District Flag Day and Flag Retirement

This year the Central Northwest District performed a joint Flag Day Service at Westminster Elks on June 15. When the Flag Day Service was complete, Northglenn Lodge once again performed the Flag Retirement Service retiring several service worn flags. Among the flags retired, was the POW MIA flag accompanied by the playing of TAPS. The service was very impressive and respectfully performed.

EXALTED RULER'S MESSAGE

Kim Gremling
Exalted Ruler

Welcome July! Our month starts off with a 4th of July bang at the Lodge potluck and hopefully the weather holds out for some nice firework displays. Each Monday at noon, we hold a bingo session at Oasis Bingo. We welcome helpers and players! You can round off your Monday evenings at the men's pool tournament. Come on down and show off your pool skills. Tuesday nights are cornhole tournaments. If you're interested we can get you hooked up with the person in charge of that. Wednesday night we have our bar bingo at the Lodge and Queen of hearts game. That's always good for a few laughs. Don't forget Thursdays because it is either the board meeting or the general meeting. Members are encouraged to attend! If you want to see some good pool shots come down Friday night for the ladies pool night. There's also other kinds of shots available! We can say aloha on July 13th for the luau at the Lodge. I'm sure there will be a lot of shaking going on and eating of course. July 20th and 21st brings the first of the food drives for the Christmas baskets. Making a big splash towards the end of the month will be our kids pool party on July 27th. Touching on August, we have the Hard Times Ball on August 10th. Monday through Friday each month we are having some good times! Thanks and see you soon Sincerely,

Kim Gremling | Exalted Ruler

The History of Independence Day

When the initial battles in the Revolutionary War broke out in April 1775, few colonists desired complete independence from Great Britain, and those who did were considered radical. By the middle of the following year, however, many more colonists had come to favor independence, thanks to growing hostility against Britain and the spread of revolutionary sentiments such as those expressed in the bestselling pamphlet "Common Sense," published by Thomas Paine in early 1776. On June 7, when the Continental Congress met at the Pennsylvania State House (later Independence Hall) in Philadelphia, the Virginia delegate Richard Henry Lee introduced a motion calling for the colonies' independence.

Amid heated debate, Congress postponed the vote on Lee's resolution, but appointed a five-man committee—including Thomas Jefferson of Virginia, John Adams of Massachusetts, Roger Sherman of Connecticut, Benjamin Franklin of Pennsylvania and Robert R. Livingston of New York—to draft a formal statement justifying the break with Great Britain.

On July 2nd, the Continental Congress voted in favor of Lee's resolution for independence in a near-unanimous vote (the New York delegation abstained, but later voted affirmatively). On that day, John Adams wrote to his wife Abigail that July 2 "will be celebrated, by succeeding Generations, as the great anniversary Festival" and that the celebration should include "Pomp and Parade...Games, Sports, Guns, Bells, Bonfires and Illuminations from one End of this Continent to the other."

On July 4th, the Continental Congress formally adopted the Declaration of Independence, which had been written largely by Jefferson. Though the vote for actual independence took place on July 2nd, from then on the 4th became the day that was celebrated as the birth of American independence.

Fourth of July Becomes a Federal Holiday

The tradition of patriotic celebration became even more widespread after the War of 1812, in which the United States again faced Great Britain. In 1870, the U.S. Congress made July 4th a federal holiday; in 1941, the provision was expanded to grant a paid holiday to all federal employees.

Over the years, the political importance of the holiday would decline, but Independence Day remained an important national holiday and a symbol of patriotism.

Falling in mid-summer, the Fourth of July has since the late 19th century become a major focus of leisure activities and a common occasion for family get-togethers, often involving fireworks and outdoor barbecues. The most common symbol of the holiday is the American flag, and a common musical accompaniment is "The Star-Spangled Banner," the national anthem of the United States.
