

An Outmoded Plane Shoots down Latest-type Planes

During the Korean war (1950-1953) an outmoded plane of the Air Force of the Korean People's Army shot down 11 enemy planes of various kinds including a B-29 heavy bomber dubbed an "air fortress," and F-80 jet fighter of the US Air Force and damaged 4 others.

The plane is on display at the open-air weapons exhibition of the Victorious Fatherland Liberation War Museum in the DPRK's capital city of Pyongyang.