Executive Director Andrew Shirvell this evening issued the following statement on the U.S. Senate's vote to confirm President Trump's selection of Amy Coney Barrett:

"Florida Voice for the Unborn thanks Senators Marco Rubio and Rick Scott, and all others, who tonight voted to confirm Amy Coney Barrett's appointment to our nation's highest court. Barrett is a committed Christian and mother of seven children, who has the keen intellect and legal experience that make her eminently qualified for her important new role on the U.S. Supreme Court."

Shirvell continued, "Florida Voice for the Unborn took the lead in the Sunshine State in advocating for now-Justice Barrett's confirmation. Florida Voice for the Unborn immediately joined with nearly 80 other state and national pro-life groups in a 'pro-life court coalition' and actively participated in the coalition's conference calls and other efforts. As executive director of Florida Voice for the Unborn, I joined with more than 200 conservative leaders in signing a letter of support for Barrett, which was released on October 8th. The following day, on behalf of Florida Voice for the Unborn, I sent an individualized letter to the attention of the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee, requesting Barrett's speedy confirmation."

Shirvell further remarked, "On October 12th, I joined with 65 of the nation's leading pro-life activists in yet another letter of support for Barrett. Senator Joni Ernst (R – Iowa) officially placed this coalition letter into the Senate record during the Judiciary Committee's October 13th confirmation hearing – and read aloud an excerpt from the letter. Last Friday, October 23rd, I spoke at a pro-Barrett rally outside the Bryan Simpson U.S. Courthouse in downtown Jacksonville."

Shirvell concluded, “With Justice Barrett now on the U.S. Supreme Court, Florida Voice for the Unborn looks forward to the Court – at the earliest opportunity – quickly re-examining Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton, the two 1973 Supreme Court decisions that together legalized abortion on demand throughout our country. These unjust decisions have resulted in the deaths of over 61 million unborn children. They are completely contrary to the Constitution and should be overturned without further delay. Generations of Americans yet to be born are counting on Justice Barrett to protect their right to life.”
