

At a Restaurant in Pyongyang

The people of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea are enjoying world delicacies at the Pyongyang Salmon Restaurant.

Putting Great Efforts into Regional Construction

These are Samjiyon city and village at the Jungphyong Vegetable Greenhouse Farm in the northern part of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, built as models for regional construction.

Now the country plans to develop all regional areas onto their level, and put great efforts into regional construction.