Special Instructions for Baked Goods

Offering samples of your baked goods is encouraged. Sampling increases sales and traffic flow. We ask that the following guidelines be followed in order to offer our customers the safest experience possible. Remember that you also have the option of taking orders for later delivery.

1. All baked goods must be made from scratch. No box mixes allowed.
2. All items offered should have an exact list of all ingredients attached. (Do not use a generic label that includes ingredients for multiple products.) Name, address, and phone number of vendor should also be included.
3. Samples should be offered without touching food unless you are wearing clean, food quality gloves. (Don't handle money with food gloves on or you defeat the purpose.)
4. Samples left on trays for customer to pick up must be individually presented (wrapped or in muffin cup). Vendor can also use tongs to present a sample to the customer.
5. For items that require refrigeration (baked goods containing perishable products, like cream cheese, custards, etc), items should be maintained at 40 degrees F or lower until time of purchase.

ALL VENDORS: Please wash or sanitize hands frequently, especially after handling money, eating food, or using a phone!
