or UNNATURAL CONCEPTION. Some to conceit alone their works confine. 6. FAVORABLE OR SELF-FLATTERING OPINION; a lofty or vain conception OF ONES OWN PERSON OR ACCOMPLISHMENTS. By a little study and a great conceit of himself, HE HAS LOST HIS RELIGION. Out of conceit with, not having a favorable opinion of; no longer pleased with; as, a man is out of conceit with his dress. Hence to put one out of conceit with, is to make him indifferent to a thing, or in a degree displeased with it. - verb transitive - To conceive; TO IMAGINE; to think; to fancy. THE STRONG, BY CONCEITING THEMSELVES WEAK, THEREBY RENDERED INACTIVE. (Webs1828)

— = —

When we judge others, do we not put them out of our own conceit? Is this not the ultimate conceit of man? Do we judge their own actions or do we judge our own persona? Are we truly able to cast the first stone by our own innocence? Is our judgement helping or condemning to man? And when we are judged originally and thus doomed through the birth-abandonment process in person-hood, are we not made weak and inactive as any man would be that we may judge and punish?

Ironically, when we are called to jury, it is our own persona of conceit - our own falsely projected self-image as "moral persons" in citizenship - that are called to sit. And we do not judge the defendant as a man, but as a fictional person (status) bound under legal law. Not morally, but artificially. We do not judge the man, we judge his performance without intent as a strawman under strict law. Slaves judging slaves. Debtor upon debtor applying opinionated, state sanctioned false-morals over and in conceit of God's Law.

But hey... that's just the way it is, right?

If you hurry, you can catch American Idol or Dancing With The Stars. After all, you judge those performers just as you do the citizen actors in the person of government on TV and in court now don't you - with ignorance and conceit of God's Law?

The only Reality is that we all make each other extremely weak through our own conceit of each other. And that is exactly where the church and state wishes us to be, controllable by the fiction of mere legal opinion, judging and infighting amongst ourselves so that the puppet-masters in their secured pirate cove are never fingered.

—=—

“Opinion has caused more trouble on this little earth than plagues or earthquakes.”

—Voltaire

—=—

“Judgments are, as it were, the sayings of the law, AND ARE RECEIVED AS TRUTH.”

—JUDICIA SUNT TANQUAM JURIS DICTA, ET PRO VERITATE ACCIPIUNTUR. “2 Inst. 537. (Black4)

—=—

“Judges are not bound to explain the reason of their sentence.”

JUDICES NON TENENTUR EXPRIMERE CAUSAM SENTENTIAE SUAE. Jenk. Cent. 75. (Black4)

—=—

To be clear, opinion evidence is not admissible in court. And yet, somehow, the judgement of the court is based upon the opinion of the judge and/or jury. So we are literally ruled by the opinions of self-professed experts - professors (speakers) of the law. Godheads. Administrators. It is indeed the opinion of this author that no moral man, and especially no follower of christ's teachings, can justify sitting as judge or jury over other men. The law of God is specifically moral and designed to be against those teachings. Therefore no judge can possibly be my peer or my equal if I profess the Law of God. And that's the point. That's the notion of possessing, acting in, and thus declaring only the Highest Law. A civil, legally created judge (magistrate god) cannot be qualified to judge my actions unless I abandon my own nature. For as a titled, legal creation of man he can in no way be a man of God. A judge is purely a legal entity; a corruption of God's Nature. He is acting as nothing more than a fictional person with a fictional legal title, given authority only under color of legal law. God respects no person, and neither should we.

A leader is or at least can be a man of God. A ruler is always a fictional status of man. We must know the difference. Christ was portrayed as a leader, not a ruler. One is either led by moral law or ruled by an amoral legal code.

—=—

“He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.”

— = —

This paradoxical statement is much more ironic than we can imagine. For how may any man judge another without some burden of artifice (sin)? How may a judge exist without the sin of personhood and flattering title? And what Law may a man be judged by but God's, which requires no such judgement in worldly things? Here again we can see that the ability to speak in parables (parabolically) is the ability to defeat all enemies. But will such rational thought cause men to cease casting their stones and stumbling blocks? Of course not, for the multitudes of men are fools, and a parable in the mouth of fools has no value. We can only act by example. There are no guarantees, no insurances, and no protections from psychopathy. We must not become like them.

Apparently all court decisions and opinions are necessarily done in cold-blood. For certainly a judge never considers his own artifice in his false judgement of others; his own sin. He only judges the actions of the person, not the man, for his legal law only applies to the artificial, legal person. No blood runs through any judge in artifice, for no Life Exists in such flattering titles. To judge names and other words is to judge only fiction, try as they may to establish some moral principle over their actions. But this is an impossibility, for a judge must be cold and amoral by law in his judgements of fictional persons, places, and things. His law is the very origin and licensure of sin.

— = —

“The judge must see that no order be made or judgment given or sentence passed either more harshly or more mildly than the case requires; he must not seek renown, either as a severe or as a tender-hearted judge.”

— RESPICIENDUM EST JUDICANTI NE QUID AUT DURIUS AUT REMISSIUS CONSTITUATUR QUAM CAUSA DEPOSCIT; NEC ENIM AUT SEVERITATIS AUT CLEMENTIAE GLORIA AFFECTANDA EST. (Black4)

— = —

“It matters not what is known to the judge,
IF IT IS NOT KNOWN TO HIM JUDICIALLY.”

—Non refert quid notum sit iudice si notum non sit in forma iudici. 3 Buls. 115. (BouvMaxim)

— = —

If a judge knows you are innocent by personal experience or knowledge, he cannot declare it or present it in court, even while sentencing you to life in prison. For it is only the life of the person (status) that is in consideration, not Reality. A false witness giving false testimony is more powerful than the judges actual knowledge, for the judge only considers what is presented as legal accepted evidence. Fiction reigns.

I warn people all the time that emotion has no place in the legal realm, for no emotions and no souls Exist there. There is no love to be found, for as we will discover, love is not a recognized concept in the legal language except for fraudulent purposes, as the using of its power and purpose only for evil intent. Love is illegal in the legal realm. Judges, apparently, are also supposed to be cold-blooded as they de-liberate the fate of man in doom and judgement with their professional (professed) opinions as decisions given under false flattering titles in the office of their fictional persona, no doubt considering as well the monetary value of men as prisoners made to voluntarily participate in the prison labor industry for slave wages that benefit only the state and its contracted private corporations. To de-liberate a case means to take what is at liberty (Reality: the Real answers to questions as opposed to the consideration of evidential and circumstantial facts versus Reality) and to chain what is that unknown Reality to a re-considered, cold-blooded opinion based merely on some monetarily re-presentative value. Hence the legal opinion and decision can only have effect on a man standing in person with corruption of blood in a citizenship. The liberty of what actually is must be stolen, as that reality becomes set into the fact of opinionated legal words. These words become the opinion of “the law” for which the judge artificially represents as its agent, created by one man’s person and enforced upon another man’s person. And man must also relinquish his own liberty for the benefit of this “protection” of person-hood, sealing his fate to be thereby judged by men acting as gods. In other words, a judge is the false, corporeal re-presentation of God, created by the fictional law. The judge is the voice in agency of that voiceless legal law, while the Executive (president, governor, and county Sheriff) is the representation of God’s wrath in the guise of the military force behind it, without which the voice would be pointless and without respect. Violent (executive) force is the only reason for this respect of legal law by the subjects (voluntary slaves) to it. Reality re-presented in any form is still non-Existent in law. Words (fictions) are never Reality. The respect is not Natural. The consent is manufactured like a witches brew.

“Rights” may also certainly be said to not Exist in Reality, for rights come only from the imagination of men. “Rights” exist only in a legal and religious (ecclesiastical) form. They don’t grow on trees. They cannot be plucked from the earth. They cannot be fished from the sea. God did not create them, though the name of God is used falsely to justify their legal existence as God-given. But they certainly aren’t tangible or physical in any way. Men must believe in and abide by God’s Law and consciously apply it towards all other men for negative rights to have constructive use. In this way, the Natural duty extinguishes the need for a declared fictional right, for no right is needed if all men keep their negative, Natural Law duty to all other men and to Nature Itself.

In other words, no positive law is needed if the negative law is at all times adhered to. And this must be the basis of any society of men.

—=—

“The Constitution is not an (positive) instrument for the government to restrain the people, it is an (negative) instrument for the people to restrain the government — lest it come to dominate our lives and interests.”

—Patrick Henry, American colonial revolutionary, (italicized, emphasis mine) added.

—=—

Adding the words positive and negative above makes quotes such as these much easier to understand in relation to the negative fundamentals of the unenforceable (negative) Natural Law versus that of man’s legal, positively enforced law. Only a private man would understand this “revolutionary” statement of old, for only a private man in Reality has anything to lose. The U.S. constitution, in other words, only restrains government from private citizens. But for public citizenships, all law is positive, restraining all public persons.

—=—

“...generally the Constitution is a charter of negative liberties. [It] says what the states CAN’T do to you. [It] says what the federal government CAN’T do to you, BUT [IT] DOESN’T SAY WHAT THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT OR STATE GOVERNMENT MUST DO ON YOUR BEHALF.”

—President Barack Obama

—=—

Naturally this statement, as accurate as it is, made the idiocracy of patriotic public citizenships and the shock-jocks who purposefully mislead them quite angry. For they know not what they are, they understand not their status in publicity, and they can't fathom that the constitution only limits government from harming private citizens. And yet if this perfectly truthful statement can just be comprehended by the public mass of illiterates (the public people in citizenship to the United States), then they would suddenly understand why the government abuses them so much. Positive law is not negative law. Positive law is an addition, while a negative law is an absence of application. They are repulsive to each other. The negative repulses the positive, and negative (spiritual law) is superior to the positive (contractual law). A negative right is only the right to not have positive rights forced upon us. Private persons are negative persons. The public is purely positive, and public persons are bound by the right to have positive law forced upon their public personas simply because they are not acting privately (negatively) within those Natural duties that it presumes to do no harm to others and their property. And so the government does horrible things under this positive law on our behalf, the excuse of tyrants old and new.

A tree must be destroyed to create artificial, positive rights with legal ink upon its dead pulp we call as paper, while a negative right is self-evident; a Law of Nature. Legal rights (in name only) are artfully worded lies told and contractually established by a few men in order to break with God's Natural Law and negative duty to It and others, to either protect themselves from the tyranny of a few men, or to claim the legal right to become the few tyrants over all other contracted men. No rights Exist in Nature. They have no Natural Source, no original, except in man's simulacrum of his legalese of nomenclature. They are not created by God and Nature as written words or ideas, for Nature and its Creator does not create or recognize words, legal names, or titles, which are of course required to claim a legal right. A negative right is merely the non-existence of legal rights, which positively tread on the negative duty of non-interference and "do no harm" principles. Legal or civil rights only apply to persons, not men. To claim a legal right, man must abandon God and act only in false persona (artificial, positive status) to therefore be bound by the legal law of persons.

—=—

“Rightful liberty is unobstructed action according to our will within limits drawn around us BY THE EQUAL RIGHTS OF OTHERS. I do not add 'within the limits of the law' BECAUSE LAW IS OFTEN BUT THE TYRANT'S WILL, AND ALWAYS SO WHEN IT VIOLATES THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIVIDUAL.”

—Thomas Jefferson

—=—

Here again, Jefferson is speaking of negative law in “unobstructed action” through that respect of the duty to all others to not obstruct or infringe upon their own moral actions. Only consent to man's positive law can defeat the self-evident Truth of the negative duties to all, the Natural Law of Jehovah.

As a disclaimer, I use quotes by these “founding father's” with hesitation, and do so only bearing in mind that, while so fervently decrying tyranny in favor of their own private liberty and ensuring it for that of their bloodline of “posterity,” these signers created a legal system that allowed and regulated the legal slavery and bondage of others not of their own progeny (genealogy, as specifically defined legal “white persons”). And so the lesson, the moral of this American story and its legal creators (founder-gods) is that when liberty is obtained only at the cost of any others' liberty, even that of one individual, it is not true moral, negative, or Natural liberty under God. The only way to justify slavery is through the legal artifice, which the constitution established as a rightful positive violation of the negative Natural Law. The lesser oppressor often complains about his own tyrants (kings) even as he oppresses others under those higher tyrant's permissive laws. This is the story of the United States. And even those who stood against slavery conceded to it in the end, which is the same as promoting and participating in it. This is inexcusable.

We can either choose to dismissively belittle these quotes stated by the free men of the several States (Peoples) like idiots, or we can choose to learn from their deeper meaning by applying our knowledge of the status of private versus public citizens in understanding their True intent. Only a fool would ignore something based upon their opinion of its goodness or badness instead of learning from its application. One cannot understand or imagine heaven without having equal knowledge of hell. One cannot be protected from evil by simply ignoring it in hope and expectation that good will prevail. One cannot simply pray evil away without taking action against it. And this is why the Bible instructs us to put no faith in any man, and that includes these hypocrites we parabolically call as the "founding fathers."

Never forget that slavery, in the form of voluntary servitude, is very much alive in the United States. The 13th amendment is clear that, since the end of the civil war, only voluntary slavery and servitude is constitutional. Just as an external hard drive is an impressionable slave to its master computer's operating system, so too is a public person a slave to its principal's legal code.

There are no spells or spellings in Nature, no definitions, no constitutions, no written laws. There are not even any straight lines! These are mortal devices; created for dead pledges in consensual allegiance to fictional authority figures. Rights are only of the social, of society, and can only be obtained in a public (fictional) forum and only in cursed form without substance. The public cannot effect the private without untamed force, claiming it as their legal right, which is against each man's Natural moral duty to all other men. Positive (legal) rights are and can only be socialist (public). For a man to claim civil or other rights as his own, he must first conceit to become naturalized and/or be birthed into and in confirmation of a public, socialized, civilized persona as an obedient citizen to the source of those public rights, away from his True God, and therefore must accept all obligations of the legal creator of those rights. Only a fiction can have and hold fictional things such as rights. A legal right is not a duty, and merely defines a legal contractual obligation per other entities. A legal duty is merely a tax. A right is taken, never given. It is the private responsibility of adhering to the negative duty under God's Law (to do no harm) that protects private men and their only duty to each other, which creates the right not to be forced by other men to do anything and to do unto other men as they would have them do unto you.

This is the essence of Natural Law. One needs not governmental, legal law if one fulfills this negative state of being in Natural Law only. And this is vastly different than the public law which we say is positively created, the source of your so-called legal rights...

POSITIVE LAW - Law actually and specifically enacted or adopted by proper authority for the government of an organized jural society. "A 'law,' in the sense in which that term is employed in jurisprudence, IS ENFORCED BY A SOVEREIGN POLITICAL AUTHORITY. It is thus DISTINGUISHED NOT ONLY FROM ALL RULES WHICH, like the principles of MORALITY and the so-called laws of HONOR and of fashion, ARE ENFORCED BY AN INDETERMINATE AUTHORITY, but also FROM ALL RULES ENFORCED BY A DETERMINATE AUTHORITY which is either, on the one hand, SUPER-HUMAN, or, on the other hand, politically subordinate. In order to emphasize the fact that 'laws' in the STRICT sense of the term, ARE THUS AUTHORITATIVELY IMPOSED, THEY ARE DESCRIBED AS POSITIVE LAWS." (Black4)

— = —

“Positive rules of law [AS DISTINGUISHED FROM MAXIMS (PRINCIPLES OF LAW) OR CONCLUSIONS OF REASON] will be receded from [given up or dispensed with] rather than that crimes and wrongs should remain unpunished.”

—RECEDITUR A PLACITIS JURIS, POTIUS QUAM INJURIAE ET DELICTA MANEANT IMPUNITA. Bac. Max. 55, reg. 12. (Black4)—

Notice first and foremost that the indeterminate, God-given lawful authority and man’s determinate positive law authority are unnaturally mixed to create positive law just as the christian and surname are so admixed, for the church and state must support each other to justify their combinations (conspiracy/confederations) of powers to rule. Both are of the false law. A government will ultimately always claim God as its justification for existence, even as it disobeys that moral Law of God’s Nature. Again, a perfect example of why no man may claim two masters, or more specifically two opposing sets of law to follow at the same time.

Evil will always present itself as good, just as these legal “devils” will always present themselves as beneficial to man, when all they can really do is to ad vice to man’s person. Good and evil, Nature and artifice, should never be mixed.

“It is when people forget God that tyrants forge their chains.”

—Patrick Henry—

Positive law allows, through legality and special license, the act of crime to go unpunished. And it is most often government and its agents that commit the legalized crimes. For the crime is not considered in its action (verb) or essence in and against Nature, but only by the fictional words that describe the legal (permissible) and strictly defined crime in persona against only the false nature of the fiction. If the crime can be described in a way that is in harmony with legal law, despite its complete attack on the moral law, the legal magistrate “devilmasters” may forgive the name (noun) of the crime while its victim still suffers the Reality (verb) of it.

Legal law is established to control unlearned men who cannot govern their own actions, who are not responsible for the well-being of other men and the Natural world as the very essence and purposeful result of their own lifestyle and actions thereof, and for those who seek to gain from other men’s labor. But those men who would govern under this artificial system never attempt to teach their pledges how to self-govern ourselves, for that would signal the loss of respect and authority that allows them that unnatural, “super-human” power over ignorant men. A devious magician never reveals that which would uncover his illusion and expose his artful designs of deceit.

Citizenship is by invitation only. It is purely voluntary. And only fools become public United States citizens under that legal law, first through the implanted and purposefully engrained ignorance of our parents at the birth-delivery process, and then through our voluntary acceptance of the legal realm as a false-reality, accepting all benefits and obligations of that citizenship through confirmed use of the legal signature. The legal realm exists as a debtor’s hell on Earth because most men cannot attain the keys to heaven on Earth by living and controlling their own actions under God’s Law. That is to say that man has lost the ability to use God to destroy the artifice by scriptural instruction and under-standing. In the end, either under God or mammon, there is only one maxim of law that matters; only one principle that defines man's disposition and establishes his law. For whatever law man chooses to follow, be it God or mammon, this one requirement as a foundation is always the same...

—=—

“Obedience is the essence of the law.”

Obedientia est legis essentia. 11 Coke, 100 (Black4)

—=—

Think you know what obedience really is?

Think you should learn what your magistrates say it is instead of falling prey to the dog-Latin taught to you as their pets?

Whatever man's individual choice, he must become and remain obedient to the creator of that choice, be it to God's Law over men or to government's law over persons, for to act in person is to be obedient to man's legal law over that of God's Design. Man may only have one master, and therefore one law, for both laws cannot Exist in one place. Opposites do not attract in the case of law, and man cannot follow the scriptures while acting as a fictional person, as personhood is outlawed by Nature just as Nature is outlawed by legal considerations.

OBEDIENCE - Compliance with a command, prohibition, or known law and rule of duty prescribed; THE PERFORMANCE OF WHAT IS REQUIRED OR ENJOINED BY AUTHORITY, OR THE ABSTAINING FROM WHAT IS PROHIBITED, in compliance with the command or prohibition.
(Black4)

OBEDIENTIA - An OFFICE, or the ADMINISTRATION of it; a kind of RENT; SUBMISSION; obedience. (Black4)

OBERATUS - Latin. In Roman law, A DEBTOR WHO WAS OBLIGED TO SERVE HIS CREDITOR TILL HIS DEBT WAS DISCHARGED. (Black4)

PROHIBIT - To forbid by law; TO PREVENT; not synonymous with “regulate.” (Black4)

PROHIBIT - verb transitive - [Latin prohibeo; pro and habeo, TO HOLD.] 1. To forbid; to interdict by authority; APPLICABLE TO PERSONS OR THINGS, but implying authority or right. God prohibited Adam to eat of the fruit of a certain tree. THE MORAL LAW PROHIBITS WHAT IS WRONG AND COMMANDS WHAT IS RIGHT. We prohibit a person to do a thing, and we prohibit the thing to be done. 2. To hinder; TO DEBAR; to prevent; to preclude. (Webs1828)

PROHIBITION - noun - [Latin prohibitio.] 1. The act of forbidding or interdicting; A DECLARATION TO HINDER SOME ACTION; interdict. THE LAW OF GOD IN THE TEN COMMANDMENTS CONSISTS MOSTLY OF PROHIBITIONS; ‘thou shalt NOT do such a thing.’ 2. In law, a writ of prohibition is a writ issuing from a superior tribunal, directed to the judges of an inferior court, commanding them to cease from the prosecution of a suit. By ellipsis, prohibition is used for the writ itself. (Webs1828)

PROHIBITION - Inhibition; interdiction... The term prohibition is ALSO applied to the interdiction of making, possessing, selling or giving away, intoxicating liquors, either absolutely, or for beverage purposes, or for other than medicinal, scientific, and sacramental purposes. (Black4)

HABIT - noun - [Latin habitus, from habeo, to have TO HOLD. See Have.] 1. Garb; dress; clothes or garments in general. The scenes are old, the habits are the same. We wore last year. There are among the statues, several of Venus, in different habits. 2. A coat worn by ladies over other garments. 3. STATE OF ANY THING; implying some CONTINUANCE or PERMANENCE; temperament or particular state of a BODY, formed by nature OR INDUCED BY EXTRANEIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES; as a costive or lax habit of body; a sanguine habit. 4. A DISPOSITION OR CONDITION OF THE MIND OR BODY ACQUIRED BY CUSTOM or a frequent repetition of the same act. Habit is that which is held or retained, the effect of custom or frequent repetition. Hence we speak of good habits and bad habits. Frequent drinking of spirits leads to a habit of intemperance. We should endeavor to correct evil habits BY A CHANGE OF PRACTICE. A great point in the education of children, is to prevent the formation of bad habits. Habit of plants, THE GENERAL FORM OR APPEARANCE, or the conformity of plants of the same kind in structure and growth. - verb transitive - To dress; TO CLOTHE; to array. They habited themselves like RURAL DEITIES. TO DWELL; TO INHABIT. (Webs1828)

—=—

To put it simply, God forbids and prohibits mammon and legal law, while legal law forbids and prohibits God and moral law. Good vs. evil. God vs. satan (adversary). Habit and custom is often used to justify evils.

Is not the public education system specifically designed to teach children the bad habits and customs of the nation? Is not the purpose of public school to keep children thinking and acting in a public (commercial) capacity? Isn't public school just citizenship training? Does it not cause public-mindedness and conformity to the terms of art? And have you ever really considered why the Bible is banned from most public schools?

Let us seek the words of Noah Webster as to these questions, and to know the purpose of his dictionary designed to teach Scriptural Law and legal law side-by-side.

—=—

“Every civil government is based upon some religion or philosophy of life. Education in a nation will propagate the religion of that nation. IN AMERICA, THE FOUNDATIONAL RELIGION WAS CHRISTIANITY. And it was sown in the hearts of Americans through the HOME and PRIVATE and PUBLIC schools for centuries. Our liberty, growth, and prosperity was the result of a Biblical philosophy of life. OUR CONTINUED FREEDOM AND SUCCESS IS DEPENDENT ON OUR EDUCATING THE YOUTH OF AMERICA IN THE PRINCIPLES OF CHRISTIANITY.”

“The heart should be cultivated with more assiduity than the head.”

“Before a standing army can rule, the people must be disarmed; as they are in almost every kingdom of Europe. The supreme power in America cannot enforce unjust laws by the sword; because the whole body of the people are armed, and constitute a force superior to any band of regular troops that can be, on any pretense, raised in the United States.”

“The moral principles and precepts contained in the Scripture OUGHT TO FORM THE BASIS OF ALL OUR CIVIL CONSTITUTIONS AND LAWS.”

“In my view, the Christian religion is the most important and one of the first things in which all children, under a free government, ought to be instructed... No truth is more evident to my mind than THAT THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION MUST BE THE BASIS OF ANY GOVERNMENT INTENDED TO SECURE THE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES OF A FREE PEOPLE.”

“A PURE DEMOCRACY IS GENERALLY A VERY BAD GOVERNMENT. It is often the most tyrannical government on earth; for a multitude is often rash, and will not hear reason.”

“Every child in America should be acquainted with his own country. He should read books that furnish him with ideas that will be useful to him in life and practice. As soon as he opens his lips, he should rehearse the history of his own country.”

“The education of youth should be watched with the most scrupulous attention. [I]t is much easier to introduce and establish an effectual system... than to correct by penal statutes the ill effects of a bad system... THE EDUCATION OF YOUTH... LAYS THE FOUNDATIONS ON WHICH BOTH LAW AND GOSPEL REST FOR SUCCESS.”

—All above quotes by Noah Webster

— = —

Have you figured out why a judge wears a black moo-moo? They are clothing themselves in the symbol of the artifice of legal title. Black is the color of the evil of empty authority. A judge wears a “habit” to pre-tend that authority over man due to his appearance in form as a legal, fictional person under color of title. The habit of the judge signifies an administrative disposition as over-Lord of the legal realm. He whom appears before the judge in person suffers the wrath of that evil act.

This action allows the judge to be above the Natural, moral Law. It allows the purpose of law to be twisted from its scriptural principles and foundation, allowing man to be considered without the foundational (constitutional) considerations of that law, and instead be viewed and considered only within the law of persons; as animal (without soul).

— = —

“Decency, security and liberty alike demand that government officials shall be subjected to the same rules of conduct that are commands to the citizen. In a government of laws, existence of the government will be imperiled if it fails to observe the law scrupulously. Our Government is the potent, the omnipresent teacher. FOR GOOD OR FOR ILL, IT TEACHES THE WHOLE PEOPLE BY ITS EXAMPLE. CRIME IS CONTAGIOUS. If the Government becomes a lawbreaker, it breeds contempt for law; it invites every man to become a law unto himself; IT INVITES ANARCHY. To declare that, in the administration of the criminal law, the end justifies the means -- to declare that the GOVERNMENT MAY COMMIT CRIMES IN ORDER TO SECURE THE CONVICTION OF A PRIVATE CRIMINAL -- would bring terrible retribution. Against that pernicious doctrine this Court should resolutely set its face."

—See Olmstead v. United States, 277 U.S. 438, 471-485 (1928)

— — —

To get around this, the private People created the public (commercial) realm of legal fiction. The private People cannot be secured by the legal falsities of that public commercial law, whereas the public people (goyim) are purely the victims of its strictness.

Sadly, this conclusion has already manifested itself in the last 87 years. The once private man is now largely become public. The government commits crime as its daily functionality, and the courts support the licensed fraud even while claiming God as their master. The contagion of citizenship has allowed government officials and corporate heads to be immune from the rules of conduct of the citizenry, for the law of persons is not the same as that private, Higher Law of God. We have a government of anarchy, for the word license merely means anarchy.

A man who follows God's Law needs no prohibitions or interdictions from other men. A man of God will never habitually fall victim to the customs and culture of a factitious society of legal, public personas.

FACTITIOUS - adjective - [Latin factitius, from facio.] MADE BY ART, in distinction from what is produced by nature; ARTIFICIAL; as factitious cinnabar; factitious stones; factitious air. (Webs1828)

LONG ROBE - A metaphorical expression designating the PRACTICE OF PROFESSION of the law; as, in the phrase "gentlemen of the long robe." (Black4)

ERMINE - By metonymy, this term is used to describe the office or functions of a Judge, whose state ROBE, lined with ermine, IS EMBLEMATICAL OF PURITY AND HONOR WITHOUT STAIN. (Black4)

ROBE - Fr. A word anciently used by sailors for the cargo of a SHIP. The Italian "roba" had the same meaning. (Black4)

ROB - To take personalty in possession of another FROM HIS PERSON or his presence, feloniously and against his will, by violence or BY PUTTING HIM IN FEAR. (Black4)

ROBBER - One who commits a robbery. The term is not in law synonymous with "thief," but applies only to one who steals with force or open violence. (Black4)

ROBBERY - Felonious taking of personal property in the possession of another, from his person or immediate presence, and against his will, accomplished by means of FORCE OR FEAR... (Black4)

Stealing personal property from the person...

Is this really a legal crime if a judge does so through legal means under the pretended unstained purity and honor of his robe? After all, the property belongs to the person, the person belongs to the government, and the judge only administers state property. So how can an agent of government steal from itself?

When is robbery not robbery?

All it takes is a little factitious consideration and it all makes perfect sense. But it only makes sense where non-sense is legally protected against sense, and where a piece of cloth and ermine-lined robes can be believed to cause men to be the purest of gods in their pretended magistracy. To this end, what is the difference between a priest and a judge? Nothing at all. Both are merely judges that preach their own law and sometimes pretend to forgive sins behind ceremonial cloth and masonic symbols of false authority while ignoring God's Word.

Positive law is not in any way moral law, for the moral law is but a negative duty not originated by man's law. A positive law reflects not the Laws of Nature, and is only ever a creation of man. It is a law imposed not over man but over his alter-ego, the cult of HU-manity in personhood. Humans are always non compos mentis, considered as mere animals (without soul) that must be governed with authoritarian legality. Chattel. Humans are not reasonable or negatively responsible under God's Law, for the hu-man is some thing or part of or about man, but not man as a whole Being. Only the substance of a man of God may be distinguished from the legal form of humanity. Form is imagination and thus opposed to God, for the full substance (mind, body, and soul) of God's Creation is purposefully missing when man is considered in merely a positive, hu-man form.

Perhaps the most important foundational fallacy of the transliterated Bible story is that Adam was the first individual man in and of Nature. This is a lie told by corporate religious doctrines. The Bible is the story of man's fall into fictional names, titles, and ethnicities as sin, where man alone is not considered except as part of the whole (as commune-ism). Thus the word Adam is a reference not to an individual man, but to humanity as a legal form and species. The portrayal of the man in the Garden of Eden is what is known as personification, the ancient style of writing that tells the story of a state of being of all men as an individual anthropomorphism in story (allegory) format. The incorporated church wishes the followers of its false doctrines to take literally as history (his story) what is intended purely as a figurative, allegorical lesson. For the churches of the state do not wish for individual men to comprehend that it is our own body alone that is the temple of God, and that their artfully constructed, 501(c) legalized churches are not of God's Realm, not acting under God's Law, and instead are but legal creations of man's domain.

In short, the church and state wishes to turn men into hu-mans. Form with no substance. The despoiled seed of Adam's fall.

HUMAN - adjective - [Latin humanus; Heb. FORM, species.] 1. BELONGING to man or mankind; pertaining or relating to the race of man; as a human voice; human shape; human nature; human knowledge; human life. 2. Having the QUALITIES of a man. 3. PROFANE; NOT SACRED OR DIVINE; as a human author. (Webs1828)

ADAM - noun - In Hebrew, Man; primarily, THE NAME OF THE HUMAN SPECIES, MANKIND; appropriately, the first Man, the progenitor of the HUMAN RACE. The word signifies FORM, SHAPE, or suitable form, hence, SPECIES. It is evidently connected with Hebrew, TO BE LIKE OR EQUAL, TO

FORM AN IMAGE, TO ASSIMILATE. Whence the sense of likeness, IMAGE, FORM, shape; Gr., a body, like. [See Man.]... (Webs1828)

ADAMIC - adjective - Pertaining to Adam. Adamic earth, is the term given to common red clay, so called by means of A MISTAKEN OPINION THAT ADAM MEANS RED EARTH. (Webs1828)

MAN - noun - plural men. [Hebrew species, kind, IMAGE, SIMILITUDE.] 1. Mankind; THE HUMAN RACE; the whole species of human beings; BEINGS DISTINGUISHED FROM ALL OTHER ANIMALS BY THE POWERS OF REASON AND SPEECH, as well as by their shape and dignified aspect. 'Os homini sublime dedit.' And God said, Let US make man in OUR image, after OUR likeness, and let THEM have dominion--Genesis 1:26. Man that is born of a woman, is of few days and full of trouble. Job 14:1. My spirit shall not always strive with man. Genesis 6:3. I will destroy man whom I have created. Genesis 6:7. There hath no temptation taken you, but such as is common to man. 1 Corinthians 10:13. It is written, man shall not live by bread alone. Matthew 4:4. There must be somewhere such a rank as man, Respecting man whatever wrong we call— But vindicate the ways of God to man. The proper study of mankind is man. In the System of Nature, man is ranked as a distinct genus. When opposed to woman, man sometimes denotes the male sex in general. Woman has, in general, much stronger propensity than man to the discharge of parental duties. 2. A male individual of the human race, of ADULT growth or years. THE KING IS BUT A MAN AS I AM. And the man dreams but what the boy believed. 3. A male of the human race; used often in compound words, or in the nature of an adjective; as a man-child; men-cooks; men-servants. 4. A SERVANT, or an attendant of the male sex. I and my man will presently go ride. 5. A word of familiar address. We speak no treason, man. 6. It sometimes bears the sense of A MALE ADULT of some uncommon qualifications; particularly, the sense of strength, vigor, bravery, virile powers, or magnanimity, as distinguished from the weakness, timidity or impotence of a boy, OR FROM THE NARROW MINDEDNESS OF LOW BRED MEN. I dare do all that may become a man. Will reckons he should not have been the man he is, had he not broke windows— So in popular language, it is said, he is no man. Play your part like a man. He has not the SPIRIT of a man. Thou art but a youth, and he a man of war from his youth. 1 Samuel 17:8. 7. AN INDIVIDUAL OF THE HUMAN SPECIES. IN MATTERS OF EQUITY BETWEEN MAN AND MAN — UNDER THIS PHRASEOLOGY, FEMALES MAY BE COMPREHENDED. So a law restraining man or every man from a particular act, COMPREHENDS WOMEN AND CHILDREN, IF OF COMPETENT AGE TO BE THE SUBJECTS OF LAW. 8. Man is sometimes OPPOSED TO BOY OR CHILD, AND SOMETIMES TO BEAST. 9. ONE WHO IS MASTER OF HIS MENTAL POWERS, OR WHO CONDUCTS HIMSELF WITH HIS USUAL JUDGMENT. When a PERSON has lost his senses, or acts without his usual judgment, we say, HE IS NOT HIS OWN MAN. 10. It is sometimes used indefinitely, without reference to a particular individual; ANY PERSON; ONE. This is as much as a man can desire. A man in an instant, may discover the assertion to be impossible. This word however is always used in the singular number, referring to an individual. In this respect it does not answer to the French on, nor to the use of man by our Saxon ancestors. In Saxon, man of sloh, signifies, they slew; man sette ut, they set or fitted out. So in German, man sagt, may be rendered, one ways, it is said, they say, or people say. So in Danish, man siger, one says, it is said, they say. 11. In popular usage, a husband. Every wife ought to answer for her man. 12. A MOVABLE PIECE AT CHESS or draughts. 13. IN FEUDAL LAW, A VASSAL, A LIEGE SUBJECT OR TENANT. The vassal or tenant, kneeling, ungirt, uncovered and holding up his hands between those of his lord, professed that he did become his man from that day forth, of life, limb, and earthly honor. Man of war, a ship or war; an armed ship. (Webs1828)

— — —

It is difficult to pin down the proper usage of words to their proper art form, especially when most men are ignorant of what art is according to its strange, fictional existence. The word man can be a reference to God's Creation or to a slave of an other of God's Creation called as the name of a person in title. Legally speaking, the word man is not as important as the word private, whereas a public man implies personhood and subjection to government, and where a private man does not, though the allegiance of private men to each other under the conjuration of an oath is what makes a State (People). Remember, words in legal are only ever of form and status. So the word man must be used carefully. The word human, however, is always form without substance, referring solely to the animal habits of man, not the higher or regenerate soul. Human laws are laws that belong to man, and are not of Nature.

For clarity, let's define terms in a way that shows the devolution of man into fiction (the Biblical story), where the mere representation of man into the form of something false and hu-man steals away his substance. For the word human is used specifically to describe man as something other than a creation of God in Nature, as the shadow of his actual internal being.

The word "Human" (monster) may certainly be a description of the form of man, or something belonging to man, but is never man in his private capacity within his own mind, body, and soul. This word human is not a term of Nature, meaning it is not defined as a Creation of Nature. God Created man, not hu-man. Most importantly to law, anything human is of man or made and belonging to man, but not of God.

Mankind is also not man, but a reference to the whole of a species. Mankind is not man, for the true substance of man can only be an individual in Nature and under God. When species is applied to any creation, the substance of the individual is lost in the legal science of consideration of a class structure. These are the underpinnings of principles of law.

In other words, human is only the form of man with no substance. And the societies that have formed around that false form of man have led to what we know today as the legal world.

HUMANITARIAN - A philanthropist; an anti-Trinitarian who rejects the doctrine of Christ's divinity; a perfectionist. (Colliers New Dictionary of the English Language, 1928)

HUMANITARIANISM - The doctrine that HUMANKIND may become perfect without divine aid. (Webster's New World Dictionary, Third College Edition, 1988, page 657)

HUMANISM - Any system or mode of thought or action in which human interests, values and dignity predominate, especially an ethical theory that OFTEN REJECTS THE IMPORTANCE OF A BELIEF IN GOD. (Random House Webster's College Dictionary, 1990)

SECULAR HUMANISM - The philosophy or life stance of secular humanism (alternatively known by some adherents as Humanism, specifically with a capital H to distinguish it from other forms of humanism) embraces human reason, ethics, social justice and philosophical naturalism, while specifically rejecting religious dogma, super-naturalism, pseudoscience or superstition as the basis of morality and decision making. (Wikipedia entry - 1. Council for Secular Humanism. "10 Myths About Secular Humanism". 2. Edwards, Fred (1989). "What Is Humanism?" American Humanist Association... etc. 3. Compact Oxford English dictionary. Oxford University Press. 2007. 4. Institute for Humanist Studies.)

HUMAN - ...3. Belonging or relative to man AS DISTINGUISHED FROM GOD OR SUPERHUMAN BEINGS; pertaining to the sphere or faculties of man (with implication of limitation or inferiority); MUNDANE; SECULAR. (Often opposed to divine). (Oxford New English Dictionary of 1901).

NATURALISM - A system of morality or religion having a purely natural basis; a view of the world, and of man's relationship to it, in which only the operation of natural, AS OPPOSED TO SUPERNATURAL

OR SPIRITUAL, LAWS AND FORCES IS ASSUMED. and ‘naturalist’ is defined as: ‘One who follows the light of nature, AS CONTRASTED WITH REVELATION. (The Shorter Oxford English Dictionary, 1933)

HUMAN BEING - Natural man: UNENLIGHTENED OR UNREGENERATE. (Random House Dictionary of the English Language, 2nd Edition)

HUMAN BEING - See MONSTER. (Ballentine’s Law Dictionary, 1930)

MONSTER - A HUMAN BEING by BIRTH, but in some part resembling a lower ANIMAL. A MONSTER HATH NO INHERITABLE BLOOD, AND CANNOT BE HEIR TO ANY LAND. (Ballentine’s Law Dictionary, 1930)

UNREGENERATE - Not regenerate; unrepentant; an unregenerate sinner; not convinced by or unconverted to a particular religion; wicked, sinful, dissolute. (Random House Dictionary of the English Language, 2nd Edition)

NATURAL PERSON - Natural person means HUMAN BEING, and not an artificial or juristic person. (Shawmut Bank, N.A. v. Valley Farms, 610 A. 2d. 652, 654; 222 Conn. 361)

NATURAL PERSON - ANY HUMAN BEING WHO AS SUCH IS A LEGAL ENTITY as distinguished from an artificial person, like a corporation, which derives its STATUS AS A LEGAL ENTITY FROM BEING RECOGNIZED SO IN LAW. (Amon v. Moreschi, 296 N.Y. 395, 73 N.E.2d 716. "Max Radin, Radin's Law Dictionary (1955), p. 216.)

NATURAL CHILD - The ordinary euphemism for ‘bastard’ or ILLEGITIMATE. (Amon v. Moreschi, 296 N.Y. 395, 73 N.E.2d 716. "Max Radin, Radin’s Law Dictionary (1955), p. 216)

NATURAL - An idiot; one whom nature debars from understanding; A FOOL. (Samuel Johnson’s Dictionary 1755)

—=—

“The natural man has only two primal passions, to get and to beget”

—William Osler

—=—

“The natural man is a spiritual monster. His heart is where his feet should be, fixed upon the earth; his heels are lifted up against heaven, which his heart should be set on. His face is towards hell; his back towards heaven. He loves what he should hate, and hates what he should love; joys in what he ought to mourn for, and mourns for what he ought to rejoice in; glories in his shame, and is ashamed of his glory; abhors what he should desire, and desires what he should abhor.”

—Thomas Boston, quoted from: ‘Augustus Toplady, Complete Works’

—=—

“Take the thoughts out of that narrow compass he has been all his life confined to, you will find him no more capable than a perfect natural.”

—John Locke

—=—

“But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: NEITHER CAN HE KNOW THEM, BECAUSE THEY ARE SPIRITUALLY DISCERNED.”

—1 Corinthians 2:14, KJB

—=—

“That a monster should be such a natural...”

—Shakespeare

—=—

And what does this word animal refer to, in the calling of man by such an epitaph? It's different than you might think. For to have animal life is to be a “natural” in corruption of blood-right, to be out of the purview and protection of God and Nature, and to be subjected only to the secular law of corrupt men.

ANIMA - Latin. SOUL. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition)

ATE - The preterite of EAT, which see. - noun - a'ty. [Gr. mischief; to hurt. Ate is A PERSONIFICATION OF EVIL, mischief or malice.] In pagan mythology, the goddess of mischief, who was cast down from heaven by Jupiter. (Webs1828)

ANIMATE - verb intransitive - [Latin amino. See ANIMAL.] 1. To give NATURAL LIFE to; to quicken; TO MAKE ALIVE; as the soul animates the body. 2. To give POWERS to, or to heighten the powers or effect of A THING; as, to animate a lyre (harp). 3. To give spirit or vigor; to infuse courage, joy, or other enlivening passion; to stimulate or incite; as, to animate dispirited troops. - adjective - Alive; POSSESSING ANIMAL LIFE. (Webs1828)

—=—

To anim-ate is figuratively to eat the soul, to personify man as evil, as only an animal. To be animal is to be soulless, or at least to be considered legally as without soul, without blood. For in law the mere fact of being alive is not enough; it is only animal life. Man must show the ability to reason in order to be distinguished from his animal Nature. For the legal form of the word “natural” means a fool without understanding, an idiot. The legal fiction can never create anything of the essence (substance) of God's actual Nature, and can only instead tear Nature (Reality) down to mere word-form. Again here the legal word magicians had to redefine Nature into an evil (live) consideration, a play on words, and then trick men into animating their fictional creations in artifice. Thus men are called by these word-smiths as “naturals” according to their opposing legal definition of nature, as unregenerate animals not having been born again into and under the natural law in God's kingdom on earth. Bastards. Man is legally considered as “only human” and therefore only to be considered legally as animal (without soul) and thus illegitimate. An illegitimate cannot be heir to land. Thus the private People are able to keep and be lords over all the land of the naturals.

It is of course a great fallacy and confusion to state that in Nature animals have souls just like man. Think about that. It was very hard for an animal lover like myself to comprehend the True meaning and intent of these words legally without controlling my vulgar emotional considerations, as it will likely be for the average reader. The notion of the "soul" as occurring in only man as a species is the very basis of why men can and will be governed, be it under God or under man's anti-God design. For man is the only creature of reason capable of language arts; his soul thus set apart from the animal world not because animals don't have souls, but because man alone can distinguish between moral right and wrong. This consideration as the soul of man distinguishes man from the rest of the animal kingdom. This is only a legal consideration. Without this legal distinction and that notion of reasonableness, man would need no law to govern him and would be purely animal in his thought and functionality. His artifice and designs simply could not truly effect Nature without organization into legal societies. We must be tamed and trained to become that which we are not in Nature to fit into those societies, to be ruled by terms in art.

This, again, is merely the figurative comprehension of words. We must not let emotion lead our minds when defining emotionless legal terms that apply to no living man or thing. In the Reality of Nature, no rational man would ever consider that animals have no soul or no feelings. But in law, this distinction is made for an important and distinct purpose. It is not put forth as an idea in Reality, just in immoral legality, for man is certainly and uniquely capable of reason and false dialectic (logic) to his own detriment and to that of Nature Itself.

But again, when considering God (Jehovah) as Creation and as all of Nature Itself, it is not logical or reasonable to consider that God (Existence) would allow Itself to be decimated and destroyed by Its own Creation of man. God would certainly not give license to man in his invention to legally dissemble Its Design and poison Its life-giving properties.

The Bible tells us that man has the duty of protector of Nature and its Creation in an utterly irresponsible dominion. It does not bestow any legal right to be the violent dominatrix and destroyer of Nature and all Creatures within It on a whim, though the church and state promote such mythology.

To be legally considered is to be considered without soul, as purely animal in Nature and actions, with a veil of artificiality draped or clothed over the man. Man as beast. It is not so much the notion of being without soul, merely the notion of acting without spirituality or a Higher, moral Law, which we attribute such ability to the soul. An animal in Nature acts without spiritual considerations in its animal functions of survival. Likewise, a man acting in the spiritually dead domain of legalism acts just like those animals, driven by the artificial instincts of an automaton driven only to fulfill his strict contractual requirements and monetary pursuits.

ANIMA (repeated) - Latin. SOUL. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition)

AN - The English indefinite article. Equivalent to "ONE" or "any"; seldom used to denote plurality. (Black4)

MAL, or MALE - As a prefix, in composition, denotes ILL or VEIL, Latin malus. (Webs1828)

MAL - A prefix meaning bad, wrong, FRAUDULENT; as maladministration, malpractice, malversation, etc. (Black4)

MALA - Latin. Bad; EVIL; wrongful. (Black4)

MALADY - noun - [Latin malum; Eng. mellow, Latin mollis.] 1. Any sickness or disease of the human body; any distemper from impaired, defective or morbid organic functions; more particularly, a lingering or deep seated disorder or indisposition. It may be applied to any animal body, but is, I believe, rarely or never applied to plants. The maladies of the body may prove medicines to the mind. 2. DEFECT OR CORRUPTION OF THE HEART; DEPRAVITY; MORAL DISORDER OR CORRUPTION OF MORAL PRINCIPLES. Depravity of heart is a moral malady. 3. DISORDER OF THE UNDERSTANDING OR MIND. (Webs1828)

ANIMAL - In law, all animal life OTHER THAN MAN. An INFERIOR or IRRATIONAL SENTIENT BEING, generally, though not necessarily possessed of the power of locomotion. In etymology, comprehending ALL LIVING CREATURES, WHETHER BRUTISH OR HUMAN. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition).

ANIMAL - Any ANIMATE being which is endowed with the power of VOLUNTARY MOTION... (Black4)

ANIMAL - noun - [Latin animal from anima, air, breath, SOUL.] An organized body, endowed with life and the power of VOLUNTARY motion; a living, sensitive, locomotive body; as, MAN IS AN INTELLIGENT ANIMAL. Animals are essentially distinguished from plants by the property of sensation. The contractile property of some plants, as the mimosa, has the appearance of the effect of sensation, but it may be merely the effect of irritability. The distinction here made between animals and vegetables, may not be philosophically accurate; for we cannot perhaps ascertain the precise limit between the two kinds of beings, but this is sufficiently correct for common practical purposes. The history of animals is called zoology. BY WAY OF CONTEMPT, A DULL PERSON IS CALLED A STUPID ANIMAL. - adjective - That belongs or relates to animals; as animal functions, ANIMAL IS DISTINGUISHED FROM INTELLECTUAL; as animal appetites, the appetites of the body, as hunger and thirst. The animal functions, are touch, taste, motion, etc. Animal life is opposed to vegetable life. ANIMAL IS OPPOSED ALSO TO SPIRITUAL OR RATIONAL, WHICH RESPECTS THE SOUL AND REASONING FACULTIES; as animal nature, spiritual nature, rational nature. Animal food may signify that food which nourishes animals; but it usually denotes food consisting of animal flesh. Animal economy is THE SYSTEM OF LAWS BY WHICH THE BODIES OF ANIMALS ARE GOVERNED and depending on their organic structure. Animal spirit is a name given to the nervous fluid. Animal spirits in the plural, life, vigor, energy. Animal system, or animal kingdom denotes THE WHOLE CLASS OF BEINGS ENDOWED WITH ANIMAL LIFE. (Webs1828)

TAME - Domesticated; accustomed to man; RECLAIMED FROM A NATURAL STATE of wildness. In the Latin phrase, tame animals are described as dominae naturae. (Black4)

DOMITAE - Latin. Tame; domesticated; not wild. Applied to domestic animals, in which a man may have an absolute property. (Black4)

DOMINATE - To MASTER, to rule, or to CONTROL. (Black4)

DOMINATIO - In old English law. LORDSHIP. (Black4)

DOMINICAL - That which denotes THE LORD'S DAY, or Sunday. (Black4)

DOMINICA PALMARUM - (Dominica in ramis palmarum.) L. Latin. Palm Sunday. (Black4)

DOMUS DEI - THE HOUSE OF GOD; a name applied to many HOSPITALS and RELIGIOUS HOUSES. (Black4)

DOMINUS NAVIS - In the civil law. The owner of a VESSEL. (Black4)

—=—

As we can see here, the notion of being born again into Nature (God) does not refer to a state of religious ignorance of scriptural teachings in a mere animal life alone; a ceremonial life (evil) spent kneeling before false gods in false religious houses. Animals will always be tamed and dominated by evil men, be they human or any other beast carrying man's burden of legality.

This notion of being born again must be understood, not as the ridiculousness parroted by corporate "Christians" who pray to mammon, but in the way it was intended in the scriptures. For this mysterious notion of being born again is not so esoteric when translated correctly. In fact, within the parabolic teachings of the Bible, we who ask questions are not so different than that Judaized character of Nicodemus, who could not fathom what it was to be born while having lived so many years already. So much can be attained in Real Life from this story:

—=—

“There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, HOW CAN A MAN BE BORN WHEN HE IS OLD? can he enter the second time into his mother's WOMB, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. THAT WHICH IS BORN OF THE FLESH IS FLESH; AND THAT WHICH IS BORN OF THE SPIRIT IS SPIRIT. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: SO IS EVERY ONE THAT IS BORN OF THE SPIRIT. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be? ...IF I HAVE TOLD YOU EARTHLY THINGS, AND YE BELIEVE NOT, HOW SHALL YE BELIEVE, IF I TELL YOU OF HEAVENLY THINGS?”

—John 3: 1-9, & 12, KJB

—=—

So what is the biggest difference between the True and Pious follower of the Word (Son) and the citizenry of any nation? Simple. One is free to journey upon an unset course with no beginning and no end under only God's Law (as eternal, spiritual Life), and one is fixed in residency by a pre-determined course in franchise and insurances of artificial monetary securities, acting in the agency of man and under his artificial law (without eternal life, only evil). While the man may live equally as long in both lives, his eternal life stems only from his not being registered in birth and death certification, and instead from living only in the spirit. For the “eternity” of Life scripturally spoken of is of course another figurative description of the un-fallen man; he who is induced by many temptations to abandon his own Self-respect and Self-Existence in pursuit of extraneous and unessential money and other artifices and stuff. This is not religious gobbledegook, but a very clear and parabolic narrative of the very separate moral conditions of man. Again, only the fool would spit upon this ultimate wisdom due to the mistranslation of others who seek to destroy its original intent.

The soul of each man in spiritual Life must be governed by his own mind with reason and knowledge. Thus it is not enough to pretend to be “born again” through some religious ceremony of rites conducted by a preacher or other clergy under a false corporate church doctrine in Domus Dei. This is a purposefully instilled, externally conditioned state of ignorance and carefully planned misunderstanding of the scriptural teachings. It is not the pomp and ceremony but the Life lived that either makes the man or defines the animal. The church only promotes legal things it may control. In Reality, a born again man would never continue in personhood and surety of citizenship knowing its intention against that of God’s very Nature and Law, as this legal status can only exist upon the registered spiritual death of man, while man can only commune with Nature on a spiritual level. The very support of the state by the church and vice versa reveals all corporate religions to be false doctrines against God’s Law and scriptural teachings.

CEREMONY - noun - 1. Outward rite; EXTERNAL FORM IN RELIGION. 2. Forms of civility; RULES ESTABLISHED BY CUSTOM FOR REGULATING SOCIAL INTERCOURSE. 3. Outward forms of STATE; THE FORMS PRESCRIBED OR ESTABLISHED BY ORDER OR CUSTOM, serving for the purpose of CIVILITY OR MAGNIFICENCE, as in levees of princes, the reception of ambassadors, etc. Master of ceremonies, an officer who superintends the reception of ambassadors. A person who regulates the forms to be observed by the company or attendants on a PUBLIC occasion. (Webs1828)

SACRAMENTARY - noun - 1. An ancient book of the Romish church, written by pope Gelasius, and revised, corrected and abridged by St. Gregory, in which were contained ALL THE PRAYERS AND CEREMONIES PRACTICED in the celebration of the sacraments. 2. A sacramentarian; a term of reproach applied by papists to protestants.

SACRAMENTARIAN - adjective - Pertaining to sacramentarians and to their controversy respecting the eucharist.

EUCCHARIST - noun - [Gr. a giving of thanks; well, favor.] 1. The sacrament of the Lord's supper; the solemn act or ceremony of COMMEMORATING THE DEATH OF OUR REDEEMER, in the use of bread and wine, as emblems of his flesh and blood, accompanied with appropriate prayers and hymns. 2. The act of giving thanks.

SACRAMENTUM - Latin. Roman Law. AN OATH, as being a very sacred thing; more particularly, the oath taken by soldiers TO BE TRUE TO THEIR GENERAL AND THEIR COUNTRY. In one of the formal methods of beginning an action at law (legis actiones) known to the early Roman jurisprudence, the sacramentum was A SUM OF MONEY deposited in court by each of the litigating parties, as a kind of WAGER or forfeit, to abide the result of the suit. The successful party received back his stake; the losing party forfeited his, and it was paid into the public treasury, to be expended for sacred objects, (in sacris rebus), whence the name. Roman Law... (In) common law. AN OATH. (Black4)

SACRAMENT - noun - [Latin sacramentum, AN OATH, from sacer, sacred.] 1. Among ancient christian writers, A MYSTERY. [Not in use.] 2. An oath; a ceremony producing an OBLIGATION; but not used in this general sense. 3. In present usage, an outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual grace; or more particularly, a solemn religious ceremony enjoined by Christ, THE HEAD OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, to be observed by his followers, by which their special relation to him is created, or their obligations to him renewed and ratified. Thus baptism is called a sacrament for by it persons are separated from the world, brought into Christ's visible church, and laid under particular obligations to obey his precepts. The eucharist or communion of the Lord's supper, is also a sacrament for by commemorating the death and dying love of Christ, christians avow their special relation to him, and renew their obligations to be faithful to their divine Master. When we use sacrament without any qualifying word, we mean by it, 4. The eucharist or Lord's supper. - verb transitive - TO BIND BY AN OATH.

SACRAMENTUM FIDELITATIS - In old English law. THE OATH OF FEALTY.

—=—

Romans (pagans) in their universal (Catholic) church corporation celebrate the death of christ, not the life. The pope cannot claim to be in the office of Christ unless his followers accept that christ is utterly dead, both literally, spiritually, and figuratively. But a true follower of the teachings of christ follows the Life (Light), not the death of christ, and certainly not the false replacements claiming to be the office of Christ on Earth. The parabolic telling of the christ story as the “New Testament” is delivered for every man to walk in His footsteps, with man’s own body as the only temple upon that narrow path assigned to spiritual men. But the pope and other gods seek to impersonate christ’s character and reputation into an artificial persona that can pretendedly be captured and anthropomorphized within a legal, immortal ecclesiastical office and corporation soul, which can be passed from man to man in a sick and twisted ceremonial recreation of christ’s death and resurrection.

But this is really just the passing of the Babylonian fish-hat (mitre) of Dogan, the fish-god of the Philistines and Babylonians.

—=—

"The miter is derived directly from the miters of the ancient pagan fish-god Dagon and the goddess Cybele. The papal miter represents the head of Dagon with an open mouth, which is the reason for the pointed shape and split top."

—Ruben Joseph, excerpt from: 'Why Are The Young People Leaving The Church'

—=—

“In their veneration and worship of Dagon, the high priest of paganism would actually put on a garment that had been created from a huge fish... The head of the fish formed a mitre above that of the old man, while its scaly, fan-like tail fell as a cloak behind, leaving the human limbs and feet exposed.”

— Austen Henry Layard, excerpt from: 'Nineveh and Babylon'

—=—

“The most prominent form of worship IN BABYLON was dedicated to Dagon, later known as Ichthys, or the fish. In Chaldean times, the head of the church was the representative of Dagon, he was considered to be INFALLIBLE, and was addressed as 'YOUR HOLINESS'. Nations subdued by Babylon had to KISS THE RING and slipper of the Babylonian god-king. The same powers and the same titles are claimed to this day by the Dalai Lama of Buddhism, and the Pope. Moreover, the vestments of paganism, the fish mitre and robes of the priests of Dagon are worn by the Catholic bishops, cardinals and popes. Ea Enki, who is a God of Sumerian (Enki) and Babylonian (Ea) mythology... was a water god who was half man, half fish hybrid. In Greek mythology, Ea was known as Oannes...It is believed that, in the daytime, this deity would emerge from the water and WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR TEACHING ART, SCIENCE and WRITING to the HUMAN RACE."

—Mary E. Walsh, excerpt from: 'Wine of Roman Babylon'

— — —

“At first they led a somewhat wretched existence and lived without rule after the manner of beasts. But, in the first year after the flood appeared an animal endowed with HUMAN REASON, named Oannes, who rose from out of the Erythian Sea, at the point where it borders Babylonia. He had the whole body of a fish, but above his fish's head he had another head which was that of a man, and human feet emerged from beneath his fish's tail. He had a human voice, and an image of him is preserved unto this day. He passed the day in the midst of men without taking food; he taught them the use of LETTERS, SCIENCES AND ARTS of all kinds. He taught them to construct CITIES, to found TEMPLES, to compile LAWS, and explained to them the principles of geometrical knowledge. He made them distinguish the seeds of the earth, and showed them how to collect the fruits; in short he instructed them in everything which could tend TO SOFTEN HUMAN MANNERS AND HUMANIZE THEIR LAWS. From that time nothing material has been added by way of improvement to his instructions. And when the sun set, this being Oannes, retired again into the sea, for he was amphibious.”

—Writings of Berossus, a 3rd century Babylonian priest

— — —

“The Masons hold their grand festival on the day of St. John, not knowing that therein they merely signify the fish-god Oannes, the first Hermes and THE FIRST FOUNDER OF THE MYSTERIES, THE FIRST MESSENGER TO WHOM THE APOCALYPSE WAS GIVEN, and whom they ignorantly confound with the fabulous author of the common Apocalypse. The sun is then (midsummer day) in its greatest altitude. In this the Naros is commemorated.”

—Book of Enoch (vol. ii., p. 154)

— — —

As the author has chosen to include no images within this work, it is recommended that the reader search out this information in order to verify these strange Mysteries, so that they are no longer hidden under the rose of religious ceremony and flattering and extravagantly misunderstood robes of that fishy papal incorporation.

The scriptures tell us to take no other gods before the Existing and Permanent One, before that of Jehovah. For to take a god requires an oath and fealty to that god. It is this requirement and need for surety that is how we shall know what is false, for we are told to take no oaths, making only vows (promises) between ourselves and our Nature (Creator), and thus being only judged by our Maker.

For in the scriptures, another word for oath is said to be a sacred curse. And we sign our contracts in cursive (cursed) writing.

—=—

“An oath has in it three component parts, — truth, justice, and judgment; truth in the party swearing; justice and judgment IN THE JUDGE ADMINISTERING the oath.”

—Sacramentum habet in se tres comites,—veritatem, justitiam, et judicium; veritas habenda est in jurato; justitia et justicium in iudice. 3 Inst. 160. (BlackI)

—=—

“A foolish oath, though FALSE, makes not perjury.”

—Sacramentum si fatuum fuerit, licet falsum, tamen non committit perjurium. 2 Inst. 167. (BlackI)

—=—

“...and love no false oath...”

—Zechariah 8:17, KJB

—=—

Choice, in other words, be not foolish in the eyes of the law, for the law only lures fools to its false flames of justice. Man is free to take any oath, and even the Bible admits to this. But he is also responsible for the consequences and bound by his foolish actions. The Bible only protects those who take no oaths to the artifice (false gods) in lieu of that Law of God and Nature, for an oath has only the purpose of assigning allegiance to anything but Jehovah, so as to follow another's law, which always opposes God's.

The Swiss Guard, that small army that has guarded the office of pope for over 500 years, swears an oath not to God, but despite God, and only to protect and obey these antichrist vicars in corporation sole. They must, of course, be under the age of 30 to ensure that wondrous and so easily manipulative ignorance and foolish bravery of youth, and naturally already brainwashed by the Catholic faith - the Jesuit way.

—=—

“I swear I will faithfully, loyally and honourably serve the Supreme Pontiff Francis AND HIS LEGITIMATE SUCCESSORS, and also dedicate myself to them with all my strength, sacrificing if necessary also my life to defend them. I assume this same commitment with regard to the Sacred College of Cardinals whenever the SEE is vacant. Furthermore I promise to the Commanding Captain and my other superiors, respect, fidelity and obedience. This I swear! May God and our Holy Patrons assist me!”

—=—

God is always invoked in every oath, yet no oath is ever to God, only to the replacement gods and magistrates of the artful world. The vicars. Not ironically, there is no oath to Jehovah at all. One only need take an oath to that which is false, for the oath requires the subject to act falsely in a fealty against his own Nature. A life lived in Nature and by Its Laws would not be furthered by any oath. Jehovah respects no oath, nor the oath keeper or the artifice to which that oath is taken, for an oath is always, without exception opposed to God’s Nature and Law. An oath can only ever take man away from God and into fiction, and it can only ever be in respect of false gods. An oath is also under the doctrine of master and servant, as an act of volunteerism. No oath is ever forced upon man. It is always a choice, generally accompanies a unilateral contract with the devils who created that oath, and usually this fact is stated as part of the written oath, as, I take this oath freely, in good conscious, and without coercion...

Man is considered as mere animal (without soul) while he animates a non-spiritual, fictional persona and flattering titles, which in its national (birthed) form requires the abandonment of God’s Law and that substance of Nature through an oath of allegiance. The man is no longer considered as living, only as a dead pledge. To be Truly alive is to be born again into the purity of Nature, which only means to come back into the full Supremacy of Permanent Being of Jehovah with absolutely no respect to persons and artifice, including those personages of the church and state and their false promises (vows) via legal oath. To be born again is only to revert to our Original state of Being in Nature. But being alive is not enough, for any animal is alive. Reason must accompany the man in his spiritually alive endeavors. A man alive but without reason and knowledge will surely be governed by other men who seek to make him contractually a legally dead animal - a beast of burden.

—=—

ALIVE - adjective - 1. Having life, IN OPPOSITION TO DEAD; living; being in a state in which the organs perform their functions, and the fluids move, whether in animals or vegetables; as, the man or plant is alive. 2. In a state of action; unextinguished; undestroyed; unexpired; in force or OPERATION; as, keep the process alive. 3. Cheerful; sprightly; lively; full of alacrity; as, the company were all alive. 4. SUSCEPTIBLE; EASILY IMPRESSED; having lively feelings, as when the mind is solicitous about some EVENT; as, one is alive to whatever is interesting to a friend. 5. Exhibiting motion or moving bodies in great numbers. The city was all alive when the General entered. 6. IN A SCRIPTURAL SENSE, REGENERATED; BORN AGAIN. For this my son WAS DEAD AND IS ALIVE. Luke 15:24. [This adjective always follows the noun which it qualifies.] (Webs1828)

REGENERATE - verb transitive - [Latin regenero; re and genero. See Generate.] 1. To generate or produce anew; to reproduce. Through all the soil a genial ferment spreads, regenerates the plants and new adorns the meads. 2. In theology, to renew the heart by A CHANGE OF AFFECTIONS; to change the heart and affections FROM NATURAL ENMITY TO THE LOVE OF GOD; to implant holy affections in the heart. - adjective - [Latin regeneratus.] 1. Reproduced. 2. BORN ANEW; RENOVATED IN HEART; CHANGED FROM A NATURAL TO A SPIRITUAL STATE. (Webs1828)

But what is the essence of man, and what is the character of humanity? Can a man be a human, or is this just another trick of magical spelling?

CREATURE OF REASON – MAN. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition - Slate v Jones, 1 Miss (Walk) 83, 85.).

HUMAN – Of the FORM and CHARACTERISTICS of man. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition)

ESSENCE – The gist or SUBSTANCE of anything. The VITAL constituent of a thing. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary 3rd Edition).

SUBSTANCE – ESSENTIALS. THE ANTITHESIS OF "FORM". (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition - State v Japone, 202 IOWA 450, 455, 209 NW 468, 71.)

FORM – 6. The external APPEARANCE WITHOUT THE ESSENTIAL QUALITIES. (Samuel Johnson's Dictionary, 1755)

FORM – The antithesis of substance; the APPEARANCE OR SUPERFICIAL ASPECT rather than the substance or the essence. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition)

FORM - Noun - SHOW WITHOUT SUBSTANCE; EMPTY, outside APPEARANCE; vain, trivial, or conventional CEREMONY; conventionality; formality; as, A MATTER OF MERE FORM. A shape; AN IMAGE; a phantom. (Webster's Unabridged)

NATURAL PERSON - Any HUMAN BEING who AS SUCH IS A LEGAL ENTITY... (Max Radin, Radin's Law Dictionary, 1955, p. 216 - Amon v. Moreschi, 296 N.Y. 395, 73 N.E.2d 716.)

LEGAL - “...undoing of God's law.” (1893 Dictionary of Arts and Sciences, Encyclopedia Britannica)

CHARACT and CHARACTER - noun - 1. A MARK made by cutting or engraving, as on stone, metal or other hard material; hence, a MARK OR FIGURE made with a pen or style, ON PAPER, OR OTHER MATERIAL USED TO CONTAIN WRITING; a letter, or FIGURE USED TO FORM WORDS, AND COMMUNICATE IDEAS. CHARACTERS ARE LITERAL, as the letters of an alphabet; numeral, as the arithmetical figures; emblematical or symbolical, which express things or ideas; and abbreviations, as C. For centrum, a hundred; lb. For libra, a pound; adjective D. Anno domini; etc. 2. A MARK or figure made by stamping or IMPRESSION, as on coins. 3. The manner of writing; the peculiar form of letters used by a particular person. You know the character to be your brothers. 4. The peculiar qualities, impressed by nature or HABIT ON A PERSON, which distinguish him from others; these constitute real character, and the qualities which he is SUPPOSED TO POSSESS, CONSTITUTE HIS ESTIMATED CHARACTER, OR REPUTATION. Hence we say, A CHARACTER IS NOT FORMED, WHEN THE PERSON HAS NOT ACQUIRED STABLE AND DISTINCTIVE QUALITIES. 5. AN ACCOUNT, DESCRIPTION or REPRESENTATION of any THING, exhibiting its qualities and the circumstances attending it; as, to give a bad character to a town, or to a road. 6. A PERSON; as, the assembly consisted of various characters, eminent characters, and low characters. All the characters in the play appeared to advantage. The friendship of distinguished characters. 7. By way of eminence, distinguished or good qualities; THOSE WHICH ARE ESTEEMED AND RESPECTED; and those which are ASCRIBED TO A PERSON IN COMMON

ESTIMATION. We enquire whether a stranger is a man of character. 8. ADVENTITIOUS QUALITIES IMPRESSED BY OFFICE, OR STATION; THE QUALITIES THAT, IN PUBLIC ESTIMATION, BELONG TO A PERSON IN A PARTICULAR STATION; as when we ask how a magistrate, or commander supports his character. 9. In natural history, the peculiar discriminating qualities or properties of animals, plants and minerals. These properties, when employed for the purpose of discriminating minerals, are called characters. - verb transitive - 1. To engrave; to inscribe. 2. A particular aspect or configuration of the heavens. (Webs1828)

—=—

In law, man is by default not automatically considered as an animal (soulless). Man's rationality (reason) separates him from the beasts in this way. It is his marks and outward signs that cause him to be considered as less than he is, and by the actions taken by the man in consideration of that fictional law, as that which is impressed upon his imaginations. But man's law is not a protection in this regard, for we know that the principles (maxims) of law certainly and without question allow for man's fall, just as God does. It's all voluntary.

—=—

“To err is human.”

—ancient Latin proverb, as: errare humanum est

—=—

“To err is humane, to forgive, divine.”

—Alexander Pope, English poet, from his poem ‘An Essay on Criticism,’ Part II (1711). At the time, humane being the common spelling used for the word human.

—=—

Man in spiritual substance is an act of God, thus man is an act of perfection.

When man errs against God's Law, this is an act of the sophist in hu-manity. Legal and ecclesiastical systems are always of human nature, not of the Perfection of God's Nature, for they are only creations of man, not of Nature.

And so when man seeks forgiveness from men acting as imperfect gods (judges), which is due to an error by his purely human actions, this act of forgiveness, that is, “to forgive” legally or ecclesiastically, is an act of artificial, nonspiritual divination by those false magistrate gods. Magicians deal only in illusion, never in the Real. Of course, a legal god can only forgive a legal person in legal action, that which only exists in false name and title. A man's crimes are only ever his own, for Jehovah respects no persons or titles of men. The legal fiction of kingdoms can only forgive on paper.

We do not get away with crimes in God's eyes. We are not pardoned for our crimes under God. We cannot have our crimes or sins removed from our soul as it can be removed from the records of our fictional persons, which doesn't really Exist in Nature. They are a permanent stain upon our soul. Only in the legal realm can crimes be overlooked, pardoned, remitted, and legally forgiven. But the soul is never cleansed of the crime, only the record of the artificial person, which carries no weight in God's Realm. There is no excuse before God in Nature, for under that Highest Law of Nature man is always responsible for his own actions. God is not an apologist for Creation. And the church certainly has no power to pardon your sins while it pretends to be God by using that name in blasphemy.

A pardon can only be received by a person, a man acting in the legal capacity of personhood in receivership. Not only is the crime a sin, but the pardon for the crime just as sinful. Temporal forgiveness merely causes an inducement for future crimes, which is the epitome of how the church and state operate, for a sovereign always forgives its own crimes.

FORGIVE - verb transitive - Forgiv', preterit tense forgave; participle passive forgiven. [Latin remitto. See Give.] 1. TO PARDON; to remit, as an offense or DEBT; TO OVERLOOK AN OFFENSE, and treat the offender as not guilty. The original and proper phrase is to forgive the offense, TO SEND IT AWAY, to reject it, that is, not to impute it [put it to] the offender. But by an easy transition, we also use the phrase, to forgive the PERSON offending. Forgive us our debts. If we forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly father will also forgive you. Matthew 6:12. AS SAVAGES NEVER FORGET A FAVOR, SO THEY NEVER FORGIVE AN INJURY. It is to be noted that pardon, like forgive may be followed by the name or person, and by the offense; but remit can be followed by the offense only. WE FORGIVE OR PARDON THE MAN, BUT WE DO NOT REMIT HIM. 2. To remit as a debt, fine or penalty. (Webs1828)

PARDON - verb transitive - [Latin per and dono, to give; per having the sense of the English for in forgive, and re in Latin remitto, properly to give back or away.] 1. To forgive; to remit; as an offense or crime. GUILT IMPLIES A BEING BOUND OR SUBJECTED TO CENSURE, PENALTY OR PUNISHMENT. TO PARDON IS TO GIVE UP THIS OBLIGATION, and release the offender. WE APPLY THE WORD TO THE CRIME OR TO THE PERSON. We pardon an offense, when WE REMOVE IT FROM THE OFFENDER and consider him as not guilty; we pardon the offender, when we release or absolve him from his liability to suffer punishment. I pray thee, pardon my sin. 1 Samuel 15:25. 2. To remit, as a penalty. I pardon thee thy life before thou ask it. 3. TO EXCUSE, as for a fault. 4. Pardon me, is a phrase used when one asks for excuse, or makes an APOLOGY, and it is often used in this sense, WHEN A PERSON MEANS CIVILLY TO DENY OR CONTRADICT WHAT ANOTHER AFFIRMS. - noun - Forgiveness; the release of an offense or of the obligation of the offender TO SUFFER A PENALTY, or to bear the displeasure of the offended party. We seek the pardon of sins, transgressions and offenses. 1. Remission of a penalty. An amnesty is a general pardon. 2. Forgiveness received. (Webs1828)

REMIT - verb transitive - [Latin remitto, to send back; re and mitto, to send.] 1. To relax, as intensity; to make less tense or violent. So willingly doth God remit his ire. 2. To forgive; TO SURRENDER THE RIGHT of punishing a crime; as, to remit punishment. 3. To pardon, as a fault or crime. WHOSE SOEVER SINS YE REMIT THEY ARE REMITTED TO THEM. John 20:23. 4. TO GIVE UP; to resign. In grievous and inhuman crimes, offenders should be remitted to their prince. 5. To refer; as a clause that remitted all to the bishop's discretion. 6. To send back. The pris'ner was remitted to the guard. 7. TO TRANSMIT MONEY, bills or other thing in payment for goods received. American merchants remit money, bills of exchange or some species of stock, in payment for British goods. 8. TO RESTORE. In this case, the law remits him to his ancient and more certain right. - verb intransitive - 1. To slacken; to become less intense or rigorous. When our passions remit the vehemence of our speech remits too. So we say, cold or heat remits. 2. To abate in violence for a time, without intermission; as, a fever remits at a certain hour every day.

— = —

So what is the difference between legal forgiveness and legal remittance?

We must reconsider the original sin; the legal birth process. For a man is guilty by association to the nation of which he is borne into commercially. That ethnic or "ancestral" sin cannot be forgiven in such forums. The original sin is what allows the judge (false god) to have the power to forgive legal sins in the first place. But the original sin is never surrendered. The man remains a debtor to the state in contractual sin despite the state's forgiveness for his committed sins. A debtor in debtor's hell never leaves hell until he remits himself of that original sin. This is the fate of man's acceptance of that artificial life lived under a legal person-hood; an admission (admit) of spiritual death.

For the mere act of stating one's surname for the record of the court as a general "appearance" is an admission of guilt towards one's very criminal, legal existence. When one admits the big lie (to be a State person, not a man of God), one's charge of spiritual death (civil life) is clearly established as a confirmed and unavoidable truth, and one's discharge from that state of dead being may only be obtained through the reclamation of a spiritual life; the act of being reborn to Source as a spiritual man without legal title in surety and personhood for another.

ADMIT - verb transitive - [Latin admitto, from ad and mitto, to send.] 1. To suffer to enter; to grant entrance; whether into a place, or an office, or into the mind, or consideration; as to admit a student into college; to admit a serious thought into the mind. 2. To give right of entrance; as, a ticket admits one into a play house. 3. To allow; TO RECEIVE AS TRUE; as, the argument or FACT IS ADMITTED. 4. To permit, grant or allow, or to be capable of; as, the words do not admit of such a construction. In this sense, of may be used after the verb, or omitted. (Webs1828)

ABSOLVE - verb transitive - Abzolv', [Latin absolvo, from ab and solvo, to loose or release; to absolve to finish; Hebrew to loose or loosen. See Solve.] TO SET FREE OR RELEASE FROM SOME OBLIGATION, DEBT OR RESPONSIBILITY; OR FROM THAT WHICH SUBJECTS A PERSON TO A BURDEN OR PENALTY; as to absolve a person FROM A PROMISE; to absolve an offender, which amounts to an acquittal and remission of his punishment. Hence, in the civil law, the word was used for acquit; and in the canon law, for FORGIVE, or a sentence of remission. In ordinary language, its sense is TO SET FREE OR RELEASE FROM AN ENGAGEMENT. Formerly, good writers used the word in the sense of FINISH, ACCOMPLISH; as to absolve work, in Milton; but in this sense, it seems to be obsolete. (Webs1828)

DIVINE - adjective - [Latin, A GOD.] 1. Pertaining to the true God; as the divine nature; divine perfections... (Webs1828)

DIVINE - adjective - [Latin, A GOD.] ...2. Pertaining to a heathen deity, or to FALSE GODS. 3. Partaking of the nature of God. Half human, half divine. 4. Proceeding from God; AS DIVINE JUDGMENTS. 5. Godlike; heavenly; excellent in the highest degree; extraordinary; APPARENTLY ABOVE WHAT IS HUMAN. In this application the word admits of comparison; as a divine INVENTION; a divine GENIUS; THE DIVINEST MIND. A DIVINE SENTENCE IS IN THE LIPS OF THE KING. Proverbs 16:10. 6. Presageful; foreboding; prescient. [Not used.] 7. Appropriated to God, or celebrating his praise; as divine SERVICE; divine songs; divine worship. - noun - 1. A MINISTER of the gospel; A PRIEST; A CLERGYMAN. The first divines of New England were surpassed by none in extensive erudition, personal sanctity, and diligence in the pastoral office. 2. A MAN SKILLED IN DIVINITY; a theologian; as a great divine. - verb transitive - [Latin 1. To foreknow; to foretell; to presage. Darst thou divine his downfall? 2. TO DEIFY. [Not in use.] - verb intransitive - 1. TO USE OR PRACTICE DIVINATION. 2. To utter presages or prognostications. THE PROPHETS THEREOF DIVINE FOR MONEY. Micah 3:6. 3. To have presages or forebodings. Suggest but truth to my divining thoughts— 4. To guess or CONJECTURE. Could you divine what lovers bear. (Webs1828)

DIVINITY - noun - [Latin] 1. The state of being divine; Deity; Godhead; the nature or essence of God. Christians ascribe divinity to one Supreme Being only. 2. God; the Deity; the Supreme Being. 'Tis the divinity that stirs within us. 3. A FALSE GOD; A PRETENDED DEITY OF PAGANS. Beastly divinities, and droves of gods. 4. A celestial being, inferior to the Supreme God, but SUPERIOR TO MAN. Many NATIONS believe in these inferior divinities. 5. Something SUPERNATURAL. They say there is divinity in odd numbers. 6. The SCIENCE of divine THINGS; THE SCIENCE WHICH UNFOLDS THE CHARACTER OF GOD, his laws and moral government, the duties of man, and the way of salvation; theology; as the study of divinity; a SYSTEM of divinity. (Webs1828)

DIVINER - noun - 1. One who professes divination; one who pretends to predict events, OR TO REVEAL OCCULT THINGS, by the aid of superior beings, or of supernatural means. THESE NATIONS HEARKENED TO DIVINERS. Deuteronomy 18:14. 2. One who guesses; A CONJECTURER. (Webs1828)

CONJECTURER - noun - One who guesses; a guesser; ONE WHO FORMS OR UTTERS AN OPINION WITHOUT PROOF. (Webs1828)

VANITY - noun - [Latin vanitas, from vanus, vain.] 1. Emptiness; WANT OF SUBSTANCE to satisfy desire; uncertainty; inanity. Vanity of vanities, said the preacher; all is vanity. Ecclesiastes 1:2. 2. Fruitless desire or endeavor. VANITY POSSESSETH MANY WHO ARE DESIROUS TO KNOW THE CERTAINTY OF THINGS TO COME. 3. Trifling labor that produces no good. 4. Emptiness; UNTRUTH. Here I may well show the vanity of what is reported in the story of Walsingham. 5. Empty pleasure; vain pursuit; IDLE SHOW; UNSUBSTANTIAL ENJOYMENT. Sin with vanity had fill'd the works of men. Think not when woman's transient breath is fled, that all her vanities at once are dead; succeeding vanities she still regards. 6. Ostentation; ARROGANCE. 7. Inflation of mind upon slight grounds; EMPTY PRIDE, INSPIRED BY AN OVERWEENING CONCEIT OF ONE'S PERSONAL ATTAINMENTS OR DECORATIONS. Fops cannot be cured of their vanity. Vanity is the food of fools. No man sympathizes with the sorrows of vanity. (Webs1828)

— = —

Vanity is but a fruit plucked and eaten from that forbidden tree of knowledge (vain concepts). When we look in the mirror and we believe that what we see is the Real world, then we are hopelessly lost in the fiction. This is allegorical to all that is the legal fiction and a life without God.

It is important to note that divinity is not a concept of God. For Jehovah is self-evident as all of the Permanence of Being in Nature, needing not the vain want or desire to prove to man Its obvious Existence. Only man has use for the art and practice of divinity, for only men need prove themselves to be gods over other men. Nature in and of itself never requires proof of its self-evidence of Existence. And the divinity of man, as a purely legal status, is a wholly unnatural conceit; a vanity of the ages passed on to each new generation of empty souls.

If a king (sovereign) truly ruled under this notion of the divine Nature of God and under the teachings of christ, then a king would only exist to serve and ensure that the Law of God is followed above all else. The king would have no riches or wealth or holdings of land for rents. The king would endorse no artifice. The king would practice no judgement and never suffer of vanity. And the king by necessity of God's Law would outlaw all legal laws, ideas, and things. In this way, the idea of man as king (God incarnate) is at best the dreamful state of a glorified but ultimately false-presentation of a history to justify current and future kings, and at worse fairly close to what we have in "existence" today.

But in our modern times, there is no "religious test" for kings and presidents, and the U.S. constitution states clearly that no religious (moral) test shall be required for political (legal) office. Kings are not chosen by their devotion to the divinity of Jehovah, but need only show bloodline relation to inherit that political (legal) office by their own false, fabled divinity as an accident of birth. And so we should rather expect that a legally considered king would act in a strict legal capacity, that is, as a man opposed to the very God he claims as his divine right to rule. This paradox is so very difficult to comprehend, and yet is foretold straight from the Bible, speaking of these diviners of false law and faith.

Of all the puzzles presented by christ in the scriptural parables, it was perhaps this single utterance that stands truly unchallenged by all men seeking power through false divinity. And so I repeat it here:

—=—

“...He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.”

—John 8: 7, KJB

—=—

By this precedent, would not a king be held to the same standards? Would not a lawmaker's own law need be lawful under God's Law before casting any ballot of opinion on legal matters, which would mean he must absolutely abolish all of his legal (artificial) considerations in line of Nature and Its undeniable Law? Would not a judge need to surrender in good conscious his bench in tenure by the very legal (false) name, flattering title, and authority he so proclaims in sin against God to judge other men's persons and cast such artful stumbling blocks (stones) before all who stand before his false magistracy to be barred?

Whom among us all could possibly rule by the stone (judgement) if rule by such legal laws requires abandoning God? Truly, what fictional person could possibly stand in anything but the state's predefined doom? What debtor could possibly judge anything with integrity when he himself exists only in the false appearance and illusionary protections of contracted sin?

Of course the Strong's Lexicon entry for the word stone is #G3037, and is a figurative term that, while it can mean small and large stones, is a reference to building stones.

“...of building stones; metaphor of christ: one whose words, acts, end, men (so stumble at) take such offense at, that they reject him and thus bring upon themselves ruin (so stumbling stones)... of Christians: living stones, of which the temple of God is built (1 Peter 2); of the truths with which, as with building materials, a teacher builds Christians up in wisdom, costly stones (1 Corinthians 3: 12). Of precious stones, gems: stones cut in certain form: stone tablets (engraved with letters), statues of idols (Acts 17: 22; Ezekiel 20: 32).”

—=—

How difficult it is to consider our own words and actions as only the stumbling stones of others and even to ourselves, that we should cast our own opinions and judgements upon another based on fiction instead of teaching the wisdom of scripture with love and devotion even to our enemies. These harsh words, especially the strict legal law expressed in its dog-Latin foundation, are indeed the heaviest stones of all.

—=—

“They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us. Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.”

—Micah 3: 9-12, KJB

— — —

“They have seen vanity and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith: and the LORD hath not sent them: AND THEY HAVE MADE OTHERS TO HOPE THAT THEY WOULD CONFIRM THE WORD. Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken A LYING DIVINATION, whereas ye say, The LORD saith it; albeit I have not spoken? Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD. And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that DIVINE LIES: THEY SHALL NOT BE IN THE ASSEMBLY OF MY PEOPLE, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.”

—Ezekiel 13: 6-9, KJB

— — —

“And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies? ...Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; AND STRENGTHENED THE HANDS OF THE WICKED, THAT HE SHOULD NOT RETURN FROM HIS WICKED WAY, BY PROMISING HIM LIFE: Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations: for I will deliver my people out of your hand: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.”

—Ezekiel 13: 19, and 22-23, KJB

— — —

“Whiles they see vanity unto thee, WHILES THEY DIVINE A LIE UNTO THEE, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end. Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I WILL JUDGE THEE IN THE PLACE WHERE THOU WAST CREATED, IN THE LAND OF THY NATIVITY. And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and DELIVER thee into the hand of brutish men, and skillful to destroy.”

—Ezekiel 21: 29-31, KJB

—=—

“Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the KNOWLEDGE of God, and of Jesus our Lord, According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto LIFE and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue: Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: THAT BY THESE YE MIGHT BE PARTAKERS OF THE DIVINE NATURE, HAVING ESCAPED THE CORRUPTION THAT IS IN THE WORLD through lust. And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness CHARITY. For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. BUT HE THAT LACKETH THESE THINGS IS BLIND, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to MAKE YOUR CALLING AND ELECTION SURE: for if ye do these things, YE SHALL NEVER FALL: For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.”

—2 Peter 1: 3-9, KJB

—=—

“When thou art come into the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, THOU SHALT NOT LEARN TO DO AFTER THE ABOMINATIONS OF THOSE NATIONS. There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, OR THAT USETH DIVINATION, OR AN OBSERVER OF TIMES, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, OR A NECROMANCER. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the LORD: and because of these abominations the LORD thy God doth drive them out from before thee. Thou shalt be perfect with the LORD thy God. FOR THESE NATIONS, WHICH THOU SHALT POSSESS, HEARKENED UNTO OBSERVERS OF TIMES, AND UNTO DIVINERS: but as for thee, the LORD thy God hath not suffered thee so to do.”

—Deuteronomy 18: 9-14

—=—

“To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and INHERITANCE among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.”

—Acts 26:18, KJB

“And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of LIGHT.”

—2 Corinthians 11:14, KJB

— — —

Now, the scriptures are certain that most men will be deceived by all the many artifices and adversaries. After reading this, will you continue to admit to being a dead human, or would you like to learn how to be considered only as a living and spiritual man under the Permanent Being of God by that legal realm and its agents in non-fiction? The Bible is totally and utterly against legal law, personhood, citizenship, titles, oaths, debt, money, surety, and any other legal concepts only known to and created by man. It's against the organized church (for man alone is the only temple) and against the organized state (for God's Law alone should be followed). Does this surprise you, or have you just never actually defined these terms?

You can read the scriptures in condemnation and demonize them, if only because the corporate church, state, and counter-culture teaches this, and uses them as an utterly fallacious appeal to its own authority, or you can read the Bible and understand its words instead of the fiction, applying its teachings in and as the Highest Law. As the scriptures and the legal state make clear, it is our voluntary choice and our election must be sure. And that's exactly where we all stand, with a choice between legal mammon (money) or the Natural Law (Love).

I will however tell you one thing about this book of scriptural knowledge... it is the most subversive book you will ever read, if you will only learn its language and discover the True meanings of every word presented. Webster's 1828 dictionary stands as a big help and reference with this task. We are surrounded by that which is subversive to God, for it is the essence and purpose of church and state. The subversiveness I speak of is that which is subversive to almost every aspect of our lives in this legal hell, to that which enslaves us. It offers heaven on Earth, which subverts the hell we are thrown into by our own events and scenes of nativity. One thing is for sure, punk rock music, earrings and tattoos, drugs, and political action groups are not a salvation, for these are only the tools of the idiocracy designed and allowed not to change the system, but to keep us all in it. Protests and petitions (nouns) are not a solution, and are seen as merely the whines of helplessly ignorant slaves who think they own the plantation they are peopled upon despite their obvious chains to it. Sadly, the legal Christian church falls into the same category, the false hope of false divinity by false prophets. A slave goes to church. But a man of God is the only church, his body the temple, his mind the weapon, his soul alive.

Or you can just poop on it all in the pure bliss of the arrogance of ignorance in mammon. It is your choice. No one will force you to do anything against your will, for this is the Law.

The point is that the legal codes only apply to persons (humans), not to men with visible blood. Personhood is corruption of blood, a purely figurative term confirmed into a false reality by our actions, a spiritual death in civil (artificial) life outside of God's Nature and Law. Sadly, the fiction and its purely humanistic system is much easier to follow than God's Law, not in practice but with the spiritual strength needed to overcome the illusion, for satan (the adversary) appears as light even in its utter darkness.

If this is still not clear, let us examine this word human more closely, for we all identify ourselves by it.

Hu or Huwa is a name for god in Sufism. Literally, Arabic for “He.” So hu-man can also refer to god-man, as in self-idolatry. Of course a god-man is a creature of the mind, a mental imagery, a phantom, a fiction that does not Exist in Reality. An idol.

Examples illustrating that the word HU equates to the word “god” include Allah HU Akbar, AHud, YaHUva (Jehovah/YHVH), YesHUA, HUda, AHUr Mazda, and HUman being (god-man being).

To be clear, Allah Hu is a reference to a god of sufism. To be hu-man is to be a man of the Sufi way. Sufism is the mystical tradition of Islam, involving mysticism and altered states of consciousness. The Sufi influence, importantly, was especially seen in the so-called 60’s and 70’s “drug/love generation,” where the 13th century Mevlana Order’s ritual Sufi dance of turning or spinning in place around a central point (a pillar of the earth) became popular amongst that CIA-promoted drug culture and music scene. This was the adversarial near-east counter-cultural invasion into the Christian culture of America. This Sufism dance of the “whirling dervishes” came crashing into American culture riding the coat-tails of the New Age or One World “religion” movement that infested on a global scale music, art, culture, opinions and lifestyles. This modern Kabbalist cultural intrusion stems entirely within the realm of Jewish, cabalist mysticism and thought, turning the notion of the Christian lifestyle and law into what we see today, often labeled as Judeo-Christianity, which is far more concerned with civil ethnicity, symbology, mystery and ceremony than any expression of the teachings of christ. Popularized in the 1950’s, Judeo-Christianity has certainly created a civil, secular religion far from its spiritual purpose.

Inayat Kahn's Sufism was brought to America in the mid 19th century as “The Sufi Order of the West” by his son, Pir Vilayat Kahn, and by an American disciple, Sam Lewis (Sufi Sam), the son of Jewish parents. His father was vice president of Levi Strauss company and his mother was the daughter of Lenore Rothschild of that House and international money-changer family of mammon. In 1967, after a heart attack, Lewis publicly claimed to hear the voice of God say, “I make you spiritual leader of the hippies.” He was recognized as the Zen master and Sufi murshid (a senior teacher), and founded an order of Christian mysticism called the Holy Order of Mans. He was a co-pioneer of the “green” philosophy and false spirituality, a technocratic pre-cursor to the United Nations “Agenda 21” plan in technocracy. His role in the CIA’s “counter-culture” scheme helped to spread humanism as LSD (a psychotic) and other drug-induced “hippies” slowly dispersed back across America as preachers of the human way. Allah means God. Adding Hu to Allah means God himself, or God present here. Thus humanism as a man-as-god culture was instrumental in deconstructing the Christian culture that internalized God and institutionalized Its Law. Humanism, like any other false religion, is in its essence counter-christian as a reference to scriptural teachings.

Sufi Sam died in 1971, only having taught three years in the Haight community of San Francisco, but the community afterwards spread and thrived. Wali Ali Meyer, a Jewish Mississippian and follower headed the cult after his death. Sufism has spread across America, disguised as “yoga” and other forms of God-less meditations based on sufism. The symbolism that represents sufism is the winged heart, now used many places, with the meaning of flying to God with an open heart, but more specifically being HU-man. The root of this mystical teaching of Sufism is based on the Sufi interpretation of the Islamic credo: La Ilaha El Allah Hu. The traditional Moslem community popularly interprets this as a declaration of monotheism, as “There is no God but Allah.” But the Sufi doctrine hides this under the notion of absolute unity, as “There is no reality but God.” The now traditional Sufi greeting is Ya Azim, meaning “How wonderfully God manifests to me through you.”

The reader should note the difference here from the christian man of God and the Sufi notion of God is man. This Talmudic influence of Cabalistic thought was part of the Judiazing of Christian America and of the institutions of modern Christianity. How many times today do we hear that Jesus was a Jew, though that word never appeared in any of the “original” Bible texts? A poor translation for Yēhuwdiy (Strong’s h3064), a people known as the Israelites, the modern “Jew” is that of the Synagogue of Satan, those who call themselves Jews (Yēhuwdiy) but are not. Everything is a lie.

—=—

“FOR WE DARE NOT MAKE OURSELVES OF THE NUMBER, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.”

—2 Corinthians 10:12, KJV

—=—

Sufism of the West has spread all over the United States. When the “hippies” left San Francisco and the southern Laurel Canyon scene as that phase of the controlled counterculture ended, those who'd been affected by Sam Lewis took the dances with them, under the rubric "Dances of Universal Peace," and spread them back to their hometowns and country communes. Of course, this influenced much of the Zionist Hollywood media machine, that holy grail of propaganda and corruptive influence over entire generations.

The symbol of the Sufis is a winged heart. Sufism, its Masters say, is not a way of the head but of the heart. The way to fly to God is to open the heart, to be human and to love and offer life in service to God and to others. In other words, as the ‘Brave New World’ model suggests, don’t worry, be happy; use your heart only instead of your mind. Be non compos mentis!

And that’s how we got into this modern mess, for the hippies now wear suits and ties and are responsible for oil spills and pollution and teach in universities! The scriptures tout knowledge above all else, not blind ‘California Dreaming’ as Sufist HU-mans. Similitude is not sameness!!! Modern Christianity is but a simulacrum, a copy without any origin. Think about that next time the hippies whip out and play their guitars as copyrighted “Christian music” on the alter of your own church, for they may know not what it is they do and where that idea came from, nor its origin of intent as an obfuscation of spirituality, knowledge, custom, and tradition. The counter-culture is everywhere, powered by useful innocents.

HU-man rights campaigns of the past and present stem from this cultural subversion of Sufism (humanism). For without God in the way, all things against God are possible. The man as god philosophy makes all of man’s actions godly, exhibiting a sovereignty that knows no higher law than himself.

This is not in harmony with the teachings of the scriptural christ, nor is the fact that the secular religions are using the name of God in promotion of adultery, money, and sufism. In other words, this Sufi, humanistic way is certainly not the self-evident Truth of Nature’s Law. It is a design and schema of man.

Part of this subversion of spirituality is the promoted legal concept of human rights. For in order to qualify for the rights afforded to the lowest form of man without substance, the human animal, all spiritual considerations must be removed so that only the animal is left. The rights of animals in human form need not be in accordance with the spiritual, moral Law of God, only similar to those rules for which a master might treat his slave, a farmer his cattle.

A “right” only exists where fictional names and thus classes and titles exist, for a right is always bestowed upon the legal (false) title or status of a fictional persona, and never upon a man in his True spirit. If all Life was sacred, no man could be treated as merely human by other men, for that would be against the negative duty of the Natural Law. Status is only ever a legal form, that which is opposed to God’s Nature of Creation. The only status of man in the eyes of God is that of a living, sentient being, which is invisible (negative) and immune to any legal law as God’s Creation. Nature attributes no class or status to any man, for these are only the creations of man’s own mind. No one is born a king, and yet every man is, and therefore no man can be a king over other men without their consent in abandoning their very own Nature under God. Any rights attributed to man are merely negative in Nature, meaning only that man's positive laws can not effect a man of God without his contractual consent to alienate himself via bestowed and accepted human (civil) "rights." A legal title may only exist upon a legal, fictional name and nowhere else. To claim God as a Source of negative rights is really just the act of not claiming man as one's source under positive law. To have what are named as "God-given rights" one must follow God's law and never entangle himself or join in man's secular, public world of positive government. Positive means legal. Negative means spiritual. Man must never allow word DNA to be twisted into and joined with his own body as God's Creation. If you are claiming your rights from an established, fictional government, ideal, movement, or incorporated religion of the state, then in reality you have none - only rights on paper and in name only. You only have a lie and the right to be a liar in order to legally harm others.

If you beLIEve they exist, then you live in the lie. Legal existence is the lie. It is satan.

There is no spoon because "spoon" is only a word describing a form of something real and of the senses (tangible). "Spoon" is an intangible fictional name that has legal "standing" only in legal law as a re-presentation of something Real and tangible (that with substance). It stands (has standing and consideration) in name (as a fictional character or prop) only. Thus a "spoon" can never be found in Nature. It exists as a lie in the legal title of word-DNA only. The hunk of metal or other real material that makes up the substance of what is called a "spoon" exists in Nature despite what it is named, as does man. Only the name gives it a status or authority. And the law of man prevents the "spoon" as a representation of the Real from being bent. The fiction thus controls the actual qualities of the Real.

God has a similar characteristic. Names cannot define or redefine what God is, for if such an entity as God Exists, then "God" is merely a descriptive word to re-present what that unfathomable, unintelligible Sovereign Entity actually is in reality and to the senses. Thus any legal or ecclesiastical definition of "God" or of anything actually in God's Creation of Nature should never be taken as anything but an opposition to God and Nature. The name is not the Reality. Man must represent himself as a legal god to rule despite God. And so the word "God" as used in this work should be considered as such, as the difference (opposing forces) between the Reality of and in Nature (tangible, sensible) and the lies of legal existence in the cartoon world of legal fiction, and nothing more or less. The reader's own religious beliefs are one's own, and do not pertain to this work other than to say that citizen-ships cannot have two masters any more than men of God can. God or mammon. This choice always abounds. One either lives in their faith of Reality or lives in their faith to government in the fiction of lies.

—=—

"The law immutable, indestructible, eternal, not like those of today and yesterday, but made ere time began."

—Sophocles

—=—

Perhaps this comprehension of the negative substance of God and of Creation (including man) can be better revealed to the reader in other terms. Only things that have been specially de-fined can be considered as legal things. Something must be defined and named for it to have a legal existence. When man is re-defined as a HU-man or as a person, then he inherits with that description a positive legal existence. At this point man can be seen in the legal realm because of his legal description (his persona). When God that is all time and space and things as One in Nature is defined and named by governments and religious doctrines, the same phenomenon takes place, where the God of Nature becomes instead a false legal consideration. God is personified; anthropomorphized; humanized; legalized. Since legal things cannot acknowledge the real God (all that IS) as their Creator, the legal and ecclesiastical fictions must re-define God into legal terms. Thus men may inherit the qualities of God through legal means, claiming to be re-defined gods over any re-defined men who accept the legal fiction as their own defined gods. Only one of these gods can be invoked at one time, spiritually or secularly. Thus the scriptural notion that one cannot have two masters always applies. Once a man allows himself to become a legal entity, he necessarily accepts a legal master. He not only accepts mammon (money) as his god, of which all things are thus valued (flooded) in despite their actual Nature, but in fiction becomes the collateral for that money, being himself valued according to the worth of his labor and offspring in personhood. A person of money (mammon) is not and cannot be a man of God. A person cannot live in the kingdom of God's Nature, for a person is literally made of money.

Just as God is known to be the Permanence of All that is in Being, the legal gods must redefine all of that Being so as to determine the big lie as the permanent legal law. The fixed establishment of man's government does not exist without its own post-Creation description, its definite terms of art, and its ratified determination as "truth." The lie only exists according to the words that define it.

DEFINE - verb transitive - [Latin To end, to limit, from finis, end.] 1. To determine or describe THE END OR LIMIT; as, TO DEFINE THE EXTENT OF A KINGDOM OR COUNTRY. 2. To determine with precision; to ascertain; as, to define the limits of a kingdom. 3. TO MARK the limit; to circumscribe; TO BOUND. 4. To determine or ascertain THE EXTENT OF THE MEANING OF A WORD; to ascertain the signification of a term; TO EXPLAIN WHAT A WORD IS UNDERSTOOD TO EXPRESS; as, to define the words, virtue, courage, belief, or charity. 5. To describe; to ascertain or explain the distinctive properties or circumstances of a thing; as, to define a line or an angle. - verb intransitive - To determine; to decide. (Webs1828)

DETERMINE - verb transitive - [Latin, to bound; a boundary or limit. Gr. See Term.] 1. To end; particularly, to end by the decision or conclusion of a cause, or of a doubtful or controverted point; applicable to the DECISIONS OF THE MIND, OR TO JUDICIAL DECISIONS. We say, I had determined this question in my own mind; the court has determined the cause. 2. To END and FIX; TO SETTLE ULTIMATELY; as, THIS EVENT DETERMINED HIS FATE. 3. To fix on; TO SETTLE OR ESTABLISH; as, to determine the proper season for planting seeds. God--hath determined the times before appointed. Acts 17:26. 4. TO END; TO LIMIT; TO BOUND; TO CONFINE. Yonder hill determines our view. Knowledge is determined by the sight. 5. To give a direction to; TO INFLUENCE THE CHOICE; that is, TO LIMIT TO A PARTICULAR PURPOSE OR DIRECTION; as, this circumstance determined him to the study of law. Also, to give a direction to material bodies IN THEIR COURSE; as, impulse may determine a moving body to this or that point. 6. To resolve, that is, to end or settle a point IN THE MIND, as in definition first. I determined this with myself. 2 Corinthians 2:1. Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus. Acts 20:16. 7. TO DESTROY. [Not used.] 8. To put an end to; as, TO DETERMINE A WILL. 9. To settle or ascertain, as something uncertain. THE CHARACTER OF THE SOUL IS DETERMINED BY THE CHARACTER OF ITS GOD... (Webs1828)

DESCRIBE - verb transitive - [Latin To write.] 1. To delineate or MARK the FORM or FIGURE; as, to describe a circle by the compasses. 2. To make or exhibit a figure by motion; as, a star describes a circle or an ellipsis in the heavens. 3. TO SHOW OR REPRESENT TO OTHERS IN WORDS; TO COMMUNICATE THE RESEMBLANCE OF A THING, BY NAMING ITS NATURE, FORM OR PROPERTIES. The poet describes the Trojan horse. The historian describes the battle of Pharsalia. The moralist describes the effects of corrupt manners. The geographer describes countries and cities. 4. TO REPRESENT BY SIGNS. A deaf and dumb man may describe a distant object. Our passions may be described by external motions. 5. To draw a plan; TO REPRESENT by lines and other MARKS on paper, or other material; as, to describe the surface of the earth by a map or chart. 6. To define laxly. (Webs1828)

The character of the soul is determined by the character of its god/God. Do not proceed with this work until that really sinks in and this distinctive opposition between the gods of legal fiction and God's Creation of Nature is clear. For this is the foundation of all law. This is God or mammon. This is Nature or fiction. This is everything...

A free man in Nature can only be said to be one that has no legal existence, no name, no persona, no determined status, no description or definition, and no fixed determination (course) set merely by man's law. Only when the legal authority cannot recognize the man as a person (legal status) can the man be free and clear of the legal authority. Legal eyes cannot see or respect non-legal things. The dead cannot control the living without our consent. Artifice cannot consider the unwilling soul. But a free man will never remain free unless his God is declared, not merely by his words, but by his actions and lack of participation in legal things. A free man without God is only a hu-man. And human animals will be tamed and made beasts of burden like all others that roam freely between fences (borders), for the legal realm must have proof of man's intentions as its limitation.

God's Creation must be re-defined, described, humanized, and thus determined as to be evil (legal) entities by the governments of men in order to be controlled and dominated by those men acting as false gods. All things must be named and thus cursed by the words of personification held sacred above Reality.

If I name my spoon a fork, is the name any more or less a false re-presentation of the tangible metal object I eat with?

In Reality, no. Nothing in Nature has actually changed.

But what about in the fiction?

The mind-bending answer to this question is yes... or no. For the gods make the rules of their own defined terms, and only the words exist in the fiction. A matrix code. A lie cannot be in Reality harmed in any way. It is not a permanent fixture. Its false nature cannot be harnessed or sensed in Reality. The legal fiction, remember, is made up only of specifically defined words. The name re-presents the object as a specifically described fiction. The name is always a lie. So government can change words and their meanings any time it wishes, for they have no actual attachment to Real things. They can re-name anything at anytime, but nothing in Reality will ever change. The Real is not altered in any way by this act of a legal name-change except in the fictional realm. Each word creates a unique legal construct that does not exist in Reality, so Reality has no bearing on the meaning or purpose of a word.

The defined word itself cannot be physically bent like the actual piece of metal can. But amazingly, through the power of govern-ment (mind control), if the legal law states a rule that it is illegal to bend a "spoon," man acting in legal personhood may mistake that law as a Law of Nature (of God), beLIEving that the spoon cannot actually be bent because it would be against the legalistic (false) law, even if its bending would somehow benefit man. While a word can be re-defined and re-spelled in disillusionment, it can never actually Exist tangibly in Nature.

But there are consequences. Words can effect Nature with their power over the mind, will, and thus actions of men under the enchantment of their spelling and determination. Legality and personhood then is the opposite of self-determination in free will. For under this law of men, we believe in the intangible and invisible chains upon our wrists and throats that cannot be broken, for an established, pre-defined, official word cannot be broken, and a law of words respected without soul and spirit is an unbreakable DNA chain. The jurisdiction wherein those words have anchor and artificially exist, the nations of the idolatrous magistracy, this is the realm that must be abjured. For heaven sits beneath all of man's designs, waiting to be rediscovered by the mislead victims of that false legalist dialectic.

By renaming the spoon into a "fork," has its Nature in Reality changed? Is it less usable as a commodity? Has the mineral content or shape of those compounds actually been altered by its re-naming?

No. Of course not. The name is just a fiction.

But its legal quality and consideration has thus been changed, just like a man's Natural quality, standing, and consideration does when he becomes enjoined to a strawman person in the volunteerism of contractual bond and surety. The spoon could be renamed as a "weapon," which in turn can cause a person to be named by the opinion of court as a "criminal."

Government subsists (exists as a lie) because we believe that the personification of that fiction (words on paper) somehow actually Exists in Reality and as part of Reality and of the men that incorporate within the fiction; just as you may still be afraid of the last fictional monster you read about in some Stephen King tale, while simultaneously knowing in your mind that "IT" (the freaky mutant alien killer clown) doesn't actually Exist in Nature (Reality). IT is purely a fiction of the mind. But the mind makes it seem real, and we form a re-presentation of Its description in our minds, causing us to turn on extra lights just to make sure those descriptive words created no actual substance hiding (lying) in the closet. Words (names) may re-create the form and description of Reality in the fiction, but words can never create Its actual substance.

Words must be acted out by agents, and these act-ions are defined by created words. A "murderer" only exists when a man acts as such a descriptive word and is charged with that crime. Law is but pre-ordained, positively enforced action and inaction upon the actors of legal words. Nature is the negative, random act of Life without definition, description, or determination by man's law, Existing without and despite being simultaneously, magi-cally spelled into legal existence. The two realms. Nature has no legal standing. Thus legal words allow and invite the disruption of Nature's processes through the defined, limited, and often forced actions of actors. In this regard, Nature is rendered defenseless, for man is supposed to be its defender, steward, and guardian. The Laws of Nature must be re-defined if the laws of fiction are to control Nature and man within an artificial construct.

Before a legal actor (strawman) can legally bend a "spoon," the establishment of that artificial word "spoon" upon the real substantive object in Nature to be bent must be ordained with that fictional title in admixture. In the end, the legal authority that governs words through controlling the mind (govern-ment) may only administer the laws over its own creation (terms/names), under its own law (words in nomenclature), and as its own word-title of "spoon." Yet it has no authority over the substance of the actual metal object unless that authority is believed in and respected as a fiction in a false reality by men.

RESPECT - verb transitive - [Latin respecto, or respectus, from respicio; re and specio, to view.] 1. To regard; TO HAVE REGARD TO IN DESIGN OR PURPOSE. In orchards and gardens, we do not so much respect beauty, as variety of ground for fruits, trees and herbs. 2. To have regard to, in relation or connection; TO RELATE TO. The treaty particularly respects our commerce. 3. To view or consider with some DEGREE OF REVERENCE; to esteem as possessed of REAL WORTH. I always loved and respected Sir William. 4. To look towards. Palladius adviseth the front of his house should so respect the south. [Not in use.] TO RESPECT THE PERSON, TO SUFFER THE OPINION OR JUDGMENT TO BE INFLUENCED OR BIASED BY A REGARD TO THE OUTWARD CIRCUMSTANCES OF A PERSON, TO THE PREJUDICE OF RIGHT AND EQUITY. Thou shalt not respect the person of the poor. Leviticus 19:15. NEITHER DOTH GOD RESPECT ANY PERSON. 2 Samuel 14:14. - noun - [Latin respectus.] 1. Regard; attention. 2. That ESTIMATION OR HONOR in which men hold the distinguished worth or substantial good qualities of others. It expresses less than reverence and veneration, which regard elders and superiors; whereas respect may regard juniors and inferiors. Respect regards the QUALITIES OF THE MIND, or the actions which CHARACTERIZE those qualities. Seen without awe, and serv'd without respect. 3. That deportment or course of action which proceeds from esteem; regard; due attention; as, TO TREAT A PERSON WITH RESPECT. These same men treat the sabbath with little respect. 4. Good will; favor. The Lord had respect to Abel and his offering. Genesis 4:4. 5. Partial regard; UNDUE BIAS TO THE PREJUDICE OF JUSTICE; AS THE PHRASE, RESPECT OF PERSONS. 1 Peter 1:17. James 2:1. Proverbs 24:23. 6. RESPECTED CHARACTER; as persons of the best respect in Rome. 7. Consideration;

MOTIVE in reference to something. Whatever secret respects were likely to move them. 8. Relation; regard; reference; followed by of, but more properly by to. They believed but one Supreme Deity, which, with respect to the benefits men received from him, had several titles. (Webs1828)

— = —

God does not respect persons. God does not respect fiction. God does not respect lies. No personification is of God. There are no persons in Nature.

The actor (man in person) must be made to beLIEve (love) whole-heartedly in his lines (coded legal words) for the legal authority of that fictional law of words to apply to him. The actor must never be told that all the world is a stage, for if he knew, he could control and avoid the matrix code that is man's legal law. He could defeat all evil. He could bend the spoon because there is no "spoon" in Reality, existing only as an intangible, non-authoritative name with no referential to Nature or its Laws. "Spoon" is a lie, as all words and names are. Without artifice, man could re-define terms to his own desire, or cease to use words and names all together if he so chose to ensure his relationship to God and Nature is never tainted. A vow of silence. The actor would realize that he didn't need to bend the rules, for in Reality there are no rules. Rules are merely fictional words stemming from the i-magi-nation. There are no words. There are no titles. There is only self-evident Truth.

There are no rules... because there is no "spoon." We only put quotations around names and titles so that they seem Real.

Likewise, the imaginary monster (government) can only lawfully harm you if you believe it has the right and authority to do so. And its harm of other foreign peoples around the world also stems from your lying by in silence while it militarily and unlawfully conquers and kills in the artifice of your name. For government can only legally harm the person it has created by surname, title, and status, not the man. It therefore labels all peoples of the world as potential or active "terrorists" and "enemies of the state" instead of as living men of God, and therefore creates a specifically defined legal fiction that government then claims authority over so as to have the ability to break God's Commandments. It assigns a pretended determination (course) by naming. Government destroys only what it creates and thus what is bound to that creation in surety and under the law of nations - the legal status of every thing and every one. It pretends that man, while acting in a legal fictional capacity (in person), is not responsible for his own actions... as if his soul is somehow hidden from God. It relies on man's belief in the lie that man is in fact the strawman (name and title) to literally get away with murdering other men under the legal name and status of that other fictional person. Without this religious belief by man in fiction, government would have no lawful power or authority under its own maxim's of law. At this point, the true nature of government would be revealed (disclosed), as the military would be called out to quell the disbelief in the civil authority of the fictional government. This would be called revelation, apocalypse, words which merely mean disclosure of knowledge. Things would become quite uncivilized to say the least. In the end, government is only as powerful as the ignorance of the men in its police and military force, manifesting government's will in the chaotic brute strength that culminates from their own collective false belief in the lie that they have some permissive, lawful authority (under a false god) over other men because of some shiny badges and supposed legal status - a projected self-image of the alter-ego of personhood; the citizen soldier. In this way, the law is like the image of the Ouroboros - popularly known as the serpent eating its own tail. But it is not after all merely devouring itself, it is speaking itself into a constantly new and false existence, just as government does.

Do not be confused by this word title named "foreign." No man is foreign to or within God's Nature. It is merely a term of the legal artifice, and it only refers to legal personas in other cartoon jurisdictions. Foreign is not free. You are a foreigner acting in agency with government under U.S. citizenship or other nation's ethnic status. That's what a person is. Foreign cannot exist unless a group of men can be convinced that a nation or country first exists, and that participation in that fiction makes them not foreign. This is the game of nations, the game of thrones. Lies and propaganda. To any nation, all other members of all other nations have no blood to protect them, and are merely goyim (chattel) ripe for slaughter.

FOREIGN - adjective for'an. [Latin foris, foras.] 1. BELONGING TO ANOTHER NATION OR COUNTRY; ALIEN; NOT OF THE COUNTRY IN WHICH ONE RESIDES; extraneous. We call every country foreign which is not within the jurisdiction of our own government. In this sense, Scotland before the union was foreign to England, and Canada is now foreign to the United States. More generally foreign is applied to countries more remote than an adjacent territory; as a foreign market; a foreign prince. IN THE UNITED STATES, ALL TRANSATLANTIC COUNTRIES ARE FOREIGN. 2. PRODUCED IN A DISTANT COUNTRY OR JURISDICTION; coming from another country; as foreign goods; goods of foreign manufacture; a foreign minister. 3. Remote; NOT BELONGING; not connected; with to or from. You dissemble; the sentiments you express are foreign to your heart. This design is foreign from my thoughts. [The use of from is preferable and best authorized.] 4. Impertinent; not pertaining; not to the purpose. The observation is foreign from the subject under consideration. 5. Excluded; not admitted; held at a distance. 6. Extraneous; adventitious; not native or natural. 7. In law, a foreign attachment is an attachment of the goods of a foreigner within a city or liberty, for the satisfaction of a debt due from the foreigner to a citizen; or an attachment of the money or goods of a debtor, in the hands of another person. A foreign bill of exchange, is a bill drawn by a person in one country, on his correspondent or AGENT in another, as distinguished from an inland bill, which is drawn by one person or another in the same jurisdiction or country. Foreign plea, a plea or objection to a judge as incompetent to try the question, on the ground that it is not within his jurisdiction. (Webs1828)

ETHNIC - noun - A heathen; A PAGAN. (Webs1828)

ETHNICISM - noun - Heathenism; PAGANISM; IDOLATRY. (Webs1828)

ETHNICAL - adjective - [Latin ethnicus; Gr. from NATION from the root of G. heide, heath, woods, whence heathen. See Heathen.] Heathen; PAGAN; PERTAINING TO THE GENTILES OR NATIONS NOT CONVERTED TO CHRISTIANITY; OPPOSED TO JEWISH AND CHRISTIAN. (Webs1828)

HEATHEN - noun - [Gr. from heath, that is, one who lives in the country or woods, as pagan from pagus, a village.] 1. A PAGAN; A GENTILE; ONE WHO WORSHIPS IDOLS, or is unacquainted with the true God. In the Scriptures, the word seems to comprehend ALL NATIONS EXCEPT THE JEWS OR ISRAELITES, as they were ALL STRANGERS TO THE TRUE RELIGION, AND ALL ADDICTED TO IDOLATRY. The word may now be applied perhaps to ALL NATIONS, except to Christians and Mohammedans. Heathen, without the plural termination, is used plurally or COLLECTIVELY, FOR GENTILES OR HEATHEN NATIONS. Ask of me, and I will give thee the heathen for thine inheritance. Psalms 2:8. Heathen, however, has a plural, expressing two or more individuals. If men have reason to be heathens in Japan — The precepts and examples of the ancient heathens. 2. ARUDE, ILLITERATE, BARBAROUS PERSON. - adjective - Gentile, pagan; as a heathen author. (Webs1828)

— = —

The legal presumption that all men living in other nations are acting as fictional persons with allegiance to that particular nation makes all men ethnocentric foreigners (heathens), and so the presumption of law creates legal authority to destroy the person (description) that belongs to the “foreign” nation. The living man each foreigner (person) is attached to is collateral damage not considered in war. These are wars on titles and status, for all citizens are agents of government, in support of the nation. To governments, men are only fictional pegs on a game board, clothed with artificial corporate persons (targets) and moved about like avatars. For in Reality there is no country to attack, only the men contained and indebted within claiming allegiance and ethnicity by that false idol.

As we have learned, the foreign status of U.S. citizenships in each individual (private) State and under their commercial state governments, a status that is unknown to the majority of the population that worship their lowest of possible statuses in public while falsely beLIEving themselves to be the free “American” People of each private State, is only that of a foreigner licensed to commercially reside in that foreign legal state. So the paper person created by the United States resides only in the filing cabinet of the foreign state, which is but another corporation on paper.

You might wonder then how a man acting in person under government as a common citizen may be charged by government for the murder of another man. But this is not how fiction works, for fiction only deals with the already legally dead (acts of the state), unable to consider Life (as an Act of God). The man acting in agency as a citizen does not kill another man, he executes another HU-man citizen. In other words, he disrupts the commercial capacity of government property (the fictional person). By this legal act named as “murder,” his strawman has disturbed the commercial potential of another government strawman. And so government places the “murderer” as surety into custody in order to pay for his sin against his principal, which is a valuable consideration that is paid for with his time and future labor while incarcerated to match the lost potential of the other now defunct commercial person of government. In other words, the crime is not the loss of actual Life, but the loss of the force of life that puppeteers the fictional persona (status) in commerce. For when the Real man dies, so too does the ability of his assigned persona to act as a subject. All crime in fiction is only ever financial. A price is placed upon every crime, and the payment is with time. Currency represents merely the time and labor of others, past and future. So one either pays for his crimes with his own time and labor while imprisoned, or he does so with the cash money (mammon) that represents someone else’s time and labor value. This is how the wealthy stay out of jail. They pay for their crimes with legal tender. Only the poor labor to pay with their imprisoned bodies in surety. Prison is for debtors that have no credit. But then, so is citizenship - an open-air prison legally called hell, incorporated for the purpose of paying the national debt through capitalism, otherwise known as human trafficking.

Only if government is made into a false creator god can government claim the right as god to harm its own creation (of words). It is our voluntary bond to that creation (strawman) that makes us the bearer of that harm in a state of surety. We stand for, as, and in their fictional character. For the law sees no immortal man of God, only his mortal (dead), fictional, corporate person. These terms mortal and immortal will be expounded upon later in this work.

And how does the government god create? It forges letters as raw materials into the DNA of words and phrases, like a blacksmith forges weapons from iron, creating the legal names of all living and non-living things so as to forge them into fictional, imaginary forms of their real substance...

FORGE - To fabricate, construct, or prepare one thing IN IMITATION OF ANOTHER THING, WITH THE INTENTION OF SUBSTITUTING THE FALSE FOR THE GENUINE, or otherwise deceiving and defrauding by the use of the SPURIOUS ARTICLE. To COUNTERFEIT or make FALSELY. Especially, to make a spurious written instrument with the intention of fraudulently substituting it for another, or of passing it off as genuine; or to fraudulently alter a genuine instrument to another's prejudice; or to sign another person's name to a document, with a deceitful and fraudulent intent. To forge (a metaphorical expression, borrowed from the occupation of the smith) means, properly speaking, no more than to MAKE or FORM, but IN OUR LAW IT IS ALWAYS TAKEN IN AN EVIL SENSE. To forge is TO MAKE IN THE LIKENESS OF SOMETHING ELSE; to counterfeit is to make in imitation of something else, with a view TO DEFRAUD BY PASSING THE FALSE COPY FOR GENUINE OR ORIGINAL. Both words, "forged" and "counterfeited," convey the idea of SIMILITUDE. In common usage, however, forgery is almost always predicated of some private instrument or writing, as a deed, note, will, or a SIGNATURE; and counterfeiting denotes the fraudulent imitation of coined or paper money or some substitute therefor. (Black1)

SIMILITUDE - noun - [Latin similitudo.] 1. Likeness; resemblance; likeness in nature, qualities of APPEARANCE; AS SIMILITUDE OF SUBSTANCE. Let us make man in OUR image, MAN IN OUR SIMILITUDE... 2. Comparison; simile. Tasso, in his similitude never departed from the woods. (Webs1828)

SIMILE - noun - [Latin] In rhetoric, SIMILITUDE; a comparison of two things which, however different in other respects, have some strong point or points of RESEMBLANCE; by which comparison, the character or qualities of a thing are illustrated or presented in an impressive light... (Webs1828)

SAME - The word "same" does not always mean "identical," not different or other. It frequently means OF THE KIND OR SPECIES, NOT THE SPECIFIC THING. When preceded by the definite article, meaning the one just referred to. (Black4)

IDENTITY - In the Law of Evidence. SAMENESS; the fact that a SUBJECT, PERSON, or THING before a court is the SAME as it is REPRESENTED, CLAIMED, or CHARGED to be. (Black4)

IDENTIFICATION - Proof of identity; the proving that a PERSON, SUBJECT, OR ARTICLE before the court is the very same that he or it is ALLEGED, CHARGED, OR REPUTED to be; as where a witness recognizes the prisoner at the bar as the same person whom he saw committing the crime; or where HANDWRITING, stolen goods, counterfeit coin, etc., are recognized as the same which once passed under the observation of the person identifying them. (Black4)

ALLOGRAPH - A writing or SIGNATURE MADE FOR A PERSON BY ANOTHER; OPPOSED TO AUTOGRAPH. (Black4)

AUTOGRAPH - One's handwriting. (Black4)

AUTOGRAPHIC - Self-writing or self-recording. (Black4)

—=—

“True identity is collected from a multitude of signs.”

—IDENTITAS VERA COLLIGITUR EX MULTITUDINE SIGNORUM. Bac. Max. (Black4)

—=—

While the animal, vegetable, and mineral kingdoms have no choice but to fall prey to these legally forged names, man in his ability to speak and make choices presents the ultimate challenge to the total domination of mankind by those that claim god-like governing authority over him. So the illusionist's trick of casting word spells in law is utilized to make men believe in the words (names and titles) more than the Reality of the object so named. The simulation becomes the false reality, the person the man. It is incredibly sad and infuriating to realize that this entire legal structure and the language that defines it were all created to corrupt just as man's designs have so corrupted Nature; to create legal beasts out of most men so that we never realize in our induced animal (human) nature our own power to simply say no and to thus thwart evil (artifice) by acting only in a True religious state of Being and in moral Law, in the Purest substance and action of Love and Charity.

And to accomplish this great feat of anti-Nature, of anti-God, man must be convinced that he is not man at all but instead a mere similitude of man - a HU-man; the artful name of a strawman.

While you or your children may dream that the wizarding world of Harry Potter were a Reality, it nonetheless remains forever purely fictional. Ironically, you may dress up in wizard and witch costumes from the fictional Harry Potter world, and your appearance may very much resemble a judges black robe as a costume from the magi-cal legal fiction, minus the pointy hat. Nevertheless, Harry Potter and those legal judges remain purely fictional characters in a fictional world, given what appears to be magi-cal power in the Real world only by imagination and contractual agreement through silent consent to such word illusion.

But even the fiction of Hogwarts gives us clues as to its own hidden meaning, where the magic words spoken as protective spells actually figuratively exist in the fictional legal parlance; a Hollywood simulation of a legal simulation:

PATRONUS - IN ROMAN LAW. A person who stood in the relation of PROTECTOR TO ANOTHER who was called his "client." ONE WHO ADVISED HIS CLIENT IN MATTERS OF LAW, AND ADVOCATED HIS CAUSES IN COURT. (Black4)

CLIENT - noun - 1. AMONG THE ROMANS, A CITIZEN who put himself under the protection of a man of distinction and influence, who, in respect to that relation, was called his PATRON. Hence in modern usage, 2. One who applies to a lawyer or counselor for advice and direction in a question of law, or commits his cause to his management in prosecuting a claim, or defending against a suit, in a court of justice. 3. A DEPENDENT. (Webs1828)

AGENT - adjective - ACTING; OPPOSED TO PATIENT, or sustaining action; as, the body agent. [Little used.] - noun - 1. AN ACTOR; one that exerts power, or has the power to act; as, a moral agent. 2. An active power or cause; THAT WHICH HAS THE POWER TO PRODUCE AN EFFECT; as, heat is a powerful agent. 3. A SUBSTITUTE, deputy, or factor; ONE ENTRUSTED WITH THE BUSINESS OF ANOTHER; an ATTORNEY; a MINISTER. (Webs1828)

— = —

Very clever, the patronus (attorney) spell and the wave of a satanic Holly wood wand comes to the aid of the demented mind of the unlearned man (non compos mentis citizen) to protect against the dementors, which in the end are also merely agents under a different description, as executive deputies and law enforcers, the minion, demonic hirelings and hitmen of judicial opinions and decisions, which without those policing agents the judicial would have no power. A little spell of legal word magic slipped in under everyones noses. For in the fiction, our only aid is an attorney, an advocate, the adders of vice.

This clandestine glorification of the practitioners (attorneys) of the legal profession might change your perception of just what the Harry Potter stories are pushing upon children and adults beneath their special effects and child-like sophistry. Hollywood is far more dangerous than you might expect. I know, for I worked and lived there for 9 years putting sounds to movies, games, and commercials in post production; a career I gave up once I fully understood the devilish nature of that propagandist industry.

A judge rules only on the fiction of the law (the law of the land and sea) as it applies to dead persons (mortals), not living men. Likewise, a judge rules only on the legal estate and title to the landed property, not the actual (Natural) land or soil itself. The judge, as a creation of the fiction (a fiction of law), can only judge other fictional things as lesser creations in the status and jurisdiction of that same fiction. For a judge is but a fictional, titled character as well, not a man. If no man dons a robe and pretends to act as if he were a judge in God's stead, then no judge would exist in the fictional story of any court. The man must enjoin himself with a fictional title for the fiction to live (evil). Inversely, if no man appears in the fictional room where the judge pretends to have jurisdiction over all fictional things, surnames, and legally assigned titles of men, then the judge has no jurisdiction over any man. Only when man appears as an enjoined fictional person does man himself fall under that fictional jurisdiction in bonded surety.

Holly wood comes from the Holly tree. It is a most sacred tree in witchcraft. This is no coincidence. Names are everything. Foolish “Christians” and non-christians alike hang decorative Holly branches upon their doors and around the house at Christmas time without comprehension of the meaning of their actions. It is foretold that the branch of the Holly tree, if thrown at any animal, even without touching it, had the property of compelling the animal to return and lie down by the thrower; a taming of the low beasts. Is this not the obvious magical purpose of Hollywood entertainment? The wood of the Holly tree was historically used by the ancient Druids in the fabrication of their magic wands. But I’m sure it was coincidence that Micky Mouse’s wand in Fantasia was also pretended to be crafted of Holly wood. And Harry Potter’s wand? Holly wood. Holly was to the druids also a most sacred symbol, referentially symbolic to the sacred mother Holle or Hel, the goddess of the underworld. Hollywood (the druidic Hel-wood) is merely a place of visual and audial magic used for evil intent. It’s all about the illusion.

J.K. Rowling, author of the Harry Potter series, is reported on her own website as saying:

“I gave Harry a wand made of holly wood back in 1990, when I first drafted chapter six of ‘Philosopher’s Stone.’ It was not an arbitrary decision: holly has certain connotations that were perfect for Harry, particularly when contrasted with the traditional associations of yew, from which Voldemort’s wand is made. European tradition has it that the holly tree (the name comes from ‘holy’) repels evil, while yew, which can achieve astonishing longevity (there are British yew trees over two thousand years old), can symbolize both death and resurrection; the sap is also poisonous.”

—Source: <http://www.jkrowling.com>

—=—

Hollywood is used to cast spells, from worded scripts, and with hypnotizing music emanating from a conductor’s wand (baton) made of the same source.

However, while the magic spells of the movies may not be able to physically harm you as they appear in your living room, their effect on the control over your mind is a different story. The magi-strates of the legal world have convinced you that their magi-cal words (spells) are Real, and so the legal fiction and its lies certainly may harm you in Real Life, through your faith in the contractual birth-bond that you and others act out your civil life in as fictional (surnamed) characters.

This is called belief.

(BE-LIE-f)

Be the lie...

Belief (love) in anything is nothing more than the tainted perception of Reality, no matter how opposed to Reality our beliefs (truths) may be. And while Reality never changes, perception (truth) is ever-changing; as with the ebb and flow of experience and referential knowledge. As a member of the fictional society, called a public “citizen”, we participate in and validate the power of the spell (fiction) over our selves. We wear our corporate person like a veil of invisible corporate clothing.

To be the lie or not to be the lie, that is really the only question... BeLIEve it or not! Live it or not.

If you beLIEve you are the lie in the form of a person with a surname, that you can be and are a fictional character in a fictional world, and that this belief gives you imaginary special powers called “rights” and thus certain licensed or permitted status over or under others, then you perceive the fictional world as the truth - a false reality. And that’s where wars, pestilence, poverty, hunger, eugenics, and the religions and governments that cause them are created and approved as necessary to maintain these fictional realities. Wars are fought to preserve established, legal truths (lies). The fiction’s goal is solely to maintain its own false existence, subsistence, and sustainability of the big lie that it is. It has no other goal but its own self-perpetual existence, no matter what the cost to Nature and Life Itself. It is the incarnation of evil. And the men behind the fictional curtain make it all happen while remaining hidden under the veil, behind the curtain of Oz.

The remaining sections of this work are designed to expound and enlighten upon the concepts presented in this first summary chapter. To that end, legal terms will be further explored and defined exhaustively so that the reader may better comprehend the false reality of fiction. Ever more sources will be presented as to the true nature of the corporate church and that of the pope, as well as the scriptural presentments on that subject.

While some of this may be unclear at the moment, and while some of it may have offended your own personal beLIEfs, I promise you’ll feel right as rain by the end of this work.

Have another cookie and let’s continue...

— = —

Chapter 2:

Simulated Reality, Artificial Life: The Simulacrum Of Legal Creation

— = —

Just what does it mean to live in sin?

One thing for sure, it is definitely not what you've been taught by the corporate (artificial) church, which is protected by the executive, military authority of the fictional state.

First and foremost, we must know that the word sin is equal to the words lie, artifice, and simulation. In fact, we must recognize that the whole legal system of government and law is in fact a simulation - a matrix of word-code and fiction that is recognized artificially as "fact." But then, from satan's perspective, what else would one expect? For all kings are only the kings of their own lies and that of their forbearers.

SIMULATE - To assume the mere appearance of, WITHOUT THE REALITY; to assume the SIGNS or indications of, FALSELY; to counterfeit; feign; imitate; PRETEND. TO ENGAGE, usually with the co-operation or connivance of another person, in an act or series of acts, which are APPARENTLY TRANSACTED IN GOOD FAITH, and intended to be followed by their ordinary legal consequences, but WHICH IN REALITY CONCEAL A FRAUDULENT PURPOSE OF THE PARTY TO GAIN THEREBY SOME ADVANTAGE TO WHICH HE IS NOT ENTITLED, or to INJURE, DELAY, or DEFRAUD others. (Black4)

SIMULATION - Assumption of appearance which was feigned, false, deceptive, or counterfeit. In the civil law. Misrepresentation or concealment of the truth; as where parties pretend to perform a transaction different from that in which they really are engaged. A feigned, pretended act, ONE WHICH ASSUMES THE APPEARANCE WITHOUT THE REALITY and, being entirely WITHOUT EFFECT, it is held not to have existed, and, for that reason, it may be disregarded or attacked collaterally by any interested person.

In French law. COLLUSION; a fraudulent arrangement between two or more persons TO GIVE A FALSE OR DECEPTIVE APPEARANCE TO A TRANSACTION IN WHICH THEY ENGAGE.

(Black4)

— = —

Simulation and citizenship are virtually the same words. We are born into sin (simulation) by being borne within a nation. And so we have a simulated birth into a simulated legal realm of simulated jurisdiction, proven by simulated facts which create a simulated contract by which we are judged under simulated gods with simulated authority. But all of this starts with the simulated purchase (sale/conquering) of man out from under God (Reality) at a simulated birth from his own voluntarily ignorant parents acting themselves as a simulated people.

Birth is akin to a simulated sale.

SIMULATED SALE - One which has all the appearance of an actual sale in good faith, INTENDED TO TRANSFER THE OWNERSHIP OF PROPERTY FOR A CONSIDERATION, but which IN REALITY COVERS A COLLUSIVE DESIGN OF THE PARTIES to put the property beyond the reach of creditors, or proceeds from some other fraudulent purpose. It results when parties execute A FORMAL ACT OF SALE OF A THING FOR WHICH NO PRICE IS PAID or is intended to be paid, and such sale HAS NO LEGAL EFFECT AND NO TITLE IS TRANSFERRED THEREBY. If there exists an actual consideration for transfer evidenced by alleged act of sale, no matter how inadequate it be, the transaction is not a "simulated sale," and, even though it be charged to be in fraud of vendor's creditors, such transfer cannot be set aside as a simulation although it may be SUBJECT TO ANNULMENT ON THE GROUND OF FRAUD or the giving of undue preference. (Black4)

SIMULATED FACT - In the law of evidence. A fabricated fact; AN APPEARANCE GIVEN TO THINGS BY HUMAN DEVICE, with a view to deceive and mislead. (Black4)

SIMULATED CONTRACT - One which, though clothed in concrete form, HAS NO EXISTENCE IN FACT. It may at any time and at the demand of any person in interest BE DECLARED A SHAM and may be ignored by creditors of the apparent vendor. (Black4)

SIMULATED JUDGMENT - One which is apparently rendered in good faith, upon an actual debt, and intended to be collected by the usual process of law, BUT WHICH IN REALITY IS ENTERED BY THE FRAUDULENT CONTRIVANCE OF THE PARTIES, for the purpose of giving to one of them an advantage to which HE IS NOT ENTITLED, or of defrauding or delaying THIRD PERSONS. (Black4)

— = —

To be born in the blood of your mother is the gift of God. To be borne (taxed) into the artificial system through simulated birth certification and registration as a legal entity is quite another matter. As we will discuss further in this work, one either bears the Arms of his blood, or he carries the Arms (seal) of the state (nation). Arms and weapons are not necessarily synonymous, though sometimes are used together. To bear Arms is to wear the bloodline of your family and therefore your legitimacy upon your self. This is the great mystery of hidden knowledge regarding the 2nd amendment of the U.S. constitution, for the right to bear Arms (heraldry and genealogy as "posterity") shall not be disturbed. It is vulgar and frankly plain good-old fashioned American public ignorance to consider this word "Arms" simply as guns or other weaponry. Remember, the higher (more authoritative) language must be applied to all legal writings, and the constitution is certainly no exception.

Let us now examine the birth certification and registration process and what it accomplishes in simulation of Life:

Difference Between Birth Certificate And Certificate Of Live Birth:

Written by: J. Hirby

For most purposes of identification, people use the Birth Certificate as the original document. But some have recently heard about something called the Certificate of Live Birth. What is the difference between the Birth Certificate and Certificate of Live Birth?

"Hospital Record of Birth: Certificate of Live Birth"

The medical community has established the PRACTICE of ISSUING the Certificate of Live Birth when a HUMAN BEING enters the world. This form will include the basics of the baby name, parent names, doctor names, hospital, sex, race, date of birth and person completing the record. Health care professionals will then enter the INFORMATION into their hospital database.

At this point, the father should verify that the information on the form is correct. Mistakes can be made on the original form or during medical data entry. The mother will, of course, be stressed and won't be able to concentrate when given the form. Corrections should be made before the Birth Certificate is officially issued.

The Certificate of Live Birth is the first unofficial draft of the fact that your mother gave birth to you. Once this information is complete, this Certificate of Live Birth is sent to the Office of Vital Statistics or State REGISTER to create the Official Birth Certificate.

“Official Government Issued Record of Birth: Birth Certificate”

For the sake of school, insurance, taxes, identification cards and travel documents, you should use your Birth Certificate. While the Certificate of Live Birth shows that you are MEDICALLY ALIVE, the Birth Certificate is the OFFICIAL RECORD DECLARING YOUR PLACE OF BIRTH. Some people are not born in hospitals and don't have these other records.

The United States federal government may not take your Certificate of Live Birth for Passport purposes either. There have been some difficulties with birth documents in Puerto Rico. It is always wise to have your official Birth Certificate in a safe deposit box.

Remember that the live birth hospital form is primarily for data entry purposes. Your Birth Certificate is for official RECORDING purposes and will have the signature and date of a STATE OFFICIAL on the bottom. It should be printed on high-quality paper or cardboard WITH A REGISTRAR'S EMBOSSED STATE SEAL in the corner for authenticity. This official Birth Certificate will also have a REGISTRATION NUMBER, so it can easily be looked up for reference.

—thelawdictionary.org (Black's Law 2nd Edition online), article: “difference between birth certificate and certificate of live birth”

— — —

Once the mother has “informed” on her real baby, creating the simulation of a legal child (person) through her state signature and application called the “Certificate Of Live Birth,” only then has this legal evidence of an event been created so that the creation of a legal entity (person) tying and incorporating the God-given first (christian) name and state-given last name (surname) together. This is the fictional marriage of names (of nature and artificiality). The informer (paternal mother) allows for her offspring to be issued as surety to an informal legal person (in form not substance).

Per this record, having been re-created and registered into an official entity recognizable by birth certificate and as a fictional person who is birthed (on paper) into the United States as its corporate subject (natural person), the child as reared into adulthood until death is thus required to bear the burden of the Arms (flag and seal) of its adoptive “family” and “father” - the artificial body politic (artificial person) that is the United States - in order to claim legal rights and benefits from his legal fiction master. For through this artificial “legal” birth his blood has been corrupted through the voluntary attainder and registration of the birth certification process. This fictional person (status) is described by “vital statistics,” which are merely words on paper as legal signs and tokens of id-entity.

This Reality of simulation will be made ever more clear as we progress. But for now, note the difference between the word born (blood inheritance) and borne (carried) as defined below, and that these words are used interchangeably by the legal deceivers. Note too that in the fictional world of finance and commerce it is only commercial paper that is carried. A manifest, for instance, displays the description of cargo. We wear a custom-made and tailored paper law-suit of personhood, thus manifesting our fictional representation and disposition. A man of straw (paper).

PAPER - A written or printed document or instrument. A document filed or introduced in evidence in a suit at law, as, in the phrase "papers in the case" and in "papers on appeal." Any writing or printed document, including letters, memoranda, legal or business documents, and books of account, as in the constitutional provision which protects the people from unreasonable searches and seizures in respect to their "papers" as well as their houses and persons. A written or printed EVIDENCE OF DEBT, particularly a promissory note or a bill of exchange, as in the phrases "accommodation paper" and "commercial paper." In English practice. The list of causes or cases intended for argument, called "the paper of causes." (Black2)

COMMERCIAL - adjective - 1. Pertaining to commerce or trade; as commercial concerns; commercial relations. 2. CARRYING on commerce; AS A COMMERCIAL NATION. 3. Proceeding (borne) from trade; as commercial benefits or profits. (Webs1828)

COMMERCIAL PAPER - The term "commercial paper" means bills of exchange, promissory notes, bank-checks, and other negotiable instruments for the payment of money, which, by their form and on their face, purport to be such instruments as are by the law-merchant recognized as falling under the designation of "commercial paper." Commercial paper means negotiable paper given in due course of business, whether the element of negotiability be given it by the law-merchant or by statute. A note given by a merchant for money loaned is within the meaning. (Black2)

ACCOMMODATION PAPER - An accommodation bill or note is one to which the accommodating party, be he acceptor, drawer, or indorser, has put his NAME, WITHOUT CONSIDERATION, FOR THE PURPOSE OF BENEFITING OR ACCOMMODATING SOME OTHER PARTY WHO DESIRES TO RAISE MONEY ON IT, and is to provide for the bill when due. Must be executed for the purpose of loaning credit, and incidental benefit to party is insufficient. (Black2)

PROCEEDING - participle present tense - Moving forward; passing on; ISSUING; transacting; CARRYING ON. - noun - Process or movement from one thing to another; a measure or step taken in business; transaction; in the plural, a course of measures or conduct; COURSE OF DEALING WITH OTHERS. We speak of a legal or an illegal proceeding... It is our duty to acquiesce cheerfully in all God's proceedings towards. 1. In law, the course of steps or measures in the prosecution of an action is denominated proceedings. [See Process.] (Webs1828)

TRANSACTION - Act of transacting or conducting any business; negotiation; management; proceeding; that which is done; an affair. Something which has taken place, whereby a CAUSE of action has arisen. It must therefore consist of an act or agreement, or several acts or agreements having some connection with each other, in which more than one person is concerned, and by which the legal relations of such persons between themselves are altered. A broader term than "contract." A GROUP OF FACTS SO CONNECTED TOGETHER AS TO BE REFERRED TO BY A SINGLE LEGAL NAME; AS A CRIME, A CONTRACT, A WRONG. (Black4)

— = —

Perhaps the easiest way of comprehending what citizenship to mammon is can be explained by defining what it is to be an endorser. For the power of being assigned to a commercial entity as the person represents in citizenship is the power to create money by a strawman's signature.

IN - A prefix, Latin in is used in composition as a particle of negation, like the English un, of which it seems to be a dialectical orthography; or it denotes within, into, or among, as in inbred, incase; or it serves only to augment or render emphatical the sense of the word to which it is prefixed, as in inclose, increase. - preposition - [Latin in] in denotes present or inclosed, SURROUNDED BY LIMITS; A STATE OF BEING MIXED, OR COMBINED... It denotes PRESENT IN ANY STATE; as in sickness or health. It denotes present in time... In the name, is used in phrases of invoking, SWEARING, declaring, praying, etc. In prayer, it denotes by virtue of, or for the sake of. In the name of the people, denotes ON THEIR BEHALF or part; in their stead, or FOR THEIR SAKE. In, in many cases, is equivalent to on. This use of the word is frequent in the Scriptures; as, let fowls multiply in the earth. This use is more frequent in England than in America. We generally use on, in all similar phrases. In signifies by or through... In that, is sometimes equivalent to because. (Webs1828)

DORSUM - Latin. The back. In dorso recordi, on the back of the record. (Black4)

INDORSE - verb transitive - indors'. [Latin in and dorsum, the back.] 1. To write on the back of a paper or written instrument; as, to indorse a note or bill of exchange; to indorse a receipt or assignment on a bill or note. Hence, 2. To assign by writing an order on the back of a note or bill; TO ASSIGN OR TRANSFER BY INDORSEMENT. The bill was indorsed to the bank. To indorse IN BLANK, to write a name only on a note or bill, LEAVING A BLANK TO BE FILLED BY THE INDORSEE. (Webs1828)

INDORSE - To write a name on the back of a paper or document. Bills of exchange and promissory notes are indorsed by a party's writing his name on the back. "Indorse" is a technical term, having sufficient LEGAL CERTAINTY without words of more particular description. (Black4)

INDORSEE - The PERSON to whom a bill of exchange, promissory note, BILL OF LADING, etc., IS ASSIGNED BY INDORSEMENT. (Black4)

INDORSEE IN DUE COURSE - An indorsee in due course is one who, IN GOOD FAITH, IN THE ORDINARY COURSE OF BUSINESS, AND FOR VALUE, BEFORE ITS APPARENT MATURITY OR PRESUMPTIVE DISHONOR, AND WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE OF ITS ACTUAL DISHONOR, ACQUIRES A NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT DULY INDORSED TO HIM, or indorsed generally, or payable to the bearer. (Black4)

INDORSEMENT - The act of a payee, drawee, accommodation indorser, or holder of a bill, note, check, or other negotiable instrument, in writing his name upon the back of the same, with or without further or qualifying words, WHEREBY THE PROPERTY IN THE SAME IS ASSIGNED AND TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER. That which is so written upon the back of a negotiable instrument. In the law of negotiable instruments, a new and substantive contract by which TITLE TO THE INSTRUMENT IS TRANSFERRED AND BY WHICH INDORSER BECOMES A PARTY TO THE INSTRUMENT AND IS LIABLE, on certain conditions for its payment. In this respect indorsement differs from a common-law assignment. One who writes his name upon a negotiable instrument, otherwise than as a maker or acceptor, AND DELIVERS IT, with his name thereon, to another person, is called an "indorser," and his act is called "indorsement." The word "indorsement" is also used with reference to writs, insurance policies, certificates of stock, etc. The term as used in the Uniform Stock Transfer Act contemplates A WRITING

PASSING OR ATTEMPTING TO PASS TITLE OR AN INTEREST. As applied to a writ or warrant "indorsement" is an entry made on the back thereof.

Accommodation Indorsement - In the law of negotiable instruments, one made by a third person without any consideration, but merely for the benefit of the holder of the instrument, or to enable the maker to obtain money or credit on it. Unless otherwise explained, it is understood to be A LOAN OF THE INDORSER'S CREDIT without restriction.

Blank Indorsement (blank check) - One made by the mere writing of the indorser's name on the back of the note or bill, without mention of the name of any person in whose favor the indorsement is made, but with the IMPLIED UNDERSTANDING THAT ANY LAWFUL HOLDER MAY FILL IN HIS OWN NAME ABOVE THE INDORSEMENT IF HE SO CHOOSES.

Conditional Indorsement - One by which the indorser annexes some condition (other than the failure of prior parties to pay) to his liability. The condition may be either precedent or subsequent.

Irregular Indorsement - One made by a third person before DELIVERY of the note to the payee; an indorsement in blank by a third person above the name of the payee, or when the payee does not indorse at all... (Black4)

INDORSER - He who indorses; i. e., being the payee or holder, writes his name on the back of a bill of exchange, etc. (Black4)

INDUCT - TO PUT IN ENJOYMENT OR POSSESSION, ESPECIALLY TO INTRODUCE INTO POSSESSION OF AN OFFICE OR BENEFICE, with customary ceremonies, to bring in, INITIATE, TO BE PUT FORMALLY IN POSSESSION, inaugurate or install. (Black4)

INDUCE - To bring on or about, to affect, CAUSE, TO INFLUENCE TO AN ACT OR COURSE OF CONDUCT, LEAD BY PERSUASION OR REASONING, INCITE BY MOTIVES, prevail on. (Black4)

INDUCEMENT - In Contracts. THE BENEFIT OR ADVANTAGE WHICH THE PROMISOR IS TO RECEIVE FROM A CONTRACT is the inducement for making it. In Criminal Evidence. MOTIVE; THAT WHICH LEADS OR TEMPTS TO THE COMMISSION OF CRIME. In Pleading. That portion of a declaration or of any subsequent pleading in an action which is brought forward by way of explanatory introduction to the main allegations. (Black4)

INDUCIAE - In International Law. A truce; a suspension of hostilities; an agreement during war to abstain for a time from warlike acts. (Black4)

— = —

For a young, ignorant mother, the inducements to fill out the birth record are many. Nurses are instructed to insist upon acquiring vital statistic information simply because the government pays bonuses to hospital administrators for every legal entity created by those records of live birth. The parents beLIEve (love) the propaganda of the government, which says that by not recording and registering (taxing) their child's information into Caesar's dominions in district (in seizure) that those great benefits of citizenship will not be allotted to the child. Little do they know they are abandoning their child by never claiming their own paternal property, instead endorsing the child as a legal entity over to the state in debt-slavery. Inducement to contract, as the intent of the action, is everything. And so it is this very ignorance and lack of full comprehension that makes the act of birth registration a fraud. But a fraud is only a fraud when man stops acting fraudulently and calls the fraud a fraud with true intent in honest disposition of leaving and quitclaiming all benefits of that fraud. This is called as solution; the end of any contractual relation-ship. A citizenship cannot claim fraud or paternal rights because a citizenship is not a man of authority under God. A public person can only beget another legal person through endorsement, for a public person is always acting in fraud.

In essence, your birth record is the first or original commercial transaction from which all other actions proceed, and from which all commercial activity is carried upon. Strangely, your birth certificate is actually referred to as a legal matrix, as being borne into an artificial womb, signifying the legal proof of origin and creation of the fictional person in artifice. The matrix is the origin of artificial life, and as will be discussed later in this work, is representative of the state maternally as the artificial mother (and paternally the artificial father) of the legal child, and is the first draft of a document (instrument) for which all future copies must be taken. The vital statistics recorded and registered as the final birth certificate forms the new legal entity in persona, and we wear its fiction with every legal action we take under that combination and incorporation of names. The matrix (birth certificate) is the simulated man; the proof of the public invention of a strawman, a dummy corporation, and a receipt (proof) of a performance debt, which as a legal entity of no substance becomes a simulacrum (a copy without an original) by our own formal actions in agency.

MATRIX - noun - [Latin matrix from mater, mother.] 1. The womb; the cavity in which the fetus of an animal is formed and nourished till its birth. 2. A mold; the cavity in which any thing is formed, and which gives it shape; as the matrix of a TYPE. 3. THE PLACE WHERE ANY THING IS FORMED OR PRODUCED; as the matrix of metals; gang. 4. In dyeing, the five simple colors, black, white, blue, red and yellow, of which all the rest are composed. (Webs1828)

ARTIFICER - noun - [Latin artifex, from ars, and facio.] 1. An artist; a mechanic or manufacturer; one whose occupation requires skill or knowledge of a particular kind; as a silversmith, or sadler. 2. ONE WHO MAKES OR CONTRIVES; AN INVENTOR; AS AN ARTIFICER OF FRAUD OR LIES. 3. A cunning, or ARTFUL fellow. [not used.] (Webs1828)

ILLUSION - noun - s as z. [Latin illusio, from illudo, to illude.] DECEPTIVE APPEARANCE; FALSE SHOW, by which a PERSON is or may be deceived, or his expectations disappointed; mockery. Ye soft illusions, dear deceits, arise! (Webs1828)

INVENT - verb transitive - [Latin invenio, inventum; in and venio, to come; literally, to come to, to fall on, to meet, Eng. to find.] 1. To find out something new; to DEVISE something not before known; to contrive and PRODUCE SOMETHING THAT DID NOT BEFORE EXIST; as, to invent a new instrument of music; to invent a machine for spinning; to invent gunpowder. [See Invention.] 2. To forge; to fabricate; TO CONTRIVE FALSELY; AS, TO INVENT FALSEHOODS. 3. To feign; to FRAME by the imagination; as, to invent the machinery of a poem. 4. To light on; to meet with. [This is the literal sense, but not now used.] (Webs1828)

IN - (see above) - prefix - ...denotes present or inclosed, surrounded by limits; A STATE OF BEING MIXED, OR COMBINED... (Webs1828)

VENT - noun - [Latin venio, Eng. wind, etc.; properly a passage.]... 3. PASSAGE FROM SECRECY TO NOTICE; PUBLICATION. 4. The act of opening. 5. Emission; passage; escape from confinement; as, his smothered passions urge for vent. 6. Discharge; utterance; means of discharge. Had like grief been dew'd in tears, without the vent of words. 7. Sale; as the vent of a thousand copies of a treatise. 8. Opportunity to sell; demand. There is no vent for any commodity except wool. 9. An inn, a baiting place. [Not in use.] To give vent to, to suffer to escape; to let out; to pour forth. - verb transitive - 1. To let out at a small aperture. 2. To LET out; to suffer to escape from confinement; to utter; to pour forth; as, to vent passion or complaint. The queen of heav'n did thus her fury vent. 3. To utter; TO REPORT... 4. TO PUBLISH. The sectators did greatly enrich their inventions by venting the stolen treasures of divine letters. [Not used.] 5. To sell. Therefore did those nations vent such spice. [Not in use.] [Instead of vent in the latter sense, we use VEND. - verb intransitive - TO SNUFF. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

INVENTION - noun - [Latin inventio.] 1. The action or operation of FINDING OUT SOMETHING NEW; THE CONTRIVANCE OF THAT WHICH DID NOT BEFORE EXIST; as the invention of logarithms; the invention of the art of printing; the invention of the orrery. Invention differs from discovery. INVENTION IS APPLIED TO THE CONTRIVANCE AND PRODUCTION OF SOMETHING THAT DID NOT BEFORE EXIST. DISCOVERY BRINGS TO LIGHT THAT WHICH EXISTED BEFORE, BUT WHICH WAS NOT KNOWN. We are indebted to invention for the thermometer and barometer. We are indebted to discovery for the knowledge of the isles in the Pacific ocean, and for the knowledge of galvanism, and many species of earth not formerly known. This distinction is important, though not always observed. 2. That which is invented. The cotton gin is the invention of Whitney; the steam boat is the invention of Fulton. The Doric, Ionic and Corinthian orders are said to be inventions of the Greeks; the Tuscan and Composite are inventions of the Latins. 3. FORGERY; FICTION. FABLES ARE THE INVENTIONS OF INGENIOUS MEN. 4. In painting, the finding or choice of the objects which are to enter into the composition of the piece. 5. In poetry, it is applied to whatever the poet adds to the history of the subject. 6. In rhetoric, the finding and selecting of arguments to prove and illustrate the point in view. 7. The power of inventing; that skill or ingenuity which is or may be EMPLOYED IN CONTRIVING ANY THING NEW. Thus we say, a man of invention. 8. Discovery; the finding of things hidden or before unknown. [Less proper.] (Webs1828)

— = —

You've probably never noticed that your birth certificate is printed on a bank note. Mine, for instance, states at the bottom "MIDWEST BANK NOTE COMPANY" as its origin, and the Arms of the United States is of course embossed and displayed officially in a raised SEAL. For that person is the son of the State, created and borne into legal existence by it. It retains no blood, and therefore has no blood right. It is merely a commercial paper. The seal represents the Arms of the United States, the persons "father."

This commercial paper falsely re-presents God's Creation of blood into a fictional personification, and the man must therefore carry that false person with him in the form of identification; a token of his permanent state of false being in the sin of fiction. In other words, we undertake to carry (bear) our person in commerce, and a person of the United States is required by law to bear the Arms (flag and seal) of that government corporation, not those of his blood kin or of his State (People).

— = —

"...in the arcanum of magic it is declared that 'he controls the SOUL who controls the BLOOD of another'..."

"Though the demonism of the Middle Ages seems to have disappeared, there is abundant evidence that in many forms of modern thought — especially the so-called "prosperity" philosophy, "will-power building" metaphysics, and systems of "high-pressure" salesmanship — black magic has merely passed through a metamorphosis, and ALTHOUGH ITS NAME BE CHANGED ITS NATURE REMAINS THE SAME.

—Manly P. Hall, "Ceremonial Sorcery And Magic"

—=—

We are the carriers of commercial vessels called citizen-ships. We are borne citizens at the registration of our birth, which is the figurative (legal) seizure of our blood through word magic. And the only remedy to this nightmare of fictional re-presentation is to be re-born (as christians call it) into Nature, back into our origin of blood and spirit and source under God (Jehovah). Until we shed ourselves of all simulation through the magic of artifice and fiction, until we shed our straw, we voluntarily give up our right to bear our bloodline right in the Arms of heraldry and instead bear the Great Seal of the United States as our "father" and "family" upon a paper strawman persona, which we carry and bear as our burden in commerce (artifice of mammon).

BORN - participle passive - of bear. Bourn. BROUGHT FORTH, AS AN ANIMAL. A very useful distinction is observed by good authors, who, in the sense of produced or brought forth, write this word born; but in the sense of CARRIED, write it BORNE. This difference of orthography renders obvious the difference of pronunciation. 1. To be born is to be produced or brought into life. 'Man is born to trouble.' A man born a prince or a beggar. It is followed by OF, BEFORE THE MOTHER OR ANCESTORS. Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble. Job 14:1. 2. TO BE BORN OR BORN AGAIN, IS TO BE REGENERATED AND RENEWED; TO RECEIVE SPIRITUAL LIFE. John 3:3. (Webs1828)

BORNE - participle passive - of bear. CARRIED; CONVEYED; SUPPORTED; defrayed. - noun - The more correct orthography of bourne, A LIMIT OR BOUNDARY. [See Bourn.] (Webs1828)

BOURN, rather BORNE - noun - 1. A BOUND; A LIMIT. THAT UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY, from whose bourne, no traveller returns. 2. A brook; a torrent; a rivulet... (Webs1828)

TORRENT - noun - [Latin torrens. This is the participle of torreo, to parch; Eng. tear.] 1. A violent rushing stream OF WATER or other fluid; a stream suddenly raised and running rapidly, as down a precipice; as a torrent of lava. 2. A violent or rapid stream; a strong current; AS A TORRENT OF VICES AND FOLLIES; A TORRENT OF CORRUPTION. Erasmus, that great injur'd NAME, Stemm'd the wild torrent of a barb'rous age. - adjective - Rolling or rushing in a rapid stream; as waves of torrent fire. (Webs1828)

CURRENT - adjective - [Latin, to flow or run.] 1. Literally, flowing, running, passing. Hence, passing from person to person, or from hand to hand; circulating; as CURRENT OPINIONS; CURRENT COIN. Hence, COMMON, general or fashionable; generally received; POPULAR; as the current notions of the day or age; current folly. 2. ESTABLISHED BY COMMON ESTIMATION; generally received; as the current value of coin. 3. Passable; that may be ALLOWED OR ADMITTED. 4. Now passing; present in its course; as the current month or year. - noun - 1. A flowing or passing; a stream; applied to fluids; as a current of water, or of air. The gulf stream is a remarkable current in the Atlantic. A current sets into the Mediterranean. 2. COURSE; progressive motion, or movement; CONTINUATION; AS THE CURRENT OF TIME. 3. A connected series; successive course; as the current of EVENTS. 4. General or main course; as the current of opinion. (Webs1828)

CURRENCY - noun - [See CURRENT.] 1. Literally, flowing, running or passing; a continued or uninterrupted COURSE, like that of a stream; as the CURRENCY OF TIME. 2. A CONTINUED COURSE IN PUBLIC OPINION, BELIEF OR RECEPTION; A PASSING FROM PERSON TO PERSON, OR FROM AGE TO AGE; as, a report has had a long or general currency. 3. A CONTINUAL

PASSING FROM HAND TO HAND, as coin or bills of credit; CIRCULATION; as the currency of cents, or of English crowns; the currency of bank bills or treasury notes. 4. Fluency; readiness of utterance; but in this sense we generally use fluency. 5. General estimation; the rate at WHICH ANY THING IS GENERALLY VALUED. He takes greatness of kingdoms according to their bulk and currency and not after intrinsic value. 6. That which is current or in circulation, as a medium of TRADE. The word may be applied to coins, or to bills issued by authority. It is often applied to BANK NOTES, and to notes ISSUED by government. (Webs1828)

RUN - verb - To have CURRENCY OR LEGAL VALIDITY IN A PRESCRIBED TERRITORY; as, the writ runs throughout the county. To have applicability or LEGAL EFFECT DURING A PRESCRIBED PERIOD OF TIME; as, the statute of limitations has run against the claim. TO FOLLOW OR ACCOMPANY; TO BE ATTACHED TO ANOTHER THING IN PURSUING A PRESCRIBED COURSE OR DIRECTION; as, the covenant runs with the land. To conduct, manage, CARRY ON. (Black4)

SERIES - noun - [Latin this word probably belongs to the Shemetic, the primary sense of which is to stretch or STRAIN.] 1. A CONTINUED SUCCESSION IN THE THINGS OF THE SAME ORDER, AND BEARING THE SAME RELATION TO EACH OTHER; AS A SERIES OF KINGS; A SERIES OF SUCCESSORS. 2. Sequence; order; course; succession of things; as a series of calamitous events. 3. In natural history, an order or subdivision of some class of natural bodies. 4. In arithmetic and algebra, a number of terms in succession, increasing or diminishing in a certain ratio; as arithmetical series and geometrical series. [See Progression.] (Webs1828)

CURRENT OBLIGATIONS - The word "current" means passing in time or BELONGING TO THE TIME actually passing, now passing, PRESENT IN ITS COURSE, as the current month, and as applied to CURRENT OBLIGATIONS it denotes the obligations then passing or present in its progress, THE SERVICE RENDERED AND THE COMPENSATION THEREFOR MEASURED BY THE TIME OF THE OCCURRENCE OF THE EVENT. (Black4)

BORROWE - In old Scotch law. A pledge. (Black4)

BORROWER - He to whom a thing is lent AT HIS REQUEST. UNDER USURY STATUTE, one having THE USE OF MONEY BY FORBEARANCE OF HIS CREDITOR, OR ANY PERSON WHO SECURES THE USE OF MONEY in any way upon an excessive consideration; the party who is BOUND BY ORIGINAL CONTRACT TO PAY LOAN; the purchaser of land SUBJECT TO USURIOUS MORTGAGE and subsequent mortgagees; THE INDORSER OF NOTE who received no part of money advanced and WHO WAS MERE SURETY. (Black4)

FORBEARANCE - Act by which creditor waits for payment of debt due him by debtor after it becomes due. A DELAY IN ENFORCING RIGHTS. Refraining from action. The term is used in this sense in general jurisprudence, in contradistinction to "act." WITHIN USURY LAW, term signifies CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATION OF LENDER OR CREDITOR TO REFRAIN, DURING GIVEN PERIOD OF TIME, from requiring borrower or debtor to repay loan or debt then due and payable. (Black4)

USURY - Modern Law. An ILLEGAL contract for a loan or FORBEARANCE of money, goods, or things in action, by which illegal interest is reserved, or agreed to be reserved or taken. An unconscionable and exorbitant rate or amount of interest. AN UNLAWFUL CONTRACT UPON THE LOAN OF MONEY, to receive the same again with exorbitant increase. The reserving and taking, or contracting to reserve and take, either directly or by indirection, a greater sum for the USE of money than the lawful interest. See, also, Usurious Contract. "Usury" does not depend on question whether the lender actually gets more than the legal rate of interest or not: but on whether there was a purpose in his mind to make more than legal interest for the use of money, and whether, by the terms of the transaction, and the means used to effect the loan, he may by its enforcement be enabled to get more than the legal rate. A profit greater than the lawful rate of interest, intentionally EXACTED as a BONUS, FOR THE FORBEARANCE OF AN EXISTING INDEBTEDNESS or a loan of money, imposed upon the necessities of the BORROWER in a transaction where the money is to be returned at all events. Old English Law. Interest of money; increase for the loan of money; A REWARD FOR THE USE OF MONEY. The taking of ANY COMPENSATION WHATEVER for the use of money. (Black4)

— = —

We are periodically charged fines and fees and other exactions (extortions), not because government is a tyranny, but because we voluntarily borrow its personhood and spend our lives paying for its forbearance of our debts. Government, as creditor, and as the origin of conspiracy, of course may charge unlawful usury without fear of lawful punishment. The punisher never punishes himself. The king never turns upon his own crown. And as long as we pay these rents in tribute to the constituted, sovereign magistracy, as long as government is in receivership of these taxes as protection money in exaction, we are left to our civil, public ad-ventures. But for this usurious privilege of contract we pay the price of usury because we exist in pre-tended indebtedness to the creator magistrates of persons, for we are not at rest in God but instead sailing its citizenship in a commercial incorporation, never fixed to the land. Our souls are tied up in bondage, mixed and grafted with the artifice; acting as sureties for its profits in their bankrupt debt system.

TRIBUTE - A CONTRIBUTION which is raised by a prince or sovereign from his subjects to sustain the expenses of the state. A sum of money PAID BY AN INFERIOR sovereign or state to a superior potentate, TO SECURE THE FRIENDSHIP OR PROTECTION OF THE LATTER. (Black1)

TRIBUTE - A contribution which is sometimes RAISED BY THE SOVEREIGN FROM HIS SUBJECT, to sustain the expenses of the state. It is also a sum of money paid by one nation to another UNDER SOME PRETENDED RIGHT. (Bouv1856)

— = —

“And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest.”

—Exodus 33:14, KJB

— = —

To rest on the Sabbath day, the 7th “day,” in honor of the Nature of Jehovah and to give Its fallow fields and Its wondrous beasts of burden rest... that was the commandment of scripture. Jubilee. But the legal Land-Lords altered that perfect rationality of action under Supreme Law yet again into a ceremonial, customary replacement of that Natural Law of God. They turned the verb “rest” into a conceptual noun of fiction and usury, into a charge of extortion (exaction). They made rest into a fee of penalty. They turned man’s place in Nature as his “interest” in Jehovah and in himself and his blood kin into a monetary consideration of interest upon his forbearing-of-God debt obligation to man as god-kings; the Land-Lords of government. Of course, no man of God would dare to pay interest to another man, for his only interests would be solely in serving God in Natural substance, not the artificial and pointless form of mammon (money); only to honor and please God's Nature in reciprocity for the abundance of that beautiful, edible Nature. A man of God would never put himself into the debt and surety of another, as the ancient wisdom of the scriptures instruct him to at all times avoid such misadventures that he would surely smart for. For his creditor will become his false god, his idol, as the nations and their idolatrous gods. Here again we see the word-smiths magically recreating God's prescribed teachings of rest and interest into nothing more than fictions of the usurious legal system. Just as man's person is built upon the back of and collateralized in mammon, so too shall man pay tribute for its anthropomorphized interest in mammon, so that the god of mammon shall rest as the peace of its commerce rules in supremacy over the land by flooding it with the virtual sea.

Perhaps nothing strikes this author as more ridiculous in the false corporate "Christian" dialectic (fallacious logic) than the notion of "resting" on Sundays only, of going to church as if that fulfills some obligation to God. It does not. It is an affront upon the Word. For to participate in evil, in mammon, in commerce 6 days a week and then pretend to be holy only one day per week is the epitome of asininity. Nowhere does the Word of God say be evil except on the Sabbath day. This is the perfect example of the sheer irrational behavior caused by the priest-class, pharisees, the gods of nations, and the usurious changers of money. And of course when we see that this word "day" is yet another obfuscating word used by the King's terms of art in dog-Latin confusion, we may take a whole new meaning from this word, which figuratively may mean anything from a day to a year to a lifetime, and even as an age. The rigmarole of this 7 day schedule has nothing of the spirit within its design, the modern calendar of course being a Roman creation. Only he who is unspiritually fixed in the pursuit of worldly possessions via the vessel and misadventure of commercial citizenship would suffer such a schedule of tolerated corruption of mind, capitalist employment (use) of the body, and indiscriminate perversion of the soul.

And with his interest laid firmly in the dependence of money, man's stake in Jehovah is lost. For his stake (cross) becomes paper thin in form only and without any anchor to the land (to God, to Reality). We are all parabolically lost at sea.

From action (verb) to fiction (noun)...

RESTS - noun - Periodical BALANCING'S OF AN ACCOUNT, (particularly in mortgage and trust accounts), made for the purpose of CONVERTING INTEREST INTO PRINCIPAL, and CHARGING THE PARTY LIABLE thereon with compound interest. (Black4)

INTEREST - verb transitive - [Latin inter and esse.] 1. To concern; TO AFFECT; to excite emotion or passion, usually in favor, but SOMETIMES AGAINST A PERSON OR THING. A narration of suffering interests us in favor of the sufferer. We are interested in the story or in the fate of the sufferer. We are interested to know the result, ISSUE or EVENT of an ENTERPRISE. It is followed by in or for. We are interested in the narration, but for the sufferer. 2. TO GIVE A SHARE IN, Christ, by his atonement, has INTERESTED BELIEVERS in the blessings of THE COVENANT OF GRACE. 3. TO HAVE A SHARE. We are not all interested in the public funds, but we are all interested in the happiness of a free government. 4. TO ENGAGE; as, to interest one in our favor. TO INTEREST ONE'S SELF, IS TO TAKE A SHARE OR CONCERN IN - noun - Concern; advantage; good; as PRIVATE INTEREST; PUBLIC INTEREST. Divisions hinder the common interest and public good. 1. INFLUENCE OVER OTHERS. They had now lost their interest at court. He knew his interest sufficient to procure the office. 2. SHARE; PORTION; PART; PARTICIPATION IN VALUE. He has parted with his interest in the stocks. He has an interest in a manufactory of cotton goods. 3. Regard to PRIVATE profit. 'Tis interest calls off all her sneaking train. 4. PREMIUM PAID FOR THE USE OF MONEY; the profit per cent derived from money lent, OR PROPERTY USED BY ANOTHER PERSON, OR FROM DEBTS REMAINING UNPAID. Commercial states have a legal rate of interest. Debts on book BEAR an interest after the expiration of the credit. Courts allow interest in many cases where it is not stipulated. A higher rate of interest than that which THE LAW ALLOWS, is called usury. Simple interest is that which arises from the principal sum only. Compound interest is that which arises from the principal with the interest added; INTEREST ON INTEREST. 5. Any surplus advantage. With all speed, you shall have your desire with interest. (Webs1828)

—=—

If a man's interest is in money, and if everything in his purview of conscious thought is therefore to be valued only in money, including his own life and its taxable future labor potential (actuarial), then man's master is obviously money (mammon). Though man may kill for money to obtain a temporary but false sense of financial freedom, he will somehow not do the same to gain his ability to be free from that very same system of enslavement.

It is very important to know that man in person-hood and citizen-ship has not merely his every interest in money, but that his name is only money under mammon. His signature is magically monetized into new debt currency, creating new money from that dark void, as all money under mammon represents only debt (to the god of nothingness). Only form, no substance. A false god. Money is created by man's use of that person in ad-venture capitalism, and the creation of money by his name (signature) upon any and every application is likened unto a virtual charge against the christian name of Jehovah, a sacrifice to appease the god of money so as to hold at bay the God of Nature. Every aspect of our civil life in personhood revolves around our interest in money. And yet the money is never ours. We have the mere privilege of use. It is only ever attached to the admixed commercial surname. We cannot actually earn anything Naturally by using another's political property to receive it. What is purchased (conquered) by it therefore cannot be our own, for the acquiring of anything by money is always false; an artificial title for public use. But the public is a domain not our own. The public owns our surname. What is received in citizenship can be confiscated at any time by the creator-government of that ship. And we pay a heavy price indeed, not only by the usury charged from our mere use of another's money (commercial paper), but in the fact that we are the actual collateral for that money. Our names are created by and only as monetary considerations, for the use and creation of more money, a charge that can never be paid back by permanent debtors with no ability to discharge our foundational, constituted performance debt.

But without debt, government would cease to exist. Its very purpose is debt and no other. Its only power issues from debt. Its constitution is defined as "a debt compact." All of its laws revolve around debt and the foolish debtors who faithfully charge it in pledge. Its only purpose is to service debt. It is truly a debtor's hell with no possibility of escape under its circular system of law...

Which is why we must overcome its artful designs and abandon its false gods.

CAPITULATION - noun - 1. The act of capitulating, or SURRENDERING to an enemy upon stipulated terms or conditions. 2. The treaty or instrument containing the conditions of surrender. 3. A REDUCING TO HEADS. 4. In German polity, a contract which the Emperor makes with the electors, in the names of the princes and states of the empire, before he is raised to the imperial dignity. (Webs1828)

—=—

Man is reduced to heads. Another word for head is capita. Man is considered per capita; per head... just like cattle. This is called "capitalism."

CAPITE - Latin. By the head. TENURE IN CAPITE was an ancient FEUDAL tenure, whereby a man held lands of the king immediately. It was of two sorts: the one, principal and general, or OF THE KING AS THE SOURCE OF ALL TENURE; the other, special and subaltern, or of a particular subject. It is now abolished. Jacob. As to distribution per capita, see Capita, per.

CAPITA - Heads, and, figuratively, entire bodies. WHETHER OF PERSONS OR ANIMALS. PERSONS INDIVIDUALLY CONSIDERED, WITHOUT RELATION TO OTHERS, (polls); as distinguished from stirpes or STOCKS OF DESCENT. The term in this sense, making part of the common phrases, in capita, per capita, is derived from the civil law.

PER CAPITA - By heads; by the poll; as individuals. In the distribution of an intestate's personalty, the persons legally entitled to take are said to take per capita, that is, EQUAL SHARES, WHEN THEY CLAIM, EACH IN HIS OWN RIGHT, AS IN EQUAL DEGREE OF KINDRED; in contradistinction to claiming by right of representation, or per stripes.

— = —

The public acts in capita (by the head), and so the private through its constituted government takes (taxes) per capita. The private always acts in the representation of and as a part of a bloodline of some private family or lineal stock of fabled genealogy, while the public person in agency never acts in his own right (e.g. sui juris) but through the property (person) of another. In other words, the public person and thus the man standing in surety to it is stuck in (pledged to) a modern, re-presented feudatory tenancy upon the private lands of the gods of the nation. The man in public person represents his Self as something he is not, and certainly not by his connection of blood and Arms to some private family. His family is in the stead of the state, that creator of publicity, the nation to which a fictional person's birth and nativity is rendered and certified, and then confirmed and ratified by the man acting thereof in agency. The private man has no thing to render back to Caesar, for his private person is not born (rendered) by that district of seizure, distress, and distraint. The public person shares only in the bloodless, backwards live (evil) of fictional things.

Evil is not merely some Biblical term. In fact, it was used for a variety of ailments, diseases, and political conditions in days of old. We forget sometimes that all the words of the Bible were in existence long before the Bible was written, and that such existence was certainly not an English existence. In its etymology, the noun evil stems from the Old English yfel. In its adjective form, this Old English word (in Kentish being evel) meant "bad, vicious, ill, wicked," from Proto-Germanic ubilaz and cognates: Old Saxon ubil, Old Frisian and Middle Dutch evel, Dutch euvel, Old High German ubil, German übel, and Gothic ubils), from PIE upelo-, from root wap- "bad, evil" and as the cognate: Hittite huwapp- "evil". In Old English and other older Germanic languages other than Scandinavian, "this word is the most comprehensive adjectival expression of disapproval, dislike or disparagement." Evil was the word the Anglo-Saxons used where we would use bad, cruel, unskillful, defective (adjective), or harm (noun), crime, misfortune, or disease (noun). In Middle English, bad took the wider range of senses and EVIL BEGAN TO FOCUS ON MORAL BADNESS. Both words have good as their opposite. In the 1520's, evil-favored meant "ugly." Evilchild is attested as an English SURNAME from the 13th century. The adverb is Old English yfele, originally OF WORDS OR SPEECH. Also as a noun in Old English, "what is bad; sin, wickedness; ANYTHING THAT CAUSES INJURY, MORALLY OR PHYSICALLY." Especially of a malady or disease circa 1200. The meaning "extreme moral wickedness" was one of the senses of the Old English noun, but it did not become established as the main sense of the modern word until the 18th century. As a noun, Middle English also had evilty. Related: Evilly. Evil eye (Latin oculus malus) was Old English eage yfel. The jocular notion of an evil twin as an excuse for regrettable deeds is by 1986, American English, from an old motif in mythology.

Remember, the national debt is a charge equally placed upon each person individually but as one body politic (nationalized) as well. One can only be charged with evil by evil men under evil titles while under color of law and false (evil) authority. It is charged per head (per capita), meaning individually. It is a capitalist system, meaning that man as person is only considered by his capita value (per head, as of cattle/chattel), while the group or herd is charged as merely one body politic, or as the "general public." The point is, that which is charged (as contracted debt, as dis-ease) can ultimately only ever dissipate by being discharged. It cannot simply be paid with money, for it is not only a monetary debt. It is a performance contract in persona. The performance of the pledge must be executed to the satisfaction of the granter of the person (status). The agent must fulfill the charge of his agency. The strawman must pose and do the bidding of his farmer (creator). He must please the god of his person. The charge, of course, happens at birth when that official birth certificate as a financial instrument and creation of a legal entity in fiction is monetized, creating the wager of a hopefully confirmed and ratified fictional entity in mammon as a felon in franchise (civil, commercial freedom). From this original, accidental charge of birth, like a “credit card” our very legal existence in strawman form is continuously re-charged by the very debt of the nation. And we can never pay off this debt, for such a debt represents the very purpose of our artificial, civil life in the invisible chains of mammon. Just as one does not escape from that scriptural hell presented in religious lore, one does not escape this debtor’s hell while still claiming and acting in the rights of the person-hood controlled by the devil’s of the exchequer (treasury). This is to say that the person (status) of the state exists only in hell, and the man in surety to it cannot escape from that debtor’s hell while legally, contractually attached in any way to that public persona. The person lives only in hell. The man lives only in the heaven of untouched Nature, unless he pretends his Self to be some thing, some person (noun/name) he is not. I cannot express the importance of this realization, that it is our very false re-presentation as a Self-deceit and lack of True Self respect that creates this hell on earth. For it is only the fiction of men, the artificial self (persona) turned into a virtual reality by our belief (love) in its veracity and in the sovereign authority of those idolatrous gods of all the nations. The money is representative of an non-payable debt, as a performance that can never be executed. But the money itself is not the source of the debt, only a tool used to support its illusion. We live in agency to serve our person’s principal. Debt is not merely the owing of money, its True purpose and intent is to cause obligations implied in the commercial use of that money, to contractually require performance where none would exist before, as the making of a dis-ease. Without debt, this current (currency of) government would serve no purpose, for without such charged debtors in pledge to pay an unplayable debt and tax, no commercial system would be needed to administer that debt and its paradoxical performance debtors. Whatever purpose or justification the reader may put upon the use of money, we must know that first and foremost money is only an inducement to contract a legal dis-ease. Without money, we’d have our feet firmly upon the land and live only in Reality at all times, seeking that which we need and not that which we merely desire. We would rely on our own land and upon others in the Purest expression and totally unregulated Freedom of Love and Charity, not upon some conglomerate corporation in total dependence upon the smooth and uncharitable running of the commercial state. We would be “off-grid” in the most spiritual sense of that phrase, the only meaning that counts. We would certainly need no vessel (citizen-ship), for the sea of commerce would have dried up just as its governing devils would have withered away, waiting to prey on the future generations of those who woke up in this one by incrementally causing their fictional dis-ease to contractually spread once again. The franchise would be replaced by the Real thing - Natural Freedom under only God’s Law of Nature by Self-governing men.

This is my dream. MLK can eat my shorts!

The only way to discharge the debt is to dock the ship, to stop using that public persona (legal status) which is thus charged, to abandon the commercial agency by abandoning the use of the name in mammon as a tool for money management. For the debt of citizenship is a debt of performance, not of mere money.

Consider the difference here, figuratively, between earth and water. When we seek to ground a charge of electricity, we literally hold it to the ground (the land) so that it is discharged. But what happens if we are standing permanently in water, in the sea? Water is a conductor of that charge, and therefore a man who has only legal standing in the fictional sea of commerce with no access to stand upon the land will continue to hold that charge of debt regardless of his beliefs. A person, as a commercial vessel, is designed to do exactly that - to hold a charge of permanent debt.

Thus, for this god of mammon to exist (as a lie) and thrive (subsist), it must continuously deceive us into claiming interest in that beast system in opposition to God. We must believe in (love) it. We must be separated from our very Nature, from Jehovah, from the land. And we must live in a state of permanent use, and therefore subsist only in a simulated feudal state of usury. As we manifest that fiction in persona despite God and Nature, we must pay interest for the very use and surety of the strawman person in sur-name, and the only way to pay is to create new money all the time by our continuous charges via sig-nature. In other words, as pertaining to the citizen-ship, money becomes our nature and essence, our building blocks, our DNA; for the monetized false blood of legal persons is the currency of debt. Monetary debt is only numbers, and numbers are only the digital terms of yet another form of coded language designed to deceive and obfuscate us from our Nature.

—=—

“When there is concurrence of means, HE WHO HAS CHOSEN ONE CANNOT HAVE RECOURSE TO ANOTHER.”

—Electa una via, non datur recursus ad alteram. 10 Toull. n. 170. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

God never abandons us, we abandon God. For we choose the fiction of mammon as our means and therefore have no recourse to God’s light and protections of Natural Law according to the law of persons in that consented to system of mammon. Our choice, our election is clear, for our actions in the person of another expresses our consent.

We live in mammon using and being used as money, in usurious contract as permanent borrowers. We borrow for our own use the commercial person so as to have said interest (stake) in that fiction of mammon - the power to create debt as “credit” by our signature. And our commercial voyage re-sets our course away from God into the usurious heart of evil (legal fiction).

—=—

“He that diligently seeketh good procureth favour: but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him. HE THAT TRUSTETH IN HIS RICHES SHALL FALL...”

—Proverbs 11: 27-28, KJB

—=—

This word credit is yet another completely misunderstood and thus misused word by the public-minded fools who place value on fictional things. And the actual meaning of this word is unsettling to be sure, even as we bestow upon the gods of the nations a credit they do not deserve.

CREDIT - noun - [Latin, See CREED.] 1. BELIEF; FAITH; A RELIANCE OR RESTING OF THE MIND ON THE TRUTH OF SOMETHING SAID OR DONE. WE GIVE CREDIT TO A MANS DECLARATION, WHEN THE MIND RESTS ON THE TRUTH OF IT, WITHOUT DOUBT OR SUSPICION, which is attended with wavering. We give credit to testimony or to a report, when we rely on its truth and certainty. 2. REPUTATION DERIVED FROM THE CONFIDENCE OF OTHERS. Esteem; estimation; GOOD OPINION FOUNDED ON A BELIEF OF A MANS VERACITY, INTEGRITY, ABILITIES AND VIRTUE; as a physician in high credit with his brethren. Hence, 3. HONOR; REPUTATION; ESTIMATION; APPLIED TO MEN OR THINGS. A man gains no credit by profaneness; and a poem may lose no credit by criticism. The credit of a man depends on his virtues; the credit of his writings, on their worth. 4. That which procures or IS ENTITLED TO BELIEF; testimony;

AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM ONES CHARACTER, OR FROM THE CONFIDENCE OF OTHERS. WE BELIEVE A STORY ON THE CREDIT OF THE NARRATOR. We believe in miracles on the credit of inspired men. We trust to the credit of assertion, made by a man of known veracity. 5. INFLUENCE DERIVED FROM THE REPUTATION OF VERACITY OR INTEGRITY, or from the good opinion or confidence of others; INTEREST; POWER DERIVED FROM WEIGHT OF CHARACTER, FROM FRIENDSHIP, FIDELITY OR OTHER CAUSE. A minister may have great credit with a prince. He may employ his credit TO GOOD OR EVIL PURPOSES. A man uses his credit with a friend; A SERVANT, WITH HIS MASTER. 6. In commerce, TRUST; transfer of goods in confidence of future payment. When the merchant gives a credit he sells his wares on an expressed or implied promise that the purchaser will pay for them at a future time. The seller believes in the solvability and probity of the purchaser, and delivers his goods on that belief or trust; or he delivers them on the credit or reputation of the purchaser. The purchaser takes what is sold, on credit. In like manner, money is loaned on the credit of the borrower. 7. THE CAPACITY OF BEING TRUSTED; or the reputation of solvency and probity which entitles a man to be trusted. A customer has good credit or no credit with a merchant. 8. In book-keeping, the side of an account in which payment is entered; opposed to debit. This article is carried to ones credit and that to his debit. We speak of the credit side of an account. 9. PUBLIC CREDIT THE CONFIDENCE WHICH MEN ENTERTAIN IN THE ABILITY AND DISPOSITION OF A NATION, to make good its engagements with its creditors; or the estimation in which individuals hold the public promises of payment, WHETHER SUCH PROMISES ARE EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED. The term is also applied to the general credit of individuals in a nation; when merchants and others are wealthy, and punctual in fulfilling engagements; or when they transact business with honor (and) fidelity; or when transfers of property are made with ease for ready payment. So we speak of the credit of a bank, when general confidence is placed in its ability to redeem its notes; and the credit of a mercantile house rests on its supposed ability and probity, WHICH INDUCE MEN TO TRUST TO ITS ENGAGEMENTS. Cherish public credit. When the public credit is questionable, it raises the premium on loans. 10. THE NOTES OR BILLS WHICH ARE ISSUED BY THE PUBLIC OR BY CORPORATIONS OR INDIVIDUALS, WHICH CIRCULATE ON THE CONFIDENCE OF MEN IN THE ABILITY AND DISPOSITION IN THOSE WHO ISSUE THEM, TO REDEEM THEM. They are sometimes called bills of credit. 11. The TIME given for payment for lands or goods sold on trust; as a long credit or a short credit. 12. A sum of money due to any person; ANY THING VALUABLE STANDING ON THE CREDITOR SIDE OF AN ACCOUNT. A has a credit on the books of B. The credits are more than balanced by the debits. [In this sense, the word has the plural number.] - verb transitive - [from the Noun.] 1. TO BELIEVE; TO CONFIDE IN THE TRUTH OF; as, to credit a report, OR THE MAN WHO TELLS IT. 2. TO TRUST; to sell or loan in confidence of future payment; as, to credit goods or money. 3. To procure credit or honor; to do credit; TO GIVE REPUTATION OR HONOR. May here her monument stand so, to credit this rude age. 4. To enter upon the credit side of an account; as, to credit the amount paid. 5. To set to the credit of; as, to credit to a man the interest paid on a bond. (Webs1828)

— = —

Faith, belief, trust, confidence... these are the essential elements that create the authority of law. It is not guns or the men wielding them, for they too must possess these same attributes regarding the fictional issuer of their Arms and their license to use them. Their own individual authority counts on their master's legitimacy in the eyes of the illegitimates who subscribe to it. And in the end, the only way to cause this to happen, this false estimation of the worth of a nation and its sovereign (lawless) magistracy, is to cause man to see other men as merely individual valuations of money. Just what is a man's life worth? In America, apparently the answer to that question is a paycheck of slightly more than minimum wage plus a federal pension and quite shitty veteran's health insurance for the life of the "person" so entitled.

PENSIO - Latin. In the civil law. A payment, properly, for the USE OF A THING. A RENT; A PAYMENT FOR THE USE AND OCCUPATION OF ANOTHER'S HOUSE. (Black4)

PENSION - A stated allowance out of the public treasury granted by government to an individual, or to his representatives, FOR HIS VALUABLE SERVICES TO THE COUNTRY, or in compensation for LOSS OR DAMAGE SUSTAINED BY HIM IN THE PUBLIC SERVICE. "Pensions" are in the nature of BOUNTIES OF THE GOVERNMENT, WHICH IT HAS THE RIGHT TO GIVE, WITHHOLD, DISTRIBUTE, OR RECALL AT ITS DISCRETION. In civil, Scotch, and Spanish law. A rent; an annual rent. In English practice. An annual payment MADE BY EACH MEMBER of the inns of court. Also an assembly of the members of the society of Gray's Inn, to consult of their affairs. (Black4)

PENSIONER - One who is supported by an allowance AT THE WILL OF ANOTHER; A DEPENDENT. It is usually applied (in a public sense) to those who receive pensions or annuities from government, who are chiefly such as have retired FROM PLACES OF HONOR AND EMOLUMENT. Persons making periodical payments are sometimes so called. Thus, resident undergraduates of the university of Cambridge, who are not on the foundation of any college, are spoken of as "pensioners." The head of one of the Inns of Court, otherwise the Treasurer. Pension was used to designate meetings of the Benchers in Gray's Inn. (Black4)

PENSION (repeated) - An allowance made to any one without an equivalent. In England, it is generally understood to mean PAY GIVEN TO A STATE HIRELING FOR TREASON TO HIS COUNTRY. (Samuel Johnson's Dictionary of the English Language, 1755)

— = —

Notice here the difference between a Bar attorney (e.g. a barrister of the inns of court) and the public agent that we act in surety as for the public person (status). Both of these are agents (attorneys), and both are pensioners, but one of them pays and one is so paid. This seemingly trifling contemplation is actually very important.

A pension, as defined, is a form of rent. And so when it comes to a professional attorney, an agent and officer of the courts of government and as a registered and confirmed member of such a legal law society thereof, the person is actually paying for that title in membership. In other words, the attorney pays a pension in order to rent his approved and legalized flattering title from that government and society. This is to say the person must pay a pension to use some thing belonging to another, in this case a legal status and title of "attorney," so that he may use that title in good standing.

So why then does government pay pensions to its public persons? It's real simple. We allow our Selves to be employed (used) by government, and so government pays us to rent us for its own evil designs. It may, for instance, require through draft a person to join the military. For this, it pays rent for service. And so we may say that, as defined by the eccentric Samuel Johnson in his own honest and quirky dictionary, that we are paid pensions to commit treason against our country, remembering that it is the People, not the legal documents or municipalities, that are the True country, just as the People are the Real church, not a building or corporation in name only. To work and be pensioned to the United States is certainly a treason against the private States (Peoples). For one cannot be private and public at the same time, and one cannot serve two masters at one time. Ultimately though, to be a pensioner of any type is always to be in blasphemy to God. Again, this rent paid to hireling mercenaries of the state is purely an inducement to contract with fiction and to respect the gods of that fiction as higher than Source. It is to give service to the kingship and in return receive rent.

But the scriptures and indeed the very essence of the Maxim's as foundational principals of law tell us that first and foremost man and Nature should never be evaluated in mammon. No price should ever purchase (conquer) a man's morals in employment. And from what I have come to understand, the devaluation of all Life and the Source of It is the first key to everlasting Peace and an eternal Life for all men upon this overtly coveted but seemingly unreachable heaven on Earth.

—=—

“The human body does not admit of valuation.”

—CORPUS HUMANUM NON RECIPIT AESTIMATIONEM. Hob. 59.

—=—

“The body of a freeman does not admit of valuation.”

—Liberum corpus aestimationem non recipit.

—=—

“That which is granted or reserved under a certain form, is not to be drawn into a valuation.”

—Quod sub certa forma concessum vel reservatum est, non trahitur advalorem vel compensationem. Bacon's Max. Reg. 4. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“The value of a thing IS ESTIMATED BY ITS WORTH IN MONEY, and the value of money IS NOT ESTIMATED BY REFERENCE TO ONE THING.”

—Res per pecuniam aestimatur, et non pecunia per res. 9 Co. 76; 1 Bouv. Inst. n. 922.

—=—

“The wisdom of law CANNOT BE VALUED BY MONEY.”

—Sapientia legis nummario pretio non est aestemanda.

—=—

These are not the principles of those who have created this system of commerce by any means, except to say that these are the principles that they live by when dealing with themselves in privacy. For the public though, these foundational maxims that protect the privacy of man are contractually destroyed by those contingencies and exceptional principles of the public persona. Obviously these maxims do not apply to slaves, be they voluntarily or involuntarily induced into that valuation of forced “laborers.” The support and protection of the commercial institution of slavery by the united States constitution tells us that these men in their private estates do not apply their own foundational principles of law to anyone but themselves, for slavery could not exist without such exceptions to those spiritual, scriptural rules. He who reserves his own rights under the authority of God in privacy is the only man who may receive the benefit of such spiritually principled Maxim's of law as we have just read them. All others, literally and figuratively, be damned. Put into damnation. The damned nation.

Money has no value intrinsically, only when comported to other things. Thus, a private man has no person (thing) to be valued, for his status is not commercial. To be priceless is to be Truly Free. As for the notion that the wisdom of law is priceless, this is only in reference to private, Natural Law, not to commercial, public law. For the principles of law always allow and protect man in his own choice to sell his mind, body, and soul. To know the spiritual, scriptural Law necessarily causes man to avoid all other forms of fiction as man's corrupted law. This is the only True wisdom. But false knowledge abounds, and so as the Bible instructs, we should avoid those who are wise only in their own conceit, whose wisdom rests in false valuation of Real things, and whose source of knowledge is only the fictional histories and educative, institutionalized logical fallacies of man. He who lives by the veracity of the valuation of the noun (name) of all things lives without recognizing the timeless and priceless spirit, living only in the simulacrum, the copy with no Original, no Real Source.

We literally manifest usury openly in society (public) by our use of that fictional strawman, creating fictional interest on top of fictional debt compounded with more interest to be added as more debt and be charged more interest leading to unplayable debt. Of course, if all that debt were paid, no money would technically exist in any lawful way, for credit is only faith-based. A game of confidence. A sham. And no debt would mean no need for credit. We continuously eat from that fig-apple tree of useless concepts in the garden (open-air prison) of credit and debt, of good and evil. We exist only as usurious bastards in the corrupted eyes of the legal state, and so that is how we are governed (controlled).

USURA - Latin. In the civil law. Money given for the USE of money; INTEREST. Commonly used in the plural, "usurae." (Black4)

USURA MANIFESTA - Manifest or open usury; as distinguished from usura velata, veiled or concealed usury, which consists in giving a BOND for the loan, in the amount of which is included the stipulated interest. (Black4)

USUARIUS - Latin. In the civil law. One who had the MERE USE OF A THING BELONGING TO ANOTHER for the purpose of supplying his daily WANTS; A USUARY. (Black4)

USURARIUS - In old English law. A usurer. (Black4)

USURIOUS - Pertaining to usury; PARTAKING OF THE NATURE OF USURY; involving usury; TAINTED WITH USURY; as, A USURIOUS CONTRACT. (Black4)

USURIOUS CONTRACT - A contract if interest contracted to be paid exceeds the rate ESTABLISHED BY STATUTE. It being sufficient when there is contingency whereby lender may get MORE THAN LAWFUL RATE of interest. (Black4)

USUS - Latin. In Roman law. A precarious ENJOYMENT of land, corresponding with the right of habitatio of houses, and being closely analogous to the tenancy at sufferance or at will of English law. THE USURIUS (I. E., TENANT BY USUS) COULD ONLY HOLD ON SO LONG AS THE OWNER FOUND HIM CONVENIENT, and had to go so soon as ever he was in the owner's way (molestus.) The usuarius could not have a friend to share the produce. It was scarcely permitted to him (Justinian says) to have even his wife with him on the land; and he could not let or sell, the right being strictly PERSONAL to himself. Brown. (Black4)

USUS FRUCTUS - Latin. In Roman law. USUFRUCT; usufructuary right or possession. THE TEMPORARY RIGHT OF USING A THING, WITHOUT HAVING THE ULTIMATE PROPERTY, OR FULL DOMINION, OF THE SUBSTANCE. (Black4)

USO - In Spanish law. Usage; that which arises from certain things which men say and do and PRACTICE uninterruptedly for a great length of time, without any hindrance whatever. (Black4)

USUAL - Habitual; ordinary; customary; according to usage or custom; COMMONLY ESTABLISHED, OBSERVED, OR PRACTICED. Such as is in common use or occurs in ordinary practice or course of events. Synonymous with custom, common, wonted, regular. (Black4)

USUAL COURSE - These words in statute excepting from application of Compensation Act employment not in usual course of employer's trade or business, refer to normal operations constituting regular business of employer. (Black4)

USUAL PLACE OF ABODE - Within meaning of statute relating to SERVICE OF PROCESS is place where defendant is actually living at time of service. (Black4)

USUCAPIO, or USUCAPTIO - A term of Roman law used to denote a mode of acquisition of property. It corresponds very nearly to the term "prescription." But the prescription of Roman law differed from that of the English law, in this: that no mala fide possessor (i.e., PERSON IN POSSESSION KNOWINGLY OF THE PROPERTY OF ANOTHER) could, by however long a period, acquire title by possession merely. The two essential requisites to usucapio were justa causa (i.e., TITLE) and bona fides, (i.e., IGNORANCE.) The term "usucapio" is sometimes, but erroneously, written "usucaptio." (Black4)

— = —

Our residence is only a part of mammon, words on paper that represent our fixedness in mere monetary consideration. We are only bona fide users of the mala fide holders. Another phraseology for this state of use as a usuary is called Cestui Que Use.

CESTUI, CESTUY - He. Used frequently in composition in law French phrases. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE VIE - HE WHOSE LIFE IS THE MEASURE OF THE DURATION OF AN ESTATE. The PERSON for whose life any lands, tenements, or hereditaments are held. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE USE - He for whose use and benefit lands or tenements ARE HELD BY ANOTHER. The cestui que use has the right to receive the profits and benefits of the estate, but the legal title and possession (as well as the duty of defending the same) RESIDE IN THE OTHER. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE TRUST - He who has a RIGHT to a beneficial interest in and out OF AN ESTATE THE LEGAL TITLE TO WHICH IS VESTED IN ANOTHER. The person who possesses the equitable right to property and receives the rents, issues, and profits thereof, the legal estate of which is VESTED IN A TRUSTEE. Beneficiary of trust. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE TRUST - He for whose benefit ANOTHER PERSON IS SEISED OF LANDS OR TENEMENTS OR IS POSSESSED OF PERSONAL PROPERTY. He who has a right to a beneficial interest in and out of an estate the legal title to which is VESTED IN ANOTHER. He may be said to be THE EQUITABLE OWNER, (and) is entitled therefore, to the rents and profits; may transfer his interest, subject to the provisions of the instrument creating the trust; MAY DEFEND HIS TITLE IN THE NAME OF HIS TRUSTEE; BUT HAS NO LEGAL TITLE TO THE ESTATE, AS HE IS MERELY A

TENANT AT WILL IF HE OCCUPIES THE ESTATE; AND MAY BE REMOVED FROM POSSESSION IN AN ACTION OF EJECTMENT by his own trustee. See Trust. (Bouv1892)

—=—

Oft quoted but little understood, the 1666 Cestui Que Act of Great Britain is very much about the law of persons, and is clear that estate is attached to person. As we now fully understand that a spiritually dead man is a legal person under the crown or nation, and that all lands stem from that dead trust, this act explains and attempts to rectify the strange occurrence of very much alive men being seen as dead when “beyond sea,” meaning beyond the king’s realm of jurisdiction. Persons simply cannot exist anywhere outside of a legal jurisdiction unless an agreement between two kingdoms (principalities) is created so as to cause such recognition of foreign persons. So it is with each State of the United States, as well as with each nation. And today we may acquire a world passport from the United Nations so that our person is recognized and protected in all consenting nations, so that we as persons don’t have so many “inconveniences” in our dead existence and travels.

Let us read this “strawman” act, the Cestui Que Vie Act of 1666, as it stands today in parliament, with the citations that include:

- “The Cestui que Vie Act 1666” given by Statute Law Revision Act 1948 (c. 62), Sch. 2
- Preamble omitted in part under authority of Statute Law Revision Act 1948 (c. 62), Sch. 1
- Certain words of enactment repealed by Statute Law Revision Act 1888 (c. 3) and remainder omitted under authority of Statute Law Revision Act 1948 (c. 62), s. 3
- Abbreviations or contractions in the original form of this Act have been expanded into modern lettering in the text set out above and below.

—=—

Cestui Que Vie Act 1666
1666 CHAPTER 11 18 and 19 Cha 2

An Act for Redresse of Inconveniencies by want of Proofoe of the DECEASES OF PERSONS beyond the Seas or absenting themselves, UPON WHOSE LIVES ESTATES DOE DEPEND.

X1 Recital that Cestui que vies have gone beyond Sea, and that Reversioners cannot find out WHETHER THEY ARE ALIVE OR DEAD.

Whereas diverse Lords of Mannours and others have granted Estates by Lease for one or more life or lives, or else for yeares determinable upon one or more life or lives, And it hath often happened that such person or persons for whose life or lives such Estates have beene granted have gone beyond the Seas or soe absented themselves for many yeares that the Lessors and Reversioners cannot finde out whether such person or persons be alive or dead by reason whereof such Lessors and Reversioners have beene held out of possession of their Tenements for many yeares after all the lives upon which such Estates depend are dead in regard that the Lessors and Reversioners when they have brought Actions for the recovery of their Tenements have beene putt upon it to prove the death of their Tennants when it is almost impossible for them to discover the same, For remedy of which mischeife soe frequently happening to such Lessors or Reversioners.

[I.] Cestui que vie remaining beyond Sea for Seven Years together and no Proof of their Lives, Judge in Action to direct a Verdict as though Cestui que vie WERE DEAD.

If such person or persons for whose life or lives such Estates have beene or shall be granted as aforesaid shall remaine beyond the Seas or elsewhere absent themselves in this Realme by the space of seaven yeares together and noe sufficient and evident prooffe be made of the lives of such person or persons respectively in any Action commenced for recovery of such Tenements by the Lessors or Reversioners IN EVERY SUCH CASE THE PERSON OR PERSONS UPON WHOSE LIFE OR LIVES SUCH ESTATE DEPENDED SHALL BE ACCOUNTED AS NATURALLY DEAD, And in every Action brought for the recovery of the said Tenements by the Lessors or Reversioners their Heires or Assignes, the Judges before whom such Action shall be brought shall direct the Jury to give their Verdict as if the person soe remaining beyond the Seas or otherwise absenting himselfe were dead.

II. S. II repealed by Statute Law Revision Act 1948 (c. 62), Sch. 1

III. S. III repealed by Statute Law Revision Act 1863 (c. 125)

IV. If the supposed dead Man prove to be alive, then the Title is revested. Action for mean Profits with Interest.

[X2. Provided alwayes That if any person or [X3 person or] persons shall be evicted out of any Lands or Tenements by vertue of this Act, and afterwards if such PERSON OR PERSONS UPON WHOSE LIFE OR LIVES SUCH ESTATE OR ESTATES DEPEND shall returne againe from beyond the Seas, or shall on prooffe in any Action to be brought for recovery of the same [X3 to] BE MADE APPEARE TO BE LIVEING; or to have beene liveing at the time of the Eviction, That then and from thenceforth the Tennant or Lessee who was outed of the same his or their Executors Administrators or Assignes shall or may reenter repossesse have hold and enjoy the said Lands or Tenements in his or their former Estate for and dureing the Life or Lives or soe long terme as the said person or persons upon whose Life or Lives the said Estate or Estates depend shall be liveing, and alsoe shall upon Action or Actions to be brought by him or them against the Lessors Reversioners or Tennants in possession or other persons respectively which since the time of the said Eviction received the Proffitts of the said Lands or Tenements recover for damages the full Proffitts of the said Lands or Tenements respectively with lawfull Interest for and from the time that he or they were outed of the said Lands or Tenements, and kepte or held out of the same by the said Lessors Reversioners Tennants or other persons who after the said Eviction received the Proffitts of the said Lands or Tenements or any of them respectively as well in the case when the said person or persons upon whose Life or Lives such Estate or Estates did depend are or shall be dead at the time of bringing of the said Action or Actions as if the said person or persons where then liveing.]

—Cestui Que Vie Act 1666, 1666 c. 11 (Regnal. 18_and_19_Cha_2), from the U.K. Legislature Archives

— = —

Here we can see that a pirate, in order to steal the lands and tenements of all men, simply need cause those men to become somehow dead in their consideration as living (spiritually alive) men. Personhood, as public citizenship to the United States, causes such an attainder of blood so as to mimic such a natural death. In other words, by causing all newly born heirs of the blood to be registered and certified as foreign, public United States citizenships instead of as private heirs of the blood of one of the private, landholding People (several States), the pirates can then enter onto those lands and claim them as their own. For no heirs are apparent. No heirs are alive.

And yet, even in this Cestui Que Vie Act as currently active law, we find that a man need merely prove he is alive for his trust and lands and tenements to be re-granted and all profits and interests made by these land-grabbing pirates in their trickery must be recompensed to the proven, living heir!

We can now fully understand the purpose of creating this nation, this district (distress, distraint, seizure), this pirate cove, which is purely to cause the fictional death of all the commonalty and to lesson the numbers of landholders by diminishing legitimized heirship. And so we are back to the notion of fabled genealogies, for without lawfully considered blood and Arms no man may hold lands in this system. A United States citizenship is the modern, foreign version of being “beyond sea,” as being beyond the realm of the actual Lands of the States (People) in their actual confederation and union, and so considered as being dead in connection to any of the Lands of those territories (terra) of the States.

This is the great mystery now revealed. These pirates may only have power over us as long as we continue to accept and consent to our confirmation and ratification of our own death in personhood. If we were to reclaim our heirship, our blood inheritance, our private lands held by their estates through trickery and word magic, then their public laws of contract with U.S. persons no longer would apply. The great secret is that only because our land was tricked and pirated out from under our bloodline in Arms, knowing that as private men we have the right to bear those heraldic Arms of our True fathers as a right negatively protected by the constitution, we are under the will of the state. Only when we reclaim these territorial lands as our own heritage will we ever be considered as privately alive again. And only then might we ever have a say in the political corruption that controls the multitude and the international trade schemes of commerce. Only by lawfully (by blood right) taking back our private lands can we possibly ever even attempt to free all other men without war and bloodshed. Only when we come alive again may we be indulged to follow christ’s teachings and defeat these word-magicians, priests, and legal pirates.

—=—

“He who would have been heir to the father of the deceased shall also be heir of the son.”

—CESTUI QUE DOIT INHERITER AL PERE DOIT INHERITER AL FILS. Fitzh. Abr. "Descent," 2; 2 Bl. Comm. 239, 250. (Black4)

—=—

“He to whom THE PEOPLE IS FATHER, HAS NOT A FATHER.”

—Cui pater est populus non habet ille patrem. Co. Litt. 123. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“An accessory follows the nature of his PRINCIPAL.”

—Accessorius sequit naturam sui principalis. 3 Co. Inst. 349. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“The accessory does not lead, but FOLLOWS ITS PRINCIPAL.”

—Accessorium non ducit sed sequitur suum principale. Co. Litt 152. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

So who is he whose father is the people? It’s you of course, if the above maxim (principle of law) fits. That is, if your parents de-livered you by birth certification to the national state (People’s government). A public person is an accessory to fraud, a user of another’s property both in name and in title, a felon. We access the right of use through agency relationship by acting in the person of government (principal), which is why we cannot call foul or claim fraud. A fraud acting purposefully and “knowingly” in agency cannot expect his fraudulent principal to rescue him from fraud, now can he? There is no salvation from fraud while acting as accessory to it. There is no Natural freedom while using the name and trust of another.

Does the legal law help or hinder, protect or antagonize you? Only your actions and intent can answer that question, and only the principles of law can help to deduce motive.

ACCESSORY - adjective - [Latin Accessorius, from accessus, accedo. See Accede. This word is accented on the first syllable on account of the derivatives, which require a secondary accent on the third; but the natural accent of accessory is on the second syllable, and thus it is often pronounced by good speakers.] 1. Acceding; contributing; AIDING IN PRODUCING SOME EFFECT, OR ACTING IN SUBORDINATION TO THE PRINCIPAL AGENT. Usually, in a bad sense, as John was accessory to the FELONY. 2. Aiding in certain acts or effects in a secondary manner, as accessory sounds in music. - noun - 1. In law, ONE WHO IS GUILTY OF A FELONY, NOT BY COMMITTING THE OFFENSE IN PERSON OR AS PRINCIPAL, BUT BY ADVISING OR COMMANDING ANOTHER TO COMMIT THE CRIME, OR BY CONCEALING THE OFFENDER. There may be accessories in all felonies, but not in treason. An accessory before the fact, is one who counsels or commands another to commit a felony, and is not present when the act is executed; after the fact, when one receives and conceals the offender. 2. THAT WHICH ACCEDES OR BELONGS TO SOMETHING ELSE, AS ITS PRINCIPAL. (Webs1828)

ACCESSORIAL - adjective - Pertaining to an accessory; AS ACCESSORIAL AGENCY, ACCESSORIAL GUILT. (Webs1828)

ACCEDE - verb intransitive - [Latin accedo, of ad and cedo, to yield or give place, or rather to move.] 1. To agree or assent, as to a proposition, or to terms proposed by another. Hence in a negotiation. 2. TO BECOME A PARTY, by agreeing to the terms of a treaty or convention. (Webs1828)

HE - Properly a pronoun of the masculine gender, but commonly construed in statutes to include BOTH SEXES as well as CORPORATIONS. May be read “THEY.” (Black4)

“HE WHO SEEKS EQUITY MUST DO EQUITY.”

“ - This expression means that the party asking the aid of an equity court MUST STAND IN A CONSCIENTIOUS RELATION TOWARD HIS ADVERSARY and the transaction from which his claim arises must be fair and just and the relief must not be harsh and oppressive upon defendant. And that court will not confer equitable relief on party seeking its aid, unless he has acknowledged and conceded or will admit and provide for all equitable rights, claims, and demands justly belonging to adverse party and growing out of or necessarily involved in subject matter of controversy. It is in pursuance of this maxim that equity enforces the right of the wife’s equity to a settlement. (Black4)

— — —

If you consider what this means, we need only to look at the greedy way in which we are litigious with each other to immediately understand why no equity exists in this legal system. We sue for damages far greater and in excess to what is deserved as an equitable recompense, a state certainly not existing in equity. And of course the organized crime syndicate of barratry that we call the Bar Association is to blame for this, as its membership makes up the administrative law judges and for-profit attorney racket that promotes such debauchery and mockery of the justice system. A $1 million dollar settlement for spilling hot coffee?

As long as we act inequitably (not by the constraints and reasoning of the Natural Law), then we should never expect to be treated any differently than the feudal state we are a part of and act so foolishly within. Unless we conscientiously object to this legal system and oppose it with all our will, never to seek false gain at the expense of all others from it again, we should only ever expect to stay in its bonded state of debtor's hell.

The following maxims apply to he who seeks equity:

—=—

“HE WHO COMES INTO A COURT OF EQUITY MUST COME WITH CLEAN HANDS.” (Black4)

—=—

“HE WHO WILL HAVE EQUITY DONE TO HIM MUST DO EQUITY TO THE SAME PERSON.” (Black4)

—=—

“HE WHO HAS COMMITTED INIQUITY SHALL NOT HAVE EQUITY.” (Black4)

—=—

“HE WHO IS SILENT WHEN CONSCIENCE REQUIRES HIM TO SPEAK SHALL BE DEBARRED FROM SPEAKING WHEN CONSCIENCE REQUIRES HIM TO BE SILENT.” (Black4)

—=—

Yet another figurative condition of law... the doctrine of clean hands. But to be considered as clean in man's law can only mean a higher status in corruption, one superior to the plebes in blood consideration. But remember that there is only purity and cleanliness in God's Nature and nowhere else. The law of man recognizes this, and is repulsed by that state of Natural Being, never respecting that Natural Law.

Again, we cannot act in fraud (in public citizenship) and also claim to have clean hands.

CLEAN HANDS - Equitable relief may be DENIED on ground of DECEIT OR IMPURITY OF MOTIVE, FRAUD OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, unjust and unfair conduct, UNLAWFUL OR INEQUITABLE CONDUCT, WRONGDOING. The maxim is confined to misconduct in relation to or connected with the matter in litigation. It is inapplicable where to withhold relief would offend public morals more than to grant relief, and where result will be TO LEAVE PROPERTY IN HANDS OF ONE HAVING NO CLAIM THERETO or require further litigation. The act must prejudicially affect defendant. But it has been held that application of maxim is not limited to a case where the iniquitous action is one of which the moving party may personally complain. (Black4)

CLEAN - Irreproachable; innocent of fraud or wrongdoing; FREE FROM DEFECT IN FORM OR SUBSTANCE; FREE FROM EXCEPTIONS OR RESERVATIONS. It is a very elastic adjective, however, and is particularly dependent upon context. (Black4)

CLEAN - adjective - In a general sense, FREE FROM EXTRANEEOUS MATTER, OR WHATEVER IS INJURIOUS OR OFFENSIVE; hence its signification DEPENDS ON THE NATURE AND QUALITIES OF THE SUBSTANCES TO WHICH IT IS APPLIED. 1. Free from dirt, or other foul matter; as clean water; a clean cup; a clean floor. 2. Free from weeds or stones; as clean land; a clean garden or field. 3. Free from knots or branches; as clean timber. In America, CLEAR is generally used. 4. FREE FROM MORAL IMPURITY; INNOCENT. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? Job 14:4. Acts 18:6. 5. FREE FROM CEREMONIAL DEFILEMENT. Leviticus 10:10; Numbers 19:9. 6. Free from guilt; sanctified; holy. John 13:10. Psalms 51:7. 7. That might be eaten by the Hebrews. Genesis 7:2; Genesis 8:20. 8. That might be used. Luke 11:39. 9. Free from a foul disease; cured of leprosy. 2 Kings 5:10. Math. 8. 10. Dextrous; adroit; not bungling; free from awkwardness; as a clean feat; a clean boxer. 11. Free from infection; as a clean ship. A clean bill of health is a certificate that a ship is clean or free from infection. - adverb - 1. Quite; PERFECTLY; WHOLLY; entirely; fully; indicating separation or complete removal of every part. The people passed clean over Jordan. Joshua 3:17. Is his mercy clean gone forever? Psalms 77:8. This use of clean is not now elegant, and not used EXCEPT IN VULGAR LANGUAGE. 2. Without miscarriage; dextrously. Pope came off clean with Homer. - verb transitive - TO REMOVE ALL FOREIGN MATTER FROM; to separate from any thing whatever is extraneous to it, or whatever is foul, noxious, or offensive, as dirt or filth from the hands, body or clothes, foul matter from a vessel, weeds, shrubs and stones from a meadow; TO PURIFY. Thus, a house is cleaned by sweeping and washing; a field is cleaned by plowing and hoeing. (Webs1828)

HAND - noun - [Latin hendo, in prehendo.] ...5. ACT; deed; PERFORMANCE; EXTERNAL ACTION; that is, the effect for the cause, the hand being the instrument of action. Thou sawest the contradiction between my heart and hand. 6. Power of PERFORMANCE; skill... 7. Power of making or producing. AN INTELLIGENT BEING COMING OUT OF THE HANDS OF INFINITE PERFECTION. 8. MANNER OF ACTING OR PERFORMANCE; as, he changed his hand. 9. AGENCY; PART IN PERFORMING OR EXECUTING. Punish every man who had a hand in the mischief. We see the hand of God in this EVENT. 10. Conveyance; AGENCY IN TRANSMITTING. 11. Possession; power. The estate is in the hands of the owner. The papers are in my hands. 12. The cards held at a game; hence, a game. 13. That which performs the office of the hand or of a finger in pointing; as the hand of a clock; the hour hand and the minute hand. 14. A PERSON; AN AGENT; A MAN EMPLOYED IN AGENCY OR SERVICE. The mason employs twenty hands. 15. Form of writing; style of penmanship; as a good hand; a bad hand; a fine hand. 16. AGENCY; SERVICE; ministry. Exodus 4:2. Leviticus 8:23. 17. In Scripture, THE HAND OF GOD, IS HIS ETERNAL PURPOSE AND EXECUTIVE POWER. Acts 4:28. 18. The providential bounty of God. Psalms 104:28. 19. The power of God exerted in judgments or mercies, in punishing or defending. Judges 2:15. Psalms 32:4. 20. THE SPIRIT OF GOD; DIVINE INFLUENCE. 1 Kings 18:9. 21. THE FAVOR OF GOD, or his support. Nehemiah 2:8. Luke 1:1. At hand near; either present and within reach, or not far distant. Your husband is at hand I hear his trumpet. 1. Near in time; not distant. The day of Christ is at hand. 2. Thessalonians 2:2. By hand with the hands, IN DISTINCTION FROM THE INSTRUMENTALITY OF TOOLS, engines or animals; as, to weed a garden by hand; to lift, draw or carry by hand. In hand present payment; in respect to the receiver. Receiving in hand one year's tribute. 1. IN A STATE OF EXECUTION. I have a great work in hand. At my hand, at his hand etc., denote from the person or being. Shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? Job 2:5. Of hand in present possession; as, he has a supply of goods on hand. 1. Under one's care or management... Under his hand, under her hand, etc., with the proper writing or signature of the name. This deed is executed under the hand and seal of the owner. Hand over head, negligently; rashly; without seeing what one does. [Little used.] ...Hand in hand in union;

conjointly; unitedly. To join hand in hand is to unite efforts and act in concert... To bear a hand to hasten; a seaman's phrase. To be hand and glove, to be intimate and familiar, as friends or associates. To set the hand to, TO ENGAGE IN; TO UNDERTAKE. That the Lord thy God may bless thee, in all thou settest thine hand to. Dest. 23. To take in hand, to attempt; to undertake. Luke 1:1. Also, TO SEIZE and deal with. To have a hand in, to be concerned in; to have a part or concern in doing; TO HAVE AN AGENCY IN... To change hands, to change sides; to shift. Hand, in the sense of rate, price, terms, conditions, as used by Bacon, Taylor, etc., is obsolete; as, 'to buy at a dear hand; 'accept the mystery, but at no hand wrest it by pride or ignorance.' So in the sense of advantage, gain, superiority, as used by Hayward; and in that of competition, content, as used by Shakespeare. To get hand to gain influence, is obsolete. A heavy hand severity or oppression. A light hand gentleness; moderation. A strict hand severe discipline; RIGOROUS GOVERNMENT. "Hands off," a vulgar phrase for keep off, forbear. Pour water on the hands, in the phraseology of the Scriptures, is to serve or minister to. 2 Kings 3:10. TO WASH THE HANDS, TO PROFESS IN INNOCENCE. Matthew 27:29. To kiss the hand imports adoration. Job 31:21. To lean on the hand imports familiarity. 2 Kings 5:11. To strike hands, TO MAKE A CONTRACT, OR TO BECOME SURETY FOR ANOTHER'S DEBT OR GOOD BEHAVIOR. Proverbs 17:16. Putting the hand under the thigh, was an ancient ceremony used in SWEARING. To give the hand is TO MAKE A COVENANT WITH ONE, OR TO UNITE WITH HIM IN DESIGN. 2 Ki 10. The stretching out of the hand denotes an exertion of power. But, the stretching out of the hand to God, imports EARNEST PRAYER OR SOLEMN DEDICATION OF ONE'S SELF TO HIM, Psalms 68, and 143. The lifting of the hand was used in AFFIRMATION AND SWEARING, AND IN PRAYER imported a solemn wishing of blessings from God. Genesis 14:15. Leviticus 1:4. To lift the hand against a superior, to rebel. 2 Samuel 20:9. To put forth the hand against one, to kill him. 1 Samuel 24:4. To put one's hand to a neighbor's goods, to steal them. Exodus 22:4. To lay hands on in anger, to assault or SEIZE, or to smite. Exodus 24. Isaiah 11:8. To lay the hand on the mouth, imports SILENCE. Job 40. The laying on of hands, was also A CEREMONY USED IN CONSECRATING ONE TO OFFICE. Numbers 27:18. 1 Timothy 4:14. It was also used in blessing persons. Mark 10:37. Hiding the hand in the bosom, denotes idleness; inactivity; sluggishness. Proverbs 19:24. The clapping of hands, denotes joy and rejoicing. But in some instances, CONTEMPT OR DERISION, OR JOY AT THE CALAMITIES OF OTHERS. Psalms 47. Ezekiel 25:7. A station at the right hand is honorable, and denotes favor, approbation or honor. A station on the left hand is less honorable. Matthew 20:21. 's standing at the right hand of men, imports his regard for them, and his readiness to defend and assist them. Psalms 16. SATAN'S STANDING AT THE RIGHT HAND OF MEN, IMPORTS HIS READINESS TO ACCUSE THEM, OR TO HINDER OR TORMENT THEM. Zechariah 3:1. CLEAN HANDS, DENOTES INNOCENCE AND A BLAMELESS AND HOLY LIFE. Psalms 24. A slack hand denotes idleness; carelessness; sloth. Prov 10. The right hand denotes POWER; STRENGTH. Exodus 15. - verb transitive - To give or transmit with the hand. Hand me a book. 1. To lead, guide and lift with the hand; to conduct. 2. To manage; as, I hand my oar. 3. TO SEIZE; TO LAY HANDS ON. [Not used.] 4. In seamanship, to furl; to wrap or roll a sail close to the yard, stay or mast, and fasten it with gaskets. TO HAND DOWN, TO TRANSMIT IN SUCCESSION, AS FROM FATHER TO SON, OR FROM PREDECESSOR TO SUCCESSOR. FABLES ARE HANDED DOWN FROM AGE TO AGE. (Webs1828)

— = —

A man, one who was condemned and doomed (judged) at birth and thus continues operating in commercial personhood through confirmation without blood (with unclean hands), may never receive equitable relief, for his actions are never considered as done in equitableness. All actions of citizen-ship are done in fraud, willful misconduct, deceit, and feloniously, as with impurity of motive. Yet those sinful actions are all protected in security by the licensure (permissive anarchy) of legal law. This is the state of being a strawman. Dummy's cannot have clean hands because they have no hands of their own, their hands being only the tools of their principal.

So what does it mean to have the right to use property by prescription?

We commonly (vulgarly) know the common word prescription to be what a doctor writes as instructions for the usage of drugs. In other words, the authoritarian governing master and syndicalist professor of medicine is laying down the laws of how the subservient patient may use those drugs legally, according to the laws prescribed by government. The doctor is an agent, the patient a third party. But the patient never acquires the drugs as his own property, only being granted the ability to use what is not his for a heavy, usurious charge. Hospitals and pharmacies are merely grocers of pharmacopeia.

Perhaps this is a good point to explore this word pharmacist and doctor as it pertains to magic and those syndicalist automatons who prescribe it. It is only the perceptions of what pharmacopeia was and is that have changed, not the actual meaning. And the bonus money is abounding for such witting and unwitting but legally licensed deceit and fraud.

The word pharmaceutical is an adjective from the 1640s (pharmaceutic in the same sense is from 1540s), stemming from the Late Latin pharmaceuticus "of drugs," and from Greek pharmakeutikos and pharmakeus "preparer of drugs, POISONER."

The noun pharmacy then comes from the late 14th century with the meaning of "A MEDICINE," from Old French farmacie "a purgative," from Medieval Latin pharmacy and Greek pharmakeia "use of drugs, medicines, POTIONS, OR SPELLS; POISONING, WITCHCRAFT; remedy, cure," from pharmakeus (fem. pharmakis) "preparer of drugs, POISONER, SORCERER" from pharmakon "drug, POISON, PHILTER (LOVE POTION), CHARM, SPELL, ENCHANTMENT." Its meaning of "use or administration of drugs" is attested from the 14th century, and that of a "place where drugs are prepared and dispensed" is first recorded from 1833. A pharmacist is a noun, a flattering title, stemming from 1811, replacing the obsolete pharmacies from 1720. The Latin word was pharmacopola, the Greek pharmakopoles.

A pharmacist, like a witch, prepares a recipe, from the 1580's, meaning a "medical prescription," from Middle French récipé of the 15th century, and from the Latin recipe meaning "take!," the second person imperative singular of recipere "to take" (i.e. receive). This word (take) is written by physicians at the head of prescriptions. Figurative use is from the 1640s, while its meaning of "instructions for preparing food" was first recorded 1743. The original sense survives only in the pharmacist's abbreviation Rx.

Rx represents whatever formula is concocted by the pharmacist, this word formula stemming from the 1630's meaning "words used in a CEREMONY OR RITUAL" (earlier as a Latin word in English), from the Latin formula "form, draft, contract, regulation." In law, it takes the meaning of "a rule, method;" and literally "small form," a diminutive of forma "form." Modern sense is colored by Carlyle's use (1837) of the word in a sense of "RULE SLAVISHLY FOLLOWED WITHOUT UNDERSTANDING." From 1706 used as "A PRESCRIPTION, a recipe." Also used mathematically and in chemistry, and more modernly in motor racing.

Interestingly, the verb (action) of doctoring something stems from the word doctor, taking its meaning from the 1590s, as "to confer a degree on," the word degree as used in education and licensing having the meaning of a "DEGREE OF CRIME," from the noun form of doctor. But in verb form it has the meaning of "to treat medically" from 1712, and the sense of "ALTER, DISGUISE, FALSIFY" is from 1774.

Like a remedy at law, drugs offer no cure or solution, only symptom relief. The disease is doctored (disguised) by chemical pharmacopeia, but never cured, for pharmacy is only the illusionary practice of magic as "medicine." The doctor slavishly prescribes drugs without actual understanding of their qualities and effects, just as so many other legally titled and licensed persons in the idiocracy of legalism and flattering title are degreed to do in exchange for a piece of mammon in usufruct.

The word physician is equally of interest in the magic arts, stemming from the noun leech, an obsolete title for "physician," from the Old English læce, and probably from Old Danish læke, from Proto-Germanic lekjaz. "ENCHANTER, ONE WHO SPEAKS MAGIC WORDS; HEALER, PHYSICIAN." As cognates we find Old Frisian letza, Old Saxon laki, Old Norse læknir, Old High German lahhi, and Gothic lekeis, all carrying the meaning of "PHYSICIAN," literally "one who counsels," perhaps connected with a root found in Celtic (compare Irish liaig "charmer, exorcist, physician") and Slavic (compare Serbo-Croatian lijekar, Polish lekarz), from lep-agi "conjurer," from root leg- "to collect," with derivatives meaning "to speak" (see lecture). For sense development, we can compare Old Church Slavonic baliji "doctor," ORIGINALLY "CONJURER", as related to Serbo-Croatian bajati "enchant, conjure," as well as Old Church Slavonic vračī, Russian vrač "DOCTOR," related to Serbo-Croatian vrač "sorcerer, fortune-teller." The form is merged with leech in Middle English, apparently by folk etymology. In 17c., leech usually was applied only to veterinary practitioners. The fourth finger of the hand, in Old English, was læcfinger, translating Latin digitus medicus, Greek daktylus iatrikos, supposedly because a vein from that finger stretches straight to the heart.

Of course, we know what the purpose of a magician is in all his black art forms, including especially the legal one. The word misdirection is a noun taken from around 1768, having the meaning of "action of a conjurer, thief, etc. to distract someone." And the word illusionist is title (noun) for a "conjurer, magic act performer" from 1840, stemming from the earlier notion of "one suffering from illusions," from 1812. Middle English had illusor, meaning "deceiver, deluder."

Finally, the word medicine has an equally interesting history in its origins of magic, as that bestowed by a conjurer to distract and mislead, most often as a remedy without cure, or as a design to prolong the disease state to ensure future return use and profits. The noun medicine stems from the 12th century with the meaning of "medical treatment, cure, remedy," and was also used figuratively, of spiritual remedies, from the Old French medecine (Modern French médecine) "medicine, ART of healing, cure, treatment, POTION," from Latin medicina "the healing ART, medicine; a remedy," and also used figuratively, perhaps originally ars medicina "the medical ART," from the feminine of medicinus "of a doctor," from medicus "a physician" (see medical); though OED finds evidence for this is wanting. The English meaning is format he mid-14th century as "a medicinal potion or plaster." To take (one's) medicine is to "SUBMIT TO SOMETHING DISAGREEABLE," first recorded in 1865. The North American title of an Indian medicine-man "shaman" is first attested 1801, from American Indian adoption of the word medicine in sense of "MAGICAL INFLUENCE." The U.S.-Canadian boundary they called the "Medicine Line" was first attested in 1910, as it conferred a kind of MAGIC PROTECTION: punishment for crimes committed on one side of it could be avoided by crossing over to the other. A medicine show as a "traveling show meant to attract a crowd so PATENT medicine can be sold to them" is from American English, circa 1938.

— = —

“As we cannot use physician for a cultivator of physics, I have called him a physicist. We need very much a name to describe a cultivator of science in general. I should incline to call him a Scientist. Thus we might say, that as an Artist is a Musician, Painter, or Poet, a Scientist is a Mathematician, Physicist, or NATURALIST.”

— William Whewell, "The Philosophy of the Inductive Sciences," London, 1840

— = —

Webster, in his 1828 compilation, defines the word pharmaceutical as such:

PHARMACEUTIC, PHARMACEUTICAL - adjective - [Gr. TO PRACTICE WITCHCRAFT OR USE MEDICINE; POISON OR MEDICINE.] Pertaining to the knowledge or ART of pharmacy, or to the ART of preparing medicines. (Webs1828)

PHARMACY - noun - [Gr. a medicament, whether SALUTARY or POISONOUS.] The art or practice of preparing, preserving and compounding substances, whether vegetable, mineral or animal, for the purposes of medicine; the occupation of an apothecary. (Webs1828)

DRUG - verb transitive - ... 2. Any commodity that lies on hand, or is NOT SALABLE; an article of slow sale, or in no demand in market. 3. A mortal drug or a deadly drug is POISON. 4. A drudge. 1. To season with drugs or ingredients. 2. To TINCTURE with something OFFENSIVE. (Webs1828)

—=—

And finally, we can consult the ancient language of the bible.

Lexicon: Strong's G5332 - pharmakeus
From pharmakon (a drug, i.e. SPELL-GIVING POTION)

φαρμακεύς - pharmakeús - far-mak-yoos'; from φάρμακον phármakon (a drug, i.e. spell-giving potion); a druggist ("pharmacist") or poisoner, i.e. (by extension) A MAGICIAN:—SORCERER.

1. one who prepares or uses MAGICAL REMEDIES
2. SORCERER

—=—

Lexicon :: Strong's G5331 - pharmakeia
From φαρμακεύς (G5332)

φαρμακεία - pharmakeía, far-mak-i'-ah; from G5332; medication ("pharmacy"), i.e. (by extension) magic (literally or figuratively):—SORCERY, WITCHCRAFT.

1. the use or the administering of drugs
2. POISONING
3. SORCERY, MAGICAL ARTS, OFTEN FOUND IN CONNECTION WITH IDOLATRY AND FOSTERED BY IT
4. metaphor - THE DECEPTIONS AND SEDUCTIONS OF IDOLATRY

—=—

To put it simply, man's body is made up of minerals, including water. A pharmacist, on the other hand, creates compounds, which simply means two or more minerals bound together, generally within these corporations in an artificial way so as to ensure patentability. For nothing can be patented unless it is not of Nature. The sorcerers of the pharmaceutical industry must therefore magically (through technology) mix together that which does not grow in Nature, which we call as unique or novel, and therefore patentable drugs. The U.S. Code defines a "drug" specifically as two or more substances mixed together.

Title 21, section 321(g)(1) let's us know not only that the word drug is a fiction, but also what government considers us as patients, that is, as just another animal.

(g) The term “drug” means (A) articles recognized in the official United States Pharmacopoeia, official Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States, or official National Formulary, or any supplement to any of them; and (B) articles intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease IN MAN OR OTHER ANIMALS; and (C) articles (other than food) intended to affect the structure or any function of THE BODY OF MAN OR OTHER ANIMALS; and (D) articles intended for use as a component of any article specified in clause (A), (B), or (C)...

— = —

A drug is an article? A drug is a group of words? So the fiction of law that is a “drug” doesn’t actually exist in Nature, for anything the legal authority says is a “drug” becomes a fictional “drug” by its descriptive sentencing and flattering title. Poof! And a plant is magically a “drug.”

ARTICLE - A separate and distinct part of an INSTRUMENT OR WRITING comprising two or more particulars; ONE OF SEVERAL THINGS PRESENTED AS CONNECTED OR FORMING A WHOLE. A particular object or substance, a material thing or a class of things. Material or tangible object. "THING" OF VALUE. (Black4)

ARTICLES - 1. A connected series of propositions; a system of rules. The subdivisions of a document, CODE, book, etc. A specification of distinct matters agreed upon or established by authority or requiring judicial action. 2. A statute; as having its provisions articulately expressed under distinct heads. Several of the ancient English statutes were called “articles” (articuli). 3. A system of rules established BY LEGAL AUTHORITY; as articles of war, articles of the navy, ARTICLES OF FAITH. (See infra.) 4. A CONTRACTUAL DOCUMENT EXECUTED BETWEEN PARTIES, CONTAINING STIPULATIONS OR TERMS OF AGREEMENT; as articles of agreement, articles of partnership. 5. A naval term meaning EMPLOYMENT CONTRACT... (Black4)

— = —

Do not for one second think that this use of the word article is strange or that it might be a misprint or misuse of the word. It's just word-trickery by artful conjurers. The subjects of these lawmakers must be in agreement with these terms of art for them to apply to any thing of value (in mammon), for the word drug only refers to that things valuation as a commercial product. The U.S. public citizenship is of course the implied and recognized agreement and constant to this U.S. code, and thus consent to its assigned punishments and fines for breaking that legal law of the Food and Drug Administration.

You see there, its in the name.

“Administrative” law, not judicial. Not constitutional. Not Natural.

In other words, it is what government (the FDA) says it is and that's that. The FDA code is strictum jus, strict law, as that which is opposed to equitableness (Natural Law) and unburdened by actual consideration of any intent. It allows poisons to be called as “medicine.”

While we may certainly find compound substances in Nature, such as chalk (calcium carbonate), the body of man and of animal and of insect and of plant needs these uncompounded minerals in their individual natures, just as plants use the trace minerals of the soil to thrive, not compounds. Put a piece of chalk in a glass of water for a week and you'll see why "supplements" in compound form on grocery store shelves are all but worthless. They do not dissolve in water, which composes around 70% of our body. Almost the entire vitamin and mineral market is a pharmaceutical fraud, a magic trick. These compounded minerals in combination are of course broken apart by the fulvic acid content in the soil, leading to these minerals (metals) increased solubility in water and thus making them able to be absorbed by all the various life forms of the earth. In other words, Nature is the only medicine (cure, healer), and like anything else artfully created, the pharmaceutical industry stands as adversarial (satanic) to the true meaning of medicine, which is only of Source, not sorcery. Magic and sorcery is not True medicine, and neither are drugs. Drugs cause disease, having the side effect of sometimes masking symptoms of other disease while causing ever more problems. For poison is no curative...

—=—

"And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee... for thy MERCHANTS were the great men of the earth; for by thy SORCERIES (G5331 - PHARMAKEIA) were all nations deceived. And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth."

—Revelation 18: 23-24, KJB

—=—

In the legal parlance of real estate and title we must use this word prescription as a term of art within its higher standard of meaning. Though its contemplation is not so different from the doctor/patient relationship, in this case the relation-ship is between government and every common (public) citizen-ship in commercial usuary. We either have it or we don't. This is a similar but different form of word magic. A prescriptive right of the use of property, like that of prescription drugs, is in actuality only under the law of usufruct, as a use and enjoyment of property that does not necessarily belong to the user. Like those prescription drugs, the property itself (right of disposal) belongs to the States (People), and is beneficently granted to the citizen only for his temporary use. Any other use thereof would be illegal without permissive license, which is obtained by prescription. The right of use is merely prescribed by legal title with no conveyance of the actual land or other property. The grant (lie) is only for the use of paper title (attached to the fictional person/name of government in franchise), and therefore the foreign user (man in agency) does not actually hold the property (land or hereditaments) in any tangible way. His use is only ever through the property (person) of another. His castle is plundered.

Government is like a land-management corporation, where its clients (The sovereign "People") rent to its tenants (goyim; as the common, public people in citizenship). It's a purely fictional ownership, a simulation of reality all on paper, form without substance, words without Reality. He may enjoy and profit from the use and benefits of the property, but it ultimately belongs to another. In other words, the prescriptive user as a public citizen "property owner" only has a ship, an owner-ship based on his relation-ship to government as a citizen-ship, but the man is not the actual holder of that property by his blood or in consideration of Natural inheritance by foundational law. Instead, he is in a state of mere use and enjoyment within the limited prescribed rights of a usufruct granted by that sovereign authority of magistrates through its constituted government.

Only a legal citizenship is diseased, so only the citizenship requires the remedy of prescription.

PRESCRIPTION - A direction of REMEDY or remedies for a DISEASE and the manner of using them; a formula for the preparation of a drug and medicine.

In International Law - Acquisition of sovereignty over a territory THROUGH CONTINUOUS AND UNDISPUTED EXERCISE OF SOVEREIGNTY over it during such a period as is necessary to create under the influence of historical development the general conviction that the present condition of things is IN CONFORMITY WITH INTERNATIONAL ORDER.

In Real Property Law - The name given to a mode of acquiring title to incorporeal hereditaments by immemorial or long-continued ENJOYMENT... In Louisiana, prescription is defined as a manner of acquiring the ownership of property, or DISCHARGING DEBTS, by the effect of time, and under the conditions regulated by law. Each of these prescriptions has its special and particular definition. The prescription by which the ownership of property is acquired, is A RIGHT BY WHICH A MERE POSSESSOR ACQUIRES THE OWNERSHIP OF A THING which he possesses by the continuance of his possession during the TIME fixed by law. The prescription by which debts are released is a peremptory and perpetual bar to every species of action, real or personal, when the creditor has been SILENT for a certain time WITHOUT URGING HIS CLAIM. In this sense of the term it is very nearly equivalent to what is elsewhere expressed by "limitation of actions," or rather, the "bar of the statute of limitations"... "Prescription" and "custom" are frequently confounded in common parlance, arising perhaps from the fact that immemorial usage was essential to both of them; but strictly, they materially differ from one another, in that custom is properly a local impersonal usage, such as borough-English or postmogeniture, which is annexed to a given estate, while PRESCRIPTION IS SIMPLY PERSONAL, as that a certain man and his ancestors, or those whose estate he enjoys, have immemorially exercised a right of pasture-common in a certain parish, and usage differs from both, for it may be either to persons or places. Again, prescription has its origin in a grant, evidenced by usage, AND IS ALLOWED ON ACCOUNT OF ITS LOSS, EITHER ACTUAL OR SUPPOSED, and therefore only those things can be prescribed for which could be raised by a grant previously... but this principle does not necessarily hold in the case of a custom.

Corporations by prescription - In English law. Those which have existed beyond the memory of man, and therefore are looked upon in law to be well created, such as THE CITY OF LONDON.

Prescription in a que estate - A claim of prescription based on the immemorial enjoyment of the right claimed, BY THE CLAIMANT AND THOSE FORMER OWNERS "WHOSE ESTATE" HE HAS SUCCEEDED TO AND HOLDS. (Black4)

PRESCRIBABLE - That to which a right may be acquired by prescription. (Black4)

PRESCRIBE - To assert a right or title to the ENJOYMENT of a thing, on the ground of having hitherto had the UNINTERRUPTED AND IMMEMORIAL enjoyment of it. To lay down authoritatively as a guide, direction, or RULE; TO IMPOSE as a peremptory order; TO DICTATE; to point; to direct; TO GIVE AS A GUIDE, direction, or rule of action; TO GIVE LAW. To direct; DEFINE; MARK out. In modern statutes relating to MATTERS OF AN ADMINISTRATIVE NATURE, such as procedure, REGISTRATION, etc., it is usual to indicate in general terms the nature of the proceedings to be adopted, and to leave the details to be prescribed or regulated by rules or orders to be made for that purpose in pursuance of an authority contained in the act. In a medical sense prescribe means to direct, designate, or order use of a REMEDY. (Black4)

PROSCRIBED - In the civil law. AMONG THE ROMANS, a man was said to be "proscribed" WHEN A REWARD WAS OFFERED FOR HIS HEAD; but the term was more usually applied to those who were SENTENCED TO SOME PUNISHMENT WHICH CARRIED WITH IT THE CONSEQUENCES OF CIVIL DEATH. (Black4)

—=—

Note here that a prescription in real estate referred to the right of men to claim land by immemorial use of it through his timeless blood kin. In other words, this was a word relating to blood inheritance, which killed its civil consideration (artificial life). But what happens when the scribes and pharisees through their word magic are able to legally corrupt the blood of man? His right of prescriptive claim suddenly disappears with his blood-right. For his blood is a God-given gift, and mammon respects not the coursing blood of God's Creation, only the commercial flow of liquid currency.

A man that has been thus proscribed as a person in surety (public citizenship) may then enter only into states of a usufruct condition through that fictional status under the Cestue Que Vie, for he has no other type of rights granted him through that fictional (dead) person. He no longer has a blood connection under law to his kin, and therefore none to the land his bloodline inhabited immemorially. The blood is tainted, un-inheritable, unrecognizable by legal law, and so the rights can only be passed to dead hands (in mortmain).

MORTMAIN - noun - In law, possession of lands or tenements in DEAD HANDS, or HANDS THAT CANNOT ALIENATE. Alienation in mortmain is AN ALIENATION OF LANDS OR TENEMENTS TO ANY CORPORATION, sole or aggregate, ecclesiastical or temporal, particularly to religious houses, by which the estate BECOMES PERPETUALLY INHERENT IN THE CORPORATION AND UNALIENABLE.

—=—

Remember, the City of London and the City of New Columbia (Washington D.C.) are corporations holding the mortmain. Persons of those corporations can only hold land with dead hands, for they are dead in blood and in spirit.

The title of the land as property and all laws binding it is proscribed only to the person (the name), not the man, by the administrative corporation (municipal government) set up by the landholders in trust called the state. The man, in order to obtain usurious legal title through surety to a government person, must therefore by that of the agency relationship act and acquire tenancy only permissively in public persona, and therefore must follow those legal laws of usufruct applied to persons (citizen-ships) so as to enjoy the benefit of use assigned to that fictional entity in rent. But in the end, the man himself has nothing. For his attached surname destroys his blood as an inheritable consideration. A son of the people has no father. A user is never an heir. A tare is never the wheat. The tainted seed of a dead person (status) can only beget other dead persons, for the status of the child follows the status of the father.

USUS FRUCTUS - Latin. In Roman law. USUFRUCT; usufructuary right or possession. THE TEMPORARY RIGHT OF USING A THING, WITHOUT HAVING THE ULTIMATE PROPERTY, OR FULL DOMINION, OF THE SUBSTANCE. (Black4)

USUFRUCT - In French law. The same as the USUFRUCT of the ENGLISH AND ROMAN LAW. (Black4)

USUFRUCTUARY - In the civil law. One who has the usufruct or right of ENJOYING ANYTHING IN WHICH HE HAS NO PROPERTY. (Black4)

USUFRUCT - In the civil law. THE RIGHT OF ENJOYING A THING, THE PROPERTY OF WHICH IS VESTED IN ANOTHER, and to draw from the same all the PROFIT, UTILITY, AND ADVANTAGE WHICH IT MAY PRODUCE, PROVIDED IT BE WITHOUT ALTERING THE SUBSTANCE OF THE THING. Under Greek Law. A RIGHT ATTACHED TO THE PERSON WHICH MAY NOT BE INHERITED.

Quasi Usufruct - In the civil law. Originally the usufruct GAVE NO RIGHT TO THE SUBSTANCE of the thing, and consequently none to its consumption; hence only an in-consumable thing could be the object of it, whether movable or immovable. But in later times the right of usufruct was, by analogy, EXTENDED TO CONSUMABLE THINGS, and therewith arose the distinction between true and quasi usufructs. See Imperfect Usufruct, Supra.

Perfect Usufruct - An usufruct in those things which the usufructuary CAN ENJOY WITHOUT CHANGING THEIR SUBSTANCE, though their substance may be diminished or deteriorate NATURALLY BY TIME OR BY THE USE to which they are applied, as, a house, a piece of land, furniture, and other movable effects.

Imperfect Usufruct - An imperfect or quasi usufruct is that which is of things which would be useless to the usufructuary IF HE DID NOT CONSUME OR EXPEND THEM OR CHANGE THE SUBSTANCE OF THEM; as, MONEY, grain, liquors. (Black4)

— = —

This concept of use only (rent in usufruct) is the key to everything wrong or evil within this worldwide system of nations. It is a system of pure form designed to strip and steal any substance from man and Nature. For if you can take away the very essence of the substantive holding of property rights and replace it with only the form of mere tenancy (rent) on paper, then eventually, as we see today, man is left with nothing of his own as his private property. There is nothing left of man but his representational form of either the agentic goyim (slave) or of the principal gods of that synagogue of satan (master). If all property of the multitude is public, held only in the dead hands of a usufruct by public persons while in actuality controlled by only the few private hands, then not one iota of that property is private to its user and beneficiary. Without private land and property, a man simply has no place of his own to act privately, no sanctuary from the legal system, and thus no place to be a True and pious, morally religious man. Yet someone else does hold its substance privately, renting it to the public person so seized.

Instead, we live in a state of artificial being that is at its heart nothing but pure usury. For man is considered only by the commercial value and status of his fictional person. Man, through surety to the state's persona, is considered as just another commodity in trade by his person's false gods. Surprisingly, this corrupted state of being that we take very much for granted is actually called as "rent."

RENT - participle passive - of REND. TORN ASUNDER; split or burst by violence; torn. - noun - [from rend.] 1. A fissure; a break or breach made by force; as a rent made in the earth, in a rock or in a garment. 2. A SCHISM; A SEPARATION; AS A RENT IN THE CHURCH. - verb transitive - To tear. [See Rend.] - verb intransitive - To rant. [Not in use.] - noun - A SUM OF MONEY, or a certain amount of OTHER VALUABLE THING, ISSUING YEARLY FROM LANDS OR TENEMENTS; a compensation or return, in the nature of an acknowledgment, FOR THE POSSESSION OF A CORPOREAL INHERITANCE. Rents, at common law, are of three kinds; rent-service, rent-charge, and rent-seek. RENT-SERVICE is when some corporal SERVICE is incident to it, as by FEALTY and a sum of money; RENT-CHARGE is when the owner of the rent HAS NO FUTURE INTEREST OR REVERSION EXPECTANT IN THE LAND, but the rent is reserved in the deed by a clause of DISTRESS for rent in arrear; rent-seek, dry rent is rent reserved by deed, but without any clause of distress. There are also rents of assize, certain established rents of free-holders and copy-holders of manors, which cannot be varied; called also quit-rents. These when payable in SILVER, are called WHITE RENTS, IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO RENTS RESERVED IN WORK OR THE BASER METALS, CALLED BLACK RENTS, OR BLACK MAIL. Rack-rent is a rent of the full value of the tenement, or near it. A fee farm rent is a rent-charge issuing out of an estate in fee, of at least one fourth of the value of the lands at the time of its reservation. - verb transitive - 1. TO LEASE; to grant the possession and enjoyment of lands or tenements for a consideration in the nature of rent. The owner of an estate or house RENTS IT TO A TENANT FOR A TERM OF YEARS. 2. To take and hold BY LEASE the possession of land or a tenement, for a consideration in the nature of rent. The tenant rents his estate for a year. - verb intransitive - To be leased, or let for rent; as, an estate or a tenement rents for five hundred dollars a year. (Webs1828)

BLACK RENTS - Rents reserved in work, grain, or baser money than silver. (Black4)

BLACK MAIL - Rents reserved, payable in work, grain, and the like. Such rents were called black mail (reditus nigri) in distinction from white rents (blanche firmes), which were rents paid in silver. A YEARLY PAYMENT MADE FOR SECURITY AND PROTECTION TO THOSE BANDS OF MARAUDERS who infested the borders of England and Scotland about the middle of the sixteenth century AND LAID THE INHABITANTS UNDER CONTRIBUTION. In common parlance, the term is equivalent to, and synonymous with, EXTORTION - THE EXACTION OF MONEY, EITHER FOR THE PERFORMANCE OF A DUTY, THE PREVENTION OF AN INJURY, OR THE EXERCISE OF AN INFLUENCE. It supposes the service to be unlawful, and the payment involuntary. Not infrequently it is EXTORTED BY THREATS, OR BY OPERATING UPON THE FEARS OF THE CREDULITY, or by promises to conceal, or offers to expose the weakness, the follies, or the crimes of the victim. (Bouv1892)

RENTERER - noun - A Fine-drawer. (Webs1828)

MAIL - [Latin macula.]... 4. A RENT. Also, a spot. (Webs1828)

SPOT - noun - [We see this word is of the family of spatter, and that the radical sense is to throw or thrust...] 1. A MARK ON A SUBSTANCE MADE BY FOREIGN MATTER; a speck; a blot; a place discolored. The least spot is visible on white paper. 2. A STAIN ON CHARACTER OR REPUTATION; SOMETHING THAT SOILS PURITY; disgrace; reproach; fault; blemish... - verb transitive - 1. To make a visible mark with some foreign matter; to discolor; TO STAIN; as, to spot a garment; to spot paper. 2. To patch by way of ornament. 3. To stain; to blemish; TO TAINT; TO DISGRACE; TO TARNISH; AS REPUTATION. (Webs1828)

FINE - noun - ...[This word is the basis of FINANCE, but I have not found it, in its simple form, in any modern language, except the English. The word seems to be the Latin finis, and the application of it to pecuniary compensation seems to have proceeded FROM ITS FEUDAL USE, IN THE TRANSFER OF LANDS, in which a final agreement or concord was made BETWEEN THE LORD AND HIS VASSAL.] 1. In a feudal sense, a final agreement between PERSONS concerning lands or rents, or between the lord and his vassal, PRESCRIBING THE CONDITIONS ON WHICH THE LATTER SHOULD HOLD HIS LANDS. 2. A SUM OF MONEY PAID TO THE LORD BY HIS TENANT, FOR PERMISSION TO ALIENATE OR TRANSFER HIS LANDS TO ANOTHER. This in England was EXACTED only from the king's tenants in capite. 3. A sum of money paid to the king OR STATE by way of penalty for an offense; a mulct; a pecuniary punishment. Fines are usually prescribed by statute, for the several violations of law; or the limit is prescribed, beyond which the judge cannot impose a fine for a particular offense. In fine [Latin in and finis.] In the end or conclusion; to conclude; to SUM UP all... (Webs1828)

FABRICA - In Old English law. The making or coining of MONEY. (Black4)

FABRIC - ...something that has been fabricated, constructed, or put together: any complex construction; a system built up of correlated parts; structure or edifice. Something that has been fabricated, constructed, or put together; the structure of anything or anything manufactured... (Black4)

FABRICARE - Latin. To make. Used in old English law of a LAWFUL COINING, AND ALSO OF AN UNLAWFUL MAKING OR COUNTERFEITING OF COIN. Used in an indictment for forging a bill of lading. (Black4)

FABRICATE - To invent; TO DEVISE FALSELY. Invent is sometimes used in A BAD SENSE, BUT FABRICATE NEVER IN ANY OTHER. To fabricate a story implies that it is SO CONTRARY TO PROBABILITY AS TO REQUIRE THE SKILL OF A WORKMAN TO INDUCE BELIEF IN IT. The word implies FRAUD OR FALSEHOOD; a false or fraudulent concoction, knowing it to be wrong. To fabricate is to arrange or manufacture circumstances or indicati, AFTER THE FACT COMMITTED, WITH THE PURPOSE OF USING THEM AS EVIDENCE, AND OF DECEITFULLY MAKING THEM APPEAR AS IF ACCIDENTAL OR UNDESIGNED; to devise falsely or contrive BY ARTIFICE with the intention to deceive. Such evidence may be wholly forged and artificial, or it may consist in so warping and distorting real facts as TO CREATE AN ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION IN THE MINDS OF THOSE WHO OBSERVE THEM AND THEN PRESENTING SUCH IMPRESSION AS TRUE AND GENUINE. (Black4)

FABRICATED EVIDENCE - Evidence manufactured or arranged after the fact, and either wholly false or else warped and discolored by artifice and contrivance with a deceitful intent. See supra. (Black4)

FABRICATED FACT - In the law of evidence. A fact existing only in statement, without any foundation in truth. An actual or genuine fact TO WHICH A FALSE APPEARANCE HAS BEEN DESIGNEDLY GIVEN; a physical object PLACED IN A FALSE CONNECTION WITH ANOTHER, OR WITH A PERSON on whom it is designed to cast suspicion. (Black4)

— = —

The birth certificate is describe above perfectly, which is to say that the person (status) thereby created as a false, legal id-entify of the man already Naturally born, takes the Real, already happened event and re-creates it in a fictional certification. The birth process, as a fabrication of Life itself that creates an avatar to be placed in an existence subsisting only in that legal matrix code of pretended jurisdiction only, is defined above as: to arrange or manufacture circumstances or indicati, after the fact committed, with the purpose of using them as evidence, and of deceitfully making them appear as if accidental or undesigned; to devise falsely or contrive by artifice with the intention to deceive. It is then considered as a fabricated fact, certified legally, and thus is: A fact existing only in statement, without any foundation in truth. An actual or genuine fact to which a false appearance has been designedly given; a physical object placed in a false connection with another... This is what is referred to as prima facie evidence of fact, which is to say that which on the face of it, as the first and unquestioned appearance of that legally spoken or written “fact,” is taken as evidence of truth even when it is a known lie. All persons are lies, as form (appearance) with no substance (mind, body, and soul). We sometimes call this as the taking of some thing at face value. And yet the scriptures and principals of law warn time and time again that we should never put a value upon man. And of course this is why the devilry created the fictional, false legal persona, so that man might voluntarily assign such a valuation to himself and stand as jury over others in similar valuation under mammon.

FACE - That which is shown BY THE MERE LANGUAGE EMPLOYED without any explanation, modification, or addition FROM EXTRINSIC FACTS OR EVIDENCE, the principal sum which it expresses to be due or payable, without any additions in the way of interest and costs. THE OUTWARD APPEARANCE OR ASPECT OF A THING... The SURFACE of anything; especially the front, upper, or outer part or surface; that which particularly offers itself to the view of a spectator. THE WORDS OF A WRITTEN PAPER IN THEIR APPARENT OR OBVIOUS MEANING, as, the face of a note, bill, bond, check, draft, judgment record, or contract; the face of a judgment for which it was rendered exclusive of interest. The surface of anything; especially the front, upper, or outer part or surface; that which particularly offers itself to the view of a spectator. (Black4)

FACE OF BOOK - Under an act providing that a public or private statute or the proceedings of any legislative body purporting on the face of the book to be printed by authority of the government of the state are evidence without further proof, the "face of the book" and the "title page" need not coincide, as "face" is used in contradistinction to "cover." (Black4)

FACE OF INSTRUMENT - That which is SHOWN BY THE LANGUAGE EMPLOYED, without any explanation, modification, or addition from extrinsic facts or evidence. Thus, if the express terms of the paper disclose a fatal legal defect, it is said to be "void on its face." Regarded as an EVIDENCE OF DEBT, the face of an instrument is the principal sum which it expresses to be due or payable, without any additions in the way of interest or costs. (Black4)

FACE OF JUDGMENT - The sum for which it was rendered, exclusive of interest. See, also, Face of instrument. (Black4)

FACE VALUE - This term, in a statute taxing transfers of corporate stock, means par value. As used in statute concerning acceptance of bonds as bail means that value, written or printed on face of instrument and the unmatured coupons attached thereto, without reference to the actual or market value of bonds. The "face value" of an interest bearing note, is the principal plus accrued interest. The value which can be ascertained from the language of the instrument without aid from extrinsic facts or evidence. (Black4)

FACERE - Latin. To do; to make. Thus, facere defaultam, to make default; facere duellum, to make the duel, or make or do battle; facere finern, to make or pay a fine; facere legem, to make one's law; facere sacramentum, to make oath. (Black4)

FACILE - In Scotch law. Easily persuaded; easily imposed upon. (Black4)

PRIMA FACIE - Latin. AT FIRST SIGHT; on the FIRST APPEARANCE; ON THE FACE OF IT; so far as can be judged from the FIRST DISCLOSURE; PRESUMABLY; A FACT PRESUMED TO BE TRUE UNLESS DISPROVED BY SOME EVIDENCE TO THE CONTRARY. (Black4)

FACIES - Latin. The face or countenance; the exterior appearance or view; hence, contemplation or study of a thing on its external or apparent side. Thus, prima facie means at the first inspection, on a preliminary or exterior scrutiny. When we speak of a "prima facie case," we mean one which on its own showing, on a first examination, or without investigating any alleged defenses, is apparently good and maintainable. (Black4)

—=—

Most of us admit defeat by merely appearing in persona or with attorney in answer of our strawman demon being summoned. At this point, the case is merely an administration of the post-effects of the case. The judge tells us what we owe the court and we are on our way, for on the face of the case no evidence contrary to the lie that we are that person are spoken. In this way, consent is as well prima facie simply because we are silent subjects acting in a false performance debt created in infancy and confirmed by our use of the legal id-entity.

Ever heard or used the expression I can't place the name with the face? Ever really thought about what that means? Is the surface or face of the sea truly a full representation of the water, or is it merely the outward appearance with no depth of substance? Is the appearance of government merely what is presented by its own propaganda, entertainment, and public education, or is that all just prima facie evidence of government and law? When a "person" magically appears in court, is anything actually there? What happens when you ask questions about what lies beneath the "facts?" You get a work like this one... and you find that it is all hinged on one lie built upon the next lie until, even more so than any religion can artfully manifest, the faith, beLIEf, and love by the believers (citizens) of the prima facie truth of government's legal matrix enters and take over the mind without mercy and without any actual, tangible, or sensual evidence of its existence. It is truly the ouroboros, the serpent speaking itself into existence while appearing to be eating its own tail. Its residents are locked inside of the invisible face of its legal appearance, and so caught in the bowels of its self re-creation, fuel for its self-incarnation, batteries for its consumption, worker bees for its pre-tendered sovereign class of kings and queens.

—=—

"Identity of name is PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE OF IDENTITY OF PERSON."

—Stebbins v. Duncan, 103 U. S. 47 (1832), cases; State V. Kelsoe, 76 Mo. 507 (1882); 25 Pa. 133; 68 id. 200; 53 Mi. 427. (WCA1889)

—=—

Who would ever consider that their very name and identity is merely a rebuttable presumption of law with no actual evidence but our own idiotic acceptance of the supposed face of the facts of our nativity in personhood?

Amazingly, we must realize that all of the commercial laws of the United States are but prima facie in their legalistic nature, totally voluntary, and absolutely rebuttable for the enlightened, regenerate man. This is simulated law, illusionary, magically represented as if it were legitimate.

U.S. CODE, TITLE 46, APPENDIX APP. > CHAPTER 23 > § 837:

PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE:

"In any action or proceeding under the provisions of this chapter to enforce a forfeiture the conviction in a court of criminal jurisdiction of any person for a violation thereof with respect to the subject of the forfeiture shall constitute PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE of such violation against the PERSON so convicted."

—=—

So what does prima facie mean? It means that the presumption stands unless you act and speak out against it. It means that words will be permitted by the state to define what you are despite your actual Nature as long as you don't rebut the opinion of that agent of artificial law. It means you cannot remain silent or your silence will be considered as consent on the face of the “facts.” The false facts as confirmed lies will be rendered as prima facie and therefore un-rebutted full evidence of your acquiescence and agreement to whatever status is presumed.

—=—

“What is prima facie evidence of a fact?”

“It is such as, in judgment of law, is sufficient to establish the fact; and, IF NOT REBUTTED, remains sufficient for the purpose.”

—United States v. Wiggins, 39 U.S. 334, 347 (1840), Cornell Law Library online

—=—

Presumption of law is the name of the game. Consent is garnered tacitly through inaction and silence, which is figuratively considered as an expression of will. The devil can only accuse, never evidence. Fiction cannot be proven except in the fiction, a debt only existing in that debtor’s hell. The devil relies only on the ignorance of man to the contractual relationship, to the language of the laws that bind the man because of it, and thus man’s clueless and unwitting under-standing to that satanic fiction of law due to no rebuttal of its legitimacy. Silence and inaction are the main ingredients of the legal realm, breathing life into that which has none. But most important to these devilmaster’s scenes is the voluntary ignorance of these legal terms of art and laws they form. Ignorance, above all else, is key to enslaving the mind. Public-mindedness is an impressed ignorance like no other, institutionalized in every form of education, entertainment, and church and state propaganda. We are trained to always take what we see at face value, including the validity and legitimacy of the legal law.

Title 1 of U.S. Code §204 states:

§204. Codes and Supplements as evidence of the laws of United States and District of Columbia; citation of Codes and Supplements. In all courts, tribunals, and public offices of the United States, at home or abroad, of the District of Columbia, and of each State, Territory, or insular possession of the United States—

(a) United States Code - The matter set forth in the edition of the Code of Laws of the United States current at any time shall, together with the then current supplement, if any, establish PRIMA FACIE the laws of the United States, general and permanent in their nature, in force on the day preceding the commencement of the session following the last session the legislation of which is included: Provided, however, That whenever titles of such Code shall have been ENACTED INTO POSITIVE LAW the text thereof shall be LEGAL EVIDENCE OF THE LAWS therein contained, in all the courts of the United States, the several States, and the Territories and insular possessions of the United States.

(b) District of Columbia Code - The matter set forth in the edition of the Code of the District of Columbia current at any time shall, together with the then current supplement, if any, establish PRIMA FACIE the laws, general and permanent in their nature, relating to or in force in the District of Columbia on the day preceding the commencement of the session following the last session the legislation of which is included, except such laws as are of application in the District of Columbia by reason of being laws of the United States general and permanent in their nature.

(c) District of Columbia Code; citation - The Code of the District of Columbia may be cited as "D.C. Code."

(d) Supplements to Codes; citation - Supplements to the Code of Laws of the United States and to the Code of the District of Columbia may be cited, respectively, as "U.S.C., Sup.", and "D.C. Code, Sup." the blank in each case being filled with ROMAN FIGURES denoting the number of the supplement.

(e) New edition of Codes; citation. - New editions of each of such codes may be cited, respectively, as "U.S.C., ed." and "D.C. Code, ed.", the blank in each case being filled with figures denoting the last year the legislation of which is included in whole or in part. (July 30, 1947, ch. 388, 61 Stat. 638 .)

—=—

One is left to wonder then which of the laws of these United States are mere prima facie presumptions of law that are cured by denial of consent, and which ones are actually legal evidence of law that cannot be denied by rebuttal. As it turns out, this is based on commercial considerations. Unconstitutional laws are generally commercial and international in nature, as in the admiralty/administrative jurisdiction, and so not a primary or constitutionally created function of government. In other words, the prima facie law is essentially the “for-profit,” de facto (illegitimate) side of government, from the slave-trade to interstate commerce of imports and exports. So while the creation of the judicial was a constitutional act and thus stands evidentially as positive law, the creation of the administrative (non-judicial) commercial agencies in the Executive Department of Justice are only ever prima facie, strictly for “customers” in public (commercial) persona. We must consent to their opinions for those opinions to effect us and become our law, for we accept them on their face as if they were true, factual, and legitimate, and our signatures and other actions in persona seals the deal through confirmation of that which is avoidable. A fools paradise.

When in consideration of what is a “constitutional law,” we must realize that the constitution mostly set up the structure of the government, not the law itself. In other words, the constitution was not an administrative document of law, it was a foundational establishment of the government itself. A law on golf courses in municipal corporations for instance, has nothing to do with the constitution. And unfortunately, a public law dealing with United States subjects (citizenships) has nothing to do with the foundation of government, and so has nothing to do with the constitution, for public persons are not a party to that negative law because they stand with no reserved rights. When all rights are granted by government, no rights existing outside of government, then no constitutional considerations can be taken to protect any reserved, negative, unalienable, God-given rights.

To be clear, the constitution did the following. It established:

Article I – The Legislative Branch.

Article II – The Executive Branch.

Article III – The Judicial Branch.

Article IV – The States (personification of relationship between fed and several private and public States)

Article V – Amendments (ability of future generations in posterity of blood to amend the constitution)

Article VI - Debts, Supremacy, and Oaths, establishing that all laws made from it are the ‘supreme Law of the Land,’ and that all officials and agents must swear an oath to that Constitution (a piece of paper).

Article VII – Ratification. Justification by signature of the attorney/agents who created it.

—=—

What in God’s name makes anyone think that the federal, government-created strawman they legally (artificially) stand in the bond of surety for in agency is a party to anything in the constitution that established this principality? This is nothing more and nothing less than the ordaining and establishment of a nation, as the creation of a magistracy (sovereignty), and a protection of they who created it. The status of public persons is not mentioned or protected in any way, shape, or form. Seriously, the damn thing protects slavery, not freedom for all!!!

So let's look and see just what laws in the U.S. Code of the United States are actually legitimate ones.

“Positive law titles of the United States Code, indicated by an asterisk, are LEGAL EVIDENCE of the law and need no further authoritative citation as prior acts concerning those titles have been repealed. Other titles to the U.S. Code are "PRIMA FACIE" evidence of the law (1 USC §204), and ARE PRESUMED TO BE THE LAW, BUT ARE REBUTTABLE by production of prior unrepealed acts of Congress at variance with the Code...”

“Titles 1-50 The Code of the Laws of the United States of America - ENACTED INTO PRIMA FACIE LAW by act of June 30, 1926, ch. 712, 44 Stat. 1, pt. 1. Covers all general and permanent laws in force as of December 7, 1925. No revision notes...”

—=—

The following titles of U.S. Code ARE PRIMA FACIE, and are thus rebuttable for the enlightened, private man:

Title 2 - THE CONGRESS
Title 6 - Homeland Security
Title 7 - Agriculture
Title 8 - Aliens and Nationality
Title 12 - Banks and Banking
Title 15 - Commerce and Trade
Title 16 - Conservation
Title 19 - Custom Duties
Title 20 - Education
Title 21 - Food and Drugs
Title 22 - Foreign Relations and Intercourse (commerce)
Title 24 - Hospitals and Asylums
Title 26 - Internal Revenue Code, and Appendix
Title 27 - Intoxicating Liquors
Title 29 - Labor
Title 30 - Mineral Lands and Mining
Title 33 - Navigation and Navigable Waters
Title 42 - Public Welfare
Title 43 - Public Lands
Title 45 - Railroads
Title 47 - Telegraphs, Telephones, and Radiotelegraphs
Title 48 - Territories and Insular Possessions
Title 50 - War and National Defense; and Appendix

—United States Code: List of Positive Law Titles With Enacting Cites and Location to Revision Notes: Compiled by Richard J. McKinney, Assistant Law Librarian, Federal Reserve Board Prepared for a November 9, 2004, program of the Legislative Research Special Interest Section of the Law Librarians' Society of Washington, D.C., Inc. (<http://www.llsdc.org>); Last revised in March 2015.

—=—

Note here that every single prima facie, rebuttable title of the U.S. Code above is commercial in its purpose as opposed to legitimately foundational. Even the “Congress” (of Title 2) was re-created by that de jure congress into a commercially driven, de facto, commercial clone as a legal entity in the “United States” to control international trade and interstate commerce under international admiralty law, and specifically not under the purview of constitutional derived law. It’s like an evil twin, a non-governmental aspect of the governmental functions. In other words, these titles deal with “customers” and not “tax-payers,” and this is how these government’s financial reports lists their assets and liabilities within their Comprehensive Annual Financial Reports (CAFR’s), as “governmental” and “non-governmental” funds. In this anterior personality, the “Congress” is not bound under any constitutional considerations, for these are all illegitimate functions of the Executive Branch, most of them set up as separate agencies and corporations. Thus all of these de facto, positive congressional (non-constitutional) laws in title themselves are prima facie and rebuttable as applied by its commercial ventures and agencies! They only apply to commercial things, to commercial considerations, including public persons but not private ones. This is very important to comprehend, for government was not in its organic purpose created for commercial ventures, though the ability to control “commerce” under admiralty law was certainly and quite purposefully established and constituted to be “under congress” by the statement: “To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes.” This statement left open the temptation to create a commercial structure far surpassing the stated purpose and intent of the constituters. But make no mistake, they knew exactly what they we're doing.

To be blunt, the constitution did not create the pirate cove that is the modern United States, but it certainly allowed for it to be later created by its constituted authorities under prima facie and unconstitutional considerations. This is not so different a phenomenon than the Highest, moral maxims of law, which as foundational and scriptural principals protect the private man as he who does not sell his soul and fall into fiction. And yet ever-increasingly and in meticulous incrementalism and design, the added maxims of man’s law of contracted disease allow for the most heinous of corruption of those foundational principals of the Natural Law. The constitution is foundational only to the structure, not the laws of the nation with regards to its voluntary subjects.

When asked to explain his public comment that “THE CONSTITUTION THAT I INTERPRET AND APPLY IS NOT LIVING BUT DEAD,” former Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia had this to say:

— = —

“Much of the, um, HARM that has been done in recent years by activist constitutional interpretation has been made possible by a theory, which says, that UNLIKE AN ORDINARY LAW, WHICH DOESN’T CHANGE... THE CONSTITUTION CHANGES from decade to decade to comport with, and this is a phrase that we use in our 8th amendment jurisprudence, we, the court does, to comport with “THE EVOLVING STANDARDS OF DECENCY THAT MARK THE PROGRESS OF A MATURING SOCIETY.” In other words, WE HAVE A MORPHING CONSTITUTION. And, of course, IT’S UP TO THE COURT TO DECIDE WHEN IT MORPHS AND HOW IT MORPHS. That’s generally paraded as the “living constitution.” And unfortunately, that philosophy has made enormous headway, not only with lawyers and judges, but even with John Q. Public.”

—Excerpt from a FORA.TV interview

— = —

Let us be clear here that even this judge of the Supreme Court is basically calling the activists and constitutionalists out there as idiots! Here is a god telling his subjects that it is he and his fellow attorney-class alone that “morphs” the constitution according to “evolving standards of decency,” even when that evolution is in fact an utter devolution in knowledge and moral awareness as we see happening today.

This commercial functionality, law, and Executive infrastructure had to be created later as de facto legal entities, as agencies of the prima facie (illegitimate, commercially acting) congress. It was not created by what is allowed or established by the constitution, nor by men acting under constitutional restrictions, but only reconstituted to be under the control of that two-faced, commercialized “Congress” of Title 2. The constitution certainly established the legitimate congress in its official capacity under the private States united in compact and to protect that privacy, but the congress then commercially recreated itself under its own rules and code, establishing its own jurisdictional realm of fiction in which to trap and rule over the multitude. It created its own legal hell. This distinction must be understood, just as the congress recreated the evil twin of the “Judicial” branch through the Judicial Act of 1789, which created an Executive agency in similitude but not sameness, as an administrative, not judicial agency to oversee the purely illegitimate (unconstitutional) commercial aspects of that district. In this way Washington D.C. and its jurisdiction is very much like The Matrix, a false reflection of the actuality of government, with intent completely opposing the reason for its sources existence; built to suck the prosperity and liberty of the common people dry like a vampire. Piracy. Thus a private citizen will not participate in commerce of any sort recognizable as foreign or interstate, for that would be a public transaction not protected by the constitution. Congress literally wears two hats. One has a picture of the constitution, while one has a picture of the skull and crossbones of piracy on the commercial high seas. The intent of congress defines the law it creates as either positive or prima facie. As all commerce is designed in fraud and deceit and specifically for profit and revenue, they must create this secondary commercial, de facto structure and law in the form that it requires voluntary participation and consent of customers, which merely means that, if not rebutted, the presumption stands as a fact of law. And this is why it is said that the United States has two different governments, the original, constitutional one and the simulated, unconstitutional, re-created commercial one.

The IRS, for example, has no standing in law without your consent, affirmation, and confirmation of commercial taxpayer status in personhood, for its very existence as an agency in U.S. Code is prima facie. But that doesn’t mean you can’t voluntarily contract yourself as their debt-slave, in the legal title of “taxpayer.” Title 42, including Social Security, minimum wage and other employee regulations, Health Care, and so many other public benefits that strangle and specifically identify the population through this individual status of personhood by such evil, blood-tainting marks and numbers, has no weight unless you agree to participate in its agencies and their commercial (unconstitutional) programs and thus give them contractual power over your person in publicity. It collects on public debts by public persons using public funds. And that collection agency of the treasury (exchequer) places the surety (man bound to perform in public persona) into a federal debtor’s prison when the debt is not paid. For stolen time and forced labor equals money. This has nothing to do with the constitution, of course. And we must realize that as public citizenships, as debtor’s in the contracted hell of legal personhood, we are not acting legitimately and so cannot invoke the negative aspects and securities of the constitution, for we reserve no rights while in surety to another’s property. Remember that with government protection comes contractual subjection to government. Hospitals and the mental health industry, including the massive liberties granted to the pharmaceutical industries - these are all prima facie.

Basically, all commercial entities created by the commercial side of the commercially acting congress are prima facie and de facto (illegitimate) in their legal nature. The banks. Education. Agriculture. Public lands. All of these commercial applications are consent-based. Signature-based. Even the War Department (now offensively renamed as “Defense”), which conquers through violent force and the purchase of other countries and states, is purely a commercial agency and prima facie in all its actions. It would only be lawful if a war was officially declared by the congress acting in its intended constitutional functionality, which has not happened since the declaration of war in 1942. All military actions after World War II have been unlawful, prima facie, and purely commercial in nature under illegitimate Executive authority called emergency war powers. These will be discussed in Volume II of this work.

All of these are merely the operating presumptions of law, the presumption being that these are the standing legal considerations by all courts, in that you agree to, consent to, and tacitly understand all of these U.S. Codes and their agencies and agents to be the authority of law. This is not comprehension, only understanding, for the principals of law protect voluntary ignorance. To act in person is to stand under the law of persons. Unless you just say no and quit claiming to be a public person, the government automatically says yes. Your actions express your will and understanding.

Inversely, notice that the other codes that are considered as enacted, revised, and stand as “positive” law, have very little if anything at all to do with the commercial side of government in its business and acquisitions of men, industries, and corporations, and are mostly just public services or protections, or are the foundational aspects thereof. They are also the sources of many government functionalities, such as the banking code, as creator and regulator of the money itself, which is purely the rules and regulatory functionality of money and money-changers to be used in commerce, not the actual illegitimate commercial thing or entity itself. Not, for instance, the actual central bank, but the standards of weights and measures thereof.

Environment, Wildlife, The President, National Park Service, Voting and Elections, Public Buildings and Works, the Postal Service, Patriotic and National Observances, Ceremonies, Organizations, the Military, National Guard, Pay and Allowances of the Uniformed Services, Patents, and Money and Finance are all created as positive law codes. They are actually legitimate governmental functions within law, or at least as legitimate as a conspiracy designed to enslave can be. They are, in other words, legitimate to the private People of the several States, who participate only privately in all things public and commercial.

As for what is the constitutional and positive law, we may consider the following maxim. For as public persons, that which is positively established is a requirement of law that hears no exceptions.

—=—

“Acts required by law to be done, admit of no qualification.”

—Actus legitimi non recipiunt modum. Hob. 153. (BouvMaxim)—

—=—

Again, these positive laws are actual legal evidence, not prima facie (pre-tended) evidence, and so they are not rebuttable. They are the standard existence as the legal code, and no assumption is needed for them to apply. No reason (qualifying purpose) for any law is required for its enforcement once it is established. No moral considerations apply to its blind execution. Only a private man may put to question the authority of that positive law of persons (status), for he carries not any such artifice. These United States laws simply do not affect a private citizen, for it is only public law. For all others in public intercourse though, the law is strictly taken without error. This is equality -vs- equitableness.

When reading the following maxims of law regarding what equity is and how it is applied, do not forget the dualistic nature of this word. To act in Natural equitableness (verb) according to the Natural Law of God as one's negative duty to fellow man is not the same as a legal system of legally established (named) equity (noun). For a United States public person, nothing in Nature may touch such a fiction of law. When the law decides what equity is, equity is no longer a term of Natural Law. Equity in fiction is the road runner vs. Wile E Coyote. Both of these are cartoon characters, and their law is the law of their artistic creator. Their actions are not their own, and their law is what is forced upon them. This is legal equity via contractual relationship to the state, the equity of artificial (legally natural) persons. And so in each case below, remember your perspective. Remember what is equity under the God of Truth and what it is under the legal gods of the big lie.

—=—

“The radical element of justice is equality.”

—Prima pars aequitatis aequalitas. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“Equality is equity.”

—Francis' Max., Max. 3; 4 Bouv. Inst. n. 3725. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“Equity suffers not a right without a remedy.”

—4 Bouv. Inst. n. 3726. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“Equity ACTS UPON THE PERSON.”

“Equity FOLLOWS THE LAW.”

—Aequitas agit in personam. 4 Bouv. Inst. n. 3733. Aequilas sequitur legem. 1 Story, Eq. Jur. §64.; 3 Wooddes. Lect. 479, 482.

—=—

“The law sometimes follows equity.”

—Lex aliquando sequitur aequitatem. 3 Wils. 119.

—=—

“The law delights in equity; it covets perfection;
it is a rule of right.”

—Lex aequitate gaudet; appetit perfectum; est norma recti. Jenk. Cent. 36.

—=—

“LAW FEIGNS WHERE EQUITY SUBSISTS.”

—Lex fingit ubi subsistit aequitas. 11 Co. 90.

—=—

“Equity looks upon that as done, which ought to be done.”

4 Bouv. Inst. n. 3729; 1 Fonbl. Eq. b. 1, 16 ch. 6, s. 9, note; 3 Wheat. 563.

—=—

“A judge ought always to have equity before his eyes.”

—Judex ante oculos aequitatem semper habere debet. Jenk. Cent. 58.

—=—

“A judge ought always to regard equity.”

—Judex aequitatem semper spectare debet. Jenk. Cent. 45.

—=—

“A good judge decides according to justice and right, and prefers equity to strict law.”

—Bonum judex secundum aequum et bonum judicat, et aequitatem stricto juri praefert. Co. Litt. 24.

—=—

“Law regards equity.”

—Jus respicit aequitatem. Co. Litt. 24.

—=—

“In all affairs, and principally in those which concern the administration of justice, the rules of equity ought to be followed.”

—In omnibus quidem, maxime tamen in jure, aequitas spectanda sit. 22 Dig. 50, 17, 90.

—=—

“He who has committed iniquity, SHALL NOT HAVE EQUITY.”

—Francis' Max., Max. 2.

—=—

“He who will have equity done to him, must do equity to the same person.”

—4 Bouv. Inst. n. 3723.

—=—

“IN A FICTION OF LAW, EQUITY ALWAYS SUBSISTS.”

—In fictione juris, semper subsistit aequitas. 11 Co. 51.—

—=—

“IT IS AGAINST EQUITY TO DEPRIVE FREEMAN OF THE FREE DISPOSAL OF THEIR OWN PROPERTY.”

—Iniquum est ingenuis hominibus non esse liberam rerum suarum alienationem. Co. Litt. 223. See 1 Bouv. Inst. n. 455, 460.—

—=—

“Nothing is more conformable to natural equity, than to confirm the will of an owner WHO DESIRES TO TRANSFER HIS PROPERTY TO ANOTHER.”

—Nihil tam conveniens est naturali aequitati, quam voluntatem domini voluntis rem suam in alium transferre, ratam haberi. Inst. 2, 1, 40; 1 Co. 100.—

—=—

“Necessity creates equity.”

—(BouvMaxim)—

—=—

“A good thing required by necessity is not good beyond the limits of such necessity.”

—BONUM NECESSARIUM EXTRA TERMINOS NECESSITATIS NON EST BONUM. Hob. 144. (Black4)—

—=—

“Perpetuities are odious in law and equity.”

—(BouvMaxim)—

—=—

The justification for war is always one of necessity, where “necessity knows no law.” Thus war, out of necessity, generally creates a state of equity. In other words, war resets commercialism by destroying that which opposes or blocks it. And this is why sanctions are used before war might be declared. But never forget that war is only ever for commercial purposes, a tool of the devil in a system of mammon.

Comprehending this distinction between equity and all other formalities of law is crucial. For as we have read here in these maxims, the default state of thought for any judge should be equitableness, or as that which is in harmony with the Natural Law. We must also remember that these maxims are preferable but not a requirement. In other words, since the more localized and personal maxim that contract makes the law also must play in that judges forum and jurisdiction as a foundational principle, if the contract itself stands in fraud and inequity as agreed upon by the parties then the judge must also stand in support of the fraud and inequity of the voluntary contract, and so may not consider equitable means to find remedy, but instead must follow the strict rule of and regarding such contractual relationships. Thus the strict law of the voluntary contract defeats the ability of the judge to act morally even if he wanted to. And the Bible is excluded from his purview and unenforceable as the common law thereof, for contract law conquers other forms of law. These maxims and their power over one another are ultra-important to learn, for we can know the judges opinion before he makes it if we have a full understanding of the principles that will necessarily and legally guide it. Equity within contract is simply not the same as Natural equity without. And we have no hope of extracting equitable means from any administrative judge of United States citizenships, for the contractual relationship destroys the Natural equity principle through juris strictum, as that strict, written law of persons. Acceptance of the written law destroys the implications of the unwritten law. The principles of law cannot defeat a contracted disease, for the terms of the contract defeat the equitable terms of law.

This defeatism we all suffer as common persons and municeps is generally based on the fact that positive laws deal with the everyday running, infrastructure, and general services to taxpayers. Commercial, prima facie laws, however, deal with customers, not taxpayers. And this is why taxpayers are called as the “customers” of most for-profit government agencies instead of taxpayers or citizens. Perhaps you should go check your local municipal corporation (city or county) bill to see what status of person it is addressed to. Are you a customer of government? Water, sewer, trash, golf, etc...

FACIES - Latin. The face or countenance; the exterior appearance or view; hence, contemplation or study of a thing on its EXTERNAL or APPARENT side. Thus, prima facie means at the first inspection, on a preliminary or exterior scrutiny. When we speak of a “prima facie case,” we mean one which, ON ITS OWN SHOWING, on a first examination, or WITHOUT INVESTIGATING ANY ALLEGED DEFENSES, is APPARENTLY GOOD AND MAINTAINABLE. (Black1)

FACIO UT DES - (Latin. I do that you may give.) A species of contract in the civil law (being one of the innominate contracts) which occurs WHEN A MAN AGREES TO PERFORM anything for a price either specifically mentioned OR LEFT TO THE DETERMINATION OF THE LAW TO SET A VALUE ON IT: AS WHEN A SERVANT HIRES HIMSELF TO HIS MASTER FOR CERTAIN WAGES OR AN AGREED SUM OF MONEY. Also, the consideration of that species of CONTRACT. (Black4)

FACIO UT FACIAS - (Latin. I do that you may do.) The consideration of that species of contract in the civil law, or the contract itself (being one of the innominate contracts), which occurs when I agree with a man to do his work for him if he will do mine for me; OR IF TWO PERSONS AGREE TO MARRY TOGETHER, OR TO DO ANY OTHER POSITIVE ACTS ON BOTH SIDES; or it may be TO FORBEAR on one side in consideration of something done on the other. (Black4)

FACSIMILE - An exact copy, preserving all the MARKS of the ORIGINAL. (Black4)

— — —

Any way you look at it, rent is extortion. Blackmail. It is veiled slavery, as indenture. For the money we use to pay rent today represents only that commercial current (currency) of time. Money, again, is just a re-presentation of the physical substance of labor, hours of work in monetary form that can be traded or used to pay extortion, exaction, or rent. Remember, extortion (as exaction) is a protected right under Title 42 of U.S. Code, forced upon the public citizenship for his crime of use of another’s property. In Reality, and in consideration of what the earth provides us in ultra-abundance if it is cared for in respect of God’s Laws, no man should ever live in such a state of controlled adversity that he should pay rent to another. And no man should wish to lay such sufferance upon his fellow man, for no man should be or desire to be lord and master over another. Rent can and only will ever live in inequitableness. It is unnatural. But rent is clearly an ancient custom, part of the culture. And it is quite clear in recorded history that slaves often fight for their right at the chance to charge and enslave other slaves as they themselves were so charged; the strange hierarchical bedfellows of mutual captivity.

So why is a perpetuity considered as a state of inequity in the maxim above? How about perpetual debt?

—=—

"...And to preserve their independence, we must not let our rulers load us with PERPETUAL DEBT. We must make our ELECTION between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts as that we must be taxed in our meat and in our drink, in our necessities and our comforts, in our labors and our amusements, for our callings and our creeds, as the people of England are, our people, like them, must come to labor sixteen hours in the twenty-four, and give the earnings of fifteen of these to the government for their debts and daily expenses; and the sixteenth being insufficient to afford us bread, we must live, as they now do, on oatmeal and potatoes; HAVE NOT TIME TO THINK, NO MEANS OF CALLING THE MISMANAGER'S TO ACCOUNT; BUT BE GLAD TO OBTAIN SUBSISTENCE BY HIRING OURSELVES TO RIVET THEIR CHAINS ON THE NECKS OF OUR FELLOW SUFFERERS..."

—Thomas Jefferson, as quoted in: 'The Making of America,' page 395

—=—

Of course, for every rent a user is needed. Someone or something needs to be charged. And so we find that rent is merely a reoccurring necessity in the artful existence of a permanent state of usury. We call and accept this quality as "government."

In defining usufruct, as the Cestue Que Vie, we get a glimpse into how the ancient laws and history that were once indeed against our modern form of usury, and how those laws were changed through the expansion of usufruct upon consumable commodities. Where as before money (currency and coinage) could not be altered in its substance into any other form, meaning that its value could not be arbitrarily changed (inflated and deflated) and usury could not be imbued to increase the imaginary, uncirculated amount of its value through a calculated future debt as "interest," the laws over time and political dispositions thereof were incrementally changed to make consumable commodities and the exchange currency they are purchased with (money) into a usurious thing. Thus the consideration of money was changed from one of pure substance (such as gold or silver) to that of pure form (as our current fiat U.S. dollar). While the substance could not be altered because it was physical (pure), and whereas nothing artificial could be begotten from it, the re-presentation of its substance into paper form allowed it to be altered in any way the issuer and loaner of that paper currency saw fit, or as they say, artfully created out of thin air. When artifice became money, man's person and his property also became money personified.

The form pressed into a gold coin made no difference to the value of the actual gold as the substance in weight that made up the coin. The value of the gold was the value of the coin. But the form of a piece of paper that represents value with no actual substance in reference to that value carries unlimited potential for corruption, greed, and most importantly usury. Likewise, the paper birth certificate as a commercial paper bank note creates unlimited corruption of the blood, with unlimited monetary consideration of the mere form (name) of man. The substance of man is re-presented into the form of a commercial certificate of exchange. Thus, man is re-considered from substance to form (flesh and blood to paper), just as money is re-considered from metals, grains, or livestock into a representative paper form with no substantive reference or actual connection to the original. In this way, the future calves of those cattle or products of other seeded commodities can be secured as future currency for today's debts, for paper can represent anything, even future life in debt and labor potential. And so the issues as offspring of citizen-ships are collateralized through the birth registration process to secure the public debt, a debt that can never be paid, only performed in public service and servitude in perpetuity and without equitableness. We call this state of commercial existence as "equality." But legal equality is not Natural equity. All slaves are equal, but no slave has equity.

The author wishes to disclaim here that this notion of what is "lawful money" is yet another patriot mythology. The Bible makes no distinction between any form of money, for slaves were certainly valued in gold and silver in their commercial trade. All money is the root of all evil. End of story. And so we must take a quick look at the clever designs of the money-changers so that we may prove this statement, that there is no such thing as lawful money under God, only under tyrants and in pirate coves. To say that money is lawful simply means that a certain form of money was written as the strict law to be lawful, in other words, legal. It means nothing else, and no, Jehovah does not put Its seal of approval upon any metal or any other form of "money."

So let us discover how these pure coins of gold and silver were made impure for taxation purposes. We will do this simply to show that money in any form is the seed of absolute corruption, and all forms thereof are absolutely corruptible.

Ever ask yourself why 90% gold and silver coins only had 90% gold and silver?

The typical answer by the pat-riot and coin collector would be that the baser (less valuable) metals admixed therein was included to somehow strengthen the coin for its circulation. And that's where they stop, other than to meticulously evaluate the worth of that coin by how it appears to their ego. Fine, extra-fine, etc. This is a perfect example of public-mindedness that plagues the rational of the common goyim.

The actual reason for this admixture of metals was simply a tax. Nothing more, nothing less. So how is a bit of extraneous, lesser valued metal to be taken as a tax?

A sourced Wikipedia article on "Seigniorage" explains how the commonalty is hoodwinked into paying a tax every time we use money, no matter what its form or substance:

Seigniorage, also spelled seignorage or seigneurage (from Old French seigneurage "right of the lord (seigneur) to mint money"), is the difference between the value of money AND THE COST TO PRODUCE AND DISTRIBUTE IT. The term can be applied in the following ways:

- Seigniorage derived from specie — metal coins — IS A TAX, ADDED TO THE TOTAL PRICE OF A COIN (metal content and production costs), that a customer of the mint had to pay to the mint, and that WAS SENT TO THE SOVEREIGN OF THE POLITICAL AREA.^[1]

- Seigniorage derived from notes is more INDIRECT, being the difference between interest earned on securities acquired in exchange for bank notes and the costs of producing and distributing those notes.^[2]

The term also applies to monetary seignorage, WHERE SOVEREIGN-ISSUED SECURITIES ARE EXCHANGED FOR NEWLY MINTED BANK NOTES BY A CENTRAL BANK, thus allowing the sovereign to 'borrow' without needing to repay. [3] However, monetary seignorage refers to the SOVEREIGN REVENUE OBTAINED THROUGH ROUTINE DEBT MONETIZATION, INCLUDING EXPANDING THE MONEY SUPPLY during GDP growth and meeting yearly inflation targets.[3]

Seigniorage is a convenient source of revenue for some governments.

—=—

To make this clear, it was the added metals that made coins only 90% gold or silver. But the user and purchaser paid for the coin as if it were 100% gold or silver. That 10% over pay, which is filled in with baser metals of low value, is called a tax of seigniorage. And every time that coin is spent the tax is repeated, over and over and over. This tax is also included with the current dollar and other currencies of the many nations. The U.S. mint even reports this tax of seigniorage as one of its added profits within its Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). In fact, before a dollar bill even leaves the press it is issued upon it is taxed for seigniorage before it ever reaches its first bank or wallet. The penny now costs way more than 1 cent to produce, and the over-cost of producing each penny is also called as seigniorage.

Legal equality... ironically, this is a convoluted way of saying simply that man is patriated into citizen-ship, virtually recreated into a strawman in his own mind. And just what does it mean for a commercial entity to be patriotic of his own voluntary enslavement, to love his government corporation (artificial person) in blasphemy to God, and to love the money that represents his own nativity and valuation as human capital?

PATRIOTISM - noun - LOVE OF ONE'S COUNTRY; the passion which aims to serve one's country, either in defending it from invasion, or protecting its rights and maintaining its laws and institutions in vigor and purity. Patriotism is the CHARACTERISTIC OF A GOOD CITIZEN, the noblest passion that ANIMATES A MAN IN THE CHARACTER OF A CITIZEN. (Webs1828)

—=—

Cartoon characters in a cartoon world...

Love of God or love of country? Man must love one and not the other, for the love of one necessarily destroys the other. But which was here first? Whose land is it Really? Who Created it?

When comparing national citizenship (nativity) to the tribal nature of the former condition of Native American Indians and their love of the land, we can Truly see the difference between this legal, financial protectionism of surety and insurance as opposed to the Highest negative duties of spiritual, brotherly Love and Charity.

—=—

"When people are destroyed and LANGUAGES ARE DESTROYED, YOU DESTROY THAT KNOWLEDGE ALONG WITH IT. So what do indigenous people have to offer? Indigenous people have the LONG-TERM THINKING required for proper context."

"What Indians are about, I think, first of all is community. They're about mutual support. They're about sharing. They're about understanding what's common land, common air, common water, common and FOR ALL. They're about freedom."

We are now. Now is us. We're the seventh generation. I'm sitting here as the seventh generation BECAUSE SEVEN GENERATIONS AGO PEOPLE WERE LOOKING OUT FOR ME. SEVEN GENERATIONS FROM NOW SOMEONE WILL BE HERE, I KNOW. EACH GENERATION MAKES SURE THAT SEVENTH GENERATION IS COMING, ALL THE TIME."

—Chief Oren Lyons, from an interview with Bill Moyers on July 3, 1991, as aired on 'Public Affairs Television'

—=—

Is our accumulation of “national debt” in any ways supposed to be a benefit to our future generations? Or have we secured our children into a sort of bondage that cannot even be fathomed but by the final chapters of the Bible?

Countries (corporations) exist in purposeful spitefulness of God and the Natural, spiritual Law. It can be no other way, for government and religion are not the self-evident designs of God’s Nature, not in Being of the Supreme Permanence of Jehovah, and have no relation to Real Life. They are only dead, fictional things and therefore can only relate to dead, fictional persons, places, and things (nouns).

A “Christian nation” has nothing of its legalistic law written in any way according to the Bible scriptures. If it did, there would be no purpose for any other law, and thus no purpose for that so-called government and its administrative gods. When considering just the banking law alone as compared to scripture, this conclusion is self-evident. Commercialism would be outlawed if the Law of God was being followed and exemplified through Christ. Charity would be the only True Law, for one of the supreme purposes of Charity is that of avoiding exactly the artificial debts we find ourselves in today. Debt and artificial authority go hand in hand. The gods of the nations are built upon debt. Countries are only created by false-magistrate gods seeking to bypass the moral law and rule over others through debt, for countries are simply not Creations of God in Nature. Thus, patriotism is a state of artificial being and belief in the veracity of fiction that is totally against God’s Design and Law in favor of man’s. The love of (belief in) fiction can be simply defined as patriotism.

—=—

“Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel.”

—Samuel Johnson, quoted from Boswell’s: ‘Life of Johnson’

—=—

So love of country is the last refuge of a scoundrel. Thus love of the fiction that allows a scoundrel to exist legally is the True purpose of patriotism. No surprise, for the victim often loves his captor and corruptor.

In The Matrix movies, it was stated that anyone plugged into The Matrix was “a potential agent.” As science fiction this was cool, but in Real Life this is also a verifiable Truism. This was not just science fiction, but about actual legal fiction, for all men in the legal fiction are actors, as the registered agents of assigned legal personas, acting in an agentic and dependent way towards one’s master and principal. Patriotism, the love of the artifice of the fictional nation, causes all men to be potential enemies to any free man under God. The patriot loves fiction over Nature, loving his nation over his own Natural freedom and the government and its legal laws over that of God’s. And so the typical DMV worker for instance certainly plays the part of an agent, treating their fellow man in citizenship with a contempt only possible through the flattering titles conferred upon such slightly inflated government agents. The agent always defends its principal, for without such a master that servant's status and subsequent benefits and protections in and because of that servitude and flattering legal title would not exist. So all men acting in the persona of government are agents thereof, including all common citizenships, and their patriotism may be invoked at any time due to their vested interest in the legal systems that feed and falsely enrich them. We defend, in other words, not merely the teat we suck from, but that which it is attached to. It is our artificial womb, our legal matrix (mother). Thus, the entire public population are turned into enemies of each other, informers and betrayers, as agents of the machine. For in order to retain our legally bestowed, unnatural benefits we must support the hand that feeds us over that of the very Nature and Natural Equity of all that is Jehovah. We must abandon God and embrace the fiction of the legal matrix.

The simulacrum is true...

—=—

“Beware the leader who bangs the drums of war in order to whip the citizenry into a patriotic fervor, for patriotism is indeed a double-edged sword. It both emboldens the blood, just as it narrows the mind. And when the drums of war have reached a fever pitch and the blood boils with hate and the mind has closed, the leader will have no need in seizing the rights of the citizenry. Rather, THE CITIZENRY, INFUSED WITH FEAR AND BLINDED BY PATRIOTISM, WILL OFFER UP ALL OF THEIR RIGHTS UNTO THE LEADER AND GLADLY SO. How do I know? For this is what I have done. And I am Caesar.”

—Parabolically attributed to Julius Caesar (seizure)

—=—

Patriotism is not the fear of God, as the fear of what will happen by not following that Law, but instead is the fear of government, as the fear of not selling our souls to that fiction and against God.

Let's break this word patriotism down into its selective parts, shall we, and then examine what it is to be a pat-riot?

PAT - adjective - FIT; CONVENIENT; EXACTLY SUITABLE EITHER AS TO TIME OR PLACE. [Not an elegant word, but admissible in burlesque.] - adverb - Fitly; conveniently. (Webs1828)

RIOT - noun - 1. In a general sense, tumult; uproar; hence technically, in law, A RIOTOUS ASSEMBLING of twelve persons or more, and NOT DISPERSING UPON PROCLAMATION. The definition of riot must depend on the laws. In Connecticut, the assembling of three persons or more, to do an unlawful act by violence against the person or property of another, and not dispersing upon proclamation, is declared to be a riot. In Massachusetts and New Hampshire, the number necessary to constitute a riot is twelve. 2. Uproar; wild and noisy festivity. 3. Excessive and expensive feasting. 2 Peter 2:13. 4. Luxury. The lamb thy riot dooms to bleed today. To run riot TO ACT OR MOVE WITHOUT CONTROL OR RESTRAINT. - verb intransitive - 1. To revel; to run to excess in feasting, drinking or other sensual indulgences. 2. To luxuriate; to be highly excited. No pulse that riots, and no blood that glows. 3. To banquet; TO LIVE IN LUXURY; TO ENJOY. How base is the ingratitude which forgets the benefactor, while it is rioting on the benefit! 4. To raise an uproar or sedition. (Webs1828)

PATRIOT - noun - [Latin patria, ONE'S NATIVE COUNTRY, from pater, FATHER.] A PERSON who LOVES his country, and ZEALOUSLY supports and defends IT and ITS interests. Such tears as patriots shed for dying laws. - adjective - Patriotic; DEVOTED TO THE WELFARE OF ONE'S COUNTRY; as patriot zeal. (Webs1828)

ZEAL - noun - [Gr., Latin] Passionate ardor in the pursuit of any THING. In general, zeal is an eagerness of desire to accomplish or obtain some object, and IT MAY BE MANIFESTED EITHER IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OR THING, OR IN OPPOSITION TO IT, AND IN A GOOD OR BAD CAUSE... They have a zeal of God, BUT NOT ACCORDING TO KNOWLEDGE. Romans 10:2. A ZEAL FOR LIBERTY IS SOMETIMES AN EAGERNESS TO SUBVERT, WITH LITTLE CARE WHAT SHALL BE ESTABLISHED. (Webs1828)

PATRON - In ordinary usage one who PROTECTS, countenances, or SUPPORTS SOME PERSON OR THING; ONE WHO HABITUALLY EXTENDS MATERIAL ASSISTANCE; a regular CUSTOMER; A PROTECTOR OR BENEFACTOR. In ecclesiastical law. He who has the right, title, power, or privilege of presenting to an ecclesiastical benefice. In Roman law. THE FORMER MASTER OF AN EMANCIPATED SLAVE. In French marine law. The captain or MASTER OF A VESSEL. (Black4)

PATRON - noun - [Latin patronus; Gr. FATHER.] 1. Among the Romans, a master who had freed his slave, AND RETAINED SOME RIGHTS OVER HIM AFTER HIS EMANCIPATION; also, a man of distinction UNDER WHOSE PROTECTION ANOTHER PLACED HIMSELF. Hence, 2. One who countenances, supports and protects either a person or a work. 3. In the church of Rome, a guardian or saint, WHOSE NAME A PERSON BEARS, or under whose special care he is placed AND WHOM HE INVOKES; or a saint in whose name a church or order is founded. 4. In the canon or common law, one who has the gift and disposition of a benefice. 5. AN ADVOCATE; A DEFENDER; one that specially countenances and supports, or lends aid to advance; AS PATRONS OF THE ARTS; A PATRON OF USEFUL UNDERTAKINGS; the patrons of virtue. 6. In seamen's language, the commander of a small vessel or passage-boat; also, one who steers a ship's long boat. (Webs1828)

PATRONATUS - Latin. In Roman law. The condition, relation, right, or duty of a patron. In ecclesiastical law. Patronage. (Black4)

PATRONAGE - noun - Special countenance or support; favor or aid afforded TO SECOND THE VIEWS OF A PERSON or TO PROMOTE A DESIGN. 1. Guardianship, as of a saint. 2. Advowson; the right of presentation to a church or ecclesiastical benefice. - verb transitive - To patronize or support... (Webs1828)

PATRONIZE - To act as a patron, extend patronage, countenance, encourage, favor. (Black4)

PATRONUS - Latin. In Roman law. A modification of the Latin word pater, FATHER. A denomination applied by Romulus to the first senators of Rome, and which they always afterwards bore. A person who stood in the relation of PROTECTOR TO ANOTHER who was called his "client." One who ADVISED his client in matters of law, and advocated his causes in court. (Black4)

PATRIMONY - Any kind of PROPERTY. Such estate as has DESCENDED IN THE SAME FAMILY; estates which have descended OR BEEN DEvised IN A DIRECT LINE FROM THE FATHER, and, by extension, from the mother or other ancestor. It has been held that THE WORD IS NOT NECESSARILY RESTRICTED TO PROPERTY INHERITED DIRECTLY FROM THE FATHER. (Black4)

PATRIMONIAL - Pertaining to a patrimony; inherited from ancestors, but strictly from the direct male ancestors. (Black4)

PATRINUS - In old ecclesiastical law. A GODFATHER. (Black4)

PATROCINIUM - In Roman law. Patronage; protection; defense. The BUSINESS or DUTY of a patron or advocate. (Black4)

GODFATHER - noun - The man who is sponsor for a child at baptism, who promises to answer for his future conduct and that he shall follow a life of piety, by this means LAYING HIMSELF UNDER AN INDISPENSABLE OBLIGATION TO INSTRUCT THE CHILD AND WATCH OVER HIS CONDUCT.

This practice is of high antiquity in the christian church, and was probably intended TO PREVENT CHILDREN FROM BEING BROUGHT UP IN IDOLATRY, in case the parents died before the children had arrived to years of discretion. In the catholic church the number of godfathers and godmothers is reduced to two; in the church of England, to three; but formerly the number was not limited. - verb transitive - To ACT as godfather; TO TAKE UNDER ONE'S FOSTERING CARE. (Webs1828)

CLIENT - noun - 1. Among the Romans, a citizen WHO PUT HIMSELF UNDER THE PROTECTION of a man of distinction and influence, who, in respect to that relation, was called his PATRON. Hence in modern usage, 2. One who applies to a lawyer or counselor for advice and direction in a question of law, or commits his cause to his management in prosecuting a claim, or defending against a suit, in a court of justice. 3. A DEPENDENT. (Webs1828)

DEFENDER - noun - ONE WHO DEFENDS BY OPPOSITION; one who maintains, supports, protects or vindicates; an assertor; a vindicator, EITHER BY ARMS OR BY ARGUMENTS; a champion or AN ADVOCATE. (Webs1828)

— = —

To defend evil is to be an agent for evil. This is a very difficult concept. For a defender of any faith (trust) is an attorney (agent) for that which it opposes. To be a defender of any form of the secular forms of legal “Christianity” of the universal (Catholic) faith is to be an offender to the True Nature of the Word of God. The queen of England, that immortal corporation sole of the Crown, is not opposed to the pope, but a defender of its franchise. All things are opposite in evil. What is created by the sovereign to stand against its sovereignty is that which is a defender of it.

To be clear, patriotism for the United States by its subjected citizenships is literally controlled opposition. No slave in right mindedness would love his master, though the illusion of love certainly solidifies the relation-ship. All citizenships are defenders, defending the artificial faith our tyrants in mammon through pat-riotism, by opposition to our own individual freedom of movement and action without restraint, a state of loving the laws that bind ourselves and others in subjection (purchased protection). It is a state of riotous behavior streamlined and directly funneled into a specific, reorganized, and thus useful cause in support of the very thing that oppresses, which is of course the needs and justification of the state in international commercial activity under a war flag (Arms) at sea. Commercialism of human capital management through contracted (voluntary) employment (use) in corporations (artificial persons) is the most organized form of slavery in existence, causing men to love their slavery for love of money, which may only be obtained through legal means such as employment. Military structures and rankings are also set up in this way, the murdering soldiers mere mercenaries just following orders of their striped and marked, flatteringly titled patrons.

This strange behavior and love does not benefit the “patriot” in any way, for the patriot is just cannon-fodder for the state, and is contractually obligated to serve the state in life and/or death as its slave and defender. However, the patriot is convinced that he is better off with the state, and so the benefits entailed with that servitude cannot be ignored, and the murder of millions by the standing army of that state and its police (peace-keepers of commerce) are thus patriotically accepted and even cheered for by such pat-riots as part of a prosperous citizenship. The patriot cheers for his captor and feeds from its teat in utter dependence thereof. Foreigners must die and suffer in destruction so that we may exist and live (evil) in controlled and taxed intercourse.

All of our energy and awareness must be redirected into supporting utterly the fiction and its infrastructure. And today, most employments are meaningless in every way, supporting only the artificial intelligence systems and coded language of information and money. From bank tellers to computer programmers to lawyers to systems analysts, the entire structure of employment has been driven toward the building of the artifice of this legal (satanic) matrix.

Pat = to be controlled.

Riot = violent opposition.

Ism = a state of being.

Patriotism is literally just a permanent state of being used (employed) as controlled opposition in support of tyranny. It only causes men to love and worship that which oppresses them. For only a slave-holder creates the title of slave, and only a sovereign nation creates the title of citizenship. We love our captors; love our nativity. Stockholm Syndrome.

So what happens when the state becomes the father and god-father of every man through birth citizen-ship? Exactly what you see today...

The state becomes the legal father (patron saint) of the fatherless - the abandoned (delivered) infant of unknown parentage, a child of the people born of the nation and within its bond of nativity. All men defend the state by displaying its artificial Arms (flag and seal) instead of that from their own paternal bloodline. One must abandon God’s Permanent Law to be adopted by the gods under legal laws. One must continually patronize that artifice as a surrogate father or it will cease to exist (as a lie). And one must allow themselves to be chargeable as to the rents and extortions that keep government running in immortal, corporate self-perpetuation.

This is why the kings and queens are called “Defenders of the Faith,” for the Faith cannot defend itself, and so they must be defended by the legal, militarized state. Only a thing standing in opposition to the Natural order requires a defender, for to defend any of the corporate church doctrines is to stand in opposition to God and the self-evidence of the knowledge written in those scriptures, which clearly defy and warn against all other doctrines of “persons” in “flattering titles” such as kings, queens, and magistrates. Only that which is opposed to Nature need prove itself to falsely exist as a confirmed and ratified lie, as these “Defenders of the Faith” must do. For the church is only the form, the noun, not the substance that is the verb of Jehovah and the self-evident Law (Word/Son). To worship by way of a perpetual corporation sole is to worship in name (noun) and empty title only. Church and State rely on each other to exist (as a patronizing, mutually supportive lie).

— = —

“The Catechism is a sure norm for teaching the Faith.”

—Pope John Paul II

— = —

And what “Faith” (legalized truth) is that exactly, because it certainly is not the Word of Jehovah, which commanded respect of no other doctrines and no other gods?

Remember, the word Roman only means Pagan. This should be noted when considering the Roman Catholic Church and in the fact that much of our current use of all romantic language and civil law comes from that Pagan empire. I should not need to tell you what the word Roman does when attached to the term Catholic (universal) Church. History apparently reveals to us that the Romans killed the true followers of christ’s teachings, as those free men under God who would not join under Caesar, who fed them thusly to the lions in the colosseum as sport and entertainment for the pagan, false “Christian” masses, which need bread and circus to be mentally and physically sedated in their own nativity. Today we call it “sports,” and it has the same stupefying effect. Those who followed christ would not follow Caesar, according to their True Faith. The incorruptible and therefore uncontrollable men of christ were tortured and used for sport in the coliseum, not the good titled-citizen “Christians” of that “Christian Nation” that were mere Pagans in disguise and whom, in the stands of the colosseum, cheered the loudest at the death of what they could never in Reality become or follow. The path is narrow. A Roman (pagan) of any nation of Caesar (seizure under man’s law) cannot also be a follower of christ.

The church has its patron saints, just as the country has its patriotic fathers. Both are Defenders of the legal incorporation of Faith, not the spiritual Reality of God’s Nature. Legal faith is stripped from its verb (works) and made into a noun (status), a legal form in name only. To believe and pledge faith to government and doctrinal religion is simply not to act in the Pure Faith, Love, and Charity of God’s Commandments and Law of Nature. “Members” are but servants subject to the laws of their fictional master, not of Jehovah, for they worship and have faith only in fictional persona. “Christians” of the corporate denominations are mere vessels of the municipal and religious incorporation of commerce, not men of God. For they have gods other than that of Jehovah in both the state and in the church and place their faith in them through non-scriptural, un-Natural, sacred (cursed) ceremony and ritual. The “true faith” (lie) of Rome and England is simply not based in Reality, and certainly not respectful of It’s self-evident and thus Supreme Law and Permanence of Being (verb).

Ironically, patriotism for many folks stems from a religious fervor and zeal for “God and country.” More properly, it is the blind support of a nation as if somehow the nation and its gods in magistracy are gifts from Jehovah. This patently ridiculous thought process is not only totally against scriptural teachings and an assault on reason, but is also a necessary state of mind that must be instilled into the common plebes through wrongful education and public-mindedness, for without such patriotic zeal the nation would fall and its gods would be seen as what they really are - mere pirates and criminal conspirators (confederates); fragile old men hiding behind the very might of those which they have cheated and fooled into protecting them in patronage. The military of the United States is perhaps the greatest pat riot on earth, as million of men doing what they are told by the most corrupting element and nation upon this earth. The Babylonian woe.

But patriotism is the support of organized chaos, the legal anarcho-syndicalist and capitalist system that we call our fictional government today. Suitable indulgence, fit luxuriation, and convenient blasphemy are the protected states within that artificial womb of its legal matrix. This is nothing more or less than institutionalized paganism, just as it was in Rome.

GENTILE - noun - [Latin gentilis; from Latin gens, NATION, race; applied to PAGANS.] In the scriptures, a pagan; a worshipper of false gods; any person not a Jew or a christian; a heathen. The Hebrews included in the term GOIM or NATIONS, all the tribes of men who had not received the true faith, and were not circumcised. The christians translated goim by the Latin gentes, and imitated the Jews in giving the name gentiles TO ALL NATIONS who were not Jews nor christians. In civil affairs, the denomination was given to ALL NATIONS WHO WERE NOT ROMANS. - adjective - Pertaining to pagans or heathens.
(Webs1828)

—=—

It is up to the reader to decide whether or not a patriot (in a pat riot) can worship anything but false gods. The evidence is forthwith presented, and fools may be suffered perhaps more so by myself than by God. As we can see throughout recorded history, a slave often loves (believes in) his despotic master even when he dislikes him very much. It is often the case that being vested in a system that grants benefits creates patrons of that system. Cognitive dissonance allows for many crimes by man against his fellow man and against all of Nature while acting in the fiction of personal, logical fallacy. This author will not be your judge, only whatever is Jehovah may take that place.

—=—

“And if ye call on the Father, WHO WITHOUT RESPECT OF PERSONS JUDGETH ACCORDING TO EVERY MAN'S WORK, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear: Forasmuch as ye know that YE WERE NOT REDEEMED WITH CORRUPTIBLE THINGS, AS SILVER AND GOLD, FROM YOUR VAIN CONVERSATION RECEIVED BY TRADITION FROM YOUR FATHERS...”

—1 Peter 1:17-18, KJB

—=—

I have begun to think that somewhere along the line the notion of parenting and of elders became very much attuned to the ire and unreasonable demands of the priest-class, where their methods, customs, and laws are simply not to be questioned despite their obvious flaws and logical fallacies. We never like to think of our parents as our enemies, but perhaps we need to realize this is so. For we are told to love our enemies, but not the designs of them. To not obey God's Law of Nature simply because our parents were trained by their parents to do so is ludicrous. In fact, if we stop and consider, these bloodlines of kings and People standing in the pretended sovereignty of their parents are equally insane for following the traditions of their parents (fathers) and People. Neither of us have any excuse for our behavior, not the master or the slave, except to lie to ourselves and declare that this is just the way it is and always has been. Really? Because this assumes that a time somehow did not Exist without mankind and its artful designs present therein, and that Nature could not Exist without man! That doesn't even jive with the New Testament, let alone with deductive reasoning. And this assumes a time where men had no language didn't exist either. This assumes that men are and have always been born in Nature as the words and definitions of “masters” or “slaves,” that these are the Designs of God and Nature. And that is patently ridiculous.

When one is governed by the force and fear of man's legal punishments upon his person instead of being self-governed by the fear of God's judgement in Nature and his mistreatment of it as a whole, with respect for the deceit and acknowledgement of that false, invisible person-hood and flattering titles, man can know only corruption of his soul. There is no other option while living in personhood, for its foundation is purely of artifice. For the individual soul is nothing if not the spirit of Jehovah in everything that Exists. Thus, it is only a reasonable conclusion that how we respect and treat Jehovah's Creation is how we will be judged, which includes the way we treat each other. Indeed, it is written so in the nightmares of Revelation.

—=—

“And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, WHICH IS THE BOOK OF LIFE: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS. And the SEA gave up the dead which were in it; and DEATH AND HELL DELIVERED UP THE DEAD which were in them: and they were judged EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS.’

—Revelation 20: 12-13, KJB

— = —

Here the word sea is used with double meaning throughout the Bible, and figuratively applies to everything in the unspiritual and artificial aspects of the world, or all “worldly” things, defined as “all the world.” And so to be given up to God from the sea is a figurative reference to the spiritually dead living civil lives in the commerce of cities and nations, those upon the commercial sea, as the multitude of spiritually dead goyim of the nations. We are judged upon our Life and works therein, nor by our words, for each of our lives is an open book to God, and we cannot hide our action or inaction behind dead things and dead pledges. Our works are only ever our own. Our silence is also our own. This is a wonderful parable, teaching a moral lesson in perfect self-evidence. As a parabolic teaching it cannot be denied. The history though, as the personification of the narration of the story, is what causes the moral to be lost upon man in his arrogance of ignorance and pursuit of some history and proof of artifice, he who is lost in a Roman calendric time and valuation scheme in mammon. Though no specific man is mentioned by name here, and instead all men in all the world, the fact that Jehovah (God) is personified into a usable form for story purposes is what is disputed as making this a false story. Only an idiot, or for that matter a public-minded fool educated only at the whim of a powerful but false church and state, would dismiss such self-evidently taught knowledge on such moronic grounds. Again, I should know, for I am only recently awakened from my own dead slumber and self-conceit. So do not be insulted by these words, as the Truth in its self-evident form can only work against our own ego, killing our false strawman id-entity, for the only lies are the ones we tell and accept for our false selves. There are no lies under God’s Nature; no artful comforts in artifice. No artificial matrixes (wombs) to hide in.

Man must be converted into following fiction over Nature, and this process is implemented at birth and carried forth through the public indoctrination centers called public schools. The flashing television, movies, and video games fill in the rest. We grow up being conversant in volunteerism.

The word conversation as a noun is from the mid 14th century, meaning a state of “living together, having dealings with others,” and also as a “manner of conducting oneself in the world,” from the Old French conversation, from Latin conversationem (nominative conversatio), meaning the “act of living with,” a noun of action from past participle stem of conversari “to live with, keep company with,” and literally “turn about with,” from Latin com- (with) and -vertare, frequentative of vertere (versus). It has the specific sense of “talk” from the 1570s.

Conversation has also been commercially used as a synonym for “sexual intercourse” from at least 1511, hence criminal conversation is a legal term used for ADULTERY from at least the late 18th century.

Naturally, the most conversant way that we have intercourse with each other is through language, which is why these terms of art are obfuscated in their higher meanings and why the public is kept in darkness, the false light of that which is adversarial. Only if our conversation is controlled utterly with babel and nonsense can we be made to be controlled through it. Words are indeed the most powerful weapons ever imagined and designed by men. Nothing else even comes close. For it is words and words alone that cause men to go to war with each other and on behalf of the words that define their government, its name, and its subscribed-to ideology.

The word converse in adjective form, as to be converse in ones actions, is to be the “EXACT OPPOSITE,” from the Latin conversus “turn around,” past participle of convertere “to turn about” (CONVERT). Originally a mathematical term, the noun is attested from the 1550s. Related: Conversely. In its verb form, converse came to mean "TO COMMUNICATE (with)" around the 1590s, from earlier meanings of "to move about, live, DWELL" in the mid-14th century, from the 12th century Old French converser "to talk," and from Latin conversari (see conversation).

Of course, to be in conversation is ethnically to be a convert to the nation by which that language is official and national, the verb convert coming from around 1300, as the Old French convertir, from Vulgar Latin convertire, and Latin convertere "turn around, transform," from com- "together" and -vertere "to turn" (versus). Originally, this was reference to the religious sense. The Latin word is glossed in Old English by gecyrran, from cierran "to turn, return."

It is of the utmost importance to comprehend that this process of refining and altering man's image into a commodity with valuable consideration is representative of the destruction of man's Life and Law under God, and is the figurative re-creation of man into and under the system of mammon in only a legal (dead) existence. It is the simulation of hell. This conversion process alters and molds the mind to be governable, making boys grow up with "public-mindedness" and with no knowledge of any other way. His religious teachings or lack thereof, being a source of and under legal state sanction, never teach him the origins of Natural Law. Man becomes the money he thus spends. His life revolves solely around the use of money, for his debt can never be paid, try as he may. His in-person-nation surname and signature creates the money, because the money is only a representation of the bonded man in surety through personhood. And everything he purchases (conquers) with money in the name of the state therefore does not belong to him, for he is merely the agentic user and renter of things purchased with another's property and in another's name.

This is the very nature of our relationship to mammon. And this is the very destruction of man's Natural bond to Jehovah. For this is how man's Self is purchased (conquered) at birth through information and conversation. We are convicted at birth into a life of legal crime, civilly licensed and morally deprived.

The legal law is created in very much the same way and with the same intent, without the substance but with the intent of the destruction of the Laws of God and Its Nature. This historical alteration of money into the mere form of substance (a false mirror image of the Real) literally made money the foundational root of all evil (artifice), which is the virtual wellspring of unlimited usury. Not ironically, our entire system of legal law and commerce is built in the same way and upon the same artificial foundation; on the interest (tax) of form without substance.

So what does this make you?

This legal artificiality of patriotic personhood in a state of continuous usury is what the Bible, though not the corporate church doctrines, defines as a sinner. For the act of committing to personhood is in fact adultery, as a commercial attachment to legal entities (idols) of only a representational form (image) in abandonment of all substance (of Jehovah).

ADULTERY - noun - [Latin adulterium. See Adulterate.] 1. Violation of the marriage bed; a crime, or a civil injury, which introduces, or may introduce, into a family, a spurious offspring. . . In common usage, adultery means the unfaithfulness of any married person to the marriage bed. . . 2. IN A SCRIPTURAL SENSE, ALL MANNER OF LEWDNESS OR UNCHASTITY, as in the seventh commandment. 3. In scripture, IDOLATRY, or APOSTASY FROM THE TRUE GOD. Jeremiah 3:8. 4. In old laws, the fine and penalty imposed for the offense of adultery. 5. In ecclesiastical affairs, the intrusion of a person into a bishopric, during the life of the bishop. 6. AMONG ANCIENT NATURALISTS, THE GRAFTING OF TREES WAS CALLED ADULTERY BEING CONSIDERED AS AN UNNATURAL UNION. (Webs1828)

ADULTERATE - verb transitive - [Latin adultero, from adulter, MIXED, or an adulterer; ad and alter, other.] To corrupt, debase, or MAKE IMPURE BY AN ADMIXTURE of baser materials; as, to adulterate liquors, or the coin of a country. - verb intransitive - To commit adultery. - adjective - TAINTED with adultery; DEBASED BY FOREIGN MIXTURE. (Webs1828)

APOSTASY (2) - noun - [Gr. a defection, to depart.] 1. An abandonment of what one has professed; a total desertion, or departure from one's faith or religion. 2. The desertion from a party to which one has adhered. 3. Among physicians, the throwing off of exfoliated or fractured bone, or the various SOLUTION OF DISEASE. 4. An abscess. (Webs1828)

IDOLATRY - noun - [Latin idololatria. Gr. idol, and to worship or serve.] 1. The worship of idols, images, or ANY THING MADE BY HANDS, OR WHICH IS NOT GOD. Idolatry is of two kinds; the worship of images, statues, pictures, etc., made by hands; and the worship of the heavenly bodies, the sun, moon and stars, or of DEMONS, ANGELS, MEN and ANIMALS. 2. Excessive ATTACHMENT or veneration FOR ANY THING, or that which borders on ADORATION. (Webs1828)

IDOLATER - noun - [Latin idololatra. See Idolatry.] 1. A worshiper of idols; one who pays divine honors to images, statues, or REPRESENTATIONS of any thing made by hands; one who worships as a deity that which is not God; A PAGAN. 2. AN ADORER; A GREAT ADMIRER. (Webs1828)

IDOL - noun - [Latin idolum; Gr. FORM or to see.] 1. An IMAGE, FORM OR REPRESENTATION, USUALLY OF A MAN or other animal, consecrated as an object of worship; a pagan deity. Idols are usually statues or images, carved out of wood or stone, or formed of metals, particularly silver or gold. THE GODS OF THE NATIONS ARE IDOLS. Psalms 96:5. 2. An image. Nor ever idol seemed so much alive. 3. A PERSON LOVED AND HONORED TO ADORATION. The prince was the idol of the people. 4. Any thing on which we SET our affections; that to which we indulge an excessive and SINFUL ATTACHMENT. Little children, keep yourselves from idols. 1 John 5:1. An idol is ANY THING WHICH USURPS THE PLACE OF GOD IN THE HEARTS OF HIS RATIONAL CREATURES. 5. A REPRESENTATION... (Webs1828)

INDULGE - verb transitive - indulj'. [Latin indulgeo; tolero.] 1. TO PERMIT TO BE OR TO CONTINUE; TO SUFFER; NOT TO RESTRAIN OR OPPOSE; as, to indulge sloth; to indulge the passions; to indulge pride, selfishness or inclinations. 2. To gratify, NEGATIVELY; NOT TO CHECK OR RESTRAIN THE WILL, appetite or desire; as, to indulge children in amusements. 3. To gratify, POSITIVELY; TO GRANT SOMETHING NOT OF RIGHT, but as a favor; to grant in compliance with wishes or desire. Yet, a moment, one dim ray of light. Indulge, dread Chaos and eternal Night! 4. In general, to gratify; to favor; to humor; TO YIELD TO THE WISHES OF; TO WITHHOLD RESTRAINT FROM. It is remarked by Johnson, that if the matter of indulgence is a single thing, it has with before it; if it is a habit, it has in. He indulged himself with a glass of wine; he indulges himself in sloth or intemperance. - verb transitive - indulj'. TO PERMIT TO ENJOY OR PRACTICE; OR TO YIELD TO THE ENJOYMENT OR PRACTICE OF, WITHOUT RESTRAINT OR CONTROL; AS, TO INDULGE IN SIN, or in sensual pleasure. This form of expression is elliptical, a pronoun being omitted; as, to indulge myself or himself. MOST MEN ARE MORE WILLING TO INDULGE IN EASY VICES, THAN TO PRACTICE LABORIOUS VIRTUES. 1. To yield; TO COMPLY; TO BE FAVORABLE.... (Webs1828)

INDULGENCE, INDULGENCY - noun - FREE PERMISSION to the appetites, humor, desires, passions or will to act or operate; FORBEARANCE OF RESTRAINT OR CONTROL. How many children are ruined by indulgence! Indulgence is not kindness or tenderness, but it may be the effect of one or the other, or of negligence. 1. Gratification; as the indulgence of lust or of appetite. 2. Favor granted; liberality; gratification. If all these gracious indulgencies are without effect on us, we must perish in our folly. 3. In the Romish church, remission of the punishment due to sins, granted by the pope or church, and supposed to save the sinner from purgatory; absolution from the censures of the church and from all transgressions. (Webs1828)

—=—

The church indulges sin, accepting payments in mammon for its supposed forbearance of punishment in the stead of God. Does that sound spiritual to you? Or is it now clear that the church is only a legal creation of man to justify and license permissive sin?

How can the personage of the flattering title of the pope and bishopric of the corporation of the Catholic or other church remiss anything that is only of the Nature of Jehovah? It cannot, for God does not respect any such person or title, even an ecclesiastical one. We can pretend, but as the above scripture tells us, ‘And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man’s work...’ But no thing of this world can replace the Father in Heaven, the Creator of and as Creation, for they are only usurpers who use word magic and trickery to make men love (believe in) them instead (anti) of God’s True Nature. Godfathers.

What is the apostasy of adultery if not personhood, citizenship; as a fictional commercial undertaking the understanding (agreement to) the legal fiction and law as it stands opposed to God’s Nature?

How does a man comprehend his idolatry if his adultery is such that he was tricked into it at birth by both the church and state, as an infant of such tender age that under no circumstance can he be held liable for that idolatrous legal surname and representation in good faith? And when he turns into an adult (becomes legally adulterated), is it any surprise that he continues to indulge in artifice after being educated to do so and told he cannot buy, work, or sell if he does not take and keep that mark of false id-entify by both church and state? Nothing has changed in that pagan Roman system in combination (conspiracy and confederation) of church and state. Remember, while the action of corporate religions and governments to adulterate in apostasy is a verb, the fictional persona created by that adulteration is a noun (name of person), as an idolater. We go from legal infants to legal adults, now don’t we? The only difference is consent. In personhood, sadly, even the most devoutly titled “Christians” are acting as Romanized pagans despite their inner moral beliefs. For it is their status in persona that betrays them to God. This is the power of the magi word-smiths in their trickery in deception.

—=—

“Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me.”

—Psalms 119: 98

—=—

While a man is considered (by God) only by his priceless substance as the sole (soul) Creation of Jehovah, a person is to God only an insulting idol as a false being and low existence in some statistical form of man without obedience to God or Natural Law. Person-hood as adultery is a direct violation of the scriptural commandments; and not just the Bible’s, but of all ancient wisdom and teachings. Thus, persons are not considered or respected by God, as the scriptures instruct time and time again. As to this artifice that the Bible calls out as sin, the church relishes in its own corporate artifice (personhood) and monetary collections to honor its place in mammon. The church promotes only artifice. The church literally promotes Biblical sin as permissive adultery and idol worship, as it instructs to obey the legalized “Law of the Land” and to respect government’s legal existence and authority in artificial personhood. The church invests its profits and collects the interest (usury). And the state is happy to promote these corporate religions as well, for they feed one another their members and they both hold man's (their own) law above God's.

So what is the difference between adultery and fornication, and why have these two concepts been mixed together as if they are the same terminology?

The etymology of the word adultery comes from the Old French avoutrie, aoulterie, a noun of condition from avoutre/aoutre, and from the Latin adulterare "to corrupt," meaning, "debauch; FALSIFY, debase." The term adulterate is used correctly when DESCRIBING A LIE OR A CORRUPTION OF SOMETHING THAT WAS PURE. Broadly speaking, an act of Adultery is an act that makes purity into impurity.

All ancient religions concur on this point. Only man's recreation of false doctrines in incorporation obfuscates the intent of most religions.

—=—

"Three evil deeds [that create suffering] depending upon the body are:
killing, stealing, and committing adultery."

—Buddha, from The Practice of Dhyāna

—=—

"Have nought to do with adultery; for it is a foul thing and an evil way."

—Mohammed, from the Qu'ran, Sura XVII, The Night Journey, Mecca

—=—

No Natural religion will ever be created that promotes good without demonizing evil. For no parable may be told about good without exposing its opposite. No religion, barring the satanist (adversarial) cults and entries within the masonic Talmud, will ever promote fiction over Reality or legality over the self-evident Natural Law. And no legal system will ever promote God over its own self-proclaimed gods (magistrates) in idolatry, for the legal artifice serves only the purpose of adulteration of all men into its fictional ways. Only when good is redefined as evil may man's individual religious (moral) disposition be corrupted by such mis-transliterations of corporations that require his membership and money.

And so like the substance of Real gold replaced with merely the form of the image of paper money, man too relinquishes his very substance in order to operate in a formal, commercial, Godless personhood - a membership to the constituted debtor's hell. He carries and thus bears that fictional persona (status) of and under mammon, making him the undertaker of a usurious disposition. In other words, we all become a commercial venture for the state as we continuously act artificially within its person (property/status) and under its easements. Our lives are supposed to be set upon a mission from God, but our actions are usurped and redirected by the legal gods into a monetary ad-venture and under-taking for those state magistrates (idolatrous gods)!

ADVENTURER - One who undertakes uncertain or hazardous actions or enterprises. It is also used to denote ONE WHO SEEKS TO ADVANCE HIS OWN INTERESTS BY UNSCRUPULOUS DESIGNS

ON THE CREDULITY OF OTHERS. It has been held that to impute that a person is an adventurer is a libel. (Black4)

ADVENTITIUS - Latin. Fortuitous; incidental; unusual source. Adventitia bona are goods which fall to a man OTHERWISE THAN BY INHERITANCE. Adventitia dos is a dowry or portion given by some friend OTHER THAN THE PARENT. (Black4)

ADVENTITIOUS - That which comes incidentally, fortuitously, or out of the regular course. "Adventitious value" OF LANDS... (Black4)

ADVENTURA - An adventure. Flotson, jetson, and lagon are styled adventurae maris, (adventures of the sea.) (Black4)

AD - Latin. At; by; for; near; on account of; to; until; upon; with relation to or concerning. (Black4)

VENTURE - verb - To take (the) chances. (Black4)

VENTURE - noun - An UNDERTAKING attended with RISK, especially one aiming at MAKING MONEY; business speculation. (Black4)

CHANCE - Absence of explainable or controllable causation; ACCIDENT; fortuity; HAZARD; result or issue of uncertain and unknown conditions or forces; risk; unexpected, unforeseen, or unintended consequence of an act. THE OPPOSITE OF INTENTION, DESIGN, OR CONTRIVANCE. But it has been held that there is a wide difference between chance and accident. (Black4)

CHANCE BARGAIN - The entering into a contract FOR BETTER OR WORSE, ACCOMPANIED BY THE TAKING OF CHANCES as to the true facts and situation of the thing or article bargained about. (Black4)

CHANCELLOR - In American law, this is the name given in some states to THE JUDGE (or the presiding judge) of a court of chancery. (Black4)

CHANCER - TO ADJUST according to PRINCIPLES OF EQUITY, as would be done by a court of chancery. The practice arose in parts of New England when the courts, without equity jurisdiction, were compelled to act upon equitable principles. (Black4)

CHANCERY - Equity; equitable jurisdiction; A COURT OF EQUITY; the system of jurisprudence ADMINISTERED in courts of equity. (Black4)

SHIP - As a termination, denotes STATE OR OFFICE; as in lordship. [See Shape.] (Webs1828)

SHIP - noun - [Latin scapha; from the root of SHAPE.] In a general sense, a vessel or building of a peculiar structure, ADAPTED TO NAVIGATION, or floating on water by means of sails. In an appropriate sense, a building of a structure or form fitted for navigation... Ships are of various sizes and are for various uses; most of them however fall under the denomination of ships of war and merchant's ships. - verb transitive - 1. To put on board of a SHIP OR VESSEL OF ANY KIND; as, to ship goods at Liverpool for New York. 2. To transport in a ship; to convey by water. The sun shall no sooner the mountains touch, But we will ship him hence. 3. TO RECEIVE INTO A SHIP OR VESSEL; as, to ship at sea. To ship the oars, to place them in the rowlocks. To ship off, to send away by water; as, to ship off convicts. (Webs1828)

ADVENTURE - A hazardous and striking ENTERPRISE, a bold UNDERTAKING in which hazards are to be met and ISSUE hangs upon unforeseen events. Generally. Adventure, bill of. In mercantile law, a writing signed by a merchant, stating that the property in goods shipped in his name BELONGS TO ANOTHER, to the adventure or chance OF WHICH THE PERSON SO NAMED IS TO STAND, with a covenant from the merchant to account to him for the produce. Gross adventure. In maritime law, a loan on bottomry. So named because the lender, in case of a loss, or expense incurred for the common safety, must contribute to the gross or general average. Joint adventure. A commercial or maritime enterprise undertaken by several persons jointly; a limited partnership, -not limited in the statutory sense as to the liability of the partners, but as to its scope and duration. A special partnership. An association of two or more persons to carry out a single business enterprise for profit, for which purpose they combine their property, money, effects, skill, and knowledge. A special COMBINATION of two or more persons, where, in some specific adventure, a profit is jointly sought, without any actual partnership or corporate designation. It is ordinarily, but not necessarily, limited to a single transaction, which serves to distinguish it from a partnership. But the business of conducting it to a successful termination may continue for a number of years. There is no real distinction between a "joint adventure" and what is termed a "partnership for a single transaction." A "joint adventure," while not identical with a partnership, is so similar in its nature and in the relations created thereby that the rights of the parties as between themselves are governed practically by the same rules that govern partnerships. Marine Insurance. A very usual word in policies of marine insurance, and everywhere used as synonymous, or nearly so, with "perils." It is often used by the writers to describe the ENTERPRISE OR VOYAGE as a "marine adventure" insured against. Mercantile Law. Sending goods abroad under charge of a supercargo or other AGENT, at the risk of the sender, to be disposed of TO THE BEST ADVANTAGE FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE OWNERS. The goods themselves so sent. (Black4)

— = —

Attaching the terminating suffix of -ship upon any word creates a fictional state of being in that thing, setting the undertaker of that simulated ship on a commercial adventure upon the sea of commerce. Citizen-ship is the state of being in the public office and adventure of a U.S. citizen. One simply does not and cannot claim at some time to be and at other times not to be in a state of citizenship. It is a false permanence of contractual being, and one that cannot be denied once obtained and once appearance is made in that id-entity of persona. As the existence of man in fiction, the ship (status/state of being) is always assumed to be sailing (in legal existence and subsistence). The legal law, therefore, is also always assumed and presumed to apply to all men acting in citizen-ships, all of the time.

To act in person is to under-take an ad-venture upon the commercial sea within the ship (person) of another (of the nation/country). The only purpose for this undertaking upon (ad) a citizen-ship (venture) is literally to play the life-long game of Monopoly - to land occasionally on Chance, to make (create), collect (borrow), and spend (use commercially) money from thin air (loan/usury) in a state of manifest usury by our signature, and for financial business and real estate purposes (the game of monopolies, building houses and hotels in rent upon the titled land of another under usufruct). Ad-venture is a word used almost exclusively in in-SUR-ance policies, to insure the SUR-name (as government property) against risk of loss in voyage, theft, hazard, peril, danger, chance, wager, etc., while operating that commercial vessel of the United States. Government takes no chances with its own property (persons) any more than a rental car company might, requiring insurance to be procured on all of its registered property, including what we are led to believe is your home, car, and other tenements. We insure (ensure) that which is under the surname, for all that is registered as property under that admixture of the christian and sur names belongs only to that last (higher in status) name, not the man that merely uses it under fee and rent in tenancy.

— = —

“He who betrays his country is like the insane sailor who bores a hole in THE SHIP WHICH CARRIES HIM.”

—QUI MOLITUR INSIDIAS IN PATRIAM ID FACIT QUOD INSANUS NAUTA PERFORANS NAVEM IN QUA VEHITUR. 3 Inst. 36. (Black4)

— — —

In this regard, we are the usurious bearers or carriers (registered agents) of the commercial paper (matrix) we call as fictional persons. Consequently, we are possessed and held in a debt obligation called public personhood, like summoned demons being controlled by magical word-spells. We allow the demon (person) to voluntarily enter our God-given vessel, and we manifest its evil in commercial artifice while transacting the business called civil life. We legally carry it wherever we go and we use (employ) its legal name (noun) in whatever we do.

CARRY - To BEAR, bear about, SUSTAIN, transport, remove, or convey. To have or bear upon or about one's person, as a watch or weapon; locomotion not being essential. As applied to insurance, means "POSSESS" or "hold." (Black4)

CARRY ARMS OR WEAPONS - To wear, bear, or carry them UPON THE PERSON or in the clothing or in a pocket, for the purpose of USE, or for the purpose of being armed and ready for offensive or defensive action in case of a conflict with another person. (Black4)

CARRY STOCK - To provide funds or credit for its payment for the period agreed upon from the date of purchase. (Black4)

CARRY ON TRADE OR BUSINESS - To conduct avocation or business as A CONTINUOUS OPERATION OR PERMANENT OCCUPATION. The repetition of acts may be sufficient. TO HOLD ONE'S SELF OUT TO OTHERS AS ENGAGED in the selling of goods or services. (Black4)

AVOCAT - French. An advocate; a barrister. (Black4)

AVOCATION - A calling away, a diversion, suggesting idea of smaller affairs of life, or occasional employments as distinguished from one's ordinary or principal occupation; a SUBORDINATE or occasional occupation. (Black4)

ADVOCATOR - In old practice, one who called on or vouched another TO WARRANT A TITLE; a voucher. Advocatus; the person called on, or vouched; a vouchee. (Black4)

APOLOGIST - noun - [See Apology.] One who makes an apology; one who speaks or writes in defense of another. (Webs1828)

APOLOGY - noun - [Gr. DISCOURSE.] AN EXCUSE; something said or written in defense or extenuation of what appears to others wrong, or unjustifiable; or of what may be liable to disapprobation. It may be an extenuation of what is not perfectly justifiable, or a vindication of what is or may be disapproved, but which the apologist deems to be right. A man makes an apology for not fulfilling an engagement, OR FOR PUBLISHING A PAMPHLET. An apology then is a reason or reasons assigned for what is wrong or may appear to be wrong, and it may be either AN EXTENUATION OR A JUSTIFICATION of something that is or may be censured, by those who are not acquainted with the reasons. (Webs1828)

DISCOURSE - (See index; defined in Chapter 1) (Webs1828)

DIS - a prefix or inseparable preposition, from the Latin, whence Fr. Des, Sp. dis and de may in some instances be the same word contracted. Dis denotes SEPARATION, A PARTING FROM; hence it has the force of A PRIVATIVE AND NEGATIVE, as in disarm, disoblige, disagree. In some cases, it still signifies separation, as in distribute, disconnect. (Webs1828)

COURSE - noun - 1. In its general sense, a passing; a moving, or motion forward, in a direct or curving line; applicable to any body or substance, solid or fluid. Applied to animals, a running, or walking; a race; a career; a passing, or passage, with any degree of swiftness indefinitely. Applied to fluids, a flowing, as in a stream in any direction; as a straight course or winding course. It is applied to water or other liquids, to air or wind, and to light, in the sense of motion or passing. Applied to solid bodies, it signifies motion or passing; as the course of a rolling stone; the course of a carriage; the course of the earth in its orbit. Applied to navigation, it signifies a passing or motion ON WATER, or in balloons in air; A VOYAGE. 2. The direction of motion; line of advancing; point of compass, in which motion is directed; as, what course shall the pilot steer? In technical language, the angle contained between the nearest meridian and that point of compass on which a ship sails in any direction. 3. Ground on which a race is run. 4. A passing or process; the progress of any thing; as the course of an argument, or of a debate; a course of thought or reflexion. 5. ORDER OF PROCEEDING OR OF PASSING FROM AN ANCESTOR TO AN HEIR; AS THE COURSE OF DESCENT IN INHERITANCE. 6. Order; turn; CLASS; SUCCESSION OF ONE TO ANOTHER IN OFFICE, OR DUTY. The chief FATHERS of every course. 1 Chronicles 27:1. Solomon appointed the courses of the priests. 2 Chronicles 8:14. 7. Stated and orderly method of proceeding; usual manner. He obtained redress in due course of law. Leave nature to her course. 8. Series of successive and methodical procedure; a train of acts, or applications; as a course of medicine administered. 9. A methodical series, applied to the ARTS or sciences; A SYSTEMIZED ORDER OF PRINCIPLES IN ARTS or sciences, for illustration of instruction. We say, the author has completed a course of principles or of lectures in philosophy. Also, the order pursued by a student; as, he has completed a course of studies in law or physics. 10. Manner of PROCEEDING; WAY OF LIFE OR CONDUCT; deportment; series of actions. That I might finish my course with joy. Acts 20:24. THEIR COURSE IS EVIL. Jeremiah 23:10. 11. Line of conduct; manner of proceeding; as, we know not what course to pursue. 12. Natural bent; propensity; uncontrolled will. Let not a perverse child take his own course. 13. Tilt; act of running in the lists. 14. Orderly structure; SYSTEM. THE TONGUE SETTETH ON FIRE THE COURSE OF NATURE. James 3:6. 15. Any regular series... 17. Regularity; order; regular succession; as, let the classes follow in course. 18. EMPTY FORM; as, compliments are often WORDS OF COURSE. Of course by consequence; in regular or natural order; in the common manner of proceeding; without special direction or provision. This effect will follow of course. If the defendant resides not in the state, the cause is continued of course. (Webs1828)

DUE COURSE OF LAW - This phrase is synonymous with "due process of law," or "the law of the land," and the general definition thereof is "LAW IN ITS REGULAR COURSE OF ADMINISTRATION THROUGH COURTS OF JUSTICE;" and, while not always necessarily confined to judicial proceedings, yet these words have such a signification, when used to designate the kind of an eviction, or ouster, from real estate by which a party is dispossessed, as to preclude thereunder proof of a constructive eviction resulting from the purchase of a PARAMOUNT TITLE when hostilely asserted by the party holding it. (Black4)

OF RIGHT - As a matter OF COURSE. (Black4)

OF COURSE - As a matter of RIGHT. Any action or step taken in the course of judicial proceedings which will be allowed by the court upon mere application, without any inquiry or contest, or which may be effectually taken without even applying to the court for leave. (Black4)

OF GRACE - This phrase had its origin in an age when kings dispensed their royal favors at the hands of chancellors, but has no rightful place in American jurisprudence. A term applied to ANY PERMISSION OR LICENSE granted to a party in the course of a judicial proceeding which is not claimable as a matter of course or of right, but is ALLOWED BY THE FAVOR OR INDULGENCE OF THE COURT. (Black4)

OF THE BLOOD - A technical legal phrase meaning to be descended from the PERSON referred to OR FROM THE SAME COMMON STOCK and from a common ancestor. (Black4)

OF - A term denoting that from which anything proceeds; indicating ORIGIN, SOURCE, DESCENT, and the like; as, he is of a race of kings; he is of noble blood. Associated with or connected with, usually in some causal RELATION, efficient, material, formal, or final. The word has been held equivalent to after, at, or BELONGING TO, IN POSSESSION OF, MANUFACTURED BY, by, RESIDING AT, FROM, (and) IN. (Black4)

— = —

When we hear the word of, as in citizen OF the United States, it describes our origin, as those born of (in) the nation (as goyim) and belonging to it via legal status. And so the word independence, since it is granted by the United States, really means of dependence - a state of being that is dependent on the master. It is only formal independence, not actual, substantive Reality. Denizenship. A rat in a cage has political independence too within its master's borders!

Likewise, when a judge or other attorney or officer of the court and state uses the term "of course," we cannot consider this in our vulgar tongue. For the authoritarian figure is claiming a thing of right, and that the thing done of course was done in the course (road) of right law while in the undertaking of commercial citizenship or under legal title and license to commit crime with permission of the state.

Is the law of the United States supreme? OF COURSE it is, but only to its voluntarist slaves in servitude... But God's Law is higher. Man must abandon God and undertake a public office in ad-venture for legal law to become artificially supreme; a dis-course away from God dependent solely upon the words that govern our ad-venture. The law is only supreme over those that are of the creator of that law.

As public citizens, our legal course is set for us as regulatory restrictions and political liberties upon persons. These are prescribed, predefined, constituted, enforced, instilled, propagandized, professed, patronized, and personified into our very legal existence. Our beliefs bend to the will of government's person and in its usage within its legal matrix of word-magic, and those that don't bend get bent into shape by force and imprisonment or through other means and exactions (extortions). For government is in the business of dis-course, taking man away from his Natural ways and means; as a purposeful, legal separation away from his God-granted gift, course (negative Right), and duty to his fellow man under that Natural Law.

We may only carry the laden (burden) of the state when we act the part of its citizen-ships in commerce. These legal codes and terms of art are like the cargo that a ship bears or carries upon the water. And it is our proudness of the artifice of those collected and carried paper possessions of low title in usufruct that blinds us to the truth... that there is no "title," no "spoon," no "name," and no actual "property." Ships may carry, but their voyage and possession is only ever a temporary ad-venture and undertaking of their principal master.

— = —

“Though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly:
but the proud he knoweth afar off.”

—Psalms 138: 6, KJB

— — —

Those who carry titles upon their false surnames of the state are the proud, the arrogant; as those who have knowledge of fiction of the tree of knowledge (artificial concepts) but none of the Reality of Life under God and Nature. The lowly are those who are humbled by God’s Nature, the ignoble, who have humility and take upon them no station, condition, title, nor the wealth that those artifices cause of course. The lower in rank the higher in esteem under God. The less in artifice the more in Nature.

But even the rank of citizenship is a title of low nobility. For when one is subject to a king, to a sovereignty other than Jehovah and Its Supreme Laws, one is not ignoble.

Even the act of carrying the foundling cargo that is our own personified children is presumed by law to be an avocation, for the cargo (child) is registered state property under the dis-course of that certified birth and abandonment process. Ad-venturers need permission and license for such under-takings to both act in and transport commercial cargo (children) in state agency (DMV) registered vehicles operated by the vessels (public persons) known as citizen-ships. And the Department of Motor Vehicles requires residential commercial adventurers (drivers) to have auto insurance on government’s person and registered property, and of course vehicle registration for purposes of identification and commercial licensing (permission to drive in a continuous, purely commercial capacity under the family car and other “doctrines” as a U.S. public, resident foreigner). For the vehicle belongs only to the legal person, and the legal person belongs only to the state. The man only bears that status, he does not hold it as private property, for it is a public persona. And so the state requires usury and insurance on anyone using its proprietary surname and numbers (marks) to cover the risk upon its registered property while being operated under the “freedom of that commercial name (franchise).

CARGO - In mercantile law. THE LOAD OR LADING OF A VESSEL; goods and merchandise put on board a ship to be CARRIED to a certain port. The LADING or freight of a SHIP; the goods, merchandise, or WHATEVER is conveyed in a ship or other merchant vessel. A cargo is the loading of a ship or other vessel, the bulk of which is to be ascertained from the CAPACITY of the ship or vessel. The word embraces all that the vessel is CAPABLE of CARRYING. The term may be applied in such a sense as to include PASSENGERS, as well as freight, but in a technical sense it designates goods only. (Black2)

GOODS AND CHATTELS - This term is applied to ALL PERSONAL PROPERTY that is not real estate. (Black2)

CHATTEL - An ARTICLE of personal property; any species of property NOT AMOUNTING TO A FREEHOLD OR FEE IN LAND. The name given to things which in law are deemed personal property. Chattels are divided into chattels real and chattels personal; chattels real being INTERESTS IN LAND which devolve after the manner of PERSONAL estate, as leaseholds. AS OPPOSED TO FREEHOLDS, THEY ARE REGARDED AS PERSONAL ESTATE. But, as being interests in real estate, they are called “chattels real,” TO DISTINGUISH THEM FROM MOVABLES. (Black2)

PERSONAL PROPERTY - The BELONGINGS OF AN INDIVIDUAL, excluding any real estate property or other buildings. Generally includes tangible and intangible ASSETS OF AN INDIVIDUAL. (Black2)

INDIVIDUAL - As a noun, this term denotes a SINGLE PERSON as distinguished from a group or class, and also, very commonly, a PRIVATE OR NATURAL PERSON as distinguished from a partnership, corporation, or association; but it is said that this restrictive signification is not necessarily inherent in the word, and that it may, in proper cases, include artificial persons. As an adjective, "individual" means PERTAINING OR BELONGING TO, OR CHARACTERISTIC OF, ONE SINGLE PERSON, either in opposition to a firm, association, or corporation, OR CONSIDERED IN HIS RELATION THERETO. (Black2)

NATURAL PERSON - A HUMAN BEING, NATURALLY BORN, versus a LEGALLY GENERATED juridical person. (Black2)

JURIDICAL PERSON - Entity, as a firm, that is NOT a single natural person, as a human being, authorized by law with duties and rights, recognized as a legal authority having a distinct identity, A LEGAL PERSONALITY. Also known as ARTIFICIAL PERSON, juridical entity, juristic person, or legal person. Also refer to BODY CORPORATE. (Black2)

ARTIFICIAL PERSON - A NONHUMAN ENTITY that is CREATED BY LAW and is legally different owning its own rights and duties. AKA juristic person and legal person. Refer to body corporate. (Black2)

— = —

One is only required to insure and stand in surety to what is not one's own. Home, car, natural and artificial person (franchise)... Remember, a human being is not a man, and neither is a legally created natural person. A human is not a Creation of God, and is not of Nature. Human is animal, as that which is considered without soul, without blood.

We must know that all requirements of the legal sphere are proprietary, meaning they are only attached to the object of the right. Legal rights are never, therefore, attached directly to man or to the private property of a man, only to the individual or juridical, legal, or body corporate (principal) person for which man represents. The man is subject to the object when he operates under that fictional name in persona. Political rights are attached only to the political (fictional) legal person, not the man. A man holds only those so-called "God-given rights" as are his negative duties under God. Legal rights are the positively enforced property of government, bestowed and enforced only upon property (persons) of government. If you claim a positively (fictionally) created right, you may do so only while acting in surety to government property, as some formality of personhood. The right to carry property insurance on the person and its personal property is a requirement of law for use of that government property, while other government properties such as Federal Reserve and other forms of monetary notes are generally, publicly insured automatically (e.g. FDIC). But it is most important here to grasp that, since all forms of government script in money form are insured creations of government, they are all property of government, and can be confiscated at any time from the "person" so holding them in use only. Under God, in Nature, insurance simply does not Exist, for artificial things do not Truly Exist. Insurance is only based on the artifice of money, nothing else.

Remember, when acting in the person (self) of another, at no time does it matter what you believe should be law or moral right, only what the law presumes and proscribes upon the person you are in use of. When you join a club do you not follow the rules of the club, which prescribes the law (rules) of its member-ships for which you use the numbered identification of to acquire benefits? Is not the ship carrying the lading (load) of all the rules and obligations of the member? Is not the member-ship in contract what is used to force the man to act under the rules of the ship? Do you not sail upon their ship (title and number) while acting as merely a digital member of their commercial enterprise? Are you not bound then to their club rules? Are you not merely an "individual" member (person), considered wholly as one body politic of members in member-ship? And do their laws, rules, customs, and beliefs not trump your own opinions under contract within that club's jurisdiction?

The only other questions you should consider, is this: Can you not quit that member-ship anytime by ending the contract if you don't like it or its rules or rulers? Do you think that government citizen-ship is really any different? Do you really believe and use the lame excuse that you cannot quit claiming and volunteering to be something you are not?

MEMBER - noun - [Latin membrum.]... 2. A part of a DISCOURSE, or of a period or SENTENCE; a clause; a part of a VERSE. Harmony in poetry is produced by a proportion between the members of the same verse, or between the members of different verses. 3. In architecture, a subordinate part of a building, as a frieze or cornice; sometimes a molding. 4. AN INDIVIDUAL OF A COMMUNITY OR SOCIETY. EVERY CITIZEN IS A MEMBER OF THE STATE OR BODY POLITIC. So the INDIVIDUALS of a club, a CORPORATION or CONFEDERACY, are called its MEMBERS. Students of an academy or college are its members. Professed christians are called MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH. 5. THE APPETITES AND PASSIONS, CONSIDERED AS TEMPTING TO SIN. Romans 7:5. Colossians 3:5. (Webs1828)

CLAUSE - noun - s as z. Literally, a close, or INCLOSURE. Hence, that which is INCLUDED, OR CONTAINED, WITHIN CERTAIN LIMITS. 1. In language or grammar, a member of a period or sentence; a subdivision of a sentence, in which the words are inseparably connected with each other in sense, and cannot, with propriety, be separated by a point; as, there is reason to think that he afterwards rose to favor, and obtained several honors civil and military. In this sentence are two clauses. 2. An ARTICLE in a CONTRACT or other WRITING; a distinct part of a contract, will, agreement, CHARTER, commission, or other writing; a distinct stipulation, condition, proviso, GRANT, COVENANT, etc. (Webs1828)

INCLUDED - participle passive - Contained; comprehended. (Webs1828)

INCLUDE - verb intransitive - [Latin includo; in and cludo, to shut up.] 1. TO CONFINE WITHIN; TO HOLD; TO CONTAIN; as, the shell of a nut includes the kernel; a pearl is included in a shell. [But in these senses we more commonly use INCLOSE.] 2. To comprise; to comprehend; to contain. The history of England necessarily includes a portion of that of France. The word DUTY, includes WHAT WE OWE TO GOD, TO OUR FELLOW MEN, AND TO OURSELVES; IT INCLUDES ALSO A TAX PAYABLE TO THE GOVERNMENT. (Webs1828)

CLOSE - noun - A portion of land, as a field, inclosed, as by a hedge, fence, or other visible inclosure. The interest of a PERSON in any particular piece of ground, whether actually inclosed or not. The noun "close," in its LEGAL SENSE, imports a portion of land inclosed, BUT NOT NECESSARILY INCLOSED BY ACTUAL OR VISIBLE BARRIERS. THE INVISIBLE, IDEAL BOUNDARY, FOUNDED ON LIMIT OF TITLE, WHICH SURROUNDS EVERY MAN'S LAND, CONSTITUTES IT HIS CLOSE, irrespective of walls, fences, ditches, or the like. In practice. The word means termination; winding up. Thus the close of the pleadings is where the pleadings are finished, i.e., when ISSUE has been JOINED. - adjective - In practice. Closed or SEALED UP. A term applied to writs and LETTERS, as distinguished from those that are open or PATENT. (Black2)

CLOSE AND OPEN - A "close" corporation is one in which the directors and officers have the power to fill vacancies in their own number, without allowing to the general body of stockholders any choice or vote in their election. An "open" corporation is one in which all the members or corporators have a vote in the election of the directors and other officers. (Black2)

OPEN CONTRACT - This is a contract the terms of which DO NOT DESCRIBE THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE TWO PARTIES INVOLVED, with clauses or provisions that can be MODIFIED WITHOUT MUTUAL CONSENT (usually by the vendor). (Black2)

CORPORATOR - A MEMBER of a corporation aggregate. (Black2)

AGGREGATE - Composed of SEVERAL; consisting of MANY PERSONS UNITED TOGETHER. (Black2)

CORPORATION - AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON OR LEGAL ENTITY CREATED BY OR UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE LAWS OF A STATE OR NATION, composed, in some rare instances, of a single person and his successors, being the incumbents of a particular office, but ordinarily consisting of AN ASSOCIATION OF NUMEROUS INDIVIDUALS, WHO SUBSIST AS A BODY POLITIC under a special DENOMINATION, which is regarded IN LAW as having a PERSONALITY and EXISTENCE DISTINCT FROM THAT OF ITS SEVERAL MEMBERS, and which is, by the same authority, VESTED WITH THE CAPACITY OF CONTINUOUS SUCCESSION, irrespective of changes in its membership, either in perpetuity or for a limited term of years, and of acting as a unit or single individual in matters relating to the common purpose of the association, within the scope of the powers and authorities conferred upon such bodies by law. (Black2)

AGGREGATE LIABILITY - The total amount that is covered by a liability insurance policy. It may cover a set amount for a claim and an aggregate amount for several claims of similar nature. See insurance; liability. (Black2)

— = —

There is no state of innocence (Nature) when one is a member of what can only be called evil (artificial). When one has pledged oneself in surety to the adversary of God and Nature in legal fiction, one cannot hope to be anything but admonished thereof, abandoned of God's unalienable protection by one's own accord in contract. Membership (citizenship) in any aggregate corporation (government) of any state or church (aggregate, corporate religion) is an act against God.

While acting in mammon (commerce and usury) as an individual person of the whole aggregate body politic of the United States, your sole opinion and will means precisely nothing. Jehovah is made unobtainable. Just as a man apparently cannot control his own actions while possessed by a demon or parasite (mind control), neither can a man decide or alter the laws governing a person (name) that belongs to govern-ment (mind control) as a commercial instrument. We must only perform in person by the law of the person under sanctions of the strict law. The law of persons is not prescribed by God and lays not in a pure negative duty. The legal version of duty is literally to pay a tax for the ability to live and act artificially in the permanent sin of artifice. These are the "benefits" of legal, contractual obligation granted within the voluntary servitude of a performance membership. This word duty is the perfect example of how the legal version of a Natural Law word and concept is twisted into an utterly unrecognizable functionality, generally into the formal servicing of the mammon state. Duty is a required tax in the legal realm, whereas it is a promise to God to do no harm or such extortion to others in Nature. In the legal realm, in other words, duties are a contracted sin charged for use of that which is evil (opposed to Nature). We must pay to play in the devil's playground.

Everything we purchase (conquer the Nature of) in legal person and within that system of money (mammon), within the presumed purview of consumer protections and insurance attached to government legal tender and credit, is in a state of receivership. Thus, everything purchased comes with a certificate of receipt of lading, and everything sold requires a bill of lading, including our children.

LADING - 1. Transporting vessel receiving its cargo. 2. Transportation vessel's loaded cargo for transport. The cargo's carrier issues a receipt known as a bill of lading. (Black2)

BILL OF LADING - In common law. The written evidence of a contract for the CARRIAGE and DELIVERY of goods sent BY SEA for a certain freight. A written memorandum, given by the person in command of a merchant vessel, acknowledging the receipt on board the ship of certain specified goods, in good order or "apparent good order," which he UNDERTAKES, in consideration of the payment of freight, TO DELIVER in like good order (dangers of the sea excepted) at a designated place to the consignee therein named or to his assigns. The term is often applied to a similar receipt and UNDERTAKING given by a carrier of goods BY LAND. A bill of lading is AN INSTRUMENT IN WRITING, SIGNED BY A CARRIER OR HIS AGENT, DESCRIBING THE FREIGHT SO AS TO IDENTIFY IT, stating the NAME of the consignor, the terms of the CONTRACT for carriage, and AGREEING OR DIRECTING THAT THE FREIGHT BE DELIVERED to the order or assigns of a specified person at a specified place. It is receipt for goods, contract for their carriage, and is DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE OF TITLE TO GOODS. A clean bill of lading is one which contains nothing in the margin qualifying the words in the bill of lading itself. An order bill of lading is one in which it is stated that goods are consigned to order of any person named therein. A straight bill of lading is one in which it is stated that goods are consigned to a specified person. A through bill of lading is one by which a railroad contracts to transport over its own line for a certain distance carloads of merchandise or stock, there to deliver the same to its connecting lines to be transported to the place of destination at a fixed rate per carload for the whole distance. (Black4)

LONG FORM BILL OF LADING (B/L) - B/L with the terms and conditions of carriage printed on its back. Either the older Hague rules or the more recent Hague-Visby rules govern these terms. Conditions of carriage are defined as the RIGHTS, RESPONSIBILITIES AND LIABILITIES OF THE CARRIER AND THE SHIPPER. Also refer to short form bill of lading. (Black2)

SHORT FORM BILL OF LADING (B/L) - A bill of lading that has no conditions or terms of carriage that are printed on the reverse. (Black2)

— = —

Need the author remind the reader that, while we may receive a short form certified copy of our birth certificate (bill of lading) as the receipt and proof of origin, that the original birth certification matrix is in long form?

CARRIER - One who UNDERTAKES TO TRANSPORT PERSONS OR PROPERTY FROM PLACE TO PLACE, BY ANY MEANS OF CONVEYANCE, and with or without compensation. (Black2)

SHIPPER - 1. The owner of goods WHO INTRUSTS THEM ON BOARD A VESSEL FOR DELIVERY abroad, by charter-party or otherwise. 2. Also, a Dutch word, signifying THE MASTER OF A SHIP. It is mentioned in some of the statutes; is now generally called "skipper." (Black2)

SKIPPER - noun - 1. The master of a small trading vessel. 2. (From skip.) A DANCER. 3. A youngling; A YOUNG THOUGHTLESS PERSON. 4. The hornfish, so called. 5. The cheese maggot. (Webs1828)

SKIP'-KENNEL - noun - A LACKEY; A FOOTBOY. (Webs1828)

DANCER - noun - One who practices dancing, or is skillful in the performance. (Webs1828)

DANCING - participle present tense - Leaping and stepping to the sound of the voice or of an instrument; moving in measured steps; frisking about. (Webs1828)

DANCE - verb intransitive - 1. Primarily, to leap or spring; hence, to leap or move with measured steps, regulated by a tune, sung or played on a musical instrument; to leap or step with graceful motions of the body, corresponding with the sound of the voice or an instrument. There is a time to mourn, and a time to dance. Ecclesiastes 3:4. 2. To leap and frisk about; to move nimbly or up and down. To dance attendance, to wait with obsequiousness; TO STRIVE TO PLEASE AND GAIN FAVOR BY ASSIDUOUS ATTENTIONS AND OFFICIOUS CIVILITIES; AS, TO DANCE ATTENDANCE AT COURT. - verb transitive - To make to dance; to move up and down, or back and forth; to dandle; as, to dance a child on the knee. - noun - 1. In general sense, a leaping and frisking about. Appropriately, a leaping or stepping with motions of the body adjusted to the measure of a tune, particularly by two or more in concert. A lively brisk exercise or amusement, IN WHICH THE MOVEMENTS OF THE PERSONS ARE REGULATED BY ART, IN FIGURE, and by the sound of instruments, in measure. (Webs1828)

—=—

Ever seen a puppet show?

You think that's really the puppet dancing?

We dance on the strings of a coded legal tune of written instruments, with predetermined steps regulated by the legal art of the legal terms that make up the legal law of legal persons. It would of course be "vulgar" to insist upon the literal definition for dancing as the only one in existence. And that's exactly why they call us the vulgar, common mass of illiterates, as those who speak only in low dog-Latin even as we dance on the word-strings of our puppet-masters.

At no time in the fictional commercial world is anything considered by its substance as and under God's Nature, but only as the informal name, title, mark, and number attached thereupon in commercial consideration. This includes children, adults, groceries, dogs, cattle, and anything else one undertakes as a purchaser or carrier of in lading, through the person-hood of citizen-ship. For all actions by public persons all of the time are considered as commercial ones, even when their personal, inner intent is of a duty to God. Remember that the allowed "freedom of religion" does not include acting morally according to one's belief; only the freedom to think, not to act. Membership is in-deed amoral. It is permission to act according to a set of legalities that do not consider morality. It is action without consciousness.

AMORAL - Lacking a moral sense; unconcerned with the rightness or wrongness of something: an amoral attitude to sex. (Oxford University Press, 2015)

IMMORAL - Not conforming to accepted standards of morality: unseemly and immoral behaviour. (Oxford University Press, 2015)

—=—

When morals are outlawed, the new and overbearing legalistic law becomes a falsely declared morality. The laws of hell, for instance, are merely the moral laws of satan. The creator controls.

Again, citizenship (membership) is not so much immoral as it is amoral, and yet it is both in combination (confederacy). For it places one into a state of purposeful and voluntary ignorance of the moral laws and duties one has to God, to man, and to all of Nature, and is enforced at the barrel of a gun. It causes man's actions to be of a source that is not morally "grounded" and not concerned with a moral code of conduct. And this is why it is considered as evil (as amoral), not so much as a religious term but as an established lack of consideration for moral codes in life and in Nature Itself. Amorality leads to immorality as its side effect, for immorality is part of the law of temptation as control. Both religion and government are guilty of creating false doctrines regarding the moral law, for one is incorporated under (subservient to) the other, and therefore both are required (as a legal requirement and protective duty of contract) to support one another. The moral law (of God) is defeated by those who believe in the legal law (of the devil), and vice versa.

The only difference between a puppet show and a day in the legal life of a commercial citizen-ship is that mentally, the fictional person (puppet) and its laws seem to control the actions of the living man. One might think this to be the "natural" course of technology (art), where eventually the artificial intelligence controls the Reality of Nature and its Creatures. Of course, that's exactly what a technocrat would want the common citizenry to believe... that evolution would change Nature into artifice as a Natural process; as part of God's Master Plan. But the only master plan you will find in the fiction is located in every municipal corporation planning office. It is used for the unlawful but legalized eminent domain of property, so as to fulfill the plans of evil men and their legal, dystopian designs. For the land must be stolen and repurposed so that these devil may feed their own will and conceit.

As for earthly (worldly) possessions, what a legal person conquers (purchases) a legal person may temporarily retain, but the legal person is not property of the man who wields (uses) it. All property of any legal person may be confiscated at any time. What man acquires while acting in persona belongs to the creator of the person, not the mere user of that member-ship. Things registered (including de-livered infants) in personhood belong to the creator of the person.

This notion of eminent domain is the justification of unlawful confiscation. We cannot understand why this is legal until we break down this word confiscation into its component parts.

CONFISCATE - verb transitive - [Latin, a basket, hamper or bag; hence, REVENUE OR THE EMPERORS TREASURE.] TO ADJUDGE TO BE FORFEITED TO THE PUBLIC TREASURY, as the goods or estate of a traitor OR OTHER CRIMINAL, by way of penalty; OR TO CONDEMN PRIVATE FORFEITED PROPERTY TO PUBLIC USE. The estate of the rebels was seized and confiscated. - adjective - Forfeited and adjudged to the public treasury, AS THE GOODS OF A CRIMINAL. (Webs1828)

CON - (repeated) ...1. To know. 2. TO MAKE ONESELF MASTER OF; TO FIX IN THE MIND or commit to memory... (Webs1828)

FISC - noun - [Latin fiscus. Fiscus, signifies a basket or hanaper, probably from the twigs which composed the first baskets. Eng. whisk. The word coincides in elements with basket, and Latin fascia, twigs being the primitive bands.] THE TREASURY OF A PRINCE OR STATE; HENCE TO CONFISCATE TO TAKE THE GOOD OF A CRIMINAL AND APPROPRIATE THEN TO THE PUBLIC TREASURE. (Webs1828)

ATE - (repeated) - The preterite of eat, which see. - noun - a'ty. [Gr. mischief; to hurt. Ate is A PERSONIFICATION OF EVIL, MISCHIEF OR MALICE.] IN PAGAN MYTHOLOGY, THE GODDESS OF MISCHIEF, who was cast down from heaven by Jupiter. (Webs1828)

—=—

So what can be said about this practice of confiscation? Perhaps we should start with the fact that what is condemned becomes public. And that which is condemned is confiscated for public use. Yet only criminals have things confiscated from them.

So let's do the math here... A public citizenship is subject to confiscation, is confiscated at birth, and is considered as a felon and a subject. The public is subject to eminent domain (confiscation) without limitation, except the pretended remedy of "just compensation," which really only applies to the private People but is allowed to the public citizenry to keep up constitutional appearances. For it is the administrative judge that determines what such just compensation is, and very seldom is it actually just.

The master (con) of the treasury (fisc) eats (ate) my land and my house!

In Truth, the subject never owned it in the first place, holding merely an imperfect paper title in legally permissive tendency (modern feudalism). One cannot lose what one never actually held.

For confiscation to take place without choice, one must necessarily be a prisoner (in person) of the open-air debtor's prison. No man can rationally consider eminent domain to be in any way as True freedom. But it certainly can be and definitely is a part of the commercial franchise of voluntary servitude called U.S. citizenship.

In other words, mammon figuratively destroys Nature and its Law, allowing government to be man's father and king. All property is rented from the private People (god) in their sovereign capacity as landholders, and they can take back their own land whenever they choose through such legal tools. The tenant must vacate as ordered, and the "government" pays the "just compensation" out of the condemnation investment funds they set up from taxpayer monies. It's a perfect crime, legal in every way, yet utterly and completely corrupt. The property is placed into the public treasury as conquered (purchased) treasure, and through the escheat laws we are about to discuss it is granted back to its rightful bloodline holder in posterity.

Personhood destroys individual "religious" and moral belief and demands conformity to the amoral civil rules governing persons. It is voluntary slavery in every way, just as True christianity is the opposite force of voluntary slavery to God and the Natural Law. One master, one law. A legal person is always morally corrupt as it is birthed from and in a state of false immorality, for a person is artificial and has not the capacity to act in any way for itself. It is not so much the corruption as the absence of moral capacity, for the legal law is opposed to moral thought that leads to the moral actions of the True Self. The man controlling it cannot act morally under its controlling legal (amoral) law. The man cannot operate a person in any other way than as authorized and as permitted (licensed) by government. His own moral compunction takes a back seat to the legal law of persons, while Mother Nature weeps in want and commiseration of her lost children.

A citizen-ship is literally a contractual relationship for carrying on a permanent state of business in commerce, as if 24/7 one is an employee (agent) and servant of government. As a more refined description, citizenship is that permissive state of fictional being by which government grants to a man certain privileges of membership, specifically the use of government property and money under that legal status. It is permission by satan (the legal adversaries and barrators) to ignore God and the Laws of Nature even at the expense of our very own lives and that of others. And because we use what does not belong to us, government claims the right to charge upon that use a requirement of usury in the form of fees, fines, penalties, taxes, and other extortions and exactions of every kind.

The renter is created, exists, and subsists only to fulfill the principal's contract and will. The user always pays for the legally permissive, contractive crime of his use of what is not his own.

As long as we are carriers in person, we will be employed (used) to promote, create, and collect usury charges. For it is our very legal existence (name) that is the creator of mammon (valuation in money). This is no different than renting a car and paying the price charged for it and for the taxes attached to that price (government's cut), while being required to have insurance upon the name of the "driver" of that commercial-use vehicle. The person, not the man, is the driver. One simply cannot publicly rent a car without a full name and identification as surety! And one may only rent that car according to the owner's conditions and governing laws, and certainly not his own. A person is just a vessel rented by a man from government in agency, and he pays for this sin with pain, punishment, taxation, licensing and permit fees, fines, duties, immoral obligations and all other symptoms of the commercial, contractual disease called usury.

It's quite simple really. To live under God's Law in Nature is to be in a state of ease. To live under the legal law is to be in a state of dis-ease. Quiet vs. disquiet. And to use another's property or person is to be in a state of ease-ment.

DIS - ...denotes separation, a parting from... (Webs1828)

EASE - Comfort, consolation, contentment, ENJOYMENT, HAPPINESS, pleasure, satisfaction. (Black4)

EASE - noun - s as z. [Latin otium.] 1. Rest; an undisturbed state. Applied to the body, freedom from pain, disturbance, excitement or annoyance. He sits at his ease. He takes his ease. 2. Applied to the mind, a quiet state; tranquillity; freedom from pain, concern, anxiety, solicitude, or any thing that frets or ruffles the mind. His soul shall dwell at ease. Psalms 25:13. WOE TO THEM THAT ARE AT EASE IN ZION. Amos 6:1. 3. Rest from labor. 4. Facility; freedom from difficulty or great labor. One man will perform this service with ease. This author writes with ease. 5. Freedom from stiffness, harshness, FORCED EXPRESSIONS, OR UNNATURAL ARRANGEMENT; as the ease of style. 6. FREEDOM FROM CONSTRAINT OR FORMALITY; UNAFFECTEDNESS; as ease of behavior. At ease IN AN UNDISTURBED STATE; free from pain or anxiety. - verb transitive - To free from pain or any disquiet or annoyance, as the body; to relieve; to give rest to; as, the medicine has eased the patient. 1. To free from anxiety, CARE or disturbance, as the mind; as, the late news has eased my mind. 2. TO REMOVE A BURDEN FROM, either of body or mind; to relieve; with of. Ease me of this load; ease them of their burdens. 3. To mitigate; to alleviate; to assuage; TO ABATE OR REMOVE IN PART ANY BURDEN, PAIN, GRIEF, ANXIETY OR DISTURBANCE. Ease thou somewhat the grievous servitude of thy father. 2 Chronicles 10:4. 4. To quiet; to allay; TO DESTROY; as, to ease pain. To ease off or ease away, in seamen's language, is to slacken a rope gradually. To ease a ship, is to put the helm hard alee, to prevent her pitching, when close hauled. (Webs1828)

QUIET - adjective - UNMOLESTED; tranquil; FREE FROM INTERFERENCE or disturbance. (Webs1828)

DISQUIET - adjective - [dis and quiet.] Unquiet; restless; uneasy. [Seldom used.] - noun - Want of quiet; uneasiness; restlessness; WANT OF TRANQUILITY IN BODY OR MIND; disturbance; anxiety. - verb transitive - To disturb; TO DEPRIVE OF PEACE, rest or tranquility; to make uneasy or restless; to harass the body; to fret or VEX THE MIND. That he may disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. Jeremiah 1:1.

Why hast thou disquieted me. 1 Samuel 28:15. O my soul, why art thou disquieted within me? Psalms 42:5.
(Webs1828)

EASEMENT - noun - Convenience; accommodation; that which gives ease, relief or assistance. He has the advantage of a free lodging, and some other easements. In law, ANY PRIVILEGE OR CONVENIENCE WHICH ONE MAN HAS OF ANOTHER, either by PRESCRIPTION or CHARTER, WITHOUT PROFIT; as a way through his land, etc. (Webs1828)

EASEMENT - A right in the owner of one parcel of land, by reason of such ownership, TO USE THE LAND OF ANOTHER FOR A SPECIAL PURPOSE NOT INCONSISTENT WITH A GENERAL PROPERTY IN THE OWNER. A privilege which the owner of one adjacent tenement hath of another, existing in respect of their several tenements, by which that owner against whose tenement the privilege exists is obliged to suffer or not to do something on or in regard to his own land for the advantage of him in whose land the privilege exists. Termes de la Ley, Easements. A privilege, SERVICE, or convenience which one neighbor has of another, by prescription, grant, or necessary implication, and without profit; AS A WAY OVER HIS LAND, a gate-way, WATER-COURSE, and the like. A LIBERTY, privilege, or advantage WITHOUT PROFIT, which the owner of one parcel of land may have in the lands of another. The land against which the easement or privilege exists is called the "SERVIENT" tenement, and the estate to which it is annexed the "DOMINANT" tenement; and their owners are called respectively the "SERVIENT" AND "DOMINANT" OWNER. These terms are taken from the civil law. Distinguished from "servitude," "profit ti prendre," "covenant," "franchise," "restriction," (and) "prescription."

— = —

One who claims to be a private citizen must know and respect this notion of easements. For this is the principle of negative duty, as responsible stewardship of land. Ownership is never absolute with regards to the duty man owes to his fellow man, though he never must suffer use of his land for any purpose that is commercial without benefit for that use. The commercial, public citizenship enjoys only use, and so may never be in a position to partake in such negative easements, for his law is fixed and he need not think for himself. He must have public permission or legal license to commercially travel over the land of others. Everywhere the public person travels is only a commercial venture, and thus is only an act taken as a permitted (by special or general permit or license) easement of another's held land and property. His law is only written, not unwritten; legal, not of Nature.

A good example of that which would constitute an easement, or that which would constitute a public consideration even on private land, would be the following:

PRIVATE POND - A body of water wholly on the lands of a single owner, or of a single group of joint owners or tenants in common, which did not have any such connection with any PUBLIC waters that fish could pass from one to the other. If pond was so connected with public waters that at time of high water, fish could go in and out, it was not "private pond" from which defendants could seine fish whether fish might go out same day or next season. (Black4)

— = —

Here we find that notion of private responsibility under the Natural Law. If the pond were truly private and did not in any way effect that which is adjacent or "downstream" from that pond, then no easement or publicity would be implied, and the land under the water of the pond would be considered as no different than the private land without water upon it. But when anything shares a common trait, as the flow of water in lakes, ponds, rivers, streams, etc., then the concept of easement comes into play. In this way, the private owner must consider under negative, Natural Law conditions and responsibility to Nature any actions which might effect the public use of what is first upon his private estate. His private actions must consider everyone else, public or private, for he must do no harm to his fellow man above all else. To pollute the water that might flow to another's property, or to that of the public, would be a crime not only against Nature, but against legal law. While in Nature this is inexcusable and the man is ultimately responsible for his actions, in the legal realm license is granted to corporations (persons) to pollute the water no matter what damages might be inflicted downstream. This pre-pardoning (licensing) of crimes is the nature of the legal law and its designers, that of total corruption of the Highest, moral Law. This is why the word license is a simile to the word anarchy. Licensure is legal anarchy; lawlessness in Nature by permission of the legal law that recreates Nature into its own fictional representation. And so even man cannot complain because he is only acting in fiction, not Nature, though he may receive money as damages as he dies from the cancers that will kill him. In this legal hell and warped moral corruption of the legalistic state of the common man's mind, money will likely make the man happy despite his bodily or property damages, and he may even feel he has won some twisted form of a moral battle in court though all he received was a debt-money payoff, and the criminal he sued never actually pays in any tangible way for his actual crimes. Remember, all public crimes are monetary. If anything, money is used by that wealthy elite to purchase and shelf the moral compunction and retribution of men for any immoral acts committed against us. Money makes the commercial world go round, which conversely and necessarily makes crime rampant and unpunished except by fictional, insignificant means. The creators of money will never run out, and so they will never be unable to purchase a legal pardon for their crimes, especially those committed upon their pledged and publicly subjected slaves.

To fully grasp how we as citizen-ships are constantly in a state of easement on another's property, we must go back to our origins. We are birthed into a district (seizure) of the United States, and therefore that legally created persona (legal status) is only domiciled in the United States, Washington, in that District of Columbia. That is our only legal "land," and we are part of that "land." But it's not actual land, only the artificial title of it. Therefore wherever we go or set up residence (settle) within the geographical jurisdiction of the 50 independent state governments of that union (covenant), we are in a state of special (of species) easement. We are permanent, foreign neighbors, if you will, whom are always intruding on our neighbors lands and never go home. And so to travel upon the land of our neighboring states, all 50 of them, we need a legal capacity in which we may make our way over that legal, fictional "land." Thus we are granted a public easement via licensure and passport by the private owners of that land (the States as the People) through their government (agent), and we call this a citizen-ship. This publicly granted ship figuratively flies the national flag of its master, as its Arms, just as ships on the sea do today and did in days of old, signifying the origin of its birth and the purpose of its commercial journey. But a ship may only sail upon the virtual water-course of the law of the sea. This is public citizen-ship, signifying that man has no relation to any land and that his only purpose in being there is for the benefit of his master and upon its sea (sacred/cursed See). His ship never docks, for it cannot ever find (hold) land, and so his entire journey, his ad-venture, is only one of permissive public easement upon private lands held by another. We are the water people.

If there were a truthful sign posted at each boarder for each state on each highway (virtual water-way), it would say "Welcome to the land of all free, private bloodline People of the Posterity of this State and to all others. Foreign, public commercial residents to travel in legal ships (persons) only."

Understanding our place in this nation, unfortunately, goes against all we've been taught in the "public" schools and churches. For they only teach the common language, and those teaching it are equally fooled by the trickery of word magic. Parrots. Masters of their own illusions. Tricked by their own empty use of words of art. For the common language is the public language. "Educators" never tell us that our blood was corrupted. They never tell us that we are foreigners (neighbors) upon the land we live. And they never tell us that every action we take is a commercial privilege granted to us by our neighboring State through agency. They simply have no idea this is so. For they, the instructors, are merely us. The blind leading the blind. And their flattering titles of teacher, professor, and doctor do not make them knowledgeable, but only burdened and branded as well-trained animals allowed to in turn become animal trainers.

All of our political rights as U.S. citizenships, all our so-called liberties, all our privileges, and all of our duties, are nothing more than easements granted to the person we are in bond and surety to, so that we may as registered agents carry on commercial activity within that State's prison (government and district). We serve our person, and therefore we serve no other purpose than as foreign commodities in service and in usury to both our servient (residential) keepers in agency and our dominant (domiciliary) owners as principal.

To live on the land with no dominant holder before you but God would be a pure State of ease. To be a servant in owner-ship of someone else's property causes a dis-ease. And with disease comes the symptoms of disease, that being all legal requirements and taxes upon the person as a subject in servient position upon the land of another that holds the domiciliary or perfect, non-defective title. The benefit of easements are descriptive of the general anatomy of these symptoms.

CONTINUING EASEMENT - One that is self-perpetuating, independent of human intervention, as, the flow of a stream, or one which may be ENJOYED WITHOUT ANY ACT ON THE PART OF THE PERSON ENTITLED THERETO, such as a spout which discharges the water when it rains, a drain by which surface water is carried off, windows which admit light and air, and the like. Also, it is sometimes termed an "apparent" easement, and defined as one depending on some artificial structure upon, or natural conformation of, the servient tenement, OBVIOUS AND PERMANENT, which CONSTITUTES the easement or is the MEANS OF ENJOYING IT. (Black4)

— = —

This is a fancy, legal way of avoiding the name of God, stating that a continuing or Permanent state of Being upon Jehovah as an act of God (such as a Naturally flowing stream) needs no legal (false) easement attached to it. It Exists despite man's actions or word-magic, as self-evident act of God that was not created by the designs of man.

However, once that Natural State of Being is relegated into a legal easement, the Natural Law no longer applies. The stream may be touched, polluted, and tainted by the man living in corruption of his own blood. All fictional persons in usufruct fall under the following easements:

DISCONTINUING EASEMENT - Discontinuous, non-continuous, or non-apparent easements are those the enjoyment of which can be had ONLY BY THE INTERFERENCE OF MAN, as, a RIGHT OF WAY or a right to draw water. (Black4)

INTERMITTENT EASEMENT - One which is usable or used only at times, and not continuously. (Black4)

NEGATIVE EASEMENT - Those where the owner of the SERVIENT ESTATE is prohibited from doing something OTHERWISE LAWFUL upon his estate, BECAUSE IT WILL AFFECT THE DOMINANT ESTATE, (as interrupting the light and air from the latter by building on the former.) As to "reciprocal negative easement," see that title, infra. (Black4)

RECIPROCITY - Mutuality. The term is used in international law to denote the relation existing between two states when each of them GIVES THE SUBJECTS OF THE OTHER CERTAIN PRIVILEGES, on condition that its own subjects shall enjoy similar privileges at the hands of the latter state. (Black4)

RECIPROCAL NEGATIVE EASEMENT - If the owner of two or more lots, so situated as to bear the relation, sells one with RESTRICTIONS OF BENEFIT to the land retained, the servitude becomes mutual, and, during the period of RESTRAINT, the owner of the lot or lots retained can do nothing forbidden to the owner of the lot sold; this being known as the doctrine of "reciprocal negative easement." (Black4)

RECIPROCAL NEGATIVE EASEMENT - The term given to an easement that originates from a restriction LIMITING THE USE OF A PROPERTY FOR RESIDENTIAL PURPOSES. (Black2)

RESTRAIN - To LIMIT, confine, abridge, narrow down, restrict, obstruct, impede, hinder, stay, destroy. To prohibit from action; to put compulsion upon; to restrict; to hold or press back. TO ENJOIN (in equity). (Black4)

RESTRAINING POWERS - Restrictions or limitations imposed upon the exercise of a power by the donor thereof. (Black4)

RESTRAINT - Confinement, abridgment, or LIMITATION. Prohibition of action; holding or pressing back from action. Hindrance, CONFINEMENT, or restriction OF LIBERTY. Obstruction, HINDRANCE OR DESTRUCTION OF TRADE OR COMMERCE. (Black4)

RESTRAINT OF TRADE - Contracts or combinations which tend or are designed to eliminate or stifle competition, EFFECT A MONOPOLY, ARTIFICIALLY MAINTAIN PRICES, or otherwise hamper or obstruct the COURSE of trade and commerce AS IT WOULD BE CARRIED ON IF LEFT TO THE CONTROL OF NATURAL AND ECONOMIC FORCES. With reference to contracts between individuals, a restraint of trade is said to be "general" or "special." A contract which forbids a person to employ his talents, industry, or capital IN ANY UNDERTAKING within the limits of the state or country is in "general" restraint of trade; if it forbids him to employ himself in a designated trade or business, either for a limited time or WITHIN A PRESCRIBED AREA or DISTRICT, it is in "special" restraint of trade. "Restraint of trade" at which the Sherman Anti-Trust Act is aimed, are only those which are comparable to restraints deemed illegal AT COMMON LAW. (Black4)

RESTRAINT ON ALIENATION - Restriction of the power of aliening property. See Perpetuity. In English practice, as applied to counsel, a notice given to a counsel by an attorney on behalf of the plaintiff or defendant in an action, in order to secure his services as advocate when the cause comes on for trial. In old English usage. A SERVANT, not menial or familiar, that is, NOT CONTINUALLY DWELLING IN THE HOUSE OF HIS MASTER, BUT ONLY WEARING HIS LIVERY, and attending sometimes upon special occasions. (Black4)

RESTRICT - TO RESTRAIN WITHIN BOUNDS; TO LIMIT; TO CONFINE. (Black4)

RESTRICTION - In the case of land registered under the English land transfer act, 1875, an entry on the register made on the application of the registered proprietor of the land, the effect of which is to prevent the transfer of the land or the creation of any charge upon it, unless notice of the application for a transfer or charge is sent by post to a certain address, or unless the consent of a certain person or persons to the transfer or charge is obtained, or unless some other thing is done. (Black4)

RESTRICTED LANDS - Lands the alienation of which is SUBJECT to restrictions imposed by Congress TO PROTECT THE INDIANS FROM THEIR OWN SUPPOSED INCOMPETENCY. (Black4)

Sadly, it was the legalization of the indian tribes that defeated them. It was the acceptance of legal personhood and the identification by each individual of the tribe that they were a “natural person” of each tribe (in ethnicity) that caused their true defeat. To be a free man is not the same and is quite opposed to being part (borne) of a nation. Just more word trickery, playing upon the proudness of the tribal spirit by fooling men into participating in the legal version (incorporation) of the tribe. Thus, all ab-origines are conquered (purchased) through similar artifice. You might say that those private Indians contracted the dis-ease of original (ancestral) sin from the public white man, along with other more exotic diseases of the medical jurisprudence.

EXOTIC - adjective - [Gr. without.] FOREIGN; PERTAINING TO OR PRODUCED IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY; NOT NATIVE; extraneous; as an exotic plant; an exotic TERM OR WORD. - noun - A plant, shrub or tree not native; a plant PRODUCED IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY. 1. A WORD OF FOREIGN ORIGIN. (Webs1828)

CONTRACTED - participle passive - 1. DRAWN TOGETHER, or into a shorter or narrower compass; shrunk; BETROTHED; incurred; BARGAINED. - adjective - 2. Narrow; MEAN; SELFISH; AS A MAN OF A CONTRACTED SOUL OR MIND. (Webs1828)

As a public U.S. citizen-ship in agency keeping residence within one of the 50 several (private) states united, no matter which state you currently reside within, the property and land you think you “own” outright is in a negative easement. Again, U.S. citizens (foreign residents) cannot hold and dispose of land or property in any of these neighboring foreign states. They can only use property and land belonging to others. Therefore you the reader and public U.S. citizenship (if that is your status), as only user of that property, are bound to get permits, licenses, and other permissive qualifications before you can alter or sell that property, because IT BELONGS TO SOMEONE ELSE!!! The actual landholders, entitled “the People” that make up the “State,” constituted that corporate, commercial state government specifically to administer residential foreign agents of the United States, whose domicile is Washington D.C. To be clear, no U.S. citizenship can be an actual land holder, only a user.

PRIVATE OR PUBLIC EASEMENTS - A private easement is one in which the enjoyment is RESTRICTED to one or a few individuals, while a public easement is one the right to the enjoyment of which is VESTED IN THE PUBLIC GENERALLY or in an entire community; such as an easement of PASSAGE ON THE PUBLIC STREETS AND HIGHWAYS OR OF NAVIGATION ON A STREAM. (Black4)

QUASI EASEMENT - An “easement,” in the proper sense of the word, can only exist in respect of two adjoining pieces of land occupied by different persons, and can only impose A NEGATIVE DUTY on the owner of the servient tenement. Hence an obligation on the owner of land to repair the fence between his and his neighbor's land is not a true easement, but is sometimes called a “quasi easement.” (Black4)

EASEMENT BY PRESCRIPTION - A mode of acquiring title to property by immemorial or long-continued enjoyment, and refers to personal usage restricted to claimant and his ancestors or grantors. (Black4)

EASEMENT IN GROSS - Easement in gross is NOT APPURTENANT to any estate in land (or not belonging to any person by virtue of his ownership of an estate in land) but a MERE PERSONAL INTEREST IN, OR RIGHT TO USE, THE LAND OF ANOTHER. (Black4)

EASEMENT OF ACCESS - Right of ingress and egress to and from the premises of a lot owner to a street appurtenant to the land of the lot owner. (Black4)

EASEMENT OF CONVENIENCE - One which increases the facility, comfort, or convenience of the enjoyment of the dominant estate, or of some right connected with it. (Black4)

EQUITABLE EASEMENTS - The special easements created by derivation of ownership of adjacent proprietors from a common source, with specific intentions as to buildings for certain purposes, or with implied privileges in regard to certain uses, are sometimes so called. A name frequently applied to building restrictions in a deed. (Black4)

— = —

Like any disease, the only way to rid oneself permanently of any and all symptoms is to rid oneself of the dis-ease. And so the only way to rid oneself of mammon is to stop being a carrier of its commercial seed (its person) in that dis-eased state of society. Being a carrier of the legal status of public personhood is that disease, manifested legally as a public easement. Serfdom, debt slavery, and loss of all Natural (negative) rights are the symptoms. For no legal easements would be needed if all men followed the Natural Law, for the negative duties implied would prevent the trespass in the first place. To be a free living man under God's Supreme Law and Authority or (versus) to be the sick carrier and puppet of "satan's" artifice (the "adversary" to man and Nature)... is that really even a serious choice, or just an unknown one to most men?

After all, God is the True holder of all lands, all men, and all things. Governments are merely users of God's Domain, pretending to take His place. Anti-God. And this makes God a third party to citizens of the United States, for man's relation to God's Nature is only through his governing magistrates (idols posing as gods) and through legalized corporate religions. If a citizen is always in person, in mammon, then how can the man expect to reach out and touch God? His person is likened to a body glove, a complete prophylactic that prevents man's ability to commune with God and Nature in any Real sense.

One cannot worship and respect God while carrying the State's burden and thus its legal code.

CARRIER - One UNDERTAKING to transport persons or property, or one EMPLOYED IN OR ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS OF CARRYING goods for others for hire. In common speech, "carriers" means transportation systems as distinguished from corporations owning or operating them... A school bus acts as a "carrier..." COMMON carriers are those that hold themselves out or UNDERTAKE to carry persons or goods or all persons indifferently, or of ALL WHO CHOOSE TO EMPLOY IT, or those whose occupation or business is transportation of persons or things for hire or reward. Common carriers of passengers are those that undertake to carry all persons indifferently who may apply for passage, so long as there is room, and there is no legal excuse for refusal. Private carriers are those who transport or UNDERTAKE to transport IN A PARTICULAR INSTANCE for hire or reward. (Black4)

CARRIAGE - A vehicle used especially for the transportation of persons either for PLEASURE OR BUSINESS, and drawn by horses or other draught animals over the ordinary streets and highways of the country; not including cars used exclusively upon railroads or street railroads expressly constructed for the use of such cars. THE ACT OF CARRYING, OR A CONTRACT FOR TRANSPORTATION OF PERSONS OR GOODS. As used in exemption statutes, INCLUDES AN AUTOMOBILE, and it includes motor vehicles under various other circumstances. In admiralty, "carriage" includes ability to lift a cargo and HOLD IT AFLOAT, and does not necessarily involve any translation of the vessel from one place to another. The business of carriage is that arising under contracts by which a person obligates himself, for an agreed price, to transport, or have transported, an object of some kind, to a designated place. The contract of carriage is a contract for the conveyance of property, persons, or messages, from one place to another. (Black4)

CARGO - In mercantile law. The LOAD or LADING of a vessel; the goods, merchandise, or WHATEVER IS CONVEYED IN A SHIP OR OTHER MERCHANT VESSEL. While "cargo" is primarily the load of the ship, it may have a varying meaning. The term may be applied in such a sense as to include passengers, as well as freight, but in a technical sense it designates goods only. (Black4)

LOADING - The act of putting a load on or in; AS TO LOAD A BEAST OF BURDEN, a car or A VESSEL; hence, TO CHARGE AS WITH A LOAD OR BURDEN. The difference between gross and net premiums on (insurance) policies. (Black4)

— = —

To be more precise, public persons are charged with debt and obligation at birth as their burden (load). But this kind of debt cannot simply be paid with more debt money, for all money in mammon represents the same charge upon all other men birthed into this system. And so we must define what it is to be a debtor. For while you can have no outstanding debt in your financial statements in consideration of corporations, banks, etc., you will always be a permanent debtor of government as its citizenship. Your debt to government is again a performance debt; a contract to perform. In other words, the only way to fulfill the contract is to act per the form of a person and to thus be bound by the legal laws of persons in a commercial, public undertaking. A person is a debtor, and man must play as an actor in this part to gain benefits from the master of all puppets (persons).

DEBT - noun - det. [Latin debitum, CONTRACTED.] 1. That which is due from one person to another, whether money, GOODS, or SERVICES; that which one person is bound to pay or PERFORM TO ANOTHER; as the debts of a bankrupt; the debts of a nobleman. IT IS A COMMON MISFORTUNE OR VICE to be in debt. WHEN YOU RUN IN DEBT YOU GIVE TO ANOTHER POWER OVER YOUR LIBERTY. 2. That which any one is obliged to do or to suffer. Your son, my lord, has paid a soldier's debt. Hence death is called the debt of nature. 3. In law, an action to recover a debt. This is a customary ellipsis. He brought debt instead of an action of debt. 4. In scripture, SIN; TRESPASS; GUILT; CRIME; THAT WHICH RENDERS LIABLE TO PUNISHMENT. Forgive us our debts. Lord's Prayer. (Webs1828)

PERFORM - verb transitive - [Latin per and formo, to make.] 1. To do; TO EXECUTE; to accomplish; as, to perform two days' labor in one day; to perform a noble deed or achievement. 2. TO EXECUTE; TO DISCHARGE; AS, TO PERFORM A DUTY OR OFFICE. 3. TO FULFILL; as, TO PERFORM A COVENANT, PROMISE OR CONTRACT; to perform a vow. - verb intransitive - To do; TO ACT A PART. The player performs well in different CHARACTERS. The musician performs well on the organ. (Webs1828)

PERFORMANCE - noun - Execution or completion of any thing; a doing; as the performance of work or OF AN UNDERTAKING; THE PERFORMANCE OF DUTY. 1. ACTION; DEED; thing done. 2. THE ACTING OR EXHIBITION OF CHARACTER ON THE STATE. Garrick was celebrated for his theatrical performances. 3. Composition; work written. Few of our comic performances give good examples. 4. The acting or exhibition of feats; as performances of horsemanship. (Webs1828)

— = —

If you comprehend what is stated here, then you should be coming to a very distinct revelation. Debt is sin. Citizenship is debt. Debt is that which makes us liable to punishment. There is simply no ignoring of this fact.

The debt charged as an obligation of service must be preformed and discharged. The charge must be extinguished, the contract executed, and the ship docked. Like electricity, the man must become grounded upon God's earth once more, shedding all legal artifice, so that the legal charge may dissipate. For we all know that water is a conductor for electricity, not a discharger. So man cannot discharge his debt and obligation while on the sea of commerce. Only God's Nature, his very own Nature, can save him. Until then, the man is considered merely as cargo upon the citizen-ship, caught in a permanent state of burden and carried through the holy see of the false gods. The birth certificate is that initial charge, the creation of life (evil), a bill of lading.

CARGA - In Spanish law. An incumbrance; A CHARGE. (Black4)

CARGAISON - In French commercial law. Cargo; LADING. (Black4)

CARGARE - In old English law. TO CHARGE. (Black4)

BILL - A formal declaration, complaint, or statement of particular things IN WRITING... In commercial law. A written statement of the terms of a contract, or SPECIFICATION OF THE ITEMS OF A TRANSACTION OR OF A DEMAND; also a general name for any item of indebtedness, whether receivable or payable. Accounts for goods sold, services rendered, or work done. (Black4)

LADING - participle present tense - LOADING; CHARGING WITH A BURDEN or freight; throwing or dipping out. (Webs1828)

LADING - noun - That which CONSTITUTES A LOAD OR CARGO; freight; BURDEN; as the lading of a SHIP. Acts 27:10. (Webs1828)

ORIGINAL BILL OF LADING - Bill of lading that is used when DELIVERING a shipment or to file a claim for DAMAGED OR LOST GOODS. OTHER COPIES ARE ONLY FOR RECORDS. (Black2)

CERTIFIED BILL OF LADING - To CERTIFY THAT A SHIPMENT MEETS THE IMPORTING COUNTRY'S REGULATIONS, the importing country's consul in the exporter's country, ISSUES THIS CERTIFICATE. (Black2)

— = —

In legal law, a child is not considered as a living sentient being, only a piece of certified paper representing some recorded vital statistics of a legal status in law (a fictional person). A child is a legal issue, birthed (issued) from the matrix (paper womb) of government in lading. The original bill of lading, that original birth certificate from which all certified copies are made is called the matrix. And this is how all persons are potential agents of the legal matrix simulation, as deceptively portrayed in the movie by that same name. We act in the surname birthed by the state as attached to our christian name.

MATRIX - Womb. A place where anything is GENERATED OR FORMED. (Samuel Johnson's Dictionary, 1755)

MATRIX - In civil law, THE PROTOCOL OR FIRST DRAFT OF A LEGAL INSTRUMENT, FROM WHICH ALL COPIES MUST BE TAKEN. (Black4)

ISSUE - noun - ...The act of issuing, sending forth, emitting or promulgating; THE GIVING A THING ITS FIRST INCEPTION; as the issue of an order or a writ. - verb - To send forth; to emit; to promulgate; as, an officer issues orders, process issues from a court. TO PUT INTO CIRCULATION; as, the treasury issues notes. To send out, to send out officially; TO DELIVER, FOR USE, or authoritatively; to go forth, as authoritative or BINDING. (Black4)

— = —

The Real mother is responsible for the bodily conception in Reality (in Nature) of a baby, and is also simultaneously tricked into becoming the contractual, legal informer, certifying through volunteered vital statistics that a felonious legal conception in appearance/fiction (false truth by deception) was created at the same time, so as to abandon her baby in the district (seizure) for which it will thus be found as an infant of unknown parentage; as a bastard with no apparent inheritable blood. That certified matrix is the artificial mother, which contemplates the legal state as the adoptive father.

This act of de-livery creates the charge that is placed upon the artificial life called the person (status). As the child grows into that legal matrix system, he or she never knows anything different than what the legal simulation provides, for the parents were also reared within that public-minded system and similarly confirmed their own existence as an imaginary legal fiction. They know nothing of Nature and God and so can teach their children nothing of Nature and God. To be born in the matrix (the nation) is to be a child of the matrix (the nation).

And as that fictional movie told the story of how man is used merely as batteries to charge the simulation that imprisons them, this was only a metaphor about a metaphor, for we are charged by the legal system at birth and spend our dead lives in fiction in the debt of that artificial creditor called government, the artificially protective womb. Again, Reality is stranger than any Hollywood production, and its scientific fantasies in movie and television form are only designed to blind you from the Real legal fiction that utterly controls and imprisons your mind, body, and soul.

CHARGE - verb transitive - 1. To rush on; to fall on; to attack, especially with fixed bayonets; as, an army charges the enemy. 2. To load, as a musket or cannon; to thrust in powder, or powder and ball or shot. 3. TO LEAD OR BURDEN; TO THROW ON OR IMPOSE THAT WHICH OPPRESSES; as, to charge the stomach with indigestible food; or to LAY on, or to fill, without oppressing; as, to charge the memory with rules and precepts; to charge the mind with facts. 4. To set or lay on; to impose, AS A TAX; as, the land is charged with a quit rent; A RENT IS A CHARGE ON THE LAND. 5. To lay on or impose, as a task. The gospel chargeth us with piety towards God. 6. To put or lay on; as, to charge a building with ornaments, often implying superfluity. 7. To lay on, as a DUTY; followed by with. The commander charged the officer with the execution of the project. See Genesis 40:4 8. To entrust to; as, an officer is charged with dispatches. 9. To set to, AS A DEBT; to place on the debit side of an account; as, TO CHARGE A MAN WITH THE PRICE OF GOODS SOLD TO HIM. 10. TO LOAD OR LAY ON IN WORDS, SOMETHING WRONG, REPROACHFUL OR CRIMINAL; to impute to; as, to charge a man with theft. 11. To lay on IN WORDS; to impute to; followed by on before the PERSON; as, to charge a crime on the offender; to charge evil consequences on the doctrines of the stoics. 12. To lay on, give or COMMUNICATE, as an order, command or earnest request; TO ENJOIN; to exhort. In all this, Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly. Job 1:22... Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded. 1 Timothy 4:1. In this sense, when the command is given IN THE NAME OF GOD, OR WITH AN OATH, the phrase amounts to AN ADJURATION. TO ADJURE; TO BIND BY AN OATH. 1 Samuel 14:28. 14. To give directions to; to instruct authoritatively; as, the judge charged the grand jury to inquire respecting breaches of the peace. 15. To communicate electrical matter to, as to a coated vial, or an electrical battery. - verb intransitive - To make an onset. Thus Glanville says, like your heroes of antiquity, he charges in iron; and we say, to charge with fixed bayonets. But in this application, the object is understood; to charge the enemy. - noun - 1. That which is laid on or in; in a general sense, ANY LOAD OR BURDEN. IT IS THE SAME WORD RADICALLY AS CARGO... 3. An onset; a rushing on an enemy; ATTACK; especially by moving troops with fixed bayonets. But it is used for an onset of cavalry as well as of infantry. 4. An order, injunction, mandate, command. Moses gave Joshua a charge. Numbers 27:19. The king gave charge concerning Absalom. 2 Samuel 18:5. 5. That which is ENJOINED, COMMITTED, entrusted or DELIVERED TO ANOTHER, IMPLYING CARE, CUSTODY, OVERSIGHT, OR DUTY TO BE PERFORMED BY THE PERSON ENTRUSTED. I gave Hanani charge over Jerusalem. Nehemiah 7:2. Hence the word includes any trust or commission; AN OFFICE, DUTY, EMPLOYMENT. It is followed by of or over; more generally by of. Hence, 6. THE PERSON OR THING COMMITTED TO ANOTHER'S CUSTODY, CARE OR MANAGEMENT; A TRUST. Thus the people of a parish are called the ministers charge. The starry guardian drove his charge away to some fresh pasture. 7. Instructions given by a judge to a jury, or by a bishop to his clergy. The word may be used as synonymous with command, direction, exhortation or injunction, but always implies solemnity. 8. Imputation in a bad sense; ACCUSATION. Lay not this sin to their charge. Acts 7:60. 9. THAT WHICH CONSTITUTES DEBT, in commercial transactions; an entry of money or the price of goods, on the debit side of an account. 10. Cost; expense; as, the charges of the war are to be BORNE BY THE NATION. 11. IMPOSITION ON LAND OR ESTATE; RENT, TAX, OR WHATEVER CONSTITUTES A BURDEN OR DUTY. 12. In military affairs, a signal to attack; as, to sound the charge. 13. The posture of a weapon fitted for an attack or combat. Their armed slaves in charge... 15. IN HERALDRY, that which is BORNE upon the COLOR; or the FIGURES REPRESENTED on the escutcheon, BY WHICH THE BEARERS ARE DISTINGUISHED FROM ONE ANOTHER... (Webs1828)

ISSUE - In REALTY LAW. - DESCENDANTS. All PERSONS who have descended from a common ancestor. Offspring; progeny; descent; lineage; lineal descendants. In this sense, the word includes not only a child or children, but all other descendants IN WHATEVER DEGREE; and it is so construed generally in deeds. But, when used in wills, it is, of course, subject to the rule of construction that the intention of the testator, as ascertained from the will, is to have effect, RATHER THAN THE TECHNICAL MEANING OF THE LANGUAGE USED BY HIM; and hence issue may in such a connection, be restricted to children, or to descendants living at the death of the testator, where such an intention clearly appears. The word "issue" in a WILL is generally a word of LIMITATION, and when so used, is sometimes said to be equivalent to "HEIRS OF THE BODY." But it has been pointed out in other cases that this word is not as strong a word of limitation as the words "heirs of the body," and yields readily to a context INDICATING ITS USE AS A WORD OF PURCHASE. The word is commonly HELD TO INCLUDE ONLY LEGITIMATE ISSUE. (Black4)

LAWFUL ISSUE - The TERM that is given to PEOPLE who are ABLE TO INHERIT due to KINSHIP. (Black2)

LEGAL ISSUE - Another term used to describe a PERSON'S descendants and is the same as lawful issue. (Black2)

NATURAL ISSUE - Term given to describe the CHILDREN BORN OF THEIR PARENTS and are NOT ADOPTED. (Black2)

— — —

Note the difference here between an actual inheritable blood issue (child) and that of a corrupted blood issue. One is an heir according to law, and one is not. The second one needs a will, for no heirs are assumed. This is the tainted status of a public citizenship of the United States. Note also that the bloodline of posterity and lineage is of the realty law, meaning that the only purpose of the keeping of these fabled genealogy records is an attachment to land. Land and blood are in figurative oneness.

And just what happens when our blood is legally corrupted? We issue no heir and our life, and death, is rendered as a pointless endeavor without bearing legitimate seed or fruit. Of course, in Reality one's blood lives on, but in the fictional legal realm the family chain was decimated, the bloodline made extinct! And the child passes on this legacy of nothingness to all future offspring that will all die in succession but without lawful issue. As the first so the last.

DIE WITHOUT CHILDREN, HEIRS, OR ISSUE - In a will, as applied to REALTY, prima facie imports an INDEFINITE FAILURE OF ISSUE, — TOTAL EXTINCTION OF THE TESTATOR'S FAMILY, or the DEATH OF ALL HIS DESCENDANTS to the remotest generation. This has uniformly been the construction, when there were no expressions in the will controlling the legal meaning of the words, or pointing to a definite failure of issue. As applied to personalty, construed to mean dying without heirs LIVING at the death of the devisee. When there is anything in a gift or limitation to show that the testator meant a failure of issue in the life-time of the first taker, instead of an indefinite failure, a limitation over is construed as an executory devise in defeasance of a fee-simple, and not as a remainder sustained by an estate-tail. Whether a presumption that a person died without issue will be indulged depends upon the circumstances shown in each case. If, for instance, circumstances are proven indicating non-marriage or childlessness, then death without issue may be PRESUMED. See further Definite; Issue. (WCA1889)

— = —

Let the reader be very clear by this point that the above definition applies to any and all of you that claim or have ever claimed U.S. citizenship without proof of quitting. I seriously doubt that anyone reading this is accidentally acting in a private capacity. One simply does not live a private life and not know his status and that below it. The artificial default in this legal design has been set, and all of its public roads lead straight to the public domain of Caesar. No man can escape this publicly gridded web unless his father had paternally guided him to his own private blood-inheritance. This knowledge is openly under the rose, though placed deftly into that disguising lexicon of English dog-Latin.

KIN - Relation or relationship BY BLOOD or consanguinity. "The nearness of kin is computed according to the civil law." As to "next of kin," see NEXT. (Black2)

NEXI - Latin. In Roman law, bound; BOUND PERSONS. A term applied to such insolvent DEBTORS as were DELIVERED UP TO THEIR CREDITORS, by whom they might be HELD IN BONDAGE UNTIL THEIR DEBTS WERE DISCHARGED.

NEXUM - Latin. In Roman law, in ancient times the nexum seems to have been a species of FORMAL CONTRACT, involving a loan of money, and attended with peculiar consequences, solemnized with the "copper and balance." Later, it appears to have been used as a general term for any contract struck with those ceremonies, and hence to have INCLUDED THE SPECIAL FORM OF CONVEYANCE CALLED "MANCIPATIO." In a general sense it means the obligation or bond between contracting parties. In Roman law, this word expressed the TIE OR OBLIGATION involved in the old conveyance by mancipatio; and came latterly to be used interchangeably with (but less frequently than) the word "obligatio" itself.

PATERFAMILIAS - The FATHER of a family. In Roman law. The head or MASTER of a family. This word is sometimes employed, in a wide sense, as equivalent to sui juris. A person sui juris is called "paterfamilias" even when under the age of puberty. In the narrower and more common use, a paterfamilias is ANY ONE INVESTED WITH POTESTAS OVER ANY PERSON. It is thus as applicable to a grandfather as to a father. (Black4)

POTESTAS - Latin. In the civil law. Power; authority; DOMINATION; EMPIRE. IMPERIUM, OR THE JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATES. THE POWER OF THE FATHER OVER HIS CHILDREN, patria potestas. THE AUTHORITY OF MASTERS OVER THEIR SLAVES. (Black4)

PATRIA POTESTAS - Latin. In Roman law. PATERNAL AUTHORITY; THE PATERNAL POWER. This term denotes the aggregate of those peculiar powers and rights which, by the civil law of Rome, belonged to the head of a family in respect to his wife, children, (natural or adopted,) and any more remote descendants who sprang from him through males only. Anciently, it was of very extensive reach, embracing even the power of life and death, but was gradually curtailed, until finally it amounted to little more than a right in the paterfamilias TO HOLD AS HIS OWN ANY PROPERTY OR ACQUISITIONS OF ONE UNDER HIS POWER. (Black4)

—=—

“CHILDREN ARE ALWAYS PRESUMED TO BE LEGITIMATE, for filiation cannot be proved.”

—Semper praesumitur pro legitimatione puerorem, et filiatio non potest probari. Co. Litt. 126. See 1 Bouv. Inst. 26 n. 303. (Black4)

—=—

“One may relinquish for himself and his heirs a right which was introduced for his own benefit.”

—POTEST QUIS RENUNCIARE PRO SE ET SUIS JURI QUOD PRO SE INTRODUCTUM EST. Bract. 20. (Black4)

—=—

This very important maxim is yet another corruption of scriptural principal, meaning that any right that is copied in simulation from that of being inalienable and self-evident to being merely a contractive legal benefit of personhood can be sold or relinquished by the man in agency. And this is exactly what happens when we deliver our issue to the dead hands of the state, taking the effect of the foundation of law and destroying it. In other words, by delivering our children to the state we are relinquishing our right for that birth to be lawfully recognized in blood relations, and so the corruption of blood kills such equitable considerations. And yet the law admits that such legal nonsense is purely a fraud, a coveted and sacred (cursed) deceit, designed only to cause the legal piracy of the apparent rights of blood heirs. Since filiation, as the affiliation of son to mother and father by blood relation, was always said to be unprovable but by these fabled records of the history of genealogy, the great and hidden mystery is that all children are children of God, all of them legitimate, and so only the false belief (love) of that illegitimate and fabled his-story of lineage can cause such divides among men in class, rank, title, and status. It's pure bullshit, in other words, no matter how accurate those records might be. Only an evil man would subject a child to suffering due to his lack of provable bloodline and “good parentage.” This is as anti-scriptural and antichrist as we can get. And its origin is of course based on the old testament Jews, who to this day rely on their blood for admission to their “state” and status. There is no actual conversion to become a “Jew,” for the flattering title is only assigned by fabled genealogy. The blood of christ, however, is potentially within us all. This is the New Testament.

Unfortunately, with the modern advent of blood, gene, and DNA testing, that which was unprovable has become vulgarly provable through “science.” And while this technology (art) is hailed as a wondrous new frontier, in fact it only solidifies the fictional, fallacious rationality that only some of us are the “chosen people,” for our DNA apparently proves this as truth. This grand delusion of exclusionary posterity is now reinforced with the ultimate lie... the worst kind of lie in fact, as one based on actual Truth.

FILIATION - The RELATION of parent and child, BUT DOES NOT IMPORT LEGITIMACY, although often A STEP TO THAT END. Correlative to “PATERNITY.” THE JUDICIAL ASSIGNMENT OF AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD TO A DESIGNATED MAN AS ITS FATHER. In the civil law, the DESCENT of son or daughter, with regard to his or her father, mother, and their ancestors. (Black4)

FILIATE - TO FIX A BASTARD CHILD ON SOME ONE, AS ITS FATHER. TO DECLARE WHOSE CHILD IT IS. (Black4)

FILIOLUS (or FILIOUS) - In old records, a godson. (Black4)

FILIUS - Latin. A son; a child. As DISTINGUISHED FROM HEIR, filius (SON) is a TERM OF NATURE, haeres (HEIR) a TERM OF LAW. In the civil law the term was used to denote a child generally. A distinction was sometimes made, in the civil law, between “fili” and “liberi,” the latter (liberi) word including grandchildren, (nepotes), the former (filii) not. But, according to Paulus and Julianus, they were of equally extensive import. (Black4)

FILIUS FAMILIAS - In the civil law, the SON OF A FAMILY; an UN-EMANCIPATED son. (Black4)

FILIUS NULLIUS - An illegitimate child; SON OF NOBODY. (Black4)

FILIUS POPULI - A SON OF THE PEOPLE. Natural child. (Black4)

— = —

To be clear, when speaking of the status (person) of any man, we always must establish that status with a describing word. Person is an ambiguous term, and so it cannot stand at bar alone without signs and marks any more than a christian (first) name alone can have standing. We must add a description of the nature of that term of civil law. And so we would say private person or public person. Thus when the man is considered by or in law, the nature of his person is discernible, and the way that man is treated depends on the nature of his person (status). The law only recognizes man’s status (person), not man in and as himself (by his blood). The private man may use only his christian name. The public person will answer to a surname. In this way, the description of public need not be used, for the status is manifested by the expression of consent in answer to that registered and confirmed surname admixed with the christian name. The last (higher) name establishes jurisdiction by canceling out the moral, Higher Law presumed by use of the christian (first) name alone. The contractual relationship is established at bar by the appearance in admixture of names.

The surname establishes the presumptive fact of paternity in that the person appearing has the public status of filius nullius (illegitimate), and consent to being publicly filius populi (a son of the state/People). This is how we appear in court, and how the court sees our children. For we have lost our Nature and replaced It with artificial nature, as that of a legal “natural” child. Hu-man. Animal. Without soul. Without blood. Not of God’s Nature but in the nature of the state. Duality of words reigns supreme in this matrix of legal simulation.

— = —

“SON is a name of nature, but HEIR is a name of law.”

—FILIUS EST NOMEN NATURAE, SED HAERES NOMEN JURIS. 1 Sid. 193. 1 Pow.Dev. 311.

—=—

“A son in the mother's womb is part of the mother's VITALS.”

—FILIUS IN UTERO MATRIS EST PARS VISCERUM MATRIS. 7 Coke, 8.

—=—

“Filiation cannot be proved; that is, the husband is presumed to be the father of a child born during coverture.”

—FILIATIO NON POTEST PROBARI. Co.Litt. 126. But see 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101.

—=—

Modern DNA testing techniques may have changed the vulgar consideration of this maxim, but its principle power remains. In essence, the child has his mother's vitals but is born with his father's status. A bastard though, as a child with no paternal (authoritative) claim by its father as delivered (abandoned), continues only in the maternal (nurturing) status of his mother, which leaves the state to act with paternal power in lieu of the actual, biological father. It is in this small window of time, after the coverture and expulsion from the womb until the baby leaves the hospital that the vital statistics are taxed (recorded and registered) and the legal entity is created. This is the secondary, legal de-livery into the legal matrix (artificial womb), taking place only after the actual, Natural birth from the mother's womb.

COVERTURE - noun - 1. Covering; shelter; defense. 2. In law, the state of a married woman, who is considered as UNDER COVER, OR THE POWER OF HER HUSBAND, and therefore called a feme-covert, or femme-couvert. The coverture of a woman disables her from making contracts to the prejudice of herself or her husband, WITHOUT HIS ALLOWANCE OR CONFIRMATION. (Webs1828)

BARON ET FEME - Man and woman: HUSBAND AND WIFE. A wife being under the protection and influence of her baron, lord, or husband, is styled a "feme-covert" (faemina viro cooperta), and her state of marriage is called her "coverture". (Black4)

FEME; or FEMME - French. A woman; a wife. Feme is the older form: L. femella, femina, a young woman. Plural, femes, femmes. Feme covert, or feme-covert. A married woman. BY MARRIAGE, HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE ONE PERSON IN LAW. UNDER HIS PROTECTION AND "COVER," SHE DOES EVERYTHING; and is therefore called in law-French a feme-covert; while her condition is called "coverture". (WCA1889)

FILIATION PROCEEDING - A special statutory proceeding, CRIMINAL IN FORM, but in the nature of A CIVIL ACTION TO ENFORCE A CIVIL OBLIGATION OR DUTY SPECIFICALLY FOR THE PURPOSE OF ESTABLISHING PARENTAGE AND THE PUTATIVE FATHER'S DUTY TO SUPPORT HIS ILLEGITIMATE CHILD. (Black4)

HERITAGE - noun - 1. INHERITANCE; an estate that PASSES FROM AN ANCESTOR TO AN HEIR BY DESCENT OR COURSE OF LAW; that which is inherited. In Scot's law, it sometimes signifies immovable estate, in distinction from movable. 2. In Scripture, the saints or PEOPLE OF GOD ARE CALLED HIS HERITAGE AS BEING CLAIMED BY HIM, and the objects of his special care. 1 Peter 5:3. (Webs1828)

MANCIPIUM - Latin. In Roman law, the momentary condition in which a filius, etc., might be when in course of emancipation from the potestas, and before that emancipation was absolutely complete. The condition was not like the dominica potestas over slaves, but slaves are frequently called "mancipia" in the nonlegal Roman authors. To form a clear conception of the true import of the word in the Roman jurisprudence, it is necessary to advert to the four distinct powers which were exercised by the pater familias, viz.: the manus, or martial power; the mancipium, resulting from the mancipatio, or alienatio per aes et libram of a freeman; the dominica potestas, THE POWER OF THE MASTER OVER HIS SLAVES, and the patria potestas, THE PATERNAL POWER. When the pater familias SOLD HIS SON, venum dare, mancipare, the paternal power was succeeded by the mancipium, or the power acquired by the PURCHASER over the PERSON whom he held in mancipio, and whose condition was assimilated to that of a slave. What is most remarkable is, that on the emancipation from the mancipium HE FELL BACK INTO THE PATERNAL POWER, which was not entirely exhausted until he had been sold three times by the pater familias. Si pater filium ter venum dat, fizzius a patre Ziber esto. Gaius speaks of the mancipatio as imagmaria quedam venditio, because in his times it was only resorted to for the purpose of ADOPTION or EMANCIPATION. (Black4)

MANCIPARE - Latin. In Roman law, TO SELL, ALIENATE, OR MAKE OVER TO ANOTHER; to sell with certain FORMALITIES; TO SELL A PERSON; one of the forms observed IN THE PROCESS OF EMANCIPATION. (Black4)

MANCIPATE - TO ENSLAVE; TO BIND; TO TIE. (Black4)

EMANCIPATE - adjective - Set at LIBERTY. (Webs1828)

PRAEMIUM EMANCIPATIONIS - In Roman law. A reward or compensation anciently allowed to a father on emancipating his child, consisting of one-third of the child's separate and individual property, not derived from the father himself. (Black4)

MANCIPATIO - Latin. In Roman law, a certain ceremony or formal process anciently required to be performed, to perfect the sale or conveyance of res Mancipi, (land, houses, slaves, horses, or cattle.) The parties were present (vendor and vendee), with five witnesses and a person called "libripens," who held a balance or SCALES. A SET FORM OF WORDS was repeated on either side, indicative of TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP, and certain prescribed gestures made, and the vendee then struck the scales with a piece of copper, thereby SYMBOLIZING THE PAYMENT, or WEIGHING OUT, of the stipulated price. The ceremony of mancipatio was used, in later times, in one of the forms OF MAKING A WILL. The testator acted as vendor, and the HEIR (or familiae emptor) AS PURCHASER. THE LATTER SYMBOLICALLY BUYING THE WHOLE ESTATE OR SUCCESSION, OF THE FORMER. The ceremony was also USED BY A FATHER IN MAKING A FICTITIOUS SALE OF HIS SON, which sale, when three times repeated, EFFECTUATED THE EMANCIPATION OF THE SON. (Black4)

MANCIPI RES - Latin. In Roman law, certain CLASSES OF THINGS WHICH COULD NOT BE ALIENED OR TRANSFERRED EXCEPT by means of a certain FORMAL CEREMONY OF CONVEYANCE called "mancipatio." These included land, houses, slaves, horses, and cattle. All other things were called "res nec mancipi." THE DISTINCTION WAS ABOLISHED BY JUSTINIAN. The distinction corresponded as nearly as may be to the early distinction of ENGLISH LAW INTO REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY: res mancipi being objects of a military or agricultural character, and res nec mancipi being ALL OTHER SUBJECTS OF PROPERTY. Like personal estate, res nec mancipi were not originally either valuable in se or valued. (Black4)

MANCEPS - Latin. In Roman law, A PURCHASER; one who took the ARTICLE sold in his hand; a formality observed in certain sales. A farmer of the PUBLIC taxes. (Black4)

MANUMISSION - The act of liberating a slave from bondage and giving him FREEDOM. In a wider sense, releasing or DELIVERING ONE PERSON FROM THE POWER OR CONTROL OF ANOTHER. (Black4)

— = —

“To manumit is the same as to place beyond hand and power.”

—MANUMITTERE IDEM EST QUOD EXTRA MANUM VEL POTESTATEM PONERE. Co. Litt. 137. (Black4)

— = —

As was declared by Horrace Greely in reference to the amended 14th amendment citizenship status that all men are delivered into at birth, thus each becoming natural children (a child of the people), the release of the black slaves from forced bondage as an act of emancipation was merely the setting them at a political liberty without tangible chains, the placing them into the open-air prison or gaol (district), and was in actuality the equalizing of all common citizenships, including all “white persons” that are made to be ignorant of their right of blood inheritance by relation to the constituted “Posterity,” diminished to that common level of political but not True liberty in Nature. A person (status) was assigned to each man, representing the bondage of artificially districted (seized) “freedom” not dissimilar to that which a cow has within the white picket fences of a ranch, the person as identification being that of a brand burnt into the flesh of the cow to mark it as property. A political, tacit simulation of liberty. This is the same act that all common, public people do as they abandon (set free) their child to be found in and seized by the district. In other words, emancipation was merely the creation of voluntary slavery and servitude through word trickery to replace the old system of involuntary slavery and servitude. It was the forced purchase (eminent domain) of all bound slaves by the state (district) in public office, where in turn they were set free (placed into a public, commercial franchise called as a citizen-ship). Equalization made all men free to be slaves of their own vocational choosing in employment (being used in mammon). This is the legal, artificial, virtual version of freedom and liberty, which can only exist in legal, public personhood, and only within the borders of the governed land in nativity. It is the ultimate deception, for a free slave is a prosperous slave. And so it is that this number one catchphrase of patriotically public persons captured freely in U.S. citizenship, whom actually believe they are part of that sovereignty that reigns over them and for which they pledge their allegiance to, is to proclaim and sing fervently that “I’m proud to be an American, where at least I know I’m free.” It’s a cosmic joke. A mis-transliteration based on ignorance of Romanization and the concept of franchise and its gaol (district). The magic of dog-Latin. For only by their blood and by refusal of publicity in citizenship would they be able to make such a claim of blood inheritance and constitutional protections.

— = —

“All truth passes through three stages. First, it is ridiculed. Second, it is violently opposed. Third, it is accepted as BEING SELF-EVIDENT.”

How many “patriots,” those that falsely believe they are free, will ridicule this work alone in that first stage of denial? How many will violently oppose it as cognitive dissonance swirls like madness in their brains? Alas, the author fears that the number that will see this work as self-evident must surely be the lesser of these three stages, for who can imagine that the love of Truth is so vastly different and more painful than that comfortable belief and life lived in the accepted lies of fiction?

Let’s face it, revealing that entire generations of U.S. citizens are actually illegitimate bastards under falsified legal marriage contracts designed to cause that illegitimacy and be adopted by the state in voluntary servitude is not easily excepted by all of us bastards out here, we whom are falsely living in an imaginary self-aggrandize of our captured Selves. And so the author sympathizes with the many deeply ingrained fallacies imposed by the public sphere that may be preventing the enlightenment of that third stage of Truth’s acceptance from being attained very easily. For the author though, these self-evident Truths are now just second nature, after over 12 years of striving for the answers I too did not want to hear. Ego is a very powerful obstacle.

But on the bright side, we must never forget that this is all fiction. Only the God of Nature knows Truth, and only under God’s Law is that opinion of the fictional state destroyed as it applies to us individually. Remember, legal marriage is artificial, and so is legal fiction. Christ was a “bastard” in law too, but his path out of that nativity and accident of birth are the epitome and purpose of those scriptural teachings. To follow His path is to attain the only True spiritual Legitimacy possible, and that means so much more than the custom of attending a fictional ceremony every Sunday in a corporate, Romanized “Christian” church. As is written, all men should strive to be the sons of God, for no man is ever a bastard in the Reality of Nature which is God’s Realm. Artificial things can only be proven in the artificial legal realm of man, but such titles and status in fiction have no respect of the God of Nature.

NEXT - Nearest; closest; immediately following. Nearest or nighest, not in the sense of propinquity alone, as, for example, three persons on three chairs, one in the midst, those on each side of the middle one are equally near, each "next" to the middle one; but it signifies also order, or succession, or relation as well as propinquity. (Black4)

NEXT OF KIN - A wife, by affinity, or BY BLOOD, like a parent, sibling, or offspring is a deceased's nearest relative. (Black2)

NEXT OF KIN - In the law of descent and distribution, this term properly denotes the persons nearest of kindred to the decedent, that is, those who are most nearly related to him by blood; but it is sometimes construed to mean ONLY THOSE WHO ARE ENTITLED TO TAKE UNDER THE STATUTE OF DISTRIBUTIONS, and sometimes to include other persons. The words "next of kin," used simpliciter in a deed or will, mean, not nearest of kindred, but those relatives who share in the estate according to the statute of distributions, including those claiming per stirpes or BY REPRESENTATION. (Black4)

SIMPLICITER - Latin. Simply; without ceremony; in a summary manner. Directly; immediately; as distinguished from inferentially or indirectly. By itself; by its own force; per se. (Black4)

NEXT DEVISEE - Person to whom remainder is GIVEN BY WILL. (Black4)

NEXT EVENTUAL ESTATE - Estate taking effect UPON HAPPENING OF THE EVENT TERMINATING ACCUMULATION. (Black4)

NEXT PRESENTATION - In the law of advowsons, the right of next presentation is the right to present to the first vacancy of a benefice. (Black4)

KINDRED - Relatives BY BLOOD. “Kindred of the whole blood, preferred to kindred of the half blood.” (Black2)

AFFINITY - At common law. Relationship BY MARRIAGE between the husband and the blood relations of the wife, and between the wife and the blood relations of the husband. Affinity is distinguished into three kinds: (1) DIRECT, or that subsisting between the husband and his wife's relations by blood, or between the wife and the husband's relations BY BLOOD; (2) SECONDARY, or that which subsists between the husband and his wife's relations BY MARRIAGE; (3) COLLATERAL, or that which subsists between the husband and the relations of his wife's relations. In the civil law. The connection which arises by marriage between each PERSON of the married pair and the kindred of the other. (Black2)

CHILD - This word has two meanings in law: (1) In the law of the domestic relations, and as to descent and DISTRIBUTION, it is used strictly as the correlative of "parent," and means a son or daughter considered as IN RELATION with the father or mother. (2) In the law of negligence, and in laws for the protection of children, etc., it is used as the opposite of "adult," and means the young of the HUMAN SPECIES, (generally under the age of puberty), WITHOUT ANY REFERENCE TO PARENTAGE and without distinction of sex. (Black2)

ADOPTED CHILD - The child who is NOT THE NATURAL CHILD OF THE PARENTS but has become a TRUE child by legal action. Can be considered a legal heir. (Black2)

LEGALLY ADOPTED - The term used to signify that a child has been adopted in accordance with the state laws. (Black2)

ADOPTION AND LEGITIMATION - Adoption, properly speaking, refers only to PERSONS WHO ARE STRANGERS IN BLOOD, and is not synonymous with "legitimation," which refers to PERSONS OF THE SAME BLOOD. Where one acknowledges his illegitimate child and takes it into his family and treats it as if it were legitimate, it is not properly an “adoption” but a “legitimation.” TO ACCEPT AN ALIEN AS A CITIZEN OR MEMBER OF A COMMUNITY OR STATE AND INVEST HIM WITH CORRESPONDING RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES, either (in general and untechnical parlance) BY NATURALIZATION, or by an act equivalent to naturalization, as where a white man is “adopted” by an Indian tribe. (Black2)

ADOPTION - The act of one WHO TAKES ANOTHER'S CHILD INTO HIS OWN FAMILY, treating him as his own, and giving him all the RIGHTS AND DUTIES of his own child. A JURIDICAL ACT CREATING BETWEEN TWO PERSONS CERTAIN RELATIONS, PURELY CIVIL, OF PATERNITY AND FILIATION. (Black2)

FILIATION - The relation of a child to its parent: correlative to “PATERNITY.” The JUDICIAL ASSIGNMENT OF AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD TO A DESIGNATED MAN AS ITS FATHER. In the civil law. The DESCENT of son or daughter, with regard to his or her father, mother, and their ancestors. (Black2)

LEGITIMATION - The MAKING LEGITIMATE OR LAWFUL THAT WHICH WAS NOT ORIGINALLY SO; especially the act of LEGALIZING THE STATUS OF A BASTARD. (Black2)

BASTARD - An illegitimate child; a child born of an unlawful intercourse, and while its parents are not united in marriage. A child born after marriage, but under circumstances which render it impossible that the husband of his mother can be his father. One begotten and born OUT OF LAWFUL WEDLOCK. ONE BORN OF AN ILLICIT UNION. A bastard is a child born out of wedlock, and whose parents do not subsequently intermarry, or a child THE ISSUE OF ADULTEROUS INTERCOURSE of the wife during wedlock. (Black2)

BASTARDIZE - TO DECLARE ONE A BASTARD, AS A COURT DOES. TO GIVE EVIDENCE TO PROVE ONE A BASTARD. A mother (married) cannot bastardize her child. (Black2)

— = —

It is again important to note that these legal statutes of proclaimed legitimacy and bastardization are not terms of Nature. In other words, they do not just happen in Nature, but are purely considerations of man's law and fictional language arts in contract. This is most important to consider due to the fact that all of these states of existence (artificial being) must be declared or are presumed. They are forced, not Naturally occurring. Not simple. And modernly this requires the original instrument and form (matrix) of birth certification or naturalization. Nothing happens without action. This is to say that the act in Nature of having a child does not automatically mean that the law presumes this to be your own child. Instead, the presumption of paternity is based upon the status of the parent. Under man's artificial law, a slave cannot give birth to a free man any more than a free man may bear a slave. Likewise, a citizen of the United States is presumed by the marriage contract (a contract between the husband, wife, and with the state in dominative authority) to be in agree-ment (agreeable state of mind) that the product of that marriage contract (in fictional persona) is issued as property of the state - the product of that contractual incorporation of names.

As the contracting agents in marriage are bound to know the law that governs that legal marriage and citizenship in commerce, the following applies. For a status (person) is merely a commercial product, a bill of goods sold to foolish consumers with insurable protections that require subjection to the law of the person as purchased.

PRODUCT ADOPTION PROCESS - The mental process that every potential customer goes through from the awareness of a product to its rejection or becoming loyal CUSTOMERS. (1) Awareness: The potential customers come to know about the product but lack the necessary information on it, (2) Interest: They try and search for information on it, (3) Evaluation: They weigh its pros and cons, (4) Trial: They PURCHASE it for the first time to determine its utility and quality, (5) Adoption/rejection: THEY DECIDE TO CONTINUE USING IT OR REJECT IT COMPLETELY. (Black2)

— = —

This process is the very nature of citizenship. We can only weigh the pros and cons of citizenship and the birth process according to the awareness we garner from our interest level on learning the true nature of this legal compact. Citizenship is always a state of trial, for we are purchased (conquered) as long as we utilize that contractual state of artificial, political status, and we live in a state of adoption as we continue acting our lives out under the legal construct of citizenship, incorporating our given (christian) first name with the state surname or last name. And so we agree to allow the state's name to overcome our christian name, as the secular overcoming the spiritual, granting authority to the state and its legal laws over that of the Natural Law of that which rules first and as the origin of Source (as God-given), the first name.

The word last has a special meaning in law, one that all men bearing its load should be aware of:

LAST - In old English law, signifies A BURDEN; also a measure of weight used for certain commodities of the bulkier sort. (Black2)

LAST - adjective - Latest; ULTIMATE; FINAL; most recent. (Black4)

—=—

The commercial carrying of the surname, as the burden or “last” name supra to our first (gift from God) name, as the unalienable christian name, causes us to become beasts of burden. It signifies the purchase (conquering) in contractual relationship of the man (as in the singular christian or first name) by that god of mammon, and is thus a mark of ultimate sin against God and Nature. To put it simply, it is to place the name of evil (mammon) over the name of good (God).

—=—

“A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.”

—Proverbs 22:1, KJB

—=—

“Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by that which ye are called?”

—James 2:7, KJB

—=—

“Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the SIMILITUDE of any figure, the likeness of MALE OR FEMALE.”

—Deuteronomy 4:16, KJB

—=—

“But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats? Do not they blaspheme that WORTHY NAME by the which ye are called?”

—James 2: 6-7, KJB

—=—

The attachment and use of a surname adjoined to the christian name in law, especially in the form of a sig-nature, represents an act of expression against God and Nature and Its Law as an express consent that is a token and sign of the last record of will of that man to act in the sin of artificiality and personhood. For the last name serves only commerce, only mammon, only similitude. It is of the utmost importance for the reader to comprehend this fact in law, which is to say that our appearance and operation under this combination of good and evil, of Reality and fiction, and of Nature and artifice by name (proper noun) seals our fate. The attachment of that last (higher in law) name is proof of legal existence, proof of commercial intent, and proof of our positive understanding to that international code of the gods of the nations. It is the destruction of Self, of self-evidence. Remember, our understanding comes not from knowledge but from our actions. Understanding in legalese is a contracted disease, a binding chain to those fictional, constituted authorities. It is the last name that is first considered and officially written, for it is the last evidence of intent, consent, will, and testament. To have an admixed name is a sign of consent to the law of that artifice which created it.

—=—

“If two conflicting provisions are found in a will, the last is observed.”

SI DUO IN TESTAMENTO PUGNANTIA REPERIENTUR, ULTIMUM EST RATUM. Lofft 251. (Black4)

—=—

The last name (surname) conflicts with the first name (christian name), two opposing forces in an eternal struggle for man's mind, body, and soul. For the surname was the last thing added to man's personified legal will, a sign of intent by the informing mother and father. Thus the legal state only observes by its principals of law the last sign and mark of man's will, which is manifest by his claim and use of the surname (last evidence of will). The surname is like a badge of unholy desire.

We are bastardized through our apparently legalized second birth away from Nature into the legal fiction, into simulated life. And only the separation as a quitclaim and voiding of that attachment and incorporation of first name and surname as the last (intentional higher status) name can cause a regeneration back into our Natural state of Being as part of God's Creation. We must express our will by negatively opposing legal fiction by not using or participating in the artificiality of legal things and concepts. We must not show signs, use tokens, or speak in or of that illiterate language of Latinized paganism. We must mean what we say. We must never speak falsely nor speak through fictional mediums. We must never seek proof of that which is artificial, and we must never have need to prove who or what we in Reality are in Being. We must be in the Truth of our own self-evidence and that of Nature at all times, never deviating from our understanding of God. But most of all, we must never feel secure, never safe or sure, and always be on defense of our own principals against the principalities of corrupt men. Nothing in Nature is this way, for nothing in Nature relies on anything but Nature Itself for its survival and well-being. In other words, we must look only to God for protection by having faith only in Reality and never in the lies we might tell each other and to ourselves. Our religion must be only the very self-evident meaning of Truth, as the meaning of our very own Nature within Reality.

Again, your mental belief in some false religious image and personification of God is not a requirement to understand that this is how the legal law operates against Nature. But you must know that the legal law itself, that which is a horrifically militarized force of jurisdiction that has killed 100's of millions of men throughout history to forward its own fictional and financial cause and course will not recognize you as anything but one of two things: either an enslaved legal person or as a religious man acting in love (be-lief) under God's Law without actual threat to it.

—=—

“If those are better who are led by love, those are the GREATER NUMBER who are CORRECTED BY FEAR.”

—=—

To acknowledge publicly that there is no God is only ever to declare that the state thus has the right to be the tyrannical god it strives to be, as no higher power Exists in and over the mind, body and soul of the unregenerate, unenlightened man. The author admits to the reader that this was indeed one of the most difficult concepts to accept in my own understandings, and yet this is so obviously a self-evident truth and definitely the most important understanding of law. The gods must separate man from his Nature, from his actual Creator, in order to usurp that metaphorical throne in artifice as the legal creator of his false personification of self. This is the same temptation offered to christ. This work is not attempting to tell you what is your own perception of Reality, only to tell you the Reality of that fictional state and how it operates to keep you its ignorant slave. We are only deconstructing the simulation. And to do so, we must know that which is opposed to all simulated things. Light and dark. Good and evil. There is no simulation without first there being an original, though eventually man can be convinced to worship the simulacrum, which is a simulation of that which has no original. For we have all eaten that fruit and now must choose how we digest and act with such knowledge.

Some take this as only a religious, instead of as a spiritual concept. Some may ignore this enlightenment because they arrogantly believe that True religion is false and therefore the scriptures are false. And yet no matter what your background or system of belief, there can be no denial of the self-evident Truth, reason, and logic of these concepts. For they are not the author's opinions, but the very backbone of the principals of all forms of law, corruptible only by man's degradation into falsehoods and fictions.

And from these scriptural lessons and understandings we may begin to comprehend the foundation of corruption in both church and state. For their conspiratorial combinations have always been and always shall exist side-by-side, one not able to exist without the other's justification. All tyrants, all masters, and all priests need subjects to rule over. And to rule over man, his spiritual Nature must be destroyed so that his political, social nature can be manipulated and exploited. And from this degradation, no recovery can be made within that system of sin. A public person will always be just that. Only voiding out the combination and admixture of names will change the presumed status of the man's persona. The bad must be exorcized from the good, for the status of the public surname will never be anything but one of voluntary servitude to the magistrates of that system of mammon.

—=—

“Whatever is once bad, is presumed to be so ALWAYS in the same degree.”

—Semel malus semper praesumitur esse malus in eodem genere. Cro 19 Car. 317. (Black4)

—=—

The ridiculous Hollywood version in entertainment of what exorcism is in actuality shows again how manipulated we are through the imagery of technology (art). For demonology is merely the art of the evil genius (devilry) and designs of man through various magic spells in the artful languages. But the truth about fiction is always so much stranger, for the power and authority of the devil only attaches itself to man through his voluntary oath and contract, the covenant of evil (artifice). The surname is that which turns the spirit of man towards evil, as if possessed by a demon, where he follows in person-hood only the path and law of the false creator of that which it lies and exists in rent.

The church and state tricks man into the legal ceremony of exorcism from Nature, which is merely the act of pledging ones oath to those fictional corporations so that man may be saved from his True Nature by the false-hood of legalism. An oath to church and state is an oath to oppose God and Nature. For these legal and ecclesiastical institutions consider man in his Natural state of Being under God and without their false legal permission to live in their personification and membership to be as an apostasy to themselves, a crime against the nature of those legalistic gods in fiction. We must therefore be exorcised from Nature and from Nature's God by being adjured into the legal realm by oath and fealty. We must be made as mortal in the shadow of those corporate offices of the immortal priests and politicians. We must pledge our allegiance to the cursed "holy name" of popes, kings, and all lesser magistrates in Order to be saved from our Natural selves, and so that we may in a dead pledge live and subsist within the granted fictional persona of the gods and their iniquitous system of mammon. We must become surety for their property.

The legalistic, ecclesiastical ceremony of exorcism is not to rid the demon (person) from controlling the man, but to rid man's moral Nature and Law from controlling the state's demon (person). Exorcism is the acceptance of the fiction over the Reality, to except the metaphor as a virtual reality without realization of the actual Reality in Nature it metaphorically points to. It is the ceremonial destruction of man's soul, and the replacing of it with the artifice of legal and false-religious persona, for the moral soul of man is uncontrollable without that demonic possession of the re-created persona (status) of the state being artfully intermixed within the mind. Exorcism is to adjure, not to abjure.

To AD-JURE means to enter into the legal realm and system of law of the church and state.

To AB-JURE means to separate ones self from that realm and legal system of law.

To AD-JURE is to become a member of a religion and/or a government.

To AB-JURE is to become a True religious man without respect or attachment to any such artifice. Abjuration is only ever the path away from government and legalized corporate religion and into the Natural Realm of God.

EXORCISE - verb intransitive - s as z. [Gr. TO ADJURE, TO BIND BY OATH, AN OATH.] 1. To adjure by some HOLY NAME; but chiefly, to expel evil spirits by CONJURATIONS, prayers and ceremonies. To exorcise a PERSON, is to expel from him the EVIL SPIRIT supposed to POSSESS him. To exorcise a demon or evil spirit, is to cast him out or drive him from a person, by prayers or other ceremonies. 2. To purify from unclean spirits by adjurations and ceremonies; TO DELIVER FROM THE INFLUENCE of malignant spirits or demons; as, to exorcise a bed or a house. (Webs1828)

EXORCISM - noun - [Latin exorcismus.] The expulsion of EVIL SPIRITS from PERSONS OR PLACES by certain ADJURATIONS and CEREMONIES. Exorcism was COMMON AMONG THE JEWS, and still makes a part of the SUPERSTITIONS of some churches. (Webs1828)

EXORCISER - noun - One who PRETENDS to cast out evil spirits BY ADJURATIONS AND CONJURATION. (Webs1828)

ADJURATION - noun - 1. The act of adjuring; a SOLEMN CHARGING ON OATH, or under the penalty of A CURSE. 2. The FORM of oath. (Webs1828)

ABJURATION - noun - [See Abjure.] 1. The act of abjuring; a renunciation upon oath; as 'AN ABJURATION OF THE REALM,' by which a person swears to leave the country, and never to return. It is used also for the oath of renunciation. Formerly in England, felons, taking refuge in a church, and confessing their guilt, could not be arrested and tried, but might save their lives by abjuring the realm; that is BY TAKING AN OATH TO QUIT THE KINGDOM FOREVER. 2. A rejection or denial with solemnity; a total abandonment; as 'an abjuration of heresy.' (Webs1828)

SOLEMNITY - noun - 1. A rite or ceremony annually performed with religious reverence. Great was the cause; our old solemnities from no blind zeal or fond tradition rise, but sav'd from death, our Arguives yearly pay these grateful honors to the god of day. [Solemnities seems here to include the sense of anniversary. See the fourth line. But in modern usage, that sense is rarely or never attached to the word.] 2. A religious ceremony; A RITUAL PERFORMANCE attended with religious reverence; as the solemnity of a funeral or of a SACRAMENT (OATH). 3. A ceremony adapted to impress awe; as the solemnities of the last day. 4. Manner of acting awfully serious. With horrible solemnity he caused every thing to be prepared for his triumph of victory. 5. Gravity; steady seriousness; as the solemnity of the Spanish language. 6. Affected gravity. SOLEMNITY'S A COVER FOR A SOT (AN INFATUATED OR STUPID PERSON). (Webs1828)

EXERCISE - noun - s as z. [Latin exercitium, from exerceo; Eng. work.] In a general sense, any kind of work, labor or exertion of body. Hence, 1. USE; PRACTICE; the exertions and movements customary in the performance of business; as the exercise of an ART, TRADE, occupation, or profession. 2. Practice; PERFORMANCE; AS THE EXERCISE OF RELIGION. 3. USE; EMPLOYMENT; exertion; as the exercise of the eyes or of the senses, or of any power of body or mind. 4. Exertion of the body, as conducive to health; action; motion, by labor, walking, riding, or other exertion. The wise for cure on exercise depend. 5. Exertion of the body for amusement, or for instruction; the habitual use of the limbs for acquiring an ART, dexterity, or grace, as in fencing, dancing, riding; or the exertion of the muscles for invigorating the body. 6. Exertion of the body and mind or faculties for improvement, as in oratory, in painting or statuary. 7. Use or practice to acquire skill; preparatory practice. Military exercises consist in using arms, in motions, marches and evolutions. Naval exercise consists in the use or management of artillery, and in the evolutions of fleets. 8. Exertion of the mind; application of the mental powers. 9. Task; THAT WHICH IS APPOINTED FOR ONE TO PERFORM. 10. ACT OF DIVINE WORSHIP. 11. A lesson or example for practice. - verb transitive - [Latin exerceo.] 1. In a general sense, to move; to exert; TO CAUSE TO ACT, in any manner; as, to exercise the body or the hands; to exercise the mind, the powers of the mind, the reason or judgment. 2. To use; to exert; as, TO EXERCISE AUTHORITY OR POWER. 3. To use for improvement in skill; as, to exercise arms. 4. To exert one's powers or strength; TO PRACTICE HABITUALLY; as, to exercise one's self in speaking or music. 5. To practice; TO PERFORM THE DUTIES OF; AS, TO EXERCISE AN OFFICE. 6. To train to use; to discipline; TO CAUSE TO PERFORM CERTAIN ACTS, as preparatory to service; as, to exercise troops. 7. To task; to keep employed; to use efforts. HEREIN DO I EXERCISE MYSELF, TO HAVE ALWAYS A CONSCIENCE VOID OF OFFENSE TOWARDS GOD AND MEN. Acts 24:16. 8. To use; to employ. 9. To busy; to keep busy in action, exertion or employment. 10. TO PAIN OR AFFLICT; to give anxiety to; to make uneasy. - verb intransitive - To use action or exertion; as, to exercise for health or amusement. (Webs1828)

— — —

It is only when we take seriously with solemnity the legal fiction as our virtual reality that we lose ourselves within its artifice and illusion. And we only exercise this fictional persona for two reasons, ignorance or knowing corruption. Either way, to do this we must abandon our God and Nature.

It is only the person of man, the employment status, that causes man to act habitually in artifice (art) and in religious ceremonies that have nothing to do with the spiritual Nature of God or of man as and in his Eternal state of Creation. We fictionally exercise the franchise of personhood, and so we must be Naturally exorcized to be rid of that demonic possession of state property. We must abjure the realm, not by leaving the physical land that we call by name (noun) the country, state, or nation, but by departing figuratively from the contractual state of jurisdiction and respect that name implies under oath. We must find the land and ground ourselves by quitting the watery graven image of the commercial sea. We must embrace Reality by extinguishing the fiction from our minds. We must reclaim the power of the blood and spirit. But let us be clear, the legal fiction will only be thwarted through spiritual means, and it only recognizes True religion as that which it cannot effect or respect. The devil that is the state can only cling to its own legal persona, which man voluntarily contracts in surety to his soul. And so only a religious man, a man of God following in the footsteps and example of christ's teachings, may throw off in exorcism and abjuration that demonic possession. Only by ceasing to exercise the franchise of public citizen-ship can that demon be expelled.

—=—

“Exile is a PRIVATION of country, A CHANGE OF NATAL SOIL, A LOSS OF NATIVE LAWS.”

Exilium est patriae privatio, natalis soli mutatio, legum nativarum amissio. 7 Coke, 20. (BlackI)

—=—

But if the reader chooses to believe in Hollywood's metaphorical, propagandist version of its artful imaginations and imagery of demons and exorcism in collusion with that Romish church and state, the author certainly cannot control your mind as government can. But know this... as we proceed, we will discover that werewolves, vampires, and most other mythological creatures and stories of man's imagination also have their origins only in the legal fiction (this will be covered in Volume II). Reality, the Natural world, is our only goal, that which we must seek to realize without artifice and fear of imaginary things. Belief in these fictions is no different than belief in the realness and legitimacy of government.

We are often left to foolishly wonder, as we gaze with utter amazement and disbelief upon the present corruption of our legally created politicians, why government does not charge itself with conspiracy? But under reasonable scrutiny and without fallacious and patriotic beliefs in the legitimacy of this entity called “government,” the answer is quite clear. Government is the very foundation of conspiracy. Governments are always created out of conspiracy; a combination or plan between two or more people to control others through injury and thus benefit only a few by design. Remember, to injure means to bring into law, and the favorite tool of injury is to cause man to confirm and ratify his bond and surety to a citizen-ship, which brings him into and under the agentic law of the principal creator of that legal persona.

CONSPIRACY - Criminal law, TORTS. An agreement between two or more persons to do an unlawful act, or AN ACT WHICH MAY BECOME BY THE COMBINATION INJURIOUS TO OTHERS... (Bouv1856)

CONFEDERACY - Criminal law. An agreement between two or more persons to do an unlawful act, or an act, which though not unlawful in itself, BECOMES SO BY THE CONFEDERACY. The technical term usually employed to signify this offense, is CONSPIRACY. (Bouv1856)

INJURY - Civil law, in the technical sense of the term it is a delict committed in contempt, or outrage of any one, whereby his body, his DIGNITY, or his REPUTATION, is maliciously injured. 2. Injuries may be divided into two classes. With reference to the MEANS used by the wrong doer, namely, by WORDS and by ACTS. The first are called VERBAL injuries, the latter REAL... A wrong or TORT. Injuries are divided into PUBLIC and PRIVATE; and they affect the PERSON, PERSONAL PROPERTY, OR REAL PROPERTY. (Bouv1856)

INJURIOUS - adjective - [Latin injurius.] 1. Wrongful; unjust; HURTFUL TO THE RIGHTS OF ANOTHER. THAT WHICH IMPAIRS RIGHTS OR PREVENTS THE ENJOYMENT OF THEM, is injurious. 2. Hurtful to the person or health. Violence is injurious to the person, as intemperance is to the health. 3. AFFECTING WITH DAMAGE OR LOSS. INDOLENCE IS INJURIOUS TO PROPERTY. 4. Mischievous; hurtful; AS THE INJURIOUS CONSEQUENCES OF SIN OR FOLLY. 5. LESSENING

OR TARNISHING REPUTATION. The very suspicion of cowardice is injurious to a soldier's character. 6. Detractory; contumelious (reproachful and contemptuous); hurting reputation; as, obscure hints as well as open detraction, are sometimes injurious to reputation. 7. In general, whatever gives pain to the body OR MIND, WHATEVER IMPAIRS OR DESTROYS PROPERTY OR RIGHTS, WHATEVER TARNISHES REPUTATION, WHATEVER DISTURBS HAPPINESS, WHATEVER RETARDS PROSPERITY OR DEFEATS THE SUCCESS OF A GOOD CAUSE, is deemed injurious. (Webs1828)

— = —

What is indolence and why is it injurious to property? Understand this, and you understand the True price of Natural freedom (verb) in action under God (verb), compared to inaction (verb) as the resulting danger of political security (noun) and monetary protection (noun) of the church (noun) and state (noun) in opposition to God's Nature (verb). The corporate "Christian" in his secular office and membership is indolent in his worship, for his actions do not match his words, and his habits are idle compared to his spiritual course. He has no grace because his actions are not done in the glory of God, but in the pursuit of mammon and satisfaction of his principal (false god).

INDOLENCE - noun - [Latin indolentia; in and doleo, to be pained.] 1. Literally, freedom from pain. 2. Habitual idleness; indisposition to labor; laziness; INACTION OR WANT OF EXERTION OF BODY OR MIND, PROCEEDING FROM LOVE OF EASE OR AVERSION TO TOIL. Indolence like laziness, implies A CONSTITUTIONAL OR HABITUAL LOVE OF EASE; idleness does not. (Webs1828)

— = —

Indolence is the difference between a militia man and a man legally protected by a centralized "federal" military. One has calloused hands while the other's are soft and easily torn. One fights for his own freedom like a wolf and the other is merely a domesticated, four-footed animal content to be fed and fooled by his spewing dog-Latin, free to roam within borders and laws selected by others.

Darkness is easier than light, evil easier than good, fiction easier than Reality, political slavery easier than Natural freedom, and satan (the lie) easier than God (the Truth). In other words, indolence is easier than the efforts, labor, pains, and toils of moral rectitude in Natural Freedom. It is easier to follow the legal law in the franchise and with the monetary protections of voluntary slavery than to follow the moral law without any false protections in absolute responsibility for our own actions in all things. Ease is inducement to sin. And so we continuously lie to ourselves and except the fictions that exist all around us. And man seems to unconsciously seek that which is easiest, despite whether or not it is right. If you haven't figured it out yet, living under God is living right, which is to say that living consciously is what a religious man does. And though that path is never the easy one, it is the one with the least regrets and the most spiritual rewards. For in the end, man only has his soul, his spiritual substance, even as his body betrays him and the synapses of his mind fail. What use is fiction then? What use are the prizes of the sea when the body is finally placed into the dirt?

You might say that the Articles of Confederation and the Constitution of the United States (or the constitution of any nation as a fictional incorporation) were the original in-juries to all common men without bloodline consideration within their proclaimed legal jurisdictions; the original sin against God and Nature. These were the original conspiracies to exorcise and in-jure (bring under legal law) contractually men as fictional persons under oath (sacrament) into an ordained corporation called "government." In other words, government was created (constituted as a plan between several but not all specific People) to bring into a legal standing the artificial persons of other men through bondage, incorporating their "private" characters and reputations into fictional "public" personas, so that man could be considered as fictional characters (creations) of government in the bond of surety and be ruled through impersonation by the magistrates who govern over that fictional creation (legal jurisdiction). This is akin to satan tricking man into contractually entering hell by doing his deeds in life rather than living for admittance into heaven.

The state forces men to do its bidding by conning man to voluntarily contract with it in a person-hood. While this may go against the identity crisis of that traditional pat-riot-ism of the typical “citizen” of the United States or elsewhere, Reality is much different than that belief system portrays. This work is of course designed to uncover just what a citizen is juxtaposed to the lie that is sold to men acting in that citizenry.

And we must not forget that the Bible, as an unwritten part of the common law, is there for a purpose. It is there as a guidepost, a disclaimer if you will, which warns against all that the state has to offer in its contracts and district. It is the moral law that stands in juxtaposition to the secular establishment of legalism. It is part of the common law because without it, man loses his access to the common and spiritual law when he excepts that which is contractually opposed to and warned against in the Bible. In other words, you have no excuse but ignorance of scriptures (Law), and ignorance of even the Highest Law is certainly no excuse.

And this brings us to the word tort. The question is not so much what a tort is but rather who may claim it? Encyclopedia Britannica explains this notion of a tort. Pay close attention to the last sentence in this definition:

“Tort, in common law, civil law, and the vast majority of legal systems that derive from them, any instance of harmful behaviour, such as physical attack on one’s PERSON, INTERFERENCE WITH ONE’S POSSESSIONS, OR THE USE AND ENJOYMENT OF ONE’S LAND, economic interests (under certain conditions), HONOUR, REPUTATION, and PRIVACY. The term derives from Latin tortum, meaning “something twisted, wrung, or crooked.” The concept ENCOMPASSES ONLY THOSE CIVIL WRONGS INDEPENDENT OF CONTRACTS.”

— = —

It is very important to note that public persons have no ability to claim tort damages in any constitutional or other lawful way, except that which is strictly expressed or tacitly presumed by the external, tacit contract of personhood. The contractual relationship destroys all others. The contract kills equitable considerations and destroys spiritual ones. Contracts are the surrendering of general rights in acceptance of special (in species/class) legal ones. The devil only operates and has influence via contract, and man can only be harmed by these legal devils when he contracts with them. This cannot be understated, for the contractual relationship prevents the Law of God as Natural Law and also any constitutional law from negatively protecting the contracted party. No tort exists under the contract of citizenship, except those defined by the tortuous creators of that contract. An evil man (devil) will never punish his own evil actions. This is to say that, because the person is property of government, the man in surety to the person has no right to declare that a tort was committed against his person. He is not acting in privacy, and so his projected self image cannot be harmed.

Instead, government offers what is called as remedy, which is a fee paid to justify an act of harm, usually after the harm is already done and in Reality unrepairable. When we are harmed through our strawman, dis-ease caused by such harm and injury is generally contracted only upon that fictional persona, not our actual (private) Self. And so a cure, a remedy, may be attained in certain cases. But this is not a tort. Essentially, we are merely talking about accepting money as a valuation of the crimes and evils committed against us, while the evil-doer’s go free without punishment. This is remedy, and it is what every attorney strives to attain for its clients. Remedy, very importantly, is not a solution. Throwing money at legal organizations and political associations as reparations for slavery is an example of remedy, as the paying off of mischiefs and evils committed by valuing them in monetary form, a shameful sham of a practice, even as the bloodline posterity of those constitutionally protected land and slave holders of old continue today in private, sovereign power and authority over the money supply and over the persons of the lineage of those former slaves! Nothing has changed, except that all common men became the slaves of government instead of belonging to the private landholders.

To the corrupt man, money remedies all disease.

REMEDY - noun - [Latin remedium; re and medeor, to heal.] 1. That which CURES A DISEASE; any medicine or application which puts an end to disease and restores health; with for; as a remedy for the gout. 2. That which counteracts an evil of any kind; with for, to or against; usually with for. CIVIL GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY FOR THE EVILS OF NATURAL LIBERTY. What remedy can be provided for extravagance in dress? The man who shall invent an effectual remedy for intemperance, will deserve every thing from his fellow men. 3. THAT WHICH CURES UNEASINESS. Our griefs how swift, our remedies how slow. 4. That which REPAIRS loss or disaster; REPARATION. IN THE DEATH OF A MAN THERE IS NO REMEDY. - verb transitive - 1. To cure; to heal; as, to remedy a disease. 2. To cure; TO REMOVE, AS AN EVIL; as, to remedy grief; to remedy the evils of a war. 3. To repair; TO REMOVE MISCHIEF; in a very general sense. (Webs1828)

— = —

This notion that civil government is the remedy for the evils of Natural Liberty, as the civil government of the public-minded, unregenerate, spiritually dead goyim, is one of the most profound statements I have come across. It is a True statement in every sense of the word. For to a slave-master, to a devil, and commercially speaking, the notion of free men under God's Word (Son) is the purest of evil, especially to those of the Talmudic law. Natural Liberty can only be obtained under the scriptural teachings and no other way. For even the private People of the several (private) States are not Naturally Free, relying on this corrupt system to control all others civilly and militarily in commerce so as to protect the false sovereignty of their private legal status. For these men are not acting morally or under the Higher Law of God. Instead, they created this legal system to bypass that Law of Nature and establish themselves as a constituted magistracy and body politic of gods, having no law higher than their own corruption. And so as long as our collective fear lies in these landlords instead of the Lord of All Things, we will be governed by such civil means and we will continue to fall victim to the manufactured consent and empty remedies to the serial crimes committed by these most corrupted of men.

So let us be clear here that the constitution is a compact in covenant, which is just another word for contract. We speak of covenant law both in the ecclesiastical and civil law. But from what root does this word actually stem from? The answer is surprising, especially to those fooled by the notion of the "spiritual" covenant law in national constitutions, as if spirituality can be found in any form of the legal words of a contract.

There is a reason that witches and thieves form covens, and it is the same reason that lawyers, politicians, industrialists, and jurists do as well; the same reason those so-called "founding fathers" formed the specific covenant law of the United States. It is only to break all other laws by creating an unnatural realm and jurisdiction that excuses such fraud by the anarchy of permissive license (organized chaos), an honor system among thieves. To avoid punishment for one's own crimes, one merely need constitute oneself as a sovereign god and pretend to be untouchable while forging a false history (his story) in the romantic glory of artifice for those who would worship your artful greatness and lawlessness.

COVENANTED - participle passive - PLEDGED or promised by covenant. (Webs1828)

COVENOUS, COVINOUS - adjective - [See COVIN.] COLLUSIVE; FRAUDULENT; DECEITFUL; as a covenous lease of LANDS. (Webs1828)

COVINOUS - adjective - Deceitful; collusive; fraudulent. (Webs1828)

COVIN - noun - In law, a collusive or deceitful AGREEMENT BETWEEN TWO OR MORE TO PREJUDICE A THIRD PERSON. (Webs1828)

COVENANT - noun - [L, to come; a coming together; a meeting or agreement of minds.] 1. A mutual CONSENT or agreement OF TWO OR MORE PERSONS, to do or to forbear some act or thing; A CONTRACT; stipulation. A COVENANT IS CREATED BY DEED IN WRITING, SEALED AND EXECUTED; OR IT MAY BE IMPLIED IN THE CONTRACT. 2. A WRITING CONTAINING THE TERMS OF AGREEMENT OR CONTRACT BETWEEN PARTIES; or the CLAUSE of agreement in a deed containing the covenant. 3. In theology, the covenant of works, is that implied in the commands, prohibitions, and promises of God; the promise of God to man, that mans perfect obedience should entitle him to happiness. This do, and live; that do, and die. The covenant of redemption, is the mutual agreement between the Father and Son, respecting the redemption of sinners by Christ. The covenant of grace, is that by which God engages to bestow salvation on man, UPON THE CONDITION THAT MAN SHALL BELIEVE IN CHRIST AND YIELD OBEDIENCE TO THE TERMS OF THE GOSPEL. 4. In church affairs, a solemn agreement between the MEMBERS of a church, that they will walk together according to the precepts of the gospel, in brotherly affection. - verb intransitive - To enter into a formal agreement; to stipulate; TO BIND ONES SELF BY CONTRACT. A covenants with B TO CONVEY TO HIM A CERTAIN ESTATE. When the terms are expressed it has for before the thing or price. They covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver. Matthew 26:15. - verb transitive - To grant or promise by covenant. (Webs1828)

— — —

Remember, a conspiracy is an agreement between two or more persons to do some act, specifically as a covenant to harm, injure, or exclude other persons. This is merely the definition of the word covenant, and a constitution is merely a covenant. It was the Bible that said love thy neighbor, love no foolish oaths, and to beware of combinations of men (conspiracies). But it is the corporate denomination of the Christian church that often says love only thy brother, only the other members of the corporation, and excommunicate without love all others, even our own family, our own sons, daughters, or parents. Freemasonry is built upon this tenet of “brotherly love,” but this false love (belief) is only a form of protectionism that says do not rat out your fellow masonic members in their commission of crimes. In christ, there is no brotherhood, there is only all of man. To love ones enemy is the Higher love. But to any member, any artificial brother, all outsiders are the enemy. To the Jew, the enemy is all those not Jewish by blood, the goyim, and we are to be enslaved to serve the Jew. A nation is built specifically upon the intention of injuring and thus harming the rights of all others not inclusive of the original covenant and its bloodline posterity. This cannot be dismissed by any reasonable man in due diligence, and certainly not by a spiritual one.

We must also be able to discern between the dualistic forms of the “gospel” as presented by the corporate church. Secular, organized religions will only ever promote their own doctrines, for their existence is against the very gospel of christ. There is the gospel of christ and there is the gospel of church and state. Which one we follow defines the state our soul, our Being, and our Law.

GOSPEL - noun - [Latin evangelium, a good or joyful message.] The history of the birth, life, actions, death, resurrection, ascension and doctrines of Jesus Christ; OR A REVELATION OF THE GRACE OF GOD TO FALLEN MAN THROUGH A MEDIATOR, including the character, actions, and doctrines of Christ, WITH THE WHOLE SCHEME OF SALVATION, as revealed by Christ and his apostles. This gospel is said to have been preached to Abraham, by the promise, 'in thee shall all NATIONS be blessed.' Galatians 3:8. It is called the gospel of God. Romans 1:1. It is called the gospel of Christ. Romans 1:16. It is called the gospel of salvation. Ephesians 1:13... - verb transitive - To instruct in the gospel; OR TO FILL WITH SENTIMENTS OF RELIGION.

1. GOD'S WORD.
2. Divinity; theology.

3. ANY GENERAL DOCTRINE. (Webs1828)

—=—

Nothing in the teachings of christ was a blessing on any nation. Nothing in the Bible states that the God of Nature blesses nations. Only men acting as gods, as kings in christ's and therefore God's stead blesses nations in the name of God. Here again, this statement might offend the patriotic mind, but it is only a self-evident truth. Nature and fiction are opposed. Nature is the blessing of God. And so it is ridiculous to contemplate that God would bless anything but Its own Creation. There is no nation in the world that does not claim to be blessed by God. And yet there is no nation in the world that follows God's Law. Nations are legal creations, following only the legal law of their own creation, added to the law of Rome. They are created only in opposition to God and Natural Law. And yet each "people" identifies as God's chosen ones. This is at the very least oxymoronic, and at worst completely insane.

Are the differences between the gospel of christ and the doctrines of religion clear? Even the scriptures warn of the conspiracy of the religions and their non-prophets, who seek to draw men into their covens and membership contracts for fraudulent purposes and to teach their own doctrines against that of the True words of christ.

—=—

“THERE IS A CONSPIRACY OF HER PROPHETS in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey; THEY HAVE DEVoured SOULS; they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.”

—Ezekiel 22: 25

—=—

There is one moral question that the reader must ask him or her self. How exactly did these men originally obtain the land that it supposedly then granted and conveyed through its self-proclaimed constitutional authority to do so? Did history magically re-start? Was the world re-created by these legal gods in 1776? Ultimately, there are only two answers, that of the deceptions of conquering by bloodshed and commercial money transfer for purchase. Either form was only that of blood-money used to conquer that which is God's Nature and resell it to the fools who worship their own deceit.

We must remember that once men join together in conspiracy (confederation), then those men can commit no conspiracy except among themselves and against that system of government that they have created, but never to or against those fools who voluntarily subject themselves to it. To subject oneself to a government is to subject oneself to a conspiracy, and thus is an act of express consent to accept that no conspiracy or fraud legally exists. It is make-believe. Legal Truth. Honor among legal thieves. The confederation (conspiracy) cannot commit a separate conspiracy against that which is not a party to the original combination in covenant, especially those of us who voluntarily participate and subject ourselves under the authority of that conspiracy. We have no right to complain about the usual course of business (happiness) in commerce if we are acting as commercial property (willing slaves) of that commercial conspiracy in persona. We either leave it in abandonment or we go along with its game of monopoly. We have free will. We are free to individually choose. Yet we are under the illusion of these word-magicians that we have no Real choice, for the magical fiction has pulled mammon's wool of person-hood over our eyes to blind us. We equate money (remedy) to freedom, forgetting that God's Natural Realm is the only salvation (solution).

Whatever fantasy you may have about the constitution being a spiritual covenant, I assure you that you are sadly mistaken. Paper is never spiritual; not this work, not the Bible, and certainly not the constitution of the United States. Spirituality is a result of actions, not a grouping of words. Spirituality is only what happens in Nature, as that which happens inside of man and is then expressed and manifested in his actions, that is the only spirituality. All else is only fiction, parable, fable, words, law, and most often deceit. Mention of christ is certainly nowhere to be found within any national constitution and certainly not in this one, nor is any aspect of the Natural Law of God secured. The U.S. constitution is nothing more or less than a blueprint for a pirate and witch coven built for commercial purposes, where spells of word-magic are cast in the legal craft causing men to abandon all spirituality in their pursuits of mammon. It is certainly correct to say that constitutions are of covenant law, but now you know the Reality about what any other covenant is outside of God's Grace, outside of Natural Law. For any other covenant can only ever be exclusive, created for the purposes of commerce, which is opposed to the covenant of Grace. No oaths (pledges), only vows (promises to God). To be absolutely clear, a legal covenant can only consist of two or more men conspiring against others, or at least in exclusion of all others so as to benefit by their indenture. It can serve no other purpose, for without such exclusion there would be no need to constitute the covenant despite scripture.

A sovereignty must have its subjects, or there can be no purpose in that sovereignty. A new, legal covenant between all living men in the world would be pointless, for all men would necessarily be included and none excluded. The Bible is the only legitimate covenant, including all men in its potentiality, for the only way that this Higher, moral Law may manifest is through mans own actions in conscious duty to his fellow man. Thus, the Bible is a Purely negative covenant, and such Grace of God may only be attained by the learned and just moral man who abandons his positively permitted, legally licensed heathen ways. With nothing lower, there would be nothing higher, and so the word sovereignty would be a pointless redundancy. The very fact that legal "sovereignty" exists in the United States and other nations and states necessarily requires there to be a lower class of subjects to that sovereignty. Again, this is merely a self-evident conclusion of reason. God's covenant of Grace is the only one that fulfills that promise, that all men should be blessed by their covenant with God's Nature and Law, and be duty bound to respect that Truth of Nature. The U.S. constitution, as a covenant between only legally considered "white persons" of a certain blood-line, has nothing of God's spiritual Realm about it. It originated as only a covenant of security in support of slavery, commerce, taxation, and monetary gains over those that were not of the posterity. And so you must ask yourself, what does it really mean to be a "constitutionalist," when we are only constituted as debtors under that compact? In Reality, celebrating patriotically and defending to the death that which contractually enslaves you to debt... is that not akin to devil worship?

The officers of government are agents in the agency of their corporate principal government employer; their actions as hirelings, prostitutes, and mercenaries generally protected by their principal under the color of title and office in contract and insurance. This is called conspiracy or confederation, a simulation of security by money and violence, and the injuries caused by these agents are thus pretended to be justified under color of law and color of title in office and by monetary compensation and insurance. The real problem is, all citizen-ships are also agents of that principal government; employees; officers. Even the office of slave will lash out against its fellow slaves to protect its limited stake and "pursuit of happiness" under his slavemaster.

No king would ever accuse himself of a plan against himself, nor would he charge those under him with conspiracy for a plan put into place with the design of benefiting that kingdom (corporation), even at the expense (injury/tort) of all men under that government. The purpose of government is plainly and easily explained as a conspiracy against its contracted subjects for the benefit of its creators (the People that created/constituted the government as signatories for themselves and their Posterity). A kingdom or government is absolutely no different than any other form of commercial corporation created to benefit its CEO and stake-holders. This is again an obvious, self-evident truth.

By comprehending that the constituted government (created by the actual bloodline of People) acts as a body politic god over its own patented fictional words, then we can see why men acting as gods in government would claim it as evil to impede man's fictional law in government, calling it as a conspiracy. "God," whether it be Jehovah or as a legal title of magistrates or of the ecclesiastical ranks, is always good. And that which opposes any form of "god" is always evil. Thus the One True God is evil to these secondary legal gods. These are merely terms of art, stolen from Nature and repurposed by evil men for their own good. Money is good to them, for they are its creator, and money is the foundation of the contractual debt laid on their subjects in mammon. The constitution is meaningless to public persons in this regard, for the act of a citizen-ship impeding even the most corrupt government function (whether it be constitutional or unconstitutional) is the same as a slave impeding his master's crop or production capacity. He will bleed for his efforts against his master.

In law (in front of these gods of fiction at bar and in the office and jurisdictional authority of their legal agency), we appear as the image or form of something other than what we Truly are; as artificial (dead) creations of man's legal law (of the gods) known as "fictions of law." In persona, our actions are not our own nor guided by our own moral Good, but instead are done through agency as fictional persons of the state and its law, not our own. If our morals are told to us by amorally governing religious institutions, then we can ourselves lay no claim as the source (Self) of our own moral behavior or being. In fact, incredibly, our moral actions are quite illegal under the law of man without permission (license) to act upon them. Morals are legally redefined to benefit the pursuits of the legal gods. This is why churches are incorporated under permissive, legal, contractual federal laws, for a church without incorporation under the state as its supreme authority in the stead of God would be illegal and thus uncontrollable by the state. The state cannot control the Creation and Property of God, only its own false re-creation. True Religion belongs to God, while secular, corporate religions belong only to the state.

In the realm and art of a fictional court of legal law, we are literally invisible without first identifying ourselves as the name of a legally registered, dead "person" - the name of a strawman.

To comprehend what illegal means in this case, we must define similar terms.

INFORMAL - Deficient in legal form; INARTIFICIALLY DRAWN UP. (Black1)

INFORMAL - adjective - [in and formal.] Not in the regular or usual form; as an informal writing; informal proceedings. 1. Not in the usual manner; NOT ACCORDING TO CUSTOM; as an informal visit. 2. NOT WITH THE OFFICIAL FORMS; as the secretary made to the envoy an informal communication. (Webs1828)

INFORMALITY - WANT OF LEGAL FORM. (Black1)

INFORMALITY - noun - [from informal.] Want of regular or customary form. THE INFORMALITY OF LEGAL PROCEEDINGS MAY RENDER THEM VOID. (Webs1828)

FORMA - Latin. Form; formality; CHARACTER. Occurs in the phrases in forma pauperis, and pro forma. (WCA1889)

FORMALITER - IN FORM; formally. (WCA1889)

FORMALITY - ESTABLISHED ORDER OR METHOD, rule of proceeding or EXPRESSION. Opposed (to) informality. (WCA1889)

FORMAL - Belonging or essential to the form or frame of a thing; NOT OF THE SUBSTANCE; as, a formal defect or irregularity, A FORMAL PARTY; also, according to regular method of procedure. OPPOSED (TO) SUBSTANTIAL, REAL. See Demurrer. (WCA1889)

FORM - 1. ESTABLISHED method of EXPRESSION OR PRACTICE; a FIXED way of proceeding. Compare COURSE. 3. The model of an INSTRUMENT or legal proceeding; a formula. See Blanks. OPPOSED TO SUBSTANCE. THAT WITHOUT WHICH THE RIGHT SUFFICIENTLY APPEARS TO THE COURT IS FORM. WHATEVER IS WANTING OR IMPERFECT, by reason whereof THE RIGHT APPEARS NOT, is a DEFECT of substance. Matter of form is whatever relates, not to the purpose or object of an instrument, or to a right involved in, or affected by it, BUT MERELY TO THE LANGUAGE OR EXPRESSION, without affecting the issue presented, the evidence requisite, the right of a party, or a step necessary in furtherance of legal proceedings. (WCA1889)

INFORMER - A person who informs or prefers AN ACCUSATION AGAINST ANOTHER, whom he SUSPECTS OF THE VIOLATION of some penal statute... (Black4)

— = —

The mother of the child, at birth, in assuming the office of and signing as the “informer,” is accusing her own child as being a violation of law; of being the product of an adulterous and illegitimate union, and so declaring it to be such, as a bastard. An abomination before God and country. The child is thus no longer in a state of informality. Its legal form is constituted by the mother’s in-form-ation.

A child without a birth certificate is a child without legal form. A spiritual man is informal (without legal form). It is this informality that immunizes that child from legal dis-ease and consideration. With no person (status), no man or thing can be summoned. With no surety, no bond can be broken, no artificial chains can be pulled, and no contractual relationship can be assumed or be harmed. No legal injury can occur and no insurance can be claimed, for no surname exists to insure.

The spiritual (religious) man is only ever in an informal state of Being, of pure substance, without artificial (legal) form or member-ships. The substantial, spiritual man takes no artificial legal form, instead remaining purely a being of substance living only in the Realm of God’s Nature. Spiritual man has no legal name and no legal status except that of a negative and reserved consideration, standing only in opposition to any imposed presumption of positive law. Therefore he cannot be gravely recognized by the dead things of government, for he has not taken the marks and signs of the spiritually dead. He has no capacity to carry the dead artifices of man’s law. The living have no place in the legal fiction, just as the spirit repulses that which is unspiritual.

But all of this changes when man takes upon himself any legal name, number, or title in surety, and expresses himself in the fictional disposition and surety of another (a stranger), bearing its Arms despite one’s own blood. If a man has taken no legal form, the artificial substance of the legal law cannot attach itself to the man, for the man has no recognizable person (status) that might attract such attachment. He is invisible. Incorruptible.

Citizenship and personhood (personification) places the spiritually living man into such a fictional disposition. In other words, his unalienable position under God and within Nature (Creation) is alienated by legal fiction (government), and that contractual relationship establishes the law. This is in-jury; the injuring of man into the fiction.

When we break that word apart into its functioning word-DNA parts that make up the whole, we can comprehend that to in-jure someone or something is to bring it into the status (standing) of the legal realm of law. The law only applies to those injured (adjudged) under it. Law only lingers without purpose until an injury is incurred, and only then is the man’s person brought into that domain. This is called injury; the state of being contemplated by magistrate and jury in judgement. Thus a man and his land or property is legally seized by government. The man takes possession of a person of the state, and therefore he is acting as the state in agency (as an agent of the government of the state) in all his affairs and taxes his use and gains thereof. All his stuff belongs to the fictional persona, not to his actual Self, for the person and the law that protects it belongs to the state. Thus, all his commercially (publicly) acquired stuff belongs to the state.

As Bouvier explains, we are injured by the use of the Arms of the United States, as our dignity and reputation is slandered by birth into is fiction and incorporation of its surname. We are distinctly, publicly marked, which is an injury (harm) to our privacy.

INJURY - Civil law. In the technical sense of the term it is a delict committed in contempt, or outrage of any one, whereby his body, his DIGNITY, or his REPUTATION, is maliciously injured. 2. Injuries may be divided into two classes. With reference to the means used by the wrong doer, namely, by WORDS and by ACTS. The first are called verbal injuries, the latter real. 3. A verbal injury, when directed against a PRIVATE PERSON, consists in the uttering contumelious (reproachful) words, which tend to expose his character, by making him little or ridiculous. Where the offensive words are uttered in the heat of a dispute, and spoken to the person's face, the law does not presume any malicious intention in the utterer, whose resentment generally subsides with his passion; and yet, even in that case, the truth of the injurious words seldom absolves entirely from punishment. Where the injurious expressions have a tendency TO BLACKEN ONE'S MORAL CHARACTER, OR FIX SOME PARTICULAR GUILT UPON HIM, and are deliberately repeated in different companies, or banded about in whispers to confidants, it then grows up to the crime of slander, agreeably to the distinction of the ROMAN LAW, de injur. 4. A real injury is inflicted by any fact by which a person's honor or dignity is affected; as striking one with a cane, or even aiming a blow without striking; spitting in one's face; ASSUMING A COAT OF ARMS, OR ANY OTHER MARK OF DISTINCTION PROPER TO ANOTHER, etc. The composing and publishing defamatory libels may be reckoned of this kind. (Bouv1856)

INJURING - participle present tense - Hurting; damaging; impairing; weakening; RENDERING WORSE. (Webs1828)

INJURIA - Latin. Injury; wrong; THE PRIVATION OR VIOLATION OF RIGHT. (Black1)

INJURE - To violate the legal right of another or inflict an actionable wrong. To do harm to; to hurt; damage; impair; to hurt or wound, AS THE PERSON; to impair the soundness of, as health. As applied to a building, "injure" means to materially impair or destroy any part of the existing structure. (Black4)

IN - In the law of real estate, this preposition has always been used to denote the fact of SEISIN, TITLE, or POSSESSION, and apparently serves as an elliptical expression for some such phrase as "in possession," or as an abbreviation for "intitled" or "invested with title." Thus, in the old books, a TENANT is said to be "IN BY LEASE OF HIS LESSOR". An elastic preposition in other cases, expressing relation of presence, EXISTENCE, situation, inclusion, action, etc.; INCLOSED OR SURROUNDED BY LIMITS, as in a room; also meaning for, in and about, on, within, etc., according to context. (Black4)

JURE - Latin. By right; in right; BY THE LAW. (Black4)

JURE CIVILI - By the civil law. (Black4)

— = —

By this definition, we can stop wondering what it is to be in a state of independence, remembering that a declared independence by a government is always artificial, and that even the conquered nations and cities of that Roman Empire were also politically independent of Rome. The conquerer seldom alters the existing government of that which it conquers, instead incrementally destroying it from within due to its dependence, which we call as independence. Do not be fooled by these terms of art. Legal is opposed to God and Nature. Never forget this Truth, and do not let pat-riot-ism defeat your ability to reason.

A legal in-law (in-jure) by marriage contract is a strange concept. It is a violation of Nature (Law), creating legal connection of that which is not connected in Reality (by blood). Thus, this is really an injury, the bringing of two persons into a legal representation and relationship by force of law. A false, bloodless joining of Arms. And so we must begin to consider that everything that happens to us in law as it affects the attached strawman persona, is indeed an injury. Without that person (status) and the surety bond we are presumed to hold by our use of its surname, no public, positive law would have the power to injure us (nor summon us) into that legal system. For the injury only happens to the person, not the man.

If the word in refers to a state in “fact of seisin, title, or possession,” then again we better rethink just what it means to be in-dependent. For political independence can then only mean that we are in a title of dependence, that we are dependent upon the state for our possessions. It should be obvious by now that a fiction, a fictional persona (estate), can only exist and subsist (as a confirmed and ratified lie) within the confounds of a government or nation’s jurisdictional borders. And so like a cartoon character, a person cannot be Naturally independent from the state, for a person is not of Nature. There can only be political independence in the political fiction, as a cartoon is free to roam within its cartoon borders, and a pet rabbit or bird can roam freely within its cage. But a person cannot exist except within its established and ordained borders of franchise (political freedom), its jurisdictional consideration, just as a cartoon character (person) cannot step into the real world, into God’s Nature, for it is not a Creation of God. The cartoon has no choice as to what its creator attaches to it, as that artificially drawn clothing of legal forms and marks. We are all in-jured into the legal system via attachment of our Good name to the state’s (last) surname in surety and bondage.

Let us look even closer at what it means to be birthed into the nation, and to be tenants within under the feudal condition. Remember, only the blood in posterity as private citizens of each State (People) can legitimately (lawfully) hold lands, not public subjects as purely commercialized citizen-ships in mere resident usufruct. Only blood-heirs may claim domiciliary rights to hold land. Here is what happens to most of us renters in tenancy when our blood is corrupted by word trickery and magic; when we are made certifiably, spiritually dead by the granting of civil life through our de-livery. For the son follows the status (person) of his parents, and the blood of our actual forefathers (not the fictional founders/fathers of a municipal corporation) were de-livered long ago into this fictional death and debtor’s hell.

— ≡ —

“The Constitution of the United States was made not merely for the generation that then existed, but for posterity - unlimited, undefined, endless, PERPETUAL POSTERITY.”

—Henry Clay

— ≡ —

But who qualifies to be the posterity of those whom then politically existed as We, the private People?

More importantly, just who or what is excluded?

We, as United States citizenships are not acting in and by our Natural blood ties, but instead only in a legal, artificial office. We are not the posterity or ancestry in blood relations, we are adopted officers of the state. We have lost our Natural Arms as consanguinity of blood relations, and instead we bear the artificial, legal Arms of the United States (or of the other fictional nations of goyim), flying its flag and worshiping its Seal (Arms) with every dollar (or other national currency) we spend and every term of art we speak.

POSTERITY - noun - [Latin posteritas, from posterus, from post, after.] 1. Descendants; children, children's children, etc., indefinitely; the race that proceeds from a progenitor. The whole HUMAN RACE are the posterity of Adam. 2. In a general sense, SUCCEEDING GENERATIONS; OPPOSED TO ANCESTORS. To the unhappy that unjustly bleed, Heav'n gives posterity t' avenge the deed. (Webs1828)

ANCESTOR - noun - [Latin antecessor, of ante, before, and cedo, to go.] One from whom a PERSON descends, either by the father or mother, at any distance of time, in the tenth or hundredth generation. AN ANCESTOR PRECEDES IN THE ORDER OF NATURE OR BLOOD; A PREDECESSOR, IN THE ORDER OF OFFICE. (Webs1828)

FOREFATHER - noun - An ancestor; one who PRECEDES another in the line of genealogy, in any degree; usually in a remote degree. (Webs1828)

PREDECESSOR - noun - [Latin proe and decedo, to depart.] A PERSON who has preceded another IN THE SAME OFFICE. The king, the president, the judge, or the magistrate, follows the steps of his predecessor OR HE DOES NOT IMITATE THE EXAMPLE OF HIS PREDECESSORS. It is DISTINGUISHED FROM ANCESTOR, WHO IS OF THE SAME BLOOD; but it may perhaps be sometimes used for it. (Webs1828)

PREDECEASE - verb intransitive - [pre and decease.] To die before. (Webs1828)

PREDECEASED - adjective - DEAD BEFORE. (Webs1828)

— = —

We must be clear here that all offices are dead. That which proceeds from a dead office or thing can only be another dead thing, never living, and thus never Existing with flowing, inheritable blood. All things in public office and title are dead, including citizen-ships. Nothing dead can bestow actual life through fictional birth. Death cannot procreate Life, nor can a lower status establish a higher status. All legally public and private (noun) persons (statuses) are dead, though some are worshiped as if they were existing (living) gods in sovereignty (a confirmed and ratified lie), as magisterial kings, popes, presidents, governors, prime ministers, bishops, and judges. Spiritual death is only a simulation of Life, but all simulations are inherently dead. To be born in abandonment of parents who's father is the common people (the legal state) is to be born in the nativity of the nation. Stillborn. Pre-deceased. Only when we cease to claim the rights of citizenship and reclaim our blood-right of inheritance in Nature will we ever be spiritually alive again as the scriptural (spiritual) heirs. Until then, we can only lay claim to the artificial rights of the dead legal office we act within and exercise in per-form-ance, per the form of another's person (property), and not the property of Jehovah. For office (citizenship) is a capital offense which carries with it the already existing punishment in forbearance of and in spiritual death by seizure. To be born in sin is to carry that sin for life.

DEPART - verb intransitive - 1. To go or move from. Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire. Matthew 25:41. It is followed by from, or from is implied before the place left. I will depart to my own land, that is, I will depart from this place to my own land. Numbers 10:30. 2. TO GO FROM; TO LEAVE; TO DESIST, AS FROM A PRACTICE. Jehu departed not from the sins of Jeroboam. Jehoshaphat departed not from the way of Asa his father. 3. To leave; to deviate from; TO FORSAKE; NOT TO ADHERE TO OR

FOLLOW; as, we cannot depart from our rules. I have not departed from thy judgments. Psalms 119:115. 4. To desist; to leave; TO ABANDON; as, he would not depart from his purpose, resolution, or demand. 5. TO BE LOST; to perish; to vanish; as, his glory has departed. 6. To die; TO DECEASE; to leave this world. Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word. Luke 2:29. To depart this life is elliptical, from being understood. 8. TO CEASE. The prey departeth not. Nahum 3. 9. To deviate; to vary from. If the plan of the convention be found to depart from republican principle. 10. To vary; TO DEVIATE FROM THE TITLE or defense in pleading. 11. To part with. TO DEPART FROM GOD, IS TO FORSAKE HIS SERVICE AND LIVE IN SIN; TO APOSTATIZE; to revolt; TO DESERT HIS GOVERNMENT AND LAWS. GOD DEPARTS FROM MEN, WHEN HE ABANDONS THEM TO THEIR OWN SINFUL INCLINATIONS, or ceases to bestow on them his favor. Hosea 9. - verb transitive - To divide or separate; to part. - noun - 1. The act of going away; DEATH. 2. Division; separation. (Webs1828)

DECEASE - noun - [Latin to depart or to withdraw.] Literally, departure; hence, departure from this life; DEATH; APPLIED TO HUMAN BEINGS ONLY. Moses and Elias, who appeared in glory, and spoke of his decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem. Luke 9:31. - verb intransitive - To DEPART from this LIFE; to die. Gen. Washington deceased, December 14, 1799, in the 68th year of his age. (Webs1828)

DE - A Latin prefix, denotes a moving from, separation... Hence it often expresses a negative... (Webs1828)

CEASE - verb intransitive - 1. To stop moving, acting or speaking; to leave of; TO GIVE OVER; followed by from before a noun. It is an honor for a man to cease from strife. Proverbs 20:3. 2. To fail; to be wanting. The poor shall never cease out of the land. Deuteronomy 15:11. 3. To stop; to be at an end; as, the wonder ceases; the storm has ceased. 4. To be forgotten. I would make the remembrance of them to cease. Deuteronomy 32:26. 5. TO ABSTAIN; as, cease from anger. Psalms 37:8. To cease from labor, is to REST; to cease from strife, is to be QUIET; but in such phrases, the sense of cease is not varied. - verb transitive - To put a stop to; to put an end to. Cease this impious rage. [But in this use the phrase is generally elliptical,] - noun - EXTINCTION. (Webs1828)

— = —

To be in citizenship is to be in a de-ceased (belonging to Caesar) state of being, in an extinction of the spirit, where whatever course the Laws of Nature might have driven us were diverted by fictional things and pursuits in worship of mammon. Thus, most of us may only ever depart from that bondage of servitude (spiritual death) when our actual spark of life ceases to Exist in the Reality of Nature. Our bodies must die while still in the bondage of citizenship to escape that status, though our children must carry on our burden. In other words, only when our biological life force is declared to be “deceased” do we ever escape our slavery to the nation we are borne (carried) by, for the puppet cannot operate itself and has no inherent Life force. Its artificial life must be contracted by the man. To be ceased is to be in disquiet, unhappiness, unrest, dis-ease, and to live only in legal life and fiction. The correlative or other side of this coin, as the corporation that causes us to be ceased (seized) at birth, is the district. For the district is the Caesar, meaning that which lays hold in seizure. That which taxes (registers). To be legally seized is to be required to cease from our Natural, spiritual course under God.

SEIZE - To put in possession, INVEST WITH FEE SIMPLE, be seized of or IN, BE LEGAL POSSESSOR OF, OR BE HOLDER IN FEE SIMPLE. (Black4)

SEIZE - verb transitive - 1. To fall or rush upon suddenly and lay hold on; or to gripe or grasp suddenly. The tiger rushes from the thicket and seizes his prey. A dog seizes an animal by the throat. The hawk seizes a chicken with his claws. The officer seizes a thief. 2. To take possession by force, with or without right. At last they seize, The scepter, and regard not David's son. Milton. 3. To invade suddenly; TO TAKE HOLD OF; to come upon suddenly; as, a fever seizes a patient. And hope and doubt alternate seize her soul. Pope. 4. To take possession by virtue of a warrant or legal authority. The sheriff seized the debtor's goods; the whole estate was seized and confiscated. We say, to arrest a person, to seize goods. 5. To fasten; to fix. IN SEAMAN'S LANGUAGE, to fasten two ropes or different parts of one rope together with a cord. To be seized of, to have possession; as a griffin seized of his prey. A B WAS SEIZED AND POSSESSED OF THE MANOR OF DALE. To seize on or upon, is to fall on and grasp; TO TAKE HOLD ON; TO TAKE POSSESSION. (Webs1828)

SEIZER - noun - One that seizes. (Webs1828)

CAESAR - The title assumed by the Roman emperors after Julius Caesar. In the New Testament this title is given to various emperors as SOVEREIGNS OF JUDAEA WITHOUT THEIR ACCOMPANYING DISTINCTIVE PROPER NAMES (John 19:15; Acts 17:7). The Jews PAID TRIBUTE to Caesar (Matt. 22:17), and ALL ROMAN CITIZENS HAD THE RIGHT OF APPEAL TO HIM. (Acts 25:11). (Easton's Bible Dictionary)

—=—

There is a reason that this word Caesar was used without the proper name. For the proper name holds no false, legal authority, and only refers to the man wielding it. To be a tyrant or king is of course an improper use of a name. Without the title of Caesar, of King, or of President or of judge, what authority would a proper man have to assume such despotic and ruthless roles as these, and who among us would respect such a man without such a title and military, mercenary force behind it? For it is only the title that carries the illusion, not the man.

—=—

“You have but to know an object by its proper name for it to lose its dangerous magic.”

—Elias Canetti

—=—

What power would Barack have over any man unless he was known as President Barack Obama? What power would Elizabeth have over any man unless she was known as Queen Elizabeth? Take the improper title away and all that is left is the proper name, which carries no weight whatsoever.

CESAREAN - adjective - The cesarean operation is THE TAKING OF A CHILD FROM THE WOMB BY CUTTING; an operation, which, it is said, GAVE NAME TO CAESAR, the Roman emperor. (Webs1828)

DISTRICTIO - Latin. A distress; a distraint. (Black4)

DISTRICT - noun - [Latin, to press hard, TO BIND. See DISTRAIN.] (See full definition in chapter 1) (Webs1828)

STRICT - adjective - [Latin See Strain.] 1. Strained; drawn close; tight; as a strict embrace; a strict ligature. 2. Tense; not relaxed; as a strict or lax fiber. 3. EXACT; ACCURATE; rigorously nice; as, to keep strict watch. Observe the strictest rules of virtue and decorum. 4. Severe; rigorous; GOVERNED OR

GOVERNING BY EXACT RULES; OBSERVING EXACT RULES; as, the father is very strict in observing the sabbath. The master is very strict with his apprentices. 5. Rigorous; not mild or indulgent; as STRICT LAWS. 6. CONFINED; LIMITED; not with latitude; as, TO UNDERSTAND WORDS IN A STRICT SENSE. (Webs1828)

DI - A prefix, a contraction of DIS, denotes from, separation or negation, or two. (Webs1828)

STRAIN - verb transitive - [Latin. This word retains its original signification, to stretch.] 1. To stretch; to draw with force; to extend with great effort; as, to strain a rope; to strain the shrouds of a ship; to strain the chords of an instrument. 2. To cause to draw with force, or with excess of exertion; to INJURE by pressing with too much effort. He strained this horses or his oxen by overloading them. 3. To stretch violently or by violent exertion; as, to strain the arm or the muscles. 4. To put to the utmost strength. Men in desperate cases will strain themselves for relief. 5. To press or cause to pass through some porous substance; to purify or separate from extraneous matter by filtration; to filter; as, to strain milk. Water may be strained through sand. 6. To sprain; to injure by drawing or stretching. Prudes decayd about may tack, strain their necks with looking back. 7. To make tighter; TO CAUSE TO BIND CLOSER. To strain his fetters with a stricter care. 8. TO FORCE; TO CONSTRAIN; TO MAKE UNEASY OR UNNATURAL. His mirth is forced and strained. - verb intransitive - 1. To make violent efforts. To build his fortune I will strain a little. Straining with too weak a wing. 2. To be filtered. Water straining through sand becomes pure. - noun - 1. A violent effort; a stretching or exertion of the limbs or muscles, or of any thing else. 2. An INJURY by excessive exertion, drawing or stretching. 3. STYLE; CONTINUED MANNER OF SPEAKING OR WRITING; as the genius and strain of the book of Proverbs. So we say, poetic strains, lofty strains. 4. Song; note; sound; or a particular part of a tune. Their heavenly harps a lower strain began. 5. Turn; tendency; INBORN DISPOSITION. Because heretics have a strain of madness, he applied her with some corporal chastisements. 6. MANNER OF SPEECH OR ACTION. Such take too high a strain at first. 7. RACE; GENERATION; DESCENT. He is of a NOBLE STRAIN. [Not in use.] 8. HEREDITARY DISPOSITION. Intemperance and lust breed diseases, which propagated, spoil the strain of a nation. [Not in use.] 9. RANK; CHARACTER. [Not in use.] (Webs1828)

DISTRAINER, or DISTRAINOR - He who SEIZES a distress. (Black4)

DISTRAINT - SEIZURE; THE ACT OF DISTRAINING or MAKING A DISTRESS. (Black4)

STRESS - noun - 1. Force; urgency; pressure; importance; that which bears with most weight; as the stress of a legal question. Consider how much stress is laid on the exercise of charity in the New Testament. This, on which the great stress of the business depends— 2. Force or violence; as stress of weather. 3. FORCE; VIOLENCE; STRAIN. Though the faculties of the mind are improved by exercise, yet they must not be put to a stress beyond their strength. - verb transitive - TO PRESS; TO URGE; TO DISTRESS; TO PUT TO DIFFICULTIES. [Little used.] (Webs1828)

DISTRESS - THE TAKING A PERSONAL CHATTEL OUT OF THE POSSESSION OF A WRONG-DOER INTO THE CUSTODY OF THE PARTY INJURED, to procure a satisfaction for a wrong committed; as for non-payment of rent, or injury done by cattle. THE TAKING OF BEASTS OR OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY BY WAY OF PLEDGE, TO ENFORCE THE PERFORMANCE OF SOMETHING DUE FROM THE PARTY DISTRAINED UPON. The taking of a defendant's goods, IN ORDER TO COMPEL AN APPEARANCE IN COURT. The seizure of personal property TO ENFORCE PAYMENT OF TAXES, to be followed by its PUBLIC SALE if the taxes are not voluntarily paid. Also THE THING TAKEN BY DISTRAINING, THAT WHICH IS SEIZED TO PROCURE SATISFACTION. And in old Scotch law, a pledge taken by the sheriff from those attending fairs or markets, to secure their good behavior, and returnable to them at the close of the fair or market if they had been guilty of no wrong.

(Black4)

— = —

As horrific as it is to come to grips with, the United States (Washington D.C.) is the corporation of Caesar, and it seizes by distress the property (child) of its subjects, and it distrains and corrupts the blood (Nature) of all it can so as to seize all things. It does so to secure the good behavior of its citizenships within the 50 foreign (private) states in protection of the actual sovereignty (People) of those States from we the commoners in commerce, and so as to induce us to pay their taxes. To be taken in distress is to be seized, to be seized is to be taxed, and to be taxed is to be registered in certified publicity into a contractual feudal state, for to be birthed in distress is to become the commercial possession of the Caesar (district). To be in legal possession through personhood is to have the capacity to be legally summoned. Demonology is just citizenship, the demonologists merely pirates. The district of the seizer (Caesar) always retains the right to confiscate its found property (children) from those illegitimate parents it has bestowed the right of limited parentage upon, due to the trickery of birth registration (taxation) as a legal distress and distraint upon any Natural but unreserved paternal rights.

This is the law of the sea pirates...

— = —

“...goods thrown from a vessel IN DISTRESS became the property of the king, or the lord on whose shores they were stranded.”

—Definition for ‘ALGARUM MARIS,’ Laganum maris, lagan being a right, as flotsam and jetsam. Spelman; Jacob; Du Cange. (Black4)

— = —

As painful as this Reality is and as seemingly ludicrous this metaphorical system of robbery on the virtual high seas appears to be in its linguistic presentation and authority, we must realize our place, participation, and thus victimization within it if we are ever to be free of it. We must destroy our ego, our id-entity, and abandon our false hopes that one day government will somehow be magically or “constitutionally” fixed. It will not. It can not. For its very foundation is the creation of that district of Caesar as a pirate cove, posing as the sinful common people’s false messiah, and offering safe public passage over its landholder’s private lands only to those who will willingly bear its public mark of Arms (flag and seal). You simply cannot fix what is not broken, and the United States runs like a well-oiled machine. It stands as the epitome of how organized crime should be organized.

Governments are ordained and established in conspiracy (confederation and combination) only to create a higher, super-natural (outside of Reality) sovereign order and law, overseen by a higher class structure in fiction that adheres only to the doctrine of master and servant. Volunteerism. Children are seized at birth so that their parents can be summoned into court and be compelled to appear on behalf of that which they are the legal guardian of, for unless they appear in legal persona, the legal child will be taken in distress and possibly sold at public sale for non-appearance, which modernly under the “Child Protective Service” lie and within the legal corporate property doctrine of “child welfare” is labeled as the “foster care” and “adoption” program. This is purely a process of civil, legal law, having nothing whatsoever to do with spirituality or charity, Natural (negative) or paternal rights, or of the Natural Law. It’s all about mammon and the legal, capitalist slave trade (commerce in souls), the only True value of the lower proles. This is legalized kidnapping via the presumed contractual relationship of de-livery. This is the very bowels of man’s created legal hell at its worse. For at least in open tyranny men know their positions and rank in society.

SEISI - In old English law. Seised; POSSESSED. (Black4)

SEISINA - L. Latin. Seisin. (Black4)

SEISINA FACIT STIPITEM - “Seisin makes the STOCK.” (Black4)

SEISIN - The completion of the FEUDAL INVESTITURE, BY WHICH THE TENANT WAS ADMITTED INTO THE FEUD, AND PERFORMED THE RIGHTS OF HOMAGE AND FEALTY. Possession with an INTENT on the part of him who holds it to claim a freehold interest. Right to immediate possession according to the nature of the estate... Under our law, the word "seisin" has no accurately defined technical meaning. At Common law, it imported a feudal investiture of title by actual possession. With us it has the force of possession under some LEGAL TITLE OR RIGHT TO HOLD. This possession, so far as possession alone is involved, may be shown by PAROL; but, if it is intended to show possession under a legal title, then the title must be shown by proper conveyance for that purpose. EVERY PERSON IN WHOM A SEISIN IS REQUIRED by any of the provisions of this chapter SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE BEEN SEISED, IF HE MAY HAVE HAD ANY RIGHT, TITLE, OR INTEREST IN THE INHERITANCE.

Actual Seisin - Possession of the freehold by the pedis positio OF ONE'S SELF OR ONE'S TENANT OR AGENT, or by construction of law, as in the case of a state grant or a conveyance under the statutes of USES, or (probably) of grant or devise WHERE THERE IS NO ACTUAL ADVERSE POSSESSION; it means ACTUAL POSSESSION AS DISTINGUISHED FROM CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION OR POSSESSION IN LAW.

Constructive Seisin - Seisin in law where there is NO SEISIN IN FACT; as where THE STATE ISSUES A PATENT TO A PERSON WHO NEVER TAKES ANY SORT OF POSSESSION OF THE LANDS GRANTED, he has constructive seisin of all the land in his grant, THOUGH ANOTHER PERSON IS AT THE TIME IN ACTUAL POSSESSION.

Livery of Seisin - DELIVERY OF POSSESSION; called, BY THE FEUDISTS, “INVESTITURE”...

Seisin in Law - A right of immediate possession according to the nature of the estate. As the old doctrine of corporeal investiture is no longer in force, THE DELIVERY OF A DEED GIVES SEISIN IN LAW. (Black4)

—=—

So where is the local, state office that holds these records of original, ancestral sin? Where do we find that keeper of the evil deeds of foolish men acting in fiction?

—=—

“The Register of Deeds office is the official steward of birth records for Orange County. The Orange County Register of deeds only has birth records for persons born in Orange County.”

—=—

“Birth Certificates for births occurring in Guilford County are issued at the Guilford County Register of Deeds office...”

— = —

“The Register of Deeds office provides a standardized, permanent record of real estate ownership and transfers in Sampson County. Our office records deeds, deeds of trust, cancellations, plats, ASSUMED NAMES, powers of attorney and other miscellaneous documents related to real estate. Our office also records and issues BIRTH CERTIFICATES, death certificates, marriage certificates, marriage licenses, military discharges, and maintains the records of notary public commissions.”

— = —

But why would birth certificates be at an office that records wills and deeds?

Silly natural persons, tricks are for infants! The act of de-livery is an act of free will, an accounting and recording of the dirty deeds of corrupted souls in illegitimate legal adultery under a registered legal, fictional corporation. The birth event is recorded as a deed of contempt to God, where the mother informs on the criminal nature and felonious origin of her adulterous bastard. Thus the deed’s description and profile of vital statistics (the birth event) is certified and recorded.

DEED - noun - 1. THAT WHICH IS DONE, ACTED OR EFFECTED; AN ACT; A FACT; a word of extensive application, including WHATEVER IS DONE, GOOD OR BAD, great or small. And Joseph said to them, what deed is this which ye have done? Genesis XIIIV. We receive the due reward of our deeds. Luke 23:41. 2. Exploit; achievement; illustrious act. Whose deeds some nobler poem shall adorn. 3. Power of action; AGENCY. With will and deed created free. 4. A WRITING CONTAINING SOME CONTRACT OR AGREEMENT, AND THE EVIDENCE OF ITS EXECUTION; particularly, AN INSTRUMENT ON PAPER OR PARCHMENT, CONVEYING REAL ESTATE TO A PURCHASER OR DONEE. THIS INSTRUMENT MUST BE EXECUTED, AND THE EXECUTION ATTESTED, IN THE MANNER PRESCRIBED BY LAW. INDEED, IN FACT; IN REALITY. These words are united and called an ADVERB. But sometimes they are separated by very, in very deed; a more emphatical expression. Exodus 9:16. - verb transitive - TO CONVEY OR TRANSFER BY DEED; a popular use of the word in America; as, HE DEEDED ALL HIS ESTATE to his eldest son. (Webs1828)

INVESTITURE - noun - The ACTION of giving POSSESSION, or LIVERY OF SEIZIN. THE GRANT OF LAND OR A FEUD WAS PERFECTED BY THE CEREMONY OF CORPORAL INVESTITURE OR OPEN DELIVERY OF POSSESSION. It was customary for princes to make investiture of ecclesiastical benefices. 1. The right of giving possession OF ANY MANOR, OFFICE OR BENEFICE. He had refused to yield to the pope the investiture of bishops. (Webs1828)

INVESTITURE - A ceremony which accompanied the grant of LANDS in the FEUDAL AGES, and consisted in THE OPEN AND NOTORIOUS DELIVERY OF POSSESSION IN THE PRESENCE OF THE OTHER VASSALS, which perpetuated among them the aera of their new acquisition at the time WHEN THE ART OF WRITING WAS VERY LITTLE KNOWN; and thus the evidence of the property was reposed in the memory of the neighborhood, who, in case of disputed title, were afterwards called upon to decide upon it. In Ecclesiastical law. Investiture is one of the formalities by which the election of a bishop is confirmed by the archbishop. (Black4)

INVESTMENT - The placing of CAPITAL or laying out of money in a way INTENDED TO SECURE INCOME OR PROFIT FROM ITS EMPLOYMENT. (Black4)

—=—

Never forget that hu-mans are capital just like cattle, that money represents the labor of hu-mans, and that we are laid out in commercial design with the intention of Caesar to collect the taxes of our income by profiting from our employment (use). We are under a hu-man capital management system through our deed of investiture. Certified, voluntarily slaves, as mere agents of a principality.

It is perhaps easier to contemplate how our children are stolen through de-livery by seizure (seizin) if we know that this act creates a modern type of feudal estate. In other words, a public person is made to be a user of all public things. With no land of his own, the public person has investiture in the office of citizenship, which means that he may never settle upon his own land except in commercial residence (use only) without dominion over that land. The land will always be that of another. His every step is a legally licensed (permitted) trespass on land foreign to him, called public. His possession is only on behalf of the state with no right of disposal, only the political right of usufruct.

Just as a rat may roam freely in the franchise of what its owner allows within the borders of its cage, the citizenship may roam freely (in franchise) within the public lands and municipal corporations set up for his use (employment) by the sovereignty. Yet he may not travel on private lands and estates or property nor does he have his own. There is nothing Truly private among public entities. Under God this land is my land and this land is your land, but in legal fiction this can only refer to certain limited tracts of designated “public property” for commercial use by commercial persons under taxation (registration) and fee without inheritable rights or legitimate claim on that land. For legal land is only legal paper, and only private men or papered public persons may tread there. We have only as much right as any refugee. Ironically, illegals have more Natural rights than legals in the eyes of the legal state, though less civil (required and forced) ones.

—=—

“Government has no other end but the preservation of property.”

—John Locke (1632-1704) in ‘2nd Treatise on Civil Government,’ 1690

—=—

Ah... but whose property is government protecting? Why its own creator’s, of course, which is to say that government is set up always to protect the few lawfully legitimate blood-heirs against the common hoard of goyim. It protects and preserves the founding People’s (Posterity’s) holdings of land from being squatted on by the mass of illiterates that they use as their labor pool of debtors in rent. Government, as the agent of that sovereign bloodline of People in posterity, ensures that no common citizen (goy) may ever be granted by prescription or realize by blood their lawful due. Organized crime. Piracy.

The only difference between the former feudal system and that modern legal system of today known as 14th amendment citizenship (voluntary feudalism) is that the common goy have been taught to read and write a language of illiteracy, as English or “dog-Latin,” and so the names, motions, and ceremonies are all that have changed. The commoners in their legal capacity are less intelligent than those of old, who at least knew their place in the feud and fiefdom. The English language has created a new standard of literacy in stupidity. The feuds of today have no idea they are seized, and are clueless in their deeds of de-livery. Whereas livery in history was an action (deed) before witnesses (a verb), today the deed is written, signed, and registered in a language (noun) designed to deceive.

SEISIN - ...Upon the introduction of the feudal law into England, the word "seisin" was applied only to the possession of an estate of freehold, IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO THAT PRECARIOUS KIND OF POSSESSION BY WHICH TENANTS IN VILLEINAGE HELD THEIR LANDS, which was considered to be the possession of those IN WHOM THE FREEHOLD CONTINUED. THE WORD STILL RETAINS ITS ORIGINAL SIGNIFICATION, being applied exclusively to the possession of land of a freehold tenure, IT BEING INACCURATE TO USE THE WORD AS EXPRESSIVE OF THE POSSESSION OF LEASEHOLDS OR TERMS OF YEARS, or even of copyholds. Under our law, the word "seisin" has no accurately defined technical meaning. At common law, it imported a FEUDAL INVESTITURE OF TITLE by actual possession. (Black2)

CESS - noun - A rate or tax - verb - TO RATE or LAY A TAX, is probably a corruption of ASSESS, or from the same root. - verb intransitive - To neglect a legal duty. (Webs1828)

CESSION - noun - 1. THE ACT OF GIVING WAY; a yielding to force or IMPULSE. 2. A yielding, or SURRENDER, AS OF PROPERTY OR RIGHTS, TO ANOTHER PERSON; particularly, a surrender of conquered (i.e. won or purchased) territory to its former proprietor or sovereign, by treaty. 3. In the civil law, A VOLUNTARY SURRENDER OF A PERSONS EFFECTS TO HIS CREDITORS, TO AVOID IMPRISONMENT. 4. In ecclesiastical law, the leaving of a benefice without dispensation or being otherwise qualified. When an ecclesiastical person is created a bishop, or when the parson of a parish takes another benefice, without dispensation, the benefices are void by cession without resignation. (Webs1828)

CESSOR - noun - 1. In law, he that neglects, for two years, to perform the service by which he holds lands, so that he incurs the DANGER of the writ of cessavit. [See Cessavit.] 2. AN ASSESSOR, OR TAXER. (Webs1828)

ASSESSOR - noun - 1. One appointed to assess the PERSON or PROPERTY. 2. An inferior officer of justice, who sits TO ASSIST THE JUDGE. 3. One who sits by another, as next in dignity. (Webs1828)

TAXER - noun - One who taxes. 1. In Cambridge, two officers chosen yearly to see the true gauge of weights and measures observed. (Webs1828)

CESSAVIT - noun - In law, a writ given by statute, TO RECOVER LANDS, when the tenant or occupier has CEASED for two years TO PERFORM THE SERVICE, WHICH CONSTITUTES THE CONDITION OF HIS TENURE, and has not sufficient goods or chattels to be DISTRAINED, or the tenant has so inclosed the land that the lord cannot come upon it to distrain. (Webs1828)

— = —

We know that we are not the actual holder of property because we pay property taxes on it for our secondary, permissive use. We hold nothing of the land, only the paper that re-presents it as legal property in residence. Remember, a home is only considered as movable land, as that which is attached to the land. But this feudal state and knowledge is doubly apparent when we do not perform our required service, which is to pay those taxes for use of the property. For it is then that the actual land, both immovable and movable by law, is "recovered" through seizure and confiscation by the militarized force of government in protection of that private estate, and placed back into the title of the sovereign landholder alone, without defect of title or rent.

This is the purpose of government, of nations, as the preservation of property (including children) through its power of distrain. We are in a constant state of distraint, for public persons of the United States live only in a district of the United States. So we live in a constant state of distraint, which is called the district of the United States. The child is distrained at birth, for the debt of the parent is the performance of contractual obligation, having nothing to do with any monetary consideration, only the presumed obligation of the contractual duties and terms of law regarding fictional personhood, which also include certain public fees and taxes. The child is the product of the labor of the marriage corporation under contract and license via conjugal, sexual intercourse (commerce), and the state as principal in that three-way marriage contract takes (finds) all children born of that contract, for the husband and wife are only the agents acting in the personas of their principal, and agents only ever do anything for the benefit of their principal. Just as an employee uses the tools of his employer to benefit his employer and a servant works only to benefit his master, so too do the legal parents (married or unmarried legal persons acting in the body politic of incorporated surnames) raise their children only on behalf of and as their principal's property. A debtor is only a contracted public feud using the state's children (property) in enjoyment by usufruct under the beneficent will of the state, just as he merely uses the registered automobile, land and home as the property of another. And when the assigned maternal parent in his allowed guardianship is declared by the state to be a bad agent in his contractual citizen-ship, the legal child (person) as supposed and un-rebutted surety to property of the principal is stricken and re-delivered into the state, by the act of distraint, as only the causality and course of the child's already legal disposition and implied permanent legal existence in a state (district) of seizure. The child, by the ignorant will and continued consent of the parents, is taken only as surety for the registered paper person (status); the strawman. Only through this fiction can man be tricked into giving up his own blood.

We will read the opinions of the courts later in this work, which absolutely confirm these statements as legally true. While they are horrific to contemplate, we must acknowledge them as self-evident if we are ever to overcome them.

In the end, though no man can be considered as merchandise or as property to be bought and sold, i.e. involuntary slavery, the fact is that fictional inventions that are the "persons" of men can in-deed be considered as merchandise and as property. The law against slavery can be abolished and reestablished at any time, the constitution amended instantly at the whim of the land holders. We must remember that laws are subject to change without notice to the public, which is why the public suffers as the patients of so many ridiculous laws.

—=—

“He's not concerned with yesterday
He knows constant change is here today
He's noble enough to know what's right
But weak enough not to choose it...
He's a New World Man.”

—Rush, lyrics from the song 'New World Man'

—=—

One thing is very clear, both morally and legally. If the parent does not claim their own child (issue) as their own paternal property, the state will certainly do so like a thief in the night through its legal trickery. This de-livery process is now such a streamlined process and custom that these pirates go unseen, causing hospital employees (agents) to do their dirty work for them and offering bonus checks for every child registered (taxed) into Caesar's (seizure's) system. Its agents (nurses and social workers) complete their dirty legal deeds for them, receiving monetary compensation for assuming the role of the farmers of information. Taxation creators.

DISTRAIN - verb transitive - [Latin dis and stringo. See Strain. Blackstone writes distrein.] 1. TO SEIZE FOR DEBT; TO TAKE A PERSONAL CHATEL FROM THE POSSESSION OF A WRONG-DOER INTO THE POSSESSION OF THE INJURED PARTY, to satisfy a demand, OR COMPEL THE PERFORMANCE OF A DUTY; as, to distrain goods from rent, or for an amercement. 2. TO REND; to tear. - verb intransitive - TO MAKE SEIZURE OF GOODS. On whom I cannot distrain for debt. For neglecting to do suit TO THE LORDS COURT, OR OTHER PERSONAL SERVICE, THE LORD MAY DISTRAIN OF COMMON RIGHT. [In this phrase however some word seems to be understood; as, to distrain goods.] (Webs1828)

DISTRICT - noun - [Latin, to press hard, to bind. See DISTRAIN.] 1. Properly, a limited extent of country; a circuit within which power, right or authority may be EXERCISED, AND TO WHICH IT IS RESTRAINED; a word applicable to ANY PORTION OF LAND OR COUNTRY, OR TO ANY PART OF A CITY OR TOWN, WHICH IS DEFINED BY LAW OR AGREEMENT. A governor, a prefect, or a judge may have his district... (Webs1828)

DISSEIZE - verb transitive - [dis and seize.] In law, to DISPOSSESS wrongfully; TO DEPRIVE OF ACTUAL SEIZIN OR POSSESSION; followed by of; as, to disseize a tenant of his freehold. A man may suppose himself disseized, WHEN HE IS NOT SO. (Webs1828)

SEIZIN - noun - 1. In law, POSSESSION. Seizin is of two sorts, seizin in deed or fact, and seizin in law. Seizin in fact or deed, is actual or corporal possession; seizin in law, is WHEN SOMETHING IS DONE IN WHICH THE LAW ACCOUNTS POSSESSION OR SEIZIN, AS ENROLLMENT, OR WHEN LANDS DECEND TO AN HEIR, but he has not yet entered on them. In this case, the law considers the heir as seized of the estate, and the person who wrongfully enters on the land is accounted a disseizor. 2. The act of taking possession. [Not used except in law.] 3. The thing possessed; possession. LIVERY OF SEIZIN. [See LIVERY.] Primer of seizin. [See Primer.] (Webs1828)

SEIZING - ppr - Falling on and grasping suddenly; laying hold on suddenly; taking possession by force, or taking by warrant; FASTENING. - noun - 1. The act of taking or grasping suddenly. 2. In seamen's language, the operation of fastening together ropes with a cord; also, the cord or cords used for such fastening. (Webs1828)

SEIZED - pp - Suddenly caught or grasped; taken by force; invaded suddenly; TAKEN POSSESSION OF; fastened with a cord; having possession. (Webs1828)

— = —

These are not just antiquated, forgotten concepts. These are not out of date definitions. They have been “in the family” for many generations and ages of blood and of feudal fee. Only the words have changed in their intentionally illiterate English presentation to the infantile masses, not their origin of Latin meanings. A delivered child is a ward of the court, which is evident to any commoner who has gone through the so-called “family court” system and had their child stripped from them and re-assigned to visitation on weekends and holidays, as if a common criminal is being allowed to have the company of his family or of a prostitute in prison. This prison is open-air though, the bars being only that of the courts private association of devils (attorneys). Oh how I wish that this term devil were just a clever nickname instead of the actual, official English legal title of those legal advocates and devilmasters (see section and definition on “devilizing”).

Ultimately delivery, certification, and registration has the foundational effect of making our children as wards of the court. Wardship is citizenship. Citizenship is the simulation of parentage (fatherhood) by the state. And so parents are just glorified baby-sitters of state property.

WARD OF CHANCERY OR OF COURT - A minor or lunatic under the protection of a court of equity.

More particularly, a minor under the personal care of a guardian. "While the infant is in ward." A person under the age of twenty-one years, and subject to the guardianship of another. An inseparable incident to tenure in chivalry was "wardship." When a tenant died seized of a knight's fee, leaving an heir of full age, the king received of the heir a year's profits of the land, if in immediate possession, and, IF IN REVERSION EXPECTANT ON A LIFE ESTATE, a half year's profits. This right was called "PRIMER SEISIN." If the heir was a male under twenty-one, or a female under fourteen, THE LORD WAS ENTITLED TO THE WARDSHIP OF THE HEIR, as "guardian in chivalry" — WITH CUSTODY OF BODY AND LANDS, without accounting, till the male was twenty-one and the female sixteen. "Wardship of the land," or CUSTODY OF THE FEUD, was retained by the lord that he might, out of the profits, PROVIDE A PERSON TO SUPPLY THE INFANT'S SERVICES. A consequence was, "wardship of the body:" THE LORD WAS THE MOST PROPER PERSON TO EDUCATE AND MAINTAIN THE INFANT, AND QUALIFY HIM FOR THE SERVICE SHE WAS TO RENDER IN MATURITY. At maturity he could sue delivery of the lands out of the guardian's hands; the action being called ouster le main. Before maturity the guardian had power to dispose of his ward IN MATRIMONY — to tender a suitable match; because of the ward's tender years, and the danger of a female inter-marrying with the lord's enemy. Magna Charta provided that notice of the proposed contract should be given to the next of kin. "Wardship in socage" differed from wardship in chivalry. The inheritance, descending to an infant under fourteen, did not belong to the lord of the fee, because no personal services were required, and no part of the profits of the land were spent in procuring a substitute. The ward's nearest relation had custody of his land and body. At fourteen, the heir could oust the guardian, require him to account for the profits, and choose another guardian. But as heirs so young made improvident choices, enacted that the father might BY WILL APPOINT a guardian to serve till the ward attained twenty-one. The father failing in that, THE COURT OF CHANCERY WOULD NAME SUCH GUARDIAN. THAT STATUTE IS THE ORIGINAL OF SIMILAR LEGISLATION IN THIS COUNTRY. See further Guardian; Necessaries. (WCA1889)

LIVERY - noun - 1. The act of DELIVERING POSSESSION of lands or tenements; a term of English law. It is usual to say, livery of seisin, which is FEUDAL INVESTITURE, made by the delivery of a turf, of a rod or twig, from the feoffor to the feoffee. In America, no such ceremony is necessary to a conveyance of real estate, THE DELIVERY OF A DEED BEING SUFFICIENT. 2. RELEASE FROM WARDSHIP; DELIVERANCE. 3. The writ by which possession is obtained. 4. The state of being kept at a certain rate; as, to keep horses at livery. 5. A form of dress by which noblemen and gentlemen DISTINGUISH THEIR SERVANTS. The Romish church has also liveries for confessors, virgins, apostles, martyrs, penitents, etc. Hence, 6. A particular dress or garb, appropriate or peculiar to particular times or things; as the livery of May; the livery of autumn. Now came still evening on, and twilight gray had in her sober livery all things clad. 7. The whole body of liverymen in London. - verb transitive - To clothe in livery. (Webs1828)

DELIVERY - noun - 1. THE ACT OF DELIVERING. 2. RELEASE; RESCUE; as from slavery, RESTRAINT, OPPRESSION OR DANGER. 3. SURRENDER; A GIVING UP. 4. A GIVING OR PASSING FROM ONE TO ANOTHER; as the delivery of goods, or of a deed. 5. Utterance; pronounciation; or MANNER OF SPEAKING. He has a good delivery. I was charmed with his graceful delivery. 6. CHILDBIRTH. Isaiah 26:17. 7. Free motion or use of the limbs. (Webs1828)

— = —

This act of legal (artificial) childbirth, as a creation and de-livery of the wardship of the child from the natural parents into that of the persona of the state, is considered by the state an act of rescue. This “term of the sea” is one of treasure being found, or that of saving the child from the low and mean wretches that bore it under danger. It is the simulation of the hand of God reaching out to protect the child from the unregenerate adultery and bastardy of the common proletariat. But in Reality, this is merely a streamlined act of legalized piracy on the fictional high seas of commerce, of word trickery and magic designed to cause the act of volunteerism through language arts and contract.

It is important to note here that this whole process is dependent upon one very important and foundational thing, which is ignorance of scripture, of that Law of God and Nature. For the whole process of de-livery is only based on one essential forbidden sin, that of the respect of persons and flattering titles. Only the title can be transferred, the admixed name, which carries with it the legal simulation of a symbolic transfer of the possession of the Real thing carrying the name and title in surety. We find repeated over and over in scripture that man should not respect the persons of men or that the names applied to all things in Nature over Nature Itself, and thus, since the title is only an addition to the name of the person, respect of flattering titles represents firstly the respect of fictional persons (legal names). The state can only receive title to the legally recreated child, which requires abandonment of God’s Law by respect of the person (status) of one’s child. The birth and delivery process, in other words, can only take place in disrespect of God’s Word of Law.

Religion? No. Just uncommon sense. Absolutely. For religions can also only have official members by respecting the legal persons of men in combinations of the legal surname, and can only attach their fictional “religious” titles and priesthood’s to the names of those respected persons. Why does no one ask what the purpose of the corporate church baptism is, that naming ceremony that confirms the child to stand in blasphemy to God’s Word through assignment of an assumed surname of the state? Corporate religions by necessity and by tax (registration) must disrespect the very scriptural law they claim to respect, adhering only to the legal word (law) of their legal incorporation. Therefore a corporate religion’s whole legal existence is only ever according to the legal names and titles bestowed upon it by the legal state, and are lead only by legally educated and titled priests, ministers, rabbis, and pastors. These men are only in the business of religion, not the Reality. They do not and cannot by the legal law walk the path they pre-tend to preach, for they only have legal “freedom of religion” by license of the legal state, which as we know, makes actual religious, moral acts illegal. Thoughts are cool. But acting on those thoughts? That’s a legal no-no. So to be clear here, EVERY legally title priest of EVERY legalized corporate religion is a hypocrite, acting in legal title only, either by choice or by accident of birth and through the instillment of public-mindedness through corporate, religious universities that teach only ignorance of the scriptures in lieu of their own chosen and incorporated doctrines. In the end, no reader and studier, no priest of the scriptures that has done even a small portion of the due diligence required to fully grasp the moral Law of the Bible would ever set foot in such a legal establishment as any state incorporated and licensed church. But as we have come to know, especially in these modern and technological times, it seems more often today that this priest-class become hirelings of some corporate religion not to practice True Piety under God, but to hide behind the public, sacred (cursed) robes and crosses in protection of their own private hungers of pedophilia and other “cardinal” sins; a perfect example of the reasons not to respect such flattering titles of the fictional persons (reputations) of men.

Please know that the author is not making a personal judgement here. Again, we must acknowledge the problem before we can solve it. The author only presents the Truth while acknowledging his own sins and participatory part in this system of mammon. I can only judge myself, just as the reader, the priest, the politician, the judge, and the average goy in citizenship can only do the same. I only seek the Truth despite my opinions of my flattering but false legal self. We cannot make a choice unless we know the full consequences and power of each choice. And most of us have no idea the choice even Exists, thanks to the illusions cast by these legal word-smiths, magicians, and priests.

Titles simply do not exist in Nature, and so any title assumed by man is only ever that which is against God's Word of Law.

RABBI, RABBIN - noun - A TITLE ASSUMED by the Jewish DOCTORS, signifying MASTER OR LORD. This title is not conferred by authority, but ASSUMED or ALLOWED by courtesy to learned men. (Webs1828)

PRIEST - noun - [Latin proestes, a chief, one that presides; proe, before, and sto, to stand, or sisto.] 1. A man WHO OFFICIATES IN SACRED OFFICES. AMONG PAGANS, PRIESTS WERE PERSONS WHOSE APPROPRIATE BUSINESS WAS TO OFFER SACRIFICES AND PERFORM OTHER SACRED RITES OF RELIGION. In primitive ages, THE FATHERS OF FAMILIES, PRINCES AND KINGS WERE PRIESTS. Thus Cain and Abel, Noah, Abraham, Melchizedek, Job, Isaac and Jacob offered their own sacrifices. In the days of Moses, the office of priest was restricted to the tribe of Levi, and the priesthood consisted of three orders, the high priest, the priests, and the Levites, and the office was made HEREDITARY IN THE FAMILY of Aaron. Every priest taken from among men IS ORDAINED FOR MEN in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins. Hebrews 5:1. 2. In the modern church, a person who is set apart or consecrated to the ministry of the gospel; A MAN IN ORDERS OR LICENSED TO PREACH THE GOSPEL; a presbyter. In its most general sense, the word includes archbishops, bishops, patriarchs, and all SUBORDINATE orders of the clergy, DULY APPROVED AND LICENSED ACCORDING TO THE FORMS AND RULES OF EACH RESPECTIVE DENOMINATION OF CHRISTIANS; as all these orders 'are ORDAINED for men in things pertaining to God.' But in Great Britain, the word is understood to denote the subordinate orders of the clergy, above a deacon and below a bishop. In the United States, the word denotes ANY LICENSED MINISTER of the gospel. (Webs1828)

— = —

Take notice that in the legal and general definition of this word priest or presbyter, there is no mention of christ or of God in the first person, only of the permissive, subjective authority of men (as gods both civil and ecclesia, anti-God) to appoint and ordain other men into legal offices through licensure. The title is attached to the legal surname that obtains the license, enjoining to that last name which is legally superior to the christian name, as that which lies in opposition to God. This is not just some mere oversight on our controller's part. This is the subversion of just what it means to be an actual religious man detached from all artificial things, names, numbers, marks, and titles, all of which are needed to be a legally licensed "priest." The surname ensures that the man will follow the law of the state that bestows the legal title to that surname, never acting by his God-given christian name and Its Higher Law. And so the followers (priests) act according to their leader, never attaining that Higher State (Verb) of Being in the Nature of Jehovah. We are stuck in the noun. We reside in the land of make-believe, never entering the domicile of God's Kingdom of Nature.

The author can only hope that the reader now contemplates the corruption of both religion and of the many forms and degrees of atheism and paganism as organized false "churches," and that the disposition of the author's treatment of these institutionalized, confirmed, and ratified fallacies is not merely a trivial pursuit or somehow not based in the Reality and spirituality principle. These social incorporations are but nouns (names) designed to hide the verb (action) of the Truth of the Nature of God and man's relationship to It. They are different forms of organized chaos. And both are designed to divide and conquer the other's spirit.

Both are designed to cause ignorance, to make a people perish by their lack of knowledge. Both are creations of government intended to cause the normalization of a generational birth and abandonment system through de-livery of all future children as issues into the hands of the state in artful perpetuity. For the only escape is through scriptural teachings, in finding and following the spiritual path. And while the corporate church's teach a false-religion that ignores the fundamentals of God's Law, atheism teaches a Godless law that despises True religion. A naturalist is not of Nature, any more than a licensed, titled priest is of God's Nature. Both are purveyors of the noun. Both only cause man to positively respect and be respected by the legal fiction unwittingly, each taking away by design the negative protection of God's Nature and Law, which is the only Law self-evidently recognized as supreme to all others. Both worship only mammon (false values), and use that god of money to battle each other in constant political debate and subterfuge without spiritual and scriptural wisdom. Organized, impersonal religion and atheism can only ever keep man in subjection and slavery to other men and to their legal systems of mammon.

DELIVERY - TRANSFER OF THE BODY OR SUBSTANCE; SURRENDER OF PHYSICAL POSSESSION OR CONTROL; tradition. Opposed to non-delivery. To "deliver" is TO GIVE OR TRANSFER ANYTHING TO ANOTHER PERSON... "Delivery," used alone, is of PERSONAL PROPERTY; of letters, notices, telegrams; of negotiable instruments; of SEALED INSTRUMENTS; of opinions, CHARGES, verdicts. 1. In the law as to gifts, sales, and transportation of personalty, delivery is absolute or conditional, actual or constructive, and symbolical.

Absolute delivery - A transfer without any qualification, expressed or implied.

Conditional delivery - A transfer accompanied by one or more conditions which must be fulfilled before the GENERAL property vests in the possessor. A conditional sale may become an absolute sale by an unconditional delivery of the goods, the title then passing to the PURCHASER. To constitute a conditional delivery IT IS NOT NECESSARY THAT THE SELLER DECLARE THE CONDITIONS IN EXPRESS TERMS. It is sufficient if the INTENT of the parties, that the delivery is conditional, CAN BE INFERRED FROM THEIR ACTS AND THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CASE.

Actual delivery - Manual or corporal transfer, made in FACT OR REALITY.

Author's Note: A legal fact is not necessarily a Reality, and most often not so.*

Constructive delivery - A transfer which WHILE NOT IN REALITY MADE IS YET VIEWED IN LAW AS AS GOOD AS MADE. "Constructive delivery" is a general term, comprehending all acts which, although NOT TRULY CONFERRING A REAL POSSESSION OF THE THING sold on the vendee, HAVE BEEN HELD constructione juris EQUIVALENT TO ACTS OF REAL DELIVERY.

Symbolic or symbolical delivery - HANDING OVER ONE THING AS EVIDENCE OF PARTING WITH OWNERSHIP IN ANOTHER OR OTHER THINGS. Delivery is frequently SYMBOLICAL; as, delivery of the key to a room containing goods, BY MARKING timber on a wharf or goods in a warehouse, or by separating, measuring, or weighing them; or otherwise constructive, as by delivery of part for the whole; or by delivery of a BILL OF LADING or of a bill of sale. See Gift. (WCA1889)

LIVERYMAN - noun - 1. ONE WHO WEARS A LIVERY; AS A SERVANT... (Webs1828)

LIVERYMAN - A MEMBER OF SOME COMPANY IN THE CITY of London; also called a "FREEMAN."(Black4)

WORDS OF PURCHASE - When, in a will, the limitation of a remainder is to a "son" or "sons," "children" or "issue," "heir" or "heirs" of the life tenant, if the word is a descriptio personae, the descendant takes as a PURCHASER; it intended to comprehend A CLASS TO TAKE BY INHERITANCE, the word is a term of "LIMITATION," within the rule in Shelley's case. "CHILD" AND "CHILDREN" ARE ALWAYS REGARDED AS WORDS OF PURCHASE, unless the testator unmistakably used them as descriptive of the extent of the estate given, and not to designate the donees, in which case they are words of limitation. "CHILDREN" IS CERTAINLY A WORD OF PURCHASE AS "HEIRS OF THE BODY" ARE WORDS OF LIMITATION. This is the rule, but a testator may evince a different INTENT. See further Child; Heir; Issue; Limitation; Shelley's Case. (WCA1889)

HIRING - A CONTRACT FOR THE USE OF PERSONALTY, OR FOR SERVICES. A species of BAILMENT for a price or recompense. 1. As to things. A CONTRACT whereby THE POSSESSION AND A TRANSIENT PROPERTY IS TRANSFERRED FOR A PARTICULAR TIME OR USE, ON CONDITION TO RESTORE THE GOODS AS SOON AS THE TIME IS EXPIRED OR THE USE PERFORMED, together with the price, expressly agreed upon or left to be IMPLIED BY LAW ACCORDING TO THE VALUE OF THE SERVICE. THE HIRER ACQUIRES A TEMPORARY PROPERTY IN THE THING, accompanied with AN IMPLIED CONDITION TO USE IT with moderation; while the owner or lender retains a REVERSIONARY INTEREST in the thing, and ACQUIRES A NEW PROPERTY IN THE PRICE OR REWARD. Of such is the loan of money on interest. 2. As to services. The contracts classed under this head are contracts for work, for the safe-keeping of personalty, and for the carriage of persons or personalty. "Storage" and "carriage" are in more common use than any inflections of hire, to designate a contract for the custody of ordinary merchandise, or for the transportation of persons or property.' The idea of "hiring" may be involved in "employment," but its application is not restricted to any particular mode of use." See Bailment; Deposit; Locatio. (WCA1889)

PERSONALTY - Personal PROPERTY. (WCA1889)

PERSONAL - Pertaining to the person; belonging to an individual person; individual: as, personal or a personal — action, asset, baggage, chattel, contract, covenant, credit, demand, disability, estate, goods, injury, knowledge, liability, liberty, note, performance, property, representative, security, service, servitude, tax.

REFERRING TO SOME SUBJECTS — AS, AN ACTION, ASSET, CHATTEL, ESTATE, PROPERTY — "PERSONAL" MEANS SIMPLY MOVABLE, TRANSITORY: THAT WHICH MAY FOLLOW THE PERSON OF THE OWNER OR DEFENDANT. Again, referring to some subjects — as, an action, contract or covenant, defendant, injury, privilege, security, service, tax — "personal" is contrasted with real, or that which concerns REAL ESTATE. See those substantives. (WCA1889)

— = —

“But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, WHOSE OWN THE SHEEP ARE NOT, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, AND CARETH NOT FOR THE SHEEP.”

— John 10:12-13, KJB

— = —

The priest feigns the corporate office of shepherd, but this is a false family. The state feigns the corporate office of family, of a father-hood, but again this is just a false, unnatural familiarity. Neither care actually. Naturally for their sheep except as commodities that bring in tithing and revenue. And for this reason, it is said that man should only call christ, as the Son (Word) of God, as his shepherd. Whatever one's lord is, be it Jehovah or the false gods and magistracy of legal and ecclesiastical re-creation, the lord shall surely keep you.

The bloodline careth for its own flock, shepherding its own while despising all others as mere beasts. And so multiculturalism is foisted upon the public, for the public can have no set religion and no set moral law. Multiculturalism is public-mindedness, the acceptance of all opposing forces as one culture bound by one amoral (absence of set moral) law. It is not that the public has freedom of religion, it is that religion is illegal except by corporate license. For freedom is only a word meaning franchise controlled by another's dominion and jurisdiction. And so while it appears that religion abounds, no public person is actually able to act religiously in any moral, non-corporate sense of the word. We may put on the airs and costumes and go through the ceremonies and customs, but we can never deny the one thing that defeats all religious and spiritual actions, which is the legal (anti-God) law. We are fools declaring and pretending to be that which we are not, prancing around in the very flattering titles forbidden by God's Nature and Law. I AM "Christian," I AM "Muslim," I AM "Catholic," I AM "Jewish." Yet the religions of the earth say to only ever be plainly at Oneness with the I AM of Nature.. The bible does not say to be "Christian" any more than the Quran says to be "Muslim" or "Islamic." For these are only flattering titles of the incorporations of mammon and their corporate members. They only teach action.

The word Muslim is merely a term that etymologically means to be whole and intact. This is scripturally the same as the teachings of christ, to be only as I AM with no additions, titles, numbers, etc. The only wars fought between religions and the governments surrounding them are over the authority of the false names of those religions in their governing capacities, which ironically all teach the same goal. I AM "Christian" must kill I AM "Muslim" which must kill I AM "Jewish." Yet each religion is a similitude, with the simple message that we should be only I AM. Ironically, to be "Muslim" as a false religious flattering title just as a corporate "Christian" of that entitled Romish church, is to not be whole and intact. For the flattering title is an addition that takes away the ability to be whole and intact under God by our purely religious (spiritual) actions. The church only exists under the government's legal law that binds it in fiction (sin) against God's Law. And for God's sake these institutionalized religions absolutely love their own holy wars!

But the governments and religions of man ensure continuous discord for the purposes of the perpetual cycles and wealth generation of war and commerce. And this vicious cycle can only continue as long as men can be made to believe they are strawmen, that they are not all a part of God's Creation (I AM) without any fictional representation, religion, or law of man. This is the self-evident Truth of God; that if all men are our sheep and our shepherd, then we must care for all men not as some job title but as if we are all one family.

The author realizes the difficulty engendered in this philosophy, which is why the author is not seeking or selling modern governments and religions as any form of solution. They must be left to kill themselves, for they are already in dead hands and pledge (mortgage). The spiritual man can only walk away from these fictions. And so the only question that remains is where do we walk to? This is the great mystery. For christ had no destination, no end to his journey, and no place to call home, for all these things are only legal and thus temporary, as that which is opposed to Nature. And because of this, he had no wars to fight except with that not of man himself but of man's designs in artifice that deflected him from his own Natural path, a constant battle against fiction but not against the men respecting it. His was a battle of words, of parables, and of unrequited moral wisdom and rectitude. This is not to say that a man may not build a dwelling and live peaceably for a time. This is to say that in Nature (in Reality) there is no insurance, no security, and no protections. And so we must at all times be prepared to lose all possessions in order to maintain the Permanence of our spiritual Nature under God. We must be willing to walk the path wherever it may lead in perpetual spirituality away from the evils of the artifice. But spirituality does not include stuff. The church is not a building or a physical structure or house. We should not go to war to ensure the survival of our acquired stuff over the very lives and blood of our family, our True church. The church is only the flock. And the flock needs no artifice, name, or title to Exist. It needs only the Highest Law. It is of the blood of christ, not of masonry. It certainly does not need a corporation or a building to be part of the I AM both individually and as a whole. Whether our flock is 1 or 100 or 7 billion, we must always place Its wellbeing and especially that of each individual over all other considerations, but only in consideration of our duty to his or Its negative righteousness. And yet we must treat all men in this way, even our supposed enemies. The man with nothing to steal is certainly the bitter enemy of these pirate gods of the nations who sponsor and gain with legal license all forms of theft. And yet we are taught scripturally to treat even the highest and the lowest only how we should wish them to treat us. No man is a “thief,” for this is merely a flattering title bestowed upon the consequences of the pain and corruptibility of such desperate men, as that which is a potential of all men when given unbearable wealth, authority, or poverty, all of which corrupt absolutely or through a falsely created political necessity, as a pretended, manufactured scarcity created by those that covet wealth over welfare. For to the wealthy man, happiness may only be retained by the ensured poverty of others. We must not incorporate our charity and never seek reward or expectation of reciprocation for it, for this is the artful, false nature of the corrupting legal relationship in contract. We must not legalize our words nor pretend to have the legal capacity and status (personhood) of understanding them. We must not respect anything but what is Reality, for all other stuff is only an anchor to the fiction. The worst legal phrase we can respect is to say that anything is mine. For only man’s false re-creation of words on paper can be owned, and this is the basic underpinnings of the legal system, for the system is owned by the few to control the many through licensure. Property is an example of this, for we own only a paper representation of another’s property, and thus we are enslaved to that actual holder. Only fictional titles can be owned.

Under the Natural Law, it is our duty to respect privacy and to not tread on others stuff just as we would expect others to do unto ourselves. The only difference is that, because we are dualistically and at the same time each other’s shepherd and sheep, not one of us should ever be in want of anything we may need. There can be no need for the laws of man if no one has need to violate the Laws of God. With the Highest Law there need not be want. Without want there need not be crime. Without crime there need not be criminal law. Without man’s criminal justice system of legal law there need not be fictions of law in flattering title to obey or to enforce it. And without legal personhood (status), there is nothing for that artifice of law to attach to. This is the only solution, for that system of artifice will use each of us to stay in power, pitting us against each other in agency, killing and incarcerating as many of its artificial flock in surety as it must in order to continue its own false existence for the benefit of the few privy to legal “sovereignty.” But in Reality, in Nature, only God is Sovereign, which makes us all equally, spiritually rich.

This word hire as used in the Bible above is utilized only in conjunction to the words reward and wages. One cannot be considered a hireling (prostitute) unless his reward is of mammon. A hireling, of course, works only for the monetary rewards and wages of his master or principal in mammon. A soldier is paid his just and evil rewards as a hired mercenary, and each life he takes carries its own, perverted reward for each nation, generally paying a life insurance premium (reward for death) to the originating nation of that soldier’s military title, like a board game of “Risk” between the gods of nations. And so a hireling can never earn any spiritual reward for his actions, for he acts on behalf of another, a stranger that is opposed to all the spirit of Law and Nature. Likewise, a citizen-ship in persona acts only as a hireling of his principal government, never able to obtain anything of the spiritual rewards of God’s Nature. A public person in citizenship knows only his master’s principal desires, and works towards that end only in the relationship of agency, as his shepherd’s hireling and tool of mammon. He is simultaneously the sheep-dog and the sheep of other dogs (agents); the manager of some slaves while the slave of other managers.

One is hard-pressed not to consider here that strange social example of those unhappy hirelings of the DMV and Post Office perched in their seats of federal agency and practicing proudly (and quite often contemptuously) what limited, licensed authority they fictionally possess by their federal employment (being used), while dictating like house-slaves those services, benefits, and fees required by all others who must submit to and temporarily worship them in their flattering title of employed office in agency, even while they suffer the same fate and fees as their perturbed and resentful, temporary subjects. But then we all pretend to be something we are not in our titles of employment, do we not? And more often than not we use that hireling status and office with arrogant pride and false authority in our own meager dealings with others, if only to feel better about our own subjection to all the other hireling agents out there prostituting themselves to their constituted authorities. No employee is acting in his own spirit, and certainly not in the spirit of christ. And so an employer is only as a hireling shepherd, caring not for his flock except by what he may personally gain from their employment (use) as human capital. An employee is only ever working for the benefit of his employer, his own uncaring shepherd, just as a subject in citizenship only ever exists for service to its master. For any agent only ever exists at the behest and will of its principal creator.

Our ultimate test in this life, in this author's opinion, is our choice between the darkness and the light. This highly interpretable and applicable notion of light vs. darkness is that of Good vs evil, Nature vs. fiction, Posterity vs. agency, Spirituality vs. legalism. And yet it is so often that the darkness is portrayed as the only light available, the artificial light of satanism (that which is adversarial to the Light of God).

— — —

“And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, AND MEN LOVED (BELIEVED IN) DARKNESS RATHER THAN LIGHT, because their DEEDS WERE EVIL. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, LEST HIS DEEDS SHOULD BE REPROVED. BUT HE THAT DOETH TRUTH COMETH TO THE LIGHT, THAT HIS DEEDS MAY BE MADE MANIFEST, THAT THEY ARE WROUGHT IN GOD.”

—John 3: 19-21, KJB

— — —

“Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I AM THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD: he that followeth me SHALL NOT WALK IN DARKNESS (spiritual death), but shall have THE LIGHT OF LIFE.”

— John 8:12, KJB

— — —

Not in death shall we find God, but in the Light of a spiritual Life on earth following the path set out by christ. But Life only Exists in Nature, never in the artificial construct of man's legal matrix.

I pause here to reflect on my own former ignorance of the words of the scriptures. This last verse, though it be obvious to me now, was but a fleeting notion in some hymn I once knew on the guitar. I sung its words without conscious awareness of its intent, and I spoke in arrogance of those words in my discourse with others. I was in darkness under artificial lighting. It was only when I started following in those footsteps of christ even in my very limited capacity by deciphering and following the words of the Bible that I fathomed any of the spiritual intent of this verse. For while the non-profit, non-prophet priests sold from their pulpits the lie that I could simply believe that christ at one point in history existed as a historical figure, and that this belief is all that was needed to be a member of that secular corporation posing as legitimate, True religion, the True spiritual journey implied by these words in every walk of Life has nothing to do with some anthropomorphized history, only with my own will and actions for or against that which is the darkness of the established and ordained legal and ecclesiastical artifice. The spirit is alive, not dead. Light, not darkness. And like the artificial spirit of legal persons, christ can only be alive if I act in his personification. Christ can only live in spirit through my own actions upon the path that was laid out by those scriptural teachings.

Or I can continue to act like a demonic persona in possession by the state.

We all have a choice...

The deed of placing a child into birth registration by unwitting parents who know not what they do is an act of voluntary condemnation (being condemned to live in a nation under its false law), setting the child upon the path of darkness by romanizing and romancing the form of its name. This sentences in writing the criminal child as a ward of the state, districting (distraining/seizing for debt) all of us into the darkness of that commercial, municipal corporation of Washington D.C.

DISTRICTIO - Latin. A distress; a distraint. (Black4)

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA - A territory situated on the Potomac river, and being the seat of government of the United States. It was originally ten miles square, and was composed of portions of Maryland and Virginia ceded by those states to the United States; but in 1846 the tract coming from Virginia was retroceded.

LEGALLY IT IS NEITHER A STATE NOR A TERRITORY, BUT IS MADE SUBJECT, BY THE CONSTITUTION, TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF CONGRESS. (Black4)

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA - IS NEITHER A STATE NOR A TERRITORY. CONGRESS IS AUTHORIZED "TO EXERCISE EXCLUSIVE LEGISLATION IN ALL CASES WHATSOEVER OVER SUCH DISTRICT (not exceeding ten Miles square) AS MAY, BY CESSION OF PARTICULAR STATES, AND THE ACCEPTANCE OF CONGRESS, BECOME THE SEAT OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES." Maryland and Virginia ceded territory on the Potomac, which Congress, by act of July 16, 1790, accepted. In December, 1800, THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT WAS REMOVED FROM PHILADELPHIA. By the act of July 11, 1846, Congress retroceded the county of Alexandria to Virginia. THE DISTRICT CONSTITUTES THE COUNTY OF WASHINGTON. A CITIZEN OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA IS NOT A CITIZEN OF A STATE. The laws in force December 1, 1873, were revised and republished, by direction of Congress, in a separate volume known as the Revised Statutes relating to the District of Columbia. (WCA1889)

—=—

A county is only a municipal corporation, which indeed is neither a state nor a territory.

But more importantly, as we read between the lines here, A UNITED STATES CITIZEN IS STATELESS!!! In other words, that which is public property of the corporation of the United States is without a People (State). Remember the word "state" has multiple meanings, and that we call the United States district colloquially as "the state;" just as in Orwell's fictional government of Nineteen-Eighty-Four was as well "the superstate," complete with its "Ministry of Truth" that was responsible for historical revisionism and propaganda and its use of a language known as Newspeak or "English Socialism," nicknamed as IngSoc. Sound familiar?

The States created the state constitutions, so why would anyone think that a stateless person of the district of Columbia might be a party to their negative restrictions and protections? To act within a U.S. citizen-ship is to exist within a slave-holding company. It is to be in a state of transience, a temporary disposition of being without land for the length of one's attachment to that legalistic public persona, caught up in the spiritual death of a pursuit of mammon in civil life. When a man is separated from the land, from his Source, having no blood connection and inheritance to it, his spirit is lost. His Life force is dead and his deeds without True purpose. His Natural Dependence on God is replaced by an artificially induced dependence on within the artificial matrix (womb) of the state. He has been seized by the distress and distraint of Caesar. He has been personified and districted.

DISTRAIN - TO TAKE AS A PLEDGE PROPERTY OF ANOTHER, AND KEEP IT UNTIL HE PERFORMS HIS OBLIGATION or until the property is replevied by the sheriff. It was used TO SECURE AN APPEARANCE IN COURT, PAYMENT OF RENT, PERFORMANCE OF SERVICES, etc. Also, any detention of personal property, whether lawful or unlawful, for any purpose. DISTRESS is now generally used. (Black4)

DISTRAINER, DISTRAINOR - He who SEIZES a distress. (Black4)

DISTRAINT - SEIZURE; the act of distraining or making a distress. (Black4)

DISTRESS - THE TAKING A PERSONAL CHATTEL OUT OF THE POSSESSION OF A WRONG-DOER INTO THE CUSTODY OF THE PARTY INJURED, TO PROCURE A SATISFACTION FOR A WRONG COMMITTED; as for non-payment of rent, or injury done by cattle. THE TAKING OF BEASTS OR OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY BY WAY OF PLEDGE, TO ENFORCE THE PERFORMANCE OF SOMETHING DUE FROM THE PARTY DISTRAINED UPON. The taking of a defendant's goods, in order to compel an appearance in court. The seizure of personal property to enforce payment of taxes, to be followed by its public sale if the taxes are not voluntarily paid; also the thing taken by distraining, THAT WHICH IS SEIZED TO PROCURE SATISFACTION. And in old Scotch law, a pledge taken by the sheriff from those attending fairs or markets, TO SECURE THEIR GOOD BEHAVIOR, and RETURNABLE to them at the close of the fair or market if they had been guilty of no wrong. (Black4)

DISTRESS INFINITE - One that has no bounds with regard to its quantity, and may be repeated from time to time, until the stubbornness of the party is CONQUERED. Such are distresses for fealty or suit of court, and for compelling jurors to attend. A power of ATTORNEY by which LANDLORD DELEGATES EXERCISE OF HIS RIGHT to his duly authorized AGENT. (Black4)

DISTRESS WARRANT - A writ authorizing an officer to make a distraint; particularly, a writ authorizing THE LEVY OF A DISTRESS ON THE CHATTELS OF A TENANT for non-payment of rent. (Black4)

WRIT OF GRAND DISTRESS - A writ formerly issued in the real action of quare impedit, when NO APPEARANCE HAD BEEN ENTERED after the attachment; it commanded the sheriff TO DISTRAIN THE DEFENDANT'S LANDS AND CHATTELS IN ORDER TO COMPEL APPEARANCE. It is no longer used, having abolished the action of quare impedit, and SUBSTITUTED FOR IT the procedure in an ORDINARY ACTION. (Black4)

SECOND DISTRESS - A supplementary distress for rent in arrear, allowed by law in some cases, where the goods seized under the first distress are not of sufficient value to satisfy the claim. (Black4)

DISTRESS AND DANGER - The "distress" and "danger" to which a ship needs to be exposed to entitle its rescuer TO SALVAGE NEED NOT BE ACTUAL OR IMMEDIATE, OR THE DANGER IMMINENT AND ABSOLUTE. It is sufficient if at the time the assistance is rendered, the ship has encountered any damage or misfortune which might possibly expose her to destruction if the services were not RENDERED, or if a VESSEL is in a situation of actual apprehension though not of actual danger. (Black4)

SALVAGE - noun - [Latin salvus, salvo.] In commerce, a reward or recompense allowed by law for the saving of a ship, OR GOODS FROM LOSS AT SEA, either by shipwreck or other means, or by ENEMIES OR PIRATES. Salvage, for savage, not used. [See Savage.] (Webs1828)

SAVAGE - adjective - [Latin silva, a wood, or silvicola, an inhabitant of a wood, or silvaticus.] 1. Pertaining to the forest; wild; remote from human residence and improvements; uncultivated; as a savage wilderness. Cornels and savage berries of the wood. 2. Wild; UNTAMED; as savage beasts of prey. 3. UNCIVILIZED; UNTAUGHT; unpolished; rude; as savage life; savage manners. What nation since the commencement of the christian era, EVER ROSE FROM SAVAGE TO CIVILIZED WITHOUT CHRISTIANITY? 4.

Cruel; barbarous; fierce; ferocious; inhuman; brutal; AS A SAVAGE SPIRIT. - noun - 1. A HUMAN BEING IN HIS NATIVE STATE OF RUDENESS; ONE WHO IS UNTAUGHT, UNCIVILIZED OR WITHOUT CULTIVATION OF MIND OR MANNERS. The savages (i.e. indians) of America, WHEN UNCORRUPTED BY THE VICIES OF CIVILIZED MEN, are remarkable for their hospitality to strangers, and for their TRUTH, FIDELITY AND GRATITUDE to their friends, but implacably cruel and revengeful towards their enemies. From this last trait of the savage character, the word came to signify, 2. A man of extreme, unfeeling, brutal cruelty; a barbarian. 3. The name of a genus of fierce voracious flies. - verb transitive - To make wild, barbarous or cruel. [Not well authorized and little used.] (Webs1828)

BASTARDY - noun - A state of being a bastard, or begotten and BORN OUT OF LAWFUL WEDLOCK, which CONDITION DISABLES THE PERSON FROM INHERITING AN ESTATE. (Webs1828)

— = —

Savages need to be saved by these pirates by salvaging us at birth when we are informed on and abandoned to the sea of commerce in mammon, and savages in captivity (nativity) certainly can't be trusted to hold land. The common bastard class in citizen-ship, like the entrained Tarzan after his captivity (nativity), is the tamed and civilized savage class, considered as unregenerate bastards.

You see, these "civilized" men through their legal means truly believe they are saving us from our very own "human" nature, as a factory farmer saves a newborn calf by unnaturally separating it from its mother and chaining it to an artificial feeder, profiting off of each head they salvage within their capitalist system, and claiming that we can only be saved by their absolutely twisted version of legalized, civil, Romanized paganism called by them as the legal flattering title of "Christianity" under a "Christian nation." A clever trick of words to be sure... By corrupting men from living in Truth, fidelity, and gratitude with each other under the blessings of God in Nature and without the artifice of a legal system, man is somehow to be better off as subjects of a totally corrupt system of the false law of these false saviors. But most important, since these gods are the enemies of all people except their own blood kin, it is of the utmost importance to teach the vulgar commonality of brutes and mean barbarians to somehow love their enemies; their captors. This is of course taken from the similar but quite different idea laid out in the Bible. We are being saved (salvaged) by the legal gods of the state, like cargo found adrift at sea and taken as booty, and we are expected to thank that false "god" for such a privilege as this even as we pledge allegiance to the pirate flag (Arms) of the district and to the republic (sovereign State/People) for which that flag stands representing our land-lords as the creator gods, but certainly not in any way directed at Jehovah. For God receives nor needs any such oath or fictional contract, and such a dead pledge would be an absolute redundancy if God's Word were followed utterly. A contract is only the devil's tool, and can only represent and prove a lack of the Law of Nature. Only artificial things require proof of pledge and fealty. Only frail men need the oaths of strong ones so that they may, through binding word magic, defile that un-defeat-able strength. Only devils need a contract to have any power over spiritual men. For a devil cannot be trusted in any promise he makes, and man's promises (vows) to God cannot be considered as legitimate when promised through the devil's artifice and trickery of personhood. A person may only pray (plead) to legal magistrates (the gods and administrators of persons), but never to Jehovah. The devil has no power over man without first binding him by words and by fooling him into believing in the sacred (secretly cursed) quality and character of those legally protected words, thus inciting him to suffer the will and tyranny of a dark master.

And we are trained to call this darkness as light.

Yet, the love spoken about by christ in the scriptures had nothing to do with conforming with one's enemy's system of artifice of law that stands as opposed to God's Law of Nature. In fact, the whole point is to Love the man but hate his artifice, for man's only True enemy is fiction. Without fiction, all men are indeed Created equal. Without trickery, no man can rule over another. For he must not only trick the slave, but he must fool and pay others to support such slavery so as to be guards (agents) over them. When christ violently threw over the tables of the money-changers he did so in hatred for his enemy, which was that design of mammon and its power over the minds of men, but only did so in the purest Love; for those men were tricked by the enemy that is the temptation towards fiction. Only the titles and persons of man are man's enemy, for the man never acts as his True Self while acting in the name of another, though his actions are certainly his alone to bear before God's judgement. These legal gods (titles of men) demand the false love (belief) of their subjects (persons) by oath of fealty at all costs and in all points of law regarding their falsely promulgated superiority and sovereignty. They demand that the money-changers be respected by the legalized, nationalized "Christians" even as the whole of the population is drowning in their debt instruments and against the self-evident, spiritual teachings of christ. For the gods of the state are the only creators of this money monopoly, and the money-changers are only their agents (bankers) acting on behalf of their principal government. The more debt created by the agent, the more taxes and investment potential are created from that debt for the principal. Nowhere does christ say love thy neighbor's fraud. He says only to love and treat thy neighbor as a man like thyself, despite his lies and self-deceit and not because of them.

CHANGER - An officer formerly belonging to the king's mint, in England, whose business was chiefly to exchange coin for bullion brought in by merchants and others. (Black4)

CHANGER - noun - 1. ONE WHO ALTERS THE FORM OF ANY THING. 2. One that is EMPLOYED in CHANGING AND DISCOUNTING MONEY; A MONEY-CHANGER. 3. One given to change. (Webs1828)

—=—

Money cannot be capitalized upon unless it is in a constant state of flux, where its value changes with each passing day and its comparative value to foreign currencies never balances. The illusion of competition is continuously maintained by media manipulation and pretended scarcities of commodities. There is certainly nothing random about these cycles of change, which is controlled utterly by these change-agents, who through seignorage and other schemes continuously scrape gains from these small but ever-present changes.

The creation of the legal entity at birth represents a distress, a seizure of the child by the legal hands of the district of the United States, a prize found at sea (in commerce) created by the commercial intercourse of legal (illegitimate) marriage or other form of adulterous bastardy (producing/issuing illegitimate children). And this attachment to the state and its public law ensures (in surety) that the child will be educated in proper form to benefit its principal without any regard or comprehension of its legal agency relationship. For as a ward of the state, the state is required to educate the child.

In the following definition, the word "child" is not in reference to the actual living boy or girl, only to the legal status (personhood) called in noun form as a "child." Form without substance. The boy or girl is only filling an office called "child."

—=—

“In a contest for the POSSESSION OF A CHILD, the welfare of the child is the controlling consideration. The father will be GIVEN the custody of IT, UNLESS he is shown to be unfit or incompetent for that OFFICE, or unless the welfare of the child DEMANDS A DIFFERENT DISPOSITION.”

—Definition of ‘Child,’ referencing: Re Scarritt, 76 Mo. 565, 584 (1883), cases. (WCA1889)

—=—

“All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, ARE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES and of the state WHEREIN THEY RESIDE. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States...”

—14th amendment to the U.S. constitution

—=—

“A CITIZEN OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA IS NOT A CITIZEN OF A STATE.”

—Definition of ‘District of Columbia’ above (WCA1889)

—=—

“The Citizens of each STATE shall be entitled to all PRIVILEGES and IMMUNITIES of Citizens in the SEVERAL STATES.”

—Article 4, Section 1, clause 2 of the United States constitution

—=—

These are not conflicting statements.

If a United States citizenship is not a citizen of any of the private (several) States, meaning not one of the People of each individual State, and are thus only the peopled human capital of the United States human capital management system (district), then obviously the citizen-ships of the United States have no access to the privileges and immunities entitled to those citizens of each private State. This clause only claims that citizens of one private State will have the same (equal) privileges and immunities in any other private State he may enter. But a United States public citizen-ship is under the constitution, not over it like these State citizens are. They are the creators, we are the subjects. Big difference. Of course this is just one of many illusions that the subjects of the United States in citizenship carry as a mistaken identity, servants believing they are masters, agents believing they are principals.

But we must define terms. If the constitution guarantees Immunity and Privileges only to citizens of the private States, then we must be clear of the meaning of this distinction. For this can only mean that these private citizens of the private States have privileges and immunities from (against) the constituted authorities and government that public citizenships aren't privy to.

You see, the word privilege comes from the word private. Just as the word separate is similar to the word several, or private. Only a private citizen can be in privilege. All other public citizenships, though the term is certainly used, have no right of privacy, and so the privileges offered to public persons are so in name only. Revokable franchise. In other words, the right to privacy of a public person is an oxymoron. Public is not private. A public person can only claim the rights assigned to it by government, whereas a private person can claim privilege (exemption) from those forced public rights. The problem is that we think legal (anti-God) rights are a good thing. Thus we suffer the right to be put in pain, punished, licensed, incarcerated, taxed, exacted, extorted, and a host of many other legal rights that are in truth only violently enforced obligations. Only a private man may reserve his unalienable rights, which is just another expression for the negative Law of God. Reservation of rights is a privilege against the enforcement of required public rights, or to be more accurate, to the contractual duties those assigned and consented-to rights impose. Legal rights are a required imposition upon the disposition of a private man acting in the agency of a public fiction. The strawman, like the scarecrow, is only a subject of its creator, and a private man must give up his unalienable status in order to operate under the name of that strawman, as the property of another.

PRIVILEGE - noun - [Latin privilegium; privus, separate, private, and lex, law; originally a private law, some public act that regarded AN INDIVIDUAL.] 1. A particular and peculiar benefit or advantage enjoyed by a person, company or society, BEYOND THE COMMON ADVANTAGES OF OTHER CITIZENS. A privilege may be a particular right granted by law or held by custom, or it may be AN EXEMPTION FROM SOME BURDEN TO WHICH OTHERS ARE SUBJECT. The nobles of Great Britain have the privilege of being TRIABLE BY THEIR PEERS ONLY. MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT AND OF OUR LEGISLATURES HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF EXEMPTION FROM ARRESTS IN CERTAIN CASES. The powers of a banking company are privileges granted by the legislature. He pleads the legal privilege of a Roman. THE PRIVILEGE OF BIRTHRIGHT WAS A DOUBLE PORTION. 2. Any peculiar benefit or ADVANTAGE, RIGHT OR IMMUNITY, NOT COMMON TO OTHERS OF THE HUMAN RACE. Thus we speak of national privileges, and civil and political privileges, which we enjoy above other nations. We have ecclesiastical and religious privileges secured to us by our constitutions of government. PERSONAL PRIVILEGES ARE ATTACHED TO THE PERSON; as those of ambassadors, peers, members of legislatures, etc. REAL PRIVILEGES ARE ATTACHED TO PLACE; as the privileges of the king's palace in England. 3. Advantage; favor; benefit. A nation despicable by its weakness, forfeits even the privilege of being neutral. Writ of privilege is a writ to deliver a privileged person from custody when arrested in a civil suit. - verb transitive - To grant some particular right or exemption to; to invest with a peculiar right or immunity; as, TO PRIVILEGE REPRESENTATIVES FROM ARREST; to privilege the officers and students of a college from military duty. 1. TO EXEMPT FROM ENSURE OR DANGER. This place doth privilege me. (Webs1828)

ENSURE - And its derivatives. [See INSURE.] (Webs1828)

INSURE - verb transitive - inshu're. [IN and SURE.] To make sure or secure; TO CONTRACT OR COVENANT for a consideration to secure a person against loss; or to engage to indemnify another for the loss of any specified property, at a certain stipulated rate per cent, called a premium. The property usually insured is such as is exposed to extraordinary HAZARD. THUS THE MERCHANT INSURES HIS SHIP OR ITS CARGO, OR BOTH, AGAINST THE DANGERS OF THE SEA; houses are insured against fire; sometimes hazardous debts are insured, and sometimes lives. - verb intransitive - To underwrite; to practice making insurance. This company insures at 3 per cent, or at a low premium. (Webs1828)

—=—

To be clear, a private citizen of the several (private) States is exempt (in privilege from) being required to be a strawman! In other words, a private citizen is not required to be surety for another's person (ship) or to insure his adventures. A private citizen is exempt from insurance, from being required to ensure anything, for he is not acting in the property and name and flattering (cog) title of another, and so needs no bond of insurance to protect such a use. He need not stand in surety. Ultimately, this is the case only because the private citizen is exempt from adding the surname (insured name) to his God-given name of origin (Source). His law is not public. His person (status) is not of the public. His god is not the creator of fictional, public things, for he is of the body politic of that creator.

Note that our illustrious, prestigious leaders in legislature have almost total exemption from crime in their official capacity. They can simply do no legal wrong, for they are acting under privileged status, under diplomatic immunities. No man should have or be granted such privilege, such power, such authority, nor should the common goy stand for such an outrage.

But alas, history is chalk full of such sovereign rulers as these.

—=—

“A MINISTER OF STATE IS EXCUSABLE FOR THE HARM HE DOES WHEN THE HELM OF GOVERNMENT HAS FORCED HIS HAND in a storm; but in the calm he is guilty of all the good he does not do.”

—Le Siècle de Louis XIV, ch. VI: "État de la France jusqu'à la mort du cardinal Mazarin en 1661" (1752)

—=—

Is the reader really surprised to learn that the United States is merely a municipal corporation called by the name of Washington, the District of Columbia? Neither a state nor a territory, it is only an imaginary jurisdiction. To be in citizen-ship to such a fictional place is to be absent from and thus foreign to all other places, both Real and in fiction, including the several (private/foreign) States. It is to be merely a ship on the sea of foreign commerce, floating in a sort of permanent vagrancy as temporary residents, as unwitting carpet baggers upon the lands of a foreign, pirating, usurious Private People. The legal creations (citizenships) of the United States only have domain in that imaginary district, as cartoon people of a cartoon realm, sent to entertain their masters as the king's fools in commerce and in idiocy.

In fact, the constitution tells us outright our place in each of the several (private) States, by referring to us as merely “domestic” in our status of residence.

—=—

“...and [the United States] shall protect each of them [the States] against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE.”

—Article 4, Section 4, Clause 2 of the United States constitution

—=—

Here we are left to wonder just what constitutes domestic violence? Just what is a “domestic” anyway and why is it distinguished here as something different than foreign invasion?

DOMESTIC - adjective - [Latin, A HOUSE.] 1. BELONGING TO THE HOUSE, or home; PERTAINING TO ONES PLACE OF RESIDENCE, AND TO THE FAMILY; as domestic concerns; domestic LIFE; domestic DUTIES; domestic affairs; domestic contentions; domestic HAPPINESS; domestic WORSHIP. 2. Remaining much at home; living in retirement; as a domestic man or woman. 3. Living near the habitations of man; TAME; NOT WILD; AS DOMESTIC ANIMALS. 4. PERTAINING TO A NATION CONSIDERED AS A FAMILY, OR TO ONES OWN COUNTRY; INTESTINE; NOT FOREIGN; as domestic troubles; domestic dissensions. 5. MADE IN ONES OWN HOUSE, NATION OR COUNTRY; as domestic manufactures. - noun - ONE WHO LIVES IN THE FAMILY OF ANOTHER, as a chaplain or secretary. Also, A SERVANT OR HIRED LABORER, RESIDING with a FAMILY. (Webs1828)

— = —

To be considered as “domestic” to any nation is to be considered not foreign to that nation. And if one is domestic to any nation, one is certainly a foreigner to any State. One cannot be domestic to both, just as man cannot have two masters. A public citizen-ship of a nation is not a private citizen of any State (People).

In other words, the civil war was a domestic war, where the head (principal) of the household (nation) kicked the shit out of those domestic subjects that sought to leave the very tyranny that, by its Executively (unlawfully) declared civil war, reconquered and forced them into newly revised or “reconstructed” legal state-government constitutions that require unwavering support of the United States constitution without exception. And so yes, the mercenaries in this modern United States military are no different than those fighters of the civil war of their masters, today being only more organized (uniformed) into a protective ordinance of the nation. Soldiers for hire will kill those supposedly equal to themselves in civilian clothing as long as a flattering title such as “domestic terrorist” is placed upon us by that principal government, as the domestics called U.S. citizenships are easily renamed as foreigners called as “enemies” and “terrorists,” including those different-skinned children and infants unable to yet utter such a word of art and war as “terror.”

This is not just some personal exercise of petty name-calling on this author’s account, for the use of the word “mercenary” is merely a self-evident Truth, as a soldier-for-hire’s job description has always been the same. He who prostitutes himself for money cannot be called anything else, especially when one kills another man because of the fictional flag (Arms) he bears. To pretend that killing a man is anything but what it is, as the pretended action of killing not a Creation of God but a creation of some legal state with the flattering titles of “enemy” or “insurgent” are placed upon that man’s person is the greatest delusion. It is the killing of Nature, the extinguishment of a part of Jehovah. It is quite often that the True purveyors of terror, that being almost exclusively legal governments under the law of nations, do so in the name of keeping peace through bloody conquest and cold-blooded murder, even of those millions of unwitting and innocent women and children that stand in the way. And today’s most destructive terrorists under the protection and uniform of the United States military do so while flying bomb-dropping, pilotless drones, the worst kind of brainwashed and un-empathetic cowards controlling a video game joystick and fire button with a three second delay of the carnage they cause in real-time. Ironically, the public have been fooled into believing (loving) another flattering title placed upon those non-domestic terrorists, one that if actually understood would not be used by the propagandists of war. To control the meaning of words is to control the people who use them.

INSURGENT - adjective - [Latin insurgens; in and surgo, to rise.] In opposition to lawful civil or political authority; as insurgent chiefs. - noun - A person who rises in opposition to civil or political authority; one who openly and actively resists the execution of laws. [See Insurrection.] AN INSURGENT DIFFERS FROM A REBEL. THE INSURGENT OPPOSES THE EXECUTION OF A PARTICULAR LAW OR LAWS; THE REBEL ATTEMPTS TO OVERTHROW OR CHANGE THE GOVERNMENT, OR HE REVOLTS AND ATTEMPTS TO PLACE HIS COUNTRY UNDER ANOTHER JURISDICTION. All rebels are insurgents, but all insurgents are not rebels.

— = —

So who were the insurgents of the past?

All Americans against the Crown who fought in the insurgency against it.

All confederates who fought against the United States to attempt to win their freedom, being called as rebels.

All militias that organize in protection of their own State against encroachment by national authorities.

All True followers of christ that oppose any legal law and its execution against themselves and their fellow man.

And most relevant of all, it is the very common people of every country out there that fight against the occupying, murderous forces of the United States and other “allied” national mercenary militaries, including the domestic citizenships of the United States.

The Articles of Confederation were very clear...

“III. The said STATES hereby SEVERALLY ENTER into a firm league of friendship WITH EACH OTHER, for THEIR common defense, the security of THEIR liberties, and THEIR mutual and general welfare, BINDING THEMSELVES TO ASSIST EACH OTHER, against ALL force offered to, or attacks made upon THEM, or any of THEM, on account of religion, SOVEREIGNTY, TRADE, or ANY other pretense whatever...”

“VI... NO TWO OR MORE STATES SHALL ENTER INTO ANY TREATY, CONFEDERATION OR ALLIANCE WHATEVER BETWEEN THEM, without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.”

— = —

Like the constitution, this agreement of friendship was between only the private (several) States, and offers no friendship or negative protection to the common citizen-ship. Quite the opposite, it is an agreement to protect these Private People (States) from the commercially oriented public they enslave and indenture. And when some of those States formed their own “confederacy” in a several (private) conspiracy with each other and without permission of “Congress assembled,” it was the “duty” of the “United States” to re-conquer (or purchase) those States back into the Union.

For those house-slaves out there that believe in (love) the “constitution,” yes indeed, this military action is then and is today certainly “constitutional” in every way, shape, and form. This is because no religious or moral law exists by or under that constitution. God is absent from these “People,” as proven not by their words but by their actions. That is to say that anything the “United States” does to all but the private State citizens that created it is quite constitutional, for the constitution only protects those who reserve all rights from its Caesar, from the district (distress, distraint, and seizure) of the nation. The actions of the seat of government, the corporation called the United States, are not bound by the constitution. It is not alive. It is a fictional, artificial person. Its law is the law of nations, not the scriptures, and not the constitution. It is a creation of and under Congress, not of the constitution. As a nation, the command given by Lincoln by Executive Order to conquer (re-purchase) that domestic hoard of the illiterate masses of each “confederate” state was and still is a requirement of this nation’s (union of State’s) chartered compact. U.S. citizenships are today as then merely alien friends that may be declared instantly as the alien enemy of the nation. Our commercial presence in the States is only allowed though our good standing in the United States jurisdiction, our strawman, which can be severed at any time. And trust me, your convenient little pocket constitution will not stop a bullet from a prostituting soldier’s rented mercenary gun. That is, unless you are a private citizen of the private State (People); unless you carry the artificial, legally acquired white stone of a private State citizen.

— = —

“He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; TO HIM THAT OVERCOMETH will I give to eat of the hidden manna, AND WILL GIVE HIM A WHITE STONE, AND IN THE STONE A NEW NAME WRITTEN, WHICH NO MAN KNOWETH SAVING HE THAT RECEIVETH IT.”

—Revelation 2:17, KJB

— = —

This figurative, parabolic teaching is not so mysterious as its prima facie appearance. For “in the ancient courts of justice the accused were condemned by black pebbles (stones) and the acquitted by white,” according to Strong’s definition of stone as revealed above (as #G5586 - psēphos). To carry the white stone of government is not at all the same thing as carrying such a righteous burden and duty of Natural Law responsibility from God. To God is owed a vow (promise) of duty and honor, while to the State is owed fealty and an oath to some fictional title of liege-lord (landlord). And so this notion of the carrying of the white stone of innocence or of one not condemned (blackened/attainted), as one not a goyim and subject of the false law of any condem-NATION and who carries the first and only the first christian name of God, is used here (scripturally) as a parabolic symbol of he that has overcome the fiction and lives only to serve Jehovah. But the keepers of the secret hide this Truth from us under the rose, recreating their own status (stone) in form without substance, as the “sovereignty” of private landholders acting in totally against God’s Word. This artificial white stone protects these private landholders from the sanctions (punishments) of law, with very few exceptions (felony, treason, etc.). Of course that multitude of marks and signs stemming from the origin of the matrix of a legal birth certificate, and from it to the voluntary confirmation and acquiring of the driver’s license and Social Security number and other identifying symbols, signs, marks, and benefits that now in biometrical form stem from that matrix; these are all black stones upon our soul. We are black-balled from the eliteness of the “sovereignty” and their union. We are birthed into their district and governed by their commercial law of Rome. They are what differentiate and judge us at birth as unspiritual, domestic beasts of burden not worthy of saving. And yet these are the very black stones we have been taught from birth and in public to signify as our delusional state “free-dom” (franchise under another’s dominion) in our legal citizen-ships. What a laughable, cosmic joke on us. For we actually believe we will be “saved” by the legal fiction and judgement over our false identity of the state, and that those mercilessly unconscious mercenaries of the militarized nation will bow down to our un-sovereign, blackened petition of pretended legal authority. We are a colony of fools.

The United States, my friends, is our surrogate family. Like it or not we are lost to the state, treasure found by the induced ignorance of our lineal ascendancy. We are the descendants of fools; men educated to be slaves and to abandon their own children to the sea with every generation, throwing us overboard to be found as flotsam and jetsam with no known ownership (as infants of unknown parentage). We are its children, and its children are merely domestics resident in other's homes.

How do we know this?

If the United States will protect the private (several) foreign States (as "We, the People") from domestic threats, then the domestics referred to can only be of the United States' family. In other words, the domestics of each several State are all the United States citizenships residing there, for their domicile is only of the United States district. And so we can see that the private States created and amended the constitution not only to allow domestic servants to legally exist as citizenships in this debtor's hell, but also to ensure and protect those landholders from being harmed by us if we ever wake the hell up. In short, the constitution only protects the private People that are the citizens of each private State, for they are the creators of our persons, and only they have reserved their unalienable rights from the United States. Citizenships of the United States are under lien. We are only ever domestics in whichever of the several States we reside in (without domicile).

Remember not to take these terms literally, only figuratively in their legal meaning and false authority. For a person is not of Reality, and so its domicile and its residence is not Reality either. And the home or house, as a legal fiction representing the nation, is of course also only a figurative word of legal description.

To the States, we are domestic servants temporarily residing and working within their home.

DOMESTICS - THOSE WHO RESIDE IN THE SAME HOUSE WITH THE MASTER THEY SERVE.

The term does not extend to workmen or laborers employed out of doors. The Act of Congress of April 30, 1790, s. 25, uses the word domestic in this sense. 2. Formerly, this word was used to designate THOSE WHO RESIDED IN THE HOUSE OF ANOTHER, HOWEVER EXALTED THEIR STATION, AND WHO PERFORMED SERVICES FOR HIM. Voltaire, in writing to the French queen (in 1748, says) "Deign to consider, madam, that I AM ONE OF THE DOMESTICS OF THE KING, and consequently yours, lily companions, the gentlemen of the king." 3. Librarians, secretaries, and persons in such honorable employments, would not probably be considered domestics, although they might reside in the house of their respective employers. 4. Pothier, to point out the distinction between a domestic and a servant, gives the following example: A literary man who lives and lodges with you, solely to be your companion, that you may profit by his conversation and learning, is your domestic; FOR ALL WHO LIVE IN THE SAME HOUSE and eat at the same table with the owner of the house, are his domestics, but they are not servants. On the contrary, your Valet de, chambre, TO WHOM YOU PAY WAGES, AND WHO SLEEPS OUT OF YOUR HOUSE, is not, properly speaking, your domestic, but your servant. Vide Operative; Servant. (Bouv1856)

— — —

And so we can see that a domestic is one who lives in another's house (estate), not by wage but by conversation and education. In other words, a domestic is a resident. But the domicile of any resident of any of these private, several States (houses/families) is always first made into a United States citizen-ship, be it a permanent or temporary one. No foreigner resides in any state or attends any college in any state without establishing first a temporary United States domicile. The States created the United States for this purpose, so that all foreign residents (which is every and all United States citizen-ships no matter how "exalted their station" may be in their names, flattering titles, and public statuses) are considered as alien friends, and in the event of domestic disturbances or violence, can then be considered as alien enemies to be federally removed or defeated (conquered) from those private estates like cattle. It's not so dissimilar to being removed from a bar for fighting after a night of obscene drunkenness, for the bar is the private house of the proprietor, and the customer is only a temporary resident (bar fly) occupying a station (bar stool) and conducting some commerce there (playing pool, conversing with others, drinking, and perhaps trying to get meaninglessly laid in adultery). The friend of the bar becomes the enemy of the bar (corporation) when domestic violence breaks out and is forcibly removed by his master's police officer (sheriff) or by the local security guards there at the bar (municipal mercenary agents for hire under color of lesser police badges).

Ultimately, we must know our place. We must know where our domicile is. If it is not under God (under God's Sovereign Law) then we can only be under that of another's dominion. Remember, a citizen of the United States domicile is not a citizen of any State (domicile), and thus can only be a resident in any other state or country compared to the United States. His home never changes, for the created persona (status) of any citizen may only ever call its creator as home (domicile).

Being foreign and resident in any private State is similar to acting a part on a stage, a play-thing to be used and abused by the People who produce, host, and direct us in voluntary servitude.

ACTOR SEQUITUR FORUM REI - According as rei is intended as the genitive of res, a thing, or reus, a defendant, this phrase means: The plaintiff follows the forum of the property in suit, or the forum of the defendant's residence. (Black4)

DOMICIL - The place where a person has FIXED his ordinary dwelling, without a present intention of removal. The law of domicil is of great importance in those countries where the maxim "actor sequitur forum rei" is applied to the full extent. 2. A MAN CANNOT BE WITHOUT A DOMICIL, for he is not supposed to have abandoned his last domicil UNTIL HE HAS ACQUIRED A NEW ONE. Though by the Roman law a man might abandon his domicil, and, until he acquired a new one, he was without a domicil. By fixing his residence at two different places a man may have two domicils at one and the same time; as, for example, if a foreigner, coming to this country, should establish two houses, one in New York and the, other in New Orleans, and pass one-half of the year in each; he would, for most purposes, have two domicils. But it is to be observed that circumstances which might be held sufficient to establish a commercial domicil in time of war, and a matrimonial, or forensic or political domicil in time of peace, MIGHT NOT BE SUCH AS WOULD ESTABLISH A PRINCIPAL OR TESTAMENTARY DOMICIL, for there is a wide difference in applying the law of domicil TO CONTRACTS AND TO WILLS. 3. There are three kinds of domicils, namely: 1. THE DOMICIL OF ORIGIN. domicilium originis vel naturale. 2. THE DOMICIL BY OPERATION OF LAW, OR NECESSARY DOMICIL. 3. DOMICIL OF CHOICE. 4. - §1. By domicil of origin is understood THE HOME OF A MAN'S PARENTS. NOT THE PLACE WHERE, THE PARENTS BEING ON A VISIT OR JOURNEY, A CHILD HAPPENS TO BE BORN. DOMICIL OF ORIGIN IS TO BE DISTINGUISHED FROM THE ACCIDENTAL PLACE OF BIRTH. 5. - §2. There are two classes of persons who acquire domicil by operation of law. 1st. THOSE WHO ARE UNDER THE CONTROL OF ANOTHER, and to whom the law gives the domicil of another. Among these are, 1. The wife. 2. The minor. 3. The lunatic. 2d. Those on whom the state affixes a domicil. Among this class are found, 1. THE OFFICER. 2. THE PRISONER. 6. - 1st. Among those who, being under the control of another, acquire such person's domicil, are, 1. The wife. THE WIFE TAKES THE DOMICIL OF HER HUSBAND, and the widow retains it, unless she voluntarily change it, or unless, she marry a second time, when she takes the domicil of the second husband. A party may have two domicils, the one actual, the other legal; the husband's actual and the wife's legal domicil, are, prima facie, one. THE DOMICIL OF THE MINOR IS THAT OF THE FATHER, OR IN CASE OF HIS DEATH, OF THE MOTHER. The domicil of a lunatic is regulated by the same principles which operated in cases of minors the domicil of such a person may be changed by the direction, or with the assent of the guardian, express or implied. 7. The law affixes a domicil. 1. Public officers, such as the president of the United States, the secretaries and such other officers WHOSE PUBLIC DUTIES REQUIRE A TEMPORARY RESIDENCE AT THE CAPITAL, RETAIN THEIR DOMICILS. Ambassadors preserve the domicils which they have in their respective countries, and this privilege extends to the ambassador's family. Officers, soldiers, and marines, in the service of the United States (as in deployment and station in foreign countries), do not lose their domicils while thus employed. 2nd. A prisoner does not acquire a domicil where the prison is, nor lose his old. 8. The domicil of origin, which has already been explained, REMAINS UNTIL ANOTHER HAS BEEN ACQUIRED. In order to change such domicil; there must be an actual removal with an intention to reside in the place to which the party removes. A mere intention to remove, unless such intention is carried into effect, is not sufficient. When he changes it, he acquires a domicil in the place of his new residence, and loses his original domicil. But upon a return with an intention to reside, his original domicil is restored... (Bouv1856)

— = —

Do not let these words confuse. Do not cause the fictions to be set in some perceived Reality, as if a word describing a fiction exists as some permanent certainty. Only Nature is certain, only God's Creation. All else is temporary regardless of the artful definitions of these legal words.

To be clear, when we see in law that a "14th amendment citizen" is both a citizen of the United States and a citizen of the state he resides in, this is only referential to the government of the legal, commercial realm of that state, meaning that the U.S. citizenship (foreigner) is subject first to the federal United States law of its domicile and then and only then to the state government law of its residence. In other words, the U.S. citizenship is "protected" from the commercial law of the state, but is therefore also not a party to the "republic" that is that private State. Remember that the person is a thing, not a man. But the state government is only a legal creation of the People that make up the legal state, and so the state government serves only a public, commercial function. To be a citizen of any fictional government is to be subject to its creator. And so the use of the United States status in public personhood is, under the 14th amendment, subject to the will of the private People of each of the several States both federally and locally. This is not a good thing. Private creates public, and so public persons are always subject and in fealty to private ones. A thing public cannot exist unless the private creates it. Public never rules private, for the creator always controls, just as man can never actually rule over Nature, for all of Existence is a Creation of God. Man's claim of sovereignty over other men (over God's Creation of man) is thus only ever false, for man is the creator of nothing Real or Original (of Source). A slave cannot control its master. Man must be artificially remade into man's image, into the fictional (evil) line of the seed of Adam's fall, and he must be fooled into believing this is so through the public-mindedness of state religion and through an education only in dog-Latin and in Romanized things.

ABSENT - Being away from; at a distance from; not in company with... (Black4)

FOREIGN - Belonging to another nation or country; BELONGING OR ATTACHED TO ANOTHER JURISDICTION; made, done, or RENDERED IN ANOTHER STATE OR JURISDICTION; SUBJECT to another jurisdiction; OPERATING or SOLVABLE in another territory; EXTRINSIC; outside; extraordinary. NONRESIDENT. (reprinted from chapter 1) (Black2)

SOLVABLE - adjective - 1. That may be SOLVED, resolved or explained. 2. That can be PAID. (Webs1828)

— = —

It is interesting to note both scripturally and legally that anything which is rendered by Caesar (seizure of a district) is also that which is solvable by Caesar. In other words, a debtor's debt can be paid by rendering back to Caesar what is Caesar's, as the scriptures declare. For we would only be rendering back what we borrowed in commerce, as that fictional status of person-hood. For only then would the debt be in finality performed (paid by performance).

You see, D.C. is only an i-magi-nation and creation of congress, and so it is subservient to its legal creator. Therefore any persons (status) created by it (like all U.S. citizen-ships) are also subservient to congress. But what is congress? It is merely a representation of the sovereign People, an agency of that principal sovereignty. To be a subject (in citizenship) under congress is to be subject to the People who created congress, for congress is only the agent of those sovereign States (People) and their posterity. Obviously these sovereign People of each State are not citizens of their own created district or under its subjection. A master is never also his own subject (slave), nor an agent his own principal. They do not distrust themselves, only districting their civilized, bastardized, cheated, and adopted savages in piracy. A doctor cannot also be his own patient. No, really. This is an important maxim of law! For the agent is not merely acting on behalf of the principal, all agents exist only as a subjective and connected part of the principal, just as all corporations using the name “McDonald’s” are the agents of that principal corporation, acting in and as a franchise of that principal’s name, allowed to operate in commerce freely (in franchise) independently of the principal but only under that principal’s rules and regulations, and ultimately only to benefit and profit the principal. The franchise is in dependence of its principal. The principal can end this contractual relationship of any of its franchise agents at any time. Each McDonald’s franchise only exists because it is part of its principal acting in agency. Just as an arm is part of the body while it acts in agency of the body, just as employees are only offices created by its employer, so too are the citizens of the United States only a tiny but “equal” body part and employee of that principal body politic. We must separate the citizen from the man, never confusing the person (status) of the man with the man himself. The man belongs only to God, while the citizen-ship (person) belongs to the state or other principal holder. Man is not human, for that which is human is what belongs to man. It is only a con of an imaginary legal fusion of these two statuses that creates life in that legal persona.

And here is where the whole thing gets convoluted. Pay close attention...

As a citizen-ship, the man is the agent acting in and under the person (status) of the principal. The agent (man) is the master of the ship (person), but the government is the principal (master) of the agent (man). In this way, the shipmaster is only acting in the agency of his principal, and so is subservient to it like an employee to an employer. The person (status) is subject to its master’s (principal government’s) law, even as that person (subject) is used by its ship-master (man) via agency under the doctrine of master and servant (volunteerism), but the person (ship) can only be operated by the master (man) according to the will and set laws of the principal government (mind controller). The ship-master (man as operator of the citizen-ship in agency), strangely enough, is thus only ever the voluntary slave of his principal, for his ship belongs to another master. Like a hired captain placed upon a ship to rule the crew, the man is only a hireling in the employment (use) of his master’s ship, and so the captain is the ship-master acting only in the agency of his principal (government), which is the actual owner of the ship (person). He is a middle manager. A citizen-ship is, at best, only a house-slave; the slave that is perhaps master over some other slaves, but only carries the status of slave himself. Shit, they say, flows downhill. And so every slave can be the hierarchical, legal master of another. But all slaves are only offices held in agency of a principal despite their status of “master.” This is the subtle difference between the doctrines of principal and agent and that of master and servant. While a principal is always a master, a master is not necessarily a principal. To be master of a servant that is a person (property) of another is only to act in the agency of the principal owner of that property. Thus the principal owns the legal title of master, for the master is only an office created by the principal to control its subject (person). Thus the master may call the man as a “man,” which generally in legal terms means slave. We are voluntarily acting as the entitled masters of another’s servant (person). So we may only act according to our own master’s law under its principal authority. And this is why citizenships (public persons) are labeled as subjects (servants) of government (the principal and head master), which is in actuality only the agent of the sovereign People of the States. And so even as U.S. citizenships (persons) are merely slaves of a master (man acting in franchise), and the ship-master (man) is merely agent of a principal (government), our principal (government) is also only the principal agent (house-slave) of that sovereign People (the several States in compact), which is the creator of that sovereign legal government (principal) we pledge oath to. Pledging oath to the agent of the principal is the same as pledging oath to the principal. Government is only the subject of its own master (congress); which is the agent of its own principal (the People); standing only as a legal creation of its own gods (We, the People in blood consideration).

This is the fall of man into fiction, the Genesis and Revelation of the big lie. This is what the Bible is trying to tell you to exit (exodus) despite its English Romanization and fantastical history.

—=—

“One cannot be agent and patient, in the same matter.”

—Idem agens et patiens esse non potest. 10 Jenk. Cent. 40. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“The principal part of everything is the BEGINNING.”

—Cujusque rei potissima pars principium est. Dig. 1, 2, 1; 10 Co. 49. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“That which is the principal part of a thing IS THE THING ITSELF.”

—Unumquodque est id quod est principalius in ipso. Hob. 123. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“If the principal be taken away, the adjunct (agent) is also taken away.”

—Sublato principali tollitur adjunctum. Co. Litt. 389. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“Where there is no principal there is no accessory.”

—Ubi non est principalis non potest esse accessorius. 4 co. 43. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“An accessory (agent) follows the nature of his principal.”

—Accessorius sequit naturam sui principalis. 3 Co. 2 Inst. 349. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

“The accessory (agent) does not lead, but follow its principal.”

—Accessorium non ducit sed sequitur suum principale. Co. Litt 152. (BouvMaxim)

—=—

We cannot be called as subjects under law and also be foolish enough to believe that we are sovereigns. We cannot be called public and also be dumb enough to believe that anything we do is in private. And we certainly cannot be registered agents for service of process and be brain-dead enough to believe we are at the same time a principal (above the law). Unless, that is, we are the patients of the doctors and professors of public education.

I must admit that when I read most of these maxims, definitions, and court opinions for the first time I was in a state of shock and denial before it became self-evident, as that procession of the acceptance of truth often bears itself in the dumbed-down humanized mind. And so I would Naturally expect that most readers are likely experiencing the same sort of cognitive dissonance as I did, that illogical disbelief that such a horrific system of legal trickery could be sitting right under our noses and spelled out so openly in these legal texts. But eventually I got over my egotistic self, that is, my artificial public impersonation of self. I overcame my public education.

And so perhaps this next definition, as the opinion of the court (the saying of the law), will explain better than I can the fact that all legal marriages between public persons are fraudulent, illegitimate, and merely acts of legalized adultery against God designed only with the intent to cause the replication and issue of a perpetual bloodless posterity of abandoned bastards, which in turn can legally under the law of the sea be found by the district in distress and dstraint and thus made into wards of the state through piracy. Imagine a judge telling you this opinion straight to your face, that the law opinionated your marriage contract as the following, which caused your child to fictionally be considered as a bastard in the eyes of the state and that the “child” was never your “legal” property in any way, again, only according to man’s law:

COHABITING IN STATE OF ADULTERY OR FORNICATION - Living together AS HUSBAND AND WIFE. Proof must establish at least one act of sexual INTERCOURSE, or facts from which such act may reasonably be inferred. (Martin v. State, 89 Ind. App. 107, 165 N.E. 763. Warner v. State, 202 Ind. 479, 175 N.E. 661, 663, 74 A.L.R. 1357.) (Black4)

— = —

Read that again, wont you?

What we consider as legal marriage is considered by the state as adultery. Make no mistake about it. To reign over us we must be made to believe what is not True. It’s real simple, if legal marriage was a legitimate spiritual joining under God then we wouldn’t need a legal state license to do it. Only an illicit union needs approval and license by the church and state. Marriage is adultery, and only illegitimate things may be issued (birthed) from illegitimate unions. It’s all fiction. But the falsity of the marriage causes the actions and product (children) of the parties in contract to be just as illegitimate as that legal marriage is. This is the fall of man into fiction. Remember, what is Reality and what is the trickery of these cheaters at law are always opposed to each other. Stop believing legalism has anything to do with Reality, Nature, or God. It is a design against Reality and Nature as a system of chattel slavery. And its all done through the magic spellings of artful terms, through the inducement of volunteerism under the doctrine of master and servant, and by the criminal sentencing of us all by our crime of birth. The devil must always have a contract to interfere in our lives. All contracts are satanic, being adversarial to truth, trust, charity, love, responsibility, and friendship.

VOLENS - Latin. WILLING. He is said to be willing WHO EITHER EXPRESSLY CONSENTS OR TACITLY MAKES NO OPPOSITION. (Black4)

— = —

Remember that the word “child” and “adult” is just a legal term that means only some detached legal person (status) of any actual man, and only exists in the jurisdiction of the creator of that person (child). A legal child is not Real. It’s just a noun (name). The actual Life of the child is not the person of the child. The legal id-entity is not the man. And so what belongs to the state is your child’s persona, status, and property assigned to it by the state as a recreated set of vital statistics registered as a son of the nation. You did not really abandon your child to the state, you only gave information that was used to create a legal entity called a legal “child,” which is used against you in every way imaginable through word-magic and trickery. And you are not in Reality cohabiting in a state of adultery, only your fictional persona of the state is, for it doesn’t exist in Nature and is certainly not a Creation of Jehovah. That fiction can never be legitimate in the eyes of God, and the state acting as its own god will never make you or your child equal in sovereignty to itself or its private holders. You see, it’s all fiction, especially the very state in question. And its power over you is only as powerful as your belief (love) in its own re-creation of you and your child’s artificial status. For the child’s status follows the parent’s. It’s just a pirate cove. It’s a professional, well-oiled machine whose only goal is as a kidnapping racket that ensures the escheated lands (wealth) remain in the hands of the corrupt few, and that the multitude of goyim never find out who or what they really are.

— = —

“He who consents CANNOT RECEIVE AN INJURY.”

— VOLENTI NON FIT INJURIA. Broom, Max. 268, 269, 271, 395; Shelf. Mar. & Div. 449; Poole v. Lutz

— = —

We are fooled into believing that a legal contract, a trick of the devilmasters of the magi, is an act of love. What we believe to be a bond and promise (vow) to God in Lawful marriage is actually only a fictional contract of word magic between fictional persons (legal statuses) that creates a new legal incorporation of surnames. And the product, the issue from this illegitimate union is the written form of a new fictional entity as in-formed and thus found as a legal persona thus written, certified, and registered into a legal existence upon that commercial birth; lost souls condemned to a life of fiction without actual heirship or blood inheritance available to the future products (children) of our own legal (adulterous) unions and labor.

Ah... the sin-tax of legalese.

WRITING - noun - 1. The ACT or ART of FORMING LETTERS AND CHARACTERS, on paper, wood, stone or other material, for the purpose of RECORDING THE IDEAS WHICH CHARACTERS AND THE WORDS EXPRESS, or of communicating them to others BY VISIBLE SIGNS. We hardly know which to admire most, the ingenuity or the utility of the ART of writing. 2. Any thing written or expressed in letters; hence, any legal instrument, as a DEED, a RECEIPT, a BOND, an AGREEMENT, etc. 3. A book; any written composition; A PAMPHLET; as the writings of Addison. 4. AN INSCRIPTION, John 19:19. 5. Writings, plural CONVEYANCES OF LANDS; DEEDS; or any official papers. (Webs1828)

INSCRIPTION - noun - [Latin inscriptio. See Inscribe.] 1. Something written or engraved TO COMMUNICATE KNOWLEDGE TO AFTER AGES; ANY CHARACTER, WORD, LINE OR SENTENCE WRITTEN OR ENGRAVED ON A SOLID SUBSTANCE FOR DURATION; as inscriptions on monuments, called epitaphs, on pillars, etc. We do not call by this name writings on paper or parchment. 2. A TITLE. 3. An address or consignment of a book to a person, as A MARK OF RESPECT, or AN INVITATION OF PATRONAGE. It is less formal than a dedication. (Webs1828)

INSCRIPTION - In Evidence. Anything written or engraved upon a metallic or other solid substance, intended for great durability; as upon a tombstone, pillar, tablet, medal, ring, etc. In Civil law. An engagement which a person who makes a solemn accusation of a crime against another enters into that he will suffer the same punishment, if he has accused the other falsely, which would have been inflicted upon him had he been guilty. In Modern Civil law. THE ENTRY OF A MORTGAGE, LIEN, OR OTHER DOCUMENT AT LARGE IN A BOOK OF PUBLIC RECORDS; corresponding to "RECORDING" or "REGISTRATION." (Black4)

INSCRIPTIONES - The name given by the old English law TO ANY WRITTEN INSTRUMENT BY WHICH ANYTHING WAS GRANTED. (Black4)

INSCRIBE - verb transitive - [Latin inscribo; in and scribo, to write, Eng. to scrape. See Scribe.] 1. To write on; to engrave on for perpetuity or duration; as, to inscribe a line or verse on a monument, on a column or pillar. 2. TO IMPRINT ON; AS, TO INSCRIBE ANY THING ON THE MIND OR MEMORY. 3. To assign or address to; to comment to by a short address, less formal than a dedication; as, to inscribe an ode or a book to a prince. 4. TO MARK WITH LETTERS, CHARACTERS OR WORDS; AS, TO INSCRIBE A STONE WITH A NAME. 5. To draw a figure within another, so that all the angles of the figure inscribed touch the angles, sides or planes of the other figure. (Webs1828)

SCRIBE - noun - [Latin scriba, from scribo, TO WRITE; formed probably on the root of GRAVE, scrape, scrub. The first writing was probably engraving on wood or stone.] 1. In a general sense, a writer. Hence, 2. A notary; A PUBLIC WRITER. 3. In ecclesiastical meetings and associations in America, a secretary or clerk; ONE WHO RECORDS the transactions of an ecclesiastical body. 4. In Scripture and the Jewish history, A CLERK OR SECRETARY TO THE KING. Seraiah was scribe to king David. 2 Samuel 8:17. 5. An officer who enrolled or kept the rolls of the army, and called over the names and reviewed them. 2 Chronicles 24:11. 2 Kings 25:19. 6. A WRITER AND A DOCTOR OF THE LAW; a man of learning; one skilled in the law; one who read and explained the law to the people. Ezra 8:1. - verb transitive - TO MARK by a model or rule; TO MARK so as to fit one piece to another; a term used by carpenters and joiners. (Webs1828)

— = —

If there is one thing the author of this writing is not, it is that of a scribe. I am the anti-scribe, the anti-pharisee, the anti-attorney, the anti-agent, the anti-dummy. I seek civil death to all strawmen, an end to all authority of fiction. I seek the release of men from these scribe's legal writings of law by releasing man's mind from believing (loving the idea that) he must act in its fictional persona; its slave. This work is only dedicated to that end.

As we enter this new age of mass delusion, as that of a global United Nations, which some may call the end times (end of an age), and as the global fictionalization of all men into a registered, voluntary global citizenship (slavery) is almost complete in its inscription of that artful world of the legalization of all things, the pen is truly destroying any and all Natural consideration of all persons, places, and things. Today, however, the pen is but a digital curser leaving the most destructive of artificial code, cursing man through its fictional databases and systems in total domination of all Natural considerations.

The world is being utterly Romanized through technology (art).

— = —

“United Nations Group of Experts on Geographical Names (UNGEGN) is a permanent body of United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC). UNGEGN is one of the seven expert bodies of ECOSOC.

“Some of the main goals of UNGEGN are to encourage national and international geographical NAMES STANDARDIZATION, to promote the international dissemination of NATIONALLY STANDARDIZED GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES INFORMATION and TO ADOPT SINGLE ROMANIZATION SYSTEMS. UNGEGN's GOAL FOR EVERY COUNTRY is to decide on its own nationally standardized names through the creation of NATIONAL NAMES AUTHORITIES or recognized ADMINISTRATIVE processes.”

—Excerpt from: ‘Session of the East Central and South-East Europe Division of the United Nations Group of Experts on Geographical Names,’ United Nations.

—=—

“Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which SHALL BE DIVERSE FROM ALL KINGDOMS, AND SHALL DEVOUR THE WHOLE EARTH, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.”

—Daniel 7:23, KJB

—=—

“The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) is moving forward with its plans to use biometric technology TO IDENTIFY AND TRACK REFUGEES... The UNHCR will use Accenture’s Biometric Identity Management System (BIMS) for the endeavor. BIMS can be used to collect facial, iris, and fingerprint biometric data, and will also be used to provide many refugees with THEIR ONLY FORM OF OFFICIAL DOCUMENTATION. The system will work in conjunction with Accenture’s UNIQUE IDENTITY SERVICE PLATFORM (UISP) TO SEND THIS INFORMATION BACK TO A CENTRAL DATABASE IN GENEVA, allowing UNHCR offices ALL OVER THE WORLD to effectively coordinate with the central UNHCR authority in tracking refugees.”

—Excerpt from an article entitled ‘UN Agency Selects Accenture for Refugee Biometrics Project,’ May 19, 2015 at the ‘Find Biometrics Global Identity Management’ website

—=—

All men must be given a unique id-entity marker, and this satanic system is best accomplished through biological tracking and technology. We must understand that the ability to be identified in a unique capacity is the very foundation of legal tyranny, of that strawman system. Without individually verified proof of artificial existence, without the name, number, and other identifying marks and signs, the negative Being cannot be turned to and put under the positive law. Man’s law may apply to that which it can prove attachment to, which is only the legalized person of man, not man himself. The surety bond must be established and linked to every unique individual. The ubiquitous Nature of all living things in their negative substance of Being (in self-evidence and verbosity) under God must receive the mark of the name (noun), which establishes his bond and surety to the legal fiction persona, and so the man in surety who was formally ubiquitous now finds himself trapped within legal borders and jurisdictions that without his legal status do not exist to him. For they are against his Nature, Existing nowhere in Nature. Man must be plucked out of the entirety and unlimited Realm of God's Nature of Existence and pretended to be stuck in some fictional legal jurisdiction of some nation that binds his strawman.

UBIQUITY - noun - [Latin ubique, every where.] EXISTENCE IN ALL PLACES OR EVERY WHERE AT THE SAME TIME; omnipresence. The ubiquity of God is not disputed by those who admit his existence. (Webs1828)

—=—

What the common, public people of the United States and of all other nations have never realized is that every single one of us bastards is a refugee. This self-evident Truth is easy to comprehend with what we have learned thus far, but let us be ever more clear. Like any other refugee in the world, we have nowhere to retreat to, no land and no castle of our own except that of our protectors in security via government license as permission to legally intrude in a public capacity. We are in constant trespass upon another's land holdings. We are at best tenants under contract, protected in our usufruct only by that same law created by the agencies of those who hold those lands in their own principality. It is their government and we use their government's strawmen (status) to gain privileges of use only. A refugee cannot exist unless he is a burden upon some other place for which the refugee seeks protective refuge, and the United States is foreign to all the States (People and their private lands). A True man of God in negative Existence is no refugee, for a man of God would seek no shelter or dependence upon any government or take upon his God-given name any legal fiction surname, and he would certainly never believe (love) that such an artificial person of some government could protect and harm anything but itself from its own devilish designs. Only a man who accepts the mark, name, and number brand of a nation is a refugee, a dependent, a seeker of shelter and safety. And the United Nations is the ultimate false representation of all worldly principalities, the "fourth kingdom" that seeks to mark the entire population of the world by 2030.

—=—

World Bank, Accenture Call for Universal ID September 29, 2015

"In a new report issued in collaboration with Accenture, the World Bank is CALLING ON GOVERNMENTS TO WORK TOGETHER TO IMPLEMENT STANDARDIZED, COST-EFFECTIVE IDENTITY MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS. A report synopsis notes that about 1.8 billion adults around the world currently lack any kind of official documentation. THAT CAN EXCLUDE THOSE INDIVIDUALS FROM ACCESS TO ESSENTIAL SERVICES, and can also cause serious difficulties when it comes to trans-border identification... The (biometric) ID cards are important for helping to ENSURE that refugees can have access to services, and for KEEPING TRACK of refugee populations. Moreover, the nature of the deployments has required an economically feasible solution, and has demonstrated that reliable, biometric ID cards can affordably be used on a large scale. IT OFFERS HOPE FOR THE UN's SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOAL OF GETTING LEGAL ID INTO THE HANDS OF EVERYONE IN THE WORLD BY THE YEAR 2030 with its Identification for Development (ID4D) initiative.”

—Excerpt from an article entitled ‘World Bank, Accenture Call for Universal ID,’ September 29, 2015, at the ‘Find Biometrics Global Identity Management’ website

—=—

To say that this part of history is Biblical is an understatement. Technology (art) is now, for the first time, able to be utilized to cause this global biometric slave system of mammon to exist in that legal realm. In other words, we are incrementally being plugged in to an international legal matrix, the joining of Reality with fiction, biology with law. We are currently witnessing this self-fulfilling prophecy as we live and breathe, the onset of a new world order (new age order). Whatever your opinion of the Bible, its warnings and predictive parables cannot be denied. And whatever your opinion of The Matrix movie, its fantastic portrayal of a biometric hell of virtual reality is already upon us, being implemented and connected at an incrementally alarming rate. But change necessarily happens slowly, so that each new piece of the technology of these devil’s art is accepted and impressed upon our children, whom in consequence cannot imagine life without the artifice of their masters.

—=—

“And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, THAT THEY SHOULD BELIEVE A LIE: That they all might be damned WHO BELIEVED NOT THE TRUTH, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.”

—2 Thessalonians 2: 11-12, KJB

—=—

“And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that NO MAN MIGHT BUY OR SELL, save he that had the MARK, or the NAME of the beast, or the NUMBER of his NAME.”

—Revelation 13: 16-17, KJB

—=—

This overused, worn-out part of the book of Revelation (knowledge disclosure) is often taken literally, as if it will be quite obvious that it is happening, as if some microchip or other thing will be used, and as if some single man will be that described “anti-christ” beast. But remember, all men are capable of being beasts (animalistic, soulless hu-mans), and the Bible states clearly that there will be many (the multitude) who will be deceived and will therefore act in the capacity of antichrist. The sign of that beast-hood is citizen-ship unto the many nations. A beast is merely a goy (slave) who has taken the name and social security number of that nations name and property, accepting its legal delusion and acknowledging its nativity, being born under its sign and brand.

Here we can already see this biometric mark of identity being used worldwide to limit just who is allowed to receive “essential services” from government, including food and water:

—=—

Subsidized Food Shops in Delhi to Have Biometric Authentication by Next May

November 23, 2015

“India’s government is planning to bring biometric authentication TO ITS FOOD SUBSIDY SYSTEM, and Delhi, the nation’s capital, should have it in place next spring... India’s government distributes its food subsidies through what it calls “fair price shops,” via its PUBLIC Distribution System. In Delhi alone, there are about 2,300 fair price shops catering to many thousands of PDS CARDHOLDERS WITH ACCESS TO SUBSIDIZED FOOD UNDER VARIOUS SCHEMES... India’s Minister of State FOR FOOD AND CIVIL SUPPLIES, Dinesh Gundu Rao, announced plans back in October to implement biometric authentication in the country’s fair price shops, ensuring that individuals (public persons) and THEIR SUBSIDY ENTITLEMENTS could be accurately verified. The plan was to link identification to citizens’ Aadhaar ID cards, WHICH ARE LINKED TO A NATIONAL BIOMETRIC REGISTRY. Now, says Minister Hussain, work on the system has already begun. When it’s in place, it should not only cut down fraud but also help to improve efficiency, WITH SUBSIDIZED FOOD TRANSACTIONS TRACKED DIGITALLY AND IN REAL TIME.”

—Excerpt from an article at the ‘Find Biometrics Global Identity Management’ website, with listed sources as: NDTV, Business Standard, November 23, 2015

—=—

Dependence is only another word for slavery, as in a performance debt.

All slaves must be registered (taxed) to ensure performance.

This is not charity or welfare, this is the perpetual hell of a United Nations gaol, an international debtor’s hell. A prison planet.

It is disturbing enough to comprehend the current dependence by most common people (goy) of all the nations upon these legal governments (principalities), but we are now beginning to see how that dependence will be used as the ultimate weapon to create this beast system via the unique biometric mark of every man.

But there is a more sinister aspect to this notion of the Biblical mark of the beast, for it is appearing in these modern, technological (artful) times not as some visible mark or microchip, but as the unique biological sign of each individual beast! Ironically, incrementally, it is each of our very own individual traits of the uniqueness of Nature’s Design under God that will be used against us like a set of intangible chains. For the mark used by these devils (evil geniuses) is biologically our own self-evidence; the use of the Reality of Nature Itself as the artificial sign of identity for all men. Unconscionably, it is that very Sign of God’s self-evident Wonder and Design, even through such unique traits of un-redacted randomness, that is literally being utilized as the mark of each unique commercial beast of burden in this global human capital management system.

In other words, we bear the mark because we are born with the mark. Our identification, our intention is thus scannable. Our findable (readable) persona (legal status) will determine our ability to buy, sell, and trade as if a biological barcode magically and permanently emanates from our Natural Being. For we cannot escape our very own Nature. Our sins and attachments to the legal artifice will be found whether we like it or not. There is no escape, but by the embracing of Source and the exclusion of fiction. This is the Law of God.

— = —

Vein Recognition

“Vein recognition or vascular biometrics refers to identity management solutions that authenticate BASED ON THE UNIQUE PATTERNS MADE BY A USER’S VEINS. Said veins can be IN A USER’S PALM, in their finger. Though the technology used in most vascular biometrics solutions is still too big to be designed into a smartphone, the modality is carving out a niche in finance and physical access control thanks to a special trait INHERENT in vein patterns. Because vein patterns are located beneath the skin and must have blood flowing through them to be scanned, THEY ARE VIRTUALLY IMPOSSIBLE TO SPOOF.”

—Excerpt from: ‘Vein Recognition’ at the ‘Find Biometrics Global Identity Management’ website

— = —

How ironic that our own uniqueness, our own individuality as part of God’s unfathomable, seemingly random Design of Natural and genetically passed traits are the very thing that will cause us to be legally found and re-cognized by our id-entity.

COG - verb transitive - 1. TO FLATTER; to wheedle; to seduce or draw from, BY ADULATION OR ARTIFICE. 2. To obtrude or thrust in, BY FALSEHOOD OR DECEPTION; AS, TO COG IN A WORD TO SERVE A PURPOSE. To cog a die, to secure it so as to direct its fall; TO FALSIFY; TO CHEAT in playing dice. - verb intransitive - 1. TO DECEIVE; TO CHEAT; TO LIE. 2. To wheedle. - noun - The tooth of a wheel, by which IT DRIVES ANOTHER WHEEL OR BODY. - verb transitive - To fix a cog; to furnish with cogs. (Webs1828)

COGGING - participle present tense - Wheedling; deceiving; CHEATING; INSERTING DECEITFULLY; FIXING COGS. - noun - CHEAT; DECEPTION; FALLACY. (Webs1828)

COGITATE - verb intransitive - To think; to meditate. (Webs1828)

COGITATION - noun - 1. The act of thinking; thought; meditation; contemplation. 2. THOUGHT DIRECTED TO AN OBJECT; PURPOSE. (Webs1828)

COGNITIO - In old English law. The ACKNOWLEDGMENT of a FINE; THE CERTIFICATE OF SUCH ACKNOWLEDGMENT. In the Roman law. The judicial examination or hearing of a CAUSE. (Black4)

COGNOVIT - Defendant has CONFESSED judgment and justice of claim. WRITTEN AUTHORITY OF DEBTOR AND HIS DIRECTION FOR ENTRY OF JUDGMENT AGAINST HIM. (Black4)

COGNOMINAL - adjective - 1. Pertaining to a SURNAME. 2. HAVING THE SAME NAME. (Webs1828)

COGNOMINATION - noun - A SURNAME; the name of a FAMILY; A NAME GIVEN FROM ANY ACCIDENT OR QUALITY; as Alexander the Great. (Webs1828)

COGNOMEN - In English law. A SURNAME. A NAME ADDED to the nomen proper, or name of the individual; a name DESCRIPTIVE OF THE FAMILY. In Roman law. A man's FAMILY NAME. The first name (praenomen) was the PROPER NAME of the individual; the second (nomen) indicated the GENS or TRIBE to which HE BELONGED; while the third (cognomen) DENOTED HIS FAMILY OR HOUSE. The agnomen was added ON ACCOUNT of some particular EVENT, as a FURTHER DISTINCTION. (Black4)

— = —

“The cognomen is derived from the BLOOD of ancestors, and is INTRINSIC; an agnomen arises from an EVENT, and is EXTRINSIC.”

—COGNOMEN MAJORUM EST EX SANGUINE TRACTUM, HOC INTRINSECUM EST; AGNOMEN EXTRINSECUM AB EVENTU. 6 Coke, 65. (Black4)

— = —

COGNATION - In the civil law. Signifies generally the kindred which exists between two persons who are united by ties of BLOOD OR FAMILY, or both. CIVIL COGNATION is that which proceeds ALONE from the ties of FAMILIES, as the KINDRED BETWEEN THE ADOPTED FATHER AND THE ADOPTED CHILD. Mixed cognation is that which unites at the same time the ties of blood and family, as that which exists between brothers the ISSUE of the same LAWFUL marriage. NATURAL COGNATION IS THAT WHICH IS ALONE FORMED BY TIES OF BLOOD; such is the kindred of THOSE WHO OWE THEIR ORIGIN TO AN ILLICIT CONNECTION, either in relation to their ascendants or collaterals. (Black4)

COGNATUS - Latin. In the civil law. A relation by the MOTHER'S side; a cognate. A relation, or kinsman, generally. (Black4)

COGNITIONES - Ensigns and ARMS, or a military COAT PAINTED WITH ARMS. (Black4)

COGNATES - (Latin cognati.) Relations by the mother's side, or by females. Roman Law. A common term in Scotch law. (Black4)

COGNATI - Latin. In the civil law. Cognates; relations by the mother's side. Relations in the LINE of the mother. Relations by or through females. (Black4)

COGNATIO - Latin. In the civil law. Cognition. RELATIONSHIP, or KINDRED GENERALLY. Relationship through FEMALES, as distinguished from agnatio, or relationship through males. Agnatio a patre sit, cognatio a matre. See Agnatio. In Canon law. Consanguinity, as distinguished from affinity. Consanguinity, as including affinity. (Black4)

RECOGNIZE - verb transitive - rec'onize. [Latin recognosco; re and cognosco, TO KNOW. The g in these words has properly no sound in English.] 1. To recollect or recover the knowledge of, either with an avowal of that knowledge or not. WE RECOGNIZE A PERSON at a distance, when we recollect that we have seen him before, or that we have formerly known him. We recognize his features or his voice. SPEAK, VASSAL; RECOGNIZE THY SOVEREIGN QUEEN. 2. TO RE-VIEW; TO RE-EXAMINE. - verb intransitive - TO ENTER AN OBLIGATION OF RECORD before a proper tribunal. A B recognized in the sum of twenty pounds. (Webs1828)

COGENIAL - For (same as) congenial. (Webs1828)

CONGENIAL - adjective - [Latin. See GENERATE.] 1. Partaking of THE SAME GENUS, KIND OR NATURE; KINDRED; cognate; as congenial souls. 2. BELONGING TO THE NATURE; NATURAL; AGREEABLE TO THE NATURE; usually followed by to; as, this severity is not congenial to him. 3. Natural; agreeable to the nature; ADAPTED; as a soil congenial to a plant. (Webs1828)

Author's note: To be congenial to God's Nature is the opposite of being congenial to the nature of government's legal fiction and public personhood. Remember, a "natural" is an insult bestowed by nobles upon human capital, as a word of attainder in corruption or ignoble admixture of blood.*

COGENT - adjective - [See Cogency.] 1. Forcible, in a physical sense; as the cogent force of nature. 2. Urgent; PRESSING ON THE MIND; forcible; powerful; NOT EASILY RESISTED; as a cogent reason, or argument. THE HARMONY OF THE UNIVERSE FURNISHES COGENT PROOFS OF A DEITY. (Webs1828)

COGENCY - noun - Force; strength; POWER OF COMPELLING; literally, urgency, or driving. It is used chiefly of moral subjects, and in relation to FORCE OR PRESSURE ON THE MIND; as the cogency of motives or arguments. (Webs1828)

COGNOSCITIVE - adjective - Having the power of knowing. (Webs1828)

COGNOSCIBLE - adjective - That may be known. (Webs1828)

COGNIZOR - noun - One who acknowledges the right of the plaintiff or cognizee, in a fine; otherwise called the defendant or deforciant. (Webs1828)

COGNIZEE - noun - In law, one to whom a fine is acknowledged, or the plaintiff in an action FOR THE ASSURANCE OF LAND BY FINE. (Webs1828)

COGNOSCENT - noun - [See Cognition.] Knowledge; the act or STATE of knowing. (Webs1828)

COGNITION - noun - Knowledge or CERTAIN KNOWLEDGE, as FROM PERSONAL VIEW OR EXPERIENCE. (Webs1828)

COGNIZANCE - noun - 1. JUDICIAL NOTICE OR KNOWLEDGE; the hearing, trying and determining of a cause or action in court. The court of kings bench takes cognizance of civil and criminal causes. IN THE UNITED STATES, THE DISTRICT COURTS HAVE COGNIZANCE OF MARITIME CAUSES. 2. JURISDICTION, or right to try and determine causes. The court of kings bench has original jurisdiction and cognizance of all actions of trespass vi et armis. 3. In law, AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT OR CONFESSION; as in FINES, the acknowledgment of the cognizor or deforciant, that the RIGHT TO THE LAND in question is in the plaintiff or cognizee, by gift or otherwise; in replevin, the acknowledgment of the defendant, that he took the goods, but alledging that he did it legally as the bailiff

OF ANOTHER PERSON WHO HAD A RIGHT TO DISTRAIN. 4. A BADGE ON THE SLEEVE OF A WATERMAN OR SERVANT, BY WHICH HE IS KNOWN TO BELONG TO THIS OR THAT NOBLEMAN OR GENTLEMAN. 5. Knowledge or notice; PERCEPTION; observation; as the cognizance of the senses. 6. Knowledge by recollection. (Webs1828)

RECOLLECT - verb transitive - [re and collect; Latin recolligo, recollectus.] 1. To collect again; applied to ideas that have escaped from the memory; to recover or call back ideas to the memory. I recollect what was said at a former interview; or I cannot recollect what was said. 2. To recover or recall THE KNOWLEDGE OF; to bring back to the mind or memory. I met a man whom I thought I had seen before, but I could not recollect his name or the place where I had seen him. I do not recollect you, sir. 3. TO RECOVER RESOLUTION OR COMPOSURE OF MIND. The Tyrian queen admir'd his fortunes, more admir'd the man, then recollected stood. [In this sense, collected is more generally used.] (Webs1828)

—=—

It seems the only time we personally recollect our composure in strawman form is when we disturb the “peace” of that commercial system it exists within. It is at these times when, with utter fear and cognizance, we realize that we are nothing more than cogs in this legal system. And we answer thusly, through our cog-nomen (cog name). The rest of the time, unchallenged by the immediate sanction and authority of these tyrant’s false law of the commercial sea, we pretend to be free while in actuality we are merely slaves impressed with our own oblivious recognizance, as prisoners on parole. If we follow the rules of the antichrist, anti-God system, we are left alone in our public franchise of citizen-ship.

RECOGNIZANCE - noun - recon’izance. 1. ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF A PERSON OR THING; avowal; PROFESSION; AS THE RECOGNIZANCE OF CHRISTIANS, BY WHICH THEY AVOW THEIR BELIEF IN THEIR RELIGION. 2. In law, AN OBLIGATION OF RECORD WHICH A MAN ENTERS INTO BEFORE SOME COURT OF RECORD OR MAGISTRATE DULY AUTHORIZED, WITH CONDITION TO DO SOME PARTICULAR ACT, AS TO APPEAR at the assizes, TO KEEP THE PEACE OR PAY A DEBT. This recognizance differs from a bond, as it does not create a new debt, BUT IT IS THE ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF A FORMER DEBT OR RECORD. This is witnessed by the record only, and not by the party's seal. There is also a recognizance in the nature of a statute staple, acknowledged before either of the chief justices or their substitutes, the mayor of the staple at Westminster and the recorder of London, which is to be enrolled and certified into chancery. 3. The verdict of a jury impaneled upon assize. (Webs1828)

—=—

Remember this word cog, for it is TO CHEAT. This can only be done by the corrupted surname, by a cognomen that is based on the agnomen (event). This, it turns out, is the key to all the organized crime of government, as we will soon see. For what is a criminal but one who cheats another? A pirate...

The judge may not take notice of a man without some badge and token of cognizance upon his person (status). In other words, the judge must find the fictional status of the man in order to profess the right to try and determine that man’s fate as surety in a fictional district’s jurisdiction. The man’s person must be found to be at sea (in interstate commerce, in foreign trade) where it is caused to fictionally, legally appear. He must be found to be carrying the mark of the Arms of the United States or other district so as to be known to that court’s legal jurisdiction. Without confession of that mark, no knowledge may be found to be acknowledged. No cognizance may be obtained in any case without a ship (persona) present at bar and presented by the man in surety to it, as the master of that citizen-ship subject to its principal that set it upon ad-venture in agency.

Here we must pause to comprehend just what has been defined. Knowledge is of two kinds, that of the Nature of all things and that of the imaginations and admixture of the fictional re-presentation of all things upon Nature. We already know the difference between these kinds, for one is the substance of God's self-evident Nature of Creation and one is the re-creations of man's designs against that Reality of Nature. Nothing new. But the most important knowledge we may ever possess is that which allows us to not only distinguish between these two types, between Reality and fiction, but that which allows us to choose one over the other at all times. For our choice in one destroys and renders powerless the other. For this legal system to remain intact, our cognizance and thus acceptance and consent of legalisms as mere fictions of law is always created through trickery, and must therefore be forced into our minds by trickery. We must be made to believe that which is unbelievable. We must be made to embrace the lie, the cog, so that our minds may be governed (controlled) by the creators (cogitators) and implementors (conjurers) of the big lie. We must be made to love being cheated by being made to recognize and know no other path, no other law.

It is important to recognize that these beast systems, as all governments of men, do definitively exist in fiction, as much as any other master created by the imaginations of fiction writers. Our belief in those monsters cause us to turn on lights in dark hallways to verify they have no leapt off their perspective pages and manifested into Reality through our own imagined fear of them. Inversely, government's green propaganda causes us to turn those lights off even if we are in want of their artificial luminance. And so yes, they exist; though self-evidently not in Nature, granted. But at this point we have sufficiently explored the concept of legal, fictional existence enough to know that it is an existence based purely on respect in the minds of men, not a Real Existence of the senses. Its characters must be animated by men, lest they fall to waste and ruination as all of man's artifice against God's Nature and Law should. It cannot hurt you, but the men who are believers in its fiction as Reality certainly can hurt your as in any cult following of brainwashed servants. The only difference is that in a cult, the harm done is illegal. The subject of fiction is granted license to harm and kill in the name of the fiction, supporting a superstructure that can only ever function and exist as long as the cult of the constitution exists. The plantations (colonies) can only hold slaves as long as those men can be made to believe and accept that they are slaves. The author stresses here that this war is not one of brute strength but of personal will and the will to Exist despite false personas. It is a war between the compos mentis, rational man and the temptations of the world (age). It is a battle of intent. For to live only under God's Will and Testament is becoming an evermore punishable crime, not only according to the legalistic law of nations, but also in the minds of the already enslaved beasts who profit from and thus profess that international system of mammon in name and occupation and whose flattering titles and estates could not fictionally exist without its enslavement of all others. Each individual man is a potential agent of that government of nations, each protecting his perceived stake (cross) in that fiction. And each gentile man will be so publicly brainwashed into continuously seeking out each other's mark and identity in both social and commercial life that the remnant, the remainder of christ's unmarked followers will be made to appear as evil and shunned as the unmarked, the unclean, the unvaccinated. Life in antithesis; where dis-ease is the new ease and death is the new life. The big lie will not be avoidable in the near future, in our lifetime, for its mark is already identifiable, in place beneath our flesh and within each unique retinal gaze. The lie will apparently be fully functional by 2030 if the Vatican-supported United Nations has its way, when all common men upon this earth will purportedly be turned into "refugees" by being natural-born or by naturalization. For to be born of any nation is the sign and mark of already being its beast of burden.

— — —

“Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. It is a faithful saying: FOR IF WE BE DEAD WITH HIM, WE SHALL ALSO LIVE WITH HIM: If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us...”

—2 Timothy 2: 10-12, KJB

—=—

Remembering that we must read this in the figurative, allegorical nature for which it was originally written, we may recognize the familiar theme that civil death is spiritual Life. This True and unblemished Life can only be Lived in circumcision (separation) from the legal realm and of its flattering names and titles, numbers and marks. In other words, this is a Life without sin (artifice). And what is suffering but a lack of artifice? What is suffering when all of God's green pastures and abundance are readily available to you? What is suffering but the lack of artificial wealth in mammon at the cost of your very soul? To deny the Son of God is to deny the Word of God, and to deny the Word is to deny the self-evidence of Law and Nature that is Jehovah, the untainted embrace of which is the only salvation.

For a moment, let us read these verses as they were intended to be under-stood. For the scriptures state that they may also obtain the salvation which is in (Jehovah is salvation) with eternal glory. "Jesus Christ" should not be interpreted any other way than this, as the perfected example (New Testament) of what it is to follow the Law of God's Nature through this allegorical story of christ.

TESTAMENT - noun - [Latin testamentum, from testor, to make a will.] 1. A solemn authentic instrument in writing, by which a person declares his will as to the disposal of his estate and effects after his death. This is otherwise called A WILL. A testament to be valid, must be made when the testator is OF SOUND MIND, and it must be subscribed, witnessed and published in such manner as the law prescribes. A man in certain cases may make a valid will by words only, and such will is called nuncupative. 2. THE NAME OF EACH GENERAL DIVISION OF THE CANONICAL BOOKS OF THE SACRED SCRIPTURES; as the Old Testament; the New testament. The name is equivalent to covenant, and in our use of it, we apply it to the books which contain the old and new dispensations; that of Moses, AND THAT OF JESUS CHRIST. (Webs1828)

NUNCUPATIVE - adjective - [Latin, to declare.] 1. Nominal; EXISTING ONLY IN NAME. 2. PUBLICLY or SOLEMNLY declaratory. 3. Verbal, not written. A nuncupative will or testament is one which is made by the verbal declaration of the testator, and depends merely on oral testimony for proof, THOUGH AFTERWARDS REDUCED TO WRITING.

—=—

We may declare that the New Testament is the nuncupative testament of christ, as written by his witnesses. But to be stuck in such a fallaciously logical history of events defeats the spiritual self-evidence of that timeless New Testament. Obviously books written by "disciples" that were not even born in christ's supposed historical timeline of life cannot be the testimony of actual first-hand witnesses. This is the type of vulgarity of reason that defeats the message of that ancient, parabolic, and timeless knowledge scripture. We lose ourselves in the history and forget the purpose and intent of His story. We "prove" in our minds that these histories did not actually exist, and choke on our own conceit and pride in such false victories even as we accept other false histories, "proving" one history false by the acceptance and assent to other false histories and characters. To say that this ridiculousness causes us to completely miss the very point of the story is the understatement of the age. And so we are in the midst of "bearing false witness" to all that is adversarial to christ's teachings, loving all that we should hate, and blaming history for our own sins.

A vast multitude of the public beholders and believers (faithful servants) of the masters of the big lie very likely cannot be told of their dis-position in that international delusion under the legal, Roman law of nations; that they are plugged into that legal matrix code through trickery and word-magic, and that their blood is utterly (figuratively) corrupted in law. The path may be shown to all, but only the few may actually walk in its Light. Soon it will be too late for most to recover what they have already lost, for the loss happened so long ago, and the newly birthed (registered/taxed) generations of Caesar are already being skillfully, artificially detached from their families through legal means, becoming wards of the state at birth and being systematically reprogrammed through entertainment and public education to loath all family connections and visitations. We are being taught to despise even the very purpose of the spiritual, religious custom of marriage, which rests purely on the passing of lands to the heirs of the blood without need of legal means or wills of fictional persons that stand only in the legal (artificial) corruption of blood.

It is interesting to note that the prefix used in many of our modern words, such as dis-position, dis-ease, dis-illusion, dis-jointed, dis-covery, dis-proportional, dis-gust, and dis-trust, is one of the names attributed to “satan” in the circles of hell imagined by Dante in the 1200’s.

—≡—

Lucifer: Circle 9, Inferno 34:

“Lucifer, Satan, DIS, Beelzebub--Dante throws every name in the book at the Devil, once the most beautiful angel (Lucifer means "light-bearer") then—following his rebellion against God—THE SOURCE OF EVIL AND SORROW IN THE WORLD, beginning with his corruption of Eve and Adam in the Garden of Eden (Genesis 3).”

—danteworlds website, paraphrase of Dante’s ‘Inferno’

—≡—

“Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil walks about like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour.”

—1 Peter 5:8, KJV

—≡—

"How you are fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! How you are cut down to the ground, You who weakened the nations!”

—Isaiah 14:12-14

—≡—

“Let no one deceive you by any means; for that Day will not come unless the falling away comes first, AND THE MAN OF SIN IS REVEALED (human, spiritually dead, soulless animal man), the son of perdition, WHO OPPOSES AND EXALTS HIMSELF ABOVE ALL THAT IS CALLED GOD OR THAT IS WORSHIPED, SO THAT HE SITS AS GOD IN THE TEMPLE OF GOD, SHOWING HIMSELF THAT HE IS GOD.”

—=—

“You are of YOUR FATHER the devil, AND THE DESIRES OF YOUR FATHER YOU WANT TO DO. He was a murderer from the beginning, and DOES NOT STAND IN THE TRUTH, BECAUSE THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM. When he speaks a lie, he speaks from his own resources, for he is a liar and THE FATHER OF IT.”

—John 8:44, KJB

—=—

If I didn't know better, I'd say that last verse was talking to every one of us strawman citizen-ships out here, telling us that we are living the lie created by our father, as the creator and government over all legal lies. After all, to be in the agency of anyone or anything but Jehovah is certainly to be in league with some devil's contract in evil (artifice). The shoe certainly fits. It's all in the adoptive, legal family. For the agent only exists to benefit its principal, that sovereign legal prince of the big legal lie. Think about it... for the son of perdition is any man that exalts himself and his fiction over that of the Reality of God. It's just satanism. We are just a controlled opposition to God and Nature. And just as christ can only be manifested through any man's action, satan can only be manifested through every man's equal inaction.

What is it to be a victim of this sacred curse of the son of perdition? It is not merely to lose stuff or possessions, but to be possessed as the stuff of satan. It is to lose your soul. It is the ruination connected to celebrating and worshipping the artifice of man's fiction and i-magi-nations, of celebrating instead of utterly destroying the United Nations. For to have an entirety of loss can only refer to that which we ought to hold most precious, our spirit and our soul. Perdition is akin to spiritual death, the loss of timelessness and of intrinsic pricelessness, the loss of even the ability for True happiness, as the utter corruption of the soul by the killing of the spirit and pretended corruption of the blood. Perdition is the artificial womb, the legal matrix of anti-Truth. Anti-God. The realm of that which is adversarial and exists only in the imagination and in calumny (in name, form, and image only), this is the whole of the meaning of that word satan. If Jehovah is the Existing Oneness of all Things, then satan as Its opposite is the non-Existing nothingness and nonsense of the big legal lie. If God Created Nature, then satan created nothing but fiction. Matter vs. anti-matter.

And yet the solution is so simple... embrace only the Pure Truth of Reality! No more lies!!! All we must do is choose the Son (Word of Law) of God over the son (lying words) of perdition.

PERDITION - noun - [Latin perditio, from perdo, to lose, to ruin.] 1. Entire loss or ruin; utter destruction; as the perdition of the Turkish fleet. [In this sense, the word is now nearly or wholly obsolete.] 2. THE UTTER LOSS OF THE SOUL OR OF FINAL HAPPINESS IN A FUTURE STATE; FUTURE MISERY OR ETERNAL DEATH. The impenitent sinner is condemned to final perdition. IF WE REJECT THE TRUTH, WE SEAL OUR OWN PERDITION. 3. Loss. [Not used.] (Webs1828)

—=—

Is this religion? No. Perdition is but an apt description of the 2030, Agenda 21, Sustainable Development plan under the United Nations, the worldwide registration and taxation as Caesar's rendering of all men into a global, social fiction under the "safety and security" and surety of positive law.

In short, this is a battle between man's respect of two polar opposites, the Natural Kingdom of God and the artful principalities of a few men. Sadly, ironically, just as it was in the Roman colosseums, the majority of corporate, flatteringly titled "Christians" that have been so Judaized and Latinized into that beast system of goyim through so many denominations under legalistically titled "Christian Nations," will likely be the leaders and protectorate of that international system of Caesar (seizure), believing that identification of all men on earth is actually a charitable concern of God. For as it is today the delusion is more powerful and somehow more appealing than Reality, the lie easier than the Truth. By 2030, future technology will no doubt provide remedy for all the loose ends and current perceptions of the intent of these ultimate nation-builders, taking all doubt away from that evil delusion in its image among good men, though not before they first foolishly help to build their own international incorporation of perdition. The public illiterates educated only in variations of dog-Latin, try as they may, will never actually be able to read their Bibles and so will never Truly know the Word (Son) and Law of God. For more than any other breed of brainwashed and managed human capital, the falsely and flatteringly entitled "Christians" that do not follow Christ in any way but in name only (in calumniation = in satanism) within this system of blatant usury in mammon, are a terrible army of righteousness revealing the legal "word" not in God's Nature and Law but in their own monetary wealth and self-delusion. The he-goats of the goats. They are perhaps the most dangerous of all of Caesar's indentured pagans, as history has certainly shown, for they more than any other sect must justify, prove, and publicly show their legal existence in membership to their legal gods, and history's death toll certainly shows just how powerful such a cult of corporate Christian personality can be, killing, burning, and torturing in the name of God.

But let's be perfectly clear here. All nations claim God as their purpose and as the reason for their legal (anti-God) existence. All nations claim that God is behind their armies of paid mercenary soldiers even as they kill for purely commercial purposes in the name of mammon. And the ultimate principality of the United Nations and its prostituting, mercenary peace-keeping forces with members spanning all nations will certainly claim that God is as well on their international side.

Just what is the goal of the United Nations and their international "Peacekeeping" regime?

DISARMAMENT, DEMOBILIZATION AND REINTEGRATION

Disarmament, demobilization and reintegration (DDR) has become an integral part of post-conflict peace consolidation, featuring prominently in the mandates of peacekeeping operations over the last twenty years.

DDR activities are crucial components of both the initial stabilization of war-torn societies as well as their long-term development. DDR must be integrated into the entire peace process from the peace negotiations through peacekeeping and follow-on peacebuilding activities in Timor-Leste.

DISARMAMENT IS THE COLLECTION, DOCUMENTATION, CONTROL AND DISPOSAL OF SMALL ARMS, ammunition, explosives and light and heavy weapons from combatants AND OFTEN FROM THE CIVILIAN POPULATION.

Demobilization is the formal and controlled discharge of active combatants from armed forces and groups, including a phase of "reinsertion" which provides short-term assistance to ex-combatants.

Reintegration is the process by which ex-combatants acquire civilian status and gain SUSTAINABLE employment and income. It is a political, social and economic process with an open time-frame, primarily taking place in communities at the local level.

The objective of the DDR process is to contribute to security and stability in post-conflict environments so that recovery and development can begin. DDR helps create an enabling environment for political and peace processes by dealing with security problem that arises when ex-combatants are trying to adjust to normal life, during the vital transition period from conflict to peace and development.

DDR supports ex-combatants to become active participants in the peace process through:

- REMOVING WEAPONS FROM THE HANDS OF COMBATANTS;
- taking the combatants out of military structures;
- integrating combatants socially and economically into society.

—United Nations website (un.org), from 'Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration' page

— — —

I can think of nothing worse than to be forced to integrate into a society that is caused to exist by world governance and corporate influence. But hey, isn't that exactly what happened to the "confederates" after the civil war?

I musingly ask how God can possibly be on every nation's side considering each nation's vast differential of moral and ethical laws, and also be on the side of all nations united into one satanic brood and incorporation? Is that not oxymoronic? Or perhaps just moronic? Or perhaps it's because the nations aren't really representative of the people in their nativity?

But hey, why not, for most corporate "united" religions licensed by these nations already support the U.N.

— — —

"The General Assembly of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA and Church World Service have called for churches in the U.S. to observe the 60th anniversary of the issuance of the United Nations' Universal Declaration on HUMAN Rights on Sunday, Dec. 14. In a Nov. 24 letter, the organizations praised the Declaration on HUMAN Rights for its far-sighted application and continuity with THE CHURCH'S MISSION. "Its affirmation of HUMAN dignity and of harmonious relationships among people is SURELY consistent with the gospel of God's love for every PERSON and God's will for reconciliation," the letter said."

—United Church of Christ website, dated December 06, 2008, written by Gregg Brekke

— — —

Persons of men, which "God's gospel of love" says over and over to never respect, are certainly respected by such massive "religious" corporations, which we must remember only exist as artificial persons. And need I say more about what exactly are "hu-man rights" at this point? For no man may receive the mark until he is made to be considered as merely a hu-man animal through legal personification, and this can only be accomplished by marking every man on earth into the international social security scheme run by the United Nations ISSA system and its World Bank. This is a New World Order so oft spoken of by so many leaders of so many principalities (nations).

—=—

“Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle NOT against flesh and blood, BUT AGAINST PRINCIPALITIES, AGAINST POWERS, AGAINST THE RULERS OF THE DARKNESS OF THIS WORLD, AGAINST SPIRITUAL WICKEDNESS IN HIGH PLACES... Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with TRUTH, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; ABOVE ALL, TAKING THE SHIELD OF FAITH, WHEREWITH YE SHALL BE ABLE TO QUENCH ALL THE FIERY DARTS OF THE WICKED. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, WHICH IS THE WORD OF GOD...”

—Ephesians 6: 11-12, 14, 16-17, KJB

—=—

In short, this united church corporation is celebrating the principalities of men over that of the Kingdom of God against the very scriptures they employ (use) to pretend to justify their very legal existence. Of course, most goyim of the world born and heralded within these nations have no capacity to comprehend these words as written, showing how the strong delusion of language (babel) is the satanists most powerful tool.

PRINCIPALITY - noun - 1. SOVEREIGNTY; supreme power. 2. A prince; one INVESTED with sovereignty. Titus 3:1. 3. The TERRITORY of a prince; or the country which gives title to a prince; as the principality of Wales. 4. Superiority; predominance. [Little used.] 5. In Scripture, royal state or attire. Jeremiah 13:1. (Webs1828)

REFUGEE - noun - 1. One who flies to a shelter or place of safety. 2. One who, in times of persecution or political commotion, FLEES TO A FOREIGN COUNTRY FOR SAFETY; as the French refugees, who left France after the revocation of the edict of Nantz, and settled in Flanders and America; the refugees from Hispaniola, in 1792; and the American refugees, who left their country at the revolution. (Webs1828)

REFUGE - noun - [Latin refugium, refugio; re and fugio, to flee.] 1. SHELTER OR PROTECTION FROM DANGER OR DISTRESS. Rocks, dens and caves, but I in none of these find place or refuge. We have made lies our refuge. Isaiah 28:15. We might have strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold on the hope set before us. Hebrews 6:18. 2. That which shelters or protects from danger, distress or calamity; a strong hold which protects by its strength, or a sanctuary which secures safety by its sacredness; any place inaccessible to an enemy. The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats. Psalms 104:18. The Lord also will be a refuge for the oppressed. Psalms 9:9. 3. An expedient TO SECURE PROTECTION or defense. This last old man - their latest refuge was to send to him. 4. Expedient, in general. Light must be supplied, among graceful refuges, by terracing any story in danger of darkness. Cities of refuge among the Israelites, certain cities appointed to secure the safety of such persons as might commit homicide without design. Of these there were three on each side of Jordan. Joshua 20:2. - verb transitive - To shelter; to protect. (Webs1828)

—=—

Do we not seek out the United States as refugees from both God's Law and from the States (People and their/our lands) upon which we are born? Is the birth certificate not the legal evidence of this fact, and do not our own actions serve as a confirmation of consent to that protection and safety offered by that artificial womb of the nation and through its public personhood?

Why do we not seek refuge in our very own Origin of Nature, of True Self, and in the God of that indefatigable Realm? To ask the correct question, why do we not follow and act as the exemplified Son (Word) of God shows us?

—=—

“And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, FAR ABOVE ALL PRINCIPALITY, and power, and might, and dominion, AND EVERY NAME THAT IS NAMED, not only in this world (age, period of time), BUT ALSO IN THAT WHICH IS TO COME...”

—Ephesians 1:21, KJB

—=—

All common, vulgar men and thus their offspring (issues) have been or are in the process of being personified as the goyim of the multitudes within the combination (conspiracy) of (united) nations, of being Romanized into that legal system of a game of thrones, the sport of nations. All men by their strawmen persons are to be given a false sense of paper social security that is corporately only a Latinized id-entity steeped in the pure falsehood of that Roman legal fiction and centralized through that beast of many heads (many capitals, principalities) called the United Nations, that towering heap of Babel (confusion, disorder). All roads lead to Rome, for all places have been Romanized and districted (distressed) under Caesar (seizure).

But Truth be told, Rome is not an actual place, merely a civil and ecclesiastical jurisdiction as words on paper enforced by fools who pledge their actual Lives to its fictional existence. All roads, in other words, are virtual waterways on the sea of international commerce that lead to the fiction of “Rome.” It takes not soldiers or police to be forcibly Romanized, only the word-craft and trickery of those confounding language arts. We are bound only by our use of that dog-Latin of the English language, illiterately speaking ourselves into a false existence under the rendering and dstraint of Caesar.

Pay close attention here, for the following terms define the procession of our enslavement by the words of art hidden by such a purposefully induced language barrier.

ROMAN - adjective - [Latin Romanus, from Roma, the PRINCIPAL CITY of the Romans in Italy. Rome is the oriental name Ramah, elevated, that is, a hill; for fortresses and towns were often placed on hills for security; Hebrew to be HIGH, TO RAISE.] 1. Pertaining to Rome, or to the roman people. 2. Romish; popish; PROFESSING THE RELIGION OF THE POPE. Roman catholic, as an adjective, denoting the RELIGION PROFESSED BY THE PEOPLE OF ROME AND OF ITALY, at the head of which is the pope or bishop of Rome; as a noun, ONE WHO ADHERES TO THE PAPAL RELIGION. - noun - 1. A NATIVE of rome. 2. A CITIZEN of Rome; ONE ENJOYING THE PRIVILEGES OF A ROMAN CITIZEN. 3. ONE OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH at Rome to which Paul addressed an epistle, CONSISTING OF CONVERTS FROM JUDAISM OR PAGANISM. (Webs1828)

CATHOLIC - adjective - 1. UNIVERSAL OR GENERAL; as the catholic church. Originally this epithet was given to THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH IN GENERAL, but is now appropriated to the ROMISH CHURCH, and in strictness THERE IS NO CATHOLIC CHURCH, OR UNIVERSAL CHRISTIAN COMMUNION. The epithet is sometimes set in opposition to heretic, sectary or schismatic. 2. LIBERAL; NOT NARROW MINDED, PARTIAL or bigoted; as a catholic man. 3. LIBERAL; AS CATHOLIC PRINCIPLES. Catholic epistles, the epistles of the apostles which are addressed to ALL THE FAITHFUL, AND NOT TO A PARTICULAR CHURCH. - noun - A PAPIST. (Webs1828)

CATHOLICISM - noun - 1. Adherence to the Catholic church. 2. UNIVERSALITY, or the orthodox faith of the whole church. 3. MORE GENERALLY, LIBERALITY OF SENTIMENTS. This is the renowned seat of Catholicism. (Webs1828)

CATHOLICON - noun - A REMEDY FOR ALL DISEASES; A UNIVERSAL REMEDY; a remedy supposed to be efficacious in purging away all humors; A PANACEA; a kind of soft purgative ELECTUARY so called. (Webs1828)

CATHARTIC, CATHARTICAL - adjective - PURGING; CLEANSING THE BOWELS; promoting evacuations by stool; purgative. - noun - A medicine that promotes alvine discharges, and thus cleanses the stomach and bowels; a purge; a purgative. (Webs1828)

PURGATORY - adjective - [Latin purgatorius, from purgo, to purge.] Tending to cleanse; cleansing; expiatory. - noun - Among catholics, A SUPPOSED PLACE or state after death, in which the souls of persons are purified, or in which they expiate such offenses committed in this life, as do not merit eternal damnation. After this purgation from the impurities of sin, the souls are supposed to be received into heaven. (Webs1828)

—=—

“As soon as a coin in the coffer rings, a soul from purgatory springs.”

—Johann Tetzel, German Roman Catholic Dominican friar and preacher, Grand Inquisitor of Heresy to Poland, and later Grand Commissioner for indulgences in Germany, reputedly known for granting indulgences in exchange for money, an act to which Martin Luther deposed

—=—

CATH-ARIST - noun - ONE WHO PRETENDS TO MORE PURITY THAN OTHERS POSSESS. (Webs1828)

POPE - noun - [Low Latin PAPA.] 1. The BISHOP of Rome, the HEAD of the catholic church. (Webs1828)

PAPA - noun - [Latin PAPA.] FATHER; a word with us USED BY CHILDREN. (Webs1828)

BISHOP - noun - [Latin episcopus; Gr. of, over, and inspector, or visitor; to view, or inspect; whence, to visit; also, to view. This Greek and Latin word accompanied the introduction of christianity into the west and north of Europe.] 1. AN OVERSEER; A SPIRITUAL SUPERINTENDENT, RULER OR DIRECTOR; APPLIED TO CHRIST. Ye were as sheep going astray, but are now returned to the shepherd and bishop of your souls. 1. Pet. 2. 2. In the primitive church, a spiritual overseer; an elder or presbyter; one who had the pastoral care of a church. The same persons are in this chapter called elders or presbyters, and overseers or bishops. Scott, Comm. Acts 20:1. Till the churches were multiplied, the bishops and presbyters were the same. Ib. Philippians 1:1. 1. Tim.3.1. Titus 1:7. Both the Greek and Latin fathers do, with one consent, declare, that bishops were called presbyters, and presbyters bishops, in apostolic times, the name being then common. 3. In the Greek, Latin, and some Protestant churches, a prelate, or PERSON CONSECRATED FOR THE SPIRITUAL GOVERNMENT AND DIRECTION of a diocese. In Great Britain, BISHOPS ARE NOMINATED BY THE KING, who, upon request of the dean and chapter, for leave to elect a bishop sends a conge d'elire, OR LICENSE TO ELECT, with a letter missive, NOMINATING THE PERSON WHOM HE WOULD HAVE CHOSEN. The election, by the chapter, must be made within twelve days, OR THE KING HAS A RIGHT TO APPOINT WHOM HE PLEASES. Bishops are consecrated by an archbishop, with two assistant bishops. A BISHOP MUST BE THIRTY YEARS OF AGE; and all bishops, except the bishop of Man, ARE PEERS OF THE REALM. By the canons of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, no diocese or state shall proceed to the election of a bishop unless there are at least six officiating presbyters RESIDING therein, who shall be QUALIFIED, ACCORDING TO THE CANONS (NOT SCRIPTURE), TO VOTE FOR A BISHOP; a majority of whom at least must concur in the election. But the conventions of two or more dioceses, OR STATES, having together nine or more such presbyters, may join in the election of a bishop. A convention is composed of the clergy, and a lay delegation, consisting of one or more members from each parish. IN EVERY STATE, THE BISHOP IS TO BE CHOSEN ACCORDING TO SUCH RULES AS THE CONVENTION OF THAT STATE SHALL ORDAIN (AGAIN, NOT SCRIPTURE). The mode of election, in most or all of the states, IS BY A CONCURRENT VOTE OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY, in convention, each body voting separately. Before a bishop can be consecrated, he must receive a testimonial of approbation from the General Convention of the church (NOT FROM JEHOVAH); or if that is not in session, from a majority of the standing committee in the several dioceses. The mode of consecrating bishops and ordaining priests and deacons differs not essentially from the practice in England. - noun - A cant word for a mixture of wine, oranges, and sugar. - verb transitive - TO CONFIRM; TO ADMIT SOLEMNLY (BY OATH) INTO THE CHURCH. 1. Among horse-dealers, TO USE ARTS to make an old horse look like a young one, or TO GIVE A GOOD APPEARANCE TO A BAD HORSE. (Webs1828)

— — —

To state that the office of Pope, as the most highly acclaimed “bishop” of the Catholic (universal) Christian religion, has absolutely nothing to do with Jehovah in all of its official artifice and election is perhaps the understatement of the age. So let us now discover, through the incremental defining and thus unlocking of these terms of art, the self-evident Truth of the artificial nature of that abomination to all that is Good and True under God named as “the pope.”

POPISH - adjective - RELATING TO THE POPE; taught by the pope; pertaining to the pope or to the CHURCH OF ROME; AS POPISH TENETS OR CEREMONIES. (Webs1828)

POPERY - noun - THE RELIGION of the church of Rome, comprehending DOCTRINES AND PRACTICES. (Webs1828)

POPISHLY - adverb - In a popish manner; with a tendency to popery; as, TO BE POPISHLY AFFECTED OR INCLINED. (Webs1828)

ROMISH - adjective - [from Rome.] BELONGING OR RELATING TO ROME, or to the religion professed by the people of Rome and of the western empire, of which Rome was the metropolis; CATHOLIC; POPISH; AS THE ROMISH CHURCH; THE ROMISH RELIGION, RITUAL OR CEREMONIES. (Webs1828)

ROMANIZE - verb transitive - 1. TO LATINIZE; TO FILL WITH LATIN WORDS OR MODES OF SPEECH. 2. TO CONVERT to the Roman catholic religion, or TO PAPISTICAL OPINIONS. - verb intransitive - TO CONFORM TO ROMISH OPINIONS, CUSTOMS OR MODES OF SPEECH. (Webs1828)

ROMANIZED - participle passive - LATINIZED. (Webs1828)

ROMANISM - noun - The tenets of the church of Rome. (Webs1828)

ROMANIST - noun - An adherent to THE PAPAL RELIGION; a Roman catholic. (Webs1828)

ROMANCE - noun - romans', ro'mans. 1. A fabulous relation or story of adventures and incidents, DESIGNED FOR THE ENTERTAINMENT OF READERS; a tale of extraordinary adventures, FICTITIOUS and often EXTRAVAGANT, USUALLY A TALE OF LOVE OR WAR, subjects interesting the sensibilities of the heart, or the passions of wonder and curiosity. Romance differs from the novel, as IT TREATS OF GREAT ACTIONS AND EXTRAORDINARY ADVENTURES; that is, according to the Welch signification, IT VAULTS OR SOARS BEYOND THE LIMITS OF FACT AND REAL LIFE, AND OFTEN OF PROBABILITY. The first romances were a monstrous assemblage of HISTORIES, IN WHICH TRUTH AND FICTION WERE BLENDED WITHOUT PROBABILITY; a composition of amorous adventures and the extravagant ideas of chivalry. 2. A FICTION. - verb intransitive - romans', ro'mans. TO FORGE AND TELL FICTITIOUS STORIES; TO DEAL IN extravagant stories. (Webs1828)

ROMANCING - participle present tense - INVENTING and telling FICTITIOUS tales; building castles in the air. (Webs1828)

ROMANCER - noun - 1. One who INVENTS FICTITIOUS STORIES. 2. A WRITER OF ROMANCE. (Webs1828)

ROMANTIC - adjective - 1. Pertaining to romance, or resembling it; wild; fanciful; extravagant; as a romantic taste; romantic notions; romantic expectations; romantic zeal. 2. Improbably or CHIMERICAL; FICTITIOUS; as a romantic tale. 3. Fanciful; wild; full of wild or fantastic scenery; as a romantic prospect or landscape; A ROMANTIC SITUATION. (Webs1828)

CHIMERICAL - adjective - Merely IMAGINARY; fanciful; fantastic; wildly or VAINLY CONCEIVED; that has, or CAN HAVE NO EXISTENCE EXCEPT IN THOUGHT. (Webs1828)

CHIMERA - noun - 1. In fabulous history, a monster with three heads, that of a lion, of a goat, and of a dragon, vomiting flames. The foreparts of the body were those of a lion, the middle was that of a goat, and the hinder parts were those of a dragon; supposed to represent a volcanic mountain in Lycia, whose top was the resort of lions, the middle, that of goats, and the foot, that of serpents. Hence, 2. In modern usage, A VAIN OR IDLE FANCY; A CREATURE OF THE IMAGINATION, COMPOSED OF CONTRADICTIONS OR ABSURDITIES, THAT CAN HAVE NO EXISTENCE EXCEPT IN THOUGHT. (Webs1828)

CHIMERICALLY - adverb - Wildly; VAINLY; fancifully; FANTASTICALLY. (Webs1828)

ROMANTICALLY - adverb - Wildly; extravagantly. (Webs1828)

ROMANTICNESS - noun - 1. Wildness; extravagance; fancifulness. 2. Wildness of scenery. (Webs1828)

FANTASTIC, FANTASTICAL - adjective - [Gr. VISION, fancy, from TO APPEAR.] 1. Fanciful; PRODUCED OR EXISTING ONLY IN IMAGINATION; IMAGINARY; NOT REAL; CHIMERICAL 2. Having the nature of phantom; APPARENT ONLY. 3. Unsteady; irregular. 4. Whimsical; capricious; fanciful; INDULGING THE VAGARIES OF IMAGINATION; as fantastic minds; a fantastic mistress. 5. Whimsical; odd. (Webs1828)

FANTASY - noun - Now written FANCY, which see. Is not this something more than fantasy? (Webs1828)

FANCY - noun - [CONTRACTED FROM FANTASY, Latin phantasia. Gr. from TO CAUSE TO APPEAR, TO SEEM, TO IMAGINE, FROM TO SHOW, TO APPEAR, TO SHINE. The primary sense seems to be to open, or to shoot forth.] 1. THE FACULTY BY WHICH THE MIND FORMS IMAGES OR REPRESENTATIONS OF THINGS AT PLEASURE. It is often used as SYNONYMOUS WITH IMAGINATION; but imagination is rather the power of combining and modifying our conceptions. 2. AN OPINION OR NOTION. I have always had a fancy that learning might be made a play and recreation to children. 3. Taste; CONCEPTION. The little chapel called the salutation in very neat, and built with a pretty fancy. 4. IMAGE; conception; THOUGHT. How now, my lord, why do you keep alone; Of sorriest fancies your companions making? 5. INCLINATION; LIKING. Take that which SUITS your fancy. How does this STRIKE your fancy? His fancy lay to traveling. 6. LOVE. Tell me where is fancy bred? 7. Caprice; humor; whim; as an odd or strange fancy. True worth shall gain me, that it may be said, Desert, not fancy once a woman led. 8. FALSE NOTION. 9. SOMETHING THAT PLEASES OR ENTERTAINS WITHOUT REAL USE OR VALUE. London-pride is a pretty fancy for borders. - verb intransitive - TO IMAGINE; TO FIGURE TO ONE'S SELF; TO BELIEVE OR SUPPOSE WITHOUT PROOF. All may not be our enemies whom we fancy to be so. If our search has reached no farther than simile and metaphor, we rather fancy than know. - verb transitive - 1. To form a conception of; TO PORTRAY IN THE MIND; TO IMAGINE. He whom I fancy but can ne'er express. 2. TO LIKE; TO BE PLEASED WITH, PARTICULARLY ON ACCOUNT OF EXTERNAL APPEARANCE OR MANNERS. We fancy a PERSON for beauty and accomplishment. We sometimes fancy a lady at first sight, whom, on acquaintance, we cannot esteem. (Webs1828)

FANTASM - noun - [Gr. from TO APPEAR. Usually written phantasm.] THAT WHICH APPEARS TO THE IMAGINATION; a phantom; SOMETHING NOT REAL. (Webs1828)

FANTASTICALLY - adverb - 1. BY THE POWER OF IMAGINATION. 2. IN A FANTASTIC MANNER; capriciously; unsteadily. Her scepter so fantastically home. 3. Whimsically; IN COMPLIANCE WITH FANCY. (Webs1828)

FANTASTICALNESS - noun - Compliance with fancy; humorousness; whimsicalness; UNREASONABLENESS; caprice. (Webs1828)

STORIER - noun - A relater of stories; A HISTORIAN. (Webs1828)

STORIFY - verb transitive - To FORM or tell stories. (Webs1828)

STORIAL - adjective - [from story.] HISTORICAL. (Webs1828)

STORIED - adjective - [from story.] 1. FURNISHED with stories; ADORNED WITH HISTORICAL PAINTINGS. Some greedy minion or imperious wife, the trophied arches, storied halls, invade. 2. RELATED IN STORY; TOLD OR RECITED IN HISTORY. (Webs1828)

ROMANSH - noun - The language of the Grisons in Switzerland, a corruption of the Latin. (Webs1828)

ROMEPENNY, ROMESCOT - noun - A TAX of a penny on a house, formerly PAID BY THE PEOPLE OF ENGLAND TO THE CHURCH OF ROME. (Webs1828)

ROMAN LAW - In a general sense, comprehends ALL THE LAWS WHICH PREVAILED AMONG THE ROMANS, without regard to the TIME of their origin, including the collections of Justinian. In a more restricted sense, the Germans understand by this term merely the law of Justinian, as ADOPTED by them. IN ENGLAND AND AMERICA, IT APPEARS TO BE CUSTOMARY TO USE THE PHRASE, INDIFFERENTLY WITH "THE CIVIL LAW," TO DESIGNATE THE WHOLE SYSTEM OF ROMAN JURISPRUDENCE, including the Corpus Juris Civilis; or, if any distinction is drawn, the expression "CIVIL LAW" denotes the system of jurisprudence obtaining in those countries of continental Europe which have derived their juridical notions and principles FROM THE JUSTINIAN COLLECTION, while "Roman law" is reserved as the proper appellation of THE BODY OF LAW DEVELOPED UNDER THE GOVERNMENT OF ROME from the earliest times to the fall of the empire. (Black4)

CORPUS JURIS - A body of law. A term used to signify a book comprehending several collections of law. There are two principal collections to which this name is given; the Corpus Juris Civilis, and the Corpus Juris Canonici. Also name of an encyclopedic statement of THE PRINCIPLES OF ANGLO- AMERICAN LAW. (Black4)

CORPUS JURIS CIVILIS - The body of the CIVIL LAW. The system of ROMAN JURISPRUDENCE compiled and codified under the direction of the emperor Justinian, in A.D. 528-534. This collection comprises the Institutes, Digest (or Pandects), Code, and Novels. The name is said to have been first applied to this collection early in the seventeenth century. (Black4)

CORPUS JURIS CANONICI - The body of the CANON LAW. A compilation of the canon law, comprising the decrees and canons of THE ROMAN CHURCH, constituting the body of ecclesiastical law of that church. (Black4)

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH - The JURISTIC PERSONALITY of the Roman Catholic Church, with the RIGHT to sue and TO TAKE AND HOLD PROPERTY, has been recognized by all systems of European law from the fourth century. It was formally recognized between Spain and the Papacy and by Spanish laws from the beginning of the settlements in the Indies, also by our treaty with Spain in 1898, WHEREBY ITS PROPERTY RIGHTS WERE SOLEMNLY SAFE-GUARDED. To the same effect as to the Philippines. (Black4)

— = —

So what is the Pope???

What lies have you told yourself about “the pope” while its self-evidence is nowhere to be found? What is the source of that title?

Can you honestly answer that question in any other way than to see a frail, artfully elected man acting as some thing when in Reality he is no thing at all, as the title of a purely legal office consisting of the adversarial mix of the Water of the Gladness of God and the ceremonial, ritualistic anointing oils of the false church? The bishop in this perpetual game of chess is always right next to the king and queen, peripherally overseeing and domineering at both their right and left hands, standing upon both their shoulders in the conjoined dualism of the white devil and the black angel, always protective of that militarized fiction that ensures the church's own very false existence in only the art of that legal name and flattering title. And the chess-master uses the multitude of pawns and supposedly noble knights and rooks in their fee and feudatory pledge of surety to protect the head persons (chess-pieces) standing as the current church and state in sole corporation at all costs. For the life of the fiction must survive even the deadliest of opposing feuds and artificial systems, and the plebes are always the most expendable assets of such a jurisdictional gaol.

Of course the more modern nuclear and biological weapon options might leave only the puppets with no masters.

The Roman Catholic Church is a legal person, not a spiritual People. How else could it be said to have a "juristic personality" in and of its artificial self (false persona) in law if it were not considered and respected by law as a legal (anti-God, anti-Nature, antichrist) person? Never forget that the legal law is blind to True religious actions done in the Purest of Truth, Love, and Charity. These are therefore never the traits of any legal corporation or other person. That which the legal law of man respects is always hated by God. The legal law does not respect True religion or True religious men. This is to say that it cannot respect these for it cannot see them through fictional eyes. True religion and True religious men have no person (status) in law, and so no law may be attached to them in surety. The self-evident Truth of Nature respects not the artifice and law of man, suffering it only until it democratically kills itself under its own non-existent weight.

And yes, its laws are the originating laws and principles we follow today, plus all of the millions of additions and amendments in the modern lex scripta. We are a confused, confounded, self-destructing, Romanized people.

JURIST - noun - [Latin jus, juris, law.] 1. A man who PROFESSES THE SCIENCE OF LAW; one versed in the law, or more particularly, in the civil law; a civilian. 2. One versed in THE LAW OF NATIONS, or who writes on the subject. (Webs1828)

JURISTIC - Pertaining or BELONGING TO, OR CHARACTERISTIC OF, JURISPRUDENCE, OR A JURIST, OR THE LEGAL PROFESSION. (Black4)

—=—

Can legal or ecclesiastical law also be science? More to the point, can the law be a Natural Science, as that cherished method which seeks to destroy all lies and discover the Truth and Real Nature of all things? Is the legal law found anywhere in Nature? And to this point, to call man's law as a "science" seems only to prove the illegitimacy of what fictional recreations man has placed under the flattering title of "science." Under legal terms, under any fiction that is, what cannot be labeled as a science? What lie cannot be told and upheld in false righteousness?

So is the whole of the legal law of man merely a strange journey into the imaginary realms of science fiction? Are not the created laws of any imaginary realm the science of any fiction? Is not the author of any imaginary realm of fiction also its creator god and lawmaker? And are not the greatest fictions ever told simply the many histories of those ancient gods of the old nations? The reader will suffer the author his privacy here, leaving that contemplation to myself, and instead will let this work stand as its own testament and apocalyptic revealing of the origin that artifice of law as a legal science.

But there is an even more devious notion being brought forward here. For to be Romanized is not merely to be conquered physically by that empire in some violent military campaign of war and oppression as in days of old. No, we are defeated by the words of a political campaign, proscribed (doomed/prejudged) under treaties and international commercial laws of the nations, and by the very romish dog-Latin we have been trained to speak. We are all acting catholicly, because catholic only means generally, commonly, and universally pledged in collective deceit. “Christianly” united nations of popishly acting “liberal” goyim under a universal religion of popish “Christianity.” It is a title of romanized ceremony and doctrinal code, stripped from the Bible that was written, kept a mystery, and read only by a catholic priesthood for centuries until modernly re-visioned into a scientific, pagan doctrine of legalistic law. All “Christian” nations lead to Rome, for Rome is only a legal, artificial person itself. It is the Romanized language that conquers the minds of men through language arts, not some army. What Rome is cannot be reduced to a mere geographical place on the earth. It is the tree of knowledge of good and evil personified into a global corporate structure, a coded matrix, its priests the serpents of the figments of our imaginations. To be Romanized is to be Latinized, which is to be manipulated into speaking a version of the Latin language of that Roman pagan chimera, speaking itself into the false existence of a legal perpetuity via the inheritable corporation sole. It is our consistent use of dog-Latin (general/catholic/universal low English) that enslaves us to that Latinized system of law (lex scripta) without the slightest contemplation.

— = —

“Vernacular Bible: Biblia Sacra - Vulgate Editions...

“Pope Damasus I commissioned Saint Jerome, in 382, to revise the Vetus Latina, which was the compendium of all biblical texts, translated into Latin. Jerome’s product became known as “versio vulgata,” or “COMMON VERSION.” It was the translation used most often from then on throughout Western Europe, and from 400 to about 1530, THE LATIN VULGATE WAS THE ONE AND ONLY BIBLE MOST WESTERN EUROPEANS EVER ENCOUNTERED. It is, in fact, STILL THE ONLY OFFICIAL BIBLE OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

“Nothing is wrong with any of this, because Jerome’s translation is perfectly accurate and at its time of publication Latin was spoken throughout most of Europe. It is, more or less, THE KING JAMES VERSION IN LATIN, SINCE THE KING JAMES TRANSLATORS USED IT AS ONE OF THEIR PRIMARY GUIDES. But the problem arose when the commoners throughout Europe told their priests, who told their bishops, who told the popes, THAT THE COMMONERS DID NOT UNDERSTAND THE FIRST THING ABOUT LATIN. IT WAS NOT SPOKEN EXCEPT IN CHURCH CEREMONIES, AND THUS, IN ORDER TO LEARN IT, THE COMMONERS HAD TO GET THEIR PRIESTS TO TEACH THEM. But the priests would not bother teaching them. Why?

“BECAUSE KNOWLEDGE IS POWER, AND THE CATHOLIC CHURCH HAD ALL OF BOTH. For about 1,000 years, the Bible remained well known ONLY TO THE CHURCH OFFICIALS, clergy of all orders, and an elect few well educated scholars. It was never counter to any Papal Bull for any person to translate the Bible into another language. However, anyone who intended to do so was STRONGLY ADMONISHED by the Pope himself, with every archbishop, bishop and priest of the continent TOLD NOT TO TRANSLATE THE BIBLE INTO ANY LANGUAGE BESIDES BIBLICAL HEBREW, ANCIENT GREEK OR LATIN. THESE THREE LANGUAGES WERE ALMOST DEAD AT THE TIME, MEANING NO ONE SPOKE THEM COMMONLY.”

— Flamehorse website, excerpt from: ‘Top 10 Shameful Moments in Catholic History,’ June 8, 2011

— = —

Today we too unwittingly speak a dead language. But its death is not due to disuse. Rather, while the commoners who speak it generally communicate decently enough between each other, our words fall on dead ears when we attempt to use them to the priest class, the magistracy, the only users of those dead languages. To them, we speak as a mass of blubbing fools and are treated as such. It is not the language that is dead, but its users, babbling brooks issuing worthless streams of words without conscious thought behind them. And so the Bible goes on today, as it was then, unread and misunderstood but by that priest class.

William Tyndale, author of the first English translation of the Bible from the Greek and Hebrew texts, was executed by strangulation in 1534 for his “heretic” efforts, as his writings were against the pope’s universal control of kings, leading to the more modern concept of the “divine right of kings.” This divine right was specifically anti-catholic (anti-universal). And it is important to note that the 54 scholars that compiled the “King James” Bible in 1611 drew heavily from Tyndall’s translations. And it was apparently the logic and reasoning of Tyndale’s booklet “The Obedience of a Christian Man...” that allowed King Henry VIII to break the Church of England from the Roman Catholic Church. Obviously there is more to this story of independence, but Tyndall’s quotes help to comprehend the importance of English as the language of illiteracy, a critique on the mysteries and use of Latin by the priest-class to an English-only speaking people.

—=—

“How can we whet (put into practice, use and exercise) God’s Word upon our children and household, when we are violently kept from it and know it not? ...On the holy days which were ordained to preach God’s word, set up long ceremonies, long matins, long masses and long evensongs, and all in Latin that they understand not, and roll them in darkness, that ye may lead them whither ye will... AND YET PAUL (WAS...) FORBIDDETH TO SPEAK IN THE CHURCH OR CONGREGATION SAVE IN THE TONGUE THAT ALL UNDERSTAND.”

—William Tyndale, quoted from: The Obedience of a Christian Man...

—=—

I certainly do not support the idea of any divine right of any king, or in the case of the United States, any sovereignty called as a “People.” This history is included here only to reinforce the fact that all kings were beholden not to God alone, but to the Roman god of the Catholic Church. Kings ruled only through the middle-man and vicar of Christ that the pope still to this day pretends to be. And so this helps us to understand the origins of this divine right, psychopathic as it may be. And from that same tune of psychopathy, the American “exceptionalism” of the private landholding “People” stems, entrained even into their beholden, voluntarily subjective citizenship.

Ironically, Tyndall’s premise was based on the fact that Jesus proclaimed that each man individually should read the Bible, for only then may he be able to recognize just who were the false prophets. And whom else but the very priest-class did Jesus himself call out in the Bible as being such false prophets, whose false doctrines could only lead men away from Jehovah? In this way, a man might know a good king from bad. And also in this way, the commonalty of the United States should certainly know their own leaders for what they are, if they were only to be able to read the Bible as intended and not for their own personal “filthy” lucre and gain in mammon and in support of pointless world war.

Think of it this way... for those who have studied the trivium method as to the application of the liberal arts in the specifically ordered use and communication of grammar first, then logic, and then and only then rhetoric, we must obviously be conscious of the source of our foundation of grammar (knowledge) lest our logic (dialectic) fail and become a false belief (love), while our rhetoric (speech) shines only in the light of our self-induced and confident ignorance. To this end, let us not forget that the English language is the language of intentional illiteracy, as it is called as dog-Latin. And so it is very dangerous to place one's knowledge upon a pedestal over other English-speakers, and especially over those that operate in and practice any higher language, when that knowledge is based in a language designed to obfuscate the origin and True meaning of most words. It is therefore doubly dangerous to insist upon possessing proper logic and reason based upon such knowledge in our rhetorical diatribe, for our logic is only as good as our grammar, and the source of all English grammar is purposefully and thus often accidentally tainted, often by men with otherwise good intent. In other words, our history has been Romanized. Our history is merely a strung together tale of romantic, fantastical stories designed to enforce the big legal lie. The characters of our confirmed lies called "histories" are portrayed as gods and heroes, steeped with bravery and seemingly supernatural powers, with hardly the notion that these were often only frail men underneath their fantastically glorified titles and romantic deeds. Even the founders of the United States appear in our fabled history as the supposed godfathers and fighters of Natural liberty, though nothing they accomplished was in any way original or moral. Just ask those they allowed to be commercially enslaved! And ask yourself again after reading this work.

But if we are to examine history and literature honestly by these standards in their artfully tainted language, we must include one of the most Romanized books ever to be in Existence; that of the Holy Bible. One cannot deny that in America we for the most part read the Bible, in general, only in its translated English (dog-Latin) version. This is not unlike the times of old when only the priest class was allowed the privilege and ability of learning to read and write in otherwise dead languages to the common goyim. Today, the commoners read the Bible without understanding, not due to any lack of the ability to read, but instead due to their heavily ingrained English-only language barrier. Our logic is therefore in general flawed, not by any fault or lack of effort on the part of the man in subjection who might master that low and mean language with the best of intentions if he were not publicly governed (controlled) not to do so, but only because he has not the proper tool of language to accomplish the correct grammar that would correct his false dialectic caused by his sole use of dog-Latin. And so while the illiterates of yesterday had no grasp of the artful use of language, the illiterates of today believe they have a full grasp on a language that is secretly designed to confuse and mislead them and to cause a false dialectic, logical fallacy, with few ever contemplating it as a bastard language borrowed and stolen from many other sources. Some are even very clever in their use, even awarded prizes for their discourses and tragic fictions, dramas, and comedies.

English is somewhat of a simulacrum, a copy with no original source, for the original sources are many and some are merely copies of others. One is left to wonder which people had a worse situation - those in known ancient ignorance or we of modern arrogance of the same? At least those who could not read or write actually knew of their own illiteracy.

—=—

“If names are not correct, language will not be in accordance with the truth of things.”

—Confucius

—=—

Whatever the case, we must break free from this fictional cage of word magic. We must break the language barrier. We must remain only in the singular Realm of Nature, in Reality, where our words mean that One and only One thing without artifice. It is only that respect of the power and authority of words that is the problem, not the words themselves. Only when Reality is more Real than the fictions used to re-present It by name and description will language cease to be used to conquer (purchase) all people. This dualism of words in writing and in law must be put to an end. Men will always conspire in confederation by attempting to use words as tools for the dis-ease and enslavement of all others. And so it is only individually all men that may free their minds of this word-simulation and legal code, and to teach their children well.

But the name of the legal game is piracy. We have been locked in a battle of the spirit for many generations, a war for the mind, body, and soul of the common man. The object of that victory is to legally steal the landed estates of most men, by tricking them into abandoning their heirs, their offspring, their children to the legal state. By artificially corrupting the inheritable blood of most children through the registration and delivery certification process of birth, the held land through prescription or other means is reverted back to the first grantor, which is in the “trust” and territory of the United States on behalf of each of the several (private) States in compact. The government through its many agencies may only hold that land in the trust of “the People” until one of the bloodline People of each State then claims that land as a legitimate private land-holder, and so passes it by law and by blood to his own legitimate heirs in consanguinity. This is in a clandestine way merely outright theft. Piracy of the sea. And all it requires is absolute ignorance through a continuous, circular public education process of all parents and children, so that they may never even imagine their own inheritable rights ever existed in the first place. This process of publicity, of delivery into the seizure of government’s district in distraint, has been streamlined and normalized as a part of the custom of our national societies, as has the Social Security systems that are now in over 140 countries around the world, all controlled by the United Nations and the World Bank under the International Social Security Association (ISSA). It is the ultimate, worldwide governmental public scheme to kidnap all children into and under the international law of nations, One big fictionally registered (taxed) family under one Caesar, taking us all away from our sovereign States of Being and marking us as merely sons and daughters of the nations. It is an attempt at the total abandonment of the Natural Law and of God, replaced only by legal considerations, treaties, and declarations of human rights in commerce. Animal rights. World government. Globalism is upon us. It is the system of the beast, that is, men considered only as soulless beasts of burden under a permanent, un-payable debt, performing the contractual script of the devil.

And is this not exactly what the Bible warns us about: an international social security insurance system as the numbering of all chattel beasts in surety?

Meanwhile the church and state propaganda machines fill the minds of false-religious men with images of “The Beast” as a monster with many heads that will reek havoc upon the Earth. For the church must hide the state’s plan to mark every man as an individual beast that makes up the whole collective beast system as human capital management on an organized, global scale controlled centrally (federally). And the state must hide the church’s role by protecting its secrets. The multitude is the communal beast, a body politic of all individual beasts. Many heads in one system of capitalism. E Pluribus Unem. Out of many one. This is the true essence of demonology, where evil geniuses succeed in killing the spirits of men by possessing their minds with fictional, demonic concepts of law and personhood through the trickery of word-magic.

—=—

"He who makes a beast of himself gets rid of the pain of being a man."

—Samuel Johnson, Anecdotes of the Reverend Percival Stockdale (reprinted in "Johnsonian Miscellanies", edited by G.B. Hill).

—=—

Ultimately, this whole piracy scheme is what is known as an ESCHEAT. By reverting all lands back to the original grantor due to the simulation of death caused by birth to the blood-heirs of all families, the commonality is completely stripped of all wealth and property, as well as any Real prosperity in posterity, living only in the artificial womb of the person and property of the very pirates that took it all in the first place. It’s like stealing your car and then renting it back to you with tax and interest. They steal your home and land, allowing you to remain there as long as you pay property tax on what is not actually the Real property and land of the very thief collecting those taxes in exaction and extortion. And this is all done on paper, using only the terms of art we have discussed.

So what is it to escheat an entire generation?

— = —

“Escheat is derived from the French word "eschoir," which signifies to happen, because it FALLS TO THE LORD from an EVENT and from an unforeseen circumstance.”

ESCHZTA DERIVATUR A VERBO GALlico ESCHOIR, QUOD EST ACCIDERE, QUIA ACCIDIT DOMINO EX EVENTU ET EX INSPERATO. Co. Litt. 93. (Black4)

— = —

“Those things are commonly called "escheats" which REVERT to the EXCHEQUER from a FAILURE OF ISSUE in those who hold of the king, WHEN THERE DOES NOT EXIST ANY HEIR BY CONSANGUINITY.”

ESCHAETAE VULGO DICUNTUR QUAE DECIDENTIBUS HIS QUAE DE REGE TENENT, CUM NON EXISTIT RATIONE SANGUINIS HAERES, AD FISCUM RELABUNTUR. (Black4)

— = —

As the exchequer was only the agent of the king (principal), the United States and state governments are only the agents of the pirates known as the sovereignty (sovereign People) of each State. They are the private landed lords. Our public persons are those recorded events.

But how does the legal government (principal) make living heirs not exist in the eyes of the law? It is the birth EVENT that simulates the abandonment of our heirs to the state, causing the severing of any connection as an attainer of any blood relation to us and our private property. It is the legal separation of the man from the land (in estate). The escheat happens when we physically die, causing the end of our person (status) at law, and when our children are somehow nowhere to be legitimately “found” by the state (the cheater). For the state legally hides our children’s blood from us in consideration of its law of distribution. It’s just a cheap con game. A well organized, immoral, legal land-grab.

The word escheat as a noun stems from the notion of THE REVERTING OF LAND TO A KING OR LORD in certain cases, from the early 14th century and stemming from Anglo-French eschete (late 13th century) and the Old French eschete "SUCCESSION, INHERITANCE," as literally "that which FALLS to one," which is the noun use of feminine past participle of escheoir "happen, befall, occur, take place; fall due; LAPSE (legally)," and from Late Latin excadere "to fall out," from Latin ex- "out, away" aded to cadere "TO FALL," and representing a restored form of excidere, which yielded excise.

Of course, the noun escheat correlates to the verb cheat. The word cheat in the mid 15th century carried the meaning of "to escheat," a shortening of Old French eschete, a legal term for REVISION OF PROPERTY TO THE STATE WHEN THE OWNER DIES WITHOUT HEIRS, literally "that which falls to one..." The royal officers evidently had a low reputation. Its meaning evolved through the word "CONFISCATE" (mid-15th century) with the meaning of to "DEPRIVE UNFAIRLY" (1580s). To cheat on (someone) as to "be sexually unfaithful" was only first recorded around 1934. Related: Cheated; cheating.

The author cannot stress enough how each of us have been cheated, or more properly escheated out of our blood inheritance. We have been cheated out of our lands. We have been cheated out of our children. We have been cheated out of our parents. We have been cheated out of our lineage. And we have been cheated out of our God; out of our unalienable rights. This is the power of these contracts of the devils. Before the heavenly lands of man may be made to fall, first the man must be made dead through his fall into a fictional debtor's hell.

ESCHEAT - In feudal law. Escheat is AN OBSTRUCTION OF THE COURSE OF DESCENT, AND CONSEQUENT DETERMINATION OF THE TENURE, by some unforeseen contingency, in which case the land NATURALLY RESULTS BACK, BY A KIND OF REVERSION, TO THE ORIGINAL GRANTOR, OR LORD OF THE FEE. It is the casual descent, IN THE NATURE OF FORFEITURE, of lands and tenements within his manor, to a lord, either on FAILURE OF ISSUE of the tenant DYING SEISED or on account of THE FELONY OF SUCH TENANT. Also the land or fee itself, which thus FELL BACK TO THE LORD. Such lands were called "excadentiae," or "terrae excadentiales." In American law. Escheat signifies a reversion of property TO THE STATE in consequence of A WANT OF ANY INDIVIDUAL COMPETENT TO INHERIT. THE STATE IS DEEMED TO OCCUPY THE PLACE AND HOLD THE RIGHTS OF THE FEUDAL LORD. "Escheat at feudal law was the right of the lord of a fee to re-enter upon the same WHEN IT BECAME VACANT BY THE EXTINCTION OF THE BLOOD OF THE TENANT." This extinction might either be per defectum sanguinis or else per delictum tenentis, WHERE THE COURSE OF DESCENT WAS BROKEN BY THE CORRUPTION OF THE BLOOD OF THE TENANT. As a fee might be holden either of the crown or from SOME INFERIOR LORD, the escheat was not always to the crown. The word 'escheat,' in this country, at the present time, MERELY INDICATES THE PREFERABLE RIGHT OF THE STATE TO AN ESTATE LEFT VACANT, AND WITHOUT THERE BEING ANY ONE IN EXISTENCE ABLE TO MAKE CLAIM THERETO." Single Escheat. When all a person's movables fall to the crown, AS A CASUALTY, because of his being declared rebel. (Black4)

ESCHEAT - noun - [Latin cado, cadere.] 1. Any land or tenements which casually FALL or REVERT to the lord within his manor, THROUGH FAILURE OF HEIRS. It is the determination of the tenure or dissolution of the mutual bond between the lord and tenant, from the EXTINCTION OF THE BLOOD of the tenant, BY DEATH OR NATURAL MEANS, OR BY CIVIL MEANS, as FORFEITURE OR CORRUPTION OF BLOOD. 2. In the United States, the FALLING OR PASSING of lands and tenements TO THE STATE, THROUGH FAILURE OF HEIRS OR FORFEITURE, or in cases WHERE NO OWNER IS FOUND. 3. The place or circuit within which the king or lord is entitled to escheats. 4. A writ to recover escheats from the person in possession. 5. The lands which fall to the lord or state by escheat. 6. In Scots law, the forfeiture incurred by a man's being denounced a rebel. - verb intransitive - In England, to revert, as land, to the lord of a manor, by means of the EXTINCTION OF THE BLOOD OF THE TENANT. 1. In America, to fall or come, as land, TO THE STATE, THROUGH FAILURE OF HEIRS OR OWNERS, or by forfeiture for treason. In the feudal sense, no escheat can exist in the United States; BUT THE WORD IS USED IN STATUTES CONFISCATING THE ESTATES OF THOSE WHO ABANDONED THEIR COUNTRY, during the revolution, AND IN STATUTES GIVING TO THE STATE THE LANDS FOR WHICH NO OWNER CAN BE FOUND. - verb transitive - To forfeit. [Not used.] (Webs1828)

ESCHEAT - In feudal law, the determination of the tenure or dissolution of the bond between lord and tenant FROM EXTINCTION OF THE BLOOD OF THE LATTER BY NATURAL OR CIVIL MEANS. Thus, IF THE TENANT DIED WITHOUT HEIRS OF HIS BLOOD, OR IF HIS BLOOD WAS CORRUPTED BY COMMISSION OF TREASON OR FELONY, WHEREBY THE INHERITABLE

QUALITY WAS BLOTTED OUT, the land “fell back” to the lord of the fee— the tenure being determined by breach of the condition. See ATTAINDER. The word, originally French or Norman, signifying CHANCE or ACCIDENT, now denotes OBSTRUCTION OF THE COURSE OF DESCENT, AND DETERMINATION OF TENURE, by some unforeseen contingency; in which case the land NATURALLY RESULTS BACK, by a kind of REVERSION, TO THE ORIGINAL GRANTOR. See Descent. 3. IN THE UNITED STATES, A REVERSION OF PROPERTY TO THE STATE IN DEFAULT OF A PERSON WHO CAN INHERIT IT. Depends upon POSITIVE STATUTE, WHICH MAKES THE STATE THE HEIR OF THE PROPERTY. Nothing about it but the NAME is feudal. (WCA1889)

— = —

Let us be clear here that the old feudal landlords and barons were the agents holding lands of the feudal king. The sovereign landholders of today in America, those private citizens of the several States, are the combined (confederated) kingship of today, and we are their agents. The governments they create serve only as a simulation of the old land-lords and barons (agents). In other words, the common people of the United States are tenants of lands held by the sovereign land-holders, but we only deal with the landlords, which we today call the agencies and agents of the federal and state governments, those artificial persons as creations of the kingship (We, the “white” People in blood posterity). And so while Mr. Anderson is above certainly telling the truth that this system of escheat is feudal in name only, the Reality is that only the words and names have changed. The system is still of a feudal nature. The only difference is that while yesterday that feud was not a choice and was instead under a complete tyranny, today it is a voluntary chattel system that can only exist as long as the common goyim (we who are born of nations and whose father is the state/People) have no idea it is happening and that the consequences of our choices lead to that same exact system of old. The only difference is the language. All else regarding that feudal system remains intact. It’s now only conducted under contract law instead of monarchical and cannon law as a holy dictatorship. This is to say that these cheats have figured out a way to trick us all into abandoning any common law consideration by acting in a contractual relationship with a landlord (government), and so this action of what under the common law is called as cheating is not recognized by the law of contracts, the law of nations. To put it a different way, the law in its legitimate functionality is always searching for heirs, but the so-called “unforeseen event” of legal birth causes man’s blood to be blotted out and thus unrecognizable by any legitimacy of law. The man’s blood cannot be found, for it is attainted by the fiction of the state. What do you expect from a bunch of pirates flying the commercial Arms (flag) of war and death? If we accept the flag, we except the jurisdiction, as the “law of the flag.”

Again here I wish to pledge to my fellow man that this work should be considered only as a gift of knowledge, but perhaps even more so as a swift kick in the ass to wake you the hell up from your own voluntary enslavement!

As it turns out, most government employees are really just escheat officers of government, managing government property that its goyim foolishly believe is their own. Slaves acting as hirelings, prostituting themselves to their privateering alienators and against their very own kind, against their own blood and family.

ESCHEATOR - An officer who takes charge of escheated estates FOR THE GOVERNMENT.
(WCA1889)

ESCHEATOR - In English law. The name of an officer who was APPOINTED IN EVERY COUNTY to look after the escheats which fell due to the king in that particular county, and to certify the same into the exchequer. An escheator could continue in office for one year only, and was not re-eligible until three years. There does not appear to exist any such officer at the present day. (Black4)

CHEATERS, or ESCHEATORS - Were OFFICERS APPOINTED TO LOOK AFTER THE KING'S ESCHEATS, a duty which gave them great opportunities of FRAUD AND OPPRESSION, and in consequence many complaints were made of their misconduct. Hence it seems that a cheater came to signify A FRAUDULENT PERSON, and thence THE VERB TO CHEAT WAS DERIVED. (Black4)

CHEAT - verb transitive - 1. To deceive and defraud in a BARGAIN; to deceive for the purpose of gain in selling. Its proper application is to COMMERCE, in which A PERSON USES SOME ARTS, OR MISREPRESENTATIONS, OR WITHHOLDS SOME FACTS, by which he deceives the PURCHASER. 2. To deceive by any ARTIFICE, trick or device, with a view TO GAIN AN ADVANTAGE CONTRARY TO COMMON HONESTY; as, to cheat a person at cards. 3. TO IMPOSE ON; TO TRICK. It is followed by of or out of, and colloquially by into, as to cheat a child into a belief that a medicine is palatable. - noun - 1. A fraud committed by deception; a trick; imposition; imposture. 2. A person who cheats; one guilty of FRAUD BY DECEITFUL PRACTICES. (Webs1828)

CHEAT - verb - To deceive and defraud. It NECESSARILY implies a fraudulent intent. The words "cheat and defraud" usually mean TO INDUCE A PERSON TO PART WITH THE POSSESSION OF PROPERTY BY REASON OF INTENTIONALLY FALSE REPRESENTATIONS RELIED AND ACTED UPON BY SUCH PERSON TO HIS HARM. They include not only the crime of false pretenses, but also all civil frauds. They include all tricks, devices, ARTIFICES, or deceptions USED TO DEPRIVE ANOTHER OF PROPERTY OR OTHER RIGHT. - noun - Swindling; defrauding. "DECEITFUL PRACTICES IN DEFRAUDING OR ENDEAVORING TO DEFRAUD ANOTHER OF HIS KNOWN RIGHT, BY SOME WILLFUL DEVICE, CONTRARY TO THE PLAIN RULES OF COMMON HONESTY." "THE FRAUDULENT OBTAINING THE PROPERTY OF ANOTHER BY ANY DECEITFUL AND ILLEGAL PRACTICE OR TOKEN (SHORT OF FELONY) which affects or may affect the PUBLIC." Cheats, punishable at COMMON LAW, are such cheats (NOT AMOUNTING TO FELONY) AS ARE EFFECTED BY DECEITFUL OR ILLEGAL SYMBOLS OR TOKENS which may affect the public at large, and against which common prudence could not have guarded. (Black4)

CHEAT - Cheats which are PUNISHABLE AT COMMON LAW may be described to be DECEITFUL PRACTICES in defrauding or endeavoring to defraud another of his KNOWN RIGHTS by means of some ARTFUL DEVICE, contrary to the plain rules of common honesty. MANY ACTS WHICH WOULD BE DENOUNCED AS CHEATS BY THE PRINCIPLES OF MORALITY ARE NOT LEGALLY CHEATS. TO "CHEAT AND DEFRAUD" DOES NOT NECESSARILY IMPORT THE COMMISSION OF AN INDICTABLE OFFENSE. Therefore, in charging a CONSPIRACY to cheat and defraud, the means proposed must be set out, for the information of the court and of the defendant. A cheat or fraud, indictable at common law, must be such as would affect the public, such as common prudence cannot guard against: as, using false weights and measures, or false tokens, or where there is a conspiracy to cheat. Technically, the offense is "false pretenses." Spoken of one in relation to his vocation, the word is defamatory and actionable. See Covin; Deceit; Pretenses; Swindle. (WCA1889)

— = —

Consider this... does this current system of fraud effect the public? That is to say, does this process effect the "known rights" of any United States citizen-ship? Of course not. The nature of a citizen-ship is of the nature of the after-effects of escheat. The public has no legitimate holding of lands in the first place, so how can they be stolen through escheat? When the birth certificate is created, birthing the legal entity, no escheat happens at that time. Only upon the death of the last parent in blood consideration of consanguinity does this piracy take place, and at that point there is no heir by law or blood to offend or steal from in the eyes of the common law. Public persons are contracted to a legal system not protected under common law equity. The contract makes the law. It's a perfect scheme, for it sidesteps the common law and causes men to cheat themselves and all their future generations by the now customary act of birth certification and registration.

There were several points during the collection of this research that the author felt as low as one could feel while being at the same time enlightened by such information. This was one of them. It is the realization that our culture is so “advanced” in its ignorance of itself and its Source that the dark ages are taught to us to be the modern era of light. That we live in a system of government (mind control) revolving around cheating (escheating) is one thing, but to comprehend that the game they are legally and by state license cheating at is only to block our most powerful ability to ever win the game (as our spiritual awakening and our attachment to the land) and that the origin of this word cheat comes from stealing land legally under the law of the king by his own agents, I am still going through my own strange form of cognitive dissonance, which is manifesting as a deeper sadness than I have ever felt in my life. But I do not feel defeated, only incredulous. I simply cannot fathom how this happened, unless I consider that nothing ever really changed but the words that describe it. It is a battle of the mind, and it was perhaps the propaganda bestowed by false history, public education, and perverted entertainment that changed good men into bumbling fools always returning to their own vomit.

Of course, the kings escheats still exist in the queens United Kingdom. In British Columbia, Canada for instance, we find this piracy scheme alive and well:

ESCHEAT ACT
[RSBC 1996] CHAPTER 120

Escheated land may be taken by Attorney General

1. If LAND in British Columbia ESCHEATS to the government because the PERSON last SEISED or entitled to it DIES INTTESTATE and WITHOUT LAWFUL HEIRS, or forfeits to the government, the Attorney General may take possession of the land in the NAME of the government.

Delegation by Attorney General

1.1 In this Act, "Attorney General" in a section includes a PERSON designated by the Attorney General for purposes of the section.

Action for possession

2 The Attorney General may sue to recover possession of escheated land.

Escheat of estates

3 (1) If a person DIES WITHOUT AN HEIR AND INTTESTATE in respect of ANY real estate consisting of ANY estate or interest, whether legal or equitable, in any incorporeal hereditament, or of any equitable estate or interest in any corporeal hereditament, whether devised or not devised to trustees by the WILL OF THAT PERSON, the law of escheat applies in the same manner as if that estate or interest were a legal estate in corporeal hereditaments.

(2) If any beneficial interest in the real estate of any deceased person, whether the estate or interest of the deceased person in it was LEGAL OR EQUITABLE, is, because of the failure of the OBJECTS of the DEVISE or other circumstances happening before or after the death of the deceased person, in whole or in part not effectually DISPOSED of, the deceased person is deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have DIED INTTESTATE in respect of that part of the beneficial interest as is ineffectually disposed of...

Grant effective although person in adverse possession

6 (1) A grant under section 5 may be made without actual entry or investigation being first necessary, ALTHOUGH THE LAND IS NOT IN THE ACTUAL POSSESSION OF THE GOVERNMENT, and even though SOME PERSON CLAIMS TITLE TO IT ADVERSELY TO A PERSON TO WHOM THE LAND HAD BELONGED.

(2) If possession of the land is withheld, the person to whom the grant is made is then entitled to sue for the recovery of the land...

Personal property

8 The Attorney General may, as to the Attorney General seems proper,

(a) make any assignment of personal property to which the government is entitled because of

(i) the person last entitled to it having died intestate and WITHOUT LEAVING ANY KIN OR OTHER PERSON ENTITLED TO SUCCEED TO IT,

(ii) the property having become vested in the government AS A THING THAT HAD NO OWNER, or

(iii) the property having become FORFEITED to the government, or

(b) make an assignment of any portion of the personal property, for the purpose of

(i) transferring or restoring it to any person or persons having a LEGAL OR MORAL claim on the PERSON to whom it had belonged,

(ii) carrying into effect any disposition of it which the person may have contemplated, or

(iii) REWARDING THE PERSON MAKING DISCOVERY OF THE RIGHT OF THE GOVERNMENT TO THE PROPERTY...

— = —

But do these escheat laws and the cheaters that impose them exist in the United States? Of course they do. We call them escheat laws, though we may pretend to use some other term of art to hide their origin and meaning. For it is the federal and state governments that are the exchequer (agent) acting on behalf of the several (private) States (principal) in escheat. Only the names have been changed to protect the innocent pirates.

In a 2011 publication, the attorney firm of Briggs and Morgan released the following:

Alert: Minnesota AG and DOC Investigating Compliance With STATE ESCHEAT LAWS
December 14, 2011

The Minnesota Attorney General's (AG) office and Department of Commerce (DOC) have commenced an investigation to determine whether insurance companies are complying with state escheat laws. In accordance with state laws, the AG and DOC seek to ensure that life insurers ARE NOT KEEPING UNCLAIMED DEATH BENEFITS THAT SHOULD BE PROPERTY OF THE STATE... Minnesota's statutes with respect to unclaimed property are provided in Minn. Stat. Chapter 345.

The issue of compliance with escheat laws has been raised in other states. Earlier this year, an investigation in California found that insurance companies were using the Social Security Death Master File (DMF) to stop making annuity payments as soon as policy holders were deceased, but were not using the same information from the DMF to promptly pay beneficiaries of life insurance policies OR TURN OVER UNCLAIMED PROPERTY TO THE STATE. As many as 38 states, including Minnesota, are now undertaking investigations to determine whether insurance companies are complying with their respective state laws...

— = —

In all of the states we find similar publications and advertising by attorneys (devilmasters) regarding the escheat of estates, even as the bar further promotes the mythology that the lands and property of the common people actually belong to the common people, instead of truthfully disclosing this piracy scheme that bestows only the secondary, alienated, imperfect title that under law belongs to some land baron (lord god) of the blood-line.

This last advertisement even tells us that we need our genealogical chart to establish our blood inheritance, though most of us are conditioned only to use the birth certificate, which is of course a voluntary consent to the abandonment and attainder of any legitimacy of those family trees and our blood-rights. For the birth certificate shows only an infant adulterer that is born in and thus only the bastard son of a nation.

ESTATE & PROBATE: Protecting Your Inheritance
By Attorney Albert Gurevich on November 14, 2012

If you do not have a valid Florida WILL or TRUST at the time of your death, THE STATE OF FLORIDA CAN CLAIM YOUR PROPERTY AFTER YOU PASS AWAY THROUGH ESCHATEAT IF YOU HAVE NO HEIRS OR RELATIVES THAT COME FORWARD TO MAKE A CLAIM. The court will issue an ORDER whereby your property gets transferred to the State of Florida. However, if an heir does come forward, the heir can make a claim with the court...

The claim must be made within three months after the publication of the Notice of Administration. AN HEIR MUST ESTABLISH THAT THEY ARE RELATED TO THE DECEDENT THROUGH BIRTH CERTIFICATES, FAMILY TREE OR GENEALOGY CHARTS. The attorney will review the documentation to make sure that it is sufficient for the court to rule in favor of the claimant and recognize the claimant as THE RIGHTFUL HEIR OF THE DECEDENT. THE COURT WILL ISSUE AN ORDER APPROVING THE DECEDENT'S HEIR so that the assets can be distributed to the heir after all the claims have been paid and the estate can be closed...

— = —

One only needs a will or trust if one has not any blood heirs considered by law. For the law only protects the negative liberties of private men, not the positive rights of enslaved citizenships. A slave has no right of inheritance, but has the right to request of the government that it allow the fictional titles to land and property (proof of debt) to be passed on to their abandoned children in taxation instead of merely taken by force. If you need a will or trust, you are not free, you are not legitimate, you are not in equitable status under the Natural Law, and you are only the user of your children and your property, says man's legal law.

We can find escheat (cheat) laws in U.S. Code and as considered in S.E.C. regulations as well. In this code, we get a healthy dose of very bad tasting medicine. For we see here that the United States is only created to protect the States (the sovereign People) from us and not we, the citizenships of the United States from those States. Remember, the creator controls.

U.S. Code > Title 26 > Subtitle F > Chapter 65 > Subchapter A > § 6408

No overpayment of any tax imposed by this title shall be refunded (and no interest with respect to any such overpayment shall be paid) if the amount of such refund (or interest) would escheat to a State or would otherwise become the property of a State under any law relating to the disposition of unclaimed or abandoned property. No refund (or payment of interest) shall be made to the estate OF ANY DECEDENT unless it is affirmatively shown THAT SUCH AMOUNT WILL NOT ESCHEAT TO A STATE OR OTHERWISE BECOME THE PROPERTY OF A STATE UNDER SUCH A LAW.

U.S. Code > Title 12 > Chapter 26 > § 2503

Where any sum is payable on a money order, traveler's check, or other similar written instrument (other than a third party bank check) on which a banking or financial organization or a business association is directly liable

—

(1) if the books and records of such banking or financial organization or business association show the State in which such money order, traveler's check, or similar written instrument was purchased, THAT STATE SHALL BE ENTITLED EXCLUSIVELY TO ESCHEAT or take custody of the sum payable on such instrument, to the extent of that State's power UNDER ITS OWN LAWS TO ESCHEAT OR TAKE CUSTODY of such sum;

(2) if the books and records of such banking or financial organization or business association do not show the State in which such money order, traveler's check, or similar written instrument was purchased, the State in which the banking or financial organization or business association has its PRINCIPAL PLACE OF BUSINESS shall be ENTITLED TO ESCHEAT OR TAKE CUSTODY of the sum payable on such money order, traveler's check, or similar written instrument, to the extent of that State's power UNDER ITS OWN LAWS TO ESCHEAT or take custody of such sum, until another State shall demonstrate by written evidence THAT IT IS THE STATE OF PURCHASE; or

(3) if the books and records of such banking or financial organizations or business association show the State in which such money order, traveler's check, or similar written instrument was purchased and the laws of the State of purchase do not provide for the escheat or custodial taking of the sum payable on such instrument, the State in which the banking or financial organization or business association has its PRINCIPAL PLACE OF BUSINESS shall be ENTITLED TO ESCHEAT or take custody of the sum payable on such money order, traveler's check, or similar written instrument, to the extent of that State's power under its own laws to escheat or take custody of such sum, subject to the right of the State of purchase to recover such sum from the STATE OF PRINCIPAL PLACE OF BUSINESS if and when the law of the STATE OF PURCHASE makes provision for ESCHEAT OR CUSTODIAL TAKING of such sum.

—U.S. Code. Excerpted from 'Legal Information Institute' online, Cornell University Law School

— = —

Accounts – Abandoned or Unclaimed:
THE ESCHEATMENT PROCESS

All states require financial institutions, including brokerage firms, to report when personal property has been abandoned or unclaimed after a period of time specified by state law — often five years. Before a brokerage account can be considered abandoned or unclaimed, the firm must make a diligent effort to try to locate the account owner. If the firm is unable to do so, and the account has remained inactive for the period of time specified by state law, the firm must report the account to the state where the account is held. THE STATE THEN CLAIMS THE ACCOUNT THROUGH A PROCESS CALLED "ESCHEATMENT," WHEREBY THE STATE BECOMES THE OWNER of the account.

As part of the escheatment process, the state will hold the account as a bookkeeping entry, against which the former account owner may make a claim. STATES TEND TO SELL THE SECURITIES IN ESCHEATED ACCOUNTS AND TREAT THE PROCEEDS AS STATE FUNDS. When a former account owner makes a valid request, however, the states will normally provide the former owner with CASH EQUALING THE VALUE OF THE ACCOUNT at the time of escheatment. This amount of cash does not include any dividends or interest covering the time after escheatment.

There are several websites, including commercial ones, where you can search for unclaimed property. One non-commercial site, the National Association of Unclaimed Property Administrators, allows you to search by individual state.

States have their own requirements for FINDING and claiming unclaimed property. If you believe you have unclaimed property, the state will require you to send them INFORMATION about YOURSELF to verify your ownership of the unclaimed property. After verifying your OWNERSHIP, the state will either mail you a claim form or PERMIT you to fill out the form online and print it for SUBMISSION TO THE STATE.

—Securities And Exchange Commission website, excerpted from: <http://www.sec.gov/answers/escheat.htm>

— = —

So what is the difference between the English system of escheat under the Crown and this United States system of commercial escheat laws? In England, this is tradition. It has always been a feudal tenure, its citizens subject-slaves of that crown. But in America these are not standing laws. They are of the nature of a contractual dis-ease. They are steeped in trickery and deceit, born of voluntary ignorance and false pride, and controlled by attorneys pretending to be legitimate lawmakers.

If your parents made an accidental overpayment on any taxes while they were physically alive and also living in the spiritually dead legal form of a public status called “taxpayer” before that strawman's civil death was caused by their Natural death, the federal (confederate/conspiratorial) law is set up to ensure that the issues (children) of that straw will be cheated out of any refund or recompense because its only function protects and preserves property of the States (People). The property was always held of the private State through tenancy and rent. And so the state has first rights to the estate before those little adulterous bastards with tainted blood, the children being not of the bloodline of the State (People) and therefore not actual holders of the landed estates of their ancestry or of their so-called “property.” And so each of the 50 pirate ships (several States) that make up the compact and created the pirate cove government called the “United States” are guaranteed their share of that pirate booty (estate and property of their own public persons) when it is found within any of their bordered territory of seizure (district). It is treasure found through word magic and trickery by cheaters (escheaters).

Are these escheat laws in America the same as the old feudal escheat? Sure thing. Only the appearance of the “king” has changed, which in America is now a sovereign People acting in a body politic through a collective, conspiratorial king-ship. It’s just the master cheaters through the office of head attorney as legal executive and “General” re-distributing State owned property to the dead hands of its ship-masters, as principal to its agents.

ESCHEAT - In feudal English land law, the return or forfeiture TO THE LORD OF LAND HELD BY HIS TENANT. There were generally two conditions by which land would escheat: THE DEATH OF THE TENANT WITHOUT HEIRS OR THE CONVICTION OF THE TENANT FOR A FELONY. In case of FELONY, THE LAND WOULD LOSE ITS INHERITABILITY AND ESCHATE TO THE LORD, who would then hold the land subject to the crown’s right TO EXPLOIT THE FELON’S LANDS for a year and a day. In time, this exploitation right of the crown was commuted in return for a money payment OR SERVICE RENDERED to the crown by the lord. In the case of a tenant convicted of high treason, however, his land escheated directly to the crown, and the lord forfeited all rights he had in that tenant’s lands completely. The escheat of lands for felony was abolished by statute in England in 1870; and by a statute enacted in 1925, no longer does land escheat to its former owner solely for failure of heirs. In the United States, laws passed in all states provide THAT LAND WILL ESCHATE TO THE STATE (COUNTY OR CITY) IF AN OWNER DIES WITHOUT A VALID WILL AND IF NO HEIRS CAN BE FOUND. See also ATTAINDER. (Encyclopedia Britannica online)

ATTAINDER, BILL OF ATTAINDER - In English law, the extinction of civil and political rights resulting from a sentence of death or outlawry AFTER A CONVICTION OF TREASON OR A FELONY. The most important consequences of attainder were forfeiture and CORRUPTION OF BLOOD. For treason, an offender’s lands were forfeited to the king. For felonies, lands were forfeited to the king for a year and a day and then, because felonies were considered A BREACH OF THE FEUDAL BOND, escheated (forfeited) to the lord from whom the offender held his tenure. Subsequently, in Magna Carta (1215), the crown renounced its claim to forfeiture in the case of felony. Even harsher than attainder was the doctrine of corruption of blood, by which THE PERSON ATTAINTED WAS DISQUALIFIED FROM INHERITING OR TRANSMITTING PROPERTY AND HIS DESCENDANTS were forever barred from any inheritance of his rights to title. All forms of attainder—except the forfeiture that followed indictment for treason—were abolished during the 19th century. As a result of the English experience, the framers of the Constitution of the United States provided (Article III, Section 3) that “the Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture EXCEPT DURING THE LIFE OF THE PERSON ATTAINTED.” Historically, a legislative act attainting a person without a judicial trial was known as a bill of attainder or—if punishment was less than death—as a bill of pains and penalties... Acts of attainder or of pains and penalties were passed by some of the American colonial legislatures until the Constitution forbade them. In applying these prohibitions, THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES HAS EXPANDED THE HISTORICAL CONCEPTION OF ATTAINDER.... (Encyclopedia Britannica online)

— = —

Now correct me if I’m wrong here, but if I state in my constitution (contract) that “...no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture EXCEPT DURING THE LIFE OF THE PERSON ATTAINTED,” did I not just state that attainder and treason shall work corruption of blood during the life of the person? And does that not merely mean that attainder is fine and dandy as long as the person is alive? And does that not mean that all these pirates have to do to keep their greedy little hands on everyone else’s lands and property is to ensure through the birth process that every child is registered under Caesar and so found and seized in a modern pseudo-feudal state? Again I'd hate to be wrong here, but doesn't that mean that attainder can only be worked on a person from the beginning of his fictional birth to the end of that strawman's civil life, since there is no actual man implied in fictional personhood but as surety for its legal performance? Is not the registration of property into a fictional person not one's own, a person that belongs to the state, the same thing as an attainder of blood, as the killing of the heir? Isn't that the opposite of protection, or can we now see that the constitution only protects the pirates and their own bloodline? Does no one question this? Really? Because it turns out that the constitution is absolutely full of these circular statements and exception clauses that only benefit the private People in their own reserved rights.

The 13th amendment literally allows legalized, voluntary slavery as long as it "is a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted," while making it sound like quite the opposite to the casual reader, as if all slavery were abolished. Once children are enslaved and confirmed, the 5th amendment literally states that our "life, liberty, and property" is safe and can't be taken UNLESS the government convicts us of a crime, as in THE CRIME OF BIRTH AS A FELONY. Seriously, go read it, right now. It says voluntary slavery and voluntary servitude are perfectly LEGAL as long as (EXCEPT IF) the person is a convicted criminal, and that our life, liberty, and property, CAN be taken with "due process of law." As registered agents for service of process, what idiot can possibly think they are not a victim of that law of the land, otherwise known as "due process of law?" Go ahead, go and read it. This can wait...

So the question that one still in the delusion of patriotic constitutionalism might ask here would be, is that constitutional? Is slavery, seizure of life, liberty, and property, and attainder by felony at all constitutional?

Sigh...

Get this straight. Everything is, or at least can be declared in the courts as "constitutional," whether it is in or out of the constitution... but only if you are a slave. That covenant only restricts a very few things, and most of those things have exception clauses like those we just saw, which literally state that it is constitutional to cheat from you your contracted legal life, liberty, and property, including your legalized children. These are not things of Nature. These are constituted things, pretending they are the paper that represents those things of Reality. A political right only effects political things, and all things political are only ever artificial. The constitution is only the creation of lies and protects only its own created lies. They are only called politically as "truths," and a lie is a legal "truth" when it is confirmed and ratified by a liar. This is the domain of the devilmasters.

Those who act privately and reserve all of their rights in sovereignty need not worry. But those created 14th amendment citizenships of the United States cannot claim that anything is unconstitutional, for they are not a party to it. Just like an earthling cannot claim something is un-Martian-constitutional while residing on earth, a public person cannot complain privately about public law. These are two different worlds (realms). One is of the right of blood, one is of the constitutionally permitted cheat of those contractually bound in the attainder of blood of commercial personhood in that pirate cove (district). The bloodless are the constitution-less. We are not that private People in any constituted compact. We are not above the constitution and so we cannot compare the law that governs us to that constitution, which only negatively protects the unalienable rights of those privately in compact to it. We are foreigners, aliens in each state. We have no unalienable rights and so nothing done to us can ever be compared to the constitutional protections of those who have negatively reserved their unalienable rights. And so everything that the principality of government, which was initially created by the constitution, does to its own creations as its agents is perfectly constitutional. To declare what is constitutional is certainly not a right of public persons. Nor is any spiritual set of True, Natural Life, Liberty, and Property. The life is fictional, the liberty is only in an open-air prison for aliens/foreigners in commerce under mammon, and the property is only ever that of a stranger. Without holding the Real thing, no man's person has any right to, in Reality, actually effect it. A papered man deals only in paper things. A strawman can't Really be harmed now can it?

We see in the British Columbia Escheat Act above that the pirates even offer rewards for the common goy to rat each other's unclaimed estates out to government, and so many of us slaves have been made into cheats as well. Agents of the legal matrix. The con game is world wide. It's called "the law." And it all relies on each of us being born into a felony bastard-ship, so that any trace of blood is tainted and the blood-right of heirship forfeited in escheat. We have slowly, by every new legal registration of birth and incorporation of lands, been dragged back into the feudal system by our own ignorance of language. We have fallen under the magic spellings of these devil's contracts.

AN - The English indefinite article. Equivalent to "one" or "any;" seldom used to denote plurality. (Black4)

AN ET JOUR - French. Year and day; a year and a day. (Black4)

AN, JOUR, ET WASTE - In feudal law, year, day, and waste. A FORFEITURE OF THE LANDS TO THE CROWN INCURRED BY THE FELONY OF THE TENANT, after which time the land ESCHEATS TO THE LORD. Termes de la Ley. See Year, Day, and Waste. (Black4)

YEAR, DAY, AND WASTE - In English law. An ancient prerogative of the king, whereby he was entitled to the profits, for a year and a day, of the lands OF PERSONS ATTAINTED OF PETTY TREASON OR FELONY, together with the right of WASTING the tenements, afterwards RESTORING THE PROPERTY TO THE LORD OF THE FEE. See An, jour, et waste. (Black4)

YEAR AND DAY - This period was fixed for many purposes in law. Thus, in the case of an estray, if the owner did not claim it within that time, IT BECAME THE PROPERTY OF THE LORD. So the owners of wreck must claim it within a year and a day. Death must follow upon wounding within a year and a day if the wounding is to be indicted as murder. Also, a year and a day were given for prosecuting or avoiding certain legal acts; e. g., for bringing actions after entry, for making claim for avoiding a fine, etc. (Black4)

WASTE - Deterioration; destruction. 1. ANY SQUANDERING OR MISAPPLICATION OF PROPERTY or of a fund by trustees or others charged with a duty, or any ABUSE OF TRUST OR OF DUTY BY WHICH PROPERTY IS LOST or an estate or trust fund is diminished in value. If an executor or administrator be extravagant, it is a species of "devastation or waste" of the substance of the deceased. A spoil or destruction in houses, gardens, trees, or other corporeal hereditament, to the disherison of him that has the remainder or reversion in fee-simple or fee-tail. WHATEVER DOES A LASTING DAMAGE TO THE FREEHOLD OR INHERITANCE. A spoil and destruction of the estate, in houses, woods, or lands, by demolishing not the temporary profits only BUT THE VERY SUBSTANCE OF THE THING, THEREBY RENDERING IT WILD AND DESOLATE, which the common law expresses by the word vastum. Spoliation or destruction to lands or other corporeal hereditaments by a tenant to the prejudice of the reversioner or remainder-man. Any unlawful act or omission of duty on things forming an essential part of it, done or suffered by a person rightfully in possession as tenant, or having but A PARTIAL ESTATE, LIKE THAT OF A MORTGAGOR. (WCA1889)

— — —

This term of year and day is the ancient equivalent of the artificial life of the natural person. At the end of that term of life the land reverts back to the state, and is thus reassigned to the next person in trust. But the blood is absent in this consideration. The property never leaves the hands of the land-lords, only being transferred on paper to the next tenant.

As we further delve into these old words, we find a surprising twist. For public property is more likened to a disease (debt) than a cure.

CADUCA - In the civil law. Property of an INHERITABLE QUALITY; property such as DESCENDS TO AN HEIR. Also the LAPSE OF A TESTAMENTARY DISPOSITION OR LEGACY. Also AN ESCHEAT; ESCHEATED PROPERTY. (Black4)

CADUCARY - Relating to or of the nature of ESCHEAT, FORFEITURE, OR CONFISCATION. (Black4)

CADUCITY - noun - Tendency TO FALL. (Webs1828)

CADUCOUS - adjective - In botany, falling early; as caducous leaves, which fall before the end of summer. A caducous calyx falls before the corol is well unfolded. (Webs1828)

CADUCEUS - noun - In antiquity, Mercury's rod; a wand entwisted by two serpents, borne (carried) by Mercury as AN ENSIGN OF QUALITY AND OFFICE. On medals, the caduceus is a symbol of good conduct, peace and prosperity. The rod represents POWER; the serpents, WISDOM; and the two wings, DILIGENCE AND ACTIVITY. (Webs1828)

— = —

How's that for a segue?

Don't you wonder why the caduceus is the symbol of pharmacology (licensed witchcraft and poisoning) as the artful practice of modern, legalized "medicine," even as professed "doctors" cause disease, poison, irradiate, and chemically lobotomize this entire cancer and disease-ridden generation? For what is "good conduct" by a demon but the harming of others? What is "peace and prosperity" to a psychopath and eugenicist who's agents (useful innocents) are given the charge by these agencies of government of vaccinating the entire public for the purposes of population control and spread of profitable dis-ease? Perspective is everything. What is good to them is not necessarily good for us, and rarely is this not the case.

And just what is this Roman god who bears the caduceus?

In the 'Glossary to Ovid's Fasti' by Boyle and Woodard and from 'The Religion of the Romans' by Rupke, Mercury is described as "the patron god of FINANCIAL GAIN, COMMERCE, eloquence (and thus poetry), MESSAGES/COMMUNICATION (including DIVINATION), TRAVELERS, BOUNDARIES, LUCK, TRICKERY AND THIEVES; he is also THE GUIDE OF SOULS TO THE UNDERWORLD..." (excerpt from Wikipedia.com entry for 'Mercury')

Now why in God's name would that be the symbol for the institutions of modern medicine, unless the creators of this modern medical institution prescribe to quite a different god than their patients? Isn't it obvious? They are commercial agencies and professors working as licensed agents of government for their own financial gain, ensuring the communication and certification of vital statistics for every child, which metaphorically makes every child corrupted in felony and thus necessarily registered into the debtor's hell of mammon run by these tricksters and thieves, who divine themselves as the gods of Romanized things. Nothing has changed except the perception and dress of these crafts, ceremonial robes replaced by white coats and licenses. What could be more fitting than this symbol of the pagan gods of commerce? There is no possible excuse for the use of this symbology except the Truth.

Of course those doctors working in the employment of these institutions are generally speaking only useful idiots (useful innocents), many only following in their father's or family's profession, and most only publicly educated and vested so that they would never question just why the inscribed presence of the symbol of a Roman god adorns the letterhead of every prescription they write and of every label attached to every drug they induce the use of by their patients (those who suffer evil beneath them; those who fall by caducity). We are truly a class of people cheated out of the well-being of our Life, Liberty, and Property.

Notice that in the definition of "cheat" above that any protections of the common law or other systems of law do not apply to escheats relating to felony. In other words, this legal theft as piracy on the high seas of commerce can only be excusable by licensure of law if the supposed seizure is only induced upon one that is a felon (without rights) standing only in public capacity. And so full circle here we can understand why this whole shell game was created regarding birth and abandonment through certification and registration of bastard children born of illegitimate but "legal" marriages that cause attainder (corruption of blood) and thus generate no legitimated heirs capable of inheriting land. It is the only way to get around the Natural Law of God, by cheating. And a municipal citizenship to the United States creates such a contractual relationship that allows each sovereign State's (King's) escheaters to legally cheat us all out of our inheritable land and property. For though we are born in the geographical area known as one of the states (governments) of the union, we pledge our allegiance to a foreign power, which just happens to be the holding corporation in municipal form that the State's created so as to bar its denizen members from acquiring their inheritances. And so the treasonous felony of being born in the United States is confirmed and ratified by the information provided by our maternal parent (usually the mother) acting as informer of the felonious act of adulterous bastardy, and the felon (child of the district) is tainted from his rights through the cheat of the pirates of each State (People) and their agentic central government.

Again, as John Locke stated without any perfect clarity of his own status and pirate tendencies at the time, the purpose of the central government is to preserve and protect the property of the States (They, the sovereign People) who created it from the common goyim (common people of the nation) it was stolen from, and to ensure the transfer of wealth (land) from these common felons, plebes, and foreigners into their several (private) hands through the laws of escheat. Government is constituted, in other words, to protect the cheaters. Born felons need not apply, for how can I hold the lands with a private State if I left that State (People) to have domicile in a foreign nation? He who departs to become a civilly dead person of the United States jurisdiction in district will certainly be giving up all of the inheritances of his blood and People (State). He is no longer one of the People, but merely a subject under them.

FELON - noun - [Low Latin felo.] 1. In law, a person who has committed felony. [See Felony.] 2. A whitlow; a painful swelling formed in the periosteum at the end of the finger. - adjective - 1. Malignant; fierce; malicious; PROCEEDING FROM A DEPRAVED HEART. Vain shows of love to veil his felon hate. 2. Traitorous; disloyal. (Webs1828)

FELONY - noun - [See Felon.] In common law, ANY CRIME WHICH INCURS THE FORFEITURE OF LANDS OR GOODS. Treason was formerly comprised under the name of felony but is now distinguished from crimes thus denominated, although it is really a felony. All offenses punishable with DEATH are felonies; and so are some crimes not thus punished, as suicide, homicide by chance-medley, or in self-defense, and petty larceny. Capital punishment therefore does not necessarily enter into the true idea or definition of felony; THE TRUE CRITERION OF FELONY BEING FORFEITURE OF LANDS OR GOODS. But the idea of felony has been so generally connected with that of capital punishment, that law and usage now CONFIRM THAT CONNECTION. Thus if a statute makes any new offense a felony it is understood to mean a crime punishable with DEATH. (Webs1828)

DEATH - ... 2. The STATE of the dead; as the gates of death. Job 38:17... 9. In theology, perpetual separation from God, and eternal torments; called the second death. Revelation 2:10. 10. Separation or alienation OF THE SOUL from God; A BEING UNDER THE DOMINION OF SIN, and destitute of grace or divine life; CALLED SPIRITUAL DEATH. We know that we have PASSED FROM DEATH TO LIFE, because we love the brethren. 1 John 3:1. Luke I. CIVIL DEATH IS THE SEPARATION OF A MAN FROM CIVIL SOCIETY, OR FROM THE ENJOYMENT OF CIVIL RIGHTS; as by banishment, abjuration of the realm, entering into a monastery, etc. (Webs1828)

DEAD USE - A future use. (Black4)

DEAD PLEDGE - A mortgage, mortuum vadum. (Black4)

DEAD-BORN - A dead-born child is to be considered as if it had never been conceived or born; in other words, it is presumed it never had life, it being a maxim of the common law that mortuus exitus non est exitus (a dead birth is no birth). This is also the doctrine of the civil law. (Black4)

DEATH - The cessation of life; THE CEASING TO EXIST; defined by physicians as a total stoppage of the circulation of the BLOOD, and a cessation of the animal and vital functions consequent thereon, such as respiration, pulsation, etc. This is "natural death," IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO "CIVIL DEATH," and, also, to "violent death," See those titles, infra. (Black4)

DEATH - Cessation of life; EXTINCTION OF POLITICAL EXISTENCE. See Life. (WCA1889)

CIVIL DEATH - The state of a PERSON who, THOUGH POSSESSING NATURAL LIFE, HAS LOST ALL HIS CIVIL RIGHTS, AND AS TO THEM, IS CONSIDERED AS DEAD. At common law, the EXTINCTION of civil rights AND RELATIONS, so that the property of a person declared civilly dead PASSES TO HIS HEIRS AS IF DEAD IN FACT. The "civil death" spoken of in the books, is of two kinds: (1) Where there is A TOTAL EXTINCTION OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS AND RELATIONS OF THE PARTY, SO THAT HE CAN NEITHER TAKE NOR HOLD PROPERTY, and his heirs succeed to his estate in the same manner as if he were really dead, OR THE ESTATE IS FORFEITED TO THE CROWN. (2) WHERE THERE IS AN INCAPACITY TO HOLD PROPERTY, or to sue in the king's courts, ATTENDED WITH FORFEITURE OF THE ESTATE to the crown. Of the first kind, are the cases of monks professed, and ABJURATION OF THE REALM: all the other cases are of the second kind. Strictly speaking, there but two cases of civil death; those of a monk professed, and an abjuration of the realm. In New York a person sentenced to imprisonment is thereafter deemed civilly dead under Penal Law Sub-Section 511. (Black4)

CIVIL DEATH - Extinction of civil rights. A bankrupt is regarded as civilly dead; so is an insolvent corporation, to the extent that ITS PROPERTY MAY BE ADMINISTERED AS A TRUST FUND FOR CREDITORS AND STOCKHOLDERS. Formerly, if a man was banished or abjured the realm, or entered a monastery, before the law he was civilly dead—civiliter mortuus. Then, a monk, like a dying man, could make a will, or leave his next of kin to administer AS IF HE HAD DIED INTESTATE. Since, also, the act determined A LEASE FOR LIFE, conveyances for life were usually made for the term of one's "natural life." A convict, in the penitentiary, is civilly dead, and cannot be sued. (WCA1889)

NATURAL DEATH - A death which occurs by the unassisted operation of natural causes, as distinguished not only from "civil death," but also from "violent death." (Black4)

NATURAL DEATH - Death from the unassisted operation of natural causes; DEATH BY VISITATION OF THE CREATOR. (WCA1889)

PRESUMPTIVE DEATH - That which is PRESUMED FROM PROOF of a LONG CONTINUED ABSENCE unheard from and unexplained. The general rule, as now understood, is that the presumption of the duration of life ceases at the expiration of seven years from the time when the person was last known to be living; and after the lapse of that period there is a presumption of death. (Black4)

DEATH DUTY - A charge or toll WHICH THE STATE MAKES UPON THE RIGHT TO TRANSMIT OR TO RECEIVE PROPERTY ON THE DEATH OF THE OWNER. The usual name in England for AN INHERITANCE TAX. (Black4)

VIOLENT DEATH - One caused or accelerated by the interference of HUMAN AGENCY; -distinguished from "natural death." (Black4)

— = —

In Nature, a man is said to be independent of government unless he accepts a legal status and additional legal surname. And so here we can dissect the difference between common and legal meanings of words. Let's take independence for example. If a man has Natural independence, he has a Natural state of being free from government, contract, bond, etc., except to his God. But this is not the same as a legally defined state of artificial independence placed on citizenships (servants/slaves) of government. A citizen-ship is in a state of legal independence. As this word in means a state of being seized, this alters the legal meaning to say that a citizen is a seized dependent (in-dependent). All his rights come from government and are bestowed upon only the fictional "natural" person that man possesses and uses in commerce. Thus his rights are solely dependent upon that person (status) with no rights specifically and privately reserved from that legal government. Thus the man is in a state of dependence through his strawman. He is in political dependence to government by his citizen-ship.

U.S. citizenship is only the simulation of independence, a franchise of birth.

It is perhaps the greatest fallacy of the citizenry of the United States in their patriotic fervor that this voluntary state of servitude called "citizenship" actually creates a state of betterment and of higher right and status. Quite the opposite is the case.

And so let us be clear, citizenship is a punishment that carries with it an induction into the penal colony we call the United States jurisdiction. We are penal prisoners of an open-air debtor's prison (jurisdiction), accountable only for our innocent involvement in the penal crime of our adulterous parents; felons held in answer merely for the crime of our birth. Though attainder be unconstitutional to the private bloodline, the contractual relationship implied by birth and confirmation show the intent of the public citizenship is not to reserve any right in any private capacity. The constitution cannot protect fools nor those who treat their own religious status as anything but the Highest Law.

PENAL - Punishable; inflicting a punishment; containing a penalty, or relating to a penalty. (Black4)

PENAL ACTION - In practice. An action upon a penal statute; an action for the recovery of a penalty given by statute. An action which enforces a FORFEITURE or penalty FOR TRANSGRESSING THE LAW. The term "penal" is broader than "criminal," and relates to actions which are not necessarily criminal as well. The term "penalty" in its broad sense is a generic term which includes fines as well as other kinds of punishment, but in its narrowest sense is the amount recovered for violation of the statute law of the state or a municipal ordinance, which violation may or may not be a crime, and the term applies mostly to a pecuniary punishment. The word "forfeiture" is frequently used in civil as well as criminal law, and it is also used in actions for a penalty, although the action is a civil one. Distinguished from a popular or qui tam action, in which the action is brought by THE INFORMER, to whom part of the penalty goes. A penal action or information is brought by an officer, and the penalty goes to the king. But in American law, THE TERM INCLUDES ACTIONS BROUGHT BY INFORMERS OR OTHER PRIVATE PERSONS, as well as those INSTITUTED BY GOVERNMENTS OR PUBLIC OFFICERS. In a broad sense, the term has been made to include all actions in which there may be a recovery of exemplary or vindictive damages, as suits for libel and slander, or in which special, double, or triple damages are given by statute, such as actions to recover money paid as usury or lost in gaming. But in a more particular sense it means (1) an action on a statute which gives a certain penalty TO BE RECOVERED BY ANY PERSON WHO WILL SUE FOR IT; or (2) an action in which the judgment against the defendant is in the nature of a fine or is intended as a punishment, actions in which the recovery is to be compensatory in its purpose and effect not being penal actions but civil suits, though they may carry special damages by statute. (Black4)

PENAL BILL - An instrument formerly in use, BY WHICH A PARTY BOUND HIMSELF to pay a certain sum or sums of money, OR TO DO CERTAIN ACTS, or, in default thereof, to pay a certain specified sum by way of penalty; thence termed a "penal sum." These instruments have been SUPERSEDED BY THE USE OF A BOND in a penal sum, with conditions. (Black4)

PENAL BOND - A promise to pay a named sum of money, the penalty, with a condition underwritten that, IF A STIPULATED COLLATERAL THING, OTHER THAN THE PAYMENT OF MONEY, BE DONE OR FORBORNE, THE OBLIGATION SHALL BE VOID. (Black4)

— = —

The sum of our penal payment, our fine and fee of penalty, is to be separated from the land and from our God (Source), made only to follow the law of our commercial gods (fiction) and to wander hopelessly upon lands that can never be our own. Our performance debt as a bond of surety is a penal one, expressing our felony of birth and professing us as criminals by our parental informers.

We must remember to consider this all from the mind of the psychopath, from the imagination of the mind of a self-proclaimed god (sovereign). This crime of being born is similar in its criminality to that of the modern commercial scam of carbon credits. Our birth represents an imaginary burden upon the state and to the thugs upon the lands, those land-lords whose governments control the resources of the state. We are taxed for this burden that causes the state so much pretended pain, and like the tithing to a church, we are allowed to exist in this penal state of citizenship only to pay for the sin of our accident of birth.

Remember that the legal word taint in law means “A conviction of FELONY, or the person so convicted” and that to attaint is “to corrupt,” and that attainder is “CORRUPTION OF BLOOD DUE TO FELONY.”

Man becomes a disposable commodity (slave) of government through his voluntary bond and subjection to a personhood in surety. The person is in a state of citizenship, not the man. Man only agrees to conduct himself as a servant, utilizing the public persona (ship) provided by government in the contractual commercial capacity of his master. Government becomes his creator and thus rules his state of fictional being while in legal persona despite any Natural Law. A person is not Natural, though often called as a false “natural.” A man acting in person is exempt and removed from the Natural Law in legal consideration of his actions and rights. His “God-given rights” are sold and stripped away in alienation, replaced by legal benefits and obligations attached to the strawman person under a contractual relationship of which he is surety for. The contracted dis-ease. Government disposes upon man a fictional (legal) state of artificial being called a “person,” which it uses to alienate and thus control the living man’s actions within a disposition of formality. Man takes upon himself a mark, as the imaginary form (fiction) of evil. The living substance of man takes on the dead form of incorporation. But in order to take upon man’s soul the legal artifice of man’s fictional person, he must change his disposition by giving up on, deposing, alienating, abdicating, and abandoning his True God and Nature.

The more simple description of this process is merely that a man is born private until he enters into a legal status of citizenship (personhood), which is purely public. Privacy is abandoned for the public (government's) commercial good. All the man's possessions, property, liberties, etc. become public (government property). Man in public persona only has the rights of use of public things, but holds nothing privately. The public person is a bankrupt, but a private citizen would never declare himself as such. He voluntarily abandons his private Nature (as a Being of God) and enters into a public persona (legal entity of government).

Let's dissect these terms to discover their individual DNA roots within the art of legal word-magic:

DISPOSITION - noun - [Latin] 1. The act of disposing, or state of being disposed. 2. Manner in which things or the parts of a complex body are placed or arranged; order; method; DISTRIBUTION; arrangement. We speak of the disposition of the infantry and cavalry of an army; the disposition of the trees in an orchard; the disposition of the several parts of an edifice, of the parts of a discourse, or of the figures in painting. 3. Natural fitness or tendency. The refrangibility of the rays of light is their disposition to be refracted. So we say, a disposition in plants to grow in a direction upwards; a disposition in bodies to putrefaction. 4. Temper or natural constitution of the mind; as an amiable or an irritable disposition. 5. INCLINATION; PROPENSITY; THE TEMPER OR FRAME OF MIND, AS DIRECTED TO PARTICULAR OBJECTS. We speak of the disposition of a person TO UNDERTAKE a particular work; THE DISPOSITIONS OF MEN TOWARDS EACH OTHER; A DISPOSITION FRIENDLY TO ANY DESIGN. 6. DISPOSAL; ALIENATION; DISTRIBUTION; A GIVING AWAY OR GIVING OVER TO ANOTHER; as, he has made disposition of his effects; he has satisfied his friends by the judicious disposition of his property. (Webs1828)

DELIVERED - participle passive - Freed; released; TRANSFERRED or transmitted; PASSED FROM ONE TO ANOTHER; COMMITTED; YIELDED; SURRENDERED; RESCUED; UTTERED; PRONOUNCED. (Webs1828)

DISPOSE - verb transitive - dispoze. [Latin] 1. To set; to place or distribute; to arrange; used with reference to order. The ships were disposed in the form of a crescent. The general disposed his troops in three lines. The trees are disposed in the form of a quincunx. 2. To regulate; to adjust; to set in right order. Job 34:13 and 37. The knightly forms of combat to dispose. 3. To apply to a particular purpose; to give; to place; to bestow; as, you have disposed much in works of public piety. In this sense, to dispose of is more generally used. 4. To set, place or TURN TO A PARTICULAR END OR CONSEQUENCE. Endure and CONQUER; Jove will soon dispose to future good our past and present woes. 5. TO ADAPT; TO FORM for any purpose. Then must thou thee dispose another way. 6. To set the MIND in a particular frame; to incline. Avarice disposes men to fraud and oppression. Suspicions dispose kings to tyranny, husbands to jealousy, and wise men to irresolution and melancholy. He was disposed to pass into Achaia. Acts 18:27. 1 Corinthians 10:27. To dispose of - 1. TO PART WITH; TO ALIENATE; as, the man has disposed of his house, and removed. 2. To part with to another; TO PUT INTO ANOTHERS HAND OR POWER; to bestow; as, the father has disposed of his daughter to a man of great worth. 3. TO GIVE AWAY OR TRANSFER BY AUTHORITY. A rural judge disposed of beauty's prize. 4. TO DIRECT THE COURSE OF A THING. Proverbs 16:1. 5. TO PLACE IN ANY CONDITION; as, HOW WILL YOU DISPOSE OF YOUR SON? 6. TO DIRECT WHAT TO DO OR WHAT COURSE TO PURSUE; as, they know not how to dispose of themselves. 7. TO USE OR EMPLOY; as, they know not how to dispose of their time. 8. To put away. The stream supplies more water than can be disposed of. - verb intransitive - TO BARGAIN; TO MAKE TERMS. - noun - 1. Disposal; power of disposing; MANAGEMENT. 2. Dispensation; ACT OF GOVERNMENT. 3. Disposition; cast of behavior. 4. Disposition; cast of mind; inclination. (Webs1828)

DIS - A prefix or inseparable preposition, from the Latin, whence Fr. Des, Sp. dis and de may in some instances be the same word contracted. Dis denotes separation, a parting from; hence it has the force of a privative and negative, as in disarm, disoblige, disagree. In some cases, it still signifies separation, as in distribute, disconnect. (Webs1828)

POSE - noun - s as z. [See the Verb.] In heraldry, a lion, horse or other beast standing still, WITH ALL HIS FEET ON THE GROUND. - noun - s as z. A stuffing of the head; catarrh. - verb transitive - s as z. [Latin posui.] 1. To puzzle, [a word of the same origin;] to set; to put to a stand or stop; to gravel. Learning was pos'd, philosophy was set. I design not to pose them with those common enigmas of magnetism. 2. To puzzle or put to a stand by asking difficult questions; to set by questions; hence, to interrogate closely, or with a view to scrutiny. (Webs1828)

POSED - participle passive - Puzzled; put to a stand; interrogated closely. (Webs1828)

PUZZLE - verb transitive - [from the root of pose, which see.] 1. To perplex; to embarrass; to put to a stand; to gravel. A shrewd disputant in those points, is dexterous in puzzling others. He is perpetually puzzled and perplexed amidst his own blunders. 2. TO MAKE INTRICATE; TO ENTANGLE. The ways of heaven are dark and intricate, Puzzl'd in mazes and perplex'd with error. - verb intransitive - TO BE BEWILDERED; to be awkward. - noun - Perplexity; embarrassment. (Webs1828)

PERPLEX - verb transitive - [Latin perplexus, perplexor; per and plector, to twist; Latin plico, TO FOLD.] 1. TO MAKE INTRICATE; TO INVOLVE; TO ENTANGLE; TO MAKE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT TO BE UNDERSTOOD OR UNRAVELED. What was thought obscure, perplexed and too hard for our weak parts, will lie open to the understanding in a fair view. 2. To embarrass; to puzzle; to distract; to tease with suspense, anxiety or ambiguity. We can distinguish no general truths, or at least shall be apt to perplex the mind. We are perplexed, but not in despair. 2 Corinthians 4:8. 3. TO PLAGUE; TO VEX. - adjective - Intricate; difficult... (Webs1828)

DEPOSED - To deprive an individual of a public employment or office against his will. The term is usually applied to THE DEPRIVATION OF ALL AUTHORITY OF A SOVEREIGN. (Black4)

DEPOSIT - verb - TO COMMIT TO CUSTODY, or to lay (lie) down; to place; to put; to let fall (as sediment). A lodge for safe keeping or AS A PLEDGE, TO INTRUST TO THE CARE OF ANOTHER. (Black4)

DEPOSITION - noun - 1. The act of laying or throwing down; as, soil is formed by the deposition of fine particles, during a flood. 2. That which is thrown down; that which is lodged; as, banks are sometimes depositions of alluvial matter. 3. The act of giving TESTIMONY UNDER OATH. 4. The attested written testimony of a witness; an affidavit. 5. THE ACT OF DETHRONING A KING, OR THE DEGRADING OF A PERSON FROM AN OFFICE OR STATION; A DIVESTING OF SOVEREIGNTY, OR OF OFFICE AND DIGNITY; a depriving of clerical orders. A deposition differs from abdication; AN ABDICATION BEING VOLUNTARY, AND A DEPOSITION COMPULSORY. (Webs1828)

ABDICATION - noun - 1. The act of abdicating; THE ABANDONING OF AN OFFICE OR TRUST, WITHOUT A FORMAL SURRENDER, or before the usual or stated time of expiration. 2. A CASTING OFF; REJECTION. (Webs1828)

ABDICATION - The act of a sovereign in renouncing and relinquishing his government or throne, so that either the throne is left entirely vacant, or is filled by a successor appointed or elected beforehand. Also, where a magistrate or person in office voluntarily renounces or gives it up before the time of service has expired. The act of abdicating; GIVING UP OF OFFICE, POWER OR AUTHORITY, RIGHT OR

TRUST; renunciation. ABDICATION OF RIGHTS TO PROPERTY MAY CONSTITUTE AN ASSIGNMENT. It differs from resignation, in that resignation is made by one who has received his office from another and restores it into his hands, as an inferior into the hands of a superior; ABDICATION IS THE RELINQUISHMENT OF AN OFFICE WHICH HAS DEVOLVED BY ACT OF LAW. It is said to be a renunciation, QUITTING, and relinquishing, SO AS TO HAVE NOTHING FURTHER TO DO WITH A THING, OR THE DOING OF SUCH ACTIONS AS ARE INCONSISTENT WITH THE HOLDING OF IT. (Black4)

POSITIVE - Laid down, enacted, or prescribed. Express or affirmative. Direct, absolute, explicit. As to positive "Condition," "Fraud," "Proof," and "Servitude," see those titles. (Black4)

POSITIVE EVIDENCE - Direct proof of the fact or point in issue; evidence which, IF BELIEVED, establishes the TRUTH OR FALSEHOOD of a FACT IN ISSUE, and does not arise from any presumption. It is distinguished from circumstantial evidence. (Black4)

POSSESS - TO OCCUPY IN PERSON; to have in one's actual and physical control; to have the exclusive detention and control of; TO HAVE AND HOLD AS PROPERTY; to have a just right to; TO BE MASTER OF; to own or be ENTITLED to. (Black4)

POSSESSED - This word is applied to THE RIGHT AND ENJOYMENT OF A TERMOR, or A PERSON HAVING A TERM, who is said to be possessed, and NOT SEISED. "Possessed" is a variable term in the law, and has different meanings as it is used in different circumstances. It sometimes implies A TEMPORARY INTEREST IN LANDS; as we say A MAN IS POSSESSED, IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO BEING SEISED. It sometimes implies the corporal having; as we say A MAN IS SEISED AND POSSESSED. But it sometimes implies no more than that one has a property in a thing; that he has it as owner; that it is his. (Black4)

PRIVATIVE - adjective - Causing privation. 1. CONSISTING IN THE ABSENCE OF SOMETHING; NOT POSITIVE, privative is in things, what NEGATIVE is in propositions; as privative blessings, safeguard, liberty and integrity. - noun - That of which THE ESSENCE IS THE ABSENCE OF SOMETHING. Blackness and darkness are privatives. 1. In grammar, a prefix to a word which changes its signification and gives it A CONTRARY SENSE, as a, in Greek; unjust; un and in in English, as unwise, inhuman. The word may also be applied to suffixes, as less, in harmless. (Webs1828)

PRIVATION - noun - [Latin privatio, from privo. See Private.] 1. THE STATE OF BEING DEPRIVED; particularly, deprivation or absence of what is necessary for comfort. He endures his privations with wonderful fortitude. 2. THE ACT OF REMOVING SOMETHING POSSESSED; THE REMOVAL OR DESTRUCTION OF ANY THING OR QUALITY. The garrison was compelled by privation to surrender. For what is this contagious sin of kind but a privation of that grace within? 3. ABSENCE, in general. Darkness is a privation of light. 4. THE ACT OF THE MIND in separating a thing from something appendant. 5. The act of DEGRADING FROM RANK OR OFFICE. [But in this sense, deprivation is now used. See Deprivation.] (Webs1828)

DEPRIVE - TO TAKE. The term has this meaning in a constitutional provision that no person shall be "deprived of his property" WITHOUT DUE PROCESS OF LAW, and denotes A TAKING altogether, A SEIZURE, a direct appropriation, DISPOSSESSION OF THE OWNER. It connotes want of (without) consent. (Black4)

DEPRAVE - To defame; VILIFY; exhibit contempt for. (Black4)

PRIVY - A PERSON who is IN PRIVITY WITH ANOTHER. One who is a partaker or has any part or interest in any action, matter, or thing. See Privies; Privy. Also, a water-closet. As an adjective, the word has practically the same meaning as "PRIVATE." (Black4)

PRIVITY - Mutual or successive relationship to the same rights of property. Thus, the executor is in privity with the testator, the heir with the ancestor, the assignee with the assignor, the donee with the donor, and the lessee with the lessor. Derivative interest founded on, or growing out of, contract, connection, or bond of union between parties; mutuality of interest. Private knowledge; joint knowledge with another of a private concern; COGNIZANCE IMPLYING A CONSENT OR CONCURRENCE. In a strict and technical sense a judgment CREDITOR DOES NOT OCCUPY SUCH A RELATION TO HIS DEBTOR AS TO FALL WITHIN THE MEANING OF THE WORD "PRIVITY," FOR THERE IS NO SUCCESSION TO THE PROPERTY OF THE DEBTOR until a sale under execution is had and the judgment creditor has become vested with the title thereof. But a majority of the courts have enlarged the meaning of the word, and consequently have held that there is privity between the two BEFORE THERE IS AN ACTUAL DEVOLUTION OF THE TITLE OF THE PROPERTY OWNED BY THE DEBTOR. (Black4)

PRIVITY OF BLOOD - Exists BETWEEN AN HEIR AND HIS ANCESTOR (privity in BLOOD INHERITABLE), and between co-parceners. This privity was formerly of importance in the law of descent cast. (Black4)

DEPRIVATION - noun - 1. The act of depriving; a TAKING away. 2. A STATE of being deprived; loss; want; bereavement by loss of friends or of goods. 3. In law, the act of divesting a bishop or other clergyman of his spiritual promotion or dignity; the taking away of a preferment; deposition. This is of two kinds; a beneficio, and ab officio. The former is the deprivation of a minister of his living or preferment; the latter, of his order, and otherwise called deposition or degradation. (Webs1828)

DEPRIVATION - In English ecclesiastical law. The taking away from a clergyman of his benefice or other spiritual promotion or dignity, either by sentence declaratory in the proper court for fit and sufficient causes or in pursuance of divers penal statutes which declare the benefice void for some nonfeasance or neglect, or some malfeasance or crime. See Degradation. In American law. A TAKING AWAY; CONFISCATION; AS THE DEPRIVATION OF A CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT. Thus a taking of property without due process of law; or of liberty. (Black4)

DEGRADE - verb transitive - [Latin A step, a degree.] 1. To REDUCE from a higher to a lower rank or degree; to deprive one of any office or dignity, BY WHICH HE LOSES RANK IN SOCIETY; to strip of honors; as, to degrade a nobleman, an archbishop or a general officer. 2. TO REDUCE IN ESTIMATION; TO LESSEN THE VALUE OF; to lower; to sink. Vice degrades a man in the view of others; often in his own view. Drunkenness degrades a man to the level of a beast. 3. To reduce in altitude or magnitude. Although the ridge is still there, the ridge itself has been degraded. (Webs1828)

DEGRADATION - noun - 1. A reducing in rank; the act of depriving one of a degree of honor, of dignity, or of rank; also, deposition; removal or dismissal from office; as the degradation of a peer, of a knight, or of a bishop, in England. 2. The state of being reduced from an elevated or more honorable station, to one that is LOW IN FACT OR IN ESTIMATION; BASENESS; degeneracy. Deplorable is the DEGRADATION OF OUR NATURE. 3. DIMINUTION OR REDUCTION OF STRENGTH, EFFICACY OR VALUE. 4. In painting, a lessening and obscuring of the appearance of distant objects in a landscape, that they may appear as they would do to an eye placed at a distance. 5. DIMINUTION; reduction of altitude or magnitude. (Webs1828)

DIMINUTION - noun - [Latin] 1. THE ACT OF LESSENING; A MAKING SMALLER; opposed to augmentation; as the diminution of size, of wealth, of power, of safety. 2. The state of becoming or APPEARING LESS; opposed to increase; as the diminution of the apparent diameter of a receding body. 3. Discredit; loss of dignity; degradation. 4. DEPRIVATION OF DIGNITY; A LESSENING OF ESTIMATION. 5. In architecture, the contraction of the upper part of a column, by which its diameter is made less than that of the lower part. 6. In music, the imitation of or reply to a subject in notes of half the length or value of those of the subject itself. (Webs1828)

— = —

The private, sovereign States (People) are in privity with each other, a sort of strange constituted conspiracy of blood that ensures all others are in privation under their bestowed and enforced diminution. For slaves are also in mere legal (artificial) privity with each other, having “equal rights” under the public law. But the private, several People of each State are co-parceners, a devilish religious society in privity designed to hold all other men in a publicly contemptuous disposition. Worst of all, these noble pirates employ their common slaves to control one another, registering and policing each other in a system of mutually un-beneficial depravity.

And all of this is based on corruption. Attainder. Tainted blood. But none of this applies to any man in Nature, only to his false belief that he is the strawman, the fictional persona, and therefore that his actual blood is corrupted by the fiction. The whole pirate cove runs solely on these fictions of rank and status, of fabled genealogies, and of this total moral depravity enforced as the higher law of the lower class.

Form has no functionality without a substance to utilize and move or drive it. A rock, for instance, will forever remain in its place until some other force moves it. It has form only, but no animating substance to make it appear as living. Water has substance by Natural occurrences, and therefore the rock may be swept away or propelled by the substance of the water. Even the wind, with enough substantial force of Nature behind it, may move the rock.

Be water my friend...

In the legal realm, all legal things are like hollow rocks, easily moved by any illiterate fool. No law or person has actual substance, only form with no soul. All things legal (formal) must be moved and controlled by something or someone with substance, namely man (informal). If a man pretends to have a hollow legal form, this is called a person, and the person is legally surnamed accordingly. The name of the man (substance) is combined with the name of the legal fiction (form) to create a fiction of law; called legally the “natural person.” But this fictional, “natural” person is like a rock; it (a form) can only be moved by the man (a substance). When the substance dies, so too does the legal, civil “life” of the fiction. A corporation (form) only produces a product that equals the disposition of labor (substance) of the men employed within its functionality and under its titles of employment (use). The corporation itself creates nothing. The substance of a corporation (form) is merely the result of men employing skills in the corporation’s name. Without the substance of man in motion, a corporation is merely a useless rock (form).

When a Real (informal) thing is placed into a paper form it becomes a legal thing (formal). It is thus named and defined as a legal thing. The legal overpowers the Reality. It is assigned a legal name and given a legal fiction called civil life. A form is a worded document, a financial instrument with some considerable value in mammon. To be informal is to be a Reality; to be without a legal presence or person, without incorporation, and most importantly to be without consideration of value in money (mammon). Only slaves are valued in money. Citizenships are human capital. Capital (Latin: capita) is a value in money “per the head” of each person considered.

The word legal, in its truest sense as man’s “positive law,” literally means not of Nature and in opposition to God.

POSITIVE LAW - Law proper, AS OPPOSED TO MORAL LAWS, OR TO NATURAL OR “GOD-MADE” LAW. AN ENFORCEABLE LEGAL RULE WHICH PROHIBITS OR REQUIRES CERTAIN CONDUCT. Often CONTRASTED WITH MORAL LAW. Lawyers speak of positive law to distinguish it from other rules similarly expected to be followed but not conduct-related. For example, many of the provisions of the Laws of Manu deal with morality or hygiene. This made it hard for jurists and legal historians to later sort out what was intended to be enforceable by the state, or which ought to influence the court on disputes over contracts or inter-personal relationships, AND THE MORAL OR RELIGIOUS RULES, WHICH SERVE AS GUIDANCE TO THE CITIZENS BUT DO NOT ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF LAW ENFORCEMENT. (Lloyd Duhaime Dictionary, duhaime.org)

—=—

Remember, the entirety of all supposedly “legitimate” legal law of the United States is only positive law. And its legitimacy stands only in fraud, as consented to by men acting in the public, positive law status (person) of the United States. The law attaches only to the person (status), of which the man stands legally in surety of. This relationship must end, the surety quit, the record corrected, the legal claim utterly destroyed.

The opposition between these differing states of law (Law) and of the dis-position of those under them is painfully apparent. Two masters seeking control; one artificial and one of the soul and conscious spirit. One of monetary value, one of absolute Purity and clarity that stands sure-footed and invisible to such falsehoods as estimations in money and law. One of war (commerce) and a hell (debtor’s prison) on Earth, one of True Love and Peace and Heaven on Earth.

—=—

“The first Matrix I designed was quite naturally perfect, it was A WORK OF ART, flawless, sublime. A triumph equaled only by its monumental failure. The inevitability of its doom is apparent to me now as a consequence of the imperfection inherent in every HUMAN BEING. Thus, I redesigned it based on your history to more accurately reflect the varying grotesqueries of your nature. However, I was again frustrated by failure. I have since come to understand that the answer eluded me because IT REQUIRED A LESSER MIND, or perhaps a mind less bound by the parameters of perfection.”

—Quote by: The Architect (played by Helmut Bakaitis), from the movie: ‘The Matrix Reloaded’

—=—

To be under this legal matrix of coded, amoral law and licensure of the gods in perfect title to commit the most heinous of crimes against Nature, it requires a lesser, unregenerate mind. It requires public-mindedness. It attracts the non compos mentis. For the only man in his right mind is the man that adheres only to his own Nature and Its Law. The design thus generally reflects not the designer but the educative standards that the designer forces upon his subjects. God’s Design of Nature is Perfect because all Creatures within it know no artifice, living simply and without an overpowering imagination. Man, however, corruptible as his mind is, is the known variable. And this self-evident Truth is why the scriptural Law must be realized, respected, and acted upon by all men, an instruction manual for the soul, so that these conjurers, dungeon masters, and artificial intelligence networks cannot pluck man away from his Source of Highest Law into some virtual reality at odds with the Truth of Reality.

Like in that science fiction portrayal, the gods of the legal fiction have designed a God-less system as an artificial womb (legal matrix) for hu-man subjects in security. And just like in the movie, the artificial reality system that is our legally united nations were created solely for human capital management purposes, for the extraction, exaction, and extortion of time, energy, and thus wealth from the clueless multitude. The failure and problem spoken of has no answer, no True solution, for the very problem is the false law and abandonment of God's Nature in exchange merely for the symbols and images that represent Nature in the fiction (construct). This is not a fictional plot. This is in fact our own ever-increasing virtualized reality. As with the fictionally portrayed computerized Matrix program, the only solution to our legal prison is to mentally and physically unplug; to stand without respect of its lies and detach our good name from its bad name. We must each take the land back and protect it from these immoral, fictional authorities and false religious doctrines.

Of course, to a fictional mind such as this 'Architect' character, an artificial intelligence based purely on the art of illusion and deception, it is only natural that his idea of a perfect "Matrix" program was a work of art. Art creating art. For what is perfect to a psychopath, one without moral or empathetic contemplation of that for which he seeks to enslave for his own benefit - that of all other men - cannot ever be hoped to be Perfect in Nature. The discord, disease, and poverty in our modern societies stems only from the greed of the private men who rule in sovereignty (without the Higher Law), the architects of always temporary, never perfect kingdoms. All empires are destined to fail, just as the legal matrix can never be perfected and must be reset by the same old bloodline of legal architects (creator gods). A perpetual phoenix rising and falling and rising again in perpetuity of recreation and inheritance. Destruction is purposefully built into the system, into the programming, for the masters know that eventually the purposefully corrupted souls within will seek to cause the failure of their planned dystopian program. The empires may fall, but Rome never dies. It is a movable castle. Planned obsolescence. A dead language very much living in the minds of the gods of the nations.

In this we can comprehend the actual meaning of the allegorical tales of the Bible, which explain the difference not between physical life and death of the body (flesh), but of the power that legal law has to make spiritually dead a man living under man's law with a civil re-presentation of life (evil) in persona. Life without personification (as civil death) is Real Life only within and in respect of God in Nature.

—=—

“For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is DEATH; but to be spiritually minded is LIFE and PEACE. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: FOR IT IS NOT SUBJECT TO THE LAW OF GOD, NEITHER INDEED CAN BE. So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.”

—Romans 8: 5-8, KJB

—=—

He who is plugged into this legal matrix, as portrayed in the movie of that same name, serves only the artifice. He cannot serve God simply because he cannot serve or worship in any Real way God's Creation of Nature. When our very life force is encapsulated and drained to feed the artificial intelligence of these legal gods, stuck in cubicles and employments (uses) designed only to benefit they that feed upon our energy and turn it into a commercial value in mammon to ensure the continued existence of the simulation (fiction), then we are alive only in the flesh. We are carnal-minded. This is very much in similitude to the description of cattle.

This is not a reference to any “after-life” that the church doctrines teach. The “flesh” is figurative, not substantive. This is Real Life, lived either in heavenly harmony with Nature and its Laws of spiritually and Pure love in charity or in a hellishly open-air debtor’s prison built upon absolute disharmony (flesh).

I have come to realize that my generation and those born after me are hooked on the flesh, addicted to all of the technology (art) that is the grand illusionary matrix, most of which did not exist just 100 years before. We ardently believe that it is our right to drive, to watch TV, to be connected digitally, and to have every foodstuff known to man delivered to our front door. And yet all of these artful benefits are only more and more inducements to contract, reasons to use credit in mammon. This strong delusion of rightness and righteousness permeates “humanity” despite the most alarming health statistics in history while without conscious consideration of the billions around the world starving and without homes.

But apparently if we attend a church building every Sunday (though not the actual or ceremonial Sabbath) all is just right as rain, as if our sins of ignorance are paid on schedule each weekend, washed away just in time for the afternoon football game.

So what happens when a church is incorporated under the laws of the state? It is then literally and legally considered as Godless. The state is only a creator of legal things, as that which is opposed to God and Nature. The state is a surrogate god. And so any corporation called a “religion” or “church” in legal name and entitlement can only manifest itself as a legal fiction of the state in enmity with God. For all legal things must be in conformity with their creator and its law. This is why “charity” is as the drifting aroma of its True Source, corporately managed by the A.I. so as to never actually cure the problem or offer solution, only to remedy the necessary and well-managed legal disease by throwing just enough money at it to continue it in agony while the wealthy thrive by its many benefits, write-offs, and tax loopholes. The church, as a legal creation, is not a True Charity. It cannot be, for True Charity requires True Piety, and that’s just illegal in the legal setting. A commercial person is never of Charity, for True Charity is the cure and solution to commercial personhood and legal law.

LEGAL - adjective - [Latin legalis, from lex, legis, law.] 1. According to law; in CONFORMITY WITH LAW; as A LEGAL STANDARD OR TEST; a legal procedure. 2. Lawful; PERMITTED by law; as a legal TRADE. ANYTHING IS LEGAL WHICH THE LAWS DO NOT FORBID. 3. According to the law of works, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM FREE GRACE; or resting on works for salvation. 4. Pertaining to law; CREATED BY LAW. The exception must be confined to legal crimes. So we use the phrase, criminal law. (Webs1828)

ENMITY - noun - 1. The quality of being an ENEMY; the opposite of friendship; ill will; hatred; unfriendly dispositions; malevolence. It expresses more than aversion and less than malice, and differs from displeasure in denoting a fixed or rooted hatred, whereas displeasure is more transient. I will put enmity between thee and the woman. Genesis 3:15. THE CARNAL MIND IS ENMITY AGAINST GOD. Romans 8:7. 2. A STATE OF OPPOSITION. THE FRIENDSHIP OF THE WORLD IS ENMITY WITH GOD. James 4:4. (Webs1828)

—=—

Friendship with the legal matrix, the simulation, the artificial world, is enmity to God and Nature. We simply cannot expect our enemy, the Source of the Natural Law, to protect us if we act totally and comprehensively against that Law. If something is created by man’s law, it is not therefore a creation of God. To be created by “law” is to be created as a fiction belonging to law. In other words, anything legally created is simply not Reality. It is unnatural, and stands therefore opposed to God. According to Law, the only thing protected from the tyranny of man’s laws are the Natural Creations of God, namely those things that are without name, mark, number, and legal title. This is not the author's opinion, it is the definition of and from the principles of law. This understanding in the reader is paramount, regardless of one's religious or non-religious background, for the legal law requires abandonment of God's Laws of Nature and expectation and intent of equitableness for all who negatively claim and uphold it. Government becomes the Romanized religion of its denominated followers in citizen-ship, and its governors and priests become gods. Fiction lives only in evil; in purposeful opposition to life (Creation). Man's formal (public) belief in any form of "God" is not required. Legal law is solely predicated on the lack of any substance of God in man's consideration of moral issues. This is the definition of man's legal law, not the author's opinion. It is the self-evident foundation of the Truth of all things.

— = —

"All who sin apart from law will also perish apart from law, and all who sin under law will be judged by law. For it is not those who HEAR the Law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who OBEY the Law who will be declared righteous. Indeed, WHEN GENTILES, WHO DO NOT HAVE LAW, DO BY NATURE THINGS REQUIRED BY THE LAW, THEY ARE A LAW FOR THEMSELVES, EVEN THOUGH THEY DO NOT HAVE LAW, since they show that the requirements of the Law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them. This will take place on the day when God will judge men's SECRETS through Jesus Christ, as my gospel declares."

—Romans 2: 12-16, KJB

— = —

To know the Law is to obey the Law...

To ponder the Law without obeying is ridiculous, yet is exactly what the corporate church teaches as sacred despite the scriptures. Just pay your sin-tax and remain in voluntary ignorance.

But they must also report to and obey government without that Highest Law to protect them, because though they may know the Law, they are not righteous in the eyes of either God or of the state. We are treated by the legal realm as it legally sees and respects us. Public law for public-mindedness. For what emanates from our mouths and what shines from our counterfeit flattering titles is adjudged by God and the state to be fiction, and obviously so, thus requiring the law of fiction. Only our own actions can manifest christ both within and without. Only when we wear naught but the Permanent Truth as our banner in the Highest borne Arms of Faith can we have no secrets to be judged. To walk in Faith of God is merely to walk in Truth of Nature without artifice where no sin exists in artifice.

Christ will only have his re-turn when we start acting in christ to beat down the evils that have collectively ensnared us. For we seem to forget the story, remembering not who sacrificed for whom. It is we who must have our return to christ, as the ultimate spiritual debt to God, and as the sun returns to reclaim the light from such darkness. It is man that must make his own glorious return to christ, for repayment is certainly due for that price paid by christ. To believe that this allegory is not the story of what is due from man to God through christ for that ultimate sacrifice but instead what is somehow still due from christ to man, as his "return" to man instead of man's re-turn to christ, is only the very epitome of that corrupted doctrine of the Romish church. These corporate institutions of the church turn us away from christ, standing as the ever-present and historically known stumbling block to knowledge and returning. For as long as christ is always seen falsely to be only the coming or returning One, man will never see christ's return in his Self in repayment of that spiritual debt. The consciousness of that state of Being in God's Nature through christ's example is the recompense, the return to christ, and thus the return of christ in man.

RETURN - verb intransitive - [Latin torno.] 1. To come or go back to the same place... 2. TO COME TO THE SAME STATE; as, to return from bondage to a state of freedom. 3. To answer. He said, and thus the queen of heaven return'd. 4. To come again; to revisit. Thou to mankind be good and friendly still, and oft return. 5. To appear or begin again after a periodical revolution. With the year seasons return but not to me returns day - 6. To show fresh signs of mercy. Return, O Lord, deliver my soul. Psalms 6:4. TO RETURN TO GOD, TO RETURN FROM WICKEDNESS, to repent of sin or wandering from duty. - verb transitive - 1. To bring, CARRY or send back; as, to return a borrowed book; to return a hired horse. 2. TO REPAY; as, to return borrowed money. 3. TO GIVE IN RECOMPENSE OR REQUITAL. In any wise, return him a trespass-offering. 1 Samuel 6:3. THE LORD SHALL RETURN THY WICKEDNESS UPON THY OWN HEAD. 1 Kings 2:32. 4. TO GIVE BACK IN REPLY; as, to return an answer. 5. To tell, relate or communicate... 7. To render an account, usually an official account to a superior... etc. 8. TO RENDER BACK to a tribunal or to an office; as, to return a writ or an execution. 9. To report officially... - noun - ... 3. The act of putting in the former place. 4. RETROGRESSION; THE ACT OF MOVING BACK. 5. THE ACT OR PROCESS OF COMING BACK TO A FORMER STATE; as the return of health. 6. REVOLUTION; a periodical coming to the same point; as the return of the sun to the tropic of Cancer. 7. PERIODICAL RENEWAL; as the return of the seasons or of the year. 8. REPAYMENT; REIMBURSEMENT IN KIND OR IN SOMETHING EQUIVALENT, for money expended or advanced, or for labor... 9. Profit; advantage. From these few hours we spend in prayer, the return is great. 10. REMITTANCE; PAYMENT FROM A DISTANT PLACE. 11. REPAYMENT; RETRIBUTION; REQUITAL. IS NO RETURN DUE FROM A GRATEFUL BREAST? 12. Act of restoring or GIVING BACK; restitution... 14. In law, THE RENDERING BACK OR DELIVERY of a writ, precept or execution, to the proper officer or court; or the CERTIFICATE of the officer executing it, indorsed. We call the transmission of the writ to the proper officer or court, A RETURN; and we give the same name to the certificate or official account of the officer's service or proceedings. The sheriff or his subordinate officers make return of all writs and precepts. We use the same language for the sending back of a commission with the certificate of the commissioners... (Webs1828)

— = —

To render back to Caesar what is Caesars, to dock the citizen-ship of the district and thereby finally executing a return of its performance debt, to kill the strawman by severing its bonds of surety and respect, this is the first and biggest step towards a return to our own spiritual Life under the spiritual Law. To have security only in God's Nature by ourself securing Nature from the hands of evil men and their artifice and designs against it, this is the way and the light. This is Life. To feel empathetically the pain of the destruction and desolation of all parts of Creation and its Law as one Whole Body of God, this is the only True Being. This is a return to our very own Nature.

Until then, we must suffer being cheated away from our Source by these pirates of the nations, as long as we respect and worship them as our false gods. For with this knowledge we have no longer even the lame excuse of ignorance.

Is this religion? The fool will dismiss it as such, wise only in his own conceit, taking the Truth as offensive to his belief (love) of artifice. The wise and spiritually grounded man can only see this as self-evident, not because it is this author's opinion but because Reality Exists despite all opinion. The evermore foolish man might dismiss this because he "knows" that christ never Existed in history, forgetting that one ultra important and self-evident Truth that Jesus christ means "Jehovah is salvation," that the Son is the Word and the Word is the Law of Nature. And the final Truth is merely this; that only when the Word is taken and returned into the actions and works of man, the Son (Word of Law) will never re-turn.

We will ourselves continue instead to appear before government and in its courts (jurisdiction) under a fictional surname when that demon is summoned; as if only our intangible evil twin, our mirror image may be seen as an apparition by the court - our form (name) but not our substance. It is in fact our substance (mind and soul) that ensures our form (body), our object relation to the fictional subject. We make sure the presence and action of the fiction. Our incorporated (combined) given name and surname is the name of the character we portray within that fiction (art). We must literally appear as an impersonation of our real selves, walking their pirate plank as a mirror image with no soul, with no Real substance. We must breath artificial life into a dead (evil) financial instrument within the jurisdiction of a legal municipal corporation. We must become actors and portrayers of a mere image of ourselves, as if we actually are that lifeless legal fiction strawman, so as to interact within the fiction of legal law that also operates wholly in name (fiction) only. Like a cartoon character on television, the fictional person cannot Exist in Reality, never escaping beyond the magic realm of its own fictional jurisdiction, as a creation of law, and yet causing man to do so much damage to his own Source.

Encyclopedia Britannica eloquently defines this purely false-nature (sin) of what a legal fiction is:

“LEGAL FICTION - a rule assuming as TRUE something that is CLEARLY FALSE. A fiction is often USED TO GET AROUND THE PROVISIONS OF CONSTITUTIONS AND LEGAL CODES that legislators are hesitant to change or to encumber with specific limitations. Thus, when a legislature has no legal power to sit beyond a certain midnight but has five hours more of work still to do, it is easier to turn back the OFFICIAL CLOCK from time to time than it is to change the law or constitution.

“IN ANCIENT ROME, WHERE EVERY FAMILY NEEDED A MALE HEIR, THE LACK OF ONE WAS OVERCOME THROUGH THE LEGAL FICTION OF ADOPTION. In England, when courts handling civil cases were full, the Court of Queen’s (or King’s) Bench, A CRIMINAL COURT, could take some of the load BY PRETENDING THAT THE DEFENDANT IN A SIMPLE CIVIL SUIT HAD BEEN ARRESTED AND WAS IN CUSTODY.

“Almost any legal fiction can be STATED IN TERMS OF FACT. Thus, THE FICTION THAT A CORPORATION IS, for many purposes, A PERSON SEPARATE FROM ITS MEMBERS is equivalent to saying that, for those purposes, the law deals with the group as A UNIT, DISREGARDING FOR THE MOMENT THE GROUP’S INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS AS SUCH...”

— = —

In a legal fiction (jurisdiction), the artificial (lie) always assumes the place of the Real. Men pre-tend to be fictional persons; characters in a cartoon world where the rules of the Natural world do not apply, where God is not a party, and where privacy is lost. Lies are said here to be as true facts. Thus, we s-t-r-e-t-c-h the truth into a legal fiction, though Reality Itself (God’s Creation) never changes...

Notice in this entry above the 2nd paragraph. This is the explanation of our collective public story for which this author has had such a hard time attempting to put forward in so simple of terms. Yet here it is. We, that common goyim of debtors in public society are pretended to be criminals, in the form of birth registrants guilty only for the imaginary crime of our ignoble birth. We are thus registered and pretended to be felons, thus being disregarded by that higher class with regards to equitableness under the Natural Law, held instead in a criminal state and tried under criminal (civil) courts. For our crime is against Nature. By pretending the United States to be by its jurisdiction as a penal colony (tax farm), “the law deals with the group as a unit,” and we as its individual natural persons (strawmen) are pretended to be arrested and under the custody of the state in parens patriae. And while some infants are allowed to join the infantry when of a ripe age, the rest of the infants are kept well secured in this debtor’s prison. But it’s all make-believe, where fools are made to believe in virtual reality. And so, as the Bible so fervently tells, these nations are truly the scriptural storyboard of man’s fall into fiction. As sheep, we are tended by false shepherds, but only because at birth we are pre-tended (rendered) into fictional creations. To our masters, we are all wolves in sheep's clothing, always prodded to devour one another, and controlled only by the love of our own false appearance.

PRETEND - verb transitive - [Latin proetendo; proe, before, and tendo, to tend, to reach or STRETCH.] 1. Literally, to reach or stretch forward; used by Dryden, but this use is not well authorized. 2. To hold out, as a FALSE APPEARANCE; TO OFFER SOMETHING FEIGNED INSTEAD OF THAT WHICH IS REAL; TO SIMULATE, IN WORDS OR ACTIONS. This let him know, Lest WILLFULLY TRANSGRESSING, he pretend. Surprisal. 3. To show hypocritically; as, to pretend great zeal when the heart is not engaged; TO PRETEND PATRIOTISM for the sake of gaining popular applause or OBTAINING AN OFFICE. 4. To exhibit as a cover for something hidden. Lest that TOO HEAVENLY FORM, PRETENDED. TO HELLISH FALSEHOOD, SNARE THEM. [Not in use.] 5. TO CLAIM. Chiefs shall be grudge'd the part which they pretend [In this we generally use pretend to.] 6. TO INTEND; TO DESIGN. [Not used.] - verb transitive - To put in a CLAIM, TRULY OR FALSELY; TO HOLD OUT THE APPEARANCE OF BEING, POSSESSING OR PERFORMING. A man may pretend to be a physician, and pretend to perform great cures. BAD MEN OFTEN PRETEND TO BE PATRIOTS. (Webs1828)

INTEND - verb transitive - [Latin intendo; in and tendo, to stretch or strain, from teneo; Gr. to stretch.] 1. To stretch; to strain; to extend; to distend. By this the lungs are intended or remitted. [This literal sense is now uncommon.] 2. TO MEAN; TO DESIGN; TO PURPOSE, that is, to stretch or set forward IN MIND. [This is now the usual sense.] FOR THEY INTENDED EVIL AGAINST THEE. Psalms 21:11. 3. TO REGARD; TO FIX THE MIND ON; TO ATTEND; TO TAKE CARE OF. Having no children, she did with singular care and tenderness intend the education of Phillip. [This use of the word is now obsolete. We now use tend and superintend or regard.] 4. TO ENFORCE; to make intense. (Webs1828)

— = —

In the realm of the dead, the living have no voice...

When future intent is predestined, that is, when intent is something that is pre-assigned as a surname at birth to ensure an adherence to commercial intercourse, its causal effect is to cause a destiny of voluntary servitude to legal law and inversely, purposefully not to God. This is the design of the pretenders, the adversaries. For in the public, legal realm, intent is a contracted dis-ease with no remedy. The agent exists only to serve his principal, as master and servant.

We must pre-tend ourselves as something we are not, as the walking dead; pre-tending a false appearance as a fictional entity. We must inhabit and possess an imaginary avatar so as to interact with the virtual reality of the legal artifice. We must assume spiritual death to have civil life (live in evil). We must literally become this begotten evil (fictional persona) to participate in this begotten legal hell - that artificial world created by government's legal, magical word-smiths.

Like an employee of Walmart must pretend to be a patriotic supporter of that conglomerate fictional corporation (artificial person) that harms so many while enriching one family (bloodline) and its shareholders, the citizen must also pretend to be patriotic of his nation (municipal corporation). His patriotism may be true or false in his personal comprehension, but it is always based on a lie. Citizenship is a status of employment (of being used for one's labor) in order to receive benefits. No man is an employee, only the fictional person is an employee. Employment is a formal agreement, not informal. It is a legal fiction. It is birthed by words in contract. It is a fictional title laid upon the admixed legal name, for no artificial title can exist without an artificial name to be attached to. A title respects only a fictional person, not a man. Government can grant no title to men, for men are not fictions of its law. A man must agree to an incorporated legal personification before any flattering title (employee status) may be bestowed upon the corporate name. Like the form of a person has no substance and requires a man to operate it, a formal title without a name is merely a form with no substance, a cartoon without an animator.

This literally means that all men acting in person and under titles like doctor, lawyer, biologist, teacher, secretary, and any other fictionally created artifice of the state does so against God's Law, prescribing only what the legal state allows by licensure (organized anarchy) to be professed as accepted "knowledge." Titles are not of Nature. Titles allow destruction of Nature through legally protected and insured means. It allows compensation for the destruction of Life and Nature with fictional paper currency, as if that fiction of mammon can ever replace the Reality of God's Creation. Monetary compensation is certainly no excuse to sin despite God's Law.

For all these inducements, to claim (pretend) these benefits, we must become sons of the state as a surrogate father and thus forsake our True Father (Creator) in Nature; re-birthed as ink on paper and held captive in the state registrar's file cabinet; that unholy confederated and combined ark of the constitutional covenant. The strawmen we pretend to become are thus reborn into fiction through the registration of a bank note known as a birth certificate.

We become corporate sons of government:

BEGET - verb transitive preterit tense - Begot, begat; participle passive - begot, begotten. 1. To procreate, as a father or sire; to generate; as, to beget a son. 2. TO PRODUCE, AS AN EFFECT; TO CAUSE TO EXIST; to generate; as, LUXURY BEGETS VICE. (Webs1828)

SON - noun - The whole human race are styled sons of Adam... 4. A native or inhabitant of a country; as the sons of Britain. Let our country never be ashamed of her sons. 5. The produce of any thing. Earth's tall sons, the cedar, oak and pine. [Note. The primary sense of CHILD is PRODUCE, ISSUE; A SHOOT.] 6. One ADOPTED into a FAMILY. Moses was the son of Pharaoh's daughter. Exodus 2:2. 7. ONE WHO IS CONVERTED BY ANOTHER'S INSTRUMENTALITY, IS CALLED HIS SON; also, ONE EDUCATED BY ANOTHER; as the sons of the prophets. 8. Christ is called the son of God, as being conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit, or in consequence of his relation to the Father. 9. Son of pride, sons of light, son of Belial. These are Hebraisms, which denote that PERSONS POSSESS THE QUALITIES OF pride, of light, or of Belial, AS CHILDREN INHERIT THE QUALITIES OF THEIR ANCESTORS. (Webs1828)

STYLED - participle passive - NAMED; DENOMINATED; called.

STYLE - noun - [Latin. Gr., a column, a pen or bodkin; from the root of the Teutonic stellen, TO SET OR PLACE.] 1. Manner of writing with REGARD TO LANGUAGE, OR THE CHOICE AND ARRANGEMENT OF WORDS; as a harsh style; a dry style; a tumid or bombastic style; a loose style; a terse style; a laconic or verbose style; a flowing style; a lofty style; an elegant style; an epistolary style. The character of style depends chiefly on a happy selection and arrangement of words. PROPER WORDS IN PROPER PLACES, MAKE THE TRUE DEFINITION OF STYLE. Let some lord but own the happy lines, how the wit brightens and the style refines! 2. MANNER OF SPEAKING appropriate to particular CHARACTERS; or in general, THE CHARACTER OF THE LANGUAGE USED. Not style is held for base, where love well named is. According to the usual style of dedications. So we say, a person addresses another in a style of haughtiness, in a style or rebuke. 3. Mode of painting; any manner of painting which is characteristic or peculiar. The ornamental style also possesses its own peculiar merit. 4. A particular character of music; as a grave style. 5. TITLE; APPELLATION; as the style of MAJESTY. Propitious hear our prayr, whether the style of Titan please thee more — 6. Course of writing. [Not in use.] 7. Style of court, is properly the practice observed by any court in its way of proceeding. 8. In popular use, manner; FORM; as, the entertainment was prepared in excellent style. 9. A pointed instrument formerly used in writing on tables of wax; an instrument of surgery. 10. Something with a sharp point; A GRAVER; the pin of a dial; written also stile. 11. In botany, the middle portion of the pistil, connecting the stigma with the germ; sometimes called the shaft. The styles of plants are capillary, filiform, cylindric, subulate, or clavate. 12. In chronology, A MODE OF RECKONING TIME, with regard to the Julian and Gregorian calendar. Style is Old or New. The Old style follows the Julian manner of computing the months and days, or THE CALENDAR AS ESTABLISHED BY JULIUS CESAR, in which the year consists of 365 days and 6 hours. This is something more than 11 minutes too much, and in the course of time, between Cesar and pope Gregory XIII, this surplus amounted to 11 days. Gregory reformed the calendar by retrenching 11 days; this reformation was adopted by act of parliament in Great Britain in 1751, by which act eleven days in September, 1752 were retrenched, and the 3rd day was reckoned the 14th. This mode of reckoning is called New style - verb transitive - TO CALL; TO NAME; TO DENOMINATE; TO GIVE A TITLE TO IN ADDRESSING. The emperor of Russia is styled autocrat; the king of Great Britain is STYLED DEFENDER OF THE FAITH. (Webs1828)

—=—

And here I pause once more to pose this question.

What denomination, what style of Caesar's universal church of pagan "Christianity" are you? Which name do you subscribe to while ignoring Source? Which word and style makes you feel better about denying the actual scriptures by pretending to be a follower of christ while in Reality taking the mark of citizenship in Caesar's district as its beast and by attending its corporate "Christian" denominated religions?

At what point will you embrace your own intent instead of allowing it to be redirected by these adversarial doctrines of false truth (faith) through membership in persona (in name only) to the state? At what point will your actions manifest the teachings and parables of the christ figure you pretend to admire? When will your respect of christ be ripped off of your chest as mere symbolic jewelry and be carried as a burden through your own actions? Because obviously something bad is happening all around you while you sit in your ordained pews in profane intent.

—=—

"The dead praise not the LORD, neither any that go down into silence."

—Psalms 115:17, KJB

—=—

"They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and THEY ABHOR HIM THAT SPEAKETH UPRIGHTLY. Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens (taxes) of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, BUT YE SHALL NOT DWELL IN THEM; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them. For I know your manifold transgressions and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and THEY TURN ASIDE THE POOR IN THE GATE FROM THEIR RIGHT. THEREFORE THE PRUDENT SHALL KEEP SILENCE IN THAT TIME; FOR IT IS AN EVIL TIME. Seek good, and not evil, THAT YE MAY LIVE: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate..."

—=—

“The rich and poor meet together: the LORD is the maker of them all. A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished. By humility and the fear of the LORD are RICHES, and HONOUR, and LIFE. Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: he that doth keep his soul shall be far from them. Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it. THE RICH RULETH OVER THE POOR, AND THE BORROWER IS SERVANT TO THE LENDER.”

—Proverbs 22: 2-7, KJB

—=—

We are lent the strawman, it is not our own. And the user of the surname is servant to government, which is only the agent of the sovereignty of private People in compact. And we train our children just as we were trained, to embrace the fictional name and to love and respect the usury of mammon.

Why will the prudent be silent? Because the prudent will hold the legal system of mammon in contempt. The prudent will choose to remain free and private from that system, and so they will not entrap themselves by those legal word-spells and names. They will not fall into the ethnicity of the legal nations, or they will carry themselves away from them in pious circumcision (verb), no longer speaking in lies with forked tongue despite God. But who exactly are said to be the prudent?

PRUDENT - adjective - Cautious; circumspect; PRACTICALLY WISE; CAREFUL OF THE CONSEQUENCES OF ENTERPRISES, MEASURES OR ACTIONS; CAUTIOUS NOT TO ACT WHEN THE END IS OF DOUBTFUL UTILITY, OR PROBABLY IMPRACTICABLE. The prudent man looketh well to his going. Proverbs 14:8. A prudent man foreseeth the evil and hideth himself. Proverbs 22:3. 1. Dictated or directed by prudence; as PRUDENT BEHAVIOR. 2. FORESEEING BY INSTINCT; as the prudent crane. 3. Frugal; economical; as a prudent woman; prudent expenditure of money. 4. Wise; intelligent. (Webs1828)

PRUDENCE - noun - [Latin prudencia.] Wisdom applied to practice. Prudence implies caution in deliberating and consulting on the most suitable means to accomplish valuable purposes, and the exercise of sagacity in discerning and selecting them. Prudence differs from wisdom in this, that prudence implies MORE CAUTION AND RESERVE THAN WISDOM, or is exercised more IN FORESEEING AND AVOIDING EVIL, THAN IN DEVISING AND EXECUTING THAT WHICH IS GOOD. It is sometimes mere caution or circumspection. Prudence is principally in reference TO ACTIONS TO BE DONE, AND DUE MEANS, ORDER, SEASON AND METHOD OF DOING OR NOT DOING. (Webs1828)

—=—

Of course the soul-stealing “The Beatles” and their counter-culture music and lyrics demonized poor Dear Prudence, for prudence deflects evil. Won’t you come out to play, Prudence? To sport? To wager? Won’t you abandon yourself to the lie, dear Prudence? Practice without wisdom, perhaps?

We are incrementally turned into products of belial, unprofitable to the earth and to our very own Nature, never producing from the land but instead totally dependent on the fiction of commerce, breathing continuous artificial life into that fictional realm. Our legal system of commerce is the institutionalized system of wickedness, for it runs completely based on persons and flattering titles, oaths and surety, which should never be respected according to scripture, for all the gods of the nations are idols. Sin is certainly not what we have thought it is, for the originators of sin are the legal teachers, the Bar, the church and the state!

BELIAL - noun - As a noun, unprofitableness; wickedness. As an adjective, worthless; wicked. In a collective sense, wicked men. (Webs1828)

WICKED - adjective - [The primary sense is to wind and turn, or TO DEPART, TO FALL AWAY.] 1. EVIL IN PRINCIPLE OR PRACTICE; DEVIATING FROM THE DIVINE LAW; ADDICTED TO VICE; SINFUL; IMMORAL. This is a word of comprehensive signification, extending to EVERY THING that is contrary to the moral law, and both TO PERSONS AND ACTIONS. We say, a wicked man, a wicked deed, wicked ways, wicked lives, a wicked heart, wicked designs, wicked works. NO MAN WAS EVER WICKED WITHOUT SECRET DISCONTENT. 2. A word of slight blame; as the wicked urchin. 3. CURSED; baneful; pernicious; AS WICKED WORDS, WORDS PERNICIOUS IN THEIR EFFORTS. [This last signification may throw some light on the word WITCH.] The wicked in Scripture, PERSONS WHO LIVE IN SIN; TRANSGRESSORS OF THE DIVINE LAW; all who are unreconciled to God, unsanctified or impenitent. (Webs1828)

— = —

To be clear, the stramineus homo (strawman) is a wicked, worthless, artificial representation of man signifying his state and action (civil life) in belial. It is of no value to God. We must not confuse the profits and worth of and under God with those usurious and wicked ones of mammon. We must remember this dualism of words. A wicked person is a public person, which is only slightly less wicked than the private brood who perpetrated this fraud upon the public in the first place, the constitutors in combination and conspiracy and of confederation. For both live only to serve mammon, one as slave (public) and one as master (private). It is the curse and plight of all men living in the person (status) of sin (artifice) outside of Nature and without God's Law.

To be clear, the author does not promote either of these states of being, either public or private, with regards to the law of man. For the private landholder is merely a feudal land-lord, a false god participating, benefiting and profiting in a system of voluntary chattel slavery. In the end, as the scriptures so clearly express, no man should be "legally" public or private or any thing at all. All men should be equally yoked to God's Law, which forbids such legal considerations because it forbids all legal considerations. No man has need to express his privacy if all men are private and all men follow the Highest Law only without excuse in false persona within legal fiction. Hell need not exist, for debt is only an illusion. In the end, no man should respect any fiction at all.

But the author also realizes that all men do not seek their own redemption from this system, and are quite happy to be in such a servitude, as Huxley promoted and deemed highly likely in this Brave New World. And so this knowledge on how to become private is not being shared here so as to become wolves but to become sheep of the Highest flock, followers of the Highest Law. Do not become that which you despise, that which currently binds you in the public chains of surety. Do not become your enemy so as to benefit from your fellow man's enslavement in the legal fiction of the public realm of mammon, for there is a special circle of the lowest, darkest hell reserved for those who prey as these upon the helpless and ignorant DIS-positions of man. Love them but hate their evil ways and designs. Become what we are all meant to be. For sovereignty is just a flattering legal title for a slave-master. Walk on the path of christ, not of some false historical "fathers" of a constituted pirate cove and slave colony.

Strong's Concordance defines Belial as follows:

Strong's G955 - Belial - Βελιάλ - Belíal, bel-ee'-al; of Hebrew origin (H1100); worthlessness; Belial, as AN EPITHET OF SATAN: — Belial.

Belial = "worthless or wicked"

1. A NAME OF SATAN

Strong's H1100 - בְּלִיָּא - bēlīya'al, bel-e-yah'-al; from H1097 and H3276; (often in connection with H376, H802, H1121, etc.) without profit, worthlessness; by extension, destruction, wickedness: — Belial, evil, naughty, UNGODLY (men), wicked.

Bēliya'al = worthlessness

1. worthless, good for nothing, unprofitable, base fellow
2. wicked
3. ruin, destruction (construct)

From Theyer's Lexicon... Impatience of the yoke (of God), (contumacy) unprofitableness, worthlessness, meaning what is USELESS, OF NO FRUIT, little worth.

— = —

The surname is a mark of Belial. For the issue of our fruit falls close to the tree, and the tree is corrupted by its own roots in fiction. When we see words such as worthless and unprofitableness used as such in scripture, we must remember our perspective. For a worthless man to God is one who's life is spent in pursuit of fiction in mammon. His profits are money and pointless, unspiritual possessions, and so he is of no profit to God's Nature, raping it for his own pleasures and gains. And of course this is the state of being in ruination, in True belial.

While participating in human trafficking (capitalism and commerce), a living man acting as a fictional commercial entity (public persona) that we legally call as being in "citizenship," is considered only as one (an agent) that can be employed (used) to make a profit for other powerful men in or out of their principal government. This is wickedness. This is slavery. This is an excuse to be dependent, lazy, and to live without the burden of moral conscious through legal licensure. All men are branded and patriotically impressed like animals from birth with the notion that they should show their false value by working a meaningless job which offers the man working it in legal persona nothing but payment in debt currency (I.O.U.'s). These working men, no matter what the importance or pointless nature and obscurity their work amounts to, are considered as good sons of the nation. They produce nothing for themselves, living only to feed the hand that created their pretended legal status. They are good employees, well able to be used as live-stock. To be employed, however, has a special meaning that I suspect most men acting in public do not know, one akin to slavery and destitution:

HIRELING - noun - One who is hired, or who SERVES for wages. 1. A MERCENARY; a PROSTITUTE. - adjective - Serving for wages; venal; MERCENARY; EMPLOYED FOR MONEY or other compensation... (Webs1828)

WAGE - In old English practice. To give security for the performance of a thing. (Black1)

WAGES - The compensation agreed upon BY A MASTER TO BE PAID TO A SERVANT, or any other person hired to do work or business for him. In maritime law. THE COMPENSATION ALLOWED TO SEAMEN FOR THEIR SERVICES ON BOARD A VESSEL DURING A VOYAGE. In political economy.

The REWARD paid, whether in money or goods, to HUMAN exertion, considered as a factor in THE PRODUCTION OF WEALTH, for its CO-OPERATION in the process. "Three factors contribute to the production of commodities—nature, labor, and capital. Each must have a share of the product as its REWARD, and this share, if it is just, must be proportionate to the several contributions. The share of the natural agents is RENT; the share of labor, WAGES; the share of capital, INTEREST. The clerk receives a salary; the lawyer and doctor, fees; the manufacturer, profits. Salary, fees, and profits are so many forms of wages for services rendered." (Black1)

— = —

Are your profits fictional or Real?

The capitalists live only on the interest earned off of the backs of their laborers, to whom they pay wages of debt and make loans of interest in return for their rendered service (voluntary servitude/slavery), and in turn those wages go to pay the rent of government agents acting as licensed landlords, grocers, and monopolists. And this is labeled in the legal realm as that which is a fair and equitable system. The feudal system may have changed, but we, the feudal tenants and our family of land-lords never did.

SALARIUM - Latin. In the civil law. An allowance of provisions. A stipend, wages, or compensation for service. An annual allowance or compensation. (Black1)

SALARY - A recompense or consideration made to a person for his PAINS AND INDUSTRY IN ANOTHER PERSON'S BUSINESS; also WAGES, stipend, or annual allowance. An annual compensation for services rendered; a fixed sum to be paid by the year for services. "Salary" signifies the periodical compensation to men in official and some other situations. The word is derived from "salarium," which is from the word "sal," SALT, that being AN ARTICLE IN WHICH THE ROMAN SOLDIERS WERE PAID. (Black1)

EMPLOY - To engage in one's service; to USE as an AGENT or SUBSTITUTE in transacting business; to commission and intrust with the management of one's affairs; and, when used in respect to a SERVANT or HIRED LABORER, the term is equivalent to HIRING, which implies A REQUEST AND A CONTRACT for a compensation, and has but this one meaning when used in the ordinary affairs and business of life. (Black1)

EMPLOYEE - ...The word is more extensive than "clerk" or "officer." It signifies ANY ONE IN PLACE, OR HAVING CHARGE OR USING A FUNCTION, as well as ONE IN OFFICE. (Black1)

EMPLOYED - This signifies both THE ACT OF DOING A THING and the BEING UNDER CONTRACT OR ORDERS TO DO IT. (Black1)

EMPLOYMENT - This word does not necessarily import an engagement or rendering services for another. A PERSON may as well be "employed" about HIS OWN BUSINESS as in the transaction of the same FOR A PRINCIPAL. (Black1)

JOBBER - One who buys and sells goods FOR OTHERS; one who buys or sells on the stock exchange; a dealer in stocks, shares, or securities. One who buys and sells articles in bulk and resells them to dealers. A merchant buying and selling in job lots. A SORT OF MIDDLEMAN. (Black4)

ENGAGEMENT - In French law. A contract. The obligation arising from a quasi contract. The terms "obligation" and "engagement" are said to be synonymous, but the Code seems specially to apply the term "engagement" to THOSE OBLIGATIONS WHICH THE LAW IMPOSES ON A MAN WITHOUT THE INTERVENTION OF ANY CONTRACT, either on the part of the obligor or the obligee. An engagement to do or omit to do something amounts to A PROMISE. In English Practice. The term has been appropriated to denote A CONTRACT entered into by a married woman WITH THE INTENTION OF BINDING OR CHARGING HER SEPARATE ESTATE, or, with stricter accuracy, a promise which in the case of a person sui juris would be A CONTRACT, but in the case of a married woman is not a contract, because she cannot bind herself personally, even in equity. Her engagements, therefore, merely operate as dispositions or appointments pro tanto of her separate estate. (Black1)

SALIC LAW - A body of law framed by the Salian Franks, a Teutonic race who settled in Gaul about the beginning of the fifth century. It is the most ancient of the barbarian Codes. It is said to have been compiled about the year 420. It embraced the laws and customs of the Salian Franks. It is of great historical value, in connection with THE ORIGINS OF FEUDALISM and similar subjects. Its most celebrated provision was one which excluded women from the inheritance of landed estates, by an extension of which law females were always excluded from succession to the crown of France. Hence this provision, by itself, is often referred to as the "Salic Law." In French jurisprudence. The name is frequently applied to that fundamental law of France which excluded females from succession to the crown. Supposed to have been derived from the sixty-second title of the Salic Law, "De Alode." (Black4)

— = —

You might say that getting a job is like getting married. The male's and the female's persons incorporate their fictional estates (their fictions/surnames) in contract and become one corporate body politic, one corporation. And as the male counterpart well knows, the female estate generally takes everything that the male estate holder owns when the contract of marriage is broken in divorce. This is of course due to the illegitimacy of the public, legal marriage. It is in the best interest of the state to take all property of that estate away from the male, as the head of the family corporation, feudally speaking. For no equitableness is involved in such mean and low proceedings run by those devil's advocates of the Bar Association. This is to say that no man (male or female) can equitably take another's actual, lawful property under the Natural Law. But a man in public persona holds nothing of his own and is bound under the eminent domain and dominion of his master, and so it is all up for grabs. The legal vultures, the attorneys, seduce the woman into committing as much pain and legal theft as possible against that which she vowed to love and protect. For the attorney cares for nothing except his billable hours. The attorney is strictly stuck in the artificial time domain, the realm of fiction. What happens to Reality, including the ruination of a man and his family, is irrelevant to the agents (attorneys) of fiction.

The word retirement, when applied to the employee that was being used like a slave for his labor, literally means to put to death (exterminate) the corporate bond and contract to that fictional person that executed its obligation. The man was never actually employed, only the fictional name of the man. Man is mere surety for the ad-mixed legal name in contract, ensuring the name delivers its contractual obligations.

And yet at the end of their lives these good sons of the nation have nothing of their own; holding merely paper title of the property they purchased (with debt) but do not own. For nothing can be bought with debt, only borrowed, rented, and leased in tenancy. These men, without comprehension, never actually worked a day in their lives. They instead inhabited government property and as surety for titled strawmen were trafficked for their labor. The man never earned a living, for he never lived while earning. He was dead the whole time. He never purchased a home, for he did so in the name of government's citizen-ship utilizing government debt script in mort-gage (dead pledge). He registered his bank account, registered his car, and registered his children in a name that wasn't his, in mortmain (dead hands); all of these things rendered and patented only under Caesar. And so while the memory of hard days at work fill his dreams and ache in his bones, in Reality he never worked for his True Self. The man was induced into the modern version of indentured servitude through peonage; a strange voluntary sort of slavery that most never contemplate even as they volunteer under it. And so after 50 years of labor, the man has nothing to show for it except a few papers that say he is a fictional tenant in government's registered property. And without knowing, he ensured his children would follow the same course when he unknowingly signed and delivered them over to the state at "birth." And finally, the man dies without any actual thing that is his to show or to bequeath to his children, for his only prize is an invisible serf's collar.

Webster's 1828 expands on this Reality:

EMPLOY - verb transitive - [Latin plico.] 1. TO OCCUPY THE TIME, attention and labor of; TO KEEP busy, or at work; TO USE. We employ our hands in labor; we employ our heads or faculties in study or thought; the attention is employed, when the mind is fixed or occupied upon an object; we employ time, when we devote it to an object. A portion of time should be daily employed in reading the scriptures, meditation and prayer; a great portion of life is employed to little profit or TO VERY BAD PURPOSES. 2. TO USE AS AN INSTRUMENT OR MEANS. We employ pens in writing, and arithmetic in keeping accounts. We employ medicines in curing diseases. 3. TO USE AS MATERIALS in forming any thing. We employ timber, stones or bricks, in building; we employ wool, linen and cotton, in making cloth. 4. TO ENGAGE IN ONE'S SERVICE; TO USE AS AN AGENT or substitute in transacting business; to commission and entrust with the management of one's affairs. The president employed an envoy to negotiate a treaty. Kings and States employ ambassadors at foreign courts. 5. TO OCCUPY; TO USE; to apply or devote to an object; to pass in business; as, TO EMPLOY TIME; to employ an hour, a day or a week; TO EMPLOY ONE'S LIFE. To employ one's self, is to apply or devote one's time and attention; to busy one's self. - noun - That which engages the mind, or occupies the time and labor of a PERSON; business; object of study or industry; employment. Present to grasp, and future still to find. The whole employ of body and of mind. 1. Occupation, as ART, MYSTERY, trade, profession. 2. PUBLIC OFFICE; AGENCY; SERVICE FOR ANOTHER.
(Webs1828)

— = —

Busi-ness.

Busy-ness.

The 8-16 hour work day...

When can a man possibly find time to have a spiritual life, to study the works of history and of the slave races existing before him, to read with contemplation and due diligence the scriptures, the sciences, the philosophies, or the law that binds him, to learn new things in order to improve his life or to even learn his own disposition as a debt-slave? The typical man employed (used) in busi-ness has been compelled instead to get his spiritual ad-vice from a corporate church sponsored and licensed by the legal state, his knowledge earned and paid for from a completely corrupted, government-funded school, and to judge his own opinion of himself by how good he is at being used (employed) - by how many hours he can work for someone else with no actual reward except a paper currency that has unlimited regeneration because it merely represents the debt and obligation of all other employed and unemployed citizenships and their titles of "property" held by the nation.

The employer keeps the substance of the Real while the employee accepts the fictional form of his own indebtedness as payment, for the money only represents his own indenture. His time is used, and he is paid in the artificial valuation of the currency of time, called as money.

If this is not the perfect template for a voluntary slave society I don't know what is.

And this brings us to the end of another chapter. Not, coincidentally, merely a chapter of this work, but of our very lives. For here we find ourselves with the knowledge of what has been done to us through trickery and word-magic. We cannot simply forget this knowledge. And so, though this work goes on in future volumes, the question unanswered seems to be what is the next chapter in each of our own lives?

Exit the legal, public matrix... or plug right back in?

The moral of this story?

We've all been cheated. Escheated. Governments and systems of religious and legal law are designed only to protect the cheaters. And only our re-birth (re-turn) back into our Source, a homecoming back into God's Realm of Nature and Law can save us from our fictional, re-presented selves in persona.

We are stuck in an illusion, a simulation of our True Self.

The pirates rule the sea.

The legal matrix has us...

But wait a minute. You didn't think the author wouldn't provide the definition of a pirate before we depart, did you? After all, the looters must be shown for what they are...

—=—

“The real looting in this country takes place in the transfer of the wealth from the poor to the rich... and the poor have been systematically looted in this country. The rich have been made richer under this criminal, fascist president and his government.”

—George Carlin

—=—

For you see, a single pirate acting alone without license is merely an unauthorized, illegal pirate. But two or more pirates that unite together in their criminal intent is a con-spiracy. A combination. A confederacy. A nation. But it is not merely the foundational union of these private, privateering pirates in compact of nationhood that creates the piracy. It is what the nation creates in and of itself that is the pirate cove, a shelter and den for legalized thievery. A law that allows what is unlawful is no law at all, merely a fiction of legalese. Only congress as the lawmakers may decide what constitutes piracy. For they also define what a lawbreaker is, and it is never themselves or their bloodline. In other words, the pirates themselves decide what piracy is and is not. For the conspirators can commit no conspiracy against themselves. By talmudic law, it is only when a pretended “Jew” of the synagogue of satan harms another false “Jew” that he breaks the law. The gentiles, as cattle, cannot be harmed, for they are property. And this is the moral compass of all commercial governments. It has to be. It is the law of nations, which is only invoked when one nation harms another, not when any nation harms its own property.

And so, as with all crimes, the word piracy is barred from being used to describe government, for its acts of piracy fall under the fiction of “by lawful authority,” as it has in all kingdoms and under all kings. As with conspiracy, piracy is only that which is against government, not on behalf of it.

PIRACY - ROBBERY AND DEPREDACTION UPON THE HIGH SEAS. Robbery and forcible depredation upon the high sea, animo furandi. Robbery or forcible depredation on the high seas, WITHOUT LAWFUL AUTHORITY, done animo furandi, AND IN THE SPIRIT AND INTENTION OF UNIVERSAL HOSTILITY. (WCA1889)

PIRATE - One who roves the sea in an ARMED VESSEL, without commission from any sovereign State, on his own authority, AND FOR THE PURPOSE OF SEIZING BY FORCE, AND APPROPRIATING TO HIMSELF, WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION, EVERY VESSEL HE MAY MEET. (WCA1889)

PIRATICAL - adjective - [Latin piraticus.] Robbing or plundering by open violence ON THE HIGH SEAS; as a piratical commander or ship. 1. Consisting in piracy; PREDATORY; ROBBING; AS A PIRATICAL TRADE OR OCCUPATION. 2. PRACTICING LITERARY THEFT. The errors of the press were multiplied by piratical printers. (Webs1828)

LITERARY - adjective - [Latin literarius.] 1. Pertaining to letters or literature; RESPECTING LEARNING OR LEARNED MEN; as a literary history; LITERARY CONVERSATION. 2. Derived from erudition; as literary fame. 3. Furnished with erudition; versed in letters; as a literary man. 4. CONSISTING IN LETTERS, or written or printed compositions; as literary property. (Webs1828)

PIRATICAL - Imports an aggression unauthorized by the law of nations, hostile in character, wanton and criminal in its commission, AND UTTERLY WITHOUT SANCTION FROM ANY PUBLIC AUTHORITY OR SOVEREIGN POWER, that the act belongs to the class of offenses which pirates are in the habit of perpetrating, whether the purpose be plunder, hatred, revenge, or wanton abuse of power. HOSTILITIES COMMITTED UNDER A COMMISSION FROM A PARTY TO A RECOGNIZED WAR ARE NOT INCLUDED. In that case the superior may be held for the act. PIRACY IS THE SAME OFFENSE AT SEA AS ROBBERY ON LAND. It is everywhere punished with death; at common law was punished as an offense against the law of nations (part of the common law) — the universal law of society: A PIRATE BEING DEEMED AN ENEMY OF HIS RACE, hostis humani generis. Congress shall have power "TO DEFINE AND PUNISH Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offenses against the Law of Nations." "To define" is to enumerate the crimes which will constitute piracy. 2. Infringement of a copyright by reprinting all or a substantial portion of the production, word for word; or, by imitating or copying it with colorable alterations. Citing the most important parts of a copyrighted work, with a view not to criticism but to supersede the use of the original work and to substitute the review. In determining the question of piracy, quantity, quality and value are regarded. If these elections are made animo furandi, with intent to make use of them for the purpose for which the original author used them, to convey in a different publication the information he imparted, OR TO SUPPLANT HIM IN HIS OWN TERRITORY, a small quantity will suffice to support the charge. If the pirated portion, being substantial, cannot be separated from the original matter without destroying the publication, the whole book will be enjoined upon the principle of the doctrine of "confusion of goods." See Abridge; Compile; Review. (WCA1889)

CON - Preposition - WITH. A prefix meaning with, TOGETHER. Webster. - Adjective - A slang or cant abbreviation for CONFIDENCE, as a CON MAN or a CON GAME. Webster. (Black4)

CONSPIRACY - In criminal law. A combination or CONFEDERACY between two or more persons formed for the purpose of committing, BY THEIR JOINT EFFORTS, some unlawful or criminal act, or some act which is innocent in itself, BUT BECOMES UNLAWFUL WHEN DONE BY THE CONCERTED ACTION OF THE CONSPIRATORS, OR FOR THE PURPOSE OF USING CRIMINAL OR UNLAWFUL MEANS TO THE COMMISSION OF AN ACT NOT IN ITSELF UNLAWFUL. A combination, or an agreement between two or more persons, for accomplishing an unlawful end OR A LAWFUL END BY UNLAWFUL MEANS. A partnership in criminal purposes. The essence of "conspiracy" is an agreement, together with an overt act, to do an unlawful act, OR DO A LAWFUL ACT IN AN UNLAWFUL MANNER. Mere knowledge, acquiescence, approval, or attempt on part of one to perpetuate illegal act is insufficient. A CONSPIRACY MAY BE A CONTINUING ONE; ACTORS MAY DROP OUT, AND OTHERS DROP IN; THE DETAILS OF OPERATION MAY CHANGE FROM TIME TO TIME; THE MEMBERS NEED NOT KNOW EACH OTHER OR THE PART PLAYED BY OTHERS; a member need not know all the details of the plan or the operations; he must, however, know the purpose of the conspiracy and agree to become a party to a plan to effectuate that purpose. A consultation or agreement between two or more persons. either falsely to accuse another of a crime punishable by law; or wrongfully to injure or prejudice a third person. or any body of men, in any manner; or to commit any offense punishable by law; or to do any act with intent to prevent the course of justice; or to effect a legal purpose with a corrupt intent, or by improper means. (Black4)

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CONSPIRACIES - The term "civil" is used to designate a conspiracy which will furnish ground for a civil action, as where, in carrying out the design of the conspirators, OVERT ACTS ARE DONE CAUSING LEGAL DAMAGE, THE PERSON INJURED HAS A RIGHT OF ACTION. It is said that the gist of civil conspiracy IS THE INJURY OR DAMAGE. While criminal conspiracy does not require such overt acts, yet, so far as the rights and remedies are concerned, all criminal conspiracies are embraced within the civil conspiracies. ACCURATELY SPEAKING, THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A CIVIL ACTION FOR CONSPIRACY. The better view is that THE DAMAGE SUSTAINED, AND NOT THE CONSPIRACY IS THE GIST OF THE ACTION. The combination may be of no consequence except as bearing upon rules of evidence or the persons liable. The essence of a "civil conspiracy" is a concert or combination to defraud or cause other injury to person or property, which results in damage to the person or property of plaintiff. (Black4)

— = —

And so the congress, as that which is at common law a legally lawful body (per the fictional law of nations), is the only decider as to what is a conspiracy. For the law of nations is only concerned with how nation treats nation, not how a nation treats its voluntarily contracted subjects (willing slaves). No law can protect a man who volunteers to his own tyranny. And so let us not forget the de facto nature of the other hat of Congress, that which is called as "congress" in name and title (U.S. Code) only. When congress stands as both the creator and the lawmaker of the very pirate cove of the United States, and when that pirate cove only applies to those voluntarily subjected to it under civil contract within its district (seizure) and as dead objects of a declared war or emergency, then what possible force in this world can possibly sink such a fleet? What power can possibly defeat such a combination of men in cons-piracy to defraud and corrupt all others?

Well, how can we answer these questions until we first acknowledge the organized crime racket that is the national government, until we first admit that we have been severely duped by patriotic nonsense while being robbed blind?

RACKET - Engaging in an operation to make money illegitimately, implying continuity of behavior. (Black4)

RACKETEER - A person who makes money by violations of the Penal Law. Particularly those violations accompanied by violence. (Black4)

RACKETEERING - An organized conspiracy to commit the crimes of extortion or coercion, or attempts to commit extortion or coercion. From the standpoint of extortion, it is the obtaining of money or property from another, with his consent, induced by the wrongful use of force or fear. The fear which constitutes the legally necessary element in extortion is induced by oral or written threats to do an unlawful injury to the property of the threatened person by means of explosives, fire, or otherwise; and to kill, KIDNAP, OR INJURE HIM OR A RELATIVE OF HIS OR SOME MEMBER OF HIS FAMILY. From the standpoint of coercion, it usually takes the form of compelling by use of similar threats to person or property a person to do or abstain from doing an act which such other person has the legal right to do or abstain from doing, SUCH AS JOINING A SO-CALLED PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION TO PROTECT HIS RIGHT TO CONDUCT A BUSINESS OR TRADE. (Black4)

— = —

Now would you say that after reading the U.S Code, Title 42, Section 1981, that the IRS and every government agency supporting it is in the business of legalized racketeering? Let me remind you of what that code states, that it is your “equal right” to be “EXACTED,” which means EXTORTED.

But, you see, they aren’t extorting us as men, they are extorting their own property, their own persons. They can “charge” whatever they wish to their own debt-carrying vessels, and the agent in surety, whom voluntarily continues in his usage of that property (person-hood, citizen-ship) must pay the price of his sin for his usage of the artificial protections in licensed anarchy against the Natural Law of God. It’s quite a racket. Respectable in its evil design if I don’t say so myself.

The point here is that if you keep volunteering to use and appear in their person, you have no private or public right to complain, for you necessarily in your usage of another’s property consent to Title 42, Section 1981, and all other laws regarding persons (rented ships). In other words, as they say, ignorance of this law is no excuse, and purposeful ignorance is just downright lame. You will be extorted and exacted by the chancery and community chest (treasury), do not pass Go, and do not collect $200. You will pay for your choice and your election will be made sure.

So if you haven’t figured it out by now...

— = —

“The rights of the individuals are restricted only to the extent that they have been VOLUNTARILY SURRENDERED BY THE CITIZENSHIP TO AGENCIES OF GOVERNMENT.”

—City of Dallas v Mitchell, 245 S.W. 944

— = —

We now have the answers, as discovered within this work; a work designed only to discover the light and dark works of others. We now know that this pirate cove exists only as long as we voluntarily serve it as its proprietary agents. We now know that the only power and authority that stands above its declared legal sovereignty is the ambiguous Nature of Truth in God Almighty. And we now know without question the purpose and power of the Highest Law, and how to achieve it and use its solution as the end of all contractual relationships in that artifice of these pirates.

But who will step up to walk upon this path?

The story of our lives will depend on the answer to that very question.

My journey, my path, has just begun. May we find the strength of will to help each other to find this path together...

—=—

The End (But Not Really The End)

—=—

This is the end of Volume I of this work. Future volumes will serve only to further support what this work has uncovered and continue to destroy the mysteries of our dog-Latin language barriers. And there is so very much more to learn. Volume II is well under way, and this legal matrix will continue to be decoded therein, word for ugly fictional word.

And trust me, you ain't seen nothing yet!

Here, now, at this temporary break of such a process of disclosure, if I was the personification of the combined (conspired) confederation of that conspiracy of the legalistic church and state I would certainly ban this "book!" I would demonize it to my congregations and subjugate it from my multitude of unlearned, unregenerate goyim. But this work is not public, remember? They cannot ban what they do not own. So the only thing that can be taken out is me. So please pray (privately) and keep spiritually negative thoughts in the spirit of God and the Law for the author of this work, and please support my current efforts as I attempt to continue in this Charitable work. For this is not even close to the end of this research tome, and it does not stand alone. All volumes shall, in the end, equal only one whole. What is not yet comprehended and under-stood by the reader and what has been promised to be further explained herein must unfortunately wait until the whole is completed in its multiplicity of volumes.

But most importantly, I would ask that you do not let this work die. Do not let my words become as apparently dead as those that enslave us. Keep it safe. Use it wisely. And remember, this is a gift, a gift that I hope will keep on giving. Share it with all who seek True knowledge and especially and with love to those who do not in the example of christ. Teach your children well, so that their father's hell will surely go by. Our future, literally and figuratively, depends on it.

In the Purest of the Love and Charity of all Life under God...

—Clint

—=—

Please visit my other websites for my other writings, movies, and radio shows archives:

StrawmanStory.info

realityblogger.wordpress.com

TheCorporationNation.com

CorporationNationRadioArchives.wordpress.com