

Website privacy policy

Policy version: 10 March 2025

Remconex.com (our website) is provided by RemConex Ltd company registration number 14898680 of registered office address Flat 9 Benellen Towers, 9 Benellen Avenue, Bournemouth, England, BH4 9LT ('we', 'our' or 'us'). We are the controller of personal data obtained via our website, meaning we are the organisation legally responsible for deciding how and for what purposes it is used.

We take your privacy very seriously. Please read this privacy policy carefully as it contains important information on who we are and how and why we collect, store, use and share any information relating to you (your personal data) in connection with your use of our website. It also explains your rights in relation to your personal data and how to contact us or a relevant regulator in the event you have a complaint.

We collect, use and are responsible for certain personal data about you. When we do so we are subject to the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR).

Given the nature of our website, we do not expect to collect the personal data of anyone under 13 years old. If you are aware that any personal data of anyone under 13 years old has been shared with our website, please let us know so that we can delete that data.

This privacy policy is primarily written for adults, including parents and guardians of child users.

This privacy policy is divided into the following sections:

- What this policy applies to
- Personal data we collect about you
- How your personal data is collected
- How and why we use your personal data
- Marketing
- Who we share your personal data with
- How long your personal data will be kept
- Transferring your personal data out of the UK
- Cookies
- Your rights
- Keeping your personal data secure
- How to complain
- Changes to this privacy policy
- How to contact us
- Do you need extra help?

What this policy applies to

This privacy policy relates to your use of our website only.

Personal data we collect about you

The personal data we collect about you depends on the particular activities carried out through our website. We will collect and use the following personal data about you:

- your name, address and contact information, including email address and telephone number and company details
- any delivery addresses specified for your order
- information to check and verify your identity, eg date of birth
- your gender, if you choose to give this to us
- location data, if you choose to give this to us
- your billing information, transaction and payment card or other payment method information
- bank account and payment details
- details of any information, feedback or other matters you give to us by phone, email, post or via social media
- your account details, such as username and login details
- your activities on, and use of, our website
- your personal or professional interests
- your professional online presence, eg LinkedIn profile
- information about the services we provide to you
- your contact history, purchase history and saved items
- information about how you use our website and technology systems
- your responses to surveys, competitions and promotions

You must provide this personal data to use our website and the services on it unless we tell you that you have a choice.

Sometimes you can choose if you want to give us your personal data and let us use it. Where that is the case we will tell you and give you the choice before you give the personal data to us. We will also tell you whether declining to share that personal data will have any effect on your use of our website and any services on it.

We collect and use this personal data for the purposes described in the section 'How and why we use your personal data' below.

How your personal data is collected

We collect personal data from you: -

- directly, when you enter or send us information using our form, such as when you register with us, contact us (including via email), send us feedback, purchase products or services via our website, and complete customer surveys; and
- indirectly, such as your browsing activity while on our website; we will collect information indirectly using the technologies explained in the section on 'Cookies' below

How and why we use your personal data

Under data protection law, we can only use your personal data if we have a proper reason, eg:

- where you have given consent
- to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations
- for the performance of a contract with you or to take steps at your request before entering into a contract, or
- for our legitimate interests or those of a third party

A legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your personal data, so long as this is not overridden by your own rights and interests. We will carry out an assessment when relying on legitimate interests, to balance our interests against your own. You can obtain details of this assessment by contacting us (see 'How to contact us' below).

The table below explains what we use your personal data for and why.

How and why we use your personal data—sharing

See ‘Who we share your personal data with’ for further information on the steps we will take to protect your personal data where we need to share it with others.

Marketing

We will use your personal data to send you updates (by email, text message, telephone or post) about our products and services, including exclusive offers, promotions or new products and services.

We have a legitimate interest in using your personal data for marketing purposes (see above ‘How and why we use your personal data’). This means we do not need your consent to send you marketing information. If we change our marketing approach in the future so that consent is needed, we will ask for this separately and clearly.

You have the right to opt out of receiving marketing communications at any time by:

- contacting us using the details set out at ‘How to contact us’ below, or
- using the ‘unsubscribe’ link in emails.

using the ‘unsubscribe’ link in emails We may ask you to confirm or update your marketing preferences if you ask us to provide further products and services in the future, or if there are changes in the law, regulation, or the structure of our business.

We will always treat your personal data with the utmost respect and never share it with other organisations for marketing purposes.

For more information on your right to object at any time to your personal data being used for marketing purposes, see ‘Your rights’ below.

Who we share your personal data with

We may share your personal data where necessary for the purpose set out below:

- third parties we use to help deliver our products and services to you, eg payment service providers and delivery companies

- other third parties we use to help us run our business, eg website hosts and website analytics providers

We only allow those organisations to handle your personal data if we are satisfied they take appropriate measures to protect your personal data.

We use Stripe for payments, analytics, and other business services. Stripe may collect personal data including via cookies and similar technologies (see 'Cookies' below). The personal data Stripe collects may include transactional data and identifying information about devices that connect to its services. Stripe uses this information to operate and improve the services it provides to us, including for fraud detection, loss prevention, authentication, and analytics related to the performance of its services. You can learn more about Stripe and read its privacy policy at <https://stripe.com/privacy>.

We or the third parties mentioned above occasionally also share personal data with:

- our and their external auditors, eg in relation to the audit of our or their accounts, in which case the recipient of the information will be bound by confidentiality obligations
- our and their professional advisors (such as lawyers and other advisors), in which case the recipient of the information will be bound by confidentiality obligations
- law enforcement agencies, courts, tribunals and regulatory bodies to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations
- other parties that have or may acquire control or ownership of our business (and our or their professional advisers) in connection with a significant corporate transaction or restructuring, including a merger, acquisition, asset sale, initial public offering or in the event of our insolvency—usually, information will be anonymised, but this may not always be possible. The recipient of any of your personal data will be bound by confidentiality obligations

Who we share your personal data with—further information

If you would like more information about who we share our data with and why, please contact us (see 'How to contact us' below).

How long your personal data will be kept

- We will not keep your personal data for longer than we need it for the purpose for which it is used. General Retention: all data will be retained for 6 years after the last interaction.
- Marketing Consent: If consent was given, data will be retained for up to 2 years after the last interaction unless opt out sooner.
- Unsubscribed users: for unsubscribed users, data will be deleted or anonymised within 30 days.

Following the end of the of the relevant retention period, we will delete or anonymise your personal data.

Transferring your personal data out of the UK

Other countries outside the UK have differing data protection laws, some of which may provide lower levels of protection of privacy.

It is sometimes necessary for us to transfer your personal data to countries outside the UK. In those cases, we will comply with applicable UK laws designed to ensure the privacy of your personal data.

We will transfer your personal data to:

- our service providers located outside the UK

Under data protection laws, we can only transfer your personal data to a country outside the UK where:

- in the case of transfers subject to UK data protection law, the UK government has decided the particular country ensures an adequate level of protection of personal data (known as an 'adequacy regulation') further to Article 45 of the UK GDPR. A list of countries the UK currently has adequacy regulations in relation to is available here.
- there are appropriate safeguards in place, together with enforceable rights and effective legal remedies for you, or
- a specific exception applies under relevant data protection law

Where we transfer your personal data outside the UK we do so on the basis of an adequacy regulation. In the event we cannot or choose not to continue to rely on either of those mechanisms at any time we will not transfer your personal data outside the UK unless we can do so on the basis of an alternative mechanism or exception provided by UK data protection law and reflected in an update to this policy.

Any changes to the destinations to which we send personal data or in the transfer mechanisms we rely on to transfer personal data internationally will be notified to you in accordance with the section on 'Changes to this privacy policy' below.

Transferring your personal data out of the UK—further information

If you would like further information about data transferred outside the UK, please contact us (see 'How to contact us' below).

Cookies

A cookie is a small text file which is placed onto your device (eg computer, smartphone or other electronic device) when you use our website. We use cookies on our website. These help us recognise you and your device and store some information about your preferences or past actions.

For further information on cookies, our use of cookies, when we will request your consent before placing them and how to disable them, please see the Cookie Policy on our website.

Your rights

You generally have the following rights, which you can usually exercise free of charge:

Access to a copy of your personal data	The right to be provided with a copy of your personal data
----------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------

Correction (also known as rectification)	The right to require us to correct any mistakes in your personal data
Erasure (also known as the right to be forgotten)	The right to require us to delete your personal data—in certain situations
Restriction of use	The right to require us to restrict use of your personal data in certain circumstances, eg if you contest the accuracy of the data
Data portability	The right to receive the personal data you provided to us, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and/or transmit that data to a third party—in certain situations
To object to use	The right to object: —at any time to your personal data being used for direct marketing (including profiling) —in certain other situations to our continued use of your personal data, eg where we use your personal data for our legitimate interests unless there are compelling legitimate grounds for the processing to continue or the processing is required for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims
Not to be subject to decisions without human involvement	The right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing (including profiling) that produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you We do not make any such decisions based on data collected by our website
The right to withdraw consents	If you have provided us with a consent to use your personal data you have a right to withdraw that consent easily at any time You may withdraw consents by either using the

	'unsubscribe' link in our emails (where appropriate) or contacting us using the details set out at 'How to contact us' below Withdrawing a consent will not affect the lawfulness of our use of your personal data in reliance on that consent before it was withdrawn
--	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

For further information on each of those rights, including the circumstances in which they do and do not apply, please contact us (see 'How to contact us' below). You may also find it helpful to refer to the guidance from the UK's Information Commissioner on your rights under the UK GDPR.

If you would like to exercise any of those rights, email, call or write to us—see below: 'How to contact us'. When contacting us please:

- provide enough information to identify yourself (eg your full name, address and customer or matter reference number) and any additional identity information we may reasonably request from you, and
- let us know which right(s) you want to exercise and the information to which your request relates

Keeping your personal data secure

We have appropriate security measures to prevent personal data from being accidentally lost or used or accessed unlawfully. We limit access to your personal data to those who have a genuine need to access it.

We also have procedures in place to deal with any suspected data security breach. We will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected data security breach where we are legally required to do so.

How to complain

Please contact us if you have any queries or concerns about our use of your personal data (see below 'How to contact us'). We hope we will be able to resolve any issues you may have.

You also have the right to lodge a complaint with:

- the Information Commissioner in the UK

The UK's Information Commissioner may be contacted using the details at <https://ico.org.uk/make-a-complaint> or by telephone: 0303 123 1113.

Changes to this privacy policy

We may change this privacy policy from time to time—when we make significant changes we will take steps to inform you.
