A Very Busy Labour Day Long Weekend for VIA Rail

The upward trend continued at VIA Rail Canada (VIA Rail) over this Labour Day weekend. With a 10.0% increase in travellers on Québec City – Windsor Corridor trains compared to last year, this marked the busiest Labour Day since 2009.

The growth observed in the Québec City – Windsor Corridor was most prominent for trains travelling between Kingston and Montréal, with ridership increasing by 20.0%. On the Toronto–Ottawa route, ridership rose by 16.0% year over year, and a 13.2% increase was recorded between London and Toronto.

Over the six day period, VIA Rail trains covered a distance of nearly 32 million kilometres from coast to coast. Friday, August 31 was the busiest day of the weekend, with more than 17,600 passengers travelling on our trains Canada-wide. Increasingly popular destinations

There were also 15.8% more passengers who visited the Maritimes aboard the Ocean train between Montréal and Halifax this year compared to 2017.

"These results speak for themselves and show that more and more Canadians prefer rail to their car as a pleasant and sustainable mode of transportation for their long-weekend trips. This choice allows them to avoid the inconvenience of road congestion and all its additional considerations. Our employees across the country, whether in stations, onboard our trains, in our maintenance centers or our customer centers, have once again risen to the occasion and delivered exceptional service to our customers. I salute and congratulate them for our excellent results," stated Yves Desjardins-Siciliano, the President and Chief Executive Officer of VIA Rail.
