One Month (plus) In…

Hello curlers, as always it is great to see you all in and enjoying your curling and each other's company.

Reminder that the club will be closed on November the 11th to observe Remembrance Day.
Also on the 11th ice maintenance will occur with a flood taking place. The ice team, along with a consultant, have been working hard to pinpoint and identify some of the ridges that have been appearing and coming up with adjustments in equipment and processes to eliminate these.
Taking care of the ice is all curler's responsibility, as we can all help by keeping the ice clean, protecting the hacks, and not putting anything warm (like knees or hands) on the ice.

The water cooler, sadly, has seen some parts delays hold up the implementation so we have gone to plan B to expedite the delivery, and this is becoming as much as a thorn as the overhead camera on sheet B not working (yet)!

Looking to improve your play? OK, you're like me – you think your game will sort itself out the next time you play, or you blame the rocks (or your skip)… however, bad habits can creep into our game as our form wanders off, and if you are interested in sharpening up your game please talk to me or Ed Holland and we can arrange some time to evaluate your form in a practice session. Don't get me started on my golf game…

Things are picking up for the busy Christmas period, and we have been well stocked for our Schools Program and Learn to Curl programs. Thank you to all our volunteers!

Thanks to Rick Everest and Doug Holmyard for running this event!

Bar/Lounge Update

Good news on the elusive Raspberry White Claw front as the predators are not as ravenous as predicted/feared so stock is remaining steady, though I will be keeping an eye on them. We had a near miss with the pickled eggs as almost ran out of stock (!!) – relax, relax as an emergency restocking occurred and is also being closely monitored. ☺
We are pleased to have set up some fridge shelf space for wine glasses so that they may be served chilled with white wine or rosé.

The Microbrew special ($6 per tall can, or 4 for $20) has shifted to Four Winds with two options – a Porter and a Pilsner (known as the Huftgold). Please be sure to try these and support your local breweries!

Haven't seen or been in the lounge yet? Oof, and we did all that painting and renovating in there too… please see next slides for opportunities for social events and get in your lounge! ☺

Lost and Found

Things get misplaced/lost all the time, and we try and keep track of them. They usually make their way to the Manger's office or the shelving at the end of the seating area by the Janitor's closet. If you find anything, please turn it in there. An odd item was turned in was a set of teeth. You read that right. Please claim or turn in any lost items from the Manager's office.

On the Social Front...

On the Social Front (please advise if you'd like help with this event...)

Pro Shop

Did you know there are both new and used items in the Pro Shop? There are currently some good deals on shoes not worn – an Asham Slam ladies size 8, and a Goldline Podium men's size 9. There are lots of great stocking stuffers available also, and if it isn't in the Pro Shop, talk to your friendly (most of the time, I think/hope…) Manager to order something in – we can order from Asham and Goldline at less cost than what is available online.

Return It Status

Please carry on supporting our Return-It campaign, where empty cans and bottles get taken to the recycling depot (like the one on 24th and King George) and are dropped off and credited to our club account by printing out a label after entering the club's phone number, 604.531.0244.

Nametags

Nametags are available for $15 and can either have a pin or magnet for backing, and you can put whatever you like on it. Nicknames, middle names, shortened names... whichever you like! With approximately 500 members to keep track of, these sure help the Manager out from time to time 🙂

Member Fundraising – Purdy's Chocolates

Looking for some chocolates and want to support one of our club's family as they journey into the competitive curling circuit? Nike White is on Team Yoo and are doing a Purdy's fundraiser. Mmmm... Purdy's.
