The General Secretary Comrade Kim Jong Il suddenly passed away on December 17, 2011. On the occasion of his 10th death anniversary, we the Juche followers and true friends of the People's Korea remember him with great reverence and recall his many great exploits which covered all fields and all aspects of life. He victoriously led more than five decades of revolution and construction in People's Korea crowned with great achievements in building a strong Juche socialist country ensuring all over development of the country.

He also developed and further enriched the Great immortal Juche Philosophy propounded by President Kim Il Sung. Juche Philosophy has become the guiding philosophy for the Workers Party of Korea. The three revolutions of ideology, technology and culture which are the general lines for the construction of a socialist society are being guided by the Juche idea.

Upholding the banner of the Juche idea, General Secretary Kim Jong Il firmly laid the foundation for building the DPRK as an independent and sovereign state unshakable by any external aggression. He was a strong supporter of the policy of self-reliance in every sectors of the economy. We remember his speech which he delivered on the 25th December 1978 and gave the strategic slogan " Let us live our own way" and said further that " It is only when one displays a great revolutionary spirit of self-reliance, that one can have faith in one's own strength, exploits the internal resources of one's country to the maximum and conduct the revolution and construction with success. Experience shows that only when one gives full play to the revolutionary spirit of self-reliance can one surmount every manner of difficulties and ordeal".

Leader comrade Kim Jong Il propounded the concept of the Songun politics which advocates self-reliance in military affairs which guarantees independence and national sovereignty. By dint of his invincible Songun revolutionary leadership he turned the DPRK into an independent self-reliant socialist military power with its own nuclear deterrent. While honourably defending the independence and sovereignty of the Korea and Juche socialism, he ensured that a war did not break out on the Korean peninsula, thus making great contribution to the world peace.

General Secretary comrade Kim Jong Il also build up the Workers Party of Korea as a genuine leadership organisation which serves the people and advances in unity with the popular masses. He ensured that the Party remains devoted and fully committed to serve the people. He also took effective measures to keep the Party free from corruption and nepotism.

I have recalled some of the achievements of Comrade Kim Jong Il, though there are many more to his credit. I would like to draw your attention to one more significant achievement. At the end of the 20th century, the world socialist movement suffered unexpected trials and difficulties and socialism was frustrated in some countries owing to the evil designs of the imperialists who predicted that the 21st century would be the century without socialism. Under such circumstances, comrade General Secretary Kim Jong Il published several historic works like “Socialism is a science” and “Abuses of socialism are intolerable” which inspired hope amongst the people of the world who aspire for socialism. Giving priority to ideological work he put his heart and soul into the movement for building socialism. The credit for building DPRK a strong Juche socialist country goes to General Secretary Kim Jong Il.

Today the Korean people while facing unjust long period of economic sanctions, natural disasters and other hardships are advancing on the road of building a strong Juche socialism under the dynamic leadership of General Secretary Kim Jong Un. He is successfully carrying out the legacies of Eternal President Kim Il Sung and Kim Jong Il and single-hearted unity of Korean people has been brought about by the people first principle under his leadership. He is also ensuring that the Workers Party of Korea serves the people with complete devotion and dedication. Now the people in Korea are enjoying a decent standard of living.

General Secretary Kim Jong Un has also given priority to military affairs and has made DPRK as a strong military and nuclear power.

Due to his wise leadership and astute international diplomacy, the wrong and biased perception of people of the world that DPRK is a threat to world peace is changing and they have realised that DPRK is not a threat to world peace and their strong military and nuclear power is for their own defence and to counter the constant threat from the Imperialist forces. General Secretary Kim Jong Il successfully carrying forward the legacies of President Kim Il Sung and leader Kim Jong Il and I wish General Secretary Kim Jong Un all successes in modelling the whole society of the DPRK on the basis of Kimilsungism-Kimjongilism and for working for the sovereignty and independence of all countries.

We wish General Secretary Kim Jong Un long, happy and healthy life.
