Not all supplements are created equal. Some supplements contain preservatives, synthetic ingredients, binders, additives, food coloring and GMO's! Yuk!

Christian's on-line supplement dispensary carries the highest quality supplements from Emerson Ecologics. Here is an excerpt about their quality program:

The Emerson Quality Program™

Emerson Ecologics recognizes that quality manufacturing practices are essential to the integrity and efficacy of professionally-oriented natural products. The Emerson Quality ProgramSM (EQP) is designed to distribute information about the quality manufacturing practices of our EQP Silver and EQP Gold brands. All distributed brands must undergo a rigorous assessment to assure, to our satisfaction, that they follow federal cGMP regulations. Additionally, brands can voluntarily apply to be assessed for EQP Silver or EQP Gold Partner status.

Participating brands must complete a quality application that details their current manufacturing processes, including cGMP processes, raw material testing and final product testing. These applications are reviewed and summarized by the Emerson Quality department.

The next phase of the EQP is a verification phase. Emerson Quality conducts a document audit by requiring the brand to provide all requested manufacturing Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), as well as lot specific manufacturing records and analytical documentation.

The documentation audit is followed by verification product testing where certain potency or contamination tests for selected products are conducted by an Emerson Ecologics-qualified independent laboratory. These test results must be consistent with the product specifications and standards of the EQP.

An on-site audit is then completed by Emerson Quality. This on-site day-long audit includes additional documentation review and concludes with an audit report. The manufacturer must correct any audit report findings as indicated in the report. . The quality practices of every EQP Silver or EQP Gold Partner is reevaluated biennially by a document audit, on-site audit and/or analytical testing.

By clicking on the EQP Partner seal of any brand, logged in practitioners and patients will be able to view a more detailed quality overview chart. This chart will document each brand's quality practices in three areas:

- Manufacturing processes
- Raw material qualification and testing
- Finished product verification and testing

You can have peace of mind when you purchase your supplements from Christian's dispensary, knowing that the product has been tested and verified.
