Steel Gong - 300 yd Range

The steel gong hanging in the 300 yd Range has been shot through. It's suspected a member may have been using steel core ammo. Please check your ammo and do not use steel core ammo. If your unsure about your ammo being steel core a good way to check is see if it reacts to a magnet - if so don't use it!

Help us take care of the range so future members can enjoy the current benefits we are able to provide!

If we have to keep replacing the steel it's likely that we will have to remove it.
