

Cultural Remains of Korea Reflected in Stamps

The stamps in the above photos showcase some of the cultural remains of Korea that date back from Ancient Joseon (early 30th century BC-108 BC) to the feudal Joseon dynasty (1392-1910). Particularly, the world's first-ever rain gauge is a reminder that the Korean people are amazingly resourceful.