How High Do Trees Grow?

words by Mark Dorey

illustrated by Liz Dorey

Mouser Edition

Tomser Cat Books

Queuing up for ice-cream,
Tom was looking all around

“Dad, how High do Trees grow?”

young Tom and me and spied a

Big

Old

Tree

I replied, "Very High ..."

“Twenty ... Thirty ... Forty feet ... or right up to the sky!”

“Right up to the sky?”
gaspd Tom
in a disbelieving tone

The ice-cream man asked gruffly, “Lolly or Ice-cream cone?”

So off we went with ice-creams, but Tom would not be moved

He went on and on about Big Trees and to see my theory proved!

So we drove into a forest with trees so tall, so high
I pointed up to prove my point, "You see, Tom, Dads don't lie!"
