Discover the Humane Capital Board Game – Doing well by doing good!

Explore the steps that businesses need to take in order to become a ‘good’ organization, doing well by doing good, that can achieve long-term results. The content of the game is based on research presented in the book.

Through gamification, the Humane Capital vision and methodology can be shared and cascaded easily and effectively to a diverse audience.

The purpose of the game is to identify one specific action that the group/organization commits to work on to start the shift to a more humane organization, selecting the most appropriate sector specific strategy to use to do this.

Use the unique card decks to open up meaningful dialogue to explore the three time perspectives on key insights from Humane Capital within a group of up to eight players. The game:

- Provides a safe environment for experiential learning
- Introduces the vocabulary, structure and philosophy of the Humane Capital approach to the senior team
- Enables the Humane Capital vision to be shared and cascaded with the wider organisation
- Provides insight into the 8 Pillars and the impact on the organisation and HOW to practically start to address these
- Facilitates a clearer understanding of the impact of mindset and motivation on the organisation
- Helps the team recognise the potential ‘barriers to shifting’, enabling the team to identify clear sector specific strategies to start the ‘shift’

The game provides any senior team and executive education providers with an easy and accessible step to envision, articulate and begin the process of enabling their organisation to become more humane, high performing and productive.
