TYPICAL CHARACTERISTICS OF THE 5 LEVELS OF THE MANAGEMENT SHIFT®

GUIDELINES FOR INTERPRETING THE REPORT

The graph that illustrates your Individual Assessment results has two axes:

1. The horizontal line (the x axis) shows a percentage of the answers representing 'how you normally feel about a statement' grouped by each of the 5 Levels (categories) at the time of completing the questionnaire, i.e. how strongly you associated with the statements for each of the 5 Levels.
2. The vertical line (the y axis) has five categories – each representing one of the 5 Levels of the Management Shift.

IMPLICATIONS - SAMPLE REPORT RESULTS

This person reported a high incidence of Level 4 and 5 thoughts, emotions and behaviours and this may well be of great benefit for themselves, the people they work with and the wider organisation.

However, it is the results for the Level 1,2 & 3 that are potentially most valuable to explore further.

The reason being, that whilst 'never or seldom' seen, when they do come to the fore these are the items that have the potential to cause a significant impact to the individual or those around them.

This may happen perhaps in times of stress and being able to recognise and self-manage in these times can be very valuable.

These results can stimulate rich insights and you may wish to explore further with an accredited The Management Shift Coach.

YOUR INDIVIDUAL RESULTS

EXPLORING YOUR OWN REPORT

Using the interpretive guidelines and the detail in the descriptive pages that follow for the 5 Levels of The Management Shift, now is the time to consider your personal results.

Please remember:

Your results can vary in time and can be influenced by coaching and self-development initiatives as well as by significant circumstances that you might be experiencing at the moment that may have an impact on your mindset.
