

Songhwa Street on a Moon-lit Night

This is a night view of Songhwa Street which was completed in April last. Situated in the east gateway to Pyongyang, the capital city of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, the street is a large architectural group containing 10 000 flats. The full moon adds much to the serene beauty of the brightly-illuminated street. The flats of this street were provided free of charge to ordinary working people including blue-collar and white-collar workers.

DPRK Presents a New Appearance of Its Socialist Rural Rejuvenation

The Democratic People's Republic of Korea has built a large-scale greenhouse vegetable farm in the Ryonpho area on its eastern coast as a base of creation of rural civilization. Covering an area of 280 hectares, the farm has over 850 hydroponic and soil greenhouses. The dwelling houses, numbering over 1 000, schools, a hall of culture and a general welfare service facility all retain the local features.
