Miami, FL – Miami International Fine Arts (MIFA) is proud to present "The Art of Mother Nature," a captivating group exhibition that explores the profound connection between humanity and the natural world. Curated by Gustavo Scarrone and featuring works by Vivian Weinstein-Brisman, Yael Bitton, Yael Mizrahi, Karen Bibas, Clara Rivera, Diana Kullander, and Valerie Mafдали, this exhibition transforms the gallery space into a dynamic tribute to the resilience, beauty, and vulnerability of our planet.

"The Art of Mother Nature" showcases a diverse array of artistic expressions—including painting, sculpture, photography, and mixed media—each offering a unique perspective on nature's influence. Some works celebrate the grandeur of untouched landscapes, others address the environmental crises affecting our ecosystems, while some reflect on the healing power of nature in times of uncertainty.

As both muse and metaphor, Mother Nature takes center stage in this thought-provoking exhibition, serving as a reminder that she is not merely a backdrop to our lives, but a living, breathing force that sustains us all. This exhibition is not just about observing nature—it is about engaging with it, questioning our impact, and acknowledging our responsibility to preserve and restore the delicate balance of our environment.

Join us for the opening reception on February 6th, 2025, at MIFA, and be part of an artistic conversation that bridges creativity, sustainability, and cultural awareness.
