

WPK Eyes Landmark Improvement in Party Work

The Workers' Party of Korea plans to make the ninth term of its Central Committee an occasion for bringing about a new turn in strengthening the whole Party and developing the Party work.

As was already reported, the Sixth Plenary Meeting of the Eighth WPK Central Committee held in December 2022 adopted the five-point orientation for party building in the new era, whose main contents are political, organizational, ideological, disciplinary and work-style building, as the Party's line. This was followed by remarkable successes in the building of the Party during the term of its eighth Central Committee.

In his report to the Ninth Congress of the WPK, General Secretary Kim Jong Un said that the core task to be fulfilled in Party building is to take scientific, realistic and meticulous measures for applying all the principles and requirements of the five-point Party-building programme in the new era to Party work and activities and perfectly implement them.

For the WPK political building seems to take the most important place in strengthening and developing it.

That's why Kim Jong Un referred, before anything else, to the need to channel efforts into political building so as to further develop the Party into the general staff of the revolution with a high leadership position and guiding ability. He continued that the Party should pay primary attention to firmly maintaining and consolidating its peculiar political climate with the oneness of ideology and leadership as its core and that it is at the same time an important task in political building to raise the functions and role of the Party committees at all levels and to enhance the political consciousness and political activities of Party members.

The WPK has set it as a target in the organizational building to more firmly develop and train its members and organizations into an integral whole in which they are firmly united organizationally and act as one in accordance with one organizational discipline.

It can be said to be a traditional working method of the WPK to solve all problems by dint of ideology by strengthening ideological work. The Party intends to more dynamically open up a new era of strengthening the whole of it and developing the state by maximizing the might of ideology.

The report also underscored the need to establish the climate of voluntarily observing discipline throughout the Party and a strict system and order whereby Party organizations at all levels work only in accordance with their functions.

Noting that the popular work manner and sound spiritual and moral traits should prevail across the Party as its unshakable climate, Kim Jong Un said that all the officials should learn from the Party spirit, revolutionary spirit and popular spirit displayed by the generations who pioneered the cause of building the Party and acquire a skilful method of working with the masses, so that they possess the Party principle, devotion to the people and noble moral traits as their natural disposition.

Evidently Kim Jong Un has decided to steadily strengthen the Party by implementing the five-point Party-building line.
