

The star who got

Bumped.

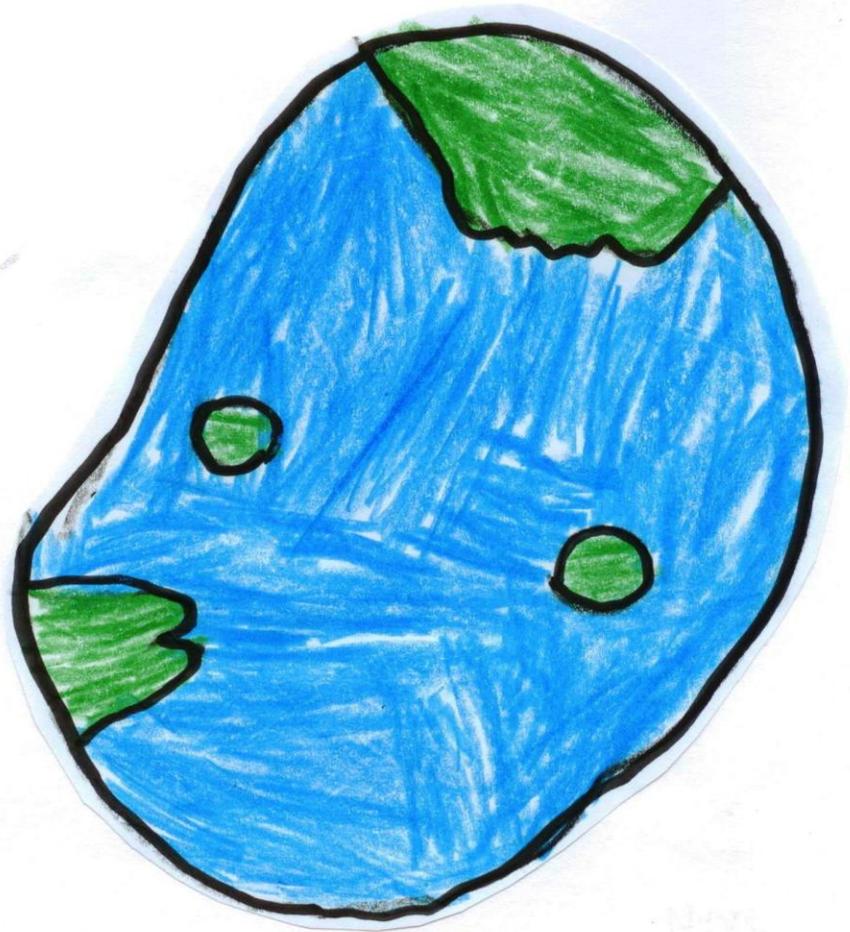

One chilly night there was a glittery star in the night sky. He was sad because the other stars were bullying him.

He was sad because the stars were pinching him.

There was not much glitter on him.

So they pushed him out of the dark night sky and to a tree of leaves.

He tried to jump up in to the sky, but no!

In the morning a group of children found him.

They took him back to school to mend and put glitter on.

The children took him to an apple tree.

In the warm night he floated up.

The children look him for an apple pie.

He went to the sky to new star friends.

He sparkled over the children's school.
